WASHINGTON—(P)—requiring the agency to add increased costs to prewar prices in fixing ceilings. New Wildcats Are To Dig In Ward, Garza, Howard

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Locations for new petroleum exploration in three West Texas counties were reported Thursday.

All are classed as wildcats. One is an old hole, adjacent to the town of Pyote, in Ward County, which was temporarily abandoned in June 1943, on a total depth of 5,920 feet.

The test was temporarily abandoned at the request of the War Department, on account of being immediately adjacent to the runways at Pyote Army Air Field. The derrick and drilling equipment were considered hazards to the flying operations then being carried on there.

In South-Central Garza County, about three miles west of Justiceburg, North Ordinance, Inc., is rigging up rotary on No. 1 Elizabeth Walker, to be a 3,500-foot prospector to hunt pay in the top of the Clear Fork.

In Garza District, it is 330 feet from south and east lines of northwest quarter of section 45, block 6, H&GN survey, and is about six miles east of a wildcat now being drilled by The Plymouth Oil Company on the Slaughter ranch.

John T. O'Neal, of Lubbock, will drill the project. He assembled the four-section block, surrounding the drillsite, and turned a spread in it to North Ordinance for the test. R. S. Anderson of Midland has nearby acreage.

Plymouth No. 1 Slaughter, in northwest quarter of section 32, block 2, T&NO survey, had progressed below 2,800 feet, in San Antonio.

WASHINGTON—(P)—In the Senate vote Wednesday approving an amendment to the OPA extension bill providing that manufacturers' ceilings must reflect prewar prices plus average cost increases, both Texas senators, Tom Connally and W. Lee O'Daniel, were among the 44 who voted for the amendment.

Offered by Senator Taft (R-Ohio), the amendment would take the price levels of Oct. 1-15, 1941, as a base period and then add the increased average cost of the producer to reach a figure below which OPA could not set a ceiling.

Senator George (D-Ga.) joined Taft in support of the new formula. He said he felt sorry for OPA Administrator Paul Porter, declaring that Porter "inherited the OPA, inherited its program, inherited its theories and inherited (Stabilization Director Chester) Bowles."

"I would like to say this for Mr. Bowles," declared George. "He is the most inflated product and commodity that I know."

Debate Limited
Barkley later obtained an agreement by unanimous consent limiting further debate to a half hour per senator on each amendment and on the bill itself and expressed confidence a final vote will be reached Thursday.

The senate then adjourned out of respect to Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) who had just died.

Colonel And WAC Will Be Taken To Europe For Trial

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—(P)—The Army said Thursday that $40,000 to $50,000 worth of the Hesse family jewels had been recovered in Germany and that three officers arrested in the case would be tried in Frankfurt.

"Col. J. W. Durant and his wife, Capt. Kathleen D. Nash, will be brought to Germany from the United States and we expect them to be tried with Maj. David P. Watson," said Col. James J. Shea, executive officer of the European Theater provost marshal's office.

Headquarters command officers said the charges against the three officers and a former Army corporal had not yet been settled.

The missing portion of the $1,500,000 jewel haul was recovered by the Army's criminal investigation agents after a four-day search.

The official statement said the jewels would be displayed Thursday afternoon in the I. G. Farben building, headquarters of American forces in Europe, and more details of the recovery might be released then.

Maj. David S. Watson of Burlingame, Calif., was arrested here last Sunday in connection with the theft after his former superior officer, Col. J. W. Durant, had been taken into custody in Chicago by officers investigating the theft of the $1,500,000 royal treasure from Kronberg castle.

Roy C. Carlton of Kilgore, Texas, was held by Army officials for investigation in connection with the theft.

KILGORE—(P)—Roy Carlton of Kilgore told a reporter here that his implication in the Kronberg castle jewel case is being "distorted."

He told the reporter that he was "at the scene of the theft" but added:

"So were 30,000 other GIs, and it means nothing."

He said he had made a statement to a federal officer, but would not say what officer. Also, he would give no further information regarding his part in the sensational theft.

Carlton's family said he was not under arrest.

Senator Bankhead Dies Of Stroke

WASHINGTON—(P)—Death dropped the name of Bankhead from congressional rolls Thursday for the first time since Grover Cleveland sat in the White House almost 60 years ago.

Sen. John H. Bankhead, third of his family to serve on Capitol Hill in that long span, died late Wednesday in the U. S. Naval Hospital at nearby Bethesda, Md. He never completely rallied from a stroke he suffered three weeks ago.

He was 73 when death came and the Senate immediately recessed to honor his memory. Colleagues paid tribute to the important legislative roles he had filled since first coming to the Senate in 1930.

Accompanied by associates of many legislative years, Bankhead's body will start homeward late Thursday for funeral services Friday at Jasper, Ala., where he will be buried in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Son of a senator, brother of a speaker of the House and father of a former representative, Bankhead was perhaps best known on Capitol Hill as an advocate of farm legislation, particularly measures affecting cotton.

Military personnel at the Midland Army Air Field, once the world's largest bombardier school, have received their orders for transfer and all but about 80 of them will be leaving Saturday. Col. Robert W. Warren, commanding officer, will leave Monday for Little Rock, Ark., where he has been assigned.

The huge field will go on temporarily inactive status Saturday.

Approximately 30 officers will be retained for an indefinite period as key personnel, it was announced Thursday. About 50 other men will remain for a 30-day period to complete the work of closing the field, and approximately 50 civilian workers will be retained for an indefinite period of time.

Proposal Made To Hand Spain Issue To UN Assembly

NEW YORK—(P)—Accepting a United States compromise plan, Dr. Herbert V. Evatt of Australia, chairman of the UN Security Council sub-committee which investigated Spain, proposed Thursday that the Spanish question be referred to the General Assembly for its action.

Dr. Evatt opened the Security Council session with an announcement that the sub-committee had approved modifications of its recommendations as suggested by Herschel V. Johnson, acting United States delegate.

The sub-committee had recommended that the General Assembly call upon the United Nations for a complete break with Generalissimo Francisco Franco if he still is in power in September.

The United States modification would allow the General Assembly to take "such action" as it "deems appropriate under the circumstances at the time."

This would leave the way open for action less drastic than a diplomatic break if the assembly decided upon a more moderate course.

MIDLAND SERVICING CREW WINS REFUELING CONTEST

Shooting Star Pilots Average 446 MPH On Round-Trip Continental Flight

MARCH FIELD, CALIF.—(P)—Pilots of three Army jet-propelled planes Thursday held an unofficial record of 11 hours, nine minutes flying time for a round trip from March Field to Andrews Field, Md., a distance of approximately 4,550 miles.

Three of the four P-80 Shooting Stars that left here at 4:37 a. m. (PST) Wednesday were back at 7:21 p. m. One had to give up at Tinker Field, Okla., on the way east after accidentally dropping his wing tanks.

Average speed west to east was 478 miles an hour, the average east to west 414, mph, and the total average 446 mph.

One of the chief purposes of the round trip flight was to test pilot fatigue. The three who completed the trip, Flight Leader Col. Leon Gray of Casa Grande, Ariz., Maj. Robin Olds of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Lt. Jack Richardson of Oklahoma City, showed little effects of the test. They had a 55-mph tailwind going east and a headwind of the same force coming back.

Eighteen minutes after the first plane touched the runway at Midland Municipal Airport No. 2 Wednesday afternoon, three P-80 jet-propelled "Shooting Stars" were completely refueled and back in the air on their way toward March Field, Calif., to complete a one-day record flight across the country and back. The fighters arrived at March Field at 7:21 p. m. Pacific time.

The lead plane of the flight touched the runway here at 6:52 p. m., and the last plane took off at 7:10 p. m. Only 14 minutes were spent in refueling the planes, the fastest time recorded at any stop during the day. A good-sized crowd was on hand at the field to watch the arrival and departure of the jet planes.

The three pilots breakfasted Wednesday in California, had lunch in Washington, and dinner at March Field. The flight was led by Col. Leon Gray of Casa Grande, Ariz., in "Beautiful Doll," Lt. Jack Richardson of Oklahoma City, flying in "Sheila III," was second in formation, and Maj. Robin Olds of Beverly Hills, Calif., flying "Sneaky," was the third pilot.

Crews Of Amateurs
The record-breaking refueling time was set by three crews of amateurs, composed of civilian firemen,

Bill Sent To Floor With 20-5 Vote

WASHINGTON—(P)—The House Banking Committee Thursday approved legislation ratifying the $3,750,000,000 British Loan. The vote was 20 to 5.

The legislation, already approved by the Senate 46 to 34, now goes to the House floor, where opponents promised a sizzling battle.

Banking committee members said the bill probably would reach the floor a week from Monday.

The committee vote came after long hearings, during which the Administration told Congress the loan is essential to take the shackles off world trade, to encourage international economic cooperation and to aid world peace.

Without the loan, the proponents argued, Britain would be unable to participate in the Bretton Woods world bank and currency stabilization fund, and this ambitious attempt at international economic cooperation would fail.

This view was supported by the American Bankers Association, United States Chamber of Commerce and a number of other organizations and individuals.

Byrnes And Aides Leave By Air For Paris Showdown

WASHINGTON—(P)—With a "good bye, good luck" from President Truman, Secretary of State Byrnes left Thursday for Paris and a show-down with Russia on European peace settlements.

Byrnes was accompanied by Senators Connally (D-Texas) and Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

WASHINGTON—(P)—A White House parley on world problems preceded Thursday the departure of Secretary of State Byrnes for new talks of foreign ministers at Paris.

Further, President Truman added emphasis to the importance of Byrnes' mission by arranging to drive with him to the airport.

Byrnes is returning to Paris for a showdown meeting with Russian Foreign Minister Molotov and others of the Big Four—France and Britain.

Truman lent his own plane, commonly known as "The Sacred Cow," to carry Byrnes and Senators Connally (D-Texas) and Vandenberg (R-Mich.) across the Atlantic.

All three were summoned to a White House meeting Thursday.

Meanwhile, the White House denied a report published in England that Truman is considering a visit to Moscow for a heart-to-heart talk with Premier Stalin in the event of failure of the Paris meeting.

Such a report, Ross told his news conference, "is news to me, it is news to the President, and I haven't heard it discussed."

Ross said Truman had no comment on the speech Wednesday by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin which strongly indicated British rejection of a recommendation by the Anglo-American commission for immigration of 100,000 Jews into Palestine this year.

