The News received an unsigned letter this week, which was above the average in interest. It came from some Socialist friend, who is very desirous of seeing the Socialistic doctrines put into operation in this country, just as they are in Russia. This letter boasted that Lubbock was the Moscow of the Socialists of Texas, and that their doctrines were working admirably in that city. We all recognize Lubbock as an up-to-date, wide awake and flourishing town, and will leave it up to Editor Dow to explain why Lubbock is such a socialistic stronghold, especially since we have heard of no relief trains being run into that good city to care for the suffering and dying from disease and hunger—or rather the lack of trains to carry provisions there, for if Lubbock were the Moscow of Texas, there would be no trains running to that town. These Socialistic bores give us a pain. We take it that the writer who brags of the ideal conditions in Russia would rather be a lone and lonesome missionary working in the heathen Panhandle of Texas than to go back to his beloved Russia and spend his days in the ideal situation of disease, death, famine and ignorance created by the doctrines of his misguided brothers in creed.

Senator Culberson has announced as a candidate for re-election. He has been in the senate for more than twenty years. During the past several years his health has been so bad that he has given little of his time to the public affairs of Texas. There may have been a time when Charley Culberson serving from his sickbed was a more capable representative for the people of Texas than any man we might send who would devote his entire time and capacities to the job. Culberson has served his time in public life, and many of his best friends trusted that he would voluntarily retire. Time was that whenever Culberson made a political prophecy, there were few would would dare contradict said statement. He was uncanny in his political foresight. His time of usefulness has past. There are half a dozen men in Texas today more capable of serving the state than is Culberson. He probably does not hope to lead in the first primary, but trusts to lead in the second primary with some undesirable as was his lot in the race six years ago when he and Colquitt ran off the contest, and Culberson was an easy winner.

Bootlegging is a nation wide problem, and is becoming more serious every day. The country is having to spend too much money to enforce the prohibition laws, and a majority of the laws the officers seek to enforce, are so full of technicalities that the violators are almost certain to escape unpunished. Texas needs a new constitution in order that the laws may be generally overhauled, and teeth put into the criminal laws. As it now is, the counties are forced to spend large sums of tax money in a very useless attempt to enforce laws that are almost unenforceable.

Some breeders of registered stock will have all animals registered, no matter how inferior the particular individual may be. The Randall County Swine Breeders Association is on record as being opposed to registering any animal that is not strictly up to standard, no matter what the breeding may be. Randall County is becoming recognized as a county of fine registered hogs. The policy of our breeders will advance this reputation very fast.

A good citizen is interested in all of the affairs of his community and is an active worker in a number of things that help build up a community. A citizen is primarily interested in the Commercial League, in which practically all of the promotional movements find birth. Join the Commercial League and help Canyon a little faster and a little better.

It is time to leave some of us in the best, if not entirely

Poor print paper, poor ink and cold weather are not inductive to good morals among the printing fraternity just now. Most of the news print we are getting now is imported stuff—stuff, you understand. It has helped materially to bring now the holdup prices imposed by the American mills during the high prices, but print paper is still selling at three times pre-war days. It is almost impossible to get a decent print on the stuff the newspapers are having to buy.

Highway promoters grew up like wild flowers when Texas started to build highways three years ago. Every granger grabbed the opportunity to sting every community for $50 to $500 to "advertise your time, and bring ALL the tourist traffic this way." It did not take long for communities to get on to the game. It is charged that so well known highway as the Lee Highway-Association collected in dues $25,727 and paid out $20,000 in salaries. Little left for anything else.

The citizenship of the Panhandle-Plains country is the leader of Texas. The good schools of this section is producing men and women who think for themselves, and do the right kind of thinking. There is room for improvement in all our good schools of this section. Canyon has a school problem that is going to take the intelligent thinking and work on the part of the citizenship to solve.

The city of Vernon perhaps is a little more progressive than her sisters, and has taken an advance step in passing an ordinance prohibiting the operation or maintenance of domino parlors. That will be a sad blow to the various indulgents in that popular pastime, and may cause some of Vernon's citizens to go to work instead of spending their days in playing the game.

