

THOMASON SPEAKS TO LARGE NUMBER

Candidate for Governor Outlines His Ideas Regarding Business Administration of State Affairs.

Hon. Robert E. Thomason, of El Paso, and speaker of the house of the Texas Legislature, spoke at the Normal Auditorium Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the interest of his candidacy for Governor of Texas. A large audience nearly filled the auditorium and throughout the discussion of the issues of the day gave Mr. Thomason the very closest hearing.

Mr. Thomason is not an orator. He has the appearance of a successful business man who has the intelligence to put into practice the splendid doctrines that he set forth in the discourse of the needs of the state, that he was elected speaker of the house without opposition, and has the support of a large percent of his fellow workers on account of the splendid manner in which he presided over that body in good evidence as to his standing in political circles.

President J. A. Hill in introducing Representative Lee Satterwhite, stated that he had invited all of the candidates for Governor to speak in the Normal Auditorium. These gentlemen were able to present to the people in unusual intelligent manner the question of the day.

Representative Lee Satterwhite of Panhandle introduced the speaker. Mr. Satterwhite stated it was his ambition to make the Normal the greatest educational plant in the southwest. This section needed it. This was the only opportunity to get an educational institution to make practical men and women. He pleaded that the people of the Panhandle-Plains section get together in the effort to expand the school. He knew of the work of Mr. Thomason in the legislature. There was not a cleaner man in the state. He was honest and sincere. He was successful in his own affairs and would make a success of the business of the state.

Before launching into his address upon state issues Mr. Thomason made a few remarks about opening his campaign at Gainesville, March 2, and of how he offered his services a short time later to the state executive committee to go out over the state and speak in behalf of the national administration until the precinct elections, May 1.

Mr. Thomason declared that he did not expect to become a candidate of any section or class of Texas. He invited his audience to pay particular attention to his qualifications and frankly asked his hearers not to vote for him unless they believed his ability, capacity and courage excelled those of any in the race. He stated he did not know what course the campaign would take in the future—that is, whether there would be "throwing of brick bats" at each other by candidates. He declared that he was proud to be called a "progressive" for "we are living in a new era." But he continued by saying that he was "neither a reactionary nor a radical."

Because of the great discussion of prohibition and woman suffrage in Texas, Mr. Thomason felt that it was his duty to make himself clear upon these subjects. He gave as his belief that prohibition had come to stay and that he was for it, also telling of his part in passing the "zone" bill during the war, which put Texas cities "dry," or those that are near military camps. He said that he always had been an advocate of woman suffrage.

"The public is demanding more business and less politics in the running of state affairs," asserted Mr. Thomason. "We want useless offices abolished. It is a time for action along this line and we don't want to deal in general terms."

He would consolidate the agricultural department and marketing and warehouse commission, public health and pure food departments, board of water engineers and reclamation department. He advocated the placing of direct responsibility for efficiency of departments by appointing and electing business men to office.

Adoption of a budget system was urged by Mr. Thomason. He said that the waste and extravagance shown in public affairs if practiced on the same scale would break any private business. He told of how in the state legislature men of little knowledge of the needs of institutions are placed on the appropriation committee, which is What Thomason Stands For: Prohibition and woman suffrage. Budget system. Consolidation of conflicting state departments. Financial support for schools, especially rural. Uniform auditing system. Equitable taxation and opposition to graduated tax. Public utilities commission. Good roads expansion. Fair deal to capital and labor. Conservation and irrigation of lands. State prison reforms. Citizenship as qualification for voting, not intention thereof.

compelled to make recommendations within a period of 30 to 60 days. A uniform auditing system is deemed a necessity by Mr. Thomason. He believes that the four-year term of office should prevail as much as possible. Limitations upon fee systems were advocated.

"Taxation always has been and always will be a problem," said Mr. Thomason. "We want economic administration with efficiency. Our present tax laws are all right if we will enforce them. Some counties say they pay too much, while charges are made that others pay too little."

"Possibly this could be remedied by a division of county and state taxes. For instance railroads and other business firms doing inter-county business could pay taxes to the state, while other private property could pay county taxes. It would simplify matters and prove more satisfactory."

"The graduated land tax is not the solution of our tax problems. I don't want a penalty placed upon enterprises, ability, brains and thrift. Under such a system the home owner and man of thrift is penalized. Land pays 61 per cent of our taxes today."

Mr. Thomason said that he wanted a marketing system similar to that of California whereby the farmer could sell to the consumer and save the middleman's profits. He believed that this could be assisted greatly by the extension of the parcels post system.

The educational system of Texas came in for a thorough discussion. Mr. Thomason declared that the school situation had become "pitiiful and distressing." He told of the hundreds of schools that had been closed, teachers resigning to enter more lucrative employment.

"Rural schools are having their problems," he declared. "I favor the consolidation of rural schools, and furnishing transportation wherever necessary. Texas appropriated about four million dollars for schools last year. I believe in economy but I don't believe in reducing this sum at all. We must do something to stop this onward march of country people to the city. The country school house should be the capital of the neighborhood."

"In addition to this, I believe in the coordination of the system of schools. I think that Texas children should be able to complete their education in the state. It is pitiful to see the way in which dignified heads of collegiate institutions go to the state legislature and beg for funds. I believe a mill tax appropriation for these higher institutions would be a solution of the problems, for I don't want them to be the football of politicians."

