15 Die In Dubuque Hotel Fire

Workers Hunt Wreckage For Other Bodies

DUBUQUE, IA. — (AP) — Workmen were bracing the blackened walls of the Canfield Hotel Monday preparatory to further search for bodies in the gutted structure where 15 persons died when fire swept the building Sunday.

In addition to the 15 dead, three of whom still were unidentified, American Red Cross officials said 23 persons remained unaccounted for. Twenty-one persons were injured, 16 of whom still were in Dubuque hospitals.

Fire Chief Perry Kirch said he believed most of the persons unaccounted for were permanent guests who were registered at the hotel, but had left for the weekend.

Meanwhile, a three-way investigation was scheduled to open here Monday in an attempt to determine the cause of the blaze which apparently started in the basement, raced up a partition separating the main-floor lobby and cocktail lounge and fanned out and upward quickly.

Coroner F. S. Leonard said representatives of his office, State Fire Marshal John Strohm's office at Des Moines and from County Attorney E. J. Keane's office would participate.

Kirch said there had been no attempt yet to estimate the property damage as the result of the fire, as all firemen had been engaged entirely in attempting to sift the wreckage for more bodies.

The blaze was fought 2 1/2 hours by 75 firemen and there were scenes of "horror" and "heroism," Kirch praised the work of civilians who aided firemen and 35 policemen to bring out victims.

Many inmates made their own escapes. One slid down a rope made of bed sheets; another dropped from a second story window ledge to safety.

Koy Wildcat In Schleicher Makes Heavy Oil Flows

By JAMES C. WATSON

Cooper Gas Company No. 1-A Jess Koy, on north side of the Page gas field in Central Schleicher County appears to be the best oil producer so far drilled in that county.

The project is at center of northwest quarter of southeast quarter of section 38, block 1, GH&SA survey, and is three miles northwest of nearest oil well in the Page district.

In two hours of flowing from perforations at 5,605-49 feet, where 3,000 gallons of acid had been injected, the well made 90.75 barrels of oil, through open two-inch tubing, and then was shut on account of storage. That test was during Sunday morning.

Late Sunday night the 7-inch casing was perforated with six shots to the foot at 5,520-70 feet, and was swabbed natural, but failed to kick off.

From Upper Zone
It was then treated with 3,000 gallons of acid and after some swabbing it kicked off and flowed for 45 minutes.

Operator reported that in the first 15 minutes it made 40 barrels; in second 15 minutes 50 barrels, and in third 15 minutes flowed 60 barrels.

Most observers think the fluid recovered on both tests contained some of the oil load used with the acid treatments.

The lower set of perforations were shut off when the zone at 5,520-70 feet, was tested.

The oil recovered from both zones carried from four to five per cent sour water, which operator representatives said was probably acid residue.

Further testing will be required to accurately determine the actual producing ability of the new well.

E. E. Fogelson and Cooden Petroleum Corporation No. 1 University, wildcat to the Ellenburger in the Penwell shallow field in Southwest Ector County, and in northwest quarter of section 1, block 35, University survey, was taking a drillstem test in the Gorieta line at 4,455-4,530 feet.

Top of the formation was picked at 4,415 feet, on an elevation of 2,910 feet. Operator reported that.

President Of Paper Company Slain By Mystery Killer

BOSTON — (AP) — William A. Whitcomb, 73, president of The Great Northern Paper Company, was shot to death in his office in the heart of the city Monday, and Police termed an unsigned contract found on his desk a possible clue to the identity of his well-dressed slayer.

"I have a hunch who might have done it," said Lieutenant Harold Watkins. "This contract would have been very beneficial to a certain party if Whitcomb had signed it."

Whitcomb, a native of Clinton, Ind., was slain only seconds after Billy Whittam, his secretary, admitted the killer to his private office and left the two men alone. His body was found face down on the floor and four discharged 32-calibre cartridges were nearby.

Miss Whittam remembered the slayer as a man who came to the office last week, representing himself as a Treasury Department agent.

Although the slayer strolled unchallenged out of The Great Northern Company's eight floor office, where some 20 employees sat at their desks, and apparently left the building by an elevator, police thought he might have remained in the nine-story structure.

They threw a cordon about the building and, with Miss Whittam, scanned all who attempted to enter or leave.

Veto Expected As Truman Schedules Message To Congress On Labor Bill

President Will Attempt To Push Action On Own Strike Measure

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman told his congressional leaders Monday he would send a message to Congress Tuesday on the Case Labor Disputes Bill, but apparently did not say whether he would veto or sign it.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) told reporters after a 45-minute conference with the Chief Executive at the White House:

"Whether it will be a veto or a message on approval we don't know."

