Union Will Drill Wildcat Two Miles North Of Andrews

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor
Union Oil Company of California No. 1-F Mrs. A. C. Means estate is to be a wildcat to 4,800 feet in Central Andrews County, about two miles northwest of the town of Andrews, to test for production in the San Andres lime. Drilling will start early next week.

The location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 1, block A-46, psd survey. It is several miles south of the Means field, nearest area producing from a formation similar to the one to be investigated by the new prospector.

Fullerton Oil Company No. 342-A Wilson, on northwest side of the Fullerton field, in Northwest Andrews, and the second well in that area to show for production from the Ellenburger, treated at 9,783-9,890 feet with 6,000 gallons of acid.

Flowed 107 BOPH
After the load and residue had been recovered, operator took a nine-hour flowing test. In the last hour of the period the well flowed 107 barrels of pipe line oil.

The project is drilling ahead to test the full thickness of the deep pay to locate the water table in the horizon. It is 662 feet from east and 2,035 feet from north lines of section 16, block A-32, psd survey, and one-half mile due east of the discovery for Ellenburger production in the Fullerton area.

American Republics Corporation No. 1 TXL, West Ector County wildcat in southeast quarter of section 7, block 45, TP survey, T-2-S, and one-half mile southeast of a small discovery from the Devonian at J. W. Murchison No. 1, Fraser, was making hole below 7,986 feet, in a lime section, classed as a reworked formation.

It picked base of the Permian at 7,810 feet, on an elevation of 3,353 feet. According to some geologists that puts it 63 feet high to the same pay in the Murchison discovery.

Two new outposts to production in Hockley County have been reported.

Two Hockley Outposts
Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 2 Lelia P. Montgomery, 660 feet from south and east lines of labor 4, league 72, al Verde County School Land survey, is to drill to 5,000 feet to try to locate pay in the San Andres. It is 1,869 feet east and slightly north of same company's No. 1 Montgomery, a recently completed producer on the north side of the Levelland field.

Another One Lost
Northern Ordnance, Inc., No. 1 Walker, South-Central Garza County wildcat, about 10 miles south of Post and 330 feet out of southeast corner of section 45, block 6, H&CN survey, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 3,522 feet in lime.

It had slight shows of oil and gas at 2,415-74 feet, but extended (Continued on Page 2)

PAIR WANTED FOR ROBBERY, STEALING, KIDNAPING —

Police Seek Hi-Jackers

WACO —(P)— Central Texas and state police Thursday were searching for two men in Army uniforms who Wednesday held up Hugh Wilfong, former Baylor University football player, stole his car and later robbed and kidnaped Pat Bone, filling station operator at Gatesville.

Wilfong told police he had picked up the two hitchhiking youths between Temple and Waco. As they neared Troy, Wilfong said, one of the men pressed a gun in his back and ordered him to stop at the side of the highway.

Wilfong, recently discharged from the Navy and now an employee of the Veterans Administration, said he was taken to a deserted area on a side road and tied to a small tree. He said the two men took $18 in cash, his hat and a wrist watch.

Breaking the cloth with which he had been tied to the tree, Wilfong went to a farmhouse and telephoned to Waco police.
A short time later, State Patrolman Glen Williamson spotted the car on the highway but lost it near Lake Waco.

According to Bone, the two men appeared at his all-night filling station in Gatesville at 2:30 a. m. Thursday, robbed him of $50 and forced him into a car, description of which was the same as the one stolen from Wilfong.
Bone said he was taken near Oglesby, Coryell County, where the men tied him to a fence post.
Two soldiers from Camp Hood later picked him up and returned him to Gatesville.
The automobile taken from Wilfong was a black 1940 Ford sedan with white sidewall tires.

'New Evidence' Reportedly Uncovered Against Firm

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Senate War Investigating Committee reported Thursday that it has uncovered "new evidence" in its war profits inquiry into a Midwest munitions combine.

The "new evidence" delayed a committee decision on what steps it might take in hailing Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the House Military Committee before it for a public explanation of his activities in connection with the combine.

The committee met for more than an hour behind closed doors for a "general discussion" of possible steps.
Two written invitations already have been sent to him by Chairman Mead (D-NY) to appear "voluntarily." But he has laid down conditions for that appearance—among them the right to cross examine witnesses and summon records—which the committee has refused to accept.

Secretary Testifies
MAY has acknowledged that he aided the Illinois industrial combine during the war years, but has insisted that aid was for the war effort alone, and has denied that he profited personally.

Wednesday the committee heard testimony that he once asked an official of the combine: "What about that $3,000?"
At the close of Thursday's executive session, Francis Flanagan of committee counsel announced the discovery of the new evidence, but flatly refused to disclose to reporters even an "inkling" of its nature or who it involved.

He acknowledged that it might involve the reopening of public hearings.
Secretaries Testify
Testimony concerning May's inquiry about $3,000 was offered Wednesday by Mrs. Eleanor Hall, one of two pretty ex-secretaries of the combine's Washington office who sprinkled the committee's record with references to members of Congress and high-ranking Army officers.

The other was Mrs. Jean Bates. Mrs. Bates confined her testimony chiefly to naming persons who had figured in telephone conversations with her bosses, Garson and Joseph Freeman, the Washington representative of the munitions firms.

Mrs. Hall had a lengthier story to tell, and she began it by characterizing her former employer as "a bunch of crooks."
Mrs. Hall made these additional assertions:
That May was known in the office as "Yankel," a name which committee counsel said means in Yiddish "Jacob" or "Little John" and was usually used as meaning "not too smart."

That she once typed for Freeman a list of 50 names of Army officers who desired promotion or enlisted men who wanted to avoid going overseas or who desired transfer to stations nearer their homes.

"He didn't tell me," she said, "but I was certainly under the impression that Congressman May was to help him out" with respect to the list of names.
That Sarelas told her May had "got him out of the Army after six weeks service."

Washington (P)—The XB-36, the Army's newest and the world's largest land based bomber, was a step nearer its first flight following the completion of safety inspections of the plane conducted by the Air Materiel Command at the Fort Worth, Texas, plant of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation.

Army Air Force officials said date of the first flight of the bomber is uncertain, depending upon the progress of the tax tests.
CALLED TO FIRE
City firemen were called to 211 South Big Spring Street Thursday afternoon to extinguish a fire at a service station.

Extent of damage was not reported.

Weather
Warm weather Friday. Maximum temperature Wednesday was 96 degrees, minimum 76 degrees.

Talmadge Gains Lead In Vote For Georgia Governor

ATLANTA —(P)— The pendulum has swung again in Georgia it seems, sending Eugene Talmadge, the defender of white supremacy, to the governor's mansion for the fourth time.

The returns are not all in from Wednesday's Democratic primary—and the counting may last for hours yet—and no one is conceding anything, but Talmadge's apparent lead is increasing.

The unit votes are what count in Georgia, and Talmadge has enough indicated unit votes to win, with some to spare. Yet 36-year-old James V. Carmichael is leading in the popular vote.

Georgia's 159 counties, many of them tiny, have 410 unit votes. A candidate is elected with a majority, 206. The latest count puts Talmadge ahead in 100 counties with 234 unit votes.

Carmichael, backed by Gov. Ellis Arnall, the man who defeated Talmadge four years ago on a reform platform, led in 48 counties with a unit vote of 156.

Behind In Popular Vote
The popular vote was: Carmichael 206,052; Talmadge 178,814; Ex-Gov. E. D. Rivers, 36,973; and Hoke O'Kelly, 8,24.

Rivers led in eight counties with 18 unit votes. O'Kelly had no unit votes.
The returns were from 156 counties and 1,076 of the 1,746 precincts in the state. Many of the counties apparently still had blocks of votes unreported.

The primary—equivalent to the election in Georgia—was the first time that negroes had voted in great numbers in the deep South. About 135,000 of them registered, and most voted.

Talmadge promised to bring back the white primary by putting it beyond state control, as South Carolina did two years ago. By taking the primary out of state control, Talmadge contends it then would be a private organization subject only to its own rules and regulations.

He was her man, but he done her wrong.

A Midland negro woman's man Wednesday robbed her of $600, receipts from the sale of her car, and went on a big spending spree in West Texas and New Mexico.

She asked city police for help in getting back some of the money but they found the negro man had bought a watch, shoes, other clothes, and whiskey, and had taken an automobile trip into New Mexico.

He had spent most of the $600.

WANTED FOR GRAND LARCENY IN SEATTLE — Dallasite Held On Theft Charge Identified As Former Convict

DALLAS —(P)— Sheriff Smoot Schmid announced Thursday that a man held on a charge of theft filed by a 53-year-old Dallas widow, who alleged she gave him more than $39,000 in cash and jewels on promise of marriage, had been identified by fingerprints as William Gage Kensington, ex-convict.

The man, giving his name as Gage Williams and who has been operating Dallas and Fort Worth story-writing schools, was jailed Monday when the woman, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Human, filed the complaint charging theft over $50 against him.

She also obtained a temporary restraining order from District Judge Ralph Gillen to prevent disposal of the man's assets. Tuesday the man paid $28,186 to Mrs. Human and promised to sign a note for the remaining $11,000, according to his attorney, D. C. McCord, Jr.

Justice of the Peace W. L. Terrett Wednesday postponed a hearing on the theft charge, stating that he wanted to learn more about the case. He reduced the bond from $10,000 to $5,000, however.

Thursday the bond was further reduced—this time to $2,500—and the man had furnished it and was preparing to depart from the courthouse with a packed suitcase when Sheriff Schmid, who had just obtained the information as to his identity, spied him. The man was promptly rearrested.

Sheriff Schmid said fingerprints taken here were forwarded to Washington and identified the writer, publisher and self-styled expert in African languages as Kensington.

Schmid said that the man had served sentences in San Quentin penitentiary and the penitentiary at Walla Walla, Wash., and at present is a fugitive from justice on a grand larceny charge in Seattle.

The man admitted his identity to a Dallas Times-Herald reporter Thursday, declaring "I knew it was coming but I hoped to 'make bond' before the records came through."

Six Reported Killed In Gas Explosion

CONSET, MASS.—(P)—State Fire Marshal Edward H. Whittmore said Thursday he had received a report that six persons were killed and 25 injured when a terrific gas explosion rocked the center of this Buzzard's Bay resort flattening four wooden buildings.

No one was taken Wednesday on any part of the Senate bill, which Truman has hinted strongly he will veto if it lands on his desk with its current bans on price ceilings for meat, butter, eggs, milk and several other grocery store items.

However, House conferees were reported waiting only for a propitiatory motion to propose to the senators that they back down on the food list amendments. Truman was represented in some Capitol quarters as ready to overlook other objections if the price lid is put back on the market basket.

Thomas Lists Aims Of New Association At Rotary Meeting
Leonard Thomas, president of the recently formed Midland Concert and Lecture Association, told members of the Rotary Club at their Thursday noon luncheon of the aims of the organization, and urged their support.

The function of the association, Thomas said, is to add to the cultural life of the city. The concert and lecture group plans to bring several outstanding programs to Midland next year.

Dick Prather, Rotary president, gave a report on the district Rotary Assembly at Childress which he attended. Delbert Downing was in charge of introduction of guests, and Art Cole was program chairman.

Hot Fire Chases Guests Into Streets
SALT LAKE CITY —(P)—Dozens of the more than 200 guests of the Wilson Hotel in downtown Salt Lake City fled to the street in their night clothes early Thursday when fire broke out in the basement.

Assistant Fire Chief Willis Smith said the blaze was extinguished within a few minutes. He estimated damage to the building at $2,000, plus considerable loss to furnishings due to smoke.

ROME —(AP)— Premier Alcide de Gasperi, expressing disappointment in "American promises," said Thursday he feared the new Italian republic would fall if Trieste were internationalized as recommended by the four-power foreign ministers council.

LONDON —(AP)— Britain has sent a note of protest to Moscow, complaining of extreme and unwarranted interference in the internal affairs of Hungary, the Foreign Office said Thursday.

ROME —(AP)— Vito Mussolini, nephew of the former duke and one-time publisher of his newspaper, Popolo D'Italia, was pardoned Thursday under the terms of the general political amnesty granted by the Italian republic. He was sentenced last December by a Milan court to 14 years imprisonment for helping to maintain Fascism.

INDIGNANT Labor members of the House voted the investigation after Winston Churchill, former prime minister and opposition leader, had taunted them with "I know you do not want free speech. You go further and further on the road to destroying it. We are not in Russia yet."

In another angry exchange across the floor, Churchill shouted "absolutely false and a lying assertion" when Willie Gallacher, Communist, charged the Conservatives had incited the opposition to rationing.

The government's decision to stand steadfast was reported taken at a special cabinet meeting Thursday morning which the food minister, John Strachey, attended.

While the food minister was closeted with other government leaders, a delegate waited to present him with a resolution announcing the Master Bakers' Association's refusal to collect bread tickets in the rationing scheme which becomes effective Monday.

Conservative members of Parliament were ready to back the bakers.

Asked his attitude toward Charles Jasper Bell, Democratic representative from his own Fourth District, Truman said he thought Bell had no opposition.

A reporter suggested that Bell did have an opponent. The President replied that he understood Bell had nothing to worry about.

Commons Has Stormy Session As Citizens Oppose Bread Ration

LONDON —(P)—The Labor Government decided to stand fast Thursday on its plans to ration bread despite a threatened revolt by nearly half the country's bakers, and the House of Commons in an angry session voted a formal investigation of street posters attacking the plan.

Indignant Labor members of the House voted the investigation after Winston Churchill, former prime minister and opposition leader, had taunted them with "I know you do not want free speech. You go further and further on the road to destroying it. We are not in Russia yet."

MOVIE ACTOR TO AID JESTER

Arp Welcomes Sadler, Rainey Raps Reading Dirty Books 'Behind Barns'

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Candidates for governor all talked from towns with the letter "A" in the names, but that was about the only similarity Wednesday night.

Jerry Sadler, at Arp, was given a rousing welcome by the town in which he labored 13 years ago as an oil field worker.