Mr. Thomason touched upon good roads, especially the importance of building permanent highways in Texas. Endorsement of the Shepard bill whereby the state would get more federal aid given. He added that he did not believe this would be "encroachment upon states rights."

Friendliness both to capital and labor was expressed. Mr. Thomason said that he believed in labor unions because of their accomplishments and at the same time favored the protection of capital. He promised a "square deal" in his dealings with capital and labor, declaring that "nothing more nor nothing less should be given."

"A radical revision of the state prison is needed," asserted the speaker. "The prison owns 75,000 acres of land and still the prison is showing a deficit. I oppose a prison board and want a peison in charge who is directly responsible."

"I condemn wholesale pardons, for I believe in the integrity of the courts, I do not think much of the suspended sentence law and favor either revising or repealing it."

"I want Texas run by native citizens or naturalized Americans," continued Mr. Thomason. "I have no prejudice against foreigners, but I have seen too much stuffing of the ballot box of voting by herds in Texas. I want more than a declaration of an intention of becoming a citizen as a qualification of citizenship."

TO THE VOTERS OF RANDALL COUNTY

Randall County has gone to a heavy expense in building the state highway from Amarillo to the Swisher County line and is planning to build State Highway No. 33 from Canyon to the Deaf Smith county line. These roads must be maintained or the money that we have spent on same will be wasted. The lateral roads leading into these highways must be put in condition and maintained in keeping with the highways.

On account of the increased cost of living we are forced to pay double the amount we paid for help three years ago to maintain these roads. Therefore, we must have more money for road purposes, and there is but two ways in which we can get this additional money: More money can be secured by raising the assessed valuation. If the valuation is raised every time we put one dollar in the road fund of Randall county we send five dollars to the state. This the Commissioners Court seeks to avoid.

If we raise the rate of taxation for road purposes the amount of money sent to the state will not be increased. We cannot raise the present tax rate for road purposes unless the people say we can. Therefore, the Commissioners Court of Randall county did on the 11th day of April, A. D. 1920, order an election to be held on the 22nd day of May, 1920, to determine whether or not the voters of Randall county desires the Commissioners Court to increase the rate of taxation for road purposes or whether we will be forced to raise the assessed valuation.

We want to urge every tax payer to go to the polls on May 22nd, and support the proposition to raise the rate of taxes for road purposes. By this method every dollar paid in under this proposition will go into the road funds of Randall county, and each Commissioner will spend the money raised in his own Commissioners Precinct, and no extra money will be sent to Austin to be spent by the state officials. If we are forced to raise the assessed valuation for every additional dollar we raise for road purposes in Randall county we will pay five dollars to the State of Texas and will be spent by the state officials.

C. R. FLESHER,
County Judge, Randall County, Texas.

MORE PIGS FOR BOYS OF CLUB JUNE 10th

C. F. Walker Will Distribute More Pigs in Canyon Next Trades Day, Monday, June 14.

C. F. Walker will have a number of pigs to put out to the boys of the Randall County Pig Club, and will make the distribution of these pigs on the coming Trades Day, Monday, June 14.

There are a large number of boys now in the club, and many more have made application when pigs were available.

Every boy interested in getting a pig for pig club work should be in Canyon next Trades day and get one of these pigs.

COLLEGES ASK FOR AID FROM THE LEGISLATURE

An emergency appropriation of more than a million and a half dollars will be asked of the legislature when it meets today in Austin to meet the increased expenses of the colleges of the state. The following sums are asked by the various schools:

University of Texas $550,000, College of Industrial Arts $334,894, A. & M. College $180,500, John Tarlton Agricultural College $46,250, Grubbs Vocational College $26,200, Prairie View Normal $49,695, experiment stations $30,530, Sam Houston Normal $49,530, North Texas Normal, Benton, $48,510, Southwest Texas Normal San Marcos, $47,680, West Texas Normal, Canyon, $65,100; East Texas Normal, Commerce, $56,100; Sul Ross Normal, Alpine, $34,180.

President J. A. Hill stated to the News Tuesday that there were reasons why the West Texas State Normal College must have a larger appropriation than other normals of the state. First, this school showed an increase in attendance this year of about fifteen percent, while all of the other normals showed about the same percent of decrease in attendance. Second, the faculty of the West Texas State Normal was the smallest in numbers of any normal in the state and more teachers must be had to care for the increased attendance.

Theft Attempted at Elevator

Saturday night an attempt was made to rob the safe at the Hicks elevator. It was evidently the job of mere boys who had no conceptions of the workings of the safe, as they attempted to break off the hinges. The combination and knob on the door was also broken. The way the safe was mutilated will make it necessary to buy a new door for the safe. There was only a few dollars in money and a number of checks in the safe at the time. So far there is no clue as to the names of the parties guilty.

BAPTIST ENCAMPMENT THIS YEAR AT CANYON CITY CLUB

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Canyon City Club Saturday afternoon it was voted to give the free use of the club to the members of the Baptist church for Encampment purposes at the date they may decide upon.

The further proposition was before the club of giving to the Baptist Encampment the west half of the club grounds for a permanent home of the Encampment. This proposition has been discussed very much since it was found impossible to sell the whole grounds to the church at a recent meeting of the stockholders of the club. It is believed that a very large percent of the club members will favor giving to the Baptists the west half, and the committee will make a canvass of the membership to ascertain their feelings in the matter.

