

PAVING CONTRACT LET SATURDAY BY THE CITY COUNCIL

LUBBOCK CONTRACTORS MAKE ACCEPTABLE BID.

Paving Will Start Soon After the First of July—Price of Contract is Above $29,000.00

The City Council opened the bids for paving Saturday, and awarded the contract to the Panhandle Construction Company of Lubbock at the price of $3.03 per square yard, the total contract amounting to a little more than $29,000.

The bids ranged up to $44,000. The successful bidder was $8,000 below the best bid made to the council eight months ago when bids were asked for the first time.

The specification called for paving to be 48 feet wide, but the council decided Saturday to make the street 54 feet wide. A joint meeting was held with the commissioners court and an agreement reached as to the part of the paving on the county property.

The council chose the bid calling for a four inch concrete base with paving brick on top.

The paving will cost each lot owner around the square about $210.

In this edition of the News will be found a call for an election which is of vital importance to the street improvement program. When this election is carried, the paving may proceed without fear of collecting from non-residents who take it into their head not to pay for their paving. It gives the contractor a prior lien upon the property, above any other lien that may be against the property. Up until a few years ago when this act was passed by the legislature, there was no way to force the non-resident to pay his part, and therefore there was gaps in paving in every town. Under this new law the contractor may proceed without fear of losing. The city of Canyon must adopt this measure before proceeding with paving. The election will be held on the 8th of July.

Hon. Sterling Strong Spoke Here Monday Interest of Campaign

Hon. Sterling Strong of Dallas was in the city Monday and spoke before a fairly good sized crowd in the interest of his candidacy for the United States Senate.

The coming of Mr. Strong was not known in Canyon until Sunday when letters were received to that effect, and he was not given as large a hearing as usually accorded a distinguished candidate whose coming had been well advertised.

Mr. Strong has a large number of old friends and acquaintances in Randall county who are working hard in the interest of his candidacy. These friends believe that Mr. Strong is rapidly gaining in strength as the campaign progresses.

In his speech at the court house Monday, Mr. Strong followed closely the speech that he has made in other towns and which have been printed in full in the daily press.

He returned Monday night to Amarillo where he spoke before a large audience that night.

City Will Build New Water Line to East Portion of the City

The City Council is making arrangements to extend the city water line to the east part of town with a six inch main on either Houston or Evelyn streets, probably Evelyn street.

Private mains have been carrying the water to this part of town since the water system was put in twelve years ago, but this part has grown up so rapidly that the water mains now do not supply sufficient water for the needs of the patrons, and give but little fire protection.

Mrs. Smith was among the best known women of Plainview and had many friends here, having visited at the home of her daughter several times.

The many friends of Mrs. Sheffy in this city extend heart-felt sympathy in this hour of great sadness.

MONTHLY TRADES DAY WILL BE HELD IN CANYON NEXT MONDAY—CHICKEN FLIGHT, AUCTION SALE AFTERNOON

BUSINESS HOUSES OF CANYON ARE INVITING YOU TO TRADES DAY THROUGH THE RANDALL COUNTY NEWS.

Next Monday, June 12, will be the regular monthly Trades Day in Canyon.

Trades Day has always been a great institution in Canyon and Randall County. It has not been held during the past few months, but is going to be carried on in the future, and with a view of making the days better and better each month.

The progressive merchants of Canyon are carrying a message to you in the News today. Read these messages. Patronize the merchants who are making these splendid Trades Days possible.

There will be several special stunts during the days, with a big auction sale in the afternoon, with stock, and much new merchandise.

Come to Trades Day next Monday.

A number of business men attended a meeting at the court house Tuesday night for the purpose of organizing the monthly Trades Day which has not been held for the past few months. All present at the meeting expressed themselves as being highly in favor of the Trades Day and urged that the Trades Days be started again next Monday and kept coming from now on.

T. C. Thompson urged that all of the business men of Canyon get behind the Trades Day, as it had always been a good thing for the town as well as the business men.

O. N. Gamble stated that Trades Day was always a very profitable day in his business, and that it was a good thing for the town. He urged that all business houses take an interest in Trades Day and not let a few carry the load.

Mr. Gamble suggested that instead of running the Trades Trip monthly that one car go out from Canyon in each direction, carrying the advertising for Trades Day and visiting with the people of the several communities. In this way every part of the county will be covered in one day whereas only one part of the county was covered when all of the cars went together in one direction.

A chicken flight was adopted as one of the attractions for next Monday, and C. E. Condrey was appointed to put this over. Other attractions will be added.

The auction sale will be held in the afternoon on the south-side of the square under the direction of C. F. Walker. R. A. Campbell will be the auctioneer.

