SECRETARY OF EXTENSION BOARD VISITED CHURCH

NEW METHODIST CHURCH IS EXPECTED BEFORE A YEAR.

Dr. Ellis of the Church Extension Society Needs and Tells Local Church What Must Be Done.

Dr. Ellis, secretary of the Church Extension of the Methodist church, was in the city Monday visiting the local Methodist church and the Normal. Dr. Ellis' board has in charge a fund of about one and one-half million dollars, the remainder of the war fund of the church, which has been turned to the Church Extension board for the purpose of building Methodist churches in educational centers, primarily in those towns with state institutions.

Dr. Ellis looked over the property of the local church, at the buildings of the other churches in Canyon and then spent several hours at the Normal, investigating the school. Dr. Ellis, Presiding Elder Hardy, Rev. M. M. Beavers and eight men from the local Methodist church were entertained by President Hill at Cousins Hall Monday noon.

While his visit was only in a way advisory, he gave a number of useful suggestions for the local church, but he explained that any remark he might make was not to be considered as a promise from his board.

He stated that Canyon certainly was in need of church buildings and he believed it would be the pleasure of his board to assist the local church.

He was highly impressed with the Normal and the work that it was doing and stated that the board felt very kindly toward the normal schools as it was here the church could touch the teachers.

He is visiting every town which is asking aid in church building, and will recommend to the board aid in proportion to the needs of the individual cases. He stated that he could not imagine a greater need than that in Canyon.

Dr. Ellis stated that the board had come to some definite conclusions that it intended to follow out in the distribution of this money, and gave them as follows:

No appropriation would be made unless the local church was doing all in its power to take care of the local situation. It was a fifty-fifty proposition with the Board of Church Extension and the local church.

The board would have to approve the plans for the new church. The board has the best church architect in the country and he will have to approve the plans.

The churches are not to be built for the primary use of the citizens of the town, but to help the citizens take care of the students in the schools. To that end the church must be located in the city with a view of serving the students since a majority of the town people usually drove to the church in their cars.

Dr. Ellis instructed as to how the application blank for this money should be made out, but warned that it would only be paid toward the church building as the local congregation put money into a new building.

GENERAL ELECTION WILL BE HELD NEXT TUESDAY IN TEXAS—MAYFIELD NOT LIKELY TO BE PRINTED ON TICKET

Next Tuesday is the day for the General Election in Texas and from all indications there will be the largest vote cast in the history of the state.

General Elections in Texas are usually rather quiet affairs, but it promises to be different this year.

Mayfield, candidate for the United States Senate, will likely not have his name printed on the election tickets. A large number of the counties have already printed the election tickets, and many of them without Mayfield's name.

The injunction proceedings are still in the courts and the Secretary of State is held under contempt of court in the Civil Appeals Court at Dallas for certifying the name of Mayfield on last Saturday.

Under the present injunction proceedings, the election boards of the counties composed of the county judge, county clerk and sheriff, are restrained from placing Mayfield's name on the tickets, and the injunction also includes the printer who may handle the printing.

Randall county's ballots are ready for the press, and will be printed Friday in order to give time for distribution. If Mayfield's name is not certified by that time, it will have to be left off the tickets of this county.

Ballot Valid If Name is Written in Any Column is Ruling

The name of a candidate not printed on the official ballot may be written in the blank column provided for that purpose, but in case that should not be done, and the name is written elsewhere on the ballot, the vote should not be thrown out on that account, according to a letter received by Colonel Henry D. Lindsley, campaign manager for George Peddy, from L. C. Sutton, Assistant Attorney General of Texas.

"The questions submitted by you in your letter of the 26th instant are answered by stating that the provisions of Article 2969, Revised Civil Statutes, are directory as regards the position on the ballot of writing the name of any person for whom the voter desires to vote. The rule stated in Moore vs. Platt, 206 S. W. 958, is the correct rule. This means that if a voter writes a person's name for whom he desires to vote in any column on the ballot and scratches the regular party nominee his vote should be counted for the person whose name he writes on the ballot, and the fact that he doesn't write the name in the blank space provided for that purpose would be immaterial and would not cause the ballot not to be counted. The intention of the voter governs in this respect if ascertainable from the ballot. Voters should, of course, write the name of any person they desire to vote for in the blank column provided for that purpose, but if they fail to do so and write it elsewhere on the ballot the vote should not be thrown out on that account."

Interest in Cotton Is on Increase Among Farmers of County

Interest in growing cotton in Randall county is decidedly on the incline and prospects are that a large acreage will be planted next spring.

