

The Hico News Review

HICO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1934.

Here In HICO

HAVING returned from Dallas where they attended the annual meeting of the Texas Press Association, the editor of the News Review and his wife who is also circulation manager, bookkeeper and general scorekeeper at the office, feel that the trip was well worth-while.

The trip was rather a disappointment for vacational purposes, due to the fact that the elements conspired to turn loose unlimited quantities of hot weather on the visitors from over the State. But a most constructive program was provided, and recreational features were not overlooked, so that all who attended expressed the belief that the trip was worth-while.

Attendance was above the average, which indicates that newspapermen and newspaperwomen of Texas are still on the job and trying to learn what they can about new ideas in their line. While there was not that spirit of gushing optimism evident at some conventions in the past, still the consensus of opinion seemed to be that things are on the upgrade, and that with plenty of hard work we might still get the affairs of this old world straightened out.

By the way, from talking with local people about their business for the past few months, we have received practically the same opinions.

Of course there are occasional knockers who believe that there is not going to be any more business that the hot dry weather is going to ruin all the crops, and that everything is going to the bad. But they are so scarce that their pessimistic expressions pass off like water from a duck's back.

Many things have happened locally to brighten the picture, and those who have taken stock of conditions and looked at the situation in the true light have agreed with us that the worst part of the depression has been passed.

Business men everywhere are having a slight light, according to their own statements. We know they are, because practically the same conditions prevail over the whole country.

But Hico merchants are determined to get what business there is to be scared up around these parts, and will continue to make strong bids for patronage.

ADVERTISING will continue to be an aid to merchandising, just as it always has been in the past. If Hico merchants hear the things we hear, they are firm believers in the fact that people of this section watch the home paper for the weekly messages of merchants. This is not just sales talk either—for when people voluntarily tell us that they read the ads and buy from regular advertisers, we know that they are not fooling.

Occasionally someone pops up with the statement that money spent for advertising is not returned in increased sales. But upon calm and thorough reflection on the conditions surrounding the business affairs and advertising programs of those who make such statements, we are caused to believe that the failure, if any, is due to the methods of the advertiser—not to the medium.

HUGH Moyer, publisher of the Handy Grove Signal-Citizen, is a level-headed and capable editor and manager.

In a recent issue of his paper he had the following piece of advice, which is as applicable in Hico as it is in Honey Grove:

The Signal-Citizen is not very prone to give advice, but on certain occasions we feel that suggestions we might make may prove profitable, and here is one that all might do well to at least consider. With better times just around the corner, please look for bigger and better and many more schemes to get your hard-earned money. A community that is prosperous is the one that fairs are going to first. It is the community which they think will fall for their tricks, and nine times out of ten they are right. They know human nature enough to know that the person who has money can be induced to spend it if the proper effort is put forth. Many perfectly fine people have a habit of letting some smooth-tongued stranger sell them ideas or merchandise that they know good and well they should not consider. How any grown person can accept the word of a perfect stranger is more than we can figure out. Yet many of them do. Beware of the fellow who has a proposition which you think is too good to turn down.

Singer at Honey Grove Sunday. The Fourth Sunday Singing will be held at Honey Grove this Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

$24,729.98 Received In Cotton Payments By County Agent

Cotton Rental Benefit Payments totaling $24,729.98 were received at the County Agent's office in Hamilton on Saturday of last week for 982 contract signers, representing 693 contracts. Approximately half this amount had been distributed Wednesday night and notices were being mailed to the balance of the contract signers whose checks had arrived.

Checks for 223 contracts had not been received, some of which will arrive soon, and others will require more information. Van Wisdom, chairman of the County Cotton Board, stated that the yield per acre on contracts for which payments did not arrive will not be changed, merely that a signature may be lacking or signed in the wrong place is the reason payments are being withheld at this time.

Measuring of cotton acreage will begin about July 1st.

Monthly Party At Bluebonnet Club Friday, June 29th

The News Review is requested to announce that the monthly get-together meetings at the Bluebonnet Country Club, which were so popular the few times they were staged, will be resumed beginning with the latter part of June.

On Friday, June 29th, next week the club members and general public are invited to bring well-filled baskets and assemble at the clubhouse, where they will enjoy a picnic and the recreational features which will be provided for the occasion.

Mrs. A. A. Brown, Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. Birdie Boone will be hostesses for this party, and are arranging a program of entertainment which it is believed will interest young and old. Two games already have been arranged for, one a hobbie race between J. W. Richbourg and J. E. Burleson, and between Marvin Marshall and Grady Barrow; the other will be a bag race for children. In addition there will be other contests and games which will fill out the evening with plenty of fun.

Other parts of the program will be carried in next week's issue of the News Review, at which time J. T. Dix, general program manager, hopes to have an announcement of hostesses for the various parties throughout the remainder of the summer.

SON OF FORMER RESIDENT OF HICO STARRED IN FORT WORTH HOME TALENT SHOW

Hico people are interested highly in the prominence being given Ralph Thomas Farmer of Fort Worth, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Farmer of 3636 Ryan Ave. at that city, in the all-talking comedy being produced by local talent, in which this round youth starred and is making a wonderful hit as a juvenile movie actor.

Mrs. Farmer, it will be remembered, was reared in Hico, being the former Miss Cora Wood, a daughter of Mrs. M. E. Wood, and a sister of Misses Fannie, Dora and Tot Wood, all of Hico. She lived here until her marriage, and keeps in touch with her many friends in this section through frequent visits.

Ralph Thomas or "Fats" as his press agents for the picture refer to him, has had no previous experience in this line of work, which makes his unusual success all the more remarkable. He was selected from a large number of applicants by Joe Cobb, the original fat boy in "Our Gang" comedies, and his work is praised highly by all the experienced actors, directors and professional movie people with whom he is associated.

GROCERY IN HAMILTON PURCHASED BY BROWN

(Hamilton Herald-Record) C. M. Brown, a well known former resident of this city, but who recently lived in Hico, has returned to Hamilton with his charming young wife to make their home permanently. Cleo Brown is the son of J. L. (Jim) Brown, of Meridian, who is known to everybody in the county as a highway builder.

Cleo Brown has purchased the Hoku-Pokus grocery of O. C. Walker & Sons, and has assumed charge of the business in the same location. He has retained the well known salesman, Virgil Walker and will also have associated with him in the business his father, Jim Brown, who will be in Hamilton much of the time. The new grocery firm is doing business as Brown's grocery.

Has Message For People of Coryell, Hamilton Counties

During my campaign two years ago, before I was elected your Representative, I named a few things for which the people could expect me as a member of the Legislature.

I pledged the voters that if permitted to serve them that I would vote and work for an honest and economical administration of our State Government and that I would not vote for any additional taxes. I stated that I believed it was costing too much to operate our State Government. My record during the one term which I served is proof that I kept my pledge on this question as I endeavored to do on all other questions. I supported the program of the Forty-Third Legislature which cut appropriations something like fifteen million dollars. I opposed all bills which would have levied additional taxes on our people.

I stated that I was a friend to the cause of education, and voted for bills which would take care of our worthy school teachers and our boys and girls. The Forty-Third Legislature passed several bills which accomplished this by way of changing certain laws but not placing any additional tasks on our citizens. I worked with our County Superintendents, teachers and patrons for what they believed to be the best interest for the schools in this District.

I promised as a member of the Legislature that I would not serve any special class but that I would represent every person in our District to the best of my ability. Regardless of the work of the paid Lobbyists I stood at all times for that which I believed to be for the best interests of the masses of the people.

In regard to the passing of laws I am of the opinion that the Legislature, generally speaking, passes too many laws. I voted for those which I believed to be of benefit. If elected your Representative again I will continue to cooperate with the people of my District in the passage of such laws as they deem to be for the protection of our homes, our property and our lives.