The question of band concerts during the summer was taken up and W. J. Fleisher was appointed to confer with Wallace R. Clark and R. N. Brothers with a view of making suitable arrangements. It was proposed that a good bandstand be built on the court house lawn to care for the band concerts.

AT EPWORTH LEAGUE MEET
Rev. J. H. Hicks is one of the speakers at the Epworth League conference being held in Clarendon this week. Those attending the conference from Canyon are Rev. and Mrs. Hicks, Miss Moss Richardson, Misses Ola Robeson and Winnie Mae Crawford, Jean Vetsok, Mae Slack, Edna Schramm, Brandon Vetsok and Kermit Ehrmann.

Oil Burning Engine Will be Installed at Canyon Power Plant

Manager A. J. Arnold states that a new engine will be received during this week which will be installed at the power plant to take care of the day load, which has proven to be a money loser with the big 100 horsepower coal burning engine now in use for all day run.

The new engine will be 50 h. p. oil burner. It is the latest model of engine and is large enough to carry the day load of Canyon for many years to come. The big engine will be used for the night run when the load is heavy.

Mr. Arnold has replaced practically all of the machinery of his plant since he bought the business three years ago and is giving service that would be a credit to a town much larger than Canyon.

HAIL WIPED OUT CROPS ALL OVER RANDALL COUNTY

HEAVIEST HAIL IN YEARS FALL DURING WEEK.

Grain Crops of County Badly Damaged Thursday and Sunday by the Continued Rain and Hail.

More hail has fallen in Randall county during the past year than at any time for many years past, and the destruction has been heavy as few farmers took out hail insurance since the grain crops were so light.

A hail storm hit at the Zachery place southeast of town Thursday evening, and entirely wiped out his grain and row crop. Mr. Zachery had the misfortune of losing his house by fire only a few days previously and was hit mighty hard by the hail. All of the neighbors in that community suffered loss of grain and row crops.

The heaviest rain storm of the year fell in Canyon commencing Thursday evening at 6:45. Rain fell in torrents for more than an hour, and continued falling a greater part of the night. The streets were converted into regular rivers for hours after the hard rain of the early evening.

The water came down the railroad so fast at the light plant that the drive wheel pits were filled with water and power was shut off for more than an hour while the pits were being pumped out.

Rain fell Friday night, Saturday night, Sunday morning and evening, and again Monday. Another big hail storm hit east of town Sunday afternoon about three o'clock, striking hard about the Fred Scheutte place, who it will be remembered was almost wiped out last year by a cyclone.

At 6:30 the heaviest hail storm hit southwest of town, extending in a strip across the country from the Deaf Smith county line to south of Canyon. Grain and row crops were wiped out entirely. Hail was piled up against the houses and fences two feet deep. As late as Tuesday morning J. A. Chentham brought into town a mass of frozen hail which he had picked up on his place southwest of town. He states that even the grass on his place was beat out.

Tom Dowlen states that all of the leaves were beat off of his trees. He says the hail came so hard that the backs of some of his cattle were lacerated.

Bob Stratton states that the storm was almost a young cyclone when it hit his place. A header barge was carried 50 yards over two fences and torn to pieces.

On account of the light wheat crop there was little hail insurance, but the oats and barley were looking exceptionally fine, and there would have been a great crop of both had it not been for the unfortunate hail which has covered a very large area of the county.

CHANGES CAFE NAME.
C. L. Condrey has done a great deal of improvement upon his Cafe during the past two months, completely remodeling the building, and has now changed the name from the Canyon Cafe to the Canyon Inn.

The News has been considering for a long while the senatorial situation in Texas and has finally determined upon supporting Clarence Onsey for the United States senate. We have come to this conclusion after having read considerable from each of the various candidates for this high office, and with the belief that Onsey comes nearer to fulfilling the qualifications of a United States senator from an agricultural state such as Texas is. Onsey has a wide and intimate knowledge of Texas and the needs of the state. He has held but one public office—assistant secretary of agriculture, during the Wilson administration. In this capacity he became thoroughly acquainted with the agricultural department, and understands what is needed in the senate for the best interests of the state. Onsey has been in the newspaper field of Texas, and with the A. & M. College so long that he knows every county and section like a book. He knows the people of Texas and their needs. He speaks the language of the farmer. There are other good men in the race, but Onsey can come nearer filling the office satisfactorily than any man in the race. We believe that he is the only man in the campaign who can defeat Culberson if the two should go into the second primary.

