

CLEAN UP DAY IN CANYON NEXT WEDNESDAY

PALO DURO POST COMPLETES PLANS FOR CELEBRATING ARMISTICE DAY; PROGRAM STARTS EARLY IN MORNING

All Ex-Service Men Are Urged to Take Part in the Celebration Both in Canyon and at Amarillo November 11th.

Armistice Day will be observed in Canyon Friday with a celebration which starts at the American Legion Hall "very early in the morning," stated Post Commander H. C. Gamble yesterday morning. Committees have been at work during the past few days whipping affairs into shape, and a grand time is expected by the two hundred ex-service men of Randall county.

The Legion building will be the scene of activities from 6:00 o'clock until 9:30 a. m. Breakfast will be served, a program given with stunts of various kinds, and a dance for those who enjoy this pastime. Mr. Gamble wishes to urge that all ex-service men attend this program whether they are members of the local Post or not. All are requested to come in uniform, but those not having uniforms will be welcomed in civies—all the gang is wanted.

At 9:30 cars will start to Amarillo. Transportation will be furnished those not having a way. The Palo Duro Post is especially anxious to have all members go to Amarillo in order that the town make a big showing.

The Amarillo program starts at 10:30 in front of the Legion Hall. This will continue until 5 minutes of 12 when all activities will stop. From 12:00 to 12:02 every person in the United States will stand in prayer as the Unknown Dead is buried in Arlington Cemetery with appropriate services. The request for the two minutes of prayer comes from President Harding, and will be observed by every American Legion Post and patriotic organization in the United States.

At 12:03 a parade of all ex-service men will start on the streets of Amarillo. Canyon expects to have the largest delegation of any Panhandle town. The Canyon people will return in time for the football game at the Normal grounds.

Mr. Gamble states that members of the Post are planning some other activities for early Friday morning which are not ready to be announced, but of which the people of the city will probably be aware in due time.

Amarillo White Capers in Randall Co.

The first white capping stunt in Northwest Texas was pulled off Friday night by Amarillo parties when J. M. Dendy, proprietor of a barber school was lured into a car by two young women, driven six miles south of town into Randall county where the car met five masked men who took out the barber and gave him a whipping.

The officers obtained a confession Saturday from two maniacs, and on this information arrested five Amarillo barbers, one of them being president of the local union and another secretary. The union denies having anything to do with the whipping, although the officers are being held for the job.

Officers working on the case state that it was not a case of charge of immorality on the part of the victim, but the fact that the victim was doing barber work in his barber school more cheaply than the union shops of Amarillo.

The five men and two women are held under $1,000 bonds in both Randall and Potter counties, two cases being filed against each of the seven participants. Those arrested are: John Short, president of the Amarillo local union, Walter Wilson, secretary of the local organization, R. R. Nation, H. S. Barker, and A. B. Scanlon, and the two women, Grace Davis and Daisy Maddox.

R. A. Bellah left Tuesday for Decatur on business. Mrs. Bellah accompanied him and will visit at Hamblen.

RED CROSS FIFTY ANNUAL ROLL CALL WILL START NOVEMBER 11—LEGION MEN WILL HAVE CHARGE IN COUNTY

The Fifth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross starts in America Armistice Day and will end on the 25th of the month.

This is an opportunity offered to the people of America to show their appreciation of the excellent work done by this great organization during the war, and to extend to national headquarters our pledge of faith for the work that is expected to be done by the Red Cross during the coming year.

The Roll Call in Randall County will be in charge of the American Legion. At a meeting held Sunday afternoon, members pledged themselves to work in the county to put over the Roll Call and enlist the people of Randall County who are so greatly interested in this organization. The ex-service men greatly appreciate what the Red Cross accomplished for them during the war and gladly will give of their time and money to support the organization for the coming year.

It costs but $1.00 to hold an annual membership in the Red Cross. One-half of this amount will remain in the treasury of the Randall County Red Cross Chapter to do local work when emergencies arise. The other half is used by national headquarters to the various activities which the Red Cross is undertaking.

Renew your membership with the Red Cross this year when the Legion boys visit you.

CANYON HIGH TAKES ANOTHER THRILLING GAME

FLOYDADA HIGH IS VICTIM IN FAST GAME HERE SATURDAY.

One Touchdown Only Score, Made by Canyon, Early in Game—Canyon is Yet Undefeated.

The Canyon high school football team triumphed over the Floydada delegation Saturday by a score of 7 to 0. This was undoubtedly the best team Canyon has been up against this season, but the locals acquitted themselves admirably and proved beyond a doubt that Canyon High has a great football team—a team which in a few weeks will be the victor in District One.

The game was the best seen in Canyon this year. It was an extremely hard-fought battle but throughout the entire conflict harmony reigned between the opponents and not a single penalty was inflicted for unnecessary roughness or unfair tactics.

Floydada had such a list of fake plays that it would take a memory expert to keep up with them. However, they managed to make good gains on a few of them and on two different occasions they parked the ball within two yards of Canyon's goal. But on the eight downs that Floydada had two yards from our goal they exerted themselves in vain and frantic efforts to penetrate Canyon's impenetrable line. On each occasion Canyon took the ball on downs and punted.

Some of the most brilliant forward passes of the season were completed by Canyon. Clyde Moore at right end completed three passes for gains of twenty-five, fifty, and twenty yards respectively and on the fifty yard gain the ball was deposited three yards from Floydada's goal. Line plunges by McGee and Brown carried it over in two trials for the first touchdown, made in the first seven minutes. Brown kicked goal.

Black, substituting for Moore at right end, when Moore was injured and taken from the game, completed two passes for long gains.

Service, substituting for A. Key at left end, snatched a pass out of a maze of opponents for a twenty yard gain.

A. Key also completed a wonderful pass for a thirty-five yard gain. Key was injured early in the game when he was hurled and was hurt again in the third quarter and was taken from the game.

The backfield, aided by our superb line made plunge after plunge for good gains and the long, swift end runs were splendid. Moore at Quarter was unerring in judgment and sure at safety. McGee at full was a veritable battering ram on the line plunges and ran faultless interference. Brown and Key at right and left half, played their usual swift and brilliant game. Exceedingly swift in flashy end runs and faultless on defense these two players add greatly to Canyon's team.

If we were to praise our line as much as they deserve we could easily exhaust the vocabulary of a Webster. Wooten, Callahan, Ridgway, Todd and Covington bore the brunt of Floydada's attacks staunchly, never giving away, and always going forward on defense. They are the keystone of Canyon High's team and each and every one of them are worthy of this distinction. We are glad that these important positions are filled by such trustworthy and unyielding players.

