

WET GAS makes your car stubborn as a mule

Cars that climb hills like rabbits with Texaco, will cough and sputter and demand second gear when a wet gas is in the tank. For wet gas condenses into raw drops of gasoline in the manifold and makes engines slow, stubborn, sluggish and sick!

Texaco cures that. It forms such a thoroughly dry gas that instant power surges into your motor at the slightest command of the throttle. Even the highest hills lose their terrors. Mid-town traffic becomes as simple, as easy as the open road. Texaco is exceptionally swift and agile and gives amazingly sensitive control. And in these days of congested highways control is as vital as power.

If you haven't tried Texaco, try it today! As soon as the old gas has been worked out of your engine make any test you wish. Challenge the worst hill in your neighborhood. Find a lonely straight-away and step all the way down! Then test its idling speed. You can't put Texaco to these tests without being convinced!

Today try Texaco. And remember that this original dry gas is obtainable only at the Texaco pump—under the Texaco Red Star with the Green T.

1. A wet gas is an atomized mixture of gasoline vapor in which are suspended drops of raw gasoline.
2. These drops of raw gasoline form an uneven mixture which resists the action of the spark.
3. Result: Destructive crankcase dilution, difficult starts, slow acceleration—a sluggish motor.

1. The new and better Texaco vaporizes so readily that it forms a dry gas—an active mixture of gasoline and air.
2. This pure, dry gas responds instantly to the action of the spark.
3. Result: Lightning starts, rapid acceleration, smooth action—power!

Guss Brannan Is Candidate For Tax Assessor

Guss Brannan, a well known school teacher, farmer and ranchman, of the Indian Gap country, makes formal announcement this week of his candidacy for the office of Tax Assessor of Hamilton county.

Mr. Brannan has lived in Hamilton county practically all of his life, having been reared in the Indian Gap section on a farm. He is well educated, taught school successively for four years, and has since that time been engaged in farming and ranch operations. He is a successful business man, stands high in his community as well as everywhere that he is known. He has never before aspired to hold a public office, but is a fine citizen, a Democrat and an aspiring man yet in his prime. His training has made him capable of discharging the duties of the office and he feels that his good citizenship all of the forty years that he has lived in the county entitle him to a respectful consideration of his candidacy by all of the voters of Hamilton county. He will make a complete canvass of the county within the next few days intervening between now and the July primaries.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

International Sunday School Lesson for April 20. JESUS TEACHING FORGIVENESS

Matthew 18:21-35 and EASTER LESSON John 20:1-16.

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Only about eight months intervene between the time when Jesus taught the lesson about forgiveness in Capernaum and the glorious Easter morning that marked the resurrection of the body of our Lord from the grave. The disciples are still at school with the Master. Jesus held a quiz class at the base of Mt. Hermon when He asked Peter "Who do men say that I am?" Now Peter turns the question on the Teacher. The man himself may have been in trouble. Possibly he had been injured by some one and had forgiven that person three times, which was the legal requirement. But Peter knew that as a follower of the new Teacher he must go further and may have made it double the number, with one more for good measure. "Master isn't seven times enough to forgive anyone?" The answer suggested that with seven times the habit was only well started. Let the act be done 490 times, was the reply by way of instruction.

One thing accomplished by forgiving another is to get the cancer of hatred out of our own heart, otherwise there is internal trouble for us by day and night. One test that we have truly forgiven another is when we sincerely pray that they may experience God's richest blessings. Jesus set the fine example when on the cross, in the midst of His agonies, He prayed "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Great truths are remembered better when clinched with an apt illustration, so Jesus added a parable. Here is a man who owes millions of dollars and when payment is called for begs for more time. The situation is already impossible and nothing remains to be done but sell mar, wife and children that even a little equity may come to the prince. Instead the one who is a prince indeed cancels the entire indebtedness. This is just the way God forgives the sinner. It is not a question of the size of the sin but of the abounding love of the Father. Then this forgiven man, in the story, looks over his records and

"NO MEDICINE EVER HELPED ME AS DID KONJOLA"

Tulsa Lady Is Enthusiastic About New Medicine—"Best In The World," She Says.

