

RANDALL COUNTY HAS FINE ROAD SYSTEM

Declared That Hale County Might Well Take Lessons; Real Highway is Constructed.

(Plainview Evening Herald)

Randall County is setting a good example for the other Panhandle counties in the matter of road construction. With a population of not half that of Hale county, Randall county has quit talking and has started to getting results. Wednesday afternoon a trip was made from Plainview in a high priced car with the best of springs and cushions. These did not prevent the party from receiving a jolt on the road between Plainview and Kress. Some of the chug-holes were so deep that the car had to be thrown in low gear to cross them to keep from breaking the springs and the necks of the occupants of the car. At one place the ruts were so deep and the center of the road was so high that the bottom part of the car scraped against the center of the road bed. There was no evidence that the road had been dragged in many months and along most of its course the ditches to the side of the road were so filled with dirt that they were nearly as high as the center of the road. One culvert that had been constructed from rather weak boards had sunk about three inches below the level of the road and some of the boards had broken through. In crossing this the car had to go very slowly. It was said that several springs had been broken and one person had been injured when cars had crossed this place at night.

When the line into Swisher County was crossed a marked improvement was seen and one of the big grading outfits of the county had been at work on the Plainview-Kress road. A break-down had stopped the work for the time being. From Kress to Tulia the roads were only fair, and showed plainly that the good work that had been done in grading the road last year had not been followed up by sufficient dragging. A stretch of the road for a few miles just before Tulia is reached in excellent shape and the parts of the road that were formerly the worst on the Plainview-Amarillo route have been made as good as any on the route. Two large concrete bridges have been put in on the road and the road has been graded high. Ditches about three feet deep are on each side of this road. It is smooth and with one dragging after rains can be kept in excellent condition for many years.

The road from Tulia to Happy has degenerated somewhat to its old state and is very rough in places. This road was well graded last year and for a time was one of the best strips on the line. Lack of sufficient dragging has caused the present condition of the road, with the result that the grading of last year was practically wasted. Another thing that has caused the bad condition of the road so soon after it had been put into good shape is the fact that the grading job was slighted in the first place. The ditches on the sides were not nearly deep enough to carry away the water and consequently the road was flooded in even small rains or snows. It was a significant fact that most of the roads that ran east and west were in worse condition than those running north and south. This may be accounted for by the fact that the ditches on the north side of the road were so shallow that they could not contain the snows that drifted to that side of the road. And when the snow melted the ditch was not deep enough to carry the water away. A lack of a sufficient number of culverts also tended to flood many of the Swisher county roads.

When the car crossed the line into Randall county it almost seemed that it had suddenly reached paved streets. The driver "opened her up" and a rapid rate was maintained over the road without jolt or jar to the occupants. Nothing but praise can be said for the road building efforts of Randall county. They are going at the matter right and are accomplishing wonders. The road is graded high and the side ditches are about four feet in depth. Concrete culverts at frequent intervals make sufficient drainage for the roads assured. The culverts are well under the surface and the road over them is as smooth as on any other part. In fact a person would not know that the culverts were there unless their protruding ends could be seen.

One of the big features of the Randall county roads, and one that brings joy to the weary motorist is the fact that all right angle turns have been made to curve and the road is slanted in such a way that it is hardly necessary to run slower when making the turns. The wide curves are made possible by taking in a part of the corner of the adjoining land.

The remainder of the road from Canyon to Amarillo, in Randall county is being made into one of the finest highways in the Panhandle. About the same principal of construction is being followed as in the Canyon-Happy part of the line. Just now the road is badly torn up and is in the course of construction. A detour has to be made to get to Amarillo at present. In a few months the highway will be finished. Besides being one of the best constructed roads in the Panhandle it will shorten the distance from Canyon to Amarillo several miles.

Several of the members of the party in the car remarked that they wished Hale county would take Randall for an example in road building.

TRADES DAY VERY FINE DAY IN CITY—LARGE CROWD HERE

There was a good crowd in town for Trades Day and all of the business houses had a very good business.

The day was pretty, after the cold of last week, and folks enjoyed very much getting out into the sunshine.

The Normal Band played for an hour on the court house lawn, and their music was very highly enjoyed.

The auction sale in the afternoon was good. There seemed to be a little misunderstanding regarding the commission which is charged to enter this sale. A commission has been charged for months, and all who enter the sale have willing paid it, as the auctioneer is paid whether the sale amounts to enough or not, and it has never exceeded the amount he receives. The small commission is also charged in order to further protect against buy-bidding.

The auction is getting to be one of the best attractions of the day, and every man entering the sale should be willing to assist pay the expenses with the little commission asked to help pay the auctioneer.

Work at Normal Progressing.

J. F. Johnson, contractor of the Boiler House and Girls' Dormitory at the Normal was in the News office Saturday and says that his work is going very nicely considering the difficulties that are being confronted by contractors in every part of the country. He reports that his material is coming through very well and that the work is progressing as well as could be expected.

HALE ACQUITTED BY JURY IN COURT

District Court to Have Other Criminal Cases This Term—Grand Jury Again Next Monday.

W. H. Hale of Amarillo was acquitted yesterday afternoon in the District Court, the jury returning a verdict at 5:15 after two hours of deliberation.

Hale was charged with rape against his step-daughter. He was tried in Amarillo and given a sentence of 99 years. A new trial was granted. He has been held in jail for nine months and was freed yesterday after the verdict of the jury.

Roy Davis, who was arrested last week on two indictments returned by the grand jury, is still in jail, being unable to make the bonds amounting to $1700. He has been sent to the Potter county jail.

Davis and Mathis, who is out under bond, will likely be tried in this term of the District Court. A jury has been selected for next week, and the regular petit jury for this week was set over until this morning. A number of jury cases will be tried before the term ends.

The grand jury will meet again on Monday after a short vacation.

Boy Caught With Car.

A lad from Lockney is in the county jail, being held by Sheriff Jennings in response to a telephone message yesterday. The boy ran away from home with his father's Studebaker. Mr. Jennings picked the boy and car up at a filling station, and the lad will be held awaiting the arrival of his father today.

HIGHWAY FINISHED BY NEXT SATURDAY

Federal and State Engineers Will Inspect Road and Will Go Over New Road to West.

The new highway running from Happy to Canyon and on to Amarillo will be completed Saturday and the Federal and State Engineers will be here to make an inspection and finally accept the road from the contractors.

While in the city the engineers will also inspect the new highway which will run to the west county line, and will make arrangements necessary with Judge C. R. Flesher as to the aid which the Federal and State Government will give on this highway.

A. P. Rollins completed the engineering of the highway west Monday and left Tuesday for Dallas to complete the estimates of the job. As soon as the estimates are completed, the Commissioners will advertise for bids and get the construction work started as soon as possible.

When the road west is completed Randall county will have two of the best highways in the Panhandle and work can then be started on the various roads leading into them.

