Mid-Co Completes New Discovery In Fullerton Region

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Mid-Continent Petroleum Company has completed No. 8-11 University, as a commercial oil well from a new pay for the Fullerton field in Northwest Andrews County.

This development reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 110 barrels of 36-gravity oil from 6,070-6,131 feet, in the middle Permian. Some observers say the formation is lower Holt—others say it is upper Clear Fork. Both are adjacent, and there should not be too much commotion about the exact identity of the zone.

First in District
The Mid-Continent No. 8-11 University is the first well in the Fullerton district to produce from such a formation.

This exploration drilled to total depth of 8,619 feet, and ended in dry Devonian.

It had no indications of production between 6,131 feet and total depth. Operator plugged back and perforated the casing in the 6,070-6,131-foot section and treated there with a total of 5,000 gallons of acid.

A pump was installed and the well has been completed. Gas-oil ratio on the potential test gauge was 200-1. The new discovery is 630 feet from east and south lines of north half of section 29, block 13, University survey, and on southwest side of the Fullerton area.

Drilling Ahead
Pacific Western Oil Company, (Skelly), No. 1 E. P. Cowden, 690 feet from south and west lines of section 4, block A-55, plv survey, and on outside of the proven area for production from the Devonian, on the northwest side of the Dollar Hide field, in Southwest Andrews, had progressed to below 7,837 feet in Devonian, and was going ahead.

No tests have been taken since the well flowed at an average rate of 25 barrels of oil per hour from section at 7,690-7,740 feet.

Humble Oil & Refining Company
No. 2 E. P. Cowden, 690 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 7, block A-55, plv survey, and also on the northwest side of the Dollar Hide field—but between the Pacific Western No. 1 Cowden and the completed producers to the southeast—perforated casing, which had been cemented on bottom at 7,745 feet, at 7,670-7,725 feet.

Flows After Acid
The well swabbed and flowed for three hours at the rate of 11 barrels of oil per hour, natural. It then treated with 1,500 gallons of acid and tested for 14 barrels of oil per hour, swabbing.

The perforated section was then re-acidized with 4,000 gallons, and after the load and residue had been swabbed out the well was reported to be flowing the rate of 15 barrels of oil per hour. The information showing the oil is Devonian.

Humble No. 1-B R. B. Cowden, Northwest Ector County discovery for flowing production from the Ellenburger, was bottomed at 8,600 feet. It was due to drill out cement and perforate and test. The casing is set on bottom.

Phillips Petroleum Company
No. 1-C TXL, an east extension to the Wheeler field, which is now testing in the Ellenburger, is preparing to finishing as a dual-completion from the Devonian and the Ellenburger. No. 1-Cushing will start drilling at once.

Santa Fe Petroleum Company
No. 1 Christian, North-Central Howard County wildcat, in south.

Kaiser Denies Making Huge Profits On Ships

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A suggestion by Representative Weichel (R-Ohio) that the House Merchant Marine Committee is seeking to shield the wartime financial operations of the Maritime Commission brought a heated denial Tuesday from Chairman Bland (D-Va.).

Interrupting the questioning of Henry Kaiser, West Coast shipbuilder, Bland declared:

"There is no desire to shield anybody but to bring out the facts fully. There is no intention to exonerate or excuse anyone or to crucify anyone."

Bland said maritime officials and records will be examined fully later in the hearing, called to inquire into wartime profits of 19 companies that constructed ships in government-owned shipyards.

He declared counsel for the Merchant Marine Committee, which is inquiring into wartime shipbuilding profits, had brought up points which "it is going to take a staff of accountants, engineers and others to answer."

The questions as to the Kaiser financial setup arose Monday after the committee heard testimony that Kaiser shipbuilding enterprises received $192,237,284 in profits from the government on a capital investment of $2,510,000.

The committee also was told that an unrelated company in Florida ran a $600 investment into profits of more than $2,000,000, an item which prompted Reps. Fred Bradley (R-Mich) and Alvin Weichel (R-Ohio) to demand a full-scale investigation.

In his statement prepared for Tuesday's session Kaiser said: "We want this committee to understand that there isn't a single thing we aren't happy to disclose that is in our books and corporate records."