J. A. Cheatham has a small patch north of town this year which will go better than a fourth bale to the acre. Mr. Cheatham states that the cotton was planted on June 9th, and did not receive a drop of rain until it was matured. He had a bunch of school boys out week ago Monday to pick the cotton, and they enjoyed the fun, besides making a little spending money.

The trouble with cotton raising in this section is the difficulty of gin facilities. The closest gin is at Tulia and it was too expensive this year to haul that far.

A local man stated Saturday that he would finance a gin in Canyon if there was sufficient acreage in the Canyon trade territory next year.

J. A. Cheatham states that he will put in 50 to 100 acres next year if there is a gin in Canyon. A large number of men have stated a willingness to plant cotton next year if a gin is assured for Canyon.

The thing to do now is for the farmers interested in cotton to get together and pledge to plant so many acres of cotton in Randall county next year in order to make possible a gin in Canyon.

There were quite a number of farmers at the cotton meeting in Amarillo Saturday, but it is likely that the acreage pledged was not sufficient to justify a gin. The campaign is being pushed in the Amarillo territory.

Annual Meeting Farm Bureau Called for Saturday by A. B. Haynes

A. B. Haynes, president of the Randall County Farm Bureau, has called the annual meeting of the Bureau for Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the court house.

Miss Ina Carson and L. E. Cearley of this city were united in marriage last Friday evening at Amarillo. Both of the young people are well known in Canyon. They had kept their intentions a secret and the announcement of the marriage came as a surprise to their many friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Carson of this city and has been a very sufficient employee of the First National Bank for the past few years. The groom came to Canyon from Plainview after his discharge from the army, and bought the grain business from W. H. Hicks, the firm now bearing the name L. E. Cearley & Company.

The many friends of the bridal couple are extending most hearty congratulations and best wishes.

Loving Cup Offered to Judging Teams to Compete in Spring

Frank R. Phillips, head of the Agricultural Department of the Normal states that a loving cup will be offered for the stock judging contest of the boys of the Vocational Agriculture Classes, which will compete in Canyon the last week in February.

C. O. Keiser is offering this cup in the interest of better stock in the Panhandle-Plains country.

SQUARE PAVING COMPLETE.

The paving crew worked until 9:30 last night in order to open up the north side of the square for traffic. The last brick was laid on the square at 5:30. The contractors lack about a barrel of having enough asphalt to cover a three foot strip along a portion of the north side, and this will be put on in the next day of two.

A full crew will work now on the curbing along both sides of Houston street, and all curbing will probably be put in to the depot before brick is laid on the new job.

Shipments on brick have been promised to commence near the end of this month.

COWBOYS WIN IN FAST GAME WITH BUFFALO TEAM

BEST GAME OF SEASON RESULTS IN 35 TO 9 SCORE.

Breaks of Game Go to Simmons and Result in Larger Score Than Was Anticipated.

Simmons won the football game Saturday by a score of 35 to 9, but the Cowboys had to fight every inch of the way. Had not the breaks of the game been largely in their favor the Buffaloes would have had at least one more touchdown in their favor, and the visitors would have gone home with a much smaller margin of victory. Simmons came expecting nothing more than a practice game. The Cowboys had to put everything they had into the game, and fight every inch in order to win.

The Simmons line was exceptionally heavy, outweighing our men at least fifteen pounds. The back field was heavier. The backs relied upon the heavy forwards to open a hole whenever a fine plunge was called, but they were often stopped without gain by the determined Buffalo players.

As a whole the Buffaloes put up the best game of the season. A few holes at critical times cost them dearly, but it was a fighting crew every minute.

The visitors won largely by short passes and off end smashes. Line smashes, which at first were ground gainers, were finally stopped by the Buffaloes.

The visitors annexed a touchdown in the first ten minutes of play by a brilliant series of smashes. On the next kickoff, the Cowboys got an on-side kick and carried the ball to the 20-yard line. The ball was carried to the 5 yard line where the Buffaloes held, and took the ball, kicking to safety. Simmons gained 8 yards and kicked. Stewart gained 12 yards on end, a punt was recovered, and another kick placed the ball on the visitors 45 yard line when the quarter ended.

