VOLUME LIII

HICO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1937.

NUMBER 6

Here In HICO

Don't look now—but the gink you saw pointing in the picture run in the Fort Worth Telegram following the press-radio preview last Friday night really was the News Review editor. What he was pointing at has aroused so much curiosity on the part of homefolks that we'll have to tell.

Dear readers, we were reminding the other members of our party that over in that direction lay Hico—Healthy Hico on the Beautiful Bosque—and admonishing them that whatever wonders they encountered at Fort Worth they should never forget the magnificence and grandeur of the native haunts. So mote it be.

As guests of the Frontier Fiesta management, the editor and wife, in company with other newspaper folks, attended the preview expecting a wonderful show. But our expectations were belittled by what we found within the enclosure where Amon Carter and Billy Rose are presenting a spectacle this year that will not alone entertain but will actually startle visitors with the vastness of the undertaking.

Adequate adjectives to express our opinion of the show are lacking in our vocabulary, so we will not attempt to describe it in detail. Suffice it to say that in Fort Worth will be found a show, each part of which interested us, and which taken as a whole is well worth anybody's time and money spent in attending.

Casa Manana, the leading attraction, is so different from shows of this nature ordinarily offered in this part of the United States that there is nothing to use as a basis for comparison. It's just the biggest thing we ever saw, and the setting on this particular night was perfect, with the moon peeping over the edge of the open-air theatre, cool summer breezes fanning the faces of weary editors away, and the elements combining to complete the perfect arrangement upon which the sponsors have spent so much time and money.

At Casa Manana performance were presented scenes from four popular novels of recent years, "Wake Up and Live," "The Lost Horizon," "Gone With the Wind" and "It Can't Happen Here." In addition other novelty acts and big-time entertainment in abundance fill out a program that would certainly Grandmother, pacify Baby, and entrance all manner of young folks from nine to ninety.

Perhaps the best known, but not by any means the only attraction, is the Casa Manana show. Also presented for the visitors last Friday night were performances in Melody Lane and in Firefly Garden.

At Melody Lane, staged in the old Jumbo building, we found a program elegant and unique in its inception and presentation. Composers of famous songs such as "Sweet Adeline," "Twelfth Street Rag," "Piccolo Pets," "Melancholy Baby," "Home on the Range," "Margarita," "Avalon" and "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" were present in person, seated about the arena at seven pianos, while the featured song writer was spotlighted in the center at the eighth piano.

For the musically inclined this must have been a treat supreme. Even we, who hardly know one note from another, sat in rapt attention while the awe-inspiring program came to its all-too-sudden conclusion.

Firefly Garden is all that its name implies. A veritable garden of dancing and blinking lights perfectly placed in trees surrounding the enclosure, the visitor is enraptured with the beauty of the scene and most would be content to sit in silence without any other attraction. But on the stage at the front of the seats conveniently placed was the Sallie Puppet show, using a constant musical background, and amazing as well as entertaining with its novelty and ingenuity.

The grown-ups probably will be tramping the children under foot to see this show, as stated by one writer after the performance.

The above mentioned performances were staged ahead of the opening for the benefit of the fourth estate, with a brand of hospitality that would have warmed the heart of even those who are jealous of Fort Worth's offerings. All references to the show heard by us were complimentary—even flattering—and believe us, it takes a big offering to universally please the boys and girls of the press.

In addition to those presented last Friday night for newspaper folks are other attractions such as Pioneer Palace, "Flirting With Death," big thrill show, and diversified amusements of every type that blend into a unit offering a great deal for those who attend this year's Frontier Fiesta.

Newspaper People Enjoy Ft. Worth Preview

Casa Manana's preview performance again this year was played before a select audience of radio and newspaper critics and officials as it did in 1936. From throughout the Nation they gathered to witness the spectacular revue the night before it was formally opened at the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta. Here are a few of the 2,500 on hand. ## Gas Company Tells Of Plans to Assure Ample Gas Supply

Following up a promise made repeatedly within the past few months assuring Hico people that ample and adequate gas service would be provided as soon as the necessary arrangements could be made, a telegram this week from C. H. Zachary, vice-president of the Southern Union Gas Company, gave the details of arrangements made recently to carry out this promise.