Rayburn also disclosed that the administration leadership will try to get a rule in the House to send the President's own emergency strike control proposal to a conference of the two houses this week. Each passed it in different form.

Other close associates of the President said Monday they expected him to veto the bill.

White House intimates of the chief executive voiced this opinion privately, following two days of intensive study of the measure by the President and his advisors. Similar views were expressed by administration spokesmen on Capitol Hill.

None of these officials, however, would say positively that Truman has decided against approving the legislation, which sets up new federal mediation machinery and carries several sweeping regulations of union activity.

Even Case Bill proponents in the House said they expect a veto, and they scheduled an informal strategy session Monday to discuss what action to take.

Thunder Recalls Battle, Ex-Marine Bolis Home, Gets Gun, Kills Self

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Fear born of the rolling thunder of big guns that brought death on Saipan in 1944 took a fresh grip on the mind of a former Pittsburgh Marine corporal in the weekend's booming thunderstorms — and cost him his life.

Roy E. Delaplane, Jr., of suburban Wilkinsburg, was with his girl friend, Miss Eve Shivers, when he clasped his hands over his ears at a loud clap of thunder and shouted:

"I can't stand it."
Miss Shivers said: "Then, suddenly, he just bolted from me." With her mother, the girl taxied to the home of the 20-year old ex-Marine.

"He was standing near the stairs, holding a pistol," Miss Shivers wept. "We tried to reason with him but he paid no attention. Suddenly, he told us to get out."

The two women left to get help, but on the sidewalk they heard a shot.

Ex-Corporal Delaplane had put a bullet through his head.

University Of Texas Censured By U.S. Academic Group

AUSTIN — (AP) — The University of Texas controversy was in full bloom again Monday.

The American Association of University Professors has placed the university on its list of censured administrations, and an official of the university, said the action was a surprise move without the customary advance notice.

These developments came on the heels of the announcement by a faculty member that he has resigned in protest of what he called flagrant and repeated violations of good academic practice by the board of regents.

The Council of the American Association of University Professors Sunday in Chicago placed the university on its censured list because

Turmoil Quashed As Court Begins Mihailovic Trial

BEIGRADE — (AP) — Grizzled Draza Mihailovic went on trial for his life Monday.

The former war minister for King Peter sat in the dock with 13 co-defendants also accused by Marshal Tito's government of treasonable relations with the Germans. Also on trial in absentia were 10 others.

Mihailovic, dressed in a plain brown uniform and heavy army shoes, came into court with quiet dignity. He was unguided, despite reports that his near-sightedness had grown to near blindness in recent months.

In the preliminary questioning the chief defendant spoke out loudly and answered "general of the army" when asked his occupation.

The floodlighted courtroom, an auditorium in an infantry school in a Belgrade suburb, was packed with 1,100 spectators, including about 100 foreign and Yugoslav journalists and newspaper photographers.

Several of the spectators in the closely guarded room started to shout imprecations as Mihailovic and the other defendants in civilian garb came in with their military guards. The court president, Mihailo Djordjevic, squelched the demonstration.

Committee Makes Plans For Action

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chairman Augustine B. Kelley of a House labor subcommittee said Monday he is going ahead with plans to work out a Congressional solution of the maritime dispute now that other federal mediation attempts appear deadlocked.

Kelley of the subcommittee on labor-management, told a reporter that his group had held off hearings hoping the Labor Department could work out a settlement.

"We had hoped for a settlement by Tuesday but now that it looks like there will be nothing coming out of the Labor Department negotiations we feel that we should get busy right away," Kelley said.

Seven unions affiliated with the CIO-dominated Committee for Maritime Unity (CMU) have set a strike date for midnight Friday in behalf of their demands, principally for a reduction in the present 56-hour work-week for seamen.

Kelley said his committee will open hearings Tuesday with testimony from either Joseph Curran, president of the CIO National Maritime Union, or Harry Bridges, head of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. They are co-chairmen of CMU. Another witness will be Joseph Selly, president of the CIO American Communications Association.

Unions Propose To Strike

Unions preparations for a maritime strike Friday night roared into high gear Monday after the CIO National Maritime Union turned down a proposal to give seamen shore leave with pay.

This suggestion first was put forward by Labor Department conciliators as a possible way to break the deadlock over the length of the work-week at sea.

The idea was to give one day of shore leave for every 14 days at sea, and keep the present 56-hour week—eight hours a day, seven days a week.