There are a very few farmers holding on to their faith in the possibilities of a wheat crop. Those who have lost all hopes are now planning a big row crop. Feed stuffs are very cheap now, but ought to be more valuable soon. At any rate, a cheap feed crop will bring a good price if marketed through poultry and fat hogs, which always bring a good price.

A silo will increase the value of a feed crop very materially. The silo is indispensable for the man with a small dairy herd. This is going to be a feed crop year in the Panhandle, and a silo will be a highly profitable investment.

Governor Neff has called a "think-out-loud meeting", to be held in his office in Austin next week. The Governor wants to know what the educational institutions of Texas expect from his hands and the hands of the legislature during the coming two years.

Go to church next Sunday. The campaign is on in Canyon to double church attendance on Sundays. Take your place in your church next Sunday and lend your influence for a cleaner Canyon.

Clean up the streets, clean up the alleys of Canyon. As educational center of the Panhandle-Plains country, Canyon should be a clean town, morally and physically.

Canyon needs some new church buildings. Every congregation in this city had just as well make up their minds now that it is necessary to build.

Are you a leaner or leader? Knock or build? Randall county needs a lot more of the leading and building kind of men and women.

Start the new month right. Do your trading with the people who support the institutions which make Canyon possible.

Is it better to build schools or jails?

D. 1922, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court, No. 935, wherein R. L. McMurry is plaintiff and George Dixon Fisher, and the unknown heirs of George Dixon Fisher, the Cedar Valley Land & Cattle Company, a corporation, Ltd., the unknown successors of the Cedar Valley Land & Cattle Company, Ltd., and the unknown heirs of the unknown stockholders of the Cedar Valley Land & Cattle Company, Ltd., are defendants. The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: A suit in trespass to try title alleging that on or about the 1st day of January A. D. 1922, plaintiff was lawfully seized and possessed of the following described land and premises situated in Randall County, Texas:

TWICE PROVEN

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's Canyon evidence—doubly proven.

R. E. Hileman, prop., bicycle shop says: "I found positive relief in using Doan's Kidney Pills for lameness across the small of my back and for my kidneys. I can conscientiously recommend them for lumbago and for embarrassment caused by the kidney secretions. I am quite over all difficulties of that nature since I used them." (Statement given January 17, 1911.)

On May 1, 1919, Mr. Hileman said: "Since I used and recommended Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago, I have taken them whenever in need of such a remedy. Doan's have never failed to give instant relief and I am always glad to say a good word in favor of them."

60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 4514

Plaintiff alleging possession under deeds duly registered with payment of all taxes, and with title and color of title from the State of Texas, for more than ten years, and claiming same under three, five and ten years Statutes of Limitation. It is further alleged that one link in his record of title is not of record and that is the Deed executed by D. B. Hitchcock, a bachelor, to T. J. Cochran, which is lost and cannot be found. Plaintiff says, that the State of Texas, issued a Certificate of Redemption to T. J. Montgomery, and nothing else of record showing that he has any interest in this land. There is a contract from L. G. Conner and Q. V. Conner, contracting to sell this land to Thomas Roby, however, there never was a deed executed and put of record showing that Thomas Roby owned this land, but question being raised as to whether or not any of the above defendants have any interest in said land this is notice that they come in and assert same, and suit is brought to remove cloud cast thereby.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays for citation and that on hearing he have judgment for the title and possession of said lands against all of the defendants, with removal of cloud from title, and that he be quieted in his title and possession of said land, and have relief general and special, both in law and in equity, that he may be justly entitled to, and that writ of restitution issue and for rents, damages and costs of suit, and pray that the lost deed be established, and that the title be decreed to have been conveyed by the deed from the grantor to the grantee as alleged in this Petition, and that the contract executed by L. G. Conner to Thomas Roby be cancelled, and cloud on the title be removed as to T. J. Montgomery having any interest by reason of having a certificate of redemption from the State.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, O. W. Gano, Clerk of the District Court of Randall County. Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Canyon, Texas, this the 2nd day of January, A. D. 1922. (Seal) O. W. GANO, Clerk, District Court Randall County. A true copy I certify. W. C. BLACK, Sheriff, Randall County, Texas. By Jno. Fry, Deputy. 4514

