KIM KING

Posing with her second Class B tennis championship plaque

Kim King repeats as state tennis champion

Nazareth High School's Kim King battled to her second straight state tennis championship in Class B girls' singles Saturday.

MISS KING defeated two other regional champions in bringing home Nazareth's second state title in athletics.

Last year's state runners-up in girls' doubles, Patti Hochstein and Delphine Wethington, bowed in the semi-finals Friday at the University of Texas courts in Austin.

Miss King defeated Rule's Cynthia Carroll, 6-0, 6-3 Friday as she started the climb to her second title.

She topped Liz Ward of Barksdale Nueces Canyon, 6-2, 6-1 for the championship Saturday.

MISSES Hochstein and Wethington fell to Celeste's Debbie Abernathy and Debbie Stutzer in close matches, 8-6, 7-5.

Miss Stutzer was a member of the Celeste doubles team that defeated the local netters in last year's state finals. The Nazareth juniors still have one more year in which to try for the state crown and their hopes are high.

"I was just as nervous this time around," said Miss King of her second championship. "I really think the competition was tougher this year than it was last year. This was my last year — one last chance to be state champion, so I just tried to play my own game. The last match was the toughest," she added.

"Dad was a lot of help," she said in referring to NHS tennis coach, superintendent and her father, Joe King. "I also owe a lot to my fellow players. The Lord really gets credit for this though," added the blonde senior.

The Nazareth coach commented: "We were disappointed that our doubles team lost but we are proud of the girls because they did their best. Patti and Delphine are juniors and they will have another chance, so we're optimistic. Kim had a tremendous series from regional on, losing only nine games. It was a fitting way for her to close out her high school career. Kim's winning the state championship for the second time was a proud moment for my wife and myself. We're also proud of the community for all of the support it has given us. We need to give every child the opportunity to do his very best."

County Republicans posted a turnout of 26 and gave Jim Granberry 25 votes in the governor's race. Odell McBrayer received one vote. Gaylord Marshall received 15 votes for lieutenant governor while Troy Skates had six. Those were the only contested races on the

Mary Lou Grier 23 votes for land commissioner. Zack Fisher 22 votes for agriculture commissioner. Joe Cain 23 votes for railroad commissioner and Dale W. IA students sweep state awards

Dimmitt High School's industrial arts students earned a purple grand championship ribbon, four first-place ribbons, four seconds and four thirds in the Texas Industrial Arts Students Association state competition in Austin over the weekend.

THE interscholastic contest included individual and group projects in basic and advanced woodworking, metalworking, power mechanics and written exams.

It was the sixth year in a row for the students of G. L. DuBose and Denton Lingle to sweep top awards in the state competition.

The grand championship — a purple "Best in Division" ribbon — was awarded to the DHS Industrial Arts Club's dune buggy, "Mean Green No. 2," which was built by club members as a group project in the school's power mechanics shop.

"MEAN GREEN No. 2" is a converted Volkswagen with a fiberglass dune buggy body, chrome bumpers, rollbar and fittings, skid plates, custom steering wheel and seats, vinyl upholstery and carpeted floor. It features big L-60x15x10 rear tires and G70x15 tires on front. The metallic-green dune buggy was named the outstanding group project of the power mechanics division, in addition to being awarded the blue ribbon as "best in class."

Roger Allison, a senior, won first place in upholstered sets in the advanced woodworking class with a black-and-white lounge chair and ottoman made of vinyl and plywood. The chair and ottoman cushion both rest on octagonal storage bases. It was Allison's third state award and second state championship in woodworking.

Danny Hauf, a junior, won first place in the models class with his scale model of a Piper Pawnee spray plane, made of balsa wood and fabric.

FRESHMAN Robert Jones captured a blue ribbon in the beginning woodworking division with his contemporary walnut coffee table.

And senior Tommy Cleavinger repeated as the state's first place winner in the power mechanics written exam, advanced level. He went on to take second place in his division.

DHS students capturing second place ribbons in the big state contest were:

— DUDLEY WOOTEN, a junior in the beginning woodworking level, with an Early American grandfather clock of Brazilian rosewood with German movements.

— Jimmy Cleavinger, a freshman competing in begin-

Farmers face same problems says Kegel

By JIM STEIERT
News Editor

Spiraling fertilizer, fuel and irrigation costs are a common dilemma faced by local farmers, but the problems are also faced by German farmers according to Hartmut Kegel of Mutterstadt, a farm community near Frankfurt, Germany.

KEGEL, 23, is visiting Castro County under the International Farm Youth Exchange Program. He will remain in the county three weeks before moving on to Fredericksburg, Houston and Abilene, and is staying with the David Acker family of Nazareth.

"I feel I found the right family to stay with, I hope all the other families on my tour will be a nice as this one," said the young German.

Kegel and his father operate a 130 acre farm south of Frankfurt in the Rhine Valley. They raise potatoes, sugar beets, summer and winter wheat, oats and barley. Sprinkler irrigation is used extensively on the farm.

"Irrigation is very important in our area. Wells are anywhere from 30 to 100 feet deep and the pumps are drawn by tractor PTO. When the pumping stops, streams from the mountains replenish the underground water supply," said Kegel.

"Almost every field has a well and large quantities of pipe are needed for sprinkler irrigation so the farms have a lot of money wrapped up in pipe," he added.

Dry fertilizers are used extensively because of ease of application. According to Kegel, fertilizer is usually bought the fall previous to its use so the sudden rise in fertilizer cost has not affected this year's crop.

"The price climb is now becoming a serious problem and there probably will not be much profit in next year's crop. Farm fuel prices have also gone up and we still have problems getting new machinery. A farmer may wait six months to get a tractor and prices are up 20 to 25 percent," he said.

"Commodity prices are still the major problem facing German farmers and there is no big future for the smaller farm in Germany. Obtaining workers is also hard, German people don't work on the farms any more and many of our farm workers are Turkish," he continued.

THE YOUNG farmer pointed out that the price of land in his country is quite high and farms are not increasing in size as fast as they should.

"The farmer cannot buy new land for farming with his profits because it costs so much," said Kegel. "Germany is a member of the European Common Market so we haven't received a lot more for our wheat during the shortage, but the price doesn't drop much during surpluses either. Many times a German farmer may do some of his own marketing through a store in town or he may sell to passers by on the road on the weekend. Our own area is more lucrative for growing sugar beets and the price of beet sugar has gone up twice as high as the price on the Common Market.

GERMAN VISITOR HARTMUT KEGEL

Referring to the community of Nazareth Kegel replied, "I never thought I would find so many German people in one place in Texas."

