WHEAT HARVEST IN FULL BLAST

Yield is Better Than Anticipated a Few Weeks Ago—Some Wheat Makes 25 Bushels.

The wheat harvest is going strong in Randall county this week. The weather has been hot the past two weeks, but dry, which makes excellent weather for the harvest. All of the fields are ready to cut, and the farmers trust there will be little rain until this is all safely in the shock or even better—threshed.

John Bedink, west of Canyon, threshed 100 acres in one field, making 25 bushels. He has a new combine and from Thursday morning to Sunday afternoon had threshed 3500 bushels of grain. The wheat he was cutting the first of the week was going about 20 bushels.

E. H. Albers and O. H. Ralfs both started new combines Monday. Both are well pleased with the yield they were getting.

D. N. Redburn brought in some fine samples of wheat Saturday, which was making 25 bushels to the acre.

R. L. McMurtry reported he made 500 bushels of wheat on the first of his threshing of 23 acres.

The test of the wheat is uniformly high. Wheat that has come into market is testing 61, and one report is made on 65 wheat.

The car situation is not improving. The committee of business men composed of E. H. Powell, S. B. Orton and O. N. Gamble has an appointment with Congressman Marvin Jones for the latter part of this week at which time the claims of Randall county will be presented to Mr. Jones who in turn will use his influence with the Interstate Commerce Commission to relieve the wheat conditions in Randall county. Only a few cars, which were ordered weeks ago, have been received in the city during the past ten days.

Several farmers are trucking their wheat crop to Amarillo where there are a number of big elevators. Until these elevators are filled, the farmers who get their crop to them will be able to cash out on their crops. After all the elevators are filled, those having wheat will be forced to hold their crop for many months no doubt.

COMMISSIONERS NAMES TO GO ON PRIMARY TICKET

When the Commissioners Court was in session Monday, the members of the court prevailed upon E. E. Adams, Commissioner from Precinct Four to submit his candidacy to the voters for the coming term. Mr. Adams was finally convinced, and will be a candidate for re-election.

The friends of W. C. Baird in Precinct One have prevailed upon him to accept another term. He is doing so against his wishes, but the voters of this precinct feel that he is better qualified than any man who could be selected, as his experience on the court will be greatly needed in the future development of the county.

The office of Commissioner is one of the most important in Randall county since it has to do with all of the finances of the county, and these two good men are especially needed upon the court as they are well acquainted with the conditions in Randall county and the requirements of the county government.

Wild Wind Tuesday Night

Randall county was visited Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock by one of the worst winds the country has had for several years. The dust was so bad that it was impossible to see across the street for nearly an hour.

Windmills were the chief sufferers during the wind, several of which were blown down during the blow.

Reports are that very little damage was done to the wheat crop. Several fields which were very ripe are reported to have blown down quite badly. The grain in shocks was blown over in some parts of the county to considerable extent.

Rain fell after the wind had blown for a short time, greatly cooling off the atmosphere, which had been very hot during the past two weeks. While the rain was not very heavy in Canyon, a good rain was reported both north and south of town. It was not enough to stop harvest.

John Fry and family were callers in Amarillo Monday. James Burgess of Amarillo was a visitor here Sunday.

CLUB SALE NOT ACCEPTED BY BAPTIST ENCAMPMENT

By a vote of 16 to 12 the stockholders of the Canyon City Club voted Saturday at the meeting to sell the west half of the Club Grounds to the Baptist Encampment, but with the provision that if the ground was ever used for other than Encampment purposes it would revert to the Club.

Rev. B. F. Fronabarger, acting for the Encampment Committee, states that the church cannot accept the ground as the Baptist will not put money on any ground to which they do not have a clear and free title.

The proposition of locating the Encampment near Canyon is thus a very uncertain thing once more. When Mr. Fronabarger took the proposition to the Executive Committee at the meeting in Plainview a few weeks ago he felt that a majority of the members would vote to give his church a clear title to the property. He made a fight against several other towns and won for the location on the west half of the Club Grounds. The proposition of putting the limiting clause in the deed never came up until the meeting Saturday, and this was not acceptable to the church, which intends spending $6,000 in improvements at once, with other improvements to be added within a short time.

EXAMINATIONS SATURDAY FOR BOY TO TAKE TRIP

C. F. Walker will conduct the examinations Saturday at the Court House for the boys in Randall county who want to make the big trip from College Station in August going to the northern states, visiting the big stock farms, going over into Canada, and coming back through Washington. Several boys will take the examination.

As announced last week, Mr. Walker has the list of questions which he will show to the boys taking the examination. There are eighty questions on the list from which five or six will be selected.

The boys taking the examinations must bring their club books Saturday.

123 Take Examinations

Judge C. R. Flesher held state examinations for teachers Friday and Saturday and had 123 taking the examinations. This large number was due to the fact that the state superintendent is having but one series given in the Normals of Texas this year, while an additional examination is offered by the school superintendents, Judge Flesher being ex-officio of Randall county. A large percent of those taking the examinations were students in the Normal who will also take the series offered at the Normal in August.

Normal Defeats Town

It was a work of art—that ball game Monday between the Normal and the town team in which the former was victorious by a score of 10-0 (we promised not to mention it). Any way both the players and the crowd enjoyed the game and if the score was not quite as desirable as the town boys wished, they are going to have another game, in which the score will be closer. They will play again today.

