"KOWBOY" KAL SEGRIST

Kowboy Kal Segrist, Hico Boy, Candidate For State Office

In making his announcement for Agricultural Commissioner of the State of Texas, Kal Segrist, Hico-reared young man, used a Hico date line in the press release which was used in a number of daily and weekly papers of the State. The full announcement, which will be of interest to people here, follows:

"For several years I have had a desire to run for this important office and have given it lots of thought, contacting my many friends over the state in regard to making this race, and they have all encouraged me and assured me every possible support, and have wished me well in this undertaking. My home boys at Hico have recently organized a Segrist For Agricultural Commissioner Club, and this club is composed of the best farmers, ranchers, and business men of that section, who have known me during my entire lifetime, and with this assurance of support and earnest backing, I am making this race. "I was born thirty nine years ago on a farm, now generally known as the Segrist Farm, near Hico, in Hamilton county. Being raised on a farm where cotton, corn, oats and other common Texas crops were grown, I had throughout my childhood and early manhood close touch with the soil, and learned firsthand many valuable lessons and responsibilities which I feel will be of great value to me as Commissioner of Agriculture.

"I finished the public schools of Hico in 1914 and soon afterwards entered the John Tarleton Agricultural College, at Stephenville, Texas. This was in 1915 and 1916, later I was employed in the United States Reclamation Service in Arizona. I served in the Medical Corps of the United States Navy during the war, enlisting on the fourth of December, 1917 at Phoenix, Arizona. I received an honorable discharge from the Navy in the summer of 1919, and in the fall of the same year I enrolled in Simmons University at Abilene, taking active part in all student activities, and later was employed as athletic coach at Abilene Christian College.

"I became a professional baseball player in 1920, getting my first experience with Abilene, of the West Texas League, and played with the Dallas Steers, of the Texas League from 1921 until 1926, when I played with San Antonio. I later managed the Omaha club, of the Western League, and also played with several eastern teams, and retired from professional baseball in 1931. During off season I have always been engaged in various phases of agricultural work, spending much of my time farming, buying cotton, and helping my father, who was a farmer and public cotton weigher, at Hico.

Platform. "I, when I am elected Agricultural Commissioner I propose to appoint a State Honorary Agricultural Advisory Board composed of leading competent citizens, representing the various farming sections of Texas. The board shall have eleven members; one from the Panhandle Grain Section, one West Texas, one from the goat and sheep section of the hill country, one from the fruit section of the Rio Grande Valley, one from the rice section of South Texas, one from the diversified farming section of East Texas, two from the large cotton belt of Texas, one Dairy man, and two men at large. This board will keep me in personal and constant contact with all sections of the State, and will enable me to act immediately on the various conditions which may arise, such as: Quarantines, insect control and extermination, disease control among stock, and any emergencies which would come under my supervision. This board with its broad knowledge of the farming needs and problems of Texas will be of great aid in assisting the Legislature in passing laws that will surely benefit the farmer.

"2. To distribute to the best advantage the Jacks and Studs among the farmers of Texas in a fair and impartial manner.

"3. To cooperate and work hand in hand with A. & M. College, John Tarleton Agricultural College, Texas Tech., North Texas Agricultural College and the Vocational Agriculture Department of our high schools in every possible way.

"4. To devote to the several divisions under my supervision the attention they deserve, each according to its importance.

"Farming is important to our Urban population no less than it is to our rural, because their interest are too vitally related in the phase of producer and consumer; and I seek the office of commissioner of Agriculture of this big farming state with the full comprehension of the importance of the office, and I shall always and all along face its problems with a very definite understanding of its duties and my obligations to perform them."

THIS WEEK IN TEXAS HISTORY

1834—Stephen F. Austin was imprisoned in Mexico City on Feb. 13 and kept in close confinement for three months. He was arrested following his recommendation that Texas form a separate state government of their own.

