

COMMITTEE FROM CANYON LOOK AT SIX CITIES' PAVING

CONVINCED THAT BRICK ON NATURAL FOUNDATION BEST.

Stamford, Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Mineral Wells and Ft. Worth Are Visited by Citizens.

The committee from the city council arrived home Monday and yesterday after a very profitable visit to various cities in this section where the men were able to see all kinds of paving that had been in use during the past few years, with a view of getting the best for the money that is being spent by the people of Canyon on our paving.

The committee was headed by Mayor J. D. Gamble, and consisted of C. N. Harrison, T. C. Thompson, C. D. Lester and C. W. Warwick, accompanied by R. D. Moxley and John Dalrymple, the contractors who are doing the paving in Canyon.

The committee saw very nearly every kind of paving that has ever been put down, and came back home with the firm conviction that brick paving is the only successful kind of paving, and that brick paving on natural foundation is the most profitable kind for Houston street, which will be paved as soon as the contract is completed around the court house square of Canyon.

The committee left Canyon last Thursday morning, going by train to Lubbock where two Essex touring cars were furnished by Mr. Dalrymple and Mr. Moxley. The party got away at once, taking dinner at Stanton and followed the Santa Fe south to Snyder where the direction was changed to the east, and the night spent at Stamford.

Stamford was a very interesting place, owing to the fact that it has the oldest paving on natural foundation in this section. This paving was put down twelve years ago, before such a thing as asphalt was discovered and sand was used as filler between the paving bricks. This paving stands today in a most excellent state of preservation. Stamford has nothing but natural foundation paving, and the engineer stated he would recommend no other kind to his city although he has been in the paving business for many years and has used other kinds in other towns.

The next city to be visited was Cisco. Mayor Williams of Cisco proved to be just the man the party was looking for. He certainly knows paving, if any man in a small town ever can learn anything about the business of paving. Mayor Williams decided three years ago that Cisco should do its paving on natural foundation. His city engineer and the members of his city council scoffed at the idea. The Mayor took the train and visited every town in the United States which had paving on the natural foundation. He came back home convinced that Cisco should have this type of paving, and it was put down on the next job. The Mayor took the Canyon party out on the street which carried the heavy traffic to the oil fields. A part of this street had been paved with concrete foundation and the remainder with natural foundation. None of the party was able to tell where the concrete foundation started. This paving was down before the big oil boom started, and for two years carried a constant stream of heavy trucks out from the city to the oil wells. It certainly has been given a thorough trial.

Mayor Williams interestingly told of his trip of inspection to various other towns to see paving on natural foundation. He told of a highway in Nebraska, which was paved on the natural foundation. Mayor J. D. Gamble had a photograph of that highway. This photograph bears the inscription: "Brick road 8 1/2 miles west of Omaha, Nebraska on Lincoln Highway; sand base, built 1898, photo 1922 nothing for repairs." This twenty-four years of service in a country with much rainfall and heavy winter frosts certainly is sufficient test to prove that natural foundation is the thing when there is proper drainage.

Drainage is the secret of any good paving, and Canyon has the best natural drainage of any town the party visited. In Fort Worth, the paved streets leading out of the packing houses stand under water, every spring, and yet this street with its exceptionally heavy traffic has as good paving as any we saw.

The party visited Eastland, Ranger, Mineral Wells and Fort Worth. Various kinds of paving were seen, but every man in the party was most firmly convinced that the most profitable paving is the brick. In Fort Worth the main street of town is being re-laid after having been paved for twenty-three years. The brick taken up are being used again in other parts of town, and looked to be serviceable for another fifty years. These brick are probably not so good as the kind being made today with the greatly improved machinery.

In Mineral Wells we saw other types of paving than brick. It was in a very poor condition. It would seem that most every kind of paving other than brick is in a constant state of repair, while the brick we saw was in good shape, and most of it had been in use much longer than the other kinds.

While in Mineral Wells we visited the brick plant which is making the paving brick for Canyon. It is a wonderful institution, with the most modern machinery in Texas. The shale from which the brick is made is reputed to be the finest for paving brick in this country. The management stated that most of the brick for the public square contract would be shipped out during the coming week, and that all of the brick for the new job from the depot to the highway will be shipped within forty-five days.

The roads in the oil district are certainly in a fearful condition. It is worth any one's time to go through the oil belt, even though it is very quiet just now—but he will have no desire to go through a second until the roads are fixed up. Eastland county is building a brick highway across the entire county, which will be completed during next year, but all of the other counties will have to do a lot of road work before this particular bunch will want to visit that region again.

In seeking a way to come home we decided upon the FFF highway by the process of elimination—we had been over one road, and were determined not to go back that way; we knew that the road up the Denver was not much, if any, better; there was one chance left, and we hoped that it would not be worse than these other routes. The FFF highway proved to be a very fine route, with bad places only at Paducah and Graham, but these are only short stretches, and not comparable to the oil belts. If you have any occasion to drive to Fort Worth drive to Plainview, follow the FFF highway to Lockney, Floydada, Matador, Paducah, Crowell, Benjamin, Graham, Mineral Wells. The old timers down that way don't know a bloomin' thing around the roads, or how far it is to the next town, or that they live on the FFF highway, or another durned thing much that the traveler wants to know, but it is at present a fine road from the fact that many people have not yet discovered it, and there is considerable road building being done which is worth while.

Randall county has as good crops as we saw any place along the line, with the exception of a small strip on top of the caprock just this side of Post. There are but few cattle in the big pastures below the caprock, and we did not see half a dozen hogs from the time we left the plains until we got back.

The party visited a lot of towns and asked into condition generally, and every fellow came back thinking more of Canyon and Randall county and the Plains of Texas than we ever did before.

Canyon is a real town when you get out and knock around for awhile and see how the other fellow lives.

Canyon has a citizenship of which a town five times our size might be proud to have.

Canyon has the most prosperous and promising future of any town we visited.

Canyon needs this paving—and it is assured from the depot to the highway.

Canyon needs a new depot—just whisper this fact to the right man in the Santa Fe System, the greatest railroad system on earth.

Canyon needs a new high school building, and this matter will be taken up with the people before many weeks.

Canyon needs more sidewalks, and more street crossings.

One of the greatest and outstanding needs of Canyon is better church buildings—and Canyon's churches are not

Rev. Mark Beavers Becomes Pastor of Methodist Church

Announcement was made Tuesday of the transfer of Rev. Mark Beavers from the Methodist church at Hereford to the local Methodist church, taking the place of Rev. John H. Hicks who left Sunday night for S. M. U. at Dallas.

Rev. Beavers is one of the strongest pastors in the conference. He has been pastor at Hereford for two years and completed a fine church building. He was pastor at Canadian and other towns on the Plains. He will be remembered as having assisted Rev. R. A. Stewart in a meeting in Canyon.

Rev. Beavers will move his family to Canyon next week and preach his first sermon here October first.

going to prosper and grow as they should until these modern churches are built.

Canyon has a wonderful opportunity; we have a wonderful people; there is no better time than right now to put over the great improvement program which is absolutely necessary to double our population within the next few years.

Practically all of Company F Released From Duty at Denison, Texas

Company F has been released from duty at Denison, and all but seven of the men are now back home.

