Here In HICO

One of the most distinct compliments ever handed the weekly press, by a man whose statements are regarded as the very essence of sagacity, appeared in a syndicated article in the Fort Worth Star Telegram recently. The writer is Will Rogers, who sends out a daily letter from his adopted home in Beverly Hills, California, and anyone who has kept up with Will in his meanderings and read his homely philosophy will understand why we consider his compliment so highly. Here is what he said:

"We have a great bunch out here prying around. It's the National Editorial Association, composed of editors in smaller towns and weekly publications. They are just eating their way around the country, having a good time, and getting a lot of pleasure out of it, and giving every one that meets 'em a close up of just about as representative a gang of Americans as would be possible to hand together, intelligent, well read, and no national advertising controls their pages."

"They are not conceited enough to think they 'mould public opinion.' They just go along and service their community with the most indispensable article that it has. And yet their real power is greater than all your metropolitan dailies combined. Any person that don't read at least one well written country newspaper is not truly informed."

These remarks, of course, were made in reference to the craft in general, and give an insight into one's opinion of the men who make up the weekly press. The same thoughts found in the few words above could have been enlarged upon by other writers to fill pages and even volumes, but to old Cowboy Bill goes the prize for covering the subject with the fewest words. Members of the press will, upon reading this over, find a basis for their code of ethics, a pattern for their work that will never lead them wrong.

Two-score years spent by this humble scribe hanging around various sorts of newspaper offices here and there over the country have about convinced him that although the weekly newspaper editors are as a whole the most honest, conscientious and self-sacrificing individuals to be found in any town, they are often misled into doing things that are against their own best interests, and that they do things sometimes in the stress of battle that cause them many hours of worry without sufficient remuneration in a material way. But what they lack in getting paid in this world's goods is made up by the satisfaction that they have carried on a good fight, and stood up for the things they thought right. This is not a criticism, for we herdly feel ourselves capable of acting in that capacity in such a select gathering. It is rather a compliment, for the old boys of the press who sacrifice themselves to their public are what makes the profession what it is. But for our part, if there is any "moulding of public sentiment" to be done, we would rather use constructive methods than to vent so much of our spleen upon unsuspecting subscribers.

Closing Rush On Special Offer Was Nice Finishing Touch

After adding over two hundred names to our subscription list during July through the special offer for short-time subscribers, the management of the News Review is most enthusiastic over the position, and wishes to take this method of thanking the people of this section who were so generous in their reception of the plan.

Saturday wound up the bargain days, and the rush of subscription business was most gratifying, and a fitting climax to a generous business. While the reaction offered was not astounding, the offer made it possible and advantageous for a great many subscribers to take the paper for the next few months without any sacrifice, and we hope they will be as pleased with their trade as we are with ours.

J. G. Hendrix, Route 7, was in Saturday morning and said he wanted the paper on the last call for bargain rates. Mr. Hendrix has been a true friend to the newspaper, and at the same time has found it a medium of getting announcements of various sorts before the people. We are glad to have his name back on the list.

Mrs. Maggie Pruitt, Route 4, Hico, sent in a coupon and a quarter Saturday to get her name on our mailing list.

Clint Herring, Duffau, another long-time customer, will get the paper until Dec. 1st, through having brought in a fine frying chicken this week as his part of a trade made Saturday. If he enjoys the paper as much as we enjoy eating that fryer, he will be willing to continue his subscription when his time expires again.

W. H. Howerton, Route 5, was in Saturday to take advantage of the 25c bargain rate on subscriptions.

J. H. Meeks, Route 3, Hico, came in Saturday and wanted to trade us some hay, but since our Chevrolet is not a hay burner and we have no cow, he gave us 50c for subscription, saying he just couldn't do without the Hico paper.

I. N. Adams, Route 3, was in Saturday visiting, and upon being told of the special offer whereby we would send him the paper until December 1st for two-bits, couldn't miss the opportunity. He always takes the paper by the year, and is most loyal about renewing when his time is out.

Mrs. J. O. Cashon, city, sent in a quarter Saturday by her daughter on the last day of our bargain offer.

Kate D. Alexander writes from Clarette: "Please send the Hico paper to my address. Inclosed you will find twenty-five cents to cover cost. Wishing the paper staff much success."

N. S. Sellors, Hico Route 3, sent in on the last day for the special short-term offer, and his time has accordingly been marked up.

