PLAINVIEW SCORES 6 TO 0 AGAINST NORMAL

Hard Fought Game Goes to Visitors on Fluke Near End—Normal Made Most Gains.

Plainview won the football game against the Normal Saturday on a fluke near the end of the final period. In an open field within ten yards of their own goal, a forward pass was thrown into the arms of a Plainview player, and a touchdown resulted. Goal failed.

According to the dope sheet the Normal team made a better showing than the visitors. Plainview completed only one forward pass, failing on ten. Their gain by forward pass was 8 yards. The Normal completed seven forward passes, making 56 yards, while they failed on eleven passes.

Plainview gained 93 yards in 23 plays through the line and on end runs. The Normal gained 106 yards through the line on 17 plays.

Plainview carried the ball a total of 101 yards or an average of 4 5-24 yards on the twenty-four successful plays. The Normal's total gain was 162 yards on 24 successful plays, or an average of 6 3-4 yards.

Plainview was penalized five times, making a total of 35 yards. The Normal was penalized four times for 25 yards.

The first quarter was largest in favor of the visitors. The Normal preponderated during the remainder of the game with the exception of the moment of bad judgment when the game was won by the intercepted forward pass.

Plainview kicked east at the opening of play, a strong wind at their back. The Normal carried the ball from their own 45 yard line to the visitor's 40 yard line. The visitors were unable to gain and a long kick put the ball in play on the Normal's own 30 yard line. Miller, Battenfield and Key carried the ball to the 20 yard line where a fumble gave the visitors the ball. Plainview was thrown back, and penalized five yards, losing the ball on the 25 yard line. Normal fumbled and lost 6 yards; Sone made 10 yards; with 6 yards to go a smash was attempted, falling short one yard, and the ball went to Plainview on the 28 yard line. Quarter up. No score.

In the opening of the second period Plainview gained only 5 yards, the ball going to the Normal on their own 25 yard line. Miller went 20 yards. Elliston 8 yards on a forward pass. Plainview was penalized 10 yards. Sone added 8 yards. A drop kick from the 25 yard line failed. Plainview's ball on the 20 yard line. The visitors went to the 38 yard line where the Normal recovered an attempted kick, carrying to the 30 yard line, and adding 12 yards in two downs. Another drop kick failed. Plainview's ball on 20 yard line. Failing to gain the visitors kicked to the 38 yard line. Key and Battenfield went to the 22 yard line when the ball was lost. Plainview carried ball to 35 yard line when quarter ended. No score.

At the opening of the third quarter Plainview kicked west to the Normal, the ball going into play on the 15 yard line. Normal penalized 5 yards; Key made 8 yards; Normal kicked, ball returned to 40 yard line. Normal penalized 10 yards and two plays added another 5 yards. Visitors unable to gain and kicked to 18 yard line. Unable to gain, Normal kicked to visitor's 30 line; Plainview unable to gain, but recovered fumble kick; still unable to gain and kicked to Normal's 45 yard line. Visitors penalized 10 yards. Quarter up. No score.

The third quarter started looking as if there would be no score. Both teams played consistent ball. The visitors were faster in getting plays started, but the Normal surer on passes and smashes. Half of the quarter was played near the center of the field. A kick from the west by Plainview sent ball to the Normal's 2 yard line. The Normal carried to the 10 yard line when the visitors intercepted a forward pass, going over for a touchdown; no goal. Score, Plainview 6, Normal 0.

Normal received on 15 yard line and returned to 40 yard line. They showed great form and rushed the ball to the visitor's 35 yard line, where it was lost; Plainview again kicked to the Normal 2 yard line. The Normal kicked to 24 yard line. Visitors unable to gain. Quarter ends. Score, Plainview 6, Normal 0.

The following was the line-up of the teams:

Plainview—re Duncan, rt Rushing, rg Brown, c Luna, lg Goodwin, lt Saffle, lb P. Daniel, q Reeves, rh Matlock, lh Lipscomb, f Newt Daniel. Normal—re Ray Brown, rt Robbins, rg Goodwin, c Ackerman, lg Sanders, lt F. Lohm, le Elliston, q J. Battenfield, rh L. Sone, lh S. Miller, f Key. Morris of Wayland referee, Terrill umpire, Shirley head lineman.

CLARENDON COLLEGE WILL PLAY NORMAL SATURDAY

Clarendon College will play the Normal football team on the Normal grounds Saturday afternoon at 3:30. Clarendon College was not on the original schedule of the Normal, but owing to cancellations of games, a place was made for this week.

Plainview High defeated Wayland. Wayland defeated Clarendon. Plainview high and the Normal are very evenly matched. The dope sheet indicates that the Normal will win the game Saturday. But it will be a hard fast game.

ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY IN TEXAS FOR AMENDMENTS

There is no general election in Texas this year, but six amendments to the state constitution will be presented to the voters for ratification at that time.

The amendments have been widely discussed, and no doubt are all meritorious. But the people of Texas are in the habit of defeating amendments as fast as they come up, and the like fate of these amendments may be expected.

The voters should look carefully into these questions before voting against them this time.

"13th Chair" Date Changed.

Instead of coming on Monday, Nov. 10, as per original date, arrangements were made yesterday for the next show of the four being brought here by Chas. F. Horner to come to the Normal on Saturday, Nov. 8th.

This change was necessary on account of railroad schedules.

Announcements is made in this issue of the coming of the play.

Roy Davis Gets Bond.

Roy Davis, who has been in jail for the past two weeks awaiting the action of the grand jury, held on a charge of forgery and stealing wheat, made bond late last Thursday and was released from jail by Sheriff W. A. Jennings.

October Collections Good.

Tax Collector Worth A. Jennings stated yesterday that state and county taxes were coming in very well, there having been 200 tax receipts issues so far during the month.

Sterk Special.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burks Monday morning at their home west of the depot which they recently bought of John Begrin. Mr. and Mrs. Burks recently move to Canyon from Tulia.

COLD WAVE HITS PANHANDLE MONDAY—WARMING UP NOW

A cold norther began to blow Monday about noon, and by night was pretty cold. It was cloudy Monday night, or otherwise there would have been a heavy frost. Tuesday was a cold day, but yesterday morning the temperature moderated considerably.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS NOV. 2-11

Randall County Should Have 1000 Members of the American Red Cross.

The quota for Randall County in the Red Cross Membership Campaign November 2-11 is 1000 members.

As Randall County has been relieved of any cash contribution in this campaign, we should by all means equal or exceed our quota.

Some are somewhat inclined to think it not necessary to keep up the Red Cross membership but the peace program of the Red Cross is equally as important as was the war program and to carry this out the Red Cross must have the support of all the people, so as to keep up an organization capable of not only helping our boys in the war, but any emergency from a South Texas coast storm to a nation wide epidemic of influenza.

The officers of the Randall County Red Cross Chapter are counting on the loyal support of the boys who have been in the service, and are expecting them to assist in the canvass for members.

All can help in the campaign by coming in and giving your name for membership.

CONTRACTS ARE LET FOR THE NEW BUILDINGS AT NORMAL

Plans Not Entirely Completed—Material is Being Shipped for the Engine House.

President J. A. Hill returned yesterday from Ft. Worth and Austin. At Ft. Worth he attended a meeting of the Normal School Presidents at which a number of recommendations for the future policy of the Normals were adopted. These recommendations will be presented to the Board of Regents.

Mr. Hill then went to Austin for the purpose of getting in touch with the building situation. Work had been held up awaiting an opinion from the Attorney General regarding the method of letting the contract. It is impossible to get contractors who will accept contracts for buildings on the old basis of so much for delivering the building completed on account of the material market. The state inspector of masonry would not approve a contract under the present cost plus profit method of contracting until the attorney general had given his approval. This approval came, and the contract was given to J. F. Johnson of Austin.

Mr. Hill states that the plans for the buildings are practically completed. Material is now being shipped, and by December 1st a large amount of material will be on the ground. Work will be started first on the engine house, and the new dormitory for girls will follow.

Dairymen Will Buy Cows.

A meeting was held Saturday at the Court House of those interested in the dairy business, about a dozen men being present. It was decided to buy another load of dairy cows at once. The load will consist of Holsteins, Jerseys and Short Horns.

Mr. Walker stated this morning that he had located a load of good dairy cows and all men interested in getting some of them to see him at once, or see Mr. Powell at the First National Bank.

Two Games Cancelled.

The New Mexico Military Institute has cancelled the football game with the Normal for Nov. 8th, as they wished to play the New Mexico School of Mines. The Canadian High School will be here on that date. It is reported that they have able as strong a team as represented the Plainview High School last Saturday here.

Lubbock High School was to have played here on Saturday of this week but cancelled the game. Clarendon College will play instead.