The committee recently appointed at the meeting of the Randall County Commercial League to make inspection of other locations met Saturday afternoon at the News office and made a survey of the situation. Every one of the committee realizes the very great importance of speedy action and presenting to the executive committee of the Baptist Encampment the very best propositions that Canyon can furnish to land the Encampment for Canyon.

SCHOOL FUND WILL NEED GREAT INCREASE VALUATIONS

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Canyon City Independent School District Saturday evening C. W. Warwick was elected to the board as secretary, taking the place of C. R. Burrow, who recently resigned.

The Tax Assessor, J. B. Hensley, started his work this week. It was pointed out at the meeting of the trustees Saturday that an increase of at least fifty percent in the valuations of the property of the county would be necessary in order that the schools might prosper as the citizens of the district demand. A board of equalization will go over all valuations and if a proper valuation has not been placed on the property in order to insure enough revenue to support the schools, the increases will be made.

During the past four years only $4.00 has been spent on the school grounds.

During the past four years the board has not been able to spend one cent on the school library.

No improvements have been made in the rooms, most of which need paint.

In order to hold the teachers who have proven so faithful in their work a considerable increase in salaries was necessary, but many towns are paying more than Canyon.

The tax payers expect a good school. The children are entitled to a good school. It is up to the tax payer to increase his taxes that the schools shall not suffer.

DALLAS BOOSTERS COMING TO CANYON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Trade Excursion of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce will come to Canyon Friday afternoon at 2:45 and the boosters will remain in town for thirty minutes.

It is planned to have enough cars at the station to take them to the Normal where they will make a hurried trip through the building, return in time to visit for a few minutes in the business section of the city.

It is urged that all car owners be at the station a few minutes before the arrival of the excursion at 2:45 Friday so that arrangements may be made to carry all the excursionists to the Normal and then return to the business section.

TRACTOR SCHOOL A GREAT SUCCESS

Six Hundred Attend Three Days School Held at the Normal Monday to Wednesday This Week.

The three days Tractor Engineers' School which closed yesterday at the West Texas State Normal College pronounced, by the tractor men and farmers in attendance to be a success. This is the first co-operative effort in this line of work that has been made in this territory. The heavy rains of the past two weeks kept away some exhibition tractors and a great many farmers who intended to drive from a distance. In spite of this condition, the total attendance for the seven meetings held was six hundred and seventy, a good percentage of whom were farmers. Some farmers came from a distance of twenty-five miles. A few brought their wives with them and faithfully attended every meeting.

The chief speakers of the school were:

E. W. Mentor, Dallas, Avery company.

Mark Havphill, Oklahoma City, Cleveland.

J. A. Rawlings, Amarillo, J. I. Case.

J. E. Bergfeld, Amarillo, Allis-Chalmers.

J. A. Fox Amarillo, Emerson-Brantingham.

C. E. Pruitt, Amarillo, International.

Theo. Peck, St. Louis, Pierce-Fordyce Oil.

Hugh Samples, Dallas, Gulf Oil.

These men are employed by their respective companies for just this kind of work. They have held tractor schools all over this country, from the big wheat belt of the northwest to the rice fields of the Gulf coast. Some of them have held seventy different schools during the past two years. They find in keeping close records that these schools save them a great deal of money in making service calls and keep their tractor owners out of a great deal of trouble. Magneto trouble is generally very common. One speaker stated that he had never known a man who had attended a service school to send in a magneto for repair.

The lecturers were well equipped with parts, charts and lantern slides. By use of these and blackboard drawings they made in each point concerning construction, operation and repair clear to the audience. Those farmers who left their work to come to the school found their time very profitably spent. Some of them will be saved a great deal of time and money by the lessons they learned.

The night meetings in the College Auditorium were well attended. Music was provided by the College Orchestra, and by Miss Ruth Knight of Canyon. Films showing the manufacture and field use of Avery, International and Emerson tractors were put on the screen.

The following tractors were here on exhibition during the school:

J. I. Case 10-18.

J. I. Case 15-27.

Emerson-Brantingham 12-20.

Cleveland 10-20.

Avery Motor Cultivator.

A number of these machines will be left at the College for a few days to show to prospective buyers.

It has been decided that next year, about May 1st, we shall have a Tractor Plowing Demonstration here for one day, followed by a three days Tractor Engineers' School, thus attracting a much larger crowd and making this a regular annual event.

FRED H. IVES.

FORDSON FINISHED FIRST

FORDSON PLOWED 2 1-2 ACRES IN 1 HOUR 40 MINUTES. FORDSON USED ONLY 5 GALLONS OF KEROSENE.

On Feb. 19, at 9 a. m. Fordson tractor No. 100,000 left the assembly line in the Fordson plant at Dearborn, Mich., slightly less than two and a half years after No. 1 was completed. And here again has Henry Ford set a new high record in the manufacture of farm tractors via the quality production route.

Some fifteen years ago Ford began work on what has come to be the Fordson. This tractor was really a Ford car equipped with special wheels and included of course some mechanical changes.

By 1908 he had a workable tractor; it plowed, harrowed and did much other work on the farm. Then ensued nine more years of experimental work before the first tractor was put on the market.

Fordson tractors are now being assembled at a rate of 350 daily at Dearborn, 100 at the St. Louis assembling plant, and it is estimated that within a short time the Des Moines branch will be in operation. There is also an assembling plant in Cork, Ireland.

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR.

