STATE DEPOSITORIES

The flurry at Austin caused by the failure of the First National Bank has put many people to thinking. The idea of the state keeping from one to three million dollars in the treasury vaults is a bad as well as unsafe policy.

Every now and then we hear of some one who says that the STAR has changed front on the silver question. Practically THE STAR advocates to-day what it always advocated on the money question.

The investigation has shown that the system of book keeping that is practiced not only in the treasury department, but other departments, is antiquated, out of date and should be changed.

The fact that Texas has never lost any money by dishonest acts of the Treasurer proves only that we have always had honest men in charge of the State funds.

By selecting good banks in different parts of the State as depositories for the State funds, we can make some change in the book-keeping the State would have all its funds absolutely secured and the State treasury would be a part of the responsibility that is now assumed for the small salary attached.

ONE OF SCHLEY'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

"There is not a drop of cowardly blood in Admiral Schley's veins. He is not only a man, but one of the ablest navigators of the age." So spoke J. R. Frederick of Indianapolis, one of the subscribers of the Greysville, as reported by Schley at Cape Sabine, June 23, 1864.

"I was August 1876, when Young, one of our country's ablest navigators, died twenty-seven times to cross the Channel, twenty-one and a half miles from L'Ytillon Island to Cape Sabine."

A man was arrested at the recent Populist campmeeting at Georgetown, Texas, for carrying on a "double game." He was supposed that, being among those who advocated the "double game," he would not object to a "double game" paper. But doubtless the man wanted a money order of leaving a man and irredeemable money.

Schley's seamanship. Even the English, who give praise gratuitously to Americans, extolled his feat, that outdid the efforts of Sir George Vancouver and other English navigators in the same field. It is a mystery to this day how he did it, but he got there.

Band's keeps the only turntable in the city. Try it, only 25 cents per bottle. So change in B. L. Hoydant's ad. Quite a crowd of Abileneites were in attendance at the ball game on the city Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday between the Cisco and Sweetwater teams.

BASE BALL. CISCO-SWEETWATER. As previously arranged the Cisco and Sweetwater teams met at Baird Monday to play a series of three games. A purse of $50 was made up by the citizens of Baird to give to the winning team, besides the daily game receipts, which amounted to about $30 per day.

MONDAY'S GAME. The game was played Monday evening at 4:30, and was as fine a game of ball as was ever played in the city. Both teams did excellent work. The four scores were made on errors, and there were about eight errors made in the game.

TUESDAY'S GAME. Quite a large crowd met Tuesday evening to witness the second game. Everything went smoothly and a good game was being played, until the umpire made a few decisions that the Orioles of Sweetwater did not like.

WEDNESDAY'S GAME. Another large crowd was present at the Ball Park Wednesday evening to witness the closing game of the Cisco-Sweetwater series. The game was a splendid one, except some wrangling, which seems to be a part of the game.

BASE BALL.

The Baird Stars defeated Clisco, the winner of three straight games at Baird this week between Clisco and Sweetwater.

The game was pulled off yesterday evening. Clisco scored three tallies in the first inning while the Stars were shut out. This lead many to believe that Clisco was going to meet the Baird defeat this year in a regular Waterloo and some of the Cliscos boasted that they were just going to make money on the Baird boys. After the first inning Baird began to play ball in a way that surprised some of the Clisco boosters as well as some of the home crowd. Clisco was for a time shut out but returned the compliment in kind, but eventually Baird scored and finally in a mixing Clisco ran in several runs and Baird did likewise. At the end of the first half of the ninth inning Clisco was ahead but Baird got in two runs and made the game tie when a runner and Baird did likewise. At the end of the first half of the ninth inning Clisco was ahead but Baird got in two runs and made the game tie when a runner and Baird did likewise.

The struggle came up over an agreement that no one should take more than one base on a wild throw first or third. Sticker was on first and the first baseman let a ball pass him. Baird struck him back and he claimed Baird and Sticker made home plate safe. Clisco claimed that it was a wild ball and that Sticker should go back to the dugout. Baird claimed that he was not a "wild" ball and that first baseman could easily have caught it had he tried. This is the version we got of the game, though there was much noise that it was had to feel that it was about. The umpire finally gave the decision to Baird, and the game went on without giving Speight a chance to get home.

The home run knocked by Sandlin of Baird, in the 7th inning was a fine feature of the game. The following is the score by innings: Baird 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 Clisco 0 0 0 1 2 0 1 2 1 Lane and Seabrook pitched for Baird, and Pace for Clisco. James, a railroad man umpired the game.

Yesterday up to 10 in the evening, but not enough to scorch a lizard and how was turned on the thermometer in front of "The Star" office. The mercury showed a disposition to jump out at the top of the glass today. Later on during the night it was cooled by a wind which whiffed to the north and for a time after night it was coolingly but finally it closed again from the north with an occasional squall of rain. It looked like a regular fall day, and the thermometer shows a drop of over 30 degrees from yesterday.

Unless rains soon Baird will be in the middle of a hot six about water. The pressure in the mains is all that could be desired, but the railroad company may move pumps to the wells expected some Sunday. The railroad tanks, which will be done unless the people can induce the company to use the water in the large pool at the fourth bridge east of town. The situation should admonish the City Council to obtain a water supply exclusively for the city without regard to the fact that the water is scarce at this time, but in the course of time it will get to dig itself out of the water at the wells. The city should buy the land and dig its own wells. Sooner or later this will have to be done and the sooner the better.

Hawk and Partridge. In "Reminiscences of a Falconer" Mr. Fisher describes the tactics of a partridge when pursued by a tame falcon. The falcon was descending upon the partridge when the partridge stopped short and fell to the ground as if dead. He seemed to be lost in the short stubble of the field. He was far too knowing to trust himself again on the wing, and the hawk had no alternative but to take him on the ground, which he speedily attempted to do.

A Fish and Lizard Story. One bright day I would go down the river and troll. I had on my hook a five minnow and in a little while I had a strike, and I name my first fish, which seemed to be quite a large one. I reeled him where I could see him and he was a large one, 25 or 30 inches long. I pulled him up to my boat, but when I lifted him he was as light as a feather. I measured him and found he was just 20 inches long and should weigh about eight or nine pounds. While he only weighed two. It was just skin and bones. I killed him, took my knife and cut him open. He was a live lizard, five inches long, in his stomach. The reptile was as black as coal and very lively, living 24 hours after I took him from his prison-Field and Stream.
