Truman Says Boom Flood Of Tax Collections To Half Deficit

President Instructs Agencies To Cut Down On Veteran Benefits And Aid To States

By CHARLES MOLONY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman forecast Saturday night that a boom-time flood of tax collections he hadn't counted on before would wipe out much of the deficit for the current fiscal year.

Thus he pinned his hopes on business prosperity and high level employment — which automatically bring higher tax collections — to better the heavily indebted government's position.

He bolstered those hopes with economy orders to federal agencies that could tighten the strings of the federal purse to the point of affecting veterans and the 48 states.

Boosting both revenue and spending estimates above the peacetime record figures he issued.

Pendergast Greeted President As He Flies To Missouri

INDEPENDENCE, MO. —(AP)— A hand-shaking Harry S. Truman came back to Jackson County Saturday in a home-coming reception and a bitter congressional campaign in which he is an issue.

There was little evidence of the undecorous campaign bitterness as he greeted hundreds of friends and neighbors on the spacious lawn in front of his old frame home at 219 North Delaware Street.

The campaign touch, however, was provided by the presence in the home-coming crowd of James Pendergast, head of the Kansas City political faction, who has teamed up with the President in an effort to defeat Rep. Roger C. Slaughter of the neighboring Fifth District in next Tuesday's Democratic primary.

Pendergast has thrown his strength behind Enos Axtell, the choice of the President, himself a Fourth District voter, and of the CIO-Political Action Committee.

Resents Intervention
The third candidate is Jerome Walsh, who has joined Slaughter in expressing resentment over Presidential intervention in the campaign.

Truman told a recent news conference he favored Axtell, that he had talked with Pendergast in his behalf, and that Slaughter had opposed his program as a member of the House Rules Committee.

The President chattered briefly with Pendergast, but there was no inkling of what they said.

In a few minutes, a line had formed and the President found himself shaking hands with scores of men, women and children. He knew most of them, called most of the men by their first names.

He had just come over from Grandview where he had a 15-minute visit with his mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman, aged 93, immediately after he and Mrs. Truman landed at the Grandview Airport following a flight from Washington in the Presidential plane, the "Sacred Cow."

A White House spokesman, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, declared flatly that President Truman will take no further part in the turbulent campaign beyond his endorsement of Enos A. Axtell.

Ross told reporters a few hours after Truman's arrival here that he would "gamble 100 to 1 the President doesn't even see Mr. Axtell" while he is home to vote Tuesday.

Mob Threatens Texas Jail After Arrests

NEW BRAUNFELS —(AP)— Sheriff W. A. Scholl of New Braunfels said Saturday night that he had dispersed an angry, noisy crowd which gathered threateningly in front of the jail when he arrested two members of a group of San Antonio picknickers.

The sheriff had at first asked for State Police help, and all State Highway Police squad cars were directed to proceed to the scene. Later, however, the order was cancelled when the sheriff reported the situation under control.

"I just reasoned with them," Sheriff Scholl said.

He said he had arrested two picknickers following a fight at Camp Ubricht, west of here, where a group of San Antonians were holding an outing.

The crowd formed at the jail shortly afterward, and Sheriff Scholl called the State Highway Police.

Two Trainers Killed In N. Y. Collision

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y. —(AP)— Two trainers were killed Saturday and more than a score of other persons were injured, none seriously, when a switch engine and a passenger train of the Long Island Railroad collided head-on near New York City.

The filing of the application was the first step in the program of the association which was formed at a meeting in Big Spring June 20.

The project would cost approximately $10,000,000.

Weary Solons Go Homeward, Hopeful No Special Session Will Be Called

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Weary members of the adjourned 79th Congress streamed homeward Sunday, almost all of them hopeful they will not be called back for a special session but with a few urging another meeting and a somewhat larger number fearing it will come.

One well-placed administrationist who would not permit use of his name, however, said he was sure the President is glad the lawmakers are going and that the White House had no notion of calling them back unless something of great urgency arises.

Both the Senate and House shut up shop Friday night on a sine die basis.

This means the end of the 79th, with no sessions until the 80th begins January 3, unless President Truman summons the lawmakers back.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) told newsmen he had no indication from the White House that the Chief Executive will do that.

But several other key legislators declared they are afraid he will. In a typical comment to a reporter, Chairman Colmer (D-Miss) of the House Economic Policy and Planning Committee said:

"I'd be willing to bet we'll be back here by November, if not before, although I hope not."

Truman said, when he signed the OPA bill, that if economic problems get out of hand he will insist on a special session.

Colmer commented that he thinks some emergency is likely to develop which will prompt another meeting before January.

He also stated that many members believe the Administration will insist on a special session "if by some chance the Republicans should gain control of the House" in the November elections.

Rep. Hays (D-Ark), a member of the House Banking Committee, reported he had urged President Truman this week to summon the legislators back.

Hays said that, given a few weeks time, he believes his committee can complete handling of the controversial Wagner-Elender-Taft Federal Housing Bill.

Another Banking Committee member, Rep. Paul Brown (D-Ga.), took issue with Hays. Brown said "there is no point coming back and trying to pass this bill in a month's time. It will take many weeks of consideration to get it in proper shape. I was willing to stay and do it, but since we did not we might as well wait and do it right next year."

Rayburn made a similar comment Friday, although he did not refer to the housing measure by name.

The Administration has repeatedly requested this measure, which is designed to spur construction of thousands of new homes.

Colorado River Municipal Water Association Seeks State Permit

The Colorado River Municipal Water Association filed an application Saturday with the State Board of Water Engineers, seeking a permit to construct a dam and a reservoir on the Colorado River north of Colorado City sufficient to impound about 100,000 acre-feet of water primarily for domestic and municipal use by the cities of Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, Snyder and Colorado City.

Violence Marks Democratic Primary In Tennessee

Blood streaming down his face, Poll Observer Edward Vestal, 25, (right) veteran of 39 months' service, is pictured in an Athens, Tenn., hospital as he waits for attention to his wounds received when he plunged through a plate glass door during the Democratic primary disturbances in which 13 persons were injured, six seriously. Shown at right is an expensive, late model automobile which was almost completely wrecked after the shooting around the McMinn County jail. Bystanders said it belonged to an erstwhile deputy sheriff. The disturbances, which included a six-hour gun battle between officers and former GIs, was set off when officers forcibly seized two ballot boxes and carried them off to jail. The disturbances came to an end when the officers conceded the former GIs had won the election.

Rainey Men Break Away At Houston

'Conservatives' Quit Convention In Dallas

By The Associated Press

Bolting factions at Houston, Dallas and Temple held sessions of their own as Texas Democrats attended county conventions Saturday to choose delegates for the state convention in San Antonio September 10.

The Harris County Democratic convention ended with a split between the faction favoring Beauford Jester for governor and the self-styled "Loyal Democrats" pulling for Homer P. Rainey.

Rainey's followers bolted the convention and in a separate meeting decided to send a full organization to the state convention to contest the delegation set up at the regular convention site.

The break came after Col. Ike Ashburn, nominated by a pro-Jester group, took over as temporary chairman of the convention. The only other nominee for the chairmanship, Robert F. Peden, had been backed by pro-Rainey delegates.

D. W. M. Brumby, a delegate from Precinct 38, lead the "Loyal Democrats" out. He estimated 250 persons followed him to the rump convention where Peden was named chairman.

At Dallas, dissatisfied "Conservatives" walked out of the convention to hold their own meeting. Regulars Walk Out Roosevelt Democrats took the reins at the Bell County convention, named a delegation to the state convention, passed resolutions endorsing President Truman and condemning the Texas Regulars. Roy Sanderford of Belton, once a leader in the Texas Regulars, charged "steamroller" tactics were being used and called a rump convention. He said about 25 persons attended it and named a slate of delegates to the September convention.

Sanderford told the regular convention that "I admit in the past we went too far to the Right, but now you're about to go too far to the Left."

Approximately 1,200 persons were present for the opening of the Dallas County convention at the Fair Park Race Track. The Conservatives, their final attempts at compromise shouted down by the Liberals, marched out of the convention and held a rump convention, attended by approximately 600. The Conservatives were led by J. Hart Willis. They held their meeting under the race track, thunderously endorsed Jester, and named their own delegates. The regular convention had previously refused to select two sets of delegates, one to represent Jester and the other to represent Rainey. As a result, two delegations, each claiming to represent Dallas County, will apply to be seated at the September convention in San Antonio.

As the rump section of the convention left, the Liberals, led by Tom McCullough, settled down to a speedy business session and adopted a list of more than 200 delegates to the state convention.

Convention Was Noisy
Before the split, the convention was noisy and demonstrative and sparked with shouting, threatening and name-calling.

A "harmony" group took control of the Tarrant County convention. Stewart W. Helman was named temporary chairman, defeating Ross Hardin, "Roosevelt" Democrat by a vote of 894 to 834.

A proposal to name two lists of delegates, one backing Jester and the other Rainey, was voted down by the Taylor County convention at Abilene. French M. Robertson, Abilene attorney and oil operator, charged that the proposed delegation to the state convention was "packed with pro-Rainey men."

The Potter County convention at Amarillo was quiet. An anti-poll tax resolution was tabled. "Texas Regulars and persons who have voted Republican" were welcomed to the convention provided they came "for the right purpose — but no funny business." There was no funny business.

Porter Says Production Will Combat Inflation
WASHINGTON —(AP)— Paul Porter, OPA administrator, urged Saturday, "don't let's kid ourselves that sporadic or organized buyers' strikes are going to mean the difference between inflation and a fairly stable price level."

"The economic balance we're all striving for," he said, "can be achieved only when the teammates, production and consumption, or our use of the goods we make, are pulling together in harness."

Commenting that production of some types of goods is up — although shortages of others do exist — Porter pictured the economic barometer as "beginning to flirt with the fair weather region again." The country, however, is not necessarily out of the "hurricane zone," he added.

OPA issued one order during the day, withdrawing the rule requiring restaurants to put their ceiling prices. This was because restaurants now may include the cost of ceiling-free goods in calculating top prices for meals. These costs fluctuate too widely to require posted meal price ceilings, OPA said.

President Truman did not designate a federal holiday but ordered that the flag be displayed on all government buildings.

He urged Americans to observe the day with prayer.

Chiang Said To Have Solution For China Strife

NANKING —(AP)— Government agencies boosted Saturday that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had suddenly found a solution for China's civil strife while Government and Communist quarters quarreled over the circumstances of Friday's aerial bombing of Yenan, Communist headquarters.

The government acknowledged the bombing but said it was directed solely at a grounded Government plane which the Communists refused to return. The Communists admitted the plane was destroyed but said their military headquarters also was attacked.

The nature of Chiang's last-minute formula for peace was not disclosed by the Government Central News Agency, which announced it. However, General Marshall, special U. S. envoy, flew hurriedly to the summer capital of Kuling to confer with the generalissimo.

"I know President Chiang has found a ready solution, a political solution, at that — not one based on force," the government agency quoted Minister of Information Feng Hsueh-pei as saying at Kuling.

If Chiang had a solution, it was in the nick of time, because the Communist reaction to the Yenan bombing was quick and angry.

"This broadens the scope of the civil war," declared Gen. Chou En-Lai, head of the Communist delegation in Nanking. He added that he took a "very serious view" of the attack.

Communist Spokesman Wang Ping-Nan told newsmen civil war had reached a new stage because of the attack on Yenan.

Gen. Chou Jih-Jou, commander of the Government Air Force, announced that the bombing was designed to destroy a government B-24 bomber which made a forced landing at Yenan June 26.

Spaak Assails Big Four For Ignoring Smaller Nations At Peace Conference

PARIS —(AP)— Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium assailed the Big Four Saturday for ignoring the smaller nations in preparing Europe's peace and for asking the smaller powers for recommendations only after severely handicapping them.

The outburst from the president of the United Nations General Assembly highlighted the day's proceedings in the peace conference.

In another phase of the battle between the big and small powers, the Big Four won out by a vote of 12 to 8 when the all-powerful rules committee approved a decision to rotate the conference chairmanship.

Meanwhile, Greece demanded slices of Bulgarian and Albanian territory and served notice on the peace conference that she expects reparations for the "material damage inflicted upon the country" by Italy and other invaders.

Spaak, in a bitter attack on the big powers, said:

"The great powers meet together among themselves. They prepare treaties without consulting us; they attempt to impose upon us rules of voting which, in practice, prevent us from securing acceptance for our points of view; they place us before the painful dilemma of accepting—sometimes against our own judgment—what they have drawn up or else destroying an agreement that has been achieved only with difficulty, and then, finally, having thus handicapped us, they ask us to make them a few recommendations."

The Belgian, however, hailed as "the most important" declaration of the conference U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes' promise "to sustain these recommendations made by a two-thirds majority."

"If the other big powers, in addition to their promises of free and complete discussion, are willing to accept a similar engagement, it seems to me the atmosphere would suddenly clear and that our work here would get under way in happy circumstances," Spaak said.

Ethiopia Wants Colonies

The Greek demands were presented by Constantine Tsaldaris, prime minister and chief of the Greek delegation. They came less than 24 hours after Ethiopia asked to award her Italy's East African colonies of Eritrea and Somaliland.

Tsaldaris also called upon the conference to ratify the decision of the four-power foreign ministers council restoring the formerly Italian-owned Dodecanese Islands to Greece.

The new territorial claims against Hitler's former Southeast European empire highlighted Saturday's activities which included these developments:

1. A British spokesman, declaring that a united front was expected by the Big Four on all matters in the five treaty drafts, expressed the opinion there would be no reopening of the Trieste settlement despite outspoken criticism by the Yugoslav peace delegation.
2. Britain announced she would join the United States in unequalled support of the Greek portions of all texts of treaties, but made it clear she would maintain freedom to press for her own views on those sections on which no agreement was reached.
3. The Canadian delegation disclosed it would "closely question" the award of $1,000,000,000 in reparations to Russia and would ask for a complete review of the situation. Australia previously had indicated she would make a similar move.

