Copper! Copper!

Copper is a war time essential now. In the long and tedious term of the world's reconstruction after the war, COPPER will be a great COMMERCIAL NECESSITY

Help Us to Produce More Copper THE HAWKEYE MINING AND DEVELOPING COMPANY

(No Stockholders' Liability)

A New Mexico concern-a neighbor of yours-has many and multiplied thousands of tons of genuine talc copper that is shallow and easy of access. Twenty-two full copper claims, all proven ground, or more than 300 acres of rich Copper deposits. Five of these claims are now producing. Produced more than $20,000 worth of COPPER last year. The wonderful producing possibilities are already proven and the company wants to put all of the 22 mines to producing, ASK THE AGENT TO SHOW YOU THE LATEST SMELTER RETURNS.

The mining claims are all owned by the company. They are on record in Valencia and Torrance counties, New Mexico. They are fully paid for and the company has no debts of any kind whatever.

It is the earnest desire of the present owners to increase their COPPER PRODUCTION at once and to the fullest possible capacity. To do this, MORE TEAMS, MORE TOOLS, MORE TRUCKS, MORE MEN and MORE MACHINERY are required. All of these call for more money.

REMEMBER, all of the property is fully paid for. All of the stock is fully subscribed and fully paid for and is non-assessable and every share is backed by the property itself. The company has the COPPER—thousands and thousands of tons in sight. The war time demand for Copper is great. The government has fixed a price of 23 1-2 cents per pound on Copper, and the after-the-war demand will be even greater. This Copper is shallow, ranging in depth from three feet to fifteen feet. Lies in a blanket vein which varies in thickness from four inches to two and one-half feet. Runs in value from 4 per cent to 9 per cent and often much higher. It is all near the railroad and a long loading switch. No haul being over two miles, much of it less than one mile and all of the light waste ore can be washed and be made to bring from $35.00 to $40.00 per ton.

Positively only more equipment and better facilities are needed. To attain this much needed increased facility at once the owners make this most wonderful and exceptional proposition:

They have pooled a limited quantity of their individual stock holdings into a kind of treasury fund and will offer, for a short time only 30,000 shares at par value of $1.00 per share, selling you any number of shares from ten shares to 30,000. The authorized capital stock is only for $100,000, being divided into 100,000 shares of a par value of $1.00 each. Time payments will be allowed on subscriptions for over 500 shares. A special offer for quick action is made herein and each subscription for twenty shares, or over, will receive with it, thirty days from date of subscription ONE FREE SHARE for each ten shares purchased. These FREE SHARES are of the same stock and are fully paid and non-assessable. This is a ten per cent of your investment handed back to you free and the delivery of same is guaranteed within thirty days after you have paid the full amount of your subscription.

Take this offer quick. It won't last long. Phone, write or call today. Applications for subscriptions or any further information will receive prompt and courteous attention if addressed to

Cut Out the Cut Worms.

On account of the August rains last fall a great deal of weeds and other vegetation developed luxuriantly. This growth gave the cut worm moths abundant food plants for egg-laying and consequent partial development of the young. These young cut worms passed through the winter in an immature stage. Consequently they are exceedingly numerous this year, especially in gardens where any late vegetation was present last fall.

The cut worm is mainly nocturnal in activity and has the bad habit of cutting such plants as young tomatoes, cabbage and similar plants off near the surface of the soil, says Professor C. E. Sanborn of the Department of Entomology at Oklahom A. and M. College, Stillwater.

The following formula is highly recommended by Professor Sanborn for controlling cut worms:

"Mix thoroughly 50 pounds of wheat bran, 2 pounds paris green or crude! arsenic. Mix 1-2 gallon of low-grade sirup, then finely chopped pulp and peel three lemons or oranges in ? gallons of water and then pour the mixture over the bran and poison. Stir it thoroughly so as to dampen it evenly. Sow broadcast over the garden or infested field."

The above formula is sufficent for covering ten or twelve acres. It is not only good for controlling cut worms but is also good for army worms and grasshoppers:

A CANYON INQUIRY

Answered By The Statement Of A Canyon Resident.

When first the long series of reports of Canyon people who have been relieved by Doan's Kidney Pills Local Restrictions Generally Rewere published in the local press,, great enthusiasm and interest were aroused. But Canyon is now inquiring "How are these people keeping today? How has the benefit they received withstood the test of time?" For that, after all, is the essential test of a cure. On this point doubt can no longer exist, for after many years those who have been cured, emphatically declared theircures to be lasting.

T. A. Ridgway, Canyon St., Canyon, says: "I suffered from bladder trouble, causing too frequent and pro. fuse passages of the kidney secretions. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, I have much better control over my kidneys."

The Federal law replaces the State law with the one exception: fishing is not to be followed by the use of seins at channels connecting one body of water with another. All persons fishing and selling fish must be licensed.