The telegram read: "We are pleased to announce that construction of a pipe line to assure a gas supply in Hico will begin immediately upon receipt of material which is now ordered. We expect to have this line in operation by August fifteenth, and the people of Hico may enjoy to the fullest extent the pleasure and advantages of an ample and dependable supply of natural gas at all times for all uses."

Hailed with pleasure by all local citizens will be the news that at last permanent arrangements have been made to eliminate some of the unsatisfactory conditions that have prevailed in the past, and contribute to the progress of the town. Gas company officials have expressed all along their appreciation of patience on the part of patrons here, and have made a thorough study of the best ways and means to provide the service which they are determined to give. For several years they worked along lines of developing the local gas field, seven miles northeast of town, which idea by the way they have not altogether abandoned as yet since the wells will be used as long as they will provide the necessary gas. The new line is being built, it is pointed out as an auxiliary supply, to be automatically turned into the mains when occasion demands.

H. C. Frizzell, district manager of Southern Union, has informed Local Manager W. M. Marcum that as soon as possible a large stock of appliances will be handled in Hico, which will be a convenience to those who are sure to require additional stoves and other appliances now that they can be assured of plenty of gas.

Radio Stars Are Free Exposition Attraction

They will be supported by a hundred radio musicians and artists. The show will be in the Cotton Bowl with 50,000 free seats available.

LOCALS LOSE ANOTHER OF ALL-IMPORTANT GAMES IN COUNTY BASEBALL SERIES

Maybe it's because they are too anxious. At any rate the local baseball boys seem to be hoodooed in their efforts to score a few wins and advance toward the top in the Hamilton County Baseball League series, the second game of the second half of which was played at Pottsville last Sunday.

Heartbreaking was the final score so far as Hico was concerned, for again the boys let their antagonists get away after holding them for a long time, and the final outcome of 9 to 8 brought the boys back home with their heads in their hands—but still determined to do their best for the rest of the season.

The box score follows:

HICO BASEBALL BOYS PLAN TO ENTER STATE SEMI-PRO TOURNAMENT AT WACO SOON

Announcement was made this week by members of the Hico baseball club that plans were being carried to send a delegation carrying Hico's banner to Waco in July to participate in the State Semi-Pro Tournament.

The tournament is to begin July 21, and run until August 1, it is announced, and many of the local players are anxious to make the trip. From present indications, everything is all set, and fans are looking forward to this tournament in which a great number of teams from towns all over the state will take part.

CHOIR LEADER

REV. W. C. CRAIG of Walnut Springs, Texas, Who Will Have Charge of Choir and Young People's Work in Methodist Revival

Methodist Revival Begins Wednesday, July 7th, All Invited

The Methodist revival begins Wednesday evening, July 7th. All of every denomination, or no denomination of Hico and surrounding communities are invited to attend the services.

Those who sing are solicited to help with the choir. The pastor will do the preaching. Rev. W. C. Craig of Walnut Springs will have charge of the choir and young people's work.

Rev. Craig has had quite a lot of training and experience in this work. He studied voice three years in Clarendon College and was for three years a member of the College quartette. He was for some time director of the choir of Hemp-hill Heights Methodist Church in Fort Worth. He has done quite a little evangelistic singing for such churches as Clarendon, Berger, Spur and Hamilton. He has had several years' experience as pastor. We are expecting him to be a very helpful worker.

Services will be held on the lawn of the church. You are cordially invited to come and be a part.

Our Presiding Elder, Rev. J. H. Baldridge, will preach for us next Sunday evening and hold our third quarterly conference. J. C. MANN, Pastor.

Buy Residence Here.

Mrs. May Petty purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Golden this week, the deal having been closed Wednesday. She has rented the north side of the house to Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Teague.

