Site Of Proposed Dam To Supply Water To Five Cities Of West Texas

From this site about five miles northwest of Colorado City some day may come the water supply for Midland and four other cities of West Texas. It is at this spot that a dam has been suggested to impound a lake as a cooperative water supply project for Midland, Big Spring, Colorado City, Snyder and Odessa. The Colorado River Municipal Water Association has been formed to study the proposal, with M. C. Ulmer of Midland as president. According to preliminary engineering, such a dam as indicated by the black line just above the terrain and the white lines to either side would impound 110,000 acre feet of water in a long, narrow lake which would back up in the river channel into Southwestern Scurry County. Estimates are that it would be a source of supply for 26,000,000 gallons of water daily. Participating cities have authorized Colorado City to file as trustee for authority from the State Board of Water Engineers to construct the dam, with the understanding that if granted, the rights would be assigned to a water district. Cost of the over-all project, should it materialize, was estimated at nearly $10,000,000, including pipelines, filtration plants, and other installations.

Compromise On Port Looms As Molotov Awaits Phone Call

PARIS —(AP)—French newspapers printed unconfirmed reports Wednesday that Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was expecting a telephone call from Moscow which might bring a surprise development in the Trieste issue, key to Italian peace negotiations.

Secretary of States Byrnes was represented by American informants as encouraged by a series of private talks with Molotov, who has been adamant in demanding that Trieste be transferred from Italy to Yugoslavia.

There was no known basis for the Paris newspaper assertions. The frequent conversations between Byrnes and his Russian counterpart at the council of foreign ministers have given rise to conjecture in diplomatic circles that a compromise on the Adriatic port might be shaping up.

A special commission set up by the foreign ministers council to break the deadlock on the question of Italy's colonies, meanwhile held its first meeting Wednesday. The members declined to give any hint of what was discussed.

Agreement has been reached to defer final disposition of the colonies, but details have to be worked out.

Yugoslav Opposes
Although the foreign ministers may have been more optimistic concerning working out an agreement on Trieste, a Yugoslav spokesman took an uncompromising attitude in an interview Wednesday.

The spokesman for Marshal Tito stated flatly that a French compromise for a 10-year internationalization of Trieste was not acceptable, and that Tito's government would never sign a peace treaty with Italy which does not provide a Yugoslav "solution" on Trieste.

The Yugoslav "solution" is for the creation of a "seventh Yugoslav republic" embracing the city.

Thomas Building Is Purchased By Dr. L. W. Leggett

Dr. L. W. Leggett Wednesday announced he has purchased the Thomas Building, six story office building on South Lorraine Street, from Dr. John B. Thomas. The purchase becomes effective July 1. The consideration was not announced.

The purchase was made subject to existing lease contracts, and no major changes in management policy are contemplated, Dr. Leggett said.

"It will be my aim and desire to merit the continued good will and patronage heretofore manifested by the occupants, and I will strive in every way to make such patronage in the future both pleasant and profitable to them," Dr. Leggett said.

The new owner will maintain his offices and laboratories in their present location on the sixth floor of the building.

The building houses several oil company offices, professional offices, and other business firms. The building was constructed that three additional stories easily may be added, and Dr. Leggett said that in the event the demand becomes sufficient enough he may add the additional space. Provision is made in the building for a second elevator.

U.S. Breaks Up British Effort To Corner Canada Wheat Crops

By HARRY T. MONTGOMERY
OTTAWA, ONT.—(AP)—A proposed long-term wheat agreement between Canada and Britain has foundered on the rocks of United States opposition in what may be regarded as an important test case of the post-war international trade structure, it was learned Wednesday.

British Food Minister John Strachey is returning to London without an agreement after talks in Washington and Ottawa. He had hoped to take a pact back with him.

The British and Canadians, it is understood, were about to enter a 10-year agreement under which Britain would buy Canadian wheat at $1.25 Canadian money per bushel, or $1.13 U. S. The current Canadian price is $1.55, and the American and world price is approximately $2.00 Canadian, or around $1.30 U. S. Hence the proposed contract would have been at a little more than half the American price.

Perhaps more important than American opposition to this particular deal, is the firm American stand favoring multi-lateral trade agreements for the post-war world.

Canada found herself caught between Britain and the United States in their conflicting views. Britain, with Russia, has shown a frequent preference for bi-lateral trade pacts, and in the wheat case certainly preferred it.

Canada's announced policy has been all-out for the multi-lateral plan, her economic well-being depending on a strong general world trade, but in the case of wheat, one of her top exports and a chief money-maker, she was strongly tempted to assure herself of a long-range market to cushion against sharp reverses such as she has suffered in the past.

There seems to be no reason to doubt that some sort of an agreement eventually will be reached, but it probably will be on terms far more favorable from the American point of view, than those which almost were agreed to.

Because of the size of the proposed contract—Britain is ready to take over 200,000,000 bushels of wheat a year from Canada—and because of its timing at this juncture in the formation of a post-war trade structure, the projected deal is regarded on all sides as an important test case in the conflicting philosophies.

Firebug Suspect Caught In Act

HOUSTON —(AP)—Fire and police investigators Wednesday questioned a 21-year-old Houston pipeline worker, booked as "an excellent arson prospect," after a spectacular $40,000 downtown fire Tuesday at the H. J. Cohn Furniture warehouse. The fire further spurred Houston's hunt for the firebug responsible for a series of recent hotel, warehouse, theater, and apartment fires.

The pipeline worker was arrested Wednesday on the roof of a hotel, after police had received a complaint that a prowler was on the roof.

Police found the man seated against a low parapet striking matches and throwing them on the graveled roof. Ten boxes of kitchen matches were lying around him, police said.

H. J. Cohn, owner of the furniture warehouse which was gutted by the fire, set his loss Wednesday at $40,000.

Another Project To Dig In Hot SW Andrews Area

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Another prospector has been staked for immediate drilling in the "hot" area around the recent discovery for production in South-west Andrews from the Tubb-Fermin in The Texas Company No. 1-P State, which is six miles northwest of the Martin field.

The new exploration will be Superior Oil Company No. 12-B-4 University, and is 660 feet from south and east lines of northeast quarter of section 16, block 12, University survey, and 1,320 feet due west of the discovery well, which was drilling below 7,973 feet in lime and chert.

The Superior project is scheduled to go to around 8,500 feet to explore through the Permian, and into the Devonian.

