PANEL RECOMMENDS 17 1/2 PER CENT PLAN —

Union And GM Study Proposed Pay Hike

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Union and company representatives studied Friday a proposal to end the 51-day-old General Motors strike with a 17 1/2 per cent pay increase. They made no immediate commitment, but one White House labor adviser said it was significant neither side rejected the terms during preliminary discussions with aides of President Truman. These talks occurred soon after the recommendation was taken to the Chief Executive by his fact-finding panel Thursday.

Officials of the United Automobile Workers will consider the proposal Sunday at a meeting in Detroit. Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice-president, declared the board "completely supports the union's position that wages can and must be increased without price increase." The corporation had nothing to say until experts could study the 30-page report of the fact-finders. The men who counsel Truman on labor problems seemed hopeful the end of the GM tieup was in sight and that this would influence solution of steel, meat packing and electrical industry disputes which have brought calls for 1,100,000 CIO workers to strike next week. The recommended pay increase would amount to 19 1/2 cents an hour more than the present average scale of $1.13 an hour. The UAW asked a 30 per cent rise, or 33.6 cents more an hour, and the company had offered 12 per cent, or 13 1/2 cents.

No Car Price Increase
The panel, in addition to recommending a 19 1/2-cent hourly increase, called for immediate end of the strike, reinstatement of strikers without discrimination, and restoration of the 1945 contract. The board commented that the company had a right to cancel that contract on December 31, as it did. The board said it satisfied itself the company can pay, in the first 12 months after the resumption of production, the recommended wage increase without increasing prices.

JayCees Planning Imposing Activity

Current activities and plans for the future were discussed by directors of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Thursday night.

The Midland unit now has 109 members and is one of the largest and most active in West Texas. JayCees here are in favor of asking the government to approve a plan whereby veterans in hospitals can receive remuneration for trades, arts and crafts, a measure which is endorsed by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. Tad Crain will be asked to serve on the JayCee directorate in the capacity of membership director. The resignation of Gene McCollum, who is leaving the city, was accepted with regret by directors, and Tanner Laine appointed to succeed him as athletic head. Midland will send a letter of appreciation concerning McCollum to Hardin-Simmons University and also a letter to the Abilene Junior Chamber of Commerce. Will Observe Special Week
The Midland organization will participate in National Junior Chamber of Commerce Week, January 14-21. A stag dinner will be held and axes for distinguished service will be made to a Midland member.

A proposed ordinance in connection with food sanitation for eating establishments and food handlers is under study by the JayCees before it is presented to the City Council. Also the organization will sponsor a food sanitation school to instruct food handlers and sellers. In its "Get Out the Vote" campaign the Junior Chamber of Commerce has posted reminders throughout the city and will develop other projects. Bumper cards for automobiles reminding citizens to vote will be placed. The League of Women Voters of Midland will be asked to staff a booth, which will sell poll taxes to stimulate voting. January 21-26 the Victory Clothing Collection Campaign will get underway under direction of Clint Dunagan. Schools and organizations of the city will be asked to cooperate. Russell Howard and Clint Dunagan were selected as delegates to attend a regional meeting of JayCees in Temple January 19-20.

German Financial Wizard Made Nazi Successes Possible

NUERNBERG—(AP)—The American prosecution charged before the international military tribunal Friday that Germany's military successes were made possible only by the resourcefulness, financial ruthlessness and "absolute cynicism" of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht. The one-time wizard of German finances is now on trial for his life along with 21 other Nazi leaders. He heard an assistant U. S. prosecutor, Naval Lt. Brady O. Bryson, cite a memorandum which Schacht wrote Hitler in 1939 as evidence of Schacht's complicity in the annexation of Austria and Czechoslovakia. The memorandum hailed Germany's foreign policy as successful and pointed out to Hitler that Schacht's financial talents had remained German forces to the point which made the Nazi foreign policy possible. Bits of testimony showed Schacht, although aiding in Germany's war effort, often declared himself out of sympathy with Nazi policies. This was the first instance since the trial began in which any defendant has been pictured as anything but a completely ruthless criminal. Schacht's "hatred of Hitler" was noted by former U. S. Ambassador William E. Dodd in his diary in September, 1934, but Dodd also pointed out that Schacht was ready for forceful occupation of small countries.