Better Cream Better Butter Better Milk Checks

Hoard's Dairyman: Pains-taking care of dairy utensils and cooling the cream—thereby insuring a sweet and well-flavored product when delivered to the creamery—would increase the income of farmers patronizing a single creamery $50,000 a year. This calculation is based on personal observations of Chris Johnson, dairy manufacturing specialist of the western office of the Dairy Division, United States Department of Agriculture. He reports his findings to the Washington office, the conclusions of the investigation emphasizing the virtues of a system of grading cream and paying for it according to quality as applicable to all creameries.

The narrative of Mr. Johnson, based upon his observation of the Nampa Co-operative Creamery in Idaho, is interesting as well as being check-off of valuable suggestions for appropriation by creameries throughout the United States. "Last fall," writes this dairy manufacturing specialist, "I came to the Nampa Co-operative Creamery for the purpose of assisting in improving the quality of butter. I examined the cream delivered by the patrons and talked to each individual, emphasizing the benefits which would be derived from delivering sweet and fine-flavored cream instead of sour and off-flavored. I explained to each patron that owing to poor cream and the paying of a flat rate for all cream whether good or bad, the creameries were obliged to sell their butter at from 50 to 54 cents per pound, while the New York market for extras was 65 cents. The creameries, were, therefore, receiving from 10 to 15 cents less for their butter than for good butter. I told them there was no reason why such should be the case, for they were as favorably situated for carrying on dairying in the best way as anyone. They had as good cows, as good feed, as abundant a supply of good water, as could be found anywhere. So, to my mind, they had only to go about it in the right way to be able to make as good butter as is made in other sections; and that way was to grade the cream and pay for it according to quality.

"I returned to the creamery in January and assisted in starting the grading of cream. The first day we had enough sweet cream to churn 800 pounds of butter. The cream was pasteurized, cooled, and churned without the addition of a starter, just like navy butter. The last day I was there we had enough sweet cream for two churnings. While the two grades were being pasteurized, the attention of the patrons was called to the difference in the odors escaping from the pasteurizer which held the second grade cream and the odor from the sweet cream. I told them that the difference in the quality of butter made from the two grades of cream would be as pronounced as the difference in odors. The following day I had a number of patrons sample the two kinds of butter, and the difference was even more pronounced in favor of the sweet cream butter than was the difference in the odors of the cream.

"A month later I was reading a Montana newspaper, and while I rarely read the advertisements in a newspaper outside of my home town, I happened to do so on this occasion. In the grocery advertisement butter was quoted at 44 cents and up. The general run was from 44 to 48 cents per pound, except for one Montana brand which was higher. My eyes fairly popped on seeing: 'Nampa, Idaho's best 58 cents per pound.' There can be no question but that butter retailing 10 cents above the price of the general run must have some redeeming qualities.

"I wrote at once to the manager of the Nampa Creamery if this price was due to the fact that it was sweet cream butter. He answered that they were supplying this grade, as well as all their other print trade butter, with their sweet cream butter, for which they received 48 cents per pound wholesale, and that this kind of butter was taking far better than had been expected. At the time, New York extras were quoted at 47 cents; so it will readily be seen that it was some difference compared to what this creamery used to get for its butter.

"If all the butter of the Nampa Creamery could be brought up to a quality which would insure the top New York price or the top of any market it would mean an additional income to the farmers patronizing that creamery of about $50,000 yearly; not a small sum, when it is considered that it may be had for very little additional effort—only taking good care of the dairy utensils and cooling so it will be sweet and well flavored when delivered to the creamery.

"I kept a pound of this first churning at my home for a month to see how it would keep, and it was almost as fine at the end of that time as the day it was made. There is no need for fearing an overproduction of that kind of butter. This creamery has a goodly number of wide awake, well posted patrons, and a capable board of directors that realize the importance of quality. In addition, the creamery is fortunate in having a capable manager and operator, under whose supervision there is a bunch of good workers.