Loaded Rye—Then Unloaded.

Of all the nonsense, absurd orders ever given by a railroad, the climax came this week when F. V. Frimel was forced to unload a car of rye which was on the track ready for shipment.

The rye had been sold to a mill. The excuse given was that the car was needed for wheat!

RANDALL COUNTY COMMERCIAL LEAGUE MEETS TONIGHT AT 7

An important meeting of the Randall County Commercial League will be held tonight at the News office at seven o'clock. Plans looking toward the November Trades Days on November 10 will be discussed.

All members are urged to be present at the meeting.

Roy Cullum is Improving.

Roy Cullum, who was injured in Amarillo last Tuesday night when he ran into the Scott Christian car, is greatly improved, and will be out of the sanitarium in a few days.

Christian was unconscious until Saturday when he regained his right mind.

Mr. Cullum is able to tell little about the accident. He ran into the Christian car so suddenly. He was not thrown from the car, as reported last week, but received a very bad gash on his leg from the glass in his windshield.

Christian's car was almost demolished. The Cullum car was badly smashed up.

Had Real Badger Fight.

A badger was bought to town Monday morning and the local dogs took a whirl at the animal. It was a very large badger, and entirely able to look out after its own welfare. Few dogs would tackle the badger. An old bull dog took the ring and did his best. Lacking his principal teeth, however, all he could do was show the badger that he wasn't afraid to take it on for a round. After all the dogs were worn out the badger seemed to be in perfect health.

Second Lyceum Number.

The Second Number of the Lyceum Course being given at the Olympic Theatre comes on Friday night, Nov. 7. The Southern Musicians will be here at that time. This is a very fine company of four Texas girls who have made a wonderful reputation for themselves on the Lyceum program.

Manager Wooten states that this is a guaranteed attraction. The pictures will be run in connection with the Lyceum number.

Armistice Day Proclaimed a Holiday.

Governor W. P. Hobby has proclaimed Tuesday, November 11, to be a legal holiday in anniversary of the signing of the armistice.

The mayor of each municipal corporation is requested to issue his proclamation accordingly, and all patriotic societies, all religious organizations, the commercial demonstrations, and associations of men and women who are banded together for the weal of the commonwealth are urged to unite in local demonstrations and exercises befitting the day.

City Property Sold.

C. F. Walker has bought the Dixon place north of the railroad, and is moving his family here from Amarillo. Mr. Walker is County Agent for Randall county, devoting all of his time to the work in this county.

McCarty Infant Dies.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCarty south of town on the 18th, and died on the 20th. The neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. McCarty extend sympathy in their sadness.

Duck Hunting is Good.

The lakes in the country are now covered with wild ducks and some geese and cranes, and hunters are having some fine sport, though the game is very wild and hard to get within shooting distance of.

Church Building Sidewalk.

Concrete sidewalks are being put in along the east side of the Methodist church, and leading up to the church steps from the sidewalks.

NEW HOURS ARE OBSERVED BY BUSINESS HOUSES IN CITY

With the change of time Sunday, the Panhandle country goes into darkness about five o'clock. The business houses have decided to open earlier in the morning, and will consequently have an earlier closing hour.

The banks now open at 8:30 and close at 3:30. The other business houses open at 6:30 and close at 5 o'clock in the evening.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY IS NECESSARY

(W. Kenneth Evans)

There is one word in the English language that is probably used without the real significance of the meaning being taken into consideration and that is "Co-operation". Without it no city can progress and with uniform cooperation any city can develop and grow to any standing in the commercial world. But cooperation does not mean merely the talking together, or the pulling together for any one single success but means the thorough cooperation in every way and in many instances one of the greatest drawbacks to cooperative success is the failure of the merchants and the consumers to pull together. Not always is it the consumers fault neither is it always the merchants fault that much money goes out of the city to merchants in other sections. Very frequently the local merchant does not carry a line or class of merchandise which will meet the requirements of the consumer and in that event it is no wonder that much money goes out of the business locality but as a general rule the merchants in a live and up to date city like Canyon carry a complete stock of merchandise which will meet all requirements. Hence the cooperation is necessary on the part of the consumer.

There is no one factor so important to the development of local conditions as the patronage of home industry. In conducting this campaign the News had in mind the thorough exploitation of the local resources on the outside but as a prominent commercial club secretary once remarked that first it is necessary to build at home before trying to encourage the outsider, the News feels that it is appropriate to use one of this series of articles in the encouragement of the patronage of home merchants.

In the first place this commercial center was established here for the convenience of the consumer. The consumer is the individual who lives in this locality because it is possible for him to make a living in this locality and that possibility is always created by this being a commercial center and it would not be a commercial center were it not for the home merchant; hence by all the laws of reciprocity the home merchant is entitled to every dollar's worth of business in the locality. Were it not for this commercial center the farmers would have to spend practically all their profit in getting their products to some market where they would be handled. In fact their crops to them would be like an oil well without a pipe line, railroad transportation or railroad facilities. Hence when they find a market placed here for their convenience it is nothing more than right that they should assist in maintaining that marketing center by buying his necessities there.

Again there is no logical reason why money should be sent out of Canyon. In this day and age of commercialism the small city merchant has the same opportunities of buying that the large city merchant possesses. He buys from the same markets and he handles the same grades of merchandise. For clothing as an example. The clothing manufacturers turn out brands of clothing and these brands are the same whether purchased in Canyon or New York City. They cost the New York City merchant just as much as they do the Canyon merchant. The Canyon merchant has the same diversified lines to choose from hence it is not necessary for the consumer living in Canyon's trade territory to go to New York or any other nearer city to make his purchases.

There is nothing that will tear down and destroy the growth of a community as the sending of money to out of town stores. Letting these profits build up another local community. It is through the taxes paid by the merchants that a large percent of the civic improvements are installed, that schools are maintained, and city and county governments operated, hence there is no logical reason why Canyon people should help lay pavement in Fort Worth, Dallas, Kansas City or any other larger city when the same things are needed here and cooperation will eventually get them.

The writer is familiar with an instance which shows the attitude assumed by too many. True there is no particular instance of this disloyalty in Canyon but to recite this instance might eliminate some such condition existing. A banker in a west Texas city, a prominent banker, too, and one who would constantly attend all meetings of the commercial body and would represent himself to be in favor of every enterprise which promised for the development of the local resources, had a peculiar hobby of advertising for business for his bank on the theory to help his bank would mean to help the town. He would advertise that every dollar on deposit in his bank worked for the upbuilding of the financial conditions of the entire community. He would really get peeved when suggestions were made for out of town investments, etc. But this same banker builded a home. A Fort Worth architect drew the plans. He went to Dallas for his furniture. He bought his drapes and other fixtures from a large city. In fact his entire home was furnished through that source on the excuse that he could not get in this city what he wanted yet the things he did not get came from the same house with which his local dealer transacted business and his local dealer could have handled all his material by special order. It also developed that his wife and daughter felt that to maintain their standing in the community they must buy their clothing from the exclusive city shops, yet the same mercantile wholesale houses had traveling men calling on the local stores. This banker was constantly working for the retarding of his own local city yet felt piqued if he did not get all the local money on deposit. He did not stop to think apparently that he was doing just the opposite to what he was preaching.

A large mail order house in the east in advertising for business sent out in their yearly catalogue a statement to the effect that "your neighbor is buying from us, why not you. Enough business was sent from your locality to our house this year to pave one of the streets of Chicago". Of course their idea was to encourage more patronage on the theory that if the neighborhood bought, so should the prospect. The mail order advertisement writer did not realize that to the thinking man he was merely making a statement that would open his eyes and show how his local community was being damaged by the money going out of the city for merchandise that could have been purchased at home, and nine times out of ten a better class of merchandise, and at a cheaper rate.

There is only one plan that can be adopted and be in keeping with the opportunities that exist in the Panhandle country and Canyon trade territory and that is to spend every dollar possible with the home merchants. It is through them that the city will grow and develop hence everyone who has the future interests of the city at heart should realize that the word cooperation means work in harmony together to build Canyon and take the first step by resolving to patronize Canyon Merchants exclusive of all others.

Wheat To Be Moved.

The following telegram was sent Saturday from Washington by Congressman Marvin Jones:
Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.
F. R. Jamison, Sec'y Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, Amarillo, Texas.
Director General advises me half million bushels wheat loaded into ships at Galveston within last four days. Vessels enough on hand to load one million more. That there are one hundred thirty three grain box cars enroute west of Newton and Wellington for the Panhandle division with one hundred fifty more enroute to same point east of Newton and Wellington. In addition to this special, trains of empties are to be run from Galveston to Panhandle through Sweetwater, Texas.
(Signed) MARVIN JONES.

Reports Thefts.