Eggleston Announces For Commissioner
The candidacy of Floyd Eggleston for county Commissioner of Precinct 2 was announced Friday. Eggleston, who lives three-quarters of a mile east of Prairie Lea School, has lived in his precinct 19 years and is a general farmer. He has never held public office and pledges "service and a square deal."

Telegraph Service Here Not Affected
The strike of AOA (CIO) telegraph workers is confined to greater New York City, R. O. Smith, Midland manager of Western Union Telegraph Company, said Friday. "The effect in Midland of the strike is that telegrams to and from New York City are subject to indefinite delay," he added. "Telegraph traffic to and from all other points in the United States is moving at normal speed. Cable and radio traffic to Europe and South America normally handled through New York has been interrupted by the strike."

Janitors Freed After No Charges Were Filed
CHICAGO—(AP)—City and Cook County law enforcement officials, unsuccessful after four days of intensified search to capture the sadistic kidnaper and killed six-year-old Suzanne Degnan and then chopped her body to pieces, hunted fresh clues Friday. The collapse of one clue after another, many of which had been regarded as important, brought no let-down in the police investigation as a picked squad of officers searched for new leads.

As funeral services for the victim of one of Chicago's most ghastly crimes were being held, police said they had not uncovered any new clues definitely linking any one person as a suspect. Two janitors who work in the Edgewater district on the North Side, where the Degnan family lives, were released from police custody Thursday on writs of habeas corpus. One of the janitors, Hector Verburgh, 65, had been in custody for 48 hours for questioning after police said the Degnan girl's body had been hacked to pieces in the basement of an apartment building he tended. But the state's attorney's office told Chief Justice Harold G. Ward of the criminal court the state had no evidence to warrant filing charges against either Verburgh or Desere Smet, 35, who also tends apartment buildings near the Degnan home, or Verburgh's wife, Mary, 64.

Army Cancels Order To Combine Air Bases

Maj. Wilbur L. Burall, commanding officer of the 577th Army Air Force Base unit, Ferrying Division of the Air Transport Command, which is stationed at the Midland Municipal Airport, said Friday a change had been received in orders concerning the moving of the base unit to the Midland Army Air Field. A notice from higher headquarters said changed plans might obviate the necessity of transferring the 577th Base Unit activities from the Midland Municipal Airport to the Midland Army Air Field. However, Major Burall said preliminary plans for the move will be made pending a final decision. Orders Thursday said the AAF installations in Midland would be combined at MAAP. The Ferrying Division unit, commanded by Major Burall, has been located at the Midland Municipal Airport more than two years and plans for moving it Monday to MAAP were promptly cancelled.

