

PRIZES OFFERED ON TRADES DAYS

Trip to Wayside Friday, April 9—Regular Monthly Trades Day on Monday, April 12.

There was a fair attendance last night at the monthly meeting of the Randall County Commercial League meeting. The meeting was advertised for Tuesday night but owing to the Inter-Church meeting, it was postponed until last night.

Great effort will be made to get a big crowd to make the Trade Trip before the monthly Trades Day. The trip will be made on Friday, April 9 and will run to the Wayside community, with C. L. Thompson, H. C. Bamble and H. O. Price in charge of the trip.

A committee on roads was appointed, consisting of E. H. Powell, W. W. Kuehn and T. C. Thompson.

The committee which was appointed some time ago to look into the legality of adding the Wayside community to Randall county and giving to Armstrong county in exchange the strip of land north of the canyon had no report, and a new committee was appointed of Jno. T. Wiley, Wilford Taylor and W. J. Flesher, to take up the matter.

A series of monthly prizes will be given on Trades Day by the business houses of Canyon, instead of giving one big prize this fall which would go to a single individual. The committee in charge of the prizes is composed of C. F. Walker, O. N. Gamble and C. H. Jarrett. The committee will have a report ready for publication next week.

A down town telegraph and express office were discussed, and E. H. Powell appointed to take up the proposition.

J. W. McCreery will be the auctioneer next Trades Day. The business houses are urged to put up a bigger bunch of new merchandise than has ever been offered on Trades Day. A number of the business firms have been laying down on putting up special inducements for Trades Day and offering no goods for sale in the auction. Unfortunately most of those who had fallen down on this phase of helping make the Trades Day a success were not at the meeting last night to hear what the other fellows thought of them. C. F. Walker will see the business houses and get a list which will be published next week.

The Commercial League guaranteed to C. F. Walker $100 for the Futurity Show to be held in Canyon this fall in connection with the County Fair which Mr. Walker is planning.

Mayor J. D. Gamble was present and stated that the paving will be put in just as soon as the valuations of the city can be raised to one and a half million dollars as required by law before the bonds can be issued. He stated the present valuation was a little more than a million. There had been escaping perhaps a quarter million personal property which the assessor and board of equalization have been instructed to get on the rolls this year. With the increase in valuations the city council has in mind there will be ample valuation to put the paving over.

F. P. Luke Going to Amarillo.

F. P. Luke has accepted a position with Green Bros. Company of Amarillo and will leave Canyon about the 15th of April to take up his new work. He will be associated with C. R. McAfee, who is manager of the big business.

Mr. Luke has been on the C. O. Keiser force for twelve years, coming here from Iowa when Mr. Keiser first started his work in the Panhandle County. Mr. Luke is a very valuable man in both office and outside work.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke have a great many of friends in Canyon who regret exceedingly to see them leave Canyon, but are pleased to hear of Mr. Luke's connection with the big furniture business.

County Court Next Monday

The April term of the court court begins Monday.

There are a number of cases on the docket. A jury has not yet been summoned, but will likely be next week.

American dollars are at a big premium in Spain. But we have to buy our clothes and groceries in America.—Nashville Southern Lumberman.

Building Farm Home.

W. W. Kuehn is building a four room bungalow on his farm southeast of the city. He has leased a section and one-half to his brother, Ed, who lives in Walter's old place, and leased half a section to his brother, Julius, where he is building the new house.

Walter says that the wheat is looking fine. He has quit farming since starting to peddle jitneys—or rather started to telling the scores who want Fords and Fordsons just about how long it will be until they can get one—but until this year he has been one of the most successful wheat raisers in the county. Mr. Kuehn stated yesterday that he never saw both the late and the early wheat look so good at this time of the year, and is confident with the splendid prospects, the yield will be fine.

Public School Open Day

The teachers of the public schools have arranged to keep "open day" Saturday morning, April 3, any time between 9 and 12 a.m.

The purpose of this is for mutual help and encouragement. Some of our pupils are slightly behind and need the encouragement of their parents that during the remaining few weeks splendid work may be accomplished and promotions to the grade above may be secured.

The teachers have been faithful and should have your words of appreciation and promise of cooperation if they are to do the most for your children during this the most strenuous time of the school year. Let every parent spend an hour at least in getting acquainted.

Inter-Normal Debates Next Week

Friday-night, April 9th will be the inter-normal debates in Texas.

The West Texas State Normal will send a team to San Marcos, while another team will meet Denton in the Normal auditorium that night. Burne and Hazelwood with Susan alternate will go to San Marcos, while Hester, Hunt and Dockery will meet Denton in Canyon.

The question for debate is, "Resolved, That all industrial and commercial classes should be prohibited from the United States for a period of five years."

Two Elections of Importance.

Saturday of this week will be the election for school trustee of the Canyon Independent School District and next Tuesday will be the election of City Aldermen for the coming two years. Both tickets will be the same as printed in the News last week:

For school trustees: J. A. Cheatham, O. N. Gamble, Worth A. Jennings, N. E. McIntire.

For Aldermen—J. W. Reid, C. D. Lester, J. M. Redfean.

Normal-Town Game a Tie.

The Normal and town team had the first game of the season yesterday, the game ending in a tie with the score 6 to 6. The game was not a bad exhibition in view of the fact that the town team had had little practice and the Normal has a number of new men in the game.

Raising Funds for State Council

County Agent C. F. Walker has been requested to raise $100 from the farmers of Randall for the Texas Council of Agriculture, and will begin the canvass at once. The organization is headed by John T. Orr, and the Council is doing a good work for the farmers of the state.

Well Known People to Wayside.

Mrs. Annie Heisler has bought 2 sections from Payne Bros. and 3 from the J. A. ranch and moved this week to the Wayside community.

Mr. and Mrs. Heisler have been connected for years with the Adair interests near Clarendon and are very prominent people in that vicinity.

Great Pianist Coming to City.

Harold Henry will play at the Normal Auditorium Monday night, April 12.

Mr. Henry is one of the great pianists of America and his program will be very pleasing.

Road Again Inspected.

The highway was again inspected yesterday by the members of the Commissioners Court. The Court expects to accept the highway within a few days.

FRIENDS OF EDUCATION LINING UP FOR EXPANSION OF W. T. S. N. C.

The Lockney Beacon has again asserted itself to be a friend of education of the youth of Texas. The paper has again stated its views regarding the situation in the Panhandle. This time it stands squarely behind the proposition as advanced by the friends of the West Texas State Normal College in their demand for a material enlargement of the facilities of the school for meeting the obligations imposed upon it.