Another Deep Test
The Atlantic Refining Company No. 2-B-11 University, 660 feet from north and west lines of southeast quarter of section 1, block 11, University survey, in Central South-west Andrews, and on south side of the Martin field, is to drill to around 9,200 feet, starting at once, to attempt to develop production in the Ellenburger.

It is one-quarter of a mile south of the closest producer from the deep formation.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Harris, Southeast Sterling County wildcat, was reported by operator to be making hole below 8,181 feet, in lime and chert of the Ellenburger.

Showed Oil And Gas
Champion Refining Company No. 1 University, 1,990 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 40, block 13, University survey, and on south side of the "Block 31" field, in East-Central Crane County, was making hole below 8,764 feet, in lime, and going on down to the Ellenburger, at around 10,600 feet.

In a 75-minute drillstem test in the Devonian at 8,621-8,741 feet, gas, estimated at 750,000 cubic feet per day, came to surface in 15 minutes.

Recovery was 500 feet of oil cut drilling mud, and 1,500 feet of oil and gas. Flowing pressure was 500 pounds.

Devonian Entered
Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Pinson, West Andrews County wildcat, in northwest quarter of section 13, block A-40, psi survey, and one mile southwest of a recent discovery.

Beauty Queen To Be Selected At Pagoda Revue

About 16 young women will parade under colored lights at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday at Pagoda Pool in a contest to select "Miss Midland" to represent the city at other bathing beauty contests in Texas.

A spectacular exhibition of swimming and diving will add to the program sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Good-fellow Field exhibition diving team of San Angelo will present the performance.

"Miss Midland" will carry the city's ribbon to the Fort Stockton revue next month, and to the "Miss Texas" contest at Fort Arthur. If she should win at Fort Arthur, she will represent the state at the "Miss America" pageant at Atlantic City in September. All expenses of the trips will be paid by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Midland business firms are sponsoring the entrants in the Wednesday night revue, which was postponed from Saturday because of rain. Dr. Henry Schlichting, Jr., is chairman of the JayCee committee in charge of the event.

Forrestal To Support Army-Navy Merger

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal has notified President Truman of his desire to cooperate "fully" to achieve the goals of the President's

Army-Navy merger program. Forrestal's attitude toward the merger proposal was expressed in a letter to Truman. The letter was released by the White House.

The Navy chief said he considered the objectives recently outlined by the President as "attainable". He added that he believed it possible to overcome difficulties in drafting the necessary legislation.

"I wish to thank you for the patience with which you have listened to the Navy's views on the reorganization of our national defense and for the time which you have devoted to the subject," Forrestal wrote.

"You may be assured of my desire and that of Admiral Nimitz to cooperate with you fully in the effort to achieve the objectives in your program."

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz is navy chief of staff.

Secretary of War Patterson recently wrote the President expressing wholehearted approval and pledging support of Truman's recommendations on unification.

While Forrestal's language was more carefully worded, he referred to the subject of land-based planes for Naval reconnaissance, anti-submarine warfare and shipping protection and added:

"I am glad to note that the Navy is to have a continuing part of the future development of these operations so that full advantage may be taken of its experience in this field and of the lessons learned in the late war. Admiral Nimitz joins me in this expression."

The Forrestal letter was released amid reports from Capitol Hill that the Navy still hoped to get a better deal out of any merger than Truman proposed for it.

Congress Extends Draft Nine Months, Hikes Service Pay

WASHINGTON —(AP)—With more than $50,000,000 at stake, the nation's men in uniform riveted their attention on the White House Wednesday to learn when the draft extension compromise and its companion pay increase measure become law.

The twin bills cleared final congressional hurdles Tuesday.

Public interest centered on the nine-month extension of the wartime draft beyond June 30 with non-fathers between 19 and 45 probably most concerned as possible draftees. Neither service, however, has indicated any desire to draft anyone over 26. Other prime provisions of the measure include:

1. An 18-month limit on compulsory service.

2. No further inductions of fathers.

3. A clause that fathers now in service may apply for release after August 1.

But the men of the Army, Navy, Marines and other armed services—from gold braided officers down to privates and apprentice seamen—were more interested in the time of the pay boost signing.

The increases—ranging from $25 a month for the privates up to $166.67 for the upper bracket generals and admirals—will become effective on the first day of the month following the Presidential signature.

In all, congressional committees estimated the pay increases will total something over $52,000,000 for the next year.

The War Department plans no inductions during July and August so that a pool of some 52,000 men between 19 and 30 will be available for the draft at the end of that period.

About 13,000 are expected to be called in September, and an average of 7,000 each month thereafter unless voluntary enlistments fill all needs.

While the compromise legislation bans induction of anyone under 19, youths still will have to register for the draft when they become 18.

Service of any men inducted under the extender will be limited to 18 months, excluding time spent in schools, while in uniform.

All men who have served 18 consecutive months or longer, with school time not counted, also may apply for release starting October 1.

Eight Killed In Bus Crash

Slipping and scrambling over dripping rocks in a pouring rain, state highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies haul an unidentified victim of a charter bus crash up the side of a 500-foot embankment, using a cable to keep the body off the rocks. Top of the Yates was at 2,630 feet. Top of the Fine quartz grains was at 2,670 feet. Elevation is 3,157 feet. Some geologists correlate the Pacific Western wildcat to be 26 feet high to the Dollar Hide discovery on the top of the Yates.

Texas Gulf Producing Company No. 1-3 University-Forest Oil Corporation, in southeast quarter of section 17, block 9, University survey, a wildcat to 5,500 feet two miles north of the Clabber Hill field, in South-Central Andrews, was making hole under 4,000 feet in anhydrite.

Base of the salt was at 2,970 feet. Top of the Yates was called at 3,030 feet. Elevation is 3,193 feet.

Some geologists report the project is slightly low—but not too low to have a chance of producing from the Holt-Permian.

American Republics Corporation No. 1 TXL, West Ector County wildcat to around 8,700 feet to test for pay in the Devonian, and in southeast quarter of section 7, block 45, TP survey, T-2-S, and one-half mile south and east of a discovery for some oil and some water in the Devonian, at J. W. Murchison No. 1 Fraser, was drilling ahead below 5,065 feet in lime.

Top of the San Andres was called at 4,000 feet, on an elevation of 3,245 feet. That puts it three feet high on that marker, to the same point in the Murchison exploration, according to unofficial correlations.

Texas And Pacific Proposes Airline Feeder Service

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two railroads proposed Tuesday to move into the feeder airlines business. They are the Missouri and Pacific and the Texas and Pacific, both operating in Texas.

As owners of Eagle Airlines they asked the Civil Aeronautics board to permit the line to serve towns along the railroad rights-of-way.