That was a big program that the Randall County Commercial League proposed for Canyon last week. But it is an altogether possible program. All it takes is a little push to put over all of the items of the program, and add many other things that will be of great benefit to the city and to Randall county. The committee on the $300 for the trip of the boy from Randall County, on the bill board advertising, on the camping ground, on the good roads, on the county fair, have all reported taking action, while the committee on the Baptist Encampment hopes to have two propositions ready to submit to the executive committee within this week. The committees are taking hold of their work with a vim that shows determination to put over the various projects. Randall county has a live bunch of boosters. Every fellow who cannot be a booster of the county ought to get out and make room for the fellows who are trying to do things. There is certain to be great things happen in Randall county this year.

Saturday of this week is a very important day so far as Randall county roads are concerned. It is the day when the voters will decide whether or not the tax limit of 15 cents will be raised to 30 cents. The county has spent many thousands of dollars on the highways during the past year and they are now in good condition. Other roads are needed. It would be folly to build a good road and then let it go to pieces for want of a little money to keep it up. Of course the commissioners-court can get the money. Their hands are not tied by any means. They still have the authority to raise the county property valuations. If they are driven to this, the tax payer will send five dollars of every six dollars collected for road funds to Austin. This would cost the tax payer a lot of money for the little the county would get for road purposes. The safe and sane thing to do is vote for the tax in the election on Saturday.

A new citizen of Canyon was bewildered at the sea of mud around the public square this week after the rain. The country roads were soon in a passable condition—not so with the public square. Only one way to get around this mud—pave. The city lacks considerable having large enough taxable valuations to issue bonds for paving. The board of equalization will look after this increase, so don't holler when you get notice of a big increase in your city valuations. Canyon must pave. An increased valuation is the only thing between the mud hole we now have around the square and good solid paving. Let the mud hole be bridged over.

The cry of the political spell binder has always been for lower taxes. He is crying for an impossibility and he knows it as well as does every one of his hearers. The day of low taxes has passed and will never return. The politician may find it a convenient vote getter, but that is all there is to it. It takes money to run this government, whether national, state, county, city, school, or what not. It is taking more and money each year as the demands of civilization increases. The political spell binder will soon find himself on a cold trail when he hits this subject.

Vice President Marshall is looming up big as a presidential possibility. He is not in the running so far as the public is aware. He is one of the few vice presidents who have ever been heard of during their terms of office. Roosevelt was thought to be buried when he was nominated for the office of vice president. It is possible that Marshall will come out of this place of confinement with the same vigour as did the noted strenuous one.

Publishers of newspapers who are employing boys under 14 years of age are laying themselves liable to a heavy fine and a tax of 10 per cent of their earnings. Some newspapers in eastern New Mexico were stuck on this law this week and $500 penalty attached. A newspaper is a manufacturing plant in the eyes of the law. Children under 14 years of age cannot be employed in a manufacturing plant at any time throughout the year, even with the consent of the parent or guardian.

More rain this week is indeed gratifying. All of the late grain crops are going to make good yields, and while the early crops are going to be cut somewhat, the yield no doubt will be beyond present expectations. Come to Randall county this year.

Admiral Sims' effort to sink the American navy in a sea of shame was as successful as the German submarine warfare.

Pampa Tractor Plowing Demonstration
Prof. Fred H. Ives, Director Department of Agriculture, W. T. S. N. C. attended the Tractor Plowing Demonstration at Pampa last Thursday. The total attendance at this meeting was over one thousand.

This year's demonstration was much bigger than last year. Thirty one tractors of different makes and size entered the contest. The following companies were represented: Avery—three tractors. Emerson-Brantingham, two. J. I. Case, two. Cleveland, one; Yuba, two; Illinois, two; Wallis, two; Minneapolis, two; Twin City, two; Fordson, two; Hart-Parr, one; Allis-Chalmers, three; International, two; Aultman-Taylor, two; Rumley, two; La Crosse, one; Huber, one; Russel, one.

The Avery and To-Ro motor cultivators, Avery and Twin City threshers and a number of motor trucks were also on exhibition.

Each tractor was given full fuel tanks and a measured area of land—one fourth acre for each rated horsepower—marked with plowed furrows. At the drop of the flag, with a terrific chugging, coughing and raising of dust, they started. The crowd scattered all over the big field to watch the different outfits. An observer with a score card was placed with each outfit to see that they plowed the proper depth at all times, six inches or better in old land, that they did not exceed the rated speed, so many minutes for each round, and to check the plowing time with reasons for stops, and the amount of fuel and oil consumed. The complete scores of the contest will be published later.
The Pampa demonstration was managed by the Pampa Commercial Club. This live organization of business men and farmers are doing a great deal of advertising for their town. The published results of the demonstration last year were requested and sent to many points, even to Japan. In the management of this demonstration they simply invited different tractor companies to take part and then advertised the meeting. Large posters, demonstration rules and score cards were printed. These posters were distributed largely by the tractor men. Each merchant in the town used a rubber stamp advertising the meeting on all of his correspondence for a month preceding the date. The land was secured free of charge for the benefit of the plowing. This land will be summer fallowed and drilled to wheat this fall, a good method for wheat production. The observers for each plowing outfit were local business men who volunteered for the work. A woman's organization offered eats and drinks for sale at the demonstration field. In the evening the business men of the town and the tractor men had a "smoker." Everybody helped, make the demonstration a success.

The total expense to the Pampa Commercial Club was not more than $15.00 for this meeting, and the same methods of work will give good results in Canyon next year.

