Nation Observes National Hospital Day Sunday With Tributes To Staffs

Midland Hospital To Build 16-Bed Addition

Dr. James M. Devereux, Dr. Homer B. Johnson and Dr. Doyle L. Patton have purchased the Western Clinic Hospital from Dr. L. W. Leggett and have assumed management of the institution. The policy of providing an open staff hospital with courteous, efficient service is maintained.

The new owners have announced that construction will begin within a few days on a new addition to the present building, and that upon its completion 16 beds will be added to the hospital.

Space will be provided for all obstetrical, surgical and critically ill cases, they announced. No time limit is set for the stay of obstetrical cases, they said.

Because the patient's welfare has the first consideration, the doctors have asked all visitors to strictly observe visiting hours established for the hospital. Hours are from 3 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 8 p. m.

J. W. Erickson is business manager for the Western Clinic Hospital, and Agnes E. Foelker, R. N., is superintendent of nurses.

Recognition Given To Medical Profession

Sunday is National Hospital Day. On the 126th anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, founder of modern hospital procedures, hospitals throughout the nation are being honored for their provision of medical services, their research in preventative medicine, and for their part in making care economically available to persons to all walks of life.

Recognition is being given to the doctors, the nurses, Blue Cross volunteer workers, technicians, and administrative personnel for their devotion to duty and their loyalty to the cause of helping alleviate the sufferings of mankind.

National Hospital Day this year is observed on Mother's Day. Twice as many births took place in hospitals during 1945 as in 1936, and hospital care, in general, increased 15 per cent during that period.

A hospital conscious America points with pride to its hospitals for the way they have carried on despite handicaps in recent years, and for the progress they now are making.

Police Career Tops For Girls Says Chief Of N. Y.'s Lady Cops

By ADELAIDE KERR AP Newsfeatures Writer

The blonde sat in the Hell's Kitchen police station on a bitter winter day in 1911, wrapped in sealskins and silence. Days of grilling had failed to shake her story calm or extract a word of evidence concerning a dope smuggler's murder. The inspector, exasperated, strode out to the matron's desk.

"I wish you'd talk to that dame and see if you can't get something out of her," he said to Mary Agnes Sullivan, named for a nun, born a Sullivan, widow of a Sullivan and former traveling saleswoman, who became a police matron so that she could live in New York with her small daughter.

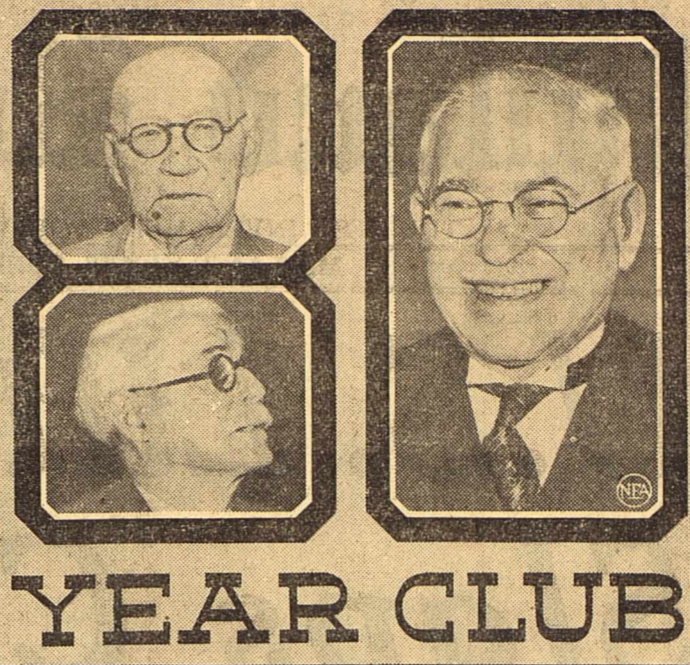

Mary Sullivan walked into the room, sat down beside the blonde, talked to her woman to woman and gradually pulled from her the evidence that convicted the slayer. Thus—in a day when there were no New York police women—was born the career of America's best known policewoman, who retired in mid-April, after 35 years service as director of the New York Policewoman's Bureau of 195 lady cops.

More Police Women. "And many there be many more policewomen—not only in New York, but all over the world," says 64-year-old Mollie Sullivan, who springs from a family of policemen and holds three honor medals for distinguished detective service. It's a fine career for a woman. Of course it's no job for anybody who's simply seeking excitement, because you have to work hard and always be on your toes. But you have the satisfaction of knowing you're adjusting homes and helping mend lives.

"A number of our policewomen are assigned to the missing persons or juvenile aid bureaus, the pickpocket, shoplifting or narcotic squads. Women make fine detectives because of their intuition, their understanding of human nature and their patience. They try to prevent crime as well as control it."

At the time she resigned her saleswoman job to become a policewoman, her old boss said in horror, "That's no job for a lady!" Since then Mary Sullivan has been

(Continued from Page 1) Workers Union with 1,500 members said they would not return to work, "nothing that their members can begin drawing state unemployment compensation next week."

"We have been out this long and there is no reason to return to work now," said Oliver Pauley, president of the Scalp Level, Pa., local.

Another veteran miner said the union's historic policy of "no contract, no work" would be followed by the miners at Covedale, Pa. Nevertheless, a widespread return to work is expected in other areas where agreement is reached on payment of any eventual contract increases retroactive to the date of work resumption. Local unions balloted on the proposal.

in many a spot that was no place for a lady.

She had herself committed to jail on a false charge in order to scrape acquaintance with a suspected murderer and collect the circumstantial evidence on which she was later convicted. She lived for weeks with a gangster's opium-smoking moll to collect information on the murder of Herman Rosenthal, shot down in front of a New York hotel. She moved into the suite of a killer's wife to learn her peculiarities of speech—and later mimicked her on the telephone so well that she learned the killer's hideout and thus brought about his arrest.

The most hair-raising of her experiences were the evenings she spent in a Harlem dive to collect evidence on a white slaver. Wearing mulatto makeup, decked in dime store jewelry and accompanied by a negro "boy friend," she gave the signal that filled the house with detectives. So perfect was her makeup that, when she entered the station house later with the prisoners, the captain failed to recognize her and said, after one look at her gaudy array, "Stand over there, lady, and keep quiet."

Determined to publicize the famous Midland Rodeo, May 30-June 2, in typical prewar style, Midland boosters will take to the road May 22 and 23 to boost the world-championship event and to invite all citizens of West Texas to attend the big Midland attraction.

The two-day tour, sponsored by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be made in a new streamlined 31-passenger bus furnished by the Midland City Lines. The good-will trippers will travel approximately 700 miles while visiting some 30 West Texas cities. A night stop will be made in San Angelo.

Leaving Midland at 7:30 a. m. May 22, the boosters will visit Odessa, Kermit, Wink, Monahans, Pecos, Barstow, Pecos (lunch), Fort Stockton, McCamey, Rankin, Big Lake, Barnhart, Mertzon, and San Angelo (night stop).

Cities visited the second day will include Bronte, Blackwell, Sweetwater, Roscoe, Lorraine, Colorado City (lunch), Snyder, Post, Tahoka, Brownfield, Seagraves, Seminole, and Andrews. The chartered bus will arrive back in Midland at 7:35 p. m. May 23.

Entertainment Features. The goodwillers will present entertainment features and will distribute rodeo literature at each stop. A police escort, and a Dunagan sound truck will lead the big bus.

The bus tour is being made in addition to the Midland acreade which also will visit many West Texas and New Mexico cities in the interest of Midland Rodeo.

Thirty-one reservations will be sold for the bus trip, the reservations to be made on a first come-first served basis. John B. Mills, Ted Thompson, Clyde Garrison and Newnie Ellis comprise the reservations committee. Fare for the two-day tour is $9 a person.

Clint Dunagan and Bill Collins are general chairmen of the tour. Alfred Petty and Jack Ellington are members of the schedule committee.

In prewar years, Midland Jay-Cees annually sponsored rodeo advertising tours, accomplishing desired results in bringing thousands of visitors to Midland's annual celebration.

Jay-Cees boosters really will have something to boost in this year's Midland Rodeo which will surpass all previous shows. Officials of Midland Fair, Inc., promise the most outstanding rodeo performance in the Southwest.

Top cowhands, the roughest stock and experienced officials assure patrons of ample entertainment, with thrills, spills and fun for all. A big horsemen's parade in downtown Midland at 4 p. m. May 30, will officially open the four-day celebration.

Evening performances will be held May 30 and 31 and June 1 and 2, with an afternoon performance scheduled June 2. Tickets will go on sale late this week.

Tennis Club Will Be Re-Activated

The Midland Tennis Club, inactive during the war, will be re-organized at a meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the county courtroom. Old members are urged to attend and prospective new members are also asked to the organization session.

Former President W. W. Rogers is arranging the meeting. He may be reached at telephone numbers 1184 or 1188-J.

In previous years the tennis club offered recreation and sport to many Midlanders. It sponsored tournaments and fostered tennis in the city.

1,500 AMARILLO STEERS SHIPPED TO CORNBELT AMARILLO —(AP)—Shipment of 1,500 head of two-year-old steers was scheduled Saturday from the Matador Ranch, near Channing, Texas, to the north for fattening. Operators of the ranch estimate between 8,000 to 9,000 head of cattle will be shipped this year.

Kleberg's Assault Turns On Steam To Win Preakness

King Ranch Comet Duplicates Dad's Victory At Baltimore

BY SID FEDER
PIMLICO RACE TRACK, BALTIMORE — (AP) — Assault committed murder again in the Preakness Saturday, just as he did in the Kentucky Derby last week.
The club-rooted comet from Texas turned on the steam after three quarters of a mile and hustled home a neck to the good in this richest race in history.
And just as he did it before a record crowd last week at Churchill Downs—largest in turf history at more than 100,000—he strutted his stuff this time before the greatest throng ever to see a horse race in Maryland, 2,370.
In winning the high-priced race Assault paid $4.80, $3.10 and $2.20. Lord Boswell coming in second paid $3.10 and $2.20 while Hampden paid $2.30 to show.
There were none of the alibis for any of the others this time as there were last.
The sleek sturdy Lord Boswell was running clear all the way, and although he practically set fire to the stretch to come from next to last in the field of ten and run over the others to wind up second, he wasn't good enough to overhaul the Texas terror.
And Hampden, the Delaware dandy, closed up to third — four lengths and a neck away.
But the kid from the wide open spaces proved to be a chip off the old block once more.
For, it was just ten years ago that Assault's daddy, Bold Venture,

The girls in the Midland City Softball League wear T-shirts, and well, they are better than sweaters, and thousands of Midlanders are out to see them perform every Wednesday night.
—SL—
Midland can lay claim to something. For where else in the wide, wide world do softball umpires wear pistols. One does here. Don't say he has to, but he does, nevertheless.
The catch: he is Motorcycle Officer Opp. And he deserves a great big hand for helping the boys and girls of the softball circuits out. He's out there to keep order and so he just joins in the fun.
—SL—
It's getting hard on other umpires these days, however. Jim Carlsoh, Continental Airlines executive, worked a game the other night, and when it was about over made this sage comment:
"Boys, this is my first appearance as an umpire in your league and incidentally this is my last."
—SL—
Dell Morgan, coach of Texas Tech, will be in town Thursday night. He is coming down to talk to ex-students and alumni at a big supper at the Ranch House. Knowing Gentleman Dell we would say he wouldn't be afraid of talking to some husky ends and backs at all, while here who want to "study" at TT next fall.

ROUNDUP! UP THE STRAYS
Some gal lost her wedding band around first base the other night and the game was stopped to find it. . . Luckily it was found in about nothing flat by the Ump Red Petty. . . It was a fourth night when the JayCees played Equitable. . . The insurance fine had two casualties, Wilson sustained a leg injury and Saint got a busted ear. . . JayCees are angling for some "inter-sectional" games at Odessa. . . There is an adage about mentioning a no-hit game before the final out is made. . . This old jimx sure husky ends, hexed Pierce first and then it got Jess Hart. . . So when a no-hitter is in prospect, don't talk about it or else the Gremilins will prevent it. . . Watch for Ed Metzger, Midland athlete, getting married one of these days soon. . . The Midland Bulldogs have a batch of new football equipment coming. . . 3-AA outfits are in the midst of winding up spring football drills. . . And many hopes for next fall are being packed away in the mothballs and sweatshirts. . . Branding strays with SL.

Assault's daddy, Bold Venture, danced home in the Derby, then repeated in the Preakness.
But while Bold Venture broke down after nailing the two jewels in the triple crown—and had to retire—there was nothing wrong with Assault after his work Saturday that a good meal didn't fix up just fine.
Ahead for the Chocolate champ, lies the third gem in the crown — the Belmont—three weeks hence.
And unless he gets a sudden attack of measles, or some such thing, he looks like death-and-taxes to become the seventh horse in the book to put that crown on his brown mane.
He was the tenth horse ever to win this Derby-and-Preakness double. Never before has any double runner up the cash register like this one.
The biggest pot of gold ever put up for a horse race was waiting at the finish line for the four who got home "fustest with the mostest"—a total of $136,220, compared to the previous high of $136,220 for last winter's Santa Anita Handicap.
Assault Gets $99,120
Of this, Assault picked up a winner's slice of $99,120, which included a $2,500 nominator's award for his owner, Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., owner of the million-acre King Ranch of Texas, where the Lone Star sizzler was born.
Tacked onto his $96,400 Derby pay check, this gave him $195,520 for the double, $61,720 more than Stage Hand put in the bank for his hitherto record two-race, take-home pay for the Santa Anita Derby and Handicap back in '38.
It was more than three times as much as the $64,050 Assault's daddy—who was sold to Kleberg for $40,000 after his racing days were over—got for the same twin win just a decade ago.
All told for his two seasons of racing, the flier with the deformed foot—the result of an infection as a youngster—now has $235,900 in the bank.
The jammed, willing colorful throng, which braved intermittent showers during the morning and early afternoon, poured into the mutual machines $446,140 on the Preakness alone.
When the ten horses marched out on the track for the mile and three-sixteenths scramble, you wouldn't have given Assault much for looks.
With strips of tape on his left foreleg and right hind leg, he was as patched up as an old inner tube.
Lord Boswell Starts Slowly
Hampden got into some close company in the first bit of running, but not enough to have any effects on the race, while Lord Boswell made his usual slow start and Knockdown moved right up in the fight.
Wee Warren Mehrtens, the Brooklyn jockey, hustled Assault up fairly close to the leaders right from the word go. Then, after the field had moved half way down the back-stretch, he decided it was time to go away from there.
So, off they went—the Texas terror and the Brooklyn accent. They were in front and winging by the time they headed into the stretch/turn, as Lord B started his move and heady Eddie Arcaro gave Hampden the word to pick up his anchor and sail.
Just outside of the sixteenth pole, Mehrtens saw Lord B zooming up. He flicked Assault one flick with his bat—and the Texas terror didn't like it a bit. Actually, he ducked in, and the whip didn't make him go a bit faster.
"Man, he really scared me when he ducked," Mehrtens admitted later. "That's why I was so white in the winner's circle."
How They Finished
After Hampden came Knockdown, another four lengths farther back.
Behind him was Almond and trailing back of him in order were Natchez, Lovemenow, Wee Admiral and Marine Victory last.

Texas Wins Conference Track Title

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — The University of Texas defended its Southwest Conference track and field championship here Saturday by cashing in on second, third and fourth places.
Getting only three firsts, the Longhorns wound up with 53 3/4 points to Texas A&M's 46 1/2. The Aggies gained five firsts.
Baylor nosed out Rice—22 1/2 to 20 1/4—for third place. Arkansas ended up fifth with 17. Southern Methodist was next with 12 and Texas Christian was last with four.
Johnny Zeigler, Texas A&M distance star, took high point honors with wins in both the mile and two-mile runs. August Erfurth of Rice was runner-up with all 1/4 as Bill Martinson, Baylor's all-around star, faltered.
High north winds slowed down the speeders with the record-tying sprinters of Friday, when Martinson and Allen Lawler of Texas both ran 100 yards in 9.5, getting only 9.9 in the century. Lawler won it with Aubrey Fowler, Arkansas dark-horse, overtaking Martinson at the tape for second.
The 440-yard dash duel between Art Harnden of A&M and Desmond Kidd of Texas was the feature of the afternoon with the Aggie besting the Longhorn in the dash, then beating him to the tape in the anchor leg of the mile relay.
James Joyce of Texas almost overtook Zeigler in the mile.