Their proposal was submitted at hearings on applications of 32 airlines for permission to operate short haul feeder service in the Southwest.

Thomas L. Wrenn, a board examiner has recommended that the board reject the Eagle application. He said the railroads, with $900,000 invested in rail transportation, "might promote" this service "more vigorously" than air transportation.

George W. Holmes, counsel for Eagle Airlines disagreed. He said the railroads had authorized spending $4,125,000 for planes and other equipment to set up the air service.

O. R. McGuire, attorney for Pioneer Airlines of Houston, endorsed the examiners' recommended changes in Pioneer's lines. They included stops at Midland and Abilene by alternate flights over the Houston-Amarillo route and extension of the line north of Dallas-Fort Worth, via Bryan, Temple and Waco on one flight, and via Conroe, Palestine and Tyler on the next.

Wrenn also recommended new service by Pioneer from Dallas-Fort Worth to Abilene, via Mineral Wells, Breckenridge, from Abilene to Midland, via Sweetwater and Big Spring; from Abilene to Wichita Falls, and from San Angelo to Fort Worth and Dallas, via Brownwood and Stephenville.

Miller learned that his wife and Dale had spent the Christmas holidays together in North Carolina, he "cracked under the strain," and shot Dale "in the heat of passion" with a souvenir German luger, Grumet said.

The affray took place in Mrs. Miller's Manhattan apartment. Dale died the next day in a hospital, Mrs. Miller at his bedside.

In suspending sentence Judge Mullen told Miller: "The problem is whether you need punishment or not. Punishment is to set an example for society. It also is to prevent other acts of violence. I don't think it is necessary to make an example of you for society."

Miller was on terminal leave from the Army at the time of the shooting. Army officials explained that the detainee was merely a "precautionary measure to see that everything is in order as far as his military record is concerned." They added there were no Army charges against Miller.

Texas Captain Gets Suspended Sentence In Fatal Shooting

NEW YORK—(AP)—Army Captain Archie Miller, Bellevue, Texas, veteran who pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Capt. Eugene Dale last December 28, Wednesday received a suspended sentence from General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen.

An Army detainer was waiting for Miller and he was taken to Governor's Island.

He originally was indicted for murder after Captain Dale, 27, survivor of the Bataan Death March, was shot in the apartment of Miller's estranged wife, a former Powers model from Jonesboro, N. C.

The prosecutor had recommended the court, in the case, telling the court that the shooting took place "under emotional strain" after Miller returned from overseas "to find that his wife belonged to another."

Defense counsel told the court Miller had elected to plead guilty rather than subject his wife—whom he still loved—to the embarrassment of a trial.

Under the court's sentence he will be placed on probation which may extend from one to 20 years.

Miller returned to the United States last winter after two and a half years in the European theater.

During his absence, Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet said, Mrs. Miller had met Dale, stationed at Mitchell Field after returning from two years in a Japanese prison camp.

When Miller learned that his wife and Dale had spent the Christmas holidays together in North Carolina, he "cracked under the strain," and shot Dale "in the heat of passion" with a souvenir German luger, Grumet said.

The affray took place in Mrs. Miller's Manhattan apartment. Dale died the next day in a hospital, Mrs. Miller at his bedside.

House Committee Requests Huge UNRRA Fund

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A new $465,000,000 cash allotment for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration was recommended Wednesday by the House Appropriations Committee.

The UNRRA item was the most controversial and largest of a group of miscellaneous appropriations in a $726,571,909 deficiency supply bill sent to the House floor for debate starting Thursday.

It is expected to touch off a bitter wrangle over whether any of the new money should be spent in Russian republics which do not allow American news and radio correspondents free access to news of UNRRA operations.

In addition to the new UNRRA funds, the bill carries $106,650,000 for the Office of Price Administration and $27,750,000 for the Selective Service system. Generally, the money is intended to tide over the agencies during the current fiscal year and meet anticipated shortages in the next year.

The bill also cancels $3,065,486,427 in appropriations previously granted for war activities, mainly for the Army and the Navy. The new cancellations bring to $64,328,626,487 the amount of war-time appropriations actually rescinded or recommended for cancellation since the war ended.

The total cash in the bill is $184,314,078 below the President's budget estimates for the score of agencies receiving the supplemental funds.

Search Made For Negro Who Killed Policeman On Bus

TYLER—(AP)—An intensive manhunt is underway for a negro wanted in connection with a brawl in a bus here in which an officer was stabbed fatally and two passengers accidentally shot.

City Patrolman Jeff Buie was killed, and Bill Lewis and Paul Moore, bus passengers, shot when an officer fired at the negro.

A bus driver called Patrolman Buie when a negro passenger entered the bus and refused to move to the back when ordered.

Buie told the negro either to get off the bus, or move back.

A knife was pulled, and Buie was stabbed. The officer drew his pistol and fired several times, the bullets striking Lewis and Moore, passengers, in the shoulder. Neither was injured seriously.

Chicago Detectives To Question Man Who Admits Degnan Slaying

CHICAGO—(AP)—Two law enforcement officers planned to fly Wednesday to Phoenix, Ariz., to question a 42-year-old ex-convict who, the Phoenix sheriff said, related he had kidnaped and killed six-year-old Suzanne Degnan last January 7.

Chief of Detectives Walter Storms said a full investigation was being made of the story attributed in Phoenix to Richard Russell Thomas, a onetime male nurse in Chicago and now in jail awaiting sentence on a sex charge involving his daughter.

Storms said there were some discrepancies in some parts of Thomas' oral statements relating to the brutal kidnaping and slaying of the Gagnan girl.

Tanned Legs Are Substitute For Nylon

Reflected glare from water intensifies the sun's tanning rays which coax a golden brown tone to the legs.

There are ways to draw that superb smoky-brown stocking shade from the sun, which, as you know, even some nylons can't put on your legs.

Besides exposing your nethers to the sun longer than you do your uppers—legs can take it better than your face—there are ways to coax the sun to give you a more de luxe tan.

Skin should be shaved clean, of course, and stripped of any leg makeup. You can even pass up the softening or protective lotions which sometimes put a film between your skin and the tan that you are bating.

If possible, expose legs to the sun

Supreme Court Upholds Judgment Against T&P In Accident At Odessa

AUSTIN —(P)—The Supreme Court Wednesday upheld a trial court judgment awarding Bryson Day $36,000 in damages for injuries suffered in an accident at the ice factory railroad crossing in Odessa.