MRS. G. I. CRABAUGH

No medicine ever helped me as did Konjola," said Mrs. G. I. Crabaugh, 739 Quaker street, Tulsa. "For more than nine years I had trouble with my stomach. Gas accumulated after meals and I bloated terribly. The pain and pressure often made me short of breath and dizzy. Constipation was another of my worries and I became an almost daily user of cathartics. I had terrible headaches and found it difficult to sleep. My nerves became badly affected and my general condition run down.

I am delighted with the results I obtained from Konjola. Before I had finished the second bottle my constipation had been relieved and my stomach greatly improved. As I kept on with this great medicine my general health improved until I am feeling better today than I have in a long time. I have an excellent appetite and eat heartily without distress. Even neuritis which attacked me occasionally has been totally driven from my system, I cannot say too much in praise of this great medicine.

Though Konjola works quickly, six to eight bottles are recommended as a fair trial. Although many people are benefitted within a few weeks, the longer period is best. Konjola is sold in Hico, Texas, at Porter's Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

COMPENSATIONS (By Rembrandt Peale)

O, don't be sorrowful, darling! And don't be sorrowful, pray; Taking the year together, my dear There isn't more night than day.

'Tis rainy weather, my darling; Time's waves they heavily run; But taking the year together, my dear, There isn't more cloud than sun.

We are old folks now, my darling Our heads are growing gray; But taking the year all round, my dear, You will always find the May.

We have had our May, my darling, And our roses long ago; And the time of the year is coming, my dear, For the silent night and the snow.

But God is God, my darling, Of the night as well as the day; And we feel and know that we can go Wherever He leads the way.

A God of the night, my darling, Of the night of death so grim; The gate that leads out of life, good wife, Is the gate that leads to Him.

"Dad, gimme a penny." "Son, don't you think you're getting too big to be forever begging for pennies?" "I expect you're right, dad. Gimme a dollar."

for Economical Transportation

it's wise to choose a SIX!

There is one sure way to get greater value in a low-priced car today—choose a Six!

This greater value is instantly obvious when you drive a Chevrolet Six. You notice first of all its greater smoothness. There is no tremor in the steering wheel—no rattle in the floor boards—no rumble or drumming in the body.

In addition to the finer performance of its six-cylinder motor, the new Chevrolet gives you truly remarkable economy.

Its six-cylinder smoothness saves the entire car from the strain and wear of vibration. This, of course, lowers the cost of maintenance and assures a longer-lasting, longer-satisfying automobile.

From the standpoint of operating expense, Chevrolet is equally economical. No other automobile consumes less gasoline and oil. No other shows a lower expense for tires. And no other car costs less for service.

Because of its modern engineering, Chevrolet also assures a high resale value.

Chevrolet gives you fully-enclosed, weather-proof, 4-wheel brakes; a modern fuel system—with the gasoline tank mounted in the rear; four long semi-elliptic springs, mounted lengthwise in the direction of car travel. It gives you beautiful Fisher bodies built of combination hardwood-and-steel. It gives you a heavy, rigidly-braced channel-steel frame. And it gives you a full ball bearing steering mechanism.

Before you decide on any car in the low-price field, see and drive the Chevrolet Six. The more thoroughly you investigate, the more certain you are to conclude that it's wise to choose a Six—for value, for performance . . . and for economical transportation!

Good Rain With Hail Reported In Some Sections

Several fine showers have fallen in and around Hico this week, the precipitation being heavier in some parts than others.

Weather Observer Eakins reported the total precipitation for the week .79 up to Thursday noon. Fairly got a much heavier rainfall, a two- or three-inch rain being reported there Wednesday afternoon, with some hail. The damage from the hail was negligible, according to reports.

