Men like these are testing your car

Types of the engineers at General Motors Proving Ground who are working for you. Drawn from a photograph. They are shown examining a specially devised instrument for measuring clutch pedal pressure.

It used to be the custom for a man who wanted to buy a car to take a mechanic with him.

Today, General Motors itself employs skilled automotive engineers to make it easy for you to select your new car. These men are working for you at its Proving Ground—the 1268-acre outdoor laboratory in Michigan where every kind of car is tested.

Before any General Motors car goes into production, a fleet of advance models is constructed and sent to the Proving Ground. There these advance cars must meet every test—tests far harder than you would make. Sometimes they are rebuilt, redesigned, retested many times until they are pronounced right, and ready to be put into production.

The tests involve speed, power, endurance, braking, riding comfort, handling ease; fuel and oil economy; body strength and safety—every phase of car construction and performance.

Buying a car is easy today—because these men at the Proving Ground are working for you to assure you of value when you select a General Motors car.

Girl's Dad Halts Wedding While He Looks Groom Over

TEXARKANA, Oct. 10.—Arriving here by train from Mount Vernon, Texas, Friday morning, Leo Dickerson and Miss Thelma Lange went to the Arkansas side courthouse and asked for a marriage license, the youth giving his age as 20 and the girl's as 18.

County Clerk Elkins had started to issue the license when the telephone rang in the next room. He went to answer. Two minutes later he returned and told the anxious couple he would be unable to accommodate them; that the telephone call was from E. A. Lange, the girl's father, at Mount Vernon, and he had forbidden the issuance of the license, advising that his daughter was only 16. Mr. Lange also asked that the sheriff detain the couple until he could reach Texarkana by automobile in the afternoon.

Two hours later the girl's father appeared at the courthouse and confronted his would-be son-in-law, whom it transpired he had never seen.

"But I talked to your wife about the marriage," said the youth; "and she did not object, and I thought that was sufficient."

"But you did not talk to me about it," exclaimed Mr. Lange. "Why didn't you ask me?"

Looking the elder man in the face, the youth replied: "To be perfectly honest with you, sir, I was afraid you would object, I thought the safest plan would be to wait and talk to you about it after the wedding."

Mr. Lange was silent for a few seconds, and then gave the youth another searching look.

"I guess you'll do; but I didn't want any man for a son-in-law until I knew what he looks like," he said. Then turning to Clerk Elkins, he continued: "I guess it's all right. You can go ahead and issue the license. I'll sign bond."

And five minutes later, after a justice of the Peace had pronounced them husband and wife, the couple limed into Mr. Lange's automobile and with him at the steering wheel, started back to Mount Vernon. First, however, another telephone message advised Mrs. Lange that her daughter and new son-in-law would eat their wedding supper at her house.

Mrs. A. A. Brown and children, Ames, Kenneth and Mary, and Mrs. J. Leeth spent Sunday in Fairy in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burden. Mr. and Mrs. Burden have a new home at Fairy which was completed this week. They will move into it at an early date.

SARGON SALES TOTAL MILLIONS

If you were told that literally thousands of well known men and women had stated publicly that a single medicine had relieved them of health troubles after all other medicines and treatments had apparently failed—it would sound impossible, wouldn't it?

Yet, that is Sargon's wonderful record.

So great has become the demand for Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills that the Sargon Laboratory has been forced to increase its capacity from 8,000 to 45,000 bottles daily.

"Phenomenal and bewildering," is the way one of the big drug jobbers of the country describes the marvelous demand.

One big New York firm, with wholesale branches in leading cities, is selling at the rate of more than one million bottles a year—or to be exact, 908,184 bottles in the past eight months.

Introduced in California in April of this year, the people of this State alone are now using it at the rate of more than one million bottles per year, or an average of one bottle for every family in the State; and so it is everywhere.

Why this enormous and ever-increasing demand for Sargon?

The answer is this: Sargon is a new kind of medicine. It is different from any other medicine you have ever taken because it is based on new and remarkable discoveries in the field of modern medicine which have completely overturned many old moss-grown theories we have known for a life-time.

That is why people everywhere are looking on Sargon as the one great outstanding health-giving remedy of the age. No wonder it is called the medicine with a million friends. Porter's Drug Store, Agent.