Tojo And Pals See New Wildcats -- Ambitious War Bid On Maps

TOKYO (AP)—The men whom the Allies charge with having flung the Pacific nations into war saw their ambitious bid for an empire paraded before them on huge, 15-foot square, red-lined maps Thursday as the prosecution opened its case before the international war crimes tribunal.

War-time Premier Hideki Tojo, a worried-looking little man with lined brows, studied each map with deep concentration.

Of all the defendants, only Kenji Dohara, who was Japan's "Lawrence of Manchuria," and Mamoru Shigemitsu, who signed the surrender document for Japan aboard the U. S. S. Missouri, paid scant attention. Dohara shot a couple of quick glances at the Manchurian maps and Shigemitsu looked not at all.

The big court room was stifling hot throughout the day and after the unrolling of the maps the defendants and spectators alike dozed fitfully while Brigadier General Henry G. Nolan, assistant prosecutor for Canada, droned for four and a half hours through the prosecution's history of the Japanese government.

Even Sir William Webb, tribunal president, dozed momentarily and slumped back to attention with an embarrassed look. Shortly afterward he halted Nolan and suggested he shorten the remainder of the report, and present it at the opening of the court Friday.

The first evidence introduced to the 11-justice court was nearly 100 historic documents—treaties and agreements which the prosecution charged Tojo and his fellow defendants with violating.

dres line, topped at 2,560 feet, on an elevation of 2,490 feet.

According to some correlations that puts it 116 feet high to the Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Slaughter, about three miles west, which was drilled in 1925.

Another For Howard
Luncan Drilling Company of Big Spring has filed application with the Railroad Commission to drill No. 1 B. M. Newton, as a 3,200-foot wildcat, in Northwest Howard County, seven miles north and slightly west of Big Spring.

Location is 330 feet from north and east lines of section 9, block 33, TP survey, T-1-N. Drilling is to start at once.

Cooper Gas Company No. 1-A Koy, prolific oil discovery on the north side of the Page gas field, in Central Schleicher County, preparing to make a production test on perforated sections at 5,350-5,410 feet, and at 5,507-5,605 feet.

The next testing is expected to be undertaken about the end of the week.

The Texas Company No. 1-P State, possible lower Permian discovery, in Southwest Andrews County, about six miles northwest of the Martin field, ran a two-hour and 40-minute drillstem test at 7,270-7,320 feet.

Developed Salt Water
There was an odor of gas after 10 minutes. Recovery was 180 feet of drilling mud, 180 feet of gas cut mud, and 1,170 feet of salt water.

The project is to drill ahead. It is expected to go on to test the Devonian.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-B Cowden, in southwest corner of section 3, block A-55, psi survey, one-half mile east and same distance north of closer Devonian production in the Dollar Hide field, in Southwest Andrews, is being plugged and abandoned on total depth of 8,769 feet in lime.

It failed to get any production in the Devonian, and quit in the Silurian, topped at 8,450 feet, on an elevation of 3,168 feet, after getting sulphur water in a drillstem test at 8,675-8,723 feet.

Phillips No. 1-G TXL, in West Ector County, and between the TXL and the Wheeler field, was bottomed at 7,890 feet, in basal Permian, and was to take a drillstem test.

Oil And Gas Shows
A test was taken for one hour at 7,690-7,840 feet. There was a steady blow of air throughout the period, and recovery was 200 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud, with no water. The section at 7,840-80 feet had some porosity and oil stains.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Kayser, West-Central Ector County deep wildcat, tried a drillstem test at 11,885-12,060 feet. The packer failed after 29 minutes. Recovery was 455 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud. Operator was coring ahead.

More Acid In Crespi
Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Crespi, East Midland County wildcat, re-treated with 12,000 gallons of acid, in perforations at 11,420-450 feet, and at 11,470-540 feet.

After the acid load was lifted, the well flowed out oil flush for 15 minutes, and then flowed acid water and acid gas for six hours.

It then died. The swab was run seven times, and the well kicked off and was flowing eight barrels of fluid per hour, of which 60 per cent was acid water, early Thursday morning. It was flowing to pits to clean. Informal sources say that the next 48 hours likely will determine whether or not this project will be an oil well.

Oil In Silurian
Humble No. 1-E J. B. Walton, on west side of the Keystone-Ellenburger field, in North Winkler County, was to make more hole after a drillstem test at 8,190-8,430 feet, in the Silurian.

The tool was open two hours. Gas showed in eight minutes, and the maximum volume was 500,000 cubic feet per day.

Recovery was 1,800 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud, with an estimated 20 feet of that mud being oil. There was no water. Corrected gravity of the petroleum was 34.7 degrees.

Activated in 1941
All aircraft at the field will be transferred to other bases.

The field was activated in October, 1941, and its last class of bombardiers was graduated in January of this year. It was one of a quadrangle of bombardier schools in this area, others of the group being located at Childress, Big Spring and San Angelo.

Thousands of bombardiers were trained at the field during the war, and the drone of planes day and night became a familiar sound to residents of this area.

No information concerning the future of the field or of the buildings and other properties has been received here.

Mayor Fred Hogan Explains Midland's Financial Problems

Midland's financial problems were explained to Rotarians at their meeting Thursday noon in the Scharbauer Hotel by Mayor Fred Hogan. Members of the City Council also were guests of the club.

The mayor told of the employment of specialists to revalue property here and said a card index system would be available, listing all property so taxes may be equalized.

He pointed out that Midland's total tax valuation is only $9,800,000, compared with $7,100,000 in 1930, and that the tax rate now is only $1.40, compared with $1.45 in 1930.

The cost of operating the city's government, he continued, is three times greater than it was in 1930 and its revenue has increased only 30 per cent. In 1930, Midland had 300 water meters and now it has more than 3,500. In 1930, the city had a population of 5,400 and now it has about 18,000. Bank deposits are fifteen times greater and the postoffice's business is seven times greater than in 1930.

Payroll Totals $120,000
Mayor Hogan said the city's payroll this year will total $120,000.

In comparing tax values, he said that although building permits for more than $8,000,000 have been issued in Midland since 1930, the tax valuation has increased only $2,700,000.

He said many citizens are requesting paving but that due to the large bonded debt the city council is urging property owners to pay for their own paving and avoid more bond issues.

He estimated paving costs at $4 to $4.50 per front foot and pointed out that no federal government money is available to aid in the projects as in the days of WPA.

Hogan said the city is willing to pave streets if property owners will pay the bills on an equal basis.

He also discussed steps being taken by the city to cure the drainage problem.

City Councilmen John P. Butler and S. M. Erskine also were guests at the meeting. W. I. Pratt was program chairman and Guy Breneman, club president, presided at the session.

Mrs. Evelyn Turner entertained with vocal selections. Mrs. Marian Reeder was at the piano.

Charges Filed Following Fatal Auto Accident

Examining trial was waived by C. R. Springer of Midland in justice court Wednesday and he was bound over to action of the 70th District Court grand jury with bond set at $2,000.

Springer was charged with negligent homicide while in the commission of an unlawful act. He allegedly was involved in an accident, resulting in the death of Mary Harvey Keith on Highway 80, May 26.

Mary Harvey Keith died the next day in a Midland hospital of injuries received in the accident. A gasoline can in the pickup truck in which she was riding overturned and ignited and she was burned in addition to other injuries.

U. S. Attorney Files Information Against Petrillo And Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark Thursday announced the filing of a criminal information charging James C. Petrillo and his musicians' union with coercive practices affecting radio broadcasting.

Clark said "the charge is the outcome of Petrillo's alleged violation of the Lea Act which became a federal law April 16, 1946." He said the information was filed in Federal District Court at Chicago by United States Attorney J. Albert Wolf.

The Lea Act, passed by Congress in April and termed by some legislators the "anti-Petrillo" act, provides for up to one year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine for any union which compels or attempts to compel broadcasters to hire more employees than they want.

Petrillo, president of the AFL American Federation of Musicians, contends the act is unconstitutional and invited a test by calling a strike on May 23 of three studio librarians at Chicago Station WAAF. He said he called the strike because the station refused to hire three additional librarians.

House Committee Not To Take Action On Court Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee decided Thursday it does not have sufficient evidence to take any action in the Supreme Court controversy involving Justices Robert H. Jackson and Hugo L. Black.

Chairman Hutton W. Summers (D-Texas) told reporters at the end of the close meeting that there is "no determination at the moment to conduct an investigation."

Summers said Jackson's criticism of Black, cabled to the committee Monday from Nuernberg, Germany, was discussed at length but the consensus was that the committee had no jurisdiction in the matter.

"There may be something shaping up," he added, but said nothing received thus far indicates committee jurisdiction.

Summers explained that the committee's action is limited to studying or recommending legislation, and to matters dealing with impeachment. But, he emphasized that there was nothing in the case to indicate the need for impeachment proceedings.

War Continues In China Despite Truce

NANKING (AP)—China's fifteen-day truce between warring Nationalist and Communist factions appeared to be reduced to a scrap of paper Thursday.

The government's tightly-controlled Central News Agency reported Nationalist troops were driving ahead in Manchuria and had frustrated attempted landings by Communists near Tsingtau, U. S. Marines have one of their strongest North China garrisons.

Chinese press dispatches said without other confirmation that martial law had been proclaimed in the Shantung Peninsula seaport.

While deep concern was shown over the situation in Tsingtau, U. S. General Marshall's headquarters said it had failed to halt negotiations for a permanent settlement of China's civil war.

A spokesman at the capital said that General Marshall was "continuing with regular affairs" although no attempt was made to hide concern over reported heavy fighting within scope of American Marine garrisons.

Dr. Painter Criticizes Censure As 'One-Sided, Incomplete And Unfair'

AUSTIN (AP)—Censure of the University of Texas administration by the American Association of College Professors stood parried Thursday with two charges against the association's procedures.

University of Texas President T. S. Painter in a formal statement Wednesday criticized the action as "unfair" because of:

1. Failure of any AAUP committee to conduct an on-the-campus investigation of the university situation.
2. Failure of AAUP to afford the university an opportunity to comment on the investigational report prior to formal action.

Dr. Painter described both failures as departures from "usual procedures."

In placing the university on its list of "censured administrations," the AAUP council in Chicago Sunday had explained its action as resulting from "attempts by a politically dominant group to impose its social and educational views on the university."

On that specific charge Dr. Painter made no comment.

He declared, however, that he was forced to believe AAUP had based its action on information which he described as "one-sided and incomplete."

