

THEY'RE OFF TO SCHOOL

This little boy and girl are stepping out into the great wide world outside of home. They are off to school. Most of their early knowledge was acquired within the family circle and from intimate friends. Now they are beginning to learn what the great world outside has to teach.

It is the beginning of a long and difficult trail, beset by the myriad vicissitudes of human life. They will encounter the good and the bad, the false and the true. There will be the thrill of new experiences and the hard grind of the daily struggle for achievement.

It is a momentous day in the lives of these children. And much depends on what they have learned and will still learn from their home environment. Their ideals and mental attitudes and their reactions to people, and things will reflect the spirit and character of the home.

That is why the home is so important in human life, and is the bulwark of the State and civilization. That is why every parent should feel a sacred obligation to teach his children truth and justice and righteousness. And that is why every home needs God and religion and the spiritual influence of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Passenger Car Production Rises

DETROIT — (AP) — With an indicated output of 50,000 passenger automobiles this week the nation's motorcar industry will bring its August production volume to 250,000 units and assemblies for 1945 to approximately 1,100,000 passenger vehicles.
Despite severe shortages of many parts the industry has produced more passenger units than were expected a few months ago.
Assembly plants in the United States will account for about 100,000 commercial vehicles this month to bring the output this year of all units to nearly 1,650,000.
If the industry's hopes for the remainder of the year are realized, 1946 production of passenger cars will total about 2,475,000 units, supplemented by nearly 925,000 commercial vehicles.

Poland Counts Losses Of Cultural Centers

WARSAW, POLAND—(AP)—Polish education and cultural institutions took a terrific beating during the war and Nazi occupation, government statistics show.

Cultural institutions destroyed numbered 3,337. These included 33 theaters, 650 cinemas, 138 museums, 17 art schools, 11 broadcasting stations (a 100 per cent loss), 100 publishing houses (also a 100 per cent loss).

Health centers destroyed, such as hospitals and clinics, numbered 3,892. Sanitariums, anti-trachoma dispensaries, dispensaries for venereal diseases and sports care centers were 100 per cent wiped out.

Utah Faces Loss Town To Nevada

WENDOVER, UTAH—(AP)—Wendover—lying two-thirds in Utah and one-third in Nevada on a sizzling western desert—wants to go Nevada all the way.

Lester Giffen, chairman of the Wendover Development Association, said he has sought to confer with Gov. Herbert B. Maw of Utah regarding a shift of the boundary eastward.

Giffen said most Wendover residents feel they are ignored by the rest of the state. He admitted, also, that the more liberal liquor and gambling laws of Nevada are an attraction.

Another thing—tourists don't have to bother with sales taxes on things they buy in the Nevada side of town, as they do in the Utah section.

About 85 per cent of all Wyoming farms raise chickens in some quantity.

Midwest Has Record Corn Crop

Tall season for tall corn: "We've had a great season," says Sherman H. Richards as he inspects his 260-acre farm near Munice, Ill. The crop that's taller than his reach "ought to be better than any crop we've had in the last four or five years," Richards thinks.

80 Per Cent Of German POW Admits Learning Some Democracy In U. S.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A large cross-section of German prisoners of war were asked just before repatriation what they considered the most important single idea they had learned during internment in America.

The poll was conducted by the Office of the Provost Marshal General to discern attitudes and opinions of the prisoners in order that the re-educational program they had been given at camp might be better evaluated.

The poll was conducted at Camp Shanks, the New York Port of Embarkation, at Fort Eustis, Va., and at Prisoner of War Camp, Atlanta, Neb.

No names, serial numbers nor other means of identification were requested. Prisoners were instructed to print the answers if they feared identification of their handwriting.

Typical Replies

Here are some typical answers: "I have learned how fast the Nazis turned to become good democrats."

"If Germany would dominate America, there wouldn't be any jobs."

"I was impressed by the freedom of the press. I was dismayed to find the horrible housing conditions for the working classes. Provisions for old age pensions, and health insurance are very poor."

"America conducts a propaganda program against any nation that becomes too powerful. First it was directed against Germany, now Russia."