The trial court jury had found that the multiple track crossing on which Day's automobile was struck by a Texas Pacific train on Feb. 18, 1944, was hazardous and that Day was innocent of contributory negligence.

The Court of Civil Appeals reversed this judgment, concluding Day was guilty of contributory negligence, and remanded the case for new trial. The railroad contended that Day had disregarded a flashing red signal warning at the crossing.

The Supreme Court reversed the Court of Civil Appeals in an opinion by Associate Justice Gordon Simpson, who said it was for the jury to say whether Day had exercised ordinary care.

The records showed that Day had stopped his car while a train moved from west to east along one track. The train that struck him approached from the east. Day waited until the receding train was half a block past, looked both ways, and started across the tracks when the other train bore down on him. The flashing signal was still operating.

Nip Army Planned To Seize Diet As Early As 1931

TOKYO —(P)—A witness in the war crimes trial of 28 fallen Japanese leaders testified Wednesday that militarists in 1931 plotted to bomb the Diet and seize power, but said under cross-examination the bombs actually were "fire-crackers" designed only to scare the lawmakers.

The prosecution witness, Kono-suke Shimizu, in whose home the "bombs" were hidden, told the international war crimes tribunal they would "make a loud noise and not hurt anyone."

Another witness, Marquis Yoshichika Tokugawa, a pacifist, said he helped avert the incident by persuading Dr. Shumei Okawa, a plot ringleader now on trial, to give up the conspiracy.

Tokugawa declared he then induced Shimizu to return the "bombs" to the Army because it was "too early" to seize the government.

In direct testimony, Shimizu asserted the plot was designed as a forerunner for the Japanese army's grab in Manchuria, but it was abandoned and the infamous Mukden incident was substituted.

Nazi Czech Governor 'Unaware' Of Crimes

NUERNBERG —(P)—Baron Constant von Neurath told the international military tribunal Wednesday that he "always expected" to be liquidated by Hitler for opposing some of the fuhrer's policies and could not explain why it never happened.

The defendant pictured himself, despite his high ranking positions under Hitler, as a follower of different political thought.

Von Neurath concluded his defense with the declaration that he was unaware of police brutalities under his administration as governor of Czechoslovakia until after they happened. He said he never got reports on them before hand, nor was he consulted about them.

A Master Plan

This government's proposal for United Nations control of atomic energy, as presented by Bernard M. Baruch, takes advantage of a fortunate accident of fate to put forward a revolutionary plan for world safety and world peace. Much discussion and many counter-proposals may be expected in the wake of this plan, but it is to be hoped that no nation will raise strenuous objection to the suggested solution or its accompanying conditions.

Under this plan the United States has the unique good fortune to be able to use the atomic bomb as a weapon, if necessary, for enforcing the bomb's own destruction and world-wide renunciation.

Not until the nations had adopted an effective system of control would we cease to manufacture and store this frightful weapon. Not until the nations had decided upon punishment for those who plot future atomic warfare, and had agreed that no government would have the power of veto over such punishment, would we share the practical secret of harnessing atomic energy.

Then and only then would we share the secret which others would eventually learn anyway. And because the secret could not be kept forever, we would join with other nations in a limited form of world government which seems the only practical assurance that our world may remain whole and peaceful.

Even this limited government would have been unthinkable to most of the world's people before the bombing of Hiroshima. It would be unthinkable today if the world were not forced, as Baruch said, "to make a choice between the quick and the dead." But there seems to be no sensible alternative.

Therefore, some ancient, right and reasonable conceptions of private and state ownership and control of property and products must be abandoned. Sovereign rights involving search and seizure, sovereign jurisdiction over the persons of citizens accused of crimes must be waived within the world realm of atomic energy.

There will be objections and there will be difficulties. But it is clear even now that without these broad and unprecedented powers at the beginning, the only means of enforcing effectively the rules against atomic warfare would be war itself. Baruch cited "individual responsibility and punishment on the principles applied at Nuernberg." But the prisoners at Nuernberg could not be brought before the bar of international justice until their country had been conquered and partially destroyed.

As a master plan for controlling the atom, the United States proposal is indeed a masterly embodiment of justice, logic and practicality. It was inevitable that this country should be the one to present such a proposal. And it is to the greatest credit of Baruch, Acheson, Lienthal and their able colleagues that its recommendations cannot permit an honest doubt of America's good faith by any other nation.

Russia Liquidates Two Of Its Own States For Treachery During War

MOSCOW—(P)—As punishment for widespread treachery during the most critical period of the German invasion, the Crimean Tartars and the natives in the area around the Grozny and Mozdok oil fields in the northern Caucasus have been resettled in other parts of Russia, it was disclosed officially Wednesday.

The Crimean and Chechen-Ingush states, formerly autonomous republics in the Soviet Union, have been liquidated and reduced to provinces of the Russian federation.

The Ministry of State Control disclosed also that more than a score of factory, mill and mine executives had been punished for misappropriation or missing funds in various kinds of plants and enterprises throughout Russia.

The mass evacuations of the two states and the liquidation of the two republics was disclosed with the adoption by the Supreme Soviet of the Soviet Federation of decrees issued some time previously by the presidium.

(This was the first official Russian announcement of defections in the Soviet Union during the war.)

The Ministry of State Control, telling of the punishment of factory executives, said a favorite practice was the falsification of production reports by directors and sub-executives in order to increase the prize money which was paid as reward to themselves and their friends.

A woman and 25 men were listed in the newspapers Izvestia and Pravda as offenders in coal mining, aviation, diesel engine and other enterprises.

Izvestia said the case of the Shekhegino mining trust was typical. Kake production reports were discovered there. A mine chief, G. N. Kamchatov, and a chief bookkeeper, S. G. Lyukhov, were discharged and "called to the court of responsibility." The trust manager, H. G. Pronin, and the chief engineer, F. L. Solodky, who received illegal prizes, were reprimanded and fined 7,500 rubles each.

A farm machinery plant bookkeeper, M. O. Zaviyalov, and others were held for court action on charges of getting money on false pretenses during a trip to Central Asia.

Nine Persons Die And 15 Injured In Railroad Crossing

HARLINGEN—(P)—Nine persons were killed and 12 seriously injured Tuesday night when a passenger train crashed into a truckload of Latin-American agricultural workers three miles west of here.

The victims and wreckage of the truck were scattered for 150 feet along the right of way.

Six men and two women died when a Missouri Pacific locomotive struck the truck Tuesday night at 3:25 p. m. One died Wednesday morning. No occupant of the truck escaped injury. The injured lay along the rails for 30 minutes until ambulances arrived from Harlingen and Mercedes. All were believed to be residents of nearby La Paloma.