Friends of the West Texas State Normal College living outside of the city of Canyon first conceived the idea of expanding the school to meet the requirements of the agricultural conditions of the Panhandle. Friends from all over the Panhandle-Plains country are eagerly lining up behind the proposition and there has never been presented to the people of West Texas a proposition that looks more likely to the development of the vast empire of the Panhandle-Plains section.

The first proposition is that the Panhandle-Plains needs an agricultural school located in this section which can look after the interests of this section. Can it get such a school as a distinctive institution apart from the West Texas State Normal College—the only state school in the entire northwest part of the state? Those public minded men who have witnessed the location of schools and the passage of bills for the creation of schools in Texas are of the mind that another school will never be located in the West. They are more positively that if such a school were possible of location in the West, it would be located at Sweetwater or Abilene, and would be of little more service to the thirty eight counties of the Panhandle-Plains country than the A. & M. College located at College Station. There is not a single town above the cap rock which would stand any show of winning the school were the members of the legislature disposed to pass such a bill.

Then if the Panhandle-Plains country is not to be benefitted by the creation of a West Texas A. & M. College, why should the thirty eight counties of the Panhandle-Plains County take any stock in the creation of this proposed school which would only add another tax burden and be of little service not already offered at College Station.

The Panhandle-Plains section offers problems not found in any part of Texas. The Panhandle-Plains section is just awakening. It is an empire in the making. It has the natural resources of a state the size of

LOCKNEY BEACON FAVORS THE EXPANSION OF NORMAL COLLEGE

(From the Lockney Beacon of March 26)
The West Texas State Normal College at Canyon is making a fight for more funds for better equipment for the Institution in matters of more thorough manual training and domestic science science and equipment for teaching agriculture. The institution should receive more financial support that we might make this institution second to none in the South. In this connection we might make this observation. Instead of the agitation for a West Texas A. & M. College why not equip this institution in a manner that would enable it to perform the functions of both a State Normal and Agricultural College. It could be done for far less than an A. & M. College could be built outright. As to the matter of location and all other natural advantages Canyon has these all in one. This program might cut some other town out of an important advertising medium, but then the State does not locate educational institutions for advertising purposes. In other words, the State does not owe any town in West Texas an educational institution simply to put it on the map. Let's unite forces to make the West Texas State Normal College both a Normal and an Agricultural College.

Kansas, Indiana or Ohio. All it needs is development. To proper development, the agricultural problems must be met and solved. A well equipped agricultural department is at the source of all this scientific investigation.

The West Texas State Normal College offers all of the courses which must be offered along literary and arts lines in connection with a good A. & M. College. There is no use asking the state treasury to appropriate funds for duplicating this work in the Panhandle-Plains country. The legislature would not be hasty in making such an appropriation. With a mere appropriation of $100,000 to enlarge and expand the agricultural, domestic science and manual training departments the West Texas State Normal College would be equipped to offer all of the courses required of a good A. & M. College and to carry on all of the experiments needed in agricultural lines in the Panhandle-Plains country. To start and organize a new school would require at least $500,000 as an original appropriation, with a much larger appropriation as the years passed.

If the people of the Panhandle-Plains country want to see this great work consummated, they should get behind the friends of the West Texas State Normal College who have kindly made these suggestions and are hard at work to put it over at the coming session of the legislature.

Editor Ben Smith of the Beacon is to be complimented upon his clear inside into the educational problems of the Panhandle-Plains country, and upon the progressive stand he has taken for the development of this great section of Texas.

VOTE FAVORABLE TO SELLING CLUB

Legality of Sale is Left to the Decision of the Attorney General as Lawyers Disagree.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Canyon City Club Monday in special session, it was voted 27 to 21 to sell to stock of the Club to the Baptist Associations which are seeking to establish on the Plains a great encampment center.

Rev. B. F. Fronabarger presented to the members of the club the proposition from his denomination of paying $85 per share for the Club stock. He told of the plans of the Baptist to place improvements on the grounds valued at several thousand dollars. He was followed by Dr. Virgin of Amarillo.

The opposition to the sale comes from the fact that the canyons are shut off from the people in most places, and those opposing the sale wish to maintain a good fishing place for themselves and their friends.

The directors have the opinion of a number of attorneys, none of whom agree as to the possibility of making the sale under the conditions of the vote of Monday, and so decided Monday to seek an opinion from the Attorney General.

Interscholastic Meet April 16-17

The District Interscholastic meet will be held in Canyon on Friday and Saturday, April 16-17. J. B. Duffot is in charge of this district and is looking for a very large attendance from the high schools of the Panhandle country.

AGAINST LAW TO SIT IN OTHER PERSON'S AUTO

Complaint has been registered that young people are sitting in cars on the streets, and especially around the churches on Sunday night. In a number of cases the car owners have sustained losses through the carelessness of the trespasser.

Attention is called to the fact that it is against the law to sit in a car without the consent of the owner and there is liable to be a number of arrests upon this point.

Peter Meyers Sold to Hazelwood

Peter Meyers has sold his 320 acre improved place west of Happy to J. A. Hazelwood for $40 per acre, possession to be given as soon as Mr. Meyers has his sale.

Mr. Meyers stated yesterday that he did not intend to leave Randall county as he still had some land near the old place and was keeping quiet a bunch of cattle. He is considering moving to Canyon on account of the schools and his many friends will be glad to see the Meyers family citizens of Canyon.

Ask Telephone Raise.

The Southwestern Telephone & Telegraph Company sent out notices Monday for a raise in subscription rates in the Canyon Exchange. The raise in rates will apply to practically every town in this section of the state. The residence phones will be charged for at the rate of $2.00 per month beginning with the first of April, while the business phone are charged for at the rate of $3.00 per month.

INTER-CHURCH LUNCHEON GIVEN

Men of the Churches of Canyon Have Luncheon and Discuss the New Movement in America.

Rev. Ted P. Hillfield of the Presbyterian church called upon a number of men from each of the churches of Canyon to meet at the Canyon Cafe Tuesday night for the purpose of discussing the plans for the Inter-Church movement. There was to have been a speaker from El Paso at the meeting but he failed to show up in Canyon for the luncheon.