A coupon and twenty-five cents, received last week from F. H. Simons, Hico Route 3, entitles him to several months of good reading.

Review Club's New Year Book Out; Will Enter Contest

A piece of job printing executed in the News Review job department and delivered this week worthy of mention. The Hico Review Club, as is their usual custom, have issued their 1932-33 yearbooks, carrying programs for the coming year's work from September 3rd to May 24th of next year, and other information valuable to club members.

The program committee, of which Miss Saralee Hudson, Mrs. S. E. Blair and Mrs. C. L. Woodward are members, stated that they intended to enter their book in the state contest for the best specimen of that nature, and took special pains with their task this year. The cover of the book is jade Lodestone, printed in red, the inside pages are printed on white Emmissary Text, and the book is tied with a white cord, the club colors being red, green and white, and most effectively carried out. The contents of the book carry the information that the year's work is of a miscellaneous nature, with special days for programs on parliamentary procedure, health, Federation, the Bible and Texas. Other pages are devoted to the Club Creed, time of meeting, committees, officers, membership and their telephone numbers, programs, constitution and by-laws. The News Review is proud to have had a part in the printing of this fine book, and compliments the ladies on their alertness, their spirit of progressiveness, and their loyalty to home institutions.

City Tax Rate For 1932 Reduced to $1.20 By Council

Reduction of the city tax rate from $1.40 to $1.20 was the main item of business to come before the last regular meeting of the City Council, held at the City Hall Monday night of the week August 2nd. After some little discussion between the council members present and the mayor, it was decided that the reduction was justified, and that it would be made effective on taxes on property for the year 1932. In line with their previously announced intentions, and working with the equalization board which finished its work recently, the city officials have announced this reduction in the face of reduced city property valuations of approximately $70,000 which were allowed this year. Other accomplishments of the present council were reviewed at this meeting, later brought to the attention of this newspaper for passing on to our readers, as follows:

Highway No. 67 right-of-way through the city limits bought and paid for without condemnation proceedings; Sewer fees cut 50 per cent; water fees cut approximately 35 per cent above minimum; By cooperation of the people, city day marshal is eliminated—a saving of approximately $900. These accomplishments are considered worthy by all members of the Council and are brought to the attention of the public in a signed article by Lawrence N. Lane, Mayor.

Interesting Parade Starts 50th Reunion Off With a Bang

First prize in the parade, which opened the 50th Annual Reunion in Hico Thursday morning of this week, went to J. J. Leeth and Son, who had a novel float advertising their business of ginning. The wagon, driven by Cash Snoddy, was decorated with cotton baling, and represented an oldtime Southern plantation scene, with A. B. Roberson and Bob Hancock, dressed up as dorkies, playing the fiddle, and two little pickaninnies eating watermelon. The originators of the float spent much time and thought in its decoration, and were repaid by a $5.00 prize.

The parade started from the City Hall at 10 o'clock, led by Duke Pardon and Ralph Boone, mounted on prancing horses, the latter carrying a United States flag. Following them came the band wagon, with members of the Hico Band furnishing music. After this was the fire truck, driven by G. H. Munnerly, and carrying a number of the fire department and several young ladies.

Many business houses entered cars and floats, and they were most fittingly decorated, although the number of entries was smaller than in previous years. The ladies of the Hico Review Club won honorable mention with their original stunt, which consisted of an old-time horse drawn rig loaded with members of the club in backwoods regalia. To be perfectly frank, the ladies in their costumes looked like "the back of a hack" but their entry was original and inspired much merriment.

Following the band wagon was a Chevrolet driven by S. E. Blair, carrying the mayor and members of the City Council. Mr. Blair, Chevrolet dealer, also had a Chevrolet 1932 coupe in the parade, driven by Miss Florence Chenault, and a new Chevrolet truck. Miss Inez Burleson drove a well decorated car which excited much admiration on the part of the lookers-on, having ruffles of blue and white crepe paper waving about it, and a sign advertising the J. E. Burleson Grocery. Mrs. Dellis Seagro drove a prettily decorated car representing the Hico Poultry & Egg Company, and portraying a timely message to the public.

N. A. Leeth & Son's large truck was entered in the parade, and presented a home scene, with two children seated at a table. This entry also showed signs of having caused lots of work in its preparation.