"Americans drink too much. Americans don't like to work and cheat their government."

"An American works in order to live; the German lives for nothing but work."

"The American civilians know very little about democracy. They were unable to answer most of our questions. We PWs have learned about democracy in lectures. Why don't you do the same thing for the people here?"

"Americans claim that the atom bomb is a product of their own scientists, which is not likely because the first atom bomb was dropped after Germany's defeat, indicating that this invention was made by Germans and brought to America."

"The American is childish and profit-seeking and rarely keeps his word to a PW. I don't even trust this questionnaire."

Favorable Reports

In its reports the office of the provost marshal general says that, on the whole, the answers were "positive were favorable in commenting on our freedoms, or property, race discriminations and illusions of democracy."

"The democratic relationship between officers and enlisted men drew many comments," it says, adding: "Although many of the unfavorable comments were strongly phrased, the low percentage (20 per cent) is encouraging."

Of a dozen more questions which were asked, eight were designed to test the PW's Nazi convictions. About 64 per cent of the answers to these questions indicated that the men had been favorably impressed by their instruction in democracy.

Business Man Rescues Stowaway With Job
 SYDNEY—(AP)—David Reece, a 17-year-old youth who travelled from New Zealand to Sydney as a stowaway on the American freighter Cat's Paw, walked right into a $32 a week job.

Reece, who came into Sydney Harbor handcuffed to a bunk in the Cat's Paw, was on the payroll of British Consolidated Industries, a new company registered in Melbourne, 24 hours later.

A business man said he had given Reece the job although he knew nothing about him, but had "complete faith" in his judgment.

Burglars Sink At 19th Hole
 OAKLAND, MD.—(AP)—Burglars entered the Oakland golf club house, stripped it of six pairs of curtains, bath towels, dishes, chairs, sports jackets, three sets of golf clubs and a number of balls.

But what surprised club member Edward Smouse, who discovered the theft, more than anything else was a final touch:

The burglars had also taken the kitchen sink.

Children Need Good Desserts

By GAYNOR MADDOX
 NEA Staff Writer

School-days mean good lunches, whether they be eaten at the school cafeteria, from the lunch box or at home. Give the youngsters a welcome treat in the form of a wholesome dessert. They'll be better fed and happier if you do.

Honey Chews
 (Makes 20 small bars)

Three eggs, 1 cup honey, 1 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup coarsely-chopped pecan meats, 1 cup finely-cut dates.

Beat eggs until lemon colored; add honey gradually and continue beating. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together and fold these dry ingredients into egg-and-honey mixture.

Add nuts and dates, stirring lightly and carefully into batter. Pour into a well-greased 2-quart heat-resistant glass utility dish and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 40 minutes.

To decorate, sprinkle with powdered sugar and chopped nuts.

Lemon Oatmeal Cookies
 (Makes 6 dozen)

One cup shortening, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 2 eggs, 3/4 cup dark corn syrup, 2 cups sifted enriched all-purpose flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 1/2 cups quick-cooking rolled oats (uncooked), 4 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Add corn syrup and beat thoroughly. Sift flour with salt, baking powder, and soda, and add alternately to creamed mixture with milk and vanilla. Add rolled oats and lemon rind, beating well.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet. Bake for 12 minutes in preheated 375-degree oven.

Note: To replace corn syrup, use 1 cup brown sugar and 3/4 cup milk.

PROVED PRACTICABILITY

George Westinghouse is called "the father of modern power generation" because he harnessed Niagara Falls with alternating current generators and transmitted the power to Buffalo, 20 miles away, 50 years ago, proving it to be the practicable way to produce and distribute electricity on a wide scale.

Court Rules OPA Rent Above Pre-War Years

NEW YORK—(AP)—Landlords have been making greater profits under OPA controls than during prewar years, the U. S. Emergency Court of Appeals ruled in denying an application by a New York City landlord for a 15 per cent increase in apartment rentals.

John J. Scofield, regional OPA rent executive, said the decision was the most far-reaching of all rent-control rulings.

"It ends the long effort to boost rents over the levels which OPA maintains are profitable and fair," he said.