The young German visited Palo Duro Canyon with the Acker family over the weekend and admitted that he was surprised to find so large a canyon in a plains area. During his visit to the canyon he was introduced to the game of horse-shoes and discovered that it was "slightly different than the version of the game I once saw in a western movie."

Kegel will be available to present programs to local civic clubs and other organizations during his three week visit locally.

MOTHER. It is so important that a child feel secure and loved the first weeks and months of its life. Our foremost authorities say that if a child's spiritual and emotional welfare is neglected in the early weeks of life, there is a great chance of permanent damage to its personality growth. Therefore, on this day, we honor not only the beloved mothers of our adults and youth, but the very young mother who has both the tremendous responsibility and the precious opportunity to mold the life and character of the very young child. May she seek early God's help, who in the person of the Son, said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me." The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God. VIEW FROM THE LIBRARY

By MARY EDNA HENDRIX

Most of the students from school know how to use the card catalog but very few people know the Dewey Decimal System of numbering the books that we use here in the library, so here is a chart:
100— Who am I? - Philosophy and Psychology (Man thinks about himself)
200— Who made me? - Religion (Man thinks about God)
300— Who is the man in the next cave? Social Science (Man thinks about other people)
400— How can I make that man understand me? - Philology (language) (Man learns to communicate with others through words)
500— How can I understand nature and the world around me? - Science (Man learns to understand nature on the land, in the sea and in the sky)
600— How can I use what I know about nature? - Applied science and useful arts (Man learned about fire and how to make weapons. Man learned about the wheel, medicine, planting crops, cooking food, building bridges, and how to make all the things we use.)
700— How can I enjoy my leisure time? - Fine arts and recreation (By this time, primitive man had more time to do the things he enjoyed. He learned how to paint pictures and to create music. He also learned to dance and to play games.)
800— How can I give my children a record of man's heroic deeds? - Literature. (Man became a storyteller. He created sagas, fables, epics, poetry and plays about his ancestors and the people he knew. Later, man put these into writing for all people to read.)
900— How can I leave a record for men of the future? - History, geography, and biography - (So man began to write about events that had occurred everywhere, and about people who had participated in these events)
000— General works - the numbers up to 100 are used for bibliographies, books about books, and for books which contain information on many subjects such as encyclopedias and other reference works. All reference books have R before the number.

Moss have been in to use the Micro-film reader . . . Alice Cowen and Frances Duke brought some of their students to the library last week and plan to bring four more groups this week. We are glad the teachers encourage their students to use the library . . . Diane Axtell brought her husband, Charles, and little son in to see the new library . . . also we were glad to have Jerry Kittrell come in and look around and check out a book . . . Goose Ramey came in to get a book and brought us a pencil holder.
Cecil Hoelting was in to see the new building and Mary Acker was in and told us about the International Farm Youth Exchange student who will be staying with them. He is Hartmut Kegel from Germany.
DRILMA Handley told several stories to 19 children at Children's Story Hour last Friday and Mrs. Pigg and Vanessa served cup cakes and punch.

Pest management confab slated

A meeting to discuss the possibilities of organizing a pest management program in Castro County will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Courthouse assembly room.
GENE LATHAM, Hale County Extension entomologist will discuss the program currently in operation in Hale County and will also have with him a producer who is participating in the pest management project.
Dr. Bill Clymer will discuss new pesticide legislation affecting producers and outline the steps necessary to set up a pest management program in Castro County.
"This will be an informative meeting and one that could have a tremendous impact on grain production in this area," said Charles Hottel, county Extension agent. "Through proper management of insects, producers have been able to lower insecticide cost, reduce the number of applications and better manage beneficial insects. The pest management technique for insect control has been developed through research and observational data collected through a number of years and one year of operation in Hale County has proved to be successful," he added.

Kellar hurt in rollover
A Dimmitt man was critically injured in a one vehicle rollover near his farm about six miles north of Dimmitt last Wednesday on Farm Road 1057.
THOMAS Eldon Kellar, 30, suffered multiple injuries when his pickup truck went off the road and rolled several times. Kellar was thrown from the vehicle.
According to county sheriff's officers the accident occurred about 10:30 p.m. Kellar was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo about 1 a.m. Thursday after he was treated at Plains Memorial Hospital.

CofC ponders name change

Should the Castro County Chamber of Commerce change its name to the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce?

CHAMBER members will be asked to decide in a mail referendum later this month.

Those attending Friday night's CofC membership meeting discussed the pros and cons of the question for half an hour before deciding to put it to a vote of the general membership.

Among the arguments presented for and against the proposed name change were:

"THE CHAMBER now has 122 members, and all but two of these are affiliated with Dimmitt instead of other communities. We would like to get other communities in, but we haven't had much luck."
"Nearly all chambers of commerce represent cities, not counties."
"What about the feelings of the other communities involved? We don't want to alienate our neighbors."
"How many in the other communities would want to take part when Dimmitt carries the whole vote? And why would anyone in Hart, for instance, be interested in promoting Dimmitt?"

Dimmitt FFA members win honors at Plainview

Dimmitt FFA members won a number of honors at the recent Plainview District FFA meeting. GAINES Howell won the public speaking contest and Mark Welch was named as the Star Chapter Farmer of the district. Lon Keel, Dimmitt vice-president, was also a candidate for Area 1 president nominee.

IRRIGATED cotton has usually been about 60 percent of the total on the High Plains.

Weeds still constitute major crop production difficulties

Crop-robbing weeds are a direct problem in raising food and fiber crops, but consumers eventually pay most of the bill through high production costs, says the assistant director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. DR. DUDLEY T. Smith said southern farmers have been fighting weeds by sharply increasing their use of herbicides — the cheapest and most effective means. The State Agricultural Experiment Stations and the US Department of Agriculture weed scientists have worked cooperatively with various commodity organizations and chemical companies in developing effective, low cost weed control methods. However, crop losses due to weeds are still greater than those of any other plant pest.

In 1958, herbicides were applied to 15 percent of the seven leading crops — corn, cotton, sorghum, soybeans, rice, peanuts and vegetables — in southern states. By 1968, treated acreage rose to 70 percent. An estimated 90 to 95 percent of cotton, rice and peanuts is treated today. Smith said current successful herbicide research, development and marketing are strongly oriented toward two areas — weed removal economics and the ecological succession of new plant species. He pointed out that losses in southern crops may range from 40 to 90 percent due to season-long competition by weed pests. Even when weeds were removed after four to six weeks, yields were generally reduced 8 to 30 percent. Losses were greatest in cotton and peanuts due to the long growing season of these crops.

