

Lions to mark 50th birthday

The Dimmitt Lions Club has now been serving the community for half a century.

The club will celebrate its 50th anniversary with a "Ladies' Day" and special historical program at its regular noon meeting Tuesday in the Colonial Inn Restaurant.

Boss Lion Tommy Fowler said Tuesday's "anniversary meeting" is open to all former members of the club, as well as other Lions and interested residents of the area. Members' wives will be special guests at the meeting.

The club's historical committee is preparing a program that will review the accomplishments of the Dimmitt Lions' 50 years.

The Dimmitt Lions Club, chartered in April 1930, is the city's oldest service organization. In addition to its community service projects, it carried out the role of a chamber of commerce until it spearheaded the drive to organize a chamber here in the late 1940s.

The club also was instrumental in forming a retail merchants' association to boost local trade, and worked toward such projects as paved highways, public recreation facilities and other improvements in and around Dimmitt.

Other Lions Club projects through the years have included construction of the public swimming pool, staging of the annual "Follies" community talent show, sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 266, and financing of one of the junior baseball parks in West Dimmitt.

The Lions are now preparing for their annual "Radio Day," to be held April 26. Other contemporary projects include the annual community Halloween Carnival, broom sale, pancake supper and eyeglasses for needy children; and support of the Hi-Plains Eye Bank, Girlstown, Texas Lions Crippled Children's Camp, American Field Service, Presidential Classroom for Young Americans, and the Lions International CARE Program.

Bike-a-thon kicks off Saturday at DHS field

The "Wheels for Life" Bike-a-thon will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Dimmitt High School Football Field, Jo Parks, bike-a-thon chairman, said.

Riders for the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital bike-a-thon are now asking Dimmitt residents to back their efforts by pledging a contribution for each mile they ride.

"The money our riders earn will help continue St. Jude's life-saving study of childhood cancer that has become so important to children all over the world," Mrs. Parks said.

"Please support your rider with a generous pledge, and then help him or her get the funds to us as soon as the ride is over," she urged.

Each rider will be given a lap card when he registers at the high school football field

Saturday. Everytime he rides through the check point, the card will be initialed. At the end of the ride the card will be checked and signed to show that the rider earned what the sponsor pledged. Riders will then return to the sponsors to collect the pledges.

Each rider will be wearing a hospital bracelet saying, "I'm riding for Lisa."

Lisa is the St. Jude patient who represents all victims of the illnesses under study at the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

"If you have not been asked to sponsor a rider, please call 647-4466 and we'll get one to call you," Mrs. Parks said.

Riders can still obtain sponsor/registration forms at 707 SW Sixth or at the school offices.

DISD authorizes basketball camp

MIKE REAGAN and his wife, Colleen, greet Bedford Smith during a campaign appearance on behalf of Reagan's father Monday night at Ye Olde Inn. The younger Reagan, who is Jane Wyman's son, spoke to an audience of 50 persons here. A California businessman, Reagan is currently spending three to four days a week stumping for his father in the western and southwestern states.

Reagan's son says

'Dad can make US great again'

"Ronald Reagan can offer the leadership that can make America great again," the Republican presidential candidate's son, Mike, told an audience here Monday night.

Accompanied by his wife, Colleen, the younger Reagan spoke to an audience of 50 at Ye Olde Inn. It was his third stop on a swing through Texas in search of primary election votes for his father.

"We Reagans remember 1976, when we got all the Republican delegates from Texas," Reagan said.

Reagan was highly critical of the Carter Administration, and said his father was the only Republican presidential candidate with "a record of fiscal responsibility." But he was careful not to commit his father on such touchy issues as parity for farmers or the Iranian crisis.

On parity, Reagan commented, "I think he said in Amarillo (last Wednesday) that he wanted 100% of parity in the market place. But I haven't seen him in months, and I haven't been able to sit down and talk to him about it."

On other farm problems, he said, "My dad feels we have to get the government off our backs and out of our pocket-books. . . . It's time we demanded that our government be fair to all segments of the economy. We need to revamp the whole structure in Washington to deal with farm problems—and with all the problems that are plaguing us."

Charging that President Carter "is not giving us a star to shoot at," Reagan recalled his father's use of volunteer citizen-advisors while he was governor of California "to look into departments and problem areas and see what needed to be done."

Asked what his father would do if he were elected President and Iran were still holding the American hostages, Reagan said, "I think that if my father is elected, the ayatollahs will know we intend to solve some of these problems. . . . The hostage problem should have been addressed when it happened, not 160 days later." But he didn't mention any specific course of action his father might take.

Noting that only three of the original 11 Republican candidates are still in the race for the nomination after 10 state primaries, Reagan said, "They're all talking about the same goals . . . but of all the candidates, only Ronald Reagan has a record of fiscal responsibility."

"In only eight short years (as California's governor), he took a state that was on the edge of bankruptcy and balanced the budget, provided $57 million in tax relief, left a $500,000 surplus when he left office, got over 50% of his legislation passed through a Democratic legislature, and was re-elected in a Democratic state."

One listener pointed to an article released by the Associated Press this week that disputed Reagan's claims of budget cuts, tax relief and fiscal turnaround while he was governor of California. Using state figures and quoting California officials, the AP said Reagan's record as California governor "differs significantly from the description he gives audiences today."

"They've run that before," the younger Reagan said. "They didn't really look at all the facts, or go into all the various programs in the state of California."

Asked if his father is too conservative to be elected President, Reagan pointed to the "cross-over" votes his father has received from Democrats and Independents in the wide-open primaries so far.

"We will continue to see a lot of cross-overs in these primaries," he said, because "everything my dad has said would happen has happened—particularly on the need of a bigger defense budget."

IOOF, Rebekahs set open house

Dimmitt's Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will observe milestone anniversaries of their lodges with an open house Sunday afternoon.

The public reception will commemorate the 50th anniversary of Dimmitt IOOF Lodge 159, and the 40th anniversary of Rebekah Lodge 54.

The local Lodge of Independent Order of Odd Fellows was instituted Jan. 2, 1930, and the Rebekah Lodge on April 20, 1940.

Three of the lodge's charter members are still living, and one—Elmer Dixon—is still active in the lodge.

Dimmitt's Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will host the public and serve refreshments from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday in the IOOF Lodge Hall on Southeast Third Street.