It is needless to say that Canyon High is proud of her team as we have tried to make that plain frequently and when they return from the battle (Continued on last page)

SIMMONS COLLEGE TAKES HARD GAME FROM BUUFFALOES

SIMMONS MADE 1 TOUCHDOWN FIRST QUARTER, 3 IN LAST.

Normal Put up a Great Battle Most of the Way Through—Oklahoma Here Friday.

The Buffaloes were defeated Saturday at Abilene by Simmons College, 28 to 0. The score stood 7 to 0 until the last quarter and judging from the respective abilities of the two teams, it should have remained this way. Luck was against the Buffaloes in the final period, resulting in three touchdowns for Simmons.

To start the game Simmons kicked off. The Buffaloes kicked the ball back, then Simmons gradually worked it up the field to the ten-yard line. The Normal held them for downs, but when Studor started to punt it down the field, it went sideways out of bounds. On Simmons' first down Canyon was penalized 5 yards for off-side. This put the Abilene boys within 3 yards of the goal line, and they carried the pig-skin over on a line buck, for their first touchdown.

Simmons kicked again and the ball went from one team to the other in the middle of the field until a pass from Burson to Mitchell was completed, making a 30-yard gain for the Buffaloes. Then Burson went through their line for 25 yards more gain, placing the ball within 5 yards of the goal line, and there the first quarter ended.

Second Quarter

The Abilene boys came back strong in the second quarter. They held the Buffaloes for their downs and the ball went over. Simmons punted back to the middle of the field and neither side threatened the other's goal during this period.

Third Quarter

The third quarter seemed to be a punting match. In the last half of this period Jenkins went in for Studor and Key did some wonderful punting for the Buffaloes. Neither side scored, and each held the other for downs.

Fourth Quarter

When the fourth period began, Simmons had the pig-skin in the center of the field. They carried it to the 10-yard line and the Normal team gained possession of it on downs, but again, when they attempted a punt, a Simmons man blocked it and knocked it back across the line, and Jacobsno, Simmons' left end, fell on it, making their second touchdown.

About the middle of the fourth quarter Boulton went in for Lemond, Scott for Key, at right half, and Terry for Studor at quarterback. The Abilene boys carried the ball down near the 30-yard line on backs and around the ends, and then took it over on passes for the other two touchdowns. Simmons played about 20 men altogether during the game.

Oklahoma Here Friday

Probably the hardest battle of the season to be seen on the local grounds comes Friday afternoon with the Alva, Okla., Normal.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE WILL PUT ON REAL CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN IN CITY; WOMEN INVITED TO NEXT LUNCHEON

Dr. S. L. Ingham Will Head Campaign to Give Canyon a Genuine Cleaning Up on Wednesday November 16th.

"Clean Up Canyon," will be the slogan for every citizen of this town next Wednesday, November 16.

The business houses will not open until 1 o'clock p. m. in order that every man in town may put in a full half day's work in putting the town in proper order.

Trash, weeds and rubbish will be raked up and burned.

Tin cans, old machinery and stuff that won't burn will be hauled to the dumping grounds.

Canyon will be put in first class condition so far as cleanliness is concerned.

Dr. S. L. Ingham started the move at the Randall County Commercial League luncheon held last Tuesday. He suggested that we quit talking about doing it, and get busy doing something. Things started to take form right then, and the doctor was elected generalissimo of the clean up campaign with authority to put into operation such plans that he might devise.

The first thing suggested was a big luncheon next Tuesday. The women of the town will be invited to that luncheon. The thirty-four men present promised to be back next Tuesday, bring their wives and invite some one who was not present Tuesday. It is expected that at least eighty will attend the luncheon next Tuesday. The plans for the big day will be thoroughly worked out.

Dr. Ingham has divided the town into sections and appointed men to see that the work is done in the respective sections. After one section is cleaned up, the squads of workers are expected to go and help in other places where there are not so many workers. The dividing line of the town runs north and south through the center of the court house. Workers are expected to cover their particular sections running east and west from these starting points.

R. McGee and Dr. Black will look after territory north of the railroad and to the west of the center of the court house; H. C. Roffey and W. J. Hinkle, the territory to the east to the highway.

Between Canyon and Cedar streets—west, Jim Hood, J. P. Hicks, W. A. Jennings; East, C. M. Ackerman, I. C. Jenkins.

Between Cedar and Houston—West, S. B. McClure, E. W. Reid, J. A. Cheat-ham; East, C. L. Condry, W. J. Flesher.

Between Houston and Evelyn—West J. M. Redfearn, A. N. Henson, B. T. Johnson; East, T. C. Thompson, L. F. Sheffy, Fred H. Ives.

Between Evelyn and Chestnut—West Harvey Cash, W. J. Findley, C. W. Wrawick; East, D. A. Shirley, R. A. Campbell, R. E. Foster.

Between Chestnut and Walnut—West, W. J. Wooten, B. S. Livingston, W. F. Jameson; East, Travis Shaw, Claude Hays, D. T. Tarlton.

South of Walnut—West, Chas. Harter, G. G. Foster, John Knight; East Dave Thomas, W. C. LeGard.

East of the highway—Henry Bradford, Ray Daniel, W. H. Morelock, Ray Campbell, W. P. Bishop.

Those appointed captains are urged to attend the luncheon Tuesday and to see Dr. Ingham for any information they do not understand.

Judge J. N. Browning Died in Amarillo

Judge James N. Browning died Wednesday morning at his home in Amarillo, passing away while in his sleep.

Judge Browning has been identified with Panhandle affairs for years. He was lieutenant governor of the state, and for eight years was a most efficient Judge of the District Court of this district. He has many friends in Canyon who were deeply grieved when the news came yesterday of his death.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church in Amarillo.

SUNRISE PRAYER MEETING

On Armistice Day the churches of Canyon will hold a Sunrise Prayer meeting at the Baptist church, beginning at 7 o'clock. We are hoping that there will be a good number of people who will attend this service of prayer.

While the Nation's mind is turned toward Disarmament and will celebrate the world's greatest victory let the Church turn its thoughts toward God in Thanksgiving for such a blessing and in Supplication for a still greater victory for Right against Might.

Come to the Baptist Church at 7 o'clock next Friday morning, Nov. 11, that we might in a united way accomplish these purposes.

Johnny Price of Amarillo was a caller here Sunday.

SENATOR WATSON CHARGES

Zero hour has arrived with Senator Watson, and his full battery of slime, filth and shame opened fire upon the conduct of our army in France. While our men were fighting with real powder and real hell in France, Watson was in America doing all he could against the cause of war—that is, all he could and keep out of prison. He boastfully states that men were sent to jail for no other cause than saying some of the things he dared print and circulate in this country during the war.