The ball was marched across the field by Simmons and another touchdown made. The Buffaloes received, carried the ball 32 yards, and kicked to the 25 yards line; Simmons penalized 15 yards, and punted. Burson went 26 yards. The ball was on the visitors' 4 yard line when a fumble was recovered by Simmons and raced to the Buffaloes' 48 yard line. Simmons forced to kick, punts exchanged twice, with everything in favor of the Buffaloes. The ball was on the 34 yard line when Stewart dropped over a pretty place kick, and the rooters went wild.

The Buffaloes had the better of the argument until time was called with the score standing 14 to 3 in favor of the visitors.

The third period opened by the Normal receiving, with an immediate return kick. Simmons carried the ball to the ten yard line when a forward pass was intercepted behind the line, and punted out. Simmons returned 20 yards but held for downs on the 20 yard line and kicked. Simmons marked down for another touchdown. The Normal received and fumbled the second play, making another touchdown for the visitors. The Buffaloes received. Punts were exchanged with the visitors working toward the goal and finally making their last touchdown.

The Buffaloes went into the last quarter fully determined to score, and worked the ball down to the 22 yard line where a punt was blocked and Rayzor made a touchdown, making the score 35 to 9. The remainder of the game was hard fought, with the odds in favor of the Buffaloes, but the end was too soon for another touchdown.

Wm. Schmitz

We have heard on the streets of Canyon that the defeat of the regular Democratic candidate in Texas this year by the election of a real Democrat who happens to be endorsed by the republicans would mean a death blow to Democracy in the whole country. Pure rot. If this should be the case, what would happen to the Democratic party in the presidential election if Klansmen Mayfield is elected from Texas? What would happen to the million of Catholic Irish of the eastern cities who have always voted the Democratic ticket? The Democratic party can never elect a president without their votes. If these eastern Catholic voters pay attention to what we do in Texas, they would certainly bolt the party in case Texas elects a Klansman. As a matter of fact those fellows in the east pay as little attention to what we do in Texas as we do to the results of the elections in the east. Politics are local affairs. Texas has the job of ridding itself of the influence of the Klan in politics. If we don't do the job, we certainly will not be respected by the Catholic democrats of the east. If we turn down the Klan candidates, we will strengthen the democratic lines in the east. If the argument of our friends is to be taken.

The evidence shows that Earle B.
Mayfield spent $40,000 in his campaign for the United States Senate. The law states that no candidate shall spend more than $10,000.00. Earle did not attempt to deny any of this huge expenditure, excepting $200 wherein he unsuccessfully attempted to bulldoze an employee of his Commission into swearing a lie. That makes no difference however. If Mayfield's name gets on the ticket of a large per cent of the counties, he will probably be elected next Tuesday in spite of all of the evidence piled up against him. A large per cent of the democratic voters who put party before principle, prejudice before reason, injustice before justice, will swallow Earle and all that he and his kind stand for rather than vote for a real Democrat who has always fought for prohibition, woman suffrage and his country when his country needed him.

The names of the leading Democrats of Texas failed to get into print at the so-called Democratic rally at Dal-last Saturday. Governor Neff did not appear, although invited. The Governor did not like the looks of the bunch. Senator Sheppard was conveniently ill and could not come. Cullen Thomas has been a speaker at all state Democratic rallies for the past number of years, but we failed to see his name as attending this meeting of the Klan. Governor Neff is a candidate for re-election and will be a candidate for United States Senator against Morris Sheppard two years hence. The leading Democrats of Texas realized that the Klan is going to be kicked out bodily from Texas politics before another two years roll around and they are not willing to attend meetings in which the Klan dominates.

Voting the Democratic ticket straight regardless of the nominee is not a sign of intelligence. The man who puts party before principle, who makes his party infallible is in the same class with those who used to believe that the King could do no wrong. We have no fight to make with the voter who firmly believes that his candidate is the better man of the two in the race. We reserve the right to do our own think and reasoning regarding candidates, and grant the same privilege to all of our fellow citizens.

Election money comes easy with the Ku Klux Klan. It is reported that a wash tub full was procured in a certain town just before the election.
The Klan members were lined up and told to dig deep. They dug.

IT'S TOASTED
one extra process which gives a delicious flavor

The people of Texas will sigh relief when next Tuesday night rolls around and election will be over. The two primaries and the general election have been based almost solely upon prejudices. The ability of the several candidates have not in the least been taken into consideration, taking the political field as a whole from constable up to United States Senator Lies have supplemented prejudices.
The Peddy followers are now called the side partners of Jim Ferguson, and very few people appreciate having this thrust at them. On the other hand Mayfield has affiliated himself with the bootleggers of the Klan and has as his political advisers Bill McLean and Hanger of Ft. Worth, the two most uncompromising anties the state has ever known. The followers of Mayfield maintain that McLean and Hanger are now reformed and are good pros, just as Mayfield became a good pro after prohibition was in effect.
Oh well, it will be over next Tuesday.
It's been a lot of fun and made the people of Texas forget the drouth and financial conditions that have confronted us this year. The winner next Tuesday is not going to suit those of the opposing force.

