Of course it is a grand and glorious feeling to sit in an exalted position in Washington two years after the war is over and point out the mistakes of the war and call to task those who made mistakes or mismanaged the affairs of the war. No American who was not actually connected with the army has but little conception of the difficulties confronting the men of the army during the war, especially that part of the army which was abroad and were hampered by the restriction of being upon a foreign soil. No one realized more the absurdity of some of the things that were done more than did the men who were doing it, and none realized more the extravagance of paying the prices asked by some of the foreign governments, and of some of the American profiteers, than did the men who handled the financial affairs of the army. But America went into the war to save humanity from the onslaught of the Hun. It was no time for meditative and the slow going processes as is used in our legislative halls. It was a game of action, and the fastest actors were the winners. The committee which is smelling out the mistakes of the war is not doing it that these mistakes might be remedied, but that they may punish their enemies in the administration. General Daves told the committee where to head in. Pershing told the committee their work was nonsense. The American public is getting pretty much disgusted with the performance. The war was won, and won in the quickest and safest way possible. The committee would serve America to better advantage were it to punish the slackers and food profiteers who ran free, rather than go into the affairs of military operations, of which they are absolutely ignorant.

Every prominent democrat has a program for the reorganization of the party so that it will stage a come back in four years' time. Bryan's program is noteworthy as containing all the hobbies the Commoner has advocated for the past twenty-five years, and which have been steadfastly rejected in the national conventions of the party. It is premature for the democratic party to think of reorganization. The thing that will bring a democratic victory in four years will be the same thing that brought the republican victory of November; namely, mistakes of the administration. If Mr. Harding is so successful a pilot as to steer the ship of state through the dangerous shoals of national and international problems that are now confronting this nation, he will easily be the victor in the national election four years hence, no matter who the democratic leader may be and no matter what the democratic party may advocate. The national platforms for the election in 1924 will be built of the timber passing through the legislative mills of the coming three years; past successes and failures, and personal pet hobbies will get nowhere in the next national race.

David Lawrence is a newspaper writer of international fame. Lawrence was greatly peeved at Woodrow Wilson because he was not chosen as a member of the publicity bureau which went to Paris with the American delegation. Lawrence believes in justice and when the congressional committee which is smelling around the remains of the world war started in to discredit President Wilson with the statement that Wilson favored cancelling the war debts of all European, Lawrence came to the defense of the administration, laying bare the truth as he found it in Paris, that at no time did Wilson suggest the cancellation of war debts, and always did Wilson repel the suggestions of Europeans that the war debts be cancelled. The congressional committee is playing petty politics and still endeavors in every possible way to harass the President. It looks as if the injustice the committee did Charles Schwab would have caused them to use caution in their investigations.

Representative Summers called Representative Blanton a liar on the floor of the House. Blanton's actions are galling to his fellow representatives from Texas who feel that Blanton is a disgrace to the great state. Blanton went to congress on the program of causing trouble, and he is sure carrying out his designs. He is the champion trouble maker.

It takes the labor of 200,000 men to supply the wants of our rat population for one year. Fifty years from now when every rat has been killed off, the people will wonder what kind of a civilization it was in 1921 which allowed this destructive pest to destroy the labor of this great army of men.

That show Friday just about ruined Randall county. It makes the prospects for a big wheat yield strong, and land will go up another $5 or $10 as sure as fate. By fall, Randall county will not be able to boast of having the cheapest land in the whole Panhandle. These are sure ruinous times.

The Amarillo News issued a 96-page paper Sunday, the largest paper ever printed in the Panhandle-Plains country. The edition was an honor to the News and a great advertisement to the entire Panhandle-Plains country.

The good people of this country are well pleased with the selection of Charles Evans Hughes as the secretary of state for the Harding cabinet.

ADVANTAGE OF SUMMER SCHOOL

President J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Normal College has announced a new plan for conducting the summer school. According to this plan, the summer's work will be divided into two terms of six weeks each. Classes will recite six days a week. The minimum amount of work for each term will be two subjects, the maximum three.

This plan has several advantages. It will be advantageous to the student who desires to attend both terms, because he will be able to master six subjects in the same time that he ordinarily masters five during the regular term.

Another advantage is offered the student who wishes to make only a few credits in the summer term. That student can attend for six weeks and get credit on three subjects in one-half the time regularly required.

This plan will also provide for the student who wants to do some credit work during the summer, but has to make expense money for the regular term. He will be able to attend school, and still have a part of the summer left for this purpose.