Watson charges that men were hanged in France without trial. A pang of agony will pierce the heart of every mother whose son fell in battle and was not identified, lest her son be one of those supposed victims of American atrocity. Watson will be able to collect a vast volume of "evidence." Unfortunately there were a lot of men forced into the army by the sheriff's orders, and together with a goodly percent of German sympathizers, they will secretly be able to keep the senator's mouth running for several weeks. None of this "evidence" will stand up in court, but the damage to various individuals will be lasting.

The great demand for men and women to do war work unfortunately drew into the army's rank both the fit and the unfit. This is true not only of the army itself and the officials at Washington, but more particularly with welfare workers. The senator may attempt to drag into the mud the character of the army nurse. He will not succeed with those thousands of men who were tenderly nursed back to life, health and strength after the horrors of trench warfare, the hell and misery of shot and shell.

The war will be the subject of congressional investigation for the next fifty years. Unfortunately America allows its officials to while away valuable time in such unprofitable pastime, these men knowing that nothing will be accomplished.

Every Texan should visit Austin and witness for himself the disgraceful situation existing upon the campus of the university. Most Panhandle swine breeders have respectable pens for their fine herds—Texas does not furnish as good quarters to 4,000 young men and women seeking to get an education in our university. The whole situation is a disgrace to the state. The individual voter is to blame. We have been content to allow our legislators only $5.00 per day for their services. Only the unfit or the patriotic will attempt the job, and consequently there are more unfit than patriotic citizens in the legislature. We have delegated an unusual opportunity to our legislators. Are these men carrying out the will of a majority, for the people of Texas in housing 4,000 of our best young people in wooden shacks no better than Panhandle farmers build for their hogs? We hardly believe so. We have simply neglected looking into the works of our delegates. We believe the state's primary business is the education of the youth. If the state is to remain in the education business, let it do so judiciously. Let it not be ashamed of the job it is trying to put over. Certainly we cannot point with pride at our university, and tell our neighboring states what a great thing we are doing for higher education in Austin when we have such miserable equipment on the university campus.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Sunday School is going to support a little girl who is in the Methodist Orphanage at Waco. Her name is Frances Strougand. She is the daughter of a Methodist preacher. Her father has been dead three years and she is now 11 years of age. Mr. Fleisher described her by saying, "She has brown hair, blue eyes, and a sweet smile." Frances is a talented girl. She plays the saxophone in the band and is a saxophone soloist. In addition to this, she is a wonderful reader. The Sunday School was delighted when told that she would come for a visit next summer.

A Christmas committee has been appointed. They are the following: Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Hastings, Mrs. Warwick, Mrs. Hunt, and Miss Yocom. They are

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE PRIMER

Reduced to its simplest form, the main idea behind the conference for the limitation of armament is to head off a war in the Pacific.

Right along with this, and equally important, is the desire to put an end to the race between rival navies of the world for first place.

The original suggestion was to hold a disarmament conference, but it was soon realized that to propose even a reduction of armament without first removing the principal causes of friction between the powers would prove a mere waste of time.

So the idea of a "Pacific conference" was born—the Pacific, and particularly the Far East being the recognized new war-breeding region of the world.

The Far East is the new trouble-center because Asia offers stupendous opportunities in the way of trade and both China and Russia are powerless to defend themselves against mighty nations.

China has split herself up into two main factions—northern and southern—each with a "president" and many of her provinces have proclaimed their autonomy. Underdeveloped, rich in natural resources beyond conception, she is ripe fruit and good picking for territory-grabbing, or concession-hungry neighbors.

Siberia, too, rich in the natural resources which can supply the raw products so essential to an industrial nation, is an open invitation to foreign exploitation.

For twenty-one years the United States has stood by her own policy of the "open door," or Hay doctrine, meaning Asia should not be swallowed by any nation or group of nations, but should retain her independence, as is, and should keep her door open to the commerce of all countries alike and without favoritism.

Though every great power endorsed the Hay doctrine when first promulgated in 1900, some of them have utterly failed to live up to it in practice.

Japan, since 1914 especially, has been conspicuous for her failure, not only to respect her pledge, regarding the "open door," but to live up to the terms of her treaty guaranteeing the integrity of China with Great Britain as well.

Japan took over all German rights in Shantung and has consistently broadened them since 1914, refusing to give them back to China, despite the fact that China, too helped fight Germany. Japan will leave Shantung only on condition.

Japan is in Manchuria where her concessions are many and where she owns outright the South Manchurian Railway. Though in Chinese territory, China can use this railroad only by consent of Japan.

Japan is in Siberia and is pushing on into Mongolia; she is in possession of the northern half of the island of Saghalien, belonging to Russia; her troops control the whole length of the Chinese Eastern Railway and are the law of Vladivostok; she is in Fukien province, at Port Arthur, in the Liaoting peninsula and in Korea—annexed in 1910 after successful wars with China and Russia.

Yap, a tiny island in the Pacific, is the strategic center of communications between the United States and the Far East. Japan claims a mandate over it by virtue of a ruling of the supreme council sitting at Paris.

To many of these Japanese adventures the United States is opposed, particularly those which violate the doctrine of the "open door."

Great Britain, and particularly the British overseas dominions—Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa—are fearful lest their interests in the Pacific be infringed upon, and with America, see many things eye to eye.

Britons in the Far East wish to see the Anglo-Japanese alliance denounced in favor of a more general agreement regarding the Far East and to which the United States would be an important party.

They claim Japan has not kept her word with regard to the "open door" or with Great Britain with regard to the alliance. They fear Japan's secret intentions in Asia and what she might do in India.

A Pacific conference, British Dominions hope, will serve to clear up the atmosphere of suspicion in the Orient and pave the way for the denunciation of an outworn and unpopular alliance in favor of new understandings.

It is hoped that by all the great powers putting their cards face up on the conference table at Washington and everybody playing square with each other and with Asia, the cause of friction between at least the three principal naval powers can be removed to the extent that partial disarmament, or limitation of armament, will result.

Will the conference succeed? It will if the powers give helpless Asia a square deal and the Hay doctrine is finally put across in a way that will prove effective.

If the conference does nothing else, it will show everybody how the land lies. The people of the world will know which nations are trying to promote peace and which are hoping to profit by more war.

That at least this much shall be accomplished, full publicity should be given the whole proceedings. Without publicity, right-minded nations are likely to have their endeavors painted black and the skullduggery of the bad ones depicted in bright colors.

Aside from justice and fair play to the under dog, America's interests in Asia are economic. If a single power, or group of powers, gains economic or political control over the great markets of the world, American workmen, shut out, and with no outlet for their surplus goods, must leave America and look for jobs in a more virile land. It is a question of both capital and labor.

to start the thing that we all look forward to—a Christmas tree. —Reporter.

PREPARE NOW
Baby's Coming

THE expectant mother owes it not only to herself to prepare for an easier delivery, but to her child who should be stronger, healthier and more robust thru her care and intelligence.