NEW MEAT PROGRAM CALLS FOR ECONOMY

The new meat program of the United States Food Administration does not contemplate a definite quantity of meat per person, and through an inaccuracy in transcribing the telegram from Washington the phrase was used that the "ration would be one and a quarter pounds per person per week," whereas the statement should have read that the present meat ration in France and England is one and one-quarter pounds of meat a

Your Car and Your Cause

Every business man in this broad land is today working for Uncle Sam. There are no longer any personal enterprises. No matter what your o line of work may be, you are devoting your time, your energies, and a large share of your profits to the winning of a great war.

In dedicating ourselves to so huge a task, we must call upon every resource that is available. At home—as on the firing line—our vital problem of transportation can be very largely solved by the motor car and motor truck. With vast supplies moving to the seaboard, it becomes a patriotic duty to travel by the road and thus release railway equipment for the government.

The hustling executive must have the right of way-he must swing down the line on high gear—he must realize that the time saving automobile is essential to his success and the cause which he champions.

And now just a word about our product.

The Paige is merely one of America's high grade motor cars, but we are proud of the part that it is playing in this national crisis.

In the field of mechanical products, the Paige nameplate stands as an unquestioned guarantee of honest manufacturing and fair dealing.

We ask you to buy that nameplate—rather than four wheels and a painted body. We ask you to buy a reputation that has endured through many fitful periods in the motor car industry - a reputation that will endure so long as Paige cars are made for and sold to the American people.

Pigs Enjoy Cafeteria Service.

Real pigs enjoy cafeteria service. Prof. R. C. Ashby, animal husbandry division, University farm, has proved the efficiency of the cafeteria plan of feeding, he says. Prof. Ashby is finishing some of his first cafeteria-fed pigs, and finds they gained weight faster and at less cost than handfed pigs.

Self-feeding devices were installed in the feeding pens to help the farmer solve the war-time problem of labor shortage.

The pigs select their own food in on orderly manner, refrain from crowding in ahead of their turns, do not squeal about what they get, and up to date no cafeteria pig has been seen eating with his knife.-Ft. Worth Livestock Reporter.

TERRITORY HAS BEEN ALLOTTED TO EACH OF THIRTEEN GEN-ERAL SUPPLY DEPOTS.

ORDNANCE EQUIPMENT READY

Every Soldier Leaving for France Has Been Fully Outfitted - American Merchants Take Over the Interests of German Fur Men.

(From Committee on Public Information.)
Washington.—A zone system for the apportionment of purchases throughout the United States and to facilitate distribution has been established by the quartermaster department. Territory has been allotted to each of 13 general supply depots. The general supply depot quartermasters are charged with the duty of ascertaining the manufacturing possibilities of their zones. On the basis of reports along this line forwarded to the acting quartermaster general, food and equipment for troops at the different camps will be purchased within the zone in which the camp is located.

Formerly nearly all of a particular class of supplies was purchased through a single general supply depot. Other articles were obtained through other supply depots. Manufacturers in sections distant from the particular supply depot buying their goods were at a disadvantage, and were unable to compete with rivals nearer the point. Under the new system most classes of supplies will be purchased through each of the 13 depots, and manufacturers will be able to transact their business through the depots nearest them.

Each general supply depot quartermaster besides ascertaining production facilities within his zone is instructed to recommend to the quartermaster general's office the employment of such producers as are in his judgment qualified to fulfill contracts. Each depot is expected to keep informed as to market conditions and spot goods located in that zone, and when shortages occur submit recommendations for purchase of articles which may be obtained within the zone.

Purchases are to be made after advertisement by open competitive bidding when time will permit. In emergency cases competition is desired whenever possible. The record of bids received and awards made will be open to public inspection.

The army ordnance department has thus far met every demand imposed by the new program for overseas shipment of American troops, according to a statement by the department. Despite the great acceleration in the sending of American forces to France, no infantryman goes aboard ship without a United States model 1917 rifle (modified Enfield), bayonet, belt, haversack, pack carrier, bandoleers, bayonet scabbard, and full mess equipment.

Tonnage is today a limiting factor in the shipment of ordnance material overseas, especially because of the present necessity of increasing the transport of infantry regiments.