DAI anti-trust suit continues

Defense testimony continues in Amarillo this week in the $32.5 million anti-trust suit filed by Dimmitt Agri Industries against CPC International (Corn Products Corp.).

Dimmitt Agri Industries completed its initial testimony in Federal District Court in Amarillo last week. The cooperative will have the opportunity to call more witnesses after CPC concludes its testimony.

The suit, which was filed in late 1974, alleges that CPC conspired to lower the market price of corn starch and syrup when the local co-op's milling plant went into production, thus forcing the co-op out of the corn milling business.

Eight other major corn processing companies charged in the original suit have made out-of-court settlements with DAI.

The trial is now in its fifth week in Federal District Judge Mary Lou Robinson's Amarillo court. A four-woman, two-man jury is hearing the testimony.

Conservation award dinner set Saturday

The Running Water Conservation District will hold its annual awards program and dinner at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Castro County Exposition Building.

The Conservation Farmer, Homemaker and Teacher of the Year will be honored. Poster, essay and land judging contest winners will also be announced, and trophies and awards will be given.

Entertainment will be provided by the Flatland Bluegrass Band. Ernie's Barbecue will cater the meal.

Anyone wishing to attend is asked to contact the Soil Conservation Service office at 647-4324.

Date set for Folk Festival

Saturday, June 28 has been set as the date for this year's Nazareth German Folk Festival.

This will be the eighth year for the popular annual festival, which features a wurst dinner, music, games and dancing. The festival regularly draws people from throughout the Panhandle area.

"Mark your calendar so you won't miss it," Bea Hoelting of the festival committee urged.

Constitutional seminar assured as 100 sign up

"Are you willing to invest $35 and two days for another 200 years of freedom in the United States?" That's the question that Edgar Dennis, Castro County Constitutional Seminar chairman, is posing to local families.

One hundred have enrolled in the seminar so far, and more are expected to enroll before the Friday noon registration begins, Dennis said.

The Castro County Farm Bureau is sponsoring the constitutional seminar, "Miracle of America," Friday and Saturday at the Dimmitt High School auditorium. The enrollment fee is $35 per family, and covers all family members 12 and older.

The seminar course is specifically designed to restore confidence in the founding fathers' unique formula for

The Dimmitt School Board voted Monday night to waive a long-standing policy and allow local coaches to conduct summer basketball camps in the school gyms.

School policy has prohibited individuals from using school facilities for private gain. The basketball camps would be "side businesses" for local coaches, and would not be school-related.

The board action stemmed from a request by DHS girls' coach Jimmy Hoyle, who requested permission to run a basketball day camp during the summer for boys and girls in grades five through eight.

"Jimmy asked me to request the board to reconsider the policy because the kids want the summer camps, but those in Plainview, Lubbock and other larger towns are getting so expensive," Supt. Robert Ryan said. "Also, many schools around us—such as Tulia, Lockney, Abernathy and Canadian—are allowing summer basketball camps for kids now."

Hoyle proposed five-day camp sessions of 4½ hours per day, with a $35 admission fee that would cover the cost of insurance, a camp T-shirt and salary for the camp director (coach) and anyone he hired to help him.

Most major camps now have enrollment fees in the $100 range, Ryan said.

Hoyle specified that he would not want a local camp session to conflict with Bible schools, Kids, Inc. sports programs or other community-supported youth activities.