Capt. Marvin Gordon of the State Highway Patrol said a string of freight cars along the siding at the crossing made it blind for both the locomotive engineer and the driver of the truck.

"The wreck scene was gruesome, with broken and crushed bodies of the dead and injured scattered along the right of way," Sam Gerald, Harlingen newspaperman, reported.

Ambulances were busy for two hours bringing the dead and injured to the Valley Baptist Hospital here.

Rep. Donald O'Toole, above, of New York, is quoted as instructing his lawyers to bring a $100,000 criminal libel suit against Mike Jacobs, promoter of the Louis-Corn fight fiasco. O'Toole, who saw fight by television, asked New York Boxing Commission to hold up fighters' purses. Jacobs said O'Toole was angry because he had been refused complimentary tickets.

6—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JUNE 26, 1946

Midland Golfers Are On High Teams At Big Spring Tourney

Bill Barker, Midland golfer, was a member of the foursome winning the "best ball" championship of the pro-amateur tourney at Big Spring Tuesday.

Barker's team shot a score of 60. He was playing with Bill Davidson

Our Ho-Hum Department scout on the Hollywood front reports another "Girl who..." election. This time it's Adele Jergens, Columbia starlet, who is supposed to have been selected by the Trapeze Artists of America as the girl with whom "We'd most like to swing through the air with the greatest of ease."

of Odessa, Sam Hefner of Big Spring and Tom Suttle of Wink.

Paul McHargue of Midland was a member of the second place winning foursome, which shot a 64. His teammates were Davidson, Bob Satterwhite of Big Spring and J. T. Morgan of Big Spring.

About 90 West Texas golfers entered the event. Bennie Adams of Kermit won the professional medalist honors shooting a 68.

Among Midland entries were: Barker, McHargue, Johnny Coulter, Roy Minear, Walter Henderson, Doyle Patton, Gaither Nowell, Marvin McCrea, Harry Bray, Johnnie Richards and H. F. Forgeron.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK (AP)— When the baseball Yankees opened their 1946 season, they had sold 500 boxes for the season—at very fancy prices... The football Yankees already have sold 400 boxes at $140 each for the season and have taken in $56,000 in ticket sales... That doesn't prove (a) that the football Yanks will equal the baseball Yanks at the gate or (b) that they'll have the same place in the standings, but it isn't bad business for a brand new club, either... No fewer than 12 golf tournaments are on the schedule for the New York metropolitan area next Friday... Topeka's Jim Reed isn't surprised that Army recruiters have trouble filling their quotas these days. An Army sergeant draws only $78 a month, plus room and board, says Jim, and any boy with football talent can do better than that at college.

Horseshoe Shortage
A Wisconsin Rapids baseball fan thought he was getting something for nothing, opines L. H. Addington, when he not only watched a game from outside the fence but picked up a stray foul ball, jumped into his car and headed home... But the fan didn't reckon with the shortage of baseballs... A cop assigned to the park chased him and the gent had to pay $2 and costs—a total of $9.31—and, what's worse, he had to return the ball.

While he pitched best, Walter Johnson had a diversified career. Left to right, the Big Train is shown as a Maryland farmer, the incomparable 36-game winner of the Washington Senators and broadcaster of games in stadium in which he wrote so much baseball history. Phillies Beat Cardinals While Reds Batter League-Leading Dodgers, 15-3

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ben Chapman, the "fall guy" who took on the thankless job of managing the Phillies a year ago, is a solid bet to be named manager of the year in the National League—even if his team winds up in the basement.

Winning 18 of their last 24 games and moving from eighth place to sixth, only one game out of the first division, rates as a minor miracle for the club that holds the all-time record for finishing last.

Nobody expects the Phillies to maintain their current pace. But their renascence has caught the fancy of the nation, much as the fans "went for" the Dodgers in 1941 and the St. Louis Browns in 1944.

Philadelphia has taken the Phils to its heart and Tuesday night's 5-3 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals was the latest reason for jubilation.

The Cardinals had a chance to pick up a game, for Brooklyn had been battered by Cincinnati, 15-3, earlier in the day.

Pirates Beat Giants
Pittsburgh staggered out of the basement behind Nick Strincevich, who scored his first win of the year, a four-hit 3-0 whitewash of the New York Giants, who now bring up the rear in the National League. Chicago's Cubs stopped Boston's five-game win streak, 7-3.

Tex Hughson's second straight shutout was the big news in the American where Boston stretched its lead to 7 1/2 games by blanking Detroit, 1-0, while New York bowed to Cleveland's Bobby Feller, 8-3.

Hughson had a tough scrap with Detroit's Freddy Hutchinson, each pitcher allowing only two hits. Hutchinson walked four in a row after two were out in the eighth.

The Yankees fell before Feller for the fourth time with Rapid Robert fanning 13 to boost his season strikeout total to 165 in 154 innings.

Bill Dietrich suffered a broken finger when hit by a line drive off Cecil Travis' bat as Chicago downed Washington, 6-4, and Sam Zoldak outpitched three Athletic hurlers to give the St. Louis Browns a 7-2 night verdict over Philadelphia. Two homers by Chet Laabs and one by Walt Judnich were the big blows.

Organized Baseball Opens Its Heart As Major And Minor Leagues Offer Players To Spokane

SPOKANE, WASH. (AP)— Organized baseball opened its heart Wednesday to help reconstruct the Spokane Indians baseball team, slashed to three active players Monday night when a bus crash carried eight to their deaths and injured seven other players and the driver.

Offers of player help came not only from the B League Western International circuit where Spokane was battling to rise from fifth place but from major and minor leagues across the nation.

The president of the Western International League, Robert B. Abel of Tacoma, was to arrive in Spokane Wednesday to discuss involving an emergency rule to recruit players from other clubs and enable Spokane to finish its season.

Owner Sam W. Collins, directing the Indians for the first time this year, was too busy assisting relatives of victims to plan a resumption of play immediately. He was determined, however, to finish the season because "the boys themselves would want the game continued."

Collins was encouraged to try again by a wire from Branch Richey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League, who promised to send players and help locate a new manager if necessary.

Swedish Runner May Break U.S. Record For 1,500 Meters

SAN ANTONIO (AP)— The chances of Lennart Strand, Sweden's current middle distance sensation, breaking the American record for 1,500 meters in the National AAU track-and field meet Friday and Saturday may depend upon the ability of three New Yorkers to apply the pressure.