Keeping Up With TEXAS

Somewhere in north Texas, probably at the Dallas or Fort Worth exhibitions, 11-year-old Tommy Beard of Beaumont is heading out on a vacation, neither he or his parents aware of the fact that the dog which bit him two days ago was rabid. An urgent warning was issued at Beaumont Sunday night by Captain H. A. Downey of the Beaumont police, calling upon all agencies and private citizens to help locate the Beards and have the boy's life. Local health authorities sent the dog's head to Austin whence notice was received late Sunday that it showed a positive case of rabies.

Five months of legislation completed last week will cost the taxpayers at least $850,000. The regular session, which convened in January at Austin and adjourned in May, appropriated $650,000 for mileage, per diem and other expenses and the special session called a few days following adjournment of the general meeting appropriated $200,000 for similar purposes. R. S. Calbert, statistician in the comptroller's office, said some bills were outstanding and there was possibility of a small deficit.

Jeff Bell, manager of the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce, has a new idea in attracting honeymooners to that bayside resort. He is asking business men what they think about furnishing free a bridal suite at a hotel, meals, automobile storage, theater passes and a racket store might present the bride with her first rolling pin," he suggested.

More than 35,000 acres of land in Shelby County has been purchased by the Federal Government for incorporation in the Sabine National Park. It has been announced. The land cost the Government $199,839.80. W. L. Davis, attorney announced. Additional purchases in Sabine and San Augustine Counties will be made later, he said. Acquisition of the 65,546 acres will boost the percentage of ground already acquired in Shelby County for the national park.

Vehemently warning John L. Lewis' CIO to "stay out of Dallas," 1,500 of the 1,800 employees of the huge Ford assembly plant at Dallas, Tuesday had expressed "we would rather have lice in our hair" than be organized by the CIO. In a meeting which leaders said Ford officials at Dallas knew nothing about the 1,500 employees cheered when Claude Dill, a metal finisher, said "Texas has always been a free State... we intend to keep it that way." Dill, who acted as principal speaker at the mass rally in the Mount Auburn Public School, a few blocks from the Ford plant, said "We are not going to strike in Dallas... There will not be any labor trouble with Ford men in Dallas."

M. F. Lett, manager of the Runco Poultry Association and a director of the Southwestern Turkey Growers Association, said Tuesday at Ballinger that flocks of turkeys are in demand as grasshopper eradicators. Some farmers who have no turkeys are borrowing flocks from their friends to forage in cotton fields which are beset by grasshoppers. "When grasshoppers are plentiful, as they are now," said Lett, "a grown turkey catches and consumes from 400 to 700 grasshoppers daily. Government experimental tests show the county's average annual turkey production is 34,000 head. If each turkey eats only 300 grasshoppers a day, 10,200,000 insects are destroyed daily."

HELPFUL HINTS FROM THE OFFICE OF HAMILTON COUNTY AGT. CRADDOCK

Notice to Farmers. Through the cooperation of the County Court and the Federal government, we have secured several thousand pounds of poison Bran mash for the purpose of poisoning grasshoppers. This mash will be given to you absolutely free for this purpose. If you are in need of this poison, make application at the County Agent's office at once. There is practically no damage to livestock or poultry from the Bran Mash poison, but the farmers themselves must accept all responsibility for accidents or ill results.

Simple Way to Control Disease.

Crop rotation is a simple way to keep plant diseases under control, but one of the best, according to United States Department of Agriculture crop specialists. Rotating a wilt resistant variety of flax with small grains and corn is one example. Flax, although grown like a small grain crop, belongs to a family of plants widely separated from the grass family to which wheat, oats, barley, rye, and corn belong, and is not attacked by the same diseases that injure grains. Flax has its own diseases such as rust, wilt and leaf spot, but these in turn do not attack small grains. A variety of flax susceptible to wilt, however, must be grown on clean land, as ordinary rotations do not destroy the wilt organism in flax sick soil.

To French At Unity.