Things looked rather bad for Company F last week when Captain H. C. Gamble was sent home to recruit more men and bring back to camp with him all men who had not previously reported. Sergeants E. W. Reid and Earl Potter was taken to Denison Saturday, together with several new recruits.

Orders were issued Saturday by Governor Neff cutting in two the force of men at Denison, and all Panhandle companies were ordered home. Two detachments of Company F arrived this week, the final detachment on Tuesday night in charge of Lieut. J. W. Kleinhardt, who brought all of the company property home.

Captain H. C. Gamble remains at Denison as canteen officer and guard inspector.

Lieut. J. H. Jones remains as regimental supply officer.

Sgt. John Boone remains in charge of the officers' mess.

J. P. Bussell remains as motorcycle driver.

J. C. Hicks, E. H. Lyons and W. S. Covington were attached to Co. H.

The boys were mighty glad to get home, especially those wishing to attend school this fall.

Several of the boys came to the News office and expressed their very great appreciation for the big bundle of papers which was sent to Company F during the time the men were in Denison.

Many Canyon People Attend Meeting P-P Chamber Commerce

A large delegation from Canyon attended the meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo Tuesday and yesterday.

President J. A. Hill of the Normal spoke before the assembly yesterday morning, discussing the educational needs of Texas in a highly interesting way.

Resolutions were adopted favoring the West Texas A. & M. College.

Sam Brinswell, editor of the Clarion News, was elected president of the organization for the coming year.

SHOWERS OVER COUNTY.

Showers have been falling over the county during the past week, but not of great consequence.

A small rain fell Saturday night in the neighborhood of the city. The south part of the county got a small rain Monday afternoon, and there was a very good in the west part Monday night.

WEDDING LICENSES.

Henry Banks Jones Jr. and Miss Ima Jewell Davis, Sept. 18th.

W. R. Stockert and Miss Agnes McGehee, Sept. 10th.

NEWS WARNED AGAINST FIGHT ON KU KLUX KLAN—PROMISE TO RULE ENTIRE UNITED STATES

The following letter was received yesterday morning at the News office, written on a typewriter which had badly worn type and ribbon, upon a cheap piece of paper. The operator of the typewriter showed to use the "hunt and peck" system. The letter was mailed from Amarillo, but evidently was written in Canyon. The following is the letter:

Mr. C. W. Warwick—
Sir you show by your paper that you are not friendly to the order of the K. K. K. You have been talking entirely too much about the K. K. K. We give you timely warning to stop your talk about something you know nothing about.
You as well to know it now as later that the K. K. K. is going to elect and control all officers in the whole U. S. Knights of the K. K. K.

A number of letters were received in the same mail by citizens of Canyon, practically an exact copy of the above letter.

Slush! Yes, and Piffle, too.

Mr. Knight of the bed sheet and pillow case, we point you to the recent primary in Texas. In the four state races only one Klansman won—Earle B. Mayfield—and he won in spite of the Klan. The high god of the Klan—Col Billie Mayfield—lost by a hundred thousand. That don't look like controlling the whole U. S.—not very fast.

At any time we get ready to turn our paper over to a secret organization and let it do our thinking, we will call you up; but until that time if we don't like the Klan and the way it is run, we will say what we please about the organization.

District Court Tries Criminal Cases During Week-2 Indictments

The case of State of Texas vs Boss Jackson was tried yesterday and the case went to the jury last night at seven o'clock.

The jury had not reported this morning Jackson is charged with selling liquor.

The grand jury returned two indictments yesterday. The arrest was made on one indictment, Bob Bethune who is charged with selling liquor.

The assault case against Ben Faulkner was tried Thursday, and resulted in a mistrial, the jury being discharged Saturday morning after having been out for thirty-six hours.

The case of Henry Burns of Hereford was tried Monday, going to the jury without argument. The defendant was found not guilty of the charge of murder.

The grand jury resumed its work Monday.

ORGANIZE FOR CAMPAIGN.

A meeting was held in Canyon yesterday of the pastors of the Baptist churches in the Tierra Blanca Association planning the campaign to push the collections on the 75 Million Dollar Campaign.

Dr. E. E. Dawson, pastor of the Tulla Baptist Church, is organizer for the Association and directed the meeting yesterday.

Mrs. B. T. Johnson of this city will have charge of the work in the W. M. U. The different speakers will visit all churches in the Association urging the collection of pledges made to this campaign.

AUXILIARY MEETING

There will be a call meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary at the American Legion Hall Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 20th, at 4 o'clock. It is very much desired that there be a full attendance. Each member and eligible member is urged to come.

Army Chow Served Guests of Legion At Tuesday's Picnic

The Woman's Auxiliary were the guests of the local American Legion Post Tuesday evening at a picnic held in the Bates pasture. The main feature of the evening was a "Mulligan Stew" which was served with all of its "trimmings" in true army fashion. The early arrivals were put on K. P. duty and Judge Lester won the compliments of the guests by his onion peeling ability.

A short business meeting was held and Mrs. L. T. Lester, Miss Elva Frou-alarger, and Dr. H. A. Brown gave short talks on the co-operative work of the Legion and the Auxiliary.

At a late hour the crowd dispersed each determined to be present at the next "Army Chow."

Claude Newton Harrison Makes Hole in One on Golf Course

Claude Newton Harrison is the first member of the Canyon Golf Club to make a hole in one shot!

Young Harrison has been a golf enthusiast, and is able to take his dad to a cleaning on the golf course ever once in awhile.

Last week he pulled the much dreamed of stunt of making a hole in one. This was pulled off on No. 5 of the Canyon Golf Club. No. 5 is a drive to the top of a bluff with the green about 40 feet from the side of the bluff. It is an easy hole when the player lands his first shot on top, but it is awful if the shot falls short and into the rocks.

Under the American Golf Rules, Claude Newton will be given a club and a dozen balls by the local golf club, and will be given a certificate of membership in the American Hole in One Club.

WEST TEXAS STATE NORMAL WILL START THIRTEENTH YEAR NEXT TUESDAY—ATTENDANCE OUTLOOK GOOD

The Thirteenth Annual Session of the West Texas State Normal College will open next Tuesday morning, September 26th.

President J. A. Hill states that the outlook is very promising. He believes that there will be a substantial increase over last year in spite of the general drought and existing financial conditions, and that the attendance will cover a large territory than ever before. Registration will open Tuesday morning.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS NOW HAVE 466 IN ATTENDANCE

UNDERS WILL BE TAKEN UP TO FIRST OF OCTOBER.

Payne Reports Everything Progressing Nicely in School—Building Plans Are Taken Up.

Superintendent A. D. Payne reports a total enrollment up to yesterday of 466, which is a considerable increase over the attendance of last year.

At a meeting of the trustees Tuesday evening it was decided to accept children who were six years of age on the first of September upon payment of tuition for the entire school year. No child under scholastic age will be accepted after the first of October.

The building committee of the board was instructed to start work on plans for a new high school building. This committee is composed of G. G. Foster, R. F. Jarrett and C. W. Warwick. Several architects have presented plans to the board during the past few months, and the committee will now start an intensive study of the various plans. Announcements regarding a bond election will be made within a short while.