R-T Beats Midland Hardware, 3-2, In Thriller To Take Lead

BY TANNER LAINE
When two mighty good softball teams play, one of them has got to win.
It was The Reporter-Telegram Friday night as the press gang beat Midland Hardware, 3 to 2, in a city league thriller the huge crowd won't forget for a long, long time.
The victory gave the press gang the undisputed lead in the Blue division.
Say for the Hardware boys, who outhit the newsmen, 4 to 3, Friday night and who beat the Reporter in the season opener, 7-6, they were matching the newspaper lads play by play until the end.
It was toe-to-toe pitching all night by A. T. Pierce of the R-T and Jess Hart of the M-H. These two smoky moundsmen just wouldn't quit. They were stung with the hits and both climbed out of several bad holes with a lot of stuff. Pierce whiffed 13 batters. Hart struck out five.
The Reporter-Telegram got out in front in the first inning with Messier walking, stealing, and his runner rolling in for a score. The papermen went hitless until the sixth. Then Pierce, first up, hit a homer. Yarbrough grounded out and Jones hit, followed by Morrow, who singled. Jack McKnight flew out to left field and Charley Forest was thrown out at first.
In the seventh they added another tally. Forest, first up, struck out. Messier walked again and his runner scored on Pierce's hit after R. McKnight flew out to left. Yarbrough was caught out by the first baseman to end the inning.
Hardware Hits
Midland Hardware got two clean bingles in the second, a Texas leaguer by Dub Brown and a piker by Barber but these men died on base. They got two men on base again in the fourth but the side was retired when Keith Morrow caught Critz's high fly.
The scoring for the Orange Shirts came in the last inning. Shoemaker, first up, struck out. Birdsong walked and Jess Hart poled him in with a solid smack. Jay Hart hit a long one out to center but it was nabbed. Brown struck out, walked away from the plate then ran to first but too late. That was it.
Jess Barber who got two fine hits was ejected from the game in the sixth inning, following his "argument" and fistcuffs with the umpire after a called strike out.
The two good clubs, cream of

Yankees Snap Boston Sox's Winning Streak Four Short Of League Record

NEW YORK — (AP) — The spectacular winning streak of the Boston Red Sox was snapped at 15 Saturday, four short of the American League record, as burly Tiny Bonham pitched the New York Yankees to a two-hit victory, 2 to 0.
Bonham was such a complete master of the situation as he mowed down the formidable array of Boston sluggers, inning after inning that in the late stanzas the crowd of 53,286 seemed aware that the slightly tainted run the home club scored in the third inning and Tommy Heinrich's home run into the right field stands in the fifth would be enough.
The crowd aimed its vocal blasts primarily at Ted Williams, the Red Sox great slugger who for the second straight day went hitless.

Week's Building Permits In City Total $125,650; For Year, $1,276,800

Six resident projects, each for two or more structures, featured the building picture in Midland last week when permits totaled $125,650 for many dwellings.

Phillips Petroleum Company took out seven permits totaling $30,500 for residences of the $4,000, $4,500 and $5,000 classes. These will be built at 2103 and 2105 Holloway Street, and at 2100 to 2108 College Avenue. The residences will be four five and six room structures. Schlumberger Well Surveying Corporation will build three frame duplexes costing a total of $21,000 at 407 South C Street and 908 and 910 West Washington Street. The structures, which will be pre-fabricated, will be 58 by 29 feet each.

Midland Land and Investment Company took out permits to build three residences at 1800, 1802, 1804 West Washington Street. Cost of each will be $4,000. They will be five-room frame structures measuring 32 by 36 feet.

A&L Housing Company will build a $10,000 residence in the Park Hill Addition, a six-room brick and tile structure; and a $4,500 five-room residence of frame and stucco at 1905 West Illinois.

Arresting Idea

Evidently deciding that she'd do all right in a pinch, Los Angeles film star Lynn Merrick, above, as honorary police chief for their annual police show.

Shell Oil Company obtained permits to build two residences, one at 1406 West Michigan Street, costing $5,500. It will be a frame house with asbestos siding and will measure 42 by 26 feet, with a one-car garage attached. The other will be at 1404 West Michigan, costing $5,500 also.

Other Permits

J. C. Velvin received two permits to build a $7,000 residence at 504 East Broadway Street and a $6,500 house at 1603 West Louisiana Street. The larger one will be a six-room, 63 by 26 feet stucco structure. The smaller will be a stucco dwelling, 51 by 34 feet.

Other permits of the week:

C. F. Hunter, $500 to move frame structure to 701 North Dallas Street; J. P. Hinsley, $4,500 to move house out of town from 105 North Peace Street; Phil Yeckel, $1,500 to add room to dwelling at 502 Holmes Street; T. W. Pitzer, $3,000, to add two rooms and garage to dwelling at 704 Cuthbert Street; Ernest Hinson, $2,500, to move dwelling to 909 North Loraine Street and add two rooms; S. S. Wilson, $900, to move 22 by 20 foot dwelling to 401 South Mineola Street; Jim McHargue, $5,000, to build five-room, 28 by 56, frame dwelling in the North Park Hill Addition; Milford Walker, $1,500, to build 16 by 28 foot structure at 1105 South Connell Street; H. B. Schauer, $550, to build two-car garage at 500 Holmes Street; $2,500 to add a servants quarters at 1401 West Kentucky Street.

Totalling took out a business building permit to build a shed roof over a crane at 909 West Front Street, at a cost of $1,000.

1946 construction permits in Midland total $1,276,800.

Equitable Beats JayCee Club, 4-1

Equitable Life Insurance beat the JayCees, 4 to 1 Friday, but it was not very easy.

The game was knotted with no scoring and errorless ball until the fourth inning. In that frame the Insurance laddies shoved across three runs on three errors after Rhodes, first up, had hit.

Also the JayCees scored in the fourth, getting a tally on Rowland's walk with Taylor's hit.

Equitable chalked another in the seventh, getting Wilson on base on an error. He advanced and scored on Ward's single and Frazer's fielder's choice. He was injured sliding into the plate and was carried from the field.

Wilson performed a double play unassisted in the fifth inning. Schwindler made a great stop of an outfield hit ball to stymie one JayCee threat.

Henderson, the losing pitcher, hustled all the way and played a bang-up game in covering the infield.

Score by innings:

JayCees	000 100 0-1
Equitable	000 301 x-1

U. S. Requests Cut In Pig Production To Save Vital Grains

WASHINGTON—(P)—Choosing between meat for this country and grain for starving lands, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson Saturday night asked farmers to produce 10 per cent fewer pigs next fall than they did a year ago.

The action, he said, is dictated by the fact that grain supplies will not be large enough to continue hog production at present levels and supply famine areas abroad.

It was taken as Stabilization Director Chester Bowles served notice to the public that the meat supply "pinch is really going to be felt next winter and spring." Meat will be more plentiful within the next few months, he reported, but then will become scarcer as a result of higher grain prices authorized in the hope of getting more grain for export.

A 10 per cent smaller fall pig crop will be reflected in pork supplies moving into meat counters next spring and summer. The reduction in total pork supplies will be considerably more than 10 per cent, however, because the coming fall pigs will be fed to much lighter weights than the 1945 fall pigs.

Anderson set the national fall pig goal at 31,500,000 head. Fall pigs are those farrowed between June 1 and December 1.

Lee Johnson To Quit Wink Post

WINK—Lee Johnson, superintendent of Wink schools since 1930, has resigned to accept a position at Phillips, Texas. He will be succeeded by R. A. Lipscomb, principal of the school, who was named superintendent by the school board.

Johnson's resignation is effective July 1. He has been connected with the Wink school system 18 years, having come here from Temple, Okla., in 1928 as head coach. A position he held until he was named superintendent.

Commercial Subjects To Be Offered In Midland

Christian Will Coach At Kermit

KERMIT—C. E. Christian, assistant coach at El Paso School of Mines, has accepted the position as head coach in Kermit High School, according to an announcement by S. M. Melton, superintendent. Christian will assume his duties here July 1.

Prior to going to El Paso, Christian was in military service as a physical education director. He was coach at McLean from 1938 to 1940, when he went to San Benito as coach. While there he coached a Class AA football team which won the valley championship in 1942. He was then coach at Borger for two years before entering service.

Christian is a graduate of McMurry College, Abilene, and is married and has two children. His home formerly was in Hereford.

Officials In Dark On Airport Recommendation

A proposed expenditure of $477,500 on an airport project in Midland, reported by a Texas newspaper as having been recommended by the Civil Aeronautic Administration in Washington, leaves city and aviation officials here guessing. No word, official or otherwise, has been received here on any proposed work on the Midland fields.

Schedule For Aerocade To Boost Midland Rodeo Is Announced

Tommie Wilson, Jr., ex-Army Air Force fighter pilot, will fly his AT-6 as an advance to the Goodwill Aerocade, which will advertise the annual Midland World Championship Rodeo scheduled here May 30-June 2.

Schedule of the aerocade, which will consist of about 20 planes, was announced Saturday.

Trips flown on two consecutive days, May 25 and 26, will take the flying goodwillers to 13 West Texas cities, carrying the news of the famous Midland show. This is the first time an air advertising campaign has been used for the annual world championship rodeo.

Pilots and planes from neighboring cities will participate with the Midland fliers.

Wink News Notes

WINK — Miss Doris Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Happy Howard of Wink, and James I. Reese, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Reese of Odessa, were united in marriage in a single-ring ceremony in the Community Church parlor in Kermit Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Prichard attended the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Kelley and son, Alton, of Winnipeg, Canada, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gehr in the Stanolind Camp. Mrs. Kelley is a sister of Mrs. Gehr. Several courtesies are being planned for the Kelleys, in addition to trips to points in New Mexico, and to El Paso and Juarez.

Miss Billie Marie Marsh has as her houseguest Miss Velma Goad of Dallas. Miss Goad is employed in the classified department of The Dallas News.

Miss Katherine Brown of Lubbock is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Creek Brown, and her sister, Mrs. Judean Godfrey.

Fred Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Moore of the Stanolind Camp, is at home after having received his discharge from the Navy. He spent more than two years in the Pacific.

Becker Ezell and Mr. and Mrs. Don Ezell are visiting the Ezells' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Little, in the Stanolind Camp. Becker is a student at Southern Methodist University.

Ten members of the Wink Lions Club went to Denver City Friday night to attend the installation meeting of a Lions Club there. J. B. (Woody) Woodward, a former Wink Lion, was installed as president of the new club.

Miss Mary Cashill, area representative of the Girl Scouts, met with the Wink executive council with the Wink Executive Council Wednesday night. It is proposed to divide the West Texas district and put Wink in the new Midland district. The division will make the district smaller and more financially able to obtain paid field representatives.

The Wink Study Club met for its annual May breakfast in the home of Mrs. Holle in the Sinclair Prairie Oil Camp. Mrs. Hubert Morris was co-hostess.

The federation flower, the American Beauty Rose, was used in the decorations and place cards and mint cups carried out in the May Day theme.

A delicious menu was served to Mrs. Floyd Gehr, Milton Howard, T. V. McGammon, G. A. Norton, Raymond Bagwell, J. E. Burg, L. B. Edging, Bert Page, Jr., M. N. Dow, C. E. Carroll and Joe Best, Misses Louise Creighton and Alice Hill, and Mrs. Ora Shutes, a guest of Mrs. Best.

Mrs. Harvey Kaiser Is Hostess To Members Of Belmont Bible Class

Mrs. Harvey Kaiser was hostess to members of the Belmont Bible Class Friday afternoon at her home. Mrs. W. G. Attaway conducted the lesson study from Matthew 15 and prayers were offered by Mrs. J. B. Wright and Mrs. Attaway.

Announcement was made during the business session that the next meeting will be held Friday at the home of Mrs. Ronald Gray, 600 North A.

Present were Meses. W. P. Collins, Gray, H. E. Skipper, Wright, W. M. Craft, Attaway and Kaiser.

Mother's Dress Suavely Styled

Suave drapery and lively colors enhance dresses designed for mature figures. Left, dusty rose crepe dress has a diagonally draped front folded tucked under a self-belt. Center, tunic length panels hang from cartridge pleated pockets of the navy sheer which has a pink gilet. Right, a yoked neckline and surplice closing soften this powder blue and white thistle print.

By EPIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — Dresses designed for the nation's Moms to wear proudly up the avenues on Mother's Day and to summer-long goings-on thereafter owe their snappy look to livelier colors and more provocative use of drapery.

Beige, gray and black are conspicuously absent in many New York collections. Stepping up to fill their vacated spots are dusty rose, cerulean blues, muted mauves, electric shades of chartreuse and fuchsia which are calculated to heighten skin tone, match a woman's eye or make a nubus of silvering hair.

Prints used are small, close-spaced and posed on colorful backgrounds. Some motifs are delightfully impertinent, such as the tiny mutt that jumps out of his kennel or the Pegasus that gallops out of another print. Other motifs are distinctive, as is one delicate white thistle print which, on a background of powder blue, looks like a snowfall caught under a glass paper weight.

Soft Silhouette

For prints like this one—the star of a New York collection—soft, yielding silhouettes, characterized by surplice closings, yoked hiplines and tucked skirts, are favored. Sleeves to shrug off the heat are short and necklines are collarless.

Tunic-length panels suspended from cartridge-pleated pockets are a trick for introducing the season's new fullness into dresses of perennial navy blue. Many navy sheers will surprise mothers this spring with "cosmetic" lingerie touches, as, for example, a powder-pink spun gilet, instead of the ubiquitous white neckliner.

Pink on the dusty-rose side makes a crepe dress that's the pick of the collection. The skirt, which is as saucily draped as the skirt of a riding habit, has a fold of fabric designed to sweep diagonally across the silhouette, tucked under a self-belt and fall over it into a trick cascade.

MILDRED LOUDER AND JACK ADAMS ARE WED IN MIDLAND RITES

Miss Mildred Louder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Louder of Stanton, and Jack Adams of Seattle, Wash., were married in a double ring ceremony solemnized Thursday at the Calvary Baptist Church. The Rev. Fred McPherson, pastor, directed the vows.

Margie Louder attended her sister as maid of honor and best man was Billy Louder, cousin of the bride. They will make their home near Seattle.

Mrs. L. F. Shippet Wins Low Putting Score In Country Club Contest

Mrs. L. F. Shippet won low putting score of 16 on nine holes at the Ladies Association of the Midland Country Club Friday. Mrs. Payton Anderson was winner in the blind bogie with a score of 35 for holes one, four, five, 11, 12 and 15.

Others playing golf were Meses. Gordon Bird, W. I. West, E. M. Miller, C. D. Lemley, and John House.

During the afternoon a number of the members of the Ladies Association met at the club to assist in the decorating of the clubhouse. They did upholstery work and made and hung draperies.

Those doing this work were Meses. Winston Hull, P. F. Bridgewater, Faye Cowden, George Slentz, J. P. Gibbins, L. A. Absher, Kenneth Howat, V. C. Maley, Robert Turpin, Roy Douglas, William L. Kerr, Payton Anderson, W. I. West, C. W. Murphy, Roy Minear and Bob Franklin.

Plans were made to resume the regular luncheon meetings next Friday since redecoration of the clubhouse is scheduled to be finished by that time. Hostesses will be Mrs. E. M. Miller and Mrs. J. S. Mascho. Golfers will tee off at 9 a. m. and following the 1 p. m. luncheon foursome bridge will be played.

Activities Planned For Scout Day Camp To Be Held At Cloverdale

Plans for a Scout Day Camp at Cloverdale Park on June 3, 5 and 7 and June 10, 12 and 14 have been announced by Mrs. K. C. Slough, camp chairman. The camp also was held last year.

All registered Girl Scouts and Brownies are eligible to attend. Bus transportation will be provided. Folders have been mailed to each Scout, and those planning to take part in the camping program are urged to have registration blanks and fees in the hands of Mrs. W. C. Cartwright, 601 Storey, business manager, by Monday if possible.

The need of additional workers has been stressed by Mrs. Slough. Persons qualified in first aid, and nurses aides and persons with nursing experience are needed to serve part time. If swimming is to be offered, someone with an American Red Cross life saving certificate also will be needed.

A training course for the staff of the camp was held Wednesday and Friday nights in the children's library in the courthouse, and another session will be held from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Tuesday at Cloverdale Park. Persons planning to attend the Tuesday session are asked to assemble at the library at 9:45 a. m. and Mrs. Delbert Downing and Mrs. H. L. Hawkingson will provide transportation. Miss Mary Miller, area field adviser, is instructor for the course.

Scouts of Senior Troop Five who will serve as program aides met Wednesday for a training session, and will meet again Monday in the home of the leader, Mrs. J. J. Black, at 801 West Kansas. They are Caroline Schaffer, Lois Black, Dorothy Wolfe, Peggy Whitson, Sarah Link, Betty Meriwether, Nell Cole, Royce Lee McKee, Fatsy Bray and Donna Manning. Miss Helen Cartwright, a former Scout, and Miss Francine Weaver, also will assist with the program.

Among those attending the day camp training courses are Meses. W. P. Von Oinski, Delbert Downing, E. D. Richardson, Troy Stephenson, B. J. McDaniels, Austin Flint, John H. DeFord, John Matthews, H. L. Hawkingson, and Janice Kelly, counselors; Mrs. Harold Hall, director; Mrs. Slough, camp chairman; and Mrs. Cartwright, business manager.

VISIT IN PRESTON HOME

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Preston have as their weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Flowers of Lamesa and Capt. and Mrs. L. R. Queener of Memphis. Mrs. Flowers and Mrs. Queener are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Flowers.

Rotate the usage of your sterling silver so as to bring all the pieces into use during the week.

