PAUL KAHN of Washington, D.C., director of the Multiple Housing and Support Organization for the Farmers Home Administration, accuses board members of Castro County Housing Authority of continued block-leasing of apartments and mismanagement of the Agricultural Housing Project in a

manager of the housing project. Others seated are officials of the FmHA state office. Kahn leveled his charges at the Housing Authority board after meeting earlier in the day with attorneys for Texas Rural Legal Aid, Inc.

Project faces bankruptcy

Housing Authority's woes mount

By ADELIN RUSH

Board members of the beleaguered Castro County Housing Authority—which is faced with bankruptcy within three months—met Monday night with Farmers Home Administration representatives to try to work out their difficulties.

In addition to its financial woes, the Housing Authority is faced with a class-action lawsuit filed by Texas Rural Legal Aid, Inc., and court injunctions that make it difficult to collect rents or evict tenants for non-payment.

Board members went into Monday night's meeting hoping that the state and federal FmHA officials who converged here could show them some path through their maze of troubles.

But the lengthy meeting only added to the frustrations of the board in its battle with the layers of red tape and regulations under which the directors feel they are "drowning."

Paul Kahn of Washington, DC, director of the FmHA's Multiple Housing and Support Organization, told the board that serious accusations had been made against the Housing Authority, and that FmHA wanted to know how the problems would be resolved.

Kahn—who had met with TRLA attorneys earlier in the day—said the problem areas concern block leasing, maintenance, project delinquencies and record keeping. FmHA wants plans from the board, he said.

Housing Authority Board President Allan Webb reported that the board has been working since July to solve the problems and has engaged Neil Larimore as a consultant. Larimore from Olney, is president of the Rural Rental Housing Authority of Texas and has 22 years' experience in the field of migrant housing.

Larimore has drawn up a management plan, Webb said, and the board hopes to implement it by April 1.

The present manager of the huge Agricultural Housing Project, Fred Moulton, will resign at the end of March and the board is currently seeking a qualified successor. Three applications have been received but no one has been employed yet, Webb said.

Board member Truman Touchstone said, "There has been no block leasing since July, and if TRLA tells you there is, they are just trying to trick us."

Rayhard Smithson, also a board member, told the FmHA representatives that the housing project has been a good thing for the farm workers.

"A man comes to me looking for a job. I say, go to Fred (Moulton) and get a house and I'll give you a job. I call Fred and tell him I'll pay for his house, I loan the man money to buy groceries—then TRLA says we're block leasing," Smithson said.

Kahn asked the board why the policy of block leasing had been continued from 1974 until 1979 when it was in violation of regulations.

"It was the only way we could keep the project in the black and keep the rent low for the tenants," Webb said.

Higher utility costs and lower occupancy rates since the end of block leasing, combined with the restraining order on evictions, has lowered income, Larimore said. With only 34% occupancy in February, utility bills averaged $82 per tenant. If a tenant was paying $85 rent, the housing authority was making $3; those paying less than $82 were costing the project money, he said.

The big housing project here was the first of its kind constructed under FmHA auspices and there are some inherent design flaws which contribute to local problems. Each building is centrally heated, so an entire building must be heated if only one apartment is occupied. Also, the FmHA learned too late that migrant workers dislike "high rise" units, which are contributing to low occupancy rates. Housing projects built after the local one are all single-level structures.

The project must have additional financial assistance to be economically viable, Larimore told FmHA.

"We are within three or four months of Doomsday," he said. "We would hope that TRLA would be concerned with helping us solve our problems rather than giving us all this flak," Larimore said.

Kahn said one of the concerns expressed by TRLA was that the board was made up entirely of "grower interests," and that the TRLA feels the issues cannot be resolved with this board make-up.

County Attorney Jimmy Davis said the Castro County Commissioners' Court will not appoint anyone to the board who doesn't have experience and good business sense.

"Some of the people who asked to be appointed to the board were the ones who had just sued the county," he said.

Webb said that since the inception of the Housing Authority there have been bankers, lawyers, grocers and others on the board, but all have resigned due to lack of interest.

Another charge made by Kahn was that some rents in the past had been collected "under the table" and not "put through the system."

Larimore admitted that internal control of finances had been poor, but not under the table.

"If we get the right man for the manager, the books should be in shape by June 1," he said.

"The board wants to adopt the new management plan and bring the facility up to standards, but even a rent increase will not solve the financial problems," Larimore said. "It will meet the law, but we cannot keep the project above water without additional financial help."

Estimated cost of repairs to meet standards set by the Texas Dept. of Health is $114,000. Health Dept. representatives said that these repairs did not all have to be made at once, but that one building at a time could be brought up to standards, with the hope that all would be completed by September—the beginning of the peak occupancy period.

Kahn questioned the competence of the board in allowing the housing project to get so far behind in maintenance and into financial difficulty.

Touchstone replied, "The board hasn't been negligent. We've done the best we could with the money available."

"There have been four different FmHA county supervisors in a short span of time," Webb said, "and they have all they could do with farm loans. They haven't given us any advice, and haven't even attended our board meetings."

