Randals Brothers Announces Opening Saturday, June 9

In this issue of the News Review on Page 3, will be found a full-page advertisement from Randals Brothers, which will be interesting to those who have been interested in what this firm was going to do, what it would sell, and when it would open.

For fear of destroying the value of our advertising, we will go no further in this article with details of their business, but will take the liberty of suggesting that you turn to the page mentioned in case you are interested.

Also included in this issue will be found felicitations and best wishes from a number of local firms, welcoming this firm back into business. As most local people know, they at one time occupied a prominent place on the business horizon of this section.

The firm is composed of T. A. Randals, Lusk Randals, and E. H. Randals.

Early Morning Fire At Doubleday Home Razes House, Goods

The shrill shriek of the siren which summons members of the Hico Fire Department to conflagrations at all hours of the day and night took those willing servants to the old Doubleday home just outside the city limits at 1:30 Wednesday morning, together with a goodly representation of the rest of the town's inhabitants.

Upon the arrival of the department at the house, more recently known as the Copeland house, and now owned by J. S. Nichols of Wichita Falls, the flames were found to have gained such headway that all efforts to combat them were ineffectual.

A line of hose was laid across the branch, but all that could be accomplished was a diminishing of the blaze and prevention of its spreading to the nearby home of Jack Woods.

The News Review is informed that some insurance was carried on the house and contents, but the amount was not definitely ascertained. No cause was given for the fire.

BABY KILLED AS IT FELL FROM BED AT CHALK MTN.

Mrs. J. J. Smith, Mrs. W. G. Smith, Mrs. Macel Coleman and Mrs. John Starley were in Chalk Mountain Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral services of a four-months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Benton Kipp of La Grange, being the former Miss Ida Palmer. She attended school here for some time.

Their many friends in this section deeply sympathize with them in their bereavement.

EXHIBITS "FARMALL" TOMATO SHAPED LIKE A DOUGHNUT

W. L. McDowell, who by the way "fell out" with the entire News Review force temporarily some few weeks ago, demonstrated his good nature and his ability to look over the shortcomings of newspaper folks last Monday morning by coming in to fraternize with us.

Upon this visit Mr. McDowell had with him what he called a "Farmall" tomato, which was a dwarf.

Further admissions, however, disclosed the fact that this was a Negro tomato, so he will have to show us before we believe all his statements.

Keeping Up With TEXAS

Thomas W. Jackson, humorist and author of the book, "A Slow Train Through Arkansas," was found fatally wounded in Mineral Wells Wednesday. He died at a hospital a few minutes after he was shot. A bullet entered his temple. He had been in ill health for some time, having been stricken in Florida, and had been confined to his home. Mrs. Jackson had just left their home for a walk about the yard when she heard a shot and hurried back, finding her husband mortally wounded in the bathroom. He was survived by a son, Harry Jackson, in Chicago.

Oil has come to Rusk—and the Old Settlers "club" under the trees on the court house lawn is no more. Oil has come to Rusk—and the once tranquil corridors of the court house are shattered with the click and clack of many typewriters recording land transfers.

Oil has come to Rusk and quiet streets where children played are made hazardous with scores of rushing, mud-spattered autos. Oil has come to Rusk—and hotel rooms are $12 a night, steaks $1 a piece, telegraph and telephone wires burdened past capacity. Cafes and drug stores and news stands and royally traders scanning maps, figuring possible profits with pencil stubs on envelope backs.

All legal questions were disposed of Wednesday and the Lone Star Gas company rate suit was set for trial on its merits in District Judge C. A. Wheeler's court next Monday at Austin. The main question to be presented the court is whether the order of the Texas railroad commission fixing rates for the company to be charged distributing companies at city gates was just and reasonable.

Houston will make a strong bid for the main exposition in 1936 of a century of Texas independence celebration. Harris county members of the advisory board Wednesday told the Texas centennial commission. Several hundred of the 1600 members of the advisory board met in joint session with the 36-member commission for a round table discussion of centennial plans. Cullen Thomas of Dallas, elected temporary chairman of the commission at an unofficial meeting in March, presided.

