T-ANCHOR BOYS OF EIGHTIES HAVE REUNION

COW BOYS WHO WORKED ON T-ANCH RANCH IN THIS COUNTY FORTY YEARS AGO MEET AND DISCUSS EARLY DAY EXPERIENCES OF THE PANHANDLE COUNTRY.

The first reunion of the boys who worked on the T-Anchor ranch in the early '80's was held Thursday at the Sulphur Springs Park near Hereford. So enjoyable was the occasion, that it was unanimously voted to make this an annual affair. An effort will be made to bring the next meeting to Canyon, as the old headquarters ranch house of the T-Anchor ranch stands today, being the J. L. Prichard place just north of Canyon. Mr. Prichard is joining the men in Canyon who worked on the ranch in the early days in urging that the boys "come back home" for their next reunion.

The Feed.

The feed was superintended by Gus Lee and John Turner, the old well known cooks of the early day. Both got on the job Tuesday and worked like the mischief getting prepared to give the boys a taste of real ranch cooking.

The old chuck-wagon was dragged out, and put into use. The familiar cowhide was swung under the wagon and filled with cowchips, which were used in cooking the meal. Everything was arranged just as natural as possible, and to add to the reality, the old pots and pans which had been used 40 years ago were brought out and put into use. The setting was ideal, and the execution by these old time cooks was perfect. The guests were very high in praise of the feed that was prepared.

It was a noticeable fact, that while lots of pies and cakes, and salads and other 1922 edibles were spread on a table nearby, not a single one of the old cow hands went near that table. But they went often to the meal which had been prepared by Gus Lee.

Short Program Given.

After all had eaten plentifully of the bountiful meal, Judge Gough called the crowd together and presided over a short program.

Mrs. R. T. Evans of Hereford read Larry Chittendon's "Cowboy's Ball" which brought forth many a laugh from the boys who knew the language of the poet.

Gus Lee preached a negro sermon that was a corker. Gus knows all about preaching, as well as poke, and his "sermon" was most highly enjoyed. Miss Laura Hamner of Amarillo told several stories of the early West as she had heard them at the Goodnight ranch, and read one of Judge Gough's verses from his book.

Permanent Organization

On motion of W. C. Baird, a permanent organization was entered into with the following officers elected:

Vas Sticklely of Canadian, President
A. H. Elliston of Hereford, Vice President

Miss Laura Hamner of Amarillo, Secretary.

The annual meeting will be held at the time selected by the officers.

The boys from Canyon are going to make a pull to get the next meeting at Canyon in order that the old ranch headquarters may be visited, which is now the J. L. Prichard home.

Some Sidelights on Reunion.

Jim Wright came the greatest distance to the reunion, his home being in Tuttle, Okla. He states that his wife told him not to come home without a copy of Judge Gough's book, one of which was in their home for many years, but had become lost. The Judge was unable to locate one for Jim, and he started home with fear and trembling.

Vas Sticklely, a native of Virginia, has been on the Plains since 1881. He was with the T-Anchor people for two years and then went with the Turkey Tracks on the Canadian.

The old boys came in automobiles and dressed the part of regular 1922 citizens, rather than in the customary chaps and spurs and pistols of the early '80's.

R. E. Baird has the old oven in which Gus Lee and John Turner used to cook sour dough biscuits. Ed was one of the oldest men, in point of service with the T-Anchor people, at the reunion and had a lot of fun with the boys.

Harry Ingerton of Amarillo is probably the oldest T-Anchor man in the country today, having come out in 1879. He was unable to be present.

A. H. Elliston crossed the plains 40 years ago on his way from Ft. Worth to Wyoming. He drove cattle all over the west in the early day. He brought with him his baby bonnet, which was over sixty years old, and had been used by four members of his family before handed down to him.

Gus Lee, the negro cook says he is 75 years old, but no one believes him. Jim Wright thinks Gus has lived forever, and most of the gang are firm in their conviction that he will have to be shot if he ever dies. The boys say he doesn't look a day older than he did forty years ago. Gus is now head cook for the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell.

L. Gough was named the Parson by the boys because he was so good. He was never known to cuss, chew tobacco, or play poker. He kept a diary, and had it published, the book being written in verse, and gave the every day experiences of the ranch. Gough left home when he was thirteen years old age. He was called the black sheep of his family for running away to the west. He went back home when he was twenty-one. Only one of his books are known to be in existence today. He loaned it to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, but took it out to have at the reunion.

The boys recalled some of the bad horses on the ranch. "The Prairie Queen" seems to have been the wild one, as every man recalled vividly some experience he had undergone with the Queen. Only one time did the Queen meet her superior. One of the boys roped a bear and brought him to headquarters. The bear was tied to a tree along Spring Branch. The Queen was inquisitive, and got too close to the bear, which proceeded to kick her off into the water. Young Gough wrote a verse about the baptizing of the Prairie Queen.

Mr. Gough, the very gracious host at the reunion, was the butt of many a joke at the reunion. But no one enjoyed the jokes quite so much as did the Judge himself. It seems that one of the horses had been named Guts. A young lady was visiting headquarters, and young "Parson" Gough was selected to "show her around." She was given this steed to ride, and persisted in knowing the name of her mount. Young Gough couldn't get up the courage to tell her that the animal was called Guts by the boys, and after being coaxed he floundered around and finally admitted that his name was Old Bowles. This joke was sprung on the Judge several times during the day.

Jim Wright and Vas Sticklely were recalling some of the developments in this section during the past forty years and wondered at the next twenty-five years. They did not see how it would be possible to make such progress as they had seen. They recalled that the kerosene lamp was invented during their life-time.

Bert Ackley drilled the first well in Amarillo. He proved to be such a dead shot on antelope that he was promoted from well driller to that of keeping the camp in fresh antelope meat.

C. J. Lowmes came to the ranch in 1885 direct from England as a bookkeeper, the first bookkeeper on the T-Anchor ranch. He told a good one as to how he used to steal chickens from Hob Smith. Hob always raised a lot of chicken, and Lowmes was very fond of chicken. He would drive over to see Hob, and scatter corn in the bottom of his wagon. The tarpaulin would be fixed to fall when a string was pulled, and he would be on the look-out when a bunch of good chicken out into the wagon to eat the corn, the cover would be dropped and Lowmes would drive home.

J. W. Turner brought to the reunion the old skillets that he used in cooking for T-Anchor ranch people. Turner was a cook with the outfit for several years, and has not forgotten how to do it. Mr. Turner also has the old ledger and letter file used by Mr. Lowmes when he first started to keep books for the ranch.

Jim Wright told how 10,652 cattle were counted in four hours one afternoon by himself and Jot Gunter. A tally was kept by button on the saddle, representing hundreds and thousands. He told how 2,000 steers which were cut out at that time were in charge of himself and two other men that night and how a cold north rain caught them and they could hear almost across the herd the chattering of the men's teeth in the cold and rain as they drifted with the cattle throughout the night.