TOWN PEOPLE SHOULD NOT SHOP ON SATURDAY

Floydada Hesperian:
Stop, look, listen! To every citizen of Floydada:

Let us have your attention one minute. We are doing something we should not do, but it is because we have not thought of it. I am sure we who live in the city limits of our little town have formed the habit of ordering our groceries Saturday's. If we thought and planned ahead it would not be necessary for us to order on Saturday.

Why not order on Saturday? First, our business men have to put on more clerks. It makes the clerks so worn and tired they are up so late Saturday night that some of them can't attend Sunday School and church on Sunday. I know it will take a little forethought on the part of all, but let's try it for one month anyway. Then, after that it will be easy.

Saturday is the most convenient day the country people have to come and trade. They usually bring their families and they have to wait and rush with their trade. Just before Easter a country woman was waiting for her hat to be trimmed. It was getting late and she had 15 miles to go in a wagon. The store was jammed with Floydada people. She asked "Why don't you town folks do your trading before and let us country people have Saturday as that is our best and most convenient day." I thought it was a fine suggestion.
So let's order our coal, feed and oil on any day except Saturday and see if the clerks, business men and country people will not thank us heartily.

THAT BAD BACK

Do you have a dull, steady ache in the small of the back—sharp, stabbing twinges when stooping or lifting—distressing urinary disorders? For bad back and weakened kidneys Canyon residents recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Canyon man's statement.

T. T. Bennett, carpenter, says: "Not long ago I had occasion to use a remedy for weak and disordered kidneys and lameness in my back. My back was sore and ached a good bit of the time and I felt dizzy and was troubled with headaches. My kidneys were weak and irregular in action, troubling me at night. I used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at the Holland Drug Co. and they cured me."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Bennett had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

CREDIT

Nine-tenths of the business of the United States is done on a credit basis. This means that a very large proportion of the business of the country depends on the credit given by banks in the form of loans and exchange.

If you will consider the matter you will realize that a large portion of the business of this community depends upon the credit of the local banks. If you are not already a customer of this bank, we want you to make a start with us and we will then be better able to pass on your request for an accommodation, if you should find yourself in need of it.

More Favorable Comments on the Expansion of Normal Departments

Clarendon News:

Cities and towns in West Texas are beginning to mobilize their forces and deploy their skirmishers in their demands for the West Texas A. & M. College. Some believe that it would be better to simply ask the legislature for additional funds to add the A. & M. courses to the State Normal school at Canyon. It appears to The News that it would be much better for the A. & M. college to be a separate unit, unless the chances are so slim for getting the "separate school" that it is thought expedient to ask for the addition at Canyon. We believe the legislature will recognize the justice of the claims of this section for a strong A. & M. school. We believe it can do its best work as a separate institution.

Vernon Record:

The position of the Clarendon News is entirely defensible on the grounds of town and sectional patriotism, and reveals a creditable realization of the value of technical education in practical agriculture. The News evidently wants progress on the farm, and is specially anxious that progress begin at home, reckoning, Clarendon, no doubt as "home." In all of this the Clarendon journal should escape criticism. But, unfortunately, there is another side to the problem of expert education for the agriculturist. Take for example: Item: The present A. & M. College at Bryan is crippled for lack of appropriations because the legislature was unable to set aside more out of the funds available. Item: Experts at A. & M. College at Bryan are being lost to the college every few weeks through resignation to take more lucrative positions at lines of work where their knowledge can be put to commercial use. Item: The salaries of the colleges can now offer are not such as to attract able men to fill vacancies thus called. Item: There is a strong popular feeling against increasing taxation at this time. Item: The creation of a new public institution at this time means another institution to feed without any new sources of supplies to draw upon. A survey of these items indicate that a new A. & M. would serve chiefly to dwarf the present A. & M. without making secure the establishment of a new college that would be worthy in the character of instruction provided. It will sap the present institution to bring into being a necessarily puny offspring. It would starve Peter to half feed Paul.

Clarendon News:

We think we recognize this very lucid exposition of the financial conditions that best the Texas A. & M. College, as emanating from the facile pen of Mr. Lynn Landrum of the Record staff—a man who has been in close touch with the great schools of Texas and more especially the A. & M. He is pre-eminently correct as to the status of the educational system of Texas and we, too fear that the lack of sufficient funds will keep us from getting what we need in the west, but the article written by The News was written in the hope that all the agitation we are having about more tax money for school extension in Texas will bear fruit by the time the question comes to grips before the legislature. Along with others who have at heart the best interests of our educational system, The News is not willing that Peter shall even be seated at the table while Paul is underfed.