Still another type of student will be benefited by the plan. This is the student who is irregular in his classification. By attending one term of the summer session, he will be enabled to make up such irregularities and will be ready to take up the work of his class when the fall term opens.

What Puzled Her

A suffrage meeting was drawing to a close. The speeches had all been made and the meeting was thrown open to questions by the audience.

Said the presiding officer: "Now is there any woman here who would like to ask a question? Don't hesitate to ask any question you'd like to; any question at all about any phase of the woman question."

For a few moments there was silence. Then a woman arose and asked: "May I ask any question at all?"

"Certainly," said the speaker persuasively. "What question would you like to ask?"

"Well," said the woman, "I'd like to know how you got that smooth effect over your hips."

As Old as the Hills

Marie O'Hare was a census-taker in the late official census. A maiden of uncertain age grew very indignant at her when she asked her age.

"Did you see the Hill girls next door?" she snapped.

"I certainly did."

"And did they tell their age?"

"They did."

"Well, I'm as old as they are."

"As old as the hills," was Marie's cry on the blank. —St. Anthony's Messenger.

DETERMINATION OF PANHANDLE TO GET FEET ON THE GROUND

By Frank R. Jamison, Secretary-Manager Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce.

"Oh! You Panhandle Weather!" is right. L. P. Loomis in his splendid paper, the Canadian Record, further remarks, "The thermometer registered 80 degrees above zero last Monday, a remarkable day for February. The coldest registered this winter was nine degrees above zero," and gives as authority for his remark the record as made by U. S. Weather Observer, R. M. Hillard.

The Panhandle record will do to stand on anytime and we compliment Mr. Loomis on calling to the attention of his readers the records as made by the weather observer in his community. Every day and every hour people are becoming better informed on the affairs of the Panhandle and are learning its truths by having the same called to their attention.

If the papers down in this state would make use of the government records for their statements about this section, there would be more truth in the public press and unnecessary prejudice would not be set up in the minds of the reading public.

So far as we know there is no distinctly satisfactory place on this continent as far as climatic perfection is concerned. There are disagreeable days in the Panhandle and a pretty good percent of the same but according to the government reports we have more days of pleasant and agreeable weather in this portion of the state and less of the undesirable sort than any other portion of Texas and in fact can make a better showing than many of the so-called climatic resorts.

Every day people are making inquiry into the possibilities of this Panhandle country and are being furnished real and substantial information. Not the spectacular type that places a strain on the credulity of the inquirer but that which can be backed up by the bank statements in the financial realm and that which stands recorded in government observers' stations with relation to the climatic claims.

Having just returned from a solid week out over the Panhandle we observe in the minds of the people of this section of the country a determination to immediately get their feet on the ground and go to work. At Wellington last Monday night at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce a county fair movement was launched and 75 per cent of the required $10,000 was pledged and many had spoken for a part of the financial program who were not present at the dinner. It is not unreasonable nor untrue to say that the proposition has been put over.

Hempbill, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Caldwell, Hall, Doney, Randall, Schubert, Hale, Dean Smith, Dullman, and many other counties have already made arrangements for county fairs this fall and preparation has already begun in the minds of these people. They are planting with the fair idea in mind; they are making their poultry ready; breeding hogs and making selections from herds of cattle with the program of the fair in mind.

There is one great desire in the minds of all these Panhandle folks and that is for Amarillo to hold an all Panhandle exhibit to which could be conveyed the prize winning products of soil and herd. This will be a possibility in the realization of the coliseum, for which bonds have been voted in the city of Amarillo. When that is completed it will make possible an all Panhandle show that will attract attenders from all parts of the compass and will constitute one of the biggest dividend producers ever introduced into this city.

Agricultural conditions over this section are well nigh perfect. The wheat acreage in the Panhandle for the year 1921 figures 1,954,000. According to present indications another wheat crop is assured. There are yet some hazards to be encountered but it is assumed that the crop is 75 percent assured.

The snow which has fallen this week has been general. Drouth has not been overshadowing us but the late moisture afforded by this precipitation has banished what future fear that might prevail and also predicts that our winds will not be severe.

