Scrapped The Packers.
Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts says that placing the packing industry under government control might disastrously increase the cost of living. If we are to judge the efficiency of government control by the results it has achieved in the conduct of the railroads, the telegraphs and telephone and the express and the postal business, there will be no disagreement with Mr. Tinkham's conclusion.

Somebody must always be made the scapegoat when things go wrong, and it looks as if the packers had been picked out as the special target by those who are largely responsible for the high cost of living and who want to shift this responsibility on some one else.

The allegation by the Department of Justice at this time that the packers are a combination in restraint of trade is little less than ludicrous, for it is only a short time since that the Government itself, with the sanction of the Department of Justice, insisted on combining the packers, fixing their prices in order to increase their output, so that meat could be sent to feed our soldiers and those of the Allies. Under this stimulus, a tremendous work was splendidly accomplished—a work that would have been impossible under other conditions.

The talk of high profits of the packers has been heard so often that the public has come to believe it, yet testimony under oath has shown that the profits of the packers have been much less than the profits of many other great industries. A full investigation is invited by Thomas E. Wilson and by Mr. Lois F. Swift and in fact by every other leader in the packing industry. This investigation, we venture to predict, will show that the proposed legislation under the Kenyon bill will be of great harm, not only to the livestock producers and the whole sale and retail dealers of food but also to the great mass of consumers. By all means, let us have an investigation and the truth.—Collier's Weekly, August 23, 1919.

M. H. WOLFE ISSUES STATEMENT ON TEXAS POLITICS

M. H. Wolfe, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, in referring to the new party movements in Texas, said: "My information from every part of the State indicates that the new political movements in Texas are getting no where."

It seems sure that all true democrats will be voting at the same old stand next year. When the average democrat hears barking on the side of the road all he needs to do is to tap up old Beck and Kit and drive right on. Just drive right on with the old ship of state, she is headed in the right direction and the people are in the saddle. The invisible government in Texas has blown up and life is too short to follow dead ducks. Thats all."

She Wanted Progress.
"No, sah, Ah doan't neber ride on dem things," said an old colored lady looking in on the merry-go-round. "Why, de other day I seen dat Rastus Johnson git on an' ride as much as a dollah's worth an' git off at the very same place he got on at, an' I sez to him, 'Rastus', I sez, 'yo' spent yo' money, but whar yo' been?'"

Santa Fe To Build.
The Canadian Record says that reports are out in that city that the Santa Fe Railway will build south to Sweetwater. This statement was made a few issues back in the Index, the information coming through Robt. L. Hawkins, who gained the information while spending his vacation in Colorado Springs, Colo. There is evidently more than a rumor in the statement and from what can be learned it may not be long until engineers will be out working on a survey. The road will pass through Childress.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH OUR PARENTS

The report of the grand jury last week should make every parent in Vernon sit up and take notice. Why are the young boys of Vernon getting the reputation of being such bad boys? Who's to blame?

Go down the street on Sunday afternoon and pass a crowd of boys sitting on the curb. Their conversation is anything but elevating. They use oaths that would make some of the hardened "cussers" of the town ashamed. They indulge in telling dirty yarns which bring forth yells of delight from the listeners.

Nearly every night after ten o'clock a bunch of youngsters can be found loafing around the square. Boys of that age have no business in town after ten o'clock at night. Parents must not have much concern about their children when they allow them to run at large.

One of the officers of the law said last week that the trouble of parents of Vernon is that they are so busy making money they never give their child a thought. The recent session of the district court should impress the parents with the seriousness of the situation. Most of the criminal cases were young men who no doubt lacked a strict discipline at home when they were young.

It appears to us that what we need in this day and time is more of the old fashioned "hickory oil" applied at regular and frequent intervals on the seat of young boys' trousers and not so much of this "Son, if you don't mind, father will have to switch you,"—a threat which is seldom carried out.—Vernon Times.

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

Lumber Situation Serious.
Lumber recently advanced $25 per thousand feet and is now quoted at $115. We are admonished if we want to build, we had better build now as prices are low compared with what they will be a few years from now. Our fast disappearing forests are said to be the cause, and the Houston Post has the following to say about it:

"How reckless Americans have been in destroying their wonderful resources of forests is disclosed in the fact that of the 850,000,000 acres of original virgin timber land our fathers found in this country, only about 230,000,000 acres remain. Three-fourths of those great resources wiped out in the first 150 years of the life of the nation. Only one-fourth left to meet the needs of a population of probably 120,000,000 and steadily increasing.