Other communities reported rains during the first part of the week, but there is not yet enough moisture in the ground for the needs of crops.

Drilling Started On Martin Well Early This Week

The rig that was hauled to the Martin farm near Duffau two weeks ago has been set up and everything was immediately put in readiness for work. Drilling began in earnest Tuesday afternoon, and at noon Thursday water had been encountered, and the bit was about seventy feet in the earth.

Mr. Payne of Breckenridge is drilling the well, and has his son and two more experienced drillers on the job.

Water is being furnished from the J. C. Laney place, and gas is being used for fuel, the supply coming from the Koonsman well.

A Star rig is being used, and a gasoline engine furnishes the motive power.

The location is in new territory, we are informed, and although we are not officially advised on the matter, it is the general opinion that a strong effort will be made to get oil.

THREE PERSONS INJURED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Jessie Duncan, daughter, Miss Zella Mirm and Miss Mable Anderson were riding in the Essex Sedan belonging to Mrs. Duncan, and had started out the Stephenville road when they found the roads muddy and slippery after going only a few miles. Turning around and starting back toward Hico, the car slipped in loose muddy clay and slid off in a deep ditch, turning it completely over. The car was going at a slow speed, as Miss Duncan, who was driving, was trying to keep the car in the middle of the road, but it being heavy, the crash could not be prevented.

The three occupants received minor cuts and bruises. Passers by brought them to town, and a wrecker went after the sedan, and the car was repaired this week. A new top was necessary, a new door glass and other similar repairs made.

Large Hen Eggs Continue to Show Up Around Hico

When is this thing going to stop? We have already strained our record for veracity among our friends on account of printing stories recently about large hen eggs that have been brought into the News Review office by people living in and around Hico.

Another example came to our attention last Friday, when T. M. Trimble living out on Route 4, came in with a specimen measuring eight and one-fourth inches around the long way and six and one-fourth around the other. This egg was laid by one of his Rhode Island Red hens. It was not as smooth on the surface as its predecessors, but was a fine specimen. Mr. Trimble did not leave it with us, and so we will not get to satisfy our innate curiosity as we have previously done by breaking the exhibits open to see what is contained on the inside.

This seems to be a good egg year, any way you figure it, and if grain and cotton will turn out in like manner as to size of the yield, Hico ought to come to the front.

The Hico band has made progressive steps under the direction of M. L. Knott, together with the addition of his entire family as members of the band. Mr. Knott invites every citizen and their family to attend this concert and offer any suggestions toward the betterment of Hico's band.

HICO BABY WON BEAUTY PRIZE AT CARLTON STOCK SHOW

Little Miss Mary Helen Hollis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hollis of Hico, was declared the prettiest baby on display at the Carlton Stock Show and was presented with a blue ribbon last Saturday, when the judges made their decision.

Mary Helen is seven months old, and weighs 21 pounds. Besides being a beautiful child, she is a picture of health.

Upon returning from Carlton Saturday, she was wearing the blue ribbon on her chubby wrist and smiling at inspectors as they congratulated her.

THE WAY OF LIFE (By Bruce Barton)

The Fiddlers
It was at a concert in New York where a celebrated teacher of the violin was exhibiting his pupils. A boy of eighteen stepped on the stage and began to play. A hush fell over the room. His face, his fingers, every move and look proclaimed an embryo artist.

With easy assurance, in which was no trace of effort, he played one number after another, the audience urging him on with enthusiastic applause. Each of us felt the thrill of personally discovering this new star in the musical heavens. The concert over, a gentleman rushed forward to congratulate the teacher.

"You must be wonderfully proud of that brilliant boy!" he exclaimed.

The teacher was unresponsive. "Not very proud," he said.