Kimmel Gave Halsey War Orders Before Jap Attack

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Adm. Husband E. Kimmel gave "war orders" to Adm. William F. Halsey when the latter sailed with a task force from Pearl Harbor several days before the 1941 Japanese attack. Under those orders, Halsey "armed everything and told them to sink every Japanese ship that they found." Those statements by Kimmel were made available Friday to members of the Congressional Pearl Harbor Committee in a volume of testimony given by the 63-year-old former commander of the Pacific Fleet before three previous locked-door investigations. They were conducted by the Roberts Commission and by Army and Navy inquiry boards. Kimmel, who will give his first public testimony in the four-year-old military disaster next Tuesday, was disclosed in the bulky record to have made these assertions: "That while Pearl Harbor could not have been defended successfully, he would have given the Japanese 'quite a party' if he had received additional warnings. If he had the information available in Washington, he would have sent the fleet to sea and been ready for any eventuality. If the Army had informed him of the radar plot made on Japanese planes retiring from the attack, Navy searching units might have found the Japanese carriers. He 'accepted the situation' of keeping the fleet in Pearl Harbor, knowing that he had the alternative of quitting as its commander. The Roberts Commission charged that he was derelict in his duty was made on the 'mistaken belief' that he had access to intercepted Japanese messages, when he did not. No 'Proper Answer'
He did not get the 'proper answer' in evaluating a message from Washington that the Japanese consuls had been ordered to burn their codes. Kimmel told the Naval inquiry board that if the Army had informed him on the morning of Dec. 7, 1941, that its radar had picked up planes 122 miles north of Oahu, he would have gone into action immediately. "I would have ordered general quarters on all ships," he said. "I would have started out the destroyers, the light forces out of the main channel on sortie and kept all planes in the air; starting every available plane, mustering to search in the particular area indicated and launched an attack on their carriers. 'At the same time I would have expected the Army to get all of their pursuit planes in the air to meet the attack.' The former fleet commander said he had "ceased to blame myself so much" for the Pearl Harbor disaster when he learned the Navy Department had not given him all its advance information.

Jap Premier To Remain In Office During Shuffle

TOKYO—(AP)—The aged and convalescent Premier Kiijuro Shidehara will remain in office while his cabinet attempts to solve its political crisis by reorganization, the ministers decided Friday after a day-long meeting. Some ministers submitted their resignations in conference with General MacArthur's January 4 political purge directive, said sources close to the government. These sources also indicated that Shidehara originally desired the ministers' resignations en bloc, but agreed to remain in office and try a reorganization. The chief cabinet secretary, Dai-saburo Tsugita, who announced the cabinet's decision, said "the cabinet is confident the general elections will be carried out successfully. The elections, originally scheduled for this month, have been delayed probably two months by the cabinet crisis. In mid-morning, Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida had reported to Emperor Hirohito on the situation, created by General MacArthur's order that all militaristic, ultra-nationalist public officials who had influenced Japan to make war must be ousted.

SO&GC 1 Kayser Indicates New Field In Ector

Another oil field in Ector County is being indicated by Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Eva B. Kayser, about six miles west of Odessa, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 34, block 43, TP survey, T-2-S. In a two-hour drillstem test at 8,516-60 feet, in broken lime, the project had gas at surface in eight minutes. Operations were then shut down over night. Recovery, when drill pipe was broken down, was 1,550 feet of black sweet oil and 90 feet of slight oil cut drilling mud. No formation water developed. The project was coring ahead Friday morning. May Be Wolfcamp
Operator has not officially reported identity of the section showing for production. Some geologists think it is probably Wolfcamp, lower Permian. Fossils were being examined Friday to definitely fix age of the oil bearing rock. This exploration was started to drill to around 11,000 feet to test Ellenburger, and it probably will be carried to that zone. It is about one and one-quarter of a mile west of nearest production on southwest side of the South Cowden field, where the regular pay is the Grayburg-Permian at around 4,000 feet. Found The Water
The Texas Company No. 1-D Fraser, West Ector County discovery for Ellenburger production about one mile east of nearest oil well in the TXL field, was bottomed at 10,975 feet, in Ellenburger lime, and was to run an electrical log survey, and start completion operations. The prospect, located 690 feet from north and west lines of south 400 acres in section 27, block 45, TP survey, T-1-S, ran a 120-minute drillstem test at 10,925-975 feet. There was a steady blow of air throughout the period. When 5,660 feet of dry drill pipe had been pulled the 1,500-foot water blanket was recovered. When an additional 644 feet of dry pipe had been racked it flowed oil and gas out, drilling mud for an unreported time. Final recovery was 500 feet of free oil and 3,200 feet of sulphur water. This test determined the water-level of the well, which topped Ellenburger at 10,740 feet. It tested for a total of 168 barrels of oil per hour flowing in the sections from 10,775 feet to 10,875 feet, and showed free oil in the intervals from 10,721-775 feet, and at 10,875-925 feet. None of those sections had water. The Atlantic Refining Company has filed application with the Railroad Commission to drill No. 1-C-11 University, in South Andrews County, as a 3,300-foot exploration to test for pay in the Ellenburger, and other pre-Permian sections above that formation. Location is 660 feet out of northeast corner of section 2, block 11, University survey. It is one mile south and slightly east of Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Parker, discovery flowing Simpson-Cordovian production in the Martin area. S. W. Richardson No. 1 Dawson, Southeast Crane County wildcat, in section 2, A. L. Brigrance survey, was making hole after a drillstem test at 5,730-80 feet, in lime. Recovery was 330 feet of drilling mud, slightly cut with gas. There was a steady blow of air during the test. No water developed. The drilling mud had an oil odor. Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A Cowden, west outpost to the discovery for Devonian production in the Dollar Hide field, in extreme Southwest Andrews County, had killed the well, which had been testing on perforations at 7,974-8,015 feet, over total depth of 8,028 feet, and is scheduled to perforate and test at 7,957-4 feet.