I assured you that I would stay on the job and the records will show that I did not miss a single roll call nor a day. I sponsored a resolution the effect of which would require the members of the Legislature to work six days in the week.

I am asking the voters of my District for a second term and assure you that I shall endeavor to render the same services in the future as I have in the past. I solicit the support of each of you and assure you that your efforts in my behalf will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
EARL HUDDLESTON.

WARNING MADE TO HOUSEKEEPERS TO AVOID THE SPREADING OF DISEASES

Austin, Texas, June 20.—Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, while discussing the spread of diseases, asserted that servants in the homes were responsible for transmitting many diseases. There is a State law requiring food handlers in public places to have a health certificate, but this does not include domestics. This is the responsibility of the employer.

Many persons of all races are employed as cooks, nurse-maids, laundresses, etc. As such they come in intimate contact with the grown ups and children in the family. If these servants are harboring any communicable disease the employing family is very liable to contract it.

Some of the diseases that may be, and are transmitted in such a manner are: venereal diseases, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, and other acute contagious diseases. A typhoid carrier can easily infect an entire family. Recently a nurse maid was discovered to have syphilis and she had charge of two small children. Another family discovered that their servant had active tuberculosis.

The State Department of Health recommends that employers have their family physician examine their servants from time to time to eliminate any danger of contracting any of the diseases mentioned. The cost of this is negligible when compared to the cost of an illness and family death.

Former TCU Star Accepts Position As Hico Principal

Otha W. Tiner, Waco, accepted the position of coach and principal of Hico High School in a letter to D. F. McCarty, president of the Board last Saturday. Tiner was elected after the resignation of Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Miles who accepted positions at Munday, Texas. Tiner received his degree from Texas Christian University at Fort Worth this Spring. He will teach science in the school as well as coach all athletic teams. Tiner was noted on the Frog football team for his place kicking ability. He is a pupil of Coach Schmidt who resigned this year to coach at Ohio State. Tiner is now at Worth Ranch which is the Fort Worth Area camp of the Boy Scouts of America and is near Palo Pinto. He is expected to report in the early Fall.

Miss Gertrude Lee Oxford has accepted the position to succeed Mrs. Miles. She taught in the Carlton schools last year and will serve as sixth grade teacher here. Miss Oxford is the daughter of Mrs. J. B. Runyon of this city. Miss Oxford is at present attending Peabody Institute at Nashville, Tennessee.

INTERESTING LIFE BROUGHT TO CLOSE BY RECENT DEATH OF "AUNT MARY" WILLIAMS

Mrs. Mary Williams, 79, died at Hico June 9 at 3:15 p. m. after an illness of several months which left her unconscious the last few days of her life.

Her children were with her when death came. She was buried at Duffan Sunday, June 10 at 11 a. m. after services at the Duffan Baptist Church, Rev. Rucker presiding.

Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Slaughter, pioneers of Bell County, where she was born in 1855, was married to Dan Williams when she was twenty. To this union seven children were born, of which four survive: S. H. Williams of Hico; Mrs. Hood Howerton of near Duffan; Mrs. Wiley Suits of Stephenville and Henry Williams of Spur.

"Aunt Mary" as she was affectionately known to a wide circle of friends and relatives, moved to the Hico community about 40 years ago, shortly after the death of her husband, and has remained here since.

COTTON CONTRACT LAND IN SOUTH TEXAS CHECKED

COLLEGE STATION, June 19.—The measurement of corn and cotton land on farms under contract with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration is under way in South Texas where contract compliance must be checked earlier than in the rest of Texas. The measuring method used in that section may be adopted later for the entire State, depending on results obtained and on the final settlement of certain debated details, the Texas A and M College Extension Service reports.

A community committeeman is being employed for every 50 to 100 farms and farmers are helping in the measurement. The acres in growing cotton are being measured, and the rented acres also if there is any doubt. If more acres of cotton are growing than the contract allows the farmer must plow up the excess. In addition a check is made of the crops growing on the rented acres, and the number of tenants and day laborers this year and last year.

In making the measurements it is suggested that 100-foot No. 14 wire be used with a 25 or 50-foot cloth tape provided to measure fractions of wire length. The supervising committeeman also has 11 recommendations for helping keep count of the wire lengths per acre. Angles are not being measured but the shape of the field, unless of unusual character is drawn in on a map of the farm.

By these methods the Extension Service has found in tests in Goiaid county that land can be measured and checked for compliance with contract at a cost not to exceed three cents per acre. This includes the cost of employing one committeeman to stay in the office and check the calculations of the field supervising committeeman. Later a man will be sent to each county to measure and check the work of a fair sample of the farms to make sure that everything has been done correctly.

Whether this system will be used throughout Texas in exactly this way will depend on results in South Texas, and on further rulings of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Preacher Here Sunday. There will be services both morning and evening at the First Christian Church. The pastor will preach. A cordial welcome is extended to all.
A. L. HALEY, Pastor.

Canning Plant at Hico Relief Office Started Up Tuesday

When Mayor M. A. Cole visited the local relief headquarters early Tuesday morning with a tub of black-eyed peas for canning purposes, operations were immediately started toward launching the canning program worked out recently following a visit of Harold West, J. M. Doyle and W. A. Gaither, representing the Texas Relief Commission, in Hamilton.

Willis E. Collins, who was removed from the service of the Relief Commission last month through a blanket reduction in administration forces, has been reappointed to oversee various projects, including the canning project at Hico, Hamilton, Carlton, Fairly and Pottsville; also some mosquito control and drainage projects at Hico and Hamilton.

Mr. Collins states that 20,000 cans have been received to date, and that the county relief office has also received ten sealers and ten pressure cookers for use during the canning season. They will be distributed as follows: three in Hamilton, three in Hico, two in Carlton, one in Fairly and one in Pottsville.

The plant at Hico was the first in the county to begin operations, and a visit there Tuesday morning disclosed the fact that preparations had been rushed to the end that the work be started at once. Mrs. J. B. Carmean, case worker for Hamilton county, who has charge of all canning operations at the five places named, had things in readiness to start under the direction of Mrs. Ella Reilhan, superintendent of the Hico plant this week.

Equipment of the quarters which are being maintained in the old bakery building east of the post office, consisted of three 25-quart steam pressure cookers and three automatic sealers; plenty of working tables, benches, supervisors' desks, chairs, three tubs, three kettles, a large wood range and an oil range. Eighteen hundred cans were on hand at the time, but the supply has accumulated and a time to time as the necessity requires, according to Mr. Collins.

Under the present plan, the PERA furnishes the cans, labor and equipment, and the producer brings in whatever products he desires to have canned. The producer pays 50¢ per hundred cans, at the present schedule, and in return receives one-half of the finished products. The relief commission's share will be distributed to the needy when a sufficient supply has accumulated and a demand for same exists.

Those interested in having some of their products canned will find it to their advantage to avail themselves of this opportunity as it is hoped to receive sufficient products to keep the plant running full time and the personnel employed, and at the same time many will be enabled to put up some of their produce without investing in expensive equipment. Anything except meals will be handled for the time being.

A telephone or personal call to the Hico canning plant is necessary to make engagements. Patrons are requested to call between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. so that the work may be arranged systematically.

While there were many details to see after in getting this work started at Hico, things were running along smoothly Wednesday. An indication was that the Hico workers would make a showing which would contrast well with other plants over the county.

FORMER HICO LADY WED TO L. MORRIS OF HAMILTON

Friends in Hico will be surprised to learn of the marriage of Miss Minnie Clark of Waco, but formerly of Hico, to Mr. L. A. Morris of Hamilton which occurred at Waco Saturday evening. Miss Clark met Mr. Morris in Hico Saturday and they went to Waco in his car where the ceremony was performed.