War Veteran Leslie MacMitchell, New York University grad entered unattached, Tommy Quinn, NYAC, and Eddie Walsh, Manhattan College are the lads who appear most capable of hurrying Strand under the U. S. mark of 3:47.9 made by Walter Mehl of Indiana six years ago.

Strand ran the distance in 3:51.6 in his American debut at the Compington invitational meet, Los Angeles, earlier this month. He has traveled the route in 3:46.6, however, and is credited with a 4:04.8 mile.

MacMitchell, after a war layoff, has been gearing himself for the AAU meet. The veteran Quinn, Michigan State Normal grad of several years ago, has a 4:17.4 mile to his credit this year, while Walsh captured the IC-4A mile at 4:12.3.

Tech Coach Says Coulter To Play For Pro Giants

ATLANTA (AP)—Bob Woodruff, line coach at Georgia Tech, said Wednesday that DeWitt Coulter, the Army's all-America tackle last year, had signed to play with the New York Giants of the National Professional Football League this fall.

Coulter who withdrew from West Point recently had announced he would enter Georgia Tech this fall.

Woodruff said Coulter agreed to the Giant contract at his home in Fort Worth. Woodruff said he understood the contract called for $19,000 plus a bonus of $2,500 for signing.

Army Orders Social Distinctions Cut And OKs GI Pay For Unused Leaves

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Army launched a military "new order" experiment Wednesday by narrowing social and other distinctions between officers and enlisted men without wiping them out.

It also decided it can get along with less saluting, except where a snappy salute counts.

Secretary of War Patterson put the new formula into Army life when he gave carefully qualified approval Tuesday night to all but two of the 14 recommendations submitted by the Doolittle "gripe" board which investigated postwar GI complaints of too much caste in the service.

Patterson announced that the War Department is ordering:

1. Abolition of saluting except on military posts, in overseas occupied areas and on ceremonial occasions.
2. Elimination of an existing requirement that officers wear distinctive uniforms, live apart from their men in garrison, and confine their social contacts to other officers.
3. Granting enlisted men the same privilege as officers, effective July 1, in accumulating unused leave time, currently 30 days a year.
4. Studies looking to a possible upward revision of pay schedules along with allowances for food, quarters and travel.
5. Measures to train officers better for leadership, assign them "in the best interests of the service," and to overhaul the present system of promotions.
6. Rewriting of regulations to define "essential" privileges of officers and to prohibit or minimize "possible abuses of authority and prestige."
7. Efforts to improve the social facilities available to enlisted men.

Announcing the War Department's action on recommendations made by the Doolittle board a month ago, Patterson rejected outright a proposal that the terms "officers" and "enlisted men" be eliminated entirely, and stressed there must be no weakening of discipline in the Army.

There is no official intention of abolishing all off-duty restraint upon social association, which Patterson said "might lead to more dangerous abuses than those which this proposal intends to correct."

As a matter of "common sense," he said officers' clubs will not be closed and "gambling among personnel of different ranks should not be tolerated."

Patterson rejected also a proposal that reports of inspectors general to the War Department should be bypass field commanders. His reason was that no change should be made that would give the inspectors "any tinge of 'gestapo' or under-cover status."

Germans Anxious To Leave Fatherland

BERLIN —(AP)—Millions of Germans are so pessimistic about the future of their defeated country that they want to leave it. If the population of Berlin is a criterion, three out of four Germans would do this, according to a poll of opinion conducted by the Night Express, a Russian licensed newspaper.

The Express asked readers: "Would you, if the possibility existed, move out of Germany?" It announced results as 74.6 per cent "yes" and 25.4 "no".

Talking with Germans on the street one learns that many want to go to the United States—largely because of its material wealth and high standard of living, its undamaged state, its reputation for tolerance to nationalities and the fact it is still more impregnable than most countries in the event of another war.

Levelland Takes On Colorful Appearance For Three-Day Rodeo

LEVELLAND—This city has taken on a colorful air this week in preparation for the July 3, 4 and 5 annual rodeo, with early reports pointing to record attendance for an outstanding show.

In addition to the regular events, a full three-day entertainment program has been planned by local committees, President W. J. Robertson of the Levelland Rodeo Association said. After shows will be presented all three days and night shows will begin at 8 p. m. July 3 and 4.

Added prize money totals over $1,650 in seven events. Saddle bronc riding, calf roping, team roping, bulldogging, steer riding and sponsor contests will find top cowboys and cowgirls competing in the Levelland show.

The entertainment program will include a pair of Fort Worth feminine trick riders and ropers, Mrs. Velda Tindall and Miss Effie Corbin, who have performed for major shows in Cheyenne, Wyo., and Madison Square Garden, New York City, and others, will present specialty acts at all five performances.

Increase Shown In Scholastics

An increase of more than 250 in the number of scholastics enumerated this year by the Midland Independent School District over the total last year was announced Tuesday by Supt. Frank Monroe. The district has 3,204 registered this year as compared with 2,953 in 1945.

About 20 transfers are expected from the Prairie Lee district.

The Midland school district will receive $30 for each scholastic from the State Department of Education, and probably will receive an additional $4 per scholastic this fall. The supplemental payment has been authorized by the state board, but the money has not yet been allocated to the schools.

The report of scholastics is to be sent this week to L. Woods, state superintendent of public schools.

Comparative figures for the two years:

White students	1946	1945
	2,877	2,637
Negro students	327	311

THE walk was exhilarating and the three girls reached the popular restaurant before the rush hour. The waiter seated them at a table near a group of windows facing the street and took their orders. Sally, who sat with her back to the room, heard Margaret gasp then smile a greeting and looked up to see Doctor Carolyn Bacon, Lintonville's only woman physician, enter with Doctor Hallock.

The newcomers spotted them at once and came over to speak.

"Having fun?" the young physician asked, her smiling eyes on Sally.

"We just got here," Margaret explained.

"Not much fun while we're still starving," Dora said. Sally said nothing. She smiled at Doctor Bacon, avoiding the young interne.

"This is certainly an unexpected pleasure!" Doctor Hallock said, beaming on them impartially. "I see you have a sizable table. Why not join them, Doctor? Mind if we do?" he asked somewhat belatedly. "Have you ordered? Why not let this be on me? I shall be only too happy—"

As he drew out Doctor Bacon's chair then sat down beside Sally.

"Dutch!" Dora explained succinctly.

"But see here—" he began and Margaret interrupted to ask dryly: "How long since internes had money to squander on three or four hungry females, Doctor Hallock? Fallen into a fortune lately?"