COURT FAVORS PANHANDLE-PLAINS CHAMBER COMMERCE

A citizens committee consisting of President J. A. Hill, T. C. Thompson, Rev. B. F. Fronabarger, Mayor J. D. Gamble and C. R. Burrow, went before the Commissioners Court Monday in connection with the work of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce. Frank R. Janeson, secretary-manager of the organization was present and fully explained the work done by the organization.

The Court favored the organization and will pay Randall county's part of the organization's expenses.

Petitions for New Road.

John G. Batenhorst and seven other citizens have petitioned the Commissioners Court for a 60 foot road commencing at the southeast corner of section 90 and the northeast corner of section 103 Block 5-B, and terminating at the northwest corner of section 76 and northeast corner of section 77.

A jury of view was appointed of T. F. Reid, R. G. Oldham, J. C. Pipkin, John Knight and Z. G. Fogerson.

Several Kinds of Weather.

The Panhandle has experienced every kind of weather in the catalogue during the past week. Last week on Tuesday it was an ideal spring day; Wednesday it was a bad y. SHRDLL Wednesday there was a bad southwest wind with accompanying dust storm. Thursday, Friday and Saturday was real winter, with snow in the air at various times. Sunday it started to warm up again.

To add to the variety, it showered yesterday.

If there are any more kind of available weather, they will probably show up during the next few days.

Normal Opened Tuesday.

Owing to the cold weather and the change being made in the heating plant at the Normal during the construction of the new boiler house, the Normal was forced to close last Wednesday, and did not open again until Tuesday. The heating apparatus was working by that time.

Many of the students living in nearby towns availed themselves of the few days' vacation to go home.

School Election April 3

The election for school trustees of the Canyon Independent School District will be held on the first Saturday in April, April 3rd. There are four members to be elected. R. McGee recently resigned and his place on the board was never filled, and the term of the following will expire: S. B. McClure, J. T. Service and G. G. Foster.

The members of the board will be glad for suggestions to take the places on the board.

Land Sold.

E. T. Money has bought 140 acres of land out of the Dr. Thompson section south of Umbarger.

President J. A. Hill Outlines Entertainment for the Official Body During Their Stay.

The members of the Board of Regents for the Normal Schools of Texas will visit the West Texas State Normal College next Monday, March 15. The Board is making a visit to each of the Normal College in the State in order to ascertain the needs of the institutions.

The members of the Board will arrive in the city from Amarillo on the 6:55 train Monday morning. They will be met by the band and a committee from the Normal faculty and the city. The board members will be the guests of a few members of the faculty and the girls of Huntleigh Hall at breakfast.

The morning will be devoted to an inspection of the Normal plant and interviewing President Hill as to the needs of the school in the coming session of the legislature.

At noon the faculty will serve a luncheon in the Domestic Science Department at which the members of the board will be guests, and there will also be invited the members of the City Council, the Commissioners Court, Hon. Frank R. Jameson, secretary-manager of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, Hon. Lee Satterwhite, member of the legislature. At this time plans for the development of the West Texas State Normal College will be presented which are of vital interest to every citizen, not only of Randall County, but also of all West Texas.

MAKING SURVEY OF TOWN FOR SUMMER SCHOOL ROOMS

A survey will be made of Canyon before Saturday night to ascertain the number of rooms available for the students who will come to the summer session of the West Texas State Normal College. Miss Abbie Graham is in charge of the work for the Normal and W. J. Flesher has been appointed to represent the city in making the survey. They are calling upon a number of men and women to make a house to house canvass.

Indications are that a very large number of students will be here for the summer session and every possible room will be needed. People will be asked to open their homes and provide for the students.

Miss Graham would like some good assistants, men or women to take a small section of the city to canvass by Saturday night. She has blanks to be filled out regarding each house in town.

Reports must be filed by March 15, and every single person who had an income of $1,000 and every married person who had an income of $2,000 must make the report, or they are subject to a fine.

The people of Canyon extend to these good people a most hearty welcome to the city.

Plans are now being made as to their part in the campaign.

Mr. Willy has made a great success with his department in the Normal, and it is with regret that the members of the faculty and the student body hear that he is to leave the school.

Mr. Willy has been a successful teacher in the Training School of the Normal during the past year, and has made many friends in the city. The best wishes of the town and the school goes with Mr. and Mrs. Willy.

DORMITORY FUND WILL BE RAISED

Committee of Citizens Will Start the Campaign This Week for $1,000 for Episcopal Dormitory.

The committee in charge of the location of the dormitory for the Episcopal church, will meet Friday and make arrangements for the campaign to raise funds to buy the four lots for the new building. T. C. Thompson, J. W. Reid and C. W. Warwick represent the city, while Archdeacon Wm Garner represents the church.

The committee has contracted for four lots south of the M. B. Johnson home, two belonging to J. D. Gamble and two to L. T. Lester. The location is ideal, and the committee believes that the price is very reasonable.

The Episcopal Church is going to put a $36,000 dormitory for girls on these lots which will be of great benefit to the town in bringing more students to the Normal. There is now available $12,000 of the money, and work will be started just as soon as the title to the lots is secured. The remaining $24,000 will be available in the next two years. Mr. Garner stated yesterday that Bishop Temple was greatly interested in the dormitory proposition, and will urge that his church increase the appropriation to $50,000.

The Randall County Commercial League has endorsed to the proposition of giving the Episcopal church the location for the dormitory, as this is the only money that the church is asking from the town. The citizens are urged to get their checks ready as every citizen in Canyon will be called upon to contribute to this fund

CLEAN UP DAY WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

All Parts of the City Greatly Improved Looks as Result of Yesterday's Work in City.

Canyon is a much cleaner town today than it was yesterday morning when the clean-up campaign started in the city.

Mayor Gamble made a trip over the city during the morning, and reported that in all parts of the city the people were out cleaning up their own premises, the vacant lots and the places in the streets where work was needed.

Some very notable work was done in portions of the business districts that were in bad condition. Alleys that were badly littered up were given a good cleaning and it should be the pride of the business houses on them to keep them clean now.

The wind kept the workers from doing the most desirable work—to get rid of the waste paper which is blowing around the city.

The light shower in the afternoon interfered with the work somewhat.

A citizen stated yesterday that he noticed a prominent man in Canyon yesterday morning—Clean Up Day in Canyon—come out of the postoffice, and thrown into the street a bunch of circular letters he was not interested in. Can Canyon be kept clean under such conditions? Hardly. The man never thought what effect those papers blowing around the streets would have, or he would have been more careful.

It is just as easy to keep a town clean as to let it go dirty, and it is much healthier and gives a better impression upon the thousands of visitors who come to the city.

LET'S KEEP CANYON CLEAN.

Preparing for Dr. Vinson.

The Ex-Students Association is getting ready for a banquet to be given in honor of Dr. Vinson, president of the State University of Texas, on the night of March 19. Miss Blanton, state superintendent of public instruction, will also be an honored guest at the banquet.