Preparations are complete for the third annual convention of the Texas State Chapter, American War Mothers, which will open at San Antonio this week. The feature of the three-day convention will be the recognition banquet in honor of gold star mothers, to be held Friday night with gold star mothers as guests of honor. The annual election of officers will close the convention Saturday.

Billie Mace, sister of Bonnie Parker, and Artie Barrow, sister of Clyde Barrow, will begin a series of appearances at Texas theatres in Wichita Falls Friday. Lew Waid, manager of a theater announced Wednesday. Waid said the young women would answer a series of questions from the stage, the general theme of which would be to show that a life of crime is futile and leads to prison or death. Barrow and Bonnie Parker, long sought as the ace desperadoes of Texas and the South west, were slain in Louisiana three weeks ago.

Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally and Congressman O. H. Cross of the Waco district will be urged by the executive committee of the James Edmond Post of the American Legion, Waco, to give preference to an enlargement of the United States Veterans' Hospital in Waco rather than to a new postoffice for Waco. It is estimated that construction of the additional buildings for the hospital, which the legion committee contends is badly needed, will require an appropriation of about $520,000.

Funerals for All Victims Thursday

Probably establishing a precedent which has never been equaled within the memory of any citizen of Hico, and commemorating a tragedy which will forever stand out within the recollection of even the youngest child able to speak and understand its first words, three separate funerals were held Thursday for the three of the plane crash which shocked the populace of this community late Wednesday.

LOLA MAE WILLIAMSON

At 2 p. m. a huge throng of sorrowing relatives and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williamson to pay their last tributes to a life that had been prematurely snuffed out.

The size of the crowd gave silent tribute to the pleasant personality and capacity for making friends recognized in Miss Lola Mae Williamson, who was born on April 22, 1908, and whose existence on this earth closed suddenly June 6, 1934.

Services were conducted by Rev. L. P. Thomas, pastor of the Hico Baptist Church, who also officiated at the Hico cemetery, where an abundance of flowers covered the grave of Miss Williamson.

Lola Mae is survived by her father and mother, and two brothers, Hushel and L. E. Williamson.

Pallbearers were Johnnie Farmer, Bill Elkins, Cleo Brown, J. L. Golden, Doris Gamble, and J. B. Ogil.

WILLIAM BLAIR

That William Blair, better known as plain Bill, was deservingly of the respect and friendship which were allotted him during his all too short earthly existence was proven at the funeral services held at the home of his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Blair, at 3:30. Many were the eyes wet with tears of deep sadness and sympathy, and many were the remarks heard complimentary to the concealed form in the casket.

Bill Blair, whose age given at 24, was one of the two sons of Mrs. Lizzie Blair and the late C. G. Blair, who departed this life some eight months ago.

Floyd, the other son, remains as the only remnant of a family left to this deserving and unfortunate woman.

Funeral services for Bill were conducted by Rev. L. P. Thomas, pastor of the Hico Baptist Church. Interment was made in the Duffau cemetery beside the grave of his lamented father.

Pallbearers were O. D. Cunningham, Tom Powers, Bill Joiner, John Arnold, John Rusk and Bill Elkins.

EARL R. LYNCH

A Mason, a Shriner, a World War veteran with overseas service, member of the American Legion, chief of the Hico Fire Department and a prominent hardware merchant of Hico, Earl R. Lynch lay unheard and unhearing at the home of his father's wife, Mrs. C. L. Lynch Sr., at 5:30 Thursday afternoon while Rev. J. T. Kidd of Austin performed the last sad rites over his mutilated body.

Probably enjoying more acquaintances over this part of the State than the average person in any walk of life, Earl's capacity for making friends was attested by the size of the funeral concourse assembling at the residence and following the hearse to the cemetery.

Mr. Kidd, a long-time friend of the deceased, capably and unauisiously spoke the last sad words. Pallbearers were Hugh McCullough, Herbert Wolfe, Jake Blair, Lampton Woodward, John Barnes and Ralph McLendon, the latter two of Waco.

Paul Kenneth Wolfe, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Wolfe, received a slight injury to his head Wednesday afternoon just before dusk when he was struck by a car driven by Dr. P. C. Hays near the Wolfe home. As soon as Dr. Hays saw Paul crossing the road, he applied the brakes which prevented a serious injury.