Election Clerks Chosen

A. M. Smith, judge of the election for precinct one, has chosen the following clerks to assist in the primary on Saturday, July 24: D. A. Shirley, R. H. Wright, John Guthrie, C. H. Jarrett, Mrs. C. N. Harrison, Mrs. L. L. Monroe, Miss Abbie Graham. Mr. Smith states that the vote will be very heavy, and those parties who have any question about their eligibility to enter the primary should see any of the clerks before the day of the primary. Mr. Smith also urges that votes be cast early Saturday morning in order to give the clerks time to count the votes early Saturday night.

Marriage Licenses Issued

County Clerk O. W. Gano issued the following marriage license this week:

G. D. Myers and Mrs. Sylvia Simmons, both of Amarillo, Friday.

Thomas W. Duffel and Miss Iva Tucker, of Happy, Saturday.

W. D. Williams and Miss Ethel Givens, both of Hereford, Sunday.

Buys Business Lot

R. A. Bellah has bought the building occupied by the S. B. McClure real estate office from Mrs. D. A. Park. Mr. McClure has a lease on the building from Mr. Bellah. Mr. Bellah also owns the building occupied by the City Pharmacy.

Come to Canyon to live.

COURT ORDERS TO GET BUSY

Contractors Must Start Work on Highway Within Five Days or County Will Take Charge.

It is quite evident that the members of the Commissioners Court have about worn their patience to a frazzle at the delays of the contractors to complete the highway running north and south in the county.

A special session was held Monday and orders sent to the contracting firm of Rice & Babcock containing the ultimatum that five days' time would be given the firm to get busy or the county would take over the work on the highway and complete the job. The court's ultimatum also contained the statement that if the county had to complete the highway under the provision of article 4.34 all of the advantages of this section would be taken by the court, which refers to the penalty of $25.00 per day for all delays after the allotted term of the contract.

The trouble arose between the court and the contractor last fall when the contractor pronounced the job completed, and upon examination found that the grades were too narrow. The highway was accepted by the court should these defects in the grades be remedied. The foreman of the road gang stated he knew where they were. The court told him to fix them before offering the highway for acceptance. Then came the plea of the contractor for an increase in pay on parts of the road, especially the hill north of Canyon. This increase was refused by the court, and the matter was taken to the highway commission at Austin, where the court was upheld in its refusal for an increase, and the contractor ordered to complete the highway.

The meeting Monday was a result of the ruling last week of the Highway Commission. The court wants possession of the highway in order to fix some places which were not called for in the original contract, and want to keep the road in good condition, which the contractor is not doing under the terms of the contract.

So far nothing has been heard as to whether the county will have to take the work or not.

FILES FAMILY IN NARROW ESCAPE

Tree Falls During Storm Tuesday Night Crushing Tent and Injuring Members of Family.

The M. B. Files family had a very narrow escape Tuesday evening during the high wind when the tent in which they were living in the canyons east of Six-Mile Crossing was crushed by the fall of a big cottonwood tree.

The tree fell after the wind had been blowing for a few minutes striking the tent squarely and crushing it to the ground. Mrs. Files was struck over the head and rendered unconscious. The lights were extinguished and in the darkness Mr. Files searched for considerable time before she was located. Her head and back were badly bruised by the fall. One of the small boys received a bad scalp wound and Mr. Files was considerably bruised, but after a long search located the members of the family, hunted out matches from the wrecked tent and got a fire started. A bed was made in the open after considerable difficulty in extricating the clothing from under the tree, and Mrs. Files was made a place to rest. Very fortunately very little rain fell in that section of the county or the family would have suffered a great deal.

Mr. Files got the family settled and was able to reach the doctor by phone from the Jennings home a little before midnight. Mrs. Files was still unconscious when the doctor arrived. By this time Mr. Files' injuries were aggravated until he was suffering considerably. It is believed all of the members of the family will recover without permanent injury, but their escape was very close.

Miss Rena Smith has returned home from Perryton, Texas, where she has been visiting her sister.

NEWS BUYS MILLER FEEDER FOR JOB PRESS FEEDING

The latest machine on the market will be added to the Randall County News equipment about the first of August when a Miller Feeder will be added to our plant.

This machine is attached to the job press and does all of the feeding, taking the place of hand feeding. The advantages of the machine are numerous, in addition to taking the place of labor, every piece of printing that comes from the press is accurately fed and absolutely free from all finger prints, which are impossible in hand fed printing.

It takes optimism to buy a machine of this price and the News has plenty of it. There is probably not another town as small as Canyon in Texas, or possibly any other state which has one of these wonderful machines. After it is installed, notice will be given the people of Randall County to come and see it work.

COX AND ROOSEVELT HEAD THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Governor James Cox of Ohio and Franklin Roosevelt of New York, now assistant secretary of the navy, were nominated by the democratic convention for the presidency and vice presidency in San Francisco this week. The nomination of Cox came on the forty-second ballot.

Both candidates from the two leading parties are from Ohio, Senator Harding leading the republicans and Governor Cox the democrats.

Another Entertainment Monday The young people of the Methodist church held another entertainment at the church Monday night with more than 150 present. The young people voted to meet every Monday night for a similar entertainment.

Chautauqua Comes July 25 to 29

The Chautauqua will commence in Canyon on Sunday, July 25 and will continue for five days. The Palo Duro Post has charge of the Chautauqua this year and announces one of the strongest programs ever brought to Canyon.