What is one of the most important things a mother-to-be should do?

The universal answer from thousands of experienced mothers is this: The mother-to-be should massage the muscles and nerves involved in the function of child-bearing, daily, with an application of Mother's Friend. Because—

Three generations of mothers record the virtue of Mother's Friend for not only allaying distress in advance, but for assisting nature in assuring a speedy recovery for the mother.

So thoroughly has Mother's Friend proven its wonderful efficiency in thousands of cases, that any expectant mother who does not employ its use as directed deprives herself of a powerful agent for her relief and well-being, during the period of pending maternity, and of her prospects for an easier delivery when the eventful hour arrives.

The women who appreciate Mother's Friend the most, and who are loudest in their praise of it, are those who unfortunately did not use it with their first baby and who, thru its use with the second one, were able to fully realize the almost unbelievable relief it gave.

Mrs. Olive Vanden, 10 Grape St., Gallipolis, Ohio, says:
"Before using Mother's Friend I suffered from Wednesday 'till Sunday. With my next child I used Mother's Friend and was sick only about three hours."

Many doctors and nurses recommend Mother's Friend. For external use—is perfectly harmless. Begin its use at once. Sold by all druggists.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

"U. S., After Spree Will Be Workshop of World," Schwab

Atlanta City.—Charles M. Schwab, attending the annual banquet here of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association, said last night that he is not alarmed about business depression.

"We have been on a great business spree and we now are in the cold, gray dawn of the morning after," he declared. "The business depression will place us in a firmer, surer position for the future."

"As long as I can borrow money I am going to bet every dollar of which I have control on American industry. I believe that this great Nation of ours is going to be the workshop of the world."

"We are on the eve of the greatest development in our history. If I had my life to live over again, I would choose the present day for beginning a career. We all have learned to live extravagantly, but it does not mean anything. I do not give a rap for money, except in so far as I can use it to circulate it through my plants and develop them."

Discussing industrial conditions, Schwab said:

"Wherever I go, I hear the theme that labor and capital should cooperate, but I have yet to find a man who can tell me how it is to be done."

HARD WORKING CONGRESSMEN

Membership in Congress is no mean feat in these days. The whole time of a member is not only nominally but really required for public duty. During the last dozen years the Senate and the House have been almost continually in session. The present Congress was called together only a month after the terms of the Representatives began. After more than four months a recess of thirty days was taken, and it is now expected that there will be no further interruptions until the first session of the Sixty-seventh Congress merges into the second, or regular, session in December; and that then, barring a week's holiday at Christmas, the two bodies will settle down for at least six months of work. If that should be so, Congress will have been working almost fifteen months at a stretch, with intermissions amounting to less than six weeks in all. Then, in December, 1922, the "short" session of three months will begin, so that when this Congress comes to an end it will have been sitting for fully three-fourths of its allotted two-year term.

Although its term of duty will have exceeded that of any former Congress, there have been several occasions in the past that made unusual demands on the time of the members. Pressing public questions, political wrangles and parliamentary obstruction have protracted the sessions. The First Congress was in session 519 days, but it had before it the task of organizing the government in all its departments and the hardly less difficult duty of dealing with the many complications that the Confederation had bequeathed to it. The busiest Congress prior to the Civil War was the Twenty-seventh, which began its sessions in May, 1841, when the Whigs took over the administration from the Democrats, who had been having their own way during the eight years of Jackson and the four years of Van Buren. But President Harrison had died only a month after he took office, and the Whigs had so much trouble with Tyler that Congress was compelled to sit 464 days in the endeavor to establish the Whig regime, and especially the system of protection. It should be remembered, too, with what watchful suspicion Congress treated President Johnson.

Nowadays public questions are so many and so important that Congress could not pass upon all of them properly if it were to devote to them every day of the two-year term. The strain of work is greatest upon the leaders, greater upon Senators than upon Representatives, greater upon members of the majority than of the minority party, but great upon every one of them. No one can long "play hooky." The "whips" are exacting. Frequent roll calls disclose the absentees. Both during the session and during the short recesses there is committee work to be done.

A good jackknife is closed when it's not in use.

No matter how good the book, it can't do all the work. To reap from its sowing you must do more than merely read it.

Apples for canning should be blanched for one minute, as they shrink greatly.

Angel food cake is delicious feed with orange butter icing.

Tomatoes stuffed with rice and cheese are delicious.

FRICITION

Why should the word "Friction" be taboo with so many of us? A little friction now and then doesn't hurt—it helps. Friction is not always mere wear and tear. It is often the "healthy" rub that makes things brighter—the resisting force that makes things go.

Soothing oils make life run smoothly and pleasantly, but friction, after all, is the important agent of efficiency in this work-a-day world. The man that sets out to slide smoothly through life on a well-oiled track is ever in danger of losing his footing and slipping on his own oil into the limbo of oblivion.

Life needs plenty of oil—but it also calls for a full measure of grit, and grit means friction.

The locomotive engineer oils the internal parts of his engine, but he would get no where if it were not for the friction of his engine wheels on the track. And when his wheels slip and slide, he runs sand on the track to make more friction. He knows that he can only climb up-hill by friction; and that the only means by which to check and control his engine on a down grade is friction.

The engineer of a locomotive knows that—and so does every other kind of engineer, and every man of achievement in every line of endeavor.

When an organization of any kind gets to be an assembly of easy acquiescent individuals, who give "yes, yes," to each other, like nodding china mandarins on a mantel, that organization is headed for the down-hill grade, and it cannot be saved by oil. It is only when someone comes out with a firm "No" in a spirit of well-timed opposition, that things begin to move.

There is nothing more pregnant with results than an honest and earnest difference of opinion; there is nothing that clears the air better than an intelligent forceful clash of mind on mind.

Nor that friction is all there is in the making of things. Too much friction may mean the unmaking of things. One may spill sand not only on the track but all through the works. The essential fact, however, is that in all human affairs, there is a place for sand as well as oil.

The old Romans hit it right centuries ago and crystallized it in a phrase: "Sua vitæ in mole, fortiter in re," "suave in manner, firm in fact," or "temperate in method, but resolute in action"—in brief, "oil in the works, sand on the track."

FACT AND COMMENT

When the great liner Olympic burned coal she required the services of 229 men in her firerooms; with oil-burning engines 60 men do the work. It took nearly a week to put 7500 tons of coal into her bunkers, but now six hours are enough for her to get a supply of fuel. The liner now makes her round trip in three weeks and travels with almost no smoke.

Anyone who is familiar with the use of a gouge and a mallet, a saw and a paint brush can undertake the simpler kinds of tree surgery. Prompt treatment of breaks is the surest and most economical way of preventing disease and decay, and all wounds made in repair work should be cleaned, sterilized and protected from infection as carefully as similar wounds are treated in animal surgery, and for the same reason.