It is not likely that the name of Mayfield will be printed on the tickets of Randall county. In this case, the voter wishing to make a choice for the United States senator are at liberty to write the name of Mayfield, George Peddy, or another person, in any of the FOUR columns printed on the ticket under the name of United States Senator, and the vote must be counted.
Mayfield's name may be written under the Democratic head, the Republican head, the Independent head or the last column which has no heading.
Peddy's name may be written under the Democratic head, or any of the other three headings. The voter should keep this in mind while voting next Tuesday. Of course, should the name of Mayfield appear on the ballots, and the voter wish to write the name of George Peddy on the ticket, he must first draw a black line through the name of Mayfield before writing Peddy's name in any of the four columns.

There are a lot of good Democrats who broke their pledge and voted for President Harding two years ago.
They now claim it is pure heresy to vote for George Peddy on Nov. 7.

Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, speaking at a dinner in New York recently, stated,
"America coming into the war as she did when she did, played a great role, a great part in ending the war. The man or woman who says otherwise is or just a fool."

As a result of the serious depreciation of the mark in Germany, barter

CAN'T DO THE WORK

It's too much to try to work every day against a constant, dull backache, or sudden darting pain in the small of the back. Be rid of it: Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Your "neighbor recommends them. Ask your neighbor.

Mrs. Clouch, Canyon, says: "Some time ago my back and kidneys began to cause me a lot of misery. There was just a dull, ache through the small of my back and it was also so sore and lame I could hardly bend over to do my work. When I did manage to stoop over, such a sharp stinging pain would catch me, making it hard for me to straighten up. I was all worn out and could scarcely get around at times. I became dizzy and had headaches and my kidneys didn't act right at all. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills so highly advertised that I bought some and three boxes cured me entirely."

LECTURE ON CHINA

Rev. Peter Shih (She) of the Southern Methodist Church will be in Canyon, Sunday, the guest of the Epworth League. He is in America studying for his Ph. D. degree, preparatory to becoming the President of Soochow University, China. His specific business in Texas is lecturing in the interest of the Brazilian Mission work.

The college students of Texas are supporting the Methodist work in Passo Fundo, Brazil, where at present five workers are supported entirely by the Methodist students of Texas.

A native Chinese, lecturing to Texas Methodists on the subject of Missions in Latin America will be well worth hearing. All students of the college, whatever, their denomination, are cordially invited to hear him preach at the Methodist church, Sunday, Nov. 5th.

The bill against commercial bribery, which passed the House of Representatives without dissent, would impose a heavy fine on both parties to the offense, but would not exact the fine from the first party to the bribe who confesses. Since no grafter can ever be sure that the other party to the deal will keep quiet, the risk in offering secret commissions should tend powerfully to stop the practice.

THE HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL

Canyon, Tex., Nov. 2, 1922.
Mr. Business Man,
Canyon, Texas.

Dear Sir:
The student body of Canyon High School has decided to put out an Annual if it is possible. We are relying on the business men of Canyon to make it possible, thus:

You know the value of advertising from your standpoint and we know its value from ours. To us it means the realization of one of the grandest dreams of a student's career. To the students of Canyon's High School an Annual means the greatest treasure of their school life—the chain that will link their beloved school days to the future.

To you it means the greatest, most lasting and cheapest advertising you can possibly get. An Annual will be kept and treasured as long as its pages hold together. Your advertising will be just as valuable ten years from now as it will be the day the Annual is distributed to the pupils.

You already have the good will of the public. Get their patronage by patronizing the greatest project the school body of our school ever attempted.

See us at the Advertising booth on the 11th of November or call on us earlier if possible. We will explain our attractive proposition fully.

Yours very truly,

EDWARD GERALD,

Business Manager, C. H. S. Annual.

A Plea to the People of Canyon

Despondency, the largest factor that causes the success of the great destroyer—Fear—which is nevertheless a very foolish bugbear, grips at the heart of the staff of Canyon High Schools Annual that is to be, when their ears catch the echoes of the feeling the people of Canyon have toward the project that a great number of the most influential students of Canyon's High school are determined shall go over.