A. A. McNeil states that during the past few weeks several raids have been made on their house on the C. C. Ranch southeast of the city while he and Hugh were away. Clothing harness and various articles of value have been carried off by sneak-thieves. The boys are after the fellows who are doing the mischief, and hope to get them soon.

"Buffalo" Jones Dies.
Charles J. Jones, better known as "Buffalo" Jones died in Topeka, Kans., a few days ago, age 75 years. He was quite well known in Plainview having lived over near Portales for years, and was here several years ago and made a proposition to the Chamber of Commerce to move his herd of buffaloes to pasture in Hale county, but no deal was closed.

Jones was a pioneer Plainsman and was a partner with "Buffalo" Bill Cody in a contract to furnish buffalo meat to the men who built the Union Pacific railroad. He killed thousands of buffaloes. He also hunted buffalo on the Texas Plains. In 1886 to 1889 he decided to try to save the buffalo from extinction, and captured a few buffalo calves, the last ones in Plainview section, and raised some of them. He sold a part of the herd several years ago to the Flathead Indians of Northwest Montana for $36,000 and they have since increased rapidly.

In 1910 Jones was in the jungles of Africa hunting elephants, lions and other big game. He went back there on a hunt in 1914.

The last several years he was on the lecture platform, took part in making moving picture films.—Plainview News.

To The People Of Texas.

Galveston earnestly requests your active support and vote for the Amendment to the Constitution permitting Galveston to issue additional Bonds for storm protection.

The adoption of this amendment will not cost the people of Texas, outside of Galveston, one cent, either directly or indirectly.

Mayor of Galveston.

A Good Cow Story.

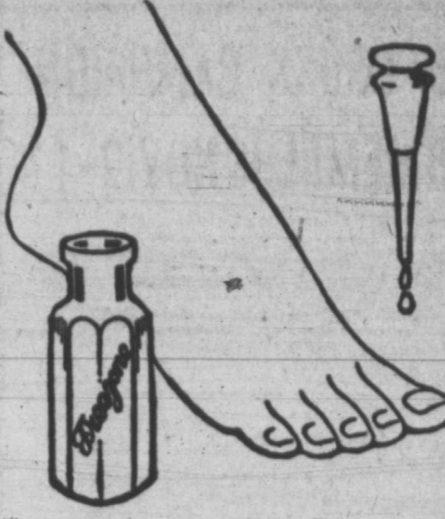

I have been in professional life now for over seven years, but being raised on a farm can't seem to get away from it. Last fall I persuaded the wife to try out some cows and just a little bit against her will, started out to look up a few. We did not know just what breed we would like to tackle as a side issue. I fished most of the slack time last summer, which wasn't very profitable but lots of sport, and as it happened I landed a herd of Holsteins, Jerseys and Guernseys, and after looking around some time at the different ones, I came home without buying any and told my wife I didn't know which to take, there were so many. We talked it over for a day or two and I went back and bought four of the best Holsteins, I thought; some that other people had passed up on account of the price.

We kept them in our back lot in a little stable thru the winter, bought alfalfa, shorts and oil meal for feeding. We found after the feed was paid for, we always had some cash left, so we leased a little ranch four miles from town, fifteen minutes drive from the office, bought eight more head in April and sold what we didn't use at home wholesale to the creamery. We were surely surprised when we got our milk check September 1st to find that we had received more than the original price of the cattle from milk sold, not counting what we used ourselves, besides six calves and a great part of the time there were ten in the family! I figured the thing up averaging the time and find those twelve Holstein cows paid their original purchase price in milk sold wholesale in just three months and 25 1-3 days! We weigh all the milk and keep records of all the cows.

I also got a chance to get a Holstein bull, recommended to be well bred. I find that he is sired by King Segis No. 51507, dam, Park Place DeKol No. 302691, and am having him registered. He was two years old June 23, 1919, and I think LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

I must have got into the aristocratic class in the cattle business when I bought him. How my wife did make fun of me when I took him home. He was so poor he almost had to lean against a mullein stalk to stand, as he had been running on the range all winter with no feed.

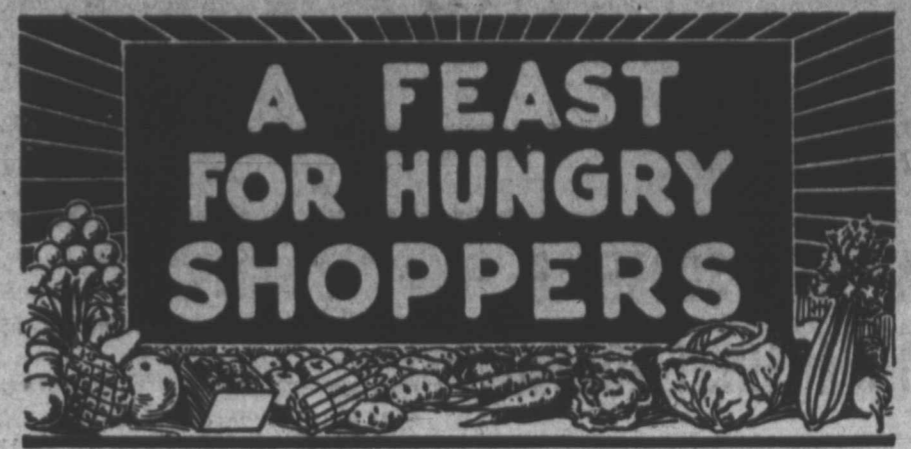

The other day my wife said to me: "Daddy, I would hate to sell Segis and see him leave the herd, wouldn't you?" I told her she had changed some in her opinion since last winter.

These cows are all bred to him. We would like some Holstein breeder to tell me what to expect from his calves. Let me tell you we are not much ashamed of the way those old cows have used us! We do not think this bad as a side venture.—Dr. McLain Morgan, Laramie, Wyo., in Western Farm Life.

Yes, of course, we can sell all the Ford cars we can get, but if you will come and place your order for one now, it will mean delivery so much quicker. We are expecting a shipment in a few days. Give us your order for one today.

And The Fordson Tractor

We are certainly fortunate in having a few Fordson Tractors on hand. We think we will be able to supply you with a Fordson at any time, but don't neglect seeing us before you actually need the machine. We have sold a lot of Fordsons this fall and they have proven life-savers to the farmers getting the wheat crop in. With labor almost impossible to get, we see no reason for not putting a Fordson on every farm and ranch in Randall County. Come in and talk it over.

The Character of Men.
There is an old saying, "Show me a man's horse and I'll tell you about the man." The man's cows are equally as accurate an index to his character. Therefore, this is an excellent time of the year for bankers to drive through the country—where roads will permit—and determine to whom, among the farmers, it is safe to loan money.

The fellows who now have their cows out in the fields, where corn stalks have been left standing all winter for the rains, snows and winds to destroy what nutriment they contained last fall, will be quickly classified as bad accounts.

The condition of the cows, as well as the present method of caring for them, will give assurance that their owners do not belong to cow testing associations. It will be a safe bet that they are using scrub bulls, and that they are now swearing they will never milk cows another winter, because of the drudgery of doing so and the lack of profit from it. Their cows merely exist from fall till spring, and if nature is kind and gives a good pasture season they merely recuperate in spring till fall. Under such conditions cows make no profit; and it matters little how good or how poor they may be.

Men who fool with cows in this way, do not have time to read. Even if they had time, it is doubtful if there is a paper or a book that has yet been published that would appeal to them.

The character of the men is reflected by their work. The best way to judge a man is to observe his cows, his fields, his fences, his machinery, his buildings, his home. Call to mind the men you know and see how quickly and accurately you can classify them, even as does the banker and merchant.—Dairy Farmer.

The Public Be Damned!

The recent agitation of the Plumb plan for turning the railroads over to the labor unions will cause any serious thinking person some concern. What would happen should this be done.

The service today is about as rotten as we could have without stopping the trains altogether. The labor unions seem to have taken the stand of "the public be damned." Their acts disgust the public.

Saturday morning we tried to get information about the 5:15 train. Phoning down there did no good—they would not answer. Arriving at the depot at 5:10 the bulletin board gave no information. It was not marked either "On Time" or "Late". The waiting room was full of people who did not know whether to expect the train on time or fifteen minutes late. The night man was down at the freight depot engaged in a conversation with some one over the phone. What did he care about inconveniencing the public. At 5:20 he leisurely strolled to the passenger depot and marked the train one hour and thirty minutes late.

Saturday night the north bound passenger burned out a bearing on the engine at Estelline. Another engine was needed from Childress. The engineer tried to call the agent at the station with his whistle. No response. The conductor stopped a passing car and drove up to the man's house and routed him out of bed. The accommodating agent informed the captain of the train that he was supposed to work in the day time and that so far as he was concerned the train could sit right there on the track until time for him to go to work in the morning. And there it set.