Annual Banquet of "Sons of Liberty" Is Held at Normal

Forty-two couples and five invited guests were seated at the first annual banquet of the "Sons of Liberty" Club at Cousins Hall Thursday night. A program was rendered and the general round of merriment lasted until a late hour of the night.

Frank R. Phillips acted as toastmaster. Professor Lockhart delivered the address of welcome and H. C. Gamble, head of the local legion responded. Other speakers of the evening were Dean O. Crawford, Virgil Dodson, Bernice Graves, Brower Hanna, Jack Jones, J. King, Allen King, O. W. Middleton, Dan Sanders, D. D. Westfall and C. C. Whitacre.

Army songs led by J. J. Powell were an interesting feature of the program as were the selections by the quartette composed of Tarlton, Sanders, White, and Powell.

Banquet Side Lights
Several wondered why Ben Winkelman got so red in the face when one of the speakers said that he would like to have a "K. P." for life like Miss Watkins.

All agreed that Virgil Dodson had the best prayer; however, one of the girls remarked after he sat down why they waited until after the "eats" before having the blessing.

Another girl said that she enjoyed Whitacre's talk best because she could imagine how he looked when he lost his dinner on a ship.

The "eighth" wonder seemed to be why Prof. Phillips and Mr. Boatright did not afford the luxury of a wife.

The toastmaster was bothered during the eats, he confessed afterward, because Miss Watkins was so far away that he could not see when to use his salad spoon.

When asked about the banquet, Mr. Hill said he did all he could to help "pour it on 'em."

Bod Donald said that he was going to introduce a new phase in his Manual Training work, viz: dining rooms with smoke stacks.

BOOK CLUB MEETING

The regular meeting of the Woman's Book Club will be held next Wednesday with Mesdames Hamill, Reeves, and M. B. Johnson as leaders. The following questions are related to the subject:

1. Is the essay on "The Custom House" a suitable introduction to "The Scarlet Letter"?
2. Why does the author make Dimmesdale urge Hester to confess the partner of her guilt? (Ch. III.)
3. Of the characters in the book, which one do you think is the most wonderful artistic creation?
4. At just what point is the climax of the plot reached? (Look for it near the middle of the book.)
5. Give examples of Hawthorne's symbolism in this story.
6. Show how the "Shadow of Puritanism" hangs over this book.
7. Which do you prefer and why, Hawthorne's shorter stories or his longer works?
8. What is your notion of the fundamental lesson of the novels?
9. Do you think any harm can come from putting this book into the hands of young people in their teens?
10. Do you agree with the judgment that Hawthorne is America's chief artist in narrative prose?

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL

We had about $14.00 collection last Sunday. Mr. Serrice's class had the largest collection. By reason of this they won the contest which was going on between their class and Mrs. Rushing's class. Mrs. Rushing's class will give them a party. The Men's Bible class had 20 present, that being the largest number of any class. The next council meeting will be February 7th. We are planning an Easter service. Don't forget Sunday School promptly at 9:45 o'clock. —Reporter.

THE HOME MERCHANT WINS

Mail order houses have a peculiar attraction. It is especially so during times like these. Good men in Wilbarger county, just like our brothers all over America are sending their hard earned dollars for merchandise sold by the Mail Order, and are kidding themselves into the belief that they buy bargains.

Many will remember that more than a year ago when Chicago dispatches announced that two of the largest Mail Order houses had cut the price of sugar to 16 cents. Vernon merchants were advertising sugar half a cent cheaper. A similar comparison was made in spices.

The Quannah Tribune-Chief printed Friday prices on an invoice received by citizens there from the Mail Order house compared with the prices on the same articles by Quannah grocers. Nearly a dozen articles were included, and the footage showed a saving of $14.16 by trading with the local merchant.

This, of course, ignores the fact that the same merchant helps to pave the streets and highways, supports the school, and is a friend whenever you are in need.—Vernon Record.