But "as a practical matter," he added, "no one man in our organization could testify to all of these complicated corporate financial and business transactions over a five-year period."

He reiterated that combined net profits after taxes of the four Kaiser shipbuilding companies were less than 1/10th of one per cent of the total volume of work done for the Maritime Commission "after deducting all losses."

"Even if the losses on other operations are not deducted," he said, "the combined profits are less than 1 per cent."

The committee hearings, which will cover operations of companies which built ships for the Maritime Commission in government-owned shipyards, were scheduled to last only a week.

"One week won't be enough," Bradley told reporters. "This will take weeks to get to the bottom of. The testimony already given shows that one company ran $600 up to more than $2,000,000, without any risk, and that others did the same with larger amounts."

The company Bradley referred to was identified Monday as the St. Johns River Shipbuilding Corporation, near Jacksonville, Fla.

Statistics supplied by the Maritime Commission and read to the committee by Ralph E. Casey, attorney for the General Accounting Office, showed that the company had a capital investment of $600 as a shipyard operator and realized an estimated profit of $2,080,000.

Weichel, taking note of the St. Johns River figures, told newsmen: "If this one small company did that well, there's no telling how many millions of dollars were given away by the government. The profits actually amounted to gifts, because the operators ran no risks and invested nothing in the actual facilities they used. They couldn't lose."

Weather
Scattered clouds and slightly warmer Wednesday. Maximum temperature Monday was 74 degrees, minimum 53 degrees.

Stalin Says He Sees No Real Danger Of New War

Texan Sentenced For Scaring, Robbing Jap

SENDAI—(AP)—A general court martial Tuesday sentenced three American soldiers to prison terms of three years each and dishonorable discharge for "putting fear" into a Japanese and robbing him of a watch and money.

An Army announcement named one of the soldiers as Pvt. Elmer D. Eldridge, Gainesville, Texas.

Pan-Am Constellation Cracks Up In Ire

RINEANNA, EIRIE—(AP)—The landing gear of the Pan-American clipper collapsed Tuesday a few minutes after the ship set down at Shannon Airport, and a nine-inch wide crack was ripped across its shoulder, midway over the wing. Four of the 26 passengers suffered from shock, but none was otherwise injured.

Examination of the plane, en route from New York to Lisbon, showed the nine-inch split, immediately behind the galley. The craft was held together by the outside layer of metal.

The passengers expressed amazement at the extent of the damage. The four propellers of the big Constellation were badly bent, the wing flaps were torn and the tail was wrenched.

Two civil aeronautics authorities left London by plane to investigate the accident. A preliminary study indicated the collapse was not caused by any mechanical or structural failure, a Pan-American airways official said.

(At LaGuardia Field in New York, a spokesman for Pan-American said he was told by telephone that the chief damage to the plane was to the underbelly and propellers, but that the wings and the fuel and hydraulic systems were undamaged and the fuselage was intact.)

Lucille Johnson Named Midland County Clerk

Midland County commissioners Monday appointed Mrs. Lucille Johnson, clerk-elect, to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Susie G. Noble, whose resignation was accepted earlier Monday.

The Court of Commissioners drafted an appreciation to Mrs. Noble for her 16 years of loyal service.

She has not announced her plans. Her resignation is effective October 1.

Also at the Monday meeting the commissioners increased the salary of the Midland County service officer, Merritt F. Hines, to $275 a month.

Routine reports were approved at the meeting.

FIRE IN PAMPA CAUSES $50,000 STORE DAMAGES

PAMPA—(AP)—A fire which started in a feed store about 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, destroyed the store, a hatchery and did considerable damage to an auto repair shop.

Total losses were estimated at $50,000, including a large supply of livestock feed.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

FORT WORTH—(AP)—A nationwide "defensive action" designed to hold the price line by refraining from avoidable purchases has been asked of members of the Oil Workers International (CIO) in a letter issued here Tuesday by O. A. Knight, president. Locals are requested to set up cost-of-living committees and "mobilize all forces against unnecessary and exorbitant price increases."