After three hours waiting in the middle of the night a freight arrived in the town and its engine was hooked on to the passenger and proceeded on its way. If that is a sample of the service now, what could the public expect if the roads were turned over to the unions. They care very little about giving service now and should they control the roads they would care less. If you did not like their service you could walk.

A number of remedies have been suggested for helping the present situation. Director General Hines has unlimited power but does not use it. Railroad employees who still have the best interests of the unions, public and employers at heart, say that if a few of the above mentioned type of men were put out of the service things would be better. When Mr. McAdoo was running the railroads he relieved them from their jobs when they failed to deliver the goods. He went after them from the president of the road to the lower employees. When he let up he was accused of selling out. Be that as it may we need some one at the head of the railroads who can handle them and give the public service.—Vernon Times.

The Suspended Sentence.

That the suspended sentence law is a complete and abject failure is the belief of Sheriff McFall, and it is likely that when the state sheriff's association meets next, Sheriff McFall will endeavor to induce the association to petition the legislature to repeal the law.

Within the week three men serving suspended sentences have been placed in the county jail on new charges growing out of the commission of new offenses.

"In my whole experience, I have seen four men come into court and ask their sentences be set aside," said the sheriff. Just four men have appreciated the fact they got suspended sentences. Look at the hundreds whose sentences have been suspended. Scores of them commit new crimes and get into jail again.

"If the law is not repealed, it should at least be amended to apply to fewer crimes and so arranged that only deserving persons, persons whose crimes are minor and who really have repented—should benefit."—Wichita Times.

Germinating New Wheat.

Frequently only a small percentage of freshly harvested winter wheat germinates readily under the conditions ordinarily used in making the germination tests even though it would germinate well under these same conditions a few weeks later. In sections of the country where farmers depend upon wheat from the current crop for the fall sowing the poor germination secured with the fresh grain has made it difficult for seed analysis to give accurate information as to the quality of winter wheat offered for seed in time for this information to be of service.

In a recent investigation by the Seed Laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture it has been found that this difficulty can be almost entirely overcome, even with wheat taken from standing plants and never allowed to dry out, by the use of a lower temperature than has been customary for making the germination tests. Thus, of 16 samples of freshly harvested wheat an average of 99 per cent began to germinate in five days at temperatures from 9 degrees to 16 degrees C (48 degrees to 61 degrees F), whereas in the same time an average of only 86 per cent germinated at 22 degrees C (72 degrees F) which is about the temperature at which germination tests of wheat are frequently made. In the case of one lot 98 per cent were germinating by the end of five days at 12 degrees C (54 degrees F) and only 16 per cent at 22 degrees C (72 degrees F). About 15 degrees C (59 degrees F) is recommended for use in making germination tests of all freshly harvested wheat. Of course at this temperature the rate of growth is slow after germination has begun. This method of treatment was equally successful with fresh samples of spring wheat and gave good results also with oats and barley.

Government will lose almost $300,000,000 on the railroads this year. Would Plumb divide this among the workers?—Fountain Inn (S. C.) Tribune.

It is the Case 10-18 kerosene tractor and a two-bottom Grand Detour plow. It is an ideal plowing outfit for either small or large farms.

The tractor weighs about 3,500 lbs., just a trifle more than a big team of horses. It burns kerosene economically, developing full power on the same.

The Tractor has a four-cylinder valve-in-head motor, mounted crosswise on a one-piece frame. A Case Siphon Thermostat controls the cooling system and insures complete combustion. The all-spur gears, with teeth cut and hardened, are enclosed and run in oil.

The Grand Detour 2-bottom Automatic Lift Rigid Beam Plow will fill the plowing requirements of the most particular farmer. Grand Detour plows are strictly quality plows. They are light in draft, yet so well constructed that they will give years of faithful service at a low cost of upkeep.

We would greatly appreciate the opportunity of telling you more about Case tractors. Drop in and let's talk it over.

The Ten Dollar Pig.

Two hundred and fifty dollars for the two top pigs of the coming litter of Colonel Golden Lady, by Crimson King and Golden Lady 35th is a fair price. R. E. Prewitt of Happy has paid this for the produce of the excellent sow bought by John Knight, prominent breeder of Canyon. The day of the ten-dollar pig has long passed. The people who want hogs have become accustomed to good prices and expect to pay for good stuff when they get it.

One of the most encouraging signs for the fancier and breeder is the steadily increasing price of good stuff. It hasn't yet reached what it should be but the time is not far away when the price will be what it should be. The breeder don't mind paying the price if he gets good stuff and those who are buying hogs are becoming more willing to pay for the breeder's knowledge and care in breeding.—Southwest Poultry and Swine Breeder.

RED CROSS DRIVE TO OPEN NOV. 2

OFFICIALS LOOK FORWARD TO PLACING DIVISION FIRST "OVER THE TOP."

WOMEN WORKERS ENROLL

Campaign Managers Say That Present Drive is One for Membership, Not Funds.

- *****
RED CROSS ROLL CALL FACTS
 ♦ Begins, Sunday, November 2; ♦ closes, Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11.
 ♦ Objective: 20,000,000 memberships in the United States; ♦ 2,000,000 memberships in the Southwestern Division—the states of Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Cost of membership, one dollar.
 ♦ Purpose: To maintain Red Cross at present high state of organization and efficiency as permanent national relief agency.
 ♦ One million volunteer workers to assist in campaign activities, ♦ to be enrolled previous to opening of drive.
 ♦ Soldiers, sailors and marines to aid by speaking and writing of the work of the Red Cross in the camps and overseas. Fighting men, in some cases, directing campaign.
 ♦ "Four-minute" men, returned service men, lawyers, newspaper men and others qualified, will speak during drive, in theatres, hotels, moving picture shows, clubs, factories, mills and stores.
 ♦ National advertising campaign being waged as preliminary to intensive drive. Newspapers, posters, window displays, flags, cutouts, moving picture films, dodgers, advertising slides, all carrying Red Cross messages.
 ♦**

When the Third Red Cross Roll Call of members is completed on Armistice Day, November 11, it is expected that 2,000,000 persons in Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma—the states comprising the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross—will have answered "here" and have been enrolled as annual members of the organization.

Inasmuch as this is a decrease of 385,619 members under the record of last year, when 2,385,619 members were obtained during the Christmas Roll Call from a population of approximately 13,928,000, Red Cross officials look forward to putting the Division first "over the top" with comparatively little difficulty. The nation-wide campaign this year is expected to yield more than 20,000,000 members. As in all previous campaigns, the fee for yearly membership is $1.

Red Cross Sunday.
 The campaign will open formally Sunday, November 2, which has been designated "Red Cross Sunday." On that day the story of the Red Cross will be told from pulpits all over the nation. Special programs will mark morning and evening services.

Vigorous preparations are being made, as evidenced by the rapid enrollment of thousands of women workers who will serve as volunteer canvassers during the campaign. More than 1,000,000 such workers are to be obtained throughout the country, whose aid will determine to an appreciable extent the successful termination of the coming campaign.

Reports reaching the Division office in St. Louis tell also of the co-operation being extended by hundreds of soldiers, sailors and marines, who are able, many of them, to tell "first person" stories of what the Red Cross did for them while the fighting was going on. These chaps are being enrolled as speakers, writers and active workers. In addition, "four-minute" men, lawyers, newspaper men and others qualified are scheduled to address audiences during the campaign on the subject of the Red Cross appeal.

Advertising Campaign.
 Enthusiasm in the campaign is being stimulated by the appearance of thousands of posters, window displays, Red Cross flags and other adjuncts of the country-wide advertising campaign now being carried on. Newspapers are carrying page, half-page and smaller advertisements bearing the Red Cross message, while periodicals, magazines and billboards, as well as street cars, trains, mercantile establishments and department store windows, all carry their quota of Red Cross advertising. Moving picture shows are exhibiting Red Cross films in a gigantic motion picture campaign that has for its object the education of the American people to the present-day needs of the American Red Cross.

Red Cross campaign officials have announced that the present drive is one for membership, not funds. In view of the large amount of work still to be completed abroad and the renewed activity incident to the inception in America of the Red Cross peace program along the lines of First Aid, Junior Membership, Nursing and Home Service, those in touch with the drive situation say the prospects are favorable for increasing Red Cross membership to a figure well over that obtained last year.

Says Pennies Start Fires.
 Pennies are the cause of fires, and the potential cause of many which never actually materialize, according to J. N. Johnson, manager of the Texas Public Service Company. Mr. Johnson has learned that many people simply insert a penny when a fuse plug burns out, screw the plug in, and imagine their troubles over.

