

Here In HICO

About the best news that has reached Hico citizens lately was the announcement of a 15 per cent credit on fire insurance written in the city for the coming twelve months. This will replace the old credit of 3 per cent, and get the rates back on a lower level.

This is largely a result of the improvements made at the waterworks plant last year and the resulting good fire record. A considerable sum of money was spent, and while the improvements were expected to lower the fire rate, the other advantages provided by the new system have already more than justified its cost, and now comes the reduction in insurance rates to help pay back the expense in a material way.

Improvements of any kind cost money. Sometimes it takes long vision to make up our minds to spend large sums of money, even when we are confident that they will be paying investments. But the hardest part of the whole matter lies in making up our minds. Experience has proved that in a majority of cases such expenditures pay liberal dividends not only in satisfaction, but in dollars and cents as well.

Along this line it might be well to give thought at this time to other matters that need attention. A street paving program is being talked on every corner and at every opportunity. While the move has taken no definite shape as yet, the interest shown indicates that when the plans are started they will be carried on with much enthusiasm and with a view to doing the job in the very best manner possible.

We heard a man say the other day that every time one of those strong winds started raging, he made up his mind anew to do some paving in front of his place of business, even if he had to stand the entire expense himself. And though he was probably stating the proposition a little strong, it wouldn't take much study to see where paving in the business district would pay for itself in a short time, with decreased losses from dust damage to some merchants, an increase in the value of the property to owners, and the stimulation of business generally through the spirit of aggressiveness and increased desire to live and trade in Hico.

Here in Hico does not believe the paving program can be started too soon. Think like this when put off too long begin to drag and interest slackens. Right now there is an abundance of labor available, and from our observations lately there are many laborers who are in dire need of something to do. When more people are put to work their pay checks go right back into circulation through purchases of needed articles and payment of outstanding bills.

Then too there is, we understand, an additional credit on fire insurance which covers property in a paved section. These little things each are little in themselves, but when the savings and earnings are added up, the amount is considerable and compares favorably with the amount that is necessary to promote the issue.

But there is no apparent use for our pointing out the advantages to be derived from paving. All property owners are aware of these, and now it is merely a matter of getting together and making plans to have this work done. Think paving on every opportunity—talk paving, and DO PAVING.

Home and property owners are "carrying on" in their efforts to keep their places in good shape. Nearly every day shows some evidence of new building, repairing or remodeling. This is something we are glad to give space to in our news columns. When you are doing some building or remodeling don't fail to let the News Review know about it. We sometimes miss items about these improvements, not through intention, but merely because they are not brought to our attention. It is to your interest as well as ours to have mention made of what you are doing to make Hico a better place in which you live, so if you have any building news drop by and tell us about it.

The many new residences and remodeling of old ones are shaping up nicely now, and when completed will indeed be something for us to talk about to our neighbors and friends. Let's all get this on our minds and build up the town which we call home.

Joe Harrison and Marcus Smith of Osceola were here Sunday visiting the former's brother, Earle Harrison, an employe of the Hico National Bank.

"BEAUTIFUL BOSQUE" BEING RESTOCKED WITH GAME FISH

Due to the fact that fishing hasn't been what it should lately in the Bosque, steps have been taken to re-stock the stream with game fish, and those who are in the habit of fishing and seining in the river are warned to familiarize themselves with the game laws and observe the provisions of same strictly.

During the past few days literally thousands of small blue gill brim, bass and crappie have been placed in the river which runs through the edge of the city, and in addition the stream was stocked with 24 bass 8 or 10 inches long, which will help to increase the game fish provided the people will be careful not to remove them.

Higginbotham Interests Buy Hico Yard of Smith-Harris Co.

Following a business deal that was terminated on Thursday of last week by W. J. Clay of Stephenville, representing the firm of Smith-Harris Lumber Company, and Wade Everage of Comanche, representing the firm of Higginbotham Bros. & Co., together with other interested parties, announcement was made of the consummation of a trade whereby the latter firm became the owner of the lumber yard in Hico formerly owned and operated by the former, Higginbotham Bros. & Co. took charge on Friday of last week, February 21st.

No radical change in the policies of the concern is contemplated, according to J. C. Barrow, who has been manager of the yard for the past ten years, and who will continue with the new owners in the same capacity. Smith-Harris Lumber Company had a total of 17 lumber yards in this part of Texas and since the sale of this and another yard, still control 15 yards, all of which are located west of Stephenville.

The firm of Higginbotham Bros. & Co., while new to Hico, nevertheless are a well-known firm, having locations in several adjacent towns, and in addition to operating lumber yards, do a large business in dry goods, groceries, ready-to-wear, implements and general merchandise, in other places. They are known in all localities where they operate to take an active interest in the welfare of the town and its citizens, and are held in high esteem on account of their modern business methods.

One phase of the announcement that holds probably the greatest interest of Hico citizens, was the statement that Mr. Barrow would remain as manager. Holding as he does the office of mayor of Hico, and taking an interest in every move for the building of the town and the advancement of the moral and financial interests of its citizens, he is the type of man that all are glad to have reside in a town, together with his estimable wife.

In bidding goodbye to the Smith-Harris interests, there is no little sentiment attached thereto. They have owned the Hico yard for a period of twenty-eight years, and have formed a place in the business life of the town that will cause them to be remembered throughout the coming years.

There has been a Barrow in the lumber yard on the present location of the Higginbotham Bros. & Co. yard for the past forty years. The firm opened up as R. V. Cox & Co., and continued under this name until the time of the change twenty-eight years ago when Smith-Harris acquired the property. An uncle of J. C. Barrow was connected with the company that opened up here, and during the passing years there has never been a time when there was not some member of the Barrow family actively employed by the lumber company. It is considered very fitting, therefore, that the present manager carry on the record unbroken.

Those who are in the habit of seining in the river for bait, and those who may fish therein are warned to co-operate with those who are trying to make the Bosque as good or a better place in which to fish than it has been formerly.

According to Mr. Tidwell, those who violate the game laws and regulations will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Those people will be ready and willing to lend their aid to the end that we may have a good fishing stream at our very door. The Bosque and its tributaries form a very beautiful setting for outings and fishing trips, and we should all be willing to help in any way possible to enhance the enjoyment of our natural resources.

Bill Carter of Valley Mills was here Saturday, visiting old friends. He had been to Hamilton for a two weeks' visit and was returning to his home. He is an old newspaper man, having owned the Valley Mills Tribune for numbers of years.