Sufficient supplies of artillery-French 75-millimeters and 155-millimeters and American heavy railway artillery-are already in France to meet the present demand. Sufficient machine guns are also immediately available for American forces in

A Canadian order in council provides that no person, with the exception of manufacturers of flour, bakers, confectioners, wholesale or retail dealers, or persons living at a greater distance than two miles from a licensed dealer, shall hold or have in his possession or under his control more flour, made wholly or in part from wheat, than is sufficient for his ordinary requirements for a period not exceeding

Anyone living at a distance greater than two miles and less than five miles from a licensed dealer may hold or control flour made wholly or in part from wheat up to an amount sufficient for his ordinary requirements for a period not exceeding 30 days. Any. one living more than five and less than ten miles from a licensed dealer may have sufficient for his ordinary requirements up to 60 days, while a person living more than ten miles from such a dealer may have sufficient for his ordinary requirements for a period up to 120 days. Any wholesale or any retail dealer licensed by the Canadian food board may not hold flour made wholly or in part from wheat in excess of a quantity sufficient for his ordinary trade requirements for a period exceeding 60

The regulation regarding sugar parallels this save in the last clause. Manufacturers, wholesalers, or retailers may not have more sugar than is required for a period exceeding 45

The Swiss federal government has by decree fixed the maximum price at which farmers may sell cattle for slaughter as well as the prices at which various qualities of butchers' meat may be retailed. Farmers may demand no more than 23 cents per pound for first-class fat beef cattle. The price applies to cattle sold on the farm. If sold in a city or other distant market cost of transportation may be added. With the exception of sirioin and fillet cuts, retailers may ask no more than 40 cents per pound for beef,

Arrangements are being completed by which the interests of German fur men, amounting to several millions of dollars, will be purchased by American merchants and the money thus paid turned into the treasury.

Before the war broke in Europe, according to a statement issued by the allen property custodian, the trade of American furriers was practically nothing but a collecting and shipping agency for the Germans. Almost every pelt taken by American trappers went to Leipzig before it could be sold. Although London was the world's market, three-quarters of the fur shipped to London from America, Russia, and even China, went to Leipzig for dressing and dyeing.

The Leipzig dressers and dyers were recognized as the best in the world. Each year after the fur was prepared and German merchants had fixed the price, Americans were allowed to purchase as much as three-fifths of the year's output for manufacture into garments, but in so doing they were forced to pay the original cost, expense of dressing and dyeing, a big profit to the Germans, and a 30 per cent duty, before the furs were returned to America.

The war deprived Germany of the chance to purchase fur in London, and limited the supply from Americanow also entirely cut off.

According to the Leipzig correspondent of a Christiania newspaper, the Leipzig spring fair showed exhibits of many substitutes and surrogates which have been placed on the market in Germany. Descriptions of some of these have been received by the United States chamber of commerce:

A surrogate for pepper is offered for sale which, judged only by its appearance, seems almost the same as real pepper. The color, odor and taste have been surprisingly well imitated.

A tea is shown to which the name of "German tea" has been given. It is prepared from any one or a combination of a great variety of plants, from strawberry leaves to linden blossoms. It is said to taste very much like genuine tea, but even a half dozen cups will not produce the stimulation caused by a single cup of real tea.

There are any number of surrogates for marmalades. Most of them are prepared from garden vegetables instead of from fruits, with a minimum amount of sugar.

Substitute soap is offered for sale, which is said to have been prepared from the oil in berries and from pumice stone. It lacks, however, the one main characteristic of soap, that of main characteristic of soap, that of working up into a rich, creamy lather; otherwise it is very good. Substitutes are also to be had for laundry blueing.

Substitute bicycle tires are sometimes made of two concentric iron rings with small springs between them. They are very serviceable on asphalt pavements, but are not exactly as noiseless nor as easy riding as genuine rubber tires.

A large number of articles offered for sale had been prepared largely or entirely from paper-coarse working clothes for men and women, blouses, aprons, and other fabrics. There were paper belts which seemed capable of driving heavy loads.

"Many artificial and substitute leathers were noticed. Brass and copper articles were not seen, and attempts were made to place substitutes on the market in the form of plated wares.

A committee on public information representative in London says:

London has never heard of a baseball season before, but will get its chance this year when the American baseball league gets its schedule of games well underway. There are eight American and Canadian teams recruited from various organizations stationed in London, with games scheduled for each Saturday during the summer.

The thousands of American soldiers who may pass through London, or be invalided or stationed here, are in a fair way to be made to feel that England is the next best place to home and that English hearts are kept warm for them.

"Make England the Sammy's 'blighty,'" is the way the English press puts it in urging readers to entertain the American troops. "Blighty" is the war word for everything the soldier wants in intervals of his fighting work; the place where friends, recreation, and homelike comfort await him.

The Weekly Dispatch recently called for suggestions for a public entertainment to be offered American soldiers and an instant response made thousands of dollars available for amusements and entertainments. The idea that found greatest favor, however, was to throw open the homes of the nation to the Sammies.

An officer commanding an American squadron operating with the British fleet has reported on a late inspection and speaks in high terms of the present state of efficiency in which he finds both ships and men.

"Vessels show the most gratifying improvement in battery and fire control," he said. "Our ships are smart, spick and span, and have been recipients of many high compliments from British flag officers."