"How long that supply will last depends upon how energetic we are in replacing forests. At present, according to President Pack of the forestry association, who has reliable statistics, new growth of timber amounts to not more than one-third of that which is cut and used each year.

"If this ratio of destruction to renewing of forests is continued, we shall soon find ourselves without an adequate supply of timber for building and other purposes. The cost of homes will become prohibitive. The high cost of living, in so far as it pertains to houses, will continue, for there is little hope of relief until a radical change is made in the country's forest policy, which will insure an adequate lumber supply.

"Perhaps the average man has not thought that growing of trees out yonder in the wilderness or in the waste spots affected him, and he has not been interested in forest problems. But the time has arrived when it directly affects everybody, and the problem of renewing the forests of protecting those still standing from all manner of waste, is one for popular consideration.

"Public sentiment must be aroused in favor of a more adequate and definite policy by the government in regard to forests, for the bearing it has upon the home and the cost of living if for no other reason. Nothing short of a program providing for renewing forests on a scale equal to their destruction each year will meet the situation. Fortunately the warning has been sounded in time for Americans to prevent their country from being wholly denuded of timber but delay in applying the remedy will be paid for in the future. Indeed, it is already being paid for in part now."

Cheering.
"Did the doctor seem encouraged about your condition?"
"Yes," said Mr. Grabcoim. "I have an idea he thinks I'm going to be one of the most profitable patients he ever had."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Dr. Jack Smith is Cousin of Editor

The daily papers a few days ago carried dispatches giving an account of the capture and holding for ransom in Mexico of an American physician by name of Dr. J. M. Smith. He was held for $6,000 ransom and was released on payment of same. He was a physician of a big New York mining concern, and had been in Mexico 15 years. He is a cousin of the writer, coming from the only family of Smiths that are related to our family. Dr. Jack Smith, as we all knew him, visited us 15 years ago, just before going to Mexico. His old home is in Coryell County. This and many similar instances is bringing intervention closer to the doors of old Mexico. Recently a lady, who had made her home in Mexico for a number of years, testified before the Senate Investigation Committee, that numerous young girls and women had been captured and taken into the mountains by bandits and Carranza soldiers, and there mistreated and held for ransom. These women were American and English subjects. This lady testified that the majority of this kind of misconduct on the part of the Mexicans came from the Carranza soldiers, who, after committing these revolting crimes against civilization laid it off on the Villa bandits. There is a lunch of trouble being laid up for Carranza and the Mexican bandits.—Lockney Beacon.

She Did Them Good.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.

The Saturday Evening Post of last week had an editorial on the candidates for President. After dissecting all of the professions which have contributed men to the presidency, the Post concludes that the next President must be a business man. The Randall County News does not have quite the circulation of the Saturday Evening Post, but we made this assertion several weeks ago, and are glad to see our contemporary coincides with this recommendation. Concluding a page and a half editorial on this subject, the Post concludes:

"Our candidate must be one who will put duty above a second term. The right man can do more for his country's welfare in the next four years than an average President in three average terms. He must be the kind of man that as an employee gave a full day's work and was not afraid to heap up the measure; and as an employer was something more than a set of side whiskers an impersonal Jehovah in a white waistcoat to his men. He could even have a single-track mind if the goods moved over it."

"The platform of our candidate, reduced to its simplest terms, should read something like this:

"Work or starve."
"Save or waste."
"Play together or you'll play hell."
"Be a good American or get out."
"This is a short platform, but a large order. It can be filled. After we have found and nominated our man the curious can ask him what his politics is. It will not make any difference whether he is a Republican or a Democrat. It has not made any real difference for a long time. There are no party issues—only American issues."

Amarillo is to make a drive for a Y. M. C. A. building. The need of a center of recreation for the young men of the city is being felt and neglected. Every town needs such a center, some kind of a hall where the young men may congregate during their idle hours. The community house movement is being discussed all over the United States. The Y. M. C. A. offers the best solution for the larger towns which can afford to build the proper house. Canyon needs some kind of a hall. There would be fewer reports of petty cussedness going the rounds in Canyon if the young men and boys were given some place to go, and something to do in the evenings rather than roaming the streets.