15 PER CENT CREDIT FOR GOOD RECORD ON LOSS BY FIRE

Notice was received last week by local agents, from the State Fire Insurance Department, Board of Insurance Commissioners, at Austin that on and after February 1, 1930, Hico would be granted the 15 per cent credit allowed cities that have maintained a good fire record for the past three years.

Statements show that the loss ratio of Hico for the years 1927, 1928 and 1929 is .212 have been filed with, checked and approved by the Fire Insurance Department. Under the provisions for credit for good fire records in cities and towns, this record entitles Hico to a credit of 15 per cent which local agents are to deduct from the final premium on policies written on or after March 1, 1930, to February 28, 1931, only, and covering property located within the corporate limits of Hico.

Policies effective prior to March 1, 1930, are not affected by the above mentioned credit unless a change in hazard of the individual risk occurs on or after March 1, 1930, and the rate on such risk is revised by printed supplement. When a rate is revised by supplement on account of change in hazard in a risk, existing policies may be adjusted to conform to the revised rate from date of supplement to expiration of policy, and such a revision should take this credit into consideration.

Other towns over the state have been penalized, and it is considered fortunate for property owners in Hico that the fire loss for the period in question has been kept at a minimum, thus making the reduction possible.

Early last year much money was spent on improvements at the local waterworks plant, and the fire department has been kept up in good shape, thus helping to better guard against serious conflagrations.

Although the new credit is for 15 per cent, Hico insurance payers will take notice that this is only a 12 per cent reduction, as the rates in force for the past twelve-month period have been subject to a 3 per cent credit.

A Few Readers May Feel Slighted At Their Mail Boxes Next Week

Well, the weather has been good for the past few weeks, and we have given ample time for all subscribers whose time had expired to let us know whether or not they wanted to continue getting the News Review. Most readers have thought to come in and renew for another year's reading, but there are still a few who haven't been heard from.

We have checked up on our list thoroughly, and find that for the most part it is in good shape. To those whose names we remove from our list we would like to say that it is our sincere hope that they see fit to send in their renewals. We are not trying to be hard-boiled, and we don't want a single person to do without the paper who likes to read of the news in and surrounding Hico, each week. But we don't want to keep sending the paper to those who are not willing to pay for it, because they might not want it. In most cases the delinquencies are due to neglect, so just consider it a reminder if you miss next week's issue, come in and tell us what you think about us and things in general, and let's all get in good standing again.

J. P. TRIMMIER writes from Knox City, Texas: "Enclosed find money order. Please send paper on six months. Please send this week's issue."

E. C. PARKS, Route 1, Fairy, is a new subscriber to the News Review. W. E. Goynne, postmaster at Fairy, brought his subscription in Saturday morning. We wish we had many more friends like Mr. Goynne, and hope that Mr. Parks will feel like it is getting his money's worth.

MRS. W. W. FOSTER, who gets her mail on Route 1, sent her dollar in Saturday to renew for another year. She enjoys the paper and does not want to miss a copy. Mrs. Foster requested that we notify her when her time is out.

W. L. (DOC) SIMPSON, Route 1, Hico, was in Saturday and renewed his subscription to the paper. Mr. Simpson said they were in need of rain in his community. While in the office he met his old friend, Bill Carter, whom he had not seen in years.

MRS. B. A. GRIMES of the Fairy community was in town Saturday, shopping and mingling with old friends. While here she came in to the News Review office to renew her subscription for another year. She says she enjoys the paper and does not want her subscription to expire.

MRS. MACK PHILLIPS, who lives here in Hico, was in Monday and renewed her paper. Although her subscription does not expire until April, she handed us a dollar to mark her time up. We enjoyed her visit very much, as she spent quite a while in talking with us.

W. D. BROWN, Route 4, Hico, who has been taking the paper until the past several months, sent in a dollar by his son Tuesday to get his name on the list again. Once they get the habit of reading the home paper, it is hard to break away from it.

Z. H. MEDFORD, "Uncle Zach" who has been in Hico since 1857, having been born where the town is now located, brought us a dollar Wednesday with instructions to put his name back on the list. We are going to get along fine with him, for he is the type of man one can learn much from by conversing with.

LEE PRIDDY, who runs a first class garage at Iredell, brought in a dollar for renewing his time to the paper Wednesday, and also ordered a small ad for his business. He does a general line of automobile repairing, and handles gas and oils. We hope he gets results from his ad and enjoys reading the paper.

MRS. B. E. MILLER, 706 Lipscomb, Dallas, will get the paper again since her niece Mrs. J. P. Rodgers, Jr., and Mrs. T. A. Dun-can came by Wednesday and gave us a dollar and a half to pay for same. We thank all concerned.

R. B. CUNNINGHAM, Box 142, Austwell, Texas, has been credited until January first, 1930 on our list. His father-in-law, J. T. Collier, came in Wednesday and made arrangements to have the paper sent on. Mr. Collier told us that those people down there were going ahead with their planting, in spite of the fact that they made a short crop last year. Mr. Cunningham only picked five bales of cotton off his place, as against 205 for the previous year.

MRS. B. L. HOLLIS, Route 5, will get the News Review another year. Her son, J. C. Laney, was in the office Wednesday and gave us a dollar to mark his mother's time up.

C. F. YOUNG of Route 2, Hico, was in Wednesday to renew his subscription. He enjoys the paper and does not want to miss a copy. Mr. Young came in for Cow Day. MRS. C. NACHTIGALL, who lives between here and Duffau, on Route 5, came in for Cow Day Wednesday and took advantage of the opportunity to renew her paper. Mrs. Nachtigall has been living on the same place six years, and seems to enjoy living in this part of Texas.

F. O. DAVES, Iredell, wants the paper as long as he stays in the county, according to his own statement, and came in Wednesday to have his time marked up another year. Mr. Daves likes this section of the country, and we are pleased that he considers the paper worthwhile.

HENRY BURKS, Iredell, came in Thursday and renewed his subscription which lately expired. He hadn't missed a copy of the paper so far and wanted to tell us how much he appreciated our sending the news on because he had been unable to come in earlier to renew.

Insurance Drop Furnishes Lions Subject For Talks

A general feeling of pride was created at the meeting of the Lions Club last Friday through the announcement of the 15 per cent credit for good fire record. The matter was explained, and causes for the reduction discussed. Every member present seemed well pleased with the news, as well they might be, for it will mean a considerable saving on insurance written during the coming twelve months.