Hard Times! Tightness and scarcity of money! No reason for such a thing as an Annual! These things strike the ears of the staff with a cruel smart.

Listen people! Hard Times may come and hard times may go—but the City of Canyon must go on forever. Hard Times, that ancient graybeard; the jinx of the world from its beginning, causing tight money, complaints and other unpleasant things; driving all the thrift and all the industry and progressiveness from the country into its lair where it must remain for years and possibly never wholly emerge. Do you want to drive all the newly awakened progressiveness and industry from the city? To coop yourselves inside and draw up your coat collar and draw down the corners of your mouth and bemoan the cruel fate that leaves you thus? To such things we say, Pish!

Hard Times is never harder than when the town pessimists throw out their gas cloud in such volumes that its vapor prevades everyone's soul, expelling the spirit that will soon grow into a new city, and lets in all the cruel, cold and heartless views and thoughts of cynical pessimism which gives Hard Times his bitter hold. Adopt the maxim of the doughboy, "Grit and bear it!" Keep the growth in your city still growing. Don't let it die! For dying it will be threefold harder to revive! Keep them alive and when the sun of prosperity again peeps over the horizon, its first feeble rays will put life and vitality into the town, its people and their industries.

The days you spent, the money you spent and the effort you have expended fostering the dying spirit of progressiveness will be paid back tenfold if you learn to take advantage of prosperity and also take advantage of old man Hard Times. Make his task a difficult one, and soon you will learn that three fourths of the effect that he has on a town is through his greatest and most effective servant the bugbear, Fear.

The Canyon High School Annual, everyone will agree, is a distinctive mark of progress. (If you don't think so hunt up a member of the staff and be convinced). It means an Annual now or never. A project of this kind—like prosperity—once defeated is extremely difficult to revive. It must not die! It is far too great a dream, too worthy an aspiration, to be allowed to expire from neglect. The Annual is worth two dollars now. Twenty years from now its weight in gold would not make up its purchase price to a graduate of Canyon's High School. An Annual will put the kick into the progressive spirit of our school—will add the necessary push to put it in the ranks of Class A schools and on a paved road to the attainment of the ideals of Canyon people, the supreme school system of Texas. Why not?

Come to see us in town the 11th of November. Demonstrate your loyalty to your school and your interest in it by patronizing our festival to the fullest extent. It means an annual to us—and a long hard punch that will aid the inevitable knockout for Mr. Hard Times.

A real treat is in store for the people of Canyon on the 11th of November. Canyon High School will pull off a grand high school festival for the benefit of the Canyon High School Annual.

The program for the day will include: popularity and beauty contests, the winners to have a picture in our Annual in the "School Favorites" section. Fortunes will be told by a palmist and card reader who knows her business. Numerous guessing contests will add snap and excitement to the adventurous and fun galore will be on hand the entire day.

The Annual vendors will be there and you will have an opportunity to buy a copy of the Annual. Only a limited number of copies will be available and it is advisable that everyone who feels a keen interest in the school and wants to see this project succeed buy their Annual on this day. An Annual tag on your coat lapel, meaning that you have bought an Annual also means that you are a loyal citizen of Canyon who wishes to see Canyon's High School grow and enlarge. It means that you have co-operated with the School in putting out one of the grandest things the school will ever attempt. You may rest doubly assured that the students of your school will be more than grateful.

Bring your lunch or buy it from our vendors and join in the fun. Help us put over our Annual and be assured that old Hard Times will soon pack his effects and leave for a more favorable climate.

Come on, be a sport, and help us out. Boost until you are out of breath and then set down and rest and boost some more.

The Hoactin of British Guiana is one of the most remarkable birds in the world. Almost as soon as it is hatched the young hoactin crawls out of the nest by using its wings as forefeet. A CURE FOR FAULTFINDING

It is so easy to find fault, so easy to stand by and criticize what others do, to imagine what might have been accomplished and to set up a fatal standard for what has been accomplished! To slip into the habit of thinking such things is dangerously easy, and when we think them it is difficult to refrain from saying them. Perhaps the best cure is to say little or nothing; but for the most part humanity is not contrived that way.

A help to preserving a better attitude in the matter is to consider not so much what people have actually done as what they tried to do. Once understand what they were aiming at and you will understand something of their difficulties, and perhaps in the end you will be astonished, not that they have accomplished so little, but that they have accomplished so much.