Owing to the sharp reduction of price in agricultural products the income of the farmer has been shortened very materially. Likewise the cattle

Regular Butter Factory

The fourteenth Holstein-Friesian cow to make over 30,000 lbs. of milk and the third to make over 1,400 lbs. of butter in a year has recently been developed at Carnation Stock Farm, Seattle, Wash. This six-year-old Holstein, Segis Pietertje Prospect 221846, not only made the world's record for milk in a year, 37,384.1 lbs. and 1,437.9 lbs. of butter, but a seven-day record of 33.13 lbs. butter. This yield is the highest, in milk, for any cow of any breed to date, and was made under the rules of Advanced Registry Division of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The new World's Record milk cow is of a strong constitution and pleasing individuality. Weighs 1,550 lbs. and took from 16 lbs. to 25 lbs. a day of a mixture of nine standard grains, with alfalfa hay, green crops, beet pulp and molasses. The bull and cow whose mating produced such a wonder were bred in New York State, but the daughter was born in Boise, Idaho, on the farm of George V. Leighton. The sire is King Segis 10th 71153, with 33 other daughters who have made Advanced Registry records; while the dam was Beauty Pietertje (Clothilde 148425), who has herself made two records, 23.7 lbs. and 27.9 lbs. of butter in seven days, so that Segis Pietertje Prospect is an example of inheritance of dairy capacity.

man has been hit hard in price reduction, but everybody has that spirit which is peculiar to the Panhandle and they have no thought of becoming discouraged and are now at work on future plans with that vigor and determination which will succeed.

This has been a great week likewise in the affairs of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce. Its sustenance and influence has been reassured from every angle. Its saving to the Panhandle in the past has been appreciated and its proffer of things for the immediate future bespeak a pleasant and profitable future.

REMEMBER to ask your grocer for Calumet Baking Powder and be sure that you get it—the Indian head on the orange label.

Then forget about bake day failures. For you will never have any. Calumet always produces the sweetest and most palatable foods.

And now remember, you always use less than of most other brands because it possesses greater leavening strength.

Now Remember—Always Use

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

There is no waste. If a recipe calls for one egg—two cups of flour—half a cup of milk—that's all you use. You never have to re-bake.

Contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities, is the product of the largest, most modern and sanitary Baking Powder Factories in existence.

Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

RAISES 100 SHEEP GETS $3 FOR WOOL

Claude, Texas, Feb. 12.—Two Claude men have been raising sheep as a side line and now are trying to figure out how many years it will take to use up all their capital if they continue to keep sheep under present conditions.

J. P. Reck hired a Mexican to shear 100 head, paying him $16. He shipped 502 pounds of wool to Kansas City markets and received a check for $3.13, thus losing $12.87 on his shearing alone.

He had fed these sheep on high priced feed all last winter, had turned over to them one of his best pastures and had given them careful attention. He now will have to sell 80 to 100 pounds of kaffir to pay the Mexican.

Ira Fleming, a neighbor of Reck, came out much better from his sheep raising experience. He paid $20 a head last March for his sheep, paid the Mexican $20 to shear them and cleared $20.55 by selling more than 800 pounds of wool.

With the United States trying to decrease the seas dry, with Bryan giving pointers to a G. O. P. President-elect, with the League of Nations growing too warm for Chile, with the short-fiber cotton crop declared too long, with heavy bonds being floated, with the sugar business of the world souring, with the British ordering the Irish to throw up their hands and drop their arms, is it any wonder Europe is framing up to whitewash the "Reds?"—Manila Bulletin.

The best way to elevate the stage is to begin with the audience.—Washington Post.

Art Exhibit of Canyon Normal is Appreciated Here

The Art Exhibit of the West Texas State Normal College at the Court House in the Red Cross Headquarters Room, Feb. 7-8, was attended by many of the citizens of Hereford, and especially by the school children the last day.

The object of the exhibition was not to show the progress of the students of the College in this department, but to enlighten the public on preliminary art study.

Miss A. Aiken, teacher of art in the State Normal, assisted by Miss Maysell Geary, a student of art, were in charge of the exhibition.

The first section consisted of simple beginning of lines and spacing, also designs of pottery, clay modeling by the coil process which the Indians still use.

A study was given of color theory, linoleum printing, art posters, both for advertising and artistic, Xmas cards, valentines in their various designs and harmony of color, etc. The next section showed landscape sketching of places of interest near Canyon, costume illustrations and designing, hand bags in batik and stenciled work. The next section treated interior decorations, spacing and harmonious color. What attracted most attention was the tied and dyed work consisting of ladies' wearing apparel, of which 20 or 30 beautiful designs were on display, speaking volumes for Miss Aiken and her students.—Hereford Brand.