In the absence of the president, H. F. Sellers, Mayor J. C. Barrow presided, and assisted in carrying out the program. A visitor for the meeting was C. A. Thies, new local manager of the Bell Ice & Dairy Products Company. Mr. Thies expressed his appreciation of the reception he had been accorded by the business men and residents of the city, and invited them to call on him when he could be of any assistance in any way.

A report was requested from the committee on financing the county interscholastic league meet in Hico which is to be held the middle of next month. In the absence of the chairman Wallace Petty, E. H. Elkins was appointed to serve in his place, and aid in getting the money together which had been pledged at a previous meeting. Enough had been promised to take care of the estimate of what the meet would cost, but others are requested to help the committee in any way they can with their arrangements for the meet.

After other discussion, some talks were made on the advisability of entering upon a paving program at this time. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the city was in need of paving work at once, and members expressed themselves as being in favor of doing some paving immediately. Discussion was had of ways and means of paying for same, and enthusiasm was high.

ABOUT CHAIN STORES

Stephenville Empire-Tribune:—The evils of the chain store have been extolled in almost every section of the country during the past three months. Mercantile concerns who a few years ago were advertising in every possible manner the fact that they had the superior advantages of the "chain" are now taking down their banners and supplementing them with "home-owned" signs. What do you think about the chain store is almost a common subject on any street corner these days.

Looking at the question from one angle brings about an uneasy answer for condemnation of the end of some foreign city and chain. Those firms who are financing the branch manager to send his daily sales into headquarters each day, refuses to support any local activity, takes no part in the community social or religious programs, and maintains a strict air of foreign identity can be easily classified as an evil to any city or town in the country. The sooner such concerns find out they cannot successfully put a merchandising plan of this sort into operation over a period of years the better off they will be themselves and most certainly will the community in question profit. This newspaper has no hesitancy in stating its opposition to such practices.

On the other hand there are chain stores of a different type. Almost every city in this particular section of Texas is favored by having one or more of these institutions in its midst. There are branch stores in Stephenville that keep the major portion of their sales in local banks, they contribute to every cause that is brought to their attention and in a liberal manner, they own homes here, pay taxes, support the churches, schools, roads and all other forms of community activity. In some instances the owners of these stores live among us. In every sense of the word they are desirable citizens. To condemn them simply because they have the enterprise to operate stores in another city is in any instance unfair.

Every Day Sandwiches for Father and Son

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company

WHEN lunches must be carried to work or school every day, the problem of providing an interesting variety of sandwiches becomes vividly real. The fillings must be chosen carefully, so the sandwiches will be moist and well-flavored, instead of dry and tasteless.

You will find that this task of providing "different" sandwiches is made much easier if you keep a variety of seasonings on hand. For instance, Worcestershire or horseradish sauce gives roast beef and sliced tongue an entirely new zest. While a bit of prepared mustard adds piquancy to corned beef or ham. Veal and lamb sandwiches are particularly good with tomato ketchup, mint sauce or sliced pickles. Of course, prepared sandwich relish needs no additions whatever—and it provides a delicious change that everyone enjoys.

Here are some helpful suggestions:

Egg and Pickle Sandwiches—Hardboil and chop finely 1 egg for each person. For every egg used, add 1 tablespoon mayonnaise salad dressing, and 1 tablespoon fresh cucumber relish or other chopped pickle. Spread on buttered bread, cover with a lettuce leaf, then with another slice of bread, and cut into desired shape.

Flaked Fish Sandwiches—Mix together 1 cup flaked cooked fish, (canned tuna fish or salmon may be used), 1/2 cup chopped celery or lettuce, 2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickles, 1/4 cup mayonnaise salad dressing, 1 tablespoon tomato ketchup or chili sauce, and salt and pepper to season. Spread between slices of buttered bread.

Peanut Butter and Pickle Sandwiches—Spread one slice of bread with peanut butter, and another with India relish or other chopped pickle. Press the two slices firmly together, and shape as desired.

Ham and Egg Sandwiches—Chop finely 3 hard cooked eggs, and moisten with 2 table-spoons cream. Add 1/2 cup chopped cooked ham, and 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard Sauce. Mix together, and spread between slices of buttered bread. Cut and wrap carefully.

Chicken Liver Sandwiches with Tomato Ketchup—Mash cold cooked chicken livers, and moisten with tomato ketchup. Spread on slices of buttered bread, and shape as desired.

Last Sunday's representation was out in force, there being some twenty-five members present with ten visitors in attendance. The program was most aptly led by the president ably assisted by the superintendent of the senior department. Due to the absence of two of the members who were unavoidably detained their positions on the program were filled by Mr. Goyno and Mrs. Cunningham. It is the earnest wish and desire of the members to increase the total membership each Sunday and that there will be over fifty active ones in the organization. Mr. Goyno states that if his whole Bible School Class will turn out it will go a long way towards fulfilling the wish. His class consists of twenty-two students.

Everyone, old folks and young folks, are cordially invited to attend these Sunday afternoon meetings held at three o'clock for a period of one hour. Services open and close promptly. Anyone who wishes to become a member is welcome to join in the studies of the Epworth League.

"WHOLE SYSTEM IN GOOD ORDER"

"Sargon took right hold of my troubles, made me feel 100 per cent better, put my whole system in good order and gave me a gain of seven pounds in weight."

A. J. BUTLER

"I was rundown and nervous and my whole system was 'out of gear.' My appetite was poor, my nerves were so upset I couldn't sleep good, and I'd get tired out before the day was half over. Cold weather seemed to go right through me and I took colds easily. Sargon brought back my appetite and this nourished and strengthened me. I sleep good, go through the day without tiring in the least and I haven't had a cold since I started the medicine. Sargon pills completely ended my constipation and put my liver in fine condition."—A. J. Butler, 1121 E. Jefferson St., Fort Worth, Porter Drug Store, Agent.

THE PURCHASE OF THE HICO YARD OF SMITH-HARRIS LUMBER CO.

— BY —
HIGGINBOTHAM Bros. & Co.

Effective last Friday, Feb. 21st, the undersigned became the owners of the lumber yard in Hico formerly operated by Smith-Harris Co., and will continue it along the same lines that have made this yard popular in the past. We are glad to add the Hico yard to our properties and promise to do our best to give service second to none.