Violin And Choir Concert End Music Week Observance

Climaxing programs for the observance of National Music Week, The Harmony Girls and The Violin Ensemble, under the direction of Wilda Drago of Eastland, presented a program varying from religious selections to lighter numbers of popular appeal Saturday afternoon in the First Methodist Church.

These musical groups have appeared in programs in many Texas cities where they won recognition for their musical ability. Miss Drago, well known violinist, has studied in Chicago, New York and Europe. In 1940 she was included in "Who's Who in the Musical World." She has given concerts in many parts of the United States and now maintains a studio in Eastland.

The opening selections were presented by The Harmony Girls. They were "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte), "Jesus, Our Lord, We Adore Thee" (James), "O Lovely Clouds" (Mozart) and "Father, Most Merciful" (Franck).

Other numbers were as follows: "The Bells of St. Mary's" (Adams), "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes" (Old English) and "Adoration" (Borowski), violin ensemble; "Steal Away" (negro spiritual), "Without A Song" (Yomans), "Wide River" (negro spiritual), "Go Down" (Continued on Page 3)

Newlyweds Honored At Barbecue Saturday At Circle Cross Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parks, Sr., entertained with a barbecue at their Circle Cross Ranch Saturday night honoring Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parks, Jr., who were married April 20 in Pampa. Mrs. Roy Parks, Jr., is the former Harriett Price of Pampa.

Approximately 350 guests from Midland, Odessa and Lubbock were present for the occasion.

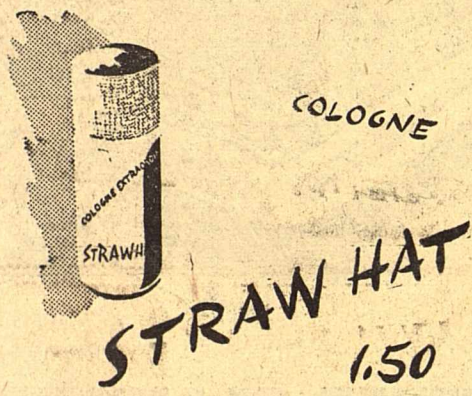

A number of entertainments have been planned in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parks, Jr. Among these will be a dance at the Scharbauer Hotel Monday evening to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Hal Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson and Buster Cole; a luncheon Friday with Mrs. C. B. Holt and Mrs. Tom Nance as hostesses; and a coffee to be given by Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer and Mrs. Essie Stafford Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parks, Jr., have just returned from a wedding trip to Mexico City and are making their home at the Circle Cross Ranch.

Given Life Membership

Mary Fern Bray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bray, of Midland, was one of the two girls at the University of Texas to be presented a life membership in the Men's Independent Campus Association.

These memberships are based on outstanding service and leadership. The other girl to receive this honor was Margie Darlek of Laredo.

HOW THE NATION'S MEDICAL BILLS ARE DIVIDED

MOST OF US are generally under the impression that doctors and dentists receive most of the money spent for medical purposes. As the charts and tables will show, this is far from true. Out of the total national medical bill for 1942, (according to Medical Economics Magazine) 57 per cent of every dollar was spent for drugs, hospitals, nurses and other supplies and services.

America's level of health is the highest in the world, but our physicians, dentists, pharmacists, hospitals, nurses and technicians are constantly striving to make that medical dollar buy MORE health for you.

PREPAID medical and hospital insurance plans, the VOLUNTARY American way, are now available to more than 100,000,000 workers... Ask your doctor about it.

Tom Sealy Is Guest Speaker At Luncheon Meeting Of B&PW Club

Tom Sealy, Midland attorney, was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the B&PW Club, Thursday in the Scharbauer Hotel. "Regardless of what you hear, Germany is an utterly defeated nation," Sealy said. "Its cities are bombed beyond repair. The Germans are well, even smartly dressed, but they are starving and their children will forever bear the mark of malnutrition."

Sealy spoke on his surprise on returning home to hear the opinion voiced that the world is on the brink of a third war. "Neither Uncle Joe nor we are prepared or want another war. Russia is much like a small boy who is going to see how far he can go without being stopped," he said.

The Midland lawyer advocated realism in U. S. foreign relations, a "put up or shut up policy." He suggested three ways for America to keep the peace: Through universal education that its citizens may analyze propaganda, by working through the UN but keeping a big stick ready, with thorns in it, and by militant Christianity.

Sealy, who recently returned to civilian life after serving in Europe with the War Crimes Commission, was introduced by Miss Betty Kurpees, chairman of the B&PW legislative committee.

Those present were Fannie Bess Taylor, Cordelia Taylor, Colysta Christian, Betty Kurpees, Ophelia Greene, Iva Noyes, Mary Louise Rhodes, Maria Spencer, Laura Jesse, Mauda Prather, Neta Stovall, Mae Fromhold, Bertha Kanney, Ernestine Hough, Flossie Vaughan, Gale Watson, Edith Higdon, Joy McCoy, Vivian Lafferty, Ann Sherwood, Myrtle Duncan, Hester Williams, Josephine Ligon and six guests, Maria Shoopman, Mrs. Jack Prothro, Mrs. Charles S. Britt, Mrs. H. A. Briggs, and Mrs. Courtney Honeycutt.

Midland Citizens To Pay Tributes To Mothers In Gifts, Deeds And Special Observances Sunday

Mother's Day
FOUNDED ON ANCIENT TRADITIONS.
PAYING HOMAGE TO MOTHERHOOD GOES BACK TO THE ANCIENT ROMANS. TEMPLES WERE BUILT IN HONOR OF TWO MOTHER-GODDESSES, HILARIA, AND ON HER FESTIVAL DAY, GIFTS WERE BROUGHT TO THE TEMPLES BY THE ROMAN PEOPLE.

IN 17th CENTURY ENGLAND the fourth Sunday in Lent became known as "Mothering Sunday. Boy and girl apprentices were permitted to spend that day with their Mothers, bringing gifts of simnel cake or plum pudding. Such a visit was called "going a-mothering."

JAMES McNEILL WHISTLER distinguished American painter 1834-1903

He epitomized all tributes to Mother in his world famous painting, "The Artist's Mother."

THE FIRST OBSERVANCE OF MOTHER'S DAY IN PHILADELPHIA, 1908, WAS SUGGESTED BY ANNA M. JARVIS WHO HAD ARRANGED A MEMORIAL SERVICE TO HER OWN MOTHER.

ON MAY 8th 1914, THE SECOND SUNDAY IN MAY WAS OFFICIALLY DESIGNATED AS "MOTHER'S DAY" EACH YEAR BY A JOINT RESOLUTION OF CONGRESS, SIGNED BY PRESIDENT WILSON.

Special tributes to motherhood will be paid in Midland churches Sunday, as the city joins the nation in the observance of Mother's Day. Special recognition will be given in some churches to the oldest and youngest mothers, and songs and sermon topics will follow the theme of the day in many of the services.

Approximately 240 Attend Junior-Senior Banquet Friday Night

Approximately 240 attended the Midland High School Junior-Senior banquet Friday evening in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel. Mistress of ceremonies, Alma Faye Cowden, presented the Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who gave an address in the theme "Opportunity." Frank Monroe, superintendent of the Midland Public Schools, gave the invocation after which the welcome was given by Miss Cowden. The remainder of the program included: Welcome to seniors, Nadene Clements; response, Virginia Dunagan; vocal selection, Patsy Lou Arrington; and piano solo, Bobby Station.

Many Midlanders are expected to follow the old custom of wearing a red rose for the living mother, a white rose for the mother who has departed.

Messages expressing the love and devotion of children to their mothers will be carried in person, telephoned, telegraphed, or conveyed through gifts. Beautiful cards bearing expressions of appreciation have been mailed or will accompany gifts.

Many of the day's activities will center around the family and follow the wants and wishes of mothers.

Observance of Mother's Day was started in 1908, when Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia, who had arranged a memorial service for her mother, suggested it. By a joint resolution of Congress on May 8, 1914, the second Sunday in May was officially designated as "Mother's Day."

Cultivation of the soybean was first recorded in China in the third century B. C.

Concert -

The remainder of the program included: "Two Guitars" (Russian Folk Song), "The Blue Dance" (Strauss), "Holiday for Strings" (Rose), "I Love Life" (Mana-Zucca), "The Rosary" (Nevin), "The Old Woman in the Shoe," "Carry Me Back to the Lone Prairie" (cow-boy song), "The Alphabet" (Mozart), "I Love A Parade" (Arlen), "Liebesfrued" (Kreisler), "The Glow Worm" (Lincke) and "Ave Marie" (Bach-Gounod).

Barbara Grist was accompanist for The Harmony Girls and Martrna Jane Morehart played the piano accompaniment for The Violin Ensemble.

This program was brought to Midland through the sponsorship of the Midland Civic Music Club.

The Violin Ensemble and The Harmony Girls lived up to their reputation Saturday by presenting an outstanding program for an enthusiastic audience.

Marriage Rites Read For Opal Faryene Cook And Thomas Blanscett

Miss Opal Faryene Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cook of Midland, and Thomas Troy Blanscett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Blanscett, also of this city, were united in marriage at 6 p. m. Saturday at the home of E. J. Emfinger, 801 South Canal.

Rites for the double ring ceremony were directed by J. F. Lilley, Church of Christ minister, as the bridal couple stood before an improvised altar formed by baskets of roses and other spring blossoms.

Mr. Emfinger gave his niece in marriage. She was attired in a brown suit with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli.

Best man was Cecil Moss. A reception was held following the ceremony. Decorating the bride's table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple and seasonal floral arrangements. Miss Dorothy Whitley presided at the punch bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Blanscett will make their home at 900 South Colorado.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and is now employed at Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Midland. Mr. Blanscett recently received his release from the U. S. Navy. He was in the service four years and part of that time was spent in the Pacific War area. He is now employed at Midland Army Air Field.

Mrs. Bunk Smith of Lamesa attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a white dress with purple accessories and a corsage of white gladioli.

Air Travel Service Is Maintained Here

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablepoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducing pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. Move alive, youthful appearing and active. MIDLAND DRUG AND ALL OTHER DRUGGISTS

On the open dates Coach Milam hopes to have B squad games.

Small Talk

Monday—"Please, not the whipl! Don't do it. No, no!"

Midland High students placidly heard these words emitting from the Inner Sanctum (principal's office to some) between 8:30 and 9:00. Those students who thought Friday was "such a lovely day" were having trouble getting an admittance slip.

Tsk, tsk. What is this older generation coming to?

Tuesday—That talent scout in assembly today was mobbed after the program. Some of these crazy people who think they have talent! Of course, the broken leg I got during the scramble didn't help any.

Wednesday—Again we had the usual number of attempted suicides because the hard-prayed-for shortened periods were cancelled.

When will our teachers realize that this is NOT a prison but merely an institution for the slightly bumpy? On May 24?

Thursday—Flutter, flutter! The seniors are going around in a dither because they have so many dates crammed in their heads (supposedly) for rehearsals, class day, etc. One senior was so eager that he was seen lugging a giant-size calendar around with him. Ain't it pitiful?

Friday—I suppose that this is the proper time and place to say "Good-by." You see, this is the last "Small Talk" you'll be seeing. (Please—no signs of relief. This is serious.) I've had a lot of fun which reminds me—the juniors gave a wonderful banquet tonight. Don't worry—you freshmen and sophomores will make it some day. Thanks for making it a swell year and for laughing at my jokes—at least, attempting to.

Girls To Compete For Table Tennis Champion

The girls physical education classes have been holding inter-class ping pong tournaments. Catherine McDonough won for the third period, Sue Reeves for fifth period, and Medith Myrick for the fourth period.

Next week the winners will play for the high school championship.

Who's Who—Billye Jean

Billye Jean Jones

Brown-haired, brown-eyed Billye Jean Jones was born in Cisco March 12, 1929. "Bill" lived in Odessa, Houston, and Pampa before coming to Midland.

Her freshman year she won second place at Regional in Junior Girls' declamation and was in the all-school play, "One Mad Night."

Her sophomore year she was in the all-school play, "Family Portrait," won district in Senior Girls' declamation, and went to state in the contest play, "Eve of St. Mark."

Billye Jean was in the junior play, "Headed for Eden," was a member of the junior Girls' Trio, and sang at the Coronation. She was also drum major.

In 1946 Coronation

This year Billye Jean represented Neptune in the Coronation, was in the all-school play, "New Fires," the senior play, "Fride and Prejudice," and the contest play, "Overtones," which won third place in regional. She was chosen best actress at district and regional. She won second place in senior Girls' declamation at state. She is a member of the Quill and Scroll, the Dramatics Club, Q. V. V. D. V. V., and the Junior Music Club. Billye Jean's subjects are English, foods 21, journalism, economics, and A Cappella Choir. "Bill" says her favorite color is red and that she likes to try on shoes. Her pet peeve is getting up in the morning. Billye Jean plans to attend Baylor University next year and major in dramatics.

Junior Class Shows Talent In Assembly

The Junior Class sponsors a paid assembly Tuesday at which Bill Hamilton, master of ceremonies, served as a talent scout who presented to bring talents from Midland High School to Robert Roripaugh, movie producer, and his secretary, Margaret Doyle. The performance included: Billye Jones, Bobby Drake, Dean Cox, Jack Cox and Lawrence King in the Junior quintet singing "Accentuate the Positive"; Pat Flannigan, a trumpet solo; Pat Johnson, an acrobatic dance.

Also on the program was: Vanda Dunn giving the poem "His Most Embarrassing Moment"; a musical reading, "Counting Daisy Petals," by Patsy Arrington and Alma Faye Cowden; a negro skit by Pat Corrigan and Fred Prickett; Bill Shaw and Elizabeth Ann Cowden as jitters; a barbershop quartet by Billy Wolfe, Gordon Reigle, Robert Sutton, and Charles Spivey; and Florence Lash giving the "Twenty-third Psalm of Geometry."

The Juniors raised $47.75.

Calendar Of Coming Events

 And for exams we must study profound
 We shall toil and strain to get finished. In vain
 For we fear we might fall even yet.

P. E. Classes Hold Softball Tournament

The boys' physical education classes are now in the second half of an intra-class softball tournament. The finals will be played next week.

In the second period class Charles Sims' team won the first round. Billye Jean's team won in the third period, and Frank Shepard's team was champion in the fourth period.

Coach Earl Glassie has completed plans for next year's physical education program to be managed by six-weeks periods. The first six weeks will be devoted to touch football, the second six weeks to tumbling, the third six weeks to boxing, the fourth six weeks to wrestling, and the fifth six weeks to soft ball.

Coach Glassie hopes to decide the high school champions in boxing and wrestling and also to engage in interscholastic tournaments in these sports.

CLASSES HAVE PICNIC

The fourth period foods and clothing classes held a picnic at the park on Texas Street Wednesday.

Tea Planned For Jr. High Graduates

The fifth period freshman class at MHS is planning a tea for the graduating class of junior high school from 2:30 to 4:00 Tuesday in the dining room at the high school.

Hostesses for the occasion will be Bobbie Jean Logan and Jackie Donley. The preparation of food will be by Blanche Wells, Loretta Hall, Mary Frances Wallace, Lillie Taylor, Jeanette Watlington, Kathleen Harwell and Ruth Lester. The decoration committee is composed of Anna Mary Akire, Wanda Beauchamp, Sonya Little, and Beth Watlington.

The student council will usher the future freshmen about the building.

1946 Journalism Class Writes Annual Book

The members of the Bulldog staff have been working furiously for the last two weeks on their annual book entitled this year, "The News—As It Looks From 304."

Chapters are to be written and typed by Wednesday. The book will then be bound in tan leather with the title printed in gold on the front cover.

Chapters were by Billye Jean Jones, La Juan Dunlap, Barbara Brown, Joan Chapman, Marilyn Miller, Shirley Lones, Mary Elizabeth Collins, Mary Ann Goddard, Pat Ruckman, Barbara Cowden, John Drummond, Catherine Lee McDonough, Monta Jo Glass, Mildred Brinson, Sharon Cornelius, Edwina Hood and Dorothy Butler.

Grace Baker has spent many hours on illustrations for The News. There are to be at least 12 full page drawings to brighten the pages of this year's book.

Quill And Scroll To Initiate Four

Grace Baker, Edwina Hood, John Drummond, and Barbara Brown have been accepted into the Quill and Scroll, international honor society for high school journalists.

Miss Ruth Garden, sponsor of the J. Frank Doble Chapter, announced Thursday.