The press of this section now has under consideration the case of Hall vs. Wilson. Judge R. Walker Hall, of the Civil Court of Appeals, repeated before his Sunday School class in Amarillo the charge that Federal Judge Wilson had been found in company with bootleggers, and drank in a bootleggers joint. The charge was originally made by Rev. Frank Norris of the Ft. Worth Baptist church and by Rev. Atticus Webb of the Anti-Saloon League. Wilson called the charge a slanderous libel. Hall replied that he did not make the charge, merely repeated it, and that he demanded the proof from Norris and Webb, neither of whom have replied. If Wilson is guilty of the charge, he should be taken from the federal bench. If the charge was some more of the Norris-Webb campaign of sensationalism, it will be overlooked and soon forgotten. Both Norris and Webb are long on sensation.

The soldier bonus bill has been reported favorably by the senate committee by a vote of 9 to 4. The republican majority in congress is afraid not to act upon the bonus bill, as this means a big vote in the congressional elections this fall for the democratic nominees by the soldier boys. On the other hand business interests demand that something more satisfactory be presented, or there will be an adverse vote from among the business men of the country. On the other hand the President is determined to veto any bill that does not provide for a means of raising the money. Congress would like very much to pass a bill which means nothing to the soldiers but their vote this fall.

A startling head on a news item in the Canyon News informs us that "Constance Hall has Billings for dinner." We note that they must be pepping up to go after Clarendon College again and were serving a real meat diet, and then we saw that that is the name of the baseball team from Clarendon they were entertaining at a special banquet.—Canadian Record.

Yes, your little old home paper isn't as large as some of the big dailies, and it may not be just to your liking in some ways, but it's the paper that tells about the arrival of the youngsters that "tipped the scales at ten pounds," the paper that tells about the marriage of the "beautiful and accomplished daughter," and it's the paper that writes nice things about people who pass from the scene of action. The little old home paper is ready to say a good word for the town and the people, and always tries to avoid saying things that will hurt them. The home paper is a mirror and you can generally get a pretty good glimpse of the town that it is published in when you look it over.—Polk County Enterprise.

Young people who get married should bear in mind that the very first duty they owe to each other and to their family of future years, is to own a home. It does not matter how humble or poor that home may be—it will grow as the years roll by, and in time become the greatest comfort and happiness the family can possibly have. Altogether too many of them invest in a suit case and a can opener and rent a flat, and later on buy a flivver on the installment plan. The flivver starts on the road to the trash heap, and the rent money never comes back and the can opener is mute evidence of a wrong idea of life.—Pampa News.

Regular advertising is the kind that pays. Last fall a particular brand of soap came back into the advertising pages after trying to run on past prestige; today we have a baking powder company who quit advertising a few years ago because most everybody was using their powder and they thought that it was money thrown away to tell the people of the merits of a powder that was well known anyway. The public is fickle, and to imagine that the customer will remember and use an article in preference to a competitor's goods that are continually being brought to their attention is to court failure. Spasmodic advertising is not worth the money, except in special sales, or something of like nature. The man who intends to make his business a permanent one, must keep his name and business continually before the public, so that when one needs an article that is carried by this store, it will become second nature to go to them for it; just as we patronize the post office and banks.—McLean News.

FRIEND ENDORSES JACKSON
Grandbury, Texas, May 10, 1922.
I hear that my old friend Phillip Jackson is in the race for County Judge of Randall County, and having known him for over thirty years will say to the voters that he is a first class gentleman, a good financier, a safe man at the helm of the county. Having been commissioner myself, when he was judge, I know whereof I speak. He is for economy as well as improvement, on a safe and sound basis. It is often said here by old citizens if we had Phil Jackson for County Judge the county finance would be safe. Respectfully,
—C. L. D. LANDERS.

MASON FOR COMMISSIONER
To the Voters of Commissioners' Precinct No. Two, Randall County, Texas.

I have been solicited by some of my neighbors to make the race for County Commissioner for Precinct Two, and have decided to announce myself as a candidate for the place, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held in July, through the columns of the Randall County News.

I moved from Missouri to this county about sixteen years ago, since which time I have been engaged in farming and stock raising. I feel like I am acquainted with the needs of the county and the duties of a County Commissioner, and if elected to the place will serve you faithfully.
GEO. E. MASON.

"If I were a youngster about to strike out for myself," said the old citizen of Little Lott. "I should try to remember that it is always as important to make sure where the train is going as it is to get a good seat."

TO DO TRUCK BUSINESS.

The agriculture department of the Normal is going into the trucking business according to Prof. Fred H. Ives, head of the department, who states that 5,000 sweet potato plants were set out Saturday. A variety of other garden plants are being planted and worked by the department.

The plants will be irrigated with waste water from the boiler house and the cost for irrigation will be very little.

There will be one student who will spend all his extra time in the garden to pay his expenses through school. This will be one more of the many ways in which the agriculture department is aiding students who are striving for an education.

The garden products will be used to supply Cousins Hall for the summer and winter.

