Assailant Beats Nurse To Death

Army Raid In Reich Uncovers Hidden Jewelry Worth Millions

FRANKFURT—(AP)—Surprise raids throughout the American and British occupation zones of Germany have uncovered millions of dollars worth of precious stones and metals hidden by the Nazis shortly before Germany surrendered. United States Army headquarters announced Wednesday.

The diamonds, gold, silver and platinum found in the raids were dispersed in hiding places by the Nazi government agency "Reichsstelle Fuer Edelmetalle" (Reich Agency for Precious Metals) in an attempt to keep them from falling into Allied hands.

A spokesman for the United States Army intelligence division said it was "conjectured but conceivable" that the board might have been designed to finance a "resurgence of German nationalist movements."

About $2,500,000 worth of precious stones and metals were found in less than a fourth of the total number of places raided, the spokesman said.

A total of 367 different places were raided in the two zones, and the $2,500,000 yield came from the first 79 places to tabulate results.

The Army spokesman said the clue to the hiding places came from the typically German detailed records of the "Reich Agency for Precious Metals" which were found last June in Berlin.

Asked why the raids were confined to the British and American zones, he said: "The only records we found pertained to dispersals in those two zones."

Beginning early Tuesday morning and ending Tuesday midnight, raiders composed of Army and military government personnel and German police visited selected firms and banks to seize the stocks of precious stones and metals which had not been declared as required by Allied authorities.

Reichsstelle Fuer Edelmetalle was organized in 1935 to control the acquisition, sale and exchange of all German stocks of metals and stones.

Yugoslavia Requests UN To Restore 167 Ships In U. S. Zone

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Yugoslavia called on the United Nations Economic and Social Council Wednesday to take immediate action to restore to her 167 Yugoslav vessels which she reported held in the U. S. zone of occupation on the Upper Danube.

The Yugoslav delegate, Stane Kravoski, made his demand as the council opened its third session to take up a crowded agenda which included such issues as future care for refugees.

He spoke after U. S. Rep. Ernest Penrose proposed that the Yugoslav item on the agenda be broadened to permit full discussion of other questions regarding the Danube.

During the debate over the agenda, F. H. LaGuardia, director general of UNRRA, sat near the council table awaiting an opportunity to speak on the refugee question.

Stock Market Shows Signs Of Rising

NEW YORK—(AP)—Buyers rushed into the stock market Wednesday, sending prices up from a few cents to $6 a share soon after the opening, but the rush later slowed to a walk and many issues fell back from the highs.

Plus signs nevertheless remained in the majority throughout the list, in sharp contrast to the almost constant sinking spells that have prevailed this month.

CIO Seamen To Strike If Higher Pay Given AFL And Not CIO

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Joseph Curran of the CIO National Maritime Union said Wednesday that his union will go on strike unless the higher pay sought by AFL maritime strikers is applied "to the whole industry."

Curran made the statement to a reporter as the CIO-dominated Committee for Maritime Unity began a strategy session at which, the NMU chief said, the current all-coast maritime strike is "the No. 1 topic."

Simultaneously, the Wage Stabilization Board received from the AFL a demand for reversal of its August 23 ruling which touched off the seamen's work stoppage.

One industry member of WSB said the board had "hopes" of making an announcement on its decision at a news conference late Wednesday afternoon. But this was not at all certain.

A high AFL official told reporters that AFL President William Green is polling the 15 members of the AFL executive council on whether to withdraw further union participation in the WSB as an offshoot of the maritime strike.

The AFL has one of the two labor members on the board. Withdrawal of both the AFL and CIO members was advocated by the AFL seamen's strike committee in telegrams to Green and CIO President Philip Murray, in the event the board rejects the AFL wage demands.

During these developments, there still was no official word from the White House that President Truman intended to intervene in the paralyzing maritime strike.

Marooned Passengers Rescued

Waiting for the next step, children, who with their parents, were removed from the strikebound French liner Atnos II, go sound asleep on Pier 88, North River in New York City. The excursion boat Americana brought 1,800 passengers to shore, after they spent two days marooned on ship which could not dock due to seamen's strike.

Democrat Convention Commits Itself To Jester's Platform, Snubs O'Daniel

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—The Democratic Party of Texas Wednesday had committed itself—not without some vociferous dissent—to Governor-nominate Beauford H. Jester's "people's path."

There was more noise than numbers in opposition to the state convention. Jester forces took full control of the session and the party machinery by an overwhelming vote of 1,184 to 524.

By this big majority, it upheld the action of a committee which had disregarded district caucuses in six instances to nominate members of the executive committee who were friendly to Jester, rather than to Dr. Homer P. Rainey, his defeated opponent.

Then, after Jester himself appeared to make the traditional nominee's speech, the convention leadership rammed through a platform following generally the pattern of his gubernatorial campaign pledges.

Jester did not come to the convention hall until after 9 p. m. The convention dragged slightly through most of the day, but flamed into activity when a noisy demonstration protested a voice vote on the election of the executive committee. This led to the roll call which flatly expressed the convention majority's wish to follow Jester's leadership.

The platform quoted from the late Justice Brandeis in voicing this idea of government: "Betterment within the broad lines of existing institutions." It included Jester's pledge of improvements of many state functions without addition of new taxes.

Warns Negroes

The platform also advised negro voters to vote as individuals, not bloc, and suggested that they demonstrate their willingness to exercise the privilege of voting if they "expect to keep it."

But in the last weary moments of the 10-hour session, a committee-approved resolution calling for legislation to legalize a "white man's primary" never reached the floor. It was shut off when drooping delegates eagerly snapped up a motion to adjourn.

Adjournment also shut off consideration of a minority report on resolutions prepared by Robert Eckhardt of Austin, which convention leaders might have interpreted as an effort to embarrass Jester. Eckhardt was an ardent Rainey supporter.

The resolutions committee had rejected proposals advocating federal and state anti-lynching laws, urging removal of the $35,000,000 ceiling on public welfare expenditures, calling for abolition of the poll tax, and lowering the voting age to 18. These were strongly supported by the outvoted minority.

An overwhelming voice vote in the closing minutes of the session struck the name of Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel from the list of Texans in Washington to whom the convention sent official greetings.

After the bitter struggle over personnel of the executive committee was decided in his favor, Jester came before the convention to say that he was ready to march along his people's path in friendship with all.

"I am willing to take the hands of every Democrat in Texas and say regardless of the past that our job lies in the future," he said.

"It behooves our party to let bygones be bygones," he said.

U.S. Renounces Claim To Italian Reparations

PARIS—(AP)—The United States renounced Wednesday any claim to reparations from Italy "in the interests of international stability," but its spokesman in the Italian Economic Commission said the United States did not propose to pour help into Italy only to have it go out as reparations to other countries.

The spokesman, Willard Thorp, estimated that $20,000,000,000 of the United States' total war cost of more than $35,000,000,000 could be attributed to the Italian campaign.

Since the war the United States has sent more than $1,000,000,000 worth of credits into Italy to help its civilian economy, he said, as well as paying the Italian government more than $100,000,000 for Army occupation costs which it might have demanded that Italy pay.

The peace conference's Legal and Drafting Commission virtually eliminated Australia's proposal for a world court of human rights by ruling 14 to 2 that the proposal properly belonged in the United Nations and not in the peace treaties.

Yugoslavia Presses Demand

In the Italian Political and Territorial Commission, Dr. Ales Bessler of Yugoslavia moved into the third chapter of his explanation of Yugoslav demands for more territory from Italy with a long statement asserting Yugoslavia's historical and ethnic right to complete possession of Venezia Giulia and disputed Trieste.