The following is the enrollment by grades:

No. 1	33
No. 2	39
No. 3	39
No. 4	48
No. 5	43
No. 6	45
No. 7	42
No. 8	44
No. 9	39
No. 10	39
No. 11	28
South Ward	21
West Ward	9
Total	466

INGHAMS BUY MOODY.

The announcement was made this week of the formation of the dental firm of Drs. Ingham and Moody, this partnership taking over the business of Drs. Ingham and Moody. Dr. Moody is retiring from the dental business and Dr. George Ingham is taking Moody's place in the firm with his father, Dr. S. L. Ingham, who has been practicing here for several years.

Dr. George Ingham was invited to take a place in the dental college in Dallas, from which school he graduated last spring. His many friends in Canyon are very glad to know that he will stay in Canyon.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A very pleasant event occurred on Monday, Sept. 18, in honor of the 25th marriage anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Heller. Quite a number of their old time friends in token of love and respect for these good people gathered about 11 o'clock, took possession of the house, and had an elegant dinner to 35 guests which all did ample justice. A luncheon was spent in conversation, and at 4 p. m. the guests departed, feeling they had a most enjoyable time, and wishing the host and hostess many more happy anniversaries.—A Guest.

Methodist Committee Seeks Location for Encampment Ground

At the District Conference of the Methodist church a few weeks ago at Hale Center a movement was started to locate near Canyon an Encampment Ground for the Methodist Church of the Northwest Texas Conference. A committee was appointed as follows: W. J. Flesher of Canyon, G. A. F. Parker of Hereford, Rev. Mark Beavers of Hereford who will move to Canyon next week as pastor of the local Methodist church, Presiding Elder G. S. Hardy, Mr. Hanks of Plainview, Rev. T. C. Willett of Tulla, A. L. Harrison of Happy, Mrs. Tom Delaney of Memphis, Miss Iva Hammond of Memphis.

This committee met in Canyon on Tuesday and visited a number of locations on the Palo Duro canyon. No selection of a site was made, but it is expected that some announcement will be made before many weeks.

George E. B. Paddy is the nominee of the anti-klan organization, and will take the race against Earle B. Mayfield upon the republican ticket. The nomination of the klan meeting came as a somewhat surprise, as it was generally suggested that an independent ticket would be the result of the meeting held in Dallas. Placing of the anti-klan nominee upon the republican ticket came upon invitation from the republican party, which has in the person of a capable man a man who would make the announcement that an aggressive campaign will be made in Texas. It is also announced that a counter campaign will be made by the Mayfield camp. If it becomes necessary for Mayfield to step into the stump in order to win in the November election, it will be the first time that a democratic nominee has stepped into the stump in order to defend himself in the general election. It may seem unlikely that any but a democrat will be elected from Texas. The issue is the only one that will be of importance in the race. It is doubtful whether Paddy has a ghostly chance for election.

Canyon is certainly to be congratulated upon the interest shown by our membership in the paving program. We have always realized that once paving was started it would be pushed on the principal streets of the city. Coming from the depot to the highway has long been the cherished dream of the people of Canyon, and now it is becoming a reality.

The railroad strike is almost a thing of the past, as the railroads and strikers are fast getting together. It seems that the total gain made by the strikers was a vacation since July first about pay.

TAX SLACKERS
Governor Neff at the recent State convention, scored the fellows who did not pay their taxes last year, which is a name for any man who claims to be an honest, upright citizen of the State. Of course we realize that some of them get in a position at times when they cannot meet their tax obligations, but we are speaking of the fellow who does not pay, just because of some frivolous excuse. His action simply makes it harder on those who do pay. The schools of the State suffer this year on account of every fifth tax payer in the State failing to meet his obligation. The same is true of the independent district in Lubbock County. The same is true in the State and County of Lubbock, and the city of Lubbock. The delinquent tax list has been ordered published for 1921, and it shows a large amount of taxes delinquent which sets the school tax so far as the amount of money coming from the delinquents for that purpose. In the city delinquent tax list is long, and the amount of publishing it will be heavy. This delinquent amount, the fellow who pays his tax promptly is made to pay a higher rate in order to obtain a fair share of the city. Because this bunch of tax slackers have not come across with their part. There is nothing fair about it, but it is the only way the expenses of the city government can be met, and of course we who must submit to it, but we hope city authorities will spare no effort to make every fellow come across with his taxes or lose his property. A man who is not willing to bear his share of the upkeep of the town in which he resides is not worthy of the citizenship of the community, and deserves no sympathy from the better element—Lubbock people.

Cape Peninsula Road encircles the whole peninsula of South Africa, and the entire rock-bound coast is 1,000 miles. It is believed to be the longest drive in the world, even including the famous Corniche Road in France.

THE DESTRUCTIVE FORCE OF SILENCE

"We have advertised a long while," said a manufacturer who wished to stop. "And have good will. That good will will last us a long time. We don't need to add to it right now."

To some extent that is so. The fly-wheel goes on turning for a while after the power is shut off. But not for long, and when it stops it takes more power to start it, by six times, than it takes to keep it running.

One might as well say: "We won't buy coal now that it is so expensive, we will gradually chop the plant and burn that in the furnace until coal is cheaper and then we can rebuild the plant."

Good will is a fine thing to use.

Nothing is ever finished—done. Time is destructive. Stop building up and time starts tearing down. Some things last longer than others. But nothing lasts so very long. You think of your plant, for instance, as built. But it only stays built because you are continually replacing it bit by bit.

Think how much more rapid the inevitable loss in a thing so intangible as familiarity—as reputation—as good will.

Out of sight, out of mind—not all in a minute but before so very long.

Advertisers who stop advertising expose the advertising structure, on which they have invested much money for many years, to elements quite as destructive and more rapid in their action than those which attack and operate an unfinished, abandoned structure.

Common Sense About Eczema and Eruptions!

Here's Something About S. S. S. That You'll Be Glad to Hear.

You might just as well know it right now—the cause of skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, boils and so on, is right in the blood. There is no getting away from it. Science has proved it. We prove it. You can prove it. When the cause of skin troubles and eruptions is in the blood, it isn't common sense to simply treat the skin. A bottle of S. S. S. will prove to you what is happening in your blood. S. S. S. is a scientific blood cleanser—it drives out the impurities which cause eczema, tetter, rash, pimples, boils, blackheads, blotches and other skin eruptions. When these impurities are driven out, you can't stop several very nice things from happening. Your lips turn naturally rosy. Your eyes sparkle, your complexion clears. It becomes beautiful. Your face looks like that of a prosperous, ruddy, well-fed, refined gentleman, or if you are a woman your complexion becomes the real thing that the whole world so admires. S. S. S. is also a powerful body-builder. It causes it builds new and more cells. That's why it fills or checks, long necks, thin, weak, and flabby flesh. It causes you to have this happen to you. Sold at all drug stores. The larger size is the more.

A unique feature of the ventilating system in the council chamber of the London County Council's palace at Westminster is that each member is able to control his own immediate atmosphere. A control button below his desk feeds cold or warm air from a maze of pipes beneath the floor which lead to noiseless fans, water sprays, thermometers, dynamos and a network of brass pipes. A sudden change in the outside temperature is automatically conveyed to sensitive instruments so that they promptly adjust their efforts toward maintaining an even temperature inside.