In his speech there, Sadler said that the announcement at this time of a 35 cent reduction in state ad valorem taxes was propaganda designed to aid two of his opponents. He warned that the saving would not be much under the new tax change.

He called Beauford Jester and Grover Sellers the "black gold twins" and said:

"Each of these men is going about the state telling you folks of the things they are going to do. All those things will cost a lot of money. Yet both say no additional taxes are needed."

His own plan, he said, calls for heavy tax increases on oil, gas and sulphur to pay old age pensioners $40 a month, to double school teachers salaries, and to grant the State Health Department vastly larger appropriations.

Homer P. Rainey talked at Pampa. He blasted what he termed "absentee ownership of Texas industry."

"This great western section has joined the people in other parts of the state in Homer Rainey's battle to break the stranglehold of monopolistic interests and their political playmates, the Texas Regulars, on the political, economic and educational life of Texas," he said.

Rainey ridiculed those who "sneak their buddies out behind barns to read their filthy literature as a prerequisite for public office."

Rainey also talked of taxes. He branded the state general fund ad valorem tax holiday as a "stop Rainey" campaign. He said other recent moves by state government officials were for the same purpose.

"Fearless opposition has made the corporation hirelings and their mouthpieces, the Texas Regulars, come across," he said.

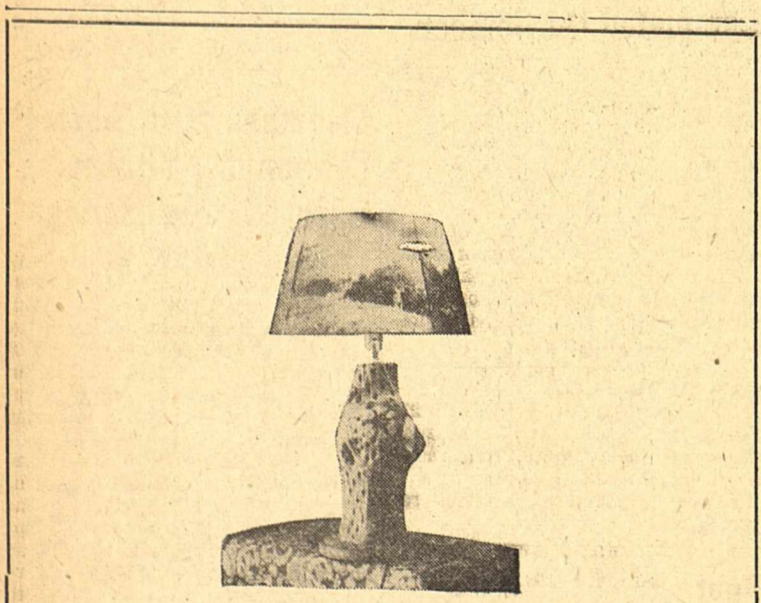

Earlier in the day, in Panhandle Rainey had met David Warr, University of Texas regent. They shook hands and conversed. Warr listened to part of Rainey's speech at Dorger, but said he had to leave Panhandle Wednesday and couldn't attend the rally.

Grover Sellers spoke at Paris. He trained his political guns on the Texas Regulars and challenged other gubernatorial candidates to match his untarnished record of party loyalty.

He criticized Jester for running for governor with four years remaining in his present office as railroad commissioner. He also said Jester "hid out" during Roosevelt's campaigns. He said Jester "holds a whip over the heads of big business."

Truman Virtually Rules Out Soviet Loan Before 1947

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Thursday virtually ruled out a $1,000,000,000 loan to Russia before next year, saying he had no intention of asking Congress at this session for more funds for foreign financing.

On another aspect of foreign relations, Truman endorsed Secretary of State Byrnes' report Monday on the Paris foreign ministers' conference and also called attention to the address of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) in the Senate on Tuesday.

In a fast moving news conference, Truman further announced that Senator Austin (R-Vt) would be nominated as ranking member of the United States delegation to the United Nations Assembly meeting at New York September 23. Austin has been designated as United States member of the United Nations, effective next year.

Other members of the delegation to the assembly, the President said, will be Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Vandenberg; Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late President; and Chairman Bloom (D-NY) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

In the absence of either the President of Secretary of State Byrnes, Truman said, Austin will be in active charge of the delegation. He added that while he had no plans to go to the meeting, Byrnes would attend.

Fort Worth Visitor To Appear In Community Theater Production

One of Midland's summer visitors, Edna Willis of Fort Worth, will portray the part of Fluffy in "Junior Miss" to be presented on the nights of July 25 and 26 by the Community Theater in the City-County Auditorium. Edna is visiting in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Cassidy.

Edna began her dramatic career when she was in junior high school and continued after she entered Paschal High School in Fort Worth where she is a sophomore.

In addition to play acting, she has taken part in several radio programs presented over the Fort Worth station.

WILL SPEND MONTH IN M. W. WHITMIRE HOME
Mrs. W. C. Blackburn and daughter, Susie Ann, of Houston arrived Wednesday for a visit with Mrs. Blackburn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Whitmire. Mrs. Blackburn and daughter will spend a month in Midland before going to Mobile, Ala., to join their husband and father who is being transferred to the Humble Oil & Refining Company in that city.

Vacationers' Dreams Come True

War-tested materials make new collapsible, lightweight play-time equipment. Rubber-coated fabric wading pool for children, inset above, packs flat, assembles in a few minutes. Inflatable rubber boat, below, folds into a 32-inch case.

It's a boat that can be carried under an arm, a wading pool that packs like a suitcase or a beach ball that flattens out to hankerchief size—it's the vacationer's streamlined paraphernalia and his dream-come-true of collapsible and space-saving equipment.

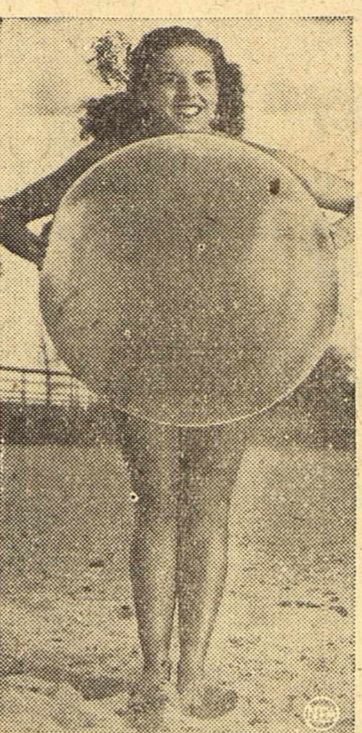

Made available to this summer's gypsies is equipment which owes its super postwar features to materials and engineering skills born of the grim necessities of war.

Inflatable rubber craft, for example, which not so long ago won heroic records rescuing armed forces at sea, now lighten the sportsman's burden of transporting spots. One boat big enough for four people weighs only 37 pounds. It packs up in a 32-inch case along with its jointed aluminum oars, removable seats and a hand pump.

Pumped up and launched in 10 minutes flat, its two airtight chambers give the boatsman a "spare" which carries him to shore—and with feet dry—if one compartment should spring a leak.

Back from the wars is rubber-coated duck. Having served as wading pools in combat areas, it now makes almost indestructible wading pools for tots. Collapsible and taking only minutes to assemble in a wooden frame, the pool—38 inches by 15—packs like auto luggage. Water-tight by virtue of coatings of special synthetic rubber compound on both sides of the fabric, its smooth red and green finish is resistant to sun, mildew, oil or acid. Seams are vulcanized. A puncture can be patched like a tire's inner tube.

ing water for marooned fliers, makes beach balls as light as goosier feathers and as translucent as a bubble dancer. What's more, these airy fun-makers, besides flattening out to hankerchief size, can be inflated to resist an impact of more than 200 pounds.

Not collapsible but boasting features as whistle-worthy to sportsmen as postwar bantamweight sailboats made of aluminum; mountain climber's nylon rope which is stronger than prewar Italian hemp or manila; nonwarping, plastic resin-impregnated bamboo fishing rods and bright-colored plastic golf bags.

Also sliding under the rope in time for the vacationer's take-off is a new 16-foot magnesium canoe so lightweight—about 17 pounds—that it can be carried aloft by the palm of a strong-wristed hand.

All-City Event Is Planned To Benefit Hospital Fund

By TANNER LAINE

Three hundred Midland women, members of the Federated Women's Clubs in the city, will present a Midland Memorial Hospital benefit event at Cloverdale Park August 27 to which the entire citizenry is asked to attend.

It will be a bingo party and special event attractive to every citizen, the sponsors say. They urge citizens to come and bring the family. No age limit is set and a good time is promised all.

Activities will get underway at Cloverdale at 7 p. m. and refreshments will be served by the ladies throughout the evening.

Plans call for broadcasting the activities of the party, over station KCRS.

Tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office, Grammer-Murphey and United Stores and by individuals.

Service clubs are cooperating, including JayCees, Lions and Rotary, and adjoining cities will help through women's organizations.

Clubs Cooperate
Units of the Federation of Women's Club include the Modern Study Club, Senior Wednesday Club, Progressive Study Club, Beta Sigma Phi, 20th Century Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Junior Wednesday Club and the Fine Arts Club.

The presidents in order are: Mrs. Ernest Neill, Mrs. M. S. Dickerson, Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, Mrs. Lenly Latham, Mrs. A. L. Barr, Mrs. W. H. Rhodes, Miss Louise Rhodes, Mrs. Frank Miller, and Mrs. Nelson Puett.

Boys and girls of the Junior Canteen, which was sponsored by the Federated Women's Clubs, will be asked to help the project.

The ways and means committee of the Federation working on the project includes Mrs. William Kerr, Mrs. Fred Fromhold and Mrs. Selman Lones.

Grammer-Murphey is helping in sponsoring the special event.

FLAME THROWER BURNS OUT POISON IVY—AND ROSES

JAMESTOWN, N. Y.—(AP)—Mrs. Nora Davis wrote Mayor S. A. Stroth thanking him for prompt action by the city on a request for elimination of poison ivy which spread to her property from an adjoining lot.

She added: "I hope that my rose bushes and lawn will grow back next year."

The mayor said he "imagined" that the city employe, using a flame throwing weed eradicator, was overzealous in his work.

Water Plans Are Discussed At Meet

SAN ANGELO—A proposal that the future water supply for cities forming the Colorado River Municipal Water Association be drawn from the proposed Robert Lee Lake or Buffalo Reservoir instead of from a proposed dam on the Colorado River were discussed at a joint conference here Wednesday of CRMWA and Upper Colorado River Authority representatives.

M. C. Ulmer of Midland, president of the association which is seeking a means of assuring future water supplies for Snyder, Colorado City, Big Spring, Midland and Odessa, put aside a proposal that engineers be asked to report on the availability, quantity, quality and cost of water from both of the proposed lakes. The association was not completely represented in the informal meeting.

Proponents of the use of the Robert Lee Lake or Buffalo Reservoir as a source for the water supply for the five cities suggested the municipal association could save money and obtain the same results by laying pipe to either of the two sources and provide for additional pumps instead of constructing the proposed dam above Colorado City.

Paul L. Sharkey of the Amarillo office of the Bureau of Reclamation Engineers suggested it might be feasible to draw the water from either of the two lakes. The multi-city group said that the association feels the Colorado City dam project would supply the needs of cities concerned.

Suggestions were made that Freese & Nichols of Fort Worth, private engineering firm for the association, and the bureau engineers for the UCRA make surveys of the feasibility of drawing water from the two lake sources and report at a later joint meeting of the groups. No official action was taken.

Councilman Robert I. Dickey represented the City of Midland in the conference.

Agents Hold Two-Day Meet In Big Spring

County agricultural and home demonstration agents of District 6 Wednesday afternoon concluded a two-day meeting at Big Spring following discussions on several problems of general concern to West Texas. County Agent Vernon Young and Home Demonstration Agent Mrs. Nettie B. Messick represented Midland County in the session.

Fall and winter gardening and control of insects were discussed Tuesday morning and internal and external parasites of beef cattle was the subject for Tuesday afternoon's program. Several of the agents made reports on their demonstrations.

Discussions relating to frozen food lockers comprised the program for the Wednesday session. Representatives of a large number of commercial frozen food lockers attended. Mrs. Howell represented the A&M Packing Company of Midland.

Questions And Accusations

How can America's good intentions of atomic disarmament be believed when we carry on the bomb tests at Bikini? Why is the United States aiming at the perfection rather than the restriction of the atomic bomb?
A writer in the Russian publication Pravda asks these questions. And a Moscow radio commentator, in an accusing rather than a questioning mood, calls our exclusive possession of the methods of atomic bomb manufacture "vuglar common blackmail." He also calls attention to the fact that the House Military Affairs Committee has proposed legislation "preserving the atom bomb as a weapon of the United States Army and Navy."
If the Russian writer and broadcaster were telling the whole story, then their questions might be reasonable and their objections valid. In some respects the Bikini tests are a contradiction of our proposals to outlaw atomic warfare. And certainly the militaristic aspects of the House committee's bill (which disregard objections by the President and the War and Navy secretaries) don't square with our professed policies.

But the Russian writer and broadcaster didn't tell the whole story, of course. If they had, they could have found answers and explanations all about them.
They might have looked in the Russian press on the day before the Pravda article and the broadcast in question. There they could have read stories urging "iron discipline" and increased production to enhance the power and efficiency of the Soviet armed forces.
They might have looked at the size of the peacetime
Red army, and of our army. They might have checked on recent speeches by Prime Minister Stalin and other leaders in which military might was stressed as the goal in coming years for protection against "fascism" and "capitalistic encirclement."
They might have tried to imagine how the censorship and secrecy that prevail from the Balkans to the Pacific, the divisive and destructive efforts of American Communists, the several Russian vetoes in the Security Council, and other manifestations of dubious Russian good will must appear through American eyes.

If they had done all this, they might have found their answers. But it would have been necessary for two highly indoctrinated and regimented Russian minds to be for the moment more American than Russian, which is an impossible feat. Even in this country, with its great latitude of thought and expression, few are able to view
Russian tactics, policies and political ideals objectively and sympathetically.