The board has continually sought guidance from FmHA, but its requests have gotten no response, Webb said.

Five items were presented to the board by FmHA in response to the board's question, "Where do we go from here?"

FmHA will not authorize another rent increase at this time. There has been no action taken on the rent increase requested in September 1978 and already implemented by the board. FmHA will try to approve the current rates, but may require the Housing Authority to repay rent increases collected before the rate was approved.

Board members asked why the Housing Authority had received no response from FmHA on the request for a rent increase. Apparently the request got lost.

FmHA does not favor additional funding at this time.

At this time, FmHA does not feel inclined to allow the Housing Authority to change eligibility requirements for residents. At the end of the harvest season this might be a viable alternative to generate higher occupancy of the buildings.

The accusations of TRLA and the information gained from the Housing Authority board do not match. FmHA needs more facts and figures to make decisions for the future.

The composition of the board is in violation of FmHA guidelines. Action is necessary to give the board a broader base.

The main thrust of TRLA's charges is to force a change in [See HOUSING, Page 12]

Exports are up—despite embargo

Exports of US feed grains in 1980—especially Texas corn, wheat and milo—are expected to top those of 1979 despite the federal embargo on the sale of grain to Russia.

Growing exports to other countries, principally Mexico, will more than take up the slack brought about by the embargo.

Texas Corn Growers Association President Carl King and Fred Bruegel Jr., president of the Texas Grain and Feed Association, along with Texas Commissioner of Agriculture Reagan Brown and representatives of wheat, peanut, grain sorghum and soybean producers, have just returned from a trip to Mexico to discuss future grain trades.

"We feel we established a good foundation for future negotiations," King said, "and we were cordially and warmly received by representatives of the Mexican government."

The group met with the Mexican Secretary of Commerce—the No. 2 man to the President of Mexico, and the man political observers think may be the next president, Bruegel said.

Meetings also were held with Conosupo, the agency working directly under the Dept. of Commerce in the Mexican government, with US Embassy officials, and with the heads of Mexican railroads.

Forty percent of Mexico's imported grain is transported by rail, but Mexico has a shortage of locomotives.

An agreement with the US government allows some locomotives from the US to go into Mexico to expedite the transport of grains.

Estimates by Mexican officials indicate 1980-81 imports of US feed grains will include at least 3.4 million metric tons above the 7.4 million metric tons already contracted.

Mexico's corn imports will be up 1 1/2 to two million metric tons in 1980, King predicted, and at least 90 percent of this will be US corn.

At present, Mexico is importing 700,000 tons of feed grain per month, 90 percent of which is US grain, Bruegel said.

"Mexico likes our yellow corn for feeding cattle," King said. "However, the largest demand is for white food-grade corn to make tortillas." White corn is more expensive to produce and more likely to lodge than other varieties, so local farmers don't like to grow it, King said. But with the possibility of $10 per bushel by 1981 for corn to be exported to Mexico, white corn might become a more attractive crop for area growers.

A good trade relationship with Mexico will also benefit political relations between the two countries, King said, and the preliminary talks with the Mexican government will be followed by future contacts by the Texas Dept. of Agriculture and commodity group representatives.

Day-care center planned for children of migrants

The Castro County Commissioners' Court heard plans for a day-care center for the children of migrant workers at its Monday meeting.

Maye Constancio, district supervisor for the Texas Migrant Council, explained to commissioners that the center would be federally funded and operated under the Dept. of Human Resources.

During its summer program, the center would provide day care for children from infants to age 6, and during the school year children below school age.

Rick Peters, county child welfare officer, said, "The aim of the program is to take the kids out of the fields and to educate them."

Mrs. Constancio said the day-care center will help prepare the children for the public schools and will also allow their mothers to seek employment and get off the welfare rolls.

The Texas Migrant Council is contemplating the purchase of the old Catholic Church on East Bedford Street as a site for the center.

The center must meet minimum standards for licensing, and the number of children who could be served would be contingent upon the facilities.

Priority will be given to the children of "mobile migrants," and next, to children of migrants who live in the area.

If space permits, the children of other persons in the county who meet the poverty guidelines would be admitted. Transportation will be provided by the center.

Mrs. Constancio told commissioners she was merely informing them of the plans and asking their approval of the project, although there would be no legal liability or financial aid required of the county.

But the commissioners—who are "gun shy" from their recent bouts in federal court—requested an agreement be drawn up by County Attorney Jimmy Davis and signed by the Texas Migrant Council and the county court to put in writing that the commissioners' court would not be liable, either legally or financially for any part of the program.

Volunteer members of the Child Welfare Board—Angela Acker, Carleta Harkins and Irene Wilhelm—were also present at the meeting to urge support of the project.

The Easter Opry Road Show will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Dimmitt High School auditorium.

The Opry is being sponsored by the Dimmitt Kiwanis Club to raise funds for the Matt Howell Medical Fund.

Zelda Ellison will be among the special entertainment featured at the Road Show.

Jim Tucker of Radio Station KPAN in Hereford will be the master of ceremonies.

Other musical entertainment will include the Country Four, the Flatland Bluegrass Band and the Bob Stice Quartet.