Texarkana Mayor Will Quit If Aldermen Do

TEXARKANA —(AP)— Mayor W. N. Harkness of Texarkana Saturday issued a statement committing himself to resign if three aldermen accused of taking bribes also resign.

Resignations of the four officials were recommended last Monday in a report of the Bowie County grand jury, which also indicted the three aldermen on bribery charges and a property owner on a charge of giving a bribe.

Harkness mailed his resignation to H. F. Defee, an alderman and mayor pro tem, with instructions to file it with City Secretary G. D. Garrett when the resignations of Albert McWilliams, Harry Everett and Lee Talley, the indicted aldermen, were received.

Mayor Harkness first made the charges at a council meeting where he said he had accepted a $1,000 bribe in order to expose the situation. He was not indicted. The charges grew out of a street extension proposal passed by the city council.

DALLAS —(AP)— Beaufront Jester carried 212 counties in Texas in the first Democratic primary election July 27, the Texas Election Bureau said Saturday.

Grover Sellers carried 21, Homer P. Rainey, 17 and John Lee Smith, four.

Sellers carried Bowie, Camp, Cass, Delta, Duval, Fannin, Franklin, Hopkins, Hunt, Jim Hogg, Lamar, Marion, Morris, Panola, Rains, Red River, Starr, Titus, Webb, Wood, and Zavala.

The following went to Rainey: Arkansas, Atascosa, Brooks, Burleson, Dickens, Ector, El Paso, Fayette, Grayson, Howard, Hutchinson, Jefferson, Kleberg, Lavaca, McLennan, T. Lavis and Willbarger. Smith carried Haskell, Knox, Motley and Throckmorton.

Narcotic Rings Shift To Texas, Oklahoma

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Treasury agents reported Saturday the "center of gravity" of the illicit drug traffic had shifted from coastal states to the Southwest, particularly Texas and Oklahoma, during the 12-month period ended June 30.

The Texas-Oklahoma "narcotics crime wave" involving both smuggled supplies and wholesale diversions from legitimate stocks followed the breaking up of several notorious New York and California gangs and sentencing of their principals to long prison terms, the officials said.

"Much of the loot appeared to find its way to Dallas, Texas, for distribution by a highly organized gang," said a report from Elmer L. Frey, treasury law enforcement coordinator, and Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger.

The loot, they said, was gathered in Texas and Oklahoma by "gangs of highly skilled burglars."

Joint Church Action Sought By Council

LONDON —(AP)— Protestant leaders of eight nations disclosed Saturday they favored joint action on world problems by Protestants and Roman Catholics, based upon "some kind of satisfactory understanding at the highest level, presumably between the World Council of Churches and the Vatican."

Replies to a questionnaire on policy of the world council pointed up a Protestant plan to seek collaboration with the Roman Catholic Church in putting a world Christian viewpoint on peace problems before the statesmen of the world. The announcement said that, unless some high level agreement was reached, the extent of cooperation would fluctuate "with changing personalities and you never know where you are."

The views were released by Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk of New York, secretary of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, who came here with a dozen other American leaders to attend a four-day conference of international church leaders, under the sponsorship of the World Council. The meeting opens Sunday at Cambridge.

U. S. Budget

pine items. But he did not make any fight on others, and he put no blame on Congress for upsetting his budget program by passing them.

Total Is Peacetime Record

Still further additions arising from program expansions and from outlays deferred from fiscal 1946 gave a net lift, after offsets, of $5,500,000,000 to last January's spending estimate and sent the revised total to the peacetime record of $41,500,000,000.

The President's statement indicated he had already headed off or directed cutbacks in spending, mostly by the War and Navy Departments and the Maritime Commission. That would have piled at least $4,200,000,000 more onto the spending total.

And it promised he would keep trying "throughout the fiscal year to reduce expenditures whenever and wherever they can be reduced without harm to our security and the general welfare."

With that in mind, he told reporters at a budget explanatory conference that he is still hopeful that the presently expectable deficit can yet be wiped out and the budget balanced in the current fiscal year.

In an immediate follow-up he sent out still further orders to hold down spending of all kinds in this fiscal year and the one starting next July.

The Army specifically directed to cut back its program this year by $1,000,000,000, carried the big load in those orders. The Navy drew a $650,000,000 curtailment and the Maritime Commission ship-building program one of $60,000,000 or an even 50 per cent, for a total of $1,710,000,000. Truman's budget was based on the lower spending figure for those branches.

In addition he instructed various departments to put specified ceilings on construction activities, without specifying what savings those ceilings would effect.

To Tighten Vet Payments

The Veterans Administrator was told to "review and tighten certain standards for (pension and benefit) payments in order to protect the rights of deserving veterans and the national pocketbook."

Agencies having charge of public works or loans or grants-in-aid that provide federal money to states to help in such matters as highway building were told to "take all measures to secure the postponement of public works at the present time."

On holding down veterans-benefits costs, the President made this further comment in his statement: "I believe that tightening of standards for veterans' programs, especially for readjustment allowances and on-the-job training, can bring considerable economies."

Linked with the efforts to cut spending was a presidential assumption that "taxes will be maintained at their present level" and a repeated declaration that "no further tax reductions should be made until the present inflationary situation has passed."

Truman, in a comment upon the relationship of the government's budget to the national economy, declared that inflation is "our greatest immediate domestic problem" and remarked: "This situation requires that the federal government, as well as state and local governments, reduce expenditures and keep taxes at a high level."

County Democratic Convention Names State Delegates

The Midland County Democratic Convention, in assembly at the courthouse Saturday, chose its delegates to the state convention and instructed them to seek restoration of the right of the Democratic Party to prescribe the qualifications of its own members.

Delegates chosen for the state convention, which meets September 10 in San Antonio, are: Tom Sealy, chairman; Ken Regan, vice chairman; and Fred Wemple, John Quaid, W. A. Yeager, John P. Butler, O. C. Harper, R. W. Hamilton, James Smith, J. M. DeArmond, J. W. McMillen, Paul McFarlane, R. L. Woods, J. S. Noland, George Abell, Don Davis, R. M. Turpin, T. D. Kimbrough, M. C. Ulmer, J. P. (Bum) Gibbins, Fred Hogan, C. S. Longcope, Ralph Barron, and Harry Adams.

Sealy was elected chairman of the convention Saturday and Dan Griffith secretary.

The instruction for the delegates to seek the right for the party to prescribe its own qualifications was made in the form of a resolution presented by the resolutions committee and adopted by the convention.

Resolution Passed

The resolution read: "We, the Democrats of Midland County, Texas, in convention assembled, 3 August 1946, resolve: that we favor restoration by legal means, of the right of the Democratic Party to prescribe the qualifications of its own members. To that end, we recommend that the State Democratic Convention at San Antonio on September 10, 1946, take affirmative action to restore this long respected right of the party to prescribe the qualification of its own members. In the interest of the party's unit in Texas, and in effort to heal wounds and end strife of the past, we hereby intrust the delegates from this county to the state convention to vote and work as a unit in cooperation with the nominee for governor in selecting party members of the State Executive Committee."

An amendment read: "It is resolved the Midland County delegates vote as a unit on all matters at the state convention."

The resolutions committee was composed of Abell, Winston Hull, and Butler. The credentials committee consisted of Wemple, Harper, and Yeager.

The move is part of the President's effort to trim expenditures under his revised budget made public Saturday night.

Brown Leads Kentucky Senatorial Race

LOUISVILLE, KY. —(AP)— John Young Brown of Lexington overcame an early trend in Saturday's Kentucky primary election to lead Philip P. Ardery of Frankfort in their race for the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate, unofficial reports from 1,579 of 4,054 voting precincts showed.

At that point Brown, an attorney and former congressman, had polled 26,824 votes to 24,429 for Ardery, also an attorney and a bomber pilot in World War II. Seven other candidates trailed far behind.

Circuit Judge John Sherman Cooper of Somerset forged far ahead of Roscoe Conklin Douglas of Williamsburg in the Republican senatorial primary, leading by 16,302 to 2,173 in 1,403 out of 4,054 precincts.

Earnes Milan, head mentor, and Aubra Noncaster, B squad tutor, left Saturday. Earl Glasie, assistant to Milan, already was enroute.

Richard Vestal, newly elected Junior High grid instructor, will attend. He is in another part of the state and will come here following the school.

Texas Leads Little In St. Paul Open

ST. PAUL, MINN. —(P)—Henry Ransom of Houston retained his leadership of the St. Paul $10,000 Open Saturday by turning back a scoring drive by Lawson Little, Monterey, Calif., that produced the tourney's best score so far, a 65.

Ransom finished with a five-under-par 67 for a 54-hole total of 202. Little's 65, combined with a 138 previously counted, put him just one stroke away from Ransom.

Bradshaw To Replace McCollum At Simmons

ABLENE —(P)—Walter Wesley Bradshaw, great Baylor back of 1921 and 1922, has been signed as head basketball coach and assistant to Football Coach Warren Woodson of Hardin-Simmons University, Dr. R. N. Richardson, university president, announced Saturday.

Bradshaw, all-west Conference quarterback, will arrive August 15 to begin his duties. He will replace Gene McCollum, who resigned to coach at Port Neches.

TO MEET IN FINALS

SCUHAMPTON, N. Y. —(P)—Bill Talbert of Wilmington, Del., disregarded a heavy bandage on his injured left knee Saturday and swept into the final round of the Meadow Club's annual invitation tennis tournament by defeating Seymour Greenberg of Chicago, 8-6, 3-1, 6-4.

Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., gained the other final bracket when he overcame the powerful strokes of Alejo Russell of Buenos Aires, 6-4, 3-3, 6-3.

Chestertown Favored In Wednesday's Trotting Classic

Although Chestertown, bay colt, rules favorite in the 21st renewal of the $50,000-added Hambletonian Stake for 3-year-olds over Good Time Park's famous triangular mile track, August 7, this year's Kentucky Derby of the trotting world is regarded as wide open. The Corn Tassel Derby is expected to have a total value of $60,000. The inset head is that of Walker E. Smith's Chestertown, the favorite. The lower inset shows Westfield Girl out in front in last year's race at Goshen, N. Y. The background shot shows the first turn of the 1945 classic.

DOWN SPORTSLANE

TANNER LAINE

Comes the end of Indian summer into the tangy, fall nights of September soon and we have a date in the pressbox and you have one in the stands.

King Football comes to the throne. His Midland subjects do him first homage the night of September 13 when the Ysleta High Warriors come here to test the mettle of Midland High's 1946 edition of Bulldogs.

This can't come a night too soon for us.

—SL—

There is some mutiny amongst the JayCee softballers. Some members of Ted Thompson's team are "staying away" because they weren't played in the district tourney game in Odessa when the Jakes took on Gabrel's.

In fairness to Ted, we say he sincerely played the best team he could field at Odessa in order to boost all Midland, not just any clique of players. We would like you to think it over, fellows, before you let the team down in a personal pout. Most everybody seems to think the best players were used. Of course that is a matter of opinion and yours is as good as ours or the next guy's. The City League has only a few nights left. It has been conducted as best a lot of hard workers knew how. Would you spoil it by quitting now? You remember the combination fielded at Odessa came mighty near upsetting the favorites. Could you have contributed more?

—SL—

There will be a "Help Jones" night staged out at the softball field some night this week. A game is being planned between two good teams and a collection will be taken to give "Jonesy" a little help with the expenses of a broken leg sustained in a game Friday night. Fans are asked to kick in a little heavier on the benefit night. Jones, catcher for the Reporter, is a working boy just like a lot of us and he can ill afford to miss this six weeks to two months he is going to have to do. He is a good, hard, clean player and has contributed his share to good sportsmanship in Midland this summer. The fans have seen some good entertainment in a softball way because of Jones. Let's help him out. What do you say, Midland fan folks, players and all?

ROUNDIN' UP THE STRAYS

Whoops-a-daisy, Mackey Motors has signed Pitcher Barney Hightower to fling at the R-T in the Blue playoff. Taylor, JayCee catcher, who hit that long homer against Gabrel's, says that one came "right down the middle in the gut" and I laid into it. . . . And he sure did. . . . It rolled to the merry-go-round almost. . . . The Oil Scouts are a darned good gang of boys; not an alibi did they advance for losing out in the district joust. . . . They got beat and they took it like men, despite how much it hurt to unseam like they did and lose. . . . The Gabrel boy who took a couple of swings at R. McKnight of Midland has had several encounters during this season. . . . He plays a hard game and is up with his dander very fast. . . . Don't think Moore's protest of Middlebrook's pitching for Monahans Cokes, will get very far. . . . The Coke pitcher has tossed in several tourneys this summer and not been questioned. . . . Some of the Midland boys who have been following the tourney say the pitch is legal. . . . That is good enough for us. . . . We've roped the strays, goodbye.

R-T, JC Combination Beats City Bus, 10-6

A mixture of JayCee and The Reporter-Telegram softballers beat a City Bus combination, 10 to 6, Friday night.

The game was arranged and staged after JayCees failed to field a practice-game team against City Bus.

Jack McKnight tossed the winner, backed by excellent support.

Midlanders Visit New Suprex Steam Laundry

George Kidd and Johnnie Sewell Saturday night held open house at their new Suprex Steam Laundry, 301 North Weatherford Street, and entertained scores of visitors who came to inspect the new building and the modern equipment.

The latest type of laundry equipment has been installed in the building and the Suprex Laundry will go into operation Monday, serving Midlanders and residents of this section of West Texas.

Each department of the laundry from water softeners to finishing machines is ready for service.

The Suprex Laundry is a member of the American Institute of Laundering.

HISTORIAN TIES RECORD SET BY MAN O'WAR

INGLEWOOD, CALIF. —(P)—Historian tied Man O'War's world record for the mile and five eighths Saturday as he won the $50,000 Sunset Handicap, closing day feature of the Hollywood Park meeting. The big five-year-old gelding travelled the distance in 2:40.4 to win going away from Paperboy and Triplicate.