School board ousts Prather, recalls Smith

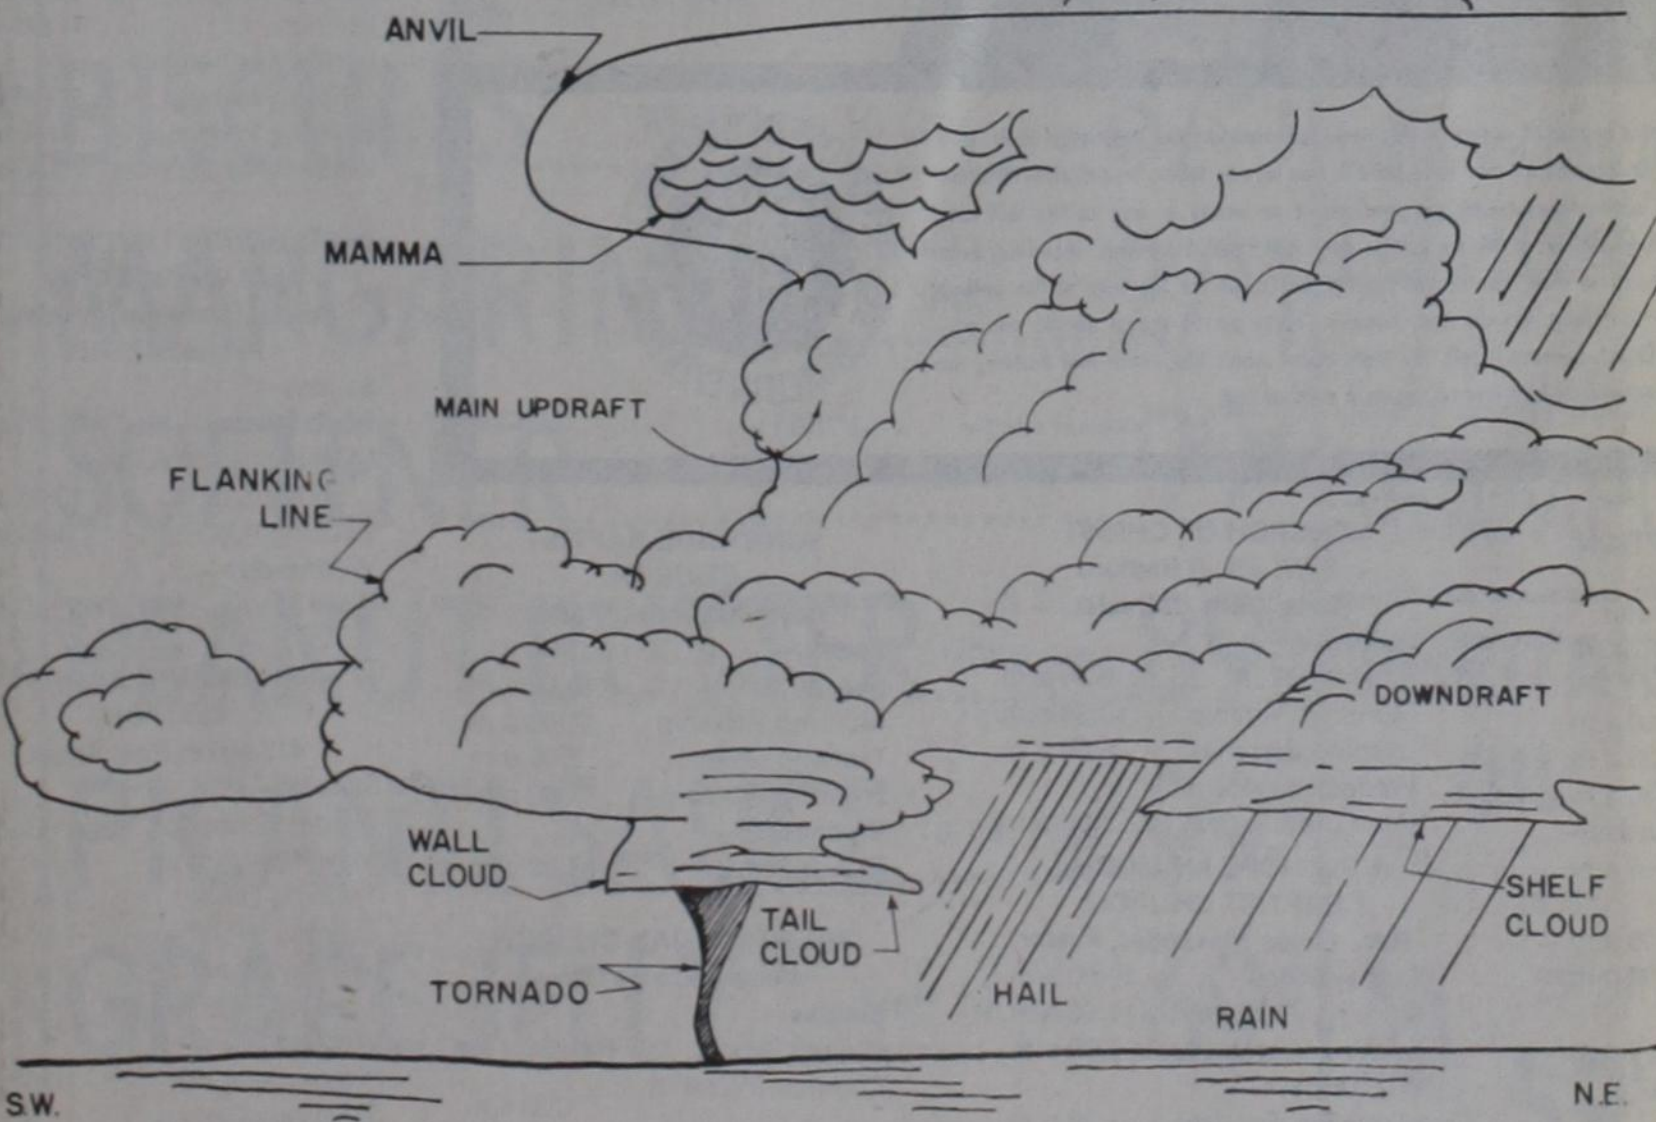

In an executive session Monday night, the Dimmitt School Board voted to relieve DHS Band Director Larry Prather of his duties, effective Tuesday, and to recall former longtime band director Ralph Smith.

The action came after the board's regular monthly meeting.

The board appointed Assistant Band Director Kent Jordan to assume Prather's duties temporarily.

Supt. Robert Ryan said Wednesday that Smith would report to work today (Thursday).

Smith retired from the DHS faculty last year after serving 27 years as band director here. He has been a sales representative for a Lubbock-based music company for the past year, but had applied for the director's job last month after the school board voted not to extend Prather's contract. Smith's company agreed Tuesday to release him immediately, Ryan said.

TYPICAL TORNADO-PRODUCING CLOUD—The form of the usual tornado-producing cloud is anvil-shaped at its crest, with a rougher overshooting top at the dome. Mamma, which appear to be balloon-shaped formations, may drop from the anvil shape. At ground-level the common appearance is rain falling from a shelf cloud, usually in the northeastern portion of the parent cloud. Southwest of this there will be a wall cloud, sometimes with a horizontal tail cloud at the forward or northeast lower portion of it. This tail cloud is not the tornado. The tornado itself forms typically at the southwest lower edge of this wall cloud. Behind the tornado there is not likely to be rain, but, instead, a precipitation-free cloud base.

Homemaking girls host reception

By MYRTLE SHEFFY

Mrs. Bill Snider's homemaking girls were hostesses at a coffee and tasting of goodies which they had made. These were served to their mothers and special guests. The table was very pretty with a small basket of flowers. And a punch bowl of fruit drink and tiny rolls, little pies, bites of quiche, and coffee and hot cider were served by Mandy Aleman and Roseanne Balderas. Serving punch was Christine Rameriz. Decorating the table was Diederre Craig. Introductions were by Cindy Hollums. A reading on "Woman—the Weaker Sex?" was given by Laurie Ewing. Presiding was Susan Collins and a door prize was given to Darlene Collins by Debbie Hrabal. I was the special guest of Bonnie Nino, who helped greet the guests. This is part of the social training the girls get. The reception area is very pretty with blue shades in high pile carpet and formal chairs with blue seats.

It takes a Good Eye... TO THREAD A NEEDLE Did you ever thread a needle? ... Most everyone has, it takes a good eye, for the opening is small. Did you ever try to thread one while someone else held the needle? ... This is almost impossible. All this brings us to the point that ... there are some things that we must do ourselves. We can not send someone else to church for us, we can not have someone else worship the Lord for us. These things are strictly on an individual basis. ATTEND CHURCH ... YOU'LL BE GLAD THAT YOU DID.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God. Bullock said county tax assessor-collectors and employees working with motor vehicle tax problems will be briefed on a wide variety of tax subjects, such as specialized equipment taxes, use tax and new resident tax, corporate transfers, public agencies, trailers, rebates, refund procedures and military personnel.

