We went in Barrow's the other day looking so badly they tried to sell us a casket. We told Mr. Barrow that we weren't interested at the moment, but that if he would see us again in about half an hour he might make a sale.

Lusk Randalls took Jack Malone and Willard Leach down to Randall's Camp the other night to fish and decided he would hunt instead of leave the fish to the other two. Jack and Willard caught several nice-sized ones and hung them on the bank, dangling in the water, until morning. Later in the night, Mr. Randalls heard a noise and slipped out with his gun, thinking it might be the same "possum" that earlier had got into their supper. The next time he heard a noise he shot and yelled to Jack and Willard to come see what he had killed. They discovered he was practicing with their prize catch as a target. Mr. Randalls insists that he shot the fish almost into bits, but Jack and Willard say he killed a sheep on the opposite bank.

Ras Preffitt says we are getting down to a fine point in this business of news. He said he read about the meeting the Magnolia boys had at the Russell Hotel the other night before he went. When the situation gets to the stage that he has to read the paper to find out if he was there, things will be in an awful mess.

H. Henry, new Palace manager, who rang a fire bell in a Dallas office building Monday, thinking it was to call one of the employees. Mr. Henry said the girl told him to ring "that bell over there," and when he did the entire office force came running out. He says he pushed the first button he saw, not knowing it was the fire bell, but we suspect he wasn't getting the attention he desired. A tank car of gasoline weighs 45 tons, we discovered Monday while watching Ben L. Walker refueling.

Saw Mr. Bob Dorsey back at the First National Bank Wednesday for the first time in several weeks. He has been ill at his home here and greatly missed at the bank by his many friends who visit that institution daily.

The Hico public library received another boost Tuesday night when local citizens responded to an invitation to the 42 party given by the Review Club for the benefit of the library fund. The proceeds, amounting to about $12, will be spent for new books and other additions to the library. The Review Club is its sole support and has made this library larger than those found in most towns the size of Hico. Membership is still free and will be so long as the community keeps supporting it, club members say. They wish to thank all patrons and friends of the enterprise for their cooperation and announce that several new books were ordered Wednesday and will appear on the library shelves soon.

Mrs. Anna Driskell returned Monday from Dallas and Mansfield, having visited at the latter place with a cousin, Mrs. Amanda Reese. During her visit she saw several cousins whom she had not seen in fifty years and during their reminiscences it was recalled that Dr. J. N. Thomas, their family physician, who is 83 years old and has been practicing medicine in Mansfield for over fifty years, is now practicing in the fifth generation of their family, the Lloyds.

J. W. Richbourg forgot himself for a minute the other day and told us what the younger generation has missed by not being able to court in a horse and buggy. Mr. Richbourg, who gets very enthusiastic when recalling the advantages of the horse and buggy days, says there is no advantage in the desires of the young folks today to go places and do things in a hurry.

$1,000,000 A YEAR Could Be Spent On Health Program Without Cost to State

Austin, Texas, Oct. 9.—The State could appropriate and spend one million dollars annually on a health program without cost to the State, declares the Texas State Department of Health. This can be demonstrated in connection with our schools alone, without regard to the saving effected in the general economic life of the State.

If the State Department of Health had such a sum for the maintenance of a comprehensive health program in all public schools, more than that amount could be shifted back to the general fund by the schools, through savings to their fund effected by the elimination of repeaters and other costs incident to health conditions.

At least 25 per cent of the pupils in our public schools do not make a grade per year and have to be taught a second year in the same grade. With a total enrollment in the elementary schools of 1,971,000 pupils there are approximately 289,232 repeaters. The cost of instruction for this group is thereby doubled.

It costs $45.00 per year to educate a child. If this sum is multiplied by the repeaters the loss is $13,000,000. Not all of this could be chargeable to health conditions, but at least two-thirds, or $9,750,000 could be so charged. By spending one million dollars per year, in promoting an adequate health program, enough of the money now wasted on repeaters in the elementary grades would be saved in three years to retire the present deficit in the general fund.

STATE FAIR Breaks All Time Records With Attendance Over A Million

Dallas, Oct. 25.—Breaking its all time attendance record and going over the million mark for the fifth time, the State Fair of Texas ended here Sunday night with the final reading on the gates, 1,936,538, eight thousand more than ever passed through the gates during a 16 day interval before.

Not only was the attendance remarkable at the 51st Annual State Fair, but a remarkable program was offered in practically every department. More space was sold than ever before, more concessions, and the State Fair offered more new features than had ever been offered before.

It gave the Southwest the greatest livestock show ever seen, which was headed by the National Hereford Show. Hardly had the livestock moved off the grounds Sunday, but livestock leaders were busy planning a "bigger and better" show for next year.

More than seventy county exhibits were shown and made one of the most astounding pictures of farm life ever seen any place. The county exhibits were augmented by individual farm exhibits, future farmer and 4-H club exhibits.

The Poultry Show was filled to capacity. The day this department opened more than 1700 entries in the poultry division were turned down because of the vast amount of increased interest in the show this year.

The first chemurgic show ever held was presented at the State Fair of Texas and created more interest than has ever been seen before in a special display. This exhibit will be moved by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce to the South Texas State Fair at Beaumont.

Every phase of the State Fair amusements, announced increased grosses for the year and were highly commendatory on the show as a whole.

"In behalf of the directors I extend our grateful thanks to the people of the Southwest for the great success they have made of this Fair," President Harry L. Seay said. "I am also mindful of the fact that a large measure of our success has been due to the faithful cooperation of the press."