NONSENSE

We all know plenty of grave persons who condemn nonsense. Oh, how stiff they are and how solemn, how precise in their demeanor, how staid and exact in all their actions, how formal and rigid in their theoretical standard of life! And do not the shrewd see clearly that those persons have their nonsense like the rest of us? They talk in high sounding phrases, they argue elaborately and logically on great questions, they spend long and pompous hours in debating matters that neither they nor anyone else can settle. And through it all they are likely to pour rivers, oceans of nonsense—and never know it.

All of us, high and low, grave and trivial, learned and ignorant, have plenty of nonsense in our composition; all of us violate the prescriptions of reason, all of us trespass the bounds of sober judgment, all of us do things that we should condemn in others; nay, do things one day that we should ourselves condemn the next. The wise are those who understand and recognize this element of nonsense and inconsistency, who admit it and enjoy it and turn it into laughter, knowing that a world wholly made up of gravity and solemnity would be quite intolerable.

It used to be the fashion to quote Horace. He is all but forgotten now; but he said some sage things of eternal profit, and not the least sage was his remedy that there are times when it is pleasant to play the fool. The wise man will certainly not wish to play the fool all the time. It is only the judicious and delicate commingling of nonsense that the grave affairs of life that is tolerable to such as know how to suck the sweet from both. But the wisest are those who at the proper moment can unbind, can trifle, can give an hour to frolic, to trivial laughter, to mere unmeaning, heart-expanding, soul-comforting gaiety.

Life is an earnest, a strenuous, often a pitiful, thing. We get through it best and get most out of it if we know how to sprinkle it conveniently with the rosebuds of merriment.

WITHIN REASON

Just as the guards were leading his client away, the lawyer stopped and shook hands sadly with the recent defendant.

"I'm sorry I couldn't do more for you, old man," he apologized.

"Don't mention it, sir," replied the prisoner politely, "Ain't five years enough?"

The government has just issued an elementary book on radio communication, known as Signal Corps Radio Communication Pamphlet No. 40, Second Edition. It contains over six hundred pages and more than three hundred illustrations. It can be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, for a dollar.

FACT AND COMMENT

The man who keeps his word does not make glib promises.

Ready for shipment from Constantinople is the largest nut crop that Asia Minor has produced since 1914. Most of the nuts are filberts, a good share of which will come to the United States. Shelled filberts in Turkey bring about three cents a pound; here they sell for seventy-five. Not even a nut can travel free.

An enterprising English doctor, whose headquarters are in the ancient city of Palmyra, found it difficult to keep in touch with his patients among the wandering Bedouin tribes. Accordingly, he bought an aeroplane and now flies out over the Syrian desert and watches the slowly moving camel trains for a signal to alight.

It takes a clever installation of telephone equipment to pick up, transfer and broadcast by radio the proceedings of a general meeting in a large auditorium, but it was recently shown in New York that it can be done. It may not be a great while before anyone who will drop his regular work long enough to listen can hear the debates in Congress.

A British firm of dyers has discovered a process by which material can be dyed in two shades at one immersion. A new dye substance called "ionamines" affects only silk or artificial silk, whereas other dyes, already known, have an affinity for cotton only. It is possible, therefore, by using cloth that contains part cotton and part silk to get different shades in the same piece by one immersion.

A French writer insists that man could live twice as long as he usually does if he would abandon the notion that seventy or eighty years is the normal limit of life. Among other interesting instances of longevity he refers to a certain district in Chile where in a population of about forty thousand there are more than twenty persons who have reached the remarkable age of one hundred and fifty years.

Good bargaining makes a thick purse.

The truck growers of the sunny South and California evidently believe that their mission in life is to supply the whole country with fresh vegetables all the year round. Florida now ships on the average one carload of produce every eight minutes in the year, yet has under cultivation only about an eighth of the land in the state that is suitable for farming.

Soon after a bird or a monkey deposits the seed of the figs, or wild fig, tree of equatorial Africa in the bark of some other tree the seed germinates and the young plant sends out roots reaching to the ground and raises a crown that quickly overtops the tree that serves as an involuntary host. Then, having escaped the dangers of the jungle floor and made sure of abundant sunlight, the tree proceeds to envelop its host, which is soon killed and buried within the huge buttressed trunk of the figs.

The clerk of today is often the prosperous merchant of tomorrow. His training is fitting him for the job.

Only one thing stands in the way when the opportunity for advancement comes, and that is usually the matter of ready money. If he has that, he steps forward.

Ft. Worth Record Announces Picture Puzzle Game

In today's issue of the Randall County News appears an advertisement of the Fort Worth Record "S Word" Picture Puzzle Game. Fifteen Big Cash Prizes are offered for the fifteen best lists of answers to the "S Word" Picture Puzzle; prizes ranging all the way from $2.00 to $1,000.