The court held that landlords were having a maximum rate of occupancy, and that this factor, together with decreases in certain competitive expenditures, was responsible for the favorable operating position of the city's landlords.

UNRRA Baby Chicks Make Good Sailors

NEWPORT NEWS, VA. — (AP) — Baby chicks make good sailors. UNRRA officials supervising the shipment abroad of many thousands of baby chicks from this port say the chirpers seem entirely unaffected by seasickness and are chirping just as well at debarkation time as when placed on shipboard.

Going or Coming?

One way to eliminate completely the "back-seat driver" is to have a car like the freak pictured above, parked in a Chicago street. Created by Pvt. Charles Breed, of Paw Paw, Mich., it has two fronts and no rear, achieved by sawing two conventional cars in half and welding the two foreparts together.

Navy Launches 'Operation Good Will' As Vital Domestic Policy Maneuver

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Operation "Winning Friends and Influencing the Public," with a task force composed of all its high ranking brass, is one of the most important policy maneuvers on which the Navy has embarked during the first year of peace.
It's to be a permanent function of the peacetime Navy. Here are the tactics to be employed:
Join the Kiwanis. Get on public committees. Take part in civic events. Be ready to make speeches at the drop of a hat. Radio speeches are best. Serve on "boards." Be seen at public functions. Generally, treat the public better. Above all, let the taxpayers know that the men who are directing the Navy are good fellows and are eating and laughing human beings just like them.
The Navy has decided that it is not enough, every time the country gets itself embroiled in a global conflict, to stem out on the high seas and send all the enemy's ships to the bottom. It has to go after that elusive something called good will or good public relations during peace. This is one of the important lessons it learned from the war and during the recent—and still present—scarce over merger with the Army.

Fleet Admiral Halsey: He gave up plans for a big private airline job to stay on as one of Navy's best salesmen.

Looking back over the lean budgets of the '20s and '30s, the Navy is determined not to fall back into those uncomfortable economic ways if it can possibly avoid it. The old officers are the first to admit the mistakes and are conscientiously working to mend their ways now that World War II is over.
Old Brass Didn't Shine
The traditional habit of the old-school high ranking Naval officers was to shun public appearances as much as possible. They might have been coaxed out of their shell for a few words to a gathering on Navy Day, perhaps, but by and large they strove to be silent mariners as far as the public was concerned. And their social lives were just as tightly cloistered, too. The old Navy liked to spend its off-duty hours with the old Navy. The nonmyth of the Navy was highlighted on a radio quiz show just before the war. More than 15 members of the audience were asked to name the man who was Chief of Naval Operations and none of them could answer.
The Navy is going about this enlightenment project with traditional Navy efficiency, too. Once a month, at every shore station, a progress report has to be made to the Chief of Naval Operations. One man, usually the Public Informa-

Man Loses Election But Wins Office

FRENCHBURG, KY. — (AP) — A blindfolded boy pulled from a hat the answer to a question on the voters, the governor and the courts tried to decide.
So Democrat Charles Mann becomes Menifee County judge. The question arose on election night last November. The count showed Republican Asa R. Little the winner by six votes. Mann protested.
During a recount, Little and Mann agreed to call it a tie. On their request, Circuit Judge W. Bridges White entered an order for Little to serve two years and then Mann two years.
But Republican Gov. Simeon Willis stepped in. He declared the term couldn't be divided under the law and issued a commission to Little for the full four years.
Mann protested and brought suit, citing a Kentucky law which requires a drawing in case of a tie. The Court of Appeals upheld him and the boy pulled Mann's name from the hat.

Brazil Prepares For Displaced Persons

RIO DE JANEIRO — (AP) — British and American agricultural experts are accompanying members of Brazil's Immigration Council into the interior of this large country to study possibilities of settling hundreds of thousands of immigrants on farm land. Immigration Director Joao Alberto Lins de Barros expects thousands of displaced persons from Europe to begin arriving soon to settle on these tracts.

DECATUR, ILL. — (AP) — When the logical lawmen announced they had found a pair of false teeth, they knew some man would come to police headquarters, bare his barren gums, and go home with the choppers. That is precisely what happened. But the next day two other toothless citizens called to claim the dentures.