There was no League of Nations in 1914. The greatest and bloodiest war in the history of the world started. The United States was able to keep out of it for two and a half years, but was ultimately drawn in. The United States is too big to stay out of world politics; and another big war would draw us in. The proponents of the League of Nations do not claim that it will forever put an end to wars, but think that it may accomplish that purpose. Wherein then is the danger in making a supreme effort to save the war another catastrophe. The men who are fighting the League of Nations would leave the world, especially America, open to another conflagration, rather than attempt to save the lives of millions on the battle field.

Henry Watterson wrote: "The world is in a shambles fix," which is putting it in a nut shell. Strikes in every country is paralyzing industry. Mobs are taking justice into their own hands. Unrest is upon every hand. Financiers are talking of a panic to bring people to their senses. All of this unrest is the direct result of the demoralizing conditions of the war. Cool heads are needed among the laborers. Wise counsel is needed among capital. A desire to get together and save America from this horrible mess is needed by both capital and labor.

Three-fourths of the publications of New York City have suspended in a lock-out because of the unwarranted demands of the employees. The National Typographical Union and kindred union officials are backing the publishers because a strike was threatened without the consent or approval of the national officials. It is announced that the suspension will continue "until the unrest and troubled conditions in the country cease." By that time the would-be strikers ought to have learned a little sense.

The Senate has killed a majority of the proposed reservations to the peace treaty in quick action. This week is being devoted to other reservations. All of the reservations will follow in the path of those disposed of last week. The senators know that the treaty will be ratified as originally written, but much do just so much debating for the sake of home consumption.

Public School Notes.
Reports from all teachers on the condition of discipline is encouraging, no pupils failing to show a fine attitude toward his teachers and fellow pupils.

The teachers are striving to secure a little closer application on the part of a few who have not become enthused on the subject of thoroughness. New pupils are still enrolling, making all grades full, none too full however for splendid work.

A schedule for the use of the Victrola has been made which will give each room the pleasure of hearing some fine records at least once a week.

This week plans will be made for systematic use of the library, and a little later a library campaign will be put on.

Last week a splendid program was rendered by the Literary Society. Music, readings, debate and jokes made up an hour of real entertainment.

The question of the good and evil effects of the movie shows was debated and the decision of the judges showed that the weight of the arguments was slightly unfavorable to the movie show. We hope that an open session of this society may soon be announced and friends invited to attend.

On Friday afternoon, Oct. 16, the parents of pupils in the first, second, third and fourth grades are expected to visit the children and their teachers in their school homes. Let every mother at least come and encourage the children and their faithful teachers. We know you will appreciate everything that is being done to make your child happy, contented and successful in his work.

The rainy days of this week has made no appreciable difference in the attendance. This shows that a deep interest in the school is being manifested by the pupils and patrons.

Miss Frye was absent Tuesday on account of illness. Mrs. Lester Vick kindly supplied for us, teaching the Latin and History.

Mr. Ince of Amarillo spent Sunday with friends.

Mr. Robert Webster of Amarillo, spent Saturday and Sunday in Canyon. He is a former resident of that city.

Miss Julia Spangle arrived in Canyon Saturday. She comes from Clarendon College and will begin her work here.

They first had a "Get-Acquainted" meeting, and punch was served. Later in the evening the girls of Huddleigh Hall presented a play, "The King of Canibal Isles". The attendance at this meeting, which was one of the best in the history of the institution, indicates that we are to have an abundance of college "pep" this year.

The Junior class met early in the week and elected the following officers: Clyde Goodwine, Pres.; Wesley Allen, Vice Pres.; Alma Guenther, Secretary; Everett Key, Treasurer.

There is quite a little literary society excitement in our corridors this week. The Cousins Society organized Wednesday with twenty-six members. The officers for the first quarter are: Kenneth Burns, Pres.; Wesley Allen, Vice Pres.; Geo. Ritchie, Secretary; Easton Allen, Treasurer; Chas. Robins, Sergeant-at-Arms; Emri Stidham, Yell Leader; Harper Allen, Representative on Staff of College paper.

Miss Willie Mack Foster, a former student of this college, spent the week-end with her sister, Miss Jewel Foster, who is now a student with us.

Our football team for this year is an unusually strong one. Coach Willy has had several years experience in training teams, and under his supervision, we expect to have easy victories. The first game is with Portales High School next Saturday.

A number of our school boys went to the country Saturday, but on account of bad weather they had to come back.