Mr. J. C. Barrow, who has served as manager of the Hico yard of Smith-Harris Co. for the past ten years, will continue in the same capacity, and will appreciate having all his friends call on him when in need of anything in our line. His home is in Hico and we think we are fortunate in being able to arrange for a man of his type to take care of our business here.

In addition to keeping up our present lines of lumber, building material and coal, we will from time to time try to improve our property and stock to keep up with what we think a first-class lumber yard should offer. In the near future we will have in stock a number of fine cedar posts, as well as other items not offered in the past.

Mr. Barrow and his associates at the yard will be busy for the next few weeks rearranging stocks, painting up the property and giving the place a Spring house-cleaning but will be glad to have the public call and talk over building problems, as well as serve their customers and friends in the best way possible.

Methodist Preacher
Covers 3500 Miles
On Line of Duty

Rev. D. M. Whitenberg, pastor of the Methodist church at Duffau, was in the News Review office Thursday buying some blank paper and placing an order for some cards, and while here told enough about his work to indicate that he is quite a busy man.

Rev. Whitenberg came to his present charge last Thanksgiving, and since that time has covered over 3500 miles in the course of his duty. The longest trip he has made was to Gatesville, the major portion of his traveling involving short visits between charges, of which he has several. He named the churches where he preached and the communities he worked in, but they were so numerous that we only remembered mention of Duffau, Alexander, Fairy, Clairette and Stephenville. However his list covers most churches in and around Hico, and the number indicates that he is kept quite busy trying to give the necessary attention to each one.

His work calls for a considerable expenditure of money for gasoline and supplies on his travels, and it seems that the people he serves should be indeed liberal with their contributions in order to help him keep the good work going.

Lily Pool And Fish Pond Attract
Many Hicoans

The eyes of all Hico people, who are interested in civic improvements and attractiveness in and about the home, are turned to the residence and premises of Mrs. Ike Langston in the eastern part of the city, and many people have been inspecting a spot of beauty in the form of a back yard lily pool and fish pond, which has recently been completed there.

It is made of concrete, six feet wide and two feet deep. Mrs. Langston has placed an order for lilies, and has fish, flowers and canaries to add to the scenery and enjoyment of the innovation.

Mrs. Langston, a lover of flowers, birds and fish, has always been interested in things of this kind. She takes great pride in raising and selling fine canary birds, and always encourages pretty yards.

After viewing the pool of Mrs. Langston's, others in the city are contemplating the addition of one to their own premises, and keeping in step with Mrs. Langston's idea.

Bradford Corrigan, with the Business Men's Assurance Co. of Hamilton, was here Monday on business.

A Green Salad a Day
Is the Safe Winter Way

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company

Now that it is difficult to obtain a variety of fresh fruits and vegetables, we need more salads to balance the heavy winter diet. Many nutritionists urge that we eat a salad at least once, preferably twice a day. And clever housewives keep several bottles of prepared dressing on hand to make a delicious salad instantly available from even the most meagre materials.

Simply mix one of these snappy dressings with almost any combination of winter vegetables at hand—and an appetizing salad is the immediate result. Raw cabbage combinations always are popular, and either raw or cooked carrots are excellent when seasoned with the right dressing. Also, when lettuce is not available, deep cabbage leaves or beds of chopped cabbage serve excellently for greens.

The recipes that follow will suggest many other possibilities to you. Try them, and see if you don't find they are unusually good:

Cole Slaw with Variations:—Chop 4 cups of cabbage very finely, sprinkle with 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Mix 1/2 cup mayonnaise salad dressing with 2 tablespoons pure cider vinegar, and pour over the cabbage. Add a chopped green pepper and a little onion juice. Mix thoroughly, and serve on crisp lettuce leaves. This makes a delicious slaw, and is a good emergency salad.

- Variations:
1. Use 1/2 cup chopped peanuts in place of green pepper.
 2. Use 2 tablespoons chopped pickle in place of green pepper.
 3. Use equal parts of grated carrots and chopped cabbage in this salad, instead of only cabbage.

To take the place of a meat dish in the menu, a salad of devilled eggs provides a welcome change, and is easy to prepare with the salad materials available now. Here is a good recipe for devilled egg salad:

Devilled Egg Salad—Cut 4 hard cooked eggs in half lengthwise. Mash yolks, season with salt, pepper, butter, prepared mustard and Pure Cider Vinegar. Mince, poached ham may be added if desired. Roll the whites and serve two halves in a nest of crisp lettuce or other greens, with a dressing made of 1/2 cup mayonnaise salad dressing and 1/4 cup chili sauce.

Frozen Cheese Salad served with crisp crackers, or whole wheat bread-and-butter sandwiches, and a cup of steaming hot coffee is a genuine treat:

Frozen Cheese Salad—Mash a small package of cream cheese and blend with 2 tablespoons of Roquefort cheese. Season lightly with salt, pepper and 1/2 teaspoon onion juice. Add 1/2 cup of French dressing or mayonnaise salad dressing, and 1/4 cup stuffed Spanish olives, sliced. Pour into a covered mold or can, and pack in a pan of ice and salt to freeze, or freeze in the pans of a mechanical refrigerator. Cut in cubes, place in deep nests of very crisp lettuce, and serve with French dressing.

Z. H. Medford Has Been In County
Since His Birth

"Uncle Zach" Medford favored the News Review editor with a call on Wednesday of this week. Mr. Medford's name has been off our list for some time, through the fact that there had been a slight misunderstanding between him and some former editor, but we have made peace with him now, and he will get the paper at least for another year. He said his wife had told him time and again to come in and get the paper started, but until then he had neglected to do so. We hope both he and his wife may find enough to read to repay them for the expenditure, and assure them that we are glad to number them among our friends and readers.

Uncle Zach was born where the city of Hico now stands. His father came to this country in 1852 from Angelina County, and settled at the place where J. P. Rodgers Sr. now lives. What is now the business section of Hico was then a vast cotton patch, a part of the old Medford farm.

Mr. Medford now lives on Route 7 out of Hico, and still takes an interest in the town and everything pertaining to it. He has seen it grow from nothing to its present state and is really one of the pioneers of the country.

Improvements On Farm West of Town

One of the finest rent houses in the country has been completed recently by S. E. Blair on his farm west of town at what is known as the Grubbs farm.