Government Seizure May Be Requested As Toll System Snarled

NEW YORK—(AP)—America's vast long distance telephone system was crippled seriously by a strike Friday—except for emergency calls—and a labor department spokesman said the government might step in if a nationwide tie-up in telephone service developed. In Washington, the spokesman, who requested that his name not be used, said government seizure of the telephone industry might be recommended.

Reversing an earlier decision to wait until Monday, installation workers threw picket lines around most of the major exchanges across the nation in the early dawn. In most cases, other telephone workers were not crossing those lines.

Texas Telephone Strike At Glance

By The Associated Press
Telephone exchanges picketed Friday in Dallas, Beaumont, San Antonio, Austin, Amarillo, Fort Worth, Houston. Striking union: Association of Communication Equipment Workers (independent) affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers Union. Asking wage increase. Struck Wednesday. Total about 450 in Texas. Union affected: Southwestern Telephone Workers Union, also independent and an affiliate of the NFWU. Not involved in strike, but workers will not cross ACEW picket lines. About 10,000 in state. Results: Dial systems continue to operate, but all operator-assistance calls, such as long distance, information, etc., halted. Maintenance also stopped, and phones breaking down may not be fixed. News wires, radio wires, etc., still operating. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company management attempting to continue service on an emergency and priority basis. The ACEW strike is not against Bell Telephone.

Midland citizens could telephone in the city and to area cities Friday but longer distance calls through toll centers in Dallas, Amarillo, and other cities could not be put through. In the large cities employees, who are union repair members, were picketing and the picket lines were honored by other employees. Midland had been notified Thursday night the toll centers would be out-of-service Friday. Emergency calls went through.

Funeral For Suzanne Conducted In Chicago
CHICAGO—(AP)—For the last time, little Suzanne Degnan was brought Friday to the greystone church where in life she knelt and prayed. Victim of one of Chicago's most fiendish crimes—the six-year-old first grader was borne into St. Gertrude's Church in a simple white casket, carried by six boy pallbearers, schoolmates in Sacred Heart School which she attended. In the age-old rites of the Roman Catholic Church, the bier was met at the door by the pastor, the Rev. George Kearney, who celebrated "The Mass of the Angels" for the little parishioner who only a few weeks ago portrayed an angel in a school Christmas pageant. Police Eph. James Schwartz placed at 300 the number of persons gathered outside the church when the funeral cortege arrived. The church began filling with mourners, sympathizers and curious on an hour before the funeral party arrived. Most of those who had assembled outside the church followed the casket inside. Behind the pallbearers were the grief-stricken parents, James and Helen Degnan, both 36, and another daughter, Betty, 10.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines final forecast of demand for Texas crude oil for February is 1,890,000 barrels daily. The commission was notified by Mines Director R. R. Sayers late Thursday.