LITTLE WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

New Fall Merchandise

Our store is packed with new goods, too many for this kind of a year, and we are putting them out at figures that are moving them rapidly. Every month shows an increase in sales over last year. It isn't that conditions are better—ITS THE PRICE—people are spending where they can make their money go the farthest.

A Hart Schaffner & Marx suit that we were selling 18 months ago for $65, we offer you now for $30 to $35. A few up to $40, and our prices are moving them every day too.

Style Plus suits at $25 to $30 and others down to $15.00.

If we don't save you from $10.00 to $20.00 per suit under Amarillo prices we don't ask you to buy—but give us a chance to show you, that's all we ask.

LADIES' READY TO WEAR

The Sunshine Line, marked away under last season. Come in and let us show you the new styles.

MILLINERY DEPARTMENT

This department shows a bigger increase in sales than any other. People appreciate this beautiful line of hand tailored hats, and after shopping over the Amarillo factory-made stocks, are coming here to buy. Will have a lot of new ones first of next week.

Anti-Klan Candidate Is Young Man of Action and Experience

BY SILLIMAN EVANS

Staff Correspondent Star-Telegram
Dallas, Sept. 17—And who is George E. B. Peddy, this tall young man, just old enough to qualify as a United States Senator, with a multitude of initials and an amplitude of friends, and who is to try his fortunes against Earle Bradford Mayfield? He was the dark horse that wiped every political slate out at the Dallas convention Saturday. His name had been only hinted at, and that in a complimentary way.

Peddy is the youngest man who ever sought the senatorship from Texas, but should he be elected he will not be the youngest man ever to have served in the Senate. Old political heads here popped off scintillating wisdom after his nomination. They said that Henry Clay went to the United States Senate from Kentucky when he was but 29, and that body seated him out of respect to the people of Kentucky who elected him. They also recalled that John Randolph of Virginia went to the House before he was 25 and when his right to sit there was questioned, he said:

"I refer you, as to my age, to my constituents, the people of Virginia, by whose will I come to your honorable body," and when the younger Pitt was in his debate in the House of Commons, a scurrilous remark was made about his youth and he turned the point to advantage by saying that "to the atrocious crime of being young I must admit."

Spoke for Ferguson

Peddy made speeches for Ferguson. He has for years been the teacher of a Sunday School class in the First Methodist Church at Houston, and has been noted for his devotion to his religion and his church. He made speeches for Jim Ferguson during the recent race. He was asked to resign as teacher of his class. He asked the demanders if he had violated any rules of the church or Sunday school. They said "no." He asked them if he had failed, in any sin of mission or commission, to do his Christian duty. They pointed to none. He asked them if they thought he lacked the knowledge of the Bible, or the intellectual ability to continue to teach his class. They said "no." He asked them why fore of the demand. They said it was of his political acts in supporting Jim Ferguson who forsooth was an anti-prohibitionist.

He resigned, and said that rather than wear the yoke of the Ku Klux Klan he would go into the forest and there would worship his God as did his pilgrim fathers.

In Limelight Before

That incident brought into the limelight, but he has been there frequently before. He was a member of the House of Representatives from Shelby County while Ferguson was Governor.

Dad, Mother, Ironized Yeast for Rheumatism

Do You Realize What Ironized Yeast-Vitamines Will Do for Rheumatism and Lumbago?

Do you know that vitamins and iron are part of your very life? Do you know that the tissue-and-blood factory in your body needs these two materials, and needs them badly? Do you know that if your body furnace does not get enough of these, that queer poisons, joint poisons, muscle poisons, acid poisons are formed instead of the healthy flesh and the rich blood you used to have in days gone by? If you hobble in your gait, if pains distort your body, if bending over is an unspeakable agony, if dull pains make you breathe heavily and moan, do not grumble at the roughness of the way—smile sweetly, there is a rainbow ahead. Things are different now than they used to be. In the days of liniments, salves, complicated drugs, and all that—remember? The happy secret today is ironized yeast, one of the greatest body-and-blood builders of all time. Begin taking Ironized Yeast today. Beware of imitations and substitutes, because Ironized Yeast is not a mere combination of yeast and iron, but is yeast ironized, which is a substance all by itself. There is only one Ironized Yeast in all the world. Sold at all drug stores at $1.00 a package and containing 60 tablets, each tablet sealed. They never lose their power. Mfg. only by Ironized Yeast Co., Atlanta, Ga. Say goodbye to rheumatism from now on!

"Whoopee! Rheumatism Pains and Agony All Gone. Ironized Yeast is Surely Wonderful!"

Sold by all good dealers, such as CITY PHARMACY

For that service, he got the regular $5 per diem, and with that, and money he earned elsewhere he worked his way through the University of Texas. Most everybody remembers the battle made on the University of Texas by Ferguson while Governor. When he vetoed the University appropriation bill Peddy organized what looked like a rebellion. He got a crowd of university students together and led them in a parade through the capitol grounds and he hurled defiance at Ferguson as he did at the Ku Klux Klan Saturday, in a speech delivered on the capitol grounds. As a member of the Legislature, he opposed Ferguson policies.

Champion of Suffrage

But before that even Peddy was fairly well known. The woman suffrage fight was being waged in Texas. In those days it was hard to find a spokesman for suffrage. Wm. T. Bagby was ruling the House of Representatives with his golden eloquence, and his brilliant and engaging personality. Judge Barry Miller was in the hey-day of his career, and he and Bagby, orators of Statewide reputation, led the floor fight on suffrage. Women crowded the galleries to hear the opposition speeches of Miller and Bagby. They had no defenders. Finally one day, Peddy, a beardless youth just old enough to be in the Legislature, arose to defend them. Press correspondents who sat at the press table that day, will never forget the brilliance of his speech, the fearlessness of his attack on the opponents of suffrage nor the earnestness of his declaration of suffrage rights for women.

Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, dean of the press table, Fitzgerald, as Peddy spoke, turned to the younger ones and said: "Mark him down in your memory book you will hear from him again."

There followed the submission fights, and Peddy was the champion of that losing cause during that session, but he lived to see prohibition a few years later victorious. When the war came he volunteered. He was trained at Leon Springs. He went overseas as an infantry captain. He was in service for months.

Peddy is better than six feet tall. He is slender, but impressive in physique. His features are essentially masculine, his mouth firm and he has a pugilist's jaw. His eyes are steel blue. They scintillate when he speaks his voice is powerful and he controls it as if it were a musical instrument. He modulates it perfectly.

He is married and has been about two years. The wedding was the culmination of a university romance.

"PRINCE" BARED AS AN IMPOSTOR

Duped New York Society for Two Years With His Stories About Royalty.

NOW HE HAS TAKEN FLIGHT

Son of Connecticut Washerwoman Posed as Heir Apparent to Throne of France—Police Say He Has Three Wives in This Country.

New York.—How the part of a prince of royal blood, heir apparent to the throne of France, was played by the romantic son of a Yankee washerwoman is revealed in police records following the disappearance of his royal highness, Prince Louis Henri de Chateroux de Bussigny de Bourbon. The man, who for two years duped exclusive social circles and Fifth avenue establishments into accepting him as a Bourbon prince and former major general of Russia who had saved the life of the czar once, on the blotter of the police, is entered as just plain Harold Schwarz, twenty-one, factory hand of New Britain, Conn. With the prince is gone the princess and their dog, Prince, named, so his highness claimed, by the late Pope benedict, whom he called a bosom friend.