But at least these two Russians, and some of their more enlightened fellow countrymen, must occasionally admit that the Soviet Union doesn't have a corner on virtue or suspicion. The Russian government speaks of both a great deal. But it must be clear even in Moscow that some inconsistencies of American policy arise from a confused doubt over what tack the Kremlin is going to take next.

Mutual suspicion has ruled Russo-American relations almost since the day the war ended. From that can be traced most of these questions—some sincere, others obviously rhetorical—which are so often expressed in both countries. And until these two powers can agree to cast out suspicion and achieve a peaceful misunderstanding of mutual disagreement but mutual trust, the questions will continue and increase.

—And Surplus Military Food

Speaking of congressional investigation, there is another opportunity for some swift and thorough action in the matter of Army food wastage, disclosed in the recent report of War Secretary Patterson's nine-man civilian inspection committee.

The committee's report, a shocking one, attracted considerable attention but little action. General Eisenhower sent out an order decreeing court-martial proceedings against any officer who permitted loss or wastage of food through neglect, and demanding reports of any violation of Army food regulations. But beyond that there was little or no Army action. So far Congress has likewise seemed indifferent.

The big question is, how much surplus food does the Army have which could be spared immediately? The civilian committee's report told of over-requisitioning and over-stocking of foods, and of posts' having supplies forced upon them which they did not need and could not handle. At this critical moment, when every bite of surplus food is sorely needed, it behooves Congress, which foots the Army's bills, to make a quick check with the country's largest single purchaser of food and determine if anything can be spared—and then start it moving toward those who now seem destined to be the victims of the victory which the Army helped so brilliantly to win.

Glad Tidings

Army air forces surgeons, "mainly for the sake of morale," have made some electronic experiments whose comforting conclusions can scarcely be overpraised.
Thanks to them, we can rest assured that, though atoms and inflation and more strikes and less food may threaten,
radar does not cause baldness or sterility.
There, little man, don't you feel better now?

Full Scale Civil War Threatening
Again In China

NANKING —(AP)— Rival Chinese government and Communist armies were on the march along the mighty Yangtze River Thursday and clashes north of this vital artery of China
posed a threat of full-scale civil war.

Gen. Chou En-Lai, leader of the Communist delegation in Nanking, charged the government with "aggressions" and told a press conference "local conflicts are blossoming rapidly into civil war."

Peng Hsueh-pei, minister of information, denied this and asserted that Communist armies instead were marching from the north upon the Yangtze, along whose banks lie
Nanking and the great port of Shanghai.

"If we permit them to advance to the Yangtze unopposed," Peng declared, "we had better start considering moving the capital back to Chungking" (wartime capital in Western China).

General Marshall, special U. S. envoy, flew to the summer capital
at Kuling to confer with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and presumably gave him the latest account of the deteriorating situation.

His headquarters said only that
Marshall was accompanying Dr.
John Leighton Stuart, new United States ambassador, who will present his credentials to the generalissimo.

There was an ominous quiet in Manchuria, but from reports pouring in little remained in China proper of last January's cease-fire agreement which Marshall hoped to use as a foundation for a permanent peace.

Chou said fighting now was concentrated north of Shanghai and northeast of Nanking in Northern Kiangsu Province, in strategic Shantung on the seaboard farther north, in Northern Hupeh, which embraces Peiping and Tientsin, and South Shansi.

WILL YOU DO
THIS MUCH TO HELP US LIVE?

SAVE!

1. SAVE wheat products and fats. These two precious food elements can keep people overseas alive. (Their last harvest was disastrously small because of crop failures. They have almost nothing left.)

So when you plan your meals, remember how great is their need—how great can be your help if you will save and share fats and oils and wheat products such as breads, macaroni, pies, cakes, cookies. In their place, use more of the good plentiful foods like potatoes, eggs, fish, fresh poultry, fresh fruits and vegetables.

SHARE!

2. SHARE a meal with the hungry every day... a meal with no bread (you won't miss it too much with plenty of potatoes)... a meal with a refreshing fruit dessert instead of pie, cake or cookies. That's not much of a hardship, is it?

Remember these other wheat-and-fat saving tricks, too. When you bake pies, leave off the top crust. Instead of regular sandwiches, make open-face ones whenever possible. When you do serve bread, share it with the hungry by eating a slice or two less than you ordinarily do. Use unthickened gravies.

WASTE NOTHING!

3. WASTE nothing! Make every crust, every crumb of bread crust, every use up dry bread as melba toast or as stuffing for poultry and fish. Roll out the crumbs to top scalloped dishes. Never throw out leftover sandwiches. Dip them in beaten egg, fry them in a little drippings, and you have a fine hot dish for lunch! Save all drippings to use in cooking.

Every one of us can do this much to share with the hungry and dying. (Many can still help more by growing and preserving more food!) But remember! They can't wait! Each day from now until the next harvest, more and more are going to die of starvation unless we get the needed food supplies to them. Start today!

Johnson Resigns To Accept Tax Court Judgeship
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Ex-Rep. Luther A. Johnson (D-Texas), who resigned from Congress Wednesday, was sworn in as federal judge Thursday.
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Luther A. Johnson (D-Texas), who announced his resignations Wednesday to assume a judgeship on the United States Tax Court, urged voters to let their representatives make a career of their job by returning them to office in successive terms.
Johnson appeared before the House for the last time as a member Wednesday and voiced his approval of the seniority system. He has served for nearly 24 years.
"The member who comes here expecting to serve only a short time and serves only a short time, cannot do justice to himself, his constituents and his country," Johnson said.
"Service in Congress, to be at its best, should be in the nature of a career, and not merely temporary. Seniority may have its abuse and objections, but it is necessary to encourage and require length of service, which is highly desirable for the country's good."
He said states whose delegations served the longest in Congress always took the highest rank. He said because of Texas' seniority, Texas always has had outstanding congressmen.
He said the matter of ability is also involved "but when a congressman has ability, character and devotion to duty, his constituents should keep him in Congress as long as he will serve."
Numerous congressmen arose to pay tribute to Johnson, and Speaker Sam Rayburn expressed regret at his departure.
Representative Thomason and Representative Poage, both of Texas, and Representative Moses (D-Mass.) paid tribute to Johnson.

DODGERS FALLING OFF —

Baseball Experts Believe Cards And Cubs Will Battle It Out For NL Flag

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Brooklyn's dismal slump and the Cardinals' habit of losing to the Phillies is leaving the door wide open for the Chicago Cubs in the National League pennant scramble. Although the Dodgers still rule Ford Frick's roost by a half game, many baseball men believe the real 1946 race in September will find the Cards and Cubs battling for the flag.

Counted out of the race and rated "just another wartime club" in the early spring calculations, the Bruins Thursday rose as a strong third. The Cubs made ground Wednesday by drubbing the Braves, 10-0.

St. Louis once again refused to take advantage of a chance to regain the lead which they hadn't held all by themselves since May 19. For the fifth time in 11 meetings, the Phils beat the Birds. Wednesday's score was 10-2.

Brooklyn staggered to a fifth successive setback at Cincinnati, 5-2.

Pittsburgh Beats Giants
Rookie Ralph Kiner sunk the New York Giants, with a three-run and two singles behind Pittsburgh's Strincevich, 5-5.

All major league attendance records went by the boards at the Yankee Stadium when the New Yorkers lured 30,159 paying guests to boost the season high to 1,510,934. The best previous mark was 1,485,166 attained by the Chicago Cubs in 1929 and that for an entire season.

The Yanks won two from St. Louis, 3-2 and 8-4, but remained 11 full games behind Boston which dumped Chicago twice, 3-1 and 6-1. Most important development of the day to the Yanks was the accidental "beating" of Shortstop Phil Rizzuto by Nelson Potter. Rizzuto was carried from the field and spent the night in New York hospital under observation.

Jimmy Outlaw's 12th inning double enabled Detroit to trim Washington 3-2.

Allie Reynolds of Cleveland got victory No. 5 on the record by subduing the Philadelphia Athletics with five blows, 8-2.

U. S. And Sweden In Davis Cup Finals

VARBERG, SWEDEN—(AP)—Davis Cup teams from Sweden and the United States were left Thursday to battle it out for the right to challenge Australia for the international tennis trophy it has held since 1939, the last year play was held.

Sweden's two-man team of Lennart Bergelin and Torsten Johansson won the European zone finals Wednesday by defeating Yugoslavia, three matches to two, in one of the most thrilling comebacks in the history of Davis Cup competition.

Which Is the Winner?

Jean Sepharlades of Paris is exhausted three-lengths victor over John B. Kelly, Jr., of Philadelphia in one-mile, 550-yard Henley Royal Regatta diamond sculls, negotiated on calm Thames River in 8 minutes and 21 seconds.

Scouts Wallop Monahans, 10-0

Monahans won't forget the Oil Scouts of Midland for a long time.

Wednesday night the Scouts invaded Monahans and beat the Coca-Cola Bottlers, 10 to 0, in an "inter-sectional" softball game.

Dopey Crow had the Cokers on his hip and let them down with one bingle. The Scouts hit consistently and got 10 hits for 10 runs. Coca-Cola stands high in the Monahans City League and the Scouts are up there in the Red family of Midland's circuit.

Friday Night's Games Cancelled

Friday night softball games in the JayCee City Softball League have been cancelled in courtesy to the First Baptist Church, which is conducting a Youth Revival in the city.

The JayCees were scheduled against Equitable Life Insurance and The Reporter-Telegram was to play the Oil Scouts an exhibition game.

The cancelled games will be tacked onto the schedule after the second half of play is completed.

MD Lassies Take GM Girls, 28 To 3

Midland Drug still has power in city league girls softball play.

The undefeated Drug store girls with Rosie Hart in the lead beat Grammer-Murphy, 28 to 3, Wednesday night.

Grammer has been getting stronger with each game but could not cope with M-D power Wednesday night.

Ed Greer Returns To Texas To End 25-Year Career

GREENVILLE—(AP)—Big Ed Greer has returned to Texas to taunt father time with the pitching cunning that has kept him in professional baseball for a quarter of a century.

Big Ed admits it can't go on much longer but for the moment he's basking in the glory known from the Rockies to Dixie in one of the most illustrious careers of the minor leagues.

Greer, who from the first year of professional baseball has answered to the nickname of "Bear Tracks," never had played in any circuit below Class A until this year. He started with Memphis of the Southern Association, a Class AA circuit, this season but was given his release early. Then he joined Texarkana of the Class C East Texas League but didn't last long there. Next he signed with Gadsden, Ala., of the Southeastern League but was used mostly for relief hurling.

Not enough action for old Ed, so he asked for and got his release and went home to Fort Worth.

Greenville's club in the East Texas League hadn't been doing very well and Manager Alex Hooks needed pitching. He heard about Greer, with whom he had played at Fort Worth in the Texas League in 1942. He persuaded Greer to sign a contract.

The first night he sent the 45-year-old Greer in against Henderson. Ed went 15 innings to win the game 8-7. His next appearance was at home and 3,000 fans turned out to see him beat Paris 10-5.

Ed started his career with Denver of the Western League in 1922. He has played with Houston of the Texas League, had a brief stay with the St. Louis Cardinals, pitched for Columbus in the American Association, Memphis, Fort Worth and Little Rock. In eight years of Texas League hurling he won 120 games.

Greer's the toast of Greenville these days but he says his pitching arm is pretty well worn out and although he believes he can win consistently in the East Texas League, he probably will retire after this season and give his full time to carpentering, a trade he has been following in off seasons.

West Texas Allowed 24 Production Days As Commission Trims Allowable 98,829 Barrels

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad Commission Wednesday cut back the state's permissive oil production for August by 98,829 barrels daily in an order calculated to result in production of 2,164,526 barrels of crude oil daily next month.

The reduction from this month's pattern was applied principally in West Texas, where production is reported to exceed capacity of transportation facilities, and in two pools on the Gulf Coast where maximum efficiency rates have been revised downward.

The new efficiency rates are effective in the Anahuac and Sugarland pools.

The West Texas reduction was effected by cutting that district's producing days to 24, three less than this month. The remainder of the state was assigned 26 general producing days, one less than July, excepting East Texas where producing days will remain at 21, and the Panhandle which remains exempt from shutdown.

Under the August order, the average daily allowable will be 2,308,828 barrels daily, but estimated under-production of 6.25 per cent should reduce the daily flow to 2,164,526 barrels.

The calculated production is 44,526 barrels daily above the United States Bureau of Mines estimate of crude oil demand in Texas.

Production of 179,205 barrels of natural gasoline and distillates will increase the total liquid petroleum production to 2,343,731 barrels daily, or 223,731 barrels over the Bureau of Mines estimate for all petroleum liquids.

The commission's action followed from the pools. The average was said to be needed by local refineries, independent refineries on the Gulf Coast continued to report shortages and asked no reduction in present allowances which might curtail further their refinery operations.

Some producers and royalty owners in the Carthage field registered complaint with the commission that gas companies are not purchasing equally from wells in the field. An attorney estimated 100 wells in the field to be without any marketing outlet. A proration order setting allowables in the field, suspended for the past six months, will be reinstated August 1.

The commission's statewide hearing Wednesday morning preparatory to its order establishing maximum production controls on Texas' 104,000 oil wells, required less than one hour, briefest such session in many months.

Commissioner Thompson viewed the rapid completion of business as an indication that "Texas oil and gas operators are being given satisfactory service by this railroad commission."

Thompson is the only commissioner not involved in current political campaigns. Beauford Jester is a candidate for governor and Olin Culberson is a candidate for reelection to his present post.

Weighted average bottomhole pressure for the East Texas field was reported at 1,005.46 pounds per square inch July 1, an increase of 4.30 pounds over June 1.

The net allowable by districts as of July 13, compared with the August allowable:

2. Southwest Texas, 172,571; 166,755; down 5,816.

Southern Florida Is Becoming Mecca For Deep-Sea Fishermen

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—This Southern seacoast resort center is the home port for one of the world's finest fleets of charter fishing craft, and offshore here the sparkling waters of the Atlantic Ocean offer more than 650 varieties of fish, ranging from the small grunt to the giant blue fin marlin.