Disproportionate Power

At the recent Labor-Management Conference in Washington, John L. Lewis minimized the present wave of strikes and pooh-poohed at the alarmists by pointing out that only 500,000 of 50,000,000 workers were out at that time. But of course that wasn't the whole story, as Lewis and all other union leaders know well enough.

It isn't hard to visualize what a prolonged strike of 200,000 meat packers could do to the eating habits of this country, to Europeans who are depending on shipments of meat from this country, and to the farmers and ranchers who raise that meat.

The secretary of agriculture has warned of a feed shortage. And if stock should have to feed for any length of time after it is ready for market, this feed obviously would be wasted, and the stockman's profits would go glimmering.

It is just as easy to visualize the industrial paralysis which could follow a prolonged strike of steel or coal workers.

Time was when one-hundredth of the country's labor force off the job would have made no appreciable difference in the country's state of economic health. But in this day of mass production and swift mass distribution by great corporate industries, the story is decidedly different. The workers in these industries possess a power far out of proportion with their numerical strength. And the leaders of these workers are pressing their demands for higher wages through a very intelligent and carefully calculated exploitation of that power, no matter how many disarming statistics Lewis may produce.

STOP JOHN CLAY!

By Lionel Mosher

THE STORY: Pay Tudor asks Pike to leave THE SADDLE-BACK. Hitt, the desk clerk, tells him that Mr. Bateman, the librarian, had called to see him while he was out. Pike tries unsuccessfully to phone Mr. Bateman.

XI
SOMEONE had put out most of the lights. Pike would rather Hitt didn't see him—or Roger Bland. But he wasn't going to creep out. He walked quietly across the lobby, reached the broad veranda, and went down the steps.

Here some instinct made him cautious. He turned in close by the porch and stood behind a cluster of evergreens. He waited and listened. And sure enough, the door opened, feet sounded on the porch and someone came down the steps.

It was Bland. He padded across the lawn and Pike could see him craning his neck and staring ahead into the darkness.

When Bland reached the road, Pike moved out from behind the shrubbery and followed him. Something prompted Pike to look back. There in one of the windows he saw a white face peering out with hands cupped around the eyes. Lesley Hitt.

Pike passed the rose trellis. The road dipped and a cool damp breeze came out of the woods. Pike kept 50 yards between them. He listened for cars. Once Bland looked around, Pike stepped into the shadow of a big spruce tree. He waited a few seconds, then came out. Bland was gone.

Pike started along the road again. The sound of his feet on the dirt highway seemed unnaturally loud. Then he heard a soft and stealthy sound in the trees. Rain.

Pike turned up his collar and walked a little faster.

The rain began to run off the brim of his hat. Pike could feel it seeping through his coat across gers in his mouth and stared in the darkness at the divan. He could feel a tingling in his scalp. Someone was on that divan. Someone lying full length on his back. "Mr. Bateman," he said.

In the silence that followed he could hear a clock ticking somewhere. He went over to the divan. He leaned down and put his ear close to the man's lips. He was not breathing.

Pike lit another match. He held it over the man's face. It was Bateman, all right and his face was still and white. He blew out the match.

A bell rang. The telephone. Pike turned and it rang again. Somewhere in the opposite corner of the room. It rang a third time and the sound of that bell lifted the hairs on the back of his neck.

He crossed the room and found the instrument. He picked it up and listened. He could hear someone breathing on the other end of the line.

"Hello," a voice said. It was a man's voice, muffled, indistinct, but filled with a sharp urgency.

Pike tried to think where he had heard it. He heard a little whirring sound somewhere and a clock began to strike.

"Hello," the voice said again. "Hello," is that—

The clock went on striking and Pike put the receiver back on the hook. He regarded the phone sorrowfully. That was a damned fool thing to do—answering the phone like that.

He wiped the headset with his handkerchief.