TEXAS LICENSE PLATES FOR 1930 ARE BLUE ON YELLOW

Washington.—Thirty-one states will change the color combination for automobile license plates, in 1930 and sixteen different motifs will be used throughout the country, indicating that there is a tendency on the part of the states to standardize the color schemes, according to a survey of the American Automobile Association. Texas plates will be blue on yellow.

Cisco Asks Judge Wilson to Appoint Receiver for City

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 10.—In a letter written from Amarillo, Federal Judge James C. Wilson informed Mrs. Ida James, clerk of the court at Abilene, that the city of Cisco had asked him to place it in receivership.

In the letter Judge Wilson said that certain plaintiffs have "filed a suit against the city of Cisco, and the city of Cisco, through its attorneys, asked me here (Amarillo) to appoint a receiver, but I told them that on account of the importance of the matter and the far-reaching effect of it that I would not do so without a hearing, and set it for the first day of the court here (Abilene), the 14th of October at 10 o'clock."

On Sept. 25 a group of men holding bonds and warrants of the city of Cisco filed suit in the United States District Court here for collection of $17,371. Plaintiffs named in the petition are B. K. Blanchet, M. B. Bowman and G. C. Wood, all of Toledo, Ohio. Five bonds of $1,000 each were the first held by these men to come due March 10 of this year, while other bonds and warrants held by the plaintiffs were to have been paid from March 10 to Aug. 25. The five bonds were part of the original $500,000 waterworks issue of Feb. 2, 1920.

Cisco is to hold a special election Oct. 11, in which one of four proposals is to authorize the City Commission to sell Lake Cisco, one of the best-known artificial water reservoirs in the State.

Growth of Texas Shown by Figures

Stage is Set For Opening Saturday Texas State Fair

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 10.—The stage is all set for the world's biggest state fair, which opens on the grounds of the State Fair of Texas, here, Saturday, Oct. 12 and will run for 16 days until Sunday, Oct. 27. It is not only the world's biggest state fair but will also be the biggest state fair ever staged in the history of the State Fair of Texas, according to T. E. Jackson, president, who has worked hard throughout the year with other officers and directors of the association to give the people of Texas the greatest State Fair ever held any place.

Amusements at the 43rd annual State Fair are better than ever before, there being five major amusements for the 16 day period and numerous others. Among these will be the $10,000 State Wide band contest, "The Red Robe," in the auditorium, the Hagenback-Wallace Circus in front of the grandstand, the world champion rodeo in the new Livestock Coliseum, and the combined horse-show and style revue in the new coliseum.

The Morris and Castle shows will occupy the midway, with many new shows, while the State Fair Perma-

Award Contract For 100 Cotton "Pickers"

Fort Worth—Contract for immediate manufacture of 100 mechanical cotton harvesters intended for distribution in this State has been closed by the General Harvester Company, with offices at 1113 Electric Building with the Fort Worth Steel and Machinery Company.

Neal Smith, president of the cotton harvester company, previously had made a contract with the Kelly Plow Company of Longview for manufacture of the machines. Due to its inability to reach the required output, the Longview company advised that another concern be allowed to supply the major part of the contract.

The General Cotton Harvester Company is a concern recently organized for manufacture and distribution of the machine. Experiments to determine its efficiency have been made in West Texas during the past three years, and quantity production of the machines is being attempted for the first time.

The harvester was redesigned and improved after Smith acquired the patents owned by heirs of Billy Johnson of Temple, pioneer builders of mechanical cotton pickers.

WITH The Country Gentleman

By JNO. M. AITON

The News-Review has engaged the services of Mr. John M. Aiton for a weekly contribution concerning the development of the program of dairy and poultry farming in this territory. The thoughts and ideas advanced in this department will be those of Mr. Aiton and will in no manner conflict with the general news and editorial policy of the paper. Readers of the News Review will therefore discuss with Mr. Aiton any theories he may care to promote, and not align them with what the publishers will have to say through the news and editorial columns.—Editor's Note.