High School Notes

The reason of many failures in life is the fact that some purpose is not formed and some goal set. That our young people may begin to think on these things, the following question was asked:

"Should you be thrown on your own resources what do you think you would choose for a livelihood?"

The responses from more than a hundred of our pupils in high school have been collected and are here given: They were given to us in confidence that we might be able to help them.

Teaching 18, ranching 15, bookkeeping 16, merchandising 8, painting 8, music 7, journalism 7, mechanics 6, writers 4, nursing 4, law 5, civil engineering 3, pharmacist 3, banking 3, missionary 2, railway clerk 1, house-keeping 2, traveling 1, barber 1, orator 1, telegrapher 1, electrician 1, home demonstrator 1, geologist 1, and a good wife 1.

The work of the schools should point our young people toward something in life and assist in the making of citizens.

To function properly the school must have the confidence of the pupils and their parents.

We feel that these confidences exist to a great extent as our pupils are almost all ambitious and willing workers. The older pupils are gentlemanly and ladylike in conduct and the smaller pupils lovable and easily controlled.

Only three months remain in which to secure the grades necessary for promotion. The teachers are striving to encourage every boy and girl in his work and thus prevent failures which are so disappointing to all concerned.

Rev. Hollifield held chapel for us Wednesday. The Washington exercises were held Wednesday.

The young citizens' club will be called together again this week.

Our library is improving rapidly. All patrons will be given an opportunity to help without any outlay of money.

Open day will be observed soon and a general get together meeting among patrons and teachers enjoyed.

Amarillo is claiming second in the basketball meet. These are the facts: Higgins, the winning team, played Canyon first and then Farwell, defeating Farwell by a much larger score than they defeated Canyon. She then defeated Amarillo, a fresh team with a very decided margin. We claim second place, with all courtesy to Amarillo.

Wayside Items

Only a few out to Sunday School last Sabbath owing to the inclement weather. Several inches of snow which when melted was equal to a rain.

Floyd Adams is gone to Kansas to visit relatives. The first visit back to his old home since he left, more than ten years ago.

Among the number around Wayside visiting the Buyers and Sellers Convention in Amarillo were Wm. Payne, his brother, J. C., Emile Schaeffer and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Miller from Fairview.

M. C. Sluder spent Saturday night and Sunday with his sister and family.

Mrs. Emma Payne.
J. T. McGehee, wife, Lowe and Homer from Canyon, spent the week end at home near Wayside.

Mrs. W. H. Hamblen and Doris returned home Sunday with J. T. McGehee.

Stork Special: Born to George and Texie Evans Schaeffer, a son, Feb. 15. Mrs. Fannie Evans from Kenna, N. M., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Schaeffer.

Some think this the best prospect for wheat in years. It is looking fine. Farmers are sowing oats and spring wheat.—Schaeffer Brothers have 1400 acres in wheat.

Mrs. Emma Payne and Doyle are here visiting in Canyon.

Campbell Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stratton went to the Buyers and Sellers Convention at Hereford Monday. Mr. Stratton purchased a fine yearling bull.

The Dowlen children have returned to school after an absence of several weeks due to illness.

Robert Stratton spent Sunday with Harley Bures.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Allison spent Sunday at the O. S. Brown home.

Mr. and Mrs. Stratton and family were guests at the Gordon-Cummings home Sunday.

Celebrates 81st Birthday

Sunday the 13th was Grandma Zachary's 81st birthday. Grandma born, reared and married in Alabama. After her marriage she came to Texas; first located in Kaufman county, but later moved to Frog Creek, Clay county. When her husband died in Clay county twenty-one years ago, Grandma moved to Walters, Oklahoma. Later she came to Randall county with her sons, Eugene and Henry. Grandma has not only raised a large family of her own, but has also raised and educated seven adopted children.

Her daughters, Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Eugene Zachary invited all of Grandma's old Clay County friends and acquaintances to come and give a big birthday surprise. Everyone willingly agreed not to give Grandma a hint. "I didn't know a thing about it." How her old face beamed with pleasure as she greeted and blessed each of her friends! And though the tears fell—they were tears of joy.

Even "Old Sol" entered into the spirit and shone surprisingly bright. Every one had brought something for the magnificent dinner on the ground, and after the faintly blis had said the Lord's Prayer in blessing all "fell to" and helped themselves.