Eastern ship operators accepted the suggestion Sunday night and formally offered it as a proposal in a negotiating session which lasted until well after midnight.

But the union, which is demanding a 44-hour week, rejected the idea as "impractical," and then "proposed exploration of other ways of meeting its demands," according to a labor department announcement.

If the walkout comes, each seaport will feel its paralyzing effect when 12:01 a. m. Saturday rolls around in the time zone where the port is located. Thus the strike will occur four hours earlier in New York than in San Francisco.

Curran's National Maritime Union served stern notice Sunday in a "strike policy" statement that unless ship operators offer a shorter work week, the strike can't be avoided.

Then the 40-marit national council of the union, which unanimously approved the statement here, scattered to their ports and began setting up soup kitchens and taking other strike measures.

Army Hush-Hush On New Jewel Suspect

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army adopted a hush-hush attitude Monday about new developments in the "greatest jewel robbery of $1,500,000 times"—the looting of modern worth of Hessian crown jewels from an ancestral Rhineland castle.

With all the gems believed recovered, the War Department declined to talk about the latest figure—urge to be brought into the case—Major David W. Watson of Burlington, Calif., who was placed under arrest in Germany.

Officials likewise kept mum on the progress of their hunt for a discharged GI corporal who figures in the fictional thriller which brought woe to Lt. Col. Jack W. Durant and WAC Captain Kathleen B. Nash Durant, his bride of two weeks.

Colonel Durant and his wife were in military detention here, and the War Department said no decision had yet been reached on the formal charges to be filed against them for court martial proceedings probably in Germany.

First Of New Phone Books Distributed In Midland Monday

There isn't much plot but there are lots of characters in a new book being distributed this week by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Subscribers should have the new telephone directory within a few days and many received them Monday.

H. F. Fox, district manager for the company, said Monday that the new directory has 413 more listings than the one in use the past year. The old directory had 2,695 listings and the new one has 3,108.

The new book contains four more pages of listings than did the 1945 directory, and the "yellow section" of classified business phones shows an increase of 12 pages. The new directory has a total of 76 pages, the old one had 60.

The A&L Housing Company retains its place as first listing in the book, and the Zero Hour Bomb Company again is last. Only two Z listings are made in the new volume, as compared with four last year.

Telephone listings for people named Jones exceed those of the Smiths for the first time, but the Smiths lack only two listings to keep up with the Joneses. There are 29 Jones numbers, 27 Smiths. Third place in the greatest number of telephones goes to the Johnsons, with the Moores pulling up in fourth place. There are 16 King listings, 15 Davis, and 14 Coudens. The Browns have only 13.

There is no "X" section in the directory. The name of the city or county is used by 43 different commercial firms.

The directory was closed the first week in April, and persons having telephones installed since that time are not listed.

How to Save Bread

Once You Buy It

By GAYNOR MADDOX

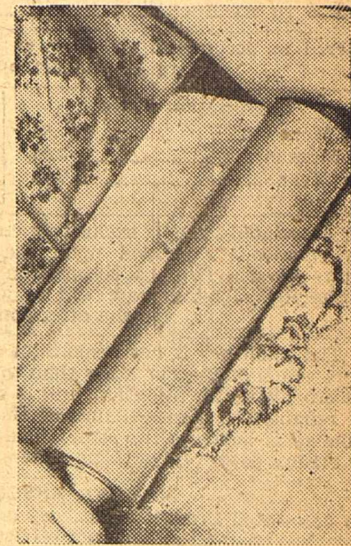

With bread hard to get, here's how to make each loaf do full duty. Plastic bag (above) gives extra days to bread's freshness. Use waxed paper if you haven't a plastic bag and store it in the refrigerator . . .

... beside the milk and eggs; your loaf will stay fresh for two weeks in the moist chill and it won't get moldy if wrapped . . .

... If stale, bread can be "youthified;" put in paper bag, sprinkle a little water on bag and place in moderate oven 10 minutes. Or steam it over boiling water, but don't let the water touch the bread . . .

... With scissors, cut stale bread into cubes, store in sealed glass jar in refrigerator. Use for salad, stuffing, croutons, for scalloped garden tomatoes. Or you can toast your stale bread first, and then . . .

Domestic Charter Is Granted To Midland Christian Scientists

The Christian Science Society of Midland has been granted a domestic charter by the secretary of state. Incorporators as listed on the charter are Mrs. Bernice Van Alstyne, Floyd H. Shirley, and Mrs. Mary Jane Turrentine, members of the board of Midland Society.

The organization was organized here four years ago this month as a branch of the First Church, Boston. Members had been holding meetings in groups since 1929.