It's the new "fun game" for all, no one is barred. Young and old, married or single, can find "S Words" and it makes no difference where you live.

It is not necessary to send in any subscription to take part in the "S Word" Picture Puzzle; make up your list and send it in and if in the opinion of the judges it is the largest and nearest correct list you will receive $35.00 in cash, and it will only take you a little while to get up your "S Word" list.

Of course, if you would like to receive more money, you can win up to $1,000 in cash by qualifying your "S Word" list with two six months subscriptions to the Fort Worth Record at the reduced rate of $3.50, Daily and Sunday, (one of which must be new) or one new subscription of one year at the reduced rate of $7.00, both Daily and Sunday.

$1,862 is the Total Prize List

That is the sum the Fort Worth Record will pay to the fifteen winners of the "S Word" Picture Puzzle provided their lists are fully qualified. The best prize, of course, is $1,000 in cash; the second best list $300, and so on. So you see one can win some really big money by taking a little time and thought and working out a good list of "S Words" and qualifying it with one or two subscriptions. Any rate, you can't lose and it's lots of fun. Why not try? You can win the $1,000 as well as anyone else.

SELF-DEVELOPMENT

For a person to be consciously aiming all the time at the development of his character may not be altogether wise. It is likely to result in a frame of mind approaching self-righteousness and to produce in the reactions from the various tests of life either too much self-applause or too much self-pity. The people who are mainly interested in their own development never ring quite true; there is something insincere in their relation to life and they are not often persons whom you would trust in emergencies.

Self-development does not usually come as the result of interest in yourself. It is more likely to come from interest in other people. "I am debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians," said St. Paul, "both to the wise and to the unwise." Intellectual humility, which gives you something of St. Paul's willingness to learn from everyone, human friendliness, which gives you an instinctive desire to help anyone who needs help, and moral integrity, which, though you are willing to learn from many people and to be interested in all, withholds you from following any but the true leader, are the qualities that will insure self-development.

JORDAN PASSED

The Rev. Dr. Jordan was anxious about his son's college examination and requested him to telegraph the result. The boy sent the following telegram. "Hymn 342, fifth verse, last two lines." Looking it up the father found the words, "Sorrow vanquished, labor ended, Jordan passed."

FACT AND COMMENT
Excellent are the lessons of experience, but they often come too late. To graduate "cum laude" a girl might well be required to have among her credits a record of service in the home of some overburdened young mother. To act as a "mother's helper" is one of the most useful and wholesome things that a high school girl can do.

Definite steps toward "double-tracking" the North Pacific Ocean to lessen the dangers of congested steamship traffic have been taken by the hydrographic office of the Navy Department. Steamship authorities of all nations concerned have been asked to co-operate in mapping out the most favorable courses for westbound and for eastbound traffic in well-separated lanes. The North Atlantic already has such a system.

An example of gigantism was recently exhibited in Hungary; a Russian peasant, thirty-four years old, who is nine feet three inches tall and weighs 458 pounds. His hand is one foot one inch long from finger tip to wrist; his chest measures fifty-six inches, and his head is twenty-five inches round. Like Dickens' "fat boy" he spends a large part of his time in sleep. When he is awake his motions are slow and deliberate.

So far as this country is concerned, the new tariff law should end the long battle against the slaughter of wild birds for millinery. Although the law of 1913 forbade the importation of feathers, customs officers could obtain a conviction only if they could prove that the feathers had entered the country since 1913. The result was wholesale smuggling, and it was necessary to catch the smuggler to prove an illegal entry. The new law will put the burden of proof on those who offer feathers for sale.

The beautiful dresses, the shining silk hats, the display of wealth and loveliness that marked the old days of steamboating on the Mississippi are gone, but the traffic is still there and is increasing. The business of the government large line between Saint Louis and New Orleans, established during the war, is growing. Since rates for freight are less by a fifth than they are by rail, traffic again seeks the river. The river ports are building modern terminals to handle the freight, and Illinois is spending thirty million dollars to connect the Mississippi and Chicago rivers so that barges loaded at New Orleans can be unloaded on Lake Michigan.

When forty carloads of firecrackers arrive from China in one shipment, it looks as if young America were getting ready for a celebration.

Being the Rector of the recently created Episcopal parish of Park County, Wyoming, should satisfy even an active man. As the parish contains 5420 square miles, an area somewhat larger than the State of Connecticut, making calls in the outlying districts will be something of a camping trip.

The monument for Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary is a huge stone sphere on which the continents of the earth are outlined. At the North Pole is set a bronze star, symbol both of his discovery and, as some one has suggested, "the star of unconquered will." His epitaph is his own favorite quotation from the Latin—"I will find a way to make one."