The fourth year class officers for the fall quarter are as follows: Elsie Hall, Pres.; D. T. Tarlton, Vice Pres.; Jaunita Beall, Secretary; Ruby Latimore, Treasurer.

The student body met in the Normal auditorium last Saturday and voted a blanket tax of two dollars per quarter. At present 495 students have bought tickets. This tax covers practically all the college activities except the "Le Mirage".

The Other Side.

In a small town in Oklahoma a man who leaned strongly toward socialism, was employed for a number of years in a restaurant. He was working for another man, and always the tenor of his remarks was the downtrodden working man, and the unfair advantages which the employer took over the employee. The business, being a small one, and the employer a man who liked to talk over his business problems with his help, there were many discussions anent the question of capital and labor on a small scale. Never could the employee see the side of the owner of the business, and he loved to talk of the day when labor would overthrow capital—capital being to him represented by his employer, and labor by himself. By some hook or crook, this man who worked so long for another saved enough money to buy himself a restaurant, and being well acquainted with the business, he started up with bright visions of a happy future. From labor, he has become capital in the embryo. From employee he has become employer.

Now, being on the other side of the fence, as it were, he can see the other side of the question of capital and labor. He has found out that, whereas, he is obliged to give two weeks notice before firing any of his workers, they on the other hand are quite at liberty to walk out and leave him in a tight place. This has happened to him several times since he has launched into business for himself. He pays high prices for labor which is of the poorest, and he is constantly in fear that his three or four helpers will leave him without a moment's notice, thereby losing for him many dollars. He is obliged to put up with all sorts of inconveniences; he is obliged to keep cooks who cannot cook and waiters who cannot serve properly. He is evidently coming to realize that business men are not all capitalists and labor does not always work and that there are two sides to the capital and labor question. If such a thing were possible, it might be a good thing for the country to let everybody play at the old fashioned game of "fruit basket" for a time. Seeing the other fellow's side would help a lot in settling the labor troubles.—The Employer.

A Gangling Loose-Boned Fool.

He was a gangling, loose-boned, limber-jawed youth who looked a3 tho he had been sent for and could not get away, says the Emporia Gazette. He blew into the Gazette office today to have his name kept out of the paper for being on a jag. He expected to get a job on the Santa Fe and would not be employed if his name appeared in the Gazette, and as this was his first offense we kept his name out. But by way of diversion we hereby hand him the following hard-boiled language: "You are a damned fool, Mr. Ginger Jag. And we used the word damned and fool advisedly. Any man who hasn't enough sense to keep

Oh! So Pain daisy dragged-down! With headache, backache — racking with pain here or there — poor woman, she's one of many. On those days each month, when in other circumstances she would go to bed, she must still be at the desk on counter, or struggle through the day as best she may with her housework or her family cares. Usually she who feels those dragging-down or daisy symptoms, and other pains caused by womanly disease, can be cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the cause of these pains. Faded, jaded, tired, overworked, weak, nervous, delicate women are helped to strength and health by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. In liquid or tablets.

MEMPHIS, TENN.—For many years I have depended on Dr. Pierce's Medicines to keep me well and healthy. I was once restored to health by the use of the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' when other medicines and doctors had failed to give me any help. The 'Favorite Prescription' has no equal as a woman's medicine.—Mrs. E. C. WILSON, 600 N. 9th Street.

Jamaica ginger out of his stomach as a beverage, won't have sense enough to function in this world; he is damned from here to eternity. And any man who deliberately sets out to get drunk when there is nothing but Jamaica ginger and lemon extract to cheer him is a fool. There might have been some sense in the head of the man who, under the stimulus of social encouragement, a gang of cheerful idiots, and a luring good brand of booze, in a gay and festive livery stable or other bacchanalian retreat, filled his system full of assault, arson, larceny and manslaughter microbes, which would steal upon him unaware.

But for a man to go out with malice pretense, and store up a lot of lemon extract or Jamaica ginger which is in itself a poison, and then go and steal a motor car and ride off and try to climb a tree with it—that man is a fool; a damned fool, and what's more unless some woman or God Almighty performs a miracle on him he will be at it again. The next time we propose to print his name and mail a marked copy to the superintendent of the Santa Fe. The sooner he is fired the safer traveling on the system will be and we have no desire to shield a man in a job who is such a calf-bound chump that he gets drunk on groceries and hardware instead of regulation drugs. So, Mr. Ginger Jag, go it while you're young, for you haven't got enough in your bean to last another year. And when you fall, blame yourself. The City of Emporia has protected you by city ordinance; the state of Kansas has shielded you from temptation by state law; and the constitution of the United States has been amended at a great expense for just such suckers as you, and after all that pains to make a man of you you haven't got anything in your head sweet-breeds, you are not worth saving. So keep your eye on the junkpile, and pick out your landing. For you're due there in about six months."