Some 45 trim, rainbow-colored vessels are moored in the waters of the city yacht basin alone. Others are tied up at numerous docks in Biscayne Bay and along the creeks and inlets.

Prices Vary

The cost of these boats varies in price from $5,000 to $25,000 in normal times. Each is equipped with fishing tackle valued at more than $1,000.

The cost of a boat for a day for a party of three to six runs anywhere from $45 to $75, with $5 extra for each person over six.

Besides the de luxe craft, there are five larger deep-sea fishing boats which accommodate 40 persons each and make daily trips. The cost for the trip is $3 a person with lines and bait furnished.

FROM HEAD BEARING

The birds which carried messages in World War II were homing pigeons, not carrier. The latter type is a bird that derived its name from the proud way it carries its head.

Celebrates 101st Birthday

(NEA Photo) George Washington Grizel, Holdenville, Okla., a resident of Hughes County, Oklahoma, for the past 39 years, celebrated his 101st birthday July 6. Mr. Grizel was born in Georgia in 1845 and fought with the Union Army during the Civil War after he had been forced into their service. After the war he settled in Tennessee and moved to Oklahoma in 1907.

Revenue Department Adds 8,000 New Agents To Track Down Tax Evaders

WASHINGTON—457—A man appeared before a Midwestern deputy internal revenue collector, snapped his fingers and beamed:

"Doggone me, I just happened to remember $2,000 I failed to report on my last income tax return."

This story of a character actually trying to get himself extra-taxed doesn't sound so unbelievable when you hear officers of the Bureau of Internal Revenue's Intelligence Unit tell it.

They say it is happening all over the country—now that some 8,000 new investigators and other personnel have been added to the staff of W. H. Woolf, chief of the Intelligence Unit, to check up on lush war profits.

Forgetters and Profiteers

Some cases are perfectly honest. There always have been persons who really forget certain sums and wish either to foot their share of the nation's expenses or avoid penalties.

But the Intelligence agents trace the flurry to get under the line to individuals who made big money out of the war and wanted to keep it all.

Those who "suddenly remember" errors before being pounced on by investigators are permitted to settle for a 50 per cent penalty, plus interest. If the agents get there first, it's just too bad.

Pleas of guilt or conviction in deliberate tax evasion cases are bringing in tax dollars and fines ranging from "hundreds of thousands to millions," say the revenue men. Last year internal revenue collected in additional taxes and penalties was $116,784,019.87, at a total cost of $6,000,000 to the government.

After The Big Shots

Intelligence officers say that if a person makes less than $10,000 a year and files his return in good faith he likely will not be bothered if his addition and subtraction are correct. He'll likely never hear from it if, in confusion over the complex tax blanks, he either overpaid or underpaid.

This is not altruism—nor, say the agents, an invitation to dodge a dime of taxes.

It's just that checks on small incomes are too much trouble except in cases of excessive wilful tax evasion. The agents are after sequestered incomes of "big game."

Swiss Sponsor Fights Between Cows On Fields In Rugged Alp Mountains

By HANS DE WATTEVILLE
SION, SWITZERLAND—(AP)—For the farmers living far up in the isolated valleys of the Valais Canton in Southwestern Switzerland, their annual cow fights are no less thrilling than a heavyweight championship boxing bout to citizens of the U. S.

Toward the end of June herds of the stocky, combative brown and black cattle known here as the "herence" breed are driven to high pastures just beneath the glaciers and snow covered tops of the Alps to spend the summer.

On the same day approximately 200 cows, chosen from the different stables, are assembled on the grazing ground to determine a queen which will become the acknowledged summer leader of the combined herds.

It is a great honor as well as financially interesting for a farmer to own a queen cow. Rivalries are sharp and often the excitable temper of the Valaisans, noted all over Switzerland, flares in heated argument, sometimes culminating in violent fistic encounters and life-long family feuds.

Fights Start in Morning

The cow fights start early in the morning. The animals are herded together in as level a field as can be found in this rugged country. Their horns have been blunted and sharp tips removed. The air is filled with lowing and bawling and the tinkle of hundreds of cow bells.

The clashes are short but violent. Two cows will maneuver with lowered heads for a good attacking position, then hurl themselves against each other, locking horns and straining with the whole weight of their muscular bodies until one yields to superior strength.

The trial by individual combat continues for about three days after the arrival at pasture, but the fights never wholly cease all summer as some of the cows try again and again to improve their rating. The queen, however, seldom is attacked after the first flurries, her impressive series of early victories giving her such prestige that other cows apparently feel handicapped from the beginning.

For weeks before the drive to pasture candidates for the title receive special care and are fed the best hay and oats and even bread and white wine to increase their fighting spirit. They also are allowed to produce less milk. That is why, during the war, cow fights officially were forbidden by the government.

Conservation Note For Drivers Sounded

NEW YORK—(AP)—Many family dinners are going to be run down and wasted on the nation's highways during the summer months unless motorists exercise greater care while driving, says M. B. Allen, hunting authority of Western-Winchester.

A large portion of this food waste occurs at night, says Allen, when birds and animals are blinded by headlights. He believes that more moderate speeds would eliminate much of this needless waste.

The east Prussian city of Konigsberg is spread out along the bank of the Pregel River.

Former GI Joe's Are Becoming Joe College In Paris After Receiving Their Discharges In Country Of Arts

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent
PARIS—"You see, it's like this," said Elliott Galkin, the ex-sergeant from New York. "Here in Paris you have the best professors . . . What the erstwhile Manhattan

'How Ya Gonna Keep 'Em Down On The Farm?'

They stayed in Paris to carve a future in clay. These are some of the two-score GI's who remained in Paris after their discharge from the U. S. Army to go on with their studies. They're studying everything from general culture and art to phonetics and philology.

Former Editor Joins State Police Bureau

AUSTIN—(P)—Roy L. Wade, Texas newspaperman who turned to police work "because he figured it would be less taxing on his energies" has been named administrative assistant to Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Wade joined the department in 1940, was given a dual assignment in 1941 as investigator and war duties officer and two years ago was made special investigator for the director. His new assignment is the first such administrative position in the department.

GI was trying to explain was the reason he and a lot of other American soldiers have obtained their discharges over here and are staying right on to study.

on the farm, after they've seen Parce." The American boys—and at least one ex-Wac, too—haven't given any signs of staying on simply for the carefree life of champagne and garrets which the people back home think is synonymous with education in Paris.

The 40 or more former soldiers now studying at the "Cite Universitaire" in Paris live in the American building which was erected between the two wars. Most of them had taken advantage of the Army Information and Education Courses program when they were still in uniform, and wanted to continue when that project folded up in March.

It is all very well to find meals in the university cafeteria for 24 cents and rooms at from $10 to $13 a month. But as ex-Sgt. Andre Damiani points out, the 24-cent meals "leave you just as hungry as you were before you started." This means a little outside endeavor is very necessary.

Pope Sees U. S. As Prime Leader As World Enters Most Dangerous Period

By RELMAN MORIN
 VATICAN CITY—(P)—In the view of the Catholic church, the world is entering one of the most dangerous periods in 2,000 years, and the United States, because of its ideals and religious belief, is regarded as the strongest pillar in the threatened structure of human liberty.

The church is not pessimistic, but it is very much alarmed.

That conclusion has been unmistakable after a series of discussions with prelates in the Vatican, climaxed by a private audience with Pope Pius XII.

It was not an interview, nor were the pontiff's words spoken for quotation.

But there was no mistaking the concern the pope feels for the success of the conference of Paris July 29, where the four major powers and 17 invited nations will review the drafts of the peace treaties.

Nor was there any doubt about the affection for the United States that the pontiff entertains.

Several days ago, in a quotable statement to a group of American newspaper executives who visited him, the pope described the world as a "quagmire of inhuman suffering and injustice." He characterized its problems as "intricate and tragic."

Doctrines Differ

The principal reason in the Vatican view, is simply that Soviet Russia, both from the spiritual and the social points of view, propounds a doctrine totally antithetic to the Catholic church.

Primarily, the church is concerned with freedom of religion. But like the democracies of the world, it is also concerned with the freedom of thought and speech and the freedom of the press. On both points—the spiritual and the social—the church finds itself in opposition to the Russian system, a high prelate familiar with church problems in Eastern Europe, said. They are irreconcilable, he added.

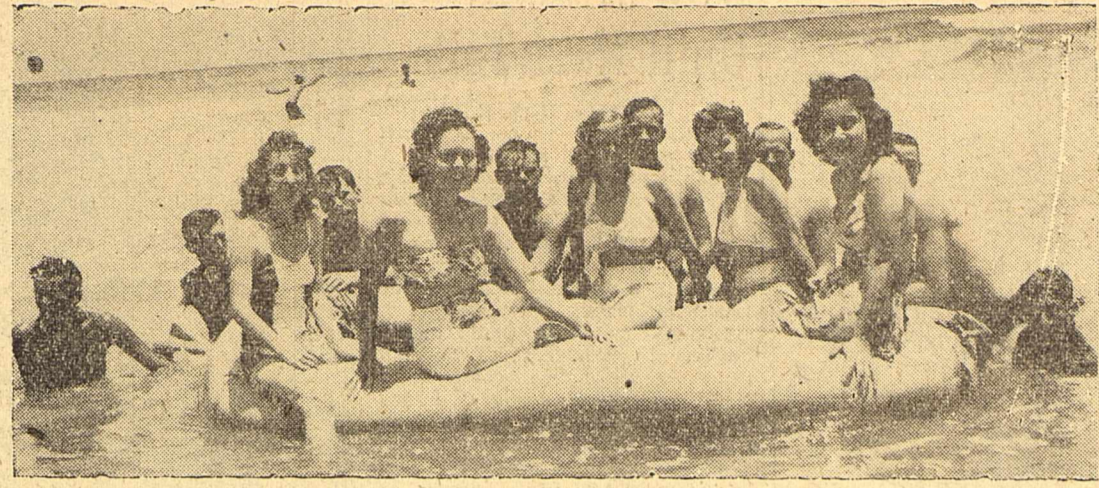

To a question as to whether Communism and Catholicism can live together in the same world, this prelate replied:

"We have been living with our enemies for 19 centuries. We are men of faith, and to us, Communism is a thing that must pass."

Meanwhile, he said, it is nevertheless a menace to the fundamentals of the Catholic faith.

As an example, Poland, a predominantly Catholic country, was cited. The situation there, he said, is "distinctly threatening... no one can say what will happen to the church... our information is meager, and we can only wait and see."

Housing Unable To Keep Up With Stork

URBANA, ILL.—(P)—A student was assigned a small home in a portable housing project for married veterans at the University of Illinois at 2 p. m. At 3:30 p. m. he returned to the office and asked for larger quarters. His wife had just given birth to another baby.

Treasury To Redeem Part Of Public Debt

WASHINGTON—(P)—The treasury has announced it would redeem with cash another $1,250,000,000 of public debt securities maturing August 1.

The money for this debt reduction will come out of the treasury's big idle cash balance, listed Monday at over $12,281,789,000, since the government is still operating in the red.

The announcement brought to nearly $13,500,000,000 the debt retirements accomplished or projected since March 1.

The total federal debt stood at $268,234,683,249.

The new redemption move also gave evidence of treasury confidence in the outlook for stability in the nation's economy in the near future.

Australian Horse Gave Fans Run For Money

WOODFORD, QUEENSLAND, AUSTRALIA—(P)—Sir Brae didn't live up to the old gag about the racehorse that finished a week late, but he made a good start. At Woodford track, he was the favorite. He was lengths ahead of the field until suddenly he swerved to the rail, leaped it gracefully and galloped into the woods. After a wild ride through the brush and back onto the track, his jockey finally nosed him over the finish line—10 minutes behind the winner.

Got Along Well With German Girl—Until Nazi Talk

By HAL BOYLE
BERLIN —(AP)— The American officer was late in arriving. Irma waited for him nervously. It had been an hour since she and her parents had finished their evening meal of potatoes and cabbage. It had been followed by a rare luxury—real coffee, supplied by the American officer.

Giving the coffee had meant nothing to him, because he had never had so foreign coffee and other small luxuries enough in his lifetime to know what the gift meant to the German family.

As the moments passed, Irma looked more and more uneasily at the small clock. He had been late before, but never this late. She wondered idly again, as she had a hundred times, what it would all come to—this relationship between her and the young American.

Marriage, she knew, was at present out of the question. What else was there left for her? She liked to be with him but she never felt quite at ease with him as she had with German boys. He was gayer, quicker to laugh, kinder than anyone she had ever known. But sometimes the laughter evaporated in quick clouds of anger. Like the night, when they had got started on that foolish political argument. She had spoken passionately of her love for a strong new Germany, and he hadn't quite understood just what she meant—she had to speak in his language. He had told her bitterly: "You're nothing but an unreconstructed Nazi after all—just like all the others."

"See You Tomorrow"

They had parted unhappily with stinging words and his half-hearted "see you tomorrow." Here she was waiting.

Behind her back her mother nodded at Irma and lifted significant eyebrows to the father, who was quietly reading his newspaper. He immediately began to talk to Irma casually, trying to draw her into a discussion of the Paris conference.

"I don't want to speak about it tonight, daddy," she said.

With a sigh she didn't hear he laid aside his newspaper and switched it on. A German waltz was playing.

"This has old memories," he said. "Come, Irma, I will teach you how we danced the waltz—your mother and I—before we bought your cradle."

He took her in his arms and they swirled slowly to the music.

The music changed but they kept on dancing, and for a time Irma forgot to look at the door. After a half-hour the father felt his heart tiring, and they sat down. Mama heated the coffee she had meant to save for breakfast, and brought out the last half of salted peanuts.

Talk Of Parties

They talked then of the times before the war, the parties they had had and the people who came to them. The moon sank lower, Irma suddenly felt overwhelmingly weary.

Her father walked with her to her room, the room that had belonged to one of their maids. He pressed her hand and looked at her through eyes that would never quarrel with her or fail to understand her.

"Perhaps," he said gently, "the young American will come by tomorrow night."

