America Believes Technicalities Should Not Bar Hearings—

U. S. Delegate Will Vote To Place Ukraine's Charges Against Greece Before UN Council

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—An authoritative source declared Tuesday that Herschel V. Johnson, United States delegate to the United Nations Security Council, will vote to place Ukrainian charges against Greece on the council's agenda.

Johnson is scheduled to be among the first speakers when the council convenes Tuesday afternoon to take up again its debate on granting charges filed by Dmitri Manuilsky, foreign minister of the Soviet Union, a place on the council's calendar.

The United States vote would make considerably brighter the prospects that the council would hear the Ukrainian foreign minister.

The authoritative source, who declined to permit identification, said that while the United States was not pleased about the form of the complaint as it stands now, it felt that too many technicalities should not be placed in the way of hearing a charge.

Manuilsky waited with two suitcases of documents for the council to decide whether to hear him immediately.

The Ukrainian official, who declared at a news conference last Friday that the Security Council must concern itself with the Greek plebiscite, had no comment Tuesday on the results of the voting, in which King George II won the decision.

On August 24, Manuilsky filed charges with the United Nations that the Greek government, aided by British troops in Greece, is a menace to the peace of the Balkans; is responsible for incidents along the Greek-Albanian border, and is persecuting national minorities in Macedonia, Thrace and Epirus.

Also pending on the provisional agenda is Gromyko's demand that the council call for information on the disposition on August 1 of Allied troops and air and sea bases in alien, non-enemy countries.

The British and the Netherlands delegates declared the charges were not substantiated; they demanded more evidence.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, said that the council must hear the charges.

If the council decides to hear Manuilsky's charges in their present form, it then must deal with a request from the Greek government for a 10-day postponement of the case.

Britain Opposes Hearing

The council last Friday declined to invite Manuilsky and Vassili Dendramis, Greek representative, to sit at the table while it debated whether to put the charges on the

Armed Forces Allowed Only 297,500 Men

Aircraft Carriers Not Permitted And Airforce Cut To 200 Fighters

PARIS—(AP)—"Big Four" recommendations that the Italian army, navy and air force be limited to 297,500 men—only a fraction of war-time strength—were approved unanimously Tuesday by the Military Commission of the 21-nation peace conference.

Under the approved provisions, Italy is permitted to have an army of 250,000, including 65,000 in the state police, a navy of 25,500 and an air force of 25,000.

She is barred from possession of aircraft carriers and her land air force is restricted to 200 fighter and reconnaissance planes with an additional 150 transport and training planes.

The Military Commission accepted the foreign ministers' draft setting the strength of the state police at 65,000 after Yugoslavia withdrew an amendment to limit the force to 30,000.

Yugoslav Delegate Ales Bebler answered Italian claims for Trieste with a counter-claim for a greater share of Venezia Giulia and accused Ivanhoe Bonomi, former Italian premier, of expressing "ruthless, heartless cynicism" in his speech Monday.

Bebler told the Italian political and territorial commission that Italy was "inspired by the same aggressive spirit" of Fascism. Bonomi said Monday that creation of the free territory of Trieste would result in a "permanent threat" to Yugoslav-Italian peace.

Bebler criticized the so-called "French line" agreed upon by the Foreign Ministers Council as establishing "the most absurd, the most arbitrary frontiers."

The French line, Bebler said, "gives the former aggressor excellent strategic position x x x and considerable military advantages."

Fleet Cut Drastically

Bebler deplored the Military Commission adopted all but one of the naval limitation articles drafted by the Foreign Ministers Council.

Approval of "Big Four" recommendations to limit the Italian fleet to two battleships, four cruisers and four destroyers and restrictions on other smaller warcraft was "delayed pending study of a French amendment to qualify the wording of the Balkan Economic Commission adopted unanimously a Polish amendment which obliges Romania to restore "all the legal rights and interests in Romania of the United Nations and their nationals as they existed" on September 1, 1939, the date war broke out in Europe, instead of the day Russia entered the war as the Foreign Ministers Council had drafted the paragraph.

The commission then came up against a clause on which the Foreign Ministers Council had been unable to agree—compensation for property which Romania could not restore because it had been destroyed or disposed of.

An American proposal, generally supported by Britain and France, called for full compensation in Romanian currency. A Russian counter-proposal called for compensation for only one-third value.

Willard Thorp, the American delegate, argued that it would be unwise to assure full restitution of available property for many years. Survivors are: his wife, Mrs. R. E. Olinger of Rankin; a son, Terry Olinger of Rankin; and Mrs. Tyson.

Funeral services will be held at the family cemetery at Anson Wednesday.