It is expected that a large number from Amarillo and Hereford will attend the banquet in Canyon on this date.

Won $10 Ad Prize.

Joe Foster recently offered a $10 prize to the boy or girl who would write him the best ad. It was judged Tuesday that Miss Eula Hancock was the winner of the prize. Mr. Foster had many in the competition and it was a hard matter to judge between the various copy submitted by the boys and girls of Canyon. There ought to be some big advertisers in the coming generation with a little practice.

Moving to Randall County

N. E. Root moved his family this week from Glen Elder, Kansas, to one of C. O. Keiser's farms seven miles east of the city. The Root family made their home in Randall county for a few years and are welcomed back by many friends.

Arrested for Cattle Theft.

Arthur Mathis was arrested Friday near Claude on an indictment returned by the grand jury on the charge of cattle theft. Mr. Mathis used to live northwest of Canyon, and he is charged with stealing from Clint Bybee's herd. Bond was made in the sum of $1000.

Mistake in Alfalfa Report.

Last week the News reported that John Knight's alfalfa made 60 bushels of seed to the acre. The report as made should have been that his crop threshed out about 60 bushels, and not this amount to the acre.

Allen To Austin This Morning.

Prof. L. G. Allen left this morning for Austin where he will attend the great meeting of teachers from all over the state.

Mr. Allen is dean of the West Texas State Normal College and will officially represent the school in the meeting.

A union card should be the holder's certificate of efficiency and character. At present it is too often anything else.—The Agricultural Review.

INCOME TAX RETURNS DUE

Business Men, Farmers and Wage Workers Must File Schedules of Income for 1919.

MARCH 15 LAST FILING DATE.

Net Incomes of $1,000 or Over, if Single; or $2,000 or Over if Married, Must Be Reported.

The Income Tax imposed by Act of Congress on earnings of the year 1919 is now being collected.

Returns under oath must be made on or before March 15 by every citizen and resident who had a net income for 1919 amounting to:

$1,000 or over, if single; or if married and living apart from wife (or husband); or if widowed or divorced, $2,000 or over, if married and living with wife (or husband).

The status of the person on the last day of the year fixes the status for the year with respect to the above requirements.

Under any of these circumstances a return must be made, even though no tax is due.

Husband and wife must consider the income of both, plus that of dependent minor children, in meeting this requirement; and, if sufficient to require a return, all items must be shown in a joint return or in separate returns of husband and wife.

A single person with minor dependents must include the income of such dependents.

A minor who has a net income of $1,000 or more is not considered a dependent, and must file a separate return.

Personal returns should be made on Form 1040A, unless the net income exceeded $5,000, in which case Form 1040 should be used.

Residents of Texas should file their returns with, and make payments of Income Tax to, Alexander S. Walker, Collector of Internal Revenue, Austin, Tex.

How to Figure Income.

The best way to find out whether one must file a return is to get a Form 1040A and follow the instructions printed on it. That form will serve as a reminder of every item of income, and if a return is due it tells how to prepare and file it.

If in doubt on any point as to income or deductions, a person may secure free advice and aid from the nearest Internal Revenue office.

Guesswork, estimates and other hit-or-miss methods are barred when a person is making out his Income Tax return. Accuracy and completeness must be insisted upon. The return is a sworn statement. As such it must be thorough and accurate.

Salaried persons and wage earners must ascertain the actual compensation received. Overtime, bonuses, shares in the profits of a business, value of quarters and board furnished by the employer and other items which are compensations for services must be included.

It must be borne in mind that compensation may be paid in other forms than in cash. A bonus paid in Liberty Bonds is taxable at the market value of the bonds. A note received in payment for services is taxable income at its face value, and the interest upon it is also taxable.

Other Returns Due.

Every partnership doing business in the United States must file a return on Form 1065; and every personal service corporation must file a similar return.

Corporations must file annual returns on Form 1120.

Trustees, executors, administrators and others acting in a fiduciary capacity are required to file returns. In some cases, Form 1041 is used; in others, Form 1040; and still others, returns on both forms are required.

Information returns, on Forms 1099 and 1096, must be filed by every organization, firm or person who paid, during 1919, an amount of $1,000 in salary, wages, interest, rent, or other fixed or determinable income to another person, partnership, personal service corporation or fiduciary. These information returns should be forwarded directly to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (sorting division), Washington, D. C.

Let's Go.

Put one hundred men on an island where fish is a staple article of sustenance. Twenty-five of them catch fish. Twenty-five others clean the fish. Twenty-five cook the fish. Twenty-five hunt fruit and vegetables. The entire company eats what thus is gathered and prepared.

So long as everybody works there is plenty. All hands are happy.

Ten of the allotted fish catchers stop catching fish.

Ten more dry and hide part of the fish they catch.

Five continue to catch fish, but work only part of the day at it.

Fewer fish go into the community kitchen.

But the same number of men insist upon having the same amount of fish to eat as they had before.

The fifty men who formerly cleaned and cooked the fish have less to do owing to the undersupply of fish. But they continue to demand food.

Gradually greater burdens are laid upon the fruit and vegetable hunters. These insist upon a larger share of fish in return for their larger efforts in gathering fruit and vegetables. It is denied them and soon twenty of the twenty-five quit gathering fruit and vegetables.

But the entire one hundred men continue to insist upon their right to eat.

The daily food supply gradually shrinks. The man with two fish demands three bananas in exchange for one of them. The man with two bananas refuses to part with one for fewer than three fish.

Finally the ten men remaining at work quit in disgust. Everybody continues to eat. The hidden fish are brought to light and consumed. Comes a day when there is no food of any kind. Everybody on the island blames everybody else.

What would seem to be the solution? Exactly! We thought you would guess it.

For we repeat that you can't eat, buy, sell, steal, give away, hoard, wear, use, play with or gamble with WHAT ISN'T.—Chicago Herald and Examiner.

West's Debt To Railroads.

The present year marks three important events in Pacific Coast history with regard to railroads. (1) It is the fiftieth anniversary of the completion of the first transcontinental line; (2) the road across the extreme southwestern corner of the United States into San Diego will soon be open to traffic; and (3) work is to be continued in the northwestern corner of our country on the system that will give the interior regions of Alaska quick transportation to tidewater.

It is a striking fact that no western city of America, even though located on a good harbor, entered onto its real sustained period of growth until it was reached by one or more lines of railroads. The fur trade, the mining of high-grade gold and silver ores and the cattle industry may exist in areas far from steam lines; but the solid development of a country characterized by the mining of the most useful in addition to the precious metals, the growth of agriculture and the development of industry and commerce must follow the coming of the railroads.