The first U. S. coin was made in 1793.

Muffed Ball Helps Reds Win Over Brooklyn, 3-2

BROOKLYN —(P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers blew Saturday's game with Cincinnati 3-2 with two out in the ninth inning and saw their National League lead once again cut to a game and a half as the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Philadelphia Phillies.

Ahead 2-1 with nobody on and only one more to retire, Kirby Higbe walked Benny Zientara. The next batter, Ed Lukon, lifted a fly in short right field. Ed Stanky faced back for it, collided with Dixie Walker and the ball bounced out of his glove for a two-base error, scoring Zientara.

Bob Usher then tallied the winning run on Al Libke's sharp single after Grady Hatton had been intentionally passed.

Reporter Slaves Off Mackey, 8-5

The Reporter-Telegram beat Mackey Motors, 8 to 5, to remain undefeated in City League Softball play this second half and to stave off the most potent challenger to its supremacy in the Blue division.

Mitchell's men had too much and had it when it was needed in beating the Macks. However Casey Jones's lads had the champs humping to win.

The victory was costly. Jones, R-T's valuable catcher received a broken ankle on a close play at home plate. He will be out for the season.

Morrow stood out for the Reporter.

Herbie Flam Wins Tennis Championship

KALAMAZOO, MICH. —(P)—Herbie Flam, wily little Beverly Hills, Calif., teen-age tennis sensation, swept his second successive National Junior Championship at the formal dedication of Kalamazoo College's new tennis stadium Saturday, whipping Herbert (Buddy) Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in straight sets in the finals, 6-3, 9-7, 6-2.

Flam and Hugh Stewart of Los Angeles retained their National Junior Doubles title by outclassing Behrens and Dick Mouldous of New Orleans in a straight-set finale, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Bogley teamed with Deimling to beat Texas Jack Turpin of Dallas and Julian Gates of Waco 6-3, 6-4 in the boys' doubles finals.

Armed Breaks Track Record In Winning At Chicago Park

CHICAGO —(P)—Armed, the Calumet Farm's great handicap star, defeated in his last three Chicago races, bounded back Saturday with a four lengths victory in the $34,650 Sheridan Handicap to set a new mile track record at Washington Park.

The performance of Armed, carrying top weight of 130 pounds, was the greatest of his career in running the mile in 1:35 to clip three-fifths of a second off the old mark established by Gallant Knight in 1932. It was the fastest mile on record since Count Fleet won the Champagne Stakes at Belmont in 1942 in 1:34 4/5.

Ridden by N. L. Pierson, 30-year-old San Antonio, Texas, jockey, Armed became the sixth horse in the history of the American turf to equal or better 1:35 for a mile.

Armed's performance was only three-fifths of a second slower than the world record set by Equipose, 128 pounds up, at Arlington in 1932. Coupled with Pot O'Luck, which finished sixth, Armed paid $3.20, $2.40 and $2.20. Brookfield returned $3.40 and $3.00 for place, Challenge Me paid $4.20 for show.

Closing with a burst of speed in the stretch, Armed finished four lengths in advance of Brookfield Stable's Brookfield, Broliete Farm's Challenge Me was a close third. Then followed Air Sailor, Sirius, Pot O'Luck, Equifox, Sandslinger, Pellicle and Sir Bin.

Assault To Enter Saratoga Races

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. —(P)—Thoroughbreds will race down the stretch again Monday at historic Saratoga for the first time since 1942 amid predictions that the 82-year-old track's future well might be called to the tune of pari-mutuel betting machine music.

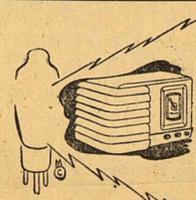

A record opening day crowd approaching 10,000 is anticipated.

The $20,000 added Wilson Mile for three-year-olds and upward highlights Monday's premiere.

More than 1,000 thoroughbreds, headed by Assault, the King Ranch triple crown champion, winner of the Kentucky Derby, Belmont Stakes and Preakness, already are stabled at the Union Avenue plant, America's oldest active race track.

Jester Lead Rainey By 153,176 Votes

DALLAS—(P)—The positions of leaders in the governor's race remained unchanged Saturday as the Texas Election Bureau released the virtually complete results. The Texas Election Bureau estimated that all but 2,000 votes cast in the July 27 Democratic primary now have been accounted for. The final count gave Beaufort Jester 442,809, Homer P. Rainey 289,633, Grover Sellers 161,589, Jerry Sadler 105,097, and John Lee Smith 101,712.

The last tabulation in the close race for attorney general gave Price Daniel 568,922 and Pat Neff, Jr., 553,980. A total of 1,121,660 votes were cast in this race. The vote did not exceed the 1940 all-time high in the governor's race primary, as had been expected. The total counted so far is 1,161,576, two contested boxes in Harris County, plus the unaccounted 2,000 votes, would bring this total to approximately 1,175,000 for 1946 as compared with the record 1940 total of 1,189,311.

Candidates Take To Road In Drive For Texas Votes

By DAVE CHEAVENS Associated Press Staff

Homer P. Rainey hits the road again and Beaufort H. Jester takes to the air early this week in their run-off campaign for governor. Rainey will start in Nacogdoches Monday with a night rally and Jester opens his drive with a radio speech at 7:30 p. m. over the Texas State Network in Dallas. While Rainey has another open-air meeting at Athens Tuesday night, Jester again goes on the radio with a talk over KRLD from Dallas.

Jester's run-off tour will begin Wednesday when he speaks at Kaufman, Greenville and Paris. He was planning speeches three times daily while Rainey's schedule called for night speeches only, with the days given over to working the town squares of as many communities as he could make.

Both candidates had scarcely paused for breath between the first and second primaries. Jester took off with a radio speech from San Antonio Thursday in which he said that "Texas must choose between Democracy and Left Wing radicalism."

Rainey opened his run-off drive for votes at Austin where he said: "The issue is reaction against progressive Democracy, do-nothingism against action."

Other State Races While chief interest in the run-off centered on the gubernatorial campaign, candidates in other races were planning their tactics. Allan Shivers, who faces Boyce House on the showdown for lieutenant-governor, will spend the first part of the week conferring with his workers in several Texas cities, and formally open with a statewide radio address from Houston Thursday.

Jesse Owens, who is in a run-off with incumbent Judge Tom L. Beauchamp for the Court of Criminal Appeals, said he would continue making speeches in as many places as possible over the state, as he did in the first primary.

Owens announced at Austin that one of his opponents in the first primary, Joseph Donnell Dickson, has given him his endorsement in the run-off race. Case March, sixth man in the gubernatorial chase, said at Dallas that he would "have no part of either Beaufort Jester or Homer Rainey in the run-off." March said those who voted for him did not lose their votes, adding that he planned to seek the office in the next primary.

Foodhandler School Will Be Held Here

A foodhandlers short training course will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the City-County Auditorium. Dr. John R. Turner, new director of the Midland City-County Health Unit, announced Saturday.

Classes will start promptly at 8:30 a. m. each morning and will be taught by Graham Smoot, senior sanitarian. This is the third foodhandlers school conducted in Midland. The first school, sponsored by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce, was held in June and a make-up course followed.

Smoot announced all new foodhandlers in the city and those who do not now hold a license may become eligible for a license by attending the course. A city ordinance requires a certificate of all persons handling food and drink in establishments in Midland. The course will include motion pictures, slides, demonstrations and discussions on basic points in food handling. The public is invited to the school.

Water Camp Applications Due In Scout Office

Looking on are Glenn Turpin, left, of Arlington, secretary of the fair, and Harry L. Stone, manager of Nashville's WSM radio station. Waggoner is president of the fair association.

Extension Wells In Chaves And Lea Completed

HOBBS, N. M.—Extension wells have been completed on the south side of the Caprock field in Chaves County, and on the south side of the West Roberts field, in Lea County.

Great Western Producers, Inc., No. 1-B Maxwell-State, 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 12-17s-31e, in Southeast Chaves County, and a southeast on the south side of the proven area in the Caprock field, made a 24-hour flowing potential of 432 barrels of oil from red sand pay at 3,022-56 feet, natural, through open tubing.

The Texas Company No. 13-O State, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 12-17s-32e, and an outpost to the West Roberts field, in West-Central Lea County, swabbed and flowed at the rate of 125 barrels of oil per day from pay section between 4,177-4,250 feet, in lime. The zone at 4,190-4,240 feet had been shot with 120 quarts of nitro-glycerine.

To Test Ellenburger Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 2 Clifton, northwest outpost to production from the Ellenburger, in the Brunson field, adjacent to Eunice, in East-Central Lea County, was preparing to drill out cement, perforate casing and test in the Ellenburger.

The project drilled to total depth of 8,096 feet and cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at that point. The Ellenburger was topped at 8,010 feet, on an elevation of 3,443 feet. The formation had shown it would produce oil and gas, before the casing was run, and operator expects to complete a well of some size. It is 660 feet from south and 810 feet from west lines of section 4-22s-37e.

Repollo Oil Company (Sinclair Prairie) No. 1 Simmons, wildcat in southeast quarter of section 25-21s-37e, and about two miles east and slightly north of Eunice, had penetrated below 8,373 feet, in an un- identified lime section and was drilling ahead.

No Increase Developed C. W. Chancellors No. 1 State, Central Lea County wildcat, about two miles east of the Maljamar field, and in southeast quarter of section 27-17s-33e, had reached 4,682 feet, and was drilling ahead in hard, dry lime.

The section from 4,540 feet to about 4,560 feet, had shown for about 250,000 cubic feet of gas and around 10 barrels of oil per day. No signs of increased production have been developed below 4,560 feet.

Contract depth is 4,700 feet, and unless better indications of oil and gas are found by the time that point is reached, the project probably will be abandoned and plugged. Osats and Foster No. 1 H. S. Record, old shallow dry hole located 1,650 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 15-20s-36e, and 1,650 feet west of a producer on the west side of the Eunice-Monument field, in Central-East Lea County, was at total depth of 3,904 feet, and was treating the section between the bottom of the 5 1/2-inch casing, cemented at 3,650 feet, and the total depth, with acid. That zone had shown some oil, natural. Testing after acid will start early in the week.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Black Hills unit, Southwest Chaves County exploration, in section 21-37s-20e, and about 25 miles west of Artesia, was making hole below 1,605 feet in anhydrite.

Drilling has been slowed up on account of cavities which have caused lost circulation. This wildcat is slated to go to around 3,000 feet. Union Oil Company of California, No. 1-A McMillen, South-Central Otero County prospector in section 9-25s-13e, had drilled under 5,158 feet in lime, and was continuing.

The Pure Oil Company No. 1 Federal, in section 31-3n-28e, in Northeast Bedaca County, about 13 miles east of Fort Sumner, was making hole past 4,499 feet in an un- identified lime.

Richfield Oil Corporation No. 1 Drought-Booth, wildcat in McKinley County, in section 4-15s-6w, and on southeast side of the San Juan Basin of Northwest New Mexico, was coring at 7,141 feet, in granite

By JAMES C. WATSON, Oil Editor

HERNDSON-McMILLAN ARE GOING INDEPENDENT

A new firm of independent oil operators will start functioning in Midland Sept. 1. The concern will be composed of W. Dave Henderson and J. Guy McMillan.

Both are well known in the industry. Henderson currently is district geologist for Phillips Petroleum Company for West Texas and New Mexico. Prior to that he was with Stanolind Oil & Gas Company about 16 years.

When he shifted from Stanolind to Phillips, late in 1945, Dave was division geologist for the company at Fort Worth. He had gone to that job after serving about two and one-half years as district geologist in Midland.

McMillan, who has been division landman for Stanolind in Fort Worth more than two years, left Midland to take that job. He was district landman here for a considerable time. His first experience in oil business was in production work with the old Young-Lee Oil Company. He followed that by doing land work and he has also handled legal matters, as he has a law degree.

They plan to open an office here and do general oil development work. Henderson will do consulting geology and McMillan will handle brokerage and other activities.

Both have resigned their present connections effective Sept. 1. Their successors have not been announced.

JOHN WARD GOES WITH GOLDSMITH COMMITTEE

John Ward, who has been doing petroleum engineering for the Railroad Commission of Texas in the Midland district since his return from the Navy several months ago, has resigned and is now a field engineer for the Goldsmith Pool Engineering Committee.

MANY RUMORS HAVE BEEN GENERATED

Many rumors have circulated and much surmising has been done in the petroleum industry regarding the grapevine reports that Shell Oil Company, Inc., was planning to enlarge its personnel and activities in Midland.

All-rumors came to a head last week when it was announced Shell had taken a long-term lease on a large amount of space in the Petroleum Building.

No official information has been released by Shell regarding how many more persons will be added to its Midland payroll when all the additional office accommodations become available.

MEXICO ASKS PRIVATE OIL CONCERNS FOR HELP

The Mexican government is asking bids from private operators and companies for the testing for oil on a 75,000-acre concession near San Ignacio in Sinaloa.

The call for bids stated the agreement will be made on a 30-year term and that the government will take 12 1/2 per cent of the production in royalties.

This is the first official call to private business to bid on the development of Mexican oil resources since the government expropriated most foreign oil properties in 1938.

The announcement carried no restrictions prohibiting foreigners or foreign companies from bidding on the concession.

It is generally known in the oil industry that Mexico's efforts to operate its petroleum development and producing business under government control has been far from satisfactory—in fact, it has been a flat failure.

The lesson the Mexican government apparently has learned, that the nation cannot do a good job of developing and handling its natural resources under absolute government control and operation, as evidenced by the call for help from private enterprise—either domestic or foreign, should be a warning to the United States.

It should be sufficient evidence that this country does not want or need government control, operation or expropriation of the petroleum—either as the result of a direct take-over—or through indirect means, such as unnecessary regulations or unfair and unjust taxes—as are regularly proposed by uninformed and misinformed persons—particularly in political campaigns and in legislative assemblies.