Bro. Stanley Giesecke will preach at the Unity school house next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The public is invited to hear him.

Add 1 tablespoon grated cheese to 4 eggs the next time you make scrambled eggs.

GOES 'ROUND AND 'ROUND

And It Comes Out Here—

Hico folks are asking us how we like the Frontier Fiesta, after attending the prevee last Friday night given for Southwestern newspaper people and radio executives. In our opinion it is magnificent. In fact too gorgeous to even try to put into words. If you attended last year, you should go again for it is more beautiful than ever, and if you have not been at all, be sure and do not miss it. The Casa Manana alone is worth the price of a book of tickets, besides the new features this year—Melody Lane and Fire Fly Garden. There's no doubt that Billy Rose is a real show man.

Some new citizens are arriving in Hico this week. In the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Ray D. Brown and their beautiful little daughter, Betty Ray, coming from Josephine, Texas. Mr. Brown is the new superintendent of the Hico Schools, and we personally feel that he will be a good one. After meeting his wife and baby, we think Hico is very fortunate to have such an attractive and likeable family to move into our midst.

In speaking of talents of others which we might like to possess, we will say that if we had: Mrs. Aycock's loyalty to her friends; Mrs. Keeney's complexion and literary judgment; George Hardy's vocabulary; Mrs. Currie's quiet charm and lovable character; J. S. Bryan's unflinching courtesy; Lusk Randall's ever ready wit; Mrs. S. E. Blad's brilliant mind; Mrs. Rucker-Wright's love of pets; Walter Williamson's politeness; Mrs. H. Smith's mellowed sweetness and culture; Mrs. H. N. Wolfe's evident attractiveness; R. J. Adam's loyalty to his home town; Carmen Shelton's knowledge of beauty culture; Oby Young's capacity for work; Mrs. C. W. Bates' choice of words; Kal Seegrist's continual boosting for his former home, Hico; Mrs. Bernard Ogle's lisp and vivid personality; and Mrs. Tullus Randall's interest in her family and home, we would be a great person. More next week.

A factory superintendent visiting in Dallas recently threw a nickel towards the blind man's cup. The coin missed and rolled along the pavement, but the man with the dark glasses quickly recovered it.

"But I thought you were blind?"

"No, I am not the regular blind man, sir," he said. "I'm just taking his place while he's at the movies."

A card comes this week from Mrs. W. A. Cox of Seminole which reads like this: "What is the grand idea of sending June 18th paper for June 25th? I received the 18th last week. So please mail the 25th on to me." We are not responsible for anything last week, since our minds were on the Frontier Fiesta at Fort Worth, wondering how we could rush the paper out in order to attend. We are expecting more complaints in every mail.

Miss Thoma Rodgers has a sister in the person of Mrs. A. S. Cupp, who resides at Kansas City, Mo., and who seldom hears from her sister here. She at least does not hear often enough, according to the lines which were mailed to Miss Rodgers this week with just her sister's name signed to them:

No mail today!
My weary feet
That trip so gaily
Down the stairs
Now count each step,
No mail today,
No word—
No one who cares!

This week H. Smith received a gold pin from the M-K-T Railroad Company, a gift of appreciation for serving that company so faithfully for thirty years. Mr. Smith started as cashier, serving in that capacity for only one year, and since that time has been agent. He started his career in Hico. Mr. Smith has made a good employee, being courteous, congenial and accommodating.

The article below is really true to form:

"How much is that rat poison?" asked the customer.

"That AAA poison cost you 75c."

"Haven't you got any cheaper?" asked the customer.

"Yes, here is a pretty good poison, the CCC brand, that I can recommend for 50c."

"Anything still cheaper that you can recommend?"

"Well," said the druggist, "here is our WPA brand that will not kill them, but it will make them so lazy that you can stomp them."