Bailey county is taking quite a forward stride for a new county. The people there have built teacherages at each of two schools. The time is coming when all progressive school districts will provide modern teacherages and dormitories close to the school grounds for the school faculty.—Canadian Record.

One day in the early part of September a lady went into a store in a Middle Western town to buy material for a winter coat. The salesman showed her various grades of cloth, and she picked one which was worth about $10, but the price was priced at $15. She returned the following day to make the purchase, but learned that the price had advanced to $17.50 per yard. She reminded the salesman of the price quoted on the previous day, and was told that another store on the same street was selling similar material at $17.50. The wholesaler had therefore served notice that unless the price was increased to $17.50, the store's contract for additional cloth would be canceled.

This word, "profiteer" is becoming as monotonous as the word "camouflage" was until it went out of fashion. "Profiteer" is now more overworked than any other word in the language; and, like most overworked words, it gradually loses its meaning—or rather, it tends to mean almost anything.

A man is not necessarily a profiteer if he makes a profit—or if he makes a large profit. It is dishonest to make no profit, because a man who makes nothing ceases to be self-dependent. He is obliged to live at the expense of some one else, which no man should do while he is able to earn a living.

A man is a profiteer who, without rendering any service, manipulates conditions with the sole motive of making a profit. To sell an article for the highest price one can get is justifiable. The labor unions certainly sell their labor at that price. But a man who makes a systematic business of creating scarcity to send prices higher is a profiteer, like the clothing wholesaler mentioned above.

To kill a man is not necessarily to commit murder. It depends on the attendant conditions, and the governing motive. It has been done several times in France with an excellent motive.

To sell articles at a high price is not necessarily profiteering. But it can be, under certain conditions; and it is important that diligent investigation should discover what the conditions are. — Quahash Tribune-Chief.

When Train Men Get a Grouch.

Operating expenses of railroads are increased by numerous methods of waste and carelessness. Probably one of the oldest and by far the most destructive and useless of them is practiced by train men and engine men when they get on the "peck". We have reference to their methods of switching and handling trains. In the local yard Saturday evening was a crew that was on a "peck" good and stout. The engine crew would allow the train men to signal until it looked as if they were exhausted before a move would be made. When the engine got under headway it would strike standing cars with such force that one standing beside the train could see the cars buckle upward in the center when the impact was made. In the train he handled were several cars of cattle, some containing calves and others mixed with cows and calves. These cars while standing appeared to be moderately loaded, but when they were struck in switching one could see daylight through fully one-third of the car. They were jammed in one end of the car tighter than sardines were ever packed in a can. After switching had been completed, the train men had the engine men backing up and pulling forward apparently for no other reason than to get even. When men adopt such measures to show their contempt for

Why Shoe Prices are High.

A Columbus woman was having a pair of shoes fitted, and the clerk was inclined to chattiness.

"I remember the first pair of shoes in Columbus which was sold for $15," he said, as he adjusted the shoe he was trying to sell. "I was clerking in—well, it was not this store—and one day there came in a large box of shoes. There was nothing unusual about them—they were to be retailed for $5.00. That was a maximum price of the finest high shoes then, and it was not more than five years ago.

"While we were taking them from the box, the manager of the store said:

"I am going to mark a pair of these shoes at $15 and see if I can sell them."

"So he selected a pair of the regular $5 shoes and set them on a piece of velvet in the show window. "Price $15" was stamped on a card and placed over the shoes. In a few hours a woman came in and bought them.

"What's the use of selling shoes for $5 when I can get $15?" asked the manager, so every pair of the shoes bought to sell at $5 was marked up to $15, and women bought them.

"Now, whose fault was it? The manager who took advantage of circumstances, or the extravagant women who bought the shoes?" — Columbus Dispatch.

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil).