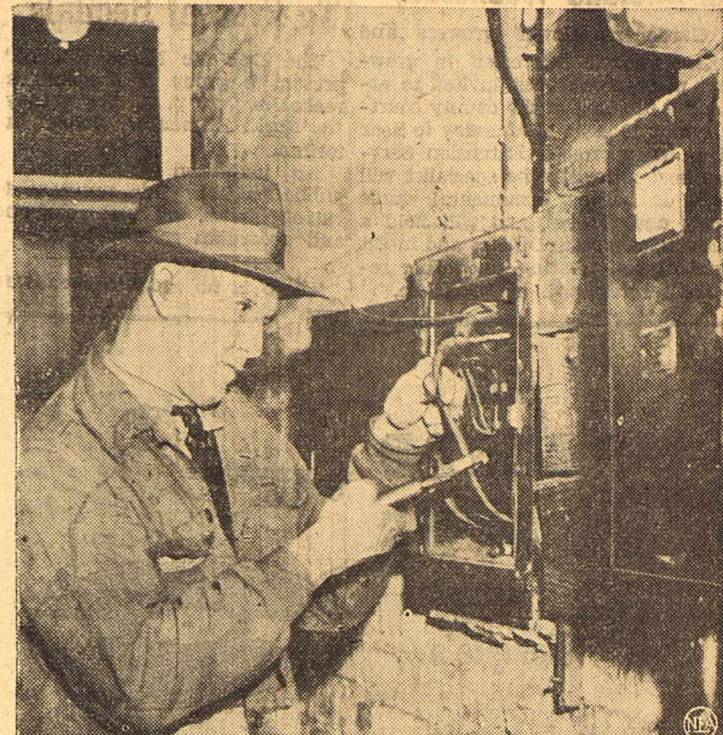

The formal initiation will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in room 304. Joan Chapman, president, will be in charge of the initiation. Monta Jo Glass, vice-president, will light the red candle signifying knowledge and will preside at the scroll. Doris Denton, secretary, will light the blue candle signifying truth. And Billye Jean Jones, treasurer, will light the gold candle signifying service.

All parents and friends are invited. Ruth Garden, sponsor, said.

'Catoico' Sent In

The final material for the 1946 Catoico was sent to the printers Thursday. The materials are not expected to be ready for distribution until some time in June. Miss Betty Crouch, librarian said.

It's 'Dim Out—Or Else!'

In a drastic move against an alleged violator of Chicago's coal strike "dim out" order, Howard Nopenz, power company employe, cuts wires to fuse box of currency exchange agency run by Anthony Calmbos.

The End

(An Editorial)

For us of the Bulldog staff and journalism class it's all over but the shouting. We wish to thank everyone in Midland High for his splendid cooperation in making it possible for the BULLDOG to be published. We especially wish to express our many, many thanks to Miss Ruth Carden—for to her patience and fortitude we owe everything—and to The Reporter-Telegram staff who so kindly prints our BULLDOG every week.

We hope that in our own journalistic way we have brought the news from Midland High to the students and citizens of Midland. Sincerely, we have tried to print the news simply and accurately, and nothing has given us more pleasure.

This is not an end to the BULLDOG, only a chapter completed. We leave it to the journalistic of '47 to continue the struggle for news cuts, typewriters and the friendly rivalry that makes journalism what it is. We have enjoyed putting the students in print this year and have deeply appreciated the help the students, faculty, and administration has given us in making our paper possible. To you we owe a debt of thanks.

Dairying Important In County Economy

Dairying is an important part of Midland County's economic structure, since it is the third largest industry of the county. Its annual income, in sales of products and in calf crops, is reported to be more than $1,000,000 annually.

There are approximately 1,500 head of dairy cattle on the county's 34 dairies, plus a large number of others on farms and ranches and owned by individuals for their own use. Estimated value of these animals is approximately $150 each.

The dairyman has invested about $800 per cow in equipment, including buildings and machinery, and the physical properties of the county's dairies totals approximately $120,000. Cost of feeding totals about 80 cents per day, and the 34 dairies expend approximately $109,500 annually.

140 Persons Employed

The 34 grade A milk producers in the county give gainful employment to 140 people, and pay out about $120,000 per year in wages. The estimated annual net income to producers is about $377,000.

Conservation Plans For Two County Farms Developed Last Week

Plans for a coordinated soil and water conservation program were developed last week on the farms of R. G. Lewis and A. C. Tienert. These plans will become part of cooperative agreements with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District. Assistance in making the plans was furnished by the Soil Conservation Service.

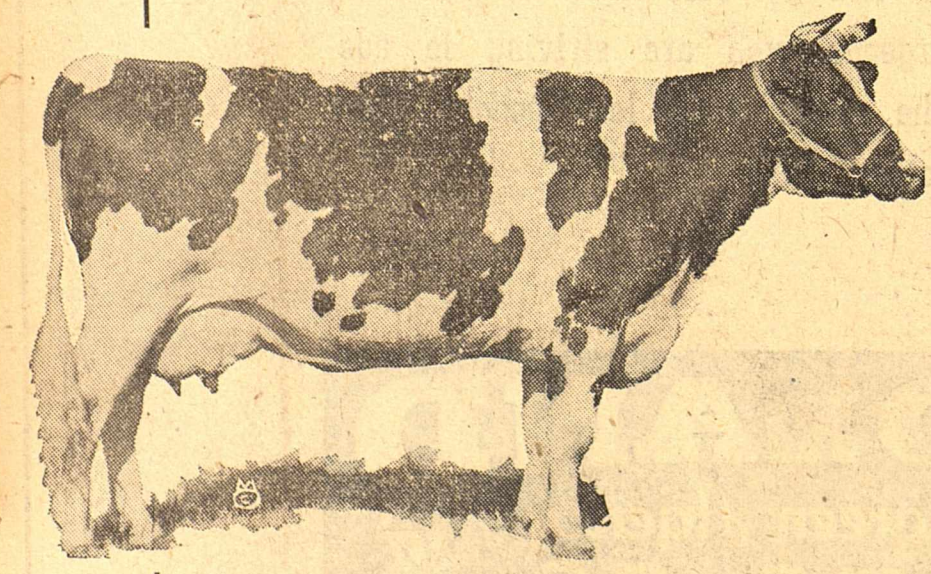

Included in the conservation plans were contour cultivation, crop residue management, and a crop rotation including a soil building crop. Lewis also plans to terrace his farm. These practices, together with other conservation measures to be applied on the farms, will help control blowing and washing and increase production by conserving soil and moisture and improving the fertility of the land.

A soil and water conservation plan was also developed on the Aldridge Estes ranch north of Midland last week. H. R. Soloman, Bessie Locklar, J. L. Patterson, Edgar Tanner, and P. P. Herring have made application to the district supervisors for assistance in planning a complete soil and water conservation plan on their farms.

Engineering surveys were completed on the H. R. Soloman farm and the J. M. King ranch.

THIS DAIRY DAY is being sponsored by the Midland Dairy Association and the Midland Chamber of Commerce for the general public as well as the people in the dairy business.

MIDLAND, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 12, 1946

SECTION THREE

Large Crowds Expected At Dairy Day Show

Visitors from throughout West Texas are expected to attend the fifth annual Dairy Day at the rodeo grounds Monday, and more than 75 head of cattle are expected to be entered in the various classes.

The event will get underway at 9 a. m., with a spectator judging contest in which everyone is eligible to compete. A special milkmaid contest will be held at 4 p. m., and a dairy products division will be exhibited.

A production contest will be an exhibit. These will be for those three years and over; two years and under three; one year and under two; six months and under one year; and under six months.

No Show Champions
A contest for the best group of four cows of any breed owned by the exhibitor also will be held. Two get-of-sire classifications, for the best three females of any age from added feature of the show.

Six classes for each of the three types of cows, Jerseys, Holsteins and Shorthorns have been set up. These are the four years of age and over, three years and under four, two years and under three, one year and under two, six months and under one year, and under six months.

The three different breeds of bulls will be divided into five one bull, have been set up, one for junior cows and one for seniors.

Grand champions, and reserve champions will be named from each division, the show group announced. No champions will be named for the entire show.

Two classes for cows of any breed have been scheduled for the production contest. These are for cows four years and over, and those under four years. The classes will be judged on milkings during a 24-hour period.

Butter, cheese and milk will be judged in the products contest.

The show will be open to the world. Owners from Dawson, Ector, Ward and other counties in addition to Midland are expected to compete.

The Dairy Day is being resumed after having been discontinued during the war. The Midland Dairy Association and the Chamber of Commerce are joint sponsors of the event.

Endaily To Judge

E. R. Eudaly of Fort Worth, former dairy specialist with the Texas

Extension Service, will serve as judge.

All cattle will be classified according to the regulation dairy classification system of excellent, very good, good plus, good and fair. Ribbons will be awarded.

Cows entered in the production contest must be in their stalls at the rodeo grounds by 4:30 p. m. Sunday, and preliminary milking will be at 5:10 p. m. All other cattle should be in the barns by 7 p. m. Sunday.

$264,000 Paid To Dairymen By Two Firms Here

Commercial dairy products firms have large investments in Midland County and provide a good source of income for the dairyman and many jobs for other persons.

The two major creameries in the county have an investment here of more than $835,000, and present plans for expansion will swell that figure considerably. They employ 80 persons and expect to increase that number within the near future.

The annual payroll at the present time exceeds $114,000 annually, and the two firms pay more than $264,000 to dairy producers each year.

Midland is a dairy products distribution center for a large area of West Texas.

The Banner Creamery annually pays approximately $159,328 to producers for dairy products. It has investments in plant and equipment here of about $750,000, employs 58 persons, and has an annual payroll of about $72,000.

The plant serves the area from Big Spring west to Pecos and to the New Mexico state line. Banner recently installed a $17,000 superplate pasteurizer here as part of its expansion program.

The Borden Company at present is paying about $104,900 to producers, and about $42,000 in salaries to its 22 employees. Its investment here now totals about $85,000, and ground has been purchased and plans are underway for the construction of a large distribution plant in Midland.

Spectators Invited To Participate In Judging Contest At Dairy Show

Ten cash awards totalling $32 will be given winning contestants in the spectators' judging event, at the annual Midland Dairy Show at 10 a. m. Monday. Five prizes will be given in an adult contest and five in a contest for children.

First prize will be $5, second $4, third $3, and fourth and fifth prizes will be $2 each in both divisions. Four classes of dairy cattle will be picked out of the entries, and the contestants will attempt to pick the best in each class.

Everyone Eligible
Anyone attending the show will be eligible to compete.

For the benefit of persons planning to enter the competition, County Agent Vernon Young has set down the characteristics upon which dairy cattle are judged. They are:

Style and general appearance (20 points): erect, clean cut head, slender neck, prominent and alert

SIMONS PLANS TO ATTEND ANNUAL DAIRY DAY EVENT
D. T. Simons of Fort Worth, secretary of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club, is expected to attend the annual Midland Dairy Day event here Monday. Other Jersey breeders from throughout West Texas also are expected.

MIDLAND MEN EXHIBITED

R. O. Brooks and V. Drake, Midland County registered Jersey breeders, exhibited some of their stock at the recent Plains Dairy Show at Plainview. They were accompanied to Plainview by County Agent Vernon Young.

eyes... straight and strong back, hips wide apart and level; long, wide and level rump; level tail setting; straight, fine-boned legs; symmetrical and well proportioned in build, rugged and large for the breed without coarseness; Jerseys, 950 pounds; Holsteins, 1,350 pounds.

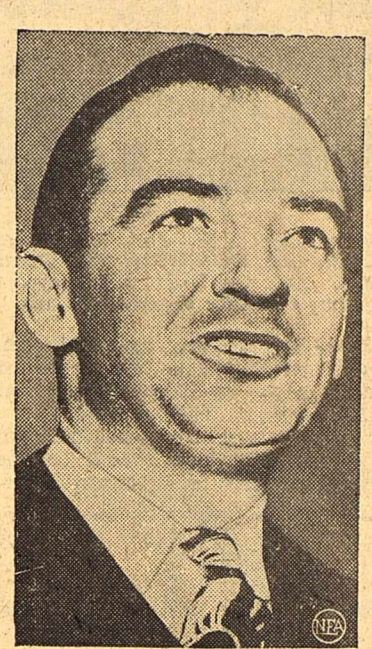

Dairy conformation (15 points): the cow should be clean cut with feminine appearance, with an absence of a tendency to lay on fat; shoulders, vertebra, withers, hips, pin bones should be prominent and free from fleshiness; loins should be wide, ribs long and wide apart; and the cow should have an active disposition with good nerve control.

Characteristics indicating constitution, vigor and condition (15 points): chest should be broad and deep with well sprung ribs; nostrils large and open; and the cow should be thrifty and vigorous, in good flesh but not beefy.

Ability to consume and digest feeds (15 points): should have large muzzle and broad mouth; mellow, loose, medium thickness skin showing good circulation and secretion, and soft hair; and a deep, wide and long, well supported barrel, ribs far apart.

Development of milk secreting organs (35 points): should have a large, pliable udder, free from lumps; extending well forward and well up behind, level on floor, not pendulous, quarters full and symmetrical. The milk veins should be large, long, crooked and branching, and the milk wells should be large and numerous, and teats should be uniform and well placed.

Gets GOP Nod

Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, was practically ignored by delegates to the state Republican convention at Oshkosh who voted overwhelmingly to endorse Circuit Judge Joseph R. McCarthy, above, of Shawano, as the party's nominee for U. S. senator. Senator LaFollette recently led his Wisconsin Progressives back into the Republican Party.

Officials Recognized

Presidents and officials of Midland County's 4-H and Home Demonstration clubs were presented in a radio program broadcast over station KCRS Friday morning.

Dairy Show Barns To Be Sprayed With DDT

Barns and cattle at the Midland Rodeo grounds will be sprayed with a 25 percent DDT solution to prevent flies during the fifth annual Midland Dairy Day, it was announced Saturday.

The spraying will be done by R. E. Mathis of the C. V. McClelland Laboratories, Los Angeles.

Owners who desire may have their cattle sprayed as they are brought in Sunday, but the spraying is not mandatory.

Mathis will have an exhibit of DDT products at the show. Williamson and Green Feed Store will cooperate.

Temporary Pasture Is Need In Late Summer

The cheapest feed for a dairy cow is good permanent pasture, according to County Agent Vernon G. Young. Temporary pastures are also needed to supplement the permanent pasture.

Sudan grass is the best temporary pasture for summer and early fall and small grain, such as oats, barley and wheat are the best for late fall, winter, and early spring. Despite the planning of permanent and temporary pastures, it may not be possible to have good green succulent pasture the entire year. The best substitute for pasture is silage, and each cow will need an average of three tons of silage per year.

Poliomyelitis epidemics usually begin in June or in early July, reach their peak in September and taper off in October.

Silent Movie Of V-2 Explosion--This Was German Rocket Bomb Test Which Backfired

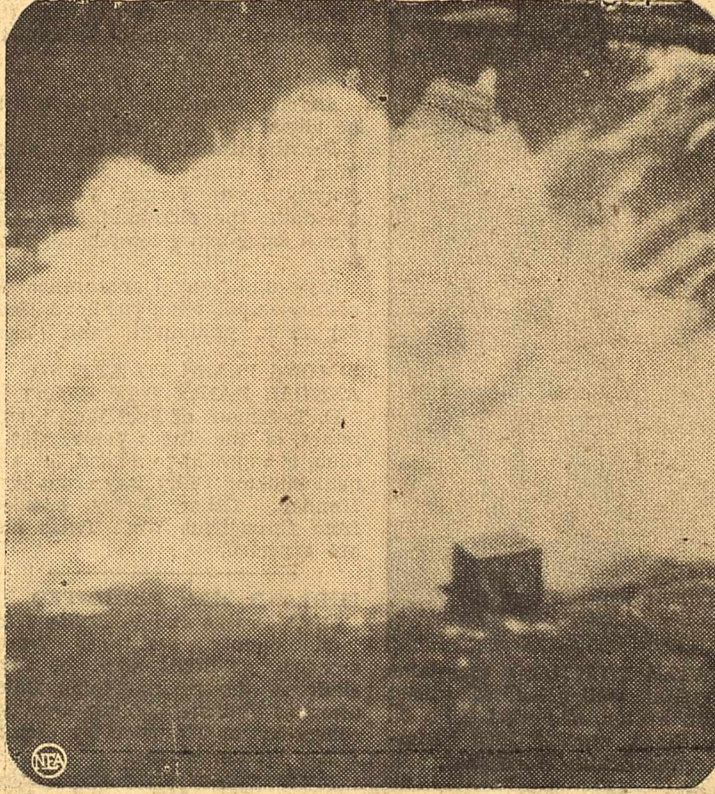

Believed to be the only pictures ever taken of a V-2 rocket bomb exploding, these Army Signal Corps photos, taken from a captured German film, show a test at a German proving ground when the Nazis were working to perfect their weapon. Here the bomb, which blew up on the experts testing it, starts its trip out of firing shaft. U. S. Army ordnance experts will test similar V-2 bomb on May 10.

A split second after launching, the V-2 which started out headed straight up, begins to fall side-wise and down. . . .

. . . Instead of speeding towards London, the bomb points its nose right back at the fetherland that dreamed it up. . . .

And winds up with a final blast that wiped out the firing shaft from which it started its flight. Tests in New Mexico are designed to improve the V-2 and eliminate imperfections that gave Germans headaches like the one shown in these pictures.