Switzerland, having no coal or raw materials of its own, has always been obliged to cater to lovers of luxuries by the high quality of its manufactures; but other countries are now buying only necessities, and the competitors of Switzerland, especially Germany, are well organized to undersell the Swiss in everything. The hotel business, except in large centers, is quite at a standstill. For the Swiss people who depend on their daily work for a living the situation is very difficult and, if it were not for the more severe suffering in other parts of the world, might well command some outside effort toward relief.

Hope is an eager, living wish that what we desire may come true.

Misunderstandings can separate friends far more widely than either time or space.

"One girl in our village," says the old citizen of Little Lot, "spends all her time making good and another one all her time looking good. If I had the choice of only one harrow, I shouldn't pick either the disc harrow or the smoothing harrow, but the old-fashioned spring tooth."

For the purpose of the experiment, two hundred members of the Philadelphia police force went to a field outside the city and resolved themselves into a mob. A squad of "tear-gas" bombers attacked them and promptly reduced them to submission. If every jailer in the country should keep a supply of "tear-gas" bombs on hand, there would be fewer outrages by mobs.

"Lady killers" are a new exhibit at the county fairs. They include the old-time washtub, washboard, broom and dust pan, sadiron, cast-iron kitchen stove, coal stove, soapstone heater and many other pieces of household equipment now out of date. Seen together they do appear to be a heavy lot, quite worthy of their name, so the spectator turns with relief to the accompanying exhibit of "silent servants" which work at the turn of a switch.

The large French chestnuts that we know as marrons, and that are one of the delights of our holiday season, will be higher in price this year if the new tariff doubles the duty on them. The other side of the picture is the department of Correze, in south central France, a poor land where the struggle for existence has bred a serious and sturdy peasantry. The soil there is not fertile, but it raises chestnuts; and the people are much disturbed at the proposed tariff.

An editor in a Kansas country town laments the fact that there is no longer a place in the village where a farmer who drives in with a load of wheat or other farm produce can put up his horses. There are plenty of restaurants where the farmer himself can eat and rest, but there is not a livery stable left in town. The same thing has happened or is happening everywhere. Those hospitable establishments that once furnished "entertainment for man and beast" have been driven out of business by the garage.

The Russian Ruble used to be worth approximately fifty cents. But now that the communist government can print 100,000 ruble notes as easily as it can print notes of other denominations a dinner of soup, roast beef, potatoes, pastry and coffee costs 50,000 rubles, white bread 7000 rubles a pound, black bread 500 rubles, and a half mile ride in a cab costs 30,000 rubles. One hundred American dollars bring 4,000,000 rubles in exchange, and the wages of a skilled mechanic are 1,000,000 rubles a month.

ALL-ROUND EXPLOSIVE

There is a general belief that dynamite exerts its force downward, and in proof of this the average man will point to the fact that dynamite exploded on the ground will tear a hole in it. This is true enough, but if a slab of stone, say three feet square, was raised just over the charge, it would be shattered to bits, just as it would if the charge were on top of it. The real explanation lies in the fact that on a stone slab there rests a weight of nearly nine tons of air. Air, if removed slowly, does not offer much resistance; but when an attempt is made to remove it swiftly, such as by exploding dynamite, its resistance becomes enormous, and it is as if the dynamite was trying to plow through sand. Therefore, the resistance of the ground beneath the explosion is about the same as that of the air, with the difference that the hole made in the air is instantly filled up again, and the hole in the earth remains to puzzle us. When dynamite explodes it merely means that gases liberated expand so swiftly that whatever is in the way is pushed out.—Detroit News.

WHAT ARE YOU WORKING FOR?

Achievement depends on purpose. The degree of wanting, of course, counts heavily.

If it is money that you want, you must be willing to make sacrifices for it—sacrifices of time or comfort, or pleasure, or most of the things that you will enjoy most in the early years of your life, and will have forgotten how to enjoy when the money comes.

If it is fame that is your object, your sacrifices must be still greater.

On every hand are the homes and the automobiles of those who have made money. Fortunes are in evidence everywhere.

Fame is more rare. That comes only to men who bring something with them into the world besides an inclination to hard work. It never comes at all without years of application.

It is well to decide, when you are beginning, just what you are working for.

If it is wealth that you want, make sure that you will still desire it when you get it.

Thousands and thousands of people have it, and get little pleasure from it. For after all, a man can only eat three meals a day, can only spend sixteen hours a day in pursuit of happiness, whether he has a thousand dollars or fifty million dollars.

And if, in his quest for wealth, he has destroyed his digestion, so he cannot eat a single good meal a day—if he has ruined his nerve so he can sleep but three or four hours—what has his toil and sacrifice brought him?

Nothing.

Every person should want independence, what means a reasonable amount of money, and the building of an ability to earn a satisfactory income.

Beyond that, wealth is worth nothing, as many of those who have attained it will tell you.

Fame is for the few.

But happiness, which comes of independence and good health, and the ability to do something for others now and then, is worth everything.

If that is what you are working for, work as hard as you can.

If it isn't, stop and analyze your motives before you make too much sacrifice of your youth.

WHO IS THIS

"Bix" in Lincoln Journal: The other day we received a telephone call. "Who is this?" inquired the operator at the other end of the line. "Whom do you want?" we responded without hesitation. This is the courteous thing: When you call a number and someone answers, first state who you are and then name the one with whom you wish to converse. And don't for the love of heaven and your own self-respect as an intelligent being in stating who you are, add to that bit of information that you are "speaking." It is a thing so damnably obvious, so brutally apparent, as it were, that to say you are speaking to those who hear you speak, reflects upon their intelligence and brings your own into serious question.

WESTERN RANCHES GO

Christian Science Monitor: The big horse ranches have virtually gone out of existence with the passing of the Long X in Montana. The big cattle ranch long since succumbed to the onward march of the sheep ranger and the wired fence, and it was felt to be only a matter of time before the horse ranch would follow suit.

In this connection it is interesting to recall the circumstance that though the horse was unknown on the American Continent when the Spaniards arrived, prehistoric evidences of the animal have been discovered in both North and South America. The Indians, who had domesticated the llama, the alpaca and the dog, knew nothing of the horse, and were astonished by the sight of the strange and unfamiliar animals which the newcomers rode. Yet, with their introduction by the white race, horses which escaped soon ran wild and flourished on the same ranges where their ancient cousins had apparently lived, showing how well the country was suited to their needs. There are a few ranches today in the West where the rug in the principal room may be the hide of a wild horse found in Nevada or in Arizona canyons.

A resturvey of the Mason and Dixon line made a century after the first survey showed no errors in placing the original line.

FACT AND COMMENT

Germs are often a hand-to-mouth affair. Keep your hands clean.