Left behind are several trunks full of royal uniforms and a gold-plated fur foot sword, present from the late czar.

Also, the police say, left behind are three wives somewhere in the country. Among these is said to be Mrs. Everett Worthington of California, formerly Miss Emily Abets, and later, according to the police, the first wife of the unmasked royal heir.

Mother Still Loyal. Back in New Britain, Mrs. Emily Schwarz, sixty-two, mother of Harold, the "impostor prince," sighed and said she hoped Harold wasn't in any serious trouble.

"But if he is," she finished, "he's my son, for all that, and I'll stick by him as a mother should. I'll go to New York if it is necessary, though I don't see such a trip. And I don't know where I'd get the money."

From Joseph Terry, the "terrible secretary" to the vanished prince, facts regarding his life were obtained.

Terry met the prince one day shortly after his discharge from the navy. In admiration of the prince's monkey led to a friendship that resulted in his becoming secretary.

"I returned a few weeks ago from a trip on a battleship, the Illinois," said, "where I was a waiter. They gave me $42, and of this I gave the prince $4 toward the $15 he owed the bill for back rent. He was just out of change, he said, but expected to borrow money from some of his old friends."

Terry gave the following vivid picture of the prince's daily schedule: "At 8 a. m.—Princess gets up and goes to work in Wall street 'broker's' office."

At 9 a. m.—Princess breakfasts in bed, served by his crippled armpit, and saving the czar from an assassination, and silver plate in his hand, needed to heal a wound received in war, prevent his royal highness from getting up earlier.

At 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.—Princess and his hound take strolls on Riverside drive, occasionally resting on a shady bench.

Praises the "Princess." At five o'clock he would meet the princess coming home, and Terry would serve dinner.

The princess is a good girl," Terry said. "She believed everything the prince told her about saving the czar and his 14 wounds, and his being a major general. If she only knew..."

Prince Louis, or Harold Schwarz, had his first taste for a knightly life back in the days when he went to work in a New Britain (Conn.) factory to help his mother.

He took in laundry—make a living, which pay went for spats and canes and gloves, making him the town hero.

When he came to New York he became overseer of the dining room at Metropolitan hospital on Blackwell island. Here he wore a monocle, and in talking to the foreigners from all languages, he made it plain he was a gentleman.

He developed hauteur, as he worked beside scullery maids. He called himself Reginald Van Der Vere.

At the scene was not big enough for triumph, and he came to New York with his wife, who had been divorced on the island.

Not long afterward a prince of polished manners and dashing appearance with a pink hued wolf hound and a monkey, with tales of wild adventures and intimate anecdotes of world's notables, appeared on Broadway and in fashionable clubs.

His lifelong ambition was fulfilled. He had New York society at his feet as a foreign potentate.

Woman Laughs at Death. South Falls, N. Y.—An unidentified woman waded into the Niagara just above the falls, and was seen near the horseshoe falls. She was in the bank a note which said: "I am going to see the falls. If I get out and fall please notify William Orchard Park, N. Y."

Mr. Merchant

Do you realize the importance of getting your advertising copy prepared early?

You know our old friend (procrastination). He's a cousin to the cow's tail.

Why follow, when you can lead?

Supposing all your customers left their shopping in your store until an hour before you were closing up at night, what would happen? You know. It would make great confusion, you couldn't give service and your customers would leave the store dissatisfied.

Well, in a way, that's what you often ask the newspapers to do. You wait until the ninth hour to prepare your copy, and when it reaches the office you expect the compositors to do two hours' work in one.

It can't be done.

The result is that your advertisement is slapped together in great haste, with a chance for errors and without proper display. It can't be otherwise.

Stop that old habit of putting off till the last day, the last hour and the last minute to send your copy to the newspaper office.

Get it out early when you have time to think and prepare it properly. Then send it to the newspaper office two or three days ahead. That will give the newspaper time to prepare your advertisement properly.

You can see the logic of it. It will mean better ads, better service and better results.

That's what you want. That's why you advertise.

Give the newspaper a chance.

Apply the Golden Rule.

THE BONUS BILL

By the time this appears in print, President Harding will have sent a message to Congress vetoing the adjusted compensation bill. It is probable that the veto will be overridden promptly in the House, though the action of the Senate is in doubt. If the veto is sustained in the Senate, adjusted compensation will thus be lost. If the Senate overrides the veto the bill which will become a law is a poor one at best.

If the veto is sustained it will become clear to the advocates of the bonus and to the service men just what havoc politics has played in dealing with this question. And the chief culprits will be found in the House, which superficially will appear to be most favorable to adjusted compensation.

Senator McCumber, one of the sponsors of the bill, declared during debate in the Senate the other day that the reason no provision was made for the raising of revenue to finance the bonus was a tax measure could not be passed in the House. If that is true, and there can be little doubt of it, it is sheer political cowardice. For the people must pay the bonus, no matter how it is juggled, and it is dishonest to make it appear otherwise. The chief objection to the present bill is that it is a dishonest measure and would place upon the Administration financial embarrassments which could have been avoided by making specific provision for the raising of the necessary revenue.

It remains to be seen whether this measure is to become a law. If it does not, the service men will realize immediately the bunco game which has been played upon them. If it does, it will be only a short time until the people realize the costly and hypocritical method which has been used. For in operation it will cost the Government in the long run a great deal more money than the service men will ever receive.—Star-Telegram.

SUNSET ON THE PLAINS

I sat on the side of the hill, And, facing the sky in the west, Beheld the descending and radiant sun. A stream like a thread of pure silver Was winding its way Through a narrow valley Hemmed on each side By craggy walls and grey, rising abruptly

To meet the sky. Blue clouds and heavy Hung low on the western horizon. Suddenly the sun Dropped behind the clouds. They changed to a deep, deep rose.

Bordered by orange, Shading away to the right Into the richest of purple. The stream and the hill Reflected the splendor; The crags were then studded With diamonds and rubies; The silver transmuted to gold!

SPONGES

There are two principal types of sponges. One is a small marine animal with pores in the body-wall, which lives fixed to other objects, or rooted in mud. The other is a person who lives at the expense of another: a human parasite.

The first type is of vastly great importance in the commercial world, its chief value lying in its absorptive power. The network of elastic fibers that remain after the removal of the living matter from the sponge is used for many and varied purposes; from applying cream to "my lady's" face to the making of blotting paper. But one important feature to be noticed is the fact that it never gives out anything of its own self. It has to be compressed and forced to give out any substance which it may have absorbed.

But it is the second type to which I wish to call special attention, the human sponge. This type of person is only too common. Like the marine sponge, the human sponge absorbs without giving out. You see such people everywhere. They are of that listless, me'er-do-well sort that are just willing to let the world drift along while they pursue the even tenor of their way, never seeming to ask themselves the question, "Am I my brother's keeper?" They are lacking in "pep" and enthusiasm. In the class room you will recognize them in those students who have to be constantly "cranked up" by the teacher to get them to show the proper interest in their work and the proper spirit toward it. They are just willing to sit and absorb without entering into the spirit and life of the class. They seem not to realize that by taking part in the discussions of the class and entering into its spirit with an evidence of wide awake enthusiasm they will be not only helping themselves, but helping the class and teacher as well. As mentioned above, the absorptive power of the marine sponge is put to commercial use; but we fail to find the useful function of the human sponge. Don't be a sponge. Be a dynamo!