Donations to the fund will be accepted at the door in lieu of a fixed admission charge.

Howell lost his left arm in a farm accident Jan. 2, but the severed arm was re-attached in a unique operation at Highland Hospital in Lubbock. The arm re-attachment was a success, although his fingers and part of his hand had to be amputated last week. Except for two brief visits home, the 19-year-old man has been hospitalized since Jan. 2.

Dimmitt to host junior high meet

Junior high boys and girls from six schools in Texas and New Mexico will compete Saturday in the annual Dimmitt Junior High Track Meet.

The meet will feature seventh and eighth grade girls' teams and seventh, eighth and ninth grade boys' teams from Friona, Littlefield, Lockney, Tulia, Clovis, Yucca and Dimmitt.

Field events will start at 9 a.m., and preliminaries in the running events will begin at 10. Finals in the running events will begin at 2 p.m.

Local coaches will conduct the meet, with members of the Dimmitt Kiwanis Club serving as starters, timers and judges.

'Fun Breakfast' will honor farmer, merchant

Bacon, eggs, biscuits and "lots of good, hot coffee" will be served to early risers who attend the Chamber of Commerce "Fun Breakfast" at 6:45 a.m. Tuesday at the Expo Building.

Growth and expansion awards will go to Killingsworth Builders Supply, Taylor and Son Food Store, The Surplus Store and the Dimmitt Dairy Queen, Delores Golden, Chamber of Commerce manager, said.

Tickets have been mailed to all members of the chamber Mrs. Golden said. If members are not going to use the tickets, the chamber requests that the tickets be returned to the chamber office.

Four hundred letters have been mailed to area farmers urging them to attend the "Fun Breakfast," she added.

Tickets for the breakfast may be obtained for $2.50 per person at the chamber office, First State Bank, and at the door Tuesday morning.

The oldest and newest established merchants and farmers will be honored.

Gift certificates valued at $25 each will be given to a non-member and a member in attendance.

Among the fun will be April Fool's Day jokes and games.

Jack Edwards will serve as master of ceremonies.

Co-op continues trial testimony

Attorneys James W. Witherspoon and Alioto & Alioto, representing Dimmitt Agri Industries, Inc., are still entering evidence, reading documents and depositions in Federal District Court in Amarillo in the $32 million antitrust suit against CPC International.

The suit charges CPC with conspiring to drive down the market price of corn starch and syrup, forcing the local co-op out of the corn milling business.

DAI Board President George Sides said DAI evidence should all be entered by the end of this week.

James R. Harsh, former president of the Dimmitt Management Co., which operated the plant for DAI, will present testimony in his personal damage suit against CPC, after all DAI evidence is entered.

CPC will then present its evidence and testimony, and this is expected to take at least a week.

Judge Mary Lou Robinson estimated at the beginning of the trial that the court action would probably take four to six weeks to complete. The case is being heard by a four-woman, two-man jury.

Egg hunt set April 5

An Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Dimmitt United Lions Club is set for 2:30 p.m. April 5 in the city park.

Children 1 through 4 will have a special hunt at the baseball diamond.

School to dismiss at 2:40 p.m. Friday

School will dismiss at 2:40 p.m. Friday for the convenience of students and teachers participating in the UIL district literary meet in Olton.

The UIL meet is scheduled to start at 3 p.m.

Vegetable planting underway

If you've been out driving around the countryside, you've probably noticed that crews from local vegetable packing firms have been busy planting mid-summer crops of potatoes, onions and carrots.

A spokesman from Lamantia, Collum, Collier & Co. Inc., said it has planted 650 acres of potatoes, 800 of onions and 150 of carrots so far this month, and the planting is still going on.

Dimco, Inc., and LCC have five crews planting onions at the present time.

The crops are expected to be harvested sometime in June or July.

Candidate statements still being accepted

Candidates for city and school board offices in the April 5 election are requested to submit statements to the News by noon Friday.

Each candidate's statement should be limited to one-half of a typewritten page double spaced, and will be printed without charge in the April 2 issue.

MANMADE

A man made this beautiful little waterfall and improved his part of a little stream that ran by his house. Another man on another stream threw trash in the water and let weeds grow up around it so that the beauty of the creek was obscured. Man fashions many things out of that which God has created. Beauty or ugliness can result from our decisions as to what we will do with divine raw materials. Dedication to God and the desire to emulate Him usually makes the difference in what we do with what God has provided. Let God find you in His church.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The player fee was decided upon at a recent meeting of Kids, Inc. The fee was made necessary because of the reduced funding received from the United Way this year.

The fee is to help offset expenses for uniforms and insurance.

Three cheers for the brave soul who requested a recipe for sofky (Indian Hominy): 1 quart of dry cracked corn 1 cup of ash lye 1 bucket of ashes (black jack)

First step is to wash and clean the corn of all the husks. This takes patience and lots of water. Like in the old-time method of making hominy, you put the dry corn in with the ashes and add water. After a while the ash water becomes like a lye solution and the corn husks wash off with repeated rinsing.