R. W. Baird stated that the T-Anchor brand was started in 1861 and his father recorded the brand, which was a T-quarter circle. It was subsequently changed to the T-Anchor.

Jeff Thompson brought to the reunion his buffalo gun with which he killed buffaloes when he first came to the west. He roped two calves, which were turned over to Col. C. C. Goodnight, and was the starting of the famous Goodnight herd of today.

Those Present.

The following were those present, together with their nicknames and the year of their coming to the West, and the name of the ranch, upon which they worked:

Kanred Wheat Made Best Yields in West All Texas Counties

The following reports on yield of Kanred wheat, together with those which have already been published include all the reports that have come to the writer. Up to the present time there is only one instance where some other variety of wheat has outyielded Kanred and that was due to the fact that the conditions were not at all equal. Reference is here made to D. Smith, Iowa Park, whose report is herewith included. Also there is only one instance where some other wheat has equaled Kanred.

Following are the latest reports: Obe Wall, Medicine Mound, had 43 acres of Kanred wheat which made 26 bushels, testing 62. His 80 acres of Prairie made 20 bushels, per acre, testing 60.

Tom Machen, Seymour, had 50 acres Kanred, making 14 bushels, testing 61. He had 100 acres of Turkey Red which made 8 bushels, testing 59, also 50 acres of Fulcaster which made 9 bushels, testing 60.

Ernest Schur, Vernon, had 63 acres Kanred making 35 bushels. His 20 acres of soft wheat which he says was his best land, made 20 bushels.

M. A. Hurst, Quanah, had 11 acres Kanred making 30 bushels, testing 61. He had 60 acres of native wheat which made 11 bushels, testing 50.

D. Burkhalter, Seymour, had 17 acres of Kanred which made 19 bushels, testing 60, and 9 acres of Turkey Red which made the same yield and tested the same.

B. C. Guthrie, Seymour, made 6 1/4 bushels per acre on 16 acres. He had other variety of wheat and his yield did not come up until March. W. Elkins, Red Springs, (Barlow county) had 34 acres of Kanred which made 16 bushels, testing 61. His 10 acres of Turkey Red yielded 13 bushels, testing 59.

E. C. Knox, Iowa Park, made seven bushels per acre on 60 acres of Kanred, testing 56. His 120 acres of Medranian made 1 1/4 bushels, testing 59.

E. C. Stokes of Oklaunion averaged 11-2 bushels per acre on 210 acres of Kanred which tested 58 and 59. He had no other variety.

O. O. Smith of Iowa Park had 30 acres of Kanred. The land for Kanred was plowed and sowed in November. The wheat was not worth cutting. He also had 56 acres of native wheat. The land for this field was sowed in August and sowed in September. The yield was ten bushels per acre, testing 57 and 59.

Conditions on other farms were the same.—M. B. Oats, Agricultural Agt., W. & D. C. Ry.

Several cities in Norway own and operate their film theaters and devote profits to cultural enterprises for people's enjoyment and benefit. Boston has the largest pier in the world devoted exclusively to the fish business. It is 1,200 feet long, 200 feet wide, and is paved with brick and crete in such a manner that it can be cleaned easily by flushing with water. It cost $2,000,000 and 80 vessels can discharge their cargo at once.

It is believed to be the thickest seam of black coal discovered in the world is being exploited in Queensland, Australia. The seam is entirely from clay bands and is 93 feet thick in places. The mine is 250 miles from the nearest seaport.

The sting of a bee caused the driver of an automobile near Cincinnati to lose control of the car with the result that it plunged over an eight-foot embankment and overturned, pinning its occupants underneath. One woman was killed.

HERE IS SOME SOUND MONEY SENSE

Thomas R. Marshall, who retained his good humor through eight years as Vice-President, has recently returned from a tour of Europe. In Washington, he called at the White House and told of his trip.

In his stories there is ground for reflection by the American public.

For one thing, Mr. Marshall said that he had just received a report of the last year's operations of his 100-acre farm in Indiana. His net profit was $236.

The former Vice-President was at a loss to understand the financial tangle in Europe. The people were working and there was plenty of crops, but money was a mystery. Mr. Marshall went to the bank to cash a check; the cashier had not heard the exchange rate for an hour and called on the telephone to get it; Mr. Marshall made 50 marks by the precaution. Mr. Marshall contracted one day for an umbrella at 60,000 kronen or $2.50. He returned two days later, and found that meantime the article had fallen to a value equivalent to $1.83.

From Mr. Marshall's 100 acres in Indiana to the printing press money of Europe seems a long way but there is something that bridges it. That is the plenty of crops, with the futurity of money to exchange them.

Presumably Mr. Marshall's farm was planted in a reasonable manner, yet it failed to make a profit. In Europe, Mr. Marshall reports plenty but it fails of distribution sufficiently to provide for the wants of all.

We hear despairing pleas for help for Europe. From Wall Street, learned financiers give out statement after statement to show that we must go to the aid of Europe. Earl Balfour recently invited a rebuff from this country by a suggestion of cancellation of the war debts owed to us. France is constantly suggesting, almost demanding, debt cancellation. Russia wants financial aid.

Except for a comparatively few pleas for real help for remote impoverished districts, these pleas from and on behalf of Europe are purely financial pleas. Europe, already gorged to its fill with its excess supply of so-called money, wants more of our kind of money, the supply of which is too limited here to permit adequate returns for agricultural enterprises.

Wall Street financial interests, bubbling over with sympathy for stricken Europe, would like to take over the proposition of marketing debt refunding bonds, on which they would collect a handsome commission, and which the public would "absorb."

Financial systems in Europe and in the United States are inadequate. In lands of plenty there is want. For production there is little return. Financial interest profit hugely by the inadequacy of money, and fight bitterly any attempt to disturb the financial currents. It lies with those who do not profit from the money—namely, the producers and the consumers, to compel the revision of the money system.—Ford's Weekly.

SKUNK ATTACKED SLEEPING COUPLE

A mad skunk attacked Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Owens while asleep in their camp near Condon Springs one night last week and bit both of them several times before it was finally killed by Mr. Owen. Upon reporting the incident to local physicians it was decided to send the head of the skunk to Austin for examination and a message came back Friday night saying the test gave positive evidence of rabies. Mr. and Mrs. Owen were provided with tickets and sent that night to Austin for Pasteur treatment.

The skunk got upon the bed and first attacked Mrs. Owen, biting her in three places. Her screams aroused Mr. Owen who was bitten twice on the hand in attempting to protect his wife. He finally caught the skunk around the neck and choked it to death.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen came to Vernon early in July and have lived in a camp near the Condon Springs. Being without sufficient funds to make the trip to Austin, the sum of $35 was provided by the county through Judge McHeath.—Vernon Record.