It is the goal of the society to build a church here, members said Monday.

Mrs. Ralph Troseth is first reader of the Midland Society and Mrs. E. E. Reigle is second reader. Meetings are held each Sunday in the Scharbauer Hotel.

U. S. Checks On Stink Bomb Mailed Candidate

AUSTIN—(P)—Postal authorities are attempting Monday to check the origin of a stink bomb mailed last week to Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith, candidate for governor.

The package was opened by Smith's private secretary, Miss Kathryn Brown, in Smith's office at the State Capitol. Smith was out of town.

The lieutenant governor's wife said that she has asked the postal authorities to make the investigation.

Smith had delivered a radio address last Monday night in which he strongly condemned those University of Texas students and faculty members who criticized the recent appointment by the board of regents of Dr. T. S. Painter as president of the institution.

Mrs. Smith said there was a return address on the package but she could not say if it was authentic. She said the address was not that of any political candidate.

A Lesson From Germany

Throughout Europe today the popularity of state-controlled industry is growing. The prevalent opinion seems to be that the system is not only just and efficient, but that it offers the quickest route to recovery and general prosperity.

All of which lends added interest to a booklet recently released by the Army Air Forces. It contains the testimony given by Albert Speer, former Nazi minister of armaments, to American Intelligence officers in Germany. And a reading leaves one with the conviction that the war in Europe would have been over considerably sooner if Speer had not replaced Germany's tightly nationalized industry with something closely resembling our democratic capitalism.

Speer's efforts are not entirely unknown. The United States Strategic Bombing Survey says of him: "In February, 1942, Speer was appointed minister of armament production with wide powers. . . (He) set about replacing the existing machinery of control with a new organization manned by people selected from among the production managers and technicians of industry. They were charged with the task of increasing production and of rationalizing German war industry. . .

"In the course of two and a half years, the military output of Germany in aircraft, weapons and ammunition was raised more than threefold; in tanks, over sevenfold."

Those two and a half years, of course, saw a steadily growing weight of Allied bombs fall on Germany. That German arms output increased almost to the end speaks clearly enough of the superiority of Speer's system.

The Nazis had carefully worked out all their production problems on paper, long before the invasion of Poland. But the highly nationalized, highly bureaucratized plan didn't work. Finally, in desperation, Hitler called in Speer and gave him a free hand.

The result was a program which Speer called "The Autonomy of Industry." It was a sort of free-enterprise system working in a super-nationalized economy. Speer freed production and production planning from politico-military control, abolished penalties against industrialists for quota failures, and turned to the principle of incentives. By operating German war industry much as American war industry functioned, he achieved growing efficiency in the midst of growing disaster.

Speer told our officers that he believed the "extended theoretical preparation" of our armaments is mainly responsible for our low level of production until 1942. He also said that he had told Hitler that Russia and the United States were to be envied because they had been forced to "improvise" their war industries program.

The Speer report is an interesting commentary on the theory, put forth here as well as abroad, that government long-range planning will solve all economic problems. But, more than that, the report may be of some immediate and practical value.

It is being cited by aircraft industry representatives in hearings on Senator Mitchell's bill to establish a nation Air Policy Board. Germany's lesson under fire may give the senators something to think about when they consider the future relationship of government and private industry in terms of our national defense.

Fashion's Latest Decree

Fashions are seldom the concern of the editorial page. But the decree from Paris that skirts shall be longer seems to us a matter of general interest, and maybe even of concern.

The whole world is badly clothed. Even in prosperous America, some articles of apparel are much more scarce than ever before in the memory of living mortals. Yet at this time some omnipotent being in war-scarred Paris removes the pins from his or her mouth and proclaims that skirts shall be lengthened.

In former days, such a command from on high was irrefutable. To question was heresy. But today it's different.

To buy clothes simply for style rather than for need is all right in the piping days of prosperity, so long as the budget isn't fractured. But to buy them needlessly when men's suits, shirts, and shorts are scarce as pearls in oysters is another matter.

So we're all in favor of the Civilian Production Administration's bureaucratic interference with the oracles of fashion. The CPA is in for a tough fight, and we wish it luck. May it outmaneuver the Parisian general staff, and manfully withstand the expected frontal assault by the country's mobilized and militant nylon lines.

At Least They're There

A reporter of the Army newspaper Stars and Stripes polled GIs in Tokyo to discover if they had seen any qualities in the Jap girls which American women might copy.

The replies, we gather, were varied and somewhat guarded. But we imagine the soldiers would generally agree to seeing American girls copy the Nipponese girls' gift of being present and accessible when a guy is lonesome and 8000 miles from home.