"Whether he does or doesn't," said Irma, "I will never meet another man as nice as you, mein vater." She shut the door quickly so he wouldn't see her tears.

USO Clubs Open Doors To Teen-Agers

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK—Scene of the first light skirmish engaged in by the now younger Army and Navy is the USO club where "too-old" hostesses who have reached the ripe old age of 20-plus have been called "Mom" and routed by GI Juniors.

Supplanting these motherly girls of 20 are hep teen-age hostesses for whom the minimum age limit has been reduced to 16 by USO directive. To keep the military's vast number of new inductees homesick for high school hang-outs, happy, a training program for the younger junior hostess has been inaugurated.

Before she can cut a rug or down a double malted with young Joe, the bobbysoxer must not only tuck in her shirt and swap her dungarees for a skirt but she must attend rules-of-conduct class taught by senior hostesses. She must also have mom's and pop's consent and produce a couple of character references.

Rules of conduct simply repeat the good manners she learned at home. As a hostess, she must take an interest in all the GI guests and refrain from settling for a chummy twosome. She guides her charges to the snack bar refreshments—no liquor is served, but there are stacks of sandwiches and gallons of soda pop.

The senior mentors give her added ammunition with tips to help banish nervous shyness or smooth up personal appearance. By the time she emerges from her cocoon to test her social wings, the high school lassie is a better poised and better groomed young lady. Typical reaction of the junior hostesses is voiced by 16-year-old Edna Shusterman at the New York City USO club, "I take a lot more with a grain of salt. I used to be afraid of boys. But now, I feel at ease with them."

As for the enthusiastic rookie's reaction, the junior hostesses and the "for teen-age only" parties—roller skating, bowling, bicycling, swimming as well as dancing—are strictly "on the beam."

The older girls also approve the influx of younger hostesses. With the GI Juniors taken care of by

TULSA HOUSEWIVES START CHAIN OPA CAMPAIGN

TULSA, OKLA. —(AP)—Rebelling against a price of 79 cents a pound for butter, Tulsa housewives have kept telephones busy with a "chain" campaign aimed at stopping retail sales of butter.

Each caller asked that the listener telephone two additional persons and pledge them not to buy butter until the price went down. An anonymous butter distributor claimed a boycott would have only one effect—diverting the local supply to Eastern markets.

FOR A STATE OF AFFAIRS OVER WHICH WE HAVE NO CONTROL!

IT'S REALLY PRETTY EMBARRASSING!

... But We Know You Understand!

WE HAD INTENDED—

—to offer you a big assortment of values for this week-end, but, frankly, our store has a badly-depleted stock (on account of the fine business you have given us and due to the difficulty of prompt replacement), and we couldn't honestly offer you a representative inducement.

HOWEVER—

—these things are only temporary, of course; and for another thing, our stocks remain ample in many lines, though we are bound to confess that there are some gaps. These gaps will be filled as rapidly as possible, naturally.

SO—

—we are not going to try to mislead you into believing your visit here this week-end will be as satisfactory to you as later shopping trips will be.

AND THE RESULT IS—

—that we do quite sincerely hope that you will take advantage of the values that do remain in our store, but we don't want you to be unduly disappointed at a temporary condition.

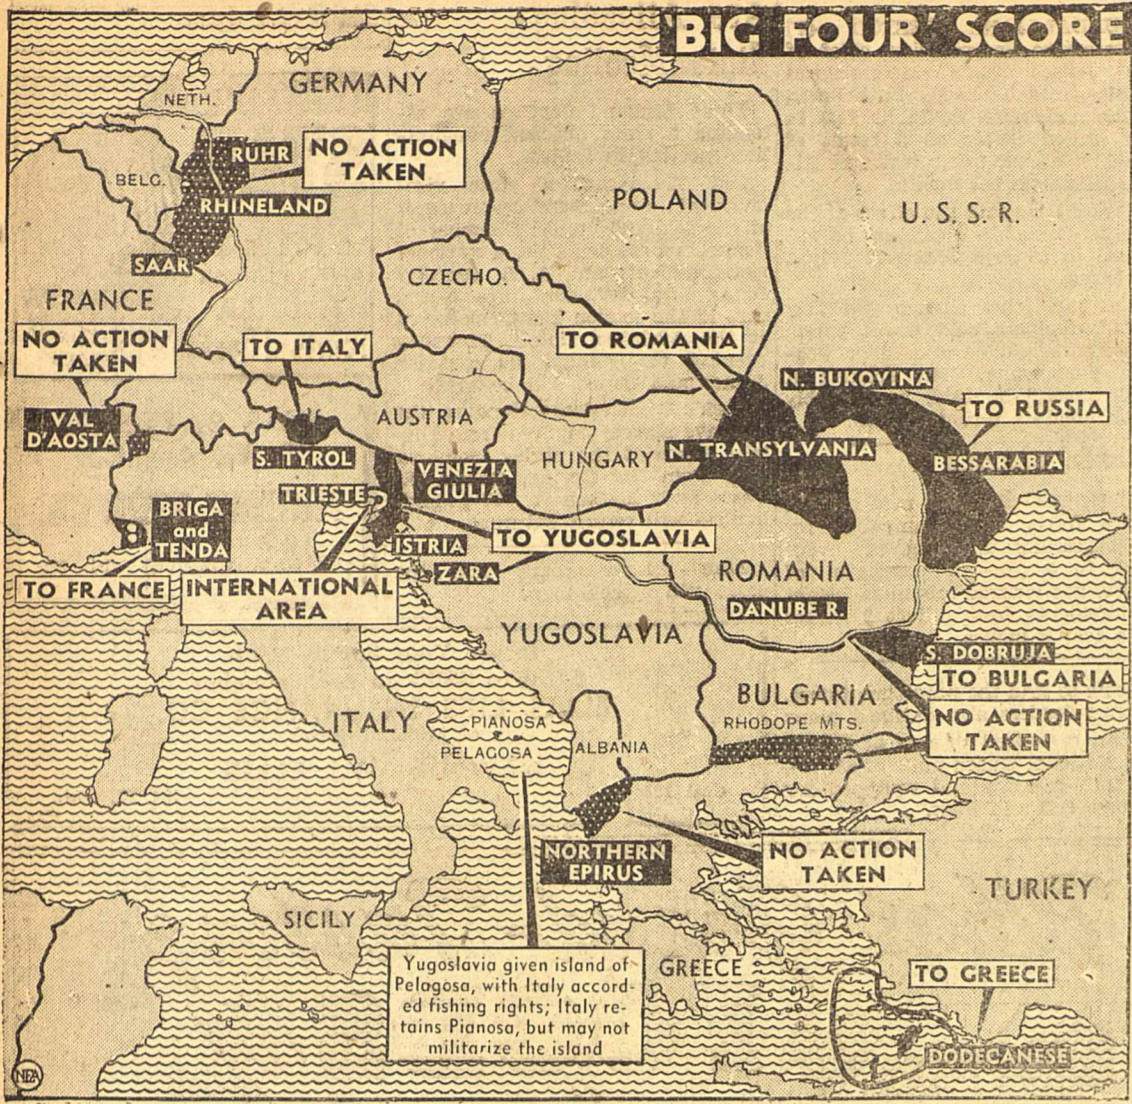

BUT—

—you can always depend on a warm welcome and a fair deal at this store when you do come to see us; and you can depend on us to have merchandise when anybody else does (sometimes perhaps when they don't) when we hit our stride.

Elkin Gives Formula For Best Grape Juice

F. F. Elkin, who has lived in Midland County about 40 years and has been growing grapes almost all that time, has one limb of his products on display in the Chamber of Commerce window. The limb, from a vine only two years old, holds more than a peck of grapes.

Elkin resides about two miles north of the city. Because he has a large number of requests for a recipe from housewives planning to make grape juice, Elkin suggests the following formula from Farm & Ranch, one that he has been using for several years:

Wash grapes on stem. Pluck off stems the grapes you would eat.

Crush grapes, but not the seed. Heat in boiler to 145 degrees for 15 minutes. Strain through cloth. Reheat juice to 175 degrees for 30 minutes.

Bottle and seal in containers which have been sterilized, with corks or caps which also have been sterilized. If corks are used, lay the filled containers on their sides for a few days.

No water, no sugar and no boiling are necessary, he says.

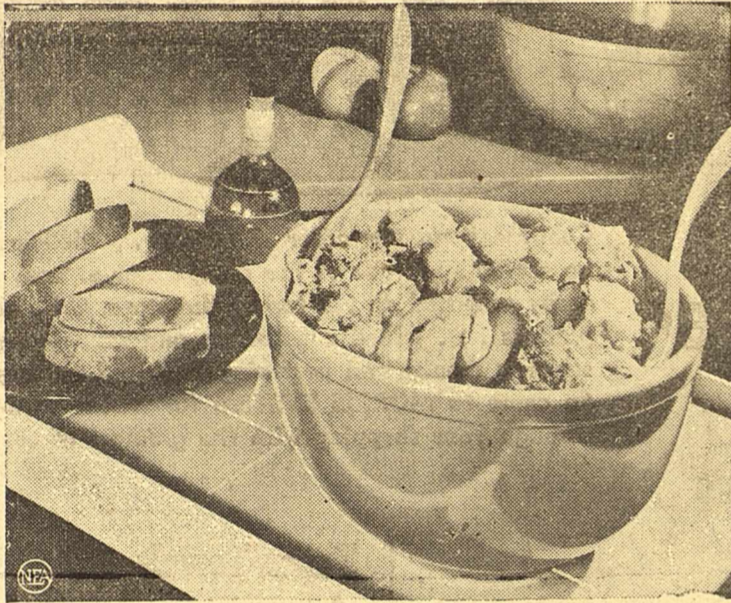

There'll be no immediate change in our suit prices.

We have 50 choice suit patterns that we can guarantee delivery on at present price level.

No single trouser orders.

Cheese Enhances Salad Flavor

Substantial salad—tossed greens with cheese balls.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Cream-cheese balls add both flavor and different consistency, as well as protein value, to your tossed green salads. So do thin strips of Swiss or American cheese, chicken, ham, or tongue.

For a warm-day luncheon, a chef's salad (greens with cheese and meat in thin strips and hard-cooked eggs), plus French or Italian-type bread, plus a hot or cold beverage, makes a balanced and satisfactory meal.

Tossed Salad With Cheese Balls
(Serves 8)

One small head lettuce, 1 small head endive, 1 small cucumber, 1 bunch radishes (12 radishes), 2 carrots, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/3 cup French dressing (use prepared bottled type if you can't get oil to make it at home).

Wash, drain, and break up into pieces the lettuce and endive. Put into a green 2 1/4-quart heat-resistant glass color bowl that has first been chilled in the refrigerator.

Wash cucumber and radishes and slice without peeling; scrape, wash, and dice carrots. Add vegetables to greens in bowl.

Just before serving, add salt and French dressing and toss lightly until dressing coats vegetables and greens.

Cheese Balls
Six ounces cream cheese (2 packages), 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 2 tablespoons cream, 2 tablespoons minced chives. Mix cream cheese, salt, celery salt, cream, and chives and shape into small balls. Place cheese balls on top of salad and serve.

High Temperatures Rapidly Depleting Moisture In Soil

AUSTIN — (P) — Conditions the past week over most of Texas favored farm field work, the United States Department of Agriculture reported Thursday.

Its roundup of farm and weather conditions for the week ending July 15 noted, however, that high temperatures were rapidly depleting moisture.

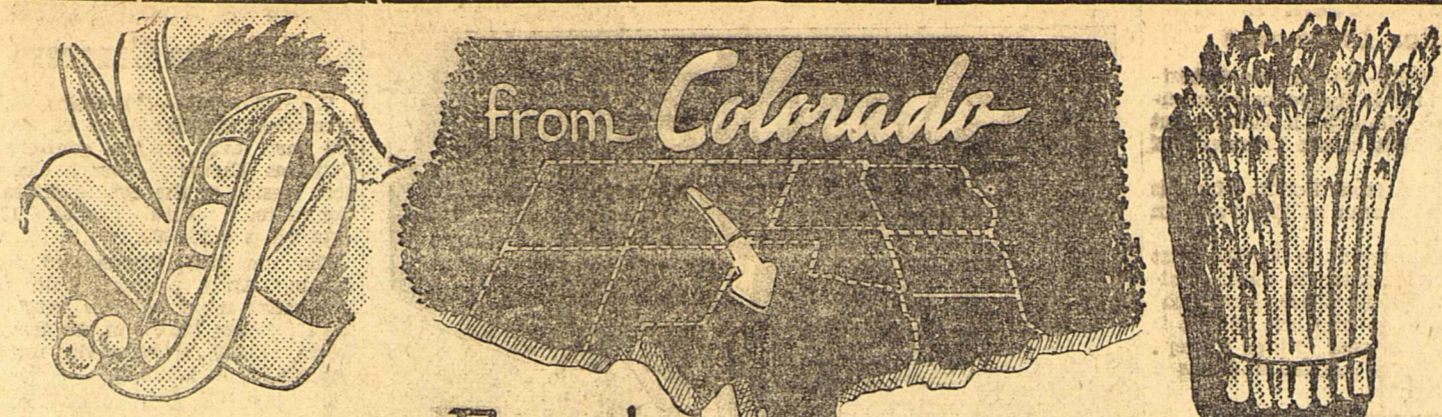

Northeast and southern counties of the low rolling plains, western counties of the Edwards Plateau region and southern counties were especially dry. Subsoil moisture was mostly adequate in central and eastern counties, but grasses and late feed crops were in need of rain. The weather was favorable for cotton, but late planted corn needed rain. The high temperatures and absence of rainfall stimulated the growth of cotton and cut down on the threat of insect damage. Harvest of cotton was under way in the coastal bend counties.

Progress Made On Postwar Television

CAMDEN, N. J. — (P) — Radio Corporation of America said Thursday quantity production is under way on the first postwar television cameras and other studio and field equipment which make possible an immediate start on expansion of television broadcasting.

Vice President W. W. Watts in charge of the RCA engineering products department said the new television equipment permits new stations "to start now on the installation of facilities to provide television program service throughout the nation."