Delegates from the Ukraine and Czechoslovakia supported the Yugoslav contentions, while the Italy embassy in Paris announced that Italy had asked for a plebiscite in Venezia Giulia to settle the disputed border question, which is scheduled to come before a sub-commission holding a night session Wednesday night.

The Czech delegate called for appointment of a sub-commission of nine to study the question of Gorizia. He said the French line, which the foreign ministers council had adopted as the border without a detailed delimitation, would cut Gorizia in half.

The Military Commission meanwhile adopted unanimously Article 11 of the Romanian treaty limiting that country to an army of 120,000, an anti-aircraft force of 5,000, a navy of 15,000 tons and 5,000 men and an air force of 8,000 men and 150 combat planes.

Miners And Operators Meet As U. S. Moves To Restore Mines

WASHINGTON—(AP)—John L. Lewis and a large delegation of United Mine Workers district presidents met with soft coal operators Wednesday in a move to restore the federally-controlled mines to private operation.

The government, anxious to get out of the coal mining business into which it was thrust by last Spring's strike, called the parties together to see if they could negotiate a contract for themselves.

Most of the administrative work of running the mines has been performed by Navy personnel, headed by Adm. Ben Moreell, as coal mines administrator.

Lewis voiced his usual "no comment" as he strode unsmiling into the big Interior Department conference room. He was flanked by a score of district presidents from areas east of the Mississippi River who form the subcommittee of the miners' scale and policy group.

Operators, headed by Chairman Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland and Charles O'Neill of Altoona, Pa., likewise were noncommittal about the prospects for reaching a settlement which would make possible a return to private operation.

It was the first miner-management meeting in nearly four months.

Lyman Named To State Executive Committee

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—The 60 members of the new state Democratic Executive Committee included: C. V. (Cap) Lyman of Midland.

Weather

Partly cloudy Thursday with scattered thunder showers in the afternoon. Maximum temperature Tuesday was 94 degrees, minimum 70 degrees.

Another Nurse Is Slugged By Negro Attacker

MAN ESCAPES THROUGH WINDOW HE HAD ENTERED

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—Miss Alberta Green, 20, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., nurse at the Robert W. Long Hospital, was slugged fatally and another nurse, Miss Betty Overdeer, 20, of Indianapolis, was injured seriously by a man who broke into the hospital Wednesday.

Dr. John D. Van Nuys, director of the hospital, said Miss Ozella Allen, 30, a maid, told him she encountered the assailant when she left her room after hearing a scream. She said the man was a negro.

Miss Green died of a fractured skull two hours after the attack.

Miss Overdeer was also hit on the head. She is in a critical condition.

Dr. Van Nuys said the man broke into the hospital through a screened window about 3:30 a. m.

The man encountered Miss Green and slugged her, apparently with a club.

Miss Overdeer found the injured nurse and was bending over to aid her when she, too, was slugged.

Police began a roundup of suspects in a nearby negro district. The hospital is part of the Indiana University medical center.

Dr. Van Nuys said neither nurse had been raped, but added that "obviously the man had broken into the hospital for the sole purpose of attacking the girls."

Winter Plans Discussed At Aeronautics Meeting

Plans for winter activities were discussed at the regular meeting of the Midland Chapter of the National Aeronautics Association in the Scharbauer Hotel Tuesday evening.

Stanley Erskine presided at the meeting in the absence of M. T. Smith, president.

Several members indicated they would attend the dinner-dance sponsored by the Lubbock NAA Chapter in Lubbock Saturday evening.

Midland's airport situation was explained.

The Pullman Tool Pusher

By JAMES C. WATSON, Oil Editor

Midland And West Texas Oil Activity Given World-Wide Publicity Spread

Midland and West Texas oil have been given another world-wide publicity "break" in a feature article in the September 14 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, which went on the newsstands Wednesday.

The article covers five pages in the magazine including a two-page layout with six natural color pictures showing the operation of Rowan Drilling Company's big rotary rig while drilling Humble Oil & Refining Company's No. 1 Crespino, recently completed dry hole about nine miles southeast of town in east Midland County.

The article was written by Richard Thruelsen, an associate editor of The Post, who covered the war in the Pacific for one of the major press associations, and wrote several "best-seller" books on some of the feature events of the war. The pictures were made by Ivan Dmitri, staff photographer for the magazine.

The story is one of a series being carried by The Post, under the general title of "Men At Work." Each article is centered around some one individual in some industry, occupation or profession and gives a full description of the work the particular person does—and in so doing gives a general picture of the work done by others who are associated with the central character.

The current story is headed, "Making Hole." Its leading figure is Morris Eugene Hays, who during the activity at Humble No. 1 Crespino was driller on the day tour.

Hays, together with his wife and daughter lived in Odessa while he was in the oil industry and their work here was about $2,500 a month. He left this area about two weeks ago to go to South America to work for Socony-Vacuum Oil Company. It is understood that his family will join him soon.

Here Several Days

Thruelsen and Dmitri collected the material for the story, and made the pictures several months ago. They spent several days in Midland and in the course of their work here used about $2,500 worth of colored picture film, and more than 600 photo flash bulbs in making pictures at the Rowan rig, one of the largest and best in operation in any oil country.

John Culliver, of Midland, tool-pusher in this area for Rowan Drilling Company, reveals that the Saturday Evening Post representatives were extremely interested in the work of drilling oil explorations and that interest is indicated by the fact that they produced a readable and fairly accurate story. There are very few statements in the article that will not stand up under checking by experienced oil field men.

The story gives a complete report on the progress made by Hays from the time he started work in the oil industry. He worked for Rowan in West Texas for eleven years and had been a driller since 1940.

Corrected Mistakes

Thruelsen noted three mistaken ideas that the uninformed sometimes have about oil field people and oil field work—and in noting them he gave the facts on those points.

The fallacies he exploded were that all oil fields are forests of derricks; that there is a great amount of spying and counter-spying in the oil industry and that there are very few statements in the article that will not stand up under checking by experienced oil field men.

Midland High Elects Cheer Leaders And Starts Drill Team

Four new cheer leaders were elected in a student body election at Midland High School Wednesday morning. Chosen were Betty McCain, a junior, and Patsy Lou Arrington, Elizabeth Ann Cowden and Evelyn Wemple, seniors. They will assist Head Cheer Leader Alma Faye Cowden, who was carried over from last year's squad. Miss McCain will be head leader next fall. The girls will direct the student cheering section and the newly-formed drill team inaugurated for the first time this year.

The drill team, composed of 65 high school girls dressed in purple and gold colors of the school, will actively support the Midland football team in school parades and at games this fall.

The team will meet as a credited physical education class at the school for practicing of yells, marches, and half-time stunts. The organization is directed by Mrs. Inez Cheatham, with the assistance of the yell leaders.

The girls will wear purple and gold jumpers and blouses and matching overseas type caps. Measurements for the girls were taken Monday and the girls held their first practice drill Tuesday. The uniforms are expected to arrive in time for use at the second home game when the Bulldogs play host to Plainview October 4.

During 1939, the Bureau of Light-houses was transferred from the Department of Commerce to the U. S. Coast Guard.

Democrats—

(Continued from Page 1) flared early in the day. It was on the issue of whether or not to seat a Harris County delegation described by a rival faction leader as the "Texas Regular" group. The convention voted to seat it, but when the time came for making up the permanent roll, it voted to bar anyone in the Harris County delegation who had been named as a delegate to the 1946 state Republican convention. The convention did not balk at accepting some Harris County delegates described as contributors to the Republican campaign fund, however.