"Mass athletics" were devised to supplement military drill in whipping the draft army into shape and proved so valuable for the purpose that West Point now gives all its cadets regular courses in the principal games. The instruction is compulsory, as is military drill, and during the fall and spring as many as sixty officers are required for the athletic coaching.

$365 IN PRIZES FOR BEST RHYMES

A new contest is just being started which will interest everyone who reads this paper. Anyone can enter this Contest—anyone can win! All it is necessary to do is to write a 4-line rhyme on Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder, using only the words which appear on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back). Isn't that easy? Everyone likes to make rhymes and here is a chance to spend a fascinating hour or two writing rhymes on this popular Baking Powder and perhaps winning a substantial prize for your efforts.

27 CASH PRIZES

For the rhyme selected as best a prize of $100 will be given; for the second, third and fourth best rhymes prizes of $75, $50, and $25, respectively will be given. And besides these prizes there will be 23 prizes of $5 each for the next 23 best rhymes. With such a long list of prizes as these, it would be a pity not to try your hand. Here's a 4-line rhyme as example:

*Biscuits, muffins, pie or cake,
With Dr. Price's Powder bake,
The Price's Co. guarantee
No alum in the cans to be.*

As Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder sells for only 25 cents a 12 oz. can, some rhymes could play up the great economy of this pure and wholesome baking powder.

All rhymes must be received by July 1, 1922. Only words appearing on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back) may be used. These words may be used as often as desired, but no other words will be allowed. If you haven't a can of Dr. Price's, you can see one free at almost any grocery's. It is not a requirement that you purchase a can in order to be eligible in this Contest.

Anyone may enter the Contest, but only one rhyme from each person will be considered. In case of ties, the full amount of the prize will be given to each tying contestant. Write plainly on only one side of a sheet of paper and be sure to give your name and address. Send your rhyme before July 1st to Price Baking Powder Factory, 1005 Independence Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

NORMAL CLOSED SPRING QUARTER COMMENCEMENT

DEGREES, DIPLOMAS AND CERTIFICATES GIVEN TO 150.

Highly Enjoyable Commencement Program Comes to Close Saturday Afternoon With Banquet.

The Commencement Program of the West Texas State Normal College was somewhat marred by the continued rain last week, but with one or two exceptions, the attendance at the programs were much larger than at any commencement time in the twelve years' history of the school.

The Training School program and graduation Thursday was a very enjoyable affair, and the program throughout was good.

The rain Thursday night prohibited the concert from being held, but this was given Friday afternoon.

Friday was a full day for the commencement visitors. The Class Day Exercises of the morning were very interesting, and the program of each class was highly praised.

In the afternoon "A Tale of Old Japan" was given by the soloists, orchestra and chorus. This production was one of the most delightful of the music department has every given. The solos of Misses Margaret Guenther and Pauline Brigham and of J. J. Powell and Rev. E. A. Osborne were especially pleasing. The cantata was given under the direction of Wallace B. Clark, head of the music department of the Normal.

The commencement play Friday night "Nothing But the Truth" was probably the most popular play given by the expression department of the Normal. The play was exceptionally well presented, each character taking his part well. The play is to be repeated during the summer quarter.

The commencement exercises were held at the auditorium Saturday morning with a large audience in spite of the threatening weather.

Chas. G. Thomas, speaker of the house of representatives of the Texas legislature, made a most wholesome and interesting address before the members of the graduating class.

President Hill in introducing the speaker of the morning called attention to the unselfish work that he had accomplished for education in Texas during the time he had served the people.

Mr. Thomas stated that he felt honored that a plain business man should be called upon an occasion of this kind to make the address. He praised the Normal and the work that it had done and expressed his confidence in the school, in President Hill and the great West Texas.

Mr. Thomas believes that the people stand today strong for education, and it was the duty of every citizen to stand and work for education and educational needs of the state. He wants every institution from the common schools up to be the best and to serve for the best.

Mr. Thomas devoted his address to developing three thoughts: Grasp the opportunity of the time; follow your enthusiasm; and defeat makes stepping stones to success. Drawing very largely from history, Mr. Thomas developed these thoughts in a most interesting and helpful manner. In closing he left one desire with those who were to graduate: "Be men and women—the noblest gift of God. Be men of principle. You will accomplish something useful, if not something great."

Degrees, pilomas and certificates were issued to 150. The complete list is printed on another page of this issue of the News.

CANYON STUDENT PAYS EXPENSES WITH MILK COW

Johnnie Archer, son of S. B. Archer, of Spearman, Texas has paid most of his expenses in the West Texas Normal Training School from the proceeds received from milk sold from one Jersey cow. Johnnie has sold the milk for ten cents per quart and finds that his average monthly profit since January has averaged a little better than $24.00. Beside, the cow has increased in value. This student is a member of the Vocational Agriculture class. It is a state requirement that all boys who take this course must keep some kind of a project; Johnnie has found that his project has enabled him to have the necessary funds to attend school, without having to send to his father for them.