AAOWDC RESEARCH PROGRAM TO CONTINUE

The American Association of Oil-well Drilling Contractors has announced it will continue during the next 12 months the research program started about a year ago to try to eliminate the large amount of drillstem troubles which have been plaguing the industry.

That program was instigated in the Permian Basin and J. E. Warren of Midland is chairman of the association's committee directing the work, which is being done by the Battelle Memorial Institute of Columbus, Ohio.

Recent reports reveal that much good already has been accomplished by the project and the continued study is expected to effect further improvements.

DURRELL TO PROVIDE NEW OFFICE SPACE

Lee Durrell is doing something about relieving the shortage of office space in Midland. He has leased approximately 5,000 square feet of floor space in the basement of the Crawford Hotel formerly used for storage, and is remodeling it, and will be ready soon to offer portions of it for lease.

HOWARD PROPERTIES CHANGE OWNERS

Tobe Foster of Lubbock reports that he had bought the interests of L. C. Harrison of Dallas and Lubbock in 21 wells in the Itan-Howard field, in Howard County. The consideration was not revealed.

No Shows In Latest DST Attempted At Crockett County Ellenburger Wildcat

By JAMES C. WATSON Oil Editor

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-G University, Northeast Crockett County Ellenburger wildcat, about 12 miles southeast of the Burkhardt field, nearest production from the lower Ordovician, attempted a drillstem test at 8,024-47 feet.

The tool was in the hole one hour and 30 minutes. The packer failed at the end of one hour. Recovery was 2,460 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

Will Try Again

Operator was slated to core ahead for a short distance and attempt another drillstem test. Location is in southwest corner of section 12, block 39, University survey. A core through the zone covered by the latest drillstem test had some signs of bleeding distillate.

The Texas Company No. 1-G Fraser, East Winkler County semi-wildcat, one-half mile north of the Wheeler field, was making hole below 7,445 feet in Devonian chert, topped at 8,736 feet on an elevation of 3,155 feet.

According to some geologists that puts the Texaco project 348 feet low to Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 Wheeler, one-half mile south, which has shown for production from both the Devonian and from the Fusselman section of the Silurian, and which was making hole below 9,935 feet in lime and shale, at last report.

Texas 1-G Fraser will be drilled to about 7,750 feet and a drillstem test run on the top of the Devonian.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company and Westbrook-Thompson No. 35-A Hendrick, West-Central Winkler County wildcat, which entered the Ellenburger at 13,385 feet, is bot-tomed at 13,416 feet, and was trying to loosen/stuck drill pipe.

Operator plans to core ahead to about 13,450 feet and take a drillstem test.

Another Low One

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-E Walton, 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 20, block 77, psi survey, and on the northwest side of the Keystone-Ellenburger field, in North-Central Winkler, stopped at 11,156 feet, in Simpson shale, and plugged back to 9,220 feet.

A string of pipe will be run and shows of possible production in the Permian, upper Ordovician, and in the Silurian, and Devonian, will be tested.

It is understood that the exploration was extra low on the lower beds.

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Sealy-Smith, West-Southeast Winkler County discovery from the Holt and Clear Fork sections of the Permian, in northwest corner of section 71, block A, G&MBA-A survey, and two and one-half miles west of closest production in the North Monahans field, has progressed to 5,465 feet, in lime, and was continuing.

H. W. Snowden No. 1 Griffin, Reeves County wildcat, in section 25, block C-12, psi survey, which had been shut down several weeks on a total depth of 4,003 feet, in anhydrite, has resumed drilling, and was making hole below 1,050 feet, in the Delaware lime. Top on that formation had not been reported.

Turner Twisted Off Humble No. 1 Turner, East Midland County wildcat about 12 miles southeast of Midland, which is slated to go to 11,500 feet, or production at a lesser depth, was bot-tomed at 4,309 feet in lime, fishing for twisted off drill pipe.

Lion Chenoweth Scurry County prospector, to 3,000 feet, in section 19B, block 97, H&TC survey, had penetrated below 2,876 feet in dry lime, and was going ahead.

The Texas Company No. 1-P State, (University), discovery for production in the Tubb-Permian, in northwest quarter of section 15, block 12, University survey, and about six miles northwest of the Martin field, in Southwest Andrews County, was preparing to take official potential test and complete.

The project had flowed from 125 barrels to 150 barrels of oil per day from section at 7,170-7,250 feet, where a total of 11,000 gallons of acid have been injected.

Ball Says New Congress Will Pass Labor Laws

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Proposals embracing a new, over-all government labor policy designed to reduce the threat of national tieups by industry-wide strikes will be laid before Congress when it returns, Senator Ball (R-Minn) said Saturday.

Ball said that with the help of colleagues of like views he intends to draft during the legislative vacation a rounded program he believes a Democratic-Republican coalition will support.

Ball said he thinks that after the November elections congressional support for an extensive revision of the labor laws will be strong enough to enact changes in the law despite any President opposition. President Truman vetoed the Case Bill in which the 79th Congress attacked the problem, and his disapproval was upheld.

Houston Citizens Pitch In To Build Blind Vet New Home

HOUSTON—(AP)—Materials, labor and money are flowing in from all over the city as efforts of the sympathetic citizenry take shape to build blinded Veteran James T. Sanders a home.

Less than a week ago it was brought to public attention that the disabled 36-year-old veteran and his wife and teen-age daughter were about to be evicted from a rented house. The OPA prevented that, but Houston decided the situation called for more.

Now plans are well underway to build a home and woodworking shop where the Sanders can live securely.

Saturday the carpenters local union, of which Sanders is still a member, announced a fund started Friday night had reached $1,305. Together with donations from people all over town collected by the Disabled American Veterans, this brings the total collected for the house to $2,192.

George G. Marquette, Jr., Houston contractor, has offered a 30-man crew of builders. The cement finishers union local Friday night voted to do all the cement work needed. A local firm has promised donation of enough exterior finishing material for the project. A furniture store said it would supply the Sanders any furniture they need.

Big Drop Predicted In Price Of Meats

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Meat prices, recently released from government control, will drop within two months to their lowest level in four years, President Adam Guth of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers predicted Saturday.

Guth said filled lockers and the housewife's own price control system would gradually lower prices.

"Prices are not too much out of line right now," he declared. "The premium meat which brings fancy prices represents only 15 per cent of the nation's supply. Plenty of plain, ordinary beef is available at a fair price."

There are 169 pounds of air in an average size room.

Army Says Reds Forced Germans To Steal Papers

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—(AP)—The U. S. Army announced Saturday night that two of the three Russian soldiers recently released by U. S. authorities in Berlin had forced German employes of the Army to deliver secret American documents and had engaged in "clandestine activities" in the U. S. sector.

At the same time in Berlin, the three soldiers in question charged that they were "treated like criminals" during their detention in the American zone, and that the Americans attempted to force one of them "to betray his country and become an American citizen."

Brig. Gen. Edwin L. Sibert, chief of U. S. Intelligence in Europe, said the two officers, Lts. Sedov and Schulkin, were wearing civilian clothing when they and their driver, Pvt. Kuznetsov, were arrested in the American sector of Berlin. Sibert said these were the charges: "Engaging in clandestine activities in the U. S. sector of Berlin."

"Forcing German employes of the U. S. Army to deliver classified documents and information about the U. S. Army and its policies."

"Possessing inadequate documents authorizing their stay in the U. S. sector of Berlin."

An intelligence officer said he believed the Russians "had tried to get information regarding the disposition of American troops and the organization of units."

Fraulein Gave Tip It was understood that the Russians had been picked up as a result of a tip from a German fraulein.

The three Russians were released July 17 by U. S. authorities, apparently in exchange for the release of an American couple held in the Russian zone. Warrant Officer and Mrs. Samuel L. Harrison of San Antonio, Texas, who had been detained 15 days by the Russians for unauthorized entry into the sector.

Sibert's statement said that during their interrogation by American authorities, the Russians "withheld information to which the United States authorities were entitled and which would have established their true identity."

It was noted that the interview came off three days after Capt. Harold Cobin and Lt. George Wyatt, held incommunicado by the Russians for 27 days, charged in statements to the press that the Russians accused them of spying and questioned them closely.

Elegant Look Forecast For Fall

Fall fashion cuts a ladylike silhouette. Left, this bronze wool suit takes honors for its rippling peplum banded with muskrat, its soft fur cravat and its full sleeves. Right, long, black and white striped jacket has new dipping hemline, bow-tied fan-tail, and diagonally striped sleeves.

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — (NEA) — "Let's dress up" is the theme of the fall style story, which tells a tale in early previews of the triumph of ladylike elegance over the hoydens of fashion and of the feats of sleeves, peplums, tunics, bold pockets and drapery in freeing the silhouette from its sheath-like prison. Longer skirts—at least an inch longer—help and abet the ladylike look. They sway, ripple, flare or dip in back to free the silhouette. The back-dipping hemline, seen in almost every collection, gives both dresses and coats the illusion of much more calf-covering than the tape-line measures. The long jacket that has made the grade as a short-fitted topper this fall owes its new role to a back dip and a fish-tail swing. Launched by Philip Mangone in striped and plaid tweeds, these coats with full dolman sleeves, designed for easy ensembling with suits, can be worn until furs come home from the storage vaults. Both the unfurred and the pelleted coat show a swing away from the boxy toward the fitted silhouette. Topping the shaved-thin sparseness of the wool coat's thin-rib is blousness above in ballooning sleeves, fullness below in gathers, pleats or the bulky look of fur. That also is the fashion line followed by suits. In suits a corseletted or belted-in waist is usually made to look more wee-sized by what loops out in sleeves above or below in tunics, big pockets or peplums. If it's a fur-trimmed wool suit, supple bands of Persian lamb, nutria, broadtail, ermine or muskrat border a peplum to make it flare out like a ballerina's skirt. The dress for fall turns the same profile to the fashion spotlight. But added to the current repertoire of ripples is one which the dress claims exclusively—drapery, used on bodice or skirt. On the skirt, it takes on the look of the harem Queen's. On one sprightly series of dresses, swag drapery is introduced by adding a vivid satin scarf, integrated into the design of the cocktail gown. One attention-getter of Patric's design is a black crepe dress which yields all interest to a bright satin scarf, sequin-embroidered with bold vari-colored motifs and the French motto, "Cherchez la femme," lettered so large that all who run may read its saucy message.

Better Figure Hints

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Most women could pass up bread and butter entirely, and while helping humanity's all-out fight against famine help themselves to a much nicer figure in a longer life-expectancy. So say some nutritionists, without mincing words.

For those who want to reduce, now is the time when you can do the world a service by substituting low-caloried foods in plentiful supply for scarce high-caloried grains and fats.

To help you key your reducing diet to the times, other nutritionists—this time the food specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture—show you how to subtract calories so the total gives you a safe figure-trimming diet. Here's how:

When you omit one tablespoon of fat, for example from your diet—in fried potatoes and salad dressing—you cut 100 calories from your daily intake.

To trim off from 100 to 300 calories, substitute fruits and custards for such baked desserts as pie and cake.

You shave off another 100 calories when you pass up a thick slice of bread or an average serving of cereal.

Add these up, and see if you aren't lopping off calories in sizeable chunks—enough in a well-planned diet to lop off surplus pounds. And think how much grain and fat would be released for the starving peoples of war-wrecked countries if every over-weight woman gave up just enough of these to slough off her burdensome pounds.

What you can have, because they're plentiful and healthful, are fruits, and vegetables, including potatoes. For the Vitamin B that you need, the food specialists suggest that you eat seed-type vegetables often—peas, lima beans and corn. They insist that you also eat plenty of protein foods, such as milk, eggs and poultry.

A trimmer figure and abundant energy are rewards for substituting fruits and vegetables for scarce grains in your diet.

All of these suggestions are for women who tip the scales as much as 15 pounds more than they should. If you are under 20 years old, are a young mother, or have organic complications, you are an exception who should reduce under a physician's guidance.

acids may be bought at the local drug stores.

Points for success in freezing foods:

Freeze only fresh tender products, over ripe, bruised or fruits that show signs of decay should not be frozen, green fruits should not be frozen, blanch or steam foods, cover with syrup, pack in air-tight-moisture proof containers, and freeze quickly.

The quicker the food is frozen, the smaller the ice particles and the less breaking of tissues.

Specific information on preparing foods for freezing is available at the office of the home demonstration agent.

knee-work of the swordsman gives you a good, all-over pull on tense muscles. By strengthening shoulder muscles, it discourages a slump. The lunge—it's been borrowed by coloratura soprano Pierette Alarie to use as her triple-duty exercise—puts an extra tug on waist and hips. This is, therefore, her mainstay. She says, for holding the line at these strategic spots:

To adopt this unique exercise as your very own, stand erect, with feet together, arms down at sides. On the count of one, stretch arms high, overhead, straighten elbows, and extend right foot about 24 inches ahead of the left.

Count two, bend the right knee as far forward as possible and slip left leg backwards to act as a brace, keeping your weight over the right leg.

Count three, stand erect, and lower arms. Repeat, alternating left and right legs five times the first day, and daily increase the count to 15.

Teen-Agers Stick To Beauty Routine For Fall

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

It's not too late for you teen-agers who fret over a face-shine which comes from over-active oil glands, to map a successful summertime campaign that will swing you through school's opening doors with something to show in a young, fresh and enviable skin.

Point one in your campaign strategy is your diet. Take advantage of summer's abundance to increase the intake of fresh fruits and vegetables, which nurture a clear skin. By-pass the gooey confections.

Indulge your hot-weather craving for cool citrus juice drinks. Let less strong-willed friends linger at the soda fountain or dive into candy sacks.

Point two is to set yourself straight on a skin-care routine that begins and ends with proper cleansing. A bland, soapy scrubbing, morning, noon, and night — easy does it and not a blitz attack—is the backbone of the daily routine for a glamour-puss-to-be.

You will need only a few cosmetics to abet this thrice-daily removal of oil and dirt which, if left on, will clog and bedevil pores. Instead of squandering your allowance on heavy or bizarre creams, which older women's skins can take but young ones can't, settle for the few which are specially formulated for teen-age needs.