"But surely he will be a master."
"No. He will probably be a fiddler in a restaurant."
The man was a bit indignant. Was this coolness born of profes-

Choose Your Make-Up Wisely, Then Apply It Very Carefully

I CAN remember when rouge, lipstick, and even face powder were considered a little disgraceful by many people. Twenty or thirty years ago, if a woman's skin was too pale or sallow, she just dabbed on a little pink or white powder, thinking that this would help. Common sense finally made us realize that white or pink powder alone simply cannot look natural on any skin.

So many shades of powder and rouge are made now, that if you choose your make-up wisely, and apply it carefully, you never will need to be dissatisfied with your appearance. Ordinarily, the only time it is necessary to mix powder tones is when your skin is sallow, or your tan is fading, and you must make your powder blend with your changing skin tones.

It is very important to select the correct shades of powder and rouge, so I want to give you a few hints:
Rouge for the pale skin with too little natural coloring must be selected carefully. Too-dark rouge takes all the charm from this type of skin, while a too-pale tint does not accent the coloring enough. I suggest cream rouge in a carmine shade. Brunette or rachel powder will provide a perfect finish for the pale skin.

Older women usually find their skins getting ruddier than they like. Clever make-up will do wonders for your skin if it is this type. Above all, be very careful about your rouge. You may not need rouge at all, but if you do, apply it sparingly. A bit of crimson cream rouge is best. Above all, never use rouge with a dark purplish tinge, for this shade of rouge is unbecoming to any skin. And pinkish powder would be all wrong for a ruddy skin—which needs a light tan powder to tone down its color.

Perhaps your skin is perfectly healthy but somehow lacks distinction, and looks a little sallow at times. Or perhaps it is darker than it should be from sunburn and neglect in the past. In either case, rouge is very important, for without it, women with this type skin often look ill, even though they feel perfectly well. I recommend cherry or carmine rouge. The right rouge correctly applied can change this type from plainness into beauty.

As to powder, let me emphasize the importance of selecting a shade that will take the yellowness away from your skin. A peachy glow—that is, a combination of yellow and pink tints—is the best powder for a sallow or darkened skin. Peach tints are found in brunette or rachel powder. If this seems too pale, mix in a little light tan powder, and shake up the box carefully, to get a perfect match for your skin.

sional jealousy—the envy of an older man for the brilliant youth? The teacher did not leave him long in doubt.

"The boy could be a master," he explained, "but never will. Some of the others who performed less well today you will hear from later. But he—no. He will be a fiddler. It comes too easy; he will not work."

If you have read much of biography you know that the teacher was right. Nothing is more impressive than the infinite pains which great men have taken, not merely to achieve position, but to keep it.

Emerson tells of a letter from an artist friend describing Michelangelo's huge mural painting of the Last Judgment, which the friend "had the opportunity of seeing very near, and was astonished at the minute finish of muscles and nerves, finished like a miniature." No detail was too small for the artist whose shoulders were bent by the long effort of finishing his immortal pictures

Voice of Harold Lloyd Heard First Time at the Palace

"Christmas comes but once a year"—and so does Harold Lloyd, with almost as much attendant excitement and interest on the part of young and old as the Yule season brings.

This time Harold Lloyd appears in his first all-talking picture—"Welcome Danger" at the Palace Theatre in Hico. The show opens here Monday and will also run Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Welcome Danger" is all that the name implies. It is plentifully supplied with chilling thrills. And Lloyd, of course, is all that his name implies—namely uproarious comedy.

Lloyd never fails to produce the unique in his plot and in his situations, and here he does it again, and how!

The plot takes a new turn every other minute. There is a girl and her little crippled brother. There is a kindly old Chinese doctor. There is a white man who poses as a reformer but who is really a crook. There is Lloyd swirling through it all in a great whirlwind of rollicking entertainment.

The star's voice is happily a fine one for the best purposes of the all-talking screen. It comes as a distinct addition to his former achievements in the realm of silent drama. He has surrounded himself with a cast of capable talking actors.