The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Clark who were residents of Hico for some time prior to their deaths. She is a niece of S. A. Clark who now resides here. Miss Minnie taught music in Hico for some time and also a Waco where she spent the past few years.

Mr. Morris is the present district clerk and has been for a number of years.

J. F. PIERCE OF CARLTON INJURED BY EXPLOSION

(Carlton Citizen) At 8:15 Thursday morning Carlton was shocked by an explosion that occurred in the J. F. Pierce blacksmith shop. Mr. Pierce was repairing a Milled Oates' car when the acetylene tank exploded. Mr. Pierce sustained severe bruises on his face and arms, and a deep gash was cut in his left side. He received first aid from Dr. Kennedy and taken to the Stephenville sanitarium. Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Childress, W. W. Britey, Glen Griffin and Dr. Kennedy accompanied the injured man.

Just before going to press news came that the hospital physicians had dressed Mr. Pierce's wounds and unless complications develop he will recover nicely. Mr. Oates was also burned by the explosion.

HIGHWAY 67 OPEN NOW ALL THE WAY TO DUBLIN

Since the recent completion of the approaches to the big bridge on Highway 67 near Clairette, the road has been opened all the way from Hico to Dublin, and travelers are finding this a most convenient improvement.

The stretches on either side of the bridge are being gravelled, and it is understood that it is the intention of the Highway Department to order the entire road finished some time this Fall.

The new road shortens the distance between Hico and Dublin by nearly nine miles, the old road being 28 miles long, and the new one around 19 miles.

CAPE IMPROVEMENTS The City Clio is undergoing improvements this week to the counters, and when finished the work will add greatly to the appearance and convenience of the place.

Keeping Up With TEXAS

State apportionments of the $200,000,000 fund provided for in the new highway construction act were announced this week by Raymond G. Tugwell, Undersecretary of Agriculture. Texas received the largest fund, $12,391,253, with New York getting $11,327,291, Pennsylvania $9,590,788, Illinois $8,921,601 and California $7,822,306. The money will be made available immediately for allotment to construction projects on the federal aid highway system and its extensions into and through cities, and on important secondary roads.

Efforts to take a kodak snapshot of Rufus Flores, 25, of Beaumont, while posing as a "bold bad man" Monday had cost him his life. While on a kodaking party Sunday afternoon Flores leased a shotgun against a tree and posed as a Western bad man. Just as the camera clicked, the gun fell and was discharged killing Flores outright.

The federal relief administration has advised Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, it was allotted to state $500,000 to be used in paying teachers in small schools with empty treasuries. The senator some time ago had urgently requested the administration to act in the matter. A communication from Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, said that the money would be made available immediately.

The average monthly per person expenditure for unemployment relief for the three-month period ended Feb. 28 for the four largest counties in Texas was $2.18, an audit of the State Relief Commission by George B. Simpson, state auditor, showed. The average monthly per person expenditure was $1.51 for Bexar County, $2.55 for Dallas, $2.11 for Harris and $1.62 for Tarrant. Simpson's report stated that $6,412,791 was allocated and advanced to counties during that period, $3,702,447 having been federal and $2,710,344 state funds. Amounts expended by the Federal Government or CWA and teachers' projects were not included.

A delegation of Louisiana and Texas Congressmen seeking flood control and power development on the Red River went directly Tuesday to President Roosevelt. Application for the proposed development has been before the Public Works Administration since last Summer and proponents were dissatisfied with the little encouragement received from that department. The project includes power development, a section of a proposed $26,000,000 dam at Denton, Texas, and $11,000,000 for flood control and drainage work along the river in Louisiana.

Three young prisoners escaped from the Johnson County jail on Tuesday afternoon after they had knocked Jailer Ed England unconscious. The jailer recovered and raised an alarm about 30 minutes later. The men were in the jail run-around. When England returned to remove some dishes the trio jumped on him, took his keys, beat him over the head with them and walked.

Halting an impending dispute with the Dallas Power and Light Company over electricity rates, the Dallas City Council voted Tuesday to accept a total reduction of $400,550 annually, provided an acceptable legal form could be prepared by the city attorney and supervisor of public utilities. Maximum rates covering residences and commercial services will be reduced from 5.75 cents per kilowatt hour to 5.5 cents by the agreement.

Horned frogs will help defray the expenses of two West Texas boys to the Chicago World's Fair. Leo McCann and Bruce Dickey left Midland Wednesday morning bound for Chicago carrying a box of horned frogs caught there. They plan to sell the frogs to tenderfeet in Chicago and expect to form a trade connection to which they will send a regular supply on their return to Midland.

The first searing heat wave of the season swept over many sections of Texas Wednesday just as summer "officially" arrived, and established several new highs and caused general discomfort. At Midland, in west Texas, the official thermometer soared to 106, the highest mark of the season, and it was 106.3 degrees at Big Spring, although the United States experiment farm nearby reported 105, only one degree lower than the hot test day last year. At Spar, on the plains of west Texas, the experiment station reported a maximum of 111, three degrees short of the all time high, set in 1924. It was an even 106 degrees at Fort Worth and 104 at Dallas.

Williams Addresses People of the 52nd Judicial District

Fully realizing that there are some voters whom I have not had the privilege and opportunity to meet during my campaign for the office of District Attorney of the 52nd Judicial District, composed of Coryell, Comanche and Hamilton Counties, by this method I wish to present my candidacy and to ask for the vote and support of the people of this District.

For the information of those who do not know me, I might say that I am 28 years old, was born and reared in Hamilton County, Texas, completed High School at Hamilton in 1924, did two years of college work in John Tarleton College at Stephenville, Texas, and graduated from Cumberland Law School at Lebanon, Tenn., June 1929 and was admitted to the Bar of Texas during the same year.

From the time of my admission to the Bar I have been actively engaged in the practice of law, was elected County Attorney of Hamilton County in 1930 without opposition; preferring to enter the private practice of law I declined to ask for re-election to the office of County Attorney, this being the second campaign I have ever made for any office.

During the closing weeks of the campaign I will endeavor and do all that is possible to see those whom I have not already seen.

I have the kindest of feelings for my opponents and regard them as my friends. I have and shall continue to conduct my campaign upon a high plane, without slander, innuendo or insinuations against any one. I am not making this campaign upon personalities, but upon my own merits and qualifications and not upon the demerits of anyone seeking this office.

If elected, I have no promises to make except that I will perform all the duties which the law of this State requires of the District Attorney with all the energy and vigor at my command. I pledge to all that under my administration the criminal laws will be enforced with no fear of nor favor to any offender, and in this connection I will heartily cooperate with the sheriff and all other law enforcing agencies to the end that the citizens of this district may be secure in the enjoyment of their constitutional rights of life, liberty and property. I shall not ask for this office for more than two terms.

To those of my friends who have encouraged me to make the race and who have said a kind word in my behalf I am truly thankful and deeply appreciative of the confidence which they have sought to repose in me.

I am a member of no political organization, except the Democratic Party; therefore I have no enemies to punish and no friends to reward, but will be free to vigorously prosecute all offenders of the law regardless of their station in life whether it be high or low. I believe in a fair and impartial investigation of all offenses before the Grand Jury and when a bill of indictment has been returned, in a speedy trial and a fearless prosecution and not in persecution.

Thanking you for any or whatever consideration you deem proper to give me, I am,

Yours sincerely,
ARDELL WILLIAMS

MENUS AND RECIPES

DENTON, June 22.—The wedding is invariably preceded by a round of festivities—announcement parties, miscellaneous showers, luncheons. Whether giving a tea, a bridge or a more formal luncheon, every hostess is desirous of producing a pleasing result. Fortunately for her, simplicity has become the keynote of a distinguished entertaining today and she should never attempt to do more than she can do with ease.