AAUP Executive Secretary Ralph Hinshaw had commented Sunday that the council's action was an outgrowth of the discharge of Dr. Homer Price Rainey (now candidate for governor) as president in 1944 and failure of the regents in 1942 to re-employ three economics professors.

Dr. Painter noted that since AAUP "never has been an accrediting agency," its censure cannot in any way affect transferability of academic credits or value of degrees at the university.

Denison Slayings Remain Mystery

DENISON (AP)—Justice of Peace E. A. Wright has announced a coroner's verdict that George Cuchener, 54, fired the shots that took his own life and killed Mrs. Lena Cuchener, 77, his wife; Mrs. George Cuchener, 47, his mother; and critically wounded Georgine Cuchener, 24, his daughter.

Miss Cuchener remained in a critical condition Thursday, attendants at the hospital said. She was shot in the head, the bullet remaining in her brain.

A Dallas brain surgeon, Dr. Elbert D. Errico, was called to Denison in an effort to save Miss Cuchener's life.

The shooting took place at the Cuchener home here Tuesday afternoon. Police said they were still unable to piece together events which led up to the slayings.

Demonstration Agent Gives Procedure For Canning Pineapple

Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, county home demonstration agent, has released the following procedure to be used for canning pineapple. Many requests were made by local women who received fruit in the order arriving here Tuesday.

Can only ripe pineapple for a good quality product. Ripe pineapple has a good flavor, yellow color and requires less sugar in canning. If pineapple is not ripe, wrap in thick paper and keep a few days until it ripens.

Pineapple may be canned in either tin cans or glass jars. Pineapple canned in plain tin cans has a better flavor and color than fruit canned in enamel cans or glass jars. Make syrup before cutting pineapple. Dissolve 1/2 cup sugar to 1 cup hot water. This amount is sufficient for 1 quart of canned fruit.

Two cups of sugar made into invert sugar syrup will can approximately 2 quarts of canned fruit. Wash the fruit with a stiff brush, and cut off stem and twist out top. Lay the pineapple on its side on a cutting board. Cut in 1/2 inch slices. Peel each slice and drop in syrup to prevent exposure to air which causes loss of vitamin C, and discoloration.

Pack Jars With Fruit
When all pineapple is prepared, pack cans or jars full of slices of raw fruit. Bring syrup to the boiling point and pour over the fruit to within one inch of the top of the container. To steam, place uncovered jars of fruit in a warm water bath with the hot water about 1 1/2 inches below the rim of the jar. Cover the water bath kettle, and start counting time as soon as the water is boiling and has formed a good steam. A slow even boil is better than vigorous boiling because the water does not bubble into the container.

Steam pints and No. 2 cans five minutes, quarts and No. 3 cans 10 minutes.

At the end of the steaming time remove 1 contained at a time. Press the fruit down so that the juice will cover the pieces and the air bubbles will escape. If the fruit is not hot and the air removed, the fruit will darken and lose vitamins.

Seal lids on cans air-tight, self-seal type of jar lids should be tightened firmly before processing and not tightened again after processing. Other types of lids should be put on by hand manufacturers recommended.

Boiling Canned Fruit
After jars and cans have been sealed, they should be put back into the water bath and covered with boiling water. Count time when water begins to boil.

Process No. 2 and No. 3 cans 15 minutes, pint and quart jars 20 minutes.

Remove from water bath. Cool cans in cold water immediately. Tighten lids on jars (other than self-seal type) and cool as quickly as possible without placing in a draft. Store in a cool and dry, dark place. Light causes some darkening of pineapple canned in glass, and

Nell Lordan To Appear In Community Theatre Play Opening Monday

In the play "Suppressed Desires" to be presented by the Community Theater, Inc., June 17 and 18 at the City-County Auditorium, the part of Henrietta, a sophisticated, radical, modern New Yorker, is played by Nell Lordan.

Mrs. Lordan will portray a fiery redhead, completely absorbed in psychoanalysis in which she wishes her sister, Mabel, and husband, Steve, would take an interest.

Mrs. Lordan has traveled extensively, spending the last few years in Porto Rico. She is now housing manager of the Permian Village.

She was in charge of the properties in the last production "Uncle Harry," and has been active in the Community Theater since coming to Midland seven months ago.

Former Midlander Is Winner In Journalism Contest In Dallas

Joan Edwards of Dallas and formerly of Midland was one of the two girls selected to write a signed Sunday column in The Dallas Morning News for 'teen-agers.'

Miss Edwards and the other winner, Laura Rivers, also of Dallas, will write on alternate weeks, using the subject of their choice. It may be anything from goons to slicks, from clothes to love-love advice.

They were selected for the job from scores of contestants who submitted entries through their journalism teachers or direct to The News.

Joan moved to Dallas last February from Midland. She will be a junior next fall at Woodrow.

"I'm considered normal," Joan said. "My favorite subject is Spanish and favorite pastimes are swimming, doodling with pastels, and trying to sing. Right now I'd give the last lucky penny out of my meccasins to be a model."

The columns will begin in the next Sunday edition.

PINEAPPLE FOR CANNING PURPOSES IS DISTRIBUTED

Approximately 20,000 pounds of fancy sugar pineapples from Mexico were distributed to 274 families Tuesday and Wednesday at the Co-Op Guild.

Orders were placed by women of Midland, Ector and Upton counties several months ago. This project was sponsored by the Midland County Home Demonstration marketing committee composed of Mrs. A. D. L. Price, Mrs. Jim Baker, and Mrs. Roy Long.

Women from Ector ordered 4,000 pounds; Upton, 1,030; and the remainder for Midland County.

It destroys some vitamin C. Heat lowers the quality of fruit canned either in glass or tin.

Invert Syrup
Two cups sugar, 1 cup water, 1/4 teaspoon tartaric acid. Simmer for 30 minutes. Allow to cool. In sanning use 1/4 cup invert syrup to 1 cup water. This recipe should make 7 1/2 cups canning syrup, enough to can approximately 7 quarts.

Select and prepare fruit as for canning. Pack into air-tight moisture-proof freezing cartons. Cover with syrup which is made by dissolving 3/4 cup sugar to 1 cup hot water. The syrup should be cold when added to pineapple. Seal the cartons and quick-freeze as soon as possible.

June Trousseau Treasure

Dreamy negligee ensembles for the June brides play up rear-view interest. Left, an open back and ruffles which sweep from a deep yoke in front, to the hemline in back highlight this sunset-colored sheer negligee worn over a matching gown. Center, bridal white sheer embroidered in gold dots has rhumba-dancer ruffles around the square décolletage, the sleeves and the hem. A white satin gown completes the ensemble. Right, a detachable founced apron ties bustle fashion at the back of this white sheer negligee which has white eyelet organza ruffles around deep armholes. The matching square-necked gown is white satin.

Showing the newest tendency to swing fashion interest to the rear, one robe ruffles ruffles from a deep yoke in front all the way down the open back to the hemline of the sunset-colored sheer. Underneath all of this glamour is a matching satin nightgown, made empire style. This repeats the ruffled detail in a heart-shaped V neckline.

Traditional white makes a robe as per a child's pinafore. This is made of filmy stuff of the substance of clouds but deep armholes are ruffled in eyelet embroidery organza. A detachable apron, bouncy with flounces, ties bustle-fashion in the back but doubles as a breakfast-in-bed cape. The apron and the robe are ensemble with a white satin nightgown which has a new square, drawstring neckline and for trimming is incised with slashes of frosty white organza.

Not all ruffles, however, are relegated to a back position. On one of the sprightliest negligees—Latin-American inspired—rhumba-dancer ruffles flow around a low neckline and the hem of a skirt with extravagant sweep. Brazilian gold flashes in the embroidery dotting the sheer white robe, which has a drawstring waistline that ties over a white satin gown with matching ruffles.

OPA Opens Way For Higher Cafe Prices

WASHINGTON—(P)—OPA opened the way Thursday for higher restaurant prices.

But in doing so, the agency followed only in part a recommendation of the Senate Banking Committee, which voted to wipe out ceilings on meals made up of foods on which there are no price controls.

OPA issued an order which simply allows new menu prices to reflect the full amount of any higher costs stemming from the removal of price ceilings on food items.

The order is effective immediately, but it will have little effect on restaurant prices right away. The reason is that there are not many food items exempt from price control at this time.

But OPA officials said the new regulation means the cost of dining out probably will go up sharply if ceilings are stripped from meat, poultry, eggs and dairy products. The Senate committee has recommended removal of these controls July 1. (A decision by the full Senate is expected by nightfall.)

Under the OPA order, restaurants may raise their prices for any meal, individual food item or beverage, if the major ingredient is exempt from price control at all other sales levels.

For example, if meat tellings are discontinued, a restaurant could hike its prices for a steak dinner if it had to pay more for the meat.

The same would hold for an order of eggs or chicken or a glass of milk, if ceilings on these items are removed.

In calculating the amount of increase, restaurants start with the actual cost of raw food exempt from ceilings and add to that their present percentage mark-up.

Army Shows Sgt. Ruiz And Family Sights In Nation's Capitol City

WASHINGTON—(P)—The nation's capital was a world of wonder Thursday to wide-eyed Latin-American family that traveled here from West Texas so one of their number could receive the country's highest military tribute.

Army Sergeant Alejandro Ruiz, 21-year-old hero of Okinawa fighting, and eight others of his family arrived here Wednesday by train from their home in Barstow, Texas.

The little group has been taken in tow by an Army captain. With two Army staff cars at their disposal they are seeing the sights of Washington.

Friday Ruiz will receive the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Accompanying the sergeant are his wife, his mother, his grandmother and sisters and cousins of the fighting Texan.

Though he declines to talk about it, War Department records show the West Texan killed 12 Japanese in taking single-handed a Japanese pillbox in face of bitter machine gun and grenade fire.

After waiting two hours to get a table in a crowded restaurant at the swanky hotel where they are staying, Ruiz and his kinsmen were taken on a tour of the city.

First they visited the Washington Monument and the Capitol.

Everything was wonderful and fine, Ruiz told reporters. The others of the family looked a great deal but said little. The sergeant is the only one who speaks English fluently.

Ruiz is now on a reenlistment furlough.

Texas Farmer Grows First Bale Of Cotton This Year In U. S.

HOUSTON—(P)—Pryor Dillard, 39-year-old Harlingen cotton farmer, Thursday claimed title of producing the first bale of cotton in the U. S. in 1946.

Dillard, owner of a 735-acre farm at Harlingen, said he planted 300 acres in cotton on February 10. Tuesday he began picking a 100-acre tract and by Wednesday he had enough for a bale.