It is not a long way back in American history to the time when statesmen debated the advisability of the United States acquiring what is now the western half of our country. They thought of Europe, no part of which is far from the sea, of the east of the Mississippi region of our own country, with its system of Great Lakes and many navigable rivers, and they could not see how the West, with its great mountains, dry climate and swiftly running streams, could be of great value to us. The commerce of their day was largely water-borne—the Louisiana Purchase being made almost a quarter of a century before the building of the first railroad in the United States. Of course no one living at that time had any idea that within fifty years of the day when the first locomotive whistled into Denver (a city right in the heart of the arid West, far from a navigable river and hundreds of miles distant from the nearest seaport) that city would have outgrown in population all of the old-established seaports of Eastern and Southeastern United States from the mouth of the James clear around to the mouth of the Mississippi, backed though they were by a country of bountiful rainfall and great agricultural and mineral worth. Chicago has, by means of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence and the Erie Canal and the Hudson, a wonderful waterway to the sea; St. Louis is situated near the center of a great system of navigable rivers; yet the most powerful factor that has pushed these two cities to the front in recent years is the pre-eminence they have obtained as railroad centers. Tucson, Phoenix, Albuquerque, El Paso, Amarillo, Pueblo, Salt Lake, Cheyenne, Butte, Boise City, Spokane and Reno will all soon be large cities, owing to their existence entirely to railroads.

San Diego in the past ten years has grown very rapidly; but now that she is connected by rail with her back country, it is probable that her period of fastest growth is yet before her. It is a safe assertion also that in the next ten years the terminal cities on the new Alaska road will be places of great importance.—Chicago Tribune.

Neff and Thomason will be the leading contenders in the gubernatorial race among the friends of prohibition. Looney is a strong man, but has a poor chance as a leader. Lewelling will tail the bunch by many thousand votes. With the division of votes between Neff, Thomason and Looney, Bailey will lead in the first primary if all these men stay in the race. "They say", persists in declaring that Bailey will be greatly beaten in the second primary between himself and one of these three gentlemen. The News trusts that this will be the case but second primaries are expensive and uncertain affairs. Thousands of men will not vote in a second primary. Every Bailey voter will be in this second primary. The loss will be on the side of his opponent, whose supporters will stay at home, thinking that Bailey is going to be defeated with the utmost ease. The News will feel better about it if two of these men will get out of the race and Joe is finished in the first heat.

Governor W. P. Hobby has definitely announced that he will not make the race for re-election, but will be a candidate for delegate at large to the democratic national convention in San Francisco. Hobby's administration has not been a flattering success and he is taking the wise course in not standing for re-election. His announcement to stand firmly behind the president draws the lines more closely in the state between the friends of Wilson and those who seek to discredit him.

Bailey has turned down the proposition of Thomason to test their candidacy in their home country. When the announcement was first made of the challenge, Bailey refused to believe that Thomas was so foolish as to make the challenge. When the proposition was confirmed, Bailey took a sober second thought and refused to enter into the plan. Is it significant that Bailey already sees defeat staring him in the face?

Keeping a town clean is a great big job if no one tries. If every fellow throws away the wrapper from his newspaper as he leaves the post-office, or the envelope of the letter he is reading, or the circular or catalogues that are flooding the mails; then a perfectly clean town in no time at all becomes a scandalously dirty town. Take a little notice, folks. Don't throw rubbish and paper around on the streets. Burn the stuff do don't want. It's a cinch your neighbor don't want to be bothered with stuff you are too lazy to burn.

Canyon has a city ordinance requiring trees to be kept trimmed up to a certain height. Most of the men of Canyon are quiet civil and tip their hats when the occasion demands, but they get pretty sore when a straggling branch from a tree does the job—especially if there is a little dew or raindrops to trickle down their backs. Such experiences do not add to a man's religious temperament.

Trades Day in Canyon was a fine day. There was a good crowd in town to take advantage of the bargains offered. Come to Canyon every Trades Day.

Every citizen of Randall County should be a member of the Randall County Commercial Club. The Club has for its purpose the upbuilding of Randall County as a whole. Every business man, every stockman, every farmer should be in the club and pay the very small dues that are asked. If you are a booster for Randall County, say something. C. F. Walker will take the money.

Yes, it was pretty fierce weather last Wednesday with the wind blowing a gale and the dusty flying. But there is never a wind in the Panhandle unless there is worse wind and storm in some other section of the country. The wind don't blow in the Panhandle just for the fun of the thing. It's away going some where to create real mischief.

The Plainview Herald says Randall County has the best roads in this section. We sure have. And going to have some more too. When the main lines are completed, then roads must be built out to the southeast and south west corners of the county, making Canyon the center of a network of well built highways.

The live wire boys of Randall county are getting into the Stock Judging Course obtained for them by County Agent C. F. Walker. He wants every boy interested in better stock in this Club. There are three big trips to be taken by the boys who make the best scores. Get busy fellows, and join the Club.

Canyon must pave the square this spring. Whether the town does any other improvement or not, this must be done.

Go A Mile To Save Two Years.

Tom Jones and John Brown live on adjoining farms. Each of them owns a scrub cow. The county agent gave them a United States Department of Agriculture bulletin on grading up by the use of better sires, and they have decided to try it.

Joe Smith, who lives a mile down the road, owns a three-quarter grade Shorthorn bull. The nearest purebred Shorthorn bull is a herd header at the Ellendale Farm, 7 miles away. Now, there isn't a great deal of difference—on the outside—between a three-quarter blood and a purebred. Tom Jones, being busy, patronizes Joe Smith's three-quarter Shorthorn bull. John Brown, remembering a copy-book maxim that whatever is worth doing is worth doing well, takes the trouble and the time to patronize the purebred bull at the Ellendale Farm.

There would not seem to be very much difference in the offspring. But, in actual fact, John Brown accomplishes in two crosses a result that is a little better than Tom Jones gets in five crosses. In about four years John Brown has an animal of a fraction higher grade than Tom Jones can get in about 15 years.

There may be no way to show it mathematically, but every reasonable man knows that the difference between four years and 15 years is greater than the difference between a mile and seven miles.

Or, put it in somewhat different form. Say that both Tom Jones and John Brown own a number of scrub cows and desire to buy bulls. Jones, being penny-wise, buys a three-quarter Shorthorn for $150. Brown pays $400 for a purebred Shorthorn. Most men will agree that the difference between 4 years and 15 years is greater than the difference between $150 and $400.

The thing needs a little diagramming to make the differences stand out. Here is what John Brown did by breeding his scrub cow to the purebred bull:

1 plus 0 equals 1; divided by 2, equals 1-2. John Brown's calf was half Shorthorn and half scrub.

Here is what Tom Jones did by breeding his scrub cow to the three-quarter bull:

3-4 plus 0 equals 3-4; divided by 2, equals 3-8.

Tom Jones' calf was three eighths Shorthorn and five-eighths scrub. Not much difference in the first generation—but wait. Using those heifer calves as breeding stock and mating them with the same kind of bulls, here is what happens.

John Brown gets 1 plus 1-2 which equals 1-2; divided by 2, equals 3-4.

Tom Jones gets 3-4 plus 3-8, equals 9-8; divided by 2, equals 9-16.