If you walk in Porter's Drug Store now you will think you are in a city drug store, since the new fountain has been installed, with several other modern fixtures. Rearrangement has been made in the store, and the entire place is much more attractive. On the outside of the store is a new neon sign, with the words "Rexall Drugs," electrically centered in an oval-shaped frame, in the brilliant colors of red and blue. It is unusual for towns as small as Hico to have such elaborate signs. Mr. and Mrs. Porter, the owners, have invested a great amount of money and put forth unusual efforts in order to render better service to their customers whom they have served for so long.

FORMER RESIDENTS WRITE FROM WIESER, IDAHO

Weiser, Idaho
June 17, 1937
The Hico News Review,
Hico, Texas
Dear Editor:

Since we have been here we have thought several times of writing to your paper so that our friends there may know just where we are and how we are. So today we shall try to do that very thing. We have been here six months and have had time to become acquainted with Idaho's climate, scenery, people, manners and customs. Idaho is a beautiful state—the name "Idaho" in the Indiana Language means "Jim of the Mountains" and it suits very well. We are in the Snake River Valley, very near Snake River (the largest river in Idaho). Here the chief occupation is the raising of fruits, mainly apples, with poultry farms and dairies scattered here and there.

Spring, to us, was late in coming; so that may be one reason we have appreciated it so much—anyway we can truthfully say we have never seen a more beautiful "Spring Time." The valley has been a picture. Snake River rolls through wide, deep and blue, bordered with trees and blooming wild roses. Sometimes it is calm and sometimes threatening but always essential to the orchardists and the many sea birds that fly about us. We see these fowls from morning until night; sea gulls, ducks and geese, white pelicans, cranes and white swans, as they swim and dive and rest upon the island and build their nests in the trees. We can hear them screaming and chattering at all hours of the night.

Everything is fresh and green and the apple trees have been a sight to behold—every tree has been a giant bouquet and the air has been filled with a very pleasant aroma. But now the blooms are gone and apples have taken their place. They are growing so fast that we can almost see them in the act. They look very promising. The little gardens and grain crops scattered in between the orchards break the monotony and add to the scenery and the owners pocket books. All of these are kept green and growing with water from old Snake River. The irrigation system here is a great thing.

We look North, East and West and see some of Idaho's mountains, and on the South is Snake River and just across is Oregon and Oregon's mountains. We thought them very pretty last winter when they were snow covered, but that grew rather tiresome and today we think they are prettier in their Spring glory. Some of the higher ones are still snow capped but that only adds to our picture.

We have seen other parts of Idaho that we like just as well as the valley—and although different—just as pretty. In the flats are acres and acres of alfalfa, beets and potatoes. The potatoes, at a distance, resemble the rows and rows of cotton there in Texas.

Now you have already guessed that we like Idaho, but we are still Texans through and through. We have been more than just a little bit homesick for Texas and the folks we left behind. So if any of you Texans happen up this way, please drop by and say "hello" to your fellowmen. You can find us four miles from Weiser, the county seat of Washington County, on the Griffin Ranch.

Our boys, Vance and Jimmie are taking to these northwestern ways and folks like geese to water. Vance is losing his Texas brogue.

We Will Give Good Trade-Ins

and taking up this; while Jimmie who is just learning to talk is a regular old Northwesterner. But altogether they are doing better than while in Texas and we hope they continue to do so.

We came out here by train and enjoyed the trip and the scenery in the states we came through very much. We hope to make the trip back by auto so that our time will be our own and we can take a different route—perhaps a southern route that will include California.

We read your paper every week and are anxious for Tuesday and the Hico News Review to roll around? Yes, we are Texans and Hicoans at that because we have been there practically all our lives.

Yours respectfully,
MR. AND MRS. AUBURN GRIF-FITTS.

BOY SCOUTS TROOP 99

The first session of Camp Tahuaya, the Boy Scout camp near Belton, opened Sunday night of last week with an enrollment of 93 scouts and leaders, one of the largest enrollments ever held at the camp, according to George W. Fowell, scout executive and camp director.

Camp Tahuaya consists of 73 acres of rugged land with many caves, much Indian lore, and numerous nature trails where rocks, trees, wild flowers and birds can be studied. A large spring flowing approximately half a million gallons of water daily furnishes an abundance of pure drinking and swimming water to the camp.