The Meridian High School Band rode in a new International school bus, furnished by the Farm Implement Supply Co. of Hico, and alternated with the Hico band in furnishing music in the parade and later at the park. Other decorated cars were entered by the Southern Union Gas Company, Yetta Blair, Miss Annie Pierson, the Sinclair Refining Company and the Texas Company. Adding to the merriment and carnival spirit were many clowns and unique features in the parade. John Farmer looked like he was right out of Barnum & Bailey Circus, and L. E. Williamson was so disguised that few people recognized him. Others who rode in the parade helped in stimulating interest in various features of the Reunion or individual businesses. Bob Jenkins made announcements from time to time, and Peggy Pirtle rode a bicycle and displayed signs attesting the advisability of eating hamburgers with the ladies of the Review Club.

After passing through the streets of the town several times, the parade wended its way to the City Park, where the 50th annual reunion was officially opened, and plans made for entertainment of the crowds for the ensuing three days.

Keeping Up With TEXAS

Funeral services for Rufus K. Willis, 85, who went to Dallas 50 years ago after service in the Confederate army and who was a second cousin of the late Theodore Roosevelt, were held in Dallas Monday. He died on Friday night.

Miss Jackie Womack, youngest daughter of A. C. Womack, candidate for district clerk of Johnson county who died the night before the democratic primary, has been given the plane on the general election ballot as the nominee of the party. Womack dropped dead after he had spoken at a political rally in Cleburne, but the next day the voters gave him a majority of 118 votes over his opponent, W. S. Carper.

William Tucker, 70, long resident of Dallas and owner of the White Rock tourist camp at Gaston and Grand avenues, Dallas, drowned in Lake Dallas Monday afternoon while trying to teach a niece to swim. Two nieces from Dallas went to visit Mr. Tucker at his fishing camp Monday, where he had been living for a month. Mr. Tucker was swimming, and suddenly sank. It was believed that he was stricken suddenly with cramps. His body was not recovered for sometime.

Women members of the Texas House of Representatives did not fare well in the Democratic primaries with their candidacies for re-election. Three of the four feminine members were defeated for renomination. Only Mrs. Sarah T. Huges of Dallas survived the voting, which almost completely overturned the 1928 membership. Mrs. Helen Moore of Texas City, a member of two Texas Legislatures; Mrs. Lee J. Rountree and Mrs. N. R. Strong of Slocum, all were defeated, according to reports received at the State Capitol.

Twenty gallons of what appeared to be casing-head gasoline was dipped from a water well in the Blooming Grove community last week. The well is at the home of Mrs. S. M. Woodard, who said the first oil odor was noticed about three years ago and since that time the amount of oil coming into the well has gradually increased. A check of filling station tanks in the community failed to locate the source of supply, which still remains a mystery. Oil taken from the well has been placed in automobiles and used for fuel successfully. But Mrs. Woodard is not enthused over the prospects of covering an oil well. "It certainly has ruined a good water well and the hazard of an explosion makes me nervous," she said.

Representative John H. Veatch, 78, dean of Texas legislators, died at his home in Joshua Sunday night after an illness of several months. He had been active in Texas politics for half a century. He had been a member of the house of representatives for 16 years, and was the representative from Johnson County at the time of his death.

Business sessions predominated Monday on the opening program of the state American Legion convention at Corpus Christi. State Commander V. Earl Earp discussed activities during the past year. Other officials made reports during the afternoon and business matters also were discussed at night. Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells are bidding for the next convention.

A two-year-old boy, Donald Armstrong, and his 20-year-old uncle, J. H. Teague, are dead as the result of burns suffered in a fire which destroyed their farm house Sunday near Witharrell, Hockley county. Although burned on the hands, arms and thighs, Mrs. Allie Monte, about 22, mother of the child and sister of Teague, is expected to recover in a Lubbock hospital. Teague died in a Lubbock hospital and also the child. Teague twice ran a gauntlet of flames to rescue his tiny nephew. The woman started to pour gasoline into a gasoline stove which was still hot is the cause of the fire.

The Texas Highway Commission planned to take bids Monday and Wednesday on state highway construction estimated to cost approximately $2,300,000 and discuss road problems with 27 county delegations. The commission also planned to consider Texas' participation in the federal government's $120,000,000 highway aid appropriation. Texas could obtain approximately $7,000,000 under the act the amount to be paid back over a 10-year period starting in 1938 by deductions from the regular federal aid apportionments.