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

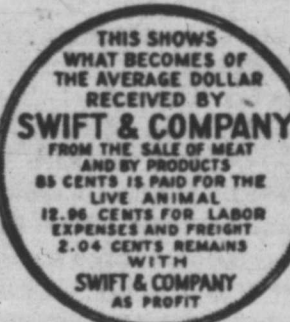

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

TONNAGE TO RELIEVE WHEAT GROWERS IN TEXAS PROMISED

Washington, D. C.—Relief is promised to the holders of grain in Texas and the Panhandle section, where serious loss has threatened the producers through lack of transportation facilities, in a letter received Monday by Representative Marvin Jones from the Railroad Administration.

"The Wheat Corporation has advised," says the letter, "that the outlook for additional tonnage at Galveston is very good, and it anticipates a sufficient number of boats within the next ten days to relieve the elevator and car congestion."

Mr. Jones is further advised that instructions are outstanding that preference shall be given to cars for loading of wheat when the shippers are in a position to ship to a market or a port which can handle the grain promptly on arrival so as to avoid unnecessary delay to the equipment.

Plainview Banks Consolidate.

The people of the town and community round about were great surprised Sunday morning to learn that the night before the First and Citizens National Banks, had been consolidated and new parties had bought the controlling interest. The dealing had been very secret and practically nobody except those interested knew of the pending deal.

The assets of the Citizen National Bank were moved to the First National Bank last Saturday night, under the direction of Mr. Logan, national bank examiner, and the officers of the banks, with a guard of six peace officers.

The new officers of the First National Bank, under which the consolidation will do business, are C. C. Lamb, president; R. A. Underwood, of the Citizens active vice president and cashier; J. H. Slaton, chairman of the board of directors; Jim Anderson and Casey Hughes, assistant cashiers. The other employees of the banks continue in their positions.

Dr. C. C. Gidney, W. E. Risser and others are associated in the bank ownership with Mr. Lamb et al.—Plainview News.

How Poison Gas Came.

The idea of poison gas in warfare, which the Germans first used, was the result of accident.

Some years ago a disastrous fire followed a chemical at Griesheim, near Frankfurt-on-the-Main, in Germany. The explosion took place in the Griesheim Electron Factory, and almost instantly the whole building was in flames.

Fire engines came galloping in but as they approached the men were seen to fall from their seats. Spectators running after them dropped as if shot and meanwhile the blaze increased, involving fresh buildings, and even crossing the river into the village of Schwannheim.

What had happened was this: The sudden mixtures of vats of different chemicals under intense heat had filled the air with a gas of so terribly poisonous a nature that those who came within its deadly influence were suffocated at once. Fifty-one dead, and three times that number injured, was the result of that terrible fire.

This method of destruction appealed to the German War Lords, who pigeon-holed the idea, and brought it into actual operation soon after the war started.

Where The Money Went.

The American Cooperative Journal is holding a meeting to discuss agricultural matters. The subject billed for the first meeting is "Collective Bargaining for Farmers." And the news has drawn loud and angry outcry from the protagonists of the class called the "consumers." They complain that they will be crushed between organized labor on the one side, and the farmers' trust on the other. The farmer, they lament, will be the most dangerous kind of profiteer.

Well; keep your shirt on. Let us look into this thing.

A Michigan farmer lately shipped to the city two bushels of early apples, which sold for $1.10 per bushel—total $2.20 for the load. His expenses were: baskets, 40c; labor and spraying, 20c; freight and crating, 56c; commission, 22c. His profit was 82c. The retail price we can, of course, only guess, as he was through when he reached the commission agent. But it is well that the city where he sold his apples was near-by, so that the freight and crating could be kept down to 56 cents. His original investment is, of course, neglected.

We can hardly blame the farmers for wanting to federate.—Co-Operative Journal.

M. A. HENSON, Prop.

Galveston Appeals to Texas. Galveston, Texas, September 25. To the People of Texas:

One of the amendments to be voted on in the coming November election is that authorizing the city of Galveston and county of Galveston to issue bonds not to exceed in the aggregate five million dollars ($5,000,000.00) for the raising of the grade and to provide other storm protective works and to levy and collect the necessary taxes to meet the interest and sinking fund; provided that no such bonds shall be issued unless authorized by a majority of all the qualified taxpaying voters of the city, or of the county outside the city if issued by the county.

Of the five million of bonds, the city seeks authority to issue four million and the county one million.