All waterfront activities are under the supervision of Billy an Vn of Temple, an American Red Cross life-saver. He is assisted during all swimming periods by the other members of the camp staff. Instructions are being given in both swimming and life saving, especially to non-swimmers and beginners. The "buddy system" of checking swimmers is used.

Two new handicraft projects have been added this year, ring carving and shadow photography of nature specimens. It is believed that shadow photography will be of great value to scouts in completing their second and first class tests and nature merit badges. Other handicrafts include rope making, fabricord plaiting, wood work, wood carving and archery.

Scouts who attended camp last week are from troops located at Waco, Coolidge, McGregor, Marlin, Chilton, Cameron, Rockdale, Hico, Temple, Belton and Lorena, more reservations.

Scout Returns From Camp. Roline Forgy, who attended Camp Tahuaya near Belton last week with ninety-two other boys of this council, returned Monday morning on the train.

Roline reports a very good time and plans to attend next week.

While there he achieved two merit badges, athletics and life saving.

Registrations. There was no meeting Monday night because only a few boys were able to come. However, if each of the boys will give his fifty cents to Roline Forgy before noon Saturday, each will be registered for the coming year. Several have already registered.

One cannot brag his way to prosperity.

Some people hurry to get to their worrying.

BETTER CIVIL SERVANTS

There should be universal approval of President Roosevelt's request to Congress that the Legislative branch of the Federal Government put an end to the practice of passing laws exempting large groups of Government employees from the rules and requirements of the Civil Service Commission.

Congress, being always politically-minded, and eager to give all the jobs possible to political supporters, has never been overly friendly to civil service reform. In exempting administrative workers from the usual civil service requirements, it is handicapping the Executive branch of the government by forcing upon it employees whose chief qualification is their party usefulness.

It is that sort of thing which has brought government employment into contempt, and has given rise to the term "taxeniers," meaning anybody who holds a government job. Doubtless many persons appointed for purely political reasons, at the behalf of members of Congress, do their work well enough. But the service of the people of the United States ought to be performed only by the most able and highly-trained men and women of the nation.

THE WAR ON DISEASE
The art of the physician has made wonderful advances in the past few years, along two principal lines. Medical research is learning more every day about the causes of diseases, and clinical experimentation more about how to cure them.

of goitre is a fungus which grows on cabbages, and often affects the water supply of regions in which goitre is prevalent. It prevents the iodine in the body from functioning to keep the thyroid in order.

LET'S SEE THE SEA

SHERMAN WAS RIGHT

A few thousand professional soldiers and adventure-seeking volunteers did the fighting, and they did not make war upon civilians but only fought against each other.

Let's Talk About Clothes by a YOUNG MODERN TEXAS STATE COLLEGE WOMEN (IA)

DENTON, July 1.—Dame Fashion cannot get along without her sister, Lady Complexion Hints. The most glamorous or attractive costume can do nothing for a woman who has forgotten to take care of her skin.

During the past several years summer clothes have called for and been designed around dark skins, and those unfortunate who could not manage the tan had to apply dark creams and powder to keep in style. The trend this year is toward naturalness in skin makeup as in everything else.

To be fashionable today one must acquire a moderate tan, not black and not white, which is about the amount most people would get under ordinary summer circumstances anyway. This means that one can join in any sort of outdoor activity without fear, but that the long hours of arduous sun-bathing are no longer necessary.

Hico Girls Honored at Seated Tea at Haskell

Honoring Miss Ann Persons, Jean and Jane Wolfe of Hico, house guests in the D. H. Persons home, and Miss Helen Ballard, Mrs. D. H. Persons and daughter, Miss Ruby Sue, and Mrs. Irene Ballard, entertained with a seated tea at the Library Club rooms Tuesday afternoon.