The third step is to make the afky. Afky is the ash water used to flavor the corn. You take the remainder of the ashes and put them in a cheese cloth or other cloth and pour boiling water through it. The resulting yellowish liquid is the afky.

Now you are ready to cook the corn. If you are a traditionalist, get your woman busy preparing the black pot over a fire in the back yard.

However, it's a lot easier to heat up the corn in a pot on the stove. As the corn is simmering, you add the afky. The corn turns a light brown.

When the corn is tender, it is ready to eat. You can dry the sofky and eat it in a bowl of milk like cereal, or you can put it in a crock and set it back until it sours. Most eat sofky sour. Why, I don't know, because it reminds me of spoiled pudding. As the corn cooks it gets a little thick and the liquid becomes like a porridge. This makes sofky rather unpalatable unless you like slimy-feeling yuck in your mouth.

Indians eat sofky with great gusto. Someone will really make a killing, though, when they show them cans of prepared hominy.

For Food Quality Corn, Top Quality Hybrids From Warner Seed Co.

W-2188 Medium A Proven Champion
 A medium maturity, single-cross, yellow hybrid with tremendous yield potential. W-2188 has strong stalks, with excellent standability and large, upright leaves. Big, long, full ears make for bigger yields. High head smut tolerance makes this hybrid an exceptionally good choice for farmers whose yields are subject to this disease. W-2188 dries well and harvest easily.

W-2190 Medium New Yellow Food Corn
 Although this new yellow, single-cross hybrid was introduced principally for its excellent milling characteristics, its bin-busting yields make it a terrific all-around hybrid. Flinty kernels with a desirable starch cap make it an ideal yellow corn for food processing. W-2190 outperforms W-2188 in two important areas: its low percentage of cracks and uniform dry-down.

W-2290 Medium New Yellow Food Corn
 Another great, new, yellow hybrid that compliments W-2190, to which it is related. W-2290 has good milling attributes and is ideal for processed food products. This is a high performance hybrid that responds well to intensive management. It's a truly modern hybrid for the modern corn producer. Field tests have shown that this hybrid can have as low as 5% cracks, a high consistency of quality and uniform dry-down - characteristics which make it the number one choice of food corn processors.

32WW Medium-Late White Food Corn
 This medium-late, modified single-cross, white corn is well suited for processed food products. Its big, girthy ears have medium-hard, deep kernels which have excellent milling properties. Outstanding yields are characteristic of this consistent performer.

4253W Medium-Late New White Food Corn
 Another excellent, fast-drying, white hybrid. Deep, medium hard, white kernels on a long ear with a small cob are features of this outstanding milling corn. This modified single-cross variety is quickly making friends wherever white corn is grown. It makes a great companion to 32WW.

CAN a sugar substitute "hold up" under heat? Heat changes some of them, such as saccharin, which becomes bitter with prolonged heating, says Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. However, granulated-type sugar substitutes tend to hold up better in cooking.

Jerry and Sherri Matthews have a new house five miles south of town on the Little-

Helping with host and hostess duties were Gary and Rhenea Webb, Jeff and Karen Robertson, Darrell and Beth Buckley, Rick and Suzie Bell, Dudley and Bobbie Wooten and maybe others.

Mrs. J. R. Matthews asks me to invite you to a bride's shower April 12, 10 to 11:30 in the home of Mrs. Jack Miller on Cleveland St. The bride-to-be is Pat Bandy. Groom-to-be is Cliff Parker, son of Ronnie and June Parker.

Davila went three days without catching anything before the drum started hitting and he made this haul, using crab for bait. He also caught some butterfly drum, flounder and red snapper.

Social Security in Castro County

By JANICE B. ULMER

How does a carry-over crop affect social security benefits? We hear this question regularly this time of the year. The answer varies with the individual situation. However, there are several general guidelines to follow.

First of all, if a farmer retires and rents out his land as of January 1, 1980, he can receive all his social security benefits for 1980, even with a carry-over crop that exceeds the earnings limit. A carry-over is considered earned income. However, it generally does not require "substantial services" in the year in which it is sold.

Social security defines "substantial services" for a self-employed person as activity in your business that exceeds 45 hours per month. Since a carry-over does not require work in the year of sale, the farmer is not performing "substantial services" and can receive all benefits if he meets two other requirements.

First, the year in question must be the first year the farmer is eligible for benefits. The 1977 Amendments to the Social Security Act limited this monthly rule to one year only — the farmer's first year of retirement.

Second, if the farmer does any other type of work he may not qualify for the monthly rule. For instance, if he takes a job and his earnings exceed one-twelfth of the annual limit for any month, he will not be eligible for a social security benefit that month.

In summary, a person may receive all of his benefits during his first year of retirement if he does not earn over one-twelfth the annual earnings limitation, nor renders substantial services if self-employed. The carry-over crop is the classic example of earned income that meets both criteria.

For more information call the Plainview office collect at 293-4371, or see the representative the first or third Thursday of the month at the Dimmitt courthouse.

Students at Hart and Nazareth will have an opportunity today to observe how fire can be man's best friend or his worst enemy. A special program will be presented at 9:45 a.m. today (Thursday) at Nazareth High School and at 1 p.m. at Hart High School.