Father Of Midland Woman Dies

Survivors are: his wife, Mrs. R. E. Olinger of Rankin; a son, Terry Olinger of Rankin; and Mrs. Tyson.

Funeral services will be held at the family cemetery at Anson Wednesday.

VFW Committee Demands Trial Of Slavs Who Shot Down Fliers

Group To Send Resolution Condemning Ku Klux And U. S. Military Court System To Convention

BOSTON—(AP)—A demand that the Yugoslavs who shot down American airmen be brought to trial before an international tribunal has been drafted by the powerful Resolutions Committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, it was learned Tuesday.

James M. Hayes, Jr., 28-year-old former Marine from Winston Salem, N. C., said the committee which he heads would send the resolution to the convention floor with "unanimous endorsement."

In addition to demanding that the "perpetrators of this crime" be brought to trial, the resolution called upon the United States government to obtain full reparations for the families of the airmen killed.

Hayes, who is commander of the North Carolina Department of the VFW, disclosed that two other resolutions unanimously approved by his committee denounced the Ku Klux Klan and condemned the U. S. military court martial system.

The resolution assailing the Klan, he said, was sponsored by Basil Stockbridge, a delegate from Atlanta.

It condemned the organization as "subversive," Hayes said.

The shadow of the troubled international situation hung heavy over the campment as two more of the nation's top military leaders said solemnly that the path to peace lay in a strong national defense.

Delegates—thousands of them only a few months out of uniform—heard a Marine commander, Maj. Gen. Pedro A. Del Valle, bluntly assert:

"The dream of the bright and shining future we fought to win for ourselves and our children is disturbed by menacing omens. x x x The one defense and the only defense against a third world war over American soil is men and steel."

Draft Director Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey further declared "despite the fact that the war is just concluded, this is not a peaceful world."

Rear Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and Army Air Forces Cmdr. Gen. Carl Spaatz earlier told the convention that weakening our national defenses was "inviting attack."

LATE NEWS FLASHES

NEW YORK — (AP) — The three-day Labor Day holiday traffic fatalities surpassed the estimate made by the National Safety Council when at least 312 persons were killed, including 225 in traffic mishaps. The council had estimated 210 traffic deaths.

BOSTON — (AP) — General Dwight D. Eisenhower Tuesday struck back at Donald M. Nelson's assertion that the Army "tried to get control of our national economy" and declared: "The Army wants no domination over anything but its own affairs. It wants no domination of government—no domination of civil authority."

MOSCOW — (AP) — The official newspaper Pravda accused the United States Tuesday of stripping Japan and also of seeking to rejuvenate that country into an American-ruled "watchdog against the peoples of the Far East."

43,000 Coastal Seamen Plan To Strike Wednesday

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The Wage Stabilization Board Tuesday went over a flood of requests for reconsideration of its decision in the AFL maritime dispute as 43,000 seamen on all coasts prepared to strike Wednesday.

The board rejected the joint applications of the AFL maritime unions and carriers on the West and East Coasts for monthly wage increases higher than those won by CIO seamen.

The AFL unions are due to walk out Wednesday, say their leaders, unless the board reconsiders.

A CIO maritime strike was barely averted June 15, when increases were granted to the unions joined together in the committee for maritime unity. In that agreement, able-bodied seamen received a pay boost of $17.50 a month.

This increase was promptly approved by the Wage Stabilization Board. The AFL cases followed negotiation of wage increases by AFL unions in excess of the CIO settlement.

The War Shipping Administration approved the $22.50 monthly increase negotiated by the AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific and the Pacific American Shipworkers Association, and the $27.50 monthly increase agreed to between the AFL Seafarers International Union and the East and Gulf Coast general agents of the War Shipping Administration.

The WSB on August 23 approved increases of $17.50 a month, the same as the CIO's, but declined to go higher.

Stock Market Takes Another Nose-Dive

NEW YORK — (AP)—The stock market went into another nose-dive Tuesday with leaders dropping $1 to $5 a share and the high speed ticker tape falling behind actual floor transactions as liquidating pressure became pronounced. New lows for the past year were widespread among steels, motors, rails and industrials.

Blame for the resumption of the decline, after the length holiday, was placed by brokers partly on the idea that a business peak may not be far distant and that the reaction of the past three months possibly was in anticipation of this development. Little in the spot news was found to account for the retreat.

After the initial break, which occurred in the second hour, dealings quieted to some extent and extreme setbacks were reduced here and there.

Swedish Foreign Minister Oesten Unden was named his country's first delegate to the UN after Sweden had been voted membership by the Security Council meeting in New York.