Baptist Revival To Start Monday At City Pavilion

Beginning Monday morning, June 11th, a Baptist revival will begin under the pavilion at the City Park and will continue through June 24th. Rev. Jack Hathaway, pastor evangelist of Waxahachie, will be the leading minister, assisted by Rev. D. F. Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Duncan of near Hico.

Rev. Bill Rice, of Dallas, will direct the choir.

These ministers are all young men, but are recommended as forceful and inspiring preachers.

Rev. Hathaway who is only 32 years of age has been preaching to larger crowds than any other minister in the Waxahachie section. Rev. Duncan is 29 years of age and was reared around Hico. He has spent a great deal of his time in the western part of the state, and at Fort Worth doing evangelistic and personal work.

Rev. Rice is 19 years of age and is reputed to be a great director. Everyone is invited to attend all services. There will be two daily, one at 11 a. m. and the evening service is set for 8:15.

Meridian Boosters Will Invite Hicoans To Big Celebration

Featuring the Darktown quartet, banjo pickers, buck and wing dancers and yodelers, a group of real negro entertainers accompanying a motordance representing the business men of Meridian will arrive in Hico Friday morning, June 8, at 11:00 o'clock, and a free program will be given.

The purpose of the trip will be to invite the citizens of Hico and community to attend the two-day dedication celebration and rodeo at State Park No. 12, three miles west of Meridian, Saturday and Sunday, June 15-17.

Negroes furnishing the entertainment on the motordance are enrollees in CCC Company 1827, stationed at the park, and they sing and play the old time darker melodies with a realism that is worth coming miles to hear.

State Park No. 12, situated in the picturesque Bosque hills on Highway 22, is one of the major park projects now under construction by the State and National Parks Service, and citizens of Meridian are making a two-day auto tour of neighboring counties to extend a personal invitation to the park cornerstone laying and other ceremonies.

RESULTS OF FATAL RIDE PUT PALL OF SADNESS OVER ENTIRE COMMUNITY

By ROLAND L. HOLFORD

Gripping with horror the large crowd of visitors and citizens assembled at Blair Field, the local airport, and others stationed at points of vantage in their own back yards and on the streets to watch the late-afternoon flight of the Curtiss Challenger Robin plane which had come to be looked upon as "Hico's Plane," Earl R. Lynch, the pilot, and Miss Lola Mae Williamson and Bill Blair as passengers plunged to instant death at 7:30 Wednesday evening.

After climbing to a height estimated at 2000 to 2500 feet the ship, according to most eyewitnesses, faltered and gave signs of stalling. As the ensuing drop took place, the plane took several turns, at one time gave signs of being under control again, and then went into a hopeless dive that crashed it and its occupants to its last landing place on a vacant lot behind the Grubbs residence, a half mile from the airport.

Almost simultaneously with the crash the alarm was turned in by some onlooker who had sensed the situation, and the siren of the local fire department summoned others unaware of the horrible mishap until the crowd assembled around the scene numbered practically every man, woman and child in this immediate community.

Flames Envelop Wreckage

Upon the arrival of Grady M. Barrow, local undertaker, who lived nearby and was first to approach the fallen plane, flames had already burst from the fumes of the gasoline sprayed from the fuel tank over the heated motor, and all efforts to extricate the bodies before they were charred almost beyond recognition proved futile.

Within a few seconds more people arrived, but stood helpless until the arrival of the Hico Fire Department equipment. As quickly as it was humanly possible, the valiant firefighters, all friends of the three unfortunate victims, had smothered the flames and initiated efforts to extricate the horrible remains, with the assistance of Barrow & Rainwater, local morticians.

Thought Dead? Instant.

Even had the plane not burst into flames, it is believed that the effects of their terrible mishap would have been fatal to the trio, for the condition of the bodies indicated that the impact of the plane against the ground was terrific.

Young Blair's body was apparently thrown nearly clear of the wreckage, as he was lying on the ground beside the open door of the plane. The remains of Miss Williamson and Mr. Lynch inside the plane were worse dealt with, as their features and bodies were horribly distorted.

It was some little time before efforts to extricate the bodies with as much care as possible were successful.