Two got to get out of here, he thought. But I'd like to know what killed Bateman. And who. He wished he dared show a light. He went back to the divan again. He lit his third match and gazed searchingly into that dead face.

There were no marks of violence, no sign of blood. The eyes were open, the lips drawn down. And the toupee was a trifle askew.

That toupee now. Would he have had it on if he hadn't been expecting someone?

There was a sound outside. A car door closed. Someone was coming up the steps.

The match burned his fingers. He dropped it. Pike put his fin-

America's Card Authority

A new event, the United States open individual championship, was inaugurated at the national tournament this year. For many years the American Contract Bridge League has conducted the Masters individual world championship in which 36 outstanding players are invited to participate. The new event drew 124 players, and was played in two sessions. It was won by Theodore Samuel of Easton, Pa. Individual tournaments are difficult to play in, because each participant plays a different partner and against a different set of opponents each round.

Various results were obtained on today's hand. Over one club, some players bid four diamonds. At other tables, South opened the bidding with one spade, which kept East and West out of trouble. At one table, East bid two no trump over one club, and with a spade opening, East and West took 13 tricks. At Mr. Samuel's table, East and West got into a four-spade contract. If South had opened a club, the contract would have been made, but with the ace of hearts opening, three heart tricks were cashed immediately. Then Mr. Samuel made a fine play. He led the deuce of diamonds right into the long diamond suit in dummy. You can see that it was then impossible for declarer to make his contract.

Wanting To Be Real Cowboys, Washington Lads Head For Texas

WASHINGTON—(P)—If Eddie (I Want To Be A Cowboy) A. Cox, 16, will just come home he won't have to go back to school next fall and he can join the Navy.

That's straight from his dad, George E. Cox. Eddie and a friend, Harold Lichtenberger, departed from home last Saturday, leaving a note saying they were headed for El Paso, Texas, and hoped to be cowboys on the ranch of Sammy Baugh, pro football star.

Cox, reporting his wife had become seriously ill since their son's departure, said Friday, "If he'll come home I promise him he won't have to go back to school next fall—he'll be 17 then—and I'll let him join the Navy."

'Goodwill To Men' After Christmas

The post-Christmas story of belated "goodwill to men". Joan Williams of Midland lost her wallet December 10 with about $40 in it.

There was no message. Here's the Christmas angle: the box in which the wallet was mailed had a Merry Christmas message on it.

Veneral Rate High Says Army Doctor

"If the citizens of Midland knew the facts about venereal disease here, they would do something about it," Lt. Col. Fred W. Hartzwick, commanding officer of Midland Army Air Field Hospital, told Junior Chamber of Commerce members at a meeting Friday noon.

So revealing and backed by statistics was the colonel's talk, the Jay-Cees voted to petition the City Council to employ a full-time public health officer and give the police department more power in picking up infected persons.

"The incidence of syphilis is so high among pickups in Midland, it is alarming," the Army doctor brought out.

He gave a comparison between Midland and Odesa, figures of infection and what had been done about the diseases and commended Odesa's enforcement and correction program.

The colonel's talk was packed with figures and facts. It brought out a lively discussion among Jay-Cees.

Midland Produces Showy Saddles

A Saturday Evening Post editor and his wife are going to sit on two of about the best saddles ever made. And the saddles come from Midland.

How it came about: Charles Roripaugh of Midland has a friend, who is Erle Stanley Gardner, the famous mystery story writer, and he wrote Roripaugh to arrange to get him two real Texas saddles for the magazine executive and his wife who will visit Gardner's ranch at El Sinore, Calif.

Roripaugh placed an order with T. Paul Barron Saddlery of Midland for "two of the best."

Friday the fine leather saddles were ready to be shipped to California.

They present an interesting study in saddles from the one Rancher Roy Parks had in the early cattle days around Midland.

The new saddles have special canopies with tapering effect and fancy hand tooling, flower stamping, toe fenders, and sheepskin cushioning.