He rushed the cotton to a gin near his farm. The ginners, inspired by his enthusiasm, raced to get out the bale, while Dillard watched nervously. At 9 p. m. the bale was ready. Dillard and a helper, Earl McRoy, hoisted it onto a trailer and took off for Houston.

The pair arrived here at 4 a.m. Dillard said it is a new Mebane type of early cotton and that he expects to get a bale an acre out of his crop.

The Houston Cotton Exchange says this is the first bale grown and ginned in the United States this year.

Friction matches were invented in 1827.

Jet Pilot Wiggles Wings Saluting Fast ATC Service Crew At Midland

By TANNER LAINE

Lt. Jack Richardson, of Oklahoma City, wiggled the wings of "Sheila III", his sleek P-80 jet, as he buzzed over Midland Municipal Airport Number 2 and zoomed up to leveling-off altitude as three westbound Army Air Forces' aircraft streaked California way following a refueling stop here Wednesday.

It was a gallant salute to a fast-working service crew of the Air Transport Command, which serviced the three record-making planes in 14 minutes, and put them off on the last leg of a one-day breakfast-to-supper flight from March Field, Calif., to Washington and return.

Richardson is a "rock", which, in Air Corps slang, means "hot pilot". It wasn't exactly Rich's red scarf or swagger or general devil-may-care attitude that spells it, although those help. He of the three wiggled those wings and wore an anti-blackout suit.

Through the courtesy of Col. L. F. Post, who was mighty proud of his hard-working service crew and rightly so, the press was permitted to go out on the ramp and see the record-maker pilots.

The pilots appeared young, healthy, ice-nerved, tired but still capable, when they had a cigarette and rested a little, while their planes took in jet-juce at Midland.

Col. L. W. Gray of Casa Grande, Ariz., in "Beautiful Doll" was the flight leader. Maj. Robin Olds of Beverly Hills, Calif., in "Sneaky" was the third airplane driver. Richardson landed the No. 2 plane.

All three are fighter pilots and did tours in Mustangs and Thunderbolts or Lightnings before graduating to jets.

One could tell that Richardson was the "rock" all right because of his "G-suit", that corset-like contraption which allows plenty of gyrations up there at 30,000 feet or more, six miles out this world with no black-out.

How do they act, these pilots? They are all the same: cream of the crops, makes you good and proud of "Off We Go into the Wild Blue Yonder". They hoisted out of the cockpit of the silver jets here, smiled, and talked just like the boy next door.

Colonel Gray looked at his Nationalization By Default?

It looks as if the United States government is in the coal-mining business for keeps, at least on a small scale. A few operators are reportedly willing to sell out for a "fair remuneration" and let the government continue its present control of their mines on a permanent basis.

For the most part, these operators are the owners of small bituminous mines in the south. Their complaint is that "hidden costs" have increased miners' wages by not 18 1/2, but 24 cents an hour. They say they can't meet the increase, and so are bowing out.

Since the larger operators undoubtedly will be able to meet the increases, there might seem to be no reason for devoting attention to these few mines. But the small operators' decision offers material for some interesting speculation.

It is a foregone conclusion that when private business again takes over the mines it will be on terms at least as favorable to John L. Lewis as those contained in his present contract with the government. And it seems probable that Lewis planned things just as they worked out.

He refused to discuss wages and hours with the operators. He demanded a health and welfare fund first, but he did not first specify the whats and hows of such a fund. Then he walked out on the operators when they were unable to propose what he had in mind.

Meanwhile the coal shortage was being felt increasingly. Finally the government had to step in, as Lewis must have known it would. And, in spite of popular indignation, there wasn't much the government could do except give to Lewis, under threat of increasing national hardship, more than he might have received from the operators.

Somewhat the same thing happened in the railroad's case. The strike against a government mediation board's recommendation was badly timed. It came on top of Lewis's strike, adding more inconvenience and unemployment, and further ruffling the public's short temper. Nevertheless, the two brotherhoods at least made a better money deal with the President than they had with the government board.

It has been pretty well demonstrated by now that unions in basic industries can do business directly with the government by calling a strike which interferes so drastically with the national economy that government intervention is the only solution. And it has been pretty well demonstrated that these unions can get a better deal from the government than they can from management.

If such tactics should continue over a period of years, with the unions getting a better deal from the government after every strike, it is not unlikely that more and more private industries would have to follow the lead of these few small mine operators.

In other words, nationalization of basic industries by default, as it were, is entirely possible under the present setup.

And, if government continues to try to hold down prices while periodically upping the wage ante after seizure and direct negotiation, the possibility becomes more than a pipe dream.

Unimportant Ideology

Sometimes it seems that the many and disturbing differences between the American and Russian governments can all be explained as being basically a clash of opposing ideologies. And then—

Russia, which has repeatedly denounced this government for maintaining diplomatic relations with fascist Spain, is establishing diplomatic relations with fascist Argentina. Says Pravda, the Communist party organ, "It is quite characteristic that some American newspapers, expressing the views of reactionary circles," should object to this.

Spain is within Russia's expanding political orbit. Many leaders of the exiled Spanish government are friendly to Russia. With the republic restored, Russia would probably exert the dominant foreign influence in Spain. Therefore, Spanish fascism is repugnant.

Argentina is outside the Russian orbit. The Argentine government hates communism. But Argentina has food and other raw materials that Russia wants, in return for Russian machinery and other finished goods. Therefore, Argentine fascism is endurable.

Ideology? Don't be naive.

A German butter-making machine said to produce 1500 pounds an hour has been brought to the U. S. for testing. All we want to know is when and where?

It is next to impossible to find a moneylender who doesn't take interest in his work.

Hogan And Nelson Favored As National Open Begins Thursday

CLEVELAND—(AP)—It was Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson against the field Thursday as 171 of America's top-drawer divot-diggers and a lone invader from England started their 72-hole three-day quest of goldom's No. 1 bauble—the 46th National Open championship.

Canterbury Golf Club's hilly, windswept 6,926-yard layout, softened by a series of rains, was ready for the test and old man par—the 72—was expected to give the all-star cast a tough struggle.

Unlike those days in the twinkling twenties when Amateur Bob Jones dominated the open classic by winning four times and finishing second four times over a nine-year span, the current competition was rated one in which at least 25 starters had a chance to win.

However, Hogan, the year's big money-winner, and Nelson, 1939 open king and present PGA ruler, were rated one-two and take your pick by most of the wizards of odds.

Film Comedian Killed As Car Strikes Pole

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Film Comedian Charles Butterworth died early Thursday of injuries received when his automobile skidded 50 feet and hit an electric light pole, police reported.

The actor died in an ambulance just as it was arriving at General Hospital. Attendants at the hospital said he had incurred severe head injuries.

Officers said his automobile, a foreign-make car, was almost demolished. There were no other persons in the car.

Partners?

Partners? Sure, Bill and Pat are partners! They've been partners since that very first day at the hospital, when little Pat smiled up from his crib at his big, broad-shouldered dad—and wiggled his baby toes. Right then was when Bill promised himself that he'd see to it that his son got the very best chance in life that Bill could provide.

And Bill has kept that promise. Regardless of the future, Pat will get to go through high school—and college, too. More than that—little Pat has a "nest-egg" to start in business, or to enter the profession of his choice. And Bill has seen to it that nothing can alter those plans for Pat, because he's built them all through Southwestern Life Insurance.

What Bill has done for little Pat, you can do for your son... or for your daughter... through Southwestern Life Insurance. It's the safe, sound, thrifty way to assure them a chance in the world of tomorrow. Get an outline of the plan today. Its flexibility will please you.

Louis Appears Slow, Easy To Hit As He Trains For Conn

By SID FEDER
 POMPTON LAKES, N. J.—(P)—Joe Louis will box just 24 more rounds before he takes on Billy Conn in Yankee Stadium next Wednesday, and he feels in Grade-A fighting shape right now, regardless of what one doctor had to say about his high blood pressure and assorted other ailments. Joe gave off this bit of steam Thursday as he went back to work with a six-round sparring scuffle after his usual Wednesday vacation from training. For the first time since he pitched his camp on May 4, the Bomber's usual easy-going way let off some sparks as he got around to the statement of Dr. Vincent Nardiello, a New York State Athletic Commission physician, after his workout Tuesday. "Hmph," he hmph-ed, "that statement's kind of silly. After all, Doc Walker said I was okay, didn't he? He's examined me for a dozen fights before. He knows me better than anybody. How can Doc Nardiello know me as good as Doc Walker?" Plans Front-Moving Style After a week of watching the sparmates stake out claims on the Bomber's physiognomy with their punches, the chief conclusions you draw are that he's easy to hit, that he's far slower than he was in '41 when he flattened Billy in 13 rounds, that he's planning to toss several large hooks at Conn's tummy next Wednesday, and that he's figuring on fighting a front-moving style to keep Conn going backward. Joe contends he's in just as good shape as he was for his return go with Max Schmeling—when he took sweet revenge for the only defeat of his professional career—and that his legs are ready to carry him 15 rounds with no complaints, if it has to go that far. He points out that he's been doing road work 17 weeks.

SEE THURSDAY NIGHT —

Which Is Stronger, Blue Or Red League, MAAF Or RT?

By TANNER LAINE
 The game many fans have been waiting to see is on the slate Thursday night at Barney Grafa Park—Midland Army Field vs. The Reporter-Telegram. At long last two big sticks of the JayCee Softball League are getting crossed. It is an exhibition frays starting at 9 p. m. The first game at 7 p. m. pits the Oil Scouts against Equitable in the first of three playoff games to see which nine will play the Army for the right to go into the Shaughnessy at the end of the season. The second game between these two teams is set for Saturday at 8:30 p. m. and a third, if necessary, Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Rumors have the MAAF club's personnel leaving soon and this is about the only chance to see two of the top teams of the Red and the Blue league compete. The Army Air Fielders have won eight and lost two in league play, as has The Reporter-Telegram.