A Wisconsin man has driven almost 300,000 miles in his car. Parking space is scarce here, too!

The wise man has nothing to do with the fellow who has nothing to do till tomorrow.

Toots And Carl Arnold Will Rope At Clovis

CLOVIS, N. M., (AP)—A September 1 roping contest between Toots Mansfield, Big Spring, Texas, and Carl Arnold, Buckeye, Ariz., was announced here Sunday just after Arnold won a $10,000 purse in a steer roping contest with Bob Crosby, Roswell, N. M.

Arnold roped and tied 12 steers in 420.8 seconds. Crosby finished with a total of 489.6 seconds.

It was the fourth meeting between the two roping hands and Arnold's victory gave him a three to one edge.

Amount of loss was not immediately determined. Cause of the blaze is unknown. Several workers were using dragline to fill an old well near the site when the blaze started.

Stymied Candidate Says He'll Finish Speech

DALLAS — (AP)—Preston Pope Reynolds, Congressional candidate who was stopped by Dallas police in the middle of a campaign speech Saturday night, has announced he will return to the Ligon community Tuesday night to finish his speech.

Reynolds and his son, Jack, were released on bond after police booked them for violation of the Dallas anti-noise ordinance and resisting arrest.

Police Chief Carl Hanson said complaints had been received of the disturbance made by a loud speaker the candidate was using.

Wheat Dealers Contend Southwestern Farmers May Hold Crop From Market

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO — (AP)—A famine-smashing wheat crop maturing in the Southwest prompted speculation Monday on the amount of grain which will be held back on farms.

Although yields of the golden grain were greater than expected, causing upward revisions of production estimates, grain dealers were disturbed by reports producers were reluctant to send the wheat to market.

Success of the government's famine relief program, as well as easing of the flour shortage at home, depended not only on the output of wheat but also upon how much was marketed.

Splendid weather in recent weeks caused higher crop forecasts. C. M. Galvin, statistician for James E. Bennett and Company, placed the winter wheat crop at 751,089,000 bushels and Walter Scott of the Kansas City Board of Trade estimated 760,000,000 bushels.

Both predictions reflected improved weather conditions since the Agriculture Department's May 1 estimate of 742,887,000 bushels.

May Outlook OPA
Increasing reports were heard that farmers, angered over the government's handling of its wheat program, might store much of this gain in old barns and bins on their farms.

Farmers who marketed their 1945 crop early did not do as well as those who held the grain until later, the Kansas State College Extension Service noted.

There were two increases in ceilings after most of the 1945 crop was harvested, plus a 30-cent a bushel bonus. Farmers who held their wheat obtained 48 cents a bushel more than those who sold during the first eight months of the season, the college service said.

Resentment was reported growing among producers at the government order compelling sale of one-half of wheat delivered to elevators for storage. Some farmers regarded this as close to confiscation of private property.

Other reasons for holding grain, dealers said, included the possibility that the OPA might be killed in Congress or that ceilings would be removed from livestock and poultry, thereby making feeding operations more profitable than selling the grain.

SAN ANTONIO MAY LOWER POOLIO RESTRICTIONS

Last Monday the age limit was lowered from 22 to 18 years.

Supreme Court Upholds
Convictions Against
Three Tobacco Firms

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Supreme Court Monday affirmed conviction of three major tobacco companies on charges of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. The case involved the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company and The American Tobacco Company. They were fined a total of $255,000 in U. S. District Court in Lexington, Ky. The Sixth Federal Circuit Court upheld the conviction. Justice Burton delivered the 6-0 decision. Justices Reed and Jackson did not participate. Burton said the companies "have been found to have conspired to establish a monopoly and also to have the power and intent to establish and maintain the monopoly. To hold that they do not come within the prohibition of the Sherman Act would destroy the force of that act."

Russia and Western Allies Clash Over Vital Danube Control

The Danube—most international river in the world—is another bone of contention between Russia and the western Allies. The Anglo-British stand is for embodying in peace treaties with Danubian nations the principle of free navigation and commerce. Russians want the river's administrative status to be put off until the future, after peace settlements are made. In the meantime, the USSR is rapidly tying up the region into a commercial network through unilateral trade agreements with Romania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and other nations.

Taxi Driver Has Weird Passenger

A Midland taxi driver early Sunday had a weird passenger, whom the driver believes carried a gun and cocked it as they rode along. The man, who engaged the car to go to Odessa, got out of it on West Wall Street. He later was picked up for investigation by Odessa police. The driver said he heard a pistol being cocked so he let the man out on West Wall Street.