More Rain Falls On Midland And Ranching Area

Hard rains soaked Midland and part of its ranch territory Monday. Moisture amounted to 3.3 of an inch by the city gauge. Only a trace was recorded at Midland Municipal Airport.

The rain was fairly general throughout West Texas. The Texas and Pacific Railroad reported rain all along its route from Fort Worth to Colorado City. Moisture was reported as far north as Lubbock and all along the West Texas Gasline from Midland.

El Paso received a light rain and other cities west also reported rains.

A downpour fell Sunday at Hobbs, N. M., and extended to Seminole and Andrews. Crane got a good rain Monday.

San Angelo only received light showers Monday but its area reported good rains. More than two inches fell at Brady. The Sterling City area got one inch or more.

Area Widely Scattered

Abilene reported .64 of an inch. Fort Worth had .97 of an inch. Merton reported .55 of an inch. The rain helped many sectors which did not receive moisture last week when general rains fell. One of these spots was Borden County, where three-quarters of an inch fell this time.

The rain left good sub soil moisture here, allowing farmers and ranchers an opportunity to plant fall grains for pasturage aid.

The hard falling shower, which hit Midland, interrupted the closing event of the World Championship Calf Roping but this was continued after the rain. The arena became a sea of water but the cowboys performed.

Water and mud slowed the moving of traffic away from the fair grounds. Many cars were stalled.

U. S. To Dispose Of Normandy As Scrap

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman Tuesday authorized the maritime commission to dispose of the USS Lafayette, the former French luxury liner Normandie, as scrap.

The Lafayette was taken over by the United States nine days after Pearl Harbor. While being refitted as a troop transport she caught fire at a New York dock and overturned. She was refloated in a stupendous salvage operation but never was put to wartime use.

An executive order issued at the White House said a settlement has been reached with the French government.

Russia Rejects U. S. Note On Soviet-Swedish Trade Pact

Official Tass News Agency Says America Was Told, In Effect, To Mind Its Own Business

MOSCOW—(AP)—Russia has rejected American expression of concern relative to bilateral Soviet-Swedish trade negotiations in a note in which the official Russian news agency said the United States was told, in effect, to mind its own business.

Tass, the Russian news agency, announced the rejection Monday night and quoted the note of rejection as saying that the "Soviet government—and it may be assumed the government of Sweden—are not in need of consultation with the United States government on the question of the advantage or disadvantage they will reap from trade agreements."

(Sweden, in effect, rejected the U. S. note—in which the hope was expressed that Russia would not undertake any obligations in conflict with principles expressed in the mutual aid agreement with Russia.

Informal officials in Washington said a second note might be dispatched to Moscow and Stockholm, but that no decision had been reached. The principal U. S. suggestion to both nations in the first expression was that both agree upon a clause specifying that the agreement could be changed later to conform to the international trade organization which the American government seeks to establish.)

U. S. Employee To Face Charge In Car Smuggling

HOUSTON — (AP)—A government employee was to be arraigned in federal court Tuesday in connection with the alleged "smuggling" of automobiles across the border into Mexico at Brownsville. One man, a Mexican immigration officer, has already been charged before U. S. Commissioner Carlos Watson at Brownsville with violation of the Export Control Act.

Customs officials at Brownsville said the two were being investigated in connection with the reported operation of a vast car smuggling ring with headquarters in Illinois.

The ring was said to have operated through Illinois, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Commissioner Watson said customs officers have been "working on the case" for about two years and estimated that more than 100 cars had crossed the border in violation of the export act.

Investigators on the case said that many of the cars—new and used—which crossed the border in violation of the act were shipped from Mexico for sale in Portugal and Spain for lucrative prices.

Several weeks ago the Mexican judicial police in Mexico City sent a special investigator to the border to work with United States investigators in an attempt to break up the operation. The officers worked bridges and areas along the Rio Grande River from Brownsville to El Paso.

Commissioner Watson said several weeks ago the customs officers issued an order that all persons driving automobiles across any bridge into Mexico from Brownsville to El Paso must have ownership papers on the auto before being permitted to cross the line. Customs officers say this was the most effective weapon used in making the arrest of the Mexican.

The order is still in effect and persons traveling from this country to Mexico by automobile should carry their ownership papers, customs officers say.

81 Slain In Bombay Inter-Party Riots

BOMBAY — (AP)—A communique said Tuesday that 81 persons had been killed and 300 injured since Sunday in violent Hindu-Muslim rioting in this teeming city, where new communal fights flared Tuesday morning.

The city still simmered with the threat of widespread disturbances and strong forces of troops and police were on duty, following pre-dawn outbreaks in zones outside the area where a curfew was imposed Monday.

Police were reported to have opened fire three times during the morning to quell outbreaks, with estimated casualties of 10 killed and 50 wounded.