Fight Experts Swing Convincingly To Conn To Beat Louis Next Wednesday

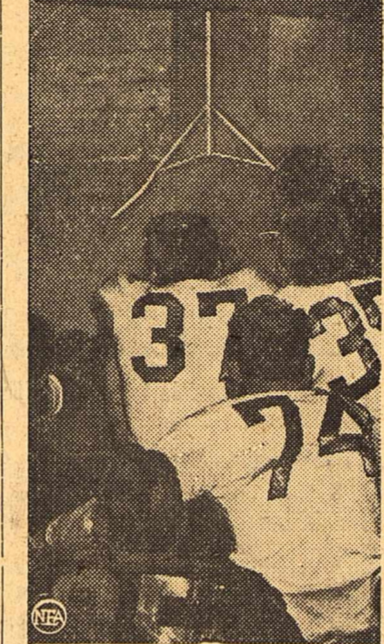

Crawford Defeats G-M Girls, 27-18

By GAYLE TALBOT
 GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J.—(P)—Among those who have been watching Joe Louis and Billy Conn train on alternate days at their nearby camps up here in the New Jersey hills there is a mounting conviction that Joe will have to get Billy very quickly this time or lose his title. Among the managers and former fighters and other boxing characters who watched the challenger box Wednesday there was scarcely a vote to be found for the champion except where one or another hedged with the provision "x x x unless Joe hits him in the first few rounds." Mickey Walker was so impressed with Conn's workout that he did a complete back-flip. On Tuesday the old toy bulldog picked Louis to win. Wednesday he picked Conn. It is difficult to escape the thought that Conn has a great chance this time Conn looks good in every respect, whereas Louis continues to show such indifferent form that some of the boys are beginning to suspect he is "covering up," though they can't think of any reason why he should conceal his wares. So dead certain is Billy that he can trim Joe over the 15-round route that he now apparently is thinking up ways and means by which he might score a knockout. That, of course, is the way he would like to win. Wednesday he dropped his usual jabbing and hooking to the head to concentrate on dealing out heavy jolts to the body. For minutes on end he bowed his neck and thundered them in. Even then his opponents found it very difficult to tag the elusive Billy. If Louis weakens at any stage next Wednesday night he likely will get a fine going over about the middle. Hit parade: (Crawford): Baze (3), Darnell (1), Leonard (double and single), Wood (1), Bennett (1), Locklin (home run and three singles), Scooby (home run and three singles), Rhodes (home run, double and single), Beasley (double and two singles). (Grammer - Murphey): Robison (4), Bryson (1), Ware (2), Angel (triple and single), Dale (1), Hoover (home run), Stanley (1).

Brooklyn Beats Cards In Birthday Celebration; Feller Downs Red Sox

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 There was joy in Flatbush Thursday in the hearts of some 2,788,000 Brooklyn residents. There was nothing but forgiveness for their dead Dodgers who were due back home from their weary and nearly disastrous western invasion. Why not? Hadn't their beloved Bums presented their faithful followers with the most desirable birthday present imaginable by whipping the hated St. Louis Cardinals for the first time in five meetings this season right on Brooklyn's 300th anniversary? For a time, it appeared the Dodger faithful would have to go to bed without their birthday present as the ninth opened with Brooklyn trailing the Cards 7-5, but Pistol Pete Reiser, Brooklyn's most explosive weapon, led off the frame with a double and before the round was over, the Dodgers had kayoed the Cards 10-7 to safeguard their slim lead. In the National League's only other game, the Cincinnati Reds handed the New York Giants their fifth straight defeat 3-2 to drop the Polo Grounders to within a half game of the last place Philadelphia Phillies. Feller Proves Greatness Once again Bobby Feller, the Cleveland come, proved his greatness when he cooled off the torrid Boston Red Sox 7-2 enabling the Indians to become the first western club to defeat Joe Cronin's American League leaders in 19 games at the Hub. While snapping the Red Sox 12-game winning streak, Rapid Robert struck out 10 to boost his season total to 236 for the 124 innings he has hurled while winning 10 and losing four. Detroit's Tigers made it three in a row over the New York Yankees Wednesday night by coming from behind to shade the Bronxes 6-5. In a brilliant pitching duel, the St. Louis Browns' Jack Kramer bested Washington's Bobo Newsom 1-0 in 10 innings as Outfielder Joe Grace tripped to drive in Hank Held with the only run of the game. Rain washed out the Pittsburgh-Boston and the Chicago-Philadelphia contests in the National League as well as the Chicago-Philadelphia game in the American circuit.

Late Rally Wins For Midland Drug
 For 20 outs and for six and two-thirds innings Durrell Insurance gave Midland Drug a softball battle Wednesday night but in the seventh frame after two away the Druggists went on a scoring spree and won the ball game, 23 to 14. Midland Drug, girls' league leader, had a terrific time with the challengers. However, two eight-run innings by Rosie Hart's girls made the difference. Durrell's went ahead in the first inning by getting four runs while Midland Drug got two. In the second frame Durrell's made five tallies, with the Druggists gals getting three in the third while the Insurance lassies went scoreless. But in the fourth was when MD got eight counters and Durrell's got only four. The fatal seventh came along and then Midland Drug, showing why it is on top of the league, made eight runs. Durrell could garner but one. Hit parade: (Midland Drug): Brooks, Adams (home run and bingle), Hart, Richey (2), Lee (2), Williams (home run and bingle), Johnny Stewart (2), Juanita Stewart (2). (Durrell's): Taylor, Little, Kenedy (2), Jones (3), Mashburn (3).

Theater Wing Plans To Aid UN Delegates

NEW YORK—(AP)—The American Theater Wing has set out to help entertain the United Nations' delegations in New York City by setting up a ticket bureau for theater, radio, movie, ballet, opera, concert, sports events and exhibits. During the war the wing operated a similar bureau for merchant seamen and repairs the present service as a contribution "to winning the peace."

The wing reasons that it is important to have the cultural opportunities of New York at the disposal of the visitors and regards the service as an instrument of good will.

In its first two days of existence the bureau turned over 2,000 tickets.

Helicopter travel is estimated to cost only a fraction more than five cents a mile.

20,000 Surplus War Planes Offered For Sale For Scrap, Salvage Value

DALLAS — Approximately 20,000 surplus bombers, reconnaissance planes, fighters, and other types of tactical aircraft, located at five major storage fields, are being offered for sale "on the hoof" for their scrap and salvage value, A. G. Elmendorf, regional director of the Dallas War Assets Administration office, has announced.

The planes to be sold are largely tactical combat types which are not eligible for certification by the Civil Aeronautics Administration and are not adaptable to successful civil use. WAA is offering the planes for sale for their value as salvage and scrap metal. The 20,000 planes contain an estimated 200,000,000 pounds of aluminum alloy and other metal.

The planes will be sold on a competitive bid basis. Bids will be received until noon, July 1, and will be opened the next day. All bids must be for the entire lot of planes located at any one field, and no single purchaser or combined group of purchasers may buy more than one lot. It will be a stipulation of all sales that the planes will not be used for flight purposes. The successful bidders will be required to pay 10 per cent down and the balance during the period specified for clearance of the field. The fields on which the planes are located will be rented to the purchasers at the rate of one dollar a year while scrapping operations are in progress.

Cannot Resell

WAA also will stipulate that a successful bidder may not resell to a primary producer of aluminum if that producer has been awarded a bid on his own behalf. It also will be stipulated that all aluminum scrap be disposed of within 18 months of date of sale.

Locations of the planes being offered, the number at each field and the poundage of aluminum alloy content follow: Albuquerque, N. M., 1,551 planes, 14,000,000 pounds; Clinton, Okla., 7,547, 35,000,000; Kingman, Ariz., 5,437, 89,000,000; Ontario, Calif., 1,340, 12,000,000; and Walnut Ridge, Ark., 4,815, 59,000,000.

Honor Among Thieves: Thanks For Buggyride

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Victor Fienup would like to thank the person who stole his automobile. Three days after the machine disappeared Fienup received a postcard telling him where he could find his car "with a new generator and battery." Fienup retrieved his car and looked under the hood. There was the new equipment.

stated that it will be permissible for groups of prospective bidders to submit a combined group bid for any one field.

Complete information as to types, numbers, and models of planes at each field may be obtained from the Office of Aircraft Disposal, War Assets Administration, 425 Second St., N. W., Washington, D. C. The planes may be inspected at the fields but offers to buy are to be submitted directly to the Washington office.

Officer Asks Speeder For Pilot's License—Gets It

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Joseph Zamoiski of Baltimore says he was driving his car—and fast—when a Virginia state trooper waved him down, and said sarcastically: "Let me see your pilot's license." Zamoiski, a pilot, pulled out his airplane papers. The officer laughed, and let him go with a warning to slow down on the ground.

Young Gunmen Missed One Of Three Tires

MISSOULA, MONT. — (AP) — Maurice Weaver, Montana State University student and botanist, parked his automobile in nearby foothills and went in search of flora. Returning, he found 33 bullet holes in the car, including several in three flat tires. Young vandals target shooting with a .22 caliber rifle were blamed for the destruction.

Fish Fills In For Scarce Meat

Luncheon shrimp—delicious meat replacement

By GAYNOR MADDOX
With meat in "invisible" supply, try fish frequently. Remember—fish, like meat, is first-class protein food.

Luncheon Shrimp (5 servings)
Six tablespoons butter or margarine, 6 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups milk, 1 cup cooked and cleaned shrimp or 1 can shrimp (5 ounces), 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 cup cooked peas, boiled rice or noodles that have been boiled and then browned in fat.

Melt butter or margarine over low heat; blend in flour, salt, and pepper. Add milk gradually and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and has no starchy taste. Add shrimp, Worcestershire sauce, and peas and heat thoroughly.

Divide hot, fluffy rice or browned noodles among five heat-resistant glass individual deep pie dishes, 12-ounce size. Pour shrimp mixture over contents and serve.

Wheatless Rhubarb Strudel (6 servings)
Four cups corn flakes, 2 1/2 cups

Was It A Red Car And A He-Cow?

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. —(AP)—Police records here now show something new in the way of hit and run accidents. Anthony Roma, San Bernardino, Calif., reported to the sheriff's office that a cow ran into the side of his car, caved the entire side in, then, apparently unhurt, disappeared on the run from the scene of the accident.

dried rhubarb, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons orange juice, 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine.

Put layer of corn flakes in buttered casserole. Add a layer of rhubarb, part of the sugar; and half the grated orange rind. Add another layer of corn flakes and rhubarb, remaining sugar, orange rind, and juice. Cover with corn flakes, dot with butter, and sprinkle lightly with sugar.

Cover casserole and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 35 minutes. Serve warm or cold with cream.

