FIGHT FOR WEST TEXAS A. & M. The question of the West Texas A. & M. College has again been raised and announced that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will stand for a new but a class A college which will be the equal of the A. & M. College at College Station.

There is no doubt about the need of culture training for West Texas boys and girls, and justice demands that the legislature do something for the people of West Texas in this line.

There are serious obstacles in the way of a Class A college being established in West Texas. Certainly Fort Worth stands of everything that is for West Texas if any town may be counted for West Texas. We noted the democratic convention in Ft. Worth took exceptional pains in discussing the West Texas A. & M. question and gave more space to this subject than any other brought before the convention. Why? We only presume it was because Ft. Worth is for West Texas, and the democrats of Ft. Worth are opposed to seeing West Texas ask for something impossible.

The Ft. Worth convention pointed out the fact that the A. & M. College land grant college, and it would be possible to establish a land grant college in West Texas. Furthermore, the A. & M. College is given federal aid, it is unlikely that federal aid to a consequence would be obtainable in West Texas A. & M. The convention further announced in favor of the duplication in the engineering lines that would be the case if the Texas A. & M. were made an addition to the college at College Station.

convention favored a junior college which would give two years of cultural training in West Texas, the student then go to College Station.

These things only point out the fact that there are people living in Texas much interested in West Texas, as most enthusiastic booster in this section who see that certainly West Texas are asking for the impossible demanding a Class A college which will be the duplication of the great A. & M. College at College Station.

Regular scores of influential men in West Texas, even, who are opposed to the kind of a new college in West Texas, until the present state colleges are properly equipped. Editor Harry G. of the Quanah Tribune-Chief is who took that attitude two years ago when the question was up for discussion.

The Clarendon News takes a hand in the same last week, with the following announcement:

When the Clarendon News says stands for a West Texas A. & M. College it does not mean that it would be satisfied with an agricultural department added to any other institution in West Texas, but is being some selfish work to add such a department to the Normal at Canyon, but such an addition would be a subversion of the justice of the matter and would leave our section with less than a half loaf when we deserve a whole loaf. Stand for the West Texas A. & M., but stand for a real institution which in after years, will compare favorably with its older sister at College Station.

Randall County News had hoped to avoid any discussion of the matter of an A. & M. in West Texas, but hardly able to withstand the challenge hurled in this direction by our contemporary at Clarendon. Any movement for the greater benefit of the people of West Texas is hardly in keeping with the spirit that is supposed to come from within the shadows of that Methodist institution at Clarendon, yet any movement that would the West Texas State Normal a mere servant of the people of this Western section is mere "selfish work," in the eyes of the Clarendon News.

Forget it, Sam, Clarendon College is too great a school to allow of petty jealousies, and you will not be able to injure the Normal by such unjust attacks.

There is one vital question connected with the establishment of the new school which is being entirely overlooked by the aggressive proponents of the A. & M. college: where is the money coming from. Of course this is not going to stop the attack that will be launched on the legislature in January for the establishment of the school, for the legislature has established schools in the past with no money in sight, and the schools which the legislature established years ago are now suffering from lack of funds, but this mere fact is not going to stop the legislative body from creating a new school.

Two years ago the institutions of Texas needed $39,000,000 to operate; the Board of Control and the legislature gave them $25,000,000. No new buildings were allowed, in spite of the fact that every institution is doing business in shacks of various kinds, and the main building of the Denton Normal stands on crutches. The conditions at the state university are a disgrace to the state of Texas. Every school in Texas is crippled more or less by lack of funds. The legislative body was forced to cut appropriations from $39,000,000 to $25,000,000 to meet the financial conditions.

Was this great reduction justifiable? Did not the reduction of the appropriations aggravate the difficulties rather than postpone the solution? The appropriations presented to the Board of Control now total $45,000,000. Is the state going to longer refuse to meet its obligations to the existing institutions, but continue to create new institutions?

The News is merely expressing the sentiment of a lots of people in Texas who believe that it is time to build up the present institutions and make it possible for them to function to their full capacity rather than create more institutions which will be no more able to work for the people of the state than the existing institutions under the present stress of cramped finances.

In direct answer to the Clarendon News, we have only to say that an agricultural department which would do all of the work that any A. & M. college will ever do in West Texas might be given to the West Texas State Normal College for a few thousand dollars, whereas to create a new school, with buildings, lands, executives, and teachers who would teach the same subjects now offered in the Normal would cost the state up to a million dollars. In this time when every man expects one hundred cents for each dollar invested, we are wondering which is the wise investment for the State of Texas—more new schools, which will not be properly sustained, or sufficient departments and funds to make the most of the existing institutions?