The house is well constructed and nicely finished inside and out, presenting an attractive appearance.

Mr. Blair immediately upon the completion of the residence, went to work on a barn, and now has a most complete farm home on his property.

Barnes & McCullough furnished the materials on the job. Home carpenters did the work.

Kal Segrist Adds
Double Garage to Home Property

Among the improvements made in the residence section of Hico last week was noted the work done on the premises of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kal Segrist, at what is known as the Mary Bunn place.

Mr. Segrist has just completed a commodious double garage, which is intended as the first step toward further improvements. It is planned to remodel the house and work it into a duplex made of the old structure. This work has not begun yet, but the garage is completed and ready to serve the occupants of both the present structure and the duplex that is planned. Mr. Crump and Aubrey Cole, local carpenters, did the work for Mr. Segrist.

Bring Up Your Chicks
In the Proper Way

Chicks, Like Children, Require Careful Training If They Are to Grow Up Into Strong, Useful Members of Their Community. A Little Extra Attention During the Early Stages of Development Will Be Rewarded With Extra Profits Later.

Editor's Note—This is another story in a series on poultry raising written by the well-known national poultry authority, Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., of St. Louis. Our readers are urged to read them carefully and clip them out for future reference.

Chicks are a good bit like children in a great many ways. With proper training, both will develop into valuable members of their respective branches of society. Much has already been said in this series of articles on the subject of environment. I have stressed the need for clean, comfortable quarters, ventilation, adequate range, sanitation and other phases of that subject. Heretofore, however, I have had no opportunity to mention one very important matter which is the training of young chicks in what a friend of mine has humorously called barnyard etiquette.

I begin training my chicks the moment I transfer them to the brooder room. As soon as possible I begin scattering their grain ration in the litter so they will have to scratch for it thus giving healthful exercise. I also watch them carefully and guide them into the heated area of the hover whenever they need such direction. Whenever I find chicks huddled together, I place them under the hover. It may be necessary to do this quite often during the first week.

Crowding is another danger that can be greatly lessened by early training. I prevent huddling in corners by placing chick wire or boards diagonally across them. They must be watched carefully, however, for if they cannot crowd into the corners, they will often pile together in football scrimmage style right in the middle of the floor. Watch your chicks at all times, but especially at evening and gently force them apart if they show any tendency toward crowding. There will always be need for watchfulness in this respect until they are actually roosting.

Crowding is only one of many bad habits chicks will develop if not watched carefully or if not given proper feed, exercise and space. All these habits may be overcome if proper action is taken the moment they show up.

One quite serious habit, Toe Picking or Cannibalism, usually results from lack of animal protein in the feed or sufficient exercising room. If they have plenty of room to scratch and exercise naturally, there is less danger. If too closely confined they will seek other forms of activity one of which is picking at one another's toes. Sometimes a chick's toes will be injured and the sight of blood attracts others. Once they taste blood, the picking may become general, causing serious injury and even death to considerable numbers.

Whenever this habit is noticed, take steps to enlarge the quarters or divide the chicks into smaller groups so they have more room. It is also a good idea to add more meat scraps to their mash or milk to drink. You will also probably find that there are one or two ringleaders causing most of the trouble and teaching the other bad habits. If so, take them out of the pen and keep them out until the injured toes have healed. Paint the injuries with tar, which has a disagreeable taste and discourages Toe Picking.

Feather eating or pulling is another habit that often leads to chicks literally pulling all the young feathers from each other and eating them, or to eating one another up, starting usually at the tail. It is due to much the same causes as Toe Picking and should be overcome in the same way. Remove the injured chicks and apply tar as for Toe Picking. Do not put them back until they are thoroughly healed.

One very important phase of a chick's early training is teaching them to roost. This can be quite easily done if started before the chicks are too old. By putting them on the roost a time or two at night, they will take to the roosts nicely.

Build temporary roosts 12 to 18 inches from the floor, with an inclined runway to the first roost, all the roosts being on the same level, the same as for other roosts. Build it so that the chicks cannot drop between the roosts and the walls, and cover the under side of it with 1-inch netting. This prevents the chicks dropping from the roosts to the floor and also keeps them out of the droppings. The chicks will in all probability take to these roosts naturally and quickly without crowding. These roosts should be from 2 to 3 inches wide, which will help prevent crooked breast bones in both chicks and poults.

Hico, Texas, Friday, Feb. 28, 1930

Let's be careful with fire this year, next year and all years to come. Since we have been granted the 15 per cent credit for good fire record it would be a shame to let carelessness and resulting conflagrations derive us of this.

The frequent showers are doing their part toward remedying the dry condition of the soil in this part of the country, and we hear that the farmers could stand more rains at this time. However they are not complaining, and things are promising for a good crop year.

A fellow made a remark the other day about our printing the names of our new and renewal subscribers. He seemed to think we were taking up too much space in telling of their visits to the office. But he can't hurrah us. We are proud of our readers—glad to know they consider the paper worth the money—and willing to give space to tellage about them.

Followers of piscatorial pursuits will be pleased with the news that the Bosque is being restocked with game fish. In past years this stream was famous for its good fishing, but lately seems to have developed into a second-rate affair as judged by fishermen. But if the people will help those who are trying to bring it back to its former popularity, the results will be amazing.

Do you notice any change in the paper this week? We have made changes in the mechanical equipment of the shop to accommodate a larger paper. The News Review formerly was six columns wide, but from this week on will have a width of seven columns. On the eight page paper, which is the customary size, this means an addition of eight columns, one to a page, or over a page of extra space each week. This is in keeping with the size of the best weekly papers of the country. Hico people are entitled to the best, so we have made this improvement.

Some people are going to be mad at us next week. The reason is that they will miss their paper unless they come in before we go to press and hand over their money. But we will just have to grin and bear it, for we have adopted the policy of dropping names from our list upon expiration of the time they are paid for, and are thoroughly convinced that this is the only way to satisfactorily conduct a newspaper. Of course there will be some who really want the paper and will have a tendency to become mad when they miss out. But we only ask that they come in and talk to us about it in case they do, instead of sullying and thinking we are greedy in wanting money for what we have to sell. Our list is growing every day, and we take this method of welcoming the new subscribers. May their tribe increase.

Keep in step with Hico. Clean up your premises, paint up your property, and make plans for better homes and more desirable surroundings. Spring is bringing on a lot of clean-up work, as well as building and repairing. There is room for improvements on most any place, and this is a good time to make these.