Cooling delight—cucumber and tomato ring.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Here's a luncheon salad that's truly as cool as a cucumber:

Cucumber and Tomato Ring
(Serves 6)

One envelope plain unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 1 cup hot water, 1/3 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/3 cup French dressing 1/8 teaspoon mixed herbs, 2 cups diced cucumbers (1 large cucumber), 2 1/2 cups peeled diced tomatoes (about 4 medium tomatoes), 2 hard-cooked eggs, quartered.

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot water. Add sugar, salt, lemon juice, vinegar, and French dressing and herbs. Cool slightly and pour 1 cup jelly into mold that has been rinsed in cold water and garnished with sliced cucumbers and tomatoes.

When remaining gelatin mixture has partially congealed, add tomatoes and cucumbers, and pour into mold over first mixture.

To serve, unmold on salad greens and garnish with quarters of hard-cooked eggs and any preferred dressing.

Cucumbers make a perfect base for leftovers. Peel, then cut in half lengthwise and scoop out soft part. Parboil in salted water for no more than 5 minutes. Drain.

To stuff, combine leftover fish, fowl, or meat with well-seasoned white sauce. Stuff cucumbers, dust with bread crumbs and bake in hot oven about 20 minutes.

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—(AP)—In support of his contention that his job was worth more than a $100-a-month salary, Justice of the Peace Leon Bone of Rural Vista wrote the county supervisors:

"Time and again I have been called out of the theater just when the villain was pursuing her. And once I was called from church right in the middle of the word 'damnation.'"

He added that his duties required him "to listen to marital and other domestic troubles, neighbors' quarrels, gossip, howling dogs."

The supervisors had refused the justice of the peace at nearby Ramona—and inferentially Bone—a $25 raise.

Valuable aid to aerial operation is this giant "fish eye" of the American Airlines electronic laboratory, the "Flagship Alpha." A "radome"—antenna for an airborne radar installation—it is intended to aid transport planes in navigation, instrument flying, weather surveillance and terrain collision prevention. E. F. Herzog, designing engineer of General Electric's transmitter division which designed the apparatus, inspects the "eye."

Army Of Million Men
Laid Before Congress

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Plans for a permanent Regular Army of 1,000,000 men and officers confronted Congress Thursday after a closed-door session of the Senate Military Committee. The prewar 1939 strength was 188,000.

Senators who listened to top-ranking Army planners said the long-range setup calls for 40,000 in the air forces, 300,000 in the ground forces, 175,000 in the service forces, and 125,000 in training.

Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, a ground troop leader in the last war, and Maj. Gen. Lauris Norstad, who directed air operations, sat in the closed session with the lawmakers, some of whom have questioned the need for doubling the present strength of 25,000 Regular Army officers to 50,000.

These senators, who asked that their names not be used, objected that the War Department was asking for its long-range postwar authority in pieces, instead of presenting an overall picture.

Armed with carefully covered charts and detailed plans, the Army leaders explained that they would need not 50,000 but at least 100,000

Heat Wave May Follow
Atomic Bomb Blast

GUADALAJARA, MEXICO—(AP)—Presbytero Severo Diaz, chief of the Jalisco State Meteorological Service, said Thursday he believed weather changes would be felt in the United States as a result of the first atomic bomb test over Bikini Islands in the Pacific.

Severo Diaz said the effect of the weather probably would not be felt for 45 to 60 days after the July 1 explosion.

He said the change probably would dissipate cold waves which cause rains, snows and other weather phenomena. "The absence of cold waves," he said, "conceivably could create a serious drought."

Survey Among Manufacturers Shows Most Items Have Kept OPA Prices

By The Associated Press
The nation's manufacturers said Thursday the price tag on such items as refrigerators, electric toasters, safety razors, automobiles and many other manufactured products had remained at OPA levels.

The National Association of Manufacturers said it asked 64 factory heads, "have you increased any price since June 30 when OPA ended?"

The NAM said six answered affirmatively, and of these, three said loss of subsidies made an increase necessary on meat and food products. The NAM said two others replied they had been selling below cost under OPA restrictions and the sixth said higher costs of raw materials forced him to raise prices.

The NAM said its survey included lumber, metal products, electrical appliances, auto parts, floor coverings, petroleum, cordage, paper, refrigerators, fiber products, chemicals, air conditioning equipment, farm machinery, food products.

The Massachusetts Retail Grocers Association said its 5,000 store operators had not changed prices on dry groceries, canned fruits and canned vegetables.

Wool Prices Unchanged
The Boston Wool Trade Association said domestic and foreign wool prices had not been altered.

The nation's automobile capital, Detroit, reported new car prices unchanged since OPA was killed. The OPA staff there said a check showed prices unchanged on most clothing, paper, furniture, and electrical appliances. Detroit's Retail Merchants Association found that textiles and shoes generally have held.

In Roanoke, Va., steel, furniture, railway parts, chemicals, and metal food containers are still reaching the market at prices unchanged from OPA levels, manufacturers stated.

C. G. Frantz, president of the Apex Electrical Manufacturing Company, said in Cleveland that "there has been no change whatsoever" in prices of vacuum cleaners, electric washing machines and ironers since the end of price control. He said manufacturers of

Billye Jean Jones To Appear In Community Theater Production

Billye Jean Jones will play the part of Lois Graves in the Community Theater production of "Junior Miss" to be presented on the nights of July 25 and 26 in the City-County Auditorium.

Billye has appeared in a number of Midland High School plays including "One Mad Night", "Family Portrait", "New Fires", "Headed for Eden", "Pride and Prejudice", "Please", and "Eve of St. Mark". She played the part of Bernadette in the Civic Theater's presentation of "Song of Bernadette" in the spring of 1945.

She won second in the state declamation contest this year, and was in the play that won first in the district and regional events. Billye also was acclaimed as the best actress by the judges in the regional meet.

A 1946 graduate of Midland High School, Billye will enter Baylor University in Waco this fall where she will major in speech. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Jones.

STRENGTH OF IRON

The thighbone of a normal man will support a weight of one and one-half tons without breaking. Its tensile strength almost equals that of cast iron.

These items were retaining OPA prices while awaiting final action on the OPA bill.

County Election Judges Advised Of Requirements For Voting By Vets

Judge J. M. DeArmond, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Midland County, has issued to election officials for the July 27 primary election a summary of opinions of the attorney general relating to voting by members and former members of the armed forces.

Members of the regular Army, Navy or Marine Corps may not vote in the election.

The opinions state that any person who now is or who was within 18 months prior to the date of the election a member of the armed forces or of any branch or component or of the Maritime Service or the Merchant Marine may vote even though he has not paid his 1945 poll tax and does not have a poll tax receipt. Such persons are not required to obtain certificates of exemption to be entitled to vote.

Such persons, the attorney general ruled, are entitled to cast their votes absentee upon the same terms and conditions as other voters. They may, not, however, be required to enclose with their ballot or application for ballot either a poll tax receipt or certificate of exemption.

"If the election judges are sufficiently advised to know the person is entitled to vote, they may receive the absentee ballot although it is not accompanied by affidavit showing that the person is a qualified voter," the opinion sets out. "In order to insure the receipt of their absentee ballots, it is advised able that such persons forward with their ballots an affidavit showing that the person is a duly qualified voter. If the person is a resident of a city of 10,000 inhabitants or more, the ballot should be accompanied also by the affidavit of a well-known residents of his ward that such person is a qualified voter at such election in such ward."

Service men and veterans must meet the qualifications required of other voters, except in the payment of poll taxes. They must meet the requirements made of all voters as to age (21), citizenship, and length of residence within the state (one year) and the county (six months).

If a service man or veteran is challenged at the polls, the election judge can legally require him to show his qualifications under oath before permitting him to vote. However, when he shows by his own oath that he is a qualified voter at the election, the election judges cannot legally refuse to accept his vote.

Estes To Head Monahans Show

MCNAHANS — S. W. (Guber) Estes has been elected president of the Monahans Livestock Show, reorganized at a recent meeting, and Fern Tatom has been named secretary-treasurer. County Agent John L. Mogford will be general superintendent of the show.

Committees for the three open-to-the-world classes have been named, and they will work out details of classes and report to the association at a meeting August 9. The club calf show will be limited to entries by 4-H Club members of Ward, Winkler, Reeves and Loving counties.

Arthur Elkins is chairman of the Hereford committee. He will be assisted by Glenn Allen and Perk Eudaly. The horse show committee is composed of Bluford Thornton, chairman, and Jack Shisler, John Wilson and John Haley. The Jersey committee is composed of Mrs. C. B.

Our Supreme Need

Calvin Coolidge, during the trying days of the 1920's, issued this warning:

"We do not need more national development; we need more spiritual development. We do not need more intellectual power; we need more moral power. We do not need more knowledge; we need more character. We do not need more government; we need more religion. All of our learning and science, our culture and our arts will be of little avail unless they are supported by high character. Unless there be honor and truth and justice, unless our material resources are supported by moral and spiritual resources, there is no foundation for progress. A trained intelligence can do much but there is no substitute for morality, character and religious convictions. Unless these abide, American citizenship will be found unequal to its task."

These words are as true today as when they were first uttered. Every generation must be instructed in moral and spiritual values, and to be most effective such instruction should begin in childhood. To "teach a child the way he should go" is still the essence of wisdom.

The churches and Sunday Schools of America offer the youth and adults of this generation the moral and spiritual instruction which is so sorely needed. Won't you invite others to come with you this Sunday to Sunday School and church services?

ALL FOR THE CHURCH THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

King Of Bikini May See Second Bombing

ABOARD MT. MCKINLEY—(AP)—King Juda, king of the nation of Bikini, may see the second atomic bomb shake the island where he and his people once lived in peaceful obscurity.

King Juda received an invitation—indirect but valid—after he had been paid a courtesy visit by Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy and other American notables, at his present abode, Rongerik Island.

No one had any doubt that King Juda would accept. The Admiral left word he would save a ringside seat for him—probably on his flagship.

Blandy and his staff went by plane to Rongerik, 130 miles from Bikini, to see the king. He was introduced by Commodore Ben Wyatt, Marshall Island commandant.

Admiral Blandy said it was a great honor to visit Juda and his people. He thanked them for their "kindness and cooperation in making this experiment possible."

Wyatt then introduced "a direct representative of the President of the United States"—Senator Hatch of New Mexico, a member of the President's evaluation board.

Hatch told the natives the President "knows the sacrifices you have made and he is deeply grateful."

Spirited Election Looms In Turkey

ISTANBUL—(AP)—Approximately 10,000,000 persons are expected to vote Sunday when, for the first time since the birth of the Turkish Republic 23 years ago, opposition parties will compete with the entrenched People's Party for representation in the 460-seat National Assembly.

As the election approached, opposition newspapers featured reports from provincial areas of campaign terrorism in which government police allegedly played a part.

Strongest opposition to President Ismet Inonu's government centers in the Young Democratic Party, headed by Celal Bayar, one-time premier and friend of the late President Kemal Ataturk. His followers are predicting they will win more than 100 seats in the National Assembly.

The task force chiefs went to the new land of Juda bearing gifts. Blandy personally explained the operation of a new design air-conditioned pipe. He also gave the king tobacco and cigarettes.

For others there were 200 bars of chocolate, soft drinks and salted nuts. Wyatt presented to Josiah, the village school teacher, a globe, and found himself involved in an attempt to explain it.

Fields Called Before Inquiry Committee

(NEA Telephone) Benjamin F. Fields, Washington publicist who was excused from the witness stand in Washington while appearing before the Senate War Investigating Committee, gathers up his papers as he prepares to leave the stand. Fields was accused of attempted bribe in behalf of members of the "paper empire" of munitions firms and was excused from testifying, after he demanded his constitutional right not to testify against himself.

Jane Russell Favors Women Chasing Men

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Attention men! Jane Russell would rather chase males than have them pursue her.

This information came forth while we were discussing her two pictures, "The Outlaw" and "Young Widow." She agreed with most of the critics that neither was particularly suited to her talents, although "Widow" marks a great advancement over the primitive "Outlaw."

"I don't want men to chase me in pictures. I'm not like that. I can't stand the fawning type who comes around on his knees begging for a touch of the hand. I'm the man-chasing kind myself."

Unabashed, Jane will tell you that she pursued Football Star Bob Waterfield for seven years before he married her. Anyone who knows the couple can testify that he is the boss.

As for her future, Jane would like to steer clear of heavy dramatic roles. "I'm no Bette Davis and I know it," she said. "But I think I could play light roles, the kind that Jean Arthur used to do."

Jane, who has appeared in two pictures in six years under contract to Howard Hughes, will prob-

Brazil May Break Old Linguistic Tie

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Brazilians soon may speak "Brazilian." An amendment proposed for the new constitution, which is expected to be promulgated in early September, would provide that all references to the national language read "the Brazilian language" instead of "the Portuguese language." The amendment has the signatures of 240 of the 328 members of the assembly.

Evidence Sparse In War Crime Case

WARSAW—(AP)—The Polish Ministry of Justice had planned to try Hans Fischer, former Nazi governor of Warsaw, for war crimes this summer but has run into a difficulty in collecting evidence. Newspapers reported that many documents which could have been used by the prosecution were destroyed in the unsuccessful 1944 Warsaw insurrection.

ably be seeing more action in the future. Her contract with the fabulous Texan ends next year and she is going to arrange it so she will be in more films.

But as for her running after indifferent males on the screen—what producer could make that seem credible?

Formula For Ink Is Really Sticker

NEW YORK—(AP)—Walter Lindenthal, a chemist, began experimenting to develop a new printing ink, but the formula he tried proved instead to be a cure for loose tool handles and wobbly chair legs.

The substance is a liquid compound that first makes wood fibers expand and then prevents them from shrinking in the drying-out process. Lindenthal gave up his ink research and formed a partnership with Jule von Sternberg to put the compound on the retail market.