Two persons were killed and eight injured when Bombay police fired 22 rounds Tuesday to disperse two armed mobs in a street battle on Victoria Gardens Road. The mobs hurled stones, sticks and bottles.

The violence spread to the northern part of the city, where several assaults and stabbings occurred. Two shops were looted. The police shot a man at one of the shops.

No meat was available in the affected areas and tram and bus traffic was paralyzed.

GI Hi-Jackers Give Woman $10 Back For Not Being 'Afraid'

Gray told officers the men drew guns on him near Marlin. One was stuck in Mrs. Gray's side, the other at the back of his head.
He said the men offered to let him keep his car if he agreed to give them a 30-minute start before reporting them, but he refused. The men then forced the Gray's out of the car on the outskirts of Waco, he said.

Chess Checkmates Fashion

Chessboards and the carved chessmen inspire new fashions in designer Eta's collection. Chess checks on the jacket of the sheer black wool dress, left, are outlined in gold wool. Two gold pawn clips are used for ornament. Evening gown, center, of antique white crepe has checks solidly embroidered in gold to square off the yoke from shoulders to hips. Softly draped in front, the dress ties at neck and waist in self bows. Drape of the winter navy crepe afternoon dress, right, is borrowed from the swag-like draperies on a chess queen. Squares cut out of the yoke underscore the chessboard motif.

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK (NEA)—World-famous chess collections provide the banquet of fashion ideas with which Eta, research-loving designer, tempts the taste of American women this fall.

Pawn-shaped buttons and clips, the familiar swag drapery of the chessmen, the rich ornamentation of fabulous gaming pieces and the clean, sharp squares of the board are motifs used freely by this designer. This fall's brilliant collection follows such museum-inspired series as the "almoner's bag," the Greek silhouette and medieval-knight motifs which have made important contributions to fashions during past seasons.

Silver pawns button up slim wool dresses, richly combined with black velvet, the fabric which must have been worn by little pedestaled-enthroned ebony queens. Gold pawn clips make two authentic ornaments for a dress of sheer black wool. Its top-gold wool, embroidered in chessboard squares—is also faithful to Eta's theme.

The influence of the chessboard checks shows again in the glittering top of an antique white dinner dress. For this gown of classic simplicity, styling is kept subordinate to chessboard-inspired ornamentation solidly embroidered in gold squares from shoulders to hips.

The chessboard lends its squares again to a winter navy dress which owes its cut-out yoke of self fabric to the prevailing motif. From the yoke of this dress, a wing-like cape falls to make short, flowing sleeves. A graceful skirt drape which falls from the front of the waist is borrowed boldly from a little chessboard queen whose swag draped robe is carved from precious ivory and jade.

Active Campaign By May Would Prompt Subpoena

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any move by Representative May (D-Ky.) to wage an active reelection campaign seemed likely Tuesday to prompt new demands for an appearance here to explain his connection with the Garson munitions combine.

Aides of the Senate War Investigating Committee said the group expects a report shortly from May's Prestonburg, Ky., physicians on the congressman's physical condition. May failed to appear before the Senate committee when he was stricken ill last month.

On his last visit to Washington, Chairman Mead (D-N. Y.) told reporters the committee is keeping a careful watch on May's condition and is prepared to issue a new subpoena when he recovers sufficiently to testify.

May said in a statement from his home recently that he would campaign for reelection, but he did not state whether he will conduct an active, personal drive or possibly depend on radio speeches. He was unopposed in the Kentucky primary.

Power Politics

Because Yugoslavia is a tiny country thousands of miles away, and the United States is a mighty world power, it would be very easy to overlook the significance of the recent dispute between our two countries.

If it were true that Yugoslavia is just a little nation, standing alone on her own feet, that had done some damage in a childish tantrum, then surely we could afford to accept her grudging amends and give Tito whatever satisfaction he might find in the last word.

Unfortunately, that is not the case. The matter is not really one between little Yugoslavia and the big United States. It is between the United States and powerful Russia.

Tito is merely Stalin's puppet. He never has been anything more. He is a Communist agent, trained in Moscow before the war and sent back to seize his native land for Russia, away from the legal government that was fighting whole-heartedly with the Allies against Nazism.

Under Tito, Yugoslavia has no independent existence. It is a province and a tool of the Soviet. It does nothing, internally or externally, without assurance that Moscow approves.

When Tito had American planes shot down, he did it in full knowledge that Stalin approved and would back him—if, indeed, he had no explicit orders from a Soviet government that ostensibly is our ally and friend.