CANYON PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 11th—FINE PROSPECTS FOR SPLENDID YEAR'S WORK IN SCHOOL

Dreams

Some years ago, when the writer arrived in Canyon, one of the first things called to his attention was Canyon's High School. He attended this school, that the people of Canyon were so proud of and called their own, and with each individual member of the student body he was proud of the school and felt fortunate to be a student in a high school rated second to none in the State of Texas, as far as affiliation went.

A year or so later this pride dropped into oblivion. The trustees were forced to drop the two upper grades off the school and the people of Canyon did not see fit to contest the decision.

But there was one live group in Canyon who did not forget, and two years later this group, the student body of Canyon High waged a successful fight for an increase in taxes for their school.

The next term will see the opening of the second term of the recreated high school. Thanks to the people of Canyon it will soon be back in its former position.

You ask what the difference is between the student body of our high school and that of any other. If you could be a student in the school, could feel the zeal that its students feel, could love it as we students love it, try to serve it and feel the wonderful affection for it that we feel, you would see the difference. You can't very well see it from the outside. I cannot explain it well enough for vivid comprehension but there is a difference and that difference is of untold worth to Canyon and its people.

Every student in the school, from the small first grades, who wisely awaits the year when he can climb upstairs and take his seat in the high school,—to the senior student, feels for his school, dreams for her and fights for her. The dream they all see is a magnificent new building, a wonderful faculty, the school spirit that now sways,—ruling it all. They see it held highest of all in regard of the State Department of Education, see it praised by all, viewed by many, and attended by hundreds who feel the same dear love for it that we now feel. They see the graduate of a few years acclaimed, and praised, recognized and welcomed throughout the educational United States because he is a graduate of Canyon's High School.

Is it not a wonderful dream, is it not a worthy one also? The student body cannot do it all by themselves, but it feels sure of ample assistance. Help us to realize it; work with us and for us. You will be glad that you do.

Fae's

Canyon High School now has only twelve and one-half affiliated credits, three less than it takes to enter a senior college in Texas unconditionally. But does that bother us? Is it going to keep any student away? Well, I should say not? The school has no credits in science. Four additional credits may be secured next year. The student body and the faculty say they will have three of them next year at least, and mark you they will get what they want.

You! The students who have never been with us before and are hesitating about entering our school because of the deficiency in affiliation, are you a sport; would you make a true member of the wonderful student body who would be your associates? Are you afraid to cast your lot with them and fight with them? No, certainly you are not. Affiliation be hanged, we have nine months to make up for that and we will do it. Say the word, come with us.

Improvements

Our school board has spent badly needed money for our comfort and accommodation next term. The main building has been overhauled and painted. A small building has been erected on the grounds to relieve the crowded conditions. New equipment has been purchased for some of the departments and the next year's student will find his school much improved in accommodations.

Our Faculty

Mr. A. D. Payne heads this year's faculty as superintendent. He will also teach Civics and Economics.

Mr. Jim Webb, will be principal; will teach Mathematics and coach the boys' athletics.

Miss Amy Daniel will instruct in Science; Miss Lucille Gill will head the English department; Miss Jewell Brook, the History; Miss Vivian Coffman, the Latin. Miss Dessie Mae Steele and Miss Joy Mills will head the Music and Expression departments respectively.

The teachers of the Elementary work will be, Miss Esther Rudolph, Miss Olga Standifer, Miss Fannie Bell Hart, Miss Marie Fronbarger, Miss Sarah Park, Miss Erna Alsop, and Miss Addie Coffman. Miss Viola Vetsok will teach in the South Ward and Mrs. Ray Campbell will teach in the West Ward.

Athletics

Canyon High's athletic outlook has been considerably brightened by the addition of Mr. Jim Webb to the faculty as coach. Mr. Webb has had considerable experience as coach and his record shows that he and his men have been able to deliver the goods in top style.

The football boys, most of whom are with the T. N. G. in Denison say they will be home in plenty of time for the start of school and are very anxious to get into the game. With a small amount of help from the people of Canyon a successful season is assured.

I wonder if you know a good name for Canyon High's athletic teams, one that they could use and make glorious, one that would distinguish them from any other team in West Texas? If you do mail your suggestions to P. O. Box 274, Canyon, Texas.

People we are soon to be off on another nine months pilgrimage into the land of knowledge. Are we glad? Well, I should say we are. Boost us! Cheer us, the school we love should be the school you love. How about it? —A Student.

FLEXIBILITY AND FIRMNESS

Flexibility of mind, firmness of character—that is the winning combination. But the two are not often found in combination. The man of flexible mind is likely to be of yielding or unstable character; the man of firm character is likely to be inelastic of mind.

Most people eventually become aware of their serious faults. The man who is obstinate learns that one of his troubles is obstinacy; the man who is too yielding learns that one of his troubles is lack of firmness. If with his lack of firmness there is no lack of intelligence, he should be able to overcome his failing. He should understand that he can be attentive to the opinions and wishes of others without being too much swayed by them; that he can be tolerant of the points of views of others without adopting them as his own; that he can alter his attitude when he finds he has been wrong without sacrificing any fundamental principles. Often a man's weakness is a consequence of his ready receptivity of mind; he is easily fascinated with the ideas of others, and he is too generously disposed toward them. He can discipline himself to be hospitable to argument without sacrificing his own convictions.

It is more difficult for the man who is inelastic of mind to acquire flexibility. In fact, he usually does not want to acquire it. His inelasticity is partly owing to the belief that to be firm you must be inflexible; he regards inflexibility as one of the sterner virtues—all the more a virtue because it is stern. Yes, he knows that he is regarded as obstinate, and that his reputation for obstinacy is injurious, but in each specific instance when he might to advantage show some openness or flexibility of mind, he is likely only to see an occasion for the manifestation of firmness or positiveness.

On the whole, there is only one person in the world toward whom it is safe to be always inflexible, and that is yourself.

When a salesman states that a man cannot be sold he forgets that his competitor is selling him.

If some people worked half as hard as they work to dodge work they would get somewhere.

A little mechanism named a "telechronometer" measures the amount of time that a person spends in using the telephone. It registers only at the instrument of the party who calls. In a Western city where the meter has been tried it not only quickened service but reduced the telephone bills of the subscribers. Moreover, eavesdropping on a party line where the contrivance is in use costs money.

BUFFALOES GO INTO TRAINING SEPTEMBER 15

INTEREST HIGH AS OPENING OF TRAINING CAMP DRAWS NEAR

Boy, howdy!
When the football training camp opens September 15th, there will be "some" bunch assembled on the old college gridiron fighting to become full-fledged Buffaloes. According to Coach Burton and President Hill, there will be more than sixty wild and woolly warriors including the thirty-five veterans of the 1921 first and second string squad.

The call has been made to the 35 veterans of last year, and almost everyone has set word that they will be here when the first whistle blows. A large number of high school graduates, famous in high school athletics, will make their first attempt at college athletics; and it is predicted that many of them will be hard to beat as every kid that leaves high school is eager to make a reputation in college athletics.