On the shelf should be a special fluffy cleanser, the sole function of which is to float off every stiten of make-up. The companion of this cosmetic is a mildly stimulating astringent, intended to act as a check on a dismaying shine and to be put on before make-up. Third member of this trio, recommended by specialists, is a protective foundation lotion. This also has a slightly astringent action which helps to counteract oiliness, to ward off coarsening effects of hot summer sun, and to encourage make-up to stay put.

Rosie Riveter's Future Is Gloomy—Science Offers Bright Career

Surfers of the peacetime job future for women workers indicate excellent opportunities in science and laboratory research . . . But the forecast is gloomy for war-trained women mechanics because of stiff competition from demobilized servicemen.

By EPSIE KINARD NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Rosie the riveter, Winnie the welder, and Portia the lawyer are being steadily evicted from their jobs by the on-rushing tide of demobilized men seeking payroll berths.

Since V-E Day, about 1,000,000 women industrial workers, symbolized by Rosie and Winnie, have pocketed their last pay checks, according to the U. S. Department of Labor.

Storm signals are going up for lady statisticians, accountants and lawyers because of severe competition from returned servicemen.

Women flyers also face dismal job prospects. So many Air Force-trained men have cast their future lot with aviation that few spots are left where ladies may spread wings, says an industrial relations spokesman for a leading air-transport company.

The female bureaucrat, with the exception of the medical and social worker, also has tough going. High executives, administrative assistants and women with special technical training are being laid off in large numbers, according to a survey made by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

But the director of this survey, Federation President Margaret Hickey, has cheerful news for petticoated scientists. Basing her statement on returns from questionnaires and facts dredged from interviews, she sees excellent openings for women in chemistry, physics, bacteriology, plant physiology, pomology and laboratory research. There is a crying need, says Miss Hickey, for women therapeutic workers in veterans' rehabilitation centers as semi-professional and trained aides. She says an unmet need exists also for dietitians, nurses and trained hospital administrators.

Factory Workers Retrain

But the lot of the displaced worker is not hopeless—not if she's skilled. For instance, Rosie's and Winnie's skills might be transferred with little retraining to production of electronic radio tubes, where 80 per cent of the vast number of employees at a Harrison, N. J., plant are women. Emphasizing the need for feminine skills, the Radio Corporation of America is campaigning for 1000 women to make radio receiver tubes.

Erstwhile war workers facing a gloomy future are those whose hastily acquired skills satisfied desperate employers who now exact more competence and efficiency. The rosier future for the white-collar girl, trained or willing to be, is in the almost exclusive "woman's world" of food and fashion. Says Lore Brophy, nationally known employment counselor: "Many women have learned rather painfully that here it's safest to stay if they don't want to be ousted by the male bread winner."

She predicts that the horizons of these "women's worlds" will be so enlarged by booms in the export fashion trade and by new interest in food and vitamins that the two fields will absorb growing numbers of women workers reshuffled from the masculine fields of employment.

In the secretarial field, where most doors open only to the gentler tap, the demand can't be filled, says Miss Brophy, who insists that women's chances are just as good in the advertising, radio, personnel and teaching fields. Cited as safe from aggressive masculine competition are those industries which manufacture textiles, clothing, home furnishings, shoes, and jewelry. That Miss and Mrs. Woman Worker have advanced three steps forward—in industry, commerce and science—and by back-tracking only two are still one step ahead seems to be the cheerful consensus of opinion of the employment experts.

CASES REPORTED TO UNIT

LIPSTICK GUARDS SENSITIVE TISSUE

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Lip blisters caused by an excessive dose of sun are a messy aftermath of fun which can be neatly avoided by occasionally drawing in your lips—as you do when you blend rouge—during long periods of exposure. That's a help to girls with lip tissue that is particularly sensitive to the summer sun.

Others can guard their mouths against peeling sun rays with a protective coating of lipstick, renewed as often as it's chewed off. Lubricating oils in a lipstick—and in pomades, too—also help to offset the dehydrating effects of the sun, which can make blisters pop.

If you get blisters before you can take measures to prevent them, the best treatment is with spirits of camphor, used to dry the horrid things up. During the treatment period, it's a wise idea to pass up lipstick.

THE LAUNDRY PROBLEM was a real problem for Harold Robinson . . . but not for long. Realizing the need, he built a completely new washer, equipped it with Maytag machines and hot and cold soft water. And soft water isn't to be overlooked! To add to your comfort an air conditioner was installed which means cool breezes while you wash. ROBINSON'S WASHATERIA at 505 South Baird is open weekdays from 7 to 6, and on Thursday nights till 8. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Rosenbaum see to it that every wash-day convenience is afforded you. Remember Robinson's next washday.

Everything's new . . . this is a complete remodeling and redecoration job, and even the fountain has been moved so that it will be more easily accessible from lobby and street entrance! Keep watching for the opening!

Three Little Fishermen Catch Three Little Fish

It isn't every Tom, Dick and Harry who can celebrate a joint birthday, but that's what Tom, Dick and Harry Krauss, Chicago triplets, did recently. On their fourth birthday, they went fishing in nearby Des Plaines river, as pictured, above. After . . .

. . . their day's adventure as embryo Izaak Wallons, they returned home to regale their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Krauss, with wondrous tales of "the big ones that got away." However, they didn't return empty-handed, catching a fish apiece—one of them almost 2½ inches long.

HORNY CUTICLES YIELD TO CREAM

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Horny cuticle around the toenail that ordinarily yields to nothing short of a chiropodist's drill will usually soften up and shed off with prolonged soakings in cold cream or oil.

What brings this up are readers, foot-conscious now that shoes are more off than on, who ask how to spruce up neglected toenails.

Bandages on individual toes, used to confine the lubricant after it's applied, will speed up the cuticle-softening job. Wrap up your toes at night, of course. You wouldn't want your feet to be seen on the beach sprouting bandages.

If legs are marred by hackles—this is also a reader-complaint—you can beautify their surface with lanolin creams, just as you can the skin on your face. There are also softening lotions that work right into the skin and leave no greasy residue on sheets, if you decide to beautify legs as well as toes overnight.

The hornet injects more poison when it stings than does any other insect.

SULFO CREAM

for oily-disturbed skin

I never seemed to be able to master those minor blemishes that occasionally used to break out on my face. Then I used Gourielli Sulfo Cream. Happy day! It gave my skin just the help it needed in controlling those distressful flaws like surface-clogged pores, scabiness and externally caused pimples.

What's more—I no longer try to "cover up" a shiny face with constant re-powdering. Now, I prevent the shine with my marvelous Sulfo Cream. 1.50

Before applying the cream, I wash with Gourielli Emulsion Soap, a mild but scrupulous cleanser, so essential with oily skin. 1.50

SOME PERSONS ARE ALWAYS SPOILING A GOOD NAP

ROCKFORD, ILL. (AP)—A 40-year-old man taking a nap on a narrow catwalk atop a 65-foot silo in the downtown district apparently forgot to hand up the "do not disturb" sign.

Workmen noticed him napping, climbed a vertical ladder, and then called the fire department when they couldn't persuade him to find some other place to sleep.

Firemen fastened a rope around the man's waist and lowered him to the ground. He identified himself and walked away, leaving the firemen somewhat mystified.

Nazi Trial Chief Attraction For Reich Tourists

By HAL BOYLE
NUERNBERG, GERMANY (AP)—The 21 members of the vanished Nazi hierarchy being tried here for war crimes have become the biggest tourist attraction in Germany. They don't like it.

At each recess spectators crowd to the railing to get as close a look as possible at the men whose empire has come down to a prison cell and a seat in a courtroom box. "Look at Hess!" someone exclaims audibly. "Look at Julius Streicher, he's eating a piece of bread!"

Particularly maddening to the defendants are spectators who stare at them through binoculars. This so enrages Alfred Jodl, the lean red-nosed former chief of staff of the German General Staff, that on occasion he screws his hands together around his eyes as if he held a pair of field glasses himself and glares back at the offending onlooker, jabbering angrily in German the while.

This performance always brings an audience laugh, and angers Jodl even more.

Their long confinement has broken the cockiness of most defendants. They all have had a chance to tell their stories, and now as the black-robed German defense attorneys present their final summaries, the defendants sit dully or stalk moodily around the room.

Herman Goering remains the most virile, commanding presence, and the one who has won most courtroom respect because of his lack of hypocrisy and his continued allegiance to his dead fuhrer.

Goering has an almost benevolent profile, but when he turns his head you get a sudden shock as if you had dived into a woodland pool and came up to find yourself staring into the leering face of a satyr. The eyes have a thyroid intensity, the mouth holds a voluptuous cruelty, and the skin of his cheeks hangs loosely over the lost fat.

Physicians have weaned him from the narcotics habit. He sits hunched forward with an American Army blanket wrapped around his body. Sciatica troubles him.

"He has lost interest," one court-

EGGNOG SHAMPOO WILL BRIGHTEN HAIR

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

How to obtain the brightening effects on the hair of an egg shampoo without lathering an uncooked omelette over your head is a feat cosmetic science helps you to put across.

A new, ready-prepared eggnog shampoo, containing the real ingredients in concentrated form, makes the egg as easy for the hair to take as a pleasant liquid soap.

Two latherings of the stuff, rinsed into hair like suds and rubbed off with tepid water, will free hair of dulling film like a fairy-tale princess freed of her thrall.

Women who use egg shampoos as subtle bleaches will like this one also for the other ingredients it contains to make the hair stay put and give it extra shine.

room attendant told me, "since his attempt failed to create a legend around Hitler. He feels the other defendants let him down."

Now when a German attorney speaks disparagingly of Hitler as a man who befuddled his followers and led his nation to ruin, Goering cups his face in his hands and slowly shakes his head.

LEATHER HANDBAG ADVERTISES CARE

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Leather handbags need care and grooming if you want yours to advertise you as a purse-proud lady.

To whip up a shine on a dulling leather with the least outlay of elbow grease, bag-designer Richard Koret says to use furniture or automobile wax of the white paste variety. Before applying, clean your bag with a slightly damp cloth. Then spread on a uniformly light film of the wax and rub quickly and evenly over the surface, taking care that none of the paste is left lurking in crannies.

Here are more tips from Koret on bag care. To preserve contours, he says unload your bag when its not in use, and stuff with tissue paper. Don't overload when you fill it up again. Sags, sprained hinges, loose clasps and worn-down handles—all of which hasten a bag into discard or entail expensive repairs—are faults that can usually be traced to the foolish practice of filling a bag beyond its capacity.

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration has approved modifications for the Lockheed Constellation which will permit the giant passenger plane to return to regular airline service soon.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Atom Test Evaluators Say Bomb May Dispose Of Fleet For Months

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman's atomic bomb evaluators said Saturday that a combination of the Bikini underwater explosion with the overhead burst first tested might "effectively dispose of a fleet for many months."

"We are convinced," the Evaluation Commission added in a report on the offensive results of the second, underwater test, that "distance is the best defense."

The commission was headed by Senator Hatch (D-N. M.). It declared both Bikini tests "strongly indicate that future war employing atomic bombs may well destroy nations and change present standards of civilization."

"To us who have witnessed the devastating effects of these tests," the commission added, "it is evident that if there is to be any security or safety in the world, war must be eliminated as a means of settling differences among nations."

A second report, made public simultaneously by the White House, by the Joint Chiefs of Staff Evaluation Board, declared it is not too soon to point to the necessity for immediate and intensive research into several problems posed by the atomic bomb, adding:

"The poisoning of large volumes of water presents such a problem. Study must be given to procedure for protecting not only ships crews but also the populations of cities against radiological effects as were demonstrated in Bikini Lagoon."

Price Control Board Back Into Operation

The Midland County Price Control Board is functioning exactly as it did before June 30. The status Saturday, an office director said, was "stand by for further orders and keep working."

A conference will be held with all sellers who were in violation of OPA regulations on or before June 30, regardless of whether they are under price control now or not, an official said.

The price control panel still has a full staff with R. W. Hamilton as chairman. Having received OPA dry grocery ceiling prices to be posted by August 6, the office here was mailing these to Midland merchants Saturday.

Girl's Pet Dog Found Shot In Midland Lot

There is one person in Midland 11-year-old Doris Morningstar, 810 West Missouri Street, doesn't like—to put it mildly. That is the person who recently shot her pet dog, "Streaky," and threw his body in a vacant lot near her home.

Doris missed her brown, black and white streaked dachshundbulldog Thursday. Friday she found his body—with two bullet holes in it.

"My advice to other dog owners is to keep their dog away from such a mean person," Doris told the Reporter-Telegram over the telephone, her voice trailing off into almost a sob.

Strike Losses Take Sharp Drop

Heavy diagonal line on Newschart shows the sharp drop in man-days lost through labor walkouts, from February's high of 21,500,000 to June's 3,800,000, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics figures. Although the nation has been free of major strikes in basic industries ever since June 7, 350 work stoppages, involving 150,000 workers, began during June. However, the first six months of 1946 cost the U. S. 85,500,000 man-days of idleness—over three times the toll of 1937, which was highest recorded year since 1927.

OPA Authorizes Price Hike On Bread, Flour

WASHINGTON—(P)—OPA has authorized temporary retail price increase of one cent on regular-sized loaves of bread, and about one cent a pound on flour.

OPA also granted increases of one cent a dozen on bread-type, rolls. It raised ceilings 15 per cent on biscuits, crackers and cookies.

OPA also announced an immediate retail increase of two cents on eight-ounce packages of macaroni and one cent on smaller size packages of noodles.

Consumer prices were raised one to three cents a package on all major types of breakfast cereals except corn flakes, puffed wheat and puffed rice.

The increases apply on bran flakes, malted cereal granules, oat cereal, rice flakes, shredded wheat, wheat cereal, wheat flakes and whole bran.

Consumer packages of corn meal and hominy grits were increased from one to two cents a pound.