This is an amendment that embodies the principle of local self-government. It simply authorizes the taxpayers of the City or County of Galveston upon a majority vote to issue storm protective bonds and tax themselves to meet the interest and sinking fund necessary to care for same.

The adoption of this amendment will not cost the people of Texas outside of Galveston county one dollar either directly or indirectly.

There is no sound reason for anyone voting against this amendment. We, therefore, respectfully and earnestly ask the qualified voters of our state to vote for the adoption of said amendment, and thus make it possible for our city to complete protective works.

HIGHEST Quality Awards

The Union.
Henrietta Review: The suggestion of a clergyman's union, and the fact that a way of a union is to strike, must raise the question as to whence come negotiations for settlement of the difficulty.

State Press in Dallas News.—Why, the negotiations would be conducted by the unionized preachers on one side and the church stewards or elders or deacons or vestrymen on the other. But let us hope the preachers will not unionize. Multiplication of unions is undermining the principles, or at least the profits, of the first unions. Originally trade unions were intended to be organizations of skilled craftsmen, who sought by co-operation to improve their condition and set a standard of workmanship which should make union men better earners for themselves and more profitable workmen for employers. In some crafts these principles still obtain, and in those crafts unionism has been greatly beneficial to the craftsmen and at the same time profitable to the employers. But when unions began, within comparatively recent times, to be formed heterogeneously and the objectives forgotten or ignored, the result became less happy. Every union man, like every other man, has to bear his pro-rata of the cost of inefficiency and extravagance in industry. Should the steel industry, with its great numbers of unskilled workmen, be unionized to the extent that wages should be doubled, every union man in every union craft would have to dig up his part for the increase. And if the power of the steelmen's union should be such as to protect inefficiency and thereby promote unnecessary costs of operation, the last estimate of the operatives would be worse than the first. Men in no craft can long receive in wages more than the labor value of their service. The Russian ripsnorters found that out as soon as they tried it. If all of us were unionized none of us would be unionized profitably, for each would have to pay out his union gains to other union gainers. Mr. Gompers, though a very able man, appears sometimes to have lost sight of this fundamental truth. His anxiety to spread unionism is abstracting from the fruits of unionism, and the result may easily be because nothing short of class war.

Startling Road Facts.
 Texas State taxes are less than $20,000,000 a year.
 Texas pays $30,000,000 a year more for new automobiles because of bad roads than would be paid if all roads were good roads.
 Texas pays $20,000,000 more for gasoline than the same mileage would require if all roads were good roads.
 Texas pays between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000 more for repairs on cars due to bad roads than would be paid if all roads were good roads.
 Texas pays $40,000,000 more a year for tires because of bad roads than would be paid if all roads were good roads.
 Texas pays $5,000,000 more for wagons and buggies because of bad roads than would be paid if all roads were good roads.
 Texas pays more than $100,000,000 a year as a tax on bad roads.
 Texas pays five times as much tax for bad roads as is collected by the State for all purposes.
 Time, isn't it, to pay taxes for good roads, and stop the taxes for bad roads and stop the taxes for bad roads.
 Good roads are cheaper than bad roads.

Justice to National Guard.
 The part taken by the National Guard in the war is not clearly brought out in the figures published by the War Department. Justice demands that this service be distinctly set forth. One of the matters involved is future military readjustments. The general Army staff habitually favors the regular organization, which perhaps may be viewed as a national tendency. But the National Guard represents the highest militia development of the individual States, and this is numerically larger than the regulars. There is no disposition to disparage what was accomplished by the regulars, but the performance of the National Guard in a vast and unexpected crisis is fundamentally important in military planning for other emergencies, as well as a matter demanding historical accuracy. The National Guard stands four-square in all that it was called upon to do in the greatest war that ever occurred. It responded promptly, powerfully and victoriously, faltering at nothing in the line of duty. Composed of the militia of forty-eight States, and with but a limited training, it was, under all circumstances, intrepid and steadfast. And it was uniformly successful. The statistics of the War Department should be comprehensively fair to all Americans who helped win the war.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns, calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift them off.

GROCERS MUST MARK ACTUAL WEIGHT ON PKGS. FOR SALE

Austin, Texas, Sept. 25.—The department of weights and measures rules that all grocers who put up packages of sugar and other commodities in order to forestall a rush mark thereon the net weight of the contents of the sacks.

The same rule applies to those stores which package their goods in order to save clerk hire and who permit customers to serve themselves.

This is reversal of a former rule by the department which was found not to work very well.