The seven-part presentation will be given by Joe Smetana of Waco, safety director for the Texas Farm Bureau.

CRUSADE LEADERS—Again this year, women of the county are taking the lead in the Cancer Crusade. These women are in charge of organizing the Crusade and supervising workers in different parts of the county. From left are Ruth Bennett of Hart, who is in charge of the Hart area drive; Oleta Raper, who heads the drive in the Dimmitt residential areas; Doris Lindsey, Crusade public relations chairperson; Carleta Har-kins, Easter community chairperson; and Dorothy Guggemos, who heads the Crusade in Nazareth and the northeast quadrant of the county. Birthday calendar sales underway

Sales are now underway for the 1980-81 community birthday calendar for Dimmitt and Castro County.

The project is conducted by the County Extension Homemakers Council. Proceeds of the calendar sales go to the council's scholarship fund.

Listings of birthdays and anniversaries on the calendar cost $3 per family. The price includes a calendar, which will be delivered in June.

The calendar will run from July 1980 to June 1981.

In addition to listing birthdays and anniversaries, the community calendar also lists school events, sports events and club meeting dates.

The deadline for listing is April 17.

Anyone interested in buying a calendar and being listed may contact the County Extension Office at 647-4115 or any Extension Homemakers Club member.

Kiwanians stay busy

Dimmitt Kiwanians are busy this week planning for the Easter Opy, the weekend track meet, an April 3 election for the district lieutenant governor in Canyon, and a May 2 banquet in Hereford.

Janice B. Ulmer, social security representative from Plainview, spoke to the Kiwanis Club Monday on the status of Social Security.

Nine out of 10 workers in the US are earning protection under social security, she told Kiwanians.

Social security was enacted in 1935, but many changes have been made to improve the protection. SS is like life insurance, she said.

Means other than payroll deductions are being discussed for the future, she said. Rex Richardson was a guest at the Monday meeting.

Phillips family to lead Assembly of God revival

Revival services will begin on Palm Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church in Dimmitt, according to Monte Wike, pastor. The revival will go through Good Friday (April 4).

Sunday services will begin at 7 p.m. and weeknight services at 7:30.

The Phillips Family Singers, who have appeared before many high school and college groups, assemblies and commencements, will lead the revival.

The group consists of Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Phillips, Gail, Charlie, Gregg and Clayton Dean.

Their engagements have included concerts with the Blackwood Brothers, the Speers, Gov. Jimmie Davis, the Rambos, J.D. Sumner and the Stamps, and in the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tenn.

In 1979, Charles, a teenage son, began a television ministry consisting of prime-time specials as well as his weekly radio broadcast and his crusades. Clayton Dean and Charles have a cooperative ministry. Clayton Dean works alongside Charles in his crusades, and Charles works in the same manner in Clayton's crusades.

"The group has presented one of the best musical ministries I have ever heard," Wike said.

SEMINAR BOOKS—Gale Sadler, speaking to the Dimmitt Lions Club, shows the family workbook and the lecture outline booklet used in the Freeman Institute's American Heritage and Constitutional Study Course. Sadler and others who have taken the two-day seminar are working to bring the course here April 18 and 19, with a minimum of 100 families needed. The tuition fee of $35 per family enrolls all family members 12 and older, and pays the cost of the books. The course was formulated by Dr. W. Cleon Skousen, professor at Brigham Young University and former assistant director of the FBI.

Nazareth

HSA picks officers

By VIRGIE GERBER
Members of the Nazareth Home and School Association elected new officers at their meeting Monday night. They are Mona Acker, president; Beverly Hill, treasurer; and Mitzie Brockman, secretary. Congratulations to Bob and Teresa Birkenfeld on the birth of a baby girl. They have named her Sara Dawn.

The Tulia men's volleyball team and the Lazbuddie women's team won first place in the Nazareth Volleyball Tournament held this past week, sponsored by the Nazareth Lions Club.

Arthur Kleman of Tulia is recuperating from surgery at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

A number of friends and relatives went to Lubbock Monday morning for the funeral of Bill Burnett. Our sympathy goes to his daughter, Becky Burnett Birkenfeld, and Gerald.

Congratulations to Danny and Karen Gerber on the birth of a baby girl Saturday. They have named her K'Lynn Rose. On Sunday the baby was taken to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo for several days' treatment.

The Nazareth Sisters enjoyed a weekend retreat at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo. Sisters from all over the Diocese of Amarillo attended. On Friday evening, Paul and Lillian Venhaus and grandson, Jeremy Hutson, drove to Shallowater to visit with Smitty and Annalene Lane and their daughter, Danene. They then went to Hobbs to visit with their son.

County's officials tour jail

Members of the Commissioners' Court toured the county jail Monday during their regular meeting to examine changes recommended by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards.

Main change required by the state is the addition of a steel door in the corridor to place the booking room within the security area. This door will be electrically operated from the dispatcher's office.

Also necessary is the addition of steel bars to the rear exit door of the jail, the posting of additional exit signs (which has already been done), and a day room for women prisoners.