A man is like a factory: his overhead expense goes on all the time, but he himself seldom runs at full capacity.

A pure-bred Percheron filly at the Pennsylvania State College celebrated her first birthday by tipping the scales at 1280 pounds which is some 500 or 600 pounds more than the weight of the ordinary yearling colt. The filly had two gallons of skim milk a day besides the regular ration of grain.

The one-crop farmer will understand the condition in which several Latin-American countries find themselves—Cuba with its sugar, Ecuador with its cacao, Guatemala and Colombia with their coffee and Chile with its nitrate. Having all your eggs in one basket is all right if you can protect the basket.

Experts in radiography advise that X-ray laboratories be completely inclosed in lead sheeting a quarter of an inch thick. It has been found that the powerful rays used in treating cancer affect persons in rooms on the other side of thick walls and in apartments above and below the radiograph room.

The approved way to catch the motorist speed maniac nowadays is to clothe special officers in civilian attire and put them out on the road in all sorts of vehicles. The next time you cut in ahead of a farmer in a dilapidated car don't be too sure that he is not a policeman with a stop watch and an eye on your number plate.

Panama perpetuates one of the greatest of geographic jokes on those who visit it. The direction of the canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific is from northwest to southeast, and the Atlantic end is actually farther west than the Pacific end. Another geographic puzzler is that from Portland, Maine, you must sail south of east to get to the tip of Nova Scotia.

A Vermont bank has gone into the mail-order business to help its farmer patrons to dispose of their maple syrup at a better price than the seventy-five cents a gallon that the middlemen offered. For the bank it is merely good business to prevent a hitherto flourishing industry from being badly disabled; but for the farmers it is an enlightening experiment in cooperative marketing. The bank lends seventy-five cents a gallon on the syrup, and the farmer waits for a settlement as any ordinary retailer would.

A writer in the Musical Monitor maintains that American men have been trained not to sing. "Without knowing it we have silenced the male voices in our churches." The trouble seems to be that the hymn tunes are written in keys that make it impossible for men to reach the top notes without painful effort. The critic cites the example of a song leader who stuck to E-flat as the limit of congregational singing, who has succeeded in building up a community chorus so successful and popular that hundreds had to be turned away from the weekly "sing."

Athens Review: Here is a problem presented by the Kansas City Star from one of its exchanges—"Isn't it funny," asks the Gilliam Globe, "that the man who thinks he is a business man will get up in the morning from an advertised mattress and shave with an advertised razor, take off advertised pajamas, and put on advertised underwear, hose, shirt, collar and tie, seat himself at the table and eat advertised breakfast food, put on an advertised hat, light an advertised cigar, go to his place of business and turn down advertising on the grounds that advertising doesn't pay?"

State Press in Dallas News: An advertising solicitor, according to the story, was flattered down by a good friend who was running a drug store and didn't believe advertising paid. Arguing the point with him, the solicitor asked for permission to spend a few hours in the store, at a strategic point where he could check up on the calls of customers who came in to buy. Business was slow, as it always is at nonadvertising stores, but in the course of the rest there came fifteen customers. Of that number eleven asked for and bought articles widely advertised, two accepted substitutes and two refused to accept substitutes. When shown the statistics the druggist was somewhat surprised, but not deeply moved. "It may pay others, but it doesn't pay me to advertise," he said. That is the way with a natural nonadvertiser. They will stay in business on a diminutive scale for forty years, and see big successes rise all around them through the power of advertising, yet will not believe that advertising pays. A particularly good merchant, meaning one who is a good buyer and a good salesman and a good store manager, may run a small business and stay solvent a long time without doing any advertising. But given these qualities plus the added power of advertising and he could do in ten years what he seldom does in thirty—which is to make enough to justify hiring a good lawyer to write an air-tight will.

Charley Harris, a printer of Fort Worth, got slightly peeved at a letter from a doctor who wanted bids on several thousand letterheads, different sizes, different grades and different colors, and wanted the printing form held standing. So Charley took his typewriter in hand and wrote as follows, according to Kansas City Post: "Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis. One, two, or five inch incision—with or without ether—also with or without nurse. If appendix is found to be sound, want quotations to include putting same back and cancelling order. If removed, successful bidder is expected to hold incision open sixty days, as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gall stones at that time and want to save the cost of cutting."

The editor of this paper, like the paper, gives largely of his time for public enterprises. Then he comes back to his office and donates column after column of space for the public good. Then sometimes in a few hours he has left to look after his personal business, he finds out about Smith, Jones and Co. sending out of town for a piece of job printing because they could save fifty cents on the order. The next day along comes young Jones, the junior partner of Smith, Jones and Co., with a subscription list for the widow who has lost her home by fire, or the cemetery association, or some other equally worthy cause, and the country editor puts down about the same amount as the banker or any other of the town's leading business firms. Who ever heard of the Near-City Printing Company making a donation on local distress calls, or sending a representative to do committee work on public enterprises? Stay with the town printer—he is the man to tie to, and never fails to do his part on community enterprise. Reciprocity is a great doctrine and this old world needs more men who will practice it.—Clarendon News.

TWENTY-ONE TO TRY FOR DEBATE

Competition Strong For Places on Team—Five Ex-Debaters Among Contestants.

Twenty-one men responded to the call issued by Miss Mary Morgan Brown, chairman of the Committee on Inter-Normal Debate, for a preliminary meeting Friday, October 28. The purpose of the meeting was to secure the names of those desiring to enter the tryout, and otherwise make preparations for the selection of the team. The tryout will be held near the end of the current quarter for the selection of four debaters and two alternates to represent this college in the Inter-Normal debates to take place in the spring.

Indications are that there will be strong competition for the places. Several ex-debaters were present and expressed their intention of trying again for a place on the team. D. T. Tarlton, Lester Hill, and Virgil Dodson, all of the last year's team are in the race. Grady Hazelwood, who debated both in 1919 and 1920, is after a position; and Robert Hill of the 1918 team is contesting for honors. These gentlemen, however, will not have a walk-over. Strong material is showing up among other contestants, some of whom have had experience either in high school or in the literary societies.

EX-STUDENTS FAVOR THE AMENDMENT

Miss Anna I. Hibbetts, who represented the ex-students of the West Texas State Normal College at the recent meeting of ex-students of the state institutions of higher learning at Dallas, returned confident that definite action will soon be taken to secure constitutional provision for regular and adequate support for the state institutions. While various proposals relating to public education were deliberated upon, Miss Hibbetts reports that the ex-students were practically unanimous in the opinion that a mill tax furnished the best means to the end sought. The idea of consolidating all the higher institutions under one governing body, of extending the proposed provision to high schools, and of rewriting all of Article seven of the state constitution were brought up for consideration. It was decided to work for the adoption of the amendment providing a mill tax, and it was the consensus of opinion that the distribution of the tax should be provided in the amendment.