THE ECONOMICS of weed control is a major concern. For example, each pigweed in cotton costs about 2 cents. This means, Smith said, that a light infestation of 250 weeds per acre would impose an economic loss of $5 per acre. That is after all the usual weed control methods have been employed. Since farm fuel prices will probably go up, producers may have to rely on herbicides even more to do the cheapest job of weed control in crops. Perennial weed species are even bigger trouble makers. These pests usually have a head start on the crop, re-grow from roots, fewer control measures are available, and they are more difficult to control. "We have found that moderate perennial weed infestations (50 percent of maximum density) caused cotton losses of $24 to $78 per acre, while sorghum losses were $36 to $64 per acre. Where perennials achieved maximum density, despite cultivation and hoeing, there was a total loss in both crops," Smith said. The assistant director pointed out that weed scientists have noted how discontinued tillage or repeated herbicide use can lead to invasion by a different or new pest. When one weed type is knocked out, another species may take its place. "WE HAVE new weeds entering all the time. Hence, old chemicals may be good now but do not handle the new species. So we need to continue to have new products from industry. State Agricultural Experiment Stations play a vital, cooperative role in helping to fit commercial products to specific weed problems," Smith said.

It's amazing how we rediscover our natural resources when the cost of energy reaches new peaks and the supply of natural fuels seems to be exhausted. Lignite is a low-grade coal found in large deposits concentrated in the tri-state area of Montana, North Dakota and a small portion of South Dakota. The location is ideal because the lignite deposits are in seams usually running 30 to 40 feet below the surface and the terrain is gently rolling, which makes strip mining easy and the restoration of the mined land simple to accomplish. LIGNITE comprises 25 percent of all US coal reserves but it accounts for only 1 percent of the total US coal production. There are almost 450 billion tons of lignite in North Dakota alone and 18 billion tons are estimated to be recoverable at today's prices. A ton of lignite has only half the energy of a ton of bituminous coal. It also has a high moisture content and a woody texture which does not pulverize well. But it is cheap. For instance, one-million BTU of lignite energy costs 14 cents at the mine, one-million BTU of bituminous coal energy costs 40 cents, and natural gas sold interstate costs 30 cents while natural gas sold intrastate (no government price controls) sells for over $1.00. So you can see the price advantage of lignite. It is also very low in sulphur content. Two power plants are now burning lignite to generate electricity and four more power plants are being constructed. The area is being considered for a plant to enrich uranium, a process which has a huge appetite for electricity. The next step is gasification of lignite through a simple process which will produce an even greater demand for the ore. The next step is gasification plants by Michigan-Wisconsin Pipeline Co., which will produce 250 million cubic feet of gas daily for the gas-hungry Milwaukee and Chicago metropolitan areas. A MAJOR objection to the gasification plants is the large amounts of water which they consume. Average rainfall in that area is only 6 inches per year and this is needed for irrigated farming.

Amstar acquires tool company

Amstar Corporation today announced that its subsidiary, Duff-Norton Company, Inc., completed the acquisition of the Perfecting Service Division of Reed Tool Company for approximately $3,800,000 in cash. DUFF-NORTON, based in Charlotte, N. Car., manufactures hoists, jacks and actuating equipment. Perfecting Service is also located in Charlotte, N. Car., and manufactures air controls, couplings and ROTARY UNIONS used in pneumatic and hydraulic power systems. Perfecting Service will be operated as a division of Duff-Norton. Amstar's president, Robert T. Quittmeyer, stated that the acquisition of Perfecting Service is a further step in Amstar's program of diversification into the industrial equipment and components business. Amstar is the nation's largest manufacturer of sugar and sugar products, sold under the DOMINO and SPRECKELS labels. It also produces and sells corn sweeteners and food service and paper products. Reed Tool Company is a major manufacturer of drilling tools for the oil, mining and construction industries worldwide.

Miss Barker named to honor society

Pamela Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Barker of Dimmitt and a junior home economics major at Texas Tech University has been initiated into Phi Kappa Phi honor society at the Lubbock university. INITIATES included three faculty members and students chosen from among the top ten percent of graduates within the past year and from among the top two percent of the junior class at the university. Objectives of the society are to emphasize scholarship and character in the thought of college students, to foster the significant purposes for which institutions for higher learning have been founded, and to stimulate mental achievement by recognition through election to membership.

If you can't get PIONEER Brand 8311 here are some excellent alternative hybrids for High Plains farmers.

Pioneer Brand 8311, the "Golden Bronze Yield Leader," has been our most popular hybrid this year — so popular, in fact, that it may be in short supply in some areas. One reason is that the demand has been so great downstate where 8311's disease tolerance is so important. Fortunately, there are several other Pioneer Brand hybrids that are proven top performers on the High Plains. If you can't get 8311, ask your dealer about these.

PIONEER Brand 8417
This versatile yellow endosperm sorghum is a champion yielder in the medium-late maturity class, for irrigated or non-irrigated land. It has large open heads, uniform head height, strong stalks for easy threshing, good tolerance to smut and anthracnose.

PIONEER Brand 820
This top-notch full-season hybrid, is a consistently high yielder. Excellent drought resistance and standability plus good roots and stalks make it a good choice for irrigated or non-irrigated farming on the plains.

PIONEER Brand 828
One of the highest yielding sorghums you can plant, this full-season hybrid responds well to good management on good land with plenty of water. Plains growers like it because it holds its quality and threshes well even after an early freeze. It produces sturdy stalks with semi-compact heads of dark red grain.

PIONEER Brand 846
Famous for its versatility and adaptability, this medium maturity hybrid yields along with the full-season varieties. Resistant to smut, rust and MDM, its outstanding hybrid vigor and excellent drought resistance help it turn in consistently high yields even under stress.

Sorority installs new officers

Dimmitt's Alpha Epsilon Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held an officer installation ceremony in the home of Mrs. Jane Blackburn last Wednesday.

SANDRA CLARK presided over the installation. New officers include Martie Benton, president, Gail Bruegel, vice president, Sue Caddell, secretary, Virginia Hansen, treasurer, and Laquita Hill, Parliamentarian.

Other awards were presented to various committee chairmen and officers.

A cultural program was also presented on the art of the German and Spanish language by Jean Morris and Stephanie Love.

Here are weeks best food buys

Vegetables are earning consumer attention this week, with abundant supplies of carrots arriving from the Rio Grande Valley, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

"THEY'RE AT attractive retail price levels," the consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reported.

"Asparagus supplies are a little heavier and slightly lower in price, though this vegetable rarely ever gets to the 'bargain' level.