THE young man shook his head.

"Not exactly," he replied. "But I'm solvent, and it isn't often I face and noticed the smile of understanding or could it be sympathy in Carolyn Bacon's keen blue eyes? Was he remembering that stolen kiss, she wondered.

DOCTOR BACON rose at last pleading an engagement and perform the young man left with her, although she begged him not to. When they were out of earshot, Dora muttered: "He certainly had his nerve barging in on our party. Who does he think he is, anyway?"

"Oh, he did it to be friendly," Margaret soothed. "He considers himself one of the family."

Sally said nothing.

"I wonder if that will be a match," Margaret mused as they left the restaurant. "I heard he was rushing her."

"You did?" Dora asked, her blue eyes wide with interest. "That's news to me. Did you know that, Sally?"

"I heard it," Sally said.

"But she must be years older than he is," Dora went on.

"What are a few years one way or the other?" Sally said. "Anyway, I don't think Carolyn Bacon is thirty—and he must be nearly that."

Margaret sighed. "Lovely, isn't she? I wonder how she keeps her figure—so trim and stylish." She spoke almost enviously.

"Probably diets to a fare-you-well," Dora suggested. "They tell me one doesn't mind it after the first five years. The stomach has grown so small it doesn't crave much food. Imagine that! Not for me!"

"I don't think it takes five years," Sally pointed out, glad of the change of subject. She didn't want to talk about Jim Hallock or of her own.

"Of course," Sally said and was glad when their dinner came. She wished with all her heart this man was somewhere else. When he moved his knee pressed hers and she felt the hot blood in her cheeks. Once or twice she saw the inquiring look on Margaret's

Nazis' Famed Siegfried Line Now Mostly Junk

BERLIN—(AP)—The Siegfried line—Hitler's famous but futile west wall—isn't worth ripping up, Allied officers have concluded.

Many of the emplacements now outmoded will be ignored, mute reminders to the Germans for whatever they want to make of it.

The anti-aircraft batteries and mine fields of the west wall have all been destroyed, however. Lieutenant General Lucius D. Clay, U.S. deputy military governor, said that nothing of any war potential would be allowed to remain intact.

which are awarded the world championship pair title and custody of the Waldemar von Zedtwitz gold trophy.

Defenders this year will M.A. Lightman of Memphis, Tenn., and Robert Appleyard of New York.

Appleyard, who has won this title twice, plays a beautiful defensive game. He held the North cards in today's hand and won the opening lead with the ace of hearts.

Declarer without a second's hesitation put on the king. This would indicate a singleton, but Appleyard was not fooled. He returned the queen of hearts and cashed the setting trick.

Declarer made a fine play when he put his king of hearts on the first trick. He knew that the seven of hearts had to be a singleton. And if North made a mistake and did not come back with a heart, East could get rid of all of dummy's hearts on his good clubs and ruff his losing heart.

But Appleyard reasoned that East would not bid six spades with a losing diamond and losing heart. Therefore he thought that an attempt to cash the ace of diamonds would be a give-up play.

Dehydration By Electricity Is Easy Way To Preserve Fruits, Vegetables

The Phillips Electric Company has presented an electric dehydrator to the home demonstration agent of Midland County.

After experimenting with and using the dehydrator, Mrs. Nettie Messick has issued these suggestions for preserving fruit and vegetables by dehydration:

"Dehydration is an old and economical method of preserving certain fruits. Dehydration in the home is especially important now while the production and preservation of fruits are so necessary. No sugar is required in dehydrating fruits.

"The process of dehydration is fundamentally that of removing water from the product by evaporation with heat, which may be derived from the sun, or from some fuel such as oil, gas or electricity.

"Dehydration by electricity is one of the most convenient ways to dehydrate fruits and vegetables as it is clean and does not give off objectional fumes. The products are inside a cabinet where they are protected from dust, flies and other contamination. It is convenient to dehydrate with electricity as it requires a minimum of labor and attention and does not heat up the room.

"Fruits most commonly dehydrated are apples, apricots, figs, peaches, nectarines, pears and plums.

Prepare As For Canning

"To prepare fruits for dehydration prepare as for canning. Select firm ripe fruit, either peel or halve, as desired. Treat with sulphur to keep color and food value. One method is to dissolve 3 1/2 table-spoons of potassium metabisulfite or sodium sulfite in 1 gallon of water. Drop fruit as cut into solution for 15 minutes. Drain and arrange on tray for drying.

"The other method is to burn flowers of sulphur under the fruit.

Use 1 teaspoon sulphur for each pound of prepared fruit. Put the sulphur in a small piece of paper, roll it loosely and twist the ends. Arrange a place out of doors. Place fruit on a tray and put the roll of sulphur in a pan about 12 or 15 inches under trays. Start burning the roll of paper containing the sulphur. After it has started burning, put a box or barrel down over the trays and pull some loose dirt up around the edge of the box to hold the fumes. Various fruits require different times for sulphuring. This information can be obtained from CHDA office.

"The dehydration process is completed by sun drying or by controlled heat. If sun drying is used, arrange fruit on slatted or wire trays covered with cheese cloth; cover fruit with a layer of cheese cloth or regular screen dryer. Place in sun where sun can shine on them and air can circulate around them.

"When fruit is dry it should be pliable and leathery and not sticky.