A committee composed of one representative from each type of school was appointed to lay the proposal before the Normal College Presidents and other administrators and to secure an estimate of their needs and other data necessary for writing the amendment to be submitted to the legislature.

Former Student Victim of Accident

News was received in Canyon Wednesday to the effect that Walter B. Hardin, a former student of this institution, was injured seriously by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hands of his wife. The following account of the tragedy is taken from the Austin Statesman, of Nov. 2.

Walter D. Hardin, teacher of business training in the Junior High School was seriously injured late Tuesday afternoon by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of his wife, at their home, 605 Nueces Street.

He was taken to the Seton Infirmary by Rosengren and Cook, where Dr. S. A. Woolsey, the family physician, with Dr. H. B. Granberry assisting, gave immediate attention. The bullet passed through the top of the skull entering a little to the right. Dr. Woolsey removed several pieces of the skull and some portion of the brain. At noon today, the victim of the tragedy was conscious, though suffering from the effects of the anaesthetic. His right arm is paralyzed, and the result of the wound can not now be conjectured. The accident occurred about 5:45 Tuesday afternoon.

Neighbors hearing the shot and the frantic cries of Mrs. Hardin, rushed in, and found Mr. Hardin wounded, lying across the bed. A call for an ambulance was responded to and Mr. Hardin was taken to Seton Infirmary about six o'clock. Dr. Woolsey performed the operation about 6:20 o'clock.

According to Prof. I. I. Nelson, principal of the Junior High School, the shooting was a deplorable accident. Mr. Hardin was seated on the side of the bed and saw his wife pick up a loaded revolver. Afraid that something might happen, he rose up to take the pistol from her, and just as he arose, the pistol was discharged, the bullet piercing his head. The fact that the shot was high, saved his life. Mrs. Hardin was panic stricken at the time of the shooting, but has been with her husband at the infirmary since her removal there, and is apparently calm.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardin have been in Austin for several years, and have two children, twin girls, about two years old. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hardin were students at the West Texas Normal, where they met. Mr. Hardin was a graduate from the West Texas Normal and played on the football team.

He was for three years head of the commercial department of the Senior High School, and was transferred this term to the Junior High where he is teacher of business training. He was also a faculty member of the Violet Crown Comet, High School Annual.

FOUR RELATIVES OF FACULTY MEMBERS DEAD

Tuesday morning at the chapel pred. President Hill said, "It seems that the hand of sorrow has been upon the faculty of late." He then told of four deaths that have recently occurred among the near relatives of four members of the faculty. They are as follows:

J. W. Reid's father died in Charlotte, North Carolina, last Monday, October 31st. The old gentleman came to Canyon four years ago and made many friends here during his visit. He has been in poor health for the past two years and Professor Reid has been called to his bedside three times because of the seriousness of his condition.

Miss Mansfield lost her father on October 26th. She had been at his bedside in Hurley, South Dakota, for several days. Miss Mansfield is loved very much both by faculty members and by students of the West Texas State Normal College.

Henry Hudspeth, the brother of Miss Mary E. Hudspeth, who is Professor of Spanish and Head of the Department, was killed on his ranch 125 miles from Magdalena, New Mexico, a week ago last Monday, October 24.

Mrs. L. Malone Svorz, the niece of Miss Tennessee Malone, our Librarian, died in Dallas, Texas, October 13th.

ATHLETICS IN TRAINING SCHOOL

The Normal Buffaloes are not the only ones that can fight in this school as was displayed in the football game Friday afternoon between the Training School and the Ninth Grade of the High School on the Normal field. Although the High School made off with the big end of the score, 36 to 0, they decidedly felt like they had earned it. The game was a good exhibition of football for youngsters.

But the Training School girls were not idle. In the basket ball game on the Training School Grounds between the Training School and the High School Girls, they sought revenge by amassing a score of 21 to 11 in their favor.

NOTED GEOLOGIST VISITS US

Robert T. Hill, a geologist and geographer of Dallas, stopped off in Canyon Thursday morning and came to the College building for the purpose of looking over some of the relics collected by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. The Geologist was on a tour of this part of the country to make examinations of the Red River formations east of Canyon, with relation of the suit between Oklahoma and Texas over their boundary lines. He went directly to Washington from here.

The Louisiana Historical Society has a complete record of the French administration of the State.

How To Keep Your Blood Pure and Wholesome

It is the Person With Rich, Red, Normal Blood—The Person of Health and Energy—That Meets With Business and Social Success.

A Lowered Vitality is Usually Due to Waste Products in the Blood.

When your blood is impoverished and loaded with waste products, you don't get the full strength out of your food, and as a consequence, you become weak, nervous, and easily upset. Waste products get into the blood mainly through the intestines, but there are other sources—for instance, the glands. Some glands secrete digestive juices, while others excrete waste products. If they fail to properly function, waste products accumulate.

As a result, nature strives to cast off the poisons. It may be through the skin in the form of some skin disorder, but it is not infrequent for it to settle in the muscles and joints and cause rheumatism.

For over 50 years, thousands and thousands of men and women have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by relieving you of the waste products which cause impoverished blood and its allied troubles—skin disorders, rheumatism and a lowered vitality. The same qualities which give S. S. S. its beneficial effect in clearing your blood of waste products make it extremely desirable for keeping your blood in good condition.

Get S. S. S. at your druggist. Use it strictly according to directions and write Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., D-718 S. S. S. Library Receives Miss White's Thesis

The Library and President Hill are in receipt of a copy of the thesis of Miss Adelin White done at Columbia University for her master's degree. This thesis was done through the laboratory of the New York City Children's hospital, after which the city published it as a model for Columbia University students continuing to do work through this laboratory.

The subject of the thesis is Reading Ability and Disability of Subnormal Children, and the problem lies in a better understanding of the processes involved in the reading activity and not in the general ability necessary for the appropriate reaction to the printed page. Two groups of subjects were selected; one a reading group to serve as a control in the study of the disability group. After a thorough consideration of the educational attainment of the children under consideration, Miss White then selected a group of laboratory tests as a guide to the evaluation of her methods in connection with her instruction. The types of tests are as follows: (1) auditory and visual acumen, (2) auditory perception and reproduction, (3) attention and perception, (4) ability to learn in response to auditory and visual stimuli of familiar and unfamiliar objects, and (5) emotional attitudes.

After several months of continuous work with the children, Miss White established the following conclusions:

1. Physical defects, unless very serious, cannot alone be the cause of inability to read.
2. Tests for attention and perception, and span of attention show no marked contrasts between subjects who show ability and inability to read.
3. The inability to read is not conditioned by lowered general intelligence within reading age.
4. A marked contrast between subjects with ability and inability to read is shown in learning tests of simple associative processes.
5. The indication is that the disability can be traced to more or less simple associative processes.
6. The results of the learning tests indicate that special methods based upon psychological principles should be adapted to disability cases.