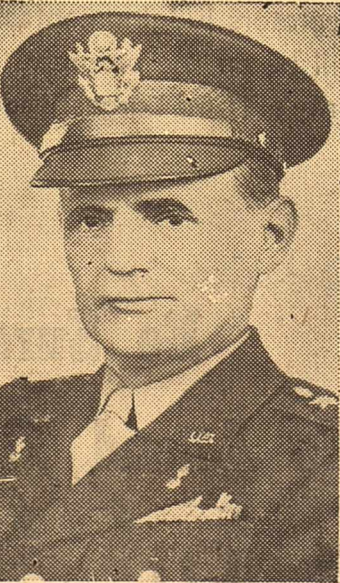

Called "Moby Dick," it can develop a forward thrust of more than 30 tons, the Navy says, and is better than one-third more powerful than the German V-2.

Defense Efforts Secret

Paralleling efforts to improve giant rockets are efforts to develop an adequate defense for them. This side of the rocket story is cloaked in great secrecy. There were frantic efforts to find a defense for these weapons when they began dropping on Antwerp and London. But it is not claimed by the Army that a single V-2 was shot down or rendered harmless by Allied counter-measures.

One V-2 already has been fired in New Mexico. The Army claims that its progress — which set a U. S. altitude record — was constantly tracked by radar. But these missiles travel at a speed of 3,400 miles per hour at times, and just what good knowing one was about to hit in a few seconds hasn't been explained in terms of defense.

To shoot down such a weapon before it hits its target would require a counter-weapon that could travel faster than 3,400 miles an hour, the experts admit. Deflection of the weapon's course by radar or by radio jamming is a possibility. And there are conjectures on a ray which could explode the rocket bomb harmlessly in the air.

Major General Barnes: He says U. S. experts have the knowledge.

Music may be termed the universal language of mankind, by which human feelings are made equally intelligible to all.—Liszt.

TO THE PROPERTY OWNERS OF MIDLAND:

The City of Midland, the Midland Independent School District and the County of Midland have employed the George G. Ehrenborg Co. of Dallas, a firm of reputable evaluation engineers, to make an evaluation survey of properties in the City, so that equalized assessment valuations may be made on all properties for the year 1946.

This survey is solely for the purpose of making tax levies according to the true value of the property involved. All improved properties will be inspected in detail and records made of such improvements. Construction costs will be made by competent engineers and land or lot valuations will be established by local citizens familiar with such values.

Industrial plants, retail stores and the various business concerns will be contacted to obtain inventories, etc., on personal property valuations applicable for the taxable year.

Upon completion of the survey, the percentage of assessment value needed to meet the demands of the taxing districts will be determined and these proposed assessment values be set up for the approval of the Equalization Boards for each of the districts. All property owners who have made renditions to the City and School and State and County for 1946, will be advised if this proposed assessment valuation differs from that rendered, and such persons may appear before the Equalization Boards to protest such proposed valuations. For this reason it is especially important that you make renditions to each of the taxing districts

We respectfully ask your assistance and cooperation with those engaged in the survey.

Signed:
FRED HOGAN, Mayor Pro-tem, City of Midland.
P. F. BRIDGEWATER, President, Board of Trustees, Midland Independent School District.
E. H. BARRON, County Judge, Midland County.

make it a necessity, says Maj. Gen. Gladeon M. Barnes, Ret., chief of the Army Ordnance Department Research and Development.

Such a rocket equipped with an A-bomb war head would be the deadliest and most effective weapon of destruction in the history of civilization.

U. S. scientists and Army ordnance experts now have sufficient basic knowledge of the principles involved to make one, Barnes declares. But it would take the urgency of war conditions to inspire enough money and effort to be concentrated on the project.

Nazis Began In 1933

At the end of the war Germany was far ahead of the Allies in the development of long range rockets. It is now known that they began intensive research on rocket weapons sometime in 1933. The results of their efforts were the destructive V-1 and later the deadly V-2 for which no adequate defense was ever discovered. The V-1 is not classed as a rocket, but its development resulted from part of the rocket research.

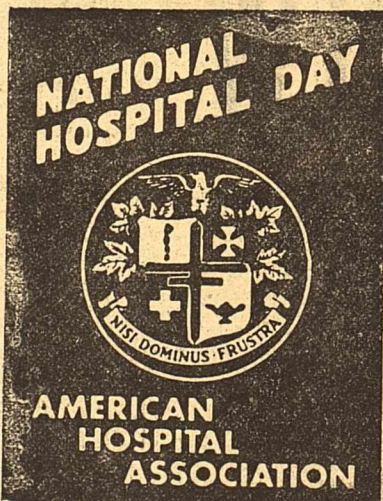

What the U. S. experts don't have complete information on is just how these rockets will behave in the air. They don't have the experience the Germans gained by the actual firing of them. In addition they hope to learn from tests just how effective radar is for tracking them and detecting them for a defense.

Exactly how many V-2s were fired by the Germans during the war is still a secret. It is admitted that about 50 per cent landed within a six-mile radius of the center of their target. London and Antwerp were the main targets. It is impossible to separate London's V-2 damage from the other ruins. But these giant missiles succeeded in almost closing the port of Antwerp for military use.

The Navy already disclosed this month the construction of the most powerful rocket motor ever built.

TODAY Is National Hospital Day

Midland is indeed fortunate in having an adequate corps of capable doctors and nurses to care for the medical needs of this section. For this we are grateful and proud.

YOUR DOCTOR

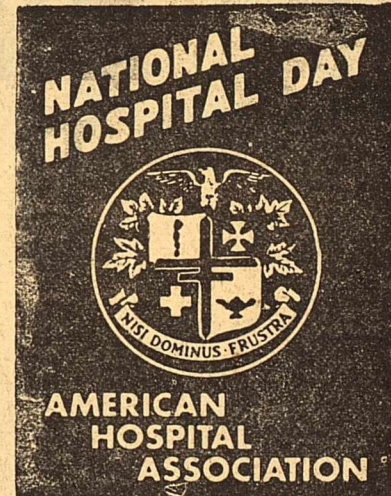

DOESN'T READ MINDS....

He has no crystal ball, either. He arrives at his diagnosis largely by what you tell him of your symptoms—and he's the one person you should never "hold out on." Information you may think unimportant may be very significant to him. Physicians are among the busiest of men. Don't make your doctor ferret out hidden facts concerning your illness! It imposes an unnecessary burden on him and may cheat you of the medical care your condition actually requires. Speak to him freely. No confidence of yours will ever be violated by your doctor.

El Paso Cowgirl Enters Sponsor Contest

El Paso's top cowgirl, Miss Eva Mae Wilken, Friday became an entry in the 1946 Midland World Championship Rodeo Sponsor's Contest.

Her entry was forwarded by E. Jay Dittmer of the El Paso Southwestern Livestock and Rodeo Association.

Miss Wilken won fifth prize here last year. She recently won first at the El Paso Stock Show and Rodeo.

She is a brownette with blue eyes, 5 feet, 3 inches tall, weighs 118 pounds and is a teller at the El Paso National Bank when not riding as a cowgirl.

Named Italy's King For Next 23 Days

Crown Prince Umberto

ROME —(P)—The Italian cabinet approved Friday the assumption of the throne by Crown Prince Umberto, but specified his powers would extend only until June 2. On that day the Italian people will decide whether to continue the monarchy. The ministers decided Umberto could sign decrees "Umberto II, king of Italy" but not use the phrase traditionally following the signature, "by grace of God and will of the people." Umberto's father, Vittorio Emanuele III, abdicated Thursday night after a 45-year reign and sailed for Egypt.

Organized Reserve Officers Will Meet

Organized Reserve Officers of Midland are called to a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday, May 20, in the district courtroom of the Midland County Courthouse.

Reserve Lt. Col. Clarence E. Bissell was instructed by Lt. Col. Wilton E. Sanders of the El Paso Military District to call the session.

More than 82 reserve officers reside in Midland. Maj. Robert A. Fasken and Maj. Preston D. Phillips, Jr., of the reserves, were asked to help Bissell arrange the meeting.

The meeting is not to be confused with that of the Permian Basin Reserve Officers organization.

OPA Heartened As House Votes Big Housing Aid

WASHINGTON —(P)— Administration hopes for the OPA soared Saturday after the House reversed itself to vote $400,000,000 in subsidies for President Truman's emergency home-building program.

Democratic leaders attributed the change to the 10-day Easter recess, which gave many members their first chance in months to find out at home how their constituents are thinking.

Speaking privately for the most part, these leaders voiced confidence the House also would about-face on price control extension which the House last month hammered down to a point where OPA Administrator Paul Porter said the agency would be without power after June 30.

The thumping Administration victory on the Housing bill broke a month long deadlock over the legislation which Truman hopes will permit private enterprise to build an unprecedented 2,700,000 homes—costing about $6,000,000,000—in two years.

Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt said of the vote: "This throws the veterans housing program into high gear."

Technically, the House action—instructing its conferees to accept a compromise $400,000,000 subsidy—sent the legislation back to the House-Senate conference committee which had been deadlocked for weeks on the subsidy issue.

The Senate earlier had approved the full $600,000,000 in subsidies requested by the President. He described that phase as the "very heart" of his program.

The money is to be used for "premium payments" to building materials producers to bring about larger production of scarce materials without a general increase in prices.

Two Killed In Mystery Explosion At Tyler

TYLER —(P)— Two persons died Friday of injuries suffered Thursday night in an explosion which wrecked the upper floor of the Plaza Hotel here.

The victims were Virginia Dennis, about 20, cashier in a drug store on the ground floor of the hotel, and F. D. Perron of Sherman, telephone line crewman.

Perron came to Tyler Thursday to supervise laying of American telephone and telegraph coaxial cable in this area.

Fire following the unexplained explosion completely gutted four rooms of the two-story hotel. Fire Chief Henry Ginn continued an investigation of the cause.

Knowing Meat Cuts Valuable To Homemaker

Ability to identify the many cuts of beef, veal, pork and lamb is of practical value to every homemaker—to every food buyer. No less important is a knowledge of the cooking method or methods best suited to each cut, since meat must be cooked according to cut for best results.

This chart will serve as a guide in selecting and cooking beef. The methods recommended were adopted following exhaustive meat cookery studies at state colleges and the United States Department of Agriculture.

In cooking meat, the degree of tenderness is the governing factor. Some of the cuts are tender and are prepared to best advantage by dry heat methods—roasting, broiling, panbroiling and frying. Others are less tender and must be cooked by moist heat—braising and simmering. Meat should never be boiled, say the authorities.

A rule of meat cookery found to be more important than any other is: "Always use low temperature." This applies no matter what cut is being prepared or what cooking method is being used.

Advantage of Low Heat
Thousands of carefully controlled tests have shown that from 15 to 20 per cent more meat is provided when it is cooked at low temperature. Furthermore, the meat is more tender, is juicier, more uniformly cooked and more flavorful.

In selecting meat cuts, it is important to remember that there is no difference in the nutritive value of the lean and fat of the less-popular cuts and the more popular ones.

New School Buildings Will Relieve Crowded Conditions Here Next Fall

(One of a Series)
Midland's school plant needs are being met with the construction, now underway, of two new elementary schools. Overcrowding conditions in the existing buildings are expected to be greatly relieved when the two new schools are opened, which officials hope will be this fall.

Units in the Midland Independent School District's system at present are the high school, the junior high school, and the north and south elementary schools, in addition to Latin-American and negro schools.

Realizing the need for additional facilities, the district started plans last year for the new buildings, and work was started about six months ago. Shortages of help and material have delayed their progress, but if these situations are eased in the near future they may be completed by the next school term.

The new structures are the South Elementary school, to replace the present old building, and the West Elementary school. They are identical in design, and will contain 10 classrooms and a combination auditorium, playroom and cafeteria.

The first five grades will be taught in the elementary schools; the sixth, seventh and eighth in the junior-high school; and the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth in the high school.

Opening of the two schools will greatly relieve classroom congestion in the existing plants, especially in the junior high school. It will also aid in providing the individualized instruction upon which modern-day education is based, because 12 additional teachers will be provided.

About 800 students now are attending classes at the junior high school. When classes start in the new buildings, the load will be reduced to about 550.

The two new buildings are of one-story brick construction. The West Elementary school is located on West Missouri Street, and the South Elementary is at Dakota and Lorraine streets in the south part of the city.

Classroom furniture of the most modern and approved design has been ordered and should arrive during the summer. Equipment for the new cafeterias also has been ordered and is expected to arrive by the time the buildings are completed.

With the opening of the buildings, one of the most pressing of the system's problems virtually will be solved.

P-47 And Mustang To Fight Mock Battle

The P-47, "Thunderbolt", will be one of the feature attractions of the gigantic two and one half hour aerial demonstration and air show being presented at the Clovis Army Air Field Sunday.

The P-47 was primarily designed as a high altitude fighter and interceptor but due to its high versatility and rugged ability it was used as a dive bomber and low altitude strafe in addition to bomber escort work.

Carrying eight 50-caliber machine guns and mounting rockets the P-47 made very long range missions on the home island of Japan from its island base on Iwo Jima.

The P-47 "Thunderbolt" incorporated many revolutionary features, namely reclining seats, for the comfort of the pilot on long range missions. It also carried an automatic pilot and a revolutionary type of radio homing device enabling a long "Thunderbolt", without the standard navigation equipment to return over 1,700 miles across the Pacific Ocean to its pin point island base.

Those attending the air show Sunday will have the opportunity to see the "Thunderbolt" engage the

New Braunfels Honors Early Pioneers Sunday

AUSTIN —(AP)— May 12 has been formally proclaimed New Braunfels Day in Texas in honor and recognition of the town's pioneers and its centennial celebration.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, who spoke at the celebration Friday, had this to say about the Central Texas city in his proclamation:

"The site of New Braunfels was selected because of the fertile soil, the beautiful region, the excellent cedar and oak woods, the good water, and the abundant water power. All these factors have contributed greatly to the town's progress and industry."

"Centennial programs have been arranged at New Braunfels for May 12, and this day has been set aside to honor the pioneer settlers of New Braunfels, who, braving danger and privations, made a respectable contribution to the development and growth of the state."

Eggs, Cocker Spaniel Are Flown To Poland

NEWARK, N. J., —(AP)— A cargo of 155 cases of hatching eggs and a black Cocker Spaniel dog was aboard a Veterans Airlines plane which took off from Newark airport for Poland by way of Newfoundland and Paris.

The dog belonged to Capt. Clifton Hall Carter, Jr., whose wife, a Newark resident, is scheduled to sail next week to join her husband at Weisbaden, Germany, where he is an army public relations officer. She said she was informed no pets would be permitted aboard her ship so she arranged to ship the Spaniel by cargo plane.

The hatching eggs were contributed by the Church of the Brethren of Dayton, Ohio.

All-American Singer Kate Smith Celebrates 15th Year As Top Star

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Because she sounds like the girl next door, Kate Smith, radio singer and commentator, has stayed at the top in radio for 15 years.

That's the best explanation the experts have been able to arrive at for the unprecedented and sustained popularity of this hearty, wholesome star who is heard each week by 42 million persons. Her contralto voice is rich and pleasant, but not of Metropolitan Opera caliber. Neither her face nor her figure would take any beauty prizes. But she puts on no frills, and she regards all those listening millions as "just folks and friends."

Kate Smith (christened Kathryn Elizabeth) was born May 1, 1909, the daughter of a newsdealer in Washington, D. C. She began singing in a church choir, sang for soldiers around Washington during the first World War and then began turning up regularly for amateur nights at local movie houses. After training briefly to be a nurse, Kate came to New York, got a singing part in a show, "Honey-moon Lane," and at 17 was singing the comedy lead in "Flying High."

But Kate was a fat girl and wasn't allowed to forget it. Critics poked fun at her. Audiences giggled. Then one Ted Collins, sales manager for a phonograph company, heard Kate one night and asked her to make some records. From then on things happened. In 1931 Kate made her debut in radio, over CBS, with Ted Collins as her manager. The combine has lasted through the years. The two are partners in the corporation "Kated," sharing all profits with mutual harmony and enthusiasm. Says Kate:

"I am proud of these 15 years. I am proud and happy—not because of any laurels and success that may have come my way, but because of the many friends who have been so kind and the many happy associations since my first broadcast in 1931. A long time ago Ted Collins, my mentor, told me that the people listening in were 'just folks and friends.' I'll keep right on singing for those friends, as long as they want me to."

Girls Prefer Dates Who Are Considerate, Sociologist Reports

AP Newsfeatures

BALTIMORE—Today's tall, dark and handsome young man must have something besides good looks to offer his lady fair.

Dr. Ivan E. McDougale, sociology professor at Goucher College, who has been watching the marital scene for 25 years, asked one of his classes, all girls, what they looked for in a beau.

Handsome got not one vote. Dr. McDougale reports, commenting that 25 years ago good looks were a great courtship convincer. And those who think that the idealist or adventurer would stir a girl into thoughts of orange blossoms and tulle get another guess.

Only one girl wanted her mate to be "generous, idealistic, sensitive, to like children, adventurous." The top score, 25 votes, went to the considerate and thoughtful young man. But the Goucher girl made a distinction between considerateness and attentiveness. The last quality filled the bill for only three damsels.

A gallant with a good stock of jokes and a ready laugh is way ahead of the ambitious fellow in the marital derby. Sense of humor was tied for second place with intelligence—19 votes apiece. Sincerity, ambition, tolerance and emotional stability were all lumped together in sixth place, the choice of six young women.