John Brown's calf in the second generation outrades Tom Jones' calf in the second generation by 3-8 Shorthorn blood.

And Tom Jones has to breed three others generations of cattle (using the same kind of sire to bring his cattle up to approximately the same grade as John Brown's second generation of offspring. In the meantime, using the same kind of bull, John Brown has graded his cattle up till the offspring of the original scrub cows contain 31-32 Shorthorn blood and only 1-32 scrub blood. Tom Jones' cattle, in the same generation, contain 93-128 Shorthorn blood and 35-128 scrub blood. Jones' herd, after 15 years of work, still retains 35 times as much scrub blood as John Brown's cattle—all because, 15 years ago, John Brown took the time and the trouble to travel seven miles instead of half a mile, or saw his way clear to spend $400 instead of $150. The cost of bulls varies greatly, of course, according to quality of breeding, age, and other factors.

The moral of the story, as the breeding experts of the United States Department of Agriculture tell it, is to use purebred sires for herd improvement. Replace the scrub sires and the grade sires with good purebreds. Join the "Better Sires-Better Stock" campaign. And consult your county agent, your agricultural college or the United States Department of Agriculture from time to time for whatever information you may need.

A Peculiar Accident.

Mrs. Chas. B. Cook was the victim of a peculiar accident Monday night at 10 o'clock, that came near costing her life, and will keep her confined to her bed and the use of crutches for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook have rooms at the Fagg Hotel and Mr. Cook was sick Monday night. Mrs. Cook had left their room and gone down to the kitchen to prepare some soup. While passing through the dining room she noticed a large automobile casing setting against the window. She crossed over and rolled the tire to the north wall of the dining room, and gently tipped it against the wall.

When the tire struck the wall a violent explosion occurred, throwing Mrs. Cook several feet.

Upon arrival of physicians an examination showed that Mrs. Cook was suffering from compound fracture of the left limb, between the ankle and knee. The bones protruding through the flesh. The right thumb was almost severed.

The tire belonged on the hearse owned by Mr. Cook.

The plaster on the wall where the tire was dropped was blown off as if some explosion did the work. The rim was an old-style, there being two steel bands to hold the tire to the rim. When the tire exploded these bands were thrown off, and it is presumed that one of the bands struck Mrs. Cook, inflicting the injuries.—Childress Index.

A certain gentleman thinks the whole universe is out on the league proposition.—Washington Post.

Let There be no Discords

If your Ford car is out of tune, there is undoubtedly a very good reason for it. And the best way to find that reason, and have it remedied, is to jump in and drive to our authorized Service station, where one of our mechanics who is thoroughly acquainted with the Ford mechanism and who knows the Ford way to adjust or repair your car, can tune it up in a garage that is properly equipped to give real Ford service. Then, too, we never use imitation parts—only the Genuine Ford-made, strong and durable. They wear from thirty to seventy-five per cent longer than the counterfeit parts that are softer and more cheaply made. In fact it is dangerous to human life to use imitation parts, and it is not fair to your Ford car or your pocket book.

We are a part of the gigantic Ford Service organization whose purpose it is to serve the owners of all Ford cars and trucks; we have more than a passing interest in your car. Prompt service is given on all work—from a minor adjustment to a motor overhaul. Drive in and see the facts for yourself—there's too much money invested in your car to miss connections with the authorized Ford dealers.

HOOVER WILL ACCEPT IF HE IS NOMINATED

Reasserts He is Not a Candidate, But Holds Himself Ready For Service

New York, March 9.—Herbert Hoover, in a letter received tonight by Ralph Arnold of Los Angeles, New York representative of the Make Hoover President Club of California, declared he was not seeking public office, that his "ambition is to remain a common citizen", but that he believed "like every other citizen he should always be ready for service when really called upon." Mr. Hoover's letter followed the action of a group of prominent California residents in this city in appointing a committee to go to Washington to ask Mr. Hoover to make known his position.

Asserting that while "such proposals are indeed a great honor, I feel that I can not alter the attitude that I have consistently preserved," Mr. Hoover's letter continued:

"First, I am an independent progressive in the issues before us today. I think that at this time the issues before the country transcend partisanship. It is well known that I was a progressive Republican before the war and I think rightly a non-partisan during my war service. I still object as much to the reactionary group in the Republican party as I do to the radical group in the Democratic party.

"Second, I am not seeking public office, and consulting my own personal inclinations, I do not want public office. I can not prevent any citizen or group of citizens from agitating that I should take public office, but I can not conscientiously participate in any organization to that end.

"I belong to a group which thinks that the American people should select their own officials at their own initiative and volition and that resent the manufacture of officials by machine methods. I thoroughly believe that I, like any other citizen, should always be ready for service when really called upon, but to go out and try to persuade the public to call me is opposed to my every instinct.

"Third, I hope to have the affection of my countrymen, but my ambition is to remain a common citizen, ready to engage in team play with any organization and leadership that has for its objective the consummation and maintenance of great issues in the forms that I believe are to be of public interest and benefit. I, of course, believe in party organization, but it must be for the promotion of issues, not of men. I am not a straddler of any issue. I spend most of my time agitating for issues that I believe in. It is the privilege of all of us to hold our own views and it is our duty to express them when called upon to do so. But no man can be so arrogant to assume that he can dictate the issues to the American people, or to the great parties they support.

"Fourth, you and your friends have urged that I should undertake to organize propaganda for myself as representing issues, by entering into competition for nomination by a great party. Aside from the reasons mentioned above this implies entry upon a road of self-seeking, whereas, my view is that I should agitate for the issues, not for myself. You rightly say that joining sheer organization without issues simply implies entering upon office hunting without regard to public service.

"Finally, I am not so ignorant as to not realize perfectly well that such a course does not lead to nomination to the presidency, but I would not be myself if I started out on a path of office seeking."

AMBITIOUS COLLEGE LADS ARE BEST RISK

Ambitious young college "lads", anxious to acquire an education at whatever cost in hardship and sacrifice, are the best financial risk in Texas, in the belief of Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of A. & M. College, who declared that of between $40,000 and $50,000 loaned to students each year on their bare notes by men interested in the welfare of the institution, they "had not lost a nickel". Dr. Bizzell's appeal to the members of the club as business men to interest themselves more in the problems of the educational institutions of Texas as have to face, because the State's educational system constitutes an enterprise greater in magnitude than if all of its railroads and many other corporations were combined.

"I have been helping finance several hundred students for the last six years by loaning out from $40,000 to $50,000 a year," Dr. Bizzell said, "the funds being provided for that purpose by business men interested in the welfare of the institution.

"Ambitious young men are willing to undergo all sorts of privations to get an education. But it isn't square not to devise a system of financing, which will permit those who desire to go to college and live in reasonably good conditions.

"Our second great problem is to provide men of adequate training and personality to teach these young men. The biggest thing a student gets in his college course is the contact with men of force, vital energy and real personality, and it is a constant problem to find such men.