WOMAN'S BOOK CLUB

The following will be the questions for the Woman's Book Club next Wednesday:

Questions for "Mid-Channel"—Iris: 1. Is the exposition of Iris more economical or less, than that of "The Second Mrs. Tanguary?" "Mid-Channel?" 2. Does Pinero succeed in convincing you of the probability of the conditions in both plays? 3. What is gained in "Mid-Channel" by the conventional and compact exposition? What is lost? 4. Is there a character corresponding to Peter Moltram in "The Second Mrs. Tanguary?" 5. Is the suicide in "Mid-Channel" inevitable? 6. Is there a point in the play where matters could have been satisfactorily arranged? 7. Zoe being as she was and Theodore remaining obdurate, could reconciliation be made plausible? 8. What significance does Pinero attach to Maldonado's dropping the latch key upon the table and Iris dropping it into the vase? Find other dramatic devices in "Iris." 9. What is the great scene in "Iris?" 10. Write one sentence characterizing "Iris."

Questions on Parliamentary rules: 1. What is the first thing to do in an assembly before a member can make a motion? 2. What are the three steps necessary to obtain the floor? 3. What are some of the common errors in making a motion? 4. What is the correct way? 5. What is the form for seconding a motion? 6. Is it necessary to rise to second a motion? Is it necessary to wait to be recognized by the Chair? 7. Should questions be debated without a motion? The above questions pertain only to small assemblies.

The Modern Drama
Suggestions for Study

1. The Central Idea: The Modern Drama as a rule deals with some social, industrial, or religious problem. The whole play should therefore, be studied in the light of the central theme, which should be stated as briefly as possible in writing by each member of the Club. Books of criticism are helpful, but the best results are obtainable only by the mental reaction of the individual upon the concrete details of the play, its central theme, and applications of its truths to life. Informal discussions are stimulating.

2. The First Act: In the first act of a play we get acquainted with: (a) The leading characters and their chief characteristics, (b) The situation, (c) The relation of the characters to each other and to this situation. Given a character with certain traits, face to face with a given situation and prompted by certain happenings, how will it behave? These traits of character, the situation, and this first incident should be learned well. Then following the character throughout the play, does it behave as you expected, being the kind of character it is, and facing a given situation? Does the character develop? In what direction? How does it meet the tests in which the author places it? Do you think the "tests" sufficient? Why does the character fail or succeed in meeting these tests? Upon what particular strength or weakness of character does this success or failure depend? Do you know other characters who would behave differently under the circumstances?

3. Dialogue: Good dialogue should possess the following qualities: (a) It should be natural, (b) It should develop character, (c) It should carry the story forward. Apply these tests to each drama studied.

4. Methods of Character Study: We learn of character by: (a) What the character does, (b) By what the character says, (c) By what other people say of the character or about it, or by what they do in relation to the character. In all these cases, however, motive must be considered. On account of their relations or circumstances, one character might pervert the truth with respect to another character. Is the character simple or complex? Does it develop, or is it practically the same at the end of the play as it was at the beginning?

5. The Well-Made Play: One author may emphasize character, another the story element, and still another style. In the play under discussion, are you interested more in the dialogue, in the story, in the beauty of the poetry, in the ideas expressed, or in character? The well-made play maintains throughout a judicious bal-

HIS DEFINITION

Elder Watkins, just back from the city, was telling his wife of the church he had attended. "Did you know any of their songs?" she asked. "No," replied the elder, "they didn't sing anything but anthems." "Anthems!" exclaimed his wife, "what on earth are anthems?" "Well," answered the elder, "I can't tell you just exactly, but if I'd say to you, 'Betsy, the cows are in the corn,' that wouldn't be an anthem. But if I'd say, 'Betsy—Betsy—Betsy—, the cows—the cows—the Holstein cow, the muley, the Jersey, the spotted cow—all the cows are in—all in—the corn, corn—ah men!' why that would be an anthem."

POWER PLANTS AT MINE MOUTH

Plan for Conversion of Coal Into Electric Current Where It Is Mined.

WOULD MEAN VAST SAVING

Transportation of the Fuel Would Be Avoided, and Fewer Men Would Be Required in One Branch of World's Work.

Washington.—A plan for the conversion of coal into electrical power at the mouths of coal mines and transmitting the currents to the industrial mining centers has been called to attention of the President, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and other officials of the government.

In proportion to its value, both in energy and in heating power, coal is ordinarily bulky. More than one-third of the total railroad freight of the United States is coal. On some roads in coal-producing sections coal amounts to 80 per cent of all the freight hauled. A very large portion of this coal is railway fuel—that is, used to fire the engines which haul trains.

Louis Brandeis, now an associate justice of the Supreme court of the United States, in his brief in the Five Cent case before the interstate commerce commission, estimated that on all items of cost to the railroads buying and hauling their own coal added, the total would be $250,000,000. Since that estimate was made, prices and costs have increased and the railroad coal bill has amounted to $700,000,000.

To transport coal to meet the American demand, 18,000,000 cars are employed annually and of these 2,000,000 cars are employed in hauling coal to other traffic. These figures have been filed with the interstate commerce commission.

The commission has found, in one of its investigations into the coal traffic, that approximately 97 per cent of the coal cars return to the mines empty. These figures give an impression of the extent to which the transportation system is burdened with the movement of this bulky material and show that much more railroad equipment would be available for general freight service if the power which springs from coal could be handled in another manner.

Power Plants at Mines.
The general outline of the new plan would provide for the erection at the mouths of coal mines of power plants, coal would be brought up just enough to be put into the engines and maintain a steady head team to keep the dynamo turning.

One of the underlying reasons for discontent among coal miners, and before one of the main causes of coal strike is the intermittency in industry. The big demand for coal comes in the winter time; in the summer months it falls off. Coal is sold as the market calls for it. Before, when the demand is light, little mining is done. The miners are thrown out of employment, the result is that coal miners work from 165 to 210 days a year. Their wages are regarded as low, their work is not steady and before their earnings for the year are not large.

In the opinion of experts that the coal industry is overmanned. There are some 700,000 men engaged in it. Under the power plan, the intermittent work of coal miners could be eliminated. The coal would be mined continuously, running steadily, not an ever-changing open-market demand.

Fewer Men Would Be Needed.
The requirements of the power plan could be reckoned in advance. A fair amount of accuracy and regularity could be kept coming about all the year round. The men would be required to take care of this production and while the work would be gradual and steady, it would result in a four-fold gain, it is claimed. Fewer men would be doing one branch of the world's work. The remainder would become engaged in other productive labor.

operate by electricity. Benefits found are reduction in fuel cost, in maintenance cost, elimination of cooling engines, increased tonnage per train, increased speed on grades, increased reliability, reduced train crews, increased safety, reduced damage and wear on equipment, reduced depreciation on tracks and improved atmospheric conditions. Noise also is eliminated. The child of the future may not identify a railroad train as a "choo-choo."