The front of the News Review building is now graced by some signs, telling who we are and what we do. We know most people are aware of the fact that we are in town, and as a rule know our location. But we just couldn't stand the thought of others having to do as the new editor did the first time we came to Hico—ask up and down the street where the newspaper office was located, and then go right past without noticing it.

Hico merchants are offering many bargains this week. It is natural for people to trade with the stores that advertise, for these are the ones who help in keeping down the high cost of living. The merchant who is backward about giving prices and news about his stock is the one to watch when you go to buy something. Nearly every business and professional man of Hico is represented each week in the News Review.

We rise again to remark that citizens of this and adjoining counties should busy themselves at once with road matters. This is an ideal time for planning highway work, for in the next few months contracts are going to be let for an airline road from South Texas to the Oklahoma line, and this section is due consideration when the route is selected. Think roads, talk roads, and work on road matters, and the results will be more than satisfactory. The formation of the soil in this section makes good roads possible at much lower cost than in the black land sections of the State. There is need for more good farm-to-market roads in addition to highways.

One failing of humanity that this editor has had occasion to notice throughout his thus-far short life, is the tendency to rise and holler about some condition, local or national, that is going to put the skids to civilization, and send the people to the how-wows. Not a week passes but we are solicited by someone to make mention of some condition that exists (mainly in their own minds) and which we should help call attention to and alleviate through the columns of our paper. We are aware of the fact that a newspaper owes a responsibility to the community in which it is published—that there are certain things it must stand for and other things that it must go on record as opposing—but for our part we want to let someone else do the reforming and we'll do the informing. Our policy is to adopt constructive methods rather than destructive and in saying this we don't think we are weighing in on our job. Our main duty is the dispensing of news, and though we may fall down on this task we are going to put our every effort into planning for a newspaper that people can read without having the feeling after reading it of having listened to a sermon. We are not working for vindication, vilification or to carry out some personal grudge. We want to print the best newspaper we know how to print. We want to get all the subscriptions and reader interest we may command. And we naturally want to do all the legitimate business that it is possible to do with a profit. Further than that it is the people's paper, and while we reserve the right to conduct it as we think it should be conducted, we are always open to suggestions and hints on how to make improvements. We can't, of course, use all the free advice we get, but this when it is well meant and of a sane advice is well appreciated nature that conforms with our program as outlined above.

He has exhibited his birds at the Waco Cotton Palace, where he has won some very high prizes, and states that he intends to have an exhibit at the State Fair this year, provided the proper arrangements can be made and he recouperates sufficiently from a recent operation. One of his Tom turkeys cost him $100.

E. W. SMITH, SIGN PAINTER DE LUXE, HAS BEEN IN FOR HICO SEVERAL DAYS

One of the best known traveling sign painters of the country has been in Hico the past week, doing work for several local firms. E. W. Smith and wife arrived last week from Dublin, and Mr. Smith was kept busy during his entire stay. We were introduced to Mr. Smith by one Hico citizen as a man he had known "nigh onto a hundred years," and while this was obviously an exaggeration, the fact remains that he has been coming to this town for longer than most people remember. His handwork is in evidence on nearly every building, and though some of them show signs of age, they are still well preserved and seem to be an example of fine work.

Mr. Smith's home is in Duncan, Oklahoma, where he owns property. He goes back there now and then to see after business interests, but for the most part he and his wife spend their time on the road, traveling about nine months out of the year. Mr. Smith told a News Review reporter that upon leaving Hico he would go to Stephenville, then to Glen Rose, back to Hico and on to Duncan, after which they would leave for a trip to Arizona in their traveling house, which is equipped for comfort on the road. On their recent trip they traveled in a sedan, and were rather cramped for room.

While in Hico this trip this pioneer sign painter did work for pioneer sign painter did work for Duncan Bros., Hardin & Campbell, the News Review and others. When he left our office, he said: "See you the Fourth of July."

BREAKAGE IN CAFETERIA PROBLEM TO STEWARDESS

Fort Worth, Texas.—Mrs. Georgia Harris, stewardess at Texas Christian University, is looking for someone who has a solution to the breakage problem in the university's cafeteria. She has purchased 1350 glasses so far this school year, and now has on hands but 500. The remaining 850 have been broken by students.

"They drop them on the floor, break them at the water fountains and by turning them over the tops of milk bottles," Mrs. Harris says. The bill for breakage, she reports, runs as high as $1200 each year.

INSPECTION TRIP.

Austin, Texas.—Mechanical engineering students at the University of Texas are making plans for an inspection trip to Trinidad, Dallas and Fort Worth early in April, according to Alex Vallance, associate professor in the department of mechanical engineering.

Miss Mattie Rodgers, English instructor of Baylor University, Waco, was a week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rodgers. Her brother, Claude, of Tyler, also came up for the week end to join his wife and son in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bowles. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rodgers and son, Ernest, accompanied them to Waco Sunday on their return to their post of duty, returning home the same afternoon. Tells How to Be Happy 'Tho Married

FORT WORTH.—How to be happy although married will be outlined to prospective husbands in a series of eight lectures on "Marriage, Its Problems and Responsibilities," to be given in Fort Worth under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Dean Colby D. Hall of Texas Christian University will be general chairman of the course.

"The course is not being given to induce men to marry or to keep them from it," Dean Hall explains. "It does not emphasize unhappiness or the difficulties of married life. The aim of the series of lectures is to impart information to young men contemplating marriage and to those already married, with the idea of preventing mistakes rather than curing them afterwards."

"Psychological Aspects of Marriage: How to Be Happy" will be the subject of one of the lectures, by Prof. E. M. McDiarmid, head of the T. C. U. philosophy department, on March 17.

All but one of the speakers will be men. The exception is Mrs. Robert W. Fender, who will tell "The Woman's Side of It" April 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lively were in Gatesville Sunday visiting relatives.

Mrs. Carl Davidson and children returned to their home at Hamilton Sunday, after an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Lynch.

Don't Be Deceived

BUY YOUR CHICKS FROM A SOURCE WHERE VITALITY AND HIGH WINTER EGG PRODUCTION REIGNS SUPREME

You probably have had those little dried up pullet egg chicks sold to you in the past and probably have your mind made up to buy the same again this season. Just from the simple fact that some Hatchery man has you sold on the idea that you can get better laying stock from those who keep their own breeders and in great flocks. Congested, jammed up in small contaminated pens, infested with intestinal parasites, and every other known cause of low vitality.