County Attorney Jimmy Davis told the court that no challenges to the redrawn precinct lines had yet been received. If there are none, it is probable that Judge Mary Lou Robinson would hand down her final decision in the class-action suit by Wednesday afternoon, Davis said.

The suit, filed against the county and its officers by TRLA, required the county to redraw precinct lines to meet the one-man, one-vote guidelines.

Mrs. Doug Martin of Hart was appointed to the Library Board to replace Linda McLain, who has resigned.

plant 'em both

This hybrid's record for consistency has made it one of the most popular hybrids on the High Plains. In 77 comparisons over the last four years against competitive hybrids, 3184 has shown an average yield of 183.7 bu./A. with a yield advantage of 14.3 bu./A. over competitors. Bred with outstanding drought tolerance, 3184 can adjust ear size and kernel depth to match growing conditions. And strong stalks keep 3184 standing straight for speedy harvest. It's just what High Plains farmers need in a dependable, high-yielding corn hybrid. And its maturity makes it a good companion for 3183.

Push this one for highest yields! In 43 comparisons on the High Plains in 1979, this hybrid averaged 192.1 bu./A. A sampling of yields from 1979 includes 216 bu./A. for Sheldon Rapp at Hooker, Oklahoma . . . 210.4 bu./A. for Larry Kemp of Muleshoe . . . and 196.7 bu./A. for Doyle Underwood at Dimmitt, Texas. 3183 has demonstrated very good standability and ear retention in this area. Excellent drought tolerance helps 3183 maintain outstanding consistency year after year. And it has been especially impressive on gray soils. Plant 3183 along with 3184. Spread genetic risks and get top performance, too.

Census workers are needed here

The US Census Bureau needs local workers for the upcoming census, which begins April 1.

The Bureau of the Census wants to achieve the most complete and accurate census possible and is trying to recruit a large number of qualified individuals. Census takers must be able to follow printed instructions, do simple arithmetic and read maps. They will be tested for these capabilities before hiring.

Applicants should be able to walk a considerable amount, climb stairs and have good eyesight and hearing. They should have a home telephone, and field workers must have their own vehicles.

Pay scale for Census workers ranges from $3.55 to $4.55 per hour, plus mileage for field workers. The census project is expected to last until late July or early August.

Applications can be made by calling 1-335-1656 or writing the Amarillo District Office, Bureau of the Census, Box 11094, Amarillo, 79111.

Mayor urges 'full count'

Dimmitt Mayor Elmer Youts issued a proclamation this week urging all residents to cooperate in the Twentieth Decennial Census, which will be conducted beginning Tuesday.

"The information collected in the Census serves many useful purposes, among which are apportionment of representation in Congress and other legislative bodies, measurement of the economic well-being of communities and their inhabitants, allotment of certain federal and state tax revenues and other financial aid to states, determination of future needs for public services, and numerous other useful purposes," the Mayor said in his proclamation.

The accuracy and completeness of the Census for the City of Dimmitt and Castro County will determine its population rank among other communities of the country, the mayor added.

He urged all citizens to cooperate fully with Census enumerators.

"It is especially important that everyone who lives in our area be counted in the Census because our governmental representation at the state and federal levels—all up and down the line—is based on the figures that will come from this Census," Youts said.

SS representative sets April dates

Janice B. Ulmer, representative of the Social Security Administration, will be at the Dimmitt Courthouse from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, Thursday April 3 and 17.

THE first melons and cantaloupes grown in the US were germinated from seeds brought over from Tripoli.

The office will schedule individuals for testing to determine if they are qualified for Census work. Census teams will fan out the night of April 7 searching for people in this area who have no fixed addresses, Bill Soule, manager of the 1980 Census office for this area, said.

Crew leaders will take their teams into charity-type missions, all-night theaters, hotels, bus stations, parks, campsites, motor-home overnight parks, and other places where "floaters" are likely to be found. This is in an effort to see that no one is missed in the 1980 Census of Population and Housing.

"It is essential to find every address or no, everybody counts in our society."

"It is especially important to find everyone who may be in trouble. We have to know what kinds of problems the people face in each area. Our society makes substantial sacrifices to help those who need help of one kind or another. It would be tragic if we couldn't direct that help to those areas that most need it," Soule said.

No one has anything to fear by answering the Census questions, as the Census Bureau does not divulge information about a particular individual, family or household, Soule said.

"We're the nation's fact-finder, but the only facts we reveal are totals, averages, percentages and trends—figures in which no one can be identified," he said.

Police calls New filing date passes

A Dimmitt teenager was turned over to juvenile authorities Tuesday morning after he attempted to pass a $150 check at Taylor & Son Food Store.

Two hubcaps valued at $60 were reportedly taken Tuesday from a 1980 vehicle belonging to E. R. Waggoner. The case is still under investigation.

Dimmitt police were called to C&S Equipment Co. Saturday to investigate vandalism. The front plate-glass window appeared to have been shot by a .22 caliber weapon, police said. Estimated value of the window is $225.

More than 100 gallons of gasoline was reportedly taken from a key pump at Western Vegetables last Thursday. The case is still under investigation.