Mothers' March scheduled Sunday

The March of Dimes Mothers' March on Birth Defects will take place in Dimmitt Sunday.

Contributions go toward programs of research, medical services and education.

"Birth defects have impact on the lives of some 15 million Americans," says Bobbi Wooten, Mothers' March chairman.

"During our drive, we want to reach people with health education about prevention of birth defects, she said.

"This year, we are directing community attention to the acute national problem of adolescent pregnancy," she says.

"The high incidence of children having children has long-term repercussions for all of society. Babies born to mothers under 17 have a higher-than-average risk of mental retardation, physical malformations and early death. The very young mother places her own health in danger. The young parents often face an uncertain educational and economic future."

Mothers' March volunteers will ask for opinions on the severity of the problem locally. No one will be identified by name in the survey.

The Dimmitt Young Homemakers and Dimmitt FHA March of Dimes is interested in planning new, community-based educational and health services to prevent newborn damage and death.

For details about joining the Mothers' March, please call 647-2224.

ORPHAN PUP NEEDS HOME—This cute little part-poodle pup is a guest at the local pound. But he and three of his friends will be "put to sleep" if not adopted by Monday, dog catcher Charles Whitman said. The fee for adopting a dog is broken down into $7.50 pickup fee, $1 a day kennel fee, $6 for rabies shot and $2 for city tag. Whitman can be located through the Dimmitt Police Dept. at 647-4545. This dog is just one of many at the city pound that need homes, Whitman said.

Green Thumb seminar held

Five local persons attended a "Green Thumb" workers' seminar at Rhoads Memorial Library recently.

Attending were Lucille Follis, Madge Robb, Louis Allen, Billy Wesson and Annie Taylor.

Green Thumb has an on-the-job training program designed to benefit both the older job seeker and the employer.

Residents 55 or older who need work may contact Green Thumb, 1701 Metro Tower, 1220 Broadway, Lubbock, 79411.

Employers may contact GT about the wage reimbursement program available to them when they hire older workers.

Sun-Hi® Brand Hybrid Sunflower Seed

From PACIFIC OILSEEDS INCORPORATED
Woodland, California

HIGH YIELD IS THE FIRST CRITERION

Sun-Hi® Brands hybrids consistently perform in university trials and with growers throughout the United States. During its development, a POI hybrid must demonstrate superior yields in our multiple environment screening programs located in North Dakota, Texas, and California. If the hybrid demonstrates excellent yield potential, it has a chance to join our product line.

Sunflowers are finding a place on the western edge of the U.S. corn belt. Many of our screening tests are intentionally under marginal moisture conditions. We not only must know the capability of our hybrids under optimum conditions, but we must offer a product that can yield when moisture conditions are well below optimum.

CONTINUOUS SELECTION PRESSURE FOR HIGHER OIL CONTENT

Oil content is the third prong of the POI research program. The goal is simple. While we are selecting for yield and disease resistance, we maintain selection pressure on developing parental lines for higher oil contents.

We have been conducting research on hybrid sunflowers since 1966.

DISEASE RESISTANCE IS SCREENED SIMULTANEOUSLY

While the field screening programs are evaluating yield and drought resistance, laboratory and field programs are checking for disease resistance. Downy mildew and verticillium wilt tests are conducted several times on hybrid parents during their development. Rust tolerance is continuously monitored.

We screen experimental materials under various environments simultaneously during their development, and are oriented toward specific hybrids for specific conditions. This philosophy has been in large part responsible for our rapid growth in the sunflower industry.

Are lakebeds worth more as wildlife havens?

Farmers and ranchers who modify playa lakes for better agricultural use may be cutting off a secondary income by destroying habitat for waterfowl pheasants and other game.

It might be possible to develop management plans that will lead to the preservation of selected playas as unspoiled natural areas of wildlife havens, according to Dr. Eric C. Bolen of Texas Tech.

Bolen and Dr. C. David Simpson are co-principal investigators for a study to examine the wildlife potential of the playa lakes on the southern Great Plains. The study is supported by a $73,513 contract from the federal Water and Power Resources Service (formerly the Bureau of Reclamation) of the US Dept. of Interior.

The contract was made with the Texas Tech University Dept. of Range and Wildlife Management. Both investigators are members of the departmental faculty. Bolen also is associate dean of the Texas Tech Graduate School. Between 16,000 and 20,000 playa lakes are the prominent hydrographical feature of the southern High Plains. Most are wind-deflated depressions, and in wet years they contribute between 230,000 and 250,000 surface acres of aquatic habitat to the semi-arid plains.

In recent years, farmers in the intensively cultivated area have frequently deepened the lakes and converted many into pits to reduce evaporation losses and to increase land area for cultivation. Cattle grazing the shallow lakes sometimes destroy much of the wildlife habitat surrounding them. In addition, because of the loss of irrigation water from the underground Ogallala Aquifer, there has been talk of various schemes for using the playas in the future as water storage areas. "The dwindling subsurface water for irrigation places demands on playa lakes that diminish much of their integrity as wildlife habitat," Bolen said. He and Simpson have planned their research project so that subsequent management strategies might be developed to enhance the lakes' wildlife values or, at least, maintain them.

The region's winter waterfowl populations, particularly mallard ducks, often exceed 1 million birds, Bolen said. In addition to mallards, pintails, blue-winged teals and cinnamon teals breed in the area.

The ring-necked pheasant is known to do well, as do the long-billed curlew, the American avocet, Wilson's phalarope and sandhill cranes. In all, close to 40 species of shorebirds also use the playa habitat.

Also frequenting the playas during migration or for overwintering — and sometimes breeding — are the marsh hawk, prairie falcon and Mississippi kite.

The pronghorn antelope was frequently seen in the area before the land was so intensively farmed, but there are other mammals dependent upon the playas. These include the raccoon, badger and coyote.

A research team will examine 100 playa lakes located in Castro, Parmer and Swisher Counties. Twenty lakes will be studied intensively.

They will investigate soils, vegetation, waterfowl, shorebirds and other birds, mammals, reptiles and amphibians, fish, invertebrates, the limnology and agricultural influences on playas. They will make a special study of rare and endangered invertebrate species.