This action was interpreted as an invitation for members of the now dissolved Texas Regular Party of 1944 to line up again with the Democrats. Jester had said he would welcome them back if they wanted to be good Democrats.

The convention accepted Jester's choice of Robert W. Calvert of Elkhorn as executive committee chairman, and Van M. Kennedy of Austin as committee secretary. The new executive committee includes some holdovers from the committee named at the militant pro-Roosevelt convention in Dallas in 1944, but it is definitely a Jester organization.

Humble No. 4 Parker, 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 23, block A-41, psi survey, and on the east side of the Martin Ellenburger field, in Central Andrews County, tested for 283.50 barrels of oil, flowing through a one-fourth-inch tubing choke, in six hours, from perforated sections in the Ellenburger between 8,620-8,930 feet. The flow was natural. Gravity of the oil was 43 degrees. The well is to be completed shortly.

Mrs. Eisenhower—

Mrs. Eisenhower, who was named the Kansas mother of 1945, was born May 1, 1862, at Mount Sidney, Va. She came to Kansas in 1880 to join a brother at Topeka. While living there, she attended the old Lane University at Le-compton, Kan., and it was there that she met her future husband, David Eisenhower. Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower were married Sept. 23, 1885.

The couple first made their home at Hope, Kan., south of here, then for a short time lived at Denison, Texas, where Dwight D. Eisenhower was born. They moved to Abilene in 1892 and the family had lived here since.

In her later years, Mrs. Eisenhower had lived with a companion, maintaining a keen interest in "her boys".

Myrtle Jean Butler Will Become Bride Of Ed Metzger October 5

Mrs. W. H. Butler announced the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Myrtle Jean, to Ed Metzger at a dinner party Tuesday evening at the Ranch House.

The table was centered with a bouquet of pastel shades of asters. By the place cards were corsages of pink and white gladioli tied with ribbons on which was printed in gold "Jean and Ed, October 5". The guest list included Misses Beth Prothro and Dorothy Butler, and Mmes. Bob Sheetz, Howard Atwater, Charles Reeder, John E. Mitchell, L. L. Butler.

After the dinner, the guests went to the Butler home, 101 Butler. The marriage will be solemnized in the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor, officiating.

Erskine And Milam Address Lions Club

Stanley M. Erskine, acting president of the Bulldog Booster Club, and Coach Barnes Milam of Midland High School, were the speakers at the weekly luncheon of the Midland Lions Club in the Scharbauer Hotel Wednesday noon.

Erskine traced the history of the Booster Club and listed the objectives and purposes of the organization which was formed to support all school activities. He outlined the program of activities for this year and urged Lions to affiliate with the Boosters.

Coach Milam told of the football training program underway at Midland High School, and invited club members to Lackey Field to witness the daily practice sessions of the Bulldogs.

Football rule changes were explained by Milam who also diagrammed formations on a black-board.

Tryouts For Community Theater Play Set For Thursday And Friday

Tryout readings of "The Torch-Bearers", a play about a play and Community Theater's sixth production of the year, will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday and Friday in the City-County Auditorium.

This well-known comedy by playwright George Kelly pokes two hours of fun at amateur actors and the "Little Theater Movement", and promises to keep all the laughter rolling through the auditorium that started with "Junior Miss" and "Get With It".

Six men and six women are required for the cast of "The Torch-Bearers", and emphasis is evenly divided among the 12 roles. Active participation in Community Theater plays is open to all residents of Midland and surrounding areas. Membership in the organization is not necessary.

A total of 84 people have appeared in the casts of the first five productions of Midland Community Theater, Inc. It is hoped that many new players may be placed in the cast of "The Torch-Bearers". Everyone interested in participating in this production is invited to attend the casting session Thursday and Friday evenings in the City-County Auditorium, 301 West Missouri.

Star Point Night Is Observed By Members Of Eastern Star

"Star Point Night" was observed by members of the Order of the Eastern Star, chapter 253, Monday evening at the Masonic Hall. Special honor was paid to those holding star point stations.

Mrs. Rex Russell was in charge of the program which opened with a poem "Star Vows" read by Mrs. Fred Wycoff. A quartet composed of G. G. Hazel, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Alcorn and Mrs. Wycoff sang "Eastern Star Lead Forward."

The impressive candle lighting ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Hollye Friberg. Mrs. Bernard Collins, worthy matron, was presented with a gift of china by the star points, Mmes. Roy Jones, Sherwood O'Neal, J. Wayne Campbell, Mahlon Alcorn, and J. E. Wright. The presentation was made by Mrs. Alcorn and Mrs. C'Neal who also presented W. M. Alcorn, worthy patron, with a gift.

Members attending the Friendship Night meeting in Big Spring recently gave the handpainted picture awarded the local chapter to the worthy patron who in turn presented it to the worthy matron. Announcement was made by Mrs. Collins that a call meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Friday at the hall at which time degrees will be conferred on six candidates. All members were urged to be present. Several grand officers will be present for the occasion.

Lace Used In Smart Evening Gowns

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK (NEA)—When top-flight designer Zoe DeSalle cut up a handsome lace tablecloth, a buffet runner and a tea table cover and fashioned these into smart formal gowns, she may have started something: a run on the linen closet and hope chest.

She contends that simplified living makes many formal household laces and linens almost useless as such but that these have a busy life cut out for them as wearable clothes. She thinks that other women will applaud the idea.

The woman who winces at the thought of cutting up household treasures can, says Miss DeSalle, search her linen closet for less fabulous pieces that will also make elegant additions to a wardrobe. Yellowing or dingy laces and linens can be revived by ceru dips or color baths.

A circular tablecloth makes a swirling skirt, like that on the model shown above. All that was needed for the conversion—the skirt is posed over a gray satin dinner dress—was to remove the linen center of the tablecloth. This made a point of entry for the waist. An uncut length of heirloom lace makes the handsome shoulder shawl.

The picturesque bolero, right, which is worn over a black dinner dress, is made from a buffet runner of linen and lace. First centered and draped across the shoulders, scarf-fashion, the runner was cut to make openings under the arms. Seamed up, these formed sleeves.

The fancy reticule shown, made of a tea table cover, was gathered up by a decorative cord, and is uncut.

'One Human Race' Is Program Theme For Woman's Council Study

Mrs. F. E. Curtis was leader of a program on "One Human Race" at a meeting of the Women's Council of the First Christian Church Monday afternoon at the church. The session opened with a song by the group and followed with a prayer.

A devotional on "Christian Love" was conducted by Mrs. Clarence Simes. Mrs. George Ratliff chose as her subject for discussion "We Look at Ourselves"—"I Look at Myself" was the theme of the talk given by Mrs. E. J. Pierce.

The business period was directed by Mrs. Al Boring. Refreshments were served to Mmes. E. J. Auld, Roy Jones, At-taway, Simpson, J. H. Elder, Ella Ragsdale, Andy Betts, E. W. Shipp, Jr., Ratliff, Dick Anderson, Pierce, D. D. Downing, Earl Ridge, Ivan Hood, W. E. Price, Boring, Wood Elkin, Simes, Butler, W. S. Dun-nan, John McKinley, Clyde Linds-ley, F. E. ## Surplus Potato Stew

Secretary of Agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson, is taking a vacation for only one reason. It's not what you think. He has earned one but he doesn't need a rest. His physical health is good. All he wants to do in the next few weeks is to forget about potatoes. He has warned that the first person who says the word in his presence will very likely get his head lopped off.