General Duty Nurse

THE STORY: One stormy night two mysterious strangers bring a badly injured boy into the hospital. Dr. Willoughby calls the police. After the suspicious characters have been taken to headquarters, the lights in the hospital go out. Sally and Margaret are alone in the darkened receiving room when they hear a shot. An unknown man enters, tells them to remain where they are if they wish to avoid unpleasant complications, then disappears. The lights go on again but there is no trace of him. Sally says she'll never forget his name. Dr. Willoughby admits there probably is a connection between the two incidents.

X
EVEN though the hour was approaching midnight there was nothing especially weird or disturbing about the Receiving Room tonight. Sally Maynard stood before a window that faced the valley in which Lintonville slumbered. It glowed softly beneath a brilliant moon and myriad stars. Cars and trucks passed the hospital, slid silently down the long hill to the city and disappeared for a space to be seen later ascending the winding incline on the opposite side. The sight always fascinated Sally. She loved to watch those speeding monsters on their journey into the unknown.

"I don't suppose we shall ever know who that stranger was," Margaret Adams said almost regretfully now that time had subdued her terror of two nights ago. "I wonder who he was and what it's all about."
Sally turned from the window and shook his head. "I still think he's someone local—perhaps the front—this end of the gang of thieves. Oh well, anyway I'm glad they discovered that boy's family—or those who are acting in his family's place. The police made short work of that affair, didn't they?"

absolutely sunk. But even I, scared as I was at the time, knew none of those thugs parading before us was the mysterious stranger. I hope to heaven I never do see him. There was something sinister about him—slinky and—and—well, sinister."

Sally laughed. "I can see you're not at all intrigued by mysteries," she said. "Well, I am and I hope I find that voice if only to satisfy my curiosity."

"THEY got all the loot back, didn't they?" Margaret asked. "They had plenty of time to get rid of it, seems to me."

"It was too hot or they thought it was," Doctor Willoughby explained as he joined them. "After all, there was merely a lapse of a week from the time of the robbery and abduction to their capture. All ready Dean is beginning to accept the role of hero. You know they took him along because he discovered them in the act? That kid actually tried to capture those three ruffians single-handed. Great boy!"

"But how did he get so completely smashed up, Doctor?" Margaret wanted to know. "I've heard just scraps of the story but no one has explained that part to me. They didn't abuse him?"
"That happened on the night he was brought here. He had been kept a prisoner in some sort of shack near Lintonville and managed to escape. They discovered his absence and tracked him down some five miles out the River Turnpike. They swear he was lying in the road when they found him. That's their story and they all agree on it. The two men who brought him here declare they had nothing to do with it—that they were merely members of the searching party and didn't even know the other three. I don't know—I can't believe they are entirely innocent. And, what is more, neither does Sergeant Trimble."

"Then the case isn't settled?" Sally asked. "I have been wondering. It didn't seem to me the police could be so gullible."
"Don't worry. They'll ferret it out," the resident assured her with quiet confidence.

Playing against an expert and playing against an average player require different methods. With the average player, you know that he is probably following the course of least resistance in making a play. Very often the expert makes a play to give you that impression for the purpose of misleading you on the hand.

In the recent Vanderbilt Cup Tournament, Samuel Katz of Millburn, N. J., a member of the team finishing second, was in a contract of six no-trump on today's hand. He won the opening spade lead

Columbian Studying U. S. Health Measures

LOUISVILLE (P)—Dr. Guillermo Riano, laboratory director on leave from the Colombian Public Health Service, is in the United States learning methods by which he and his colleagues hope to make Colombia a model of health and sanitation.

His study tour, on a U. S. State Department scholarship, is taking him to the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, the Kentucky Health Board laboratory here and the Army Medical School in Washington, among other places.

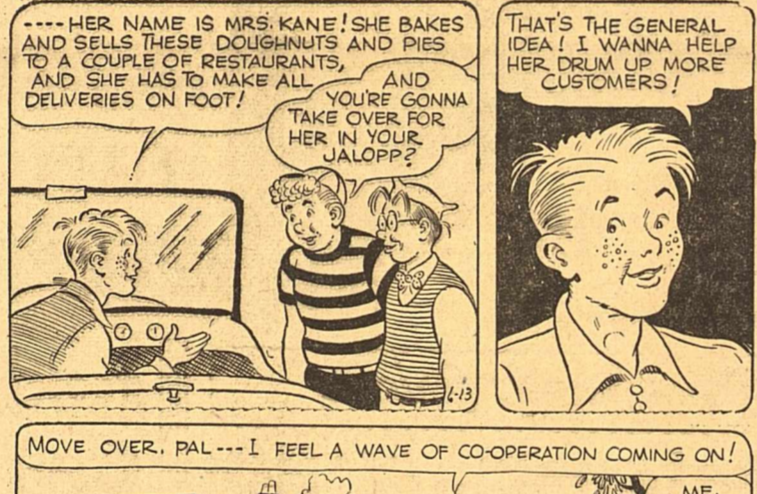

with the queen, and realized that in order to make his contract it was important that he take the diamond finesse the right way. He proceeded to run the spade suit, and on the third spade, Howard Schenken (West) let go a diamond.

Now Katz reasoned thus: Schenken opened a short spade suit. Why did he not lead a diamond or a heart? Probably because he did not want to lead away from an honor. In discarding the three of diamonds, Schenken wanted to give the impression that he was not trying to protect anything in that suit.

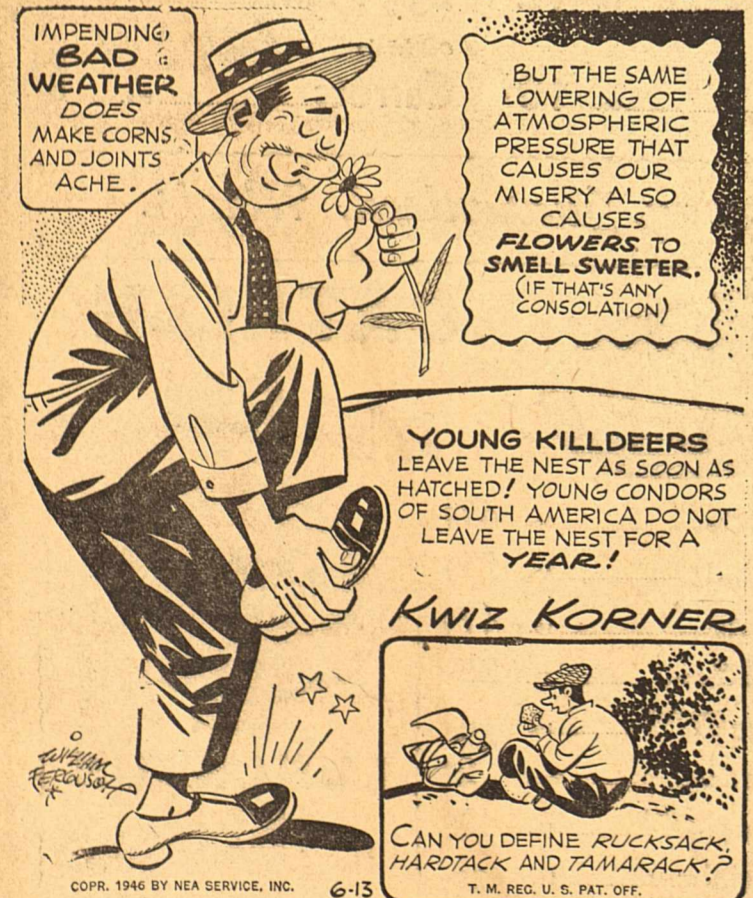

So, after cashing out the spade suit, Katz led a small diamond from dummy, won with the king, then led the jack of diamonds. When Schenken refused to cover, Katz let it ride, and the contract was made.

Comic-Book Dilemma Wasn't Funny To Him

RALEIGH, N. C.—(P)—A comic book caused 12-year-old C. S. Royal of Salemburg to spend many long, worried hours in the Raleigh Police Station.

C. S. was among school children who toured the state capital. En route back to the school bus, he stopped off to buy a comic book and got so interested he forgot the bus. Police called his relatives and arranged for them to meet him on a later bus.

Said he, "I never want to see another comic book."

No Common Ground Exists For Free Press Pact Between Russia And U.S.

By EDDY GILMORE

NEW YORK—(P)—The basic conceptions of a free press are so different in Russia and in the United States that it is extremely difficult to see how any agreement presently can be reached on this question within the United Nations, or elsewhere.

The two countries are pages apart on the very definition of what is news, let alone how to present it, or what else to do about it.

Many defenders of the American press call it, along with the British press, the freest in the world. Many of these same persons will argue that the press is not free at all in the Soviet Union.

People in the Soviet Union generally argue that the U. S. and the British press work against the interests of the American and British people and often against the best interests of the people of the world.

Both countries, of course, have a wholly different definition of a free press.

Russian Criticisms

"Your press," a Russian said to me not long ago, "always seems as if it's trying to entertain, amuse or shock its readers, not to instruct, inform and guide them the right way."

I asked if he were referring to editorials or news columns.

"News columns," he said with emphasis.

"Guide the readers' mind the right way in a news column?" I asked. "We certainly don't try to do this. We simply try to present the facts and let the reader find his way—that is if he's looking for a way."

I remember an occasion during the war when an American correspondent in Moscow criticized a Russian journalist for not being objective about the war and Germany.

"Objective?" sneered the Russian, "a journalist who is objective in time of war is a traitor to his country."

Here are some of the great differences between Russian and American newspapers, aside from the obvious ones of public ownership and direction:

Await Official Announcements

The Russians don't believe in publishing news about events before they happen. The fact that the Big Three may have agreed to hold a meeting is not news until there is an official announcement. In the U. S., a story of such a meeting ahead of time is a scoop for the newsman who wrote it and of interest to the newspaper reader.

The Russians don't believe crime is news except a report of the trial and penalty as a means of teaching that crime doesn't pay.

In Russia a train wreck, a building, a ship sinking, is not news—except when it happens on a big scale abroad.

The private lives of prominent personalities are not news and the Russians can't understand why they should be.

The Russians cannot understand the explanation that a paper's acceptance of an advertisement does not give the advertiser a voice in the paper.

Clashes of personalities at international meetings are not news to Russians.

The Russian writer writes his story on the assumption that it is going to be read from beginning to end, and it generally is. He thinks it's idiotic to put all the news in the first paragraph. For one thing, he reasons, it encourages people to read no further.

Papers Don't Question Leaders

The Russian newspaperman seldom if ever questions the decisions or policies of his country's leaders. He believes they are better equipped than he is to handle such matters. He may raise the ink on his paper with a castigation of some farm foreman who is lazy, or some factory director who is behind in his work, or is not providing the kind of facilities and conditions his workers need and want, but he doesn't criticize or complain about the system under which the foreman or director works.