Electric Operation Cheaper.
All operating costs considered, the experts figure that there is a net saving of 25 per cent in electric operation of railroad trains as compared with steam. An analysis made by the Norfolk & Western railroad revealed that the fuel cost of running an electric locomotive 100 miles was $44.95, compared with a cost of $72.42 for a steam locomotive.

It is estimated that power can be transmitted by cable for a distance of 200 miles before the leakage makes the transmission wasteful. In many sections of the country no railroad is more than 200 miles distant from a coal mine. But in the non-coal-producing regions, the mine-mouth electrical plants would be supplemented, under the plan, by hydro-electric power plants.

The nation is rich in water power, by far the greater part of which is undeveloped. The general scheme of railroad and industrial electrification would include greater power development from the streams. Between these hydro-electric plants and the coal-consuming power plants the country could be covered with a network of power cables which would serve every purpose.

Some coal movement would continue, such as that for domestic heating, but the great bulk of the coal transported to run railroads and factories would not leave the mines. Its energy would be shipped by wire.

Such a stupendous development could not be realized in a day. It would be the work of many years, but with the forces of the government, supplemented by the support of the great industrial and railroad corporations, it might be a feasible undertaking.

QUEER THING IN LONDON ZOO

One of the most extraordinary creatures ever seen in the London zoo has just arrived there in the form of an Albino monkey, sent from Tanganyika. Albinos are white specimens of a creature not usually white, and this is the first time on record that an albino monkey has ever been at the zoo. The exact species of the monkey is not definitely known.

POOR ADDRESSES TO BLAME

Investigation Shows They Are the Chief Cause of Failure of Mail to Arrive.

Washington.—Recent investigations made at the request of the Department of Commerce regarding the failure of foreign mail to reach its destination resulted in the disclosure that carelessness in proper addressing of matter is responsible.

The Post Office department has been conducting a survey of conditions at the port of New York, where an average of 30,000 pieces of mail daily is received and placed upon ships for foreign-bound points, which has resulted in the discovery that illegible names and poorly printed addresses cause many letters and packages to go astray. A report of the situation has been made to the Department of Commerce.

Most of the blame is laid upon the larger manufacturers of the United States, who are the major offenders in failing to properly address their foreign mail. The report, while commending the use of addressing machines, urges that careful attention be given to their operation, particularly in the case of letters or packages to be sent overseas.

CHAINS SON IN HOME 4 DAYS

Father Admits He "Kept Boy Out of Trouble."—Rescued by Police.

New York.—Andrew Karo, nine-year-old son of John Karo, was rescued by the police after his father had kept him in chains for four days.

According to the boy and his sisters, Andrew was forced to keep chains on night and day. When police found him he lay in a corner with a chain a yard long wrapped around his ankles and the feet secured with a padlock. Karo admitted that he chained and padlocked his son, but he said that at night the boy was released. The father said he chained the boy to "keep him out of trouble."

BLACK-FREEMAN WEDDING

Thursday morning, September 14th, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Black, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Thelma, to Mr. Clyde Freeman of White Deer.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and autumn flowers; an arch of ferns had been arranged in the living room, under which the ceremony was performed.

Just before seven o'clock, Mrs. E. W. Reid sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," then the strains of the Mendelssohn Wedding March, played by Mrs. S. L. Ingham and Herschel Coffee filled the rooms and the bride entered accompanied by her sister, Miss Pearl Black as bridesmaid; the groom was attended by Mr. Lee of White Deer; Rev. Mr. B. F. Fronabarger awaited the wedding party at the arch of ferns and spoke the words of the simple ring ceremony which united these young people.

The bride wore a beautiful suit of midnight blue, with accessories to harmonize, and a corsage of bride's roses and ferns. Miss Pearl Black wore a corsage of red roses and ferns.

After the ceremony the bride and groom received the good wishes of their many friends and the wedding cake was cut amid much merriment; while about thirty guests were being served a delicious wedding breakfast the newly-weds slipped away to a destination unknown to most of the guests.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding were Miss Winnie Mae Word and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hackler of Amarillo, George Bailey and Miss Osborn of White Deer.

Mrs. Freeman has lived in Canyon all of her life and will be missed by many friends, both among the younger set and the older people. Mr. Freeman has lived in White Deer only a short time, but has made for himself an enviable place among the business men of that thriving little town.

Buffalo Wallow Fight Site Viewed by Turner and Mrs. Olive Dixon

Canadian, Sept. 15.—On Wednesday morning Mrs. Olive Dixon of Miami, widow of the late Colonel Billy Dixon, who was a scout in the Buffalo Wallow Fight in Hemphill County and also in the Adobe Walls fight in Hutchinson County in the '70's, and Judge T. F. Turner of Amarillo, president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society went out to the site of the Buffalo Wallow fight accompanied by Albert King of Canadian, Mrs. Dixon's brother. They visited the site which has been marked by a mound erected by Chas. Teas. The site was located by virtue of the finding of cartridge shells, Indian arrows and brass buttons from army coats. They report that the visit was a very interesting one in many ways. Amos Chapman, who lives in Seiling, Okla., and Billy Dixon were the two scouts that were surrounded with the soldiers from Ft. Elliott. After the battle between the Indians and the early settlers in Hutchinson county, the Federal Government established Fort Elliott as a protection for the border settlers and General Nelson A Miles was placed in command.

Plans are incomplete, but it is the intention of the people of Canadian, Miami, Pampa and of several other sections to erect a monument on the site of the Buffalo Wallow fight.

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined.

An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Note: Write for valuable free illustrated book, "Motherhood and the Baby," containing important authoritative information which every expectant mother should have, and all about "Mother's Friend" to Bradfield Regulator Company, 24-25, Atlanta, Ga. "Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists everywhere.

The use of electricity is increasing everywhere, according to the United States Geographical Survey report for May. Forty-two and eight-tenths per cent of all power generated was by water as compared with 35.2 per cent in January, 1922. The consumption increase for the month was 2.1 per cent.

I. B. Good is a Mennonite preacher in Pennsylvania. His precepts do not belie his name, for that sect believes in nonresistance.

One of the most famous trees in the United States, Richard Oak, near Rising Sun, Maryland, recently had a tablet placed upon it giving the part it has played in American history. It is estimated that the tree is 600 years old. It is 70 feet high and spreads its branches over a circle of 105 feet in diameter.

The southern pine forests since 1900 have supplied more than 50 per cent of the soft wood used in America, also nearly all of the turpentine and resin. Only one-fifth of the original yellow pine forests remain but if reforestation is begun at once on the proper scale the South can supply America for all time.

The largest turtle ever imported to London from India was killed recently for soup. Its weight was 450 pounds.

H. H. Morrison to Mrs. Mary Ringland, lot 8, block 17, Canyon City. Consideration $110.

James B. Reeves et al to N. J. Reeves, quit claim deed to estate of Mrs. M. C. Reeves.

David Thomas to C. M. Dowlen, lot 1, block 2, Normal addition to Canyon. Consideration $600.

The sculptured head of the Egyptian king, Amenemmes III, who lived about 3,000 B. C., was sold at Sotheby's in London, for not less than 10,000 pounds. The sculptor is unknown but the work is beautiful, a little bust barely more than six inches high, carved out of one of the hardest of stones, obsidian, a masterpiece that has not been surpassed by any sculptor of any country or age, according to experts.