Mrs. Bob Stratton presented a huge white birthday cake that was equal to the occasion with Grandma's initials and age upon it.

Those who helped celebrate the occasion and sang the old-fashioned songs feel that a Benediction crowned them all. Some of the seventy-three present came from 25 and 30 miles. Those present were: Bob Stratton and family, Jack Burrus and family, Mrs. A. M. Smith and daughters, and Chas. Stratton, wife and son, all from Canyon; Will White and family, Mr. Schaeffer and family, Mr. Miller and family, Mr. Wilker and family from Happy, also Grandma Henderson.

Down-Town Bible Class

Ted P. Hollifield—Teacher.

Last Sunday was an uncertain day, but we had 49 present at our class-meet. We are pulling for fifty on next Sunday. It looks that way now if the minds of many do not change between now and Sunday. A friend has said when we get fifty on the roll and present at once he will give us a five dollar bill. We have told him to send along the little "William" and we will adopt him into our household at once. Fellows, it is up to us to be there next Sunday. We have 46 enrolled. If all will come we have the number pledged necessary to make the 50. Meet us next Sunday at 9:15 a. m., at the Olympic Theatre.—Reporter.

Attending Buyers and Sellers

A large number of citizens of Randall county are attending the Buyers and Sellers meeting in Amarillo this week. The convention closes today.

THE DISTINCTIVE LINES

We carry bring more people to our store than any other one thing we know of. The line of

are the best in the world, and those who buy here bear out this statement. The people who look for good merchandise with a standard of value beyond question are always satisfied with Steadfast and Selby Shoes, Red Ball Ribbed Footwear, La Parte Piece Goods, Cadet Hosiery, Kieth and Stetson Hats, Ide Shirts and Collars, and Town Talk Caps.

Many other lines we carry are just as deserving of mention as those which we have mentioned, but space does not permit of it.

Now the question is, what kind of merchandise do you want? Do you want the best? Of course you do. Buy it from us then.

Capt. Tilson Writes News

Plainview, Texas, Feb. 17, 1921. Editor News:

I note in your issue of the 10th inst. a copy of a letter from our Land Commissioner, Hon. J. T. Robinson, in reference to the land excess in Randall and many other West Texas counties.

He refers to a bill which I introduced in the 26th legislature, which was designed and as Mr. Robinson believed as well as myself, would relieve and equitable adjust this excess. The provision of this bill were that this excess should be given to the school fund and the parties who had it fenced or under control should have the preference right to purchase this land at $1.00 per acre and interest from the time it was authorized to be sold.

This would have put several millions of dollars into the school fund and absolutely settled and quieted all titles to this land and saved multiplied thousands of dollars that will be spent in litigation and probably valuable time.

Mr. Robinson states "that a Representative from West Texas, more forceful in representing matters than the Representative from Hale county, succeeded in defeating the bill."

The facts are simply these: I introduced the bill and got it favorably reported to the House from the committee. The date for consideration in the House was set. This, of course, became known, and very soon Austin was flooded with lobbyists from all over Texas who had large quantities of this land under control and who were determined that the bill should not pass.

When the bill came up in the House, two and probably other Representatives from West Texas antagonized the bill and succeeded in having it referred to the committee. Then these big land owners, cattlemen, lawyers, etc., came before the committee and pleaded for them to give an unfavorable report. There being no one else in the Legislature who had espoused this cause except myself, I urged Mr. Robinson, who knew more about conditions of this sort and had a better idea as to the remedies needed than any man in Texas and who was unselfishly doing all he could to relieve the situation and avoid litigation, to come before the committee and give all the facts connected with the matter. This he did in a very able and forceful manner, but in spite of his able representation of the facts, and my earnest plea for a just and equitable settlement of the vexing problem, a majority of the committee heeded the pleas of the big land man and cattle man and reported the measure back to the House unfavorable. Thus leaving the people no other remedy than to fight it out through the courts.

I refer to this fact to show that it was not the more forceful representation of the matter by another representative, but the great influence brought to bear by these distinguished lobbyists.

The people for whom I was fighting seemed to have no other representatives there except Mr. Robinson and myself.

Mr. Robinson suggests "that we will never have this matter remedied until we send men to the Legislature who are in sympathy and will try to adjust this matter." This is equivalent to saying that if we ever expect to get relief on this line it is folly to expect men whose bread and meat depends upon litigation to bring it about.