Miss White considers her work as only tentative, but the fact that it was published as a model for other students of Columbia University who work in this institution is proof of the worth of her thesis. At some future time she hopes to be able to continue this important investigation.

THE PHILIPPINES

General Wood and Mr. Cameron Forbes have concluded their tour of the Philippines and their study of conditions in the archipelago. Their report will soon be available as a basis for a general policy of administration. The ability, the experience and the fairness of both the investigators give assurance that we shall have a clear, truthful and comprehensive statement of things as they are. Of course that does not mean that all men will be converted to the one opinion; on the contrary the report will cause the widest discussion, but the discussion may and should lead the country to wise conclusions.

The problem of the Philippines is far from simple. It must be approached from many angles. At bottom there is the general consideration indicated by the term anti-imperialism. Shall we hold the islands indefinitely? Shall we rid ourselves at once of the responsibility and, to carry out the promise that we made to them, give up control over them before we are sure that they can govern themselves wisely? If we have thought it a duty to train them before we let them go, and by way of experiment have left much of the government to them, how much supervisory and restraining control of the government shall we retain? If their use of the powers that we granted to them has been disappointing and disastrous, how far, consistently with the promises that we made to them, can we withdraw those powers? Is the possession of the islands a source of strength or of weakness to us, and is it our duty to make provision against a possible attack upon us in that quarter by Japan or some other power?

Those are some of the questions that must be answered. They are fundamental questions. If we study them we shall see that, no matter what is the purport of the findings of General Wood and Mr. Forbes, there will be room for the widest difference of opinion as to the policy to be pursued. It seems to be accepted that their conclusion is that the Filipinos are still a long way from being fit to assume independence. It is notorious that the Philippine government has mismanaged the finances so badly that ruin is imminent unless the finance department at least is taken away from the native officers. Probably that is not the only failure that the report will disclose.

Wisdom is gray hairs unto men, and an unspotted life is ripe old age.—Jesus the Son of Sirach.

Youth is to all the glad season of life; but often only by what it hopes, not by what it attains, or what it escapes.—Carlyle.

It is with youth as with plants; from the first fruits they bear we learn what to be expected in future.—Demophilus.

It is a truth but too well known, that rashness attends youth, as prudence does old age.—Cicero.

As I approve of a youth that has something of the man in him, so I am no less pleased with an old man that something of the youth. He that follows this rule may be old in body but can never be so in mind.—Cicero.

Few people know how to be old.—La Rochefoucauld.

The true wisdom is to be always reasonable, and to change with a good grace in changing circumstances: to have playthings well as a child, to lead an adventurous and honorable youth, and to settle, when the time comes, into a green and smiling age, is to be a good artist in life and deserve well of yourself and your neighbors.—R. L. Stevenson.

When a House Becomes a HOME

If you are renting, no matter how spacious and grand the house may be, it is not a home!

If you own the roof that protects your home, no matter how humble that house may be, it is as much a home as lumber, brick or anything else can make.

Home, being the foundation of society, should be owned by every one receiving benefits from civilization.

We can help you own a home.

CANYON LUMBER CO.

The Latest and Best

We offer the Case 15-27 Kerosene Tractor as the king of them all. It is creating a sensation all over the country. It is the result of 77 years of experience of the famous J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company.

It pulls three plows in hard plowing—four plows under favorable conditions. It has abundant reserve power. It burns kerosene successfully and economically.

This sturdy tractor is adaptable for all kinds of drawbar and belt work. It drives a 26x46 Case Thresher with Feeder and Wind Stack. Its pulley is properly placed for convenient lining up.

It is small and compact and built for accessibility. No tractor is finer. You should become acquainted with its many superiorities, which we will be glad to explain. Don't buy before you see this better tractor.

HAPPY HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Alton Grounds, who is teaching school at Ralph this year, gave a program and a box supper at Ralph school house last Friday night.

Mr. Emery Wesley and family of Wayside visited their cousin, Mrs. Jim Miner, in Happy last Friday afternoon.

The Methodist Woman's Missionary Society will meet at the Methodist church next Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. They will begin the weekly prayer services which will continue during the entire winter.

Mrs. Dail, Mrs. Wm. Miller and Willard Miller were Tullia callers last Saturday afternoon.

Misses Gladys Bandy and Eva McManigal spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Gladys Miller.

The Baptists are papering the Baptist parsonage this week.

A basketball game was played at Tullia Saturday afternoon at four o'clock between Happy boys and Price boys. The score was fifteen to fourteen in favor of Happy. This was the first game the Happy boys have played this year. The Happy players are: Ernest Miller, Oscar Fonken, forwards; Winfield Miller, John Mann, guards; Melvin Walberg, center; Warren Walberg, substitute. Roy Aikman, coach.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller are the proud parents of a baby girl born Nov. 6. Her name is Annie May Miller.

Mrs. Vincent Grounds started back to work in the telephone office Monday. Louise Brown has started back to school after an absence of two weeks on account of working in the phone office.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miller spent Sunday with O. H. Rahlf.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson are the proud parents of a baby girl born last Saturday.

Miss Nellie Franey, who is teaching the Edmund school this term, gave a pie supper and program Saturday night. Thirty-six dollars was taken in which will be used for minor purposes about the school.

The Happy basketball team of girls played against Canyon Training School girls at Happy Tuesday afternoon. The score was 14 to 2 in favor of Canyon. The Happy players are: Lorena McGuire, Gladys Miller, forwards; Lucille Raymon, Nadeen Wrenn, guards; Winnie Grounds, center; Eva McManigal, back center; Gladys Bandy, Edythe Bandy, substitutes; Miss VOLLIE Dison, coach. Doyle Bates is our yell leader. He is very comical and knows how to lead the yells. We have several good yells and when Happy High school gets started nothing can stop her.

He-ye-ke-ye-ker. There's nothing like her. Happy forever plays basket ball. Never defeated, except when cheated. Then by no team at all.

Hop along Canyon, we don't care. The next time we play, we'll make you care.

AMERICA'S ANSWER

Rest ye in peace, ye Flanders' dead!
The fight that ye so bravely led We've taken up! And we will keep
True faith with you who lie asleep,
With each a cross to mark his bed,
And poppies blowing overhead
Where once his own life blood ran red!
So let your rest be sweet and deep
In Flanders' Fields.

Fear not that ye have died for naught,
The torch ye threw to us we caught!
Ten million hands will hold it high,
And Freedom's light shall never die!
We've learned the lesson that ye taught
In Flanders Fields.—Lillard.