"New crop cabbage, along with that in storage, means good supplies and prices, while celery, mustard greens, collards, dry yellow onions, radishes and green onions are other good choices."

Supplies of cantaloupe and watermelon are on the rise, but prices remain at "luxury" levels, the specialist said.

FRUITS WORTH considering are oranges, grapefruit, apples, bananas, strawberries and pineapples, she added.

Turning to eggs, Mrs. Clyatt termed the market "unsettled," with all but small-sized eggs in good supply. Even at $1 a dozen, large eggs are only 67 cents a pound, she noted, explaining that translates into "economical nutrition."

"Beef values include ground beef, round steaks and roasts, chuck roasts and steaks, and beef liver. Pork prices remain about the same, with values generally on shoulder roasts and steaks, end-cut loin roasts, ham portions and picnics."

Fryer chickens continue a good choice, pricewise, and frozen-turkey prices make those birds one of the better high-protein values, the specialist said.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: Often the protein in lean meat costs more than the same amount in protein in regular ground beef. Ask your grocer the percentages of lean in the three types of ground beef at his store. Divide this percentage into per-pound cost of the meat — if regular ground beef has 75 percent lean and costs $1.05 per pound, the lean costs $1.40 per pound ($1.05 was divided by 75 percent — or .75).

EARLY and mid-season oranges in Texas were estimated at 4.3 million boxes.

We Salute Our Champions!

The pursuit of excellence is one of the finest traits our students can develop. For in pursuing excellence, they learn the valuable lessons that this pursuit requires: self-sacrifice, practice, hard work, concentration, study, total commitment, and the ultimate satisfaction of a job well done. They learn that having the talent is only the first step, and that developing that talent is what makes the difference.

Judging from the results of athletic, literary, musical and industrial arts competition at both the state and interstate levels over the weekend, our youngsters are learning their lessons well.

We salute all of our students who advanced to these high levels of competition. Whether you won or lost at the highest level, you're all champions to us. You had to be champions to get there.

And we especially salute the teachers, coaches and parents who are helping our youngsters attain these standards of excellence.

You have represented your communities with honor, and your pursuit of excellence will benefit our communities for years to come.

Rain, heavy hail fall locally Monday and Tuesday

By TEENY BOWDEN

2.60 of an inch of rain with heavy hail was recorded for Monday and Tuesday night. The hail was of four different sizes ranging from pea size to golf ball size. The hail was more spotted than in one swath as usual. The ground was white in many places, and the slopes of the pastures and fields looked to be covered with snow from a distance. A tornado was sighted by several who watched it hit the ground in an open field to the southwest of Sunnyside, and then lift back into the cloud with a definite funnel from ground to cloud for only a few seconds. .20 of an inch of rain was recorded for Tuesday and Tuesday night. Wheat insurance adjusters said it would be ten days before the amount of wheat damage could be determined.

GERALD Graham and Jackie Clark attended the hail suppression meeting in Springlake Monday night. The directors agreed with Better Weather, Inc. to start the three plane program May 1 and hope the $36,000 goal will be reached by the time they have to sign the contract. Tom Henderson of California was present for the meeting and since the goal was short only a few thousand dollars gave them until the 15th to sign the contract. On that date they must decide to cut to two planes the last month or two or cut the entire program short of six months and fly three planes until the money is used up if the full $36,000 has not been met.

Mrs. Ila Haydon attended the Oral Roberts Seminar at the Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Okla. last Thursday through Sunday. She came home Monday.

L. B. Bowden killed his fourth rattler for the season Thursday afternoon in the pasture. It was 33 inches long and must have been an old one since the rattlers were worn off. He had 5 rattlers intact and from their size it is estimated he had 7 rattlers. The other large one he killed in the pasture was 39 inches long and had 7 rattlers. Two small ones were killed around the house.

'Fighting Heart' winners at HHS

KENNETH DAVIS FOOTBALL

JOHN H. ROBINSON BASKETBALL

Top HHS athletes honored Saturday

Hart High School's top athletes were honored Saturday night at the annual HHS athletic banquet held in the Hart grade school gymnasium.

HIGHLIGHT of the banquet was naming the winner of the coveted "Fighting Heart" award in football. Kenneth Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis and a senior running back for the Longhorns, was the recipient of the award. Davis was also presented with the football "Fighting Heart" award last year.

John Henry Robinson received the first basketball "Fighting Heart" award at HHS. Robinson was credited for his valuable reserve work this year with the Longhorn roundball.

Kent Irons was named as the Most Valuable Player in football while Leslie Davis received the honor in boys' basketball.

Leesa Lowrey was dubbed Most Valuable Player in girls' basketball and Dee Ann Bailey was honored as the "Best Defensive Player" in girls' basketball.

REGIONAL track qualifiers who received "H" awards included Randy Finch, Barry George and Gilbert Rodriguez.

Becky Miller was named football queen and Leslie Davis was honored as basketball king.

Grain sorghum exports show major increase

Sorghum has come to the forefront as a major export grain, and its markets are strong and healthy.

"ABOUT one-fifth of the milo crop in the United States is exported each year, making it the top sorghum exporting country," says Roland Smith, grain marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"A continuing uptrend can be expected in the long run although exports may soften some this year. Japan continues as the leading importer. Israel looks like she will continue importing along with India, Venezuela, Chile, Nicaragua, the Netherlands, Iran, Niger, Mauritania, Upper Volta and Senegal, the last four being African countries," points out the specialist.

The volume of sorghum moving to Japan this year should exceed the 105 million bushels imported in 1973. This was more than half of all the sorghum exported. The Japanese use the grain for chicken and cattle feed.

Israel ranks as the second most important importer with orders exceeding 20 million bushels.

"INDIA is not far behind but its market is dependent on 'human' food production. When there is enough wheat and rice to go around, Indian milo imports drop. In times of food shortages, sorghum is consumed as a cereal grain," says Smith.

Using sorghum as basic chicken feed, the Netherlands imports about five million bushels yearly.

Some 14 million bushels of sorghum were shipped to Venezuela last year where the grain is used primarily for feeding cattle.

"Competition from other grains, mainly corn and wheat, and other producing countries exists. With substitution of one grain for another, either for human or animal consumption, grain competition has tightened. Argentina, South Africa and Thailand appear to be the strongest competitors in the export field," the specialist notes.

SMITH commends the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board, the Grain Sorghum Producers Association and the US Feed Grains Council for their efforts in opening the export door for sorghum as a livestock and human food.

THANKS, FOLKS

My sincere thanks for your support and help in the county judge's race in the Democratic Primary Election.