"They do not have any further trouble from burned out fuses," Mr. Johnson says, "but they are likely causing a fire. A fuse plug will blow out in case of a short. The penny will not, and deadly spark continues to shoot across its newly found path, frequently with disastrous results." The Texas Public Service manager says many of the fires in Vernon have resulted from this cause. A fuse plug costs practically nothing, and the Texas Public Service Company sends a man to put them in without charge.—Vernon Record.

French War Orphan At Plainview.

Gaston Loridan, a French lad has come to Hale county to make his home with R. L. Wilson, who lives on a farm five miles south of Plainview. On account of his French accent his English can hardly be understood, tho he can write the language very well.

Sergeant Luther E. Wilson met the boy, who is a French war orphan fourteen years of age, in Lille, France and encouraged him to come to America. The next time he saw him was in camp at Newport News, Virginia, the boy having worked his way on Fluke Near End—Normal

It is said his mother died before the war started; his father enlisted in the French army and was killed when Gaston was only ten years of age. His home in Lille was destroyed by German shells.

When the American army arrived in France he stayed about the camps and made many friends and determined to follow them home—and did so.—Plainview News.

Brings Suit for $51,000.

John McCormick, a prominent Castro county citizen, has entered suit in the district court of that county for $51,000 damages, citing as defendants forty persons connected with the cooperative colony at Nazareth, in the eastern part of Castro county, west of Tulia.

He alleges in his petition, so we are informed, that a can of kerosene which he bought from the cooperative store, was really gasoline, and that it exploded while one of his children was kindling a fire in a stove last April and burned the house, two of his small daughters perishing in the fire.

Nazareth colony is a cooperative community of German Catholics. There are, we understand, about fifty families, and they are thrifty and peaceable, and clanish. The whole social life of the colony centers in the Catholic church, and the priest is the leader of the people. They own and conduct a store cooperatively. They buy their farm implements and other supplies together, and often in carload lots. They are said to hate German autocracy and militaryism and during the war always subscribed their quotas to liberty bonds, Red Cross and other war activities the first day. A former Tulia lawyer declares none of the members have figured in courts.

It is said that Mr. McCormick was a member of the county council of defense, and some suspicion that because of this fact he made enemies of some of the Nazareth colony, and that the sale of the kerosene was a deep plot. But the Germans say that the oil was bought wholesale in Plainview for kerosene, and that it was bought by McCormick a month before the holocaust, and had nearly all been used up.

The case will come up for trial at the next term of the Castro county district court in Dimmitt, and will be followed with interest. The plaintiff's attorneys are Mark Cowsart of Dimmitt, Carl Gilliland of Hereford, Kinder & Russell of Plainview. These of the defendants are Williams & Martin of Plainview and Dennis Zimmerman of Tulia.—Plainview News.

A mail order salesman was in Canadian a few weeks ago and took a job away from the Record by grossly misrepresenting facts to a prospective customer. The job wasn't one that we cared much about; the profit was very small. The man promised delivery in two weeks, and those two weeks and three more on top of them have passed and he hasn't delivered the order yet. The idea is this: We live in Canadian and meet customers day after day. We expect to earn and command their patronage by honest methods and fair dealings. We don't want any work that we have to wrap the truth to secure. Even if we wanted to we couldn't afford to lie to land an order. The mail order salesman probably never will visit Canadian again; he could lie like a degenerate nigger because he knew he would never have to make good his lie—all he wanted was to get the order and be on his way. Mr. Business Man: Be fair with us! Remember, a stranger can promise anything, especially if he knows he is bidding against a home man.—Canadian Record.

Secretary Tumulty and Mr. Gompers' Secretary, Guy Oyster, ought to be able to work out some sort of compromise for all this noise.—Columbia Record.

Bawling Out The City Council. Editor Shuffler of the Olney Enterprise, is nothing if not obliging, and when asked by a subscriber to bawl out the city council he immediately complied, as follows:

We have been asked by one of our valued readers to "jump on" the City Council and the City Health Officer in an effort to get them to take steps towards a general clean-up of the city. We are willing to "jump on" anything or anybody, so here goes: It is a shame and disgrace for a town like this to allow the weeds the right of way all summer, and to allow all kinds of rubbish to accumulate in the alleys and on the vacant lots, and a newspaper editor with the proper amount of civic pride will not allow old papers and weeds to accumulate around his place of business like the Olney editor has done. The City Council and the City Health officer are personally responsible and altogether to blame for such a condition of affairs. Our people are energetic and are anxious to clean up, but they think it is necessary that the authorities have it done by statute. Why don't the City Dads take it upon themselves to clean up my back yard and that of the esteemed citizen who asked us to register this kick? We think it is no more than their official duty, and personally we shall vote for a change in the administration unless something along this line is accomplished right away. Now, we hope the foregoing satisfies our valued reader, and at the same time don't mae any of the city officials sore except the Mayor. We do not care how mad he gets.

 By T. T. MAXEY

UTAH—"THE PROMISED LAND."

FIRST settled in the summer of 1847 by Brigham Young and his little band of Mormons, numbering less than 150 souls, Utah is fast coming into its own. Utah is 7,000,000 acres larger than all of the New England states combined, and there isn't much, if indeed, there is anything—within reason—that the imagination of man can conceive or his heart wish for that the state does not yield or cannot offer.

"This said that Utah contains enough iron ore to rebuild most of the steel structures in the country; sufficient black marble to build a column from the earth to the moon; salt enough to supply the world for 60 years; the greatest copper mine in all the world; enough coal to supply her population for 60,000 years; clay and sand enough to make the world's supply of brick for many years; 4,000,000,000 feet of lumber and sandstone and granite in quantities equal to the rebuilding of the majority of the buildings in the United States.

Gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc to the value of $97,000,000 were mined in Utah during one recent year. Goodly quantities of agricultural products and fruit are also produced.

Utah's climate is neither hot, cold, dry or wet, but rather a happy medium with a touch of salt air added for good measure. Her fertile valleys remind one of Italy, her pointed mountains hold a touch of Alpine beauty and great painters say that her sunsets are the most beautiful in the world.

Government Will Act on Strike.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The government moved swiftly tonight to meet the nation-wide coal strike order for Saturday. Refusal of the miners' organization at Indianapolis to withdraw the order calling out half a million men, brought instant announcement that drastic action would be taken to keep the mines in operation.

Every resource of the government, in the words of Attorney General Palmer, will be used to prevent the "national disaster" certain to follow the stoppage of work. When the government's plans were announced it was not known here that the operators, as indicated in dispatches from St. Louis, contemplated closing the mines in the event of a strike.

Adequate police protection, with troops as a last resort, if necessary, will be given those men desiring to remain at work.

Reports from government agents show that a big part of the miners ordered to quit work want to stay on the job.

Rights of the public will be protected through revival of price control regulations, suspended when the fuel administration went out of existence on February 1. This means an early drop in the price of soft coal and gives assurance against profiteering.

As to those miners who go on strike and thereby curtail production, the food and fuel control law, with its recently added criminal penalty of fine and imprisonment, will be enforced without regard to persons.

This attitude of the government, Attorney General Palmer made clear, does not affect the right of workers to strike for redress or grievances in other cases where no violation of the law is involved.

PRESIDENT OF U. S. IS OVERBURDENED

TIME HAS COME WHEN HE MUST BE RELIEVED OF SOME OF HIS OFFICIAL DUTIES.

BUSIEST MAN IN AMERICA

Chief Executive No Longer Has Any Time He Can Call His Own—All Sorts of Tasks Are Thrust Upon Him.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—Members of the president's cabinet, who are the men most competent to discuss the subject, say that the time is near at hand, if not already here, when the chief executive of the nation must be relieved of some of the official burdens he now has to carry. This observation is prompted by the recent temporary breakdown of President Wilson. The Constitution of the United States, it is pointed out, does not overburden the president with duties, but in the 130 years that have elapsed since the Constitution was adopted there have been developments that have greatly broadened the scope of activities of the man who occupies the White House.

One would gain the impression from reading section two of article two of the Constitution that outside of commanding the army and navy in time of war, addressing the congress, before the opening of each session, on the state of the Union, granting reprieves and pardons, negotiating treaties, nominating persons to office and receiving ambassadors, the president has little to do. These prescribed duties, as a matter of fact, now take but little of the president's time. If he should limit his activities to the duties set out in the Constitution he would have a half holiday six times a week.

President Has Little Rest.

Under modern conditions the president of the United States really has no time he can call his own. If he slips away from the White House for a few hours occasionally, he leaves his desk piled high with business. President Wilson has not had what might be called a real vacation since he entered the White House March 4, 1913. Before the war broke out he was able to get away for a few weeks at a time, but he was not able to put the nation's business aside. Since August, 1914, he has not attempted to take any actual rest. His predecessor in office, William Howard Taft, who was here the other day, said in discussing the duties of a president that he managed to get through the four years he was in office very comfortably by simply packing up and going when he felt that he needed rest. Theodore Roosevelt, during the seven years he was in the White House was never free from the cares of office. It is true he broke away nearly every summer for what might be called a vacation, but the "summer White House" was always with him.