ADDS VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

Prof. Frank R. Phillips, director of Vocational Agriculture, in the West Texas State Normal Colleges announces that Lockney has added the Vocational Agricultural work to her school system for next year. The school board has elected J. Byron Jones of the El Paso city schools as their teacher for this work. Mr. Jones is a graduate of the Mississippi A. & M. and has had several years experience in agricultural educational work.

Normal Grid Schedule For 1922 Announced

Coach Burton has just completed the football schedule for 1922 for the West Texas State Normal College Buffaloes, and announces that the herd will appear in six hard battles on the home gridiron, and that four games will be played on foreign territory. The schedule for 1922 is by far the most difficult one that has ever been signed by the Normal.

Practically every man from last year's squad will be back to fight for a place on the team.

The schedule for the Normal Buffaloes is as follows:

- September 30, Wayland College at Canyon.
October 6, Panhandle A. & M. at Canyon.
October 13, Daniel Baker College at Canyon (probably).
October 21, Abilene Christian College at Abilene.
October 28, Simmons College at Canyon.
November 4, University of New Mexico at Albuquerque.
November 11, New Mexico Military Institute at Canyon.
November 18, Clarendon College at Canyon.
November 24, Northwestern Teachers College at Alva, Okla.
November 30, Clarendon at Clarendon.

KNOWN BY SIGHT

Manuel, a colored fellow with a record previously clean, was arraigned before the justice of the peace for assault and battery.

"Why did you beat this man up?" questioned the judge.
"He called me a rhinoceros, sah."

"About three years ago, Judge."
"Three years ago! Then why did you wait so long to resent it, Manuel?"
"Judge, I ain't never seen no rhinoceros till dis mawnin'."

Normal Teams Are Awarded College Letters

At a meeting of the athletic council of West Texas State Normal College, which was held Thursday, it was decided to award letters to basket ball and baseball men of the last season and to award sweaters to those who did not receive a letter in football.

The sweaters are to be coat sweaters, maroon in color with a large white "T" arranged on the side of the sweater.—This is the first time that coat sweaters have ever been given, all past sweaters had the letters "W. T. S. N." on the front.

The men who are to receive letters in basketball are: Lewis Hill and Nay Hale, Lipscomb; Joe Lancaster, Foy Terry, Everett Key, Canyon; Capt. Odus Mitchell, Floydada; Clifford Henry; Corpus Christi.

The entire squad will be back for next season with the exception of Key, who has played four years on the team.

The men who are to receive letters in baseball are: Barto Johnson, Everett Key, Foy Terry, Ira Jenkins, Law Sone and Lem Sone of Canyon; Bernice Graves of Plainview; Gus Miller of Vega; Grady Burson of Silvertown; Howard Lemond and Clyde Whitacre of Hale Center; Enoc Dawson of Abilene, Capt. Lewis Hill of Lipscomb and Odus Mitchell of Floydada.

The baseball men who were awarded sweaters are: Bernice Graves of Plainview; Gus Miller of Vega; Law Sone and Lem Sone of Canyon and Howard Lemond of Hale Center.

Hereafter, in addition to letters, the council decided that when an athletic team is undefeated during the season that gold footballs, basketballs or baseballs, as the case may be, be awarded to each member of the team, regardless of previous letters earned during the year, and that these gold emblems be not awarded to a team which is not undefeated or which has not won the championship of the T. I. A. A.

A CHEERFUL GIVER

A colored revival was in full blast, and one old fellow was exhorting the people to contribute generously.
"Look what de Lawd's done fo' you all, brodren!" he shouted. "Give Him a portion of all you has. Give Him a tenth. A tenth belongs to de Lawd!"
"Arnen!" yelled a perspiring member of the congregation, overcome by emotion. "Glory to de Lawd! Give Him mo'. Give Him a twentieth."

Doyle says people are straight in the next world. What else could one expect on the spirit level?—Newspaper Enterprise Association.

THE MEANS AND THE END

There is a compact little aphorism—"the end justifies the means"—that in its time has set much impassioned disputation afoot. In its extreme interpretation, that a good end excuses any means, however bad, no one believes to be true. In its limited meaning, that when a course of action proves to be clearly beneficial we can excuse some of the early steps that may have seemed questionable at the time, it has a certain plausibility, though most of us are agreed that even then it is a dangerous and casuistical doctrine.

But in all the discussion that the aphorism has provoked there is the implicit assumption that the end is the really important thing, because it expresses motive, illumines character and represents achievement. Did you ever think that perhaps the means may be even more significant than the end, that they may be the thing on which the emphasis should be put, and that they may be the real moulder and indicator of character?