These Good People Won't Do Without Their Home Paper

Last week we got mixed up in our subscriber talks, and gave J. P. Rodgers Jr. credit for a subscription given us by J. C. Rodgers. What we said about J. P. still goes however—we won't be tight enough to retract our statements. But his uncle might think we were talking out of our head from some of the statements we made. One of them fitted right—he is in the post office, and we also believe we were right when we said he believed in News Review advertising. But neither of them have kicked, so we will let the matter drop.

Several more of our good friends have been in the past week to renew their subscriptions, and most of them had a good word to say for the paper. This is always appreciated. No matter how busy they may be, they always take time to give "flowers to the living" and we cheer these remarks highly.

GRADY M. BARROW, city, was in Friday to renew his subscription, making the firm of Hico Furniture Company 100 per cent subscribers. Mr. Barrow stays behind his home paper in every way, and his cooperation is appreciated.

S. R. MASSENGALE, city, was in last week-end to give us a dollar for subscription, and to get us straightened out on his name. We had his initials right until several weeks ago, when we got instructions from someone somewhere to change his initials to something else. However, he stated that we were right the first time (as we usually are) and now we have his paper going out right again.

CHARLES LANGSTON was in Friday and renewed his dad's subscription for another year. Mr. Langston owns the plumbing and plumbing shop across the street from the News Review office, and they are good neighbors.

T. M. TRIMBLE, Route 4, Hico, was in Saturday displaying a large egg that was laid by one of his Rhode Island Red hens, and while here paid for the paper for six months.

R. M. HANSEW, city, came in and renewed Saturday. He said he didn't get his wife to send us a check for the paper, but that he had better go on and pay it. We'll take the money from either side of the house, and thank Mr. Jameson for coming in and his wife for sending him.

DR. SID A. HARRIS, Snyder, Texas, will get the paper until April 1931, since F. N. Ross came in and gave us the money. Mr. Harris is a brother-in-law of Mr. Ross.

J. D. BARFIELD, Route 5, Hico, couldn't decide whether he was going to renew for the paper or not because his eyes were getting so bad he could hardly see, but his little niece who lives with him said "Please don't stop the paper—keep on taking it and I will read it for you." So he brought his dollar in this week. Mr. Barfield is 46 years old, and is in good physical condition for a man of his age. He stated that he had needed medical attention only twice in his life, and that was an account of accidents, not sickness.

MRS. W. E. ALEXANDER, living on Route 7 out of Hico, keeps her paper coming another year by renewing through the news stand. These people, out there in the direction are loyal readers of the paper, and some time we want them to come to the office and meet them.

J. H. ADKISON of Iredell was in Saturday and handed the crimson he had ready $1.00 to renew his subscription for another year. Mr. Adkison finds time to come to Hico pretty often, and has many friends among the merchants.

CASH SNODDY, Route 6, renewed Monday morning for the News Review. Besides reading the paper regularly, Mr. Snoddy takes an interest in it otherwise, having let us have a little booklet recently from which we printed an article about dogs. We let the book get away from us somehow, and could not find it when he called for it, but hope he won't feel too hard toward us on this account.

MRS. W. L. JOHNSON, city, drove by Monday and handed us a dollar to renew for another year. They like to keep up with Hico doings, even if they do reside in town and know what is going on.

ROY MOFFATT, district engineer of the Texas-Louisiana Power Company, was in Tuesday and subscribed for the paper.

W. M. BELLVILLE was in Tuesday to subscribe for the News Review. He and Mrs. Bellville left this week for Fort Worth to remain for the next several months where he will do millwright work. We hate to lose them but they will keep up with Hico while away, and maybe we will have so many good things to tell that they will come back again soon.

LEE TRANTHAM, Route 6, says he has been taking this paper ever since there's been a paper in Hico, and brought his money in Wednesday for renewal. He always takes care of his obligations when they are due, and we knew he would be in soon for he reads the paper from cover to cover.