During his stint as boss of America's food he has had probably more serious problems than any of his predecessors. Last Winter saw him in the middle of the worst global famine in the history of the world. Then came the battle over OPA and hundreds of other situations. But none of them got him down the way potatoes did.

When he first took office last July one of the first things the party strategists told him to do was find some way to get rid of the potato surplus. They said it was political dynamite. He solemnly promised them he would. That was before he really got familiar with the U. S. spud situation.

The further he got into it the worse it looked. On the surface it seems simple. Europe is hungry. America has too many potatoes. All right, send the surplus to Europe. That's where the trouble begins.

Shipping raw potatoes in a boat just isn't a good idea. They either freeze and are ruined or spoil. Few can get across safely. Then, too, the potato is 90 per cent water and what you would be doing is sending tons and tons of water overseas.

Well, Anderson thought, let's dehydrate them and send them over that way. The Army has a lot of dehydrating equipment. We'll use it. But dehydrating is an expensive process. When they're finally dried out the cost is about 25 cents a pound. And that doesn't include the original cost of the spuds. UNRRA couldn't afford mashed potatoes—that's the only thing dried potatoes can be used for—at that price, nor could the foreign countries. For the same price they can buy more than four times as much wheat.

The same problem was involved in canning potatoes, too expensive.

On top of that they couldn't even give the potatoes away in foreign countries because the shipping space was more urgently needed for wheat.

To the secretary's credit, he finally did dispose of his potatoes, however, at home. Only 1 or 2 per cent were actually wasted. He gave as many as he could to institutions, relief agencies, etc. The department talked the American housewife into using more potatoes instead of bread. Some were made into starch. Most of the surplus potatoes went to the nation's distillers to make into alcohol. This transaction lost money as far as the Department of Agriculture was concerned but the U. S. Treasury got it all back, and more, in the form of beverage tax.

The prohibition outfits lambasted him for doing this but he bore up under it. Then for this year he ordered the department to do all it could to discourage potato planting. He had the parity price cut to the bone. It caused a lot of squawks but he got the acreage down to where he wanted it. Then nature stepped in.

The estimate for the early crop this year showed there would be a record yield per acre. The estimate on the interim crop predicted an even greater yield. The same was true for the late crop. He had asked for 378,000,000 bushels and was getting 445,000,000 instead.

None of the problems of too-many-potatoes have changed. The law forces the Department of Agriculture to buy all the surplus in order to maintain the parity price. You can't do much more with them this year than you did last. On top of it all the potato crop in foreign countries is good this year so that eliminates even the presence of a market overseas.

Well, the distillers are coming to Anderson's rescue. They're taking most of the surplus. Anderson hopes the prohibitionists won't kick up too much of a fuss about it. At least the potatoes will bring in taxes this way.

The only thing the secretary doesn't think he will be able to face next Winter, when the food situation abroad is again expected to be bad, is to be charged with letting people starve because the government let potatoes be made into liquor when they could have gone to feed the hungry.

Ear Trouble

When W. J. Jordan, New Zealand delegate, arose recently at the Paris peace conference to express his disgust with "listening to quack, quack, quack hour after hour," he made a most grievous error.

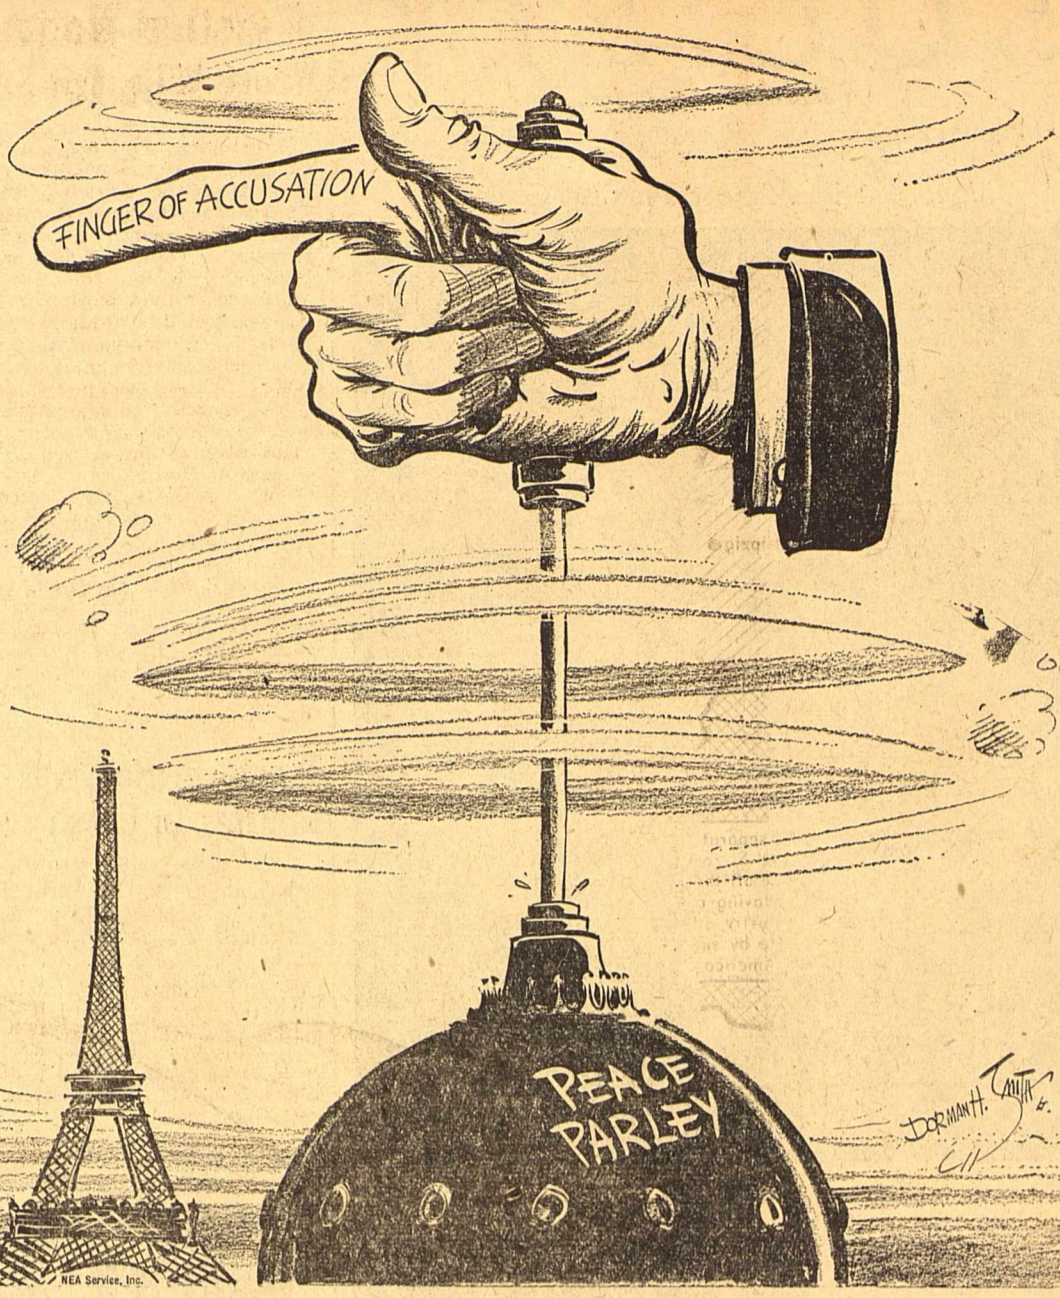

Of course, perhaps we should have expected it from Jordan, whom Russia's Andrei Vishinsky promptly branded a "hot-head". Who but an impatient hot-head could possibly have interrupted the august proceedings to remark, "I want to see something done in my lifetime"?