I appreciate the high level of campaigning shown by Maurice Campbell, Art Schreck and Weldon Skinner. I think it is significant that we could compete against each other and become good friends at the same time.

I will be doing a lot of traveling between now and the runoff election June 1, in an attempt to see everyone I can. I realize that I will need all the help I can get, and will appreciate your continued support.

As a land owner and a longtime businessman, I'm concerned over our tax problems and our county's priorities. I think it's mandatory that our next county judge use sound judgment in planning and expenditures of our county tax funds. If you agree with me, I will appreciate your vote in the June 1 primary runoff.

Broderon receives grid scholarship

Kyle Broderon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Broderon of Dimmitt, has been signed by Montana Tech for the 1974 football season. Broderon has been awarded a tuition and fees scholarship by the Butte, Montana college, announced the Orediggers' head football coach Bill Sprinkle.

AT 210 pounds, the 6'2" Broderon has played tackle in the Dimmitt High School lineup, also participating in basketball and golf. He was captain of the football team and was named to both offensive and defensive all-district teams. He will graduate this month.

"We are very pleased to have signed Kyle to be an Oredigger in 1974. We needed a player of Kyle's size and speed to fill the gaps on our offensive line. We feel that Kyle has the potential to come in and start as a freshman at Tech," said Sprinkle.

For cleaner soybeans, without incorporation, tank-mix Lorox with Lasso.

You'll control almost any annual grass or broadleaf weed that's in your soybeans... a broader spectrum of control than either could provide by itself.

With Lasso plus Lorox, you can count on controlling carelessweed, crabgrass and watergrass (barnyardgrass). You'll even reduce competition from seedling Johnsongrass. A real headache in Texas.

And you don't incorporate Lasso plus Lorox. You can save yourself a trip over your fields. Pretty important these days.

So start making your plans now to harvest cleaner beans. Go with a preemergence application of Lasso plus Lorox.

LASSO HERBICIDE BY Monsanto

As with all agricultural products, read and follow the Lasso label instructions. Lorox is a registered trademark of E.I. DuPont de Nemours and Company.

It's time for a fresh approach to the problems of Precinct 4.

I believe I can give you that fresh approach.