After a very fine luncheon Rev. Hillfield opened the meeting with a statement of the purpose of the Inter-Church movement and what he had learned in the various conferences he had attended before leaving his pastorate in Clovis. He called upon the men gathered for an expression of the ideals which are advocated by the movement, addresses of endorsement being made by Rev. Simeon Shaw, B. A. Stafford, J. L. Duffot, H. W. Morelock, L. G. Allen, D. A. Shirley, Dr. Stewart, J. W. Reid and President J. A. Hill.

Normal vs. Tulia Friday.

The Normal baseball team will play the Tulia high school team on the Normal grounds Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Coach W. M. Willy states that he has a very good prospective team in the making, with a good bunch of outfielders and batters. The pitching staff has not shown up very strong as yet.

THEARTE WALL CRUSHES BUILDING

Two Former Canyon Citizens Narrowly Escape Death When Green Bros. Store is Crushed.

During the high wind Saturday the wall of the old Olympic Theatre in Amarillo collapsed before the gale ranging from 50 to 60 miles per hour, tons of brick falling upon the Green Bros. Company, crushing the south wall, burying at least one-third of the big stock of goods which was on the floor, and very nearly claiming three victims, two of whom were former Canyon citizens.

Miss Frankie Gober was at her desk in the office while C. R. McAfee and C. L. Green were standing at the east end of the office talking. Mr. McAfee stated he heard a terrific crash, and realized what had happened. He said he never expected to get out alive. He felt himself being pushed and all of a sudden seemed to realize that he was before the open window of the office, through which he jumped, Mr. Green following. Mr. McAfee ran to the north door and heard the screams of Miss Gober. He ran back through the opening where the big plate glass had been smashed to the west end of the office, which was broken down under the weight of the bricks.

Miss Gober was found lying with her head under the desk, the big stove across her hip and the heavy iron safe having caught within a few inches of a point which would have meant certain death. The men from the back of the store rescued Miss Frankie, one of them holding up the hot stove in his arms while the others removed the bricks.

Mr. McAfee went carefully over the situation, and there seems nothing short of providence saved any of the three. Bricks had fallen all around them. A safe which would have cut in two both Mr. McAfee and Mr. Green was caught somehow within a few inches of the point of destruction. Both escaped with hardly a scratch.

Miss Gober has a serious burn and badly sprained ankle. She never lost consciousness throughout the terrible ordeal and seems to be recovering a rapidly as could be expected.

The Green Bros. building is being wrecked and will be replaced by a three or four story structure. In the meanwhile the stock will be on display at the Fillmore Street Garage which has been leased and temporary offices are established at C. L. Green's office on 7th Street.

Both Mr. McAfee and Miss Gober formerly lived in Canyon and have a host of friends who extend congratulations over their miraculous escape, and all trust Miss Frankie will soon have recovered from the results of her injuries.

Among Folks at Hospital.

Mesdames E. L. Prichard, Joe Black and S. V. Wirt are all recovering nicely from their operations of last week.

Miss Hudspeth is expected to return from the sanitarium this week.

Mrs. S. B. McClure was taken to Amarillo Monday to the sanitarium. She was in such condition as to require about three week's treatment before it will be possible for an operation to be performed. She has never been well since the attack of the flu several weeks ago.

Joe Friemel Buys Land.

Joe Friemel has bought 480 acres of land west of the city from Rudolph H. Seyder of Schulenburg. Mr. Seyder has owned the land for eighteen years. He came out here with C. Friemel, father of Joe, and bought the land at the same time as Mr. Friemel bought and moved his family to make this his home.

Joe is one of the best farmers in the country and together with his father and brothers, is prospering in Randall county.

Oil Derrick Blowed Over.

The derrick of the Randall County Oil & Development Company was blown over Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock during the height of the wind. The company has another derrick ready to put up as soon as help can be secured to do the work.

R. S. Pipkin stated yesterday that much of the derrick was pretty badly smashed, but the heavy timbers were not ruined in the wreck.

Black Walnut Thrives On The Plains.

The black walnut tree grows thriftily here, lives a long time makes a beautiful shade and is the most desirable nut bearing tree for this locality. Then it is not uncommon for the rough timber in a thirty-year old tree to sell for $150.00 to $200.00. And thrifty year old plants may be had delivered here for about a bit each, perhaps the cheapest of tree plants.

Plant a thick group of these near your residence and have a picnic ground in five years and plenty of walnuts to crack with your lies about the hearth in twelve years.

Missourians, please see J. P. Abreau and he will tell you of the now mammoth walnut trees that he set out thirty years ago and the big ones he and his wife set in their honeymoon days out towards the foothills. And all the trees are now bearing walnuts. Set some trees and give the kids a chance for some fun.—Springer (N. M.) Stockman.

Silos.

This is the time of year when the farmer who feels the need of a pit silo should get busy. He has more spare time at present than he will in midsummer. The changes are if he allows the digging of the silo to go over until he needs to put his corn in, he will neglect it entirely. If, however, the hole is dug and plastered up, and a few neighbors get together and buy a cutter, he knows that when he cuts the corn it will be put in the silo where it belongs.

Therefore if you have enough stock to warrant even a small silo, go after it now and get ready so that when the summer work is on and you are so very busy and help is scarce and high-priced, you will not have to rush so hard to get the silo ready and worse yet, overlook it entirely.—Chas. E. Smith, Las Animas county (Colo.) Agent.

Has Anybody Seen Bill?

"Has anybody here seen Bill?" is a question that several Melrose citizens are interested in.

"Bill" Leonard, who was employed as foreman on the Hart ranch southwest of town, has departed for parts unknown, leaving behind a good string of "stung" creditors. After securing credit at most every business house in town he induced local citizens to go on his note for money. "Bill" would be given a warm welcome in Melrose just now.—Melrose (N. M.) Messenger.

Two Good Poultry Items.

Two poultry items worthy of note are the sale of some hens by Mrs. Chancey Tyce, sold by the pound, netting a dollar and fifty-nine-cents each. Mrs. Tyce has the barred plymouth rocks and each year makes an effort to procure the very best strain obtainable and it would seem from the weight of her hens that she has about reached the limit as to size and weight. Mrs. John Gaetz has a flock of fine single comb white leg-horns that seem to be the champion layers of the country. During the month of February she sold more than fifty-dollars worth of eggs and the last few days of gathering the eggs were taken to market in March. Going to town with sixty or more dozen eggs per week is a common occurrence for Mr. and Mrs. Gaetz.—Summerfield correspondent in Hereford Brand.

Slew But Certain Returns.