Lack of organization among the milk producers of this section is a very regrettable matter. With the closing of the creamery here the sweet milk market has disappeared entirely. Lacking an organization of those interested, the individual is without recourse. On the other hand, if our milk producers were organized they would be in a position whereby they could take the matter up with some of the big milk distributors and perhaps be able to obtain a good sweet milk market for their product again. For the past few months we have been arguing the necessity for an organization of our dairy folks, but it seems that while some were getting interested in the matter, others were disposed to pass it up, so that nothing definite so far has been accomplished towards effecting an organization. It is not yet too late to get this important matter going. Even if the local creamery should get started again, the organization is still just as necessary. Search the history of successful dairying all over the country, and you will find that in every locality in which success has been attained, it has been only after the producers became thoroughly organized. A dairy improvement association embracing at least a big majority of the producers has invariably been the basis upon which successful development has been built. We are hoping that a meeting will be called soon, and that the milk producing folks will all attend, when all of these matters may be fully discussed and an organization effected.

A friend the other day asked us why we persisted in calling attention to the necessity of having all farm lands terraced. He stated that we have many farms that are very productive as it stands, and that as a farming section all around we have a reasonably productive locality. He seems to be of the opinion that we are knocking and against the productive resources of our section. Our friend, if this is his idea, has mistaken our attitude in the matter. Perhaps he has not read all that we have emphasized the fact from time to time, of the unusual features have had to say on this subject from which nature has blessed this part of the state. We have called attention to the necessity of the best farm land being terraced, for the protection that it affords such land. To prove this contention it is only necessary to call attention to the fact that thirty years ago all of the land in this section was as productive as the best of it is today. Had these farms all been terraced thirty years ago, and the terraces kept built up during that length of time, all of this land would have been protected from washing and leaching and would have been much more productive than at present. We are by no means knocking on the productive resources, but rather we are seeking to boost the productive value of the land. No one can successfully deny that we have neglected our land. No one can successfully deny that we can bring this land back to its original fertility or make it still better. But terracing is the necessary basis for the beginning of the effort to rebuild our lands to a high producing point. The reason is a simple one. Rindown land needs to grow legume crops and to be pastured. By this means, in a short period of years, the organic elements of plant food are restored to the soil and it again becomes rich. But if the land is not terraced, when the floods come the organic elements are washed and leached out and the land will again become poor. This is the situation as it prevails all over this part of the state. Hence, it is shown why terracing is so important and why the movement should be general. The Federal Land Bank will not now make a farm loan unless the borrower agrees to have the land terraced and to maintain the terraces through the life of the loan. This is significant and of such importance that every chamber of commerce and every public service club all over this section should get busy and do everything in their power to put over a general terracing program.

Again we call attention to the need of a better method of financing the building of permanent local roads. At present the local people are restricted in their ability to finance the building of local roads. The only way to have to raise the money for such a purpose is to issue bonds. District must first be formed. Entire counties, or subdivisions of the county, may organize such districts. Many people object to bonds for such purposes because they usually run through a long period of years, and as they bear interest they make the road construction cost a heavy burden to bear. It seems to us a much better method could be developed by having an amendment to the constitution adopted whereby the county or a subdivision of the county would be authorized to form local road districts and to finance the building of such roads by a special tax of say $1.00 on the $100 valuation. This amount would provide a sum of money each year which would be expended on the construction of permanent local roads. This tax could be continued from year to year until all of the roads in that particular district had been completed, and the tax then could be reduced to such an amount as might be necessary to maintain the roads thus built. This is a pay-as-you-go method, and after starting the construction of the roads would go on steadily until all of the roads in the district were completed. This method would obviate the payment of any interest charges, and would give the roads to the people at cost. Think it over, folks, for the day will soon be here when we are going to have to finance the building of local roads. To us it looks like we should make an effort to control our own road building efforts rather than have some outsiders do that thing for us.

We clipped the following from the Walnut Springs paper and pass it along to our readers. This article was written by Roy B. Mefferd, who is the superintendent of the public schools in that thriving little city. We commend the article to our readers for the exceedingly plain and explicit direction he has given, as well as the soundness of his prescription. Reports come to us that an epidemic of roup is spreading among the poultry in this section of the state. It is better to prevent roup getting into your flock than it is to get it out after it has gotten started. You can prevent it by using the strictest of sanitary measures around your premises. Clean up your chicken houses, spray them good with some good disinfectant to destroy pests, or whitewash the walls. If you are bothered with lice get some sodium fluoride and put a pinch under each wing and around the vent and on the neck, and it won't be long until the lice will be gone. Repeat this treatment after about eight days to get the new lice that have just hatched. Caution: Don't dip the hens this time of year, but use the sodium fluoride in powder form. It is much easier to do it at night, as you won't have to chase the hens and you can work much faster. Try it.