It's toasted. This one extra process gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated

In one dispatch we read that the striking shopmen are whipped by the railroads; the strikers come back that they have won. The railroads claim that their shops are filled with good mechanics, while the strikers maintain that all rolling stock is about run down. Several men claim that fifty percent of the shopmen of Clovis and other town refused to walk out, and have been on the job since July; the strikers maintain that the strike is one hundred percent. Thus the tale goes. No one knows any more about the status of the strike than the other fellow. There are two or three things assured, however; one, that the railroads are moving most of the freight and all of the passengers; that instead of demanding the same scale as was in force before July 1st, the strikers are now willing to go back to work if seniority be granted; that the really efficient men of the unions would be glad to have the seniority rule knocked out. Aside from those facts, the public is ignorant of how the strike stands.

Quite a number of reactors have been found in the registered herds of Randall county by the government official who made a test of the herds this past week. This should certainly open the eyes of the individual cow owners who rely upon one cow for the source of their milk supply. If this one cow is infected then the entire family is liable to contract the disease. The dairy of Canyon is having the cows tested regularly and avoiding the danger of this dreaded disease. It is almost certain that not ten percent of the owners of a single cow in Canyon have ever had their cow tested, yet the family uses the milk and generally sell milk to a few neighbors.

Samuel Gompers is considering calling his chiefs together with the view of a general strike. Gompers has in mind that not a single labor strike has been won since the war closed, and is willing to risk his all by calling a strike of such magnitude that it will paralyze every industry. Gompers is on the fence and must jump. He is desperate, and is willing to try anything, no matter how damnable.

William Jennings Bryan has made a very wise proposal—that after European countries disarm then America cancel their war debts. All European visitors today believe that Europe is on top of a volcano greater than in 1914—if such a thing be possible—and war is liable to start at any time. Thos. Marshall writes from Berlin that the German people do not admit that Germany started war, but that their country was invaded and that the war was one of self-defense. Many prominent men in America are for the cancellation of the war debt, but there should be some guarantee that America's money will not be used to start another war in Europe.

The News printed a scathing editorial from the Lubbock Avalanche last week regarding the negroes of Lubbock. Canyon has never had a negro within the city limits, but there are many people who would like to see them brought here. In fact, Canyon is about the only town on the Plains which does not have negroes. The labor problem in Canyon is serious at times, and the housewives of the city would certainly welcome a remedy. Judging from the experience of others, the negro does not seem to be the solution.

The school bell of the Canyon public school rings next Tuesday morning. The school never had a brighter prospect for a great year's work than is to open on that date. The faculty members are all attending the institute at the Normal this week, and Supt. Payne states that each is anxious and ready for a great year's work. The compulsory school law will be enforced for the first one hundred days of school.

There are thousands of democrats in Texas who are going to repudiate that unjust party pledge on the primary ballot and vote as an American should for the best man presented to them in the general election. And his name is not Earle B. Mayfield.

In New Jersey some four hundred women of one political party are taking a summer course in the "principles of political oratory." They are preparing for the autumn campaign in which many if not all of them expect to make speeches, and in which some of them probably hope to have the last word.

Although the statement comes from London that English mines could supply the United States with two million tons of coal a month, the figures are not so impressive as they sound, for the New England States alone use more coal than that. The most that England can do is help us a little.

Heretofore stores in Japan have kept open seven days a week the year round, so that employees have only a few days off at New Year's and during the Feast of the Dead in summer. A department store in Osaka has now adopted the plan of a weekly day of rest and has set an example that other stores are likely to follow.

The Buddhist religion forbids those who believe in it to take life. Members of the Mount Everest expedition found the animals and birds of Tibet so tame that they gathered about the party, especially near the villages and the naturalists of the expedition could not make large collections without seriously offending the native people, all of whom are Buddhists.

Thousands of magnificent bull elk have been slaughtered illegally in the Yellowstone Park region for the two teeth that may be obtained from each and sold to be worn as ornaments. Among the Indians the braves decorated themselves with necklaces made of grizzly bears and only the squaws wore elk teeth as decorations and they used only those from the animals killed for clothing and food.

The annual fixed charges against the United States Treasurer on account of the public debt are $41,500,000,000. Of this amount $975,000,000 is for direct interest payment, $284,000,000 for sinking fund and the balance for redemption of savings certificates, Liberty bonds, and certificates of indebtedness. The actual interest cost exceeds a billion a year.

Seventy-two per cent of the earners of income in America receive less than $1,500 a year. Fourteen per cent more earn less than $2,000.

When you pick up a copy of your home paper, do you give any thought how it was produced, or the money that is spent to print it and deliver it at your home?

The newspaper of today, no matter if 25 cents a copy was charged, would be the cheapest thing you bought.

In the first place it represents an investment in plant and equipment of many thousands of dollars.

Its editor and staff work diligently day in and day out to gather all the news and present it to you in readable fashion. It aims to keep you informed on all the news that's "fit for ink."