HANG OUT THE "WELCOME" SIGN

Strike Up
 BAND!

WHEN flags flutter to the breeze; when lively band music quickens the pulse; when a great city is in holiday attire; when streets are filled with a merry throng, . . . it is then that the pride of citizenship in that particular town or community wells within the heart and one feels, . . . "it's great to belong." But

THIS SPACE

Which is part of our stock in trade, is donated to the business and professional men of Hico, who have been so loyal to the home paper in the past.

It is dedicated to their best interests, in the hope that they may receive some benefit from same, directly or indirectly, and with the knowledge that in the same degree they prosper, just so will the home paper in for its share of patronage when there are advertising dollars to be spent.

In these days of reduced budgets, think carefully before spending money for advertising, and in line with the message on this page, give your home paper first consideration.

how many who have been a part of or witnessed such city, town or community activities have ever stopped to consider the source of that commonwealth's ability to put across progressive programs which make for the popularity and growth of the town?

The source, the origin . . . the very beginning of that town's ability to do things and grow was in the spirit of cooperation of its citizens . . . its business men, its civic leaders. They stuck together—and they did things. They helped each other to help themselves. They saw to it that when one of their citizens invested his money, his time and his ability in honest home effort that he was supported, that he received in return for all that he was giving,—to make a better town in which to live.

A town is no bigger than its citizens make it. Likewise, a town is just as big as its citizens make it. All of which brings us down to the question, "how big do we want Hico to be?" Are we satisfied with our town? Are there improvements we should like to have and enjoy . . . in civic life . . . in church life . . . in the schools . . . in our homes . . . in our business? Neither town nor individual can stand still . . . They must either go forward or slip back. Citizens of Hico with investments in homes and property most surely do not want the town to slip back—to see their earnings and savings fritter away . . . and be lost.

Then support the home merchant; support home industry in every manner; keep jobs open and citizens employed; help yourself by helping your town, its business men, its civic leaders. Every dollar taken out of Hico, to be spent in the shops of city stores . . . or with mail-order houses, is a dollar gone forever so far as the development and growth of Hico is concerned. Trade at home . . . Boost Hico,—hang out the welcome sign and, strike up the band.

Help Yourself by Helping Hico . . . Trade at Home!

BRINGS BACK INTERESTING DISPLAY OF MINERALS FROM RECENT COLORADO TRIP A. F. Polnaek visited the News-Review office Friday of last week with a collection of minerals and other curios from West Texas and Colorado. Mr. Polnaek was accompanied on the trip by his son, A. F. Jr. from Dallas, and grandson, Gerald Don. They left Hico July 11th and returned July 24th, and Mr. Polnaek stated that the trip was well worth his time, and that he enjoyed it very much. There was lots of snow above the timber line on the Western Slopes of Colorado, and they had to wear overcoats most of the time. Mr. Polnaek told an interesting story on himself about making coffee, which our readers might ask him about if they want to hear it. He also saw the longest airline tramway in the world and visited many places of interest. Among the many minerals and curios he had collected, some of which he left at the office for display purposes, were pieces of ancient pottery from the Pecos rooms, zinc and lead ore from Pecos mines, Colorado diamonds, silver quartz, anadium quartz, volcano core, mica and various kinds of quartz.

RADIO AND MOVIELAND STARS TO BE AT FAIR Dallas, Tex.—Many radio and moving picture stars will be featured in the various attractions to be offered at the 1932 State Fair of Texas, it has been announced here by Otto Herold, president of the Institution. The "Dream Girl Follies" auditorium attraction will lead in the number of movie and radio stars with Alice Joy, Henry Santrey's Band, Moss and Manning, Kirby and De Gage, and other widely known stars. The "Dream Girl Follies" will have a cast of 100. Both movie and radio stars will be featured in various other attractions. Roy Rupard, secretary of the exposition, is now dickering with a widely known movie star to produce a rodeo at the State Fair. Arrangements have not gone far enough ahead for any further announcements as yet. Advance notices from the Backman and Gerety Shows which will be on the midway are to the effect that they have booked several stars of the picture "Freaks" and that they have many new and novel features for the 1932 exhibition de luxe.