The flour increase, and indirectly the higher prices on bread and bakery products, results from a decision against restoration at this time of the flour subsidy, which lapsed July 1.

The price of flour is increased by the amount of the former subsidy—$1.03 a hundred pounds—plus an allowance for the amount by which the current market prices for wheat exceeds the previous ceiling on wheat.

The total flour increase amounts to $1.11 per 100 pounds east of the Rockies, and $1.24 on the West Coast.

(Soil Conservation Service Photo) Officials of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District recommended that farmers in this area cut their sorghum stubble high for protection against winds which whip fertile topsoil from unprotected fields.

Area Farmers Urged To Leave High Sorghum To Combat Wind Erosion

Supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District recommended leaving all crop residue possible on the land this year. Farmers who have started cutting their stubble are urged to leave a 12-inch to 14-inch stubble for protection against blowing. Where feed is too short to leave the stubble high, the land can be protected by planting cover crops of rye or barley this fall. On fields that are subject to severe blowing, all the stubble from grain sorghum crops should be left and cover crops planted.

Historic Luxembourg Palace In Paris Serves As Home For European Peace Conference

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
PARIS—(NEA)—The bedroom in the Luxembourg Palace at Paris, where Marie de Medicis once swapped palace chit-chat with her husband, Henry IV of France, has become the information center for the World Peace Conference now underway. Marie certainly never expected 17th century love nest to be a hangout for the reporters of the world; but French authorities are making every effort to see that both reporters and the delegates have everything for their comfort. The Luxembourg Palace lacks the imposing majesty of nearby Versailles, where the last peace treaties were made, but it ranks second among France's royal abodes. Built for Marie on her marriage to Henry IV some 330 years ago, it is almost pure Florentine in design. Its towering windows open onto the beautiful palace gardens. Ceilings are high and panelings are all hand carved. The Peace Conference is being held in that section of the building which has been used by the French Senate for its sessions. The Hall has a seating capacity of 314 plus a double-tiered balcony which can accommodate another 500. Accommodations for 150 working press is reserved here. In a room immediately below the Conference Hall, 48 telephone booths plus teleprinters have been installed for newsmen. The newsroom has been wired for sound so that reporters can sit at their desks and follow all debates. A modern recording studio has been built on the first floor. Right off the newsroom the thoughtful French Foreign Office has installed a bar. Another bar and tearoom was built on the first floor.

In the elaborate chapel of Luxembourg Palace, clerks unpack records arriving for the World Peace Conference.

Reorganization Of Congress May Give Few Texans More Power, Hurt Others

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special-Washington Service
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The new Legislative Reorganization Act will have a far reaching effect on Texas members of Congress. The measure has three important sections: it revamps committees, establishes a pension or annuity retirement program, and increases salaries from $10,000 to $12,500 annually, plus a $2,500 expense account.

Opening of the 80th Congress next January 3 will almost certainly precipitate some lively, intra-party scraps over membership on committees, primarily in the house because the number is reduced from 44 to 19 standing committees. Whether the Democrats win or lose control of that body, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Borham is expected to have an important say-so in determination of a policy to be followed in selecting membership on committees.

Under the reorganization some of the oldest and most important committees are merged. The House Military and Naval Committees become the Committee on Armed Services. Seniority has always determined chairmanships, and undoubtedly will continue to be the determining factor. But the question arising out of the organization is the selection of a chairman of a new committee created by a merger, and of determining whether a chairman of a dissolved committee shall assume seniority over a younger congressman, from a service standpoint, who happens to be on a committee absorbing the other group.

Thomason May Be Hurt
Looking into the possible effects of a new setup on the 21 Texas house members one finds this situation:

Reps. Edwing Thomason of El Paso and Paul Kilday of San Antonio rank second and fifth, respectively, on the Military Committee, while Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson of Austin ranks third on the Naval Committee. Each of these groups now has 27 members. The new armed services committee will have only 33 members. Who will be left out in the change? Presumably seniority will be a controlling factor, but under that procedure Texas would have three members. This undoubtedly would meet with vigorous objection from other states. If one of these Texans then had to give up his assignment on that group, would he have to go to the bottom of some other committee? As for the chairmanship of the Armed Services Committee, seniority probably will dictate the selection of Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia, the present head of the Naval Committee. His service here exceeds that of Rep. Andrew Jackson May of Kentucky, now head of the military group. Thomason, who

Cinema Celebrates 20 Years Since Sound Was Introduced By Inventor Edison

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Celebration of the 20th anniversary of the Talking Picture August 6 reminds us that the festive movie-makers have their dates mixed; in fact, they're celebrating front-backwards.

Long before 1926, when various inventors began running around Hollywood babbling about movies that could be heard as well as seen, a fellow named Thomas A. Edison began inventing a gadget that could be seen as well as heard.

He had the talkie in the form of his famous phonograph, and in order to supplement its already wide entertainment appeal he set about inventing a device that would show, in motion, the sounds he recorded on his wax record. He even worked on devices for synchronizing the records and his "moving magic lantern."

So out of the talkie the first movie was born, for Edison devised and produced the first real motion picture in 1889.

However, this quibble is a mere technicality, for Hollywood has every reason to remember 1926 as the date when talkies were born. In that year Warner Brothers, then an obscure and often financially embarrassed movie firm, brought out the Vitaphone, which consisted of Mr. Edison's wax records synchronized with a vastly improved version of Mr. Edison's "galloping tintype" invention.

Hollywood recalls the date not only because it marked a great step forward in motion picture entertainment, but because it brought great changes in its wake. It was Revolution. It upset the smug and cocky—not to say swaggering—film industry as its own early comedies upset dignified personages by means of banana peels or cakes of soap on the sidewalk.

There was a lot of pooh-poohing at first. Most rival producers laughed at the upstart Warners, saying that even if the crackpot idea worked in production, the cost of wiring the nation's 18,000 theaters for sound films would be prohibitive.

Wired for Sound
The Brothers Warner, however, went right ahead. After their first experimental Vitaphone reels, they proceeded to put sound into one of their biggest feature productions, "Don Juan," by giving it a syn-

'The Jazz Singer' Was First Real Talkie

What were the wild (sound) waves saying? They were making music for John (Don Juan) Barrymore when the Brothers Warner started shouting about sound on this big billboard on New York's Time Square, back in 1926. That was the year they were making with "Sonny Boy," too, from the lips of that fellow between the sprockets, name of Al Jolson.

chronized musical score. John Barrymore was the star. Meanwhile, the Warners were wiring theaters. They were hiring the most popular musical star of the day, Al Jolson, to head the cast of the first real talking picture, "The Jazz Singer," which was part-talkie, part-silent, and featured the maudlin song, "Climb Upon My Knee, Sonny Boy!" The studio which a short time before, according to scuttlebutt of the day, survived chiefly on the earnings of canine star Rin Tin Tin, was stampeding its rivals into hasty preparation to film talkies, too.

A few, such as Charlie Chaplin, still stood on dignity, insisted that talkies were a fad, and that movies had flowered to ultimate perfection with such 1926 silent offerings as "What Price Glory?" "The Scarlet Letter" and "Beau Geste." Meanwhile, "The Jazz Singer" made $2,000,000 for the now-affluent Brothers Warner; Fox Movietone, the first talking newsreel, made its appearance in May, 1927; an army of stage stars was imported; stage directors and musical impressions invaded Hollywood and began to boss around former big-shot directors and producers. And it became apparent that many big silent stars wouldn't survive. As in any full-sized Rev-favorites who were sacrificed immediately. Ray Griffith and John Gilbert, top favorites at the time, were among them because their voices wouldn't do for talkies. Reluctantly, players always identified with "silents" went in, and made good or failed. Smart Mary Pickford chose Helen Hayes' stage vehicle "Coquette," and clicked in it. Norma Shearer got herself a stage play, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," and a stage leading man, Basil Rathbone, and clicked. Joan Crawford made her bow in "Untamed," with a young fellow from the stage named Robert Montgomery playing opposite her.

Years later, Charlie Chaplin finally conceded the same point, possibly because Mickey Mouse, another famous comedian favored by the intelligentsia, had scored in a big way in talking cartoons.

Warner Brothers' second Jolson picture, "The Singing Fool," grossed twice as much as the first one's 2,000,000, so with a head start, the Brothers were able to get such stars as Pauline Frederick, Ruth Chatterton and John Barrymore on long-term contract.

In came actors such as James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Lee and Spencer Tracy, Joan Blondell and others, players distinctly of the talkie era because their patter means far more than their pantomime.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Argentina will be requested soon to decide whether to join the International Emergency Food Council, Dennis A. Fitzgerald, secretary-general, has announced.

He told reporters that if Argentina decides not to join, she will lose her provisional membership on the council's nine-nation Central Committee and be replaced at the September meeting of the 19 member nations.

If Argentina joins the council, she will then be obligated to turn over her surplus wheat to the world pool.

Already Its Energy Has Put Six New Firms In Business Furnishing Radio-Active Isotopes

By PETER EDSON
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The "Atomic Energy Business" is now getting away to a fair start. It's the newest field for venturesome private enterprisers who see great futures ahead.

Since mid-June, when the Manhattan Engineer District project at Oak Ridge, Tenn., announced that it was ready to supply qualified customers with about 100 radio-active isotopes, a number of universities and hospitals throughout the country have stuck up their hands to indicate they were going into this new business. They needed measuring instruments to qualify as users of these isotopes. Half a dozen companies sprung up to fill this need. Two of these are in California, one in Chicago, one in Philadelphia, and two in Boston.

All are what you might call "small business." They aren't, however, anything that one lone GI might tackle with a veterans' loan, unless he knows his nuclear physics and his atoms, in addition to his onions.

But way below the level of General Electric and Monsanto Chemical, who have government contracts to operate the Hanford and Oak Ridge piles, there is this new level of little fellows, feeling their way in what may some day be the world's biggest business—the handling, for peaceful purposes, of atomic energy and its products.

For the most part these new firms are going into what you might call the "isotope supply house" business. Their immediate market will be the schools and colleges whose science laboratories will want apparatus for classroom demonstration and research experiments.

Biggest Clientele
Another group of customers will include the larger hospitals and medical research centers who will want a service of measured doses of specified isotopes for the treatment of specific diseases.

Biggest clientele, whose market has not yet been scratched, will be the commercial manufacturers who will use radio-active materials in the production of steel, chemicals and heaven only knows what else when the business gets going.

At the top of the heap, of course, will be the Oak Ridge and later the Hanford piles, which will be the primary source of supply. Advanced laboratories and the bigger industrial users will probably get their materials directly from these two government plants, though the distribution lines of this new business have by no means been worked out.

For the time being, the supply of isotopes is limited. The piles now in operation were built only to produce materials going into the atomic bomb. They are not efficient producers of radio-activated carbon, iodine, phosphorus and other materials which probably will have the greatest use. Until special piles can be built to turn out greater supplies of these "radio-isotopes" the Manhattan Engineer District project is limiting its customers to those who can use the materials for publishable research. No one will be permitted to conduct secret research on unknown projects.

Distribution will be under Dr. Paul C. Abersold, chief of the Isotopes Branch, Research Division of the Manhattan District, Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Top control for distributing radio-active isotopes of atomic energy to qualified customers is vested in Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, of the Policy Committee of the National Academy of Sciences. One step in the production of the isotopes is shown as Scientist Paul Tompkins evaporates a purified sample to dryness in a beaker behind a wall of lead bricks at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Pile at Oak Ridge is primary source of supply.

The Policy Committee of the National Academy of Sciences, under Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, will have top control.

How the material is to be shipped and delivered is still to be announced. Radioisotopes have the effect of destroying undeveloped photographic materials, so they cannot be moved together. Over-doses or over-exposure to radiations are also dangerous to human beings, so proper insulation must be provided.

But as radium and radium salts have long been moved to hospitals in lead cases, this obstacle is not considered insurmountable. Express companies will probably handle.

There is no law or other regulation governing the movement of these materials. All that has to be worked out, too. Fast delivery of materials, or at least scheduled delivery, will be essential. When the materials to be activated are put in a pile and bombarded with neutrons, they absorb a definite strength. When the bombardment stops, the material in turn gives off its absorbed strength. In a definitely known time, different for each activated material, it will lose strength. When the strength is half gone, the material is said to have reached its "half-life." Half lives range from a few seconds to several thousand years.

Uses Limitless
Treatments of, say iodine for thyroid disorders, or phosphorus for leukemia, are measured in doses of certain strength. The problem ahead of the new industry will be to supply the right quantity of radioisotopes of the right strength and at the right time at the place where they will be used.

Even today the uses are almost limitless.

Microscopic quantities of the radioisotopes can be used as "tracers" in body and chemical processes. So accurately can the movements of these tracers be followed that the presence of one-millionth-of-one-millionth of an ounce of radium can be detected.

Gas may be traced through a system of pipes. Movement of oil deposits may be traced through the ground.

The proper amount of phosphorus may be measured and controlled in the making of steels and alloys.

The time it takes blood to pass through the human body may be measured. Metals may be X-rayed for flaws.

In 1945 the X-ray industry of the United States did 30 million dollars worth of business. The future of the radioisotope business alone, among all the other uses of atomic power, may in a few years go far beyond this figure.

Congress To Be Reorganized On Simpler Lines

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Needed by years of criticism that it was getting top-heavy and out-of-date, Congress voted to reorganize itself along simpler lines.

One of the main things it did was to reduce the number of Senate committees from 48 to 19 and House committees from 35 to 15. This may seem simple to do. It wasn't. Before they voted, congressmen had to wrestle with their ego and their heart's desire.

They all want to serve on committees. The bigger the committee, the bigger their prestige.

It's the committees which make investigations; have hearings, quiz witnesses and prepare legislation for the whole congress to vote upon.

When they're appointed to committees, congressmen hang on. They finally become chairmen if all those ahead of them die or quit.

Through the years Congress added new committees, piling one on top of another.

Where the work of a number of committees was duplicated, the committees were combined into one. That's the sore spot, or the spot that's likely to be sore.