The issue that has been raised is not one of national dignity. A Newfoundland can ignore the yapping of a toy terrier. It is an issue of world peace. Even a Newfoundland cannot afford, very long, to let himself be pushed around by a mastiff.

For a long time now we have let Russia push us around, ignore her agreements with us, interfere with our internal affairs, even slap us physically.

Her fighter planes, just for sport, have harassed our transports over occupied Austria. While she banned American flights over Siberia, her planes daily cruise over our Alaskan defense areas. Through her cat's paw Tito, she had two unarmed American transports shot down.

Grudgingly Tito has complied with much of our ultimatum. He has released those shot-down fliers known to be alive. He has given full military funeral honors to those known to be dead, taking them from the mass grave into which—until we talked tough—he had contemptuously tossed their mangled bodies. He has given orders that no more American planes are to be shot down.

All that is well. In addition, we have a right to an apology from Russia through her puppet, and to undeviating compliance with the understanding that American planes are to be let alone.

We should not be satisfied until we get those things.

Two Race Drivers Killed In Atlanta When Cars Pile Up Following Wreck

ATLANTA—(AP)—George Robson, winner of the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway race, and George Barringer of Indianapolis, Ind., were killed in a sensational wreck and pile-up of racing cars at Lakewood Park Monday.

Three or four others of 11 starters in a 100-mile grind over the Lakewood one-mile track were injured as racer after racer piled into a dust-shrouded heap on a turn.

Robson and Barringer were pronounced dead at Grady Hospital where they were rushed after the crash.

Ted Horne, who finished third in the Indianapolis race, said his car "hit something" on the Lakewood course and "that was the first I knew the track was blocked."

At that time Horne was leading and had only three or four laps to go to cross the finish.

Horne could be seen from the grandstand as he extricated himself from the wreckage of his car and dashed up the track waving his hands in an effort to prevent other crashes. However, his efforts were futile and with a few exceptions all the cars disappeared into the cloud of dust and several could be seen hurtling end over end.

Joe Langley of Dayton, Ohio, just behind the group that went into the northwest turn, scene of the accident, was able to cut up the bank to his right and avoid piling into the smoking, dust-obscured mass.

As he half-slid, half-weaved his way up the bank, Langley said he saw Robson's body sprawled on the track and that as he watched, a car loomed out of the dust and passed over Robson's body.

Langley said he leaped from his car and was able to extricate Billy Devore of Indianapolis, who suffered only minor injuries. Bud Bardowski of Gary, Ind., also was injured in the wreck, though not seriously.

Rex Mays of Long Beach, Calif., and Emil Andres of Chicago both managed to slow their cars and avoid driving into the wreckage.

Racers were handicapped in attempting to avoid the wreck by the fact that the one-mile track circles a lake. To have turned to the left and crashed the wood picket fences, would have meant possible death by drowning. They had no course but to turn to the right.

AFL Head Urges U. S. To Be Firm With Soviet Now

TULSA—(AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor Monday called upon the United States to be firm with Russia now or be forced to fight her later.

The labor chieftain, making his first appearance in Oklahoma at a Labor Day rally at the Tulsa State Fairgrounds, also warned American labor against dangers of an "insurrection inspired by Communist leaders" within and "the forces of Fascism in America" without.

He said further the industrial and economic outlook in America today was "not too bright," although production and employment had reached highest levels in American history.

Green openly criticized Soviet foreign policy, saying, "The bullying tactics engaged in by Russia and her Communist dependencies are a sign not of strength but of weakness."

"They are trying to cover up their fear of the atomic bomb. Is it conceivable that nations which must depend upon our charity to feed their starving people are in a position to wage war against us?"

"Unquestionably the Russians are clever traders. By acting belligerent now they hope to gain greater concessions at the peace tables. If we continue to yield, we will only add fuel to the conflagration instead of extinguishing the spark of war," he said.

Nelson Charges Army Tried To Take Over National Economy During War

By STERLING F. GREEN WASHINGTON (P)—Donald M. Nelson, former chairman of the War Production Board, charged Tuesday that the Army tried throughout the war to "gain control of our national economy," virtually succeeded in 1944 and thereby hampered reconversion.

Nelson wrote, in his book "Arsenal of Democracy" to be published Thursday, that the heads of the Army and Navy, plus War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, new secretary of state, tried to oust him in 1943 and make Bernard Baruch WPB chairman.

He warned that the War Department henceforth will be "one of the most important and influential branches of our government, and the question of military control will confront us not only in war but in peace."

"The lesson taught by these recent years of war is clear: our whole economic and social system will be in peril if it is controlled by the military men," Nelson asserted.