The plane had apparently hit the ground at an angle, and not head-on as seemed imminent to onlookers who watched it until surrounding trees and structures hid it from view.

Accidents Conflated.

As is natural under the circumstances when something so tragic and sudden transpires, accounts of the affair are conflicting, and it is hard to find any two individuals who saw exactly the same thing. However, when pieced together, they disclose essentially the same gruesome and shocking facts.

When traced to a focus, all stories boil down to one of three things which must have happened at the dizzy height to which Mr. Lynch, who is a private pilot of some five years' experience, had climbed his ship.

One Line of Reasoning

One line of reasoning has it that as the plane was sailing along majestically in the calm and untroubled atmosphere which almost always precedes dusk, one of the wings crumpled, throwing the plane into a spin from which Mr. Lynch was never able to straighten out.

Accounts are given of a noise resembling the tearing of fabric, and ensuing loss of control to the ship.

Clyde Pittman, who was walking along near the Methodist Church on his way home, states that this was the case, and that he watched the ship until it was certain that it was headed for a crackup, and then broke into a run for the spot where he estimated that it would land.

He added that Earl was doing a "wing-over," it appeared, and that something happened before the maneuver was completed.

Other eye-witnesses corroborate Mr. Pittman's story, some differing in that they believed it to be a "barrel-roll" which the pilot had begun.

Ollie Davis, who saw the whole climb, flight, and ensuing drop, thought he detected the latter common aeronautical "trick of the trade" which by novices is mistaken as "stunting."

Others Say Looping.

Another explanation given the matter is that in attempting a "loop" which is a vertical climb, an upside-down flight, and a straightening-out which puts considerable strain on the wing struts and other parts of an airplane's mechanism, some defective part gave way with the disastrous results set out above.

Mrs. H. E. McCullough, Tom Herbert Wolfe, H. N. Wolfe, C. F. Coston, Bill Joiner and others who were watching intently, agree in this construction of the accident.

Believe Motor Stopped.

Another explanation given the tragedy is that the motor "knocked out" which is pilot's vernacular for stopping, and that is attempted.

For the tributes and condolences of a sorrowing public who would, had they words to express their feelings, fill a thousand times more than this space—but whose extreme sorrow and lack of ability to express their deep sympathy strikes them dumb for the time being.

May the families of the bereaved realize that our thoughts are with you, and that it is not a fault of our hearts that we fall short of conveying you in this sad hour.

Fairy FAIRY CORRESPONDENTS

We are having continued dry weather although it has been threatening the past few days. Most all the farmers are through cutting grain, and the threshers will soon start.

Rev. G. E. McCaleb of Clifton filled an appointment at the Church of Christ Sunday morning and evening. A very good crowd was present for both services.

Mrs. Laura Newton of Fort Worth and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Hucabay of Walnut Springs spent Saturday night and Sunday in the home of their mother, Mrs. E. A. Grimes and son, Henry, Johnnie Grimes and family of Falls Creek were also Sunday guests in the home.

Mrs. E. M. Hoover and Mrs. Josie Parks have been ill with an attack of summer colds the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hoover of Dallas were week end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hoover.

Our regular singing was held Sunday afternoon but due to the fact that a ball game was in progress a short distance away our crowd was small and we were also informed that funeral services for Mr. Barrow of Hico were held Sunday afternoon, which accounts for many of our singers not being present.

Lawrence Adams of Carlton who had been shocking grain in this community for the past two weeks returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lester and daughter, Charlic, and Mrs. Alva Poteet of Hico spent Thursday of last week in the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Hernal Richardson.

We have been informed recently by Prof. Horsley that he has been re-elected as principal of our school and that Miss Wilma Caraway had also been re-elected. He also informed us that Horace Miller of Lamkin had been elected as coach director and comes to us highly recommended.

Miss Donnie Wolfe and Margie Lee Hutton spent Tuesday in the home of Miss Donnie's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clancy Blue.

(1) The car in which "Wild Sam" Purvis won the championship 100-mile road race was strictly a stock car, having only the top, fenders and windshield removed. (2) High compression heads and faster and more powerful motors have brought about an increase in the use of aluminum pistons to a point where those used in 1933 would make a tower 300 feet square and 779 feet high. (3) This diminutive Austin racer with a supercharged motor recently set a world's record of 122.74 M.P.H.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

On June 2, eighty years ago in the beautiful State of Arkansas, there was born into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harwell a sweet little baby girl to whom was given the name of Eliza. Later she was affectionately called Sis.