WARNING AGAINST HOME BREW

A half-grown famished bumbled and scared cottontail rabbit sneaked up to the door of an underground still of an honest Kansas farmer. Some of the "mash" had just been dumped out—to be taken to the swine before the day should dawn. The poor little rabbit nibbled a few small mouthfuls of the mash. In three minutes he walked boldly up to the house where lay the faithful watchdog—a powerful wolf hound—crossed with a bulldog. The rabbit hauled off and with one scratch removed the right eye of the dog. Two bites and the left ear and half a shoulder were missing. The rabbit then swept on to the corral where the big family mule was dozing. One kick from the rabbit broke three ribs and another punch sent the mule over the fence into the alfalfa field. The rabbit then chewed off the door of the garage and several hours later was still sleeping peacefully in the corner. When he awoke a mouse ran him off the farm.—Bert P. Walker.

We would feel worse about the fact that librarians report that Americans are reading fewer books if we didn't know what kind of books they read when they do.—American Luncheon, (Chicago.)

That Plaintiff and Defendant were lawfully married in Texas, about February 3rd, 1916, and that on or about October 15th, 1916, defendant left and abandoned plaintiff, and left with the intention of abandonment and has never lived with her since said date, that defendant has never supported, lived with or aided her in making a support since said date. That the defendant would never take plaintiff to church or other social gatherings, that he threatened to kill her, do not provide her with a home, but they were forced to live with plaintiff's mother, that he would curse and abuse plaintiff's mother for the purpose of annoying and harassing plaintiff. That defendant had on divers occasions accused plaintiff of being untrue to him, and thinking more of other men than she did of him which were all false, as she had always been true and faithful to defendant. That there were born to plaintiff and defendant, three sons, Robert Arthur Parvin, John Painter Parvin and James Franklin Parvin, who are now living with plaintiff in Randall County. How an EXPECTANT MOTHER Prepared for Baby's Coming

DO YOU know that thousands of women never really suffer at child-birth? Perhaps you have thought with many others that this should always be the case. But how?

Let Mrs. Mattie Paul, of Ocilla, Ga., tell you. She is one of thousands who has demonstrated this fact:

"As I am a young mother of one baby, I am writing for free booklet to 'expectant mothers.' I used only two bottles of Mother's Friend before I was confined and had a quick and easy time through labor. I can recommend Mother's Friend to all expectant mothers. I will never go through pregnancy without it."

You, too, can have this booklet for expectant mothers by sending coupon below.

It goes into the features of maternity and gives, in a plain, interesting manner, information about what the mother needs in clothing before baby is born; what clothing will be necessary for the baby; an interesting table as to the probable date of delivery; simple but necessary and helpful rules of hygiene to follow, and much other worth-while information. This little booklet also tells about Mother's Friend and the wonderful good it is doing for expectant mothers.

Don't let false modesty keep you from performing this duty to yourself—your family—and your baby.

Send for your copy NOW.

Now Time to Test Field Seed For Germination

The time of year is at hand when all farm seeds should be tested for germination. Perhaps the most difficult and trying part in growing a crop in this section is in obtaining a good stand in the spring at planting time. This difficulty can be greatly reduced by knowing the germination power of the seeds to be planted. An expensive way to find out the viability of seed for planting purposes is often practiced by planting about twice as much seed as is necessary in order to be sure and get a good stand. Then oftentimes a perfect stand does not result, and lower crop yields result. To obtain maximum yields a perfect stand must be obtained and this can be brought about with certainty only through planting seeds of known germination. It costs just as much to cultivate a crop with a poor stand as one with a good stand. Particularly should cotton seed, grain sorghums, sudan and alfalfa be tested for germination and also for their purity. The Seed Laboratory at the A. & M. College, College Station, Texas, makes both germination and purity tests of seeds without charge for persons desiring this service. A good handful of the smaller seeds should be sufficient, while a pint of cotton and larger seeds should be sent. Mark plainly and give address to whom report of results should be made. Good planting seeds cost money and are worth it. Poor seed is expensive at any price. Now is the time to find out the value of the seed to be planted this season and to know their ability to grow after they are planted.