The "production crisis" proclaimed by the Army in the war's final stages was a false scare which failed to solve any munitions problems, Nelson wrote, but did tend to "drive a wedge between soldiers and civilians" and to "divert attention from the Army's own miscalculations."

Everybody's Dream Comes True

Envy of all his pals is 13-year-old Wiley Miller of Los Angeles, who achieved ambition of every boy, to help firemen put out a real blaze. When Wiley saw smoke-eaters fighting a fire, he rushed to nearby house and got a garden hose and, as pictured above, took part in the battle.

FOX BOSS

DANVILLE, ILL.—(P)—Because their boss was foxier, two Danville Garbage Department drivers picked up $5 they didn't know they had.

Drivers John Criner and Elmer Wood were dumping a dead fox into an incinerator when Supt. Frank Coburn salvaged the animal, which had been struck by an automobile.

Coburn collected a $5 bounty on the pelt and gave the money to the red-faced drivers.

ed out, can be traced directly to that fact," he said.

"The Army was, quite openly, out to protect war production by the simple means of creating pools of unemployment," wrote the former production chief, who held the view that workers laid off by war cut-backs should be permitted to do civilian work if no other war jobs were available.

This was the issue which divided WPB itself, resulting in the resignation of both Nelson and his second-in-command, Wilson, in a final blow-off which left WPB in the hands of J. A. Krug, now secretary of the interior.

Nelson former executive vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., now is president of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers. He is currently engaged, at the request of President Truman, in planning a permanent chain of standby munitions plants. His book is published by Harcourt, Brace and Company.

$1,200 Reward Is Offered In Assault Of El Paso Woman

EL PASO, TEX.—(P)—The El Paso Times and some citizens raised a $1,200 reward for the capture and conviction of a man who broke into a house and raped a 22-year-old mother of a five-week-old girl early Sunday. Public indignation was high over the assault.

City police and detectives said they were searching the entire area about the house where the man broke in and then threatened the life of the baby which slept in a crib in the room where the mother was attacked.

The man, whom the mother described as of Latin-American descent, beat her unmercifully, officers said, breaking her nose, fracturing her jaw and leaving marks about her face and shoulders.

The woman's husband, a soldier was out of the city on recruiting duty at the time of the assault.

Two suspects were arrested today but one was released when the woman failed to identify him.

At William Beaumont General hospital, the mother was reported to be in a serious condition.

The intruder gained entrance into the house by cutting a hole in a screen. After the attack he demanded money but left when the woman told him she had none.

The baby slept through the assault.

DEVIL'S LAUGHTER

By Alice M. Laverick Copyright, 1946, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Beatrice Harrington plays the piano while Colin and Charlotte dance together, oblivious of everyone else. Suddenly Charlotte sways and faints. It is Mark who carries her from the room.

XIV
COLIN stood still, looking as if he were just coming out of a dream, and for the first time since I had known him, he was speechless. He shook his head a little, as if to clear it, and then he looked around and seemed to be aware of the crowd again. The spell was broken.

Everyone began to speak at once, to crowd around him. Except Beatrice, who came swiftly toward me, as I stood stupidly in the doorway clutching the cocktail shaker. Somebody relieved me of the shaker, with a laughing remark to the effect that he, too, would pass out if he didn't have a drink, and quick.

And Beatrice Harrington was speaking to me. She wanted to help, if she could, and she asked me if I would please show her to Miss Brent's room. Her voice was like her eyes, clear and soft, and her manner was gracious.

We had reached the top of the stairs when Colin called to us from the lower hall. His dark eyes were anxious, bewildered.

"What is it, Beatrice? What can I do?" he wanted to know.

"There's nothing for you to do here, Colin," she told him. "Just get rid of your guests. We'll take care of Charlotte."

And after a moment's hesitation, he turned away.

Mark had laid Charlotte on the bed and was chafing her wrists, and he looked relieved when he saw Beatrice.

In a very few minutes, she had Charlotte revived and undressed and in bed, while Mark went to call the doctor and I ran around getting smelling salts and ammonia and an ice bag. And finally they sent me in to tell Mrs. Fitzgerald that everything was all right, that Miss Charlotte had fainted but was coming to nicely, and the doctor was on his way.

"WHAT happened to her?" the old lady demanded to know, and when I told her she was just dancing a little, she shrieked in horror. "She had no business dancing," she said. "She's supposed to be careful of herself, she's supposed to be taking a lot of rest. Ah, they don't take good care of her, the poor darling, and here I am lying here useless. I'll get up and go to her, that's what I'll do, and ten nurses can't hold me here, either."

"Miss Harrington is there with her now," I said.

"Who? Beatrice Harrington? What does she know about taking care of sick people? If it was a sick horse, now, yes, she'd know how to take care of a sick horse. That's all she does know, is horses. What's she doing here, anyway?" Her black eyes stared at me angrily.