"You can't tell about these high school kids," says Coach Burton, and he is right. Look at Captain Burson, the bright specimen from Silverton, who made his first appearance in college uniform last fall. He made a brilliant record and soon became the real backbone of the machine that Coach Burton developed last fall. Then there is "Ras" Lemonds and Clyde Whitacre, who are backed by the people of Hale Center. They were both just high school graduates, but they made good.

And so it is with many others, as we look up the records of the past few years we find that some of our

CAPT. BURSON

Heights, Ft. Worth next year, will have to be filled by a new man.

The letter men who will be back this fall are: Captain Grady Burson, fullback; ex-captain Dan Sanders, center; Joe Jancaster, Barto Johnson, and Roy Golden, tackles; Clyde Whitacre, guard; Odus Mitchell, Clifford Henry and Delbert Bivens, ends; Clyde Gordon, Carl Scott and Foy Terry, halfbacks.

New York City has formed a "Welcome Stranger Committee," to assist visitors in seeing the city and to dispel the rumor that the metropolis is reserved and cold toward newcomers.

One of the largest men alive recently left Hungary for his fatherland, Siberia, to assist his parents in farm work. He is 34 years of age, nine feet, three inches tall and weighs 458 pounds. He consumes more than four times as much food as the average person.

The Bubonic plague which usually breaks out in China during June, made its appearance in April this year. Thousands in the interior districts have died.

THE BUFFALO, MASCOT FOR THE NORMAL COLLEGE ATHLETES

best athletes made themselves famous the first year they were in college. Coach Burton hopes to have about forty such lads fighting for a place on the Buffalo squad this fall.

The big coach is spending a short vacation, on which he will visit many towns in the Panhandle meeting prospective football men who will attend the training camp this fall.

The city of Canyon is behind football stronger than ever before. Everywhere you go you hear some interested fan talking football. He is either discussing the stiff schedule which includes games with ten big colleges and universities, or else he is talking of the sweet competition that the lad will have who makes the team this fall. Canyon realizes that athletics in the West Texas State Normal College is more important since it has joined the T. I. A. A. Because the college is a member of the T. I. A. A. and because there will be so much competition this fall, the lad who makes a regular berth on the regular Buffalo squad will deserve a great deal of honor and praise.

Just think how good it sounds, twelve of the eighteen letter men from last year will be back, and only two positions will have to be filled by new men. Studer and Jenkins, the quarterbacks of last season, will not be back this fall, and the quarterback position is the only problem that Coach Burton will have to solve. Then, the opening at left guard made by Byrd, who will teach in Arlington

THE ONLY KIND OF ADVERTISING THAT REALLY PAYS

Success in newspaper advertising is predicted upon the same theory as that held by a lawyer for a public utility company, which, after many difficulties, succeeded in demonstrating to its customers the justice of its contentions. When asked the secret of his success before the jurymen who tried the case, some of whom were customers of the company, the lawyer said: "I made 'em understand! First I told 'em what I was going to tell 'em. Then I told 'em what I said I was going to tell 'em. Then I told 'em over again."

YOU AND TODAY

With every rising of the sun,
Think of your life as just begun.
The past has shrived and buried deep
All yesterdays; there let them sleep.
Concern yourself with but today,
Woo it, and teach it to obey
Your will and wish. Since time began
Today has been the friend of man;
But in his blindness and his sorrow,
He looks to yesterday and tomorrow,
You and today! a soul sublime,
And the great pregnant hour of time,
With God himself to bind the twain!
Go forth, I say—attain, attain!
With God himself to bind the twain!
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

3,072 MILLIONAIRES DISAPPEARED IN 1920

Three thousand and seventy-two millionaires were lost or disappeared from the United States in 1920. This was ascertained from income tax returns by Senator Arthur Capper. It was stated that the war made thousands of millionaires. In 1919 there were 18,781 who paid taxes on $50,000, including the new and old millionaires. The income tax returns for 1920 shows there were 15,709 who had incomes of $50,000, showing a loss of 3,072. Where they are no one knows and probably never will. ### Lutherans Have Big Attendance at Their Mission Festival

Many visitors from other Lutheran congregations attended the Mission Festival of the Canyon Lutheran congregation Sunday. The services were held at the Six Mile Crossing on one of the most ideally located spots for such a purpose in the canyons. Enormous trees furnished ample shade for the large gathering throughout the services and the day.

The morning service was conducted by Rev. T. H. Evers, pastor of the Hereford parish. In the afternoon service, Rev. Robt. E. Kruse of Clarendon preached the sermon. The entire gathering listened with rapt attention to the interesting mission discourses delivered by these two men. Mrs. Wm. Michael and Mrs. O. P. Hinge rendered an excellent vocal duet in each service. Mrs. Hinge also occupied the place at the organ during the congregational singing. In each service an offering for missions was taken which netted a little over $150.

Besides the pastors from Hereford and Clarendon, and the Canyon pastor, Rev. O. P. Hinge, also the pastors C. Scheiderer of Littlefield and J. H. Gassner of Kress were present. Prominent among the visiting laymen were D. L. McDonald of Hereford, J. J. Bauer of Happy, F. Rathjen of Clarendon, A. Timian of Littlefield, Paul Graf of Farwell, and others.

At noon all present enjoyed an excellent basket dinner on the grounds. Throughout the afternoon lemonade and ice cream were served. Many of the visitors who had not been here before, expressed their admiration at the beauties of the canyons. Members of the Canyon congregation and their pastor proved themselves as excellent hosts to the many visitors, a considerable number of whom stayed till Monday before returning home.

Hair Balls in Stomach Killed Ten Calves at Scott Downing Place

A new kind of malady was discovered among calves at the S. M. Downing place Saturday, when Dr. Porter, a Federal inspector, opened the stomach of a calf which died that morning and found it contained hair balls.

Dr. Porter stated that calves confined to a pen without salt to lick would form the habit of licking each other, and swallow the hairs. The hairs formed balls in the stomach, which eventually killed the calves.

Mr. Downing has lost ten calves before the cause was located. None of the calves out in his pasture were affected.

Dam on Palo Duro Being Advocated For Amarillo Water

Like Abilene, Stamford and a number of other Texas cities, Amarillo must solve its water problem.

H. Bank Jones, city engineer of Amarillo, in an address before the Kiwanis club a few days ago advanced his opinion as to the means of settling the unsavory situation. Mr. Jones would dam the Palo Duro canyon south of Amarillo, near this city, where the stream is 180 feet wide, with a dam 60 feet high, that would impound, it is conservatively estimated, three billion gallons of surface water. The Palo Duro has two freshets a year that would twice annually fill the great reservoir. The water could be pumped to Amarillo economically. The total project as estimated by Mr. Jones would be about $1,100,000.

Amarillo has 22 deep wells which are only partly supplying the expanding needs of the city. These wells are yielding only about 60 per cent of their potential capacity. Efforts to develop wells north of Amarillo to supplement the supply have proved unsuccessful, he said.