With the average paper, the price you pay for subscription does not cover the cost of WHITE PAPER.

Yes, the newspaper is the cheapest thing you buy.

Think it over. Look it over. Then support your home paper. It's the best investment you can make, for it brings the largest returns.

Before Baby Comes

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before, as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. These months of suffering, with nerves and vital organs weakened, leave their effect upon the child. An eminent physician found the way to stop much of this unnecessary suffering—the same easy way which thousands of mothers have used for three generations.

Mrs. Walter S. Hadley, Bridgeport, Ind., says: "Before my little boy came I was so paralyzed in my hips and limbs I could hardly walk, and some days after a little extra exertion I couldn't walk a step. I felt it coming on this time; in fact, I could hardly get up when I sat down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates remarkably, permitting the easier relaxation and distension of muscles, nerves, tissues and ligaments, and their constant easier readjustment during expectancy and at child-birth. Have no more fear or dread, mother! Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor, because I wasn't very sick—only about 15 or 20 minutes."

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid mere guesses and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

What the Audubon Societies have accomplished in protecting wild bird life in America an international committee just formed in London hopes to do for the world at large. It will spread propaganda and make a sustained effort to get adequate legislation in every country where none now exists. In southern Europe the peasants every year kill great numbers of song birds for food.

A New York man who made a planting of white pine thirty-six years ago has been offered five hundred dollars an acre for the timber on the stump. It is a good price, but not at all unusual. An acre of white pine under favorable conditions will on the average make a growth of one thousand feet a year, which is as profitable as are the crops of much good farm land under cultivation.

Many Japanese merchants became rich during the war and built themselves fine houses, but when they were ready to furnish them they found that most of the desirable old Japanese objects of art on the market had passed into the hands of European or American collectors. One New York dealer who years ago picked up numerous articles in Japan for little money, and who had not found a sale for them in America, was agreeably surprised to learn recently that he could send them back to Japan at a handsome profit.

In Great Britain the law considers that a letter when posted becomes the property of the person to whom it is addressed. The United States, on the other hand, takes the view that a letter is the property of the sender until it is actually delivered to the person addressed, so that over here it is possible for a sender to recover a letter after he has mailed it if he can prove that he has a right to it; but the necessary red tape and expense of a telegram to hold the letter from delivery make it only occasionally worth while.

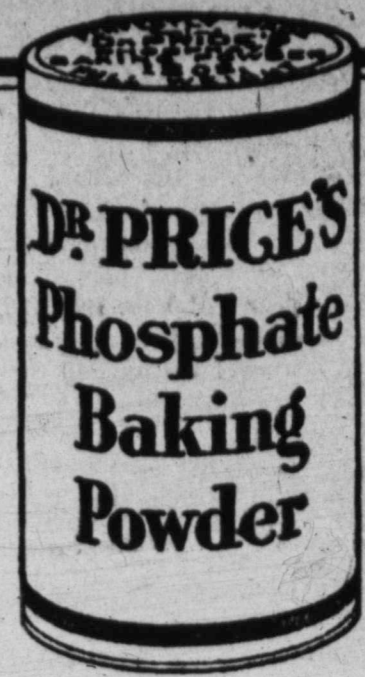

Certain railroad trains in Rumania are so crowded with the roving populace that the conductors cannot collect fares. There are not enough passenger coaches to handle the throngs of people who want to travel and the passengers are forced to ride on the roofs, running boards, bumpers and undertrucks of the coaches. At an Episcopal convention in Chicago recently, a report of a social and economic life said in part: "A fundamental change in the spirit and working of our social and industrial life is necessary to restore the world to peace and order. The fundamental change can be effected only by accepting on the basis of all our relations the principle of co-operation in service for the common good, in place of unrestricted competition for private or sectional good."

More Summer Dairy Profits

The dairymen who are making profits are feeding the cows on pasture. When they once stop to figure the actual results of grass only they find their cows don't milk so long, and it requires more feed in the winter to bring back milk production.

Dairymen everywhere are cutting the cost per gallon of milk production by feeding a little Cow Chow as a concentrate.

Cow Chow provides just the right proteins and minerals to balance grass. Cow Chow puts the proof of more summer profits right in the milk pail. Start a test today and prove it with your own cows. L. E. CEARLEY GRAIN CO.

A lady with excitement in every syllable she spoke, called up a big movie theater and told the manager that she had been told by a lady friend that her husband was in the theater with another man's wife.

The manager stopped the show and made a little speech: "Ladies and gentlemen this is a clean show and a clean theater, if there is any man here with another man's wife, I will darken the house and this couple will be given the opportunity to depart unobserved."

When the house was darkened fifteen couples left.

OH!

I once knew a man that stayed home with his wife every night for thirty years.

Ah! that was true love!
No, that was paralysis.