The table for the luncheon should be laid with your daintiest linen and for centerpiece use spring and summer flowers in pastel shades—sweet peas, snapdragons, delphiniums, etc. These are lovely in the delicate crystal flower bowls, which can be purchased in so many desirable shapes.

The following menus are suggestions for shower luncheons or announcement luncheons:

Pineapple cocktail, creamed shrimp with green peas, heart-shaped baking powder biscuits, moulded beet salad, Loganberry ice cream, angel food cake, coffee or tea.

The type of refreshments suitable for weddings depends somewhat upon the time of day. Up to 12:30 o'clock, a breakfast is served. From 12:30 o'clock to 2:00 o'clock, a luncheon menu is served. From 6:00 o'clock to 9:00 o'clock a dinner is expected. After 9:00 o'clock the refreshments should be similar to those used in the afternoon.

At both the wedding breakfast and the wedding reception, it is usual for the bride and groom and the bridal party to be seated at a separate table. At breakfast the guests might be seated at tables or they might sit informally in groups while waiters passed all the food. At a reception, the guests would be served at a large table by waiters passing things upon a tray and by the guests helping themselves from the food upon the table or tables.

AFTERNOON REFRESHMENTS
(Green and White): Mint punch, assorted sandwiches, fancy ice cream molds, bride's cake, candies and nuts.

EVENING REFRESHMENTS
(Rainbow colors): Ice cream hearts, fancy cakes, assorted mints, salted nuts, coffee.

STUFFED TOMATO SALAD:
10 medium sized very red tomatoes, 1 c diced celery, 1-2 c blanched almonds, 1 c diced apple, 30 green asparagus tips, Maiden Blush salad dressing. Hollow out centers saving cut out portion for salad dressing. Peel and chill. Serve on lettuce leaf filled with celery, apples and almonds that have been mixed with salad dressing. Garnish with three asparagus tips.

MAIDEN BLUSH SALAD DRESSING:
To 1 c cooked salad dressing add 1 c tomato pulp, 1-2 t salt, 2 T orange juice. Whip until smooth. (Fancy Cakes) BRIEF'S CAKE:
1-2 c butter, 1-2 c sugar, 1-2 c milk, 2 1-2 c flour, 3 t baking powder, 1-4 t cream tartar, 1-2 t almond extract, whites of six eggs. Cream butter and add sugar gradually. WHENCE A POET?

By Ida Mingus Clay
There has been a puzzling question
Aeons old, still always new.
To determine if a poet
Visions past the arch of blue,
He can write his rhythmic meters
With an edifying pen.
Yet unfold a simple message
That is relished by all men.
He can take the dullest flora
Or dwarfed fauna he may find,
And discover hidden beauty
With his introspective mind.
When he views the sparkling waters
Of the spacious Continents,
He interprets waves as lyrics
Pouring forth sweet sentiments.
He can use the twinkling starlight
To extol a moonless eve,
Or enrich a panorama
By adornment in the weave.
And this mystic inspiration
Is the Master's gracious aid
To assist a struggling poet
Up the Mount Parnassus grade.

The aim is also to develop premiums for quality vegetables over the culls and unclassified stuff. "It is a program of cooperation on the part of producer, distributor and consumer," explains J. C. Yeary, county agent. "The aim is to see that each one gets a fair deal, a living wage, and No. 1 vegetables at all times. The campaign has met with good support on every hand."

Most Amazing Proof OF EXTRA STRENGTH • SAFETY AND DEPENDABILITY Ever Known! WORLD RECORD BROKEN!

It is almost inconceivable that human ingenuity could build tires that would withstand the terrific punishment of the 500-mile grind at Indianapolis, May 30.

Round and round the blistering track they streaked, hour after hour, under the blazing sun... the low moan of powerful motors rose to a terrific roar as they hit the straightaways at 150 miles or better—grinding, pulling, pounding around treacherous tire-destroying curves faster than they ever dared before. Sliding into the turns at these terrific speeds, there was nothing to hold the car to the track except the tire.

Mile after mile, lap after lap, greater and greater heat and increased centrifugal force developed to separate the tread from the body of the tire. Every conceivable force known was working to tear the tires to pieces—yet Firestone High Speed Tires, with Gum-Dipped High Stretch Cords, withstood this most grueling test.

Thirty-three demons of speed—thirty-three cars equipped with Firestone High Speed Tires—all protected by Gum-Dipped High Stretch Cords—entered the Annual Speed Classic. Every tire was bought by the driver or owner of the car.

In all the heat—in all the grinding—in all the straining and pulling—not one cotton strand loosened—not one life was endangered by tire failure—not one car was forced out of the race by tire trouble. Six of the winners finished without a tire change.

What a tribute to the Extra Strength—Safety and Durability built into Firestone High Speed Tires.

WHAT THIS MEANS TO YOU

The amazing record of Firestone dependability at Indianapolis was made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping. Every fiber of every cord in every ply of the tire is saturated and coated with pure liquid rubber; there are eight extra pounds of rubber to every 100 pounds of cotton cords.

There is greater adhesion between the plies of the Gum-Dipped Cord body and between the body and the tread. As a result of this patented process of Gum-Dipping Firestone engineers have been able to build a wider tread of flatter contour, with more and tougher rubber and deeper non-skid, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Don't delay! Call on the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store in your community today and equip your car with the new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934. Drive with security and peace of mind.

Say 500-Mile Race Record Is Largely Due to Safer Tires

When you consider that tires are made largely of vegetable compounds—namely, rubber and cotton—it seems almost beyond belief that for all of the 33 entries in the Indianapolis 500-mile race there was not a single tire failure.

Although many of the thousands of spectators noticed that the tires looked unusually large as the cars hurtled past such speeds increase the size of the tire at least ten per cent. This action of the tires is an indication of the terrific forces that are straining and pulling at them, and it was only the advanced engineering by Firestone—that provided the necessary strength and safety for such a tire ordeal.

Hour after hour the powerful machines roared down the straight ways and pounded around the curves on the blistering brick track, while the thermometer threatened to set new records for ace day temperatures. Record speeds combined with the sun to impose the ultimate of grueling tire tests—for heat and speed are the greatest enemies of tire life.

The first ten laps over the hot bricks averaged more than 115 miles per hour. The new world record of 104.845 miles per hour for the 500 miles meant 150 miles per hour on the straightaways.

Cars made fewer pit stops than ever before and tires showed 30 per cent less wear in spite of the high speeds and intense heat. Only 8 of the 33 drivers made even a precautionary tire change, although such changes can be made at the pits without any lost time while the car is being refueled.

In racing and motoring, the two chief causes of premature tire failure are tread separation and internal friction. These two difficulties are overcome by the Firestone patented process of Gum Dipping by which the high stretch cords are saturated and coated with liquid rubber so that the tread and body of the tire can be welded into one cohesive unit.

Tires must bear the brunt of this supreme contest of automobile and tire endurance over those 500 miles—and from this rigorous testing on the track have come the forward steps in tires for the highway. The drivers or owners of the cars bought the tires they knew were safest as they staked lives for the chance of victory and fortune.

The greatest proving ground in the world—the Indianapolis Speed way—has proved that the new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934 are the safest, strongest, longest-wearing tires ever made.

OUR HOME TOWN By NADINE LIVELY

(Editor's Note—Following is the speech delivered by Nadine Lively for Bend in the "Home Town" contest at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention held in San Angelo recently. Nadine is a student of the Bend public school and was also selected as "Miss Bend" for the Rainbow Roundup at the convention. She was delighted with the many features of entertainment afforded her on this occasion.)

You have heard and will hear during these few hours fine speech an extolling the power and greatness of cities and near cities. I do not wish to claim power and greatness for my home town. Far be it from me to get up here and tell a lot of yarns that you wouldn't believe anyway. So all the claims I shall make shall be based upon the simple life of a simple people in a one-horse town.