The city commission is now giving exigent study to the needs of the city and will shortly take some action to relieve the distressing situation, it was intimated.

SATTERWHITE WILL NOT RUN FOR SPEAKERSHIP

Austin, Aug. 22.—In a letter to press correspondents at the capitol here Tuesday it was learned that Lee Satterwhite of Panhandle would not be a candidate for the speakership of the thirty-eighth legislature. Until recently he stated that he had fully intended being a candidate for the office. In view of the fact that he thinks he will be of more service to this section of the state by being active on the floor and in committee work he will decline to be a candidate for the speakership.

HERE'S THE CHAMPION DRINKER OF CHILDRESS

A young man was stopped by City Marshal John Compton while drinking cold drinks at one of the stands at the carnival. The young man had consumed fourteen glasses of lemonade and three bottles of soda pop without leaving the counter. Beads of perspiration were standing on his face and Officer Compton believed that if he continued to drink that the effects might prove fatal. It is said that the fellow drank several glasses of lemonade before the cashier began keeping count. The undertaker reports no fatalities since Saturday night so it is presumed he lived through the ordeal. He was not a striker.—Childress Index.

Fishermen off the Norwegian Coast are catching more mackerel than has ever been caught in that section. Fishing smacks are loaded to the water's edge with 10,000 mackerel each. They are retailing at two cents each, and in quantities for less than a cent. The fish are unusually large.

Largest Enrollment in History of Institution

Fifteen hundred and eleven students have been enrolled in the West Texas State Normal College during the 1922 Summer Session, according to the records in the Secretary's office. Of this number, 937 were credit students, 339 were Summer Normal students, and 155 were Training School students. In the summer of 1921, 1349 students enrolled in the institution of which number 793 were credit students, 437 were Summer Normal students, and 119 were Training School students.

These statistics show a total increase of 162 students this summer over the summer of 1921. There has been an increase of 164 credit students over last summer, an increase of 35 Training School students, and a decrease of 38 students in the Summer Normal.

It is, indeed, interesting to note the decrease in Summer Normal attendance and the increase in the number of credit students. This means that students are beginning to see more value in taking credit work and less value in taking Summer Normal work. There is, also, a noted increase in the number of advanced students, that is, students in the upper classes of college work.

Last regular session, 1921-'22, a total of 835 students were in attendance.

A. & M. MEN TO BANQUET

Those wishing to attend should notify H. S. Kerr, 1400 Harrison Street, Amarillo, Texas, at once.

Walker Urges Keeping Pigs in Best Condition and Pool in Selling

C. F. Walker stated Monday that a number of farmers had talked to him about selling their young pigs on account of the short feed crop. He is urging that all wait and take good care of the pigs and brood sows and a little later that the farmers pool their pigs. There is a big corn crop in the north, and there will be a big demand for hogs to feed. A better price will be obtained by the farmers of Randall county working together to sell their pigs.

COMFORTS YET TO COME

After a lifetime spent in bringing electrical power into the service of the shop and the household whatever Mr. Charles A. Coffin, formerly president of the General Electric Company, has to say on that subject is worthy of attention. He believes of course that we are only entering the electrical age, and that we shall eventually do all our manufacturing, lighting, traveling, cooking and housework by electricity. Indeed, everyone who is interested in electrical research believes that.

But he has something equally interesting and less familiar to say about the social effects that electric power will produce in the future. Electricity, he says, made the great city. Without its aid in transportation, lighting and manufacturing, such great industrial centers as we now have would be impossible. But now he believes that electricity is going to reverse the process and decentralize commerce and population. Electric power can be sent cheaply and efficiently wherever it is wanted. The next step in industry, says Mr. Coffin, is the small, electrically operated factory in the place where raw materials are found. That will save transportation on both coal and materials. People will go back to the country because life there is pleasanter and more wholesome, and because electricity is making it possible to bring to the farms and to the villages all the comforts and the culture of the cities. Our cities have become overgrown and hideous. We can soon get all of their advantages in the country without the inconvenience of crowded street cars, high rents and inadequate living quarters, strikes, unemployment and crime.

Those are cheerful prognostications; they tend to relieve the minds of people who have been worrying over the difficult problems that our endlessly expanding cities present. Any influence that can bring industrial and rural life closer together and prevent people from separating into two classes that understand each other as little as the city dweller and the countryman understand each other will be welcome. Mr. Coffin is an authority on electricity. If he says that electrical power can be so used as to have a beneficial effect, he is probably right. The question is whether we have intelligence enough so to use it; whether in wars and cents the decentralization of industry and population can be made to "pay"; and if not, whether we have sense enough to appreciate at their proper value the other benefits that would follow it.

DEWDABS

So-called dewdabs—paint, powder, shaving gum, cigarettes, chewing tobacco, etc.—cost the people of Texas in one year than did their electricity, natural gas, telephone and electric railway service.

The total bill of the Texas people for luxuries in the year 1921 was approximately $300,000,000, while this year for utility services amounted to only $200,000,000. It is interesting to note that Texas women spent more than $40,000,000 for cosmetics alone, while the telephone bill for all the people of the state was only $23,000,000.

Some one is always advertising along property in a distant state. The prospective purchaser of land wonders whether it is worth his while to make a long trip to investigate and wishes he could get trustworthy information about the region in which the property is situated. The Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture is ready to answer these questions and also publishes detailed descriptions of one hundred different regions of continental United States.

So you want your daughter to marry a farmer? asked a mid-Western journal of 7000 farmers' wives in parts of the country. Less than one cent of the number answered and many of the 6580 who voted pointed out that modern appliances, social betterments and autos, relieved the farmer's wife of the drudgery of housework. The writer said, "The woman who is asked to marry a farmer will be a drudge if you put her."

In the last two contests it is desired that the pens should be composed respectively of one cock, four hens, and of one cockerel and four pullets.

Dr. W. J. Duke, poultry expert from Amarillo will be here to act as judge in the contest the first day of the fair.

The County Fair, like Christmas, comes only once a year. Therefore, every farmer in the county ought to go. The next thought is that a County Fair is a farmers' show, therefore every farmer ought to take something to his county agricultural show. If only a few farmers take exhibits the Fair is a poor one. If a great many take exhibits, then the fair is a good one.

This year there has not been plenty of rain to make good crops. But there are some very fine crops in spite of the dry weather. Any farmer can find on his place some excellent crop specimens to exhibit at the Fair. Stock are in good condition and will require but little "fitting" for the Fair. For those reasons this is the year that every county should try to have the best Fair in the history of the country. This is possible if all farmers will make exhibits.