Pupils of the Lewis Peak school, 25 miles east of Walla Walla, Washington, are studying hard while most school children of the country are enjoying their vacation. The weather is so cold and the snow so deep in winter that school is not feasible in that district and it is then that the children have their vacation, which they spend at hunting and trapping in a region uninfested with deer, bear, and coyotes.

In 1877, Thomas A. Edison spoke into the first model phonograph speaking mouthpiece: "Mary had a little lamb—" Upon examination he found indications on the tin foil record. He replaced the record, turned the crank and back from the cylinder came a thin voice but without a word of the recitation missing. Thus was born the phonograph.

The New York Public Library is experimenting with a method to preserve newspaper files for future use in centuries to come. Japanese paper, which is transparent, is pasted on every page, rendering the page impervious to the agencies that destroy news print. St. Peter was examining a newly arrived immigrant seeking entrance. He had given his occupation as editor and publisher. Following is a transcript of the testimony:

Q—"Ah, yes—of the world's greatest newspaper?"

A—"No sir. Just a common rag."

Q—"Circulation the largest in your city?"

A—"No, sir; oh, no indeed! One of the smallest in the country."

"You'll do," said St. Peter. "Pick your harp."

Australian states are opening millions of acres to settlers. Victoria proposes to throw open 1,250,000 acres of northwestern land. At the same time railway extensions in progress in the state will make provision for 500 other farms. Queensland will open up 1,000,000 acres of crown land and construct the Dawson River irrigation works which will be one of the largest in the world.

IRISH EUGENICS

An Irishman living in New York started what promised to be a large family. A baby came regularly every year for four years and then there was no more. A friend said to him one day: "Pat, why is it your wife presents you with no more kiddies?"

"I do not want any more. Because," said Pat, "they say every fifth baby born in New York is a Jew."

A musical burglar has been footing the homes of exclusive Chicago residences of thousands of dollars' worth of jewels and money, after first lulling the suspicions of neighbors by his rare piano playing. A score from "Rigoletto" at one place, and pleasing portion from "La Traviata, and "Il Trovatore," marked the thefts.

Snake bite is now treated with a serum similar to the anti-tetanus serum. A snake farm in operation in Brazil furnishes the poison or venom which is diluted with sugar of milk and injected into mules and other animals. The vaccine obtained from the treated animal is said to be an absolute antidote against the poison of the particular snake from which the venom was drawn.

A Triumph for Value

In the past two months Firestone has built and marketed more tires than in any similar period in its history.

This steadily increasing public preference is proof of the recognition by car owners of the greater values offered by Firestone. It is a tribute to Firestone men—all stockholders in the company—all actuated by the operating principle of Most Miles per Dollar.

The high average performance of Firestone Cords is without equal in the annals of tire making and is reflected by the general tendency to specify Firestone for hard service. Taxicab and bus lines, buying tires by the mile, are universally equipping with Firestone Cords.

There are many reasons for the high quality of Firestone tires but chief among the special manufacturing processes are double gum-dipping, thus eliminating internal friction by insulating each cord strand, and air-bag cure, insuring a well-balanced and perfectly shaped product.

Don't speculate in tires—you will find the right combination of price and quality in Firestone. Come in and let us tell you about the service these Cords are giving other car-owners whom you know.

HIS ENGINEER WAS GALLANT

He Stepped His Train and Landed Big Tarpon Fish for Mississippi Woman.

Biloxi, Miss.—There is no lack ofantry on the part of this Louisville Nashville passenger engineer—or as it his overwhelming love for fishing? The chauffeur of one of the "Ellen's" fatal trains sped on to the bridge at San Springs. On the bridge Mrs. W. Lampton was wrestling with a fish-pole that was jerked hither and too wildly for feminine strength, was a tarpon on the hook, whereas Lampton had gone into the sport dently hoping to catch a little mess trout for supper. For 45 minutes Mrs. Lampton and tarpon fought a game battle with score standing about even. The N. E. engineer procured the heavy hook with which his freeman lies down the grate bars and with made the tarpon captive in a jiffy. fish weighed 85 pounds. All the passengers quickly became rested and husked off the scales of tarpon for souvenirs.

Depended on the Mule Speaking at a political gathering, Congressman Frederick W. Dallinger, of Massachusetts, referred to the many amusing incidents of the schoolrooms, and related a little incident along that line.

A teacher in a public school was instructing a youthful class in English when she paused and, turned to a small boy named Jimmy Brown.

"James," said she, "write on the board, 'Richard can ride the mule if he wants to.'"

This Jimmy proceeded to do to the satisfaction of all concerned.

"Now, then," continued the teacher when Jimmy had returned to his place, "can you find a better form for that sentence?"

"Yes, ma'am," was the prompt response of Jimmy. "Richard can ride the mule if the mule wants him to."—Philadelphia Telegraph.