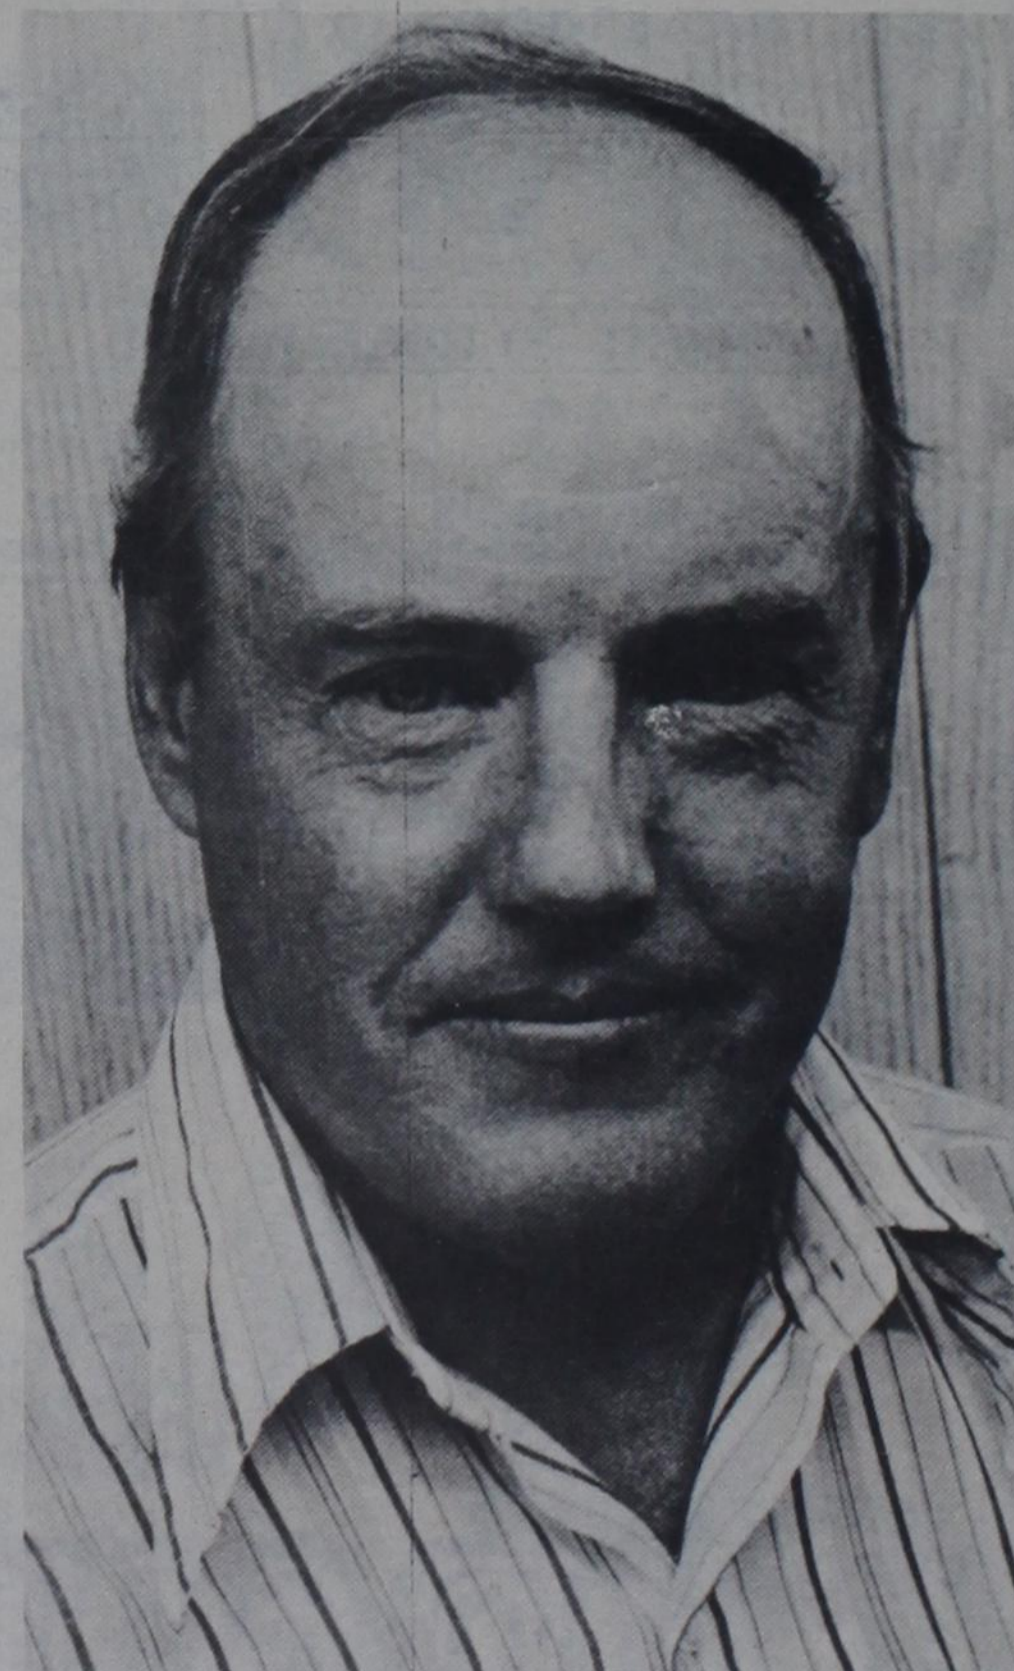

I am a lifelong resident and taxpayer of Precinct 4. I am a farmer, and also have been a business man. My home is in the country [five miles north of Nazareth on Highway 168], but I have worked hard through the years to help my community, my church and my county.

So I understand the problems of the people of Precinct 4. And I feel that I know what is needed to solve our problems.

I earnestly solicit your support and your vote in the Democratic Primary runoff election June 1.

Transcendental meditation course to be taught here

Transcendental Meditation: a religion or a philosophy? IT'S NEITHER, says Susan Parish, who is a qualified teacher in the subject.

Transcendental Meditation (or TM, as it is commonly called) is simply a technique for achieving a deep rest in a short period of time, Miss Parish says.

Miss Parish, a 1971 graduate of Dimmitt High School, recently returned from a three-month stay in Nieuwpoort, Belgium, where she attended an international teacher training course directed by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi.

Now a fully qualified teacher, Miss Parish intends to teach a course in TM and the Science of Creative Intelligence (SCI) in Dimmitt.

SHE WILL give an introductory lecture next Thursday night at 8 in the courthouse assembly room, and will go into more specific detail in a second lecture the following night.

"There are seven steps in the course, and these two lectures constitute the first two steps," she explained. "The other five steps will require four more meetings of about two hours each."

For those interested in studying TM further after the free introductory lectures, there is a course fee which varies according to age. Miss Parish said TM is useful for both children and adults, and can be a family venture.

WHY HAS TM been gaining worldwide popularity? What does it have to offer?

"TM is a unique technique which allows the nervous system to rid itself of deep-rooted stresses by effortlessly achieving a state of restfulness more refreshing than sleep," Miss Parish explained. "TM is a natural, mental technique practiced about 20 minutes morning and evening. No change in diet is necessary, no difficult postures are required. When you learn the technique, you simply sit comfortably with your eyes closed."

"And what is so amazing is that the technique is so simple to learn and so easy to practice that ANYONE can do it. One must only be able to think to practice TM — not intellectual thinking, just the ability to think thoughts."

TM IS considered by its teachers and practitioners to be a science, Miss Parish says that scientific tests have been conducted comparing people's changes in metabolic rate, breath rate, skin resistance, cardiac output and brain-wave patterns while asleep, while under hypnosis and while practicing TM — and that these tests indicated TM is the deepest state of rest.

Post-meditation tests, she said, indicate that a person who has practiced TM experiences an increased perceptual ability (auditory), increased stability (galvanic skin responses), superior perceptual-motor performance, increased learning ability, improved psychology, and reduced use of tranquilizers, stimulants and other prescribed drugs, as well as non-prescribed drugs.

"In short, TM makes your body and mind more efficient," she said. "A deeper rest than sleep will give you more energy afterwards, and this energy will result in more efficiency in your actions, both physical and mental."

LIKE OTHER sciences, TM has its practical and theoretical aspects, Miss Parish said. The Science of Creative Intelligence (SCI) is the theoretical aspect and provides understanding of the technique, and TM is the practical aspect.

Miss Parish first became interested in TM when her communications professor at Boise State University invited two TM teachers to lecture to his class.

This fall she plans to enroll in Maharishi International University at Santa Barbara, Calif. — one of five MIU campuses in the world. She will work toward a bachelor of science degree in the Science of Creative Intelligence, which will qualify her to teach in public schools, plus giving her the added specialty in TM.

PRESENTLY, 3,600 teaching centers are being set up around the world to teach TM. One of these centers is in Lubbock, and Miss Parish is setting up a sub-center for the Panhandle area.

"There just haven't been enough teachers until this time to bring TM to the small towns," she said. "That's why many small towns haven't heard much about TM yet. But we've doubled the number of teachers just this year."

Garden could boost vegetable industry in state

With the rebirth of home vegetable gardens, many folks will be giving their taste buds a real treat as they enjoy the fruits of their labors this season.

FURTHERMORE, a vegetable specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service believes that the increase in home gardening will be a boon to the fresh vegetable industry in Texas. He feels more consumers will be "turned on" by fresh produce after having experienced vegetable production themselves on a small scale.

"In recent years many consumers have gotten away from purchasing fresh produce and have gone more for canned, frozen and instant vegetables," points out Sam Cotner. "But the surge in home gardens should bring some turnaround in this trend."

Cotner believes that consumers now engaging in home vegetable production will have a much better appreciation for the vegetable industry. "They will realize that there are many problems associated with producing vegetables — the weather, insects and diseases — plus the costs and labor required and the high perishability of fresh vegetables."

According to the specialist, commercial vegetable production in Texas last year was valued at about $200 million, third in the nation. And he feels that the current home gardening craze will increase consumer demand for fresh vegetables after appetites have been whetted by those fresh vegetables produced in the back yard.

A COMPLETE kitchen "overhaul" can cost between $5,000 and $6,000 says Anna Marie Gottschalk, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Wholesale beef is money saver

Buying beef wholesale for storage in the home freezer can be a money-saving experience — if it's done wisely.

SOME guidelines are listed by Woodrow Bailey, livestock and meat specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"First of all, locate a reliable firm. The Better Business Bureau or Retail Credit Association can furnish information.

"Decide what cuts of beef your family likes and know how much you consume over a period of time. Beef will usually show some storage flavor after six months in a freezer."

For a family of six or more people that enjoys hamburgers, steaks and pot roasts, Bailey suggests buying a complete side of beef. "This will provide all the cuts you see displayed in a supermarket."

If broiled steaks are the family preference, a full loin may be the best purchase as it will yield only Sirloin, Porterhouse, T-bone and Club steaks.