To a Russian, society news, or personal news is so amusing as presented by American newspapers that I've frequently seen Russians laughing with side-aching enthusiasm at the account of a wedding.

The Russians have a low opinion of most American newspapers, their publishers, editors and writers. They class some of the most severe enemies of the U.S.S.R. in this group.

The American newsman in Russia—that is, in the mass—is not thought of too highly by the Russians. A rather high Soviet official once said to a member of the State Department who had brought him a particular problem concerning a representative of the American press in Moscow:

"My friend, you and I are too busy to waste time on neurotics."

Difficult to Cover

An American newsman's job is a difficult, and often unpleasant one in Russia. At the same time, his job of handling these newsmen is just as hard, and unpleasant to the Russians.

The Russians do have standards of hospitality, of course, and a newsman in the Soviet Union is not only a newsman, but a guest. He gets the best the Russians have to offer in many material ways like food, clothing and living conditions. On the other hand he doesn't always get what he wants in the way of news.

The handling of Russian news in Russia is, the Russians believe very emphatically, purely a Russian matter.

They bitterly resent interference or suggestions from abroad. They do not like to be told how to conduct their affairs, or to be criticized about the way they do it.

The Russians are convinced their way is the best way, the only way, and there is not the slightest indication that they are going to change their mind.

Any suggestions by the United Nations is likely to be met with rebuff or ignored. The Russian leaders insist their press is free and they want to keep it that way.

I asked if he were referring to editorials or news columns.

"Guide the readers' mind the right way in a news column?" I asked. "We certainly don't try to do this. We simply try to present the facts and let the reader find his way—that is if he's looking for a way."

I remember an occasion during the war when an American correspondent in Moscow criticized a Russian journalist for not being objective about the war and Germany.

"Objective?" sneered the Russian, "a journalist who is objective in time of war is a traitor to his country."

Here are some of the great differences between Russian and American newspapers, aside from the obvious ones of public ownership and direction:

Await Official Announcements

The Russians don't believe in publishing news about events before they happen. The fact that the Big Three may have agreed to hold a meeting is not news until there is an official announcement. In the U. S., a story of such a meeting ahead of time is a scoop for the newsman who wrote it and of interest to the newspaper reader.

The Russians don't believe crime is news except a report of the trial and penalty as a means of teaching that crime doesn't pay.

Survivors Among 35,000 Prisoners Of Japs May Eventually Get Pay

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Survivors among the estimated 35,000 Americans held prisoners of the Japanese, and relatives of those who lost their lives while held by the enemy, eventually may receive some monetary award from the Japanese government.

State Department officials, commenting on moves to press claims of Americans who suffered at the hands of the enemy, say they are assembling data on the subject now being sent in voluntarily by individuals concerned.

Some day, if and when it is found Japan is in a position to make recompense for this personal suffering she caused both military and civilian American nationals, the State Department will have this data ready for prompt processing. But, they hasten to add, it's a long and problematical course of events that would have to precede final settlement of claims.

They call attention to the destruction in the Japanese homeland, and to the fact that countries other than the United States have claims for losses incurred by their respective nationals. Once some determination has been made as to the ability of the Japanese to pay, this government then would set up administrative machinery to process individual claims.

Legislation providing some sort of claims commissions is expected to be introduced in Congress when additional information is obtained on the subject. The Veterans Administration said the claims would be processed by the State Department free of charge.

Meanwhile, a private group known as "Claims Committee Liberated Military Personnel (Japan)" has been established to deal with claims.

The chairman of the organization with headquarters here, is George A. Nugent.

The idea of the committee was conceived by six colonels while they were recuperating here at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital. They solicited the services of Nugent and two other Washington attorneys, Prew Savoy and Harold H. Martin, all of whom had experience with similar litigation involving claims against Germany after the end of World War I.

In no way connected with the government, they ask a $10 filing fee from claimants to pay for clerical and other overhead expenses, and contract for a fee equal to 20 per cent of the sum a client collects. "Our feeling is that if these ex-prisoners organize and make a concentrated effort they can greatly reduce the time which would be required in handling their claims," commented Nugent, adding:

"Similar cases required 11 years after World War I. We would hope to dispose of these against the Japanese in two or three years."

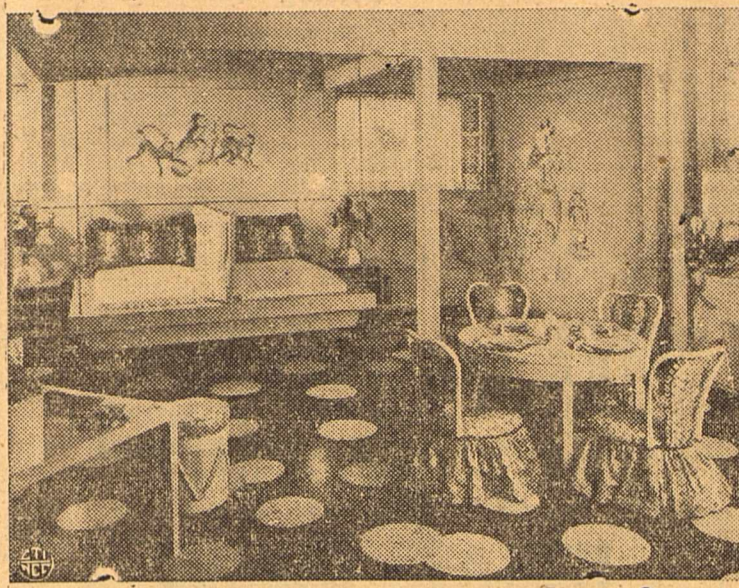

Pride Causes Many To Fail Drivers Tests

AUSTIN —(AP)— Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison said here that foolish pride is one big reason applicants fail drivers license examinations.

Of 45,427 examinations in April, there were 11,430 failures because applicants were not sufficiently familiar with safe driving rules and warning signs, Garrison said.

"The average driver feels that he knows all about automobile driving. He is too proud to spend 30 minutes 'brushing up' with the driving handbook provided by the department."

Note the interesting circus wall treatment carried out by the monkey lamps.

Daily Crude Production Increases During Week

TULSA —(AP)— Daily average crude oil production increased 142,160 barrels to 4,910,170 in the week ending June 8. The Oil and Gas Journal has reported.

Texas production jumped 146,700 to 2,261,500, California 7,100 to 887,450, Oklahoma 6,250 to 385,000, the Eastern area 5,300 to 68,200, New Mexico 2,300 to 91,600, Indiana 1,050 to 20,900 and Arkansas 800 to 79,250.

The Rocky Mountain area of Colorado, Montana and Wyoming jumped 7,530 barrels daily to 159,770, Illinois 4,100 to 207,700, Louisiana 400 to 379,750, and Kansas production was down 24,400 to 239,450.

Applications For Surplus Army Cars Are Halted

DALLAS — While veterans will continue to have exclusive right to buy surplus passenger automobiles and typewriters, no more applications for these items will be certified, A. G. Elmendorf, regional director of the Dallas War Assets Administration office, has announced. Actual and foreseeable stocks of these items obviously cannot fill more than a small portion of the demand, Elmendorf said.

Passenger cars and typewriters have always been in very heavy demand and very low supply. Until May 3, when an amendment of the Surplus Property Act improved the buying position of the veteran, higher priority holders absorbed virtually all of these items.

The amendment to the Surplus Property Act authorized the administrator to set aside for sale exclusively to veterans, for their personal or business use, quantities and types of surplus property which he deemed appropriate. Prior to the amendment which created the set aside list, certification of the applications for passenger cars had been discontinued by WAA because the number of applications already certified far exceeded supply.

However, it was felt that the veteran who had not previously been qualified for certification could not be excluded entirely from even a slender chance of benefit under the set aside, personal use provision. Accordingly, certification of applications to buy cars was resumed.

Applications Are Numerous Preliminary regional reports indicate that the applications have been so numerous that it would be pointless to certify any more, especially in view of the fact that there is no likelihood of any sizeable surplus declarations of usable cars in the future. It now appears that not more than 5,000 cars are available to meet applications that may total several hundred thousand.

Considered Judgment: Sleeping's No Crime

BALTIMORE —(AP)— So far as Magistrate Walter J. Dewees is concerned, Northwestern Baltimore men can wake up the whole neighborhood with their snoring—so long as their nocturnal noises are accompanied by slumber.

A man was haled to Northwestern Police Station on the complaint of a woman neighbor that the man disturbed her rest with his snoring and groaning. She conceded that the offender snored during his sleep. Said the magistrate: "You can't stop a man from sleeping."

BAD WITH FATHER-IN-LAW

WATERTOWN, N. Y. —(AP)— Dana G. Horning, 50, of Watertown Center, wound up in a hospital with a broken wrist when his daughter and son-in-law started out on their wedding trip.

Unaware that he was standing on a line of tin cans attached to the car of the bridal couple, Horning went down for the count when the vehicle started.

and. To a lesser extent the same thing is true of typewriters.

Veterans have been eager to apply despite warnings that their chances of getting these and some other items have been slender. President Truman, in announcing the provisions of the amendment when he signed it on May 3, pointed out that supply of some items could not meet demand, and Lt. Gen. E. B. Gregory, War Assets Administrator, repeatedly has emphasized the fact that all of the items on the set aside list were in extremely low supply.

Certification of other items on the list will be discontinued whenever it becomes evident that further certification is meaningless. Veterans are assured, however, that such supplies as are available at any time will go to them and to no other buyers.

WAA officials said that in some regions a slackening of demand for certain types of some set aside items indicated a mistaken belief that the supply of them had been exhausted. They urged veterans to consult WAA certifying offices as to availability.

Lumber Cutting Will Exceed Timber Growth

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Lumber cutting will exceed timber growth within the next few decades, predicts Charles F. Brannin, assistant secretary of agriculture. Brannin, in a letter to the Senate Small Business Committee accompanying a review of the lumber situation, advocated extension of forest management as a partial remedy.

Basing his figures on a national income of $140,000,000,000, suggested by the committee, and the construction of 1,000,000 non-farm buildings annually, he anticipated total annual lumber requirements of 60,000,000,000 board feet, in addition to several billion cubic feet of cordwood-size timber.

Coffee Situation In Texas Looks Black

AUSTIN—(AP)—Now it's the coffee situation that looks pretty black.