Lockney Beacon:

There is a line-up in this A. & M. fight which indicate that towns are being governed in this discussion according to their location and their advantages. All the towns under the cap-rock are alining themselves up with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for a separate A. & M. college for West Texas. Towns above the cap-rock look with favor on the position as suggested in the Beacon a few weeks ago that we make a junior A. & M. College out of the Canyon Normal College. Since we made the initial suggestion in reference to this matter sentiment has crystallized until the line-up is becoming most distinct. At the Panhandle Press meeting last Saturday, when the writer and Representative Satterwhite introduced a resolution, endorsing the plan for the Canyon Normal, every editor under the cap-rock voted against it. Editors above the cap, with three exceptions, voted for the resolution. This line-up signifies the sentiment as it is crystallizing. As far as the Clarendon News, we would suggest that while Clarendon is located under the cap, yet its close proximity to the Plains should cause those people to stand with us in the fight for Canyon. We do not believe that there is a remotest chance for West Texas to receive an appropriation at this time for a West Texas A. & M. College. The school system generally over the state is requiring a more liberal endowment at the hands of the legislature. The matter of salaries for both the common schools and the State schools must be looked after, and more money must be forth coming for another school term. The State's apportionment has been increased for our free schools. State schools need more salaries for teachers in proportion to the needs of the common schools. State schools need more buildings and equipment to take care of the increase demand for room. In view of these facts it does not appear to the Beacon that this is an opportune time to spring a West Texas A. & M. College as a separate unit. As to our suggestion of sufficient appropriations to enable the Canyon Normal to teach these branches the plan is not only practical but economical. While the resources of Central West Texas differ with that of the Panhandle-Plains country, yet there is more in common in these matters between the Panhandle-Plains and West Texas than there is between West Texas and the A. & M. section. Let the Canyon Normal take care of the present demand of all the territory west of Fort Worth, and in a few years we of the Panhandle-Plains country will look with favor on a proposition to endow a separate institution to teach farming and stock raising for Central West Texas. It is far better to take a half loaf in these matters than to take no loaf at all. If we ask the Legislature for a million dollars to build and equip a West Texas A. & M. as a separate unit the question of the State's ability to pay this sum will be the rock on which this proposition will go to pieces. As to the Peter and Paul argument of the Vernon Record we think the proposition of the Record is well taken in the suggestion of a separate A. & M. unit, but not applicable in our claims for Canyon Normal. The $100,000 needed to equip the Canyon Normal to teach agriculture would doubtless cause some reduction in the demands on the College Station plant, and the students we would take care of in this and other sections of the West would relieve our present A. & M. College whereby it could take care of the situation with its present equipment.—Lockney Beacon.

Interesting Facts About Operators

The Telephone Operator is selected from among many applicants, because every one who applies is not fitted for this work.

She is chosen because she has a good speaking voice, is free from nervousness, is quick-witted and blessed with poise. These attributes are necessary in order insure service to the Telephone User.

After a young lady is accepted by the employment department she is given instruction and is taught the art of handling the switchboard.

Her health and general comfort are in the hands of competent and careful experts. She has good accommodations, a well ventilated, well lighted place to work and conditions surrounding her equal to many of the better class homes.

Our operators are faithful and industrious. Noted men and women have visited our exchanges and have departed impressed with the remarkably bright, loyal and industrious personalities they have found at the switchboards and in our executive departments.

The BEST EFFORTS OF THESE YOUNG LADIES are offered you in the telephone service; a kind word to them over the wires when you are calling will always bring a gentle "Thank You" as she instantly does her best to connect you with the number you are calling.

These are times of unrest and apprehension. The turmoil following the close of the war has found its reflection in unrest on the part of the people and an unusual irritability. Telephone patrons can assist us in swinging the telephone service back to normal by making it a point to encourage our young women with kind words.

A PROSE POEM
BY L. P. LOOMIS

Delivered Before the 1920 Session of the Panhandle Press Association

Far from the surging, restless tides of the East, beyond the touch of selfish men in the marts of greed and high finance;

Out on the rim of the world—placed high on a plateau of tableland whose magnitude of length and breath is that of a matchless empire;

Out in the full light and vision of heaven's sunshine, lies a landscape fashioned after nature's purest ideals in the beginning of time;

Lies a landscape moulded from the rich lava loams escaping from the Rocky Mountains, and we revere this landscape in song and in story, in sign and symbol, in lore and in history, in heart and in firesides as The Panhandle—of Texas.

As a beautiful band or token of its parentage, as a seal and seam of proprietorship, the Rocky Mountains have cast across this plateau a mighty river, the Canadian, traversing whose bed and creeping ever towards the rising sun the waters travel as a messenger of the fatherland;

And along the course of the Canadian River and about its picturesque terrain for distances are piled in wild and rugged formations, and placed in ponderous and marvelous profusion, cliff sides and rocks and crags and mesas to proclaim the triumph of nature.

As lesser heralds of a mighty king there feed into the Canadian laughing, playing, prancing brooklets, by whose springs the dust stained pilgrim rests and has sweet thoughts of friends and homes afar; and these brooklets are interspersed ever and anon by inlets of dry arroyos pouring in their lesser currents of nothing.

Here in the Panhandle is a rich empire, storm-freed, sun-kissed, wind swept, health laden, hope-impregnated, wealth-giving.

Truly, "This is the land of the turquoise sky,

Where sun and stars eternal shine, Where youth and vigor ne'er decline."

—a Land of history, romance endeavor. A Land that stands at the portals of opportunity like Janus, the two-face of mythology.

One face, old wrinkled, seamed, storm swept, looks back on the fading glory of the West, for it is to that land that the pioneer characters have taken the long trail and ridden out of our generation.

The other face of Janus—Opportunity of the Panhandle—is turned to the East with an eagerness to be meeting the problems of a new-born day, with a desire to arise to a place in a new world of advancement, and carve a new name, for—

"They do me wrong who say I come no more

When once I knock and I fail to find you in;

For every day I stand outside your door

And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.

"Wail not for precious chances passed away,

Weep not for golden ages on the wane;

Each night I burn the records of the day,

At sunrise every soul is born again."

