By ELLA D. COLLIER

Earl Carroll of Stephenville and Miss Bess Litchfield were married Oct. 22 in Oklahoma. They came back to Texas and are living near Haskell.

It looks like we are going to have some more bad weather.

Mrs. John Collier and children returned Thursday from a visit to Navarro County where they have been visiting some of their relatives, in the H. A. Barns home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harris spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Land.

Those who were in the Pitchford Perry home Sunday were, Mr. and Mrs. Doby Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Perry and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wise and son, James Calvin, were in the C. W. Britton home Friday night.

Those who were in the Jim Land home Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Land and little daughter, Margie Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harvis, John Land, Bob Land, Marvin and Jinnie Atkins and Clay and Billie James Collier.

John Collier and son, Russell, spent Sunday in the Charlie Murray home.

Those who were in the C. W. Britton home Sunday evening were, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Britton and children, Mrs. John Collier and daughter, Ella D.

Those who were in the J. M. Word home Sunday were, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Word, Mr. and Mrs. John Fred Word and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Alexander, Mrs. Hollis Connally and children, H. C. W. J. and Mrs. Hamp Rucker.

PASTURE IMPROVEMENTS PAY DIVIDENDS

Sulphur Springs—Returns of $5.90 per acre from 100 acres of improved pasture in 9 months, and of $9.68 per acre from 60 acres of similar pasture in the same length of time are reported by two Hopkins county dairymen cooperating with C. M. Harvin, county agent. The demonstrators are F. L. Waite and L. P. Stacy, both living near Sulphur Springs. The former spent 52 cents per acre in improvements, and the latter $3.26 per acre, mostly for clover seed.

Gainsville—Careful feeding and housing have enabled Ruth Sanders, Cooke county 4-H club girl, to have 99 fine turkeys out of 115 eggs hatched in the spring. She handled the insects and parasites by dusting the nests regularly; fed the poult turkey starter when they were 60 hours old; and has kept milk and green feed before them constantly since, in addition to other feed.

HEADED FOR THE ROCKS

By C. G. Masterson

This is not a pleasant sounding heading but it indicates a situation that can not be longer ignored. There are certain stubborn facts that bear out the statement that our educational system is about to break down.

1. It is generally conceded over the state that "the Homestead State Tax Exemption Amendment will be approved by the voters at the general election in November. This will eliminate the 35c Ad Valorem school tax on all homesteads for valuations not exceeding $3,000."

2. "Local valuation of property for the purpose of local taxation for support of schools have in most cases decreased and local school income has decreased in the same proportion."

3. Sales of motor fuel for August 1932 were 23 percent under that for August 1931. This means that the State Available School Fund received 23 per cent less tax income from sale of gasoline in August than it received from such sales in 1931.

4. The Fort Worth Star Telegram of September 20 in an editorial "indicates that those interested in the passage of the Homestead Tax Amendment believe that upon its passage we can no longer collect local school and city taxes levied against these homesteads for valuation of $3000 and less. The theory is that no political subdivision can impose taxes upon property which the State itself can not tax."

These facts show that school incomes for 1933-34 will be from 25 to 30 percent lower than for last year and that possibly will be not more than half that of last year.

The writer of this article believes that real estate has long borne more than its share of the tax burden. But he shares the opinion of many others that no source of revenue is now in sight that will take place of the ad valorem tax. Until some other source of revenue is discovered to the place of the present ad valorem tax the schools are certain to pay a heavy penalty.

5. Mr. Ray Holder, Dallas, Texas, in a letter of September 20 makes this statement: "In fact our judgment has been vindicated because the actual per capita apportionment for 1930-32 was only $14.00, and there is now a deficit of $3.50 which must be paid out of the 1932-33 apportionment. There will be available about $13.50 for 1932-33, and from this you must subtract the $3.50 deficit. The State Board of Education has set $16.00 but any school man knows that it will not be paid until sometime in 1934."

The facts are that people all over the country are in a state of rebellion against the government so far as the collection of taxes is concerned. They are not coming back to the idea of the necessity of paying taxes until they feel that their own welfare is at stake. Local, state, and national governmental machinery, educational systems, public works, low enforcement machinery, social welfare work, pensions are all supported by taxation. When people come to believe they do not have to pay taxes to live in peace and safety they have only failed to stop and think seriously and soberly as to what taxes are for.

Some of the men who started the opposition to taxes are beginning to see that the movement has gone far beyond what they had in mind and that unless it is checked, "the whole of our educational system and of our governmental functions are doomed to a catastrophe almost beyond repair."

The writer of this article is in favor of reducing the cost of education, or of any other public governmental function wherever possible. But he claims that education is not the most expensive public activity. Money spent for efficient public schools brings greatest returns in future earnings capacity than money spent for any other social work. If every federal bureau were dismantled and every civil function of the federal government, with the exception of construction, relief, loans for ship building and the federal farm board—the federal budget could be reduced only 8 percent. The legislative, executive, and judicial activities of the federal government absorbs less than one percent of the federal budget. Almost three-fourths of the expenditures of our federal government are absorbed by military costs and obligations growing out of past wars. Yet, we are trying to balance budgets by "cutting the heart out of the only things that make government a creative social agency in this complicated world." The educational budget is cut first in many places and unless it is done with serious considerations for the future welfare of the children, our educational systems will be set back a whole generation.

SYNOPSIS—Johnny Breen, 16 years old, who had spent all of his life aboard a tugboat, plying around New York City, was made motherless when an explosion sank the boat on which he, his mother and the man he called father, were living.

pay serious attention to such things. But, the plan, the real working plan, must be ready for use some day. We hear so much of the transportation problem. I have read carefully what you say. We have too much transportation already, too much crowding from the outskirts into the congested city.

Josephine Lambert had just sped by them, bareheaded, her dinner wrap resplendent, her face animated, beautiful. She was on her way to dinner at one of the fine old homes.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Here, this way," and in a moment John Breen stood close to Almon Strauss. Harbord had arranged the meeting.

Manhattan is simple, but the fact that drainage should all be into the sewers, into scientific plants for the recovery of the magnesia, potash, phosphoric acid, chlorine, oxide of iron and nitrogen all combined in almost ideal proportion for use as fertilizer.

What did he say? "He called it a lot of interesting conjecture."