"We have a critical situation regarding teachers. Since last June 244 teachers out of 850 have left our staff, and in almost every instance have gone where they receive more money. If you want a man in your business you pay what is required to get him. A maximum price is fixed by law for most of our positions. We can not pay more. It is going to be absolutely necessary to pay more money for teachers if the educational system of the State is to be kept up to its present efficiency.

"Business men haven't much respect, as a rule, for the business sense of pedagogues, although the latter are forced to conduct vast institutions on totally inadequate funds. Although the educational system of the State is its biggest enterprise, it is difficult to get business men interested enough to get a good budget system worked out.

"People do not appreciate the fact that there are more than 1,100,000 children in Texas entitled to get an education in the State's public schools, and that there are approximately 10,000 young men and women in the institutions of higher learning. We need the business men to help finance this great enterprise. College Station is the greatest educational plant in the South, with 1,750 students, and the facilities for their comfort are inadequate.

"The third problem confronting us is to provide an elastic functioning curriculum, to keep it vitalized and to make it function all the time. We are constantly finding it necessary to make changes.

"Some persons say this or that corporation is responsible for high prices. It is a significant fact that not more than 12,500,000 persons on farms and ranches are producing raw material for the entire Nation of more than 100,000,000 people. That is something worth thinking about.

"We must figure on ways to substitute motor power for the man power lost to the farm. It is our business to think out the problems of education, but we need the help of business men to work them out. If we fail it will be due to indifference, and, I think, a stupid indifference, to the needs of this great cause which affects all the people of our State."

A good word sometimes travels a few feet, but a bad one seldom stops. This is the time of year when the old man begins to cast his eye over the garden and the young man wonders how he can keep out of sight.

About the only objection we have to these numerous official investigations originating in Washington is the fact that usually two coats of white-wash are applied—one before it begins and the other after it ends.

Mr. Lansing, of course, can console himself with at least one thought. He won't have to write any more notes to Mexico.

Right, All Right

State Press in Dallas News: From far-away Kentucky comes a protest and an inquiry from a lady who is reluctant to accept this man's world as she finds it today. "The world seems bombarded with tempests of masculine-hows and grows", she affirms. "Is the man-world in chaos? Tell me, State Press, what is the matter with our men?" There's nothing the matter with 'em, dear lady. At least there's nothing new the matter with them. They are the same men with the same minds and the same impulses and the same liking for good food and long rests from labor that you have always known. Owing to the globe-shaking war, which had a seismic reflex in this country, politics has become somewhat more of a universal game than ever before. Millions of people who prior to 1914 never visited a ballot box or took any interest in government have blossomed into statesmen, in their own minds, and a large portion of them are telling to their own satisfaction, and with much noise, how the whole dognation world ought to be run. Here in America the small-bore politician has had a great season, all the way from the United States Senate down to the fifthward in the stockyards district. There are scads and hordes of Smart Alecks and Jassacks and Jumblewits posing as Daniels in judgment or reincarnated Moseses. They have ruined Russia, scandalized the rest of Europe and sought with energy to reduce this country to pusillanimity—and almost succeeded. Right here in Texas, and doubtless in your own State, Fair Kentuckian, there is a movement on foot to turn the clock back to Andrew Jackson's time, on the pretense that the only way to save the country from Bolshevism is to arrive at Bolshevism by the back track. The back-trackers' proposal is to resolve society into a condition of lawlessness, drunkenness, sordidness and piggrishness and justify it all by giving it the sacred name of Liberty. There is, dear lady, nothing seriously wrong with America or American men. They are simply swamped with an excess of sorry politics. The evil condition will right itself. The population became somewhat over-wrought during the war, and its mental processes are still more or less disturbed. But brains and character are not in exile. They are beginning to function normally again, and will continue to rule. Any country which is not ruled by brains and character is a prey to all the forces of dissolution. The only difficulty in our way at present is in the inability of portions of our people to see clearly. They have been encouraged to magnify unimportant issues, or unimportant phases of important issues. But at bottom we of America are still the same capable, courageous, effective people we have been from the start. Good sense and right principles and sincerity will prevail. Undoubtedly. Come to Texas.

Count Hohenzollern, who is said to be in great fear of assassins, must apprehend a German invasion of Holland.—Columbia Record.

Colonel Bryan's bee conducts itself surprisingly like a hornet.—Columbia splash lever for recirculation excess

Dallas News: Allowing the imagination to dally with the impossible, what would an anti-Wilson delegation from Texas do with itself after it got to San Francisco? With what candidacy would it homologate? Not with that of Mr. McAdoo, obviously. That of Mr. Hoover, assuming it should encounter one, would hardly be less uncongential. The Palmer candidacy would shun such a delegation from Texas; or at least insist that any association it might consent to be clandestine. It would find no warmth in the environment of Mr. Bryan, assuredly. With what candidacy would an anti-Wilson delegation from Texas establish comradeship? There is the quixotic Edwards candidacy, to be sure. But the Edwards candidacy requires of its devotees an oath of undying enmity to the Prohibition Amendment. Is it contemplated that the anti-Wilson delegation shall be also an anti-prohibition delegation? It may be said that, rising far above petty personal considerations, the anti-Wilson delegation from Texas would concern itself exclusively with the making of the platform. Even so, would it vote for a resolution denouncing the Wilson administration as heretical? Or against one affirming it orthodox? Or would it visit the worse condemnation of silence? In any case, it would find itself in pathetic company with an ill-favored minority. It might of itself constitute the minority. Those favoring a project whose execution would so surely elect the Republican nominee this year, as well as probably four years hence, would not likely be more numerous than the Texas delegation. It is when one permits the imagination to picture the parish-like appearance of an anti-Wilson delegation at San Francisco that one can appreciate the ridiculousness and effrontery of the proposal to send such a delegation thither, and get reason for wondering if the motive is not to be found in a desire to aid the Republicans in electing their nominee. If not, it might be thought absurd to the degree of being irrational.

CANYON DEFEATED BY C. C. BASKET BALL TEAM

The most spirited basket ball game of the season was played Saturday evening, just before the doors opened for the "big show". Clarendon had not been defeated this season and came here with a strong determination to cinch its claim to the Panhandle basket ball championship. The Normal college players had just as much determination to win as C. C. and its desire was further strengthened by the remembrance of the smashing defeat which Clarendon administered to us on her outdoor court earlier in the winter.

The game opened at 7:45 with the largest crowd of rooters present that has attended a game this year. C. L. Condrey was there with his old time "pep", and so was the crowd. Anyone who imagines that W. T. S. N. C. students don't get excited over basket ball, need only to have heard one cheer to have been convinced of his error. The school was behind the team to a man. The Normal has college "pep", and lots of it. It was not lack of support that caused the game to result unfavorably to us.