TEXAS TODAY— Menu Dated 1891 Shows Bacon At 3 Cents, Steak 4

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff
Double-takes; or little items in the news you may have missed but shouldn't:
Leaving the big stories to the vice president in charge of page one, we call your attention to a few down-to-earth developments such as food and shelter. In Houston, a man and his young daughter walked up to a bank teller, demanded a room for the night. Turned down by the amazed teller, the man talked it over with the elevator operator, who also refused. . . . In Austin, the Red Cross director was evicted from his home, pitched a tent complete with oil stove, lamps and mosquito nets, to wait out the inflation. . . . In Austin, butter soared to 85 cents a pound but someone dug through old files and came up with the 1891 menu: fried liver 1 cent, bacon 3 cents, sirloin steak 4 cents, coffee 2 cents, soup 2 cents, roast beef and Irish potatoes 4 cents, roast chicken or turkey 7 1/2 cents, pie 3 cents.

The two Waco boys heading for Alaska in a Model T Ford have got as far as Colorado, climbed 14,110-foot Pikes Peak, headed onward. . . . Florists in a Houston convention said the next thing will be canned flowers, which will keep indefinitely. . . . Soils and souls day was set for July 21 by Gov. Coke Stevenson. . . . Texas A&I College at Kingsville selected both male and female bathing beauties in a contest. . . . A man was reported missing, Sherman police searched all night for him, next morning discovered he had been on jury duty all the time. . . . A young Houston negro trying to elude police scuttled under a bed, got stuck in the mattress springs.

Food again: The Museum of Natural History at Houston served ostrich egg sandwiches after an inmate of the zoo laid a two-pound egg. . . . Pithiest political paragraph: "I have too much sense to get out in the sun and Lray like a donkey to tell people what I know, or to cuss some fellow running for the same office, whom I do not know."—Mayor A. J. Burks, Odessa, running for governor.

Siam Refers Border Dispute To Council

NEW YORK—(AP)—The kingdom of Siam has asked the United Nations Security Council to step into its complicated frontier dispute with France over parts of Indo-China which were seized by the Siamese with Japanese support and Vichy French collaboration months before Pearl Harbor.

The territories involved constitute some 20,000 square miles shown on pre-war maps as parts of Cambodia and Laos, bordering the Mekong River in Indo-China.

The Siamese contend, however, that the disputed areas are historically their own and that they are only part of the territory they were forced to cede to French empire-builders in 1907.

Siam's request has been circulated among the council delegations and will be taken up at their next meeting, which must be held not later than July 24.

Lights Go On

GLASGOW—(AP)—Glasgow has restored street lighting, reduced as a fuel conservation measure, because crime increased under black-out conditions.

My Electric Servants Cost LESS Than Ever Since Electric Rates are Down

● Yes, your most dependable helper, Reddy Kilowatt, works for still lower wages. That's because your electric rates are down.

Your electric refrigerator, your radio, lamps and the dozen or more other electric home appliances now cost less to use, right when practically everything else costs more.

The recent reduction in electric rates is in keeping with the Texas Electric Service Company's policy to assure customers a continued high standard of electric service at the lowest possible cost. Electric rates always have gone DOWN — never UP. Reddy worked for you during the war without any increase in wages. Now he works for less.

XL
THEY were late arriving at the Bacon cabin but after one glance at their radiant faces, neither Carolyn nor her mother asked questions. The meal was delightful and the four spent a long quiet evening beside the calm waters of the lake, sometimes exchanging interesting bits of news but often sitting silent while the shadows lengthened and a big round moon climbed above the trees and headed for the opposite shore.

Sally didn't expect to sleep much when she went to bed that night. She was too excited. Her heart didn't seem to quiet down and her brain seethed with plans. What would the girls think—Margaret and Dora and the rest? What would Norma Holden have to say? And last of all, what would Aunt Clem say? Would she approve? She wished she could see her alone—to break it to her gently. But after all, perhaps it was better that Jim was to be along. Aunt Clem wouldn't be so likely to ask embarrassing questions—make confusing remarks or mysterious hints as she so often did when they were alone.

It was after midnight when at last she fell into a troubled sleep to waken when her alarm clock whirred and she heard thunder crashing and saw lightning splitting the western sky in long uneven gashes. She slipped out of bed and slammed the windows shut and heard the ambulance rush away from the courtyard below. She turned at a sharp knock on her door and reached for a robe as she called "Come."

on me again, Sally Maynard." Dora went on, still peevish at the other's obvious surprise at her news. "Sometimes I think you made the whole thing up to act as a red herring—a cover-up for your affair with Hallock."

SALLY stared at her in open-eyed wonder. "Oh—oh!" she whispered and Dora with a little rush of contrition threw her arms about her.

"I didn't mean it, darling," she cried. "Please, please forgive me! I'm a nasty little beast; but"—she drew back from her embrace to say earnestly—"you weren't very flattering just now, you know. What's so surprising about Bill falling for me?"

"It isn't at all surprising," Sally assured her. "What surprised me is myself—my dumbness that I didn't see it coming. Does Margaret know?"

"Darn it!" the other said dejectedly. "She was worse than you were. And I don't see why." Sally laughed and hugged her close. "I'm so happy for you, darling. Bill's a fine lad; but how are you going to keep Sunderlin from knowing?"

"She hasn't found out about you and Jim Hallock, has she?" Dora asked.

"Why do you say that?" Sally demanded, her face suffused.

"Why, every member of the staff has been watching you two," she said matter-of-factly. "Oh, I know you have acted aloof and above-reproach like—like Caesar's wife was supposed to, but you haven't fooled most of us and neither has he. Are you going to be married before he leaves, Sally? Why don't you break down and confess? It isn't anything to be ashamed of."

"Of course not," Sally said unexpectedly. "You have all been so much nicer than I, Dora. I didn't know until last evening that I loved him."

"Wh—what? You didn't? Gosh, Sally, you are dumb. Why, even I knew that."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Nearly every tournament hand has interesting variations. After the game at the Mayfair Bridge Club in New York one night, at which today's hand came up, one of the boys told me that at his table North had opened the bidding with one club, East made a trap pass, South bid a spade, and after two passes East doubled. West left the double in and the contract was defeated two tricks for 500 points.

Shortly after, Joseph Cohan of Wooster, Ohio, came over and said, "Here is an interesting hand for you." As soon as he started to give me the cards, I realized that it was the same hand. The bidding shown is the way it went at Cohan's table. West's surprising bid of two clubs was made by George Kennedy, who delights in psychics. With the East Cohan felt that, psychic or no psychic, he should get to his trump, and he did. Then he took advantage of an opportunity for a nice play.

Dummy's three of hearts was played on the opening lead, North put up the queen and Cohan let it hold. The six of diamonds was returned and Cohan won with the queen, noticing the drop of South's nine-spot.

Now he thought that if he could throw South in the lead, he would get another heart back, North having bid hearts. So Cohan led the five of diamonds, South won with the ten and, sure enough, led back another heart. This gave Cohan his ninth trick.

There are two types of original two-bids, the forcing two-bid and the weak two-bid. In this case East and West were playing the forcing two-bid and West's psychic two-bid brings up an interesting point. If North had passed after West's two-club bid, and East then bid, let us say, two diamonds, could West pass? According to the rules he could. As long as the partnership has no other understanding, you may make or pass any bid.

Execution Stayed To Facilitate Broadcast

AUSTIN—(P)—L. C. Newman is believed to hold the record for the number of delays granted any Texas convict scheduled to die in the electric chair.

Newman's execution is now set for July 19, after five stays of execution. Until Tuesday he had been scheduled to die July 18. The Board of Pardons and Paroles recommended to Governor Stevenson that the July 18 date be changed, however,

POPE FILES DISCHARGE PAPERS HERE WEDNESDAY

The discharge papers of Benjamin F. Pope of Midland, former private first class and Pacific theater veteran, were filed Wednesday at the county clerk's office.

Pope served with a photo lab section so that it "might not interfere with the weekly prison broadcast."

Newman was convicted of murder in the slaying of a 75-year-old woman near Camden, Polk County,

Texas To Send Delegate To Freight Rate Meet

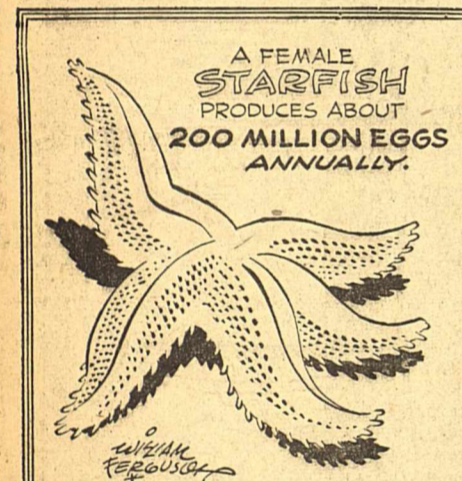

AUSTIN—(P)—Texas will join six other states in a freight rate conference at Chicago preparatory to an Interstate Commerce Commission freight rate hearing there July 22.

Assistant Attorney General James D. Smullen, acting head of the Attorney General Department's oil, gas and rate division, will leave Friday for the Chicago meeting.

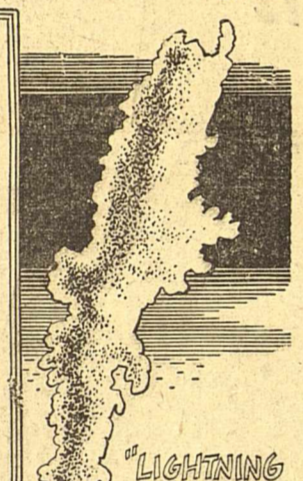

Other states which will be represented include Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Cars Need Extra Attention During Summer Weather

Cars need extra care these hot days to keep them running right, says D. H. (Dewey) Pope, director of Pope's Texaco Service at 400 West Wall Street. They also need extra attention to keep them looking good.

This modern station is prepared to render both these services plus a host of others to help keep cars running right and looking bright.

Marfat lubrication is a great method of giving cars the free-riding feeling that contributes so greatly toward passenger comfort, and proper lubrication is even more necessary during these hot days. Washing always is associated with lubrication, but now that temperatures are bubbling around the 100 degree mark "laundry service for cars" is almost a must. The hot sun bakes dirt and grime into the finish, and unless care is taken the paintwork will be immeasurably damaged.

Motorists are invited by Pope to drive into his alert service station for a complete car wash and lubrication, polishing, change of oil, and other Texaco services. Whether it is for a complete Texaco summer checkup or for any one of the outstanding Texaco services, or only for a windshield cleaning and water or air, the station's employees are ready to give their expert attention to the request.

The station, located at 400 West Wall Street, convenient to the business district, handles Firestone tires, tubes and accessories. Pick-up and delivery service is provided.

Shepard Roofing Co. Handles All Types Of Installations

The Shepard Roofing Company now is located in its new building at 204 South Main Street, and is better than ever prepared to handle all types of roofing and sheet metal work. The company for six years was located in a building at 208 South Main Street.

The new building has been especially constructed to handle the company's needs. It houses a complete sheet metal shop, with four experienced employees. Ten skilled workers are employed in the roofing department.

The company is owned by Chester E. Shepard, a bonded roof and sheet metal contractor. It specializes in residential roofs, and handles clay, tile, asbestos, composition shingles, rock wool insulations, and siding work, in addition to sheet metal contracts of all types.

Shepard invites inquiries and requests for assistance in planning roofing or sheet metal work.

Hot Weather Is Time To Think About Heating

Now that the temperatures are soaring in the higher brackets, it is a good idea to start thinking about heating equipment. In a few months the weather will be just the reverse and instead of air-conditioning an efficient method of heating will be needed.

The Midland Plumbing Company, 203 South Main Street, has introduced to Midland one of the latest and modern in gas heating equipment, the Panelray gas wall heater.

This new principle of heating radiates infra-red heat rays which travel at the speed of light and actually penetrates one's blood stream before the air is warmed. Heat is instantly radiated at body height, warming occupants from head to toe.

There are six models of Panelray heaters, to fill every heating need; a size for every room in the house. There is no necessity for cutting of floors or rugs in the installation, and the heaters look well in any room. They can be placed conveniently throughout the home to provide individual heat control.

Panelray costs little to install because it fits any wall, old or new, upstairs or down. Its vented flue prevents "sweating windows," metal surfaces, walls and home furnishings.

Its sunlike warmth is available at the turn of a handle; there is no glow, but the units produce millions of healthful, penetrating infra-red rays.

C. E. Smith and C. A. Trauber, owners of the Midland Plumbing Company, invite inquiries regarding this modern method of heating.

Hargrove Automotive In New Location

Hargrove Automotive is moving to a new location at South Main Street.

Company employees Monday were busy transporting the large stock to the new location from the building at 200 South Main Street.

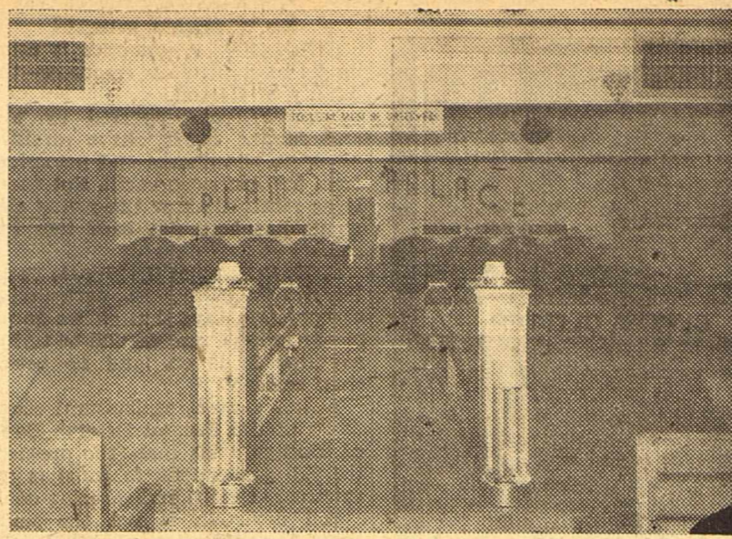

Customers and friends of Hargrove Automotive are invited to visit the new location, which is in a new building a few doors south of the old location.