It doesn't matter what the breeding is back of these kind of flocks, they are not going to reflect their breeding in the off spring. In them you find flocks of pullets late in maturing, undersized and easy subjects for roup and colds. Result: No profitable egg production through the fall and winter months.

Why go through that old experience again when you can get your chicks here at a big saving in price and from hens kept in smaller flocks where they are at liberty to range over unlimited green fields in search of the elements that nature stores away, in order that fowls might pick up as needed to keep their intestinal tract free of worms, coccidia and dozens of other vitality destroying germs from hens that have had their natural molt and rest period just before hatching season, during which time they stored away abundant quantities of vitamins, minerals and fats (that are absolutely essential to produce big fat yellow legged chicks that you must have if you are to raise a flock of money making layers.) And our flocks have as good breeding as is practical in the production of commercial layers.

Or possibly you have been getting good chicks from your breeder hatcheryman who is buying the eggs from smaller free range flocks, doing it on the quiet and having you believe they are coming from a certain special pen of their own.

Baby Chicks have come to be a necessity. You look around a great deal before you buy other necessities costing far less so Why Buy Chicks Blindfolded?

Why give up those extra dollars when you can come to our hatchery and get your chicks of far greater quality and for less money?

Mass production breeders cannot compete with the free range breeders in producing money making flocks. We don't have anything to hide. We want you to know that we buy our eggs. This open dealing gives us the pick of the flocks and when we buy eggs from a flock we have the privilege to cull it to suit our requirements.

These free range flocks have so much more vitality stored away in their eggs. We get a much higher percentage of saleable chicks per 100 eggs than the breeder hatcherymen. That's why they tell you they don't sell chicks at our prices and make money. This vitality plays the same part in profitable egg production.

The mass production breeders cannot hope to compete with the well bred free range flocks.

Why don't you book your order with us for chicks that will develop into full size hens, that will have enough vitality to produce eggs next winter, while your neighbors hens are loafing on the job with colds and roup, while we still have some choice hatching dates open for bookings.

We hatch English and American Strain White Leghorns Brown Leghorn, Buff Orpington, Rose and Single Comb Rhode Island Reds and Black Minorcas.

Savory Church Suppers That All Will Enjoy

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company

PLANNING meals for a large group of persons, possibly a hundred or more, seems difficult to most of us, for it means thinking in much greater quantities than those to which we are accustomed. Yet church and community suppers require that someone be able to plan menus and estimate carefully the quantity of food needed.

Since these suppers usually are for the purpose of raising money, they should be as simple and inexpensive as possible, while furnishing ample quantities of nourishing and appetizing food. Below will be found two carefully planned menus, with complete recipes and the approximate quantities of food required to serve 150 people. If you will slip these suggestions into your cook book or recipe file, you may find them exceedingly helpful when you are called to serve on the entertainment committee:

with the other ingredients, add dressing and serve. Order a gallon of pickle relish to serve 150. A large can fig or plum pudding is enough for 12 to 15 people, so for 150 provide one dozen large puddings. Allow 2 rolls to each person, or 300 in all, and three pounds of butter cut in a butter slicer. Four pounds of coffee will be required for this number of people.

Menu I Baked Ham Oven Baked Beans, Vegetarian Style Hot Rolls Cole Slaw Fresh Cucumber Relish Fig or Plum Pudding with Sauce Coffee

Menu II Beef Loaf Tomato Sauce Scalloped Potatoes Buttered Green Peas Spanish Queen Olives Rolls Mince Meat Pie Coffee

Chop the onions and seeded green peppers together quite fine. Add the meat, together with the breadcrumbs and salt. Beat the eggs slightly, add the milk and combine with the meat. Add salt to taste, and mix thoroughly. Weigh out into loaf pans which have been well greased, pressing:

well into the corners. This quantity makes about 7 five-pound loaves, cutting twenty-four slices each.

Tomato Sauce 2 institutional-size cans cream of tomato soup; 2 1/2 cups flour; 1 1/2 cups fat. Melt fat in a large pan, add flour, and stir until well blended. Add tomato soup, and stir until thick. Cook for several minutes and serve. This makes a delicious tomato sauce and is quickly and easily prepared.

4 to 5 institutional-size cans of peas will be needed, or if ordinary number 2 cans (the size usually purchased for families) are used, 25 cans will be required. Two one-gallon cans of Spanish Queen olives will be sufficient.

Mince Meat Pie: Pastry 9 quarts flour; 10 teaspoons salt; 5 cups lard. Mix flour and salt. Add lard, and blend thoroughly. Moisten to a dough with cold water, being careful not to use too much. This amount will make 26 pies. Each of these can be cut in 6 pieces, making 156 servings. To fill the pies, 5 or 6 institutional cans or about 14 two-pound jars of mince meat will be needed.

Jordan was called to Weatherford Friday on account of the death of her sister, Mrs. Emma Long, who passed away Thursday following a stroke of paralysis, from which she only lived a few hours. Selmon, are the only surviving children out of a family of twelve.

Thursday Bridge Club Met With Mrs. Earl R. Lynch

Mrs. Earl R. Lynch was hostess to the members of the Thursday Bridge Club, with a few additional guests at her home last Thursday afternoon. The George Washington suggestions were carried out, using flags mingled with floral decorations for the room decorations. Score pads were held together with hatchets, and other similar ideas suggestive of the season were carried out in the tally cards and pencils.

Mrs. E. S. Jackson was high score winner. Each guest received little perfume vials as favors.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Carl Davidson of Hamilton, and Mrs. Lynnwood Powledge of San Antonio. Others present were Mesdames H. N. Wolfe, Hugh E. McCullough, Watt Petty, Frank M. Mings, C. G. Masterson, E. S. Jackson, T. A. Duncan, E. H. Persons, C. L. Woodward and Miss Irene Frank.

Refreshments served were pressed chicken with cranberries, hot rolls, and little individual cherry pies with whipped cream.

Miss Marguerite Fairy Entertained Les Sans Souci Club With Dinner

The red, white and blue waving flags, miniature hatchets and small statues of Geo. Washington added an effective note to decorations for the regular meeting of Les Sans Souci Club last Thursday evening when Miss Marguerite Fairy was hostess at her home here.