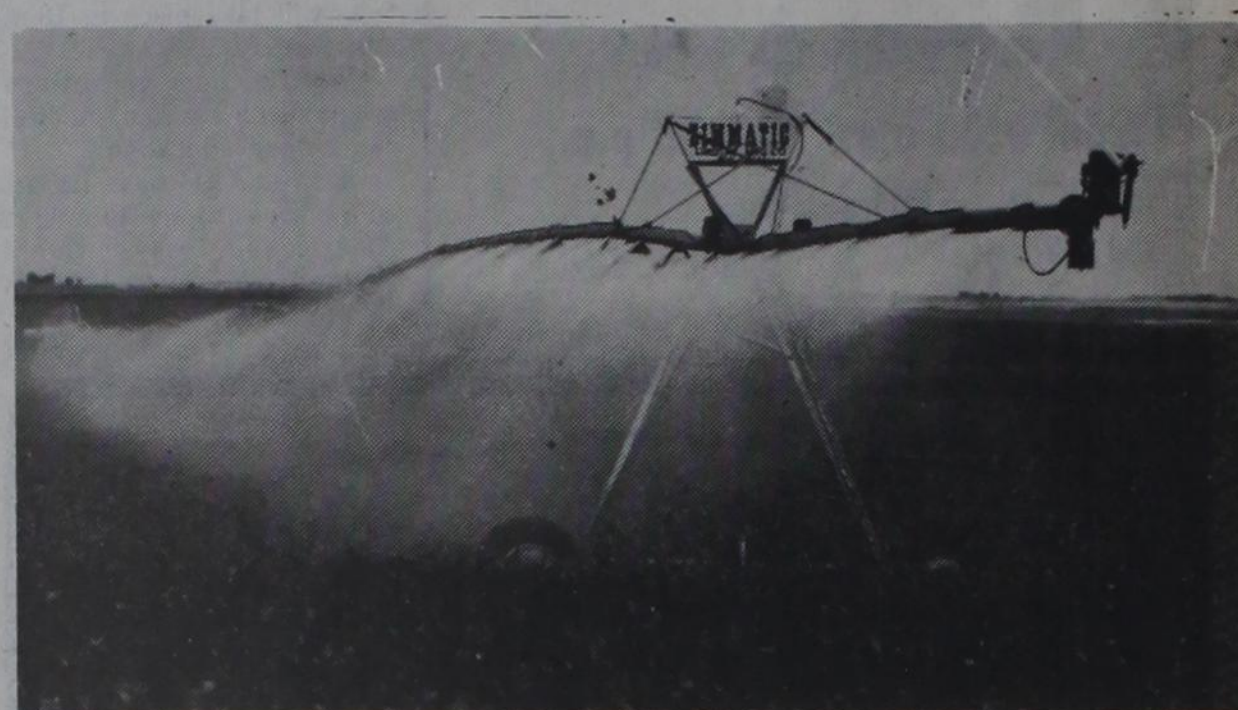

Bolen said the results will be integrated with other area studies supported by Water and Power Resources Service to help determine future directions.

"We envision the development of management plans," he said, "that will lead to the preservation of selected playas as unspoiled natural areas and to the development of modification techniques on other basins that will incorporate wildlife benefits."

"For example, we speculate that a 'staircase' type of excavation on at least one side of an otherwise vertical-sided pit might retain enough littoral zone to establish emergent vegetation, promote invertebrate productivity and maintain wildlife utilization." He said Texans might, in the future, emulate Californians who charge Hunters annual fees of $75 to $500 per blind and in deluxe settings up to $10,000.

Two movies on tap at Assembly of God

A big weekend is planned by the First Assembly of God in Dimmitt, with two full-length movies and an "old fashioned Sunday" scheduled.

All the events are open to the public, and are free of charge. The church is located at Southeast Second and Belsher.

The first movie, "A Thief in the Night," will be shown Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

"Old Fashioned Day" will be held in conjunction with Sunday morning's church services, and will include a lunch at the church. Everyone is encouraged to wear old-fashioned clothing if they have it, and to remain for lunch.

Attendance goal for Sunday morning is 150, and the church bus will help people get to church. Anyone needing transportation Sunday morning may call 647-5447.

A second film, "A Distant Thunder," will be shown at 7 p.m. Sunday to conclude the weekend's special activities.

The double-header film program is actually an original and a sequel.

"A Thief in the Night" was shown at the church here last New Year's eve. It's a motion picture about Bible prophecy, and speculates on what might happen when Jesus Christ returns.

The story centers around Patty, an average girl caught up in living for the present, with little concern about the future.

The movie includes a confrontation between a young man and a deadly Asian cobra, a girl's daring escape from jail, and a take-over by a group known as "The Imperium." Filmed on location in Iowa, the picture portrays the reality of the Biblical prediction, "There will be no place to hide."

"A Thief in the Night" was given the "Best Film of the Year" award by the National Evangelical Film Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa., and the lead actress, Patty Dunning, was named the "Outstanding Female Actress."

The second film, "A Distant Thunder" (Sunday at 7 p.m.) is a sequel to "A Thief in the Night."

Monte Wike, pastor of the First Assembly of God, said all the weekend events—both movies and the "Old Fashioned Day" Sunday morning—are open to all interested persons.

THE MIRACLE OF AMERICA

Castro County Constitutional Seminar

To understand the Constitution we must understand the "frame of reference" of our Founding Fathers, the extremely socialistic governments of their day, and understand their TOTAL COMMITMENT TO FREEDOM. The Founding Fathers believed that...

- ...without religion, the government of a free people cannot be maintained.
- ...the proper role of government is to protect equal rights, not provide equal things.
- ...life and liberty are secure only so long as the rights of property are secure.
- ...strong, local self-government is the keystone to preserving human freedom.
- ...the burden of debt is as destructive to freedom as defeat by conquest.

These principles and many more will be examined as Dr. Cleon Skousen's Freeman Institute helps discover our amazing Founding Fathers and the extraordinary wisdom contained in the Constitution of the United States of America.

Parker and Hortencia Quinonez. Standing at right are Coaches Jimmy Hoyle and John Thomas. Bobbies win district title; eight qualify for regional Sophomore Beth Benton qualified for regional in four events and senior Vicki Cleveland in two as Dimmitt High School's girls ran away with the District 3-AA track championship in freezing weather Saturday.