Starts Equalization Work

The city equalization board consisting of C. F. Walker, A. M. Smith and D. A. Shirley will start today to examine the renditions made for the city taxes.

Fourth Quiet Day in Canyon

The Fourth of July was a very quiet day in Canyon. Most of the business houses closed Monday as the Fourth came on Sunday. There was no attempt at a celebration of any kind this year.

Stork Special

An eight pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Lee Monday.

Another Big Gas Well

The Gulf Production Company's No. 1 well on the S. B. Burnett 6666 Ranch in Carson County came in Monday for a flow of gas estimated to be at least 7,000,000 cubic feet, and constantly increasing. This enormous flow was struck when the gas sand had been penetrated only three feet.

The bringing in of this well is the most significant and important development in the field since the bringing in of the first gasser. This well extends the field to a point twenty miles beyond the Bivins No. 1, the closest gasser. The Amarillo field is now more than forty miles long, which cinches it as the largest gas field in the world.

This well is the only producer in the Panhandle outside of Potter county, and the oil fraternity are all agog over the new possibilities indicated by the new gasser.

The hole was down 2,391 feet when gas was struck, and since the gas sand was penetrated but three feet, experts cannot hazard a guess as to the full extent of the flow at a lower depth.

Drillers are already making preparations, however, to go on down. The boiler is being moved back to prevent possible firing of the well, and drilling is expected to resume before the end of the week. The drillers believe they may be able to go on down while the pressure is no stronger than it now is.

In the event the gas pressure prevents operations, eight-inch casing will be lowered and branded headed so that drilling for oil can be carried down as far as desired.—Amarillo Tribune.

TRADES DAY IN CANYON MONDAY

$50.00 IN CASH WILL BE GIVEN AWAY BY BUSINESS HOUSES—CANDIDATES WILL SPEAK TO THE VOTERS

The July Trades Day will be held in Canyon next Monday, July 12. The business houses will give away $50.00 in cash on that day, the drawing to take place at 4:30 on the public square.

The prize money will be divided into seven premiums again this month, the first prize to be $15.00 cash, second $10.00 cash, and five prizes of $5.00 each. This arrangement was very satisfactory at the last Trades Day.

Monday will be Candidate Day for Randall county. All candidates for precinct, county, district and state offices are most cordially invited to be in Canyon next Monday and to speak to the voters. A few minutes will be allotted to all candidates to lay their platforms before the voters. Several district candidates have already written that they would be here for the day.

It looks like the auction sale would be much larger than usual for the coming Trades Day. C. F. Walker has already had the listing of a Ford car, registered Jersey Bull, sow and pigs, a registered gilt, extra good milk cow, brood mare and colt, a big lot of new merchandise. The auction will be exceptionally good and well worth attending.

At 3:30 W. J. Wooten of the Olympic Theatre will entertain the wives of all Randall county farmers at a free matinee. He will give tickets to all the visiting ladies at the door. The matinee starts promptly at 3:30.

Don't overlook the Trades Day in Canyon next Monday. It will be worth your while to come.

BAND CONCERT SATURDAY NIGHT ON THE SQUARE

On account of misunderstanding there was no band concert on the public square last Saturday night. However, everything is all set for Saturday night of this week. Lights will be strung into the trees on the court house lawn by A. J. Arnold and C. F. Walker in order to accommodate the players.

The people of Randall county are cordially invited to hear the Normal band under the direction of Wallace R. Clark every Saturday night on the public square.

Sing Greatly Enjoyed

The Community Sing at the Baptist church was greatly enjoyed Monday night on the Baptist church lawn by a very large crowd. After a number of songs, Rev. Ted P. Hollifield and D. A. Shirley gave short talks. Rev. Fronabarger states that he was highly pleased with the Community Sing this week.

Another sing will be held next Monday night. M. B. Johnson will make a short talk, with one or two other speakers.

Killed South of Town

Martin Francis, a brakeman on the Santa Fe, was killed on a freight south of town Monday morning. Evidently he fell from the moving train as he was not missed by the crew until the train reached Happy. The train backed up seven miles and found the body cut in two. The remains were sent to Amarillo on the passenger.

Mr. Francis made his home in Slaton.

394 New Students in Normal

The Prairie of this week published a list of 394 students who were enrolled in the Normal this summer who had never attended the school before. The total attendance for the summer is over 700. More students are enrolled from counties outside of the Panhandle-Plains country than ever before.

John Peters was a caller in Tulsa Saturday.

MARQUIS PRESIDENT OF ALPINE NORMAL

Former Teacher in W. T. S. N. C. Goes From Denton Faculty to New Normal College.

Professor R. L. Marquis was elected president of the Alpine Normal at the meeting of the board of regents last week, and will go at once to take charge of this school.

Mr. Marquis was head of the Biology Department of the West Texas State Normal College from 1910 until 1918 when he went to Denton holding a similar position in the Denton Normal. Before coming to Canyon Mr. Marquis had a number of years' college experience. He is fitted to make a very fine executive in the Alpine school.

The new school to which Mr. Marquis was elected opened this summer for the first time, and now has an enrollment of 77 with fifteen members of the faculty. Tom Fletcher from the extension department of the state university was elected president of the new school, but resigned last week.

The many friends of Mr. Marquis in Canyon will extend him hearty congratulations and best wishes in his new work.