About two years ago Geo. Black, of Gomez received thirteen suckling calves from a Wisconsin Holstein dairy, mention of which were recorded in these columns. The wait might have been a little weary, but today Geo. is taking gallons upon gallons of rich milk from those calves, now grown into milk cows.—Brownfield Herald.

Deserted His Motherless Children.

Rev. G. I. Britain of Plainview was down in the Abernathy country and found four small boys, the oldest seven years and the youngest sixteen months old, whose mother had died some time ago, and whose father had deserted them. Rev. Britain came before the court and asked that they be taken care of.—Plainview News.

Nice Farm House Burned.

Early Wednesday morning Mr. W. F. P. Bishop's family were awakened by a fire in their house. By the time the family was up and out in safety the fire was under such headway that it was impossible to save any of their household goods.—Channing News.

Elk At Goodnight Ranch.

Col. Goodnight received five elk by express Saturday night from Colorado. These animals have been placed in the Spring Creek pasture.—Goodnight correspondent in Claude News.

SID SAYS:

Here is One Way to Teach the Young to Worship the Almighty Dollar
 "I have just had a look at an extraordinary report made for the trustees of one of our great universities. It is a report on the financial condition of eleven typical professors. Here are a few items:

"Of the eleven, ten couldn't make ends meet during the past year. They race in debt all the way from $71 to $1,169. The one who did make ends meet succeeded in saving $115.

"The professors' wives all dread to go out to parties, because their shabby clothes make them look ridiculous beside the well dressed students.

"The professors cannot be called on for faculty meeting or other work before the middle of the morning on Mondays, because they have to stay home and help do the family wash.

"The most that any professor's family spent for recreation during the year was $141, and the least was $8. None of them can afford to buy books or magazines. It is just one mad scramble to keep shirts on their backs. They never can go to the theatre. The 15-cent movie is about their limit, and the grim humor of the situation is that they are criticized for being behind the times!

"I could go on and quote more of the details of his report—but the facts are familiar to everybody.

"If a great satirist like Voltaire or Dean Swift were alive, what fun he could have with teachers! Here would be some points for him:

"Teachers educate themselves to appreciate good books—but they can't afford to buy any.

"They study to get an understanding of great play. They would enjoy Shakespearean productions more than most people—but they haven't the price to see them.

"They train themselves to appreciate the best music, and would give anything to hear the latest Operas—but they must leave all that to successful haberdashers and paving contractors, and be satisfied with listening to the cat that sings on the back fence.

"They know history, and would enjoy trips to see great paintings and relics of the past. But they lack the price of admission, and must stay home and admire the town hall.

"In other words—they prepare themselves for the highest enjoyment of culture—and end up by eating at the second table. What better layout for his savage pen could a satirist want?

"Now to the point:
 "Young people are, first of all, tremendously impressionable. They see what goes on around them. They see these teachers with their patched pants and rundown shoes. What kind of an idea does it give them? Doesn't it give them the notion that the thing to do in this world is to let your ideal go, and make a dash for the dollar? Why fool with ideals if the pursuance of them takes you to the poorhouse?

"It strikes me that it would be awfully shrewd and farseeing to give teachers enough so that they could appear well. Why advertise to the young the penury of the highly educated? Isn't that a way to help drive them into the rankest materialism?"—American Magazine, March, 1920.

One of the functions of the Biological Survey, which is under the direction of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, is to make a census of the birds at frequent intervals. It is pleasant news that the count since the international migratory bird law went into effect shows a marked increase, especially in the song birds, most of which are insect eaters, and particularly in the number of robins. The birds would be welcome visitors if they did nothing more than entertain us with their songs; but they do an incalculable amount of good in destroying noxious insects.

Sunshine.

Of all gifts of Nature to man the most blessed, rich and beautiful is sunshine.

Through my window comes a broad stream of it; the whole chamber is filled with its spirit; upon the floor it lies, a patch of aerial gold. It is full likewise of fancies, suggestions, dream seeds.

It is that which makes flowers. The red rose is a drop of its blood. The Easter lily is its smile. The heliotrope is the sweetness of its breath. The violet, a hidden whisper of blue under a green leaf, it its girlish modesty.

Trees are its fountain play. All vines, bushes, jungles and leaf tangles are veils of it, bridal veils of earth wedded to the sky.

It is power. By it the ocean mounts to heaven and becomes cloud, whence descends rains. It is the dynamic of waterfalls, running rivers, tides and all water forces.

It congealed into coal ages ago; and from coal come now the energies of this era of steam. Express trains, ocean liners, factories, automobiles, trolley cars, all expressions of energy lie in my shaft of sunshine. Without it they would not exist.

It is the lover and husband of the earth. So comes the blushing spring with innumerable charms, and the fecund summer, and the health and fulness of men.

It kisses the grapes and they swell with purple beauty, the apples and they lusciously redden, the orange and the pomegranate till they hang like glowing festal lamps among the foliage.

When it lies on broad seas they smile and send their luster to other planets; when it lies upon the land it breaks forth in green fire.

No less is its message to the hearts of men. Its brilliancy and warmth are transmuted into spiritual cheer and the energy of creative will.

All the mystic recesses of the soul respond to it. Fears flee, as bats from light flooded caves. Apprehensions, morbidities, premonitions, and all leaden glooms melt from the inner sky, the mind becomes a daisied meadow, with larks singing.

It calls women and men and little children out from their closed houses into the open. They laugh at play and sing at labor. They become beautiful one to the other. They love and embrace.

The sunshine is love-liquor; the whole earth is drunk with it.

The young lambs leap up "with all four feet at once." The colts frisk. The dogs bark and scamper. The trees become orchestra stalls of singing birds.

Sunlight! The symbol of all things desirable, freedom, of winged thoughts, of passion, of life itself! Let it fill my famished eyes, my brain, my soul! Let my flesh feel it, my bones warm with it, my blood leap beneath it, my soul drink faith from it!

So long as the sun shines we must all believe in the Eternal Goodness.—Dr. Crane.

In one sense the United States lost money last year. Between January 1 and December 20 we exported $354,668,140 in gold and imported $75,944,753 in gold. We received the largest separate amounts of gold from Canada, Hongkong, Mexico and the United Kingdom; but to Japan alone we exported $94,114,189 in gold—more than we imported from all the countries of the world.

The Amarillo Tribune is the newest daily newspaper in the field. It came into existence Sunday morning and has the ear-marks of a real newspaper. R. H. Nichols, formerly of Vernon, is editor, and Eugene Thompson, formerly with the Southwestern Paper Company of Dallas, is business manager. The Tribune plant is one of the finest in the state, and with ample financial backing from more than forty leading business men of Amarillo, will be a great force for the development of the Panhandle country.