Italy Formally
Becomes Republic

ROME —(AP)—Italy formally became a republic Monday.

In brief ceremonies in Montecitorio Palace's "Hall of the Wolf," Chief Justice Giuseppe Pagano announced that the court of cassation, highest tribunal in Italy, had officially determined the people had voted out the House of Savoy monarchy in the plebiscite last week.

It was believed that Umberto would leave immediately after the ceremony for Portugal, where he will join his wife and children in exile.

The Royalists had pressed last minute demands that the court examine their claim of fraud in the plebiscite before making any announcement. The newspaper "Espresso" quoted an associate justice as saying the court "after careful consideration," had decided it was not competent to pass upon the monarchist contention that an absolute majority of all ballots cast—both valid and invalid—was required for a Republican victory. In any case court functionaries expressed belief that the number of ballots invalidated for irregularities would be far below the Republican majority of 2,011,000 which the Ministry of Interior announced last week.

Five State Candidates
Withdraw From Ballot

AUSTIN —(AP)—The State Democratic Executive Committee Monday acknowledged a flurry of withdrawals of candidates for major state offices and elected Mrs. Jesse Andrews of Houston co-chairman to succeed the late Mrs. Fannie Campbell Wommack of Palestine.

The governor's race lost one candidate when former State Senator Joe Hill of Austin notified the committee by telephone from Shreveport that he did not wish his name to appear on the ballot in the July 27 primary.

Hill was one of the last-minute candidates who had filed for a place on the ballot June 3. The Senate race lost four of the last-minute candidates. They were former Governor Dan Moody, whose friends had filed for him, Gov. Coke Stevenson in whose behalf a filing had also been made, former State Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, and Milburn Latham of Austin.

The committee adopted a resolution praising the late Mrs. Wommack as a "beloved and distinguished Democrat who had been an ardent and loyal worker for the party."

Golf Amateurs Hold Own In Lubbock Stroke Play But Pros Win Matches

LUBBOCK—(AP)—Texas amateur golfers are more than holding their own in stroke play with the professionals but when it comes to match play that's still something else.

The pros won the Texas cup matches for the fifth straight time Sunday as they beat the Simon Pures 10 1/2 points to 4 1/2. It was the ninth victory for the play-for-pay boys in 14 meetings. The amateurs have won four and tied one.

Earl Stewart of Dallas, who won the Texas PGA Open championship Saturday with a 72-hole total of 275—nine under par for the Lubbock Country Club course—was on a losing doubles team and also dropped his singles engagement in the cup matches.

Sam Schneider, Houston professional who was outdistanced by five strokes in the open and had to be content with the Texas PGA title and $500 for finishing first among the pros, got a measure of revenge as he paired with Todd Houck of Little Rock to defeat Stewart and Chick Trout, Jr., Lubbock Country Club champion.

The pros won three of the five doubles matches and seven of the ten singles. One singles match was halved.

Reporter And O'Neal's Will Play 'For Keeps' Monday Night

The little boys in blue, The Reporter-Telegram and O'Neal's 66, will bring only the marbles they can afford to lose Monday night, because it's play for keeps in the Blue family of the JayCee Softball League.

O'Neal's is perched on top of the circuit standings but this is the game the Press, in second place, has been waiting for a long time. An O'Neal victory would throw the service station crew far into the lead of the circuit, while a Reporter victory would place the two clubs into a tie for the league leadership.

These clubs tee off at 7 p. m. at Barney Grafa diamond on South Main Street.

Next out of the chute at 9 p. m. are City Bus and the JayCees. The diamond was in perfect shape Monday morning and with no more "dew" will be tip-top for the nocturnal softball encounters.

Red Sox Double Victory Gives Boston Outside Chance To Set Three Records

The Gals, Too

Anna Larson leads Dagmar Bergman lowering world women's 400-meter record to 61.4 seconds in Stockholm.

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox had an outside chance Monday of breaking three coveted standards—winning the most games in one season, winning the pennant by the largest margin, and clinching the flag at the earliest date.

Having already pocketed 39 of their first 48 games, the Red Sox can better the Chicago Cubs 1906 contests, or in other words play .333 ball from here on in. The American League record, 110 victories, was set by the New York Yankees in 1927.

The twin triumph Sunday over the world champion Tigers—by 7-1 and 11-6 scores—extended the Red Sox's latest winning streak to 10 games.

The New York Yankees gained a split with the Cleveland Indians when Charlie Keller crashed his 13th homer of the season with two on in the ninth to give the Bronx-lites a 7-4 nightcap over the Indians. The Tribe had capped the opener 9-5.