Very respectfully,
T. J. TILSON.
Ex-Representative.

Care of Manure

The man who keeps drawing on his bank account and never makes any deposit will some day be notified that his account is overdrawn or will have his check returned with the statement, "No funds."

But year after year the same man may have been drawing on his land without adding anything to it. His drafts calls for bales of cotton, bushels of corn or tons of hay. He may not notice for a time that his drafts are being discounted; the bales of cotton or bushels of corn not being as great as expected. His funds are being exhausted and he needs to make a few deposits.

Now is the time to prepare to make a heavy deposit in this farm bank. The live stock are to be cared for during the winter. Save the manure and return of the soil a part of plant food removed by the growing of the crops. This will add to the account and instead of having your check discounted there is a possibility of your having them sold at a premium.

The fertilizing value of manure varies with the animal and feed. The condition of the animal has something to do with the amount of nitrogen contained in the manure. Fat cattle do not digest as large a per cent of the nitrogen in the feed as others. A cow giving milk digests more of the protein than does the dry cow. The more concentrated the feed the greater per cent of nitrogen will the manure contain.

But a great deal more depends upon the care of the manure up to the time it is put on the land. When piled up loosely and exposed to the weather the solid portion loses from thirty to forty per cent of its nitrogen. The liquid portion under the same condition losing as high as eighty per cent of its value. When trampled and sheltered this loss is reduced to fifteen per cent. If closely compacted and covered with soil the loss may be reduced still lower.

Horse manure being coarser than that from cattle, ferments more easily and loses thereby a part of its nitrogen. It can be improved by mixing with cow manure and straw or leaves. Straw or leaves or even saw dust should be used in the stables as bedding so as to absorb the liquid portions of the manure. This is richer in the three main elements of plant food, nitrogen, potash and phosphorus, than the solid part.

The amount of manure that ought to be obtained from each head of live stock fed during the four winter months is from one to five tons for a horse and for each cow from two to three and a half, one-fourth of the latter being liquid.

Great care should be used in putting manure on the farm that no troublesome weed seeds are scattered with it. Fungous diseases are also carried into fields by means of manure. Especially is this the case when straw for bedding has been used. The straw often contains the spores of certain fungous diseases.

Several years ago some farmers had a number of ear loads of stable manure shipped from Camp Logan. This contained a great deal of straw and litter which was spread upon the land in great quantities. The next spring they had a thick stand of Johnson grass. It is never safe to use such manure. It has often been so badly handled that the fertilizing value is so low that it does not pay for its handling. And the danger from scattering weed pests on your farm it too great.

It is safer and more profitable to raise enough live stock to use all the feed stuff you raise. Return the manure to your land and thereby build up the fertility of your own farm. The live stock will bring a better return than the feed stuff, if sold in the market.—C. A. Bennick, Oakwood.

What is Efficiency?

Dr. Frank Crane defines it thusly: It is doing things, not wishing you could do them, dreaming about them, or wondering if you can do them.

It is the power to learn how to do things by doing them, as learning to walk by walking, or learning to sell goods by selling them.

It is knowing how to apply theory to practice.

It is the trick of turning defeat into experience and using it to achieve success.

It is the ability to mass one's personality at any given time or place; it is skill in quick mobilization of one's resources.

It is making everything that is past minister to the future.

It is the elimination of the three microbes of weakness—regret, worry and fear.

It is self-reliance clothed with modesty.

It is persistence plus with politeness. It is the hand of steel in the velvet glove.

It is alertness, presence of mind, readiness to adjust one's self to the unexpected.

It is sacrificing personal feelings to the will to win.

It is hinging the ego against the combination of events—luck, fate custom and prejudice—until they give away.

It is amassing the me against the universe.

It is the sum of three quantities—purpose, practice and patience.

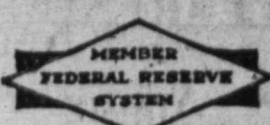

It is the measure of a man, the real size of his soul.

It is the ability to use one's passions, likes, dislikes, habits, experience, education, mind, body and heart—and not to be used by these things.

It is self-mastery, concentration, vision and common sense.

It is the sum total of all that's in a man.

Germany seems to be anticipating as much trouble with France's bill as France had with Germany's Bill.

Leave it to a Leverless

IF YOU have a tractor, you don't want to be bothered with a horse harrow unless you have a real good one that is still serviceable.