For my home town is a one-horse town, even though that horse is kept busy dodging V-8ights and Chevrolts driven by city people who find my home town a refuge from just such conditions as are being so highly praised today.

It will be impossible for you to understand the pride and fullness of my heart when I speak of my home town unless I give you briefly those things that have affected my whole being since the day I was born.

When God created the heavens and earth, he saw fit to reserve a corner of the Garden of Eden and distribute its beauty in the vicinity of my home town. Nowhere in the state of Texas, indeed in the whole United States of America, can be found a place of such beauty, joy, and contentment.

It nestles where the silvery Colorado winds its way to greater waters giving life and beauty to huge fruitful pecan trees that cover its banks. Joyous singing and gay laughter fill the air coming from a people whose happiness and progressive spirit is the envy of the surrounding country.

It isn't the number of inhabitants the number of massive, beautiful structures, large railway depots, smoking stacks of factories, nor the number of years that a town has lived or existed that make a town but the number of stimulating, suggestive and inspiring influences that create an environment that is silent but mighty in its power in developing a boy or girl.

My home town is not a city. Its single street goes placid unpaved between buildings that sit peacefully together in a simple unplanned harmony like friendly neighbors gossiping in the sun.

There are no skyscrapers nor monuments to vast industry and wealth and power, but there is a General Store whose proprietor is a true philosopher, and the Post-office where more remedies for "what ails this here country" have been concocted than were ever brewed in the august corridors of our nation's capital.

And there is the blacksmith shop, where checker playing is considered a refined accomplishment in the stead of a lazy man's excuse for not supporting his family.

My home town has no high-domed churches with plush cushioned pews and mullioned windows of stained glass, but when we kneel in the uncarpeted aisle of "the little white church in the valley" to receive that benediction uttered in the familiar and dearly-loved voice, we feel that God is very near.

My home town is typical of Texas. In early days she was so wild that not even the law of gravitation was obeyed, and her chief industries were chasing Indiana and sowing wild oats. But since Texas has become an organized state, no community can boast of being more loyal and patriotic to Texas than Bend. The state flower dresses her, the state tree makes her a living, and the state bird furnishes her with natural and spontaneous music without having to put in a nickel.

My home town has neither millionaires nor soup lines. So far, she has found neither necessary to her happiness. We have more good cooks, and consequently more fat men to the square yard than any other place in the state. (Even our girls have learned that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, and our boys have learned that the path of true love crosses our bridge. What bridge? Why, haven't you heard of our bridge? It is true that it threatens to collapse at every step of the lovers' feet, but it is so long and so wide that it furnishes privacy for dozens of proposals at a time been when the full moon is shining.)

We are proud of our home town, proud of our background and our hardy pioneer lineage; proud of our honest dirt farmers, our sturdy ranchmen, and our peccan logologists whose opinion are sought after, the length and breadth of the Western Hemisphere.

The name of my home town is as simple as its people, just a little four-letter—B-E-N-D. Bend! The proudest little one-horse town in the State of Texas—San Saba News.

TODAY and TOMORROW

REPORTER at 68 years

My friend Frederick T. Birchall of the New York Times received the Pulitzer Prize in Journalism the other day for the best work of a newspaper correspondent in 1933. That may not mean much, but it proves one thing I have long maintained. That is, that newspaper work is not, as people often say, a "young man's game."

For Fred Birchall is 68 years old, and has been a newspaper correspondent for over three years. As a very young man he worked for a short time as a reporter. Then he got an editorial job and rose through the ranks until he was acting manager editor of The Times. At 65, when most men retire, he wanted to be a reporter again, so The Times sent him to Europe to go where he pleased and write what he pleased. His dispatches from European capitals prove that one doesn't have to be a boy to be a good reporter.

There is no occupation in which a man can keep on doing good and constantly improving work as long as his health lasts.

BRAIN doesn't wear out. The human brain doesn't wear out. It grows with use. Not long before his death I asked Thomas A. Edison how he kept his youthful outlook. He had been talking, at 82, of things he was going to do next.

"You can keep your brain young by working it hard," he replied. "It grows in power with use. The only thing that grows old about a man is his body. If my stomach holds out I'll be inventing new things and better things at 100."

I am convinced that Edison was right. Of course, some men stop thinking, others never did use their brains much. But the man who has a good brain and uses it to go its limit grows in ability as time goes on.

YOUTH and ambition. It is characteristic of youth that everything seems important to the young. That is natural, for everything is new to the young. Nothing like it ever happened before. Wars and depressions and hard times and debt and grand ideas for making the world over make a strong impression on youth because they are novel experiences.

In my own youth I used to hear the ancient proverb: "A man's a fool till he's forty." I didn't believe it, of course. Youth never believes that its elders know anything about its problems. But after a man has reached middle age he begins to realize that all the things that he used to get so excited about were an old story to his parents. They had been through the mill and knew the answers were nothing like what youth thought they were.

It is, perhaps a good thing that youth does not know that most of its dreams will never come true. For unless the young believed they could accomplish miracles, they never would try. And it is only by trying to do the impossible that humanity gets a little farther along with each new generation.

GRADUATES Jobs waiting. I don't know how many young men were graduated from the nation's colleges and universities this June, but I hear a great deal of talk about there being no jobs for them. There seems to be an idea prevalent that when a boy has finished college the world ought to have his pigeonhole ready for him to crawl into and be safe and secure for the rest of his life.

That never was true and it never will be making the world over ideas for really competent as there ever were. Look around you if you don't believe that, and see if you find a man who is actually industrious, ambitious and competent who hasn't got something to do.

I talked the other day with the vice-president of one of the big oil companies. "We can't get hold of enough ambitious young men to man our filling stations as we would like to have them manned," he said. "If you know any college boys looking for a chance to start in the oil business, send them to me."

LIFE two views. Life is whatever we choose to make it. I know two young married women who live in the same suburb. One is the happiest person I ever saw, the other one is a college graduate, whose husband earns $100 a week and is paying for their home, raising two children. They keep no servant, own a Ford car, and the wife finds time to serve on the school board, pretty nearly runs the local women's club and be the "fixer" to whom all sorts of people come with their troubles.

The unhappy person is married to a man whose income is $25,000 a year. They have no children, but keep three servants and two big cars. She is the best-dressed woman in their town. She spends a lot of money giving entertainment and parties. People go because they get plenty to eat and drink, but I hear folks say that to have to listen to her complaints of imaginary troubles is a high price to pay for a dinner.

Life, as I said, is what you make it.

HOW TO PLEASE THE BURGLAR

While everyone else is on vacation, the burglar has his busiest season. L. A. Sawyer, burglary expert of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, says there are certain signs that always gladden his heart.

He likes to see an accumulation of milk bottles and newspapers at doors, and always is pleased to note that mail boxes are full to running over with letters and circulars.

He approves of windows that have shades pulled down. He becomes much more confident when he sees the garage door open, and notes that the car is gone.

The burglar, continues Mr. Sawyer, is delighted to find doors fastened with fragile locks that give way to the slightest pressure. He has praise for the householder who depends upon simple catches for windows which are accessible from the ground, the roof, fire escape or from broad copings along which he can climb.

Inside the house the burglar likes to find that the housewife has placed all of her silver in a compartment of the sideboard. He likes to find the furs in a moth bag with opera cloaks and special dinner gowns.

If there is one thing that adds zest to the search of the visitors it is the practice of some housewives in hiding jewelry and money under carpets, rugs, in carelessly hung clothing or in mattresses, pillows or the davenport. It is a game to him and he knows all the plays. It does not take long for him to win.

What the burglar does not like, Mr. Sawyer concludes, is to find strong locks on doors, special protection on windows, catches on outside doors, and after entering, to discover that all the movable valuables have been stored elsewhere.