In the face of a snowstorm Saturday morning from Dimmitt south, the district meet was moved from Olton to Hereford. Hereford's all-weather track enabled the 3-AA schools to stage their meet and certify qualifiers in time for the regional meet this weekend in Lubbock.

Eight Dimmitt girls qualified for the regional meet in nine events, including the mile relay, as DHS racked up 145 team points to Friona's 93, Olton's 89½, Muleshoe's 81½, Littlefield's 76, and Morton's 28.

It was the Bobbies' second straight district track-field championship.

Benton won the triple jump and long jump, and placed second in the 100-meter hurdles and the 100-meter dash. Cleveland—who was Dimmitt's only state qualifier last year—won the 100-meter dash and the hurdles.

In fact, Dimmitt posted a clean sweep in the hurdles with Cleveland, Benton and Beth Mohon finished 1-2-3. Cleveland owns the best time in the state in the event, and Coach Jimmy Hoyle feels that DHS has "a good shot at qualifying two girls for state in the hurdles alone" this weekend.

Also qualifying for regional with either first or second place finishes at the district meet were Rita Ramos in the mile run, Lori Dyer in the high jump, and the mile relay team of Brenda Parker, Sonya Andrews, Jackie Anthony and Hortencia Quinonez.

A dropped baton probably cost the Bobbies another regional qualification. The 440-yard relay team of Quinonez, Cleveland, Beth Mohon and Benton was running a strong first until the baton hit the dirt on a botched handoff, and the team had to settle for fifth place.

First and second place district winners will compete at the girls' regional meet Friday and Saturday on the Texas Tech track in Lubbock.

Here are Dimmitt's placers in the 3-AA meet:

Little League tryouts slated

Approximately 80 have signed up for Little League during the past two Saturday tryouts and more sign-ups are expected.

Tryouts for the majors in Little League will be at 1 p.m. this Saturday and Saturday, April 26, at the Little League Ball Park.

Any 10, 11 or 12-year-old who did not try out last year is required to try out this year, LL President Roger Malone said.

All boys who have not registered may do so at the ball park. A parent needs to be present to sign a player card.

A birth certificate is needed on any player who has not played in Dimmitt Little League in the past.

A $10 player fee is required of all players.

The same number of teams is anticipated this year as last year (six in minors and six in majors), Malone said.

Sunnyside

Saturday marks 20th anniversary of tornado

By TEENY BOWDEN It was 20 years ago Saturday that the Sunnyside community experienced the devastating tornado. At a church supper Saturday night, various ones recalled the fateful date. It has not been forgotten, but is no longer talked about at every gathering, as it was Saturday night. Rev. Syl Moore of Anton preached for revival services each night last week. Buddy Wells of Plainview led the singing. Meals were served at the church each evening. The Adult IV Sunday School class prepared the meals Monday, Wednesday and Saturday nights, the Adult I class on Tuesday and Friday nights and the Adult II class on Thursday night. There was an all-church dinner Sunday.

Visitors in the revival services came from Dimmitt, Olton, Anton, San Angelo and Fairview. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Houston became the parents of a new baby boy in Plains Memorial Hospital in Dimmitt Sunday noon. He weighed 10 pounds, 14 ounces and was named Dustin Scott.

and children had dinner in Dimmitt Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bradley, along with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dixon, Mrs. Elizabeth Worthington of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bailey and son and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Bailey and baby. Sharon Bradley played in a National Piano Audition in Olton after school Friday. She is a student of Harold Dean Carson of Olton.

Waggoner and children attended the supper for the 4-H clubs of the county in the Senior Citizens Center in Dimmitt Friday night. They were representing the Flagg 4-H. Bethel and Dimmitt 4-H members were also present.

Kevin Riley participated in the track meet in Amarillo Friday from Springlake-Earth. Mrs. Ray Joe Riley and Jodie spent the day Friday working cattle on her father's ranch near Hereford.

View from the Library

By BRICK AUTRY In regard to the librarian's letter in last week's paper this column will highlight some problems which are new to libraries—and that is the problem patron.

In other circles, the less likable parts of the human race are known as perverts, crazies, and undesirables and known in libraries as the problem patrons. Libraries used not to have problem patrons and policies never concerned them. Then, urban decay set in throughout our larger cities and libraries located in them began to receive a newer set of patrons—the unemployed, the old and neglected, the undesirables. Libraries began to operate in a newer environment—the jungle.

The problem is an embarrassment to many library directors. Libraries are supposed to be "nice places" with nice people in them busily taking care of their own business. Furthermore, most libraries are at a loss to cope with a dirty old man, a purse snatcher, a rapist, or a vandal. That kind of people managing has thoughtlessly been kept to the police academies.

Recently, however, a bright library director in an aging downtown library in a bad neighborhood of a California city wrote an article on the subject. He noted that the hostile environment was taxing in both time protecting the materials and patrons and the library staff who sometimes suffered battle fatigue. He urged frank discussions and timely solutions to the problem patron situation. There was a large amount of response to his letter showing that the patron problem is not a local problem. Even rural libraries have patron problems. Rural crime has increased in frequency, anyway.

Then we hear of the poignant story about the elderly lady who lost her way in the rambling Boston Public Library. She accidentally expired while seeking an exit in a remote part of the library and was not found until a week later when she began to attract attention of patrons who could smell her.

Because libraries are part of the communities they serve, they also share in the general environment that the community provides. They share, then, in the problems of the community, too.

Start with more control. Finish with more cotton.

City sales tax rebate checks show increase

Retail sales so far this year are running higher than last year in Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth, judging from city sales and use tax allocation checks received from the state comptroller's office.

Returns of the cities' portions of the sales taxes are an indicator of retail trade activity. While sales-tax returns indicate that retail sales were down in many cities, that wasn't the case here.

Dimmitt's net payment for the period ending March 27 is $5,887.56, compared with $5,564.62 for the same period a year ago. The 1980 payments to date for Dimmitt totals $39,464.49, a 21% increase over the $31,203.07 received by the same time last year. Hart received $585.00 for the net payment this period, compared with $536.71 received for the same period last year. The 1980 payments for Hart to date total $4,862.97, compared with $4,162.78 for 1979.

Nazareth received $928.07 for this period, compared with $809.93 for the same period a year ago. A total of $4,551.79 has been received for 1980 compared to $3,620.21 in 1979.