At the age of sixteen, Aunt Sis' mother went home to her Father in Heaven leaving Aunt Sis to care for the other children left behind of which there were four.

This she did the very best married Mr. Tom Adams and became the mother of three children, one of whom passed on when still young, while Levi went away just a few years ago.

Aunt Sis' first husband Uncle Tom Adams went home to God leaving the children for her to care for, but she did not give up. She cared for her own and later married Jim Lovell. There were three children born to this union, one of whom, Tommie, has gone on to Heaven.

Death having claimed Uncle Jim, Aunt Sis now carries on alone, we say alone, she, Mrs. Mandy Lovell and son, Oscar, make their home with her.

Aunt Sis' life has not been and isn't now a bed of roses or a life of ease and idleness. She has helped pave the way as other pioneers have done through these sixty years of life in this community, Dry Fork.

Through hardships and trials she stands out as a towering tree in a forest of smaller trees. Thoroughly scarred and battered by life, this tree is admired by all who stop in its shade. And so it is with Aunt Sis.

Though lines are plowed into her face, her eyes are dim and steps are a little slow, she is loved and admired by all who pass under the sound of her voice.

So on this Sunday, June 3 at 10:30 o'clock in honor of Aunt Sis' birthday relatives and friends gathered under some large beautiful trees on Honey Creek and gave her a shower of gifts.

Everyone brought something good for dinner which was spread on the ground at 12 o'clock. Mr. Oran Columbus offered up thanks, praying special blessings upon Aunt Sis.

At 3 o'clock, Bro. O. O. Newton held the church services at this place under these beautiful trees. The neighbors and friends who had not partaken of the dinner, came at this hour.

IN WASHINGTON

Washington, June 6.—With the adjournment of Congress apparently set for the middle of June, the outlook is that President Roosevelt will get about all of the legislation which he really wants—and some that he doesn't care about—by that time.

Major measures which seem certain to be passed include the silver bill, which extends the President's power to remonetize silver but does not compel him to do anything about it; the bill authorizing the President to revise tariffs; the measure providing for industrial loans by R. F. C. and the Federal Reserve; the bill for Government regulation of wire and radio communications; the extension of the present bank deposit insurance plan; and, last but not least, the President's pet plan to stimulate home-building and employment in the building trades by providing a Government controlled guarantee fund to insure lenders on first mortgages from loss, and a similar guarantee against loss on loans made for home repairs and improvements under Government restrictions and approval.

THE DARROW REPORT

The committee appointed at the insistence of Senator Nye of North Dakota, to investigate and report on the question whether the code system set up under General Johnson was beneficial or otherwise to small businesses, was headed by Clarence Darrow, famous radical attorney.

CODE CHANGES CERTAIN

There is a good deal of significance attached here, however, to the fact that after the Darrow report had been submitted and before it was published, General Johnson announced that there would be a broad change in the system under which the NRA operates.

I read all the signs in subways when I take an unfrequented route. No transportation system has ever succeeded in so thoroughly mixing its sense of direction.

REFORMS WERE NEEDED

The banking situation has been put on a firm footing. In spite of many failures, breakdowns and changes in experiments, the feeling is quite general that basic permanent improvement will come out of the NRA and the AAA.

WASHINGTON

Washington still believes that if the wide-spread program of relief had not been put into effect, through the PWA, CWA, CCC, WPA and other agencies, there would have been a real revolution in America.

Farmer Nice Lady Weds at Stamford

Friends here will be glad to hear of the marriage of Mrs. Kathryn Newsum Lattimore at Stamford, who was formerly Miss Kathryn Newsum of Hico. Following is an article taken from the Stamford Leader:

Mrs. Kathryn Newsum Lattimore and Preston Moore were quietly married Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Newsum, at 535 North Swenson Ave., Dr. G. S. Slover, presiding elder of the Stamford district, officiating with the ring ceremony. Attendants were Mrs. J. S. Henry of Dallas, sister of the bride, and Harrison Durrett of Stamford, nephew of the groom.