We feel it our duty, nevertheless, to point out that sharper ears than Jordan's would hear in the endless squabbling of the Paris peace chambers not the quack, quack, quack of a duck out of water but the tick, tick, tick of the atom bomb.

A good education enables a person to worry about things in all parts of the world.

It would be interesting to know what wife has the best collection of borrowed cups.

What's The Political Weather In Paris?

Byrnes Calls For Unified Germany

(NE. Radiophoto) Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, addressing German officials and U. S. military leaders in the tank-guarded Staats Theater in Stuttgart, Germany, urged the early establishment of a unified Germany, rejected France's claim to the Rhineland and Ruhr and warned Russia that the United States does not consider Germany's eastern boundary fixed on the Oder River. Behind Byrnes, are, left to right, Robert Murphy; Sen. Arthur Vandenberg; Sen. Tom Connally, and Gen. Joseph T. McNarney.

Smart Dog! Takes His Name Seriously

CHICAGO—(P)—Mrs. Rose Ottaviano gave her little dog, Dopey, a beef bone five and a half inches long. She surmised he would gnaw it for hours. But soon she ascertained that the bone was gone and that the puppy seemed about to die. How he swallowed the solid meal, nobody knows. But it was removed from his stomach in an operation performed by two veterinarians.

'You Rascal, You' May Become Tommy Hit Song

HAMBURG, GERMANY—(P)—Thanks to the Yanks, British soldiers are able to express their views concerning officers or sergeants who have nettled them. The Tommy simply sends a letter to the American Forces Network request program and asks the network to dedicate to Capt. or Drill Sgt. So-and-so a record with a title he considers appropriate.

Oil Demand Forecast At 2,120,000 Barrels

AUSTIN—(P)—Demand for Texas crude oil in October has been forecast by the United States Bureau of Mines at 2,120,000 barrels daily, the Texas Railroad Commission said it had been notified. The forecast is the same estimate the bureau made for the current month.

Hearing on the October allowable has been set for September 13.

The total average calendar day allowable was reported by the commission at 2,255,943 barrels, a decrease of 38,913 barrels under the allowable August 31. During the past week 80 oil wells and 14 gas wells were reported completed in Texas, boosting the year's total completions to 3,180 oil wells and 449 gas wells. The completions are well ahead of last year's 2,412 oil wells and 201 gas wells for the comparable period. One wildcat oil and one wildcat gas well were drilled during the week.

San Diego Is Scene Of 'Gallant Journey'

By BOB THOMAS
SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—(P)—Movie studios will go great lengths to premiere their pictures; for instance, Columbia came 130 miles. The occasion was the opening of "Gallant Journey" and this jewel of the Pacific was chosen because the picture is about John J. Montgomery, who made a glider flight here in 1883. Armed with documents supporting the claim that Montgomery was the first man to fly, the Columbia publicity department ushered a company of performers and pressmen to mark the event.

Highlight of the ceremonies was dedication of a new Montgomery Park on Otay Mesa, a highland south of San Diego where Montgomery supposedly made his flight. It is so obscure that even the official party couldn't find it at first. Packed into a flotilla of limousines and looking like a high-priced funeral, the party searched over large parts of San Diego County, mostly dusty wasteland.

Considerable Oratory
After a half hour the ceremony site was found a short distance from the highway. Considerable oratory ensued. Many flowery words were said about the physics professor, who was killed in a plane crash in 1911. But the most appropriate comment was delivered by a fleet of Navy bombers that roared over the spot where, says the movie, man first flew.

Happy, "Gallant Journey" was worth coming this far to see. The story of John J. Montgomery is told with restraint and care. In addition, it is the most beautifully photographed film to come along in a great while.

Notes to you from Hollywood... Jimmy Cagney, who doesn't smoke, will have to puff a cigar and a pipe when he plays a 30,000-year-old Irishman in "The Stray Lamb"...

Dale Evans finally gets top billing over Trigger, on the air. The equine actor won't appear on the Roy Rogers air show. I guess Trigger was asking for too much hay.

Very young mussels, called glochidia, attach themselves to birds' feet and feathers and thus get free ride to other waters.

KENNEBUNK, ME. — (AP) — Mrs. Alma Wells Levinson of Princeton, N. J., and Kennebunk, proposes that the United Nations declare a world holiday "for a lasting peace."

With advice from the State Department, Mrs. Levinson, traveler and artist, says she has suggested to the United Nations that "Peace Day" be declared "upon the occasion of the dedication of its permanent site or upon some equally appropriate occasion."

Mrs. Levinson said she had received letters approving her proposal from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Bernard Baruch.

Army Officers At Desk Crack Before Fighters

LONDON — (AP) — The army officer who sits at a desk is far more likely to break down mentally than the officer in the foxhole, four British Army psychiatrists reported in The Lancet, British medical weekly.

Of 150 British officers discharged or sent home from India for psychiatric disability, 120 were base officers and only 30 came from forward areas, the specialists said, adding:

"The infantry officer may at times be exposed to strain of a kind and intensity never experienced by his colleague at base headquarters, but this is for limited periods in between which he is probably physically healthier and more satisfied."

"He can, moreover, give vent to his aggressive impulses, and he obtains satisfaction from the crumbs of glory thrown to him by the daily press and from occasional decorations. It is easier for him to feel one of a team. His results and objectives are nearer."

"The staff officer, on the other hand, has little or no physical exercise, long office hours and less hope of obtaining promotion by death of his seniors. Though his typewriter may be mightier than the machinegun, he seldom has the satisfaction of using the keys himself as an outlet, and any anger or irritation he feels is more likely to be vented on other departments than on the enemy."

Eviction Notice Served On London Vets Who Invade Luxury Apartments

LONDON — (AP) — A process server in black coat and striped trousers climbed through a ground floor window of the Duchess of Bedford's house Wednesday and served an eviction notice on 1,000 squatters barricaded within the building, a luxury apartment block in London's fashionable West End.

Stanley Henderson, secretary of the squatters' committee and a leader of the Communist-sponsored movement to commandeer unused dwellings, said he had been summoned to appear in court next Tuesday.

"It is between us and the Ministry of Works," he added. "I don't fully understand it. I am now going to get legal advice."

The squatters had posted sentries behind barred doors to resist efforts of the Labor Government.

Court action to evict squatters also was taken at Birmingham, where Sam Eackwell, secretary of the Midlands District Communist Party said "we will fight the squatters case to the last ditch."

The seven-story Duchess of Bedford House, in a secluded section of Genteel Kensington, was vacant when the squatters moved in as a "direct action" move in the British housing shortage.

Similar siege conditions were developing at the 25 or more other vacant buildings which squatters seized in widely separated areas of Greater London.

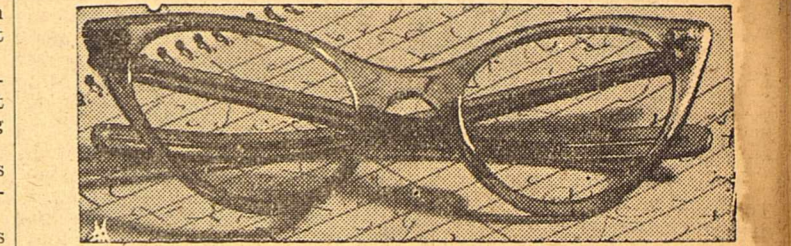

The Duchess of Bedford House, privately owned but leased by the government, was the headquarters. A scattering of spectators stood across the street from the buildings from which only a single child emerged to walk a dog. A gaunt man in tweeds, commented:

"It's revolution, nothing else. Seizing property, defying law and order—I never thought I should see it in England."