Ed Gerald was in Clovis, New Mexico, Monday on business.

Miss Dewey and Raymond Foy returned home from Ralls Saturday where they have been visiting for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Chas. Harter and children are in Tahoka this week visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cain of Quanah visited at the Chas. Harter home Sunday.

A third line runs from Glenwood to the North side and all cars start from Fourth and Polk.

Strikes That are Meant to Fail

In times past strikes were called to protest against definite underpayment or illtreatment. Some are still called for those reasons, but others are not. Those others are not meant to succeed, but to fail. They are not intended to bring about conditions more satisfactory to the worker, but to widen the breach between employer and employee, to fan class hatred.

to prepare the ground for a social revolution.

The men who are concerned in this business are no longer trying to conceal their plans. They are insolently frank. One of them, who is an organizer for the "One Big Union" and an officer of one of the large labor organizations, said to a newspaper reporter:

"There are already two millions enrolled in the One Big Union which is to accomplish the revolution. Daily our numbers grow as unsuccessful strike follows unsuccessful strike. We of the vision encourage strikes—that they may fail. . . . Meanwhile, we fan class hatred; that is our mission. We . . . must teach the American laborer that his employer is his natural enemy."

Americans, with the easy optimism that refuses to recognize a danger until it hangs immediately over their heads, have not taken the revolutionary agitator seriously. They have known that he existed, but they have taken for granted that he would never be able to insinuate his false and malicious doctrines into the minds of the American workingman, who has a political and economic freedom that he ought to appreciate.

A great many workingmen are too sensible to believe that a man who organizes and builds up an industry is the enemy of the men to whom the industry gives employment. A great many are too sane to believe that a nation can profit by hatred and savagery and civil war among its people, or that a despotism controlled by the officers of labor unions would be any more tolerable than a despotism controlled by courtiers or soldiers or industrial magnates.

But, unless the boasts of the agitators are quite false, two millions are already persuaded, and more will be as the strikes that are meant to fail do fail and leave behind them a legacy of irritation and anger and of baffled helplessness. We must find a new way of dealing with strikes, if we are to escape the machinations of the revolutionary. The public must take a hand in the matter. It must have a way of finding out the truth about each strike as it comes along, of enforcing a just and honorable settlement of strikes that have an honest purpose, and of exposing those that are merely disguised revolutionary propaganda. Perhaps the Court of Industrial Relations that

Gov. Allen has instituted in Kansas is the answer to the problem. It is at all events the most hopeful step in that direction that has yet been taken anywhere.

If You Are Easily Tired Out, Your Blood Needs Purifying

Clogged-up Impurities Will Undermine Your Health.
 The first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown.
 This whole condition is but the result of impurities in the blood. It shows that nature needs assistance in giving the system a general housecleaning. Nearly everybody just now needs a few bottles of S. S. S. to cleanse the system of impurities. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.

Are the locust trees of Canyon worth saving? If they are, action must be taken at once, not by a few people of Canyon, but by the entire citizenship. It is said that the cost of fighting the bores is too great for the value of the trees. Others say it is too much trouble. Consideration of the fact ought to be taken both as to the expense and trouble of the fight that a good part of the people will let all of their trees be destroyed by the bores before they take any steps to plant other trees which will not be infected by the pests. That being the case, would it not be a good thing to force the cutting down of half of the locust trees in Canyon at once, replant with trees which are not bothered with bores; put up a fight to save the remaining half until the new trees get a good start. From a civic standpoint it would be a very bad blow to the attractiveness of Canyon to allow all of the locust trees to die without any definite provision having been made to have other trees growing. Canyon has too many pretty locust trees to sacrifice to the bores without a fight. The men of Canyon are not likely to do much. The case is referred to the women of the city.

It looks as if the Interchurch World Movement was doomed to defeat. Thus another good lesson of the world war comes to naught. In the first place, the movement seems to have gotten under the wrong management. John R. Mott withdrew several months ago. The committee in charge was spending too much money and very unwisely. Denomination after denomination have withdrawn from the movement. Those who were never in sympathy with the movement will no doubt use the "I told you so," too freely, and the petty denominational scraps which have been a curse to the world for ages will go on as before. It is to be hoped that the seed scattered during the campaign for closer union of the denominations will not be lost and that the mistakes of the campaign will be overcome and a new effort made.

The nomination of Governor Cox by the democrats places at the head of the party probably the strongest candidate that could be selected. While McAdoo was the best known and perhaps the best liked personally of all the democratic possibilities, he has been the right arm of the administration and furthermore the relationship with the president was a handicap which was likely more than he could have carried through the campaign. "The Crown Prince" started in the convention had its weight in finally overcoming McAdoo. With the selection of Harding and Cox at the head of the two great parties, America need have no fear of the outcome of the election in November. Both are conservative. Both are influential men who would give their best to their country. Cox will come nearer holding the democrats together than would have McAdoo. He is a safe and sane candidate.

Barnum was right. The people like to get stung good and proper. The harder it comes the better they like it. A man was in the News office Saturday and told of an incident in a neighboring town. A sewing machine agent hit town. He disposed of an off brand of machines at $35 more than asked by local dealers for an advertised and guaranteed machine. He sold out his stock and bought up all the machines local dealers had for their regular retail price, took them to people within three blocks of the stores and sold them for $35 more than the local men were asking. If people didn't like the stinging they get, the vastly increasing multitudes of agents running around the country would have to go to work—which would be an uncharitable way to treat them.