One of the most common remarks heard at a county fair is "I have a better hog than that at home," or better corn, or better maize. We have heard that remark ever since fairs were started; but remember, the stuff you bring to the Fair is what counts. If you have better products at home then you could make your County Fair better by bringing your products. But if you and others like you keep your stuff at home then you are to blame for the poor exhibits. Why don't you bring those fine exhibits and make the Fair better? You will profit in two ways—first you will get your farm and yourself advertised a good deal which may quickly result in some good sales of your best products or livestock; second your county becomes widely advertised agricultural county, which contributes indirectly to your prosperity.

Days of Judging Fair

C. F. Walker announces that the judging during the Randall County Fair will be as follows:

Thursday, Sept. 7—All horses, mules and swine exhibits.

Friday, Sept. 8—Agricultural exhibits and poultry.

If you are disposed to think your stock and crops are too sorry to show you should just remember that it is your neighbors who do take exhibits and some win the ribbons. Are you going to admit that they are all better farmers than yourself? Of course they are not, but if you don't go and prove your ability they will prove their superiority as farmers and the laugh is on you. Show what you have. You may be surprised at your winnings. Success is encouraging.

Specials

American Hereford Cattle Breeders' Association, Kansas City, Mo., offer $10 for champion bull and $10 for champion female.

BOUGHT TERRY HOME.

Ira Miller of Bellview, N. M., has bought the C. S. Terry home and will take possession at once. Mr. and Mrs. Terry will leave this week for their old home at White Deer.

Civic League Glad To See Great Interest Taken in Flowers

The Civic League has been gratified over the response which people have given this summer to the appeal for cleaner and more attractive premises; in the South part of town particularly, it has been observed that there are more homes having flowers surrounding them than ever before. Some people have carried water in heavy buckets to keep their flowers alive; the result is a much more attractive little town.

Judge Henson has shown what may be done with a small space, even if it be unfavorably located; the plot south of the Palace Hotel has been a joy to all passers-by the entire summer; others wishing to plan for flowers and shrubs for the coming year will do well to notice this tiny garden, and to consult Judge Henson regarding his methods of gardening.

All citizens and members of the Civic League, in particular are urged to cut all weeds, and clean up their premises from front to rear in order that our little city may enter the fall and winter season clean and presentable.

KEEP CANYON CLEAN!

High School Football Men are Called Out for Monday, Sept. 4th

Coach Jim Webb is calling all boys who intend to play football with the Canyon High next year or who are even interested in our athletic activities, to be at the High School building Monday, Sept. 4, at 4:00 p. m.

The boys from Denison are expected back before then and we will have some grand practice.

Come on! Let's hit the line!

All of us are not so fortunate as Henry Ford. We cannot just shut up shop and wait until the strikers get ready to talk business with him. In the meanwhile, several thousand of Henry's men are liable to get in dire circumstances over the result of his not being willing to pay "graffigrees" as he calls the coal and steel prices asked him. There is no doubt about the greatest of Henry Ford in the industrial world, but can it be possible that he has overestimated his importance at this time. We recalled a certain ship which crossed the ocean under his flag "to get the boys out of the trenches by Christmas." It is altogether likely that big industries are going to be forced into taking a hand in the present conditions, and Henry is only a forerunner. We shall see what we shall see.

Mayfield has been nominated by the democrats of Texas as United States senator, and the members of the Ku Klux Klan have fulfilled their promise to elect every candidate from United States senator to constable. They came very nearly doing it this year. But the vote Saturday was not so much for Mayfield as it was against Ferguson. Had Mayfield remained in the second primary with Culbertson, Thomas or Omsley, the story might be different.

The republicans think they see in the selection of Mayfield as the candidate by the democratic party a chance to win the November election. John Kirby has refused to go into the campaign. If the republicans will put out a man of the calibre of Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, there are thousands of democrats in Texas who will throw to the winds that unjust party pledge, and vote for a real man for the senate.

Several counties has discontinued their county fairs this year on account of present conditions. Right now is the time to push a county fair. There is more need of a fair when conditions are hard than when everybody has plenty. The farmers who have good crops should by all means bring in an exhibit to show what Randall county can do under the present adverse conditions.

There is not another section in this great country of our which can grow so much under such adverse circumstances. The melons being sold on the streets of Canyon were raised without hardly a drop of rain from the time the seed was put into the ground up to the present time. Truly the Panhandle is a most marvelous country.

It seems as though Texas voters have had little opportunity to select the best men for several office this year. Blanton was returned to congress, but he was evidently a better man than the one left to oppose him in the second primary.

Yes, it is mighty hot and dry in the Panhandle, but if you want to see a real drought and real heat, go to a lower altitude in most any direction. The weather man has certainly gone off and let the kids run the job this summer.

Go to the Randall County Fair next week—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The gates are wide opened to all—free of charge. Come and see the exhibits. Still better, bring an exhibit for the Fair.

The Buffaloes will soon be in action on the Normal field. Everything points to a most successful season for both ball warriors during the coming season.

The farmers are planning for a good boat acreage, as "it certainly will be soon" and there will be need of best pasture owing to the short row...

Come to Canyon to live—but bring your house along with you. Canyon needs a hundred new houses right now.

Even the defeated candidates are glad that the suspense of election is over.

Lubbock Avalanche: While we are "fussing" we might just as well add that Lubbock has about three hundred too many worthless, good-for-nothing, lazy, stinking, sorry niggers, who are strictly opposed to work of any kind. They will take a "position" in the home provided there is some one there to wait on them. One of this tribe came to our back door one morning and asked if we needed any help. A few questions brought about this kind of answers: I'll "work" for $10 a week. I'll cook and sweep the house, but I don't wash or scrub, or wash dishes. I will have to have a servant's house, light, water and fuel furnished and a couple of evenings off to go to town. "No, sir, I'm not very good at ironing. No, sir, my husband do no work in the yard, he got a job down town." Otherwise they are industrious, especially after dark, when they begin to gather up everything that is loose in the back yard, slip all the canned goods, silverware and cooking utensils out of the house, after which they are ready to hunt another position. We are in favor of ALL the Niggers moving. They have never been worth one penny to people who really needed help, and they have stolen enough stuff from white folks to start a general mercantile establishment with a thirty thousand dollar stock, and it could fill bills as completely as the big mail order house. Of course if there are any niggers in Lubbock who are not guilty of these charges, we will not insist on them leaving, but we bet a dollars worth of doughnut holes to a Mexican dime that the population would be reduced at least ninety-nine percent if all the first mentioned line-up of colored gentlemen and ladies were to leave.

Clarendon News: Nearly every day one hears complaint of persons who cannot or will not live on their incomes. Of late years this has grown to be a great evil and employers everywhere are beginning to study to find a remedy for the economic crime. If one's income is too small to subsist on then one must get into some other line of work or go to some new location where expenses are less. But if the failure to make ends meet is just the foolish extravagance of the individual, then there must be a means of checking the evil. There is a movement among employers to refuse to keep in employment those who will not live on their salaries, this being adopted as a means of mutual self protection. The News believes this ought to be the general rule, which, if adopted, would soon reduce the financial losses resulting from extravagance to the minimum and act as a great stabilizer in the credit world. All evils are not solely moral; many are economic, and must be dealt with as such.