When two government employees reached the house seeking to remove furniture, they were refused admission by a sentry who shouted "Nobody gets in or out." One government man said he was threatened with an iron bar.

Two husky women were posted as sentries in Fountain Court, an eight-story apartment building on Buckingham Palace Road where 60 families swarmed in Tuesday night in a Commando-like swoop over an iron fence.

DEVIL'S LAUGHTER

By Alice M. Laverick
Copyright, 1946, NEA SERVICE, INC.

XXI

I THINK I must have fainted, after all, for I have no recollection whatever of what happened that night at Innisfail after Miss Charlotte laughed her pitiful empty laugh. And for a day or two afterwards I seem to have been in a sort of daze.

I do have a vague memory of sitting at the breakfast table the next morning with Ellen, her face swollen and tear-stained, across from me. And of how she canonized Beatrice without benefit of canon law. "She was a saint, that's what she was," Ellen declared, and in my heart I agreed with her.

There is also the memory of the stricken faces of Beatrice's mother and father, and of how the whole town seemed to go into mourning for the girl.

Surprisingly enough, I was allowed to remain at Innisfail, though at first my father objected strenuously. He hadn't wanted me to go there in the first place, he told Ellen, and he certainly had no intention of allowing me to stay where there were such goings-on.

To this, Ellen, in a shocked, grieved voice, said there were no "goings-on" at Innisfail. If the terrible sorrows and vicissitudes that had fallen upon the house were what he referred to, it was, of course, unfortunate that it was, but I had witnessed them. It was too bad that Celia had to come in contact with such things so early in life, she said, but, after all, the harm had been done, it was too late now. However, no harm, Ellen said with dignity, had been done to the girl's soul, and that was the important thing.

"And God knows," said Ellen bitterly, "if I never needed her before, it's now I need her, with that poor thing the way she is."

AND here Ellen burst into tears. For Miss Charlotte, in her demoted state, would allow no one but Ellen near her, for some reason—or for no reason at all, to be sure.

There was a great to-do now, with my mother joining Ellen in her grief and my father, looking exceedingly uncomfortable, trying to reason with the two women. Until, exasperated, he finally made the astounding statement that it was up to "the girl herself."

I, Cecelia Hart, who had always been told what to do and how to do it, was to make up my own mind whether I should stay at Innisfail or return to my own home—where I rightly belonged, he hastened to add.

Faced with an unprecedented, unheard-of privilege, that of making a decision about something, I was for the moment speechless. But almost at once I realized that I now felt myself to be part of Innisfail, that come what may I should be wretched indeed apart from the place and the people.

Timidly I said I thought I should stay and help Cousin Ellen, since she really needed me. And though my father still looked outraged and, I am sure, regretted immediately his rash words, after a few more tears and embraces and another cup of tea all round, I went off again with Ellen. I was to be sent to the Barrington High School for my last year, that being nearer to Innisfail than the Lynchester school.

Fortunate indeed for me that my father could not be there at Innisfail that evening and the following one, to see the "goings-on," or he would have marched me home instantly. For Mark, who had since the night of the double tragedy been a silent, grief-stricken man, now turned on his brother.

THE third eminent brain specialist Mark had called in for Miss Charlotte had only just left, after giving the same opinion as the other two—that there was no telling when, if ever, she would recover her mental balance. It might be years or months. Or never.

And Mark, his eyes like blank gray stones, his face drawn and old, came into the dining room at Ellen's second call, and his glance fell on Colin.

Then it was that the older brother, in his bitter anguish, flew into a sudden terrible rage at the younger one and laid the blame for all that had happened on him.

Colin, his head bowed, sat immovable in his place at the table. All the while Mark raged at him he was silent, bearing the whip lashes of his brother's tongue with no words of defense for himself.

Ellen and I were terrified witnesses, for Mark was frightening in his anger.

This was not what we had grown used to, this was no spirited wrangling between two men over who had won the sweepstakes or who had painted a picture. This was deadly.

Mark accused Colin of turning the lives of all at Innisfail into a nightmare. He had deliberately trifled with the affections of two wonderful girls and now one was dead and the other insane, and he, and he alone, must answer for it.

"You're the most selfish creature that ever lived!" Mark blazed. "You have no regard for anything on the face of the earth or in Heaven itself, I believe, but your own pleasure. Get out of this house and stay out! I never want to lay eyes on you again!"

Colin said nothing. He seemed utterly crushed. But he did not leave and the next night Mark found him in the upper hall outside Miss Charlotte's door, trying to get her to speak to him.

This time it did not stop at words. This time, too, Colin defended himself. When, with a howl of rage, his brother leaped at him and tried to choke him, Colin struck back and they fought like two maniacs all over the upper hall and down the stairs, with Ellen and me, petrified with fright, peering at them from below.

America's Card Authority

The largest entry in the national men's pair championship in the past was 78 pairs in 1944. The increased interest in tournament play was demonstrated when 102 pairs entered the event this year.

We were all glad to welcome Life Master A. M. Barnes and his winning smile back from the service, and he smiled his way through three sessions to win the national men's pair championship with Waldemar von Zedtwitz.

Barnes thought that today's hand was one of the most amusing in the tournament. After West's second double, East thought that he must have the majors, and so he bid two hearts.

He played dummy's ten of diamonds on the opening lead, Barnes (North) won with the queen, returning a spade which South won with the ace. Another diamond was returned, Barnes won with the king and returned the three. Declarer won this in dummy with the ace and led a small club which Barnes won with the jack. He returned a spade, which declarer had to win in dummy.

The ace of clubs was cashed, dropping South's king, and the queen of clubs was led. South trumped with the deuce of hearts and returned the diamond. Declarer failed to ruff in dummy, so Barnes ruffed with the eight of hearts, and returned a spade. Declarer trumped this in dummy, but he still had to lead away from the ace-queen of hearts, going down three tricks for minus 300.

East's heart bid was not unusual. An infamously double generally indicates support in either major, or a suit strong enough to bid on a later round. East felt obligated to bid one of the majors, and selected hearts so that his partner could bid spades at the level of two if he preferred that suit.

MARtha OL' KID, I KNOW YOU LOOK FORWARD TO ME VISITIN' HERE CAUSE I'M A FELLA THAT FORKS OVER REGULAR AS TH' NEW MOON! HERE'S A CHECK, WITH A LITTLE EXTRY IN IT FER YOU PERSONALLY!

WELL, JAKE, I HOPE IT DOESN'T BOUNCE AS HIGH AS THAT MOON YOU MENTIONED AND, SPEAKING OF THE PLANETS, YOU DON'T HAVE TO WAIT FOR ANOTHER ECLIPSE TO REPEAT THIS PERFORMANCE! — THANKS, ANYWAY!

HM! IT GALLS ME, BUT I MAY HAVE TO TAP JAKE FOR A LOAN!

HAM ON RYE—HOW MANY?

NO—NO? CHANGE IT TO DOLICH-HULTS AND COFFEE, PLEASE!

HEY, BOY, IS ANY OF THAT PIE CUT?

A NEW RECORD SHE DIDN'T HAVE TO THREATEN HIM! 9-11

BOOT AND HER BUDDIES —By EDGAR WATSON

HOW ABOUT IT, DOCTOR? AM I ALL RIGHT?