The game was "nip and tuck" throughout the first half, with Canyon in the lead during the first half of the period. When time-keeper, Shirley blew his whistle, the score stood with the big end to the credit of Clarendon. When the second half opened, C. C. came back with a rush that couldn't be stopped. Despite the best efforts of our speedy guards, the opposing forwards slipped in goal after goal, throwing from seemingly impossible angles and from closely guarded positions. Nor were Key and Hill loafing; they too, slipped away from Quattelbaum and Pratt and put the ball thru the ring time after time.

The final score was Clarendon 48, Normal 39.

We take our hats off to Clarendon. You are the undisputed champions of the Panhandle. We congratulate you.

The game was featured by the excellent basket ball work of Pope. He rarely missed a goal from the field; and although closely watched by Golden, he twisted away and put the leather into the net repeatedly. Perry at center outplayed his man and put up a fighting game from start to finish. Sims at guard got in his usual fine team work.

Canyon showed up strong on team work, but weak on basket shooting. On the other hand, Clarendon's basket work was par excellent.

Clovis Ramps On Us.

The Normal basket ball team was defeated Wednesday evening at Clovis in the final game of the season. The game was hotly contested from the moment the referee blew his whistle at the first "toss-up" until the time-keeper called "time" an hour later. It was one of the fastest engagements the West Texas men have been in this winter. A large crowd was present and the very spirited cheering of the Clovis supporters contributed in a very material way to the winning of the game.

The score at the end of the first half was 7-10, favor of Clovis High. The Clovis scoring machine began to work in earnest after the opening of the second half, and they registered eleven baskets, while the Canyon team, with an equal number of attempts at goal, made good only three field goals in the same period.

The final score was 33-14 in favor of Clovis High School. Clovis has not been defeated on her home floor this season. The only game she lost this winter was when the Normal took her into camp early in the season to a score of 35-27.

The scores made by the teams were credited to the following men:

Clovis—Crow (F) 2 field goals; Foreman (F) 8 field goals; Hobby (C) 3 field goals; Montgomery (G) 2 field goals.

Normal—Key (F) 2 field goals; Hill (F) 2 field goals.

Out of six free throws Crow threw three goals, while Key put six thru the ring out of twelve trials.

Players: Clovis—Crow and Foreman, forwards, Hobby center, Eastham and Montgomery guards. Normal—Key and Hill forwards, Perry center, Sims and Golden guards.

A Kentucky River Romance.

A belated Valentine Party took place in Miss Rambo's apartment on the afternoon of March 5th. At first, it promised to be just an ordinary valentine party with decorations and entertainment and food and farewells, like the party which the little negro girl of Commerce described in referring to parties of her race. "They jes come and sit and talk and eat and goes home".

Everybody come and sat and talked, and that was as far as the ordinary program was followed. A part of the talking was done by Miss O'Connell, who was asked to tell a little romance, since it was a valentine party.

ty. Being a valentine party, nobody, at first, thought particularly about the romance. They have them at all valentine parties; they go along with the decorations. The story was a Kentucky River romance. The details were as follows:

ACT I.

A maid, an address, a grape juice bottle, a river, the bottling of the address, the launching in the Kentucky River.

ACT II.

A soap manufacturer. Necessity of soap in the world, very important. The world must be clean. Soap manufacturer finds bottled address. Powders. Soap Fairies and Kentucky River Fairies struggle for supremacy. River Fairies win. He writes letter.

ACT III.

Many letters go back and forth. Soap man visits owner of address. Is overcome. Paige Car episode. Christmas vacation. January third.

ACT IV.

Scene—Misses Rambo and Michel's apartment. Glorious spring holiday. Lady Faculty members draw out small cards from basket.

"Engaged to be married, June, 1920, Miss Frieda Michel—Mr. Richard H. Funke.

(Explanation: Miss Frieda Michel, sender of bottled address. Mr. Richard H. Funke, soap manufacturer.)

ACT V.

Surprise. Congratulations.

Other party accessories followed a shower for the bride by Miss Rambo and food. The ordinary party program was continued by everybody's going home. There was a renewing of faith in bread cast upon the waters, the only regret being that West Texas is so devoid of waters.

High west wind last Wednesday, making it very disagreeable.
W. J. McCreery has been wrestling with a genuine case of mumps for the past 10 days. Some improvement, but still bad enough we understand.

Uncle Reuben Rogers and Mrs. Chas. Rogers and little daughter, Alice, left a week ago to visit Mrs. Mary Elkins and children in Clay county.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Myers, of Bigheart, Okla., on March 3, 1920, an 8 pound girl. Mrs. Myers was formerly Miss Kate Carter of Wayside.

W. R. Franklin—formerly of near Wayside, now of Amarillo, made a visit to Wayside Monday. He is very well pleased with his position with the Amarillo Wheel and Body Works.

Mrs. J. C. Mayo became so critically ill the past week with flu-pneumonia her relatives were summoned to her bedside. At present she seems to be much improved, her case has been dismissed by her physician and she seems to be on the road to recovery, much to the delight and satisfaction of her relatives and friends.

Mrs. W. I. Lane, Irvin and Joyce made a trip to Canyon Saturday p. m. to visit with Mrs. S. J. McGehee and Miss Sallie.

Loyse Gillham made a trip to Plainview Friday, returning Saturday, accompanied by Misses Merle Gillham and Bonnie Adams, returning Sunday p. m.

Rev. J. A. Lindley preached Sunday morning and at night, he was expected the week before but in trying to crank his car disabled himself.

The trade between W. J. Sluder and Walter and Earl Cobb failed to go through.

home, plenty to eat, and to wear, and means of recreation and enjoyment, we were contented and happy. But not now. The more we get the more we want, and the more we want the more feverish our efforts to get it. We never have enough—are never satisfied. If our neighbor has a car, we long for one just a little better. If Jones has a house of beauty, Smith wants on of grandeur and magnificence. If Mrs. Smith is at the head of the social whirl, Mrs. Jones is not satisfied until she has supplanted her.

An abundance of the necessities of life is not enough. We must have the luxuries, both for our own pleasure and to outshine other people. And the list of life's luxuries is so long and so varied that no man or woman has ever been known to reach the end. Millions of people forego many of the necessities of life in order to back in the limelight of luxury. They are lavish in adorning their persons and their surroundings at the expense of their stomachs. They enjoy the tinsel of life and endure the privations necessary in order to satisfy their vanity. That of frivolity is here.

Lecture on Christian Science.
By Charles I. Ohrenstein, C. S. B., last Thursday evening at the Palace Hotel.

The following was the introduction by Mrs. Clare H. Blough:

The world is in a state of unrest, socially, politically, and religiously. Individuals and nations are disturbed. Each one is trying to solve its problem, but most are working it by the wrong rule; so the right answer is not reached. Still there is unrest. Man-made theories never gave and never can give harmony. But there is a peace which passeth all understanding. Jesus said, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest". That is, come unto the Christ, the truth, give the true conception of God and man made in His image and likeness, as revealed in the inspired word of God, and this understanding beings with it rest.