Twenty five bushel wheat. Can you beat it? On May 10th most Randall county farmers had given up their wheat crop because it had not rained. The Panhandle will look less promising and then do more in producing bumper crops than any country on the face of the globe.

Some good democrats are deluded by the idea that the nomination of Governor Cox for the presidency on the democratic ticket means a surrender to the liquor interests and that the United States will be wet. Pure and simple bosh. The liquor question, so far as America is concerned, was settled in the adoption of the constitutional amendment. The republicans had nothing to say about the liquor question—they choose to discuss live issues. Bill Bryan and a few of his followers tried to inject the question but were almost unanimously defeated. What has been written into the constitution of the United States will never be repealed.

Again we must say that the more Pat Neff "explains" his graduated land tax plank the worse he gets bogged up. We heard his explanation yesterday and after he got through doing so, we couldn't understand it and couldn't even understand why we couldn't understand it. The same explanation won't work on the Plains and down in East Texas.—Plainview News.

What has become of all the good democrats in Miami? There is a perfectly good postoffice to let in that city and even Editor Waggoner, who poses as a democrat, does not want it. Something wrong up the Santa Fe.

Presbyterian Church
 We are very glad that the hot weather we have been having has not materially kept the people from coming to the House of Worship. The attendance at all services has been exceptionally good and we are thankful.

On next Sunday morning at 9:45 we are hoping for a still larger Sunday-School attendance than we had on last Sunday. Be one of those who helps to swell the number.

At the 11 o'clock hour of worship the pastor will have as his subject: "False Religions and the True."

In the evening at 8 o'clock the subject will be: "The Regal Life." The evening address will be in the form of a sermon-lecture. It is hoped that a goodly number of our young people will be present.

The Christian Endeavor Society meets immediately after the evening service.

We extend to all a cordial welcome who may care to worship with us on this day.

TED P. HOLIFIELD, Pastor.

FOR THE OPEN SHOP
 At a recent meeting of the automobile dealers of this city, a resolution was passed favoring the "open shop" and only a couple of weeks ago, the laundries of the town went on record as opposed to the domination of the unions. Many towns and cities throughout the country have done likewise and the movement is gaining momentum, rapidly.

For this condition, the unions have only themselves to blame. Business men have discovered that contracts made with the unions are binding only on themselves and are refusing to turn over their plants to be run or not run as the caprice of the union may dictate. Even though an employer lives up to every article of the agreement, he is not guaranteed against loss by strikes because a sympathetic strike may be called at any time.

It has come to the point that the "word" of the union is no longer good and the same rule which marks for distrust and suspicion, a person of known "crooked" tendencies, applies equally to the union itself.

Moreover, the union has ceased to make skill a requirement in securing employment and places a premium on membership in the union. This makes for inefficiency and, whereas membership in a union once carried with it a recognized standard of workmanship, there is now constant complaint of the poor work turned out by union men. Union rules of employment require that the good worker and the poor worker be paid the same wages and the man who pays the bills has nothing to say in regard to "hiring or firing" the men.

For the abuses of the unfair employer, the unions have substituted abuses of their own that are no more fair. It is a fundamental American principle that every man has a right to work. The "open shop" does not discriminate against the union men but it does hold that it is not necessary for a man to belong to a union in order to obtain employment.

BOYS WITH THE CITY BUG

It would seem that the question of young men leaving the ranch is one that has grown trite by long discussion and while perhaps it has lain dormant in the past two or three years when there have been so many other things to engage attention, it may be proper at this time to bring the discussion up to date. The demand of workers in the war industries took young men and women from all walks of life and a particularly heavy toll was made of the young men and women of the country who would normally have remained on the farms. The result was a most acute shortage of farm labor in times when patriotic considerations and economic necessity demanded unprecedented production of our farm and ranches.

Naturally the farmer was compelled to advance the scale of wages to retain as much labor as possible. There was a time when a monthly wage of $5 was deemed as much as a farmer could afford to pay; and perhaps it was. And then, too, this was not guaranteed for the twelve months of the year. But today this wage has mounted to $70 a month and even higher with a demand for better working conditions, more labor-saving machinery and greater independence on the part of the laborer. How long this level will be maintained is a question which no one can answer or forecast, but it does appear that there is a real opportunity for the farm worker today, and that the young men who have a hankering to leave the country and seek work in town are, to use a current slang expression, "overlooking a bet."

A fine looking farm lad came into an office the other day saying that he sought employment in the city. He was of more than average intelligence and a very prepossessing looking chap. Upon inquiry into his past history I found that he had been working on his father's ranch all his life and that the only qualifications he could present for a city job were a willingness to attempt most anything and considerable self-confidence. These are primary essentials in every one who would make a success of life, but without special training acquired by experience they would scarcely net a young man a living wage in any occupation save one that involved simple manual labor.

This young man, you see, wanted an office job or preferred to be a traveling man. It seldom occurs to young men that the $70 or $75 that they could earn on a ranch would be equivalent to $150 or more a month that the city wage earner receives. And for the benefit of my rural friends, let it be known that the city wage earner whose income does not exceed $150 a month is compelled to live a very meager existence in this era of high prices. Decidedly, the farm worker at the present level of wages has the advantage of his city brother. The crying need of the time is for thrift—saving. The average city worker cannot save if he would.—Ashleigh C. Holliswell in Field and Farmer.