The local inspector at San Antonio found twenty-three short weight packages out of a total of ninety-four which were re-weighed, most of these being butter.

When the Prince of Wales asked "And where is Boston?" they were too polite to explain to him that it was near Lexington and Concord.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

You'll Want This Combination

It is the Case 10-18 kerosene tractor and a two-bottom Grand Detour plow. It is an ideal plowing outfit for either small or large farms.

The tractor weighs about 3,500 lbs., just a trifle more than a big team of horses. It burns kerosene economically, developing full power on the same.

The Tractor has a four-cylinder valve-in-head motor, mounted crosswise on a one-piece frame. A Case Siphon Thermostat controls the cooling system and insures complete combustion. The all-spur gears, with teeth cut and hardened, are enclosed and run in oil.

The Grand Detour 2-bottom Automatic Lift Rigid Beam Plow will fill the plowing requirements of the most particular farmer. Grand Detour plows are strictly quality plows. They are light in draft, yet so well constructed that they will give years of faithful service at a low cost of upkeep.

We would greatly appreciate the opportunity of telling you more about Case tractors. Drop in and let's talk it over.

J. A. WILSON, OIL STOCK, LEASES AND REAL ESTATE

(By R. Kenneth Evans)

J. A. Wilson, just recently disposed of the last acre of his farming lands in Randall county and with the extensive operations in real estate, oil and oil development in Randall county decided to actively enter the real estate business. For the last two years Mr. Wilson has maintained a real estate office in Canyon but was never actively engaged in the business. He mostly handled his own real estate transactions and where the opportunity presented itself he would handle other deals. The balance of the time he was actively engaged in farming and handling his farm lands in this section of the Panhandle country.

Mr. Wilson has lived in Randall county for the last sixteen years and during that time has been one of the most influential factors in the development of agricultural and stock raising conditions in the county. He has exerted his every influence at all times towards immigration and thru his special efforts has been responsible for the location in this county of several of the reputable and successful farmers, who are now pushing this section of the Panhandle to the front.

The activity in Randall county at this time has appealed to Mr. Wilson and being thoroughly familiar with every condition that exists here and realizing where every opportunity for development he feels that he cannot only make a substantial livelihood in the real estate business but can exert more influences through those channels to encourage and foster immigration to this section.

Although for the time being he has disposed of his ranch and farm holdings in the county, Mr. Wilson states that he will again invest in Randall county lands. "I would not feel natural unless I owned a farm in Randall county and had a farm for headquarters", is the way Mr. Wilson expressed himself to a representative of the News.

His actual experiences over a period of sixteen years in Randall county as a farmer and his familiarity with condition in this section makes him exceptionally qualified for the business which he has chosen to follow actively. He will be of valuable assistance to anyone contemplating locating in the Panhandle country and can give advice of opportunities for investment such advice being based on his actual experiences in these lines in the county.

Mr. Wilson is actively interested in the development of the oil possibilities of the Panhandle. He believes that there is oil in this section and is handling leases and oil stocks for reliable companies which companies are making preparations to make extensive tests throughout the Panhandle country to determine whether oil exists in paying quantities or not.

Mr. Wilson will also handle stocks of merchandise, cattle and a general commission business, rentals and handle property for non-residents. He will make a general real estate and commission business and be actively engaged in it in his offices on the south side of the square.

"I have great confidence in the Panhandle country and should have", is the way Mr. Wilson expressed himself. "I have made a success here and know that others can do likewise and I am going to exert every power I can to encourage the maximum development of the vast field of resources that exist in Randall county and the Panhandle."

Those contemplating investing in Panhandle lands will do well to communicate with Mr. Wilson as he will be pleased to furnish detailed information relative to conditions as they actually exist here.

waste basket! There are some people in the world who seem to have an idea that the newspaper man is an easy mark, and is only too anxious to give away his bread and butter to every guy who wants free advertising and has the unmitigated gall to ask for it. In the olden days the "space grafter" did a flourishing business along these lines, but in this day and age the newspaper man demands value received for any work he may put forth. As a general rule the average country editor has quite enough to do when he looks after the interests of his subscribers and customers without taking the burdens of the whole world on his shoulders. And when it comes to a show down the editor, like every other man in business, caters principally to those who do business with him. This is the general rule throughout the business world, and it applies to the newspaper just as much as it does to any other line of endeavor.