Ivey Agency

wins county insurance bid

Ivey Insurance and Real Estate was awarded the contract for insurance on county buildings and machinery at the Monday morning County Commissioners' Court meeting.

Ivey's bid was $20,917, considerably less than any other bids submitted. The Texas multi-peril coverage on buildings and contents include the courthouse, Rhoads Memorial Library, the County Expo Building and all other property owned by the county.

Coverage by the policy also takes in boiler, machinery, vehicles and an all-risk, $1,000 deductible coverage on all mobile equipment, according to the specifications set forth by the county.

The commissioners also adopted the new precinct lines as prescribed in an agreement with Texas Rural Legal Aid, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Kinser of Dimmitt are the parents of a baby boy, Bradley Olson, born Tuesday at 11:15 p.m. in Tulia's Swisher Memorial Hospital. He weighed 9 pounds, 1 1/2 ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. O.C. Damon of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kinser of Tulia.

More about Basketball ...

Board member Deanne Clark questioned the value of such camps, and said children need summertime away from the schools and gyms.

The board also discussed the precedent-setting nature of such a policy waiver. Approval of basketball camps opens the door for requests to conduct "camps" for such other activities as track, choir, dancing, tennis, band and football.

After a long discussion, the board approved a motion by Jimmy Cluck to waive the school policy and authorize local basketball camps this summer, to be conducted by DISD employees, and to review the results before authorizing more camps for the summer of 1981.

Cluck's motion carried 6-1, with Mrs. Clark voted against it.

Monday night's meeting was the first for the "new" school board, with newly elected trustee Stanley Nelson sworn in to succeed Donald Wright. Also taking the oath of office for new terms were Mrs. Clark and Fred Bruegel Jr., who were re-elected April 5.

The board re-elected Charles Wales president and Bruegel vice-president for the coming year. Mrs. Clark was elected board secretary.

In other action, the board: —Studied what it will probably cost to set up and operate the new uniform tax appraisal district and board with and without Castro County as a member, and learned that the county has opted to exclude itself from the new system the first year. The district will include all other tax assessing bodies in the county—cities, school districts, water district and hospital district.

—Authorized an additional $2,200 to be spent on construction of the new Satellite School building, bringing the cost to $59,200, all of which is paid from federal funds.

—Studied bids from seven insurance companies on health coverage for 175 school employees, and approved the bid by Blue Cross/Blue Shield for $150 deductible coverage with a 19-month rate guarantee.

—Voted to sell two old buses—1968 and '69 Chevrolts—through the regional service center at Abilene.

—Approved payment of a $498.40 assessment fee for USDA food commodities, representing 40 cents per day for each student using the service.

—Authorized service awards breakfast for all school employees again this year, on the final in-service day.

—Approved leave time Friday for teachers and students who are enrolled in the Constitutional Seminar, with catch-up time to be allowed Monday.

More about Reagan ...

He added, "I think we need more people in Washington who will stand up for what America stands for, rather than Jimmy Carter, who won't even stand up."

Reagan said the revival of the B-1 bomber program and other defense projects "would get people working again."

On the controversial issue of nuclear energy, Reagan said his father "believes in nuclear energy, but there must be a safe place to put the nuclear waste."

You can't retrieve time that's wasted

By TERESA CRISWELL
County Extension agent

What happens to the family as a result of the time spent viewing television?

Thirty-six percent of teens interviewed said that watching television was the only time their families spent together. In a nationwide poll, 78 percent said they did not talk while watching television.

What does this say about family communication?

Limited time with children also means less time for sharing ideas and values. Children are forming values, interests and attitudes. Doing things together as a family is a good investment of time. Time spent with your children will pay dividends as you see your relationship with your child growing.

A good time to start spending time with your family is now. Turn off your TV and start a good "time savings program" that grows day by day.

You and your child will discover and develop new interests together—interests that center around the family.

There are lots of activities you and your family can do together: scavenger hunts in and out of the house; field trips in the neighborhood, basement, attic, or imaginary trips; reading books or magazines; visiting the county library; physical play, bicycling, jumping rope, hiking, jogging or running.

Start writing letters to friends and relatives, or keep a diary.

Listen to music, have a sing-along or make your own music. Play charades, make puppets or write a play for the parents.

Having a sharing time of the events of the day, or your feelings, or learn about the family's history.

Create your own cards, gifts and decorations.

Start a family hobby or develop your own hobby of stamp collecting, sewing, gardening, or model building. Cooking together, planning menus, and baking your own bread will be times to remember.

Work jigsaw puzzles, word games or make your own puzzles.

Start a 4-H project. Make it a family affair. For more information contact me at the county courthouse, or call 647-4115.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

DINING at your favorite fast-food restaurant tonight? Watch those calories. Plan the rest of the day's menu carefully to ensure you don't eat more calories than you can afford. Fast foods are nutritious, but usually they have a high number of calories.

Four county women are award nominees

Mary Jo Brown and Dorothy Sheffy of Dimmitt, Lucille Drerup of Nazareth and Rita Knox of Hart have been nominated for Texas Panhandle Distinguished Service Awards to be presented Saturday at West Texas State University.

Mrs. Brown has been nominated by the Iota Zeta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma teachers' society and the Dimmitt Book Club.

She and her husband, J.R., are the parents of two children. She is president of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International of Dimmitt, and is in her 11th year of teaching second grade.

Before coming to Dimmitt, she taught two years in Spade and five years in Fort Worth.

After being a member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority five years in Fort Worth, she organized the local chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and served as its first president in 1970.

Mrs. Brown is active in the Dimmitt Book Club, March of Dimes Mother's March, 4-H, Boy Scouts and Little League, and is a Presbyterian Church elder. She also helped organize "Giving Birthdays" to Satellite School Students and the annual Hoe-Down which raises about $1,000 for the United Way.

She was selected as the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce "Teacher of the Year" in 1979 and was featured in a national publication, "Learning," for her professional attitude toward teaching.

Mrs. Drerup is the nominee of the Plains Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

She and her late husband, Edward, are the parents of six children. She is a charter member of the Hospital Auxiliary and has donated more than 2,000 volunteer hours. She was an organizer of the Castro County Cowbells; the Nazareth German Folk Festival, which raises funds for the volunteer fire department; and the Parent/Teacher Association. She has been active in a chapter mother for Nazareth Future Homemakers of America; as co-chairperson of the Castro County Old Settlers' Reunion, and is active in the Nazareth Art Club. She has taught a kindergarten religion class for four years in the Holy Family Church of Nazareth.