Harley Dodd told police that on two separate nights last week someone broke into key pumps at his Gulf service station and took gas.

The extended deadline for candidates to file for county commissioner from Precincts 1 and 3 was 6 p.m. Wednesday. No candidates had filed by presstime Wednesday.

The deadline was extended by Federal Judge Mary Lou Robinson following the compromise agreement between the County Commissioners' Court and Texas Rural Legal Aid, Inc. to redraw county precinct lines.

In Judge Robinson's court order, citizens also had until Wednesday to file any legal objections to the redrawn lines, but so far none have been filed.

Absentee voting for the May 3 primary election will be held between April 14 and April 29.

Rev. and Mrs. Jim Jones

New Nazarene pastor served 'Ike' as Marine

Rev. and Mrs. Jim Jones have accepted the pastorate at Dimmitt's Church of the Nazarene. Rev. Jones conducted his first service here Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Jones came to Dimmitt from Lubbock. He previously held pastorates in North Carolina, California and Oklahoma.

Having served 22 years in the US Marine Corps, Rev. Jones was on the crew of the presidential helicopter for 4½ years in Washington, D.C., while Eisenhower was President.

He served two tours of duty in Vietnam with Marine Air Group 16.

When he retired from active duty in October 1973, he received the Navy Commendation Medal. He also received many other medals during his 22 years of active duty.

While in the USMC, he served as the Protestant lay leader of most squadrons he was with. He retired as a master sergeant.

He is also a certified GM service technician, and Mrs. Jones has had 20 years' experience in automotive book-keeping.

Born and raised at Marion, Va., Rev. Jones attended Murray State College at Tishomingo, Okla., and Southeastern Oklahoma State University at Durant.

He plays the accordion and guitar, which he uses in his services regularly.

Mrs. Jones, who was born in Pecos and raised in Hobbs, N.M., plays the piano and the organ and is a soloist. The Joneses sing duets occasionally.

They have four children—Janece, 25, who is in the US Navy at Barking Sands, Hawaii; Ernest, 21, assistant manager of a 7-11 Store in Lubbock; Gayla, 19, who is with US Army intelligence at Ft. Devens, Mass.; and DeDee, 8, who is in the third grade.

"We're looking forward to serving the church here and working with the people of the town," Rev. Jones said.

TRLA being investigated

At the request of Congressman Kent Hance, an official of the Legal Services Corp. in Washington, D.C., is in the area today (Thursday) to review the activities of Texas Rural Legal Aid, Inc.

Dan Bradley of the Legal Services Corp.—parent organization of the TRLA—is scheduled to meet with TRLA attorneys and Deaf Smith County officials in Hereford this morning (Thursday). After the Hereford meetings, he is to meet at noon with Dimmitt attorneys.

The only meeting open to the public, though, will be a press conference which is scheduled for 4 p.m. today in Hereford.

Purpose of the TRLA is to provide legal services to people who do not have access to attorneys—specifically, people who meet federal poverty guidelines. But Hance, in calling for the investigation, claimed that the TRLA's activities in Deaf Smith and Castro Counties is "creating a circus atmosphere."

The TRLA has filed class-action suits against the Castro County Commissioners' court.

The TRLA has filed class-action suits against the Castro County Housing Authority, Castro County Hospital District, Castro County Commissioners' court, the county's political party chairmen, the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office and individual farmers and businessmen in the area.

The TRLA's actions have gained statewide publicity—and have spurred a backlash in the two counties.

Resolutions that call for cutting off funds for TRLA have been adopted by the Commissioners' Courts of Castro and Deaf Smith Counties, the West Texas County Judges' and Commissioners' Association and the Texas Corn Growers Association.

The resolutions charge that "the benefits available and services rendered by TRLA are a gross misuse of tax money and detrimental to the wellbeing of taxpayers."

Copies of the resolutions are being forwarded to members of Congress.

Individual citizens are also signing petitions asking for the end of funding for TRLA. The petitions, originated by Carl King of Dimmitt and Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson, claim that the federally funded office is using taxpayers' money to represent illegal aliens.

'Fire fund' campaign for Girlstown starts

Local Lions clubs are spearheading a drive to provide money, clothing, meat and other items to the Borger campus of Girlstown USA, which suffered a $200,000 fire loss Friday.

The Easter Lions Club voted Monday night to donate $500 to the drive. The Dimmitt Lions Club chipped in $200 Tuesday and opened a special fund at the First State Bank. And Zone Chairman John Brooks of Dimmitt is working with other Lions Clubs in Castro and Parmer Counties to coordinate the campaign.

Friday night's fire destroyed the administration building on the Girlstown Borger campus. Lost in the costly blaze were all the girls' summer clothing, a large freezer, 600 pounds of frozen beef and pork, 14 years of records, a copy machine, an addressing machine, office equipment and supplies, and all the girls' spending money.

"The fire couldn't have come at a worse time," Brooks said, "because plans were being made to build a new administration building at the Borger campus to replace this one. Now those plans have gone out the window because of this fire."