Hoover states that he might accept the republican nomination if the party platform suits him. In fact the republican party is not much more agreeable to Hoover than the democratic party. No matter which party should get Hoover as a candidate, it will have a sure winner. But he is not willing to accept the dictation of either party organization. Is it possible that politics have advanced to such a point in America that an independent candidate could be elected president?

Wilson is looming up strong as a possible candidate for a third term. He carries the burden of the mistakes of the war. He carries the burden of an extremely sick man. Either is sufficient to eliminate him. His principles are advocated by other men who are able to carry them out if elected.

There is nothing undignified in having a birthday on April 1st. The great and only Randall County News is twenty four years old today.

After all, April fool is preferable to March 27—and some other days in March.

We are in favor of abolishing the month of March.

We sincerely trust that the wind has done all its blowing during March.

Cooperation In Rural Communities.
Communities, as well as firms and individuals, can reap legitimate profits through advertising. In her day Rome was a big advertiser and kept at it so persistently that eventually all roads led to that metropolis. From the standpoint of legitimate municipal publicity, America has several Romes. But this sort of cooperative advertising is not monopolized by these big centers. Indeed there are scores of communities—rural and semirural—that have put themselves on the map in big red letters. Their fame has not been restricted by their small size. The secret lies in their emphasizing some local product which the community is well suited to produce, and getting all interested persons to do their very best in that line.

A purse is trash compared with a good name, according to Shakespeare, and many towns recognizing the inestimable value of a good name have built up reputations that have lined the purses of those forming the community. For example, Monroe county, in southern Wisconsin, has built up a national reputation for the fine quality of its cheese. Not the least factor in winning and keeping leadership in this line has been the annual Cheese Day, a splendid community event at which quantities of the delicious product of the region are given away in sandwiches and in other forms to thousands who share in the occasion.

What Monroe County has done with cheese, Carrizo Springs, Texas, has done with strawberries. The whole countryside in the vicinity of this village joins in honoring its favorite product each season. Distinguished citizens come from miles around to take part in the festivities. The governor of the State counts it a privilege to be present.

That the humblest of farm tasks can be honored and exalted by community effort and the community in turn greatly profit thereby is shown by the record of the Wheatland plowing match in Northern Illinois. This annual event instituted something like half a century ago along lines followed by the founders' ancestors in Scotland, attracts annually 10,000 to 15,000 people. Here plowmen of all ages are divided into classes, the members of which compete for prizes offered for the best work done with riding, walking, and tractor plows. The reputation for skill in agriculture created by this annual event has been worth an incalculable amount to the farmers of this region, and partly because of it Wheatland farms and Wheatland products are considered among the best in the whole Mississippi Valley.

The orange growers of California have learned a similar lesson. Each year they hold a magnificent orange festival which is one of the big events of the Pacific Coast, attracting as many as 25,000 people, some of them from distant States. The rivalry for honors has done much to raise and maintain high standards among the orange growers of the region.

A community celebration of a somewhat different character but equally effective in its advertising power, is the Ground-Hog Day Picnic at Punxsutawney, Pa. At this novel annual event farmers, politicians, and former residents, to the number of many thousands, gather to share in eating a splendid repast, the principal feature of which is ground-hog meat. The meat is cooked in barbecue fashion and invariably wins the praise of the celebrants. Speeches and informal hearty greetings of old friends occupy the afternoon. While this event is not designed to advertise a farm product, its distinctive character and the fine spirit of hospitality that obtains puts Punxsutawney and the surrounding country on the map.

The little town of Cuero, Tex., has won fame from ocean to ocean because of its turkey drives. Drivers of turkeys within a radius of 100 to 150 miles bring in flocks of birds on foot. The fowls travel at a slow rate during daylight and at dusk instinctively huddle together, while their drivers camp by the roadside until dawn, when the journey toward Cuero, a mecca of turkeydom, is resumed. The culminating feature of this event is the turkey parade in which all of the drivers lead their flocks through the principal street of the town. On a recent turkey day no less than 28,000 birds were in the procession. Following the parade the turkeys are loaded on cars and shipped to markets in all parts of the country.

There are thousands of communities which might undertake a celebration similar to these cited. In some cases the spring is the appropriate season, in others the fall or summer is the logical time. The first need is for an association or individual to gather together persons interested in promoting this idea. The winter days, when the farm work is less strenuous, offer an opportunity for preliminary conferences. The Office of Farm Management of the United States Department of Agriculture will be glad to offer any inquirers suggestions regarding the best methods of promoting such events.

Some Experiences
On Sunday George McCurry was traveling to Canyon in the side car attached to a motorcycle driven by Melvin Standifer. While traveling at a good rate of speed the pair endeavored to pass a prairie schooner spread out over the road. Just at the moment of passing a couple of New Mexico burros wandered serenely across the narrow road directly in the way. The donkey immediately in front of Mr. McCurry's side car evidently saw what was coming but refused to yield an inch nevertheless. He merely backed his long ears and squatted down. The low-hung car scooped him up, deposited him in McCurry's lap, and continued on its way. Mr. McCurry put both hands on the unwelcome passenger and rolled him off in the ditch. Nothing appeared to be the worse for the novel experience, including the burro, and the machine continued into Canyon.

On Monday N. C. Vogele was serenely engaged in working on top of a twelve foot metal granary when a Organize Community Council.

Several farmers of the Kelton community met at the school house Monday night and organized a community council. The purpose of this organization, as we understand it, is to co-operate in the buying and selling of farm products, in making a better school, a better church and Kelton a more progressive community.—Wheeler Sun.

Farmers Object To Settlement.

We do not blame the farmers for not becoming enthusiastic over the peace agreement between the department of justice and the packers. The compromise makes more necessary than ever the enactment of some bill to protect the farmers, producers of live stock and the public.—The de-tree may help the wholesale grocers but it is a sweeping defeat for the live stock producers, farmers and consumers. It serves notice in unmistakable terms upon the American people that these culprits guilty of the grossest form of conspiracy in restraint of trade, and to establish monopoly, may apparently, through agreement with the department of justice, secure immunity for their actions. Another equally striking feature about the decree is that under it the packers may through holding companies continue their exploitations of the people. The thing is so unsatisfactory that twelve of our western cattle growers associations have appealed to President Wilson to upset these arrangements. They have submitted a series of charges to the effect that the compromise does not give them any redress for their chief grievance, which is the control of stockyard markets by the packers to the disadvantage of the producers. They ask that the prosecutions be taken out of the hands of the attorney general and that new suits be brought with Frances J. Heney of San Francisco as prosecutor.—Field and Farm.