That is what that clever and thoughtful Frenchman, M. Romain Rolland, suggests in one of his interesting letters. The end, he argues, is rarely accomplished according to our designs: it is often an inadequate and unsatisfactory thing, and even when we attain it we usually succeed only in altering here and there some of the external relations between man and man.

But the means that a man uses to gain his end tell us infallibly and what manner of man he is. They are a constant influence on character, a constant example, good or bad, to others. They educate and spiritualize or they degrade. However, altruistic you may think your aims to be, if you pursue them by mean or underhanded methods you lower yourself. However mistaken and blundering those aims are, if you are honest and scrupulous and high minded in pursuing them you grow spiritually.

That is not fashionable doctrine. Too many of those who think, or like to think that they think, are misled by the idea that it is the external relations between man and man that count, and that by altering them sufficiently you can reclaim and rejuvenate the world. But the kingdom of Heaven is within us. It will come here on earth not by statutes and enactments from without but by a regeneration of mankind from within. Of that inward regeneration conduct is the test. The ends we strive for are often unwise because we are ignorant or unintelligent, but the means that we use depend on that more fundamental thing, character. If we fall there, we fall indeed.—Youth's Companion.

THE INFORMATION BUREAU

A guest hurried up to the hotel clerk's counter. He had just ten minutes to pay his bill, reach the station and board his train.

"Hang it!" he exclaimed. "I've forgotten something. Here, boy, run up to my room—No. 427—and see if I left my pajamas and shaving kit. Hurry, I've only five minutes left."
The boy hurried. In four minutes he returned out of breath.
"Yes, sir," he panted. "You left them."

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY

Although her coffee-colored husband had just completed an advantageous trade in the mule market, Mrs. Jefferson Lee was perturbed.

"Rastus," she worried, "yo-all tot' Mister Jackson dat mule was gentle, an' yo' knows she's a regular debbil. S'posin' she kicks Mister Jackson, Den he'll bring dat mule back an' raise fits."

"Lissen, 'ooman," returned her husband tranquilly. "If dat mule breaks mah guarantee and kicks Mister Jackson, Mister Jackson ain't gwine bring dat mule back. No, ma'am. Ah knows dat mule's power."

HANNA FOR COMMISSIONER

The News was authorized this morning to announce the candidacy of Parker D. Hanna as a candidate for re-election for the office of County Commissioner, Precinct No. 2. Mr. Hanna has held this office during the past two terms and rendered valuable and efficient service to the county. He has been extremely interested in building of the highways of the county, and is now proud of the fact that the county boasts of some of the best highways in Northwest Texas.

Mr. Hanna states: "The last few years, while we were building the two highways through the county, and with other unusual expenses, it has not been possible for me to spend as much on the other roads in my precinct as I would have wished, or as the people expected. Now that we are getting in shape to do this I would like to stay in office at least long enough to turn over to my successor in this precinct a system of roads that will reflect credit on my intentions at least. Also, whoever the commissioner may be, I think he should be centrally located in the precinct and near enough to the county seat to keep in touch with conditions in general throughout the county. I feel that the experience gained during the past few years will enable me to be of increased service to my precinct and to the county in general."

EVERYBODY'S FRIEND

In an attractive white house with flower beds and trees all around it lives "Everybody's Friend." She is a kind old lady who bears good will to everybody. Her sweet face and gentle ways charm the most malicious gossip so that she decides to save the tale for someone else; and even the village loafer raises his hat respectfully when this delightful old woman passes. The children from the youngest to the oldest know that Aunt Hetty will always be a sympathetic listener to their pitiful little stories of woe. Her beautiful flowers are always the first to reach some sick person, and the delicious jelly which she is famous for making is ever ready for some hungry way-farer. Do you have an Aunt Hetty in your town?

We all should like a cook such as an English clergyman advertised for in the London Times. In his advertisement he said among other things that it was essential not only that his cook should have a sense of humor but also that she should exemplify the spirit of Galatians v. 22. Now, Galatians v. 22, reads thus: "But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith."

Business Conditions

During the past few months of quiet business, plans for the resumption of industrial and agricultural activities have been molding into form and now that these plans are materializing to some extent a greater optimism is very much in evidence.

The evenly distributed and heavy snowfall of the winter, together with the spring rains, have placed the soil in most favorable condition for the new crops and it is predicted that a large acreage will be seeded and planted.

Under prevailing conditions there should be liberal yields and with reasonable prices for agricultural commodities, we can look forward to a greater liquidation than was experienced during the past year or two. As a result we should find all lines of business on a safer and sounder basis with excellent chances for a close approach to normal conditions.