WHY WE DO THINGS

Men's acts are not open to us. We can see where they go and what they do in every detail. If our eyes are keen enough. We hear their voice in all its wayward tones and subtle inflections. What is that behind the words and the actions? What are the motives that lead men and women to act and speak as they do? Of all the forms of human knowledge and investigation this is the most important and the most difficult. We are always divining the secret, always vaguely and vainly guessing at the impenetrable working of other men's hearts. All our own action has to be founded upon such guessing and divining. Yet, with our very best effort, the matter too often remains hopelessly obscure.

Sometimes we conjecture the motives of others from what we take to be our own, attribute to them our own hopes and struggles, our own petty weaknesses and occasional lofty ideals. Because of the essential oneness of humanity, such guesses are often fortunate. They are often misleading, because the complex mixture of human needs and aspirations appears in strange and unexpected ways. Some times we judge others by standards altogether different from those which we apply to ourselves, standards derived from hearsay or reading or theory. We supply others with motives of lofty idealism and practice, of high devotion to duty, that we should like to think prevailed in our own lives, though we know, alas! that they do not. More often we assume that others do mean and cruel things that we know very well we should not do ourselves. It is astonishing how ready we are to attribute base motives for simple actions, actions that we ourselves are performing every day with no such motive. The safest test here is to stop and consider whether we should really do such things for such an object.

Yet if we are ignorant of the motives of others, it is amazing how ignorant we are also of our own. Most of us act daily by instinct, with no real appreciation of the deeper springs from which such action flows. Even the wisest and most thoughtful act first and when they come to study their actions are astonished to find from what unexpected principles they emanate. The first lesson of these considerations is that we must study motives more and more carefully, in spite of our blunders and ill success. And the second lesson is one of infinite charity. Only the ignorant and the vain pretend to judge motives with positiveness. The wise recognize that man's action springs from strange sources as it leads to strange ends, and the older they grow the more they live in the spirit of the largest charity the world has ever known: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE DISCUSSES SEVERAL QUESTIONS AT LUNCH

pose to give the use of five acres of the Whittenburg place on the highway for a camping ground. The deal for the land has been hanging fire for several weeks. The deed has been in the hands of the attorney general three times. It is hoped that every possible object has now been satisfactorily met, and that the Normal will have this land before many days. The money for the land was appropriated by the last legislature.

In this connection, J. M. Flesher made estimates as to the possible cost of putting signs at the entrances of Randall county on the highways, and a big sign at the camping grounds.

President C. H. Jarrett was authorized to appoint a committee to take up all details of the camping ground when the college got the deed for the land. This committee will be named later.

Mrs. S. H. Heyser urged that the women of Canyon take membership in the Commercial League and attend the weekly luncheons of the League. The membership committee was asked to invite the women to take membership and asked them to attend the weekly luncheons.

Mr. Ives then pointed out the fact that the community did not make as great use of the Normal plant as could be done. He suggested that an all year program be worked out in which community events should be put on in the Normal auditorium. He suggested a number of things that could be put on during the autumn months. In February, a great patriotic program for Washington's Birthday, together with a clean up campaign. In March the program would include the tractor school and propoganda for planting trees and flowers. In April comes the Interscholastic meet and San Jacinta Day. There should be a big May Day fete. June is commencement time. These entertainments should take in all of the people of Randall county and they should be made to feel at home and use the Normal's plant.

Mr. Ives believed that it was as much the part of the Commercial League to look after the entertainment features of the community as the commercial. The Normal building has all and more of the advantages offered in the community building, and Randall county should take advantage of this opportunity offered.

Mr. Ives then presented a subject which brought out considerable discussion and a resolution asking that the city council pass an ordinance forbidding tent shows to come within the city's limits. Half a dozen men expressed the opinion that tent shows were degrading and left in their wake physical and moral wrecks, in addition to the bad effect they have upon the educational interests of the town. Every man expressing his views on the subject urged that the city council take immediate steps to stop this constant flow of cheap shows through the city as was witnessed here during last year.