The other day a Pennsylvania express train bound for New York stopped not long after it left Philadelphia. Some of the passengers, becoming restive at the delay, climbed out to see what it was about, and they found the engine crew trying to make repairs on the engine and not making much headway because the job puzzled them.

From the crowd of passengers stepped out a prosperous looking citizen.

"Give me a hammer," he said, "and I will fix that for you."

Without bothering to put on overalls, he went to work and in a short time had the engine back in running condition. The passengers returned to their coaches and the engine crew to its cab, and the train went on to New York.

"Who was that fellow?" asked a passenger.

"That was Sam Vauclain," replied another.

The volunteer engine mender was the president of the Baldwin Locomotive works at Philadelphia. He worked in the shops, where he learned his trade, and step by step he came up from the ranks to the command of the greatest locomotive making plant in the world.

Men who rise as this man rose, are not the ones that try to get by with as little work as they can exchange for wages. They do not necessarily rely on union rules to protect them in their earnings. Though they have an astute eye on their earnings, it is not because they dream of making everybody rich without work, but on they climb from where they are to the top of the ladder. That climb they plan to make by their own efforts. Here and there favoritism fills a soft job; but jobs so gained do not as a rule last long. In every successful industrial organization the big jobs are filled by men who have earned them—and who in most cases have worked their way up to them from the bottom.—Weyburn (Saskatchewan) Review.

Although Britons speak the same language that we do, they speak it with differences that persist in spite of the growing intercourse.

The Englishman asks for a "reel of cotton", the American for a spool of thread; the Englishman's "stick" becomes a cane when he crosses the Atlantic, and his "biscuit" a cracker. He buys his ticket at a "booking office" and carries a "box" with him instead of a trunk. When the Forty-niners found gold in California they staked out claims; but when the Australians found a valuable deposit of black opal in New South Wales recently they "pegged" their claims. The American word gave us the picturesque "pull up stakes." Will the English word give us anything as good?

Book Buyers.

Americans are the great book buyers of the world. Their purchases range from a hundred-thousand-dollar copy of Shakespeare (nine plays), which had the good fortune to be printed in 1619, to seventy-five cent reprints of classics, which deserve a richer dress. So many motives enter into the buying of books that only Americans can fitly represent every class of customer.

To begin with, there are a few people who really love to read, and a great many people who think they love to read—which is a creditable illusion, as illusions go, and which sometimes flowers into reality. There are millionaires—a common product of the country—who buy books as they buy pictures and pearls, from the sheer necessity of spending. There are men (and a few, a very few women) who have a passion for early and rare editions, or a more inexplicable and exclusive passion for books that deal with special periods. And there are both men and women who wish to furnish their houses presentably, and who are well aware that there is nothing so fit to be looked at as the outside of a book.

The wife met her husband at the door on his return from his day's labor.

"Oh, George", she said, "we just had a visit from a black cat!"

"That's nice", said hubby. "Black cats are lucky, you know."

"Yes; this one certainly was. He ran away with the steak I was going to cook for you!"

Why Not Teach?

(By Dr. Frank Crane.)
The Institute for Public Service, William H. Allen director, is doing good work for recruiting teachers. Tremendous forces are turning the young people away from the teaching profession. Money alone will not bring them back. They need to be shown that teaching is a fascinating occupation.

We are facing throughout the country a shortage of some two or three hundred thousand teachers. This is nothing less than a calamity, for teaching is the most important business on earth.

For the encouragement of young people who are considering teaching as a career, I set down these points:

1. The teacher's life is a happy one. It abounds in thrills of discovery and achievement which are seldom equalled elsewhere. It is influencing human beings.

2. It is objected that many young women teachers get married. Why not? Is there any better preparation for marriage than teaching school?

3. Teaching opens the doors to advancement in all walks of life. President Wilson began as a teacher, as did ex-President Taft—and both are greater teachers today for that very reason. Governor Cox and ex-Governor Willis of Ohio are ex-teachers. The highest paid business woman was a teacher; so was Jane Addams, Anna Howard Shaw, Ida Tarbell, Honore Wilsie, Josephine Daskam Dodge. A teacher has just been made manager of one of the country's greatest daily newspapers. The heads of the great foundations of over one hundred million dollars each are ex-teachers.

4. There is money in successful teaching. Cleveland pays its superintendents $12,000, Cincinnati $10,000, Dayton $6,150, Youngstown $6,000, 13 Ohio counties $4,000 or more, and State universities are bidding against one another up to $20,000 for teacher presidents.

5. Salary increases of two hundred and five hundred dollars are being widely made for elementary and rural teachers, and conditions point toward an early conclusion of the salary argument against teaching.

6. There is no better business in the world to prepare one for life, for culture, and for achievement in any direction of activity than teaching.

Why not teach?

Turned Around.

"Does rotate mean to revolve?" asked the new devil of the foreman.

"Yes, I guess so."

"Then rotation means revolution, does it?"

"Reckon. Why?"

"I was just figuring that maybe the Rotary Club was organized in Russia."

If anything were needed to show at once both the British love of outdoor sports and the number of young Englishmen who were crippled by the war, it could be found in the action of the British National Lawn Tennis Association in so modifying the rules of the game that a one-armed player, when served, may toss the ball from his racket instead of with his hand. To put a disabled player on an equality with competitors who are whole is the very flower of sportsmanship.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

A Feature of the Shows

It is no exaggeration to say that our new "Glenbrook" model has been a sensational feature of both the national and local automobile shows.

Its fame has traveled from state to state, city to city, and it now occupies an unchallenged position of leadership in the field of five-passenger cars.

In our long experience as manufacturers, we have never produced a model that has so quickly won its way to public favor.

Everyone, apparently, recognizes in the "Glenbrook" an engineering and designing achievement of the utmost importance.

Designed and built in the Paige shops—and powered with our new six-cylinder motor—it surpasses every standard heretofore accepted as the best in five-passenger motor cars.

The "Glenbrook" is now one of the fastest selling cars on the American market and the demand is increasing with each succeeding day.

Already our production schedule has been sorely taxed and orders for spring delivery will undoubtedly result in an oversold condition.