An American favorite—baked ham with red moist yams.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Louisiana cooking makes everybody's mouth water. So do Louisiana yams—those deep red, moist sweet potatoes. They're in the market now, and they will remain there through November and December.

Baked Louisiana Yams

When you think of yams, you probably think of ham, and there's no tastier combination. Wash yam sweet potatoes, allowing one large or two small yams per person; place in a shallow baking dash and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 1 hour, or until soft to touch.

Open and serve in the shell with a pat of butter or fortified margarine melting in the center. Luncheon Meat and Golden Yams (Serves 4)

Four large Louisiana yams, 4 slices pork luncheon meat (1/2 inch thick), 3 tablespoons molasses (or 4 tablespoon brown sugar), 1/4 cup water.

Peel and slice yams; arrange slices in a greased casserole (1 quart). Pour half the molasses over the yams; cover with meat slices and top with remaining molasses.

Pour water over all. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 hour, until yams are done. Serve hot.

Fried Yams
(Serves 4)
Peel 4 medium-sized yams; cut in lengthwise strips one-half inch thick.

Brown strips on both side in a small amount of hot fat in a skillet; then reduce heat and continue cooking until yams can be pierced easily with a fork.

Drain on brown or absorbent paper and serve hot, plain, or rolled in powdered sugar.

Nazi Insane Asylums Becoming Jamed With
'Hitlers' And 'Evas'

By TOM REEDY

EGLFING, GERMANY—(P)—Germany is getting crowded with Adolf Hitlers and Eva Brauns.

The latest Hitler in a growing crop turned up here in a sanitarium insisting one minute that he was Adolf himself and in the next that he was pinch hitting until the real fuhrer returned.

There have been at least six Hitlers and possibly as many Evas in various hospitals for the mentally ill in Germany since the capitulation.

Doctors think it is quite usual for a deranged German to get such a delusion these days; it's a little like the Napoleon complex.

Egling Hospital got its Hitler off the streets some months ago. He was a corporal in the Wehrmacht, the same as der fuhrer; he was a painter by trade; his name is Ludwig Doll, aged 26.

Doll formed a "committee" of seven, just as Hitler did in Munich, 10 miles away, 25 years ago. He was all set to proceed when the authorities decided to break up his street speeches. One Hitler was enough.

"Truman on Cabinet"
When Ludwig was taken to the hospital, he stood on his dignity as a true fuhrer. But that got pretty boring and the party work was being neglected. So he took another track. He said he wasn't the fuhrer at all; that he had been "appointed" to act for the leader until he gets back from Valhalla.

Doll drew up a new flag for his program; a set of party rules and named a "cabinet" to rule the world. He proposed President Truman as finance minister; Stalin as police chief. Britain, he says, would provide the navy; Russia the SS and gestapo, the United States the propaganda and—of course—the dough. Germany would be the intellectual leader.

Doll hasn't adopted the moustache. But he gets his hair cropped short so that one lock falls down over one eye reminiscent of a certain character.

Most of all he wants out of this place. But he isn't going to get out. The doctors know that the first thing he'll do is to get up on a soapbox and make a speech—and there may be just enough darned fools around to listen.

By Their Nylons Ye Shall Know Them
BILLINGS, MONT. —(P)—Mrs. Lydia Rusf found a billfold in a street drain with the only clue to the owner's identity a nylon hosiery registration stub from a Billings store. She checked with the manager. He referred to the list of 6,000 registrants, found No. 3656 was in the name of Mrs. Francis Eby and wallet and precious registration slip were returned. Mrs. Eby got her money back, too.

Despite Scandalous Food Wastage, Army Gives Civilian Board Recommendation Brush-Off

Refugee Colony In Dominican Republic Still Offers Welcome To Oppressed

SOSUA, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC —(NEA)—With a steady stream of refugees still clamoring to leave oppressed Europe, the refugee colony in this peaceful valley remains one of the few places in the world with the welcome sign still hung out.