Centering the large dining table, where the dinner was served, was a huge white cake, and elsewhere on the table were the patriotic decorations, and colored tapers furnishing lighting for the room.

The menu consisted of chicken, dressing, hot biscuits, cream gravy, mashed potatoes, creamed peas, asparagus tips, pear salad, coffee, ice cream and cake. Favors were little hatchets. After dinner mints were also served.

Immediately after serving, a few games of bridge were enjoyed.

Invited guests were Miss Mable Anderson, Miss Annie Pierson and Mrs. Roland L. Holford. Out of town guests were Mrs. Alice Chenault of Houston, and Mrs. Ralph W. Hull of Pendleton.

Members present were Misses Lola Mae Williamson, Zella Mirn Duncan, Wynama Anderson, Thoma Rodgers and Mrs. T. A. Duncan. Friends here will be glad to know that Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Callan are permanently located at Ardmore, Oklahoma, where they have purchased a newspaper. Mrs. Callan will be remembered as a daughter of Mrs. R. W. Purdom.

"I SHOULD HAVE USED KONJOLA LONG BEFORE"

St. Louis Man Suffered Eight Years—Relates Experience With New Medicine.

MR. ALBERT SMYTHE
"I should have used Konjola years before," said Mr. Albert Smythe, 2618 Rutger street, St. Louis. "For eight years I suffered with my stomach and kidneys until I became almost a physical wreck. The simplest foods bloated me until I could scarcely breathe. My back ached and pained me from my shoulders to my waist and sleep was impossible for any length of time. I grew steadily weaker and was on the verge of giving up my work."

"A friend who had been benefited by this great medicine, urged me to try Konjola. I was transformed from a semi-invalid into a well and happy man in just six weeks. Today I eat what I wish without discomfort of any kind. I never blot following meals and my appetite is excellent. The pains have left my back entirely and the frequent bladder actions which disturbed my sleep are a thing of the past. I urge every sufferer to take Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Hico at Porter's Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns through out this entire section.

TAKE NOTICE!
Many are carelessly throwing their old cans and garbage in their alleys or street where they will fill with water and start mesquitos at once. It is much better to have a box for this purpose and all cans and buckets should be punctured in the bottom.

Several open toilets are in very bad condition and must be properly cleaned and kept clean. This is mandatory, as the fly, the greatest transmitter of disease, is already appearing. Please clean up and keep clean and don't force your Department of Health to have to get personal in this matter. At the proper time, the city will take up this garbage without lost to you; but you must have these open toilets cleaned and limed at least twice a month, and at your own expense.

75th Birthday of Mrs. Caldwell Is Observed at Iredell

By MISS STELLA JONES
Iredell, Texas, Feb. 25.—An enjoyable day was had in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell here Saturday, February 22nd, the occasion being the 75th birthday of Mrs. Caldwell, better known as Aunt Becca. A good crowd of relatives and friends prepared an appetizing dinner and there was plenty of it for every one and all had a "big" time. The birthday cake was made by Mrs. John Parks and decorated by her and Mrs. A. N. Pike.

This fine old lady is loved by everyone and is good as she knows how to be, and certainly is very jolly and good company. Although nearly blind she looks on the bright side of life. Her consecrated christian life she has lived here is a blessing to everyone that she comes in contact with; her influence she sheds out will live on down for many years to come. It can be said of her "She hath done what she could." Till her eyes failed her she was an angel in the sick room. She was a great hand to attend church but now her health has deprived her of the privilege. Anyone gets a hearty welcome in the home of this fine old couple.

Aunt Becca received a number of nice presents which she is very proud of. She is a sweet old lady and deserved them. The dinner was a surprise to her.

Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. John Lee and sons and Miss Lucy Rhodes of Walnut, Mr. and Mrs. John Chewning, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller and sister, Mrs. Corrigan, Mrs. John Miller and daughters, Aleen and Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Will Clanton, Rev. Mr. Nance and wife, Rev. Mr. Lester and wife, and son, Mr. and Mrs. John Parks, Dr. and Mrs. Pike and daughter, Miss Eugenia, Mrs. Deatherage and Miss Stella Jones.

The host of friends wish for Aunt Becca more happy birthdays.

CALLS ATTENTION TO LAW REGULATING DOGS

Following is an article brought in by one of our subscribers, Cash Snoddy, who called the matter to our attention. It is taken from a recent bulletin from the United States Department of Agriculture, and we are printing it for what it is worth:

"The city councils are empowered to tax, regulate, or restrain, and prohibit the running at large of dogs and to authorize their destruction when at large contrary to ordinances, and to impose penalties for violation of such ordinances. Any person owning or keeping any dog accustomed to running, worrying, or killing goats, sheep, or poultry, which they know to be so accustomed, and who permits such dog to run at large, is subject to a fine not to exceed $100. Each time such dog runs at large is a separate offense. The law contains no clause regarding recovery of damages to sheep."

BOSQUE COUNTY MAN CALLS ON EDITOR

Orville Reesing of Norse, Texas, visited the News Review office Tuesday and spent awhile talking with us, in the meantime getting his name and address straight on our books.

We won't take all the blame for getting his record wrong. His father-in-law, J. J. Leeth, came in last week, and ordered the paper sent to his daughter, the wife of Mr. Reesing. As is always the case when we get to talking with Mr. Leeth, we got to thinking of that golden wedding celebration he and his wife are planning for this summer, and in the conversation that ensued we just forgot to check up on the name correctly. But he told us to send the paper to Norse, Texas, and we didn't know until this week that the postoffice at that place was discontinued the first of the year. However Mr. Reesing informed us of his correct address, which is Star Route, Clifton, Texas, and we will call it square with Mr. Leeth provided he promises us a piece of that cake which they will likely have at their celebration.

Mr. Reesing reports that most of his oats were killed by the severe weather last month. He intends to plant staple cotton of the Sunshine variety this year, having found that a better staple and grade pays a profit. He also has a few Jersey heifers, and is trying to improve his herd, which indicates along with his foresight in the other matters that he won't go hungry at least.

There will be Sunday school at 10 o'clock, preceding the morning service.

Mrs. L. A. Powlledge of San Antonio, who has been a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Guyton, and of her sisters, Mrs. J. P. Rodgers Sr. and Mrs. T. A. Duncan, left the latter part of the week for Dallas to join her husband and spend a few days.