Compare it with any five passenger car that the market affords and determine whether it is not, indeed, the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the light six field.

Wayside Notes
 Saturday, March 27, 1930 will long be remembered in these parts for the high west wind which blew almost 24 hours very hard. Chicken houses were blown down and scattered, a number of windmills were damaged. The hardest wind for years.

Orchestra Goes to Hereford
 The College Orchestra had a most successful trip to Hereford last Monday. The party consisting of twenty-one people went over in cars leaving here about 3 o'clock and arriving at Hereford about 4:30. Upon enquiring as to "headquarters" it was found that a splendid supper was being arranged, and that the house of Mrs. Homer Fox was at the entire disposal of the orchestra.
 Misses Lucy Goodwine, Maleva McKee, Stella and Madge Rusk, and Mr. Ernest Atkins spared no effort for the comfort of all. In fact the members of the Orchestra, and the soloists too became so engrossed in the delicious dinner spread for them that it looked for a time as though they would hardly be able to break away and attend the concert.
 The concert was held in the Central School building auditorium. The piano was good and in perfect tune. There was a good audience, both as to numbers and quality. Every number, both orchestra and solo was so generously applauded that encores were the rule of the evening. In every way the concert was a distinct success, and many requests were made for a return engagement.
 No little credit for the success of the occasion is due Supt. Fertsch, who managed the affair both as to securing the orchestra and giving the concert the necessary publicity. The College is indebted to the city of Hereford for this opportunity to extend its services, and the Orchestra certainly will remember for a long time its royal reception and cordial treatment at the hand of our neighboring city.

Normal School Board of Regents in Annual Visit to West Texas State Normal College

Board of Regents Transacts Business At Normal College

The State Board of Normal School Regents, consisting of Hon. A. C. Goeth of Austin, Judge M. O. Flowers of Lockhart, Hon. R. J. Eckhardt of Taylor, Judge A. B. Watkins of Athens, Judge J. A. Elkins of Houston, and Hon. A. B. Martin of Plainview, visited the Normal College last week. This board has charge of all the Normal Colleges of Texas and usually makes an annual visit to each institution. Because of unusual conditions last year the Board did not make the visit, so that it had been two years since an official inspection had been made of the local school.

While here the Board went through considerable routine business and took action on certain matters of public interest.

Among those things in which the general public is interested should be mentioned the naming of the new dormitory for girls. By a unanimous vote of the Faculty and upon the recommendation of the President of the school this new addition to our boarding facilities was named "Cousins Hall". This action was considered especially appropriate in view of the conspicuous services rendered this institution by the Hon. R. B. Cousins, who was President of the school from its establishment in 1910 to September 1, 1918. Mr. Cousins early recognized the importance of additional first class boarding accommodations at the West Texas State Normal College and accordingly obtained from the Legislature during the Colquitt administration an appropriation for this purpose; but the Governor saw fit to use the red pencil, with the result that the school has been seriously handicapped from that time to this. Now that the West Texas State Normal College has set the example and prepared the way we may reasonably expect the state to expand this policy by making adequate provision for the proper care of teachers in training at all of the Normals.

The question of salaries for teachers was discussed at some length. President Hill presented a number of facts in this connection, showing how the school has already been crippled by inadequate pay for members of the Faculty. Several very strong teachers were lost this session because of this condition. Dr. T. R. Garth was called to the University of Texas and is almost doubling the salary received here. Dr. Garth was one of the best prepared men in the Faculty and the institution could ill afford to lose him. His place as Head of the Department of Education still remains open. Dr. John T. Buchholts was called by the University of Arkansas to a much better position and left a place which has not yet been filled because of insufficient salary. A number of the present faculty will not be with us next year—some resigning for other work and some going away on a leave of absence to perfect their preparation. As a result the institution is hard put to it to find such material as will maintain our high standards. The Board of Regents thoroughly understands these difficulties and is willing to go its length to meet them, but because of the lack of available funds has so far been unable to find a solution. The matter was left by the Board for future consideration.

The Board also discussed at some length needed improvements in the near future. The College was authorized to procure rooms for a small hospital and to charge each student upon entrance a small hospital fee with which to maintain such hospital and to employ a trained nurse. This policy will be inaugurated at the opening of the next fall term in September. Perhaps there is no other single forward step which could be taken at this time that would mean so much to the institution. The expense to the student will be slight and the advantages derived immeasurable.

The Regents were well pleased with the progress of the school and thoroughly appreciated the reception given by the citizens of the town, the student body, and the Faculty.

Huntleigh Hall Breakfast.

With the aid of many alarm clocks, Huntleigh Hall arose early Monday morning and breakfasted the Board of Regents, the Faculty, and Guests from six of the larger girls' boarding houses.

As the guests arrived, the band played a selection or two. The hostess of the Girls' Council of Huntleigh, Miss Elise Hall, with her assistants, placed the guests at the long tables which were fresh and festive with sweet peas and ferns. The guests sang together a verse of "Holy, Holy, Holy", and were seated. The breakfast was served by Miss Vera Crawford and the girls of Huntleigh.

The food, of course, was good, and important; but more important than food was the spirit of hospitality and friendliness on the part of the girls and the answering appreciation of their guests. Miss Maybelle White presided over the student part of the occasion, welcoming with these words: "To our visiting friends, to the faculty, and to the Board of Regents, Come in the evening or come in the morning,

Come when you're looked for or come without warning; A thousand welcomes you'll find here before you, And the oftener you come here, the more we'll adore you."

This was followed by the singing of the "Alma Mater". The following songs and toasts were then given by the girls: "To the Faculty", by Leona Burns, and "To the Board of Regents", by Ruth Harrison:

To The Regents

The State Board of Regents have come out to the West,—

Of all boards of Regents our Board is the best;

They stayed not for sand-storms, they stayed not for wind;

Their steed was the Denver, they tied themselves in;

And 'ere they alighted at Canyon depot,

The Faculty grabbed them and away they did go.

Come, blow your trumpets; come, toot your horns.

We pledge you our allegiance, Long live the Regents.

To The Faculty

Here's to Sunday clothes, frock tail coats and a powdered nose;

Here's to dignity—and stupidity;

Here's to tyrants—and tyranny;

Here's to vamps—and vampires;

Here's to plumbers—an painters;

To janitoresses and washer-women;

Here's to the idle rich;

Here's to vision—and supervision;

Here's to sense—and nonsense In one—Here's to the Faculty.