Rivals Rip Van Winkle

H. William Lord of Chicopee, Mass., lost his memory four years ago and now is trying to catch up with events. Lindbergh's flight, President Hoover's election, the Wall Street Panic and other great events are news to him.

Figures Show That Living At Home Pays Dividends

Proving that a family can live at home in the Hico country, and enjoy some of the luxuries of life and at the same time make a fair living while storing away something for the future, the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Adams in the Fairy community has recently been brought to our attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams are living in a fine new home which will compare with the best in the country. They are known by their neighbors to hold a place of respect in the community, always seem to find time to get some of the finer things from life and in fact more nearly approach the state of happiness that farm life justifies.

Mrs. Adams accompanied Miss Jonnie Huchingson to the News Review office last Saturday afternoon, when the latter had business with us, and Miss Jonnie began the revelation by telling if some of the good times she had enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Adams, who is her cousin. While Mrs. Adams was not telling of her experiences in a bragging sort of way, she very courteously answered a few questions put to her by the editor, and said that they kept two cows and between two hundred and two hundred and fifty chickens. They keep books on them, and last year they developed that after using all the eggs, butter, cream and milk they needed at home, they sold produce in the amount of $791.35. Basing the feed cost on an average of $25 per month, which Mrs. Adams stated would more than cover same, there is still a nice item of profit for their labors. The feed bill in February was only about $22 and other months fall under that.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams have been married twelve years. She stated that they had estimated the cost of their home and balanced same against the revenue from their chickens and cows, and concluded that the home had been paid for by the stock and poultry. Their other crops were figured outside of these calculations. Each year they have improved their flock, and made additional provisions for caring for same, and now they are in line for a nice profit regularly.

Can any country show better results from labor well spent?

Cooking School At Power Co. Offices Drew Fair Crowds

Demonstrating that there is more to their service than selling kilowatts, the Texas-Louisiana Power Company for the second time this year sponsored a cooking school at their offices in Hico on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The housewives of Hico and vicinity all had a cordial invitation to attend the sessions, which were held from 2:30 to 5 each afternoon and a great number of them responded by being on hand at least one afternoon, many of them attending all three of the sessions.

The school was in charge of Mrs. I. H. Roderick, a home economist of national reputation, and she went into details on the subject of cooking, giving her audience the benefit of her findings through long study, and experience.

On the third afternoon the attendance prize went to Mrs. W. G. Smith of Hico, which was a nice waffle iron. Souvenirs were given all ladies attending each day. Some of the recipes given by Mrs. Roderick are being reprinted here for the benefit of our readers. These are picked from a large number of tested and proven recipes which she passed on to her audience, but space permits us to print only a few of them.

Ham Hawaiian.
Use a slice of ham 1 inch thick. Place in an open pan about 8x12, sprinkle lightly with ground cloves, ground mustard and brown sugar. Over this place slices of pineapple covering ham. Pour pineapple juice over this to a depth of one-half inch.

Harvard Beets.
Peel 2 small bunches of beets and cut in cubes. There should be about 3 cups. Add cup of water and cook well done. After the beets are removed from the oven, add the following sauce: One-half cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter, one-half cup vinegar, one-fourth cup water, one-half teaspoon salt. Mix the sugar and flour, add vinegar and water. Cook until thick, add salt and butter.

Chocolate Flake Pudding.
Three cups milk, one tablespoon of butter, two teaspoons cocoa, two eggs, four and one-half cups of corn flakes, three-fourths cup sugar. Scald the milk, remove from range, and add the sugar, cocoa, butter and flakes. When cool, add the eggs well beaten. Pour into a buttered casserole. This may be served plain or with whipped cream.

French Dressing.
One cup oil, one-third cup lemon juice or vinegar, one-half teaspoon paprika, one teaspoon salt and one teaspoon powdered sugar. Combine all ingredients, pour into a bottle and shake well. Keep the bottle of dressing in refrigerator and before serving, shake bottle again.