1843—The Texas commissioner at Washington was notified by his government that rejection of the annexation propositions of 1837 by the United States placed Texas in an attitude which would render it improper in her to take the first steps toward a renewal of these propositions.

1870—The legislature under Governor E. J. Davis was organized Feb. 10 with Ira H. Evans as speaker of the House and Donald Campbell as president of the Senate.

1876—The present constitution of Texas was adopted on Feb. 15. When Texas revolted in 1835, a general council met, and, as a part of its work, authorized the first Texas Ranger Force.—Texas State College for Women (CIA)

The new director of the Social Security Board's division of Federal grants to states is Miss Jane M. Hoey, former assistant director of the Welfare Council of New York City. She will help operate the Federal Social Security Act as it relates to old-age pensions, dependent children and the blind.

Singing Sunday Afternoon. There will be singing at the Baptist Church in Hico Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Bring your books and friends.

SPECIAL SUNDAY RATES
for long distance telephone calls
AND REDUCED PERSON-TO-PERSON RATES
after 7 p. m. every evening

Now All day Sunday there are the same reduced rates which have been in effect on long distance station-to-station calls after 7 p. m. each evening. The reductions apply to most calls on which the day rate for three minutes is more than 35 cents, and range from about 10 per cent on some of the shorter calls to 40 per cent or more on distant calls.

Also There are now reduced rates on person-to-person calls every night after 7 p. m. and all day Sunday. They apply, in general, on long distance calls on which the day station-to-station rate is more than 35 cents. The discount on most person-to-person calls is the same in money as on station-to-station calls between the same places.

What This Means It makes the telephone more useful to more people in more ways. It means a broader service at lower cost. . . . Close and frequent contacts with old friends across the miles. Reassuring, personal words to some far-away invalid. Happy reunions with members of the family back home, with children at school or college. . . . And, if you choose, opportunity to clear up the week's unfinished business or plan the week ahead.

The Picture In The Hall

Abruptly, as Madge listened for more sounds, Mr. Palmer came quickly down the hall. His expression seemed to be composed of a worried, terrified look. He was in a hurry. Mr. Palmer told her to come with him at once, and going out, he hailed a taxi. In the cab, she queried, "While I was in the house, I heard a cry of pain and a scuffle. What was wrong?"

"Trying to look surprised, he answered, "It was nothing. Perhaps I had better take you home so you can get some sleep and forget it."

But the next morning she couldn't forget the happenings of the preceding night. Suddenly she was terrified by a siren-sound somewhere. Strange, she had never felt that way before. She decided to call a taxi and follow the fire trucks. Her anxiety was over increasing. Why was she so terrified. It all seemed to be so mixed up. When the fire trucks finally stopped, she fairly screamed. It was Mr. Palmer's house—one big blaze. Thinking of the pictures, she knew she would be through with them anyhow. Madge paid the taxi-driver and began to hurry into the house—to save the pictures. Why? Why did she want to save the things she hated most? The crowd around the house was quiet. What did they know in connection with the house? They seemed to know all about it—pictures and all. Then, with the help of the fireman, the fire quickly ceased, and all but one wall was burned—the wall with the pictures. She seemed relieved. Looking at Palmer, she noticed a sly smile. To be continued by the Juniors.

Greenist Yet

Four freshmen girls and one freshmen boy have started taking typing. They are very enthusiastic about it; we don't know if it is because they can type their notes so the teachers won't know their handwriting or if they really like the work.

Warning! !! Teachers, don't accuse students of having gum in their mouths because they are really innocent. It is just the mumps.

Senior Chit-Chat

How can so many odd things happen? It seems that old steadies are having a little trouble.

Dear John: Something made Margaret very happy Tuesday at noon. Could it be a letter or what?

Judging by the appearance Wednesday morning, Louise's new boyfriend must have been exceedingly interesting Tuesday night. If this continues, she's going to have a "New Steady" before long.

It is strange that Glen can't get her back warm by a bonfire; isn't it?