The season's second largest baseball attendance lifted the total paid attendance at the Yankee Stadium to 1,010,977 for 31 Yankee home games in 29 playing dates. This is the earliest date in history for any team to reach the million mark in attendance.

Cubs Move Up On Cards

The Chicago Cubs are working on a winning skein of their own that has pulled the defending National League champions to within three and a half games of the top. Defeating the first place Brooklyn Dodgers 7-6 for their third straight over the Flatbushers, the Bruins ran their streak to seven in a row and moved up to within a half game of the second place St. Louis Cardinals.

Splitting two games with the rejuvenated Philadelphia Phils, the Cards had to be satisfied with only a half-game gain on the Dodgers who now lead by three games. The Redbirds captured the first game 9-1 but in the finale Ben Chapman's lads won 3-1.

Washington's jinx over the Chicago White Sox finally came to an end as the Sox split with the Senators, winning the second game 8-1 after the Capital City crew captured the opener 7-1.

Manager Mel Ott was thrown out of both games by the umpires as his New York Giants dropped a double bill to the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 and 5-1.

After Johnny Sain pitched and batted his way to a 14-3 win for Boston in the opener, Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell out-duelled Si Johnson 1-0 in the nightcap.

The St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics split two, the Browns winning the first 6-2 and the A's annexing the nightcap 8-4.

France Leads Yugoslavs In Davis Cup Matches

PARIS—(AP)—France held a 2-0 lead over Yugoslavia Monday in their European zone semi-final Davis Cup series. Although the French met surprising resistance in the opening singles they won both and now need only a doubles victory to enter the final round against the victor of the Sweden-Belgium semi-finals.

Billy Conn's Tired Of Old Sparring Partners, Asks For Tough-Guy Baksi

By GAYLE TALBOT

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J. —(AP)—A world war has intervened since Billy Conn last worked himself into shape for a heavyweight fight, but nothing much has changed around his training quarters.

Johnny Ray, the little fellow who built Billy into a fighter and has managed him throughout his career without the formality of a contract, still gives out the orders, and Conn still does just about as he pleases. The combination seems to work out all right.

At the moment, for instance, there is question of whether Billy shall box a couple of rounds Tuesday against Joe Baki, a big, tough heavyweight who has appeared several times in the Garden and is a pretty mean customer in his own right.

Ray first asked Baki to go a few rounds with Billy, for the challenger is badly in need of some new sparring partners. But then, when Baki replied that he would be right out, Johnny began changing his mind. Finally, after Conn's eight-round workout Sunday, Johnny informed the press that Baki wouldn't be needed, after all.

That was okay with everybody except Conn, apparently. It became known later that Billy, tired of batting around a crew of sparring partners who had become very old stuff to him after 235 rounds of their company, wanted some red meat, namely Baki.

"You'll be safe in saying that he will box against Baki on Tuesday," said Walter St. Dennis, the veteran publicity man attached to the Conn menage.

As he opened his final week of training Sunday, the challenger looked as though he was ready to step into the ring with Joe Louis on a moment's notice. He bounced around ceaselessly for the eight rounds and scarcely drew a deep breath at the finish.

His manager, Ray, looked just a trifle worried, or at least anxious, as he announced that there would be no boxing Monday. "Billy is in great shape right now," he said. "My job is to keep him that way."

Conn still manages to flash his wide smile now and then, but he obviously is growing tense after his long stay here. Not conducive to his good temper is the fact that he continues to be troubled with blisters on both feet. Otherwise, he is in supremely fine physical shape.

Louis Prepares For Full Fifteen Rounds June 19

By SID FEDER

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. —(AP)—It would appear that after ten years as champion and one month of training for what figures to be his toughest defense, Joe Louis has finally discovered there are 15 rounds in a title fight and it may be a good idea to get ready for all 15 of them.

For the first time since he came down the pike to build the greatest heavyweight championship record in history, the Bomber boxed more than six rounds at a sitting, both Saturday and Sunday, as he polished up his for June 19th beak-busting date with Billy Conn.

He said it was "only because I feel real good." It is in the books, too, that when he had to go 15 rounds in the past to keep his crown from being knocked off, he did it without having to call for help—notably against Tommy Carr and Arturo Godoy.

In the course of cauliflowering Joe showed that his punches packed all the ether cans they ever had in the past.

On the other hand, Joe also demonstrated that speed still prevents him from getting set to pull the trigger—just as it did in his first fight with Conn—and that it is still pretty much open season for left hands on his whiskers.