Also, that understanding will be vastly facilitated if you go farther and consider whether in their place you would have done exactly the same, or even less well. You are human as they are, your means and capacity are limited as theirs are, perhaps even more limited. When you estimate the complication of circumstances and put yourself, your own blundering, mistaking, regretting, ever-recommencing self, right into them, your tolerance for the failures of others will be immensely increased.

For this is the best cure of all: instead of dwelling upon the faults of others, to give a little attention, or even a good deal of attention, to your own. It is really quite as easy to find flaws in your own large field of life as in others', in fact much easier, since you are even more familiar with your own mistakes than with theirs. The trouble is that it is much less agreeable. This little unkindness, that little social awkwardness, the sharp, harsh words you uttered yesterday when a small matter went wrong—it is much more unpleasant to remember those than to point out a friend's shortcomings. It is, however, much more profitable. Those were wise words of Orlando's, the good wrestler, the good lover, and the good friend: "I will chide no breather in the world but myself, against whom I know most faults."

This attempt to reverse the course of American emigration is almost revolutionary and is confined wholly to those already farmers and to those of the Nordic stock.

LESS WHEAT AND CORN

Should the American farmer deliberately restrict the amount of wheat and corn and the number of hogs that he raises? Some of the most careful students of agriculture and of markets are advising him to do it. They argue that under present conditions he had better get out of the export business altogether and let the European demand for grain and meat be supplied by countries where such things can be produced more cheaply.

So long as any country grows a considerable surplus of grain for export the price of the entire crop will be chiefly determined by the dealings on the grain exchanges at Liverpool, where the world prices for grain are set. Europe today is buying as little foreign grain as possible and paying as little as possible for it. The American farmer faces some lively competition abroad. Even with Russia out of the market, there is so much grain to be had from Argentina and India and Australia that the prevailing price often leaves the American farmer with a loss instead of a profit on his crop. To some extent the same thing is true of meat, particularly hogs, which is the form of which our corn crop goes abroad.

Give up the foreign market, raise just enough for home demand and depend on the new tariff law to keep the prices of grain at a remunerative figure is the advice that reaches the American farmer from a good many different quarters. Whether or not the policy would be as profitable in practice as it is in theory only actual experience will show. It is contrary to the instinctive feeling of the farmer, who generally likes to plant and raise all he can, and who takes pride in a generous crop. But the farmer is becoming more of a business man than he used to be. He keeps accounts and studies markets. He does not see why he should lose money in order that food shall be cheap in the great cities.

There is no reason why he should. We do not condemn a manufacturer of cloth or of shoes or of steel rails who diminishes his output when the demand makes full production unprofitable. The farmer should not be expected to cut his own economic throat. The cry for cheap food can be too loud. The nation that must have cheap food for its cities at the price of degrading the life of the country dweller is, like imperial Rome, nearing its fall.

The difficulty in carrying out a policy of restriction would be the usual difficulty that movements among the farmers have to face. No farmer would know exactly how many others were actually co-operating with him, and from one motive or another he might carry his own reduction too far or not far enough. So there might be a real shortage of food, or the movement might fail completely. But if high prices for goods and labor and low prices for grain continue long, there will be a general restriction of wheat and corn, if only by the elimination of the men and the land that cannot between them raise crops that will pay expenses.

India's method of judging a man by his caste is about as intelligent as our method of judging him by his cash.—Buffalo Evening News.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again

I had before me an application for membership in the Ku Klux Klan. This, taken in connection with its activities, demonstrates the fact that it is a secret organization formed for the purpose of regulating the conduct of our citizens and of politically proscribing the Catholic and the Jew, and specifically marks for its especial hostility the Negro citizen and those of recent naturalization.

Holding its meetings in secret, masquerading in the habiliments of a Halloween party, it seeks to inspire terror by appearing in mask.

It has the supreme impudence to attempt to regulate, control and direct the conduct, not of its own members, but of those citizens who are not members.

A secret organization, formed for charitable, fraternal or benevolent purposes, may, with safety to itself and without protest from the public, retain its secrets, and the public will not become interested in its membership or its personnel.

A secret organization which does not confine its operations to its own members, but which, upon the contrary, attempts to dictate the conduct, control the movements and punish citizens who are not members, will find it impossible to retain its secrecy. Instead of marking men and women, proper public resentment will undoubtedly mark the men who organize for this purpose.

An organization which seeks to go outside of the religious influence of our churches, placing itself above the accredited officers of the law, and usurps the functions of both our established moral and legal agencies, cannot escape an inquiring public to whom will become known its membership and the names of its leaders.