YOU PAY A SALES TAX

In a recent referendum the voters of the state of Oregon decisively defeated a proposal for a general sales tax.

By doing that, the Oregon electorate followed an example that has been set by the people of a number of other states and communities.

However, if the voters think that they have eliminated the sales tax, they are badly mistaken. They are paying a sales tax now. They have been paying one in the past. They will pay one in the future.

The corner grocery where you buy your food pays taxes. The concerns which produce his stock likewise pay taxes—heavy ones. Those taxes are necessarily passed on to the consumer as part of the selling price.

That is true of everything you buy—gasoline or entertainment or food or clothes. Part of every dollar you spend goes for taxes, and the proportion mounts constantly. The fact that the tax isn't apparent means nothing—an indirect tax can be every bit as expensive as a direct one.

ELECTROLUX, INC. SHOWS STEADY BUSINESS INCREASE

(Ablene Reporter) Although the industry has shown a steady decrease during recent years, Electrolux, Inc., has shown a steady increase and profits every month, reports R. F. Dalley of Dallas, the branch manager of Texas for the company which has central headquarters in New York City.

Mr. Dalley spent yesterday here and will continue today in training salesmen already connected with the concern and new recruits for work in the 22 West Texas counties to be covered by the Ablene district office. R. F. McCarty, the Ablene manager, is in charge of the district.

Electrolux, Inc. is expanding its territory in the southwest. Coming into Texas a year ago, the company is building up a payroll which will aggregate one quarter of a million dollars annually not so long hence, said Mr. Dalley. The expansion into West Texas began six months ago.

The instruction classes for salesmen are being held at the Wooten hotel. Mr. Dalley expects to return here in a few days to check on work in the territory.

TWO-BILLION-FIVE-HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF PURCHASING POWER

In a recent editorial, the American Builder points to the need for stimulating home-building as an aid to general recovery. Sixty per cent of all urban homes in the country need extensive repairs. Fifty per cent still lack such essentials as civilized living as piped hot water, inside flush toilets, and central heating systems. Twenty per cent are badly overcrowded due to the doubling up of families. And in rural areas the condition of the average home is still worse as far as comforts and conveniences are concerned.

It is reliably estimated that the present housing need totals about 800,000 units. On the average about $2,000,000,000 of that—eighty per cent—would go to labor. It is a significant sign that executives in all lines of industry are continually stressing the need for stimulating home-building, as well as other types of construction. Nothing would do more to speed recovery. "Build ourselves into prosperity" is an excellent slogan to remember.

LOCAL NRA COMPLIANCE BOARDS RELIEVED OF ALL FURTHER RESPONSIBILITIES

Local NRA Compliance Boards, established nine months ago by the National Recovery Administration, Hugh S. Johnson, in various cities and towns of Texas to assist in administering the President's Reemployment Agreement, was relieved of further responsibilities and passed out of existence on Friday, June 15th. The duties which they have been performing, now greatly reduced in volume since permanent codes have replaced the President's Agreement in a great majority of industries, will thereafter be performed by the offices of the State NRA Compliance Director at Houston, Dallas, and El Paso, to whom all complaints concerning NRA violations should in the future be sent.

Letters have been sent to all Compliance Boards in the United States by General Johnson, conveying the thanks of the President and of the Administration for the almost invaluable services which they have rendered in connection with the organization stage of NRA procedure, which is now yielding place to the second, or administration stage. He pointed out that although the Boards were originally set up to serve for a period of only forty-five days, that period had been extended from time to time and that "each time you have willingly and voluntarily continued to devote your time and efforts to aid in the drive for National Recovery. The President and this Administration fully realize the great amount of work entailed in performing the duties which were assigned to you, and sincerely appreciate the manner in which you have unselfishly donated your services in this emergency. The splendid results obtained through your efforts are to a considerable degree responsible for the success the NRA has achieved thus far in attaining the objectives of the Recovery Program."

Approximately seventy-five thousand cases have passed through the hands of the Local Compliance Boards during the past nine months. Many of them have been adjusted locally without need for further action. In the State of Texas alone, the Local Compliance Boards, of which there were 339, have successfully adjusted 453 cases, involving the restitution of back wages amounting to $10,595,74. Literally thousands of other cases were adjusted, a record well deserving the appreciation of the President and the Administration.

ON TEXAS FARMS

Each worker is the relief canning turned out an average of 49 cans of beef per day. Labor cost per day was $2, material cost per person $4.50, and value of output $8.44 per person per day. The gain or saving to the public was about $1.94 per person per day.

With hundreds of thousands of starving cattle in drought regions, it is not surprising, in view of the remarkable success of the Texas experiment in killing, cutting and canning beef the A and M Way, that national relief leaders have adopted the Texas plan for national application.

MY HOME AND YOURS — by BERTHA EDSON LAY

When serving eggs on toast to children, cut the toast into cubes, leaving the slice in its original shape. Place the egg on the toast in the usual manner. Children will find it much simpler to manage when served this way.

To prevent scum from forming on cocoa or chocolate, beat it with an egg-beater until a frothy foam forms on top. The foam prevents the scum from forming.

Warm your pit plates on top of the oven before putting the crust in to bake. This will prevent a soggy crust.

In cooking candy, preserves or sugar solutions of any kind, grease the inside of the pan near the top in order to prevent boiling over.

Butter two slices of bread. Place them face to face and toast the outside as you would a single piece of toast. The butter will melt, leaving the inside soft and delicious while the outside can be toasted to a nice golden brown. It's a good variation on just plain toast.

In place of an egg-beater, rinse a fruit jar with cold water to prevent sticking, break your eggs into the jar and shake. It's simple and satisfactory.

Take the vinegar and spices from your sweet pickles and preserve them until you are making a salad dressing. You'll find it gives your dressing a new and delicious flavor.

Ask your butcher to cut off the long end piece of your porterhouse steak, leaving the tissue intact. Have him put this section of the meat through the meat grinder twice and then replace it, holding it in place with the tissue he left intact. This part of the steak is tender and attractive when served.

Brings In Freak Egg Mrs. M. E. Bush, who lives on Route 2 on the Altman road, six miles west of Hico, brought in a freak egg last Saturday for us to inspect.

It was of a normal size with a perfect lid on the little end. It looked like the lid had been cut off the end of the egg and glued back on. Mrs. Bush said it was laid by one of her Cornish Game hens.

She has a number of fine chickens and has raised various kinds for years and says this is the first time she has ever found anything like this.

Club girls of Vermont are attacking an ancient family problem in a way that bids fair to reduce the strain on the old pocketbook. They are finding out what it takes to clothe a girl properly at various ages of her youth. Last year a large group of girls of various ages did this and more are to try it this year.

As the age of girl and type of school she attends have an important influence on the kind of clothes required the girls last year were divided into four groups: college girls, high school, non-school and grade school.

It was found that college girls, as expected, spent considerably more than the other groups. There were social exactions which did not have to be counted on in the other groups. The college girl group spent an average of $63.06 in the year which was itemized as follows: outer garments such as hats, suits, coats, gloves and scarfs $12.18; footwear, which covered shoes, stockings, slippers, overshoes and rubbers, came to $20.23; undergarments $7.85; dresses $20.92, and $1.88 for miscellaneous.

High school girls spent a total of $37.24 per girl itemized as follows: outer garments $6.88; footwear $10.58; undergarments $3.46; dresses $11.72; miscellaneous $4.57.

Grade school girls got along with still lower expenditures. The average was $28.11; itemized viz: outer garments $7.98; footwear $8.89; undergarments $5.11; dresses $5.17, and miscellaneous $95 cents.

The records failed to confirm the popular opinion that it costs more to dress a girl for school than to stay at home. The non-school girls spent an average of $43.93 or over $6.00 more than the high school girl. Their costs were $9.08 for outer garments, $16.55 for footwear; $4.10 for undergarments, $12.38 for dresses and $1.82 for miscellaneous items.