Dr. McDougale thinks that the informal courtship of today in place of the rigid sparring rules of yesterday has a lot to do with the change in a young girl's demands.

He knows how sharp the change has been because he recalls the days when young women in his own classes, suffering from "Victorian hangovers," would swoon dead away at the suggestion of an "unmentionable" subject.

Czech Capital Bids To Replace Vienna As Cultural Center

By JAMES DEVLIN

PRAGUE—(P)—This picturesque capital of Czechoslovakia is making a spirited bid to succeed Vienna as the focal point of Eastern Europe.

An old world city of towers and statues, Prague is working hard to become a center for commerce, culture, air travel, tourists, recreation and sports.

Prague came out of the war with much less physical damage than was suffered by the shell-torn Austrian city 125 miles to the south.

Culturally, Prague lost no time in returning to prewar standards. The opera "Season" lasts the whole year round and tickets must be purchased weeks in advance. Museums, escaping war damage for the most part, are back in operation. Bookstores, magazines and newspapers flourish.

Despite shortages of food, housing and clothing, life is gay in Prague.

Scarcely a night passes that there is not a ball in one or another of the city's hotels.

Night Clubs Operate
Night clubs, though legal, usually are located in hideaway spots down dark side streets with inconspicuous doorways in the style of American speakeasies of a bygone era.

To the tourist, Prague offers scenery ranging from impressive Hradcany Castle and towering St. Vit Cathedral, overlooking the Vitava River and statue-lined Charles Bridge, to crooked little streets in the "old city."

Within a few hours drive of Prague are both winter and summer resorts—but the tourist may have difficulty in recognizing their names for the Czechs with fervid nationalism, erased German words from their part of the map. The world-renowned spas of Karlsbad and Marienbad, for instance, now are Karlovy Vary and Marianske Lazne.

In the midst of these interests the Czechoslovaks are devoting their chief attention to postwar recovery and nationalization of their industry.

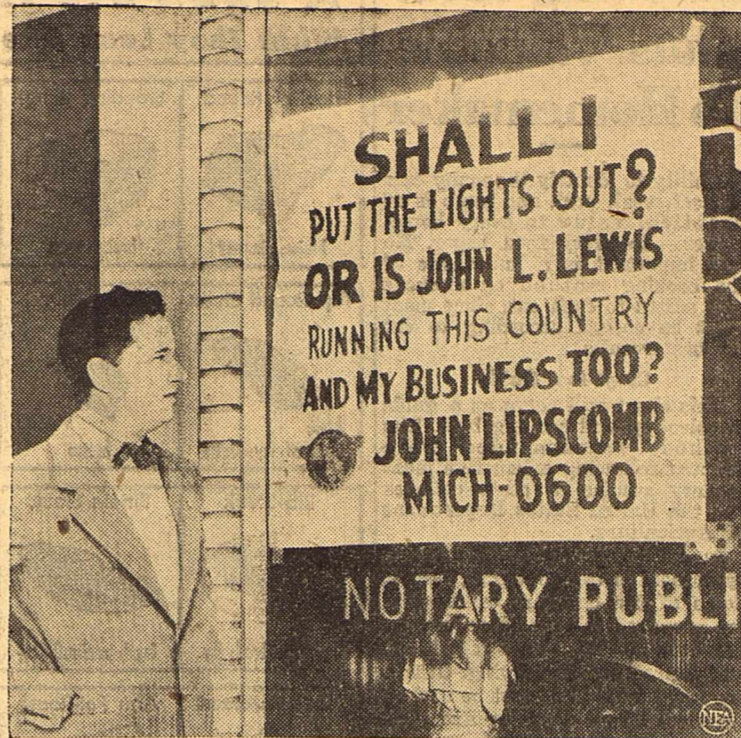

Leaders at Prague, with guarded optimism, have reported that food supplies seem secure until the next harvest; that during the winter the nation's experts began to exceed imports, that coal production has surpassed the prewar average.

Stadium is the Latin form of the Greek word for a standard of length.

B-29 Beats German's High Altitude Record

MANILA—(P)—A U. S. Eighth Air Force Superfortress flew up to 35,360 feet with a load of more than 22,000 pounds of bombs over Guam May 7 to break the world's altitude record for land planes in the 10,000 kilogram (22,046 pounds) class, headquarters of Army Air Forces in the Pacific announced Saturday.

The previous record was 23,759 feet set in 1933 by Karlheinz Kindermann, a German.

The B-29 was piloted by Capt. Arthur A. Pearson, Tucson, Ariz.

Nix, June, Nix!

Screen star Dick Powell's horrified expression indicates that a hefty swing with a full bottle is no way to christen a lightweight family plane. He finally persuaded the Missus, actress June Allyson, to settle for a less violent christening. Having saved the plane from serious damage, Dick took her for an aerial spin.

Pagoda Pool To Be Opened June 1

Pagoda Pool, municipally-owned swimming pool, will be opened about June 1, the City Council has announced. The city will operate the pool this season, as it has in past years.

The council recently advertised for applicants to run the pool on a commission basis, but because of the small amount of revenue as compared with the high cost of operation, the members felt this plan would not prove successful. A manager will be named for the facility and will be paid on a salary basis.

Prices will be 10 cents for children and 25 cents for adults. Necessary repairs and painting is expected to be started within a short time.

Six Marriage Permits Issued So Far In May

Six marriage licenses have been issued to date in May, Mrs. Susie G. Noble, county clerk, announced Friday.

Recent issuances went to Monroe R. Greer and Bonnie Stanfield, Thomas T. Blansett and Opal Cook.

Girl, 19, Who Escaped Killer, Tells Of Attack By Masked Phantom On Lonely Road In February

TEXARKANA —(P)—The Texarkana Gazette Saturday quoted Mrs. Mary Jeanne Larrey, 19, Fredrick, Okla., as saying she believed she was the first victim of Texarkana's phantom who has shot six persons, killing five.

Mrs. Larrey told a Gazette reporter she was convinced "beyond any doubt" that the man who attempted to criminally assault her near Texarkana on the night of February 22 was the murderer.

"I would know his voice anywhere," she said. "It rings always in my ears."

She moved to Frederick, Okla., a month ago to live with her uncle and aunt because, she said, she found living so near the scene of her experience more than she could bear.

On that February night she said she, Jimmy Hollis, 24, and another couple had gone to a movie. They had left the others and en route to her home they had stopped beside the road.

"A man walked up," she said. "He wore a white mask over his head with cutout places for his eyes and mouth. He told Jimmy that he didn't want to kill him, and for him to do as he was told."

She said they both got out of the car and the man told Jimmy to take off his pants.

"After Jimmy had taken off his trousers, the man hit him twice on the head. The noise was so loud I thought Jimmy had been shot. I learned later that the sound was his skull cracking."

He searched the pants for a billfold.

"Then he hit me. He knocked me to the ground, but I managed to get up. He told me to run down the road."

"As I ran, I could hear Jimmy groaning. The man was beating and stomping him."

"It was hard for me to run because I had on high-heeled shoes."

She said he overtook her and hit her again. She fell to the ground.

Then she described a brutal assault made on her by the man. She said he did not rape her, but that he abused her terribly.

"Go ahead and kill me," she begged the man that night.

She said she remembers little of what happened after that, except that he finally left her in the middle of the road.

She said she thinks he intended to get his car and come back for her, but that apparently he was frightened by another car's approach.

She also declared that in her dreams she sees her attacker almost every night.

She is unable to give a very definite description of the man, because of the mask.

Officers have not publicly linked the attack with the five recent murders, but they have questioned her.

The man believed responsible for the slayings has been described by officers and a psychiatrist as a sadist with a strong sex drive.

The search for the man believed responsible for five murders since March 24 here was almost back where it started Friday.

The FBI reported a flashlight, one of the few clues in the last slaying which took the life of Farmer Virgil Starks May 3, had no fingerprints. It had been found near the Starks home the night of the slaying.

After Mother Has Seen Her Other Nice Gifts — DRIVE HER OUT TO SELECT THE BEST ONE OF ALL,
A GRAFALAND HOMESITE

All her life she's wanted and dreamed of owning a home in which her family would receive the comforts and pleasures that a REAL home would offer. Surroundings contribute more than the house itself in making a home more happy, more serene . . . That's the thought that should be uppermost in your mind in presenting Mother with a Grafaland lot deed.

You see, every detail has been carefully planned to make Grafaland the ideal spot for that dream home of hers.

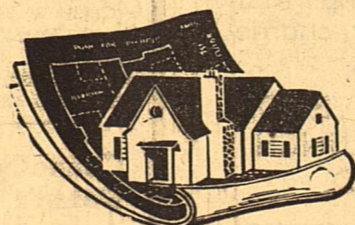

Grafaland is the most exclusive residential addition between Ft. Worth and El Paso! No lot is being sold without the purchaser first giving us their assurance that construction will be started as soon as material is available. Your children will benefit with the association of children of their kind . . . schools and churches are close by too. On Mother's Day, no finer gift can be given than the assurance of her family's future in the finest residential district available in Midland.

Facts About Grafaland

- Wide winding streets for artistic landscaping.
- Arranged for staggering arrangement of homes.
- Clear of unsightly utility poles.
- Paving as soon as available.
- RESTRICTED TO BETTER HOMES!

PLANS HAVE ALREADY BEEN DRAWN UP OR ARE NOW BEING DRAWN FOR OVER 55 BEAUTIFUL HOMES TO BE CONSTRUCTED IN GRAFALAND THIS YEAR IF MATERIALS ARE AVAILABLE.

Court Ditches Petition To Halt Freight Rate Favorable To South

UTICA, N. Y. —(AP)— A petition of nine Northeastern states to set aside an Interstate Commerce Commission order raising class railroad freight rates 10 per cent in the North and East and lowering them an equal amount in the South and West has been dismissed by a federal district court.

The three-judge court Thursday also dissolved a temporary injunction granted last December which blocked the ICC from putting the rate changes into effect as scheduled last January 1.

It is a tradition that each state for which a battleship is named shall contribute a silver service to the ship officers' mess.

Plays Lawlessness As Theme For Westerns

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— This seems to be the season for comment on Western pictures. Now Zachary Scott slips in his tuppence: "The trouble with Western pictures is that they are too concerned with the lawlessness of the Old West. They glorify the Sam Basses and the Jesse Jameses, whereas it was men like my grandfather who made the west what it is today."
Zach's grandfather was Robert Benjamin Masterson, law-abiding rancher who accumulated vast cattle holdings. The actor hopes some day to film his forebear's life on the same mid-Texas land where he once operated.

TEXAS TODAY — Boy, 6, Walked Ten Miles To Get One

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff
Six-year-old Eddie Nunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nunn of Amarillo, followed a group of older boys to town. About 2 p. m. he decided to go home.
He didn't have to ask anyone the directions. He started off on foot, walking up one street, then under an underpass, past a cotton oil mill, by a refinery, around the fair grounds.
On and on he trudged, arriving home at 7:20 p. m.—five hours later.
Instead of walking 15 blocks, he had walked close to ten miles.
He knew the route the bus traveled to get to his home, and that is the way he went.

Mrs. H. E. Jones of Abilene turned her water hose on a large honeysuckle vine and received a surprise. A young boy rushed out.
She asked him what he had been doing, and he said "nothing" and scampered away.
Mrs. Jones investigated and found that the boy had made a bed of pasteboard boxes in the vine.
She later learned he had been coming there almost daily to take an after-breakfast snooze before reporting to classes.
Teachers said he had been arriving after recess every day.

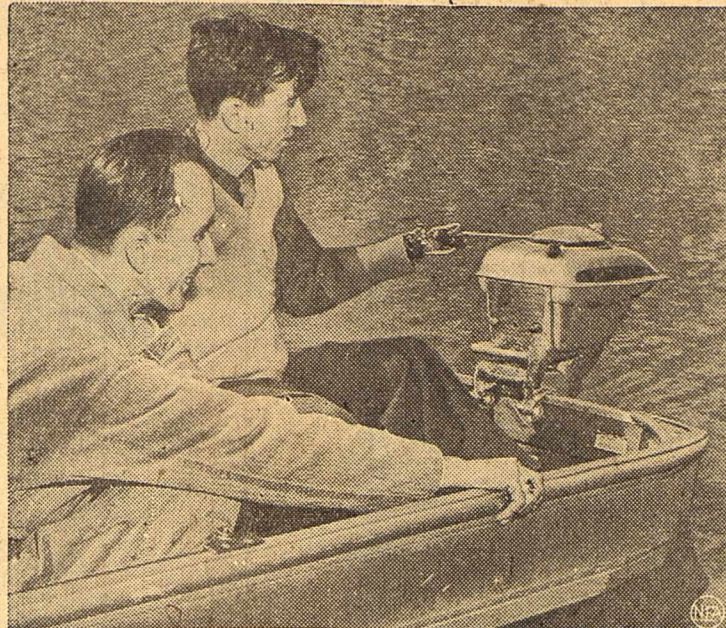

Young Edward Flinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Flinn of Orange, is not quite nine but he's an electrical wizard.

At the age of three he made an extension cord; at four he made a lamp out of a wooden ash tray; at five he made a workable flashlight out of a talcum powder can.
Recently he was one of three boys in Texas and Arkansas to be honored by a magazine to appear on a radio program.

Then there's W. M. (Uncle Bill) Marshman of Palestine. At the age of 74 he wants to fly, has registered at the airport to take lessons. So has W. M. Coplin, 67, also of Palestine.

Catgut does not come from cats, but from sheep.

Handicapped Vets Sail Motorboats

For the first time at any Army hospital, motorboating will play a role in rehabilitation of disabled veterans, following the recent presentation of aluminum boats and motors to Crile General Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, by C. W. Seiberling, 85-year-old rubber company executive, who is an ardent fisherman. Above, Sgt. Aaron Spector of Miami, Fla., shows Jack Fouché, outboard motor instructor, how easily he operates the motor despite the handicap of a hand lost in the war.

Brooklyn Was To Army What Texas Was To American Air Force

By HAL BOYLE

BERLIN —(AP)— Who won the war? Brooklyn. Because her sons gave the Army the belly laughs you have to have when you either must laugh or go crazy.

You couldn't throw a horseshoe in the air forces without hitting someone from Texas, and what Texas was in the air Brooklyn was on the ground.

If you picked any five guys at random from the infantry, one of them was sure to be from Brooklyn.

It was a hard adjustment they made—from pavements to foxholes, from crowded street corners to bare Tunisian deserts, from steam heat to bunks in Belgian snowdrifts. And they complained there was too much ventilation in the war, and that the next one should be fought indoors.

"Bum management," they said, and wanted to know why, if the army could bring over jeeps, it couldn't bring over taxis instead so everybody would be more comfortable.

Yelled Like Calf in Trap

They groused and hollered more than a calf caught in a beartrap, but their griping always had a laugh in it. One Brooklyn boy was a better movie buff than any three USO camp shows. His dry humor and endless wisecracks as he labored up a cliff carrying a mortar plate would keep a line of weary Doughboys grinning all the way.

Brooklyn produced more than her share of heroes and medal winners. Her boys and girls had guts as well as mouths. They learned their strange new trade well.

Many now lie from Casablanca to Pilsen, side by side under the Christian cross and the Star of David.

But above their high courage even was the stimulus they gave to every level of Army life by their refusal to let their troubles get them down, the way they met every hardship with a jeer and a quip.

Well, they won their war and now most of them are back hanging on subway straps. So here, from across the seas on the anniversary of the day they gave up walking, is a toast to the happy, scrappy kids from Brooklyn who always called a spade a spade but could never learn to call an oil burner anything but "eri boiler."

Cows Will Have To Use Daylight Time After All

CLEARFIELD, PA. —(AP)— The threat of a dairymen's strike in Clearfield County is over and the cows hereabouts will just have to get used to being milked on daylight saving time.

The 40 to 50 farmers who supply this community's two dairies have voted against striking—but they want the daylight time issue submitted to a popular vote in the fall election.

On April 28, the farmers threatened to strike when townspeople changed to daylight time.

Midland Lags In Cancer Campaign

Midland is lagging in its campaign for the American Cancer Society, officials said Saturday.

Last year Midland contributed $1,183 to cancer relief and this year only $175 has been contributed. Cecil Waldrep at the First National Bank is treasurer of the campaign. Contributions may be left with him or at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Connally Finds Molotov Doesn't Ever Say 'Yes'

PARIS —(AP)— Senator Tom Connally (D-Texas) asked Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov at a party at the United States embassy if he could say "yes" in any language.

Nikolai Pavlov, the Soviet interpreter, laughed so hard at the question he was unable to translate immediately. When he did, Molotov also burst into laughter. But he didn't say "yes."

Music appeals, not to a class, but to mankind. It gives us not the real, but the ideal.—Franz.

Mother And Daughter May Fix Hair Same

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures

Mother and daughter may be wearing the same hairdo this season. The new coiffures should turn out to be the easiest to care for as well as the prettiest and neatest worn for some time.