For those favoring pot roasts, a fore quarter would be in order, advises the specialist. "The price would be much less than a hind quarter and the amount of edible meat would be about the same."

BAILEY also advises buying beef according to grades by the US Department of Agriculture. The "Choice" grade is best if steaks and roasts are to be broiled or dry roasted. Choice beef has been fed longer and has more marbling (fat scattered throughout the lean). It is more expensive. On the other hand, "Good" grade beef is suitable if steaks are pan fried and roasts are "pot roasted."

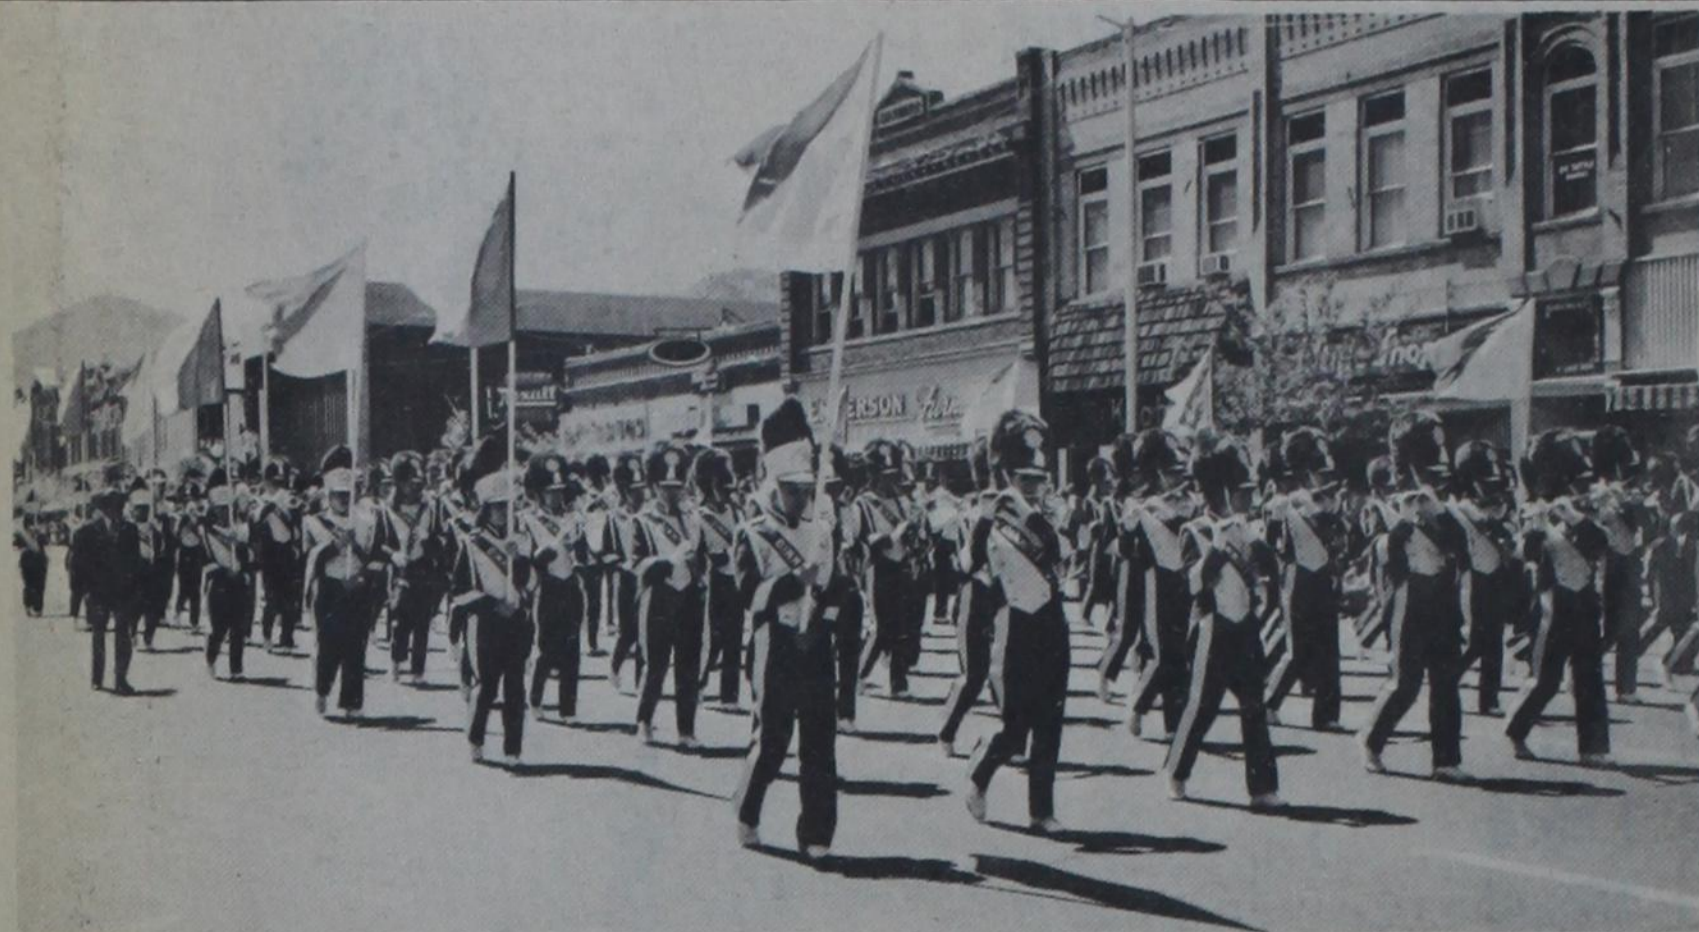

"If ungraded beef is bought, check the rib eye muscle for a liberal sprinkling of fat throughout the lean."

Cattle that have been grain fed provide the best beef for your money, contends Bailey. He advises against purchasing a calf for your freezer out of a pasture.

"When buying beef wholesale, be sure the meat is trimmed properly with only a minimum amount of fat. A Choice carcass should not have more than one-half inch of fat on the outside."

HEARTBREAKING FINISH — Robert Mayberry of Dimmitt struggles to a seventh place finish in the 100 yard dash at the state track meet in Austin Saturday. Mayberry pulled a muscle on his first attempt in broad jump competition at the meet and the misfortune spelled the end of his hopes for state honors this year. The Dimmitt junior competed in the 100 yard dash despite the injury.

VETERANS' SERVICES

County Service Officer

Please note that our new office hours are Tuesdays and Thursdays for 8 hours rather than the former three day shorter hour schedule. Also, the office phone number is 647-4666, which is also used by Social Security on Mondays and State Welfare on Fridays.