Mrs. Sheffy is a nominee of the Dimmitt Book Club.

She and her husband, Ted, are the parents of three children and grandparents of four.

Organizations and individuals in 32 Panhandle communities have nominated 135 women for the Texas Panhandle Awards for Distinguished Service.

The awards, given for the past four years, will be presented to several women during a luncheon at 11 a.m. Saturday in WTSU's East Dining Hall. Hosting the luncheon is the WTSU Office of Programs for Women.

Dr. Evelyn Milam, a WTSU graduate who now is president of Cottey College in Nevada, Mo., will speak on "A New Decade: Enter Women of the '80s." Members of the auxiliary of Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum on the campus of WTSU will host a coffee for Dr. Milam and the award nominees at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in the museum.

A slide show featuring the WTSU Child Care Center and other exhibits will be available for viewing in the East Dining Hall before the luncheon.

Ruth Cross, retired WTSU dean of women, and Lennie Sims, a WTSU regent from Wellington, are co-chairpersons of the luncheon. Honorary chairpersons are Gene Alice Sherman, whose husband Max is WTSU president, and Helen Shannon, whose husband Gail is WTSU executive vice-president.

Dr. Gail Shannon will introduce the nominees and Helen Shannon will introduce the speaker. President Sherman and Sims will present the awards. The WTSU Music Dept. will provide entertainment for the luncheon.

Tickets for the luncheon are $6 and may be obtained in advance from the WTSU Office of Programs for Women.

Auxiliary sets awards brunch

Jack Newsom, Plains Memorial Hospital administrator, spoke to the Hospital Auxiliary last Wednesday on the hospital's needs.

Newsom also gave some interesting facts on the hospital at the meeting. The new copy machine is now in use at the hospital, and the new medication cart has been ordered.

Repairs have been made on all hospital TV remote controls. A deposit is now being required on all remote controls due to the number lost in the past. The deposit is refunded upon dismissal.

Members discussed the subject of delegates to the state convention in Houston May 25 through 28, and scheduled the awards brunch for May 14.

The Plains Memorial Hospital Auxiliary is open to all women interested in becoming members.

Homemakers to name 'Woman of Year' today

The County Extension Homemakers Council will announce its "Woman of the Year" at the annual spring luncheon at 12 noon today (Thursday) at the Exposition Building.

Nominees for the "Woman of the Year" award are Edith Graef and Oneida Hutto.

$300 scholarships will be awarded to a boy and girl. Five applications have been submitted for that award.

Each club will give a report on the past year's activities. The awards luncheon is open to all interested persons.

'Save Buffalo Lake' meeting set Tuesday

Panhandle residents are planning to make a strong appeal to save Buffalo Lake when the Fish & Wildlife Service holds a public report meeting in Canyon Tuesday night.

Fish and Wildlife officials have indicated they will discuss alternatives concerning the lake and its dam and wildlife refuge.

The hearing will begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Room 101 of the West Texas State University Science Building.

"We desperately need a good turnout at this meeting," Jim Steiert of Hereford said. "We stand to lose the lake if we don't."

The Fish & Wildlife Service has indicated that the dam may be breached and the refuge done away with, despite the lake's popularity with Panhandle residents.

The Save Buffalo Lake Committee, an organization of Panhandle residents who are fighting to preserve the dam and refuge, is urging a large turnout and pleading for an orderly meeting.

A citizen panel from the Save Buffalo Lake Committee will be at Tuesday night's meeting to represent area views concerning the importance of the lake for water conservation, downstream flood protection, recreation and wildlife habitat. Members of the panel are Kenneth Land and Rick Wilcox of Canyon, Joel Goucher of Amarillo, and Steiert of Hereford.

"We've had word from the offices of Jack Hightower and Kent Hance that they'll both have representatives at this meeting, and there will be state officials there also," Steiert said. "But we need as many people of the Panhandle area as we can get."

More than 25,000 Panhandle residents have signed petitions calling for the lake to be saved.

Steiert said the 25,000 signatures on the petitions "turned it around from just a report meeting to a second look by the Fish & Wildlife Service in a matter of two or three weeks."

Tentative plans are for the meeting to be moderated by WTSU President Max Sherman, Steiert said.

Meet the Candidates forum set April 25

"Meet the Candidates," a question-and-answer forum for the six county sheriff candidates, will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. Friday, April 25, in the Dimmitt High School auditorium. The forum is sponsored by the Castro County Farm Bureau.

Each candidate has been sent a letter outlining the topics which the forum committee would like to have the candidates consider.

From the list of topics, the committee will formulate six or more questions for all candidates to answer during the two-hour forum. Each candidate will have a maximum of 1½ minutes per answer, and a time-keeper will be on duty.

Candidates will draw for rotation order, so that each man will be first respondent to at least one question.

Each candidate will have five minutes to introduce himself and present his qualifications and desire for office before the questioning starts. The six sheriff candidates are Ronnie Ballew, Donald Carmichael, Cowboy Johnson, Joe Ben Mitchell, Santos Perez and Lonny Rhynes.

The Farm Bureau does not intend to endorse any candidate before or after the forum. No questions from the audience will be allowed. However, those attending will be invited to remain after the forum to talk with the candidates individually.

An out-of-county moderator will ask the questions provided by the forum committee.

Business Crusade kicks off

Jerry Marvin hosted a Business Crusade kickoff coffee Monday morning at the Colonial Inn for the 1980 Cancer Crusade.

Marvin, who is heading up the Business Crusade this year for Dimmitt, said the business goal for 1980 is $1,800. The total Castro County Crusade goal is $9,000.

Volunteers will be calling on local businesses asking for contributions, support and cooperation in this year's campaign.

Others attending the meeting to help kick off and supervise the business drive were Keith Mussett, George Howell, Mickey Bishop, Gwyn Buckley, Lois Wales, Ina Cleavinger, Steve McCord and George Lamberth.

George Lamberth reported that the Residential Crusade would pass the halfway point in canvassing by Thursday of this week.