Jessica Patton and her young daughter Perie (both models) have just had their hair cut in the new version of the old Dutch bob and find the hairdo ideal for quick shifts on the job. Daughter's hair is cut short but mother is able to retain her nice long bob. Only the bangs are short.

The advantage of this bob, says hairdresser Victor Vito, who designed it, is that it can be combed into a number of different hair styles for summer comfort. The hair is long enough to be braided and pinned across the top of the head. Or, it can be piled high on top and tied with ribbon.

Then there is the economical angle. Mother need have her hair dressed professionally only when she needs the bangs cut. If she is adept with the scissors, she might even do her own cutting. The ends can be turned under for an all-around page-boy. Or, if preferred, the hair can be cut straight with a little under-curl in front of the ears.

Besides the braid hairdo, which will be popular this summer because it can be worn off the neck and is cool and sleek, Victor predicts pigtails for both Mom and daughter. Of course he adds that only young mothers should be encouraged to try pigtails.

Midland Youths Turn Stamp Hobby Into Business Handling $8,500 Sales

Two Midland High School youths who turned a hobby into a well-paying business are recognized as among Texas' most outstanding dealers in postage stamps. Bill Lathrop, 17, a junior, and J. C. McNeal, 17, a senior, began collecting stamps about three years ago. Their interest heightened as their collections increased, and about a year ago they joined forces and started a stamp brokerage, retail sales firm, and auction service. They will hold an auction June 3 in the Rice Hotel at Houston, and collectors from throughout the state are expected to attend. Their sales are expected to bring between $8,500 and $11,000, since the stamps they are offering catalog at about $19,000. Many of the stamps are being sold by the two youths on a commission basis, but a few are from their collection which is insured for about $8,500.

Proper Methods Of Making Best Butter Outlined

Quality butter is made from clean milk, free from off-flavors and handled in clean utensils. Cream should be cooled immediately after skimming, and kept cool, Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, county home demonstration agent, says. Warm freshly separated cream should never be mixed with cream that has been cooled. This mixing will cause cream to sour more rapidly.

The best quality butter can be made from cream that is sweet or slightly sour, Mrs. Messick added. Cream will not churn easily when too warm or too cold. Churning temperature should be regulated so the churning requires from 25 to 30 minutes and butter granules are firm but not hard.

Time and energy can be saved by churning large amounts of cream once or twice a week rather than small amounts daily. Mix the different lots of cream so the temperature and ripening will be uniform throughout the mixture two to four hours before churning.

The proper method of preparing butter is given by Mrs. Messick as follows: Scald churn thoroughly and chill with cold water before using. Adjust cream to proper churning temperature, 50 to 60 degree Fahrenheit in summer and 55 to 65 degrees in winter. Never fill the churn more than halfway with the cream mixture.

Repeat the washing process until the water comes off clear. Butter-milk must be washed out as it cannot be worked out. All milk should be washed out as it will quickly produce an off flavor in the butter.

Add about one tablespoon of salt per pound of butter. Work the butter with a ladel or a butter worker until the salt is dissolved and evenly distributed. Gritty and mottled or two-color butter is caused by undissolved salt.

Mold butter into one pound sizes and wrap in dampened clean white parchment paper and store in a cool place.

Milkmaid Contest To Be Added Feature Of Dairy Day Program

One of the added attractions at the Midland Dairy Day will be a milkmaid contest under the supervision of Kelly Lewellan. The event will get underway at 4 p. m. Monday. All women milkers attending the show will be eligible to compete. Cows will be selected by E. R. Eudaly, judge of the annual event, and numbers will be placed in a hat and drawn by contestants. The contest will be judged on time and the weight of the milk obtained. Prizes will be awarded.

Good Milk Necessary In Making Of Cheese

The quality of milk means everything in cheese making, according to Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, county home demonstration agent. Good cheese cannot be made from poor milk. Producers should be sure of cleanliness in milking, cleanliness in handling, and proper cooling. Utensils used in making cheese should be clean and scalded.

Over-ripe milk may cause cheese to become sour in flavor. Cheese made from milk which has not been handled with the proper care is apt to be gassy and have acid, bitter, fruity or undesirable flavors. If the curd has not been allowed to firm properly the cheese may be pasty or even sour.

Cottage cheese tastes good, and it is easy to make. It is low in cost and is a good meat substitute.

Cottage cheese is delicious to use on salads, in salads, in sandwiches and in desserts, Mrs. Messick pointed out. It is a good source of calcium and riboflavin.

Many Men Take Part In Making Show Successful

The annual Midland Dairy Day is jointly sponsored by the Midland Dairy Association and the Midland Chamber of Commerce, and is open to the world.

Theme of the show is "Better Dairying."

Sherwood O'Neal is president of the association and R. O. Brooks is vice president. Other officials are D. W. McDonald, secretary-treasurer, and Jim W. Baker, V. Drake, Shelby Davis, and W. B. Franklin, directors. Others cooperating in the program are J. R. Cuffman, vocational agriculture teacher in Midland schools; V. G. Young, county agent, and Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, home demonstration agent.

The Dairy Day show committee is composed of the following: J. H. (Buck) Green and B. C. Bryson, general superintendents; R. O. Brooks and V. Drake, Jersey division; P. H. Harris, Holstein division; A. C. Treadaway, milking Shorthorn division; Ed Tanner, production contest; V. G. Young, junior division; Mrs. J. Z. Parker, products division; and Kelly Lewellan, milkmaid's contest. The finance committee is composed of Sherwood O'Neal, Shelby Davis, V. Drake, C. Williams, and P. H. Harris.

J. C. Miles is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce agricultural committee, and Stanley Erskine headed the retailers committee which assisted in obtaining finances for the show.

Butter Contains Two Essential Vitamins

"Butter with every meal" is a good slogan for Texas homemakers. Butter is an ideal seasoning for vegetables, sauces and broiled meat. Besides enriching everyday foods with its distinctive flavor, butter is an excellent fuel food, and it is a form that is digestible. It is an excellent source of vitamins A and D, vitally needed by the body.

Reasons For Butter Faults Are Listed

Some of the faults of butter are listed by Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, county home demonstration agent, to aid women of this area in producing the best products possible.

Butter may have a sour, curdy and and cheesy flavor because of churning over-ripe cream; over-churning, high buttermilk content or insufficient washing.

An unclear flavor may be caused by churning milk or cream, use of unclear separators, strainer cloth and utensils; or by the butter absorbing flavors in an unclear storage place.

It may have a weed or feed flavor because cows eat highly flavored weeds or feed.

A strong or rancid taste may be caused by cream from cows in an advanced lactation period.

Butter may have a greasy and weak body because the churning temperature is too high, the churning cream is too rich, or it is over-worked. Poor methods of salting and working cream which has not been properly cooled may cause leaky body in butter.

Spongy or puffy butter may be caused by churning temperatures being too high or by adding hot water during the churning period. Uneven distribution of salt or insufficient working may cause the butter to be two-colored or mottled.

Four Classes Of Dairy Products Planned In Show

Entries in the products division of the Midland Dairy Day show Monday must be made by 9:30 a. m. Monday, Mrs. J. Z. Parker, chairman, has announced. Four classes of exhibits are planned.

The classes and rules:

Milk: must be bottled in quart size regular milk bottles. Entries must have cardboard caps, and the top must be covered with cellophane or wax paper.

Cream: must be exhibited in one-half pint milk bottles, must have cardboard caps, and tops must be covered with cellophane or wax paper.

Butter: must be molded in standard No. 1 size mold, must be wrapped in butter paper.

Cheese: (a) cottage cheese, exhibited in pint jars; (b) processed cheese, one-half pound piece.

Cash awards are to be given in each class of the division.

Entries will be placed as follows: Class A: blue ribbon, dairy products rated "excellent" and "very good." Class B: red ribbon, products classes "good." Class C: white ribbon, products classed "fair." Class D: no ribbon, products classed "poor" and "bad."

Only one sample of each product will be entered by the exhibitor.

Parking Meters Expected To Be Ready This Week

Parking meters which the City Council hopes will reduce the parking problem in downtown Midland are expected to arrive and be installed this week.

The council has ordered 583 of the meters to be placed in the business district on a trial basis. The meters will operate one hour for a nickel.

Four new traffic lights which have been ordered for some time are expected to arrive soon. One, a flashing red light, will be installed at the intersection of Wall Street and the Andrews Highway. Conventional stop-and-go lights will be placed at Missouri and Main streets, Wall and A streets, and at either Big Spring and Wall or Pecos and Wall streets.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY
Sunday, May 12

We wish to pay tribute to the unexcelled service that is being rendered by our existing hospital and clinics supported by a corps of highly skilled and conscientious physicians and surgeons in Midland.

In pausing for serious thought on this occasion we are reminded of our great need for additional hospital facilities here, and it seems the quickest and best solution to this problem is an early conclusion of our endeavor to raise a $500,000.00 fund to erect an adequate memorial hospital in Midland.

We would like to urge those who have not already done so to make your contribution NOW to the MIDLAND MEMORIAL HOSPITAL fund. There may be some of us who find we are now able to contribute more than we originally planned. If so, please mail or take your contribution to John P. Butler, treasurer, at the First National Bank, Midland.

TRUMAN URGES UNIFORM STATE DRIVING RULES WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman recently criticized states that permit the "insane, nuts and morons" to drive automobiles without imposing minimum motor license requirements. Truman told the Highway Safety Conference all states should adopt minimum driving standards. He said that when he was in the Senate he studied the problem and learned that more people were killed by automobile accidents than during all the wars back to the French-Indian hostilities.

Europe Struggling To Grow Enough Food To Fight Off Winter Starvation

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Europe is spending its last ounce of energy in an effort to grow enough food to stave off the horror of starvation for next winter which it now is experiencing.

And the prediction is that this heroic struggle will be rewarded with a harvest between 80 and 90 per cent of normal prewar food production. The experts say this will leave Europe with a need for about one-quarter of what she is asking for this year, for next winter.

This doesn't diminish the present need for food, however, because the results of a good harvest won't be felt until late this summer. In fact it is claimed that the more food sent over now the more effort Europeans will be able to put into helping themselves for next winter.

Here are some comments from U. S. officials who have just returned from the famine-stricken areas in Europe on what the people are doing to help themselves: "It's a common sight in Greece and other countries to see farmers and their children tugging at plows and crude hoeing devices across fields. The wives go behind trying to keep the plow straight. They have no horses or mules to do this work."

Share Oxen, Plows
"Little children who look almost too weak to stand up can be seen working on every farm, weeding and doing whatever task they can to aid in getting a good harvest for next summer."

"The city people and office workers are doing all they can to help the farmers. In many places employees are being permitted to leave their offices and places of business as early as one o'clock in the afternoon to go to work on farms and collective gardening projects the rest of the day."

It has become the common practice in many areas for farmers to pool or share horses, oxen, and even a hoe or a plow. And anyone who can get hold of a spade or a rake and can use it is much sought after."

The struggle to get farms in Europe and the rest of the world back to normal production has been epic. The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration has spent more than $200,000,000 for agricultural rehabilitation in these war-scarred countries. This has paid for farm equipment, livestock, seed, fertilizer, insecticides and other things. With this UNRRA aid and their own determination to survive many European countries are now beginning to see a ray of hope for the future, according to UNRRA reports. If the crop comes through as expected in Poland and Yugoslavia those two countries should be close to self-sufficiency next year, it is hoped. Greece and Italy have always imported food even with top prewar harvests. The outlook in France is good.

Lack of fertilizer and seed has been very serious. Up until less than a month ago the outlook was black. A drought as bad as last year's threatened in the Mediterranean basin, which is one of the bread baskets of Europe. But recent rains have saved the crops.

The North African wheat crop should be close to 90 per cent of normal. This country usually exports wheat but its population has increased close to 20 per cent and will probably consume its own crop.

Experts say it is still too early in the crop season to give any statistics on just how much food Europe will grow for itself. Weather is one of the biggest factors. If it continues favorable, they say, the 80 to 90 per cent estimate might be realized. They claim it is difficult to make comparisons with prewar years because there were few accurate crop statistics recorded before the war.

But in being optimistic about the coming crop U. S. officials stress the present food shortage which is daily claiming thousands of lives through starvation itself and diseases resulting from malnutrition.

As one expert puts it: "The biggest harvest in the world this summer isn't going to the man who died from starvation today any good."

Children Beg For Food In Starving China

(NEA Telephoto)
Hunan Province, once known as the "Rice Bowl of Central China," is now mostly wasteland and its 30,000,000 people face starvation. Fields once covered with green growing rice are now sun-parched stretches of land where farmers who once tilled the land now search for bits of grass or roots to feed their hungry families. Hunan's cities are filled with starving beggars, emaciated and scarred from malnutrition. In Chiyang, this, grimy hands are shown stretched out in a mute appeal to NEA-ACMA correspondent, Harlow Church who made this picture.

Retires

Helen B. Smith, 70, who has been signing the salary checks of the President of the United States since 1938, is pictured putting her name on the last check prior to her recent retirement. A Treasury Department employe for 50 years, she wrote out the presidential checks in longhand, signing them "H. B. Smith."

In the Plymouth Colony, the governor required each incoming boat to bring one cow for every five colonists to relieve a severe milk shortage.

GM Official Says Production Necessary

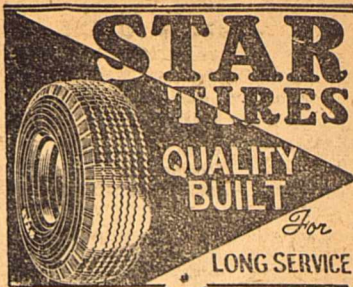

AUSTIN (AP)—Full production provides the answer to employment problems, says Dr. Alfred F. Haakes of Ridge Park, Ill., educational consultant for General Motors Corporation.

Haakes presented his views at an American Legion sponsored conference on employment.

The United States now has a mixture of free and regimented economy, Haakes declared, and the system is not working.

His remedy: "when in doubt, throw the government out." "There should be no government interference, Haakes declared, to full production, which would mean jobs for all."

The daily weather map of the United States was first published by the government in 1871.

AGNES MAKES A DECISION

XXIV

BART and Ellie had finished talking about the money, and Bart was being the way he always was, just as though he went around lending people five hundred dollars every day. He turned to Agnes. "What do you think you'll want to do, Agnes? Buy a house somewhere, or rebuild on the old lot?"

"Heavens, Bart," she said, "I haven't had time to think. I suppose we might"—she shook her head—"no, I don't know what we'll do. You won't believe it, Bart, but until you started talking about it just now, I'd forgotten all about the insurance. Forgot we had any. I was figuring I'd have to take in washings."

Ellie looked at her with his mouth open. Finally he shook his head helplessly. "Gawd! Forgot about seven thousand dollars!"

Joel looked up quickly, laughing. But his eyes were worried. It was a good face he had, Agnes thought. A decent sort of a face, even if there was something in it she couldn't quite—

"Did you have a good time at the Woodland Garden?" she asked abruptly. "Yes," he said, and his eyes looked into hers defensively, as though trying to keep her from finding out too much. But after a moment he seemed to relax. "Kind of a gloomy place," he said. "Dark, you know. Gets you down after a while."

Ellie was telling Bart about how the fire must have been burning inside the wall all the time. After a while Joel moved his chair over nearer to Agnes. He looked uncomfortable. "I wonder if you'd do me a favor," he said. She nodded.

"I'm afraid we won't have time to stop and say goodbye to Debby. Will you say goodbye to her for me, and tell her I'm terribly sorry about the fire." Agnes nodded confidentially. "Sure," she said. "And listen—" "Yes?" "Tell her—" he hesitated, and Agnes could see from his face that his mind was searching for something. "Tell her I hope—tell her I'll try to get back here someday."

Agnes smiled at him, and she thought popped into her head that he was like a small boy trying very hard to do the right thing, and she felt motherly toward him and reached across and patted his hand. His eyes for just a second were warm and friendly. Then he frowned and stood up quickly. "We've got to get going, Bart," he said.

Agnes rocked back in her chair and looked at him appraisingly. He was just another boy, she supposed, and probably no better than thousands of others.

But he was a decent boy, and he was what Debby had wanted. She knew that. And right there, sitting in the rocking chair beside the stove in her bathroom, Agnes made a high resolve. She resolved that if Joel ever did come back, he would find a Debby who had learned all the things she should have been taught long ago, a Debby who could be just as comfortable in a dress as she was in dungarees, and just as much at home at a dance or at a dinner party at the Wymans as she was in a duck blind.

"Yes," he said, and his eyes looked into hers defensively, as though trying to keep her from finding out too much. But after a moment he seemed to relax. "Kind of a gloomy place," he said. "Dark, you know. Gets you down after a while."

Ellie was telling Bart about how the fire must have been burning inside the wall all the time. After a while Joel moved his chair over nearer to Agnes. He looked uncomfortable. "I wonder if you'd do me a favor," he said. She nodded.

OUT OF BREAD, BEVERAGES, LIGHTS—AND PATIENCE

again. I think it would be better if we got a house here in town."

SOON after Bart and Joel left, John Qualey drove into the yard, and Debby and Bull were in the car with him. "Where did you find the dog?" Ellie asked.