The following clipping from the Estancia (New Mexico) News-Herald, constitutes another reason why Texas should be divided:

"J. L. Smith and family have returned from Texas, all affected more or less with malaria. They say they have had enough of Texas. Mr. Smith's farm near Tajique is rented for the season, but he has rented malaria in the Panhandle would be about the same sized job as the fellow tackled who looked for a needle in the hay stack. But because malaria does exist down in the "sticks," a lot of folks people the whole state with shaking, yellow-skinned, quinine-consuming creatures who perform their labors and transact business between chills and doses.

Trips to Other Worlds, July 26-30 Are Mars and the other planets inhabited? What keeps the sun hot and where is it at midnight? Why are some stars red and others blue? What is the earth? These are a few of the questions to be answered in a series of five illustrated lectures entitled "Trips to Other Worlds," which will be given at the Coltege Auditorium by Dr. A. M. Harding, Professor of Mathematics at the University of Arkansas.

The lectures will be illustrated by several hundred lantern slides showing telescopic photographs of the sun, the moon, the stars, the comets and meteors, and other heavenly bodies.

Mercury, Venus, Mars, and the other planets, and the myths concerning the sun, the moon, and the rest of the celestial bodies will be the subjects of the first lecture, given Monday night. The question of the habitability of Mars and the possibility of communication with her will be features of the program.

"The Man in the Moon" is the subject of the second lecture which is scheduled for Tuesday night. It will be in the nature of a travelogue. Close-up photographs of the craters, mountain ranges, and seas of the moon will be shown in connection with this lecture. Dr. Harding will discuss the lunar influences on the earth. The sun will also be included in this lecture, emphasis being given to its relation to the earth and its chemical composition.

In the third lecture, "Signs and Wonders," comets, meteors, and shooting stars will be discussed. Dr. Harding will review the history of all of the large comets which have appeared and will explain the cause of the meteoric showers which caused so much alarm during the nineteenth century.

"The Heavens Above and the Earth Beneath" is the subject of the fourth lecture, which will tell something of the sun's travels through space, of the various constellations, and of double stars, star clusters, nebulae, other worlds in the process of formation, and the milky way.

In his fifth and last lecture, "The Origin of the Earth and the End of the World," Dr. Harding will take up the probability of life in the other worlds and will give the theories held by scientists of the past and present as to the origin of the earth. Laplace's "ring nebular theory" and Moulton's "planetesimal theory" of the earth's origin will receive special attention. In conclusion, Dr. Harding will give the ways in which the world may come to an end.

Admission to this course of unusual lectures is covered by the blanket tax, and no student can afford to miss this rare opportunity.

Profiteering in Lamb

Armour & Company and John E. Wilson, their representative, were indicted by a Federal grand jury at Boston, Mass., May 5th, for alleged violation of the anti-profiteering provision of the Lever act, in connection with the sale of imported New Zealand lamb. After arraignment Mr. Wilson stated that Armour & Co. always sell meats for market prices, whether for gain or loss. The following statement issued by Armour & Co., however, will cause live stock producers of this country to view the matter from another angle:

"The facts as reported relative to our indictment are not correct. Instead of being indicted, we should be commended. There is a great need for more food and the lamb supply is very short and the price exceedingly high.

"Last winter we foresaw this condition and arranged to ship in lambs from New Zealand to cope with it, New Zealand lambs, which we have been selling in Boston, are of unusually fine quality, but we are selling them below the market for Western lambs, and were it not for these New Zealand lambs, the price of Western lambs would be even higher than it is now.

"As a result of a transaction which is adding to the available supply which has kept the price of Western lambs from going higher, and which is actually giving the market a fine quality of lamb at a lower price, we have been indicted. Maybe those who are responsible for the indictment do not want the price of lambs to be reduced. Certainly it is a species of camouflage for political effect to indict us for bringing the lambs from New Zealand and selling them for less than the local lambs can be bought."

Sheep raisers of the United States have been conducting a very extensive educational campaign to encourage the consumption of lamb. As reflected by the sheep market during the past few months, their campaign has been mighty effective. It appears, however, that Armour & Company do not intend to allow the American producers to enjoy the full fruits of their labors.—The Cattleman.

One of the pressing needs of our city that has been brought forcibly to the attention of those of our citizens who have had to lay to rest loved ones in our City of the Dead, is the fact that a new cemetery will have to be provided before long.

Though the site provided was ample for a small town for many years, the growth of Amarillo has been so rapid that the original tract is almost entirely taken up, there remaining but a small number of lots and these, naturally, of the less desirable ones.

Situated, as it is, in Randall county and that county being not at all interested in the condition of the particular piece of road that leads from our city to the cemetery, there has always been difficulty in maintaining a passable highway. Neither Potter County nor the City of Amarillo, it seems, can lawfully use their public funds in keeping the road up and this being the case, it would seem advisable to have a cemetery opened in another location, rather than purchase additional land which would also have to be in Randall county.

There are a number of admirable locations either to the east or the west of the city, which would be on one of our main traveled roads and not subject to the objection of the old one. Either a well should be put down or water piped from the city and trees set out, so that in time it may make a fitting resting place for our dear ones who pass on.