Turn to the right, turn to the left. Look north, look south! The prairies expand before the eye in endless profusion, bounded alone by the horizon, and as limitless in their abundance as an ocean swell.

Here the beautiful white face cattle adorn a thousand empires for the lords of creation, the Panhandle cattle kings; there the fields resplendent with bounteous crops of grain and cotton; iron rails carrying meat and bread and raiment to all the world; monuments to King Oil rearing their derricks to the skies on every hand; screeching, screaming gas wells adding glad acclaim to every other jazz chord of resources, gazing from a tarpaulin bed at the friendly stars as his only neighbor and confidant, he goes to sleep and dreams of further prowess on the morrow with the rope and spur. But he awakes at dawn to find himself in the midst of a hustling, bustling commonwealth of farms, little cities and petroleum fields.

'Tis to the Panhandle that scientists come to uncover the history of ages and eons before the time of men. The Panhandle is both the oldest and newest country in America.

The Panhandle is the sunshine land, the paradise of the health-seeker, the final challenge and opportunity of the home-seeker. For years range and realm of the cattle king, it is now the last and greatest undisputed field of capitalistic investment.

"It lies not East nor West, but like a scroll unfurled

Where the hand of God hath hung it, down the middle of the world.

"It lies where God hath spread it in the gladness of his eyes,

Like a flame of jeweled tapestry beneath the shining skies."

The Panhandle is the home of heroic home-building pure Anglo-Saxon citizenship. The Panhandle is a vast storehouse of nature's gifts to maintain and build up real manhood, to develop 100 per cent efficiency in character and clean citizenship. Field and ranch and forum contribute to the world physically, socially, mentally.

The Panhandle is a great university of nature equipt with a comprehensive laboratory of geology, anthropology, ethnology and archaeology.

"Go, then, ye Sir Launfals, in search of the Holy Grail; Go publish glad tidings, for your quest is o'er."

Go, herald abroad the spot where the chalice of God's love has overflowed and mingled with nature. Go, but come back soon, for we wish you to share with us the joys of heaven in the Panhandle of Texas.

The Panhandle is nature's playground, nature's vacation campus adorned with such handiwork as the Palo Duro, in whose recesses of impenetrable fastnesses life giving streams leap and plunge in the joy and freedom of an untrammelled spirit, and flower and fish and foliage abound in beauty and grace, and the water sprite revels in the delight of all things attuned to nature. Mentions the beautiful Japanese gardens were really drafted after miniature patterns of these Panhandle paradise plots.

This wonderful land of the Panhandle is God's temple and the Palo Duro is the chancel, more sacred than the Matterhorn. See the foundation laid of rocks in the Palo Duro, pavements of packs rising like steps to the altar above; altars draped with the trinity colors of green. And overhead the twinkling stars as altar lights softening the choir music of the running streams which chant the sacred anthems of a higher eternal love.

No wonder, "We love these rocks and rills, these woods and templed hills,"

No wonder, "Our hearts with rapture thrills like that above."

Like a dew sparkling on the petals of a rose, like a diamond gleaming within a casket of jewels, like a ruby glowing upon my lady's breast, the Panhandle lays as heaven's sanctuary.

"Sage and sand and craggy land; brazen sun in vault of blue;

Cactus thorns and toads with horns, rattlesnakes and 'trant'las, too.

Gulches deep and streams that seep 'neath the rocks and sand and silt;

Valleys green with peachblow sheen, where the low hogan is built.

High perched halls in canyon walls, where the Canadian river flows,

Bound is all in mystic thrall you feel but cannot penetrate,

Though it fills you, holds you, thrills you!

The Panhandle! Say, ain't she great?"

Will Aid in Getting Grain Cars. With approximately $8,000,000 worth of grain still waiting to be shipped in the Panhandle, the farmers of this section will be glad to know that relief, within the next few weeks, was promised at a hearing held in the city last week.

Just why it should be necessary for an official to make the journey from Washington to Amarillo, to be told in person by representatives from the various counties of the Panhandle, that we need more cars, is past the understanding of us ordinary mortals.

Perhaps, the former deputation discovered that the Plains climate is so salubrious that it is capable of revitalizing those down-easterners into some semblance of western "pep."

Perhaps they have taken a liking to us—and enjoy coming to visit us—especially when they can do so at the expense of the people. At any rate, they come and for this fact the Plains folks have the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce to thank.

After months of effort, they were able to arouse sufficient interest at the national capitol to set those folks to wondering if we really need cars! Of course, Frank Jamison had told them that we did and needed them bad and it was sort of a slam on Jamison that they had to be "showed" but most Plains folks will agree that a majority of those fellows need it, anyway.

Some relief was experienced as a result of the visitation of the former officials and the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, with the assistance of Congressman Marvin Jones, has given the "higher ups" no peace. So another august body has visited us; put all of the Panhandle counties to the further expense of sending second representatives here to tell the same story and we are again assured, or as nearly assured as it is possible for a Government official to assure, that we shall have some more relief.

Too much red tape for us, but if the cars come, we shall all be duly appreciative.

The Pageant
Wednesday evening's feature of Home Coming week will be a pageant now being prepared under the direction of Miss Brown. This pageant is entitled "Alma Mater, the Immortal." It is an allegorical representation of the history of the West Texas State Normal College.