The International Leverless Disk Harrow is designed especially for tractor operation. It is operated entirely from the seat of the tractor—and without levers. To secure the proper angle, the operator merely backs his tractor, which automatically determines the angle of both the front and rear harrows. The gangs remain at whatever angle they are set. To straighten them it is only necessary for the operator to pull a cord which is tied to the tractor seat. This simple operation automatically straightens the gangs so that the harrow will roll like a wagon. Consequently, when you come to a piece of ground that you don't care to cultivate, it's the simplest thing in the world to straighten the gangs and drive right over—you don't have to go around.

International Leverless Disk Harrows are very rugged in construction, being built for tractor work, so if you want a durable disk harrow and want your harrowing done efficiently, leave it to a Leverless. We sell them.

The game toward the conclusion was unusually fast and exciting, with fouls being made frequently. When the whistle stopped the speeding men the resulting score (70 to 30) was not one that would make the Plainview students joyful. Their athletes were a good-looking bunch in practice, but their showing was very poor.

SKETCHES FROM "THE CREATION"
The College Chorus rendered "The Marvellous Work" and "The Heavens Are Telling," two selections from Haydn's "The Creation" at the chapel period on Saturday, February 12.

Miss Ada Clark, Mr. J. J. Powell and Mr. C. W. Warwick sang the solo parts, Miss Clark singing soprano and Mr. Powell the tenor, and Mr. Warwick the bass. The rendition of the solo parts, together with the chorus work, was commendable. Canyon is to be congratulated upon having soloists and chorus capable of presenting so pretentious a piece of work. "The Creation" is perhaps the greatest production of Charles Joseph Haydn. It was begun in 1794 and produced on March 19, 1799, when the author was in his sixty-sixth year. The words were adapted by Haydn from Milton's "Paradise Lost," but Haydn thought the text too long, and, not being thoroughly acquainted with English, had it translated by Baron Von Swieten.

"The Creation" will be rendered in the near future under the direction of Mr. Wallace R. Clark. A chorus of seventy voices and an orchestra of twenty pieces with the soloists as named above will take part in its rendition. The proceeds from the performance will be applied to the Gregg Cousins Memorial Fund.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The collection of relics and historical manuscripts of former days in the Panhandle which was undertaken by the Panhandle Historical Society has begun.

A silver spur and a Mexican sombrero were received from Tony Vaughn of Kress, Texas. The following is a letter received from him at the same time:

"The spur with its mate is said to have been found on the body of a Mexican somewhere in South Texas, along the Rio Grande. The spur is in the same condition that it was when presented to me in 1917 by a transient cowboy known as "Cheese." He asked me to take care of the spur because of its history. The mate which was broken when found has been lost. "The hat is a Mexican 'sombbrero' given me by the man who wore it on the border between the New and Old Mexico in 1910."

Friends of Miss Mary Dorcas Cullum have received announcement of her marriage, at her home in Dallas, February the 23, to Mr. Richard Coleman of Friona. Miss Cullum came to us from Mineral Wells High School only a few short years ago. After completing our second year college work, she went to Friona to teach. Since that time she has almost completed her degree work with us. Miss Cullum started in the Home Economic Department of our College.

On last Monday afternoon from 3:00 o'clock to 5:30, Misses Edna Graham and Tennessee Malone entertained at Cousins Hall with a Valentine party. After the guests had indulged in a few games of forty-two, Misses Ada Clark and Charlotta Cheney delighted them with a short musical program. Miss Clark's voice had its usual charm.

and Miss Cheney never handled her "liddle bow" more skillfully. The refreshing close of the evening's entertainment emphasized the cordiality of the hostesses.

The Town Band

A brass band is a public institution. A brass band is always the biggest and best recommendation a town can have.

A brass band in a town is a standing invitation to come to that town. A brass band is the best business getter a town ever had.

A brass band is the first thing necessary to get the business men of the town joined in team work to promote the general interest of the town.

A brass band is the best investment the merchants of a town ever made. A brass band is a good investment for the doctor, lawyer, manufacturer.

A brass band is the best investment the contractor and the liveryman. A brass band is the best thing for the property owner of a town.

A brass band is the best thing for the members of a band that could be imagined. A brass band makes its members healthy, vigorous, active, progressive, enterprising and useful.

A brass band makes its members the most popular men in town. A brass band is welcomed as a blessing by the pastor of the church who wants innocent and elevating forms of entertainment for the people.

A brass band is the source of delightful entertainment for the ladies of the town, who weary of monotony so often, when there is no music.