Childress Post: The farmer who finds himself apt to run short of feed for the coming winter will now doubtless cast about for a possible wheat patch with which to supplement his store of food for his dumb animals. A few acres sown to wheat just after the first September rains will occasionally yield abundant pasturage for stock all through the fall and winter months and saves lots of feed when it does grow well.

McLean News: Good times, indifferent times and bad times all pass away. The successful man is he who takes all changes with a hopeful, cheerful spirit, knowing that the next turn of the wheel of fortune may bring things back his way.

DISTRICT COURT OPENS IN CANYON ON NEXT MONDAY

Judge Bishop will empanel the Grand Jury the first thing Monday and this body will start its deliberations. There are several cases bound over to the grand jury for investigation.

Large Crowd Saw the Election Returns at the News Office Sat.

A large crowd gathered around the bulletin board of the Randall County News Saturday evening at seven o'clock when the first returns were posted. The votes from precinct No. 1 were all counted when seven o'clock came, and were at once given to the News.

Before the returns from No. 1 had been put on the board, Precinct No. 2 was in, and then came a rapid report from all of the boxes, so that Randall county was complete before 8:30 o'clock.

The first state returns were in by nine o'clock, and bulletins came in about every half hour until after midnight when the crowd was well satisfied that the state election was settled, and went home.

The News is certainly grateful to the election judges for the prompt service given on the returns Saturday night. The ticket was short, easily counted, and the judges got the returns to the News soon after the polls closed.

Costumes of men of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries have been found in an ancient burial ground in the southwestern part of Greenland by a Danish scientist. They are the only existing specimens in the world of garments worn in that period. The temperature of the frozen earth for the past 600 years has preserved them from destruction by age and moths. Several wooden crosses found bear inscriptions in the Gothic rune script and are considered to be of great historic value.

TWELFTH YEAR OF THE NORMAL ENDS ON LAST FRIDAY

REV. JOHN R. HICKS ADDRESSES GRADUATING CLASS.

Twelfth Year of the West Texas State Normal Came to Close Friday—Largest Year in History.

The West Texas State Normal College closed the twelfth year of its history Friday night with appropriate exercises for the graduating class and those which were to receive teachers' certificates as a result of their work in the Normal.

President J. A. Hill, in introducing the speaker of the evening, stated that it had been a great pleasure to have Rev. Hicks in Canyon during the past year when he served as pastor of the local Methodist church. He had been of great service to the school, and it was with sorrow that he learned that Rev. Hicks was soon to go to S. M. U. The President had hoped to see Rev. Hicks remain in Canyon for four years and do a great constructive work.

Rev. Hicks responded that he very highly appreciated the opportunity of speaking to the graduating class and friends. He greatly appreciated the school, and had been happy in his year's work in Canyon. He greatly appreciated the student body and the faculty. He believed that the school had a great future, and would always be a friend of the institution, no matter where he was working.

The speaker pointed out the two great principles of life—protective and productive—and interestingly applied the test to the various stages of the human life, and to the choice the student will make of his life's vocation. President Hill issued the certificates diplomas and degrees to 168.

Reports from Russia indicate that the grain crops are good and promise to yield sufficient to feed that country, if properly distributed. This in spite of the fact that during the year of famine a large proportion of the working cattle and other stock must have been eaten and the energies of the population greatly impaired by under-nourishment.

HONESTY AND POLICY

The maxim that "honesty is the best policy," certainly did not originate in the mind of an idealist, however useful as a moral force it may be. But Archbishop Whately's remark, that "honesty is the best policy, but he who is honest for that reason is not an honest man," seems unjustifiably harsh. Honesty is the result of education and training rather than of instinct. The human being is usually stronger than the instinct to tell the truth, and it is hardly fair to assume that only those exceptional persons who from earliest childhood follow the instinct to tell the truth, no matter how much it hurts, are honest. People acquire honesty as they grow older—partly from a subconscious rather than a conscious recognition that it usually pays to be honest, partly from the strengthening through education of the understanding that not to be honest derogates from a man's dignity and self-respect. A tradition of honesty in families is one of the strong impelling forces for honesty. Whatever the motive that impels a man to be honest, whether it is policy or a desire to preserve his self-respect or a desire not to fall short of a family tradition, the fact of his honesty is all that is important. No man can be persistently honest without gaining in fineness of perception as well as in strength of character.

McAfee Wins Patent in Process of Gasoline After Ten Year Fight

The people of Canyon will be interested in a clipping from the Beaumont Enterprise regarding Dr. A. M. McAfee, brother of C. R. McAfee, as he visited here often which the C. R. McAfee family lived in Canyon. Port Arthur, Texas, Aug. 24—Announcement was made today by the Gulf Refining company offices that official advices had been received that the patent of the aluminum process had been granted. The information was released from the general offices at Pittsburg, and marks the termination of a 10-year legal fight, which was instituted to determine that Dr. A. M. McAfee, chief research chemist, located in the Port Arthur plant, was the original inventor of the process.

Dr. McAfee discovered a process by which gasoline may be made from oils which contain no gasoline by the use of aluminum chloride in the treatment. The process has been used in the local plant since its discovery, it being the only one in the industry equipped to handle it.

The litigation started in the patent office in Washington and progressed through various hearings, with reversals and appeals on one side or the other, until the final decision in the highest court of patent law, the District of Columbia court of appeals. It was on this decision that Dr. McAfee was determined the original inventor and the patent was granted.

That the oil industry throughout the world was interested in the process shown by the fact that the copies printed by the government with the issuance of the patent were immediately exhausted.

It has been officially stated that $1,000,000 were spent on the local plant when the McAfee process was installed. Since that time the company has never known whether it would be the exclusive manufacturer under the process until the patent was granted and in some quarters it is admitted that the final disposition of the litigation was the point on which the discussed improvements hinged.

THE RISE OF CZARS IN THE U. S.

What has become of the old-fashioned American insistence on democracy, on the right and ability of the many to govern themselves? It was not more than a few score years ago that the very terms king, emperor and czar were anathema.

And now we have Czar Landis of baseball, Czar Hays of the movies, and Czar Thomas of the theaters, and the end is not yet. As far as Judge Landis is concerned, there seems to be no doubt that he czars with vengeance. There is some question whether Will H. Hays' czardom is vocal or operative, and considerable doubt whether Mr. Thomas will be able to inflict much absolutism upon the theater men. But the power of these new czars is beside the question: the point is this: the name is popular and the prerogatives the "czar" would perform if he performed them are popular.

Real Americans are not prone to favor absolutism. They have abundant though unassuming confidence in their ability to govern themselves and conduct themselves decently while they are governing. That confidence existed in 1776. It existed even comparatively recently. But now persons living in America are submitting without protest, even eagerly, to the absolute decrees of one man.