"Why," I said uneasily, "she came with Mr. Fitzgerald—Mr. Colin."

"A likely story," she snorted. "Now what on earth would Colin be bringing her here for? Sure, he hardly knows the girl!"

I learned afterwards from Cousin Ellen that Mrs. Fitzgerald absolutely ignored Colin's engagement to Beatrice, in fact, refused to recognize that he had given her a ring. That when Beatrice called and tried to make friends with her, she had never been at home to the girl. Beatrice had finally given up trying to call on the old lady.

In telling me all this reluctantly, Ellen had added, "I suppose herself has her reasons," never swerving for one moment from her loyalty to the Fitzgeralds, despite the fact that she could find no fault with Beatrice Harrington. I did not know about this, however, when I was talking to old Howard and I was utterly bewildered by her assuring me that Colin hardly knew Miss Harrington.

I said weakly, "I—I thought she came with him."

"YOU don't look much better," the old lady said then, for some reason her attention being diverted from Beatrice and Charlotte and Colin to me as a person once more. "Are you eating good and getting your sleep? You tell Ellen she's to get you a bottle of Father John's medicine at once. It's a great tonic. Father John's. Well, indeed, I don't suppose it would be named after a priest if it wasn't. And I think," gazing at me critically, "you might look better if you'd loosen your hair around your temples a little."

Then, immediately, she lost interest in me and in everything, and lay back with her eyes closed.

I left the room and started for Miss Charlotte's room to see if I was needed. I could hear the party leaving a little more quietly than they had arrived. And looking out the upstairs hall window I saw Colin standing, watching them go, Beatrice on her chestnut horse leading the black, and the two cars gathering speed as they reached the spot where the long rows of sugar maples ended and the road began.

At the door of Miss Charlotte's room I hesitated. And then I went along the hall toward the back stairs. I did not go in after all.

For Mark Fitzgerald was kneeling at the side of the bed where Miss Charlotte lay, her blue eyes misty as she said in a whisper, "Mark, it's just as I told you, you see. I can't take it. I can't do anything at all. Don't you see, darling?"

And Mark, leaning over to kiss her hand and lay his cheek on it, said, "Now, that's all nonsense. You overdid a bit, that's all. Sure, you'll be up tomorrow as bright as ever."

But she wasn't. It was two weeks before the doctor allowed her to get out of bed. And three before we had our picnic.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

"Why You Lose at Bridge" by S. J. Simon of London, is one of the most enjoyable bridge books. It has been my pleasure to read. I do not know the author, but his publishers claim he is one of the world's greatest bridge players. I am giving you today the very first hand out of his book. "Mr. Smug" (South) quickly and easily found himself in a four-spade contract.

When West made his opening lead and the dummy went down, Mr. Smug said, "Play the ace of diamonds," which won the trick. Now he saw that if he could make the right heart finesse and club finesse, and if the spades broke, he could make a grand slam, so his next remark was, "Probably missed a slam, partner."

He played the king of spades from dummy, and when East discarded a heart, Mr. Smug chuckled and said, "Lucky we did not get into the slam." He proceeded to draw another trump, and by this time it had occurred to him that he might not even make his contract.

He cashed the ace and king of clubs, intending to ruff the third club and hoping that the queen would fall. But West overtrumped the third club, cashed his high trump and winning diamond, then let Mr. Smug ruff the next diamond. Then Mr. Smug misguessed the heart finesse and said, "Sorry, partner, but everything was wrong."

The hand of course was ice-cold for five-odd.

The Reporter won the first game, 3 to 0, and the second, 5 to 4.

New Midland Pro Loses In Finals

EL PASO —(P)— Jack Harden, professional golfer at the El Paso Country Club, Tuesday held the championship of the $3,000 El Paso Open golf tournament.

FOUR NAMED TO U. S. DAVIS CUP TEAM

Alabama Rules As Favorite In South

TUSCALOOSA, ALA. —(P)—Alabama is the team to beat in the South this football season, and one glance at the Crimson Tide roster is enough to show the deepest pessimist plenty of reasons for such a rating.

Back from the unbeaten Southeastern Conference and Rose Bowl championship club of last year, and from the wars, are 36 letter winners. This number includes All-America Center Vaughn (Pancho) Mancha; Little Harry Gilmer, tagged the "best passer I ever saw" by his coach; a great runner in right half-back Lowell Tew, and Ted Cook, all-star end on service elevens.

Cardinal Relief Hurler Wins Two Games Over Reds

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

National League fans long may remember the 1946 pennant race as the "battle of the bullpen" with Manager Eddie Dyer of St. Louis uncovering Al Brazle as his latest relief ace to match Leo Durocher's crew of firemen.