The period prior to the existence of the school and its establishment is shown in a series of scenes in which Quaesitor, the pioneer of the Plains, is seen struggling with the forces of nature and of ignorance. The spirit of Progress comes to his rescue; the result is the release of Alma Mater from a stone, where, before her birth, she has been imprisoned by the forces of evil.

After her release, the sons and daughters of Quaesitor sit at the feet of the Alma Mater and become the Disciples of Learning. They go into the far places, performing miracles; they heal the blind, the lame, and cast out the devils of ignorance.

Other leading events in the history of the institution are featured. Among them are the destruction of the first building by fire; the war activities of the College; the departure of our first president and the instating of his successor; and finally, the Home Coming, at which Alma of her disciples and points to them to the future, "where long centuries of splendid dares and grand fulfillments lie untouched, awaiting the inspired hand of the Disciple of Learning to touch them into eternal activity."

Home Comers' Special Day
Thursday of Home Coming week has been designated as Ex-Students, Alumni and Ex-Faculty Day. Come and help make it a grand success. The following program has been scheduled:

Canyon Defeats Tulla by Score of 11 to 8

In a loosely played game, the W. T. S. N. C. baseball team defeated a mixed team of the Tulla High School and the town team by a score of 11 to 8. The score ran rather evenly until the 8th inning. At this point in the game Tucker of Tulla took the place of Cockran as pitcher and the batters pounded his easy balls all over the diamond. Akers, as usual with him, pitched a safe, consistent and dependable ball. Several star plays were made, and several bad errors were recorded. Canyon registered 14 hits and Tulla 15. Canyon's batters were Akers and Hill; Tulla's, Cockran, Tucker, and Stroup.

Dr. B. G. Lowrey, former head of the Lowrey-Phillips College at Amarillo, is a candidate for Congress from the Second, Mississippi district, according to information received here. The District is now represented by Hubert D. Stephens. Stephens has announced his intention of retiring at the end of his term.—Amarillo Tribune.

If there is any proof needed of the assertion that the tax-free feature of farm loan bonds helps agriculture it is in the frantic effort of the mortgage bankers to have the tax-free feature eliminated. The whole object is to again get control of farm loans; to run the federal banks out of business and go back to the days when usury flourished. Capital has naturally sought the favorable channel of tax-free bonds, hence the farm loan banks have had plenty of money to lend at 5 1-2 per cent. The mortgage bankers are not the men who own the money, they are the fellows who draw the commissions from both borrower and lender; they have flourished on the high interest paid by the farmer.—Western Farm Life.

The Most Beautiful
Car in America

It is today undeniably one of the major pleasures of life to possess a truly fine motor car.

And this, more than anything else, we believe, accounts for the steadily growing demand for the Paige Six-55.

The fineness of the seven-passenger Paige is readily observable. It is apparent not only in the car's outward beauty and interior comfort but also in its outstanding sturdiness and general mechanical excellence. It is a fineness which prevails uniformly in every feature that distinguishes a car as being of the finer type.

And yet, contrary perhaps to the general opinion concerning cars of its size, the Paige Six-55 is entirely free from extravagance. Its upkeep is quite as moderate as its original cost.

If you desire a really fine motor car—a car which gives complete satisfaction in every respect—do not overlook seeing the seven-passenger Paige.

PAIGE-DETROIT MOTOR CAR COMPANY, DETROIT

Manufacturers of Paige Motor Cars and Motor Trucks

With the demand for the Paige Six-55 far exceeding our utmost production efforts, a prompt decision is advisable. Orders placed now mean just so much more of the best touring season assured for your enjoyment

NEW CHURCH HOSTEL FOR COLLEGE GIRLS

The Churchman, New York:

A choice lot 200 by 140 feet has been bought for $1,000 for the erection of the Church Hostel for young women students of the West Texas State Normal College. With the approval of the faculty and the hearty endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce, Archdeacon Garner canvassed the town and obtained the funds for the lot. Plans have been drawn for an attractive composite brick and timber building, and construction will begin as soon as the money appropriated last October by the Board of Missions is in hand.

A brick chapel was erected two years ago. The building now to be started will be the second unit in the Church's plant there, and will be added to as rapidly as possible by two more such units until a $40,000 plant shall have been provided.

At present there is no such institutional work for the seven hundred students, although for the past year Archdeacon and Mrs. Garner have been making the chapel and their own home a potent influence for good in the student body.

Bishop Temple's principal requests for money from the Nation-wide Campaign are for this work, the most strategic point in the District of North Texas for developing the Church's intellectual, ethical and devotional deals.

Beat Clarendon; Lost to Amarillo

The Normal baseball team took the Clarendon College team into camp Tuesday by a score of 19 to 2. The fireworks started in the second innings when with two men down the Normal boys turned the diamond into a race track and put seven men safely across the home plate. After that they scored in every inning.

The team came back to Amarillo yesterday and were defeated by a score of 2 to 1, all scoring being made in the first inning.

The Amarillo high school team will come to Canyon tomorrow afternoon to meet the Normal.

A Better Class Tent Show

As a usual thing the tent shows that are traveling around over the country are not much more than a bunch of grafters to get the peoples money, but Brunk's Comedians, who are playing here this week, are an exception to the case. They are giving the people a good show every night and the people who are attending are getting their money's worth. Mr. Sadler, the leading comedian, is of the class that does not have to stoop to vulgarism in order to make the people laugh. Tonight they will play "Thorns and Orange Blossoms" and tomorrow night "The Church and Its People."