Explaining the high footwear costs the girls point out that this article has to be purchased, whereas many other items of wear can be and are made by and for the girls. Many old garments are remodeled.

Relief agencies spent about $500,000 on the entire beef canning relief program in Texas last winter, including cost of cattle and labor and material charges. A product worth $776,506 was obtained, value being determined by the lowest competitive commercial bid received in a cost investigation.

Sunday School Lesson — by Rev. Charles E. Dean

The Risen Lord and the Greek Mission. Lesson for June 17th. Matt. 28. Golden Text: Matt. 28:19, 20.

The Golden Text proclaims the Great Commission for the promotion of the missionary enterprise. It constitutes the marching orders of the Christian Society.

I wonder if we realize to what an astonishing extent the missionary spirit and method are glorified by the pages of our New Testament. Every book in the New Testament was written by a foreign missionary. Every New Testament letter written to a church was directed to a foreign missionary church. Every New Testament letter written to an individual was directed to a convert of a foreign missionary. Of the twelve apostles every one, save Judas, became a missionary. The language of the New Testament, moreover, is of a missionary character. Now striking changes have taken place in recent years in the areas where missionaries labor, and in the conduct of their work. Consider how marvelously the world has shrunk! The automobile, the airplane, the radio, and the telephone have made the whole world a neighborhood. Geographic frontiers have thus been eliminated, and the traditional distinction between home and foreign missions abolished. Think, too, of the way in which the ideal of a self-governing, self-sustaining native church is being approached. The days of western supremacy are passing. To an increasing extent missionary work is being taken over by the nationals of the various countries. Another notable change is the intense emphasis upon the social gospel. Still another change is the advance in missionary cooperation. There are about forty foreign mission boards in the United States and Canada, all working together in harmony. Denominationalism is thus breaking down on foreign soil. Truly we are living in stirring days!

THE BOOK — by BRUCE BARTON

LUKE USHERS IN WOMEN

Paul, the most adventurous of the early Christian missionaries, was often sick, and had as a physician a Greek gentleman named Luke. Luke had a friend named Theophilus who, as he thought, would be interested in the story of Jesus, but not in the form set forth by Mark or Matthew. Accordingly, Luke wrote: Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things that have been fulfilled among us, as they were delivered to us, which we have seen and heard from the beginning, and ministers of the word.

It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus. You will note that he does not criticize the accounts already written but observes merely that he does not find them adapted to Theophilus. He did not claim to be an original disciple, but he said that he had enjoyed exceptional opportunities for hearing the story from reliable men who had first-hand knowledge. These are perfectly straightforward reasons for writing a book and they furnish a pleasing introduction both to the Good News as Luke wrote it and to that later book, partly made up of his own experiences as a companion of Paul, the Acts. Luke did not care a fig about quotations from the Old Testament which might be very convincing to a Jew, but he did tell of the Good Samaritan, and of the Prodigal Son, and some other exalted stories of appreciation of Jesus for folks beyond the narrow walls of Judaism. Matthew never could have written this book any more than Luke could have written Matthew's.

The other fact is significant about the third Gospel. In some way the writer got hold of a fresh source of information about the women of that early Jerusalem community. Who told him and what was told we can only guess, but the fact is clear that Luke knew more and tells more about the women who were friends of Jesus than any of the other writers. That element gives an added quality of fitness to his book, which is probably the most beautiful book in the world.

Years later, in Ephesus, where Greek philosophy had tinged the thought and vocabulary of all educated people, a man named John wrote another story of Jesus. It is hardly the life-story; rather is it an interpretation, and a very fine one. We should have lost some of the most beautiful sayings of Jesus if it were not for this fourth Gospel, and one has only to read it through to understand why in every age it has been so greatly loved.

before leaving home on your outing this season. Children should at all seasons be immunized from diphtheria. We seldom know when the first case starts in the outbreak of an epidemic—it is impossible sometimes to discover the origin of the infection, and it is far better to be safe than to be very sorry. There is no harm in antitoxin given as a preventive. Two or three—possibly four injections will produce immunity. It is a situation where a few small doses of prevention are worth car-loads of "cure."

The FAMILY DOCTOR — JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

IMMUNIZATION People living in rural districts should always remember the great benefits of being immunized, so far as possible, from serious disease. We now have reliable immunization from at least two of the most formidable enemies, typhoid fever and diphtheria. Typhoid serum for the former; antitoxin for the latter.

Indeed we have about abolished typhoid; we have sent our young men away in armies, fully fortified against the deadly fever—all done by inoculation. City water systems can be watched by the chemists, and the drinking-water kept pure. It is different when the trip for recreation is taken, when woodland spring waters are to be used, wherein deadly germs may lurk. What a comfort to know that we can be protected from harm by a moment of wise precaution—talk to your doctor about it.

Texas farmers and ranchers sold 21,329 culler cows for an average of about $5 per head above market quotations, and 9439 unemployed persons were given wages of $12 per week. An average of about 3000 people were employed steadily for 26 days.

Mrs. J. A. Shannon of Fort Worth spent a part of last week here visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. F. Porter and family. On Sunday, Mrs. Shannon, Mrs. Porter and daughter, Martha, joined other relatives at Glen Rose for the day celebrating a reunion of members of the Baker relatives. Carroll Smith of Hico accompanied them to Glen Rose Sunday.

Miss Nellie Brown has returned home from a few days' visit with relatives in Fort Worth. She made a trip to Pangburn, Arkansas, with her cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bryant and children, Klyce and Alvie Dean to visit her sister, Mrs. B. A. Van Patten and family. They returned home by Stephenville for a short visit with relatives.

Miles at Stamford, came to Hico Saturday night and spent until Sunday with Dorothy's grand father, J. L. Wilson. Her father, D. L. Wilson also spent Saturday night here and all returned to Dallas Sunday afternoon.

Miss Annette Culbreath recently entertained a few girl friends with a breakfast-bridge in honor of Miss Ethelene Craddock of Seymour and Miss Margaret Reeder of Knox City who were houseguests of Miss Doris Sellers. The breakfast was served on the lawn of the home of Mrs. W. F. Culbreath, grandmother of Annette. Miss Sellers won high score in the bridge games.

Young Folks Enjoyed Evening On Methodist Parsonage Lawn

Almost forty young folks had a most enjoyable evening on the Methodist Parsonage lawn last Friday night. Under direction of Yetta Blair the evening started off with a treasure hunt from which enough stuff to start a museum in curios and antiques was brought in.

The game period was directed by Mrs. Cunningham assisted by the members of the Recreation Committee with Eileen Alexander, Mary Helen Hall, Adolph Leeth and Leonard Howard as splendid assistants.

Since the Young Peoples' Union of Hamilton County will meet at Carlton Friday night, June 22, it is expected that a number of Hico young folks will attend. Cars will leave the Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m.

Grandmother and Aunt Entertained for Mary Jane Ridenhower

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jackson was a scene of beauty on Friday evening, June 18th, when Mrs. E. K. Ridenhower and Mrs. E. S. Jackson were joint hostesses to a party honoring their granddaughter and niece, Miss Mary Jane Ridenhower of Junction, who was a graduate this Spring of the Junction High School. Cut flowers and pot plants decorated the open rooms where bridge was enjoyed.

Mostly former classmates of Mary Jane when she attended the Hico schools about seven years ago were present.

Refreshments were served in two courses, namely: congealed salad, pimiento sandwiches, iced tea, potato chips and olives, and ice cream and angel food cake.

Stunt Growth of Potato

We've heard a lot of complaining from farmers about Johnson grass but never before have we heard of the grass bothering potatoes. Such was the case however, with a small potato that was brought into the office last Thursday by S. A. Clark.