The United States is a hard taskmaster. It expects much of its presidents, and it has been demonstrated rather conclusively that no man can entirely satisfy it. For many years the tendency toward centralization of everything at the White House has been growing, and this of itself, of course, has added to the burdens of the president.

Continually Called on for Help.

Of recent years there is a tendency, it is pointed out, to call on the president of the United States for help every time a local problem of unusual stubbornness arises. If there is a controversy over wages or hours of work the president is expected to try to adjust it; if any particular line of business is suffering, the president is expected to propose a remedy; if the cost of living is too high, he is expected to find out why and lower it; if times are hard, he is counted on to discover how prosperity can be restored. In the international field, likewise, the demands on the president have grown enormously. Even before the war came on and the United States entered that war, the president's responsibilities in connection with international matters were large. Now they are almost limitless.

A president can make use of the members of his cabinet advantageously in disposing of the work that accumulates on his desk, and President Wilson has probably made use of his cabinet officers in this way to as great an extent as any of his predecessors, but there is a vast amount of work that the president must attend to himself. President Roosevelt was usually at his desk five or six hours a day. President Taft stuck almost as close to his desk, and President Wilson has averaged from eight to ten hours at his desk. The modern president requires the services of at least two expert stenographers and sometimes he uses three or four in one day. If he did nothing but dispose of the routine matters that come to his desk, matters that cannot be disposed of by his secretary or the clerks in the executive office, he would be tied to his office several hours a day.

No one thus far has proposed a remedy. It seems probable that the president of the United States may continue to be about the most overworked man in the country. The only semblance of a remedy that has been proposed is that members of the president's cabinet should assume larger responsibilities.

NAVY MEN ARE TO RECEIVE MORE PAY

HOUSE COMMITTEE IS AGREED THAT SOME READJUSTMENT IS NECESSARY.

MANY ARE LEAVING SERVICE

Emergency Legislation Is Planned to Continue Shore Quarters Allowance for Officers—They Cannot Now Live Within Their Incomes.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—Increased pay for the officers and personnel of the United States navy is being considered by the house naval affairs committee in extensive hearings. Members of the committee are practically united in the belief that some readjustment of naval pay should be made because of the increased cost of living. Some of the men in the navy are resigning to accept more lucrative civil positions, while thousands who served during the war have been discouraged from continuing in the service permanently because of the small pay. In order to make a just and satisfactory readjustment, Representative Butler, chairman of the committee, has asked the navy department to send before the committee not only high officers stationed in Washington, but officers and men from all branches of the naval service.

The navy has such a complex allowance system, Mr. Butler said, that it is impossible to get an accurate view of just what the men are receiving, from tables submitted by pay corps men here. Legislation will also be considered at the hearings to increase the number of officers in the navy. Evidence has been submitted to several members of the committee that the large reductions made by the house committee in the naval appropriation bill last June have made it necessary to cut the number of officers down to such a figure that not only the fighting efficiency of the navy, but its upkeep, is impaired.

To Continue Shore Quarters Allowance.

The first step of the committee will be in the nature of emergency legislation. The committee will urge the passage before the end of this session of the bill repealing a section of the naval appropriation bill, which discontinued to officers on October 1 computation of shore quarters while they are serving on board ship. This usually amounts to about $30 to $35 a month, and was granted during the war to assist naval officers in providing for their dependents while they were serving at sea.

The bill already has been reported to the house by the naval committee, with the recommendation that it be enacted because war prices still continue. When the bill is passed, Mr. Butler said, it would be made retroactive to October 1, so that the officers will lose none of the allowance. Sentiment in the committee, Mr. Butler and other members indicated, does not favor a flat percentage increase for all officers, but instead a readjustment of the salary scale. An increase of 25 per cent for rear admirals and captains would mean an additional sum of from $1,750 to $2,250, while the officers of lower grades, such as ensigns and lieutenants, would be increased $400 to $500 a year.

The increased cost of living has hit the lower grade officers practically as hard as those with four stripes, and the committee apparently does not favor granting such a large additional amount to the officers of higher grades. Increases that the men of lower grades deserve would increase the salaries of the higher grades to figures above the amount paid cabinet members, it was pointed out. Mr. Butler also said he favored investigating the pay noncommissioned officers are receiving. Many of them, he said, are in the same position that junior officers are, and have several dependents.

The Case for the Officers.

Here is the way the officers of the navy have briefed their case:

It has been eleven years since any increase in pay has been granted to officers; the cost of living has been gaining by leaps and bounds. As an actual problem in simple arithmetic, a naval officer cannot live within his income. At a recent census, taken throughout the navy, it was found that a large majority went 7 per cent of their salary in debt during the last year. The case of the naval officer is very different from that of the small-salaried man in civilian life. At sea he has a budget of expenses in addition to that of his family.

In addition to the separate expense of the officers at sea, there is another problem civilians do not have to meet—the question of transportation. When ordered from one point to another, the actual fare of the officer himself is paid, but not that of his family nor of his household goods. There is not one branch of the government service in which the employees are not asking for more pay. A commission created by congress more than a year ago will soon be ready to report as to the pay of the men and women employed in the executive departments. Another commission has already recommended an increase for postal employees and a bill giving the workers in that branch of the service more pay is now on its way through congress.

TO RETURN RAILWAYS BY DECEMBER 1, REPORTED

As the first preliminary step toward actually returning the railroads to their corporate owners, the United States Railroad Administration Dec. 1, will turn the various railroad lines now under its control over to the executive heads of their corporations, continuing them, however, for a time, under Government guaranties, according to reliable information obtained in Dallas railroad circles yesterday.

According to this information, orders already have been received by the two Federal managers located here from B. F. Bush, regional director of railroads at St. Louis, but the orders have not so far been transmitted to the lines themselves. The principal executives of the railroads here were not in Dallas yesterday, several of them having gone to St. Louis, and the belief was that they had gone there to confer with Mr. Bush about the plan. However, no confirmation directly from these executives could be obtained.

It is believed that the new plan has been decided upon by Walker D. Hines, director of the Railroad Administration, in order to prevent confusion and disruption due to too sudden conversion of the railroads from Government to private operation. Under this plan, it is expected, the Rail Administration will place the executive heads of the roads themselves in direct charge and—then, late in December or early in January, the roads actually will revert to corporate ownership, as President Wilson announced last spring would be done.

The new plan includes the abolishment Dec. 1 of the present system of regional directors and Federal managers of various groups of lines or systems.

Anti-Saloon League Speaker.

Arrangements have been made by the pastors of our city for a service at the Methodist church at 7:15 o'clock on Nov. 3rd the speaker to be the celebrated Dr. W. H. Bickers of Missouri.

Dr. Bickers comes under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, and this service is a part of the state-wide campaign in the interest of the enforcement of State and National prohibition in Texas and also to lay before the people the call from foreign lands to assist in riding them of rum.

A WOMAN'S BACK

The Advice of This Canyon Woman is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Often times 'tis the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Canyon Women know this.

Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. C. R. Correy, Canyon, says: "My back and kidneys had been aching me a lot of trouble and for a long while my back ached steadily and there was lameness and soreness in it which made it hard for me to stoop over to do my housework. I would get dizzy and black specks would float before my eyes. Then again I would have headaches and my kidneys were inflamed and irregular in action. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and bought some at the Holland Drug Co. Three boxes fixed up my kidneys and relieved my back." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Correy had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Where the air is hot and dry,
And I thrive without the rains.

For no shower of love have I,
But only the heat of wrath;
And the winds that blow a sigh
Bring only their heated breath.

No tender hand cares for me,
And I grow up slim and wild;

Germany And Trade.

A. J. Lewis tells the Record editor that the traveling men are already on the road in the United States with German-made goods. A few days ago a traveling salesman in his store showed one of the finest line of German-made dishes, queensware, chinaware, etc. that he had ever inspected, and the price was very low. The goods were marked "Made in Germany". While the politicians are fighting the war all over again, the Germans are going right after the world's industrial trade.—Canadian Record.