The public seldom interests itself in the private affairs of an individual or in the organization affairs of a society whose scope of influence is limited to its own circle. But those persons who are directly assaulted, who are not members, will be generously supported by right-thinking men and women in bringing about a disclosure of the supreme egotists who place themselves above the established law and established churches in attempting to regulate the conduct of men and women.

The American people admit the right of any group or society to meet anywhere, on any subject, whether in public or in secret, to conserve or plan for their own conduct; but when a secret organization proposes to regulate or control the lives of men and women who are not members, such conduct become a menace to public welfare. Especially is this true when the object is the introduction of religious and race proscription.

The United States Constitution states:

"Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion, or proscribing the free exercise thereof."

Religious freedom is guaranteed everywhere throughout the United States, so far as Congressional or State interference is concerned.

The Missouri Constitution contains this declaration:

"That all men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own conscience; that no person can, on account of his religious opinions, be rendered ineligible to any office of trust or profit under this State, nor to be disqualified from testifying, or from serving as a juror; that no human authority can control or interfere with the rights of conscience; that no person ought, by any law, to be molested in his person or estate, on account of his religious persuasion or profession."

Another section states: "And that no preference shall be given to, nor any discrimination be made against, any church, sect or creed of religion, or any form of religious faith or worship."

These sections of our National and State Constitutions are quite plain, so that any secret society which attempts through threat, intimidation or fear, to do a thing which the lawful authorities of the State are restrained from doing, becomes a law-breaker.

A distinguished jurist has said:

"The American people came to the work of framing their fundamental laws after centuries of religious oppression and persecution sometimes by one party or sect and sometimes by another. This had taught them the utter futility of all attempts to propagate religious opinions by the rewards, penalties or terrors of human laws."

Race prejudice has been added by this society to religious intolerance.

We find the following language in the Constitution of the United States: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

Attention is specifically called to the words "race" and "color" contained in the Constitution.

In addition to these express constitutional prohibitions, the criminal laws of all States provide punishment for threats, intimidation and violence.

Physical violence is not the only thing covered by laws. A man may disturb the peace of another by any form of insult, by the spoken word, or by interfering in any way with his lawful pursuit of happiness, and a citizen's particular form of happiness may largely consist in exercising freely his choice of religion, and his happiness will certainly be destroyed if he is threatened or abused because of either his race or his color.

Apparently the Klan proposes to do things which officers of the law, selected by the people are expressly prohibited from doing.

It sets itself up as greater, wiser and more powerful than the Government and the laws made by all the people.

It is destructive of the principle of majority rule and proposes to substitute minority rule by a secret group.

It proposes to substitute its own law for the Divine Law expounded by our religious institutions, and place its own rule above the rules of law and courts.

It proposes to substitute the methods of the mob for the orderly processes of law.

It proposes to substitute for a visible government an invisible tribunal.

It proposes to do, by stealth and mystery, under the cover of darkness, in the habiliments of disguise, acts which the law prohibits and for which it provides punishment.

It proposes to substitute for the ballot and the election a secret substitute for free government.

It proposes to deny men the opportunity to appear in person and produce witnesses.

It proposes to substitute the findings of a secret tribunal for a trial by jury.

It brushes aside the judges elected by the people and, in secret select its own judges.

It proposes to control the conduct of citizens by threats, intimidation and violence.

It proposes to substitute lawlessness for law, and becomes an outlaw as did the masked men who formerly robbed stage coaches, whom any citizen might destroy.

It attempts to deny the right of debate, and stifles freedom of speech, while attempting to set up laws of its own.

It proposes to enter into business affairs and create business rivalries which will cause boycotts and counter-boycotts.

It proposes to substitute for comity and peace, distrust and animosity. What supreme egotism leads a man to believe that he can in secret overthrow the orderly processes of law and substitute the supposed superior wisdom of himself and his selected associates?

We send missionaries, priests and preachers to pagan nations to teach our religion and demand that they shall be protected.

When these teachers and foreign missionaries are attacked, we send our warships for their protection and demand indemnities for loss of life or property.

And yet this secret organization will not permit American citizens to exercise the same right in their own land.

They demand religious toleration in Japan, China, India and Africa, and would deny it in our own land.

Shall a masked mob be permitted to act as judge, jury, prosecuting attorney and executioner?

Are we to return to the whipping post by a lawless mob, by lawless individuals, when the whipping post has been abandoned by all enlightened states?