"Beside the barn," she said. "You been out there already this morning?" "Yeah. John drove me out." "How does it look?"

Agnes saw a quick look of pain across Debby's face, but in a moment she was smiling. "Don't look like anything," she said. "A barn and a place where some people had a fire. Everything looks small," she added. "The place where the noise was, and the barn, and the garden."

"Are the decoys there all right?" "Sure. They're all right. Barn's just like it always was." "John," Agnes said abruptly, "are there any houses for rent in town?"

"The Kendalls," John suggested. Agnes waved him away with her hand. The Kendall house was one of the best in town, a fine new house with a cellar and a furnace and everything electric. "I mean any we could afford."

John smiled. "He's only asking forty a month. Wants somebody to live in it—you might even get it for less. He showed me all through, and told me if I knew of anybody—" Agnes gazed at him absently. The Kendalls had been summer people, years back. Then Mr. Kendall had retired and built an all-year-round house half way up the hill behind the school, but his wife and daughter hadn't liked it winters, and now they never came any more except in July and August.

"Holy cats," said Ellie, but then, "I wouldn't know how to act in a place like that." Agnes kept her face expressionless, but her mind was working fast. "Wouldn't do any harm to go up and look at it some time, would it?" she asked innocently. "Maybe this afternoon, John?" (To Be Continued)

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

Today's hand was well played by Dr. Paul Stern of London. His partner was Col. Robert J. Gill of Baltimore, Md., who has since become Brigadier General Gill. The general's redouble of the four-heart bid shows that he has lost none of his old optimism.

When the ace of clubs held the first trick, the four of clubs was continued and Dr. Stern discarded his three of diamonds. He trumped dummy's five of clubs with the deuce of hearts, cashed the king and ace of diamonds, then ruffed the seven of clubs with the five of hearts.

The ace of spades was cashed and another diamond led, which East ruffed with the eight of hearts and Dr. Stern over-ruffed with the ace. Then he played a low spade which West won with the ten-spot. West came back with the king of spades. Dr. Stern refused to trump this in dummy and East was forced to trump with the three of hearts.

Now, when East led the six of hearts, Dr. Stern won in rummy with the ten-spot, and won the last two tricks with the king and queen of hearts.

Large Number Of Women Geologists Employed In Oil Offices In Midland

Despite the transfer to Amarillo this week of Miss Maria Spencer, district geologist with Superior Oil Company, the Midland oil fraternity still boasts the largest number of women geologists of any city in the country, oil men say.

There now are 17 feminine geologists in oil offices here, most of them having been in the game less than three or four years. As evidence of their abilities, many oil companies employ three or four.

Perhaps not typical of all, but representative of the women geologists here, is Miss Maisie Coon of the Humble Oil & Refining Company. She was graduated with a degree in geology after 40 semester hours on the subject from Texas Tech at Lubbock in 1944. She was employed in Humble's Houston offices for a time, later was transferred to Midland.

She now handles a territory of several counties, works all wildcats, runs samples and finds correlation points on oil maps. She is the only girl geologist employed in Humble's offices here.

Member of Association
She is a member of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists and an associate member of the West Texas Geological Society. While she was attending Tech in 1944, she was presented with the West Texas Geological Society's student merit award for her outstanding work and was given a two-year associate membership in the society. The association also presented her with a clubbound volume of the AAPG Journal.

She turned to geology for two reasons: (1) her interest in the field, and (2) she didn't want to be a school teacher, wanted to make more than stenographers are paid, and didn't like home economics.

Other women geologists here include Miss Carol Pearson, a graduate of Vassar, with Shell Oil Company, Inc.; Miss Jane Marie Johnson, University of Texas graduate, a member of the firm of Anderson, Huffman and Johnson, independent geologists; Mrs. Dan Holland, Gulf; Miss Edie Bryan, Magnolia; Miss Jean Richards, Magnolia Petroleum Company; Miss Holly Smith, Superior Oil Company; Miss Lavon Peters, Gulf Oil Corporation; Miss Louise Fillman, Shell; Miss Catherine Greacen, Hunt Oil Company; Miss Jane Ferrell, Magnolia; Miss Mary Louise Rhodes, Standard Oil Company of Texas; Miss Katherine Lutz, The Texas Company; Miss Nancy Shaeffer, The Texas Company; Miss Margaret Smith, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company; Miss Laura Lee Tolsted, Gulf; and Miss Ruth Wehner, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company.

Selected Girl Scouts Will Encamp 13-Days With N. M. Indians

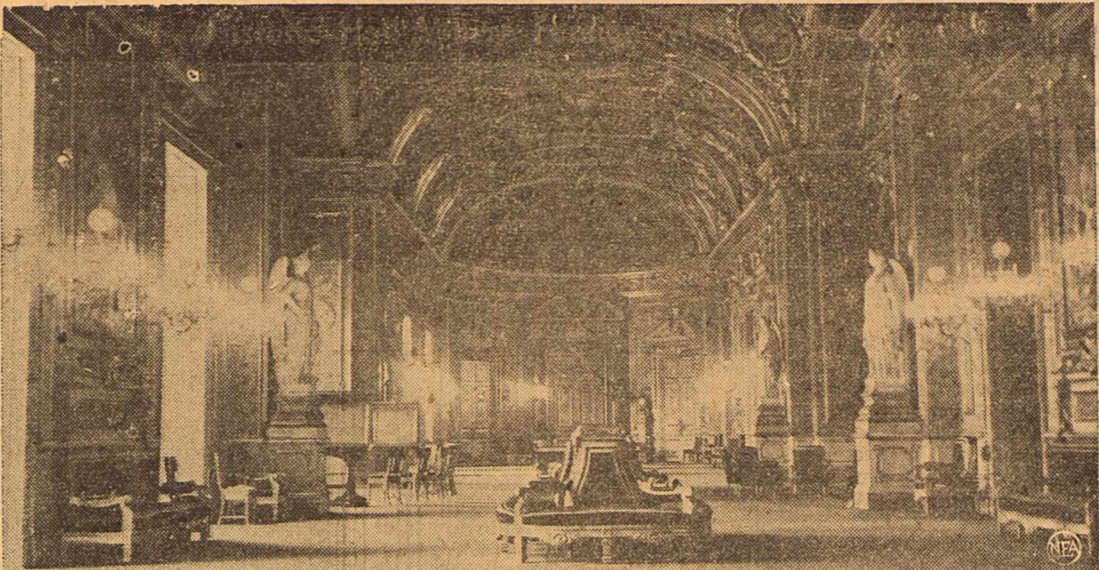

TOADLENA, N. M. — A unique Girl Scout camp will be held here June 3-16 when 15 selected girls from every corner of the country will encamp with a group of Navajo Indian Girl Scouts.

A new venture into intercultural relations, the camp will be held at the Indian boarding school here and Girl Scout officials are hopeful it will be a stepping stone to further insight into the customs and habits of the two races and a step toward closer understanding.

Delegates from each of the groups will be approved by national headquarters of the Girl Scouts. The visitors will be chosen on the basis of leadership, friendliness, poise, interest in minority groups, adaptability, neatness, fondness for the outdoors, self reliance and dependability.

City Police Warn Traffic Law Violators

More stringent enforcement of the city's traffic rules and regulations will be started this week, with the addition of another car and a new motorcycle to the City Police Department's equipment.

Chief Jack Ellington said the department will start cracking down on offenders who are violating laws and consequently endangering life and property here. Special attention will be given to speeding, running of stop signs and lights, parking overtime and improper parking.

"The force now has the equipment to do the job right, and we're going to see that it is done right," Ellington said.

An average of about 50 tickets are handed out daily on similar charges at the present time, and city officials are expecting this total to increase in the new safety drive. It is their hope that motorists will begin to comply more closely with laws of the city.

The enforcement campaign is in cooperation with a nationwide effort to cut down the huge annual traffic toll.

Addition of the car and motorcycle gives the city two regular patrol cars and one auxiliary, and two motorcycles. The force is composed of 11 persons, including Ellington. Officers are J. H. Burris, T. T. Tabor, Floyd Maxwell, Jessie Brooks, Willard Opp, Rube Hemingway, A. B. Stickney, Jim Mesick, Dave Morren, and Gena Butler, dispatcher.

The department was organized April 1, 1941.

MOTHER'S DAY IS CELEBRATED — Three Of Five Service Sons Will Visit With Mrs. H. C. Watson Sunday

By TANNER LAINE

When Van Edd Watson, who won't be here this Mother's Day, was a little boy he came in and asked his mother: "Mom, are we boys twins? A lady asked me."

"Why no son, you and Conrad are the older brothers and Gordon and Jimmy are the younger and Tony is the middle boy, all different ages though," said Mrs. H. C. Watson, 1703 W. Kentucky Street.

"Well, I told that lady of course we were not twins, Conrad and me, Gordon and Jimmy, because I told her Conrad had a birthday 10 days before me and is 10 days older than me."

"Oh son," Mrs. Watson smiled, "you forgot to mention years. Conrad is a year older than you, not just 10 days, my goodness."

Van Edd will not be here this Mother's Day, but three of the other boys will be at home Sunday. Lt. Van Edd Watson is missing in action. His bomber disappeared in a cloud over the cold, gray North Sea one day in February, 1944, as he returned from a mission over Germany and has not been heard of since. The War Department says "killed in action." But Mrs. Watson's mother's heart says no.

"I'm not a Gold Star Mother," Van Watson says. "For my boy said he would be back."

All Mrs. Watson's sons served in the armed forces—Conrad, 25; Van Edd, 24; Tony, 22; Gordon, 20; and Jimmy, 19.

One time kinfolks came to see the Watsons and although they didn't know where the Watsons lived they found it immediately. They drove around until they found the biggest bunch of boys in town. That was it.

Five Stars in Window
During the war many Midlanders found the Watson home by looking for the window with five stars in it.

Mrs. Watson recalls her sons as youths—one or two years apart. Five hungry boys. Five wearing out coversalls.

"Why, I used to buy coversalls by the dozen at a time," Mrs. Watson says.

She talks proudly of her sons. She remembers little things they did and little things they didn't do. Her boys—a subject dear to her heart.

"They are fine boys," she says. Tall, stalwart, Jimmy Watson, the youngest, played football for the largest university in the state. Left End Jimmy Watson, six feet, 3 1/2 inches tall, banging away in a huge stadium in Dallas against equally big boys. In the stands

● A brand new telephone operator... that's me. Just started today.

Like it? Yes, indeed...especially one thing...everybody is so friendly. I felt at home right away. It's a nice clean place to work, too; pleasant surroundings, and the switchboard is really fascinating. I'm going to enjoy working for the telephone company.

And here's a tip, if you're looking for a job. More operators are needed right now. Experience isn't necessary because you learn as you go along.

The chief operator at the telephone office will be glad to tell you all about it. Why not see her?

Slashes Wife's Throat In New York Subway

(NEA Telephoto) His suit stained with blood, Herman O'Brien, 32-year-old ex-GI from Leighton, Pa., is brought into the New York City police station after he slashed the throat of his 20-year-old wife amid the startled crowd in a subway station. She had rejected his plans to return to him and their two children. Mrs. O'Brien, who has been married to Herman for four years, is in a critical condition in the hospital.

Nation's No. 1 Mother Plans Quiet Observance, Call From Son Harry

Editor's Note: This is one of the few interviews ever granted by the President's mother, Elizabeth Toomey, Associated Press staff writer, presents a vivid word picture of a spirited but unassuming little lady made of the stuff that forms the "backbone of America." Martha Truman represents truly the spirit of Mother's Day.

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY GRANDVIEW, MO.—(P)—Mother's Day will be a quiet one for 93-year-old Mrs. Martha E. Truman, mother of the President, with flowers and candy and maybe a telephone call from her son, Harry, and gifts from her other two children.

"Oh, they give me too many things, anyway," she exclaimed when asked in an interview what Mother's Day gifts she anticipated. "All I ask is that my three children are safe and happy. I guess I worry a little more about Harry than the others because he travels around so much."

Seated prim and alert on the sofa in the front room of the little five-room bungalow where she lives with her daughter, Mary Jane, Mrs. Truman said firmly that she felt better than she did a year ago, and that "if it wasn't for my eyes, I could go anywhere Mary Jane goes."

Her eyes, injured in the fall that broke her hip five years ago, prevent her from reading or sewing.

Naturally active and ambitious, the President's mother finds her impaired vision a great annoyance. The radio helps fill in her quiet days. She listens regularly to the newscasts and is well aware of what is going on in the world of international politics in which her son plays such an important part. The spry little woman accepts calmly the attention she gets as mother of a nation's president. Her only comment is: "They make too much fuss over me."

In comparison to last year's thrilling flight to Washington in the presidential plane, Mother's Day this year will be uneventful. "We may go to Washington later this spring for Margaret's graduation," Miss Truman said, and when her mother answered that she didn't plan another such trip, her daughter laughed and chided her: "Why, Mama, you said last year you wouldn't go, and then at the last minute you hopped on that plane right along with the rest of us."

"Well, I may go and I may not," her mother answered tartly. "I don't know if I'd fly again, though. It didn't bother me a bit, but those machines don't seem safe to me."

Having her three children together on Mother's Day would be the nicest possible gift, Mrs. Truman agreed. The President's brother, Vivian, lives a few blocks away from his mother's home here. "But Harry just has so many things to do I don't expect to see much of him," his mother said. "He usually sends flowers and candy and he probably will again. And maybe he'll call me up, the way he does so much lately."

When the President drops in for his next visit, there's a special treat waiting for him in one corner of the tiny living room—a brand new spinet piano.

It was supposed to be a surprise, but Mrs. Truman admitted with a good-natured chuckle that she'd given away the secret in one of her telephone conversations to Washington.

"You know, Harry isn't the only one who plays the piano," his mother said proudly. "Mary Jane plays too. She's played for two weddings lately."

Her daughter smilingly consented to play, and her mother listened intently while she played "To a Wild Rose" by Edward McDowell. Nodding approval at the end of the piece, Mrs. Truman remarked that "she hasn't practiced much the last few years, either."

Proud of each of her children, Mrs. Truman admits she doesn't try to advise them, but has confidence that they'll work things out for themselves.

"I just tell Harry to be good—but be game," the President's spirited little mother added.

Former Corporal Wants To Marry British Stowaway

(NEA Telephoto) Gordon Marais, former 8th Air Force corporal from New York, longingly studies a photograph of his 9-months-old child, Philip, and the woman he wants to marry. Marais appealed to the U. S. attorney general to stop deportation of stowaway Beatrice Vito Marais, who is already using his name. She is being held at Ellis Island with Philip after an illegal trip from England.

Tightening Up Of Old Age Aid Laws Urged By WTCC

ABILENE—Affiliates of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are this week being urged by President H. Y. Overstreet and the organization's public expenditure and legislative commission to join in striking a blow for Texas' truly needy old folks.

The WTCC is proposing a preliminary sounding out of candidates for the 50th Legislature on the question of working for tightening up old age assistance. The legislative candidates are to be asked to support submission of an amendment to the public welfare act of 1941 for purging current topheavy rolls of the non-needy; requiring that assistance be extended on basis of actual need; and setting up eligibility rules requiring applicants to show their cash in hand, income from all sources, property ownership if any, and ability of relatives to aid in their support.

As now administered, the chamber contends, the state's so-called old age assistance is actually an old age pension system. The result, it claims, "is a great and continuing injustice inflicted on our truly needy aged who are entitled to maximum legal aid, as well as being an impossible financial burden upon our taxpayers as the law is now being too loosely and generously construed and administered. Highest in U. S."

Overstreet's plea for united West Texas action in promoting changes in the law followed submission of the report by the chamber's commission on completion of a study made by the Texas Research Institute and published in its pamphlet, "Ten Years of Old Age Pensions in Texas." This showed 175,836 aged Texans are receiving assistance checks every month. This foots out to 452 of every 1,000 Texans 65 years of age and older, or 45 per cent of the state's aged. The number is not merely the highest in the nation, but is twice as high as the average for the states. Government actuaries studying these statistics, says the commission, calculate that by 1960 if the law is not changed, Texas will have 310,000 pensioners.

The commission points out that the public welfare constitutional amendment passed in August, 1945, fixed a maximum of $35 million per year—a sum greater than the total Texas budget of 1920—to be spent from state funds for old age assistance and aid to needy children and the blind. The amendment set a $20 per month ceiling for the aged. Contention of WTCC president and commission is that the abnormally large number of present recipients, "due to too liberally construed eligibility requirements, is making a mockery of the people's intent in voting in the amendment."

Distribution of the $35 million state limit, says the chamber, "would amount to only $18.60 per month per recipient on basis of the present number, while by 1960, with 310,000 aged on the rolls, the monthly payment under the $35 million ceiling could not exceed $9.40." It adds that the full $20 payoff would cost now $42 million for the aged alone (leaving out needy children and the blind) and that the 1960 cost on a full payoff would amount to $74 million.

The chamber's public expenditure and legislative commission is composed of M. C. Ulmer, Jas. D. Hamilton, W. B. Hamilton, all past presidents, and J. E. Owens.