The only explanation is that the populace has become adulterated. Today's residents in America include the old stock who knew they could govern themselves fairly and honestly, and a newer stock that can't. The old and dominant stock has been roused, as never before by the trend of affairs in this country. They have demanded reform so loudly that their representatives have been placed in charge of reform. Landis, Hays and Thomas are of the old straight stock and have been called in to control the movies, the theater and baseball, three fields which a certain other stock conspicuously fouled. It remains to be seen whether these men are reformers or "fronts." The American will submit to dictation as long as he is the dictator, but dictators for concealed groups will be found to be the last phase of those groups' will to power.

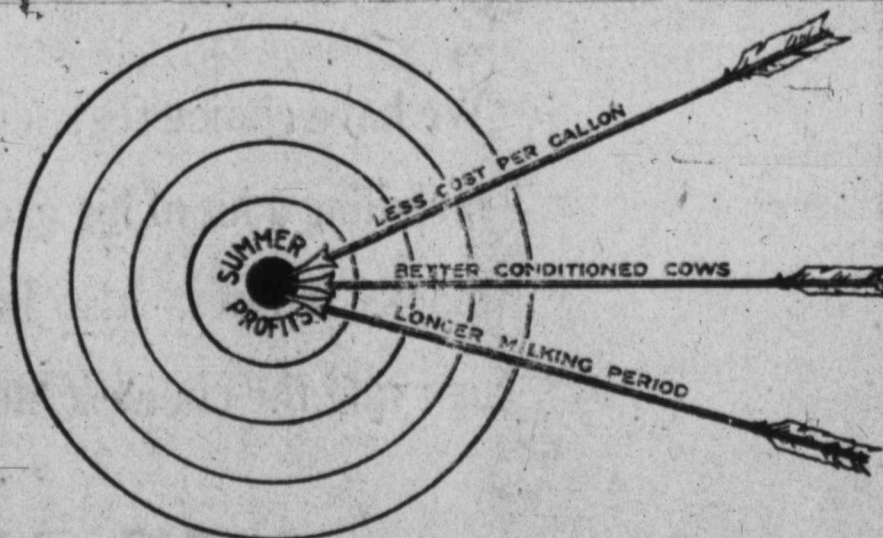

Our European associates who indignantly reject the formula of peace without victory now seem to be enjoying victory without peace.—Coal Trade Journal (New York).

You hit the more summer profits mark when you use Cow Chow as the ration. Dairy men everywhere are using Cow Chow and putting more money in the bank because:—

Cow Chow cuts the cost per gallon of producing milk on grass.

Keeps your cows in better condition.

Gets a longer milking period.

Every pound of Cow Chow fed a good dairy cow will make her produce about three pounds more milk per day on grass up to normal production.

Cow Chow will not only help you to make more summer profits, but your cows will be up to maximum production when colder weather arrives.

POURING CONCRETE.

Pouring of concrete started on the streets Friday, but not enough men could be procured to keep the big machine running, so this work was abandoned until today when it is hoped to get large enough force to finish the concrete on the south and west sides.

Six cars of brick have been unloaded on the west side of the square, and more brick will be shipped out today from the factory.

Mr. Moxley believes that the paving will be completed in about thirty days more unless there are unforeseen tie-ups later.

A public initiation is slated by the Ku Klux Klan for next Monday night. Announcement was made from Amarillo Sunday that no choice of places had been made.

The News was informed several weeks ago that this initiation would be staged some place along the canyons.

The initiation will be participated in by all Panhandle Klans, with possibly several hundred candidates.

Revival Meeting Is In Progress at Baptist Church in Canyon

The revival began Sunday morning at the Baptist church with a large crowd and fine interest. Had a large attendance at the evening services and the interest and conviction have grown and deepened with each hour. The first day service was Tuesday morning and the attendance was also large. There were several professions of faith.

Brother Blankenship and his wife are singing the gospel message and the call to sinners from God in great power. They have organized their singers in a good way and are glad to use any who will sing from any of the churches. If you want to learn how to sing for Jesus better than you ever have and if you want to help in this way to have a meeting in which many may be saved, then come and join his choir. You are welcome. Every one has some way that he or she can worship and serve their God and if God has given you a voice, that is certain evidence that God wants you to serve Him in song. That is what he gave it to you for.

We expect next Sunday to be a big day in Zion. We pray that many may come to Jesus that day and be saved. Will you do your part to reach as many hearts as possible and to show them the way of life? If so, come with us and pray for God's blessings on his gospel that day.

H. F. AULICK, Pastor.

WILEY-CATTO WEDDING

One of the most interesting weddings of the summer took place Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at the First Methodist Church of Canyon, when Miss Melba Wiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Wiley, became the bride of Mr. Keith Angus Catto of Plainview, the Rev. John R. Hicks performing the simple ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with flowers and ferns, pink and white predominating.

As Miss Seleta Smith of Plainview played Mendelssohn's Wedding March the bridal party entered, the bride upon the arm of her father, and attended by her sisters, Mrs. Geo. Walters of Houston as matron of honor, and Miss Almada Wiley as maid of honor; they were met at the altar by the groom who was attended by Mr. H. M. Wiley as best man. The bride was gowned in cream Spanish lace over georgette and crepe, with accessories to match, and wore a veil held in place by a bandeau of pearls; she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley; her attendants carried pink and white asters.

While the Rev. Mr. Hicks read the beautiful marriage service, the soft strains of Traumerel were mingled with his words.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and a two course breakfast served, Mrs. F. M. Wilson, Miss Agnes Roberts, Mrs. Bruce Catto and Mrs. H. M. Wiley serving the salad course, while Miss Jessie DeGraffenreid and Miss Seleta Smith presided at the punch bowl. The bride and groom left immediately for an extended trip; they will be at home at Eldertie Ranch, near Plainview, after October first.

The out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Mrs. Bruce Catto of El Reno, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wiley and family of Wheeler, Mrs. George Walters of Houston, Mrs. David Nael, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and Miss McGillivray of Plainview, Mrs. C. R. Spencer of Monte Vista, Colo., Mrs. S. L. Draper of Memphis, Texas, Miss Mae Horn of Quanah, and Miss Agnes Roberts of Mobeetie, Texas.

The bride and groom have many friends who join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

85TH ANNIVERSARY

Friday afternoon, the beautiful home of Mrs. L. T. Lester was thrown open to old-time friends of "Mother Lester" to celebrate her eighty-fifth anniversary. The rooms were decorated with roses, ferns and golden colored flowers, representing the beautiful Christian life almost spent; but as her face is turned toward the golden sunset of life, it is radiant, bright and happy as she looks into the great "beyond." This gathering was a surprise to her, but joined in happy conversation. Several select readings were given. After a pleasant 56th hour, the hostess assisted by Mrs. R. L. Lester, served delicious cake and ices. Many gifts of remembrance were placed in her hands, also wishing her many more happy, useful years to live.