This elimination of committees was done by the present Congress, the 79th.

80th To Create New Groups

The 80th will have the job of creating the new committees. But—

Who goes on what committee? Who becomes chairman of what committee?

In each house of Congress the two political parties—Democratic and Republican—have what is called an assignment committee.

They'll have to decide who is appointed to what committee in 1947, and also who is to be chairman.

So in 1947 look for a big scramble by congressmen to get on the committees of their choice.

Also, look for some unhappy men, the ones who don't get what they want.

What could a congressman do if he didn't get what he wanted?

He could get up and suggest that the old committee system be restored. If enough congressmen agreed with him and voted his way, the new system would be abandoned. The present system would stay, unchanged.

Short Political History

Originally, an ambitious candidate was a man in a white toga who went about looking for votes.

We are indebted for that apparently extraneous definition to the Book of Knowledge, a familiar work which has nourished the minds of generations of inquisitive American youngsters, and which can still reward the adult with considerable information. And we mention it here because all of us probably get to thinking, at one time or another, that politicians are as variable as politics.

Candidate comes from the Latin candidus, which means gleaming, white or spotless. (It is also the root of our word candid, which many people seldom associate with candidates.) Ambitious is from the Latin verb ambire, which means to go about—especially to go about in search of votes.

The Roman office-seeker used to wear a gleaming, white, spotless toga when he went electioneering. But apparently this toga often went to the laundry in a sorry state at the end of a hard day's campaigning. For Roman voters had a forthright way of expressing disapproval of a candidate's record, promises, political affiliations and general qualifications.

The candidate had to meet the people face to face in the Forum. Not for him was the safety of the broadcasting studio. He had to learn to take it, and what he took was not infrequently a barrage of eggs and vegetables past their prime, or a handful of mud from the gutter.

Yet this threat of popular displeasure did not always impel Roman politicians to careers as pure and spotless as their early-morning togas. By the time the republic was nearing the end of its days, says the Book of Knowledge, fraud, vote-stealing and the rigging of elections had become a political fine art.

Without cynical intention, it might be suggested that one of the major changes in political technique through the centuries is that the ambitious candidate has learned the defensive value of trying to beat the opposition to the punch by slinging the first handful of mud himself. The change is relatively minor, and the ethical advancement is questionable.

Political issues are constantly, inevitably changing, since they reflect the day-to-day events which make up history. But the relation between politician and voter is relatively static, judging from the etymological history of the ambitious candidate.

Maybe that's a good thing to remember in listening to the speeches of another political campaign. Voters again will be assured that never have they been called on to make such important choices between rogues and statesmen, scoundrels and heroes. But boast and bluster, eggs and insults, soiled togas and soiled reputations are still among the mossiest old heritages of democracy.

'Liberal' Isolationism

Some writers, reviewing the political careers of Senators Henrik Shipstead and Burton K. Wheeler since their primary defeats, have seemed puzzled by the contrasts they find. For the gentlemen from Minnesota and Montana, who were clearly defeated for their isolationist stand on foreign policy, had been militant young liberals in their day.

But is that an impossible contradiction? When these men came to the Senate in 1923 the general temper was rather isolationist. The League of Nations fight was over and lost. National thought and effort were centered on domestic matters. There was political corruption in high places. There had been a boom and a bust. There was need of reform and improvement, and plenty of opportunity for an eager young liberal to keep busy.

The choice on isolationism did not present itself until the threat of war, 15 years later. The same choice had come to another liberal, the ex-Bull Moose Sen. Hiram Johnson of California, after World War I. He, like these younger colleagues, turned isolationist and stayed turned.

Why? Well, why not? Perhaps complete absorption in domestic reform can be just as isolationistic as complete enthusiasm for the domestic status quo. Perhaps we are puzzled because we insist on putting strict definitions to imprecise and changeable words, insisting that liberalism means certain hard and fast stands on foreign and domestic policies, and that isolationism and reaction are synonymous.

Salty Lingo For The Air Age

The future of navies may be threatened by the atomic bomb. The airplane may have muscled in on the ship's once-exclusive job of carrying goods and persons across the sea. But at least in the matter of abstract measurement, the mariners seem to have won a round.

For the Army Air Forces reportedly have come around to the Navy's way of thinking, and will henceforth chart their courses and speeds in nautical miles and knots. Apparently this is the result of transoceanic flying by maps which measure in nautical miles.

At any rate, the time may not be far distant when the landlubber will finally learn that a knot is 1.152 miles an hour. But we fear that it will take a long time before he learns to express an airplane's speed as so many knots and not, as is the common, erroneous custom, as so many knots an hour.

Okay, John, You Pump And I'll Prime!

British Find Plant Which Makes Butter Of Coal In Germany

By JAMES DEVLIN
WITTEN, GERMANY —(P)— A factory that makes butter from coal was one of the prizes discovered by the British in their zone of Germany.

The factory, Imhausen and Company, located in this Ruhr city, has not made butter since the end of the war, but its management hopes to resume operations in about a month.

Dr. Karl Heinz Imhausen, young manager of the company, said the plant normally could produce 600 tons a month at a cost less than that of natural butter.

The synthetic butter can keep without refrigeration. Dr. Imhausen exhibited a pound manufactured before the war ended. It had not been kept under ice, and had not melted. It looked and tasted like the real thing.

Process of Manufacture
Coal is converted into butter like this:

Coal is made into coke, coke into gas, the gas into paraffin. By a blowing process, the most difficult part of the operation, 80 to 82 tons of fatty acid can be drawn from 100 tons of paraffin. The fats are further separated by distillation under a high vacuum. Some are edible, some are not.

From there on the recipe is: add to the pure, synthetic, edible fat 20 per cent water. Add carrot extract for vitamins and coloring. Add salt. Finally, inject something called diacetyl to give the odor of butter.

This mixture is whipped up in a machine and comes out the other end like a long sausage about eight inches in diameter. That goes into another machine from which pounds of butter come out, neatly wrapped, on a conveyor belt.

The Witten plant, built in 1933, began production in 1939, and was hit once by British bombers. It was not severely damaged, although a tank containing 650 tons of paraffin was ignited and burned for days.

Thunderclaps Come In Alarming Proportions

BALTIMORE —(P)— A cooling summer thundershower got the police department all hot and bothered—by sounding seven burglar alarms in 30 minutes.

Sgt. George Mintiens of the Detective Bureau summoned five extra radio cars. Then he found out the alarms were all false.

The American District Telegraph Protective Services explained the thunder jarred building windows and broke the tinfoil electrical contact surrounding them to set off the alarms.

Reverse War Brides Find Feeding Aussie Husbands Not So Easy

MELBOURNE —(P)— American brides in Australia can't take advantage of the can-opener to produce a meal for their Australian husbands. They've got to know how to cook to please the down-under gentlemen.

That's one of the things that Mrs. Kenneth Shergold, a former WAC of Lexington, Ky., learned when she moved to Australia. She says:

"Australian girls wouldn't dream of putting canned vegetables or meat on the table. They even bake cakes, pastry, cookies and biscuits—and they're all wonderful cooks."

But one of the reasons American girls have such a difficult time is that things are often much different here in Australia. Pumpkin, for instance, is eaten as a vegetable; sweet potato is whitish-grey and seldom eaten; steak and eggs is the favorite food combination. Flour is self-raising. Mrs. Shergold says:

"The first cake I baked in Australia practically jumped through the oven roof. I had added baking powder to the self-raising flour."

Nevertheless, Betty loves Melbourne where she lives. Life seems to move more slowly, she says, and people take things more easily than do Americans. There are plenty of picnics and visits to surf-beaches where a bath house costs but eight cents.

And just to make your mouth water, sirloin of beef is only 16 cents a pound; lamb chops are 24 cents a pound. As a matter of fact Betty finds money goes a great deal further in Australia than in the States, she says.

"I can budget for all the household expenses excluding rent, gas and light on $10 a week without any trouble."

Avoirdupois weight has 16 ounces to the pound; Troy weight, 12 ounces.

'Big Lizzie' Gets Dolled Up

BURGLAR WAS HONEST OPERATOR

DALLAS—(P)—There's nothing like an honest burglar. Two months ago, eight $25 War Bonds were stolen from the home of Mrs. P. S. Layne, Dallas, by a night prowler. She reported the loss to her bank and gave up hopes of ever seeing them again. Recently Mrs. Layne received the eight bonds in the mail. The burglar even mailed them back in the same envelope in which he found them—postage prepaid.

Schwellenbach Appoints CIO Man, AFL Angry

WASHINGTON—(P)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach's decision to recommend sending a CIO delegate to the September meeting of the International Labor Office (ILO) has left President Truman juggling a piping-hot potato. One White House visit by AFL President William Green, Secretary-Treasurer George Meany and Vice President Matthew Wolf left little doubt that the AFL is very angry over Schwellenbach's little publicized plan to rotate representation in the ILO conferences between the two rival labor organizations.

The ILO constitution, which the AFL's Samuel Gompers helped write in 1919, requires that the workers' delegate from each nation be selected from the "most representative" group in that country. The AFL has topped the 7,000,000 mark in members. The CIO claims an even 6,000,000.

Truce Train, Carries U. S. Marines

Flag-men on the "cease-fire local," Pfc. Stanley E. Norman of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Robert Shih, civilian interpreter, ride with the flags at the head end of the 19-car train that carries U. S. Marine "truce team" on what looks like a hopeless mission in Shansi Province, China.

U. S. Marine 'Truce Team' Concludes China Mission Almost Total Failure

By SGT. C. RAY STOKES Marine Corps Correspondent Written for NEA Service TAI YUAN, CHINA—In remote Shansi Province, where the Nationalists and the Communists still wage war, the only guaranteed traffic on the hotly contested railroad is a 19-car train that rattles along behind three engines and two flags, carrying members of Chinese and American military staffs.

Its American passengers—members of a "cease-fire" team engaged in what so far looks like a hopeless effort to end the battle of the Chinese vs. the Communists—have come to regard themselves as a traveling circus. At each stop, native villagers troop out in full force to greet the train, and an air of festivity lasts until the whistle blows and the engines start chuffing away again.

This "cease-fire" team, like five others operating in North China, has Nationalist and Communist representatives in addition to two U. S. Marine officers and three enlisted men. Supplementing them in other areas are Army-manned teams, operating from U. S. Army Executive Headquarters in Peiping. Their job is to act as intermediaries in a touchy situation that looked as if it were under control when the "cease-fire" boys first started operating. But the early success they had has been dimmed by new outbreaks.

The "truce teams" conduct their business right in the train in which they travel, holding conferences with conflicting Chinese leaders. Cool In Conference

In nearly all the conferences, both sides are amiable and cool. But the absence of verbal flareups doesn't conceal that it's about as easy to persuade them to concede anything to each other as it is to understand what they're fighting about.

Each time a new clash between the two factions occurs, the "truce teams" move in to try to determine who started it. The answer is always the same: it was the other side's fault.

Leader of this team is Lt. Col. LeRoy P. Hunt, Jr., of La Jolla, Calif., a veteran of Guadalcanal, Tarawa and the Marianas, whose father is Maj. Gen. L. P. Hunt, commander of the Second Marine Division in Kyushu, Japan.

He stresses the importance of permitting the two factions to settle their differences "without too much assistance from a middle-man" and right now the Chinese seem to think pitched battle is the way to do it.

And Colonel Hunt's little entourage still finds itself in the middle. Their train flies Old Glory and the Chinese Nationalist flag at the head end as it puffs through the hills. That should make it neutral. But every now and then a rifle shot from a hidden foe makes mockery of the "cease-fire" mission. The brake shoes squeal as the train jerks to a stop and all hands take to the ditches.

The "truce team" lives in two armored cars on the train, but they're veterans of fox-hole fighting and when the snipers' bullets rattle, a trench feels much safer than a railroad.

Maybe These Detectives Should Be Pinched

MINNEAPOLIS—(P)—Detectives Mike Michelson and Donald Trovie sped to a vacant lot after neighbors called police and reported suspicious characters had been seen burying something. The officers dug up several cans filled with small toys, candy and rubber balloons which they took to the station and returned to the lot to await developments.

Two teen-agers approached and asked the detectives if they had seen anyone digging in the lot. "We're having a treasure hunt and somebody's stolen all the prizes," the boys said.

The detectives returned to the lot—at night—got out their shovels and reburied the prizes.

They've Been Working On Levee, Digging Worm

CAIRO, ILL.—(P)—Fisherman, spare that levee, appealed Police Chief Edgar P. Ryan after discovery that bait-seekers were digging holes in the bulwark protecting Cairo from Mississippi and Ohio river floods.

The chief, fearful that small holes might be enlarged by erosion, threatened punishment and told fishermen the levees were "the poorest places in the world to find worms."

Daughter Of Mine

By R. Louise Emery

Copyright, 1946, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Cecily's wedding is over at last. But never will I forget the cruel thing I did to her. And Della, Cecily's mother, will never forgive me. I have adored Cecily since she was a baby—kept on adoring her even after I married Robert and my daughter Corinna was born. Long ago, too, I know that Della was raising Cecily to be an insufferable snob, and that she was jealous of my love for her.

When Cecily was ten and Corinna eight, I had a chance to undo some of the harm Della had done. Cecily stayed with us for six weeks while her parents were away. It was necessary to transfer her to public school and I saw to it that she met children from the neighborhood. Both Val, Robert's playmate and brother, and Stevie Ralston, rich Mrs. Ralston's son, had a crush on her and she naturally seemed to prefer Val. But when Cecily was in high school, I objected to her joining a snobbish sorority, but Della said all the girls from the hill belonged—said "it wasn't going to have them snub Cecily."

XII

CORINNA graduated from grammar school and entered high school two years behind Cecily. She stormed into the kitchen that first afternoon and snatched her purse into a chair.

"That snippy old Cecily!" she burst out. "Mama, I just can't STAND Cecily any more!"

I heard my voice go shrill. "Corinna, don't ever let me hear you say that again—as long as you live."