The bride was dressed in a suit of brown travel crepe with harmonizing accessories and wore a shoulder corsage. Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for Monterey, Mexico. They will return in about ten days and will make their home in Stamford.

Present for the ceremony were Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Taylor of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. Newsum, Mrs. Henry, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Rutherford and Joe Rutherford, R. G. Kain, Mrs. D. A. Bandeen, Miss Maurine Alsbrook, Bill Thomas, Joe Lattimore, Patsy and Harrison Durrett.

PLANE CRASH

ing to make a "dead stick landing" Mr. Lynch was unable to realize his hopes.

Many witnesses state that the motor was making a peculiar noise, and that at times it sputtered and missed to a great extent. However, with the altitude the ship had maintained, it seems improbable that this construction would explain the disastrous results.

Who Knows?

Whatever the reasons for the terrible catastrophe which is regretted by every person who has learned about it, and which has thrown a pall of horror over those who watched unable to do a single solitary thing towards averting the tragedy, the fact remains that something indeed did happen, and that the results were of a nature that this peaceful and tranquil town has been thrown into a frame of mind that it does not know what to expect next.

This is not the first mishap to befall those flying airplanes in this vicinity. The pilots of the modern conveyances realize the percentages, and go on about their business drifting through the ether from one point to another while we less poky individuals rely upon automobiles, motorcycles and railroads for our transportation.

No use of saying "I told you so," for you didn't know how or when or where the thing would happen—or really if it would happen at all.

Uncle Sam Investigates.

The purring of an airplane motor in mid-morning Thursday roused most citizens to raise their eyes to the sky to ascertain who would be brave enough to face the chances of air travel in the wake of the terrible consequences which they had witnessed the day before.

They failed to realize, however, that the fliers must "carry on" and that in the game which they have willfully and willingly cast their lot, one's code does not permit of looking back. Always look ahead, they say, and forget the difference.

Investigation revealed that the visitor who had approached from the direction toward which so often local people had turned their eyes to witness the return of "Miss Hico" was no other than an employe of the United States Department of Commerce, and that his visit was in line of duty.

Upon landing at Blair Field, he alighted and promptly began his investigation which is so necessary to the records of the Government. What he found, and what he thought, of course now and perhaps always will remain a source for conjecture on the part of those who witnessed his visit.

What he did, however, is known. He viewed the debris which at one time had been a first-class cabin plane, and formed his own conclusions as to the manner in which the occupants had met their death.

Afterward he examined two assertedly eye-witnesses, and took their statements for his records.

Had he examined two hundred, he would have found that their stories differed in minute details, and that each and every one of them while telling the truth to the extent of his or her ability, gave stories that were contradictory.

Wreckage Watched.

One of the requirements of the Department of Commerce under whose jurisdiction citizens of the United States legally are allowed to operate the modern traveling vehicles, is that in case of an accident nothing must be moved other than those things which must be touched during efforts to extricate bodies.

Realizing this, S. E. Blair, who is the "father of aviation" in Hico, and who has pioneered in attempts to build up transportation modern to the extent that he has been willing to sacrifice personal gain in the face of adverse criticism to the effect that he had an "ax to grind" acted just like he would act under any circumstances, at any time, and in anyone's presence.

He remembered that there was a regulation concerning disposition of the remains of "wash-outs" and dispatched a watchman to the scene to see that nothing was moved, bothered or touched.

Sam Grubbs was the man selected for this duty, and whether or not he discharged his duties in a regular manner may be ascertained by questioning anyone who attempted to approach within fifty feet of the wreckage.

B. G. Barrow Passed To His Reward At Home Saturday

Hico honored one of its pioneers last Sunday, when filling the Methodist to overflowing, and bedecking its chancel with flowers, it gathered for the funeral services of B. G. Barrow, familiarly known to almost every one as "Uncle Doc."

Had Mr. Barrow lived until August 7th, he would have reached the age of eighty, for he was born in those hard days just preceding the Civil War in the heart of Alabama. Mother of the Confederacy, in 1854, "Uncle Doc" met the adversities of his early days with a face toward the future and a smile. That his father needed his services so that he kindly offer for schooling of the physician for whom he was named, could not be accepted, left no bitterness. Handicaps were not to be grieved over but to be grappled with.