During the discussion of the shows, it was made clear that all present favored the Chautauqua and the educational advantages offered by the Chautauqua. Rev. E. A. Osborne stated that the pastors of the city had agreed to back the Chautauqua during the coming summer, using all of their influence that the Chautauqua might be a success, but assumed no financial obligations. It is understood that the White & Meyers Chautauqua will return to Canyon next summer with this kind of an agreement with the pastors. It will no doubt be the first time they have ever come to a town without some kind of a financial guarantee from the citizens.

At the suggestion of President Hill, an entertainment committee of three will be appointed from the Commercial League to work with F. P. Guenther and H. W. Morelock so that entertainment, date in town and in the college may not conflict.

Hill Leader Tuesday.
C. H. Jarrett, president of the League, appointed President J. A. Hill to be the leader at the luncheon next Tuesday. The luncheon will be held at the Ideal Cafe.

LECTURE COURSE
On Sunday night next at 7 p. m., the second of the series of six lectures on "America's place in International Affairs," will be delivered at the First Christian Church by the pastor, Rev. E. A. Osborne.

Owing to a slight error in last week's announcement, the impression got abroad that these lectures were to run for one week continuously. They will be given on successive Sunday nights. Each lecture will be preceded by a brief talk on world wide interdenominational mission work.

Next Sunday night Mr. Osborne will sing "Face to Face" by Herbert Johnson. There will be no collection.

On Sunday morning the subject of the sermon will be "The Movie Crash," or "The Moral Purpose of Peril."

At 10 a. m., the Bible School will meet.

Resolutions Favor New Railroad To The Plains Country

At the meeting of the Randall County Commercial League Tuesday, the following resolutions were presented by the committee composed of President J. A. Hill, L. G. Allen and C. W. Warwick, favoring the proposed railroad to this section:

Whereas the people of Canyon and Randall County are vitally interested in the commercial, industrial and educational development of the Panhandle-Plains country.

And whereas we realize the advantages that would accrue from a railway connection between the Santa Fe Lines and the Plains, with Central Texas points.

And whereas a movement to establish such connections has been inaugurated by our neighbors to the south.

Be It Resolved by the Randall County Commercial League, That we heartily endorse this proposal, and stand ready to lend every possible assistance to the construction of such a line.

Be It Resolved Further, That we endorse the suggestion that all efforts be pooled toward the construction of such a line irrespective of its western connections and we are thoroughly convinced that our own interests will be subserved by the construction of any east and west railway lines from Fort Worth to the Plains, regardless of the point of contact with the present Santa Fe System.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Randall County Commercial League shall send representatives to the next meet called for the consideration of the matter, and that copies of these resolutions be furnished to the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, the various other commercial organizations that are most vitally interested.

S. H. JONES' SISTER MARRIED.
Miss Nannie Jones and W. D. Warren were married at Centerville, Tenn. on Sunday, Jan. 22. The bride is a sister of S. H. Jones of this year, and has visited twice in the city. She was here during last August, and will be remembered by many people of Canyon.

The effect on the steel industry of discontinuing the plan of building battleships need not alarm anyone. The steel alone that will be necessary for peace-time needs is more than is contained in the tonnage of all the battleships in the world, built or planned. One example is the Hudson River Bridge, from 37th Street, Manhattan, to the top of the Palisades at Weehauken, New Jersey, which will use enough steel for ten dreadnoughts, though the completed work will cost only about half as much as they would cost.

Looking backward, how easily we read the signposts that pointed to our destiny.

If our health were perfect, and the weather always the same, would not the silence of death fall on the land?

BAPTIST CHURCH
10 a. m. Sunday School.
11 a. m. Sermon by the pastor. Subject, "Church Discipline." Every member of the Baptist church of Canyon is requested to attend this service. Many church members are honestly in doubt as to whether a church should ever discipline a member to the extent of withdrawing church fellowship from him. The pastor proposes to show the teachings of God's word on this subject.

2:30 p. m. Sunbeams.

Welsh Bituminous coal makes its appearance at several cities of the Atlantic seaboard at $5.00 a ton. A cargo in New York sold recently at approximately $4.50, as compared with a minimum of $5.65 for domestic coal. The coal comes here as ballast, free of transportation charges, and so can be sold at a profit over the actual cost of mining.