Our bill of rights, written into both National and State Constitutions, provides for:

"The protection of the writ of habeas corpus," which the Klan denies.

"Freedom of religious belief and worship," which the Klan proposes to abolish.

"Freedom of thought and its expression," which the Klan proposes to curtail.

"Freedom from unreasonable search and seizure," which the Klan does not respect.

"The right not to be prosecuted for infamous crimes except first accused by a grand jury." The Klan proposes to substitute itself for a grand jury.

"The right in all criminal prosecutions to a speedy trial by an impartial jury." The Klan proposes to select its own jury in secret, to conduct not a public, but a concealed trial.

"To be confronted with the witnesses against him." No person charged by the Klan is confronted with witnesses.

"And have assistance of counsel." All counsel is denied, excepting the counsel for the prosecution is selected by the Klan.

"That the citizen shall not be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law." All process of law is denied by the Klan. They set up their own law, and the process is one of force, intimidation and fear.

"That the citizen shall not be denied the equal protection of the laws." The Klan have no equal laws. Their laws are for themselves and directed against someone else. There is an absolute abandonment of equality, process and justice.

Our government destroyed the rights of the king, and the Missouri Constitution declares that, "All political power is vested in and derived from the people; that all government of right originates with the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the good of the whole."

It is useless to quote criminal statutes which relate to intimidation, violence and threats. They are too numerous and too well understood to require elaboration.

Public discussion of all political questions is necessary. Public discussion of any question before the Klan is impossible.

If a secret society is permitted to prosecute one religious sect today, it may proscribe another and different sect tomorrow.

If its right to proscribe one sect is not challenged, another secret organization may be formed to challenge yet another sect.

This leads directly to discord, strife, mob violence and lawlessness.

Why should any man, or set of men, pretending to improve government or accomplish some worthy motive, attempt to do so in secret? Why should a good cause require a masquerade or a mask?

With an egotism approaching insanity, with arrogance unsurpassed, reverting to the practices of the middle century, openly violating the Constitution of the United States and of our own State, flinging defiance in the face of statutes to preserve the peace, they have the impudence to arrogate to themselves the term "100 per cent American."

It just so happens that all of my ancestors were Protestants, and on all sides came to the United States long before the American Revolution; five great-great-grandfathers served in the Army of the Revolution, as did three of my wife's great-great-grandfathers, and both families have been represented in every war in which the United States has been engaged.

And yet this does not make me, or anyone similarly classified, a "100 per cent American."

There is only one kind of a 100 per cent American, and that is the man or woman who understands our free institutions; who respects an orderly government, and seeks to change it only by the orderly processes provided by law.

It is the man and woman who respect the rights, beliefs and privileges of his neighbor.

It is the man or woman who, understanding our heredity, realizes that the form of our government is but the culmination of the hope of liberty-loving people for thousands of years.

No 100 per cent American puts himself above the law or attempts to make personal laws for the control of his neighbor.

No 100 per cent American will proscribe another man because of his religious belief or his race.

My protest is not made in the especial interest of the Catholic or the Jew, or for certain races or colors of our citizens, but is directed against a movement which is dangerous to the Protestant, the white citizen, and all classes of our people.

It is a protest against the self-selected government of a secret cabal which is opposed to the orderly government of the majority under the rules of law made by all the people.

We have public schools, parochial schools and private schools for instructing our children. A citizen has his choice. We do not require educational direction from the masked man who would undo the established order.

We have a variety of churches and creeds, all built and supported by the loving hearts of devotional men and women, created to teach right living, morality and reverence for God. We do not require religious instruction from masked men whose character and capacity are concealed by disguise!

We have our legislatures to make laws covering vice, immorality and crime, and peace officers to arrest and judges to punish those who violate these laws. We do not require a secret legislature to make laws, a masked policeman to enforce them, or a nameless judge to pass sentence.

One hundred per cent Americanism does not wear either mask or disguise. It seeks the sunlight, not the darkness.

It shines bright in the noonday sun that all men and women may see. It is not afraid. It shows its weakness that it may be corrected, and restrains its strength that it may not injure.

We do not require hooded censors to restrain, or canopied goblins to frighten us into proper conduct.

Many worthy men may be persuaded to join the ranks of these midnight propagandists. Let us hope that, before doing so, they will read the Bible, where meekness, charity and love of fellowman is taught, and then spend some hours in reading the history of their country and keep ever before them the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution written by our forefathers, who did not so arrogantly boast of being 100 per cent Americans!