Prior to the war the treasury prepared approximately 150,000 checks annually for the payment of interest on registered bonds of all loans, the issue of these 150,000 checks being distributed through the year. In the May payment of interest on registered bonds of the second Liberty loan more than twice that number of checks were prepared.

More than 2,000,000 members of American fighting forces are now insured by the United States govern-

Alcohol as a By-Product of Bread. Through the seizure of a still in a akery in New Mexico, where a quantity of alcohol was discovered that had been distilled from bake-oven fumes, considerable discussion has taken place concerning the feasibility of manufacturing alcohol as a byproduct of bread.

This still was a crudely constructed affair, the vapor from the bread being conducted from the oven into a worm, which was cooled by passing through a barrel of water, condensing the vapor. The baker was not arrested, as it was clearly shown that no evasion of the law was intended. However, possession of a still is in violation of the law, and this one was seized by the internal-revenue service. This baker states that quantities of alcohol can be manufactured for war use at a very small cost by army bake shops and bakers in large cities The practicability of the plan remains to be worked out.-Oklahoma Livestock News.

Big Land Deal Consummated.

The largest ranch deal reported for some time was closed last week when Berkley Dawson of Amarillo and Lee Russell of Fort Worth purchased the Capitol Syndicate Headquarters at Channing.

The ranch consists of 8342.18 acres and contains three sets of improvements. The headquarters house is probably the most attractive place north of the Canadian river, consisting of nineteen rooms; three bath rooms, water system, and all modern conveniences. The price paid for the property is $125,132.70. It will be remembered that these gentlemen purchased last September the Cheyenne pasture consisting of 37,000 acres. With these two properties Messrs. Dawson and Russell are well equipped for handling a large herd of high

BROILED FISH.

Now Is the Time to Make Use of a Food Made Abundant by Green Fields and Ripening Grain-No "Little One" Should Be Stinted of Its Milk Ration-Germany Saves Her Children by Saving Her Milk for Their Use; SO MUST WE.

The Food Administration desires to secure economy in the consumption of all kinds of meats without the reinstating of the Meatless Day. There is now an abundance of milk products which can well be substituted in various forms for meat.

If less milk is used, less milk will be produced. Farmers will be obliged to sell their dairy cattle because of the high cost of feeding them, and the failure to find a market for the product, and this country will face the same conditions from which the people of Europe are now suffering. Milk is a cheap animal food. There is at the present time a surplus of both cheese and butter. If these are not used an important outlet for surplus milk has been removed and milk production will diminish.

Where possible, provision should be made to supply each child in the family with a quart of clean, wholesome milk a day. For each adult a pint is desirable when the meat consumption is low. Children should have whole milk, adults may use milk and cheese in place of meat. The present prices of butter have made many families refrain from using it. Those who are able to purchase it should do so. Unless all members of the family are using whole milk, they need some butter in the diet. If the family must economize, the amount of butter may be reduced, but the amount of milk should be correspondingly increased to secure the right total of the fat of soluble growth-promoting substances. The use of butter and cheese should be encouraged since the storage of milk in these forms is an important method of conserving an unmarketable surplus of this food. E. A. PEDEN, Federal Food Administrator for Texas.

TEN INSPECTORS AND THREE THRESHERMEN ADDED TO FOOD STAFF.

The inspectors of the State Food and Drug Department have been placed at the disposition of the Federal Food Administration for Texas, and in all ten inspectors have been officially deputized by the Food Administration to check up on food sales over the State. These ten inspectors plus the agents of the Department of Justice who are continually at the disposal of the Food Administration gives to the State Administrator a splendid nucleus for this department of the State work.

The personnel of the inspectors from the Food and Drug Department now federalized consists of Dr. W. H. Minton, Houston; Richard Hudson, Houston; R. A. Buford, Austin; R. H. Hoffman, Austin; D. F. Snyder, Austin; Tom H. Johnson, Round Rock; E. H. Golaz, Austin; Andy Byas, Fort Worth; Jow Jahne, Austin, and C. M. Cocoanougher, Denton,

SIDEWALK AND RAILROAD TRACK JOBBERS MUST BE LICENSED.

The attention of the Federal Food Administrator has been called to the fact that in some and probably all of the cities of Texas parties are engaged in the business of buying up rejected shipments of commodities, or buying directly from producers, and selling the same to retailers on sidewalks or at

All persons so engaged are jobbers, the Administration announces, and if the commodity handled is one licensed under the president's proclamation, such handling can not be legally done without a license issued by the United States Food Administration. Those who contemplate continuing or engaging in such business practice hereafter will do well to apply immediately to the License Division of the U.S. Food Administration at Washington for a license.

Anyone engaging hereafter in such a business without having previously obtained or applied for a license will be liable to criminal prosecution of serious character.