I mention these pests because they sap the energy of the birds so that they cannot resist taking colds that develop into roup. Be sure that your pests have been eliminated. Clean up the chicken premises and then watch for developments. There should be no draughts in the house where the chickens roost. Chickens that roost out in trees very seldom ever have roup, but when a chicken is put in a house with cracks in it the wind blows through cracks, only causing unnatural conditions, and the chicken will take cold, and unless the cause is removed or the chicken is treated promptly, it develops into roup. There are several forms of roup, but the most common one in this section seems to be what is called "nasal" or a condition where the eyes swell up. This can be detected by simply stepping in the hen house at night and listening to the wheezing or sneezing going on or from repulsive odor in advance stages. If you have birds infected follow the following instructions:

1. Remove the causes mentioned above.
2. Catch all birds affected and isolate from the rest of the flock.
3. Treat as follows:
Take the nostril of each bird between the thumb and forefinger and press them together gently moving the fingers toward the beak. Also press between the nostrils and eyes in an upward manner. This loosens the discharge and presses a great deal of it through the nostrils and clears the head of the bird ready for treatment. In bad cases it is well to press the finger against the crevice in the roof of the mouth and remove all of the mucous possible. Now dip the head of the chicken into a pan of warm water to which has been added a good disinfectant and hold it there for from 20 to 30 seconds. Put treated chicken in dry warm quarters and leave. Usually one good treatment will be sufficient for a beginning case, if not, repeat in about two or three days until symptoms are removed.

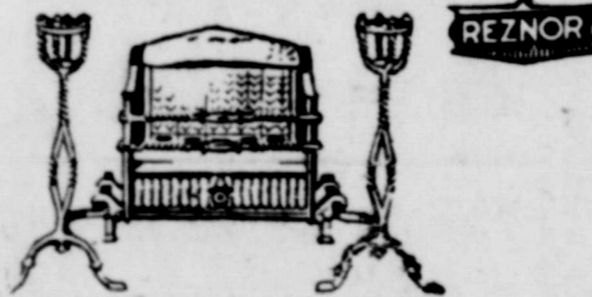

There are several preparations on the market that can be used for the purpose. If you have good soft water or rainwater I would recommend the use of permanganate of potash in crystal form. Add the crystals to the warm water until it is a deep wine color and use immediately—be sure you have it strong enough to accomplish the desired results.

Other preparations may be used with good results such as B-K etc. These specially prepared remedies will cost you more than the remedy I have suggested. The immediate results of any of them depend on the solution used, if you use it please report the results you have to us.

Rev. Morton Begins His Third Year As Hico Baptist Pastor

Last Sunday marked the beginning of the third year for Rev. Clarence Allen Morton as pastor of the Hico Baptist church, and the report to the Hamilton County Baptist Association over this period reveals a remarkable growth for the church.

Report to the association in 1927, at the beginning of Rev. Morton's pastorate, showed a total of 234 members. During the first year, from Oct. 1, 1927, to Oct. 1, 1928, there were 102 additions to the church. During the year closing, Oct. 1, 1929, there were 85 additions, the total membership of the church at this time being 353. Some of the members have moved away, transferring their memberships to other churches.

Every department of church work has shown remarkable growth during the pastorate of Rev. Morton. The Sunday school enrollment at the present time is 307 and the B. Y. P. U. membership 87. Enrollment of the W. M. S., Y. W. A., G. A.'s, Sunbeams, is 72.

Financial contributions during the past year totaled $4,078.

The Men's Bible class, taught by Rev. Morton, has a total enrollment of 48, members of different denominations. The class was organized two years ago, shortly after Rev. Morton became pastor. The attendance has averaged 30 during the two years. L. L. Hudson is president of the class.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF HAMILTON.