Hargrove Automotive will continue to give finest service and to offer quality stock, the management said.

Whigham Electric Has Good Stock Of Supplies

Whigham Electric Company, located in a new building at 219 South Loraine Street, has large stocks of electrical fixtures and supplies, and one of the most complete stocks of fluorescent tubes in the city. Many of the electrical needs for home and office may be found in the display room of the company.

The company has been operating in Midland for 10 years, and it now employs 10 journeymen electricians. J. C. Whigham, owner, has been a journeyman electrician for many years, and members of his staff have had from four to 27 years of experience. Whigham invites persons planning to build homes or business structures to contact the company for estimates on wiring costs. Electrical repairs and installations also are sought.

The company makes installations throughout West Texas and Southwestern New Mexico.

Veterans Of Three Wars Employed In Midland By Banner Creamery

Veterans of three wars are employed by the Banner Creamery in Midland.

Of the total of 34 male employees, one is a veteran of the Spanish-American War, one is a World War I veteran, and 18 served in the second World War. The company believes it has on its payrolls more ex-service men than any other industrial firm in the city.

H. W. "Uncle Henry" Mueller, engineer, served with the First Texas Volunteers in the Spanish-American War, and was in Cuba three months. He participated in the raising of the United States flag over Moro Castle Jan. 2, 1899, and was in service for more than a year.

M. F. McDaniels, manager of the creamery, was a Marine in World War I.

Veterans of World War II employed by the company include: John F. Autry, air corps; J. J. Green, engineers; D. M. Haynes, engineers; Lee Roy Wood, infantry; George Pearson, Marines; Jewell

Dillard, infantry; W. F. Rodgers, air forces; Carl D. Hines, tank destroyers; Oran Whitaker, infantry; Donald Edwards, Marines; Victor Gregory, Marines; David Whitmore, infantry; Wesley Paddock, air forces; John Anthony; Delma Tonn, Navy; Ervin Mueller, grandson of "Uncle Henry" Mueller, infantry; Robert Morris, Navy; and Roy McFadden, Navy.

WALKAWAY CRASH

TRANSWORLD STUBBLE

Against a background of ticker tape and wreckage, Howard Hughes is shown at three stages of his fabulous career: Top right, at a Hollywood party with Marion Davies in 1934; center, at a plane crash he walked away from in 1935 after setting a speed record; lower left, haggard but victorious after his world flight in 1931. The ticker tape in left background was an aftermath of that globe-circling flight; the wreckage at right was the aftermath of the crash he didn't walk away from.

Howard Hughes, Texas Millionaire, Plays With Planes, Movies — But For Profits

By NEA Service
LOS ANGELES—Howard Hughes, the millionaire playboy who plays for profit on the land, in the air, and in the movies, is a smooth young man who has been experimenting with new things all his life and up to now has met with nothing but success.

Even his crash while testing the fast new plane he built for the Army was nothing new under the bright and nearly always shining Hughes sun. Hughes, now 41, crashed before in one of his own planes, but that time he got up and walked away.

He started with a $650,000 oil drilling tool business, inherited from his family, and ran it into a jackpot worth between 150 and 200 million dollars. At various times during this build-up, his personal, non-losing slot machine has paused to pay off in world's records in everything from airplanes to movies.

Hughes was only 18 when his father died in 1923, leaving him the small, conservative Hughes Tool Company in Texas. The company built rock bits for deep well drilling. Hughes had to get court permission to run the company because he was under age, but once he got his hands on it, he lifted it into the biggest of its kind in the country. Last year it did a $30,000,000 business—not counting war contracts.

Once he had imbued the tool company with the Hughes spirit, he looked around for something else to play with. He tried movies as an independent, and the industry laughed. It's still laughing, but the laughter is hollow. Before he was 21, he backed his first film venture into a $100,000 profit. His first full-fledged venture, a comedy called "Two Arabian Nights," was worth $300,000 to him.

Next he starred Thomas Meighan in a brutal portrayal of big-city political racketeering called "The Racket." Big city censors didn't like it, but Hughes fought them in court, finally got the show into theaters and cleaned up again.

More than two decades later, he was still having the same trouble with censors—and reaping profits out of it. He made "The Outlaw," and in the ensuing publicity, made a top personality out of his star, Jane Russell, even though few people have seen her yet except in publicity shots. Where "The Outlaw" has played, it has set new box-office records.

In between, he sank $1,500,000 into "Hell's Angels" as a silent movie. Before he released it, along came sound. He threw the silent version away, got a new star who could talk (a gal named Jean Harlow, who up to then had been a custard-pie target), and wound up with a talkie that cost $3,000,000. It drew more customers than any other film except "Birth of a Nation."

But carving a movie career was just another sideline to Hughes, although he flourished in the brightness of Hollywood's glitter and once got together with William Randolph Hearst and several others in an attempt to buy MGM. The deal fell through.

He has been just as eager and successful in aviation—not alone as a magnate but as a man right up in the front seat. Hughes started flying when he was 14, once went to work for American Airways at $250 a month to learn about the business. He learned. He owns several airplane and parts plants and is controlling stockholder in TWA airlines, which he moved into in 1939.

Sets Speed Record
He built, designed and flew a plane in 1935 to set a world's land speed record of 352 miles per hour, then set a transcontinental record from Los Angeles to New York in seven hours and 28 minutes. When Russia tried to buy that plane two years later, he said no sale.

In 1938, he took off from New York, flew around the world in three days and 19 hours, cutting the previous record in half. His plane was fixed up as a flying laboratory, and out of his flight came many of the ideas he translated into war production in the years that followed.

His almost-magic touch is mixed up in the Constellation, super-airliner which his TWA got the first chance at, and which its manufacturer ballyhooed in a style somewhat akin to the three-sheets announcing "The Outlaw."

But crashes are haunting the Constellation just as they are haunting the man who conceived the plane and backed it with a $20,000,000 note.

During the war his companies did a total of $200,000,000 worth of work for the government, made no excess profits, and when the contracts were negotiated, the government found no refunds were required.

With this whirlwind life of films and flying, it is not surprising that Hughes has been a bachelor, except for one, three-year marriage venture with Ella Rice, daughter of the founder of Rice Institute in Houston, Texas, which ended in divorce in 1928.

And he owns the biggest brewery in Texas. It helps pay for his champagne, when he drinks it.

Experts Say U. S. Is Depleting Soil

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO—(AP)—America is using up its most priceless resources—the vitality of its soil.

Bumper crops, spurred by war and famine needs, have drained nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium from the American earth. Not nearly as much of those life-giving elements has been put back into the soil.

C. W. Bunting of the Illinois Farm Supply Company, an agricultural co-operative, says that "if we go on at our present rate we will be trying to grow foods on land no better than cement."

Walter Garver, agricultural economist of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, adds that "the prospect for the generations to come is an extremely serious and sobering one."

Soil depletion is not the same thing as soil erosion, although both come under the head of soil conservation. Erosion is the washing away of top soil by rains; it can be combated by contour farming and strip cropping. Soil depletion keeps the top soil on the land, but removes its vitality.

The first indication of soil depletion, Garver said, is a reduction in crop yields. "This will show up within the next five to 10 years at the rate we are going," he predicted.

Victory Grin

Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, complete with loud tie and red suspenders, grins happily as he relaxes on the front porch of his "dream home" at Poplarville, Miss., following a successful campaign for re-election.

Only three deaths in 1933, and all of them centenarians, earned for Rulva the name of "Village of Long Life." This Portuguese town is located just outside Lisbon.

"Actually we already would be seeing lower yields if it were not for the introduction of hybrid corn," the bank economist said. "Hybrid corn gives a greater yield to the acre and this fact has covered up the drain in soil fertility."

"This fertility of the soil cannot forever be drawn upon without eventually overdrawing the account."

To meet the problem of soil depletion, the Farm Bureau is urging greater use of "high-analysis" fertilizers.

In the past, the bureau said, "the emphasis by many has been largely on pounds and tonnages of mixed fertilizers rather than upon pounds of plant food nutrients, and a low grade fertilizer cost the farmer less per bag or ton than one that carried a high plant food content."

"The emphasis should be on cost per unit of plant food rather than on the tonnage of the fertilizer."

Poles Study
WARSAW —(AP)—Although Poland's universities were hard hit by the war and many buildings were destroyed, there are more students today than before 1939. Total enrollment is 48,277, of which 39,467 are in state universities and 8,810 in private institutions.

Ceremony Held At Pet Dog's Grave

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—Trixie, a black Cocker Spaniel whose recent funeral cost $300, was honored at a headstone ceremony recently in the Los Angeles pet cemetery, where 50 mourners stood under a broiling sun to hear a poem recited and a bugler blow taps.

The mourners were transported to the cemetery in limousines ordered by the dog's owner, Mrs. Amelia Ipson, who had inscribed on a $100 headstone a tribute to the animal. After taps she released a dove over the grave. She said the dove was a symbol of Trixie's purity.

Out Again, In Again — May Wen-Lin Again

SHANGHAI —(AP)—Ma Wen-lin was about to get out of prison on bond.

Family and friends, gathered at the prison gates to welcome him, set off thousands of firecrackers.

Aroused by the uproar, prison officials changed their minds and yanked Ma back to his cell for "further questioning" about charges of collaboration just as he was about to enter a waiting automobile.

The average life of a butterfly is about four or five weeks.

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

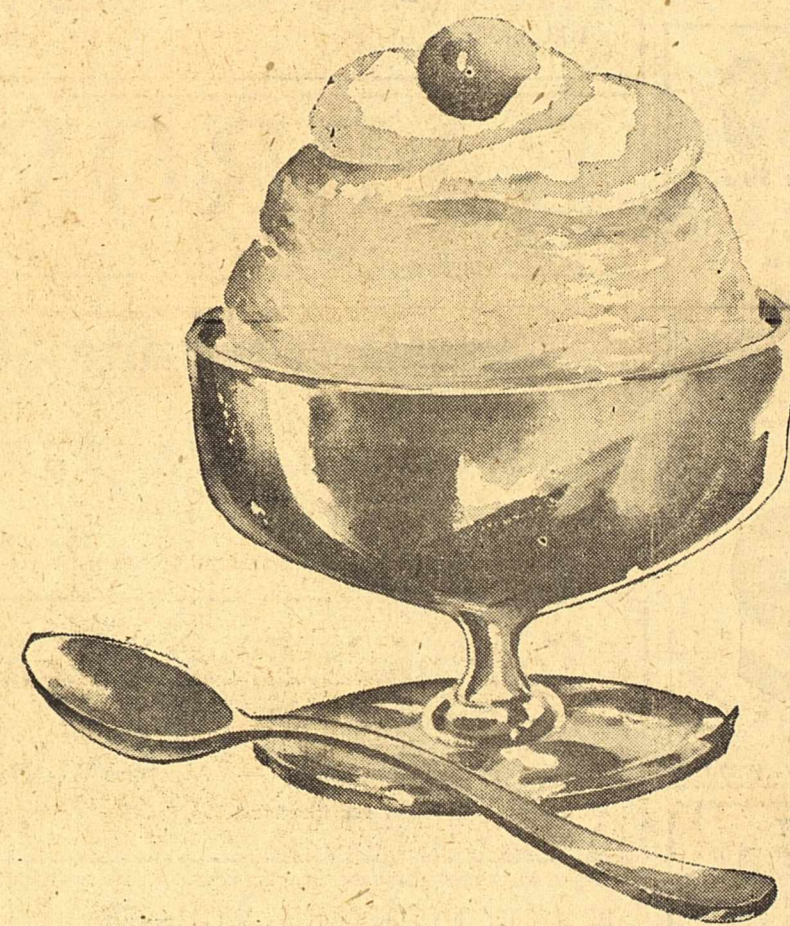

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

GOVERNMENT SUBSIDIES* TO DAIRY FARMERS ENDED JUNE 30

So, Now, The Government Will Not be Paying a Part of the Cost of Ice Cream

ICE CREAM Is Practically the Only Food Item That Has Not Advanced in Price Since March, 1942

Every time you've bought a quart of ice cream these past several years you've paid only part of the cost direct. The rest you've paid through the tax collector.

The loss (actual cost of butterfat) was made up to the dairy farmer by a subsidy* authorized by Congress and paid to the farmer with your tax money.

This payment—made solely to the dairy farmer—was granted as a wartime measure to keep your food costs low and to help dairy farmers continue in the business of producing vitally needed dairy products.

FROM NOW ON DAIRY FARMERS MUST RECEIVE THEIR MONEY DIRECT

With the elimination of OPA, June 30, all subsidies* to the dairy farmer ceased. But the elimination of OPA and dairy subsidies* didn't cut the farmer's costs of producing dairy products.

Costs today are higher than at any time during the war.

Other foods and products were granted price increases under OPA, but the price of ice cream has remained the same.

There has not been a price advance in ice cream since OPA "froze" or established wartime ceiling prices for ice cream—in March, 1942.

The cost of all ingredients that make up a delicious quart of ice cream have gone steadily higher.

Sugar... eggs... butterfat... milk solids... fresh fruits... flavors... ice cream cartons... labor—everything that contributes to good ice cream has advanced many times.

ICE CREAM REMAINS "THE FAVORITE, LOW COST QUALITY FOOD"

Borden's and the dairy industry generally are determined to keep ice cream within the purchasing reach of everyone.

"...to bring Borden's to you at a price that will enable millions to enjoy ice cream that can be depended upon" has always been a part of Borden's Pledge.

The ending of dairy subsidies* simply means a shift from your tax purse to paying it out of your food purchasing purse.

*THE DICTIONARY defines a subsidy as: "...aid granted by a government... especially for war expenses; a public grant paid for with taxes... to aid an enterprise for the public's welfare and convenience..." The House of Representatives' Special Food Shortage Committee and the Dairy Industry generally recommended against indirect payment by consumers through taxation. This statement was made: "...subsidies from government funds only conceal price increases... The Milk Industry is put in a false position with consumers as actually... prices are higher than consumers pay... When subsidies end, which they must, consumers will not be prepared for price changes that result."