The lean lefthander's greatest day of the season came Monday, when he received credit for both ends of a double win over Cincinnati, 6-4 and 8-7, although he, too, needed help from the bullpen in the late stages of the second game.

The twin victories re-established the Cards' lead at 2½ games because Brooklyn, after winning the opener from the Phillies, 5-2, ran foul of Oscar Judd's left arm and dropped the 3-2 finale.

Walker Cooper was the big noise for the New York Giants in their eight-run seventh inning which earned an 8-3 edge and an even break with Boston, which had won the opener 4-2. Cooper spooled Brazle's shutout bid in the first tilt with a two-run double. It was the first time he had appeared against his brother since they left St. Louis.

Pirates And Cubs Split

Pittsburgh and Chicago swapped decisions, the Pirates grabbing a 4-1 opener for Rookie Edson Bahr. The veteran Russ Bauers, a former Pirate, earned his first victory of the season on a 7-3 job for the Cubs in the second.

New York's largest crowd of the season, 73,551 paid, watched Boston sweep both game from the New York Yankees, 5-2, and 3-1, moving the Sox toward a mathematical flag clinching with a 15½ game lead.

Bob Newsom thoroughly enjoyed himself on the holiday afternoon by trimming his old Philadelphia mates for a Washington 5-2 win. Jess Flores, one of the better hurlers in the league for the past month, earned his fifth straight victory, 7-1 for an even break.

St. Louis thumped Cleveland, 9-2, on an eight-run spurt in the eighth inning of the opener and the teams played 13 innings to a 2-2 deadlock before darkness forced the second game to be called. It will be re-played as part of a doubleheader Tuesday.

SMU Opens Practice With Scrimmage Session

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference football coaches aren't losing any time in getting down to serious business for the first post-war campaign.

The 856 grid candidates who reported Monday at the seven conference schools had a full program waiting for them, and in some cases the order of the day was scrimmage.

Southern Methodist's Matty Bell, in dishing out a stiff scrimmage session, summed the situation something like this: "We have to find out who likes the rough going because we can't waste time with those who don't."

With every school flooded with lettermen and returned war veterans, as well as numerous freshmen hopefuls, the seven head coaches have keynoted the year's conference play as being double tough.

Texas A&M, with 143 candidates, had the largest turnout, followed by SMU, with 140 and the University of Texas with 135.

TCU had 125, Baylor 116, Arkansas 103 and Rice 94.

Assault Draws Top Weight For Race

NEW YORK —(P)—Robert Kieberg's Assault, the three-year-old champion who is training satisfactorily since recovering from the kidney ailment that cropped up several weeks ago, drew topweight of 126 pounds in the weights for next Saturday's $25,000 added, mile and a furlong discovery handicap.

The race is restricted to three-year olds, but Assault is rated a doubtful starter. Next to the triple crown hero in handicapper J. B. Campbell's assignments comes Mrs. W. M. Jeffords' Natchez and Mrs. Al Gaal's The Dude at 122. Louis B. Mayer's filly, Honeymoon, drew 120.

Hogan Rallies To Win Golden State Tourney

LOS ANGELES —(P)— Ben Hogan with the $2,500 first place check in the Golden State Open tucked in his pocket, was en route home to Hershey, Pa., Tuesday, to "rest and forget about golf for awhile."

But local golf fans won't soon forget the comeback Bantam Ben made on the final round to win Monday with a 72-hole total of 275, just one stroke ahead of Chick Harbert, Detroit.

Hogan rallied for birdies on the 16th and 17th holes, then parred the 18th to squeeze in ahead of Harbert, who carded a 66 earlier to assume the lead.

The victory increased Hogan's 1946 leading winnings to $35,877.

Hogan's rounds of 66-69-70-70 clipped nine strokes off par.

Lubbock War Vet Wins Big Spring Tourney

Lombardo Wins Boat Race With New Record

DETROIT —(P)— Band Leader Guy Lombardo, coaxing sweet music out of the 12-cylinder Zumbach-Miller engine of his smooth-riding Tempo VI, stood alone at the head of the list of 1946 American speed-boat drivers Tuesday after establishing a new speed record of 68.128 miles an hour in winning the first postwar renewal of the 90-mile Gold Cup classic on the Detroit River.

With a throng of spectators estimated at approximately 150,000 lining both shores of the three-mile egg-shaped course, Lombardo hung up a straight three-heat victory to add the prized gold cup, emblematic of the North American championship, to his national sweepstakes triumph of two weeks ago at Red Bank, N. J.