By virtue of an execution issued out of the Justice's Court of Precinct No. One, Hamilton County, Texas, on the 5th day of October 1929, in favor of the Hamilton National Bank, of Hamilton, Texas, vs. R. K. Jones, 2162 in such court, I did on the said 5th day of October 1929, levy upon the following described tracts and parcels of land situated in Hamilton County, Texas, to wit: Alvah Payne Survey, Abst. No. 662, containing 184 acres; James Campbell survey abst. No. 141 containing 110 acres; Phoebe Crane Survey, Abst. No. 129, containing 70 acres, and the Wm. Harrell Survey, Abst. No. 394, and containing 386 acres, all of said above described lands belonging to the Wm. Jones estate, and the levy made by me being confined to the defendant R. K. Jones' undivided interest therein, and all of said lands being situated about ten miles N. W. of Hamilton and on the 5th day of November 1929 being the first Tuesday of said month between the hours of ten o'clock A. M. and four o'clock P. M. on said day, at the court house door of said county, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction, for cash, all the right, title and interest of the said R. K. Jones in and to said property. Dated at Hamilton, Texas, October 5th, 1929.

MACK MORGAN, Sheriff of Hamilton County, Texas.

"Square Shootin'" Texas rewards Square Dealing

-- so we lay our cards on the table to the people of the Southwest

OVER A HALF CENTURY ago, when six-shooters and longhorn cattle were in vogue, the Waples Platter Company started the distribution of coffees and foods, housed in a tent on the banks of Red River in Indian Territory. Shortly thereafter the business was moved to Denison, which was then the terminal of the Katy Railroad.

Texas is a big state. Technically it is one state, but geographically she is a half dozen. To those who think a trip through seven states from Boston to St. Louis is never-ending, this same distance can be covered without leaving the borders of Texas.

The grit and courage of the people of the great Southwest is reflected in the development of its vastness, laying the foundation for the homes of great industries and enterprises which have today materialized.

During the forward march of Texas, more than 1,000,000 loyal people of the Southwest have made the Waples Platter Company one of the largest food distributors in the United States. That is important. Not just because it is now a big business—but because it presents an obligation which must be discharged in full to deserve the continuance of your patronage.

Naturally, you haven't realized the business you were building. Waples Platter Company is merely a name to many of you. But in thousands of households White Swan Coffee, Wapco Beans and many other Waples Platter products mean the finest quality that can be placed on a table.

Goodwill is the most precious asset of any company. It cannot be bought like a commodity. But can be established only by insuring the lowest price consistent with the highest quality.

By going to the very source for its products, by controlling every step of their preparation and distribution, it makes sure that no finer foods can be brought into your home for the price you are asked to pay.

To guarantee this, the Waples Platter Company has become far more than a distributor of foods. It is importer, roaster, packer and preserver, selecting crops direct from the world's finest farms and plantations.

Every step from raw materials to the finished product is now supervised and packed under their own roofs. Twenty-five acres of land accommodate the many modern plants which our customers made possible to erect, and stand today as monuments to their patronage of this Texas institution.

This assures the permanency of a quality that has won your favor and acceptance, and at the same time bringing it to you at lower cost through more than 10,000 dealers who are freshly supplied from 22 Waples Platter Houses strategically located throughout this territory.

And now, with greater resources combined with facilities for greater economies, Waples Platter will endeavor to reward your loyalty with even higher quality and service.

Plants and houses of the Waples Platter Company situated at various points, grouped in one picture. In these plants and houses, White Swan Coffee, Wapco Beans and many other products are produced, packed and distributed.

Nazarene Church Is Organized in Hico; Dallas Man Pastor

Organization of a Nazarene church was effected Sunday by Rev. Lulu Williams of Bowie, and Rev. Henry Bell, Dallas, was called as supply pastor until such a time as a regular pastor can be secured.

Rev. Henry Bell, M. A., Th. M.

Miss Williams has been holding a revival in the town hall for two weeks, and the organization came as a result of the revival. The Nazarene church formerly existed in Hico, but has not functioned for several years due to the fact that nearly all the members moved away.

Services will be held every Sunday in the town hall until a place of worship can be secured. Sunday school will be at 10 and preaching at 11 and 7:30.

The pastor, Rev. Henry Bell, is known as a Bible teacher and evangelist, having taught in three colleges and held revivals throughout the nation. He received his A. B. from Iowa University, the M. A. from Baylor University, the B. D. from Olivet College, the Th. M. from Berkeley Baptist Divinity School, and will receive the Th. D. next May from the Evangelical Theological College at Dallas.