By neither human theory nor man-made doctrine can life's problems be solved. Only in the Christ way will the world's burdens be lifted and humanity realize the words of Jesus, "The kingdom of heaven (harmony) is come unto you".

The preparedness, safety, efficiency of Jesus were the result of his demonstrable knowledge, the Science of being which constituted this Christianity. This Christianity was no mere ceremonialism or belief. It was the science of living and of living more abundantly; the science of health, of peace, of blessedness; the science that made Jesus the Savior, deliverer, redeemer; the science which he came to teach mankind. In a word, it was the understanding of God, the supreme power that is all good and always with us.

Must not we then in order to be Christians, to benefit by this Christianity, gain this understanding of God? Must not we ask who or what is this God of whom Jesus had such intimate, exact knowledge or science? Going to this master Jew, this master Christian, what do we learn God is? Something different from what was in the beginning? Not at all.

It should be remembered that Jesus did not write; he spoke. He spoke to his own people, the common people who heard him gladly; and he spoke in their tongue. The only instance preserved to us of what he said in that tongue is in the words which preceded his giving up the "ghost", the mere semblance of life, which he said he could lay down and could take up again, as he later proved. These words, all will remember, were "Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?" which are translated, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" The word Eloi, which Jesus used, is the Old Testament Chaldean word for what in English is called God. It means strength, or power, a meaning which is entirely devoid of anthropomorphism or corporeality. According to Jesus, then, God was his power, the power upon which he always relied, with which he accomplished everything.

Not only did Jesus illustrate, not only does Christian Science teach what God is, but in doing this Jesus illustrated and Christian Science teaches what man is.

Does not the father want the son to be like himself, and does not a son want to be like his father? So true is this, that right in the beginning we read that "God created man in his own image... male and female created he them."

We have seen what the power, the Life, the Mind, the whole reality or Truth, the Love that animated, enlightened, impelled, capacitated, and enabled the man Jesus. We have seen that it was omnipotence, omniscience, God, and that the expression of this made him the godlike and true man that he was.

Now let us take one who is learning to know this Christ-way, and beginning to walk in it. What effect has this upon him?

He has been believing, like every one else, that he is a material organism with his life, health, strength, intelligence, and love all inside of him; that all that he is and all that he has is limited by heredity and environment. He knows it because he has been experiencing it.

What has been said will but dimly indicate the teachings of the ideal, yet most practical and scientific system of ethics and healing discovered in the words and works of our Master by Mrs. Eddy. Through her faithful, loving, Christlike leadership, Mrs. Eddy founded this system, Christian Science, and advanced it to its present world-wide acceptance. Bringing what she did to the world, the "pearl of great price", the applicable, demonstrable Christianity of Christ Jesus, which has proved itself such by comforting, reforming, and healing the vast majority of those who have honestly, earnestly studied her books, she has enriched the world beyond all reckoning.

New Record For Texas Swine.

The auction sale of registered Poland China swine by the Alexander Farm of Childress, Saturday, February 21, set a new record in the Southwest on swine prices. The feature attraction was a gilt, Chief's Model, bred and raised by Lewis Brothers of Childress, which sold to Ludwig Irlbeck of Happy, Texas, for $3,000. The gilt will be a year old the 29th of March.

The Alexander Farm had an offering of forty-eight head in the catalogue. Two of this number were dropped and five others added, making a total of forty-one head going on the block. The total sales amounted to $22,530, or an average of $442. Two others sold for more than a thousand dollars while others came near that number. Not one animal sold for less than $200.

When Mr. Irlbeck bought Chief's

Model he was offered $500 each for a male and a female pig at weaning time. Mr. Irlbeck accepted the offer. The gilt will go to Happy and be returned to Childress, where she will be fitted for the National Show to be held at Des Moines, Iowa, this fall.—Childress Index.

Boys' Seven Lives.

In one of the most interesting addresses ever given before the Rotary Club of this city, Mrs. Phebe K. Warner, of Claude, last week, brought a message, not only to the members but to every citizen of Amarillo, Panhandle and the entire nation.

The Rotarians and the citizens at large, have heard a great deal of the development of our natural resources, of agriculture, of commerce, of manufactures, by those who listened to Mrs. Warner were convinced that the people of this country have overlooked a most vitally important development—that of the boys.

Mrs. Warner says that every boy has seven lives; the physical, which is supposed to be looked after in his home; the mental, which is left largely to the school; the moral, which should be taken care of by the church; the political, which falls to the lot of the state; the social, industrial and spiritual.

Under existing conditions, the boy's social life, which is closely allied to his moral welfare, is entirely ignored except when it comes in for severe criticism. As communities, nothing constructive along this line has been done and the boys are permitted to run loose. Herein lies the greatest danger to our young men. Many parents cannot give their children such educations as they should have and others are wholly without ideals. Both of these deficiencies could be met through social centers and schools which would make the early grades interesting and effective in the lives of the children.

A Community House, supplying as it does, the recreation needed by the young under influences that are refining and elevating, is the logical solution of the boy's social development. Y. M. C. A.'s are of undoubted value; yet fall short of the requirements. By far the larger per cent of the boys shy at a church or a preacher and cannot be reached through religious bodies as at present conducted. But the properly conducted Community House is different. Its primary object is helpful recreation—healthful physically, mentally and morally—but at the same time, it does not make its morality so conspicuous as to prejudice the boys whose home environment or social associations have already created an antipathy to what they style the "goody goody" element of society.

Every boy needs the social center but these boys need it most and they are quickest to detect and resent any too-evident attempts to "reform" them. For this reason, the influence that would help them must be subtle and tactful.

Amarillo has a large and constantly increasing "crop" of boys. Isn't it about time we put a little money into development instead of spending every cent in the oil game?

Watch The Tags.

The Texas Feed Law, enacted by the Legislature in 1905, is designed primarily to protect the purchasers of feed against adulterated and inferior articles. It provides for the annual inspection of concentrated commercial feeding stuffs on sale in the State of Texas, and the publication of the results obtained. The requirements of the law are simple and easily complied with and may be summarized in one word, honesty; honesty as to weight, honesty as to composition, and honest as to the ingredients used in the manufacture of feed. The law provides that any manufacturer, importer, agent, or person desiring to sell, offer or expose for sale, within the State of Texas, any commercial feeding stuff must register the brand with this Division, and after being duly registered the feeding stuff may be sold, provided an official tag is attached to each package. The information printed upon the tag enables the purchaser to determine whether it is to his advantage to purchase the feed for his particular use—in the production of milk, meat, or work. The present high cost of feed makes it very important that the consumer should be furnished only those articles which are free from adulteration and up to the guarantee in every respect.

The official Texas tax is always printed, contains all the information required by law and the facsimile signatures of the Director, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Chief, Division of Feed Control Service.

Farmers interested should send for bulletin No. 251, Commercial Feeding Stuffs, 1918-1919. It will be sent free on application to the Director, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.