THE FOLLOWING is a recent news release from the VA Regional Office in Waco. The Veterans Administration advises veterans not to allow loss of a birth certificate or marriage license to deter them from applying for benefits.

Jack Coker, Waco Regional Office Director, cited a regulation in effect since October 1971 under which less formal proof of marriage and birth are acceptable in establishing claims for higher benefits.

A veteran's or widow's certified statement of marriage is sufficient on applications for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children, provided neither he nor his wife has been married before, and VA has no contradictory information on file, Coker explained.

Coker noted that a certified statement now is acceptable regarding birth of a child of a veteran's marriage, and as proof of age and relationship in disability cases. Before the regulation change, Coker pointed out, VA required all statements of marriages and births to be supported by formalized documentary evidence.

Certified statements also are sufficient in death cases where a claimant's statements corroborate those of a veteran in connection with a claim for any VA benefit, Coker added.

Community MH drive slated here in May

Citizen Volunteers will be going door-to-door in Dimmitt throughout the remainder of May asking for a contribution in the fight against Texas' Number One Health Problem . . . Mental Illness. The drive is sponsored by the Texas Association for Mental Health.

THE TEXAS Association for Mental Health is a volunteer organization working to improve the quality of mental health services in Texas. In 1957, the Association successfully worked for the passage of the community mental health center law. This law has resulted in the development of mental health centers which provide treatment, consultation and research in a community based setting throughout Texas.

in updating laws to protect the rights of the mentally ill, in obtaining the money necessary to provide treatment for emotionally disturbed children, and in providing referral services for those in need.

This year, the Association is placing special emphasis on the needs of children and youth and upon the continued transfer of mental health service from the state hospital to facilities in the community.

The Mental Health Association receives no public funds. Its income is derived from community drives throughout Texas. Mrs. E. B. Noble is serving as community coordinator for the drive in Dimmitt.

Appraisal needed for crop payments

When disaster strikes a program crop, and the farmer chooses not to carry the crop through to harvest, he must first report the disaster to the county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, according to Charley E. Hill, ASCS Executive Director of Castro County.

SECONDLY, the farmer must request an appraisal to establish his eligibility for payment under the disaster provisions of the cotton, feed grain and wheat programs. The County ASCS office may decide that an appraisal is unnecessary when the damaged or destroyed crop acreage is in excess of applicable allotments.

Hill says once an appraiser completes a damage evaluation, and the acreage is released, the farmer may devote the acreage to other uses.

Certification of program crops is still important this year for disaster benefits, Hill added. Producers who harvest program crops, such as wheat, before certification will find that crop ineligible for disaster payments.

— Danny Hauf in the advanced-level power mechanics written exam.

CAPTURING third place ribbons in the state competition were:

— Mike Templeton, a freshman in beginning metals, with a two-wheel tow trailer for a 10-speed bike.

— Rick Wright with an Early American grandfather clock of Brazilian Rosewood, featuring German movements.

— LANCE LOUDDER, a junior in advanced woodworking, with a huge rolltop desk of ash, with double pedestal, file drawers, knick-knack drawers and green felt trim. It was Loudder's second state award in woodworking.

— Jodie Minnick, a freshman, in the beginning-level power mechanics written exam.

Two DHS students received honorable mention in advanced woodworking. They were Jeff Robertson with a folding secretary desk and Terry Young with an ash chest of drawers.

IN BOYS' beginning woodworking, three Dimmitt youths earned honorable mention. They were Kurt Wales with an oak cedar chest, David Kaplan with an ash occasional table and Jimmy Cleavinger with a pecan credenza.

Four DHS girls earned honorable mention in the girls' beginning woodworking division. They were Nancy Robertson with a pecan cedar chest, Debbie Dove with a maple cedar chest, Teresa Broadstreet with an ash cedar chest, and D'Wan Goldsmith with an oak cedar chest.

Helping transport the students and teachers to the state show were two of the Industrial Arts Club's former state championship projects — Dan Nelson's motor home (a converted charter bus), which pulled the DHS band trailer; and the "Heminational Blue Goose" two-seat pickup, which pulled the dune buggy's trailer.

The president says that the judiciary committee, and the special prosecutor, have got all the information out of him and the White House that they are going to get. The tape transcripts that he has furnished the public, the committee and the prosecutor, he says, are enough to prove his innocence of any wrongdoing. Just his word may not be enough to get him off the hook. The committee is open for conviction of his innocence but it is going to take more than his word. He has some evidence that would be required of any other individual, under like circumstances, and which would either establish his innocence or guilt. Since he has definitely decided to refuse to comply with a legal subpoena from a congressional committee, the possibility of his resigning seems to be more likely than impeachment.

Powerful fishing knots that are stronger and better than those used by most anglers have been developed by saltwater fishermen because they were needed to catch big fish on light lines. The International Game Fish Association, keeper of the lists of world-record marine fish, has categories for light lines that test only six and 12 pounds, as well as the much heavier classifications. New knot technology had to be developed to make possible catches of sailfish, tarpon and marlin on such wispy materials.

Now you can learn and use these same super connections to add power to your own fishing, because all of us need to get all we can from our lines whether we're trying to keep a largemouth bass from reaching a brush pile or to snub a bonefish before it tangles in the mangroves.

Light monofilament fishing lines are used not only because they are sporting, but because they help us cast farther and with more accuracy. However, if we are fishing with six- to ten-pound test lines we will want to make sure we retain as much line strength as possible after the knots have been tied. If a certain knot weakens our line by 50 percent—and some knots now widely used will do just that—our line strength will be cut in half, and so will our chances of ever landing the fish we are after.

important, for it is constantly being tested all during the fight. To do this job, Tom Paugh, Saltwater Editor of Sports Afield, recommends the Clinch Knot, or one of its several variations. Once you have learned to tie this power knot it will prove to be the most important and useful knot you have ever known.

This knot and all of its variations are described and illustrated by Tom Paugh in the April issue of Sports Afield. He says, "Which variation of the Clinch Knot you use will depend on the test, diameter and degree of stiffness of your line or, the leader—if you are using one.

Other knots described in the article are: the Surgeon's Knot, the Blood Knot, the Albright Special Knot, the Bimini Twist, the Two-Wrap Loop and the Haywire Twist.

RICH-FLAVORED oxtails are popular served in soup or braised with vegetables. They need long, slow cooking — braising or simmering — to become tender. Many markets sell oxtails both fresh and frozen. Since they're mostly bone, allow 1 1/2 to one pound per serving, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