Shasta daisies decorated the club rooms. Receiving were: Miss Helen Mabel Baldwin, Mrs. Persons, Mrs. Ballard, Misses Helen Ballard, Ann Persons, Elizabeth Huckabee, Jean Wolfe, Ruby Sue Persons, Jane Wolfe and Louise Kaigler.

Miss Mary Eleanor Diggs presided at the guest books, attractively made of pink and white. Misses Louise Pearson, Catherine Wair, Martelle Clifton and Mrs. Garland Bynum of Dallas served the refreshment plates of brick ice cream and cake.

The following program was given: Two songs, "Little Old Lady," and "Never in a Million Years," sung by a quartet composed of Misses Geraldine Norris, Helen Ballard, LaVerne Bynum and Frances Kaigler, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Ratliff; several piano selections, Miss Louise Kaigler; tap routine by Josephine Parish and Eloise Koonce, accompanied by Miss Kaigler; two vocal solos, "Little Old Fashioned Music Box," and "They Can't Take That Away From Me," Miss Jean Conner, accompanied by Miss Geraldine Conner.

The guest list numbered about fifty-five.

If an overdose of sunshine is received, the victim should take advantage of the three or four creams now on the market which really take the redness and pain away from the burn overnight. Then a generous supply of skin oil will help the inevitable dryness that follows.

If the skin is too white for that "sporty look," girls at Texas State College for Women advocate about ten or fifteen minutes in the sun every day. One should not apply a great deal of cooling cream after such outings, for most of these lotions take away the tan also with the heat.

For the freckle problem cosmeticians have also come forward with cream that actually keeps these beauty-destroyers away, but the trick lies in applying it all during the day.

MODERN WOMEN

CHARL ORMOND WILLIAMS
President of National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

Collecting spiders is more than a hobby with Mrs. J. B. Kaston of New Haven, Connecticut, who has assisted her husband, Dr. Kaston, in getting together more than 10,000 specimens, some of them alive. Included among the specimens are species of the tarantula and the black widow. The spiders are in the Agriculture Experiment Station and the collection was made at the request of the state entomologist.

Not all the spiders are natives of Connecticut. The collection will serve in making the first thorough study of spiders of that state.

The married woman has a right to work if she wants to, is the declaration of Judge Jennie Lottman Barron, special judge of a Massachusetts district court, who has come to the defense of the wife who is employed. "No woman works in a factory unless she is forced to," Judge Barron, formerly assistant to the State Attorney General, said. "Artists should not cease to work because they marry, and the same is true of women in the professions."

Prizes for needlework exhibited at the Golden Jubilee Exposition in South America have been awarded to Mrs. Edward Chaiken of Pittsburgh, Pa. Mrs. Chaiken was born in Russia and came to America when a young girl. Her handwork received the late Czar's praise. Among the latest pieces of embroidery of which she is immensely proud, are portraits of the Duke and Duchess of Kent and President Roosevelt.

The Pan-Pacific Women's Association will hold its fourth biennial conference in Vancouver, B. C., July 12 to 14. The association's objective is "practical ways and means of promoting peace and international understanding among the women of the Pacific countries." Miss Mary Bollett, dean of women at the University of British Columbia, is chairman of the Canadian section of the association.

The Dixie Aid which provides lavettes not only to the Frontier Nursing Association, but to St. George's Church Clinic, Flower Hospital and other institutions in New York.

Poetry contests for patients in New York City hospitals have been started by a group of Barnard College students under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Reynard of the English department. Patients will be invited to write short verses of five to six lines. Prizes will be awarded every fortnight and a committee at Barnard will examine the manuscripts. Miss Reynard says that several doctors and psychiatrists are enthusiastic for the project, especially as it will give patients something to occupy their minds.

That decorative art for which the Gobelin attelers have long been famous is being reproduced here by Shiva Ausubel who is the first artist of the WPA Federal Art Project to weave such tapestry. Miss Ausubel is an American who learned the technique in the Gobelin factory in France. When finished the tapestry, which is being copied from a painting called "A New England Family," will be hung in a public school.