The joint Railway Labor Legislative Board of Texas has adopted a resolution calling on "the masculine gender who boasts so much of physical ability to cease and desist using cream in coffee."

The resolution is aimed at diverting 30,000 pounds of cream from coffee cups to the toast of small children in butter-short Texas.

"Those of the gender who find themselves too anemic to do without cream are being called on to do so without the coffee," Joe Steadham, chairman of the board, said.

Steadham said letters are being sent to all members of the railway brotherhoods and friends urging cooperation with the resolution.

Network Of Natural Gas Pipeline To East Gives John L. Lewis Worries

By CHARLES MOLONY
 WASHINGTON — The swift-growing natural gas industry is seeking a further speed-record expansion of America's vast network of pipelines.

Construction and improvement programs involving some 5,000 miles of additional interstate pipeline and expenditures of around $200,000,000 are proposed in applications now before the Federal Power Commission. Final hearings are to be opened June 17.

In addition, there are a couple of pending bids—involving $70,000,000 to $80,000,000—to buy and convert to gas transportation one or both of the Texas-to-New York pipelines built by the government to carry oil during the war.

Threat To Coal
 This threat of greater inroads into coal's position as the nation's No. 1 fuel has pushed miners and mine owners into a united front.

Indeed, John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and the National Coal Association employ the same attorney, Tom J. McGrath, Washington, D. C.

McGrath also represents the railroad brotherhoods, aligned with rail management in this instance for mutual defense of the railroads' lucrative coal-hauling business.

Natural gas sales run to the astronomical figure of 3 1/2 trillion cubic feet a year. McGrath estimates this is equivalent to 100,000,000 tons of coal a year (one-sixth of the entire production of soft coal).

Affinity In Fuels
 Inter-fuel competition is a complex subject. It's difficult to measure how much any one displaces another. Sometimes all expand their use together, so none is displaced.

Government figures show that from 1900 to the World War I period, coal supplied between 60 and 70 per cent of U. S. industrial energy. In the years just before the start of the recent war, this was down to as low as 45 1/2 per cent.

Meanwhile, natural gas' share rose from 3.2 per cent to 10.8. This was surpassed only by petroleum's skyrocketing from 4.8 per cent to 32.7 during the first half of the war.

Natural gas nosed out water power for third place in that period, but newly-published government figures show that by 1944 coal supplied 50.4 per cent, petroleum 28.2, water power 11.2 and natural gas 10.2.

Since the start of 1945 some 2,000 miles of interstate pipeline have been completed and more than 500 miles more authorized.

Officials in the natural gas business put the investment in the industry at $3,250,000,000. They say its 218,000 miles of trunk pipelines serve 41,000,000 customers in 33 states with gas having a market value of $750,000,000 a year.

Dispute Over Reserves
 Coal interests contend that natural gas reserves are being depleted "exceptionally rapidly" and will be exhausted in 25 to 30 years. They say use should be confined to those domestic uses—in stoves, for instance—where natural gas is a "superior" fuel.

Natural gas industry men say enough reserves are known now to last 35 to 50 years and that more will be found meantime to provide a continuing supply. Some day atomic energy may displace all fuels now in use before the gas on hand is used.

The coal men also say expanded use of natural gas would mean unemployment for miners, who number 400,000 in the soft coal fields. In 1944, McGrath says, natural gas transmission and distribution furnished employment to 62,000.

Plains Need Rain, Cotton Prospects Up

AUSTIN —(P)— Last week's dry weather in the eastern half of Texas gave farmers there their first opportunity in several weeks to resume seeding and reseeded, the United States Department of Agriculture reported Thursday.
USDA's weekly crop and weather bulletin said there was no rainfall in Texas during most of the week but additional rains fell over the weekend in many East Texas localities.
Most of the high plains, the western plateau and the trans-pecos area remained extremely dry and rains were needed in the low rolling plains, USDA said.
Harvest of small grains were reported progressing at a rapid rate. Wheat harvest was well advanced in North Texas and low rolling plains counties and was becoming active in the southern high plains. Limited harvest of early yields were being revealed in most northwest counties as harvest advanced.
Prospects for cotton and commercial vegetables were reported slightly improved.

Father Has Been Head Man Since Biblical Times

Apparently today's sons and daughters feel the same way about Dad as their ancient counterparts did, for when it comes to paying tribute to him, there's little difference between the 1946 version and the way it was done in 1946 B. C.

As far back as the time of Babylonians, there is record of a letter written by a son, Elmesu, to his father, in which he prayed that his father might have "enduring days," "health and life" and "lasting well-being." Of course, Elmesu probably wrote his message on a tablet of baked clay, while today's son honors Dad with a verse on a Father's Day card. But the sentiment hasn't changed.

Pop Wore Pants
However, it's doubtful whether a son of the Stone Age felt the same loving regard for his father. For, unlike many families of today, there was no question as to who wore the pants in the primeval family—Dad, by virtue of being the eldest male, reigned supreme. Should any son be rash enough to dispute his word, he could expect to be dealt with very severely, with even death a possible punishment.

Even in Biblical times an outrage against a father, a blow, a curse or just the sowing of wild oats in general, was made a capital crime. Today, happily, Dad isn't so dictatorial. In fact, he's often referred to as the "forgotten man" and takes a lot of good-natured kidding for his generosity, especially when it comes to paying bills.

Left Out In Cold
Back in 1911, when the pros and cons of observing a national Father's Day were being discussed, Jane Addams, famous social worker and a leader in the woman's suffrage drive, was so moved by Dad's plight she remarked, "Poor father has been left out in the cold . . . it would be a good thing if he had a day that would mean recognition of him."

Actually, Father's Day had originated the year before. The idea is credited to Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Wash., whose own father had reared a family of children after the death of their mother.

Realizing from personal experience the value of a father's place in the home, Mrs. Dodd sent a petition to the Spokane Ministers Association proposing that the third Sunday in June be set aside each year as a day for the "honoring of fathers." The association approved the idea and Father's Day was first observed in Spokane in June, 1910.

At this initial celebration the rose was selected as the floral symbol of Father's Day, although, in 1924, the members of a Bible class in Wilkesburg, Pa., chose the dandelion as being more appropriate, for the reason that "the more it is trampled on, the more it grows."

CHARLESTON, S. C.—(P)— You name it and ten to one E. B. Donaldson will have it.

A boilermaker, Donaldson received a Thanksgiving card from his school teacher 40 years ago. He still has the card and more than 100,000 other articles he has saved since then—all part of his collection of objects, large and small, rare and common.

Collecting has been Donaldson's hobby, but unlike most collectors he does not specialize on any particular item.

Truman Vetoes Case Bill

(NEA Telephoto)

Herbert L. Miller, chief of the records department at the White House, arrives at the Capitol carrying with him the President's message to Congress on the Case Anti-Strike Bill. Truman used 4,500 words in his message to the House of Representatives stressing the need for increased production and said "strikes and lockouts are the greatest handicaps to attaining vital production".

Dads Beginning To Show Colors

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor
Dad is tossing over tradition at last and blossoming out in summer leisure clothes in all colors of the rainbow.

It's taken 150 years to reconvert men to bright plumage, but now the move definitely is on, and it may not be long before the conservative male will once again be as flamboyant as were the silk-stockinged gentlemen of George Washington's day.

Thus far the color call extends only to sports and country clothes. But there the sky's the limit. This summer you'll see usually conservative men wearing sky-blue slacks and yellow blazers, shirts in the brightest of hues, beach outfits in bold, gay tropical prints. Clothes will be lighter and more comfortable, too, many slacks and summer sports jackets being made in washable, colorfast materials such as crashmere, a mixture of spun rayon and cotton, and erin cloth, which looks like linen but also is a rayon mixture. Both fabrics take well to sun and suds, are crease-resistant and come in gay colors. A dozen of the favorite shades for men's sports wear this season are: a bright clear blue called Indian Warpath; a terracotta brown called Indian Bark; a bright reddish brown called Indian Copper; a pale blue, Indian Sky; London tan, a luggage shade; two light greens; two tones of yellow; light and dark; three neutral tones—beige, natural and flagstone gray.

El Pasoan Nominated To Revenue Position

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman Wednesday nominated Stewart Berkshire of Texas to be assistant commissioner of internal revenue in place of Paul A. Hankins, resigned.

Who's Who identifies Berkshire as a former El Paso attorney and judge, who once served as district attorney.

Tuberculosis Claims Heavy Toll In Poland

WARSAW —(AP)— Nearly 20,000 people, mostly boys and girls between 13 and 18, die monthly of tuberculosis in Poland. Health authorities said the disease was 10 times more prevalent than in 1939. They estimated 1,200,000 children suffered from it. They reported Poland in dire need of more sanatoriums, hospitals and special nurses for children.

Bees Take Decision Over Boxing Champion

LEWISTOWN, MONT. —(AP)— Young Jim Pentecost's fists won the welterweight championship in Montana's Golden Gloves amateur boxing tournament, but when he accidentally dropped a box on a bee hive he suffered: Countless stings on the head; a hair singe from a torch used to disperse the swarm, and a broken shoulder blade, received when he fell over a box.

Statistics show that in the home nearly 50 per cent of all accidental deaths result from falls.

Very Few Trees Die Of Old Age, Lab Man Says

STAMFORD, CONN. —(AP)— Very few trees die of old age. Most of them die prematurely because of lack of care or ravaging by insects and disease, F. A. Bartlett of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories says. Normal life span of an elm is around 400 years, a hemlock 600. Yet a 250-year-old tree is a rarity, Bartlett said, "because many of our fine trees are living under unnatural conditions and fail to receive proper care."

Penguin Eggs Popular Among South Africans

CAPETOWN —(AP)— Penguin eggs have been on—and off—the South African domestic market. The marketing of penguin eggs from Dassen Island (a rich source of guano) was limited for several years so that the penguin population could increase. Then the government offered penguin eggs for sale at a dollar a dozen—double the price of a year ago. But there was a flood of applications and the eggs were all sold within a week or so.

Pagoda Pool To Open Saturday
Pagoda Pool, municipally owned and operated swimming pool, will be opened for the summer months at 9 a. m. Saturday, the City Council committee in charge announced Wednesday.
Hours will be announced later, Stanley Erskine, committee chairman, said.
Carl Covington will be manager of the pool and life guards will be on duty at all times.
The pool has been completely cleaned and repainted, and repairs have been made to structures.
Opening of the pool, scheduled for June 1, was delayed as a precautionary measure because of the prevalence of communicable diseases throughout the state.