Neither the building nor its contents were insured, Brooks said. "The most pressing need right now is cold, hard cash, because with the money they can buy replacement items that probably won't be donated," Brooks said.

Anyone wishing to donate money may do so through the First State Bank. Checks should be made payable to Girlstown Fire Fund.

James Dobbs of the Easter Lions Club said summer clothing for girls 6 and older also is needed badly.

The Senior Citizens of Castro County, Inc., have agreed to make the Senior Citizens Center in Dimmitt the collection point for donated clothing. Anyone with clothing to give may take it to the Senior Citizens Center anytime during open hours.

"The girls also are going to need beef and pork to replace the meat they lost, so any donations from local growers would be appreciated," Brooks said. "The Friona Lions Club has already located a freezer to replace the one that was lost."

Such items as envelopes, plain stationery and other "everyday things" also can be used, Brooks said.

"If anyone has anything at all to donate—it would really be appreciated," Brooks said.

Quiett-Woodard vows exchanged

Cynthia Ann Quiett and Robert Darrell Woodard exchanged wedding vows in an evening ceremony Saturday in the First United Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Howard Quiett, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodard of Vernon.

Rev. Howard Quiett, father of the bride, and Rev. H. O. Abbott officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The altar table was flanked by two seven-branched candelabra decorated with greenery and ribbon. Two baskets of cut flowers also accented the altar area.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length dress with a chapel length train in candlelight bridal qiana. The scoop neck, Empire bodice and long fitted sleeves were trimmed in antique lace. The fingertip illusion veil, also trimmed in antique lace, fell from a band of matching lace. She carried a cascade of white roses and daisies on a white bridal Bible.

Cindy Rucker of San Angelo, friend of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and Missy Quiett, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length dresses of light blue polyester crepe with scoop necklines, short puffed sleeves and wide belts trimmed in baby blue ribbon. They carried nosegays of blue and white daisies and baby's-breath with navy blue ribbon.

Reggie Quiett, brother of the bride, acted as best man and Max Gabler of Vernon, a friend of the groom, served as groomsman.

Shelly McNair of El Paso, cousin of the bride, was the candlelighter. Roy Woodard of Vernon, brother of the groom, and Tim McNair of El Paso, cousin of the bride, served as ushers.

Janie Springstead of El Paso, aunt of the bride, sang "Wedding Song" and "The Lords Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Bill Clark, pianist.

A reception followed in the church's Lamar Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth and decorated with a crystal punch bowl, three-tiered wedding cake and a three-branched silver candelabra and the bouquets of the bride and the attendants.

Out of town members of the houseparty were Vickie Rakestraw of Dallas, Tina Rodriguez of Wichita Falls, Ann Morehead and Trendy Sharp of Abilene and Mrs. Max Gabler of Vernon.

The couple are honeymooning in El Paso, and will be at home in Vernon after March 29.

The bride's traveling attire was a light blue dress and jacket accented with ivory accessories. Her corsage was taken from the bridal bouquet.

The bride has been a substitute teacher in Dimmitt schools since January. She is a December 1979 graduate of McMurry College and is a 1976 graduate of Quanah High School. The groom is employed by E. W. Moran Drilling Co. of Wichita Falls and is a 1974 graduate of Vernon High School.

Management is key for working woman

By TERESA CRISWELL
County Extension Agent

If you are an employed woman, you are a part of the 35 million women under age 55 who are a part of the labor force. Surviving in your multiple roles of employee or employer, mother, wife, and citizen, can be difficult.

You can survive in your many roles by following some simple management procedures if you can put aside some ideas which are hindering the management process (habits).

Learn to set goals, both short and long range goals. Write them down. Refer to them periodically. Plan activities which will help achieve goals.

Set priorities that will be most beneficial toward reaching a goal. Make a "to do" list every day. Prioritize the list. Work on those items of most importance. Plan time to do work and time to relax. A recharged battery operates better than a drained battery.

We've all heard "The best way to get a job done is to do it yourself," but everyone has their limitations. Learn to delegate jobs and then forget about it.

"We work best under pressure." Accepting this myth may be our way of justifying procrastination. Pressure increases the odds of making mistakes.

Murphy's law states:
- Nothing is as easy as it looks.

- Everything takes longer than you expect.

- If anything will go wrong, it will be at the worst possible moment.

Solution:
- Plan ahead.

- Keep the deadline in mind, and arrange a time schedule for completing the task on time. Do one step at a time.

Keys to effective personal management include:

1. Set priorities.
 2. Check your time clock.
- Plan your activities when you are at your best for the type of activity.

3. Learn to delegate.
4. Schedule activities.

Fruit tree management program set

A program on fruit tree and orchard management will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the assembly room of the courthouse, according to County Agent Charles Hottel.

Dr. George McEachern, Extension Service horticulturist, will be on hand to discuss all phases of growing fruit trees including varieties, cultural practices and general care.

To discuss the insect control program will be Dr. Jim Leser, area entomologist. Dr. Robert Berry, plant pathologist, will discuss diseases of fruit trees.

The program is designed both for homeowners with only a few trees in their back yards or persons with orchards, Hottel said, and should last about two hours.