Norway has reduced taxes of foreigners owning property in that country from one to one-half per cent of the value of the property.

Members of the British Expedition to Mount Everest managed to reach a record height of 27,300 feet, more than half a mile higher than man ever scaled mountain heights before.

BETTER NOT TRY

A peasant insured his house against fire. When he got the policy he asked the clerk:

"What should I get if my house were burned down tomorrow?"

"Three or four years' imprisonment," was the answer.—Tit-Bits.

According to insurance actuaries people are living longer now. An Irish man writes to say that it isn't that they are really living longer, but they take longer to do it.

"Pa, what's the longest period of time?"

"From one pay day to the next."

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in price quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 34,525 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in everyday driving.

The Master Driver and Tire Builder has given the public a new standard of tire wear and tire cost—a true economy that every car owner should know about.

Your Oldfield dealer has these facts—talk to him.

Interesting Story of a Young American's Rapid Transit Up the Ladder of Fortune.

BY BUSINESS BRAINS

Stevenson Dispels Gloomy Convictions Sustained by Many That Opportunities for Success Are Not What They Used to Be.

New York.—Here is the story of a young American's rapid transit up the ladder of fortune which should prove an interesting reading generally, but especially to American boys and youths. And especially to such of these who are unable to nurse the gloomy conviction that opportunities for success are not what they once were in their native land, who give credence to the commonplace expression of opinion that Rockefeller, Carnegie and their like long ago "grabbed" the story is that of Harry Stevenson, an Ohio youngster—for he is still a youngster. He began his business when he was ten years old. His establishment was at the corner of Fifth and Sycamore streets, Cincinnati, and consisted of a pair of legs (bare in summer) an arrangement of newspapers, a clear voice, dourness and dynamic energy.

He is now thirty. He is president of a New York corporation with an annual credit rating of $125,000, the selling director of two additional companies that with other changes are soon to be merged in a super organization, of which the "newsie" will be the dominating mind.

When he was ten years old his lodgings were frequently found on a pile of newspapers in the comfortable room of a Cincinnati newspaper's room. His home is now a hand-villa at Douglaston, L. I.

...the best of the story of the "newsie's" advance to riches is along an open road of American opportunity, to be easily, clearly, step by step, with no mystery about it. Just as there is no mystery or magic in it, it is no "story" either. It is simply an interesting, admirable story of a little boy toiling to the scratch in the life of a newsie, energetically and thoughtfully—and winning handsomely.

His parents were both living but very poor and Harry took a job as a school assistant in an old boy newspaper. There was in Cincinnati an organization of the newsies who held by right of might the desirable street corners for the sale of newspapers—big boys in late teens. But Harry discovered that a very little boy just entering "teens" could, for the payment of a dollar and a monthly rental of five cents from these bigger boys a dealer's corner. He got $2 a week and a position on increased sales of his newspapers from his big boy employer.

...to acquire the exclusive right of newspapers from the corner of Third and Syracuse streets. Soon afterward, actually he placed second teeth were in place, and what is perhaps his most valuable gift—that for organization development. Six months later he was paying rent for two other boys and the salaries of two negro boys about his same age to sell for him from his additional $20 a week.

At fifteen he was the lessee of a corner. He had ceased hawkers himself—merely supervised operations of his employees while in full days' attendance at school himself. His "interests" in his forty dollars a week and he became the chief breadwinner in his family.

tions for a "newsie's" fortune, for when Stevenson stopped he had, besides having supported himself in comfort and sending money to his family, a bank balance of exactly $10,000.

Next he evolved a scheme all his own. It was called the American Circulators' corporation. Its business was to buy from dealers the unsold copies of magazines of the month. He sent out agents securing subscriptions for month-old magazines at about half the rate that would have to be paid for the magazines when fresh from the press. The scheme paid, but only moderately, but by this time he was sufficiently matured to tackle the real estate game with some success, and between these two interests managed to put another $10,000 to his bank account in the next five years.

Out of the study of house building that came about in his real estate operations he grew particularly interested in roofing in all its different methods, processes and materials used. This sent him to a Cleveland roofing concern whose product he had decided was the best of the middle Western concerns. He had, moreover, in securing information regarding the company, found that they had done little or nothing to push their product in the East.

He picked up a telephone classified directory, consulted the list of roofing companies and picked out the company of which Morris H. Elvidge is president. Half an hour later he was in conversation with President Elvidge in the latter's office. He knew the concern to be first class and highly prosperous and went there with the design of offering his $20,000 to be invested in the company and with it a place for himself on the selling staff.

President of Company. After ten minutes, Elvidge turned the tide of questions as to his company and instead began some sharp questioning himself as to young Mr. Stevenson and soon had all the facts regarding the "newsie" and his subsequent career. The end of twenty minutes' talk was astonishing to Stevenson—agreeably astonishing.

"Keep your $20,000 in the bank," said Elvidge, "but you are in business—this business—right now." "What territory will you give me?" "Territory?" "As salesman?" "The whole country." "What?" "I am starting you," said Elvidge, "from this minute as president of a subsidiary company of ours. You shall have complete charge. I particularly want you to organize the selling staff. Hire your men and try to tell them how you do it yourself."

This conversation took place on May 18, 1918. On March 1, 1922, Harry Stevenson bought the controlling interest of the company from President Elvidge for $75,000. This money represented bonuses which had come to him as president for increased showing in the business of the concern. Meanwhile Stevenson organized two other companies, taking in the outlying interests to which the asbestos products could be swung.

And that's this particular "newsie's" story; not a romantic tale of a treasure hunt, to be sure, but a strikingly practical one.—Charles Somerville in the New York World.

CUTS THIRD SET OF TEETH

Ohio Civil War Veteran, Aged 92, Casts Off False Ones for Real Things.

Elyria, O.—John Brinker, a ninety-two-year-old Civil war veteran of Elyria, was doctoring himself for the mumps when his jaws began to swell. The swelling was accompanied by jumping, intermittent pains, and finally he solicited the help of his daughter, Mrs. Ida Blaine. She discovered that the aged veteran was cutting his third set of teeth.

Brinker has had false teeth for forty years. "They were giving me good service until four weeks ago," the veteran said. "Then my gums became sore, and the teeth just seemed to skid around, so I took them out and doctored myself for the mumps, but the more I doctored, the more my gums swelled." Brinker says when his new teeth have all arrived, he is going to have a celebration.

All but Siam Represented.

Berlin.—Berlin has again resumed her full pre-war quota of diplomats, 58 states having established diplomatic headquarters here. There are 91 consular and ambassadorial establishments maintained by the 58 states. Siam is the only country which has no representation officially as yet. There are only 130 Germans employed in the foreign diplomatic offices and these only as portiers, chauffeurs and other small positions.

Forged to Buy Bible, Now Reads It in Jail

Mary Steinbohl, twenty-six years old, a member of the Washington State National Guard, lost his grip on his conscience when he entered a curio dealer's shop in Tacoma, Wash., and tendered a check for a Bible, a rosary, and some change. Because of the unusual request, the dealer thought the check was good and the transfer was made. The check came back marked "no funds." Steinbohl was arrested, and now reads his Bible and his hands in jail.

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need do to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.