Board of Regents

(Tune—Turkey in the Straw) Board of Regents, Board of Regents, From a land afar,

You've come out West

Where the sand storms are;

You will see 'em, you will feel 'em, You will eat 'em when they come,

Poor old Regents, won't they run, run?

(Tune—Oh, Johnny)

Oh, Regents, Oh, Regents, how can we run?

Oh, Regents, Oh, Regents, 'thout any mon?

You've made our sad hearts jump with joy,

But we're still just right up agin it; For we're, Oh, Regents, Oh, Regents, out in the cold;

Come on and lend a hand, We're not handsome, 'tis true, But when we visit you, We'll just, Oh, Regents, Oh, Regents, Oh!

The girls concluded with "Speech,

Speech, Goeth, Goeth!"

Mr. Goeth expressed his appreciation of the enthusiasm and splendid spirit of the girls, of the good breakfast and pledged his continued support to Our Normal College. However, he explained, he was not the speechmaker for this tour; for the speechmaking had all been turned over to Mr. Watkins, of Athens, Texas, the new member of the Board.

The new member denied this bargaining, but proceeded to speak. He told of the negro down at the Capitol who was rather confused about the Speaker of the House. "If dat fellah ain't de speaker, he sho do speak all de time." This to Mr. Goeth, who, if he were not the speaker of the trip, was always speaking. Mr. Watkins expressed his willingness to cancel the rest of the trip and remain in Canyon.

The next speaker was Mr. Flowers of Lockhart, who spoke particularly to the students, saying that he was more interested in students than in teachers, expressing his thanks for and his appreciation of the last annual of this school, for the splendid record of student activities which it contained. Mr. Flowers mentioned the need for supporting the constitutional amendment which would eliminate the fifty cent limit on the school tax.

Mr. Flowers was followed by our own West Texas representative on the Board, Mr. Martin of Plainview. Mr. Martin, being in his own home country, preferred, he said, to give his time to Mr. Eckhardt of Taylor because he was more of a "ladies' man", and would enjoy having much time to speak. And Mr. Eckhardt lived up to all expectations. He had an eye single to the glory of this institution; he said. Mr. Eckhardt proved to be so popular with the girls that kodaks were in much demand after breakfast and kodak pictures of this member of the Board now adorn many "dressers" at Huntleigh.

After the talks by the Board, Mr. Lee Satterwhite, "our representative in the Legislature, in the real sense of the word", was introduced by Mr. Hill. Mr. Satterwhite spoke briefly, picturing the great and growing institution which the West Texas State Normal College is destined to be.

Mr. Hill spoke of the splendid record made by the Girls' Council of Huntleigh and read to the Regents the names of the girls, with their home addresses, who had made possible Student Government at Huntleigh. He then intimated that the Board came also for business; therefore the breakfast had to be adjourned.

After the guests had gone, and while the girls were doing volunteer dishwashing, the consensus of opinion was that it was the most special day the girls at Huntleigh had ever had. It was not like Sunday, or a holiday, or any other day we had ever had. It had a flavor all its own. —From The Prairie.

John W. Leonard Died Monday.

John W. Leonard died Monday evening about six o'clock at the home of his youngest daughter, Mrs. T. C. Thompson.

Mr. Leonard was eighty eight years of age. He had been ill for a week but Monday seemed much better than for several days. He had eaten heartily and rested well during the day. He went into the bath room after standing around the stove to warm himself for some little while.

Little Lillian Thompson noted her grandfather had been usually long in the room and stepped to the door finding him laying on the floor. He had made no noise, and evidently had sank down upon the floor as his heart stopped beating. Mrs. Thompson summoned Mr. Thompson from the store, but it was found that life had passed away before any of the family had discovered Mr. Leonard.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home conducted by Revs. A. B. Haynes and Ted P. Hollifield of the Presbyterian church, of which organization Mr. Leonard was a member. The body was laid to rest in Dreamland cemetery beside that of his wife who died twelve years ago.

The deceased leaves four children, R. M. Leonard of Florida, Miss Lillie Leonard who is teaching at Ochiltree, Will Leonard and Mrs. T. C. Thompson both of this city. He was born in Alabama on November 21, 1831 and was one of the oldest citizens in the county.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the people of Canyon for their many kindnesses during the death of Grandpa Leonard, and for the beautiful floral offerings from our friends.

MR. AND MRS. T. C. THOMPSON AND FAMILY.

There will be no night service as the congregation will attend the revival at the Methodist church.

Come to Canyon to live.

Miss Fronabarger to New Position

Miss Elva Fronabarger, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Fronabarger, has been selected by the Baptist Church to look after the interests of the students of the Baptist church attending the Normal.

Secretaries are being placed in all of the states schools by the Baptist church and the young women will do work similar to that of the Y. W. student secretaries.

While Miss Fronabarger's work is commencing at once, she will not resign her position in the public schools but will continue until the end of the year. She is in touch with the duties of the new position, and will make a most admirable secretary for this position.

Some Wind Saturday.

Saturday was about the worst day the Panhandle has witnessed for a long while. The wind blew at a gale of from 50 to 60 miles per hour.

Fences, telephone, electric light and telegraph poles were blown down in many places over the country.

A few farmers report their wheat was pretty badly blown in places, but this complaint has come from but few. All agree that if a good rain comes within a reasonable length of time there will be an abundant wheat crop this year with favorable May weather.

Paving Completed at Dalhart

The Dalhart Texan reported last week that the paving contractor had completed his contract at Dalhart and had moved to Canadian where he has a big paving job. The people of Dalhart are agitating more paving when the Canadian job is finished.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Toles of Happy visited in Canyon Sunday.

Recital This Afternoon.

This afternoon at the Normal Auditorium the Music Department of the Normal will present Miss Hazel Allen, pianist, assisted by Miss Annie Beene, soprano.

A delightful program will be given by the two talented young ladies.

Miss Viola Vetesk was hostess to the English Class 22 at her home four miles south of town on last Saturday afternoon and evening, despite the high wind and terrific dust several car loads left the Normal in the late afternoon chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mahan. Arriving at the Vetesk home the party was first relieved of its burden of dust accumulated on the ride out then were seated at a large table where a sumptuous feast was spread and much merrymaking was had, lest tomorrow they be blown away. The evening was spent in playing dominoes, forty-two and other games, the guest regretfully bidding their hostess goodbye at a late hour. Those invited not members of the class were Misses Rose and Ruth Stewart, Ruth Knight, and Elbert Roffey.