Born in the country and schooled in the old philosophy of the country, he loved the land and "to see things grow." He too, loved growing folks around him, and his fireside was a community headquarters. At fifteen, he joined the little Methodist Church in his home section, and from that time was interested to see that in every community in which he lived there was "Sunday School and preaching."

At 23, he set out for himself and found in his bride, Miss Etta Zachery, a helpmeet—that fully carried her part of the load, and for fifty seven years the couple lived in the same genial love with which they started out together.

Uncle Doc was kindly in his judgments of others—was friendly in all of his relationships and square and just to those of differing ways and ideas. Coming out of a harsh day, his own inner self found a way to soften the way for others.

The couple had made Texas their home for forty two years, and six living children testify to the influence of "Uncle Doc" as father and hundreds of the citizenship appraise his citizenship in no uncertain terms.

The services were in charge of Rev. W. P. Cunningham, assisted by Rev. L. P. Thomas, who spoke with feeling upon his own personal acquaintance with the deceased. The choir of the Methodist Church sang favorite hymns of the pioneer and a long cortege followed the family to the family plot in the Hico cemetery where lovingly the "house in which he lived" was laid to rest, for the spirit had already returned to the God who gave it being.

The survivors are: Mrs. B. G. Barrow, her children, M. Z. Barrow and Mrs. R. R. Alexander of Hico, County Judge J. B. Barrow of Hamilton, Mrs. O. A. Barham of Stephenville, R. Y. Barrow of Hamlin, Mrs. Faye Tidwell, Spur, together with 16 grandchildren, six of whom acted as pall bearers, and five great grandchildren.

Relatives from out of town who were present for the funeral services are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Barrow and family of Hamlin; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Barrow of Hamilton; W. W. Barrow of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. M. Z. Barrow, Colorado, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Tidwell and Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Powell of Spur; Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Barrow of Hamlin; A. B. Barrow, Dave Barrow and Ernest Thompson of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barrow and Miss Etta Mae Alexander of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Sid Barham and family Hunter Richardson and Joe Hancock of Stephenville; Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hubbard, family of Dallas; Mrs. Jack Leeth, Mrs. Geo. Carlton, Mr. and Mrs. Will Autrey, Gordon Barrow and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Huddleston and family of Hamilton.

Eastern Star Officers Installed at Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of the Hico Eastern Star Chapter was held last Friday evening, and at the close of the regular routine of business, the outgoing worthy matron, Mrs. Frankie Forgy, was presented with a lovely cuter set in a leather zipper case. Her corps of officers who had proved so faithful to her during the past year planned it as a complete surprise.

During the installation of officers at which time, Mrs. Rucker Wright acted as marshal, and Mrs. Forgy as installing officer, the following officers were installed for the new year:

Mrs. Abbie Blair, Worthy Matron; B. B. Gamble, Worthy Patron; Mrs. Aften Aycock, Associate Matron; I. M. Hutchens, Associate Patron; Mrs. Velma Farmer, Conductress; Mrs. Tot Coston, Associate Conductress; Miss Marguerite Fairry, Secretary; Mrs. Lillie Fairry, Treasurer; Mattie Gamble, Adah; Keran Hudson, Ruth; Etta Wright, Martha; Miss Oleta Hughes, Electa; Josie Hutchens, marshal; Miss Fannie Eakin, Organist; and Mrs. Eula Smith, warder. Mr. and Mrs. Masterson were absent and were not installed as sentinel and Esther, respectively, but will be installed at a later date.

At the close of installation, the new worthy matron, Mrs. Blair was presented with a bouquet of carnations and California holly hocks, with a wish that the year approaching might be one of the most outstanding in the history of the Hico O. E. S.

Refreshments of pimento cheese sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, lead tea, cookies and ice cream were served to all present.

Try adding an apple to your vegetable soup. It improves the flavor greatly.

Chickens-Turkeys

Practically all poultry diseases; loss of egg-production and deaths of Baby Chicks are caused by intestinal worms, lice, mites fleas and blue-bugs. It keeps them free of these destructive pests; their health and egg-production good at a very small cost or we will refund your money.