A Johnson grass root had grown through the potato and had so stunted its growth that the grass was practically as large as the spud. The freak was grown on one of Mr. Clark's farms near Hico.

Shower Given in Honor of Birthday Anniversary Tuesday

Let's Jubes complimented Mrs. Lucy Hudson on her birthday Tuesday evening with a wash day handkerchief shower at the home of Miss Sue Petty.

The handkerchiefs were pinned to a clothes line stretched across the living room and Mrs. Hudson was instructed to "gather up the washings."

Philadelphia ice cream, chocolate sauce and miraclo were served to Misses Dorothy Ford, Lucy Hudson, Inez Burleson, Mildred Ross, Mayo Hollis, Robbie Malone, Jennie Mae McDowell, and the hostess, Sue Petty.

Firestone Shows Plantations at World's Fair

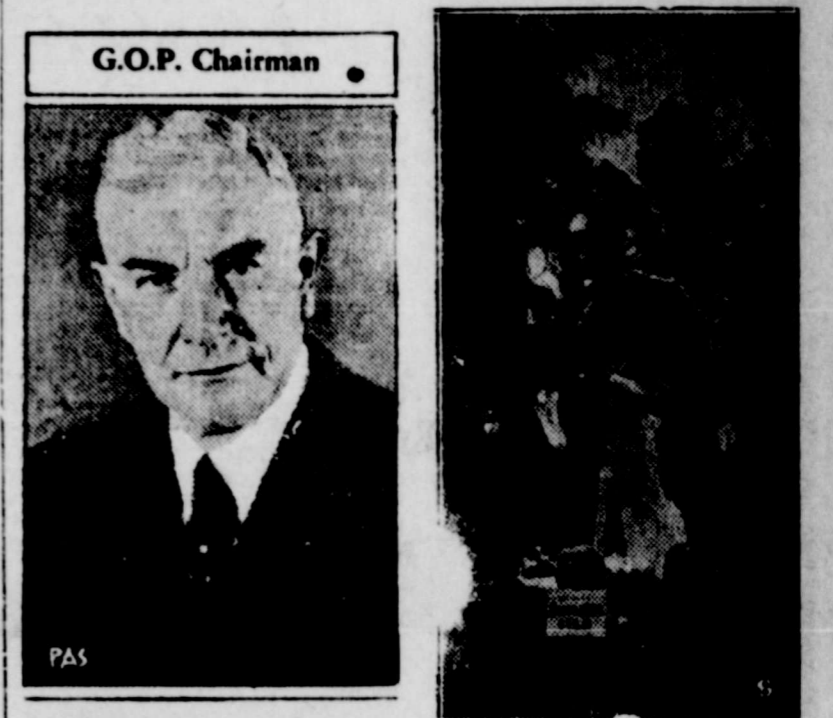

Few Americans, indeed, have seen rubber growing—that is why the Firestone Plantations, a new feature of the Firestone Factory and Exhibition Building, is attracting so much interest at the World's Fair this summer. Actual trees were brought from the Firestone Plantations in Liberia, Africa. The liquid rubber is seen flowing from the trees. All of the steps in gathering rubber are shown and explained—tapping, the preparation mill, coagulation into solid rubber, sheeting, smoking, drying, and baling. To make it more realistic a native village is shown in the background. Firestone this year has many new valuable and interesting exhibits, including the complete manufacture of the new Air Ballon Tires, which are turned out at the rate of 70 per day.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Washington, June 21.—A great deal more Federal money is to be distributed in various ways designed to get ready cash into the hands of the consumers, within the next few months. It will begin about the first of July, after the close of the Government's fiscal year on June 30, and the present calls for expenditure at the rate of about $400,000,000 a month, for an indefinite period. This money will go out through numerous channels. The newest of these pipe-lines from the Treasury to the individual is the drought relief fund of $525,000,000, to be distributed in the ten states where the record-breaking drought has wrought havoc among all classes of farmers.

Recovery Program Continues
There is still more than a billion and a quarter dollars in the fund for home loans to distressed mortgagors. Some of this is to be put to work to provide employment in the building trades, by the process of making additional loans for repairs and improvements to property on which home loans have been made or which are eligible for such loans.

Money will go out faster now for public works, under the PWA. More of the money will go out to finance rural schools. Still more will be spent to continue the CCC camps. The Federal Emergency Relief Administration will put an other billion and a half into direct unemployment and poor relief, mostly through and in cooperation with state and local agencies.

Then there are the payments under the wheat, corn-hog, cotton and tobacco contracts, though much of this doesn't come directly out of Government funds but collected through processing taxes and distributed by Government agencies.

The belief in Administration circles is now that it will take about another year of Government spending at this rate to stimulate business to the point where private capital will find it profitable to come out of hiding and go to work in productive industries.

Admit Some Slips
It is admitted by the Administration's friends that recovery has not come as fast as had been expected, and that some of the Government's projects to stimulate it have not worked. There is also a growing realization that business men and capitalists are not showing any great amount of confidence in the Government. Until that confidence returns, there will naturally be little inclination on the part of private capital to risk its money.

Where investments are most needed right now are in the building industry. More than 5,000,000 men, normally, are employed in the building trades.

It has been President Roosevelt's hope that under the carefully worked out plan for insuring mortgage capital against loss, private funds in enormous amounts would become available for new residential construction. It now begins to look as if, while there is a great need for new homes, few people are willing as yet to run into debt to buy or build houses.

Fair and Reasonable Profits
With Congress out of the way until next January there can be no new legislation, and the nation can take time to sit back and evaluate what has been enacted, and find out whether it looks on the whole beneficial or injurious to private capital and enterprise.

There seems to be a feeling that the President will not willingly use the broad powers granted to him in any injurious way, that he is essentially conservative, in his recent statement expounding his plans for the future he took pains to lay stress on the statement that there is to be no interference with fair and reasonable profits.

The Administration's friends believe that as things quiet down during the summer, business men will begin to realize that a good many of the things that have frightened them are bogies without real power to do them harm. Also, it looks as though the whole Administration program has now been disclosed.

High Spots of New Deal
The Federal Government is now in control of the activities of all of its citizens to an extent that three years ago, would have been deemed impossible in America. Three years ago Congress was debating whether it was any part of the Government's duty to share the burden of relief for the destitute. Now it is the accepted thing, with proposals for old-age pensions and unemployment insurance on a national scale coming to the fore.

Government is now the only important source of credit on a large scale, and besides its direct loans to industry it owns a billion dollars of preferred stock in the banks of the nation. The Government now regulates the issuing and trading in of securities, tells industry what rules must be followed in business, regulates interstate communications, tells the railroads how much they may pay their officials and tells farmers what they may grow and how much of it. Those are only the high spots of the New Deal.

There is little likelihood of any change in the attitude of Congress at the next session. That is, there undoubtedly will be a Democratic majority in both houses of the 74th Congress. Whether or not it will act out of the President's hand as readily as the present Congress is not quite so certain. But it certainly will not withdraw any of the powers that have been granted.

FIFTH ANNUAL INVITATION TOURNAMENT AT HAMILTON NEXT WEEK, JUNE 25-28-27

A robber early Wednesday entered the home of Mrs. Lige Debusk, 82, at Crosscut, south of Cross Plains, beat her severely about the head with a pistol, knocked a companion, Mrs. Abbie Hounshell 83, to the floor and escaped with about $40. Physicians said Mrs. Debusk was hurt seriously but they believed she would recover. The other ladies' injuries were regarded as minor. The aged couple was alone. Mrs. Hounshell said she heard Mrs. Debusk scream: "Oh, they're beating me to death." She rushed to her room but was met at the door by a man with a flashlight. She was struck twice on the head by blows from a revolver and fell to the floor unconscious.