Corinna began to cry. "I want to love her, but how can you love any one that acts so hateful to your friends? Cecily knows Mercedes is my best friend but she wouldn't even speak to her today—she just looked her over and then she whispered something to the girl she was with and they both looked at Mercedes and giggled."

The familiar sinking sensation that came so often with mention of Cecily's name hit me in the diaphragm again.

"Did Cecily speak to you?"

"Huh! Did she?" said Corinna.

effect that fixation was having on Cecily's life.

Corinna brought home high school gossip. Stevie Ralston drove like crazy from junior college every afternoon to get back to high school in time to meet Cecily for sodas at Down's Hang-Out. Corinna knew because she had a job for two hours every day after school behind the soda fountain. It gave her a great deal of prestige with her classmates. She was an authority on the between-school-and-home lives of all the juniors and seniors.

SHE knew before any one else that Stevie was on his way because Cecily and Val had the leads in the school play. The school paper helped matters along with a silly comment in the gossip column that if the school board had permitted kissing in the love scenes Cecily and Val could really have put their hearts into it.

Corinna read the item aloud to me gleefully that evening.

"And now Stevie and Cecily aren't going together any more!" Corinna climaxed her tidbit. "Somebody handed him a paper and he was so outraged that he started right in on Cecily on the front steps at school. So she threw his frat pin at him—"

"His frat pin!" I cried.

"They've been engaged all term."

"And Della hasn't known it?"

"Maybe she does now," Corinna said, "but I was the only one Cecily told until they had the fight. Cecily's awfully ornery, Mama. She had no business hanging around with Val when she was engaged to Stevie."

"She didn't have any business being engaged to Stevie in the first place," I said. "And you had no business keeping it from me!"

"I promised not to tell," Corinna defended.

I longed to shake her.

"She's in the doghouse with Val, too," Corinna added with relish. "For making up to him while she was wearing Stevie's pin inside her dress. I guess he's mad at her for taking it in the first place. She was crying her eyes out. I guess it'll do her good."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority

One of our most enjoyable stop-overs on our flight to the Pacific coast was at Las Vegas, Nev., where our entire group of 21 were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moore, Jr., of The Last Frontier Hotel. As long as we were in the wild and woolly west, Harry Fishbein wanted to get into a saddle. Mr. Moore agreed to find the saddle provided we would play a few hands of rubber bridge after dinner. Fishbein got into a saddle all right, but it was on a wooden horse in the lobby of the hotel.

At the start of the bridge game Mrs. Moore was a bit nervous, but what happened to us on one hand was really a crime. We could have bid five diamonds and gone down one, but when timid Mrs. Moore got to four hearts, both Fishbein and I wanted to double it at the same time.

Mrs. Moore (South) trumped my opening lead and played a small heart, which Fishbein (East) won with the king. Fishbein returned another diamond, Mrs. Moore trumped, and led another heart which I won with the ace. I led the third diamond, Mrs. Moore trumped and cashed the ace of spades. A small spade was won with dummy's ten-spot and the jack of hearts led, picking up Fishbein's last trump. Mrs. Moore discarded her king of spades, and all of the spades in dummy were good.

This line of play once again brings out the importance of counting your tricks. Mrs. Moore saw that she had five spade tricks, three diamond ruffs, the ace of clubs and a high trump. All she had to do was to be careful to handle the play so that none of these winners dropped by the wayside.

Macadamized roads were invented by John MacAdam.

TRUMAN AUTHORIZES TOLL BRIDGE ACROSS RIO GRANDE

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman has signed a bill authorizing construction of a toll bridge across the Rio Grande at or near Rio Grande City.

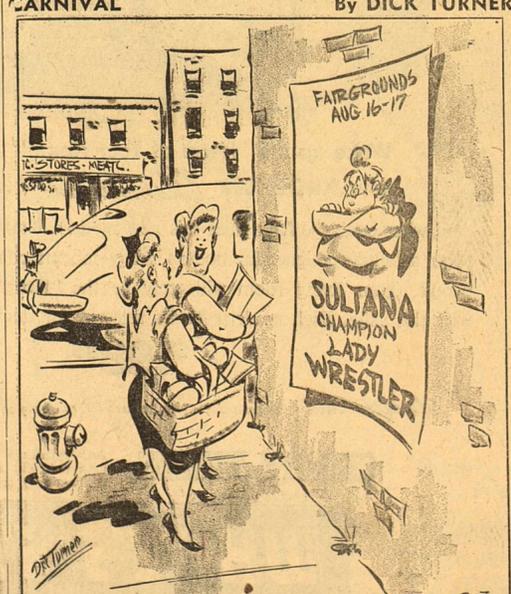

The bill authorizes Gus A. Guerra and his heirs or legal representatives, to construct and operate the bridge. The project must be approved, however, by the International Boundary and Water Commission and by Mexican authorities.

The Rio Grande has given surveyors a great many headaches because, for apparently no reason at all, it changes its course from time to time.

Dirt, Squirt And Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Don Anderson of San Angelo shipped 14 double-deck cars of sheep from Midland County last week. Anderson says that he has shipped more than 25,000 head to Northern feeders since July 1. This is the earliest that he has ever shipped this many feeder lambs, he says.

Sam Wilkerson, who ranches over in Martin County, was in Midland last week and says that his range is getting very dry and that he has been cutting down on his stocking. Sam said that a number of ranchers in that county were reducing the number of livestock on their range due to the dry weather.

Buddy Neal, who ranches in Upton County, was in Midland a few days ago and says that even though his pastures are pretty dry his stock are still doing good.

U. S. civilians will have from 135 to 145 pounds of meat per capita in the year that began July 1, the Department of Agriculture estimates, as compared with 145 to 150 pounds last year. The reduction is due to smaller pig crop in sight and the marketing of animals at lighter weights.

The cost of production is catching up with the dairymen in this milk shed. Even though most citizens are keenly aware that the cost of a quart of milk has gone up in Midland as well as all over the state, they realize the plight of the dairymen. He has had to face a rising feed market out of proportion to the price he is receiving for his milk. His labor costs have risen. The scarcity of feed has caused him to feed anything he can get the old cow to eat. One dairymen said last week that he had to buy some chicken feed to feed his cows because he could not find the necessary dairy mixture. So milk producers have their problems, too.

The problems of adequate loading facilities at the local railroad yards has come up from time to time but nothing is ever done about it. The local agent for the railroad, D. Davis, has been mighty good about getting everything done that he can do locally but it remains for the powers that be at the front office to do something about the livestock loading facilities here.

W. O. Adams has been appointed county agent for Upton County. Adams took the place of C. Snell, who has recently resigned.

According to the Texas Weekly Crop and Weather Report the area getting any rain last week was the Victoria, Galveston and Houston area. Guess the dry weather is spread out over most of Texas.

For those who might be wondering about the present shortage of flour, here are some figures just released by the USDA Crop Reporting Board. On July 1 about 101 1/2 million bushels of old wheat remained in storage, on and off farms. This total is smaller than at any other time in the 20 years for which records are available, except for 1937. Current stocks are about 36 per cent as large as the 281 million bushels on hand July 1 a year ago.

Directors of the Midland Production Credit Association met last week for their July meeting. Directors include: Leonard Proctor, president; Tom Sowell, Big Lake; Jim Thornton, Pryor; Charlie Cox, Garden City; and Forest King of Midland.

Kenneth Fowler, who ranches down in Upton County, has purchased a ranch near Trinidad, Colo., and expects to move out that way in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Hanks and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Midkiff, who ranch south of Midland, have recently returned from a trip which took them through most of the Western states.

Charles Harral of Fort Stockton is one rancher who believes in using air power to tend to his ranching business. Harral flew into Midland last week on business. He uses his plane to visit his Culberson, Midland and Upton county ranches.

C. C. Thomas, secretary of the Midland Production Credit Association, reports some interesting things from his recent trip to Colorado. He says that the trout were really biting along the mountain streams.

J. D. Elland has been appointed county agent for Martin County, replacing George Bond, who recently resigned. Elland was former assistant county agent at Childress.

Bill Conner has a fine herd of Holstein cows out at his place south of Midland. He has raised some nice looking heifer calves from these cows and says that his cows are holding up pretty well for this dry weather and dry pasturage.

John Gantt, Clint Shaw and Walton Harral from down Rankin way were in Midland last week.

Actress Says Movie Actors Not Romantic

By HOWARD C. HEYN
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—If you girls have any idea that Hollywood men are more romantic than the boys in Podunk, Ruth Warrick wants to straighten you out. "Hollywood wolves bore me," she told me on the "Swell Guy" set. This, however, does not mean that Miss Warrick opposes romance. "Romance is wonderful, and I'm all for it," she declared. "It's the Hollywood approach that I don't like. These men lack finesse."

In a town where there are presumably so many artistic people, with such imaginative minds, you'd expect their lovemaking to be original. But that's not the case, Ruth reports.

"It's simply a battle of the sexes," she laughed. My chivalrous mind was perturbed by this last remark and I wondered how a poor, helpless little girl could avoid such brusque amours.

"A good sense of humor is what a girl needs," she said. (And Ruth must have one, or she wouldn't have told me this in the first place.)

"Men who have anything to do with actresses are crazy," she added. "We're too self-centered."

Miss Warrick, for the record, recently divorced Erik Rolf, a radio actor.

Bill Conner has a fine herd of Holstein cows out at his place south of Midland. He has raised some nice looking heifer calves from these cows and says that his cows are holding up pretty well for this dry weather and dry pasturage.

CLOTHING INDUSTRY USES NEW SYSTEM FOR DRESS SIZES

AP Newsfeatures
CHICAGO—Women who like to think they can wear "perfect" sixteen dresses may now be able to do it because the ready-to-wear industry has proportionized size ranges.

The idea originated when the bureau of home economics of the Department of Agriculture made a tape measure census of more than 10,000 women.

It revealed that women with 46 to 47-inch busts are no taller, on the average, than women with 32-inch busts. And that, on the average, women five feet, nine inches tall have the same bust line measurement as women only five feet tall.

Combining this information for practical styling, the industry devised the proportionized method of including weight and height when designating dress sizes. Each size number of a dress is made in a short, medium and tall costume that allows for proper proportioning.

Here is the way proportionate sizes are styled:

Junior miss sizes, nine to seventeen, are designed with short waists and high busts. Misses sizes, ten to twenty, are styled for the girl or woman with average waist length, of medium height and moderately small bust line. The medium hip line is proportioned to the waist line.

Women's sizes, thirty-five to fifty-two, correspond to the misses size in proportions, but they are made for the mature figure with lower bust lines and proportionately larger hips.

Veneral Diseases National Problem

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The problem of controlling venereal disease still is a national problem, and a big one.

But the treatment of gonorrhea and syphilis, the two main venereal diseases, has been speeded up amazingly since 1943.

This is written to state the problem and explain what people with venereal disease can do to be cured. If everyone infected with a venereal disease would get prompt treatment, the problem would become very small.

A person who goes untreated for venereal disease, later may be crippled or killed by it.

This is what the U. S. Public Health Service says about the two kinds of venereal disease:

1. Gonorrhea. It takes from a few minutes to three or four hours to cure. The treatment is one to four shots of penicillin.

The treatment can be given in a clinic or by a private physician in his own office.

(Curing Gonorrhea used to take a week to three or four months. The treatment was with silver salts and other slow methods.)

2. Syphilis. The treatment is nine to 14 days. To have it cleared up in that time, a patient must stay in a hospital those nine to 14 days.

For this reason: Every three hours the patient must get shots of penicillin and small amounts of arsenic and bismuth. The shots are in the hip.

(Clearing up syphilis used to take 18 to 24 months. The old treatment, before penicillin, was with arsenic and bismuth.)

What should a person do if he thinks he has gonorrhea? Go To Physician

If you have money, go to your private physician for examination or treatment. He can cure you in four hours with those penicillin shots.

If you have no money, go to your local health department or public clinic.

What should a person do if he thinks he has syphilis? If you have money, go to your private physician who can either give you a blood test or recommend you to a place for the test and the 9-to-14-day treatment.

If you have no money, go to the health center in your city or county. You can get a blood test there and be sent to a hospital for the 9-to-14-day treatment.

If a person has syphilis but no money, how can he get that 9-to-14-day treatment in a hospital? Doesn't that cost money?

The U. S. Health Service says that, if he has no money, he can get the treatment in a hospital free, that there are enough general and special hospitals in this country to take care of such cases free.

There are two main problems in fighting venereal disease:

1. Getting the person who has the disease to come in early for treatment not only for his own sake but so he won't spread it.

2. Finding the person who gave him the disease and the person or persons to whom he may have spread it.

If the local health services can find these people, all can be treated and the spread of the disease cut down.

Weather Stations Proposed For Antarctic

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA—(AP)—Scientists are urging establishment of meteorological stations in the Australian Antarctic to assist weather forecasting in Australia.

Sir Douglas Mawson, discoverer of the south magnetic pole, and other scientists say that Antarctic stations would enable meteorological services in Australia to extend forecasts to cover from a week possibly up to three years.

Meteorologists know that the impact of cold winds from the Antarctic on tropical moisture from the equator governs, in part, Australia's southern rainfall. They do not know how far south the change begins.

The city of St. Louis, Mo., has no county.

Air Routes Authorized To Orient, Australia

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has authorized Northwest Airlines and Pan-American Airways to establish new air routes to Alaska, the Orient, and Australia.

Trans-World Air Lines also received an extension to its international route which, in effect, establishes a second United States round-the-world service. In its decision in the so-called Pacific Case the board authorized two routes to the Orient. One goes via the great circle route across the North Pacific, into Tokyo, Seoul, Shanghai and Manila, and the other across the Central Pacific via Honolulu, Midway, Tokyo, Shanghai and Hong Kong.

The Old Suit Will Have to Last

Although production of men's suits is now greater than the pre-war level, it still is not sufficient to meet the expected 1946 demand, as shown on Newschart above. Shortages of fabrics prevent further expansion of output.