For Lower Prices You Might Make the Building Costs in Profits

Many a man who waits now for lower prices is going to be sorry later on. Waiting loses convenience, use, profits. It may accomplish nothing more. We are in close touch with market conditions. Boys' Forum to Give Program
Last Tuesday the boys met in room 105 for the purpose of discussing the nature of the society work to be undertaken this summer. It was decided to leave the societies unorganized for the summer term and to have a Boys' Forum instead.

In some respects this organization will resemble a literary society, but will reach a larger part of the student body.

The following officers were elected:
President—Robert Hill.
Vice President—D. T. Tarlton.
Secretary—Elmer Hawkins.

A program committee was appointed, which prepared the following program to be rendered Thursday, June 24, at 7:30 P. M.

1. Aim of this organization—Mr. Woodridge.

2. Who should be nominated at the Democratic National Convention.
McAdoo—C. R. Wilson.
Wilson—J. E. Dockery.
Cox—D. T. Tarlton.
Bryan—Mr. McDaniel.
Edwards—Mr. Holt.
Hoover—A. L. Burnett.

3. Comical School Happenings—Mr. Vaughn.

Every young man is cordially invited to be present. Come and get acquainted with your neighbor.

Girls' Council at Huntleigh Hall
The girls of Huntleigh Hall organized a Council last week. After the election of officers, the following committees were appointed: Social, Hostess, and Music. Miss Abbie Graham made a short talk on the girls' duties in the halls, dining-room courtesies, etc.

The Council met on the "East Lawn" on June 14 for a Get-acquainted Party. Miss Lucille Kennedy, chairman of the social committee, and her officers entertained the girls with interesting and lively games. The girls were divided into the east and west wings, representing two families—the Jones and Smith families. These two challenged each other for a Catch a Train race. The "Joneses" were as well trained in such races as the "Smiths"; so the race proved a tie between the two. After hearty laughs and chats the families paired off and marched by the lemonade stand, where they were served with lemonade and cake. The girls gave the hostess committee fifteen cheers for the delightful evening.

Special Session of Legislature Passes Educational Appropriation

The appropriation bill as passed by the special session of the legislature carries an appropriation of $58,000 for the West Texas State Normal College. This sum is apportioned as follows:

Salary increase, average of 20 per cent	$20,500
New teachers and other employees	$18,060
Departments as follows:
Agriculture	$5000
Art	$1000
Physics	$1000
Home Economics	$ 500
Manual Training	$ 800
Expression	$ 300
Phis. Edu.	$ 400
Additional Furniture for Dormitory	$ 9,000
Infirmary	$ 5,000
Repairs, printing, etc.	$ 2,000
	$ 3,500

Total $58,060
The infirmary covered by the appropriation will be opened next fall. It will be in charge of a trained nurse, who has already been employed.

Two new teachers have recently been added to the English faculty, Miss Elizabeth Davis and Mrs. Lang. Miss Davis came to the college last spring from Peabody, and was given a permanent position last week. Mrs. Lang is here for the first time this summer. She holds an A. B. degree from Trinity University, and has studied one year at Columbia.

The Girls' Forum

What the old Roman Forum meant to the citizens of Rome we have tried to make the Girls' Forum mean to the girls of the "W. T. S. N. C." We want it to be a place where the girls of the school can come together with a feeling of oneness and discuss matters of vital interest and importance to them. We want it to be a place where the "sisterhood" of women may be truly realized. We want it to be a place where the highest ideals of thought and conduct may be upheld.

The Forum had an auspicious beginning on Wednesday of last week when the first meeting of the session was held. Miss Mary Smith Clark, the summer president of the Y. W. C. A., presented the program of the Y. W. C. A. for the summer. The plan of each girl's receiving a fern and of thus entering a growing contest at the initiation service was enthusiastically received by the girls. As acting chairman and editor-in-chief of the Handbook, Miss Sarah Thompson presented the Handbook to the new students and briefly outlined the work of the Forum. A nominating committee was appointed to nominate officers for the summer. At the next meeting, officers will be elected and the work of the Forum will begin in earnest.

The Y. W. C. A.

Last week, the Young Women's Christian Association began a membership campaign in which three hundred seventy-five new members were added to the organization. If you have not joined this association, you are urged to do so before Wednesday, June 30.

"The purpose of the Young Woman's Christian Association in the Summer School is to interpret on this Normal Campus the principles of Jesus Christ, principles of beauty, of friendliness of truth and justice and honor, of unselfishness and service. Every girl who will pledge allegiance to such principles may become a member." It is my purpose to live a true follower of the Lord Jesus Christ, is her statement of purpose.

The Y. W. C. A. is planning to organize the different boarding houses so they may contest for championship in sports, such as mumble peg, base ball, basket ball, sack-races, croquet, tennis, swimming, and suit-case races. A loving cup will be awarded the boarding house receiving the highest number of points. Hikes, swimming and fishing parties, sunrise breakfasts, teas, and story hours are among the good times the Y. W. C. A. is planning.

All members are requested to take part in the Initiation Service Wednesday evening at six thirty. Each member will be presented with a tiny fern for the "growing contest" which will end near the close of the summer term. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the service.

the nature of its aim and purpose. This club is made up of Domestic Science students only. The club was first organized as the Ellen H. Richards Club, so named because of the interest and the love, as well as the knowledge, this woman has given the girls of our department. Later the club was called the Home Economics Club, and it is by this name that it is now known.