VERY LATEST by MARY MARSHALL Do not feel that you need to discard a good hat simply because you have grown tired of it, because there are ways of doing things to an old hat that give it an entirely new appearance.

Add a new flower or feather fancy. Or, best of all, take off the old band and add a new one with a smart little bow or other device made from ribbon. The all navy blue hat will take on a much more summery appearance if you introduce a contrasting color in the ribbon band. There are charming new reversible ribbons—blue on one side and white on the other, or beige on one side and blue on the other. Or you may use two ribbons of different colors for your ornament. One should be slightly narrower than the other so that a band of the contrasting color shows at the edges. The sketch shows two ways of making flat bows to use to trim your hat. You can no doubt have them made for you by an expert at the ribbon counter where you buy the ribbon or you can make them yourself. The third trimming device, also made of ribbon, is not at all difficult to copy. Choose ribbon about 1 inch wide, twist it as shown in the sketch and sew down to a small piece of canvas.

To the Voters of Precinct No. 3 Hico Justice Precinct:

Notwithstanding the fact that I have been almost confined to my room for the past several days, I am reminded that I have not yet tendered my thanks, for the splendid vote that I received from your hands, in our recent primary election. Even at this late date, I feel that I would be very ungrateful, indeed, should I fail to thank you for the support you gave me. While I was defeated, by a few votes, I want all to understand that I have no ill will whatever, against any one who saw fit to vote against me. No fair minded man, could expect to receive all the votes, and I am one who never considers that he is the only pebble on the beach, but that there are others. Some failed to vote for me, I understand on account of thinking I was too old (and perhaps they were correct) others tell me that during my campaign I said too many good things, about my opponent, but if that caused me to lose any votes, I have no regret, for I would much rather have that said about me than to have it said that I was unfair towards my opponent. I think that all will agree that this race was conducted on a high plane. I have the best of feeling towards my opponent, and for every one who voted against me. J. P. RODGERS

I have not words to express my appreciation to my many friends who have made it possible for me to be the next Tax Collector of Hamilton County. You have shown that you have confidence in me and I will ever work and act to prove to you that I appreciate same. It makes me feel proud to be the choice over such good men as Mr. Santy and Mr. Register. I know of no other way to show my appreciation other than to be an officer "of the people, by the people, and for the people." sides will know they have been in a fight.

Mr. Hoover has personally taken no steps as yet toward shaping up his part in the campaign. He is leaving the complete direction of political maneuvering to Everett Saunders, the new chairman of the Republican National Committee, who has a freer hand than any of his predecessors have ever had.

The Hoover Notification There has been some talk of making the occasion of Mr. Hoover's acceptance of the Presidential nomination a big celebration, with tens of thousands of Republicans coming to Washington from all parts of the country and having, as it were, a mass-meeting on the Capitol Plaza.

During the campaign Mr. Hoover does not plan to make more than six or seven speeches. The principal speechmaker for the administration will probably be Ogden L. Mills, Secretary of the Treasury, who fired the first gun in his Boston speech on the eleventh of July.

Radio will be used in this campaign by both parties to an extent never attempted before.

"Charlie" Michelson, chief publicity director for the Democratic National Committee, is expected to continue in that position thru out the campaign. He is regarded at the National Press Club, and among newspaper men generally, as the most energetic and ingenious publicity man who ever directed the propaganda of a great political party.

It may safely be said that the Administration is not in the least worried over the apparent consolidation of European opinion on the subject of war debts, which has been interpreted in some quarters as a threat to the United States.

After twelve years of negotiation the United States and Canada have agreed upon the terms of a treaty which will permit the development of a deep waterway from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to the Head of the Lakes.

A political issue may be made of the question of how the St. Lawrence water-power, which will be developed as a part of this subject, is to be utilized. The clash between the advocates of government ownership and operation of electric light and power utilities and those who believe that they are best administered as private enterprises may yet become a major political issue.

Fairy Winner In Many Games, Since Our Last Report

By W. E. GOYNE Since our last regular baseball report, Fairy has defeated Glen Rose, Stephenville and Clifton, and have taken the count from Hico, Cranfills Gap, Clifton and Stephenville.

In the Stephenville game, Trantham was touched for three hits, and issued three walks in the first inning, giving them a five run lead, but they didn't do a thing with the big boy from there on.