Some 280 refugees already are living here. Over a hundred new families will arrive soon. For some, Sosua is merely a stopover until they fulfill their hope of being admitted to the United States. For others it is the end of the journey; these have found Sosua a place where they and their children can live in peace and contentment.

The colony opened four months before Pearl Harbor was attacked. President Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic gave 25,000 acres of land as a sanctuary for people fleeing Nazi oppression. The valley is administered by the Dominican Settlement Association, generally called ODRSA. Since Sosua has been established, the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee has spent $2,500,000 to help make the colony a success.

Planned as a cooperative, the colony has its own store, hospital, farms and a few factories. Those who chose the land bought farmsteads which cost $2,500. For this they received 75 acres of land, a five-room house, several head of cattle and some farm tools. At harvest time, they use community-owned tractors and trucks. Major crops are corn, mangoes, chocolate, pineapple, yuca, tobacco and lemon grass.

Biggest single industry is a dairy which produces 2,500 pounds of butter and a ton and a half of cheese a week. Leo Hoffstein, a Viennese lawyer who manages the cheese factory, says he might be better off if he had "spent fewer years at law and more on cheesemaking," but he is satisfied in Sosua.

"I've had to start my life over twice already and it has been painful. I don't want to start a third time."

Newest industry is a factory started by a former Austrian chemical engineer who found it's easy to make citronella from the lemon grass that grows in abundance.

"Colmado," the community cooperative store, made six per cent profit last year and paid its dividend in the form of merchandise. New homes are being built for $1,500 each and will be rented for $6 a month. After 25 years, the settler owns the home.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The War Department has at last revealed what it is going to do about the recommendations its nine-man board of civilian food experts set forth to halt the scandalous wastage of food that was discovered by the civilian board.

And what the Army is going to do, in essence, is to give the recommendations of these experts the brush-off.

The War Department's statement of its action was contained in a letter signed by Kenneth C. Royall, Under-Secretary of War and one-time brigadier general, which was an answer to a series of questions contained in a letter from NEA Service to Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

Royall said the civilian board "did an excellent piece of work for the Army and its work was much appreciated." But he passed over the board's major recommendation—creation of a separate Food Service Corps—with the observation that the deficiencies "can best be remedied within the present organizational framework."

When the civilian experts, known as the Hennessey Board because they are headed by John L. Hennessey, chairman of the board of the Hotels Statler Co., were consulted about Royall's answers, it was discovered that the Under-Secretary's letter to NEA was the only word they had of the War Department's intention.

The resentment of the Hennessey Board was unanimous, and although no member desired to be quoted directly, it can be stated with authority that the Hennessey Board still challenges the Army's method of handling the food problem.

Moreover, the Hennessey Board will continue to challenge the Army until the recommendation for a separate food service is accepted.

There is more to the story than mere resentment on the part of the committee. In Washington, NEA Service learned that the Army Chief of Staff, General Eisenhower, was impressed by the Hennessey Board's recommendations and indicated his approval of the Food Service Corps, around which all other recommendations were written.

However, it now appears that Quartermaster General Larkin opposes the plan, presumably on the ground that it would remove authority from his office and put feeding of the Army under a specialized department.

Early this year the Army conducted a food service project at Camp Kilmer, N. J., to test out in practice the recommendations of the Hennessey Committee. Col. Ward B. Cleaves made an official report on the project. The report was marked "restricted" which would prevent sources outside the Army from gaining access to it. But NEA learned that the project proved that the Hennessey Committee recommendations would prevent a recurrence of the wastage of hundreds of thousands of tons of food such as occurred during the war.

An attempt was made to get details of the Cleaves report, but no data was forthcoming because camp, presented his credentials, and was immediately, if politely, made to feel that the Army had no desire to consult him.

The story is little different today. Despite Royall's statement that the Army is using civilian consultants, members of the committee are still getting the brass run-around.

The committee volunteered its services for a month at the Army's cooks and bakers school to help train men for the specialized job of feeding the Army. They offered to go to Washing at any time to consult with the Quartermaster General on food matters in which they have had years of successful experience.

Not one of these civilian experts has been called upon by the Army.