JUST RIGHT! IF YOU WERE IN BETTER SHAPE, YOU'D NEVER HAVE COME IN TO SEE ME!

AND IF YOU WERE IN ANY WORSE SHAPE, YOU WOULDN'T HAVE BEEN ABLE TO COME AND SEE ME!

PUT YOUR SHIRT ON, STEVE! AND KEEP IT ON WHEN YOU HEAR WHAT I'M GOING TO SAY!

MIGHTY GLAD TO SEE YOU'RE OKAY, FEEL I'LL GIVE YOU A HAND—

YOU ALL RIGHT, AKE? COUCH! THAT MATCH IS GOING. I'VE ONLY GOT THREE MORE!

I'M OKAY... BUT MY TORCH AND MATCHES ARE RUINED. GONNA BE HARD TO GET BACK—UPSTREAM... AND OUT.

STAY ON THE TRAIL, CAPTAIN, AND KEEP TALKING. MAYBE I CAN WORK MY WAY OVER THESE BOULDERS TOWARD YOUR VOICE — UGH! SAY! WHAT'S THIS?

AND THE INDIAN'S GRIPING FINGERS CLOSE OVER SOMETHING THAT SENDS A CHILL UP HIS SPINE.

ALLEY OOP —By V. T. HAMLIN

A FINE THING! YER DANG GADGET WAS GONNA LEAD US TO JOOLA'S KIDNAPERS AN' ALL WE FIND IS A PILE OF ROCK!

COULD I HELP IT? A DEPOSIT OF THE MINERAL GREATER THAN THAT CARRIED BY THE CRO-MAGNONS INTERFERED WITH THE DOODLE-BUG!

I'M A SCIENTIST, NOT A SAINT, BERNHARD DOG!

HEY! WHERE YOU GOING? HOWMA I GONNA GET BACK? YOU CAN'T LEAVE ME OUT HERE ALONE IN THIS JUNGLE!

HMM! IT SEEMS MY ASSUMPTION WAS BASED ON AN UNSTABLE PREMISE!

OH, WELL! I GUESS OLD BUSTER STONE CAN TAKE CARE OF HIMSELF!

RED RYDER —By FRED HARMAN

WE LOSE UM TRAIL, RED RYDER!

I'M AFRAID SO, LITTLE DEEVER, BUT I KNOW WHERE THOSE OUTLAWS ARE TAKING ALICE RYDER.

THEY'LL HEAD FOR THE LOST MINE.

WE NOT KNOW WHERE MINE THEY KNOW-UM?

I'VE ALMOST DECIPHERED NUGGET KORDER'S MESSAGE—IT'S OUT HERE ALONE FOR THOSE OUTLAWS TO DO TH' SAME.

AT THAT MOMENT—

NOW, GIRLIE, IF YOU KNOW WHAT'S GOOD FOR YOU, TELL US WHAT TH' WRITIN' MEANS!

VIC FLINT —By MICHAEL O'MALLEY and RALPH LANE

LEND ME A HAND! HELP ME GET HER OUT!

RIGHT HERE, MR. MELCROFT, SIR!

A DOCTOR! SOMEONE GET A DOCTOR!

YOU DON'T NEED A DOCTOR, MR. MELCROFT. THIS WOMAN IS DEAD!

DEAD!

HOW DID IT HAPPEN?

DON'T LET HER LIE ON THE GOLF TEE. CARRY HER INSIDE AND TELL YOU ABOUT IT.

Bulldogs Dig In Getting Set For Friday Opener

The Midland High Bulldogs went together headon Tuesday in practice drills for the season's opener here Friday night against the Ysleta Indians.

He-man blocking was dished out in large quantities to the Purple squadmen and they seemed to like it. The blocking was headon, two men onto one. Linemen did this and then the backs winged away at the ends.

For more than an hour the team units worked on timing of plays.

Indications are that once this season the Bulldogs will have a weight advantage Friday night. The Indians from over 4-AA way are light but tough. They are always potent and this year have a new coach, Gene Jordan.

Their forward wall averages 155 pounds.

NO MORE DUCATS

BOSTON —(P)— Snowed under by an estimated half million requests for a potential 75,000 World Series tickets, Red Sox spokesmen said Wednesday that the club would accept no more applications for the precious ducats.

The flowers needed for perfumes come chiefly from Southern Europe.

Cards Retain Lead When St. Louis, Dodgers Win Tilts

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

All's quiet in the Brooklyn bullpen where the over-worked relief artists have been squatting for a week, watching in wonder as five straight starters have gone the route.

It couldn't happen at a more opportune time for Manger Leo Durocher has been trying to restore a semblance of order to his pitching staff with the all-important St. Louis Series opening Thursday.

Rube Melton's three-hit, 8-0 shutout over Cincinnati Tuesday may have clinched him a day's work against St. Louis, because he beat Howie Pollet last time the Redbirds were in town.

The Dodgers drove Ed Heusser from the hill in the second inning. St. Louis held tight to its two-game lead by mowing down the Phillies, 4-1. Harry Brecheen allowed only six hits in defeating Blix Donnelly, a former teammate on the 1944 World Series winners.

The Boston Braves took out after the third-place Chicago Cubs and hammered them into submission, 10-2. Johnny Sain's seventeenth victory left the Braves only 3 1/2 games behind the Bruins.

Pittsburgh took first blood in the cellar series with New York, dumping the Giants, 7-4, to leave them only four points removed from last place.

The Boston Red Sox had to postpone their pennant clinching celebration for at least one more day when they fell before Detroit, 9-1. A win over the Tigers Wednesday would give Boston its first flag since 1918.

Detroit took over second place by three points over New York when the Yankees were beaten at Cleveland, 4-2.

Two home runs by Gerry Friday on successive at bats helped Washington down Chicago, 4-2. St. Louis kept alive its hopes of topping the second division by trimming Philadelphia, 5-1.

Miss America Of 1946

Marilyn Buford, 21, of Los Angeles, blue-eyed beauty who won the coveted "Miss America of 1946" gathered her royal robes about her as she coyly posed for photographers. Winning the Atlantic City pageant gave Miss Buford a $5,000 cash scholarship as well as other awards. (NEA Telephoto).

Ex-Servicemen File Discharge Papers

Three Midland veterans filed discharge papers Tuesday at the county clerk's office.

They were:

Troy Livingston, former staff sergeant, who served in the Pacific Theater with a Marine shop repair unit.

Sam Menchaca, former seaman second class, who had 11 1/2 months sea duty in the Pacific.

John F. Ross, former major with an Eighth Army Engineers unit.

The Savannah, first U. S. steamer to cross the Atlantic, was only 320 tons, as compared to the 26,000-ton America, largest U. S. merchant ship.

One of the best shooting setups in West Texas has been constructed by the Midland Gun Club, which will open the new field with a practice shoot Sunday.

At this first shoot the skeet field will be open to anyone desiring to shoot. The club, which has a membership of 100 sportsmen, will be checking its traps that day.

The first competitive shoot will be held Sunday, September 22. This is open to members. The Lewis Class System will be used. Prospective members for the Midland Gun Club will be allowed to enter this competition.

Cats Shut Out Tulsa As Dallas Beats Missions

By The Associated Press
John van Cuyk of the Fort Worth Cats and Clint Conatser of the Dallas Rebels are the margins of victory that have given their teams bumps on the Tulsa Oilers and the San Antonio Missions in the Texas League championship playoff.