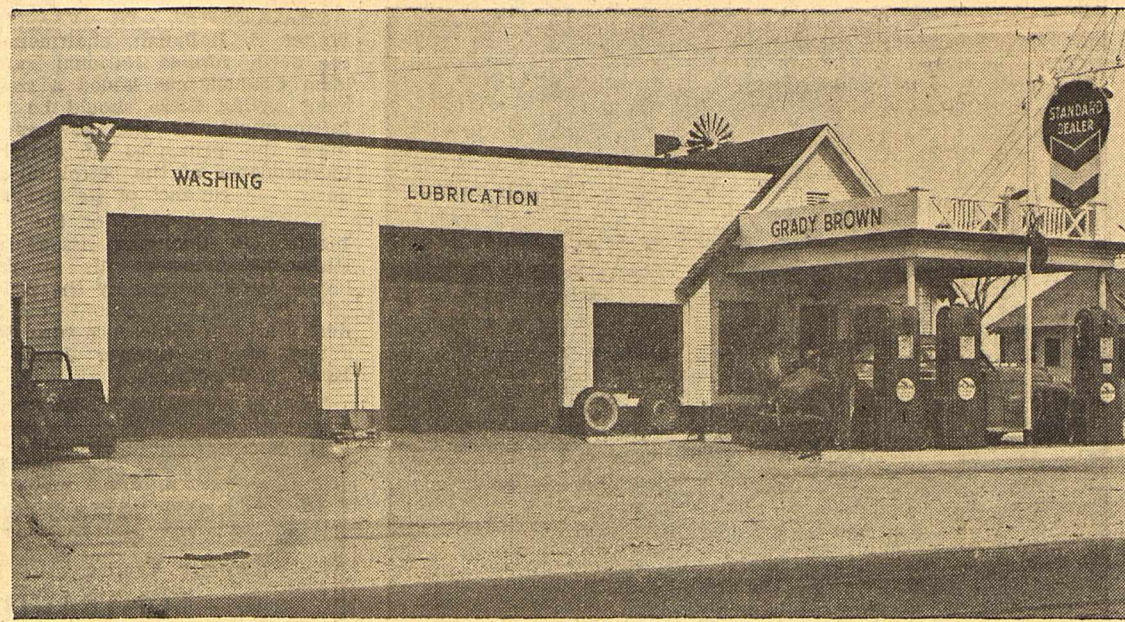

"Fruit should be put in air tight containers and stored in a cool, dry place."

Army To Tell GI Wives How To Treat Germans

FRANKFURT, GERMANY — (AP) — American soldiers' wives and children in Germany will be put through an orientation lecture program "to combat current German propaganda and false thinking," the U. S. Army announced.

They will be warned against the Germans' "fawning, friendly attitudes" and be urged not to develop false sympathy because the Germans look clean and healthy, the Army said. American youngsters in Germany will be told "they are ambassadors of democracy . . . and by their example can do much to refute Nazi youth doctrines."

Home Of Expert Washing And Lubrication

"Expert washing and greasing service."

That's the claim of Grady Brown's Standard Service Station on East Highway 80. The employees challenge car owners of this area to give them an opportunity to prove their statement, since they specialize in washing and lubrication.

In addition, the station also offers a good supply of Standard gasoline and motor oils and other products to keep cars running smoothly, safely and economically.

In stock are many good lines of accessories, and these items are replaced and added to as quickly as possible under the present reconversion and labor bottleneck and will become available to car owners as soon as the station can obtain them.

Motorists are invited to drive in and try the Standard service, and to take advantage of the expert washing and lubrication service. "Stop and gas with Grady," is the slogan of the station.

Yellowstone's Bears Slow In Reconvertng

THERMOPOLIS, WYO. — (AP) — The bears of Yellowstone National Park are behind the times, Editor Ken Byerly of the Thermopolis Independent Record reports after a trip through the park.

The number of tourists has reached prewar volume, Byerly says, but the bears are still in the woods.

"Apparently," he writes, "no one has tipped them off to the killing in delicacies they could be making along the park highways."

Mountain Climbers To Get Supplies By Plane

DENVER — (AP) — Members of the Colorado Mountain Club will receive food by parachute during their peak-climbing expeditions this summer.

One group which plans to scale many of the 14,000-foot peaks in the inaccessible San Miguel Mountains will get a food parachute every other day from a plane piloted by Roland Usher of Cortez.

Without supplies by air, such a trip would require elaborate arrangements for horseback supply camps.

Chief Says Industry Should Stay Independent

CHARLESTON, W. VA.—(P)—Walter S. Hallanan, chairman of the newly formed National Petroleum Council, has issued a statement saying there should be "no infringement by the government upon the principles of complete independence of the petroleum industry" in conduct of its business.

Hallanan, president of the Plymouth Oil Company, issued the statement following his appointment to the council by the representatives of the nation's oil industry after a conference with Secretary of the Interior James A. Krug in Washington.

What'll You Bet That Mrs. Widow Won't Remarry?

By CHARLES MOLONY
WASHINGTON — (P) — What'll you bet that a widow won't remarry?

You can take it from "The American Remarriage Table" that it goes like this:

Just about 12 out of 100 women will remarry within six years after their husbands' deaths if they're 16 to 20 years old. That means the odds are better than 1 to 7 that any one widow in that age group will take another spouse.

Almost eight out of 100 who are 21 to 25 will remarry within six years after becoming widows, making the marrying odds on any one of them better than 1 to 11. The odds, as you guessed, climb directly with age.

The novel tabulation was worked up in the pre-war period by the Casualty Actuarial Society after the fashion of insurance companies' life expectancy tables, and it may be that post war widows will bust the odds out of shape one way or the other.

But—ah, yes — what about the case of widows past 25? Well, here's what the table says:

Of those 26 to 30, six in 100 will remarry within six years after widowhood (the table doesn't predict anything beyond the six-year stage). Translated into odds on any one, that's about 1 to 16.

Among those 31 to 35, almost four in 100 will remarry, making the one-widow odds 1 to 24.

At 36 to 40, the odds lengthen to 1 to 49 as only two in 100 remarry. From 40 to 45, the chances are slightly less, but at 45 to 50, they're down to 1 in 100.

Remarriage probabilities of women widowed after 50 are pretty small, and the table says only about three in 100 remarry when widows at 71 to 75—the top age it takes in.

Record Catch Of Year Made On Plain Worm

LEWISTOWN, MONT.—(P)—It'll embarrass Lewistown's expert fly fishermen to call attention to this, but the record catch of the season was made by Clifford Foreman, 14. Clifford landed a 28-inch rainbow trout weighing six pounds, eight ounces. His bait: a plain old barnyard worm.

Polish Girl Overcomes An Explosive Situation

BOZECIN, POLAND—(P)—Pretty Lodzia Sanowa, 18, often had watched sappers destroy mines. She also had seen peasants killed trying to de-mine their farmlands because they couldn't afford to pay a professional sapper.

There were 400 land mines in a 14-acre tract her father proposed to farm. But de-mining would cost more than he would earn in a year.

So Lodzia went to work on her own, tackling mine by mine, while Polish soldiers looked on and warned her she was heading for death. Lodzia laughed off their warnings, completed the entire de-mining operation alone — 400 mines—and proudly handed over their fuses or detonators to the Polish soldiers.

Maybe this is the job for you!

Is getting a job your big problem right now? Maybe we can help.

Have you ever thought about being a telephone operator? It's a girl's job—and a good one too!

No experience? Doesn't matter—you learn (and earn, of course) as you go along. And telephone work has always held a fascination that's hard to describe. Why not see whether you can qualify?

The chief operator at the telephone office will be glad to talk it over with you.