His punching Sunday, in fact, was sharper than it has been to date. The scales showed he's down to 210 pounds, within two of the beef he expects to be packing a week from Wednesday.

After he finished, Louis got around to talking about Conn somewhat, even to admitting that he knows now he was behind in his conditioning when Billy took him almost to the end of his title run last time out.

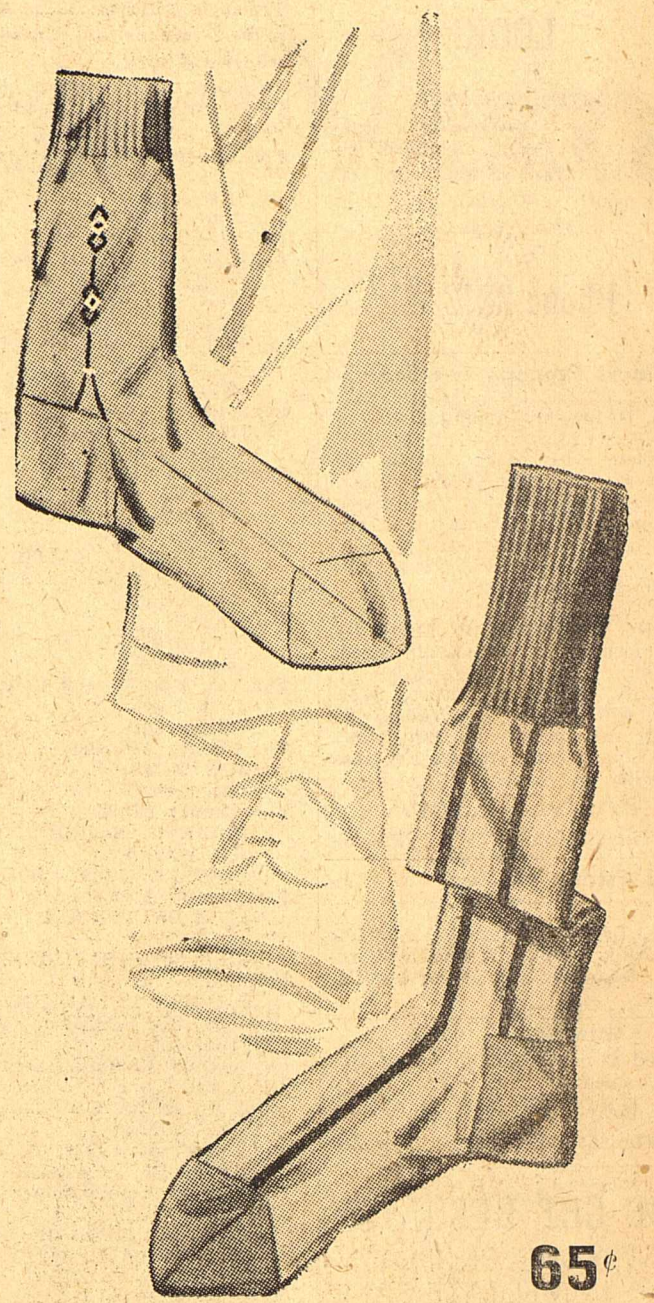

"Billy was just a good, light-heavyweight then," Joe went on, "now he's grown up into a good heavyweight."

"But I'm gonna beat him. I'm getting in shape for 15 rounds. If the chance comes before then, of course, I think I'll take advantage of it."

Gene Sarazen Looms As Darkhorse In U.S. National Open Play

CLEVELAND —(AP)—A familiar figure charged into the National Open golf picture Monday in the person of ageless Gene Sarazen, perennial ranking contender of America's golfing fraternity.

While the experts were trying to decide which section of the Hogan-Nelson-Snead triumvirate would grab golfdom's 1946 prize, Sarazen boomed his National Open shot Sunday by dropping a hole-in-one at Cleveland's Canterbury Club.

Sarazen further startled the guess artists by flatly predicting that the National Open championship at Canterbury would not be copied by the booming drives of Sammy Snead, the mechanical irons of Byron Nelson or the precision putting of Ben Hogan, the "mighty mite" from Texas.

"Some outsider who hasn't taken part in all these grueling cross-country tours and has spent a week or so sipping up the Canterbury course and mastering its difficulties will win the 1946 Open," Gene declared.

To prove his point, Sarazen stepped to the third tee, leveled his sights and waited a perfect mid-iron shot which arched over a small pond and dropped into the cup 176 yards away.

"I should have saved that one for Thursday—I might need it," chuckled Gene as he turned away wearing a satisfied grin.