In the Clifton game, the visitors took a two run lead in the first inning, and Fairy scored one in the first, two in the second and one in the fifth inning.

With the winning run on second, Goyne was seen to whisper something to Hutton. Hutton nodded, and Doyl Proffitt stepped to the plate to pinch hit for McCoy.

Fairy will invade Glen Rose next Sunday for a return bout with the boys on the Paluxy. All baseball fans are urged to avail themselves of a little outing where they can drink (Sulphur Water), bathe and root for the home team.

Joe Hutton and Cecil Herricks played in the tournament at Dublin this week. Baseballically speaking, the boys strutted their stuff. Joe got 5 hits out of 11 trips to the plate, and Cecil got 5 out of 12.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Club Work For Older Youth

Club leaders are giving a good deal of thought these days to interest the older rural boys and girls in farm or home projects. These range in age from 16 up to as high as 25 and 30 years.

Minnesota club leaders are doing a fine piece of work in this line. They have what is called a partnership between the child and the parents. It may be either parent. This project has been carried on for several years. Over 500 boys and girls are in such partnerships this season.

The Utopia clubs of Kentucky have come through the first year of their program in fine shape. About 350 young men and women in a dozen counties were enrolled, and all are enthusiastically carrying on this year.

CHECKING UP ON SPORTS

Flags of fifty nations will flutter from the ramparts of Olympic Stadium in Los Angeles when the Games of the Tenth Olympiad open on the afternoon of July 30.

The first Olympic record for 1932 has been broken. More than 854,000 tickets to the 135 events scattered over the sixteen-day period have been sold.

Two world records were broken on the final day's trials for the U. S. swimming and diving team. Helene Madison, of Seattle, Wash., pre-eminent free-style sprinter, and Miss Eleanor Holm, of New York, outstanding back-stroke swimmer, set the world's records into the discard in the 400-meter free style, and the 100-meter back-stroke finals.

The Selkirk grace offered by Robert Burns at the request of the Earl of Selkirk nearly 200 years ago might well be adopted by many Texas farm families this year, particularly those having 4-H parties. Said Burns: "Some have meat, and canna eat. And some wae eat that wae it; But we hae meat and we can eat, And sae the Lord be thankit."

Clyde Carruth, Gray county dairy herd demonstrator, doesn't see how he could run his dairy without a silo. Last year he dug a trench silo and filled it with 85 tons of sorghum and hegar. He averted a drop of 25 per cent to 50 per cent in production last winter by feeding ensilage while wet weather kept his 15 cows off wheat pasture 2 1-2 months.

The fourth annual show of the Texas Breeder-Feeder Association will be one of the main features of the Beef Cattle Week at the 1932 State Fair of Texas, it has been announced by Frank P. Holland, Jr., president of the breeder-feeder group and director in charge of livestock at the State Fair.

Hico Man Named On Committee For Texas Centennial

Since our announcement last week that Miss Ruth Secret would be chairman in Hamilton County in the matter of awakening interest in the coming Texas Centennial, the News Review has been advised by County Judge P. M. Rice that Mr. J. S. Bryan of Hico is also appointed a leader in the work.

The State organization asked Mr. Rice to recommend a man and woman for Hamilton County and he recommended Mr. Bryan and Miss Secret. It is supposed that each will give their efforts in a way that they deem most efficient to direct interest toward this important event.

Mr. Rice's interest in this matter is appreciated, as is also his calling same to our attention, and we gladly give the information correctly as he has given it to us. As a kind of postscript to his letter, Mr. Rice added: "We believe that we can finish Highway 66 into Hico by Christmas."

STATEWIDE BAND CONTEST PLANNED FOR STATE FAIR

Dallas, Tex.—A statewide band contest, in which the first prize will be $1,000 in cash with a second prize of $400, has been planned for the 1932 State Fair of Texas, it has been announced by Otto Herold, who has named Col. Earl D. Irons, bandmaster at the North Texas A. & M. College of Arlington, and first vice president of the Texas State Band Teachers Association, as superintendent.

The contest is open to any non-professional band in Texas, and in addition to the two major awards, various class winners will be given special prizes as will the winners in various solo contests. Competing bands will be heard in individual and massed band concerts throughout the afternoon of each day of the 16 day exposition. Early indications are that there will be more than 100 bands competing in the contest. Karl L. King, internationally famous band director and composer, will judge the contest.