Undoubtedly the Germans are hustling for business. They have complete factories by the thousands, efficient workers by the millions, competent executives by hundreds. They were selling goods all over the world before the war, and they aim to come back. Many of us said a year ago that never again would we buy a made-in-Germany article. But if the Germans begin offering us cheaper goods than our allies or our fellow-citizens offer, will our prejudice stand in the way of our pockets? If the German manufacturers were to offer us overcoats, or shoes, or underwear, or marbles, or chalk of equal quality and at a third less price than American manufacturers offer them, would we refuse to countenance the better bargains? Hardly. All of us are patriotic when it is a question of patriotism, but we are also thrifty when it is a question of profit or loss. When Europe begins producing again in large volume prices will come down. Europe has been a buyer for five years. When she returns to the selling side, competition will reduce profits and subdue the profiteers. Rich women used to hesitate to pay three hundred dollars for a Paris gown. Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place. "Calomel is dangerous and people know it." Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much. It is a safe, pleasant, and effective laxative, and it is very easy to give. It is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't grip or cause inconvenience. Take the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.

Feed Your Cow.
Does your cow pay for the feed she eats? If not, neither the cow or the feed is at fault. You can dispose of a poor cow. You can feed a good cow a balanced ration and make her more profitable.

Cows require two kinds of feed for profitable milk production. They are protein and carbohydrates. If you are not feeding the right amount of each you are wasting feed and getting less milk than you should. A cow fed on alfalfa hay, wheat bran and cotton seed meal can not make much profit because these feeds are all rich in protein and lack starch and sugar or carbohydrates. Feeding wheat pasture, cane fodder and kafir chop is not good because these are all rich in starch and lack protein. With a protein roughage you need a carbohydrate grain and with a carbohydrate roughage you need a protein concentrate. The most common feeds for all farm stock are classified below.

- Carbohydrate roughage—
 - Fodder and bundle feed.
 - Grass pasture.
 - Grass hay.
 - Straw.
 - Silage.
- Carbohydrate concentrates—
 - Corn or kafir chop.
 - Barley.
 - Oats.
- Protein concentrates—
 - Cotton seed cake or meal.
 - Wheat bran.
 - Hominy hearts.
 - Tankage and meat.
 - Shorts or middlings.
- Protein roughage—
 - Alfalfa or clover hay.
 - Cowpea hay.
 - Bean straw.

Balance these feeds together for the best results.

I shall be glad to figure your feeding problem with you.

Some silage or green pasture is necessary the year around for the most profitable milk production.

English Capitalists in Plainview.
Sir Charles J. Stewart, G. A. Mitchell and Arthur Renshaw from London and A. G. Wood, of Dallas, were here for a few hours yesterday. The three men first named are Scotch and English capitalist and Mr. Wood is manager of the Texas Land and Mortgage Company, of Dallas.

Sir Charles is a Scotchman but his business interest force him to have his head offices at London and to make his home there. Mr. Mitchell is associated with him in his interests in the United States. They are the majority stockholders of the Texas Land and Mortgage Company, a large loan organization.

The visiting gentlemen would not make any definite statement of their purpose for visiting here. Sir Charles expressed himself as being delighted with the country here, after an auto trip over the country around Plainview. Mr. Mitchell was especially enthusiastic over the agricultural prosperity of the country and predicted great things for this section if the natural advantages were properly used.

At noon a banquet was given them by a number of Plainview and Lubbock men. They left immediately afterwards for Lubbock where they will spend the night.—Plainview Herald.

Wanting A Change.
Sometimes when I have played my lyre until my hands are sore, I feel a great, profound desire to try some other chore. The stubborn glebe I'd like to break—whatever glebe may be—or voyage of adventure make across the sobbing sea. I like to roam in distant lands, through jungles dense and damp, until my lyre bespavined hands are free from writer's cramp. I tell my grief to Butcher Jones, and he is heartsick, too; he's tired of selling marrow bones, and things that make a stew. I talk a while to Paster Gregg; his troubles poignant are; sometimes he thinks he'd give a leg to be a movie star. I tell my hopes to Banker Burns; his spirit also aches; he'd like to peddle patent churns or anything that takes. And every delegate I meet is feeling the same; he'd think this life was doubly sweet if he could quit his game. The First State Bank of Canyon.

(By R. Kenneth Evans)

The development of the Panhandle country has been brought about under many trying circumstances which have been met by the sturdy pioneers who came to this section realizing that they were to meet periods of adversity and tribulations. They have conquered these things and today the Panhandle country is on the way to development into one of the leading agricultural, stockraising and commercial centers of the Great Southwest. This development and present standing has not been brought about however without many influences being brought to bear and there is probably not a line of institutions that has been a more important factor or played a more important part in assisting during times of adversity in particular than the banking institutions.

The condition of the people of Randall county and the condition of the banking institutions attest to what this development has been. Panhandle history will recite under what trying circumstances this development has been brought about and the stamina of the bankers and their ability to come to the aid of their patrons in times of need has been directly responsible for this development.

One of the institutions which has played an important part during the last nine years—and that being the period of most rapid growth and building in Randall county and Canyon—is the First State Bank.

The First State Bank was established in Canyon in 1910 and from the day it first opened its doors for business has been the center of much activity and has continued to grow and develop. When it was originally organized it has a capital stock of $15,000 and deposits of $20,000. Hard work on the part of the management and persistent endeavor advanced the business of this institution to such a place that additional capital stock was necessary in order to properly handle the extensive business which it was receiving with the result that in 1917 the capital stock was increased to $25,000. At that time the deposits of the bank were almost six times as much as they were when the bank opened this phenomenal growth being attained in the short period of seven years.

The phenomenal growth in the first seven years of its existence continued and the next two years showed a much more decided increase in business due partially to the development of resources and in the main to the careful banking methods of the management with the result that the capital stock and surplus at this time amounts to $34,000 and the deposits are in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million of dollars.

The First State bank is essentially a local bank. Its eighteen stockholders are the most prominent and successful business men and farmers of this community and the institution is morally backed by the wealth of these stock holders which in the aggregate will amount to more than five millions of dollars.

The reader may get some idea of the success and earnings of this institution in Randall county when it is stated that since 1915 the bank has paid in dividends more than eighty per cent on its capital stock.

The banking house proper is well equipped. Three employees and a lady stenographer are necessary to handle the business of the institution. A fire and burglar proof vault makes up a part of the equipment. The bank is located on one of the most prominent business corners of the city. It is the only Guaranty Fund bank in Randall county and is rightfully classed as the bank of personal service. Deposit boxes are maintained for the accommodation of patrons and in fact everything is done by the management to make it convenient to do business at this institution.

The officers of the institution are a class of substantial and successful men. They have maintained a reputation for being conservative and successful bankers. They are J. M. Black, president; R. H. Wright, active vice president; D. A. Park, active vice president; Grady Oldham, cashier. It can truly be said that the First State bank is growing and conservatively managed institution and is receiving its share of the patronage of this community.

WILSON ASKS SUPPORT IN RED CROSS DRIVE

In Letter Written Before His Illness, President Calls on People to Rally for Domestic Program.

Washington, Oct. 25. — President Wilson, in a letter written before his illness and made public today, appealed to the people of the country for support of the third Red Cross roll call, which is to be held from Nov. 2 to 11:

"As President of the United States and as president of the American Red Cross, I recommend and urge a generous response to the third Red Cross roll call which opens on Nov. 2, with the observance of Red Cross Sunday and appropriately closes on Nov. 11, the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice.

"Twenty million adults joined the Red Cross during the war, prompted by a patriotic desire to render service to their country and to the cause for which the United States was engaged in war. Our patriotism should stand the test of peace as well as the test of war, and it is an intelligently patriotic program which the Red Cross proposes, a continuance of service to our soldiers and sailors who look to it for many things, and a transference to the problems of peace at home of the experience and methods which it acquired during the war.

It is on membership more than money contributions that the stress of the present campaign is laid, for the Red Cross seeks to associate the people in welfare work throughout the land, especially in those communities where neither official nor unofficial provision has been made for adequate public health and social service.

"It is in the spirit of democracy that the people should undertake their own welfare activities, and the National Red Cross wisely intends to exert upon community action a stimulating and co-ordinating influence and to place the energies of the organization behind all sound public health and welfare agencies.

"The American Red Cross does not purpose indefinite prolongation of its relief work abroad, a policy which would lay an unjust burden upon our own people and tend to undermine the self-reliance of the peoples relieved, but there is a necessary work of completion to be performed before the American Red Cross can honorably withdraw from Europe. The Congress of the United States has imposed upon the Red Cross a continuing responsibility abroad by authorizing the Secretary of War to transfer to the American Red Cross such surplus army medical supplies and supplementary and dietary foodstuff now in Europe as shall not be required by the army, to be used by the Red Cross to relieve the distress which continues in certain countries of Europe as a result of the war.

"To finance these operations, to conclude work which was begun during the war and to carry out some comparatively inexpensive constructive plans for assisting peoples in Eastern Europe to develop their own welfare organizations, the American Red Cross requires, in addition to membership fees, a sum of money small in comparison with gifts poured into its treasury by our generous people during the war.