Van Cuyk Tuesday night gave up only two hits as the cats shutout Tulsa, 5-0, at Fort Worth, while Conatser, in collecting two homers, drove in all of the Dallas scores as the Rebels took a thriller from the Missions, 4-3, at Dallas.

The league's full-season strikeout king, Van Cuyk gave up singles in the first inning to Wilner Skeen and Clarence Maddern and after that only one other reached second base.

The Cats, who finished first in regular season standings, took only six hits off Stewart but put together a triple, a double, a single, a base on balls, a hit batsman and an error for all five runs in the third inning. Lou Wela's three run triple was the clincher.

Conatser broke up the San Antonio affair with his second homer when two were down and none on in the ninth inning.

Hawaiian Hurler
Hawaiian Hank Oano went the route for Dallas in racking up his twenty-fifth victory this year. The victim was Sigmund Jakucki, who in 1944 pitched the St. Louis Browns into the World Series by beating the New York Yankees on the closing day of the season.

The Rebels combined Jakucki for eleven hits, while Oano gave up ten.

Wednesday night, Eddie Chandler, Fort Worth's 20-game winner, will start the second game against Tulsa's Eddie Hanyzewski, who joined the Oilers late in the season and won three games and lost two.

Dallas plans to use Tom Pullig, who has won one game and lost one against the Missions this year, while San Antonio has nominated Eddie Cole, a righthander who has defeated the Rebels four times and lost three.

The clubs will move to Tulsa and San Antonio Thursday for three-game stands.

Midland merchants are donating attractive prizes.

The Midland Gun Club, located on West Highway 89, consists of two complete skeet fields, one 16-yard trap field, and rifle and pistol ranges. Walks to skeet fields and traps are in the process of being asphalted. The equipment is electrically controlled at the club and is of the highest grade made.

Arkansas Pins Hopes On Molding Formidable Line

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK. — (P) — Upon the overtime efforts of John Barnhill and his coaching lieutenants to mold a formidable line depend the Arkansas Razorbacks' chances of giving the dope bucket a good old fashioned upsetting.

The dopsters have relegated the Razorbacks to the Southwest Conference cellar. Unless the line comes through, that's just about where they'll finish. But should the forward wall hold its own, look for some giant-killing with the boys in Red and White wielding the weapon.

Arkansas will have a "sudden death" backfield—a flock of speedy, hard-hitting break-away ball messengers just as likely to score from their own five-yard line as from their opponents' end of the field.

Scott Leads Backfield
The "Porkers" lineup of backs includes Abbey Fowler, 9.5 second man who tallied 129 points for Arkansas Tech last year; Howard Hughes, pre-war Alabama regular; Clyde Scott, Navy standout of the last two years; Ross Pritchard, former Iowa Navy Seahawk; and John Hoffman, the conference's top ground-gainer last season.

The Razorbacks' offense won't be altogether on the ground. Fowler is better than a fair forward passer, and he'll have the best in receiving in Scott and Edna Alton Baldwin, Mel McCaha, Ed Hamilton, all three lettermen, and Jim Cox, a sticky fingered, fleet-footed freshman.

The tackles, which include seven lettermen, are big and some are fast. The guards look strong on defense but may be unable to keep in front of the fleet backs on offense. Available for duty at center is Earl (Red) Wheeler, a starter for three years.

The Razorbacks will run from a single wing-balanced line formation, with which Barnhill compiled a great record at Tennessee before coming to the Wonder State to launch his "five-year" plan.

Lubbock And Pampa Win WT-NM Openers

By The Associated Press
The Abilene Blue Sox, who finished the West Texas-New Mexico League regular season in first place, lost an 11 inning 3-1 pitchers' battle Tuesday night to the fourth place Lubbock Hubbers in the opening round of the league's Shaughnessy playoff.

In the second game the Pampa Oilers handed the Amarillo Gold Sox a 7-3 defeat as Lefty Jim Carthers outpitched the Amarillo ace, Bill Evans.

The Lubbock club pushed across the winning tallies in the eleventh when Pat Rooney doubled to score Gene Hodge, and Frank McAlexander laid down a bunt to score Manger Hack Miller.

At Pampa, a double with the bases loaded in the first inning by Outfielder Joe Fortin gave Pampa a lead that the Gold Sox could not overcome.

The teams meet again Wednesday night at Abilene and Pampa.

McWilliams Resigns From Army and Heads For Home

WEST POINT, N. Y. — (P) — His Army career ended, Halfback Thomas E. (Shorty) McWilliams headed for his Mississippi home Wednesday.

McWilliams, first of the Cadets' famed wartime football squad to resign from the corps, completed the checking out routing Tuesday night shortly after it was announced the War Department had accepted his resignation.

Baugh Passes Redskins To Win Over Packers

DENVER — (P) — The Washington Redskins rode to a 35-31 victory over the Green Bay Packers on the passes of Slinging Sammy Baugh in a National Football League exhibition game before 21,000 fans here Tuesday night.

single wing-balanced line formation, with which Barnhill compiled a great record at Tennessee before coming to the Wonder State to launch his "five-year" plan.

Atlanta And Memphis Win First Rounds

By The Associated Press
Favored Atlanta and Memphis, who finished one-two in this year's pennant chase, were out front Wednesday in the Southern Association's first round playoffs after decisive victories over New Orleans and Chattanooga Tuesday night.

The pennant winning Crackers trounced the Pelicans, 8-2, while Memphis whitewashed the Lookouts, 6-0.

Coaches, Officials Group Holds Session

The Midland Coaches and Officials Association met Tuesday night at the high school to work on signals from game officials to the coaches, stands, and the press and radio boxes.

The association will hold meetings weekly to keep up on the rules.

Midland just completed a successful rules clinic, which drew coaches and officials from a wide West Texas area. The clinic will be made an annual affair.

Pat Knief is president of the association. Its membership includes Midland coaches, officials, and sportsmen.

Henderson, Texarkana Win East Texas Openers

By The Associated Press
Full-season leaders Henderson and Texarkana Wednesday held advantages over the third and fourth place finishers, Tyler and Greenville, in the post-season playoffs in the East Texas League.

The Henderson Oilers, although out-hit, defeated the Greenville Majors, 6-4, and the Texarkana Bears won over the Tyler Trojans, 11-2, Tuesday night in series openers.

Texarkana and Tyler move to Tuesday Wednesday night for their second game. Greenville remains at Henderson.

Andrews Market Highway Hearing Set Thursday

AUSTIN — (P) — Twenty-one public hearings for Thursday and eight for Friday were scheduled Wednesday by the State Highway Commission.

The hearings by counties include (Thursday):

Andrews and Dawson—Designation of farm-to-market highway from Patricia to Andrews as extension of Highway 177 and widening of ranch-to-market Highway 87.

Matched Play Opens In National Amateur

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. — (P) — The luck of the draw paired two of the hottest players in the National Amateur Golf championship Wednesday as 64 survivors of the 36-hole qualifying round opened match play on the Baltusrol Club's exacting layout.

Skee Riegel, the Pennsylvanian who backed eight strokes off par to win the medal with 136—a new national qualifying record—was for an 18-hole date with Bob Babbish of Royal Oak, Mich.

Four former winners of the tournament were eliminated: John W. Fischer, 1936 winner; John W. Goodman, 1937 titlist; Chick Evans, an old-timer who copped the laurels in 1916 and 1920, and Max Marston, who won in 1923.

Marvin (Bud) Ward, Spokane, Wash., who won the last national amateur in 1941, and qualified with a 147, had John Siege, Watchung, N. J., school teacher, as his first round foe.