The chief events of this last year were our social meetings and the demonstration of the ways and customs of foreign peoples. The most important thing we did was to help establish a chair of the Domestic Science Department in the American School at Constantinople.

Our motto is: "The Life of Home and of What the Home stands for converts the drudgery of daily routine into a high order of social service." This will help you to realize what we stand for. It will also help you to see why all of the girls that married this last year were members of the Home Economics Club.

A Square Deal

Agriculture is a family industry where the work and home life are not separated. All members of the family participate in the common toil for the support of the home. Therefore the wife of a farmer is his equal partner.

The farmer needs a wife as part of his business equipment. On the farm the home is a big part of the business and the business a part of the home.

It is, however, a fact that the farmer on the average farm works with better tools than he gives his wife. What farmer is without some improved machinery to till the fields or care for the crops and the herd? Yet often the wife has to walk to the well for water and sometimes the well has not even a pump. If there is no pump she is compelled to pull the water up in a bucket. That method was in use more than 1,000 years ago.

A farmer forced to till with the means in use at the time of the Civil war would complain loudly.

The farmer's wife often carries water 200 feet to the tea kettle. This effort might be saved her by an automatic pump to draw the water from the well and send it to her kitchen through pipes.

When Monday comes she rises a little earlier and draws a larger amount of water. It is wash day. But she does not wash with an electrically-operated washing machine, wringer and mangle. Heavy tubs are given her or a washing machine she must run by hand. Not only is there a lack of laundry equipment, but the farm woman, unless she is an invalid, does the washing without help. John, however, may have gone to town in a $1500 car after the milking is finished and while his hired man is cleaning the stables.

After she has speeded the family on its way for the morning, she cares for the milk utensils; probably washes the cream separator; she feeds the chickens, takes care of the eggs, and on market day dresses the poultry. She does all this, despite a primitive water supply.

In New York State a survey of farm homes showed 40 among 50 homes using oil lamps. Think of the time and labor involved in caring for oil lamps. Why not give mother electricity or acetylene gas? Would the average farmer care to harvest a crop with a scythe?

The woman's work is never done. Her afternoons are as crowded as her mornings—filled with tasks to be accomplished with primitive tools.

The farm wife must prepare 1,095 meals a year with the little help the family gives her. One hired girl to every hundred homes is typical, statistics show us.

The crushing thing of it all, to the farmer's wife, is the days on end without change, but changes are coming rapidly.—The Dairy Farmer.

Let George Do It

"Back to the Land" is a cry that has been heralded from north to south and east and west throughout the nation, for the past several years. It had become apparent before the war that such a movement must be brought about if the production of the country was to keep pace with its increasing need of food. But the trend cityward continued and later, during the war and after it, this trend became a veritable exodus.

The necessities of war made it imperative that the highest possible production of a great variety of manufactured articles be maintained and accordingly, larger and larger wages were offered in order that mill owners and others might fulfill their contracts. The government itself, set the pace by its "cost plus ten percent" policy. Thousands of men not available for the army, left the farms lured by the unprecedented wages and short hours offered by the city employers. And they have not returned to the farms. Instead, the story of their fabulous earnings has created further discontent in the rural sections and the exodus continues.

It is probable that the men who have been born on farms or lived on them for a considerable length of time, are the men best fitted to continue the business of raising the nation's food supply. We, as consumers who may shortly have nothing to consume, should lend every assistance possible to the solution of the problem of keeping the men on the farm and it might be well for them, too, or such of them as have a hankering for the "flesh pots" of the city, to pause and reflect. Its all right to "let George do it" if he will but it begins to look as though "George" was going to refuse to be the goat. The farm may have many drawbacks but after all, few farmers ever actually go hungry, except as the result of some unusual calamity. In the city, the hens do not lay fresh eggs in the hay mow and cackle to remind you to come and gather them. Instead you pay the grocer a good bit more than eggs were ever worth when you were selling them, for some cold storage product that, very probably, you will refuse to eat until you get "acclimated." The cow doesn't come up to the gate and placidly chew her cud while you extract the health-giving beverage from her udder. No, the milkman daily delivers a quart of the fluid all nicely done up in a glass bottle which you pay from three to five times as much as you ever got for what you sold. There is just about enough cream next morning for one cup of coffee and you have to go back to the grocer for your butter. Also, there are no windmills with running water to keep the milk and butter cool and so it is necessary to patronize the ice man.

One of the greatest allurements is the opportunity for recreation and diversion which the city affords but it is soon found that the dancer has to pay the fiddler and pay him well. Not only do the entertainments themselves cost money but they are likely to entail the expenditure of more money for clothes and other accessories. In fact, it is found when pay day comes, that the earnings that looked so splendid from the security of a self-sustaining farm, leave as meagre a surplus after the bills are paid, as did the despised farm.

Moreover, there is always the possibility that the city job will terminate suddenly some day and the worker be left without income or employment, whereas any man who lives on a farm always has a job and a living which, though it may not be just what he would like best, most often approximates the true measure of the man.

Might it not be well for the man or boy who is thinking of leaving the farm, to ask himself, "Who is going to raise my rations for next winter?" Big pay will avail nothing if the markets are bare and with the scarcity of farm help to be obtained, the only thing that the farmer can do is to reduce his acreage in cultivation. You may be "sick" of farming—no job is without its irksome qualities—but you are assured of three squares a day and something more. If you leave it to "George," you are likely to find that he has left it to you.