"Both the greater enduring domestic problem and the lesser temporary foreign program of the Red Cross deserve enthusiastic support, and I venture to hope that its peacetime membership will exceed rather than fall below its impressive war membership.

Who Pays Road Taxes?

Jones owns an automobile assessed at $400.00. He pays a license fee of $10.00 to the State, $5.00 of which goes into the road maintenance fund of the county. He pays $5.00 ad valorem tax to the State and county, about seventy-five cents of which goes into the road and bridge fund.

Smith owns a small farm assessed at $400.00. He pays $5.00 ad valorem tax to State and county, about seventy-five cents of which goes into the road and bridge fund.

The county builds a road past Smith's place. The cost of the road is paid by the Smith's at seventy-five cents each, and by the Joneses at $5.75 each.

Jones' property wears out in a few years, while contributing $5.75 a year to the road which makes Smith's property grow in value and to which Smith pays seventy-five cents a year.

At the very best the Jones' automobile is worn out in seven or eight years, while, because of the good road which Jones' automobile built, Smith's property has increased in value from twenty-five to one hundred per cent. Is it not fair to ask Smith to make a larger contribution to this road fund even though the burden be continued on Jones?

Hayseed, or Plutocrat?

Not so many years ago the term "hayseed" was jocularly applied to the American farmer.

And the farmer didn't resent it—because he couldn't.

He lived from hand to mouth, and often there was but little left by the time it reached the mouth.

But now?

Say just watch the old boy's smoke!

There are no plasters on his farm. He is out of debt, with a comfortable surplus stored away.

His stock is fat and of the best grade.

His acres are teeming with the products of the soil and the result of his fertile brain.

He comes to town in his automobile, smokes the best cigars, and his family has a college education and buys the best clothes.

Once he went into the bank with his hat in his hand. Now he owns its stock, is a director, or perhaps the president.

In other days he asked favors. Now he issues orders.

A hayseed? Well hardly.

A plutocrat? You bet!

Horse sense and opportunity did it.

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but—

He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling, "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squints at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore-leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

Rap U. S. Railway Control.
Drover's Telegram, Kansas City—The present stock and box car shortage in the Southwest, a shortage that is costing farmers hundreds and thousands of dollars daily, is not without its cause, as it is the purpose of this article to prove.

The shortage is to be attributed partly, to the obstinacy and selfishness of certain regional directors and principally to the general inefficiency that has attended the government operation of railways since Mr. McAdoo took them over by ultimatum and dictum.

Virtually every railway siding in the country has a lot of bad order cars. At Emporia this week the bad order cars had to be moved out of the yards and to country sidings, in order to relieve the choked conditions of the yards, and to permit the movement of stock and grain cars.

The whole car shortage question centers in the bad order cars that are cluttering up the western lines, lines that always kept their equipment in better condition than did the eastern lines, and which bought better equipment originally than did the eastern lines.

Western and southwestern lines have been virtually robbed of their equipment by the non-per-diem order that was put into effect by McAdoo. Now any one horse line can get possession of the equipment of a busy line and hold it virtually as long as some regional director will permit it to do so, and no rental charge is paid the line owning the cars in the meantime.

The Midland Valley railway, in Kansas and Oklahoma, has nine stock cars, and yet it has been in possession of cars belonging to other lines for some time, giving it a total of 25 stock cars for its use. This line has an arbitrary ruling from a federal manager to the effect that it can not load the cars assigned to it, to move off its own line. All cattle moving north on this line must be unloaded at Wichita. They are not permitted to stay in the cars and move to other lines, even when other cars are available at Wichita to take the place of stock cars that are billed to other points. Cattle moving off the Midland Valley last week to the Kansas City market shrank 50 to 60 lbs a head because they had to be reloaded at Wichita. Diversion is often refused. The good roads are being worked to death, and the movement of oil is hurting the movement of live stock and grain. The Santa Fe is the goat of the regional directors and federal managers from Chicago westward, simply because it had the best equipment in the United States when it was wrested from its owners at the time Mr. McAdoo took charge of the railway. It has a double track from Kansas City to Chicago, and having a double track it is penalized by having a lot of traffic dumped on it. No material provisions have been made by the government for upkeep of roadbed or equipment. The budget for 1919 improvements was cut in half by the director general, despite the fact that the Santa Fe was one of the few roads that made any profit to the government through its operation since it was taken over by McAdoo.

The Santa Fe has 8,000 stock cars, most of them steel underframes. This week only 2,800 of these cars were on the Santa Fe's own lines. Old decrepit New York Central and Pennsylvania stock cars from east of the Mississippi river, wooden under framed affairs, have been worked westward.

The New York Central has been notorious for 10 years for its supply of bad equipment and bad order cars. Even in good repair these cars would not stand up under the draw bar strain of a Santa Fe locomotive drawing a long string of them, and draw bars would be jerked out continually, as these cars have not been built to stand the strain that Santa Fe steel under frame cars will undergo in transit. The same can be said of Pennsylvania equipment, but the Pennsylvania equipment has come to its present state of dilapidation since government control came on.

The Santa Fe has 38,000 box cars of the same quality as its stock cars, the best equipment of any railway in the world, and kept good, when the Santa Fe was in the hands of its owners, though constant repair and watchfulness. Of these 38,000 box cars only 3,800 were on the Santa Fe's lines at one time this week. Of the cars from foreign lines that had been shuffled off on the Santa Fe by lines east, and by jerk water lines that tap the Santa Fe, 67 per cent were in some state of bad order this week.

No data is at hand at this time to prove how many of the government's or rather, McAdoo's, 100,000 new, standardized box cars were ever turned out. No stock cars were provided in the railway administration's car building program of last year. Coal cars and gondola cars did not materialize, so stock cars are being used to haul beets in the sugar beet district, and good Santa Fe steel underframed 40-foot cars are being used east of the Mississippi river to haul slow freight, while cattlemen in the West are clamoring for cars to take their cattle back to Texas and the ranges and the sidings are filled up with bad order cars.

The box car situation is causing great losses to the wheat men. Wheat is piled up all over Texas for lack of cars to move it. Grain men know that there is a shortage, but they do not know the reason for it. Short hours in the repair shops, strikes, dictation of labor leaders and arbitrary rulings of regional directors and federal managers, along with the niggardly maintenance program of the railways administration, have brought these conditions about, and the live stock and agricultural interests of the country are paying the bill.

The Burlington is said, on good authority, too, to be in possession of more stock cars than it needs, but the former president of the Burlington is regional director at Chicago, and railway men do not hesitate to criticize his operation of the lines under his control.

Live stock men all over the Southwest are looking forward with keen delight to the day when Edward Payson Ripley, formerly president of the Santa Fe, again assumes control of the properties he made the best and finest in the world.

The Union Pacific is said to have been the least hurt by government control of any of the big lines serving the west and southwest, and but few complaints come relative to its service. The Rock Island and Missouri Pacific are not being mentioned in any particular capacity. They are seemingly neglected and being left to hoe their own row as best they may. The brunt of the blame is being felt by the Santa Fe, for the reason of the excessive burdens that are being placed on it and the tasks it is being set to perform with great handicap imposed.

WHY is it that more and more smokers (millions now) are getting together with Chesterfields?

First of all, fine tobaccos. Our own buyers in the Orient send us the pick of the finest Turkish varieties (Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun). We blend these by a secret method with specially choice Domestic leaf.

This method brings out new qualities of flavor—a smoothness, a richness, a mellowness that go right to the spot. That's the reason Chesterfields satisfy.

And remember—"Satisfy" is Chesterfield's secret, based on our own private formula, which cannot be copied.

Every package has a moisture-proof wrapping—another reason for Chesterfield's unchanging quality of flavor.

Local Stock Raising Important Matter

The man who has started stock raising is becoming master of his farming destiny. Wet springs, drouth or rust fail to ruin him. Because he has abandoned the "one crop system" and has stock to produce a good profit and a surer one. If you do not know where to get the cattle or the money---we know about both. Call today. It is an important matter.

RICE BABCOCK CO.

Cost Of Texas Mud.

The average farmer who owns an automobile pays three or four times as much for tires, repairs, etc., on his car than he pays in taxes.

Good roads would save him nearly half his auto expense, and these roads would cost him less than his saving on his auto, to say nothing of his horses, mules, wagons, harness, and greater than all, time moving his crops.

Burleson entered a vigorous denial of the charges of inefficiency in the post office department and berated his opponents severely. The fact nevertheless remains that the postal service has degenerated to a degree never dreamed by the American people as being possible; it is demoralized, tardy in service and unreliable. All of Burleson's vigorous denials of the charges do not improve the service in any way. The people would rather have a little more service and less Burleson bombast.—Canadian Record.