A brass band is to the children—well, it is what they want—and they are better children if they have the delightful inspiration of a brass band in their own town. It is an encouragement to them to be good, to be more contented and useful at home, and it quickens them to have better ambition and higher aspirations.

A brass band is the one institution in a town that will make it grow, and grow.

A brass band is a public blessing. A brass band will keep the town on the map.—Exchange.

"Stop My Paper"

"Stop my paper" is the message reaching the editorial sanctum from a displeased subscriber. And for what? The subscriber has received a letter, written as courteously as the editor knows, advising that his subscription expired January 1. Such a notice seems to have been taken almost as an insult.

Neither the Dallas News, the Star-Telegram, nor any other metropolitan newspaper, takes the trouble to notify one. When the subscription expires, his paper is stopped. It is so with the reputable magazines, although they usually do mail out a notice of expiration, soliciting a renewal.

It is a peculiar habit of human nature that such abrupt treatment on the part of a metropolitan paper should not arouse the slightest resentment, while if the "home" paper says "your subscription has expired, we hope your indignation impels the subscriber to will continue the paper," a righteous resent such request as an insult.

Now isn't that absurd? The Record is trying to conduct its business on just as sound a basis as does the Dallas News. As a courtesy to its readers, these expiration notices are mailed out.

Subscriptions are cash in advance. This is in accordance with a ruling of the Postoffice Department. It is also, however, not one subscriber has been dropped if he indicated that he wanted The Record to continue coming to him. Not a few have said, "We want The Record, and will pay for it in a month or six weeks."

A subscriber must indicate, however, that he wants The Record if he expects to receive it after his time expires.—Vernon Record.

Explained

Two Florida darkeys were watching a balloon ascension. The younger darkey looked up at the big bag in amazement and then said:

"I wonder what keeps that balloon up in the air that-a-way?"

"Well," replied the older darkey, "it is caused by various causes. Sometimes it is caused by one cause, and then again sometimes it is caused by another cause."

A Kansas banker has warned farmers that wheat may fall to $1.25 a bushel, and this is regarded almost as humorously as was the man who a few years ago predicted that it would rise to $1 a bushel.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Stand Together

We are all friends and neighbors around here. We know each other and when we meet we say Hello Bill, or Dick, or Tom, or Harry, or whatever it is, and we say also, how is little Katy getting along with her measles, and why in blazes wasn't you out to church last Sunday?—When one gets sick, some of the rest of us go out and buy flowers or fruit or something, or go around and pat him on the back and cheer him up. And if he or his family are in trouble of any kind, we are all broke up about it, and do anything we can to help along.

And that is as it should be in a little city like this. All that kindly, brotherly, neighborly spirit goes a long way towards knocking off the sharp or rough edges.

Let us all bear this in mind, continually, and if we do, it will be much better than if we get peevish and grouchy and try to make a lurch off of each others ears.

If any fellow from the outside comes in here and goes to saying mean things about a citizen, man or woman, we'd eat him up like an oyster on the half shell. We wouldn't stand for it a minute. Then why should we ever say mean things about one another? There's nothing in that, at all. Cut out his "rough" stuff, and shake hands.—Hedley Informer.

Worth More

Tattler: An impossible person approached the secretary of his club. "I want your advice, sir," he said. "I have been deliberately insulted by one of the members. I was sitting in the smoking room when Colonel came up to me and said, without preamble, 'Sir, I will give you one hundred dollars if you will resign your membership in this club.' Now what ought I to do in the matter?" "It is perfectly obvious, sir," said the relieved secretary, with alacrity. "Hold on for a better offer."

Everybody

"Everywoman" is by no means a foreign character, but rather lives in Canyon. Come and see who she is. The versatile Violet Heming portrays her in realistic and appealing style.

If you are not in the habit of going to picture shows often, this is one time that you should break over. "Everywoman" has met with universal approval and praise upon the legitimate stage and on the screen as very few plays have. It is a heart-classic.

All women in this play were selected for their ability as superb actresses as well as for their beauty. Each man was chosen because he could make the character he represents live before your eyes. Among these players are Violet Heming, Wanda Hawley, Bebe Daniels, Theodore Roberts, and Monte Blue.

"Every Woman"

Is among the greatest pictures ever screened. And the Management wants everybody to see it. We will, therefore, show this Master-Feature at the regular price—15 cents and 30 cents.