GANDER, NEWFOUNDLAND—(AP)—Walter Devos, 48, of Ghent, Belgium, one of 18 persons who lived through the crash of a Belgium airliner last Wednesday, died of his injuries in a hospital here Tuesday. The death increased the total deaths to 27.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A new drive to free meats from price controls got underway Tuesday as the National Beef Industry Committee met behind closed doors with OPA officials. Before the session started a representative of the beef packers told a reporter that the committee already has approved the decontrol move but that government red tape will delay any action for several weeks.

DALLAS—(AP)—Alex Steinberg, millionaire Dallas liquor broker, was convicted of income tax evasion Tuesday by a jury that deliberated for only 40 minutes. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson postponed sentence until 2 p. m. Friday.

Military Commission Ratifies Act As Foreign Ministers Council Prepares To Convene

PARIS—(AP)—The peace conference Military Commission voted Tuesday to defortify the Southeastern border of Slav Europe, adopting a Greek amendment to the Bulgarian treaty which would shear Bulgaria of frontier fortifications.

The vote was 11 to 7, with three absentions.

China To Refute Charge US Troops Threaten Peace

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Chinese Delegate C. L. Hsia indicated Tuesday he would challenge Russia's charges in the United Nations Security Council that the presence of U. S. troops in China was a potential threat to world peace.

Hsia disclosed his position as the delegates prepared to meet in the afternoon to resume discussion on the question of admitting to the council's agenda a Soviet demand for data on the disposition of Allied troops in foreign non-enemy countries.

During Monday's lengthy debate, Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko named China as one of the eight spots where either American or British troops might cause international friction unless they are withdrawn. The other spots he listed were Iceland, Panama, Brazil, Egypt, Iraq, Greece and Indonesia.

Hsia said he would object to consideration of the Russian question on the ground that no situation existed which warranted security council intervention under the provisions of the UN charter.

Poles Back Russia
As the council met Gromyko had won the support of only one of the 11 delegates—Polish Delegate Oscar Lange. Of the other five who spoke Monday, four declared flatly they would vote against inclusion of the item on the agenda and one—Australia—said he thought Gromyko would have to be more specific in his charges to justify council consideration of the case.

In one of the sharpest statements of the preliminary debate, British Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan described the Soviet proposal as "a piece of pure propaganda" and added that it was "another typical and irresponsible political maneuver of the kind which tends to damage the prestige of the council itself."

U. S. Delegate Herschel V. Johnson said the U. S. Government was "reluctant to believe" that the issue was raised for propaganda purposes, but was unable to see any other motive for the Soviet proposal.

He denied that the presence of American troops "on the soil of friendly nations are the cause of any uneasiness."

Barkley Backs Brown

Sen. Alben W. Barkley, in his hotel room in Cincinnati, Ohio, said he would support Kentucky in support of John Y. Brown, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator from Kentucky. Barkley's first speech will be staged at Mayfield, Ky.

Wallace Lauds Eden's Appeal For New Red Policy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Former Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace said Tuesday that the foreign policy statements of Premier Stalin and Anthony Eden have brought hope to millions all over the world "who are hungry and thirsting for peace."

In a formal statement in Washington, Wallace said:

"Tuesday's press carrying statements by both Stalin and Eden has brought hope to those millions all over the world who are hungry and thirsting for peace.

"Differences of opinion caused by various national responsibilities and viewpoints should not stop the search for a practical expression of the deep spirit of longing of all the people of all the nations for a permanent world peace.

"When both Eden and Stalin seem to appreciate this necessity, I am encouraged to believe that the recent flurry is indeed proving constructive."

At a news conference in Washington, Undersecretary of State Will Clayton said he does not see any need for a new approach toward Russia as suggested by British Conservative Leader Anthony Eden.

Premier Stalin's statements respecting the state of world affairs at the moment, Clayton told reporters, are "terribly interesting and very important but the undersecretary said he had no other comment now.

On a specific question of American-Russian relations, Clayton declared that he does not consider as correct the statements made before the United Nations Security Council that American troops are causing uneasiness in China, Brazil, Iceland and Panama. Clayton said he simply doesn't believe American troops are causing any uneasiness in those countries.

Wallace's reference to the "recent flurry" apparently was an allusion to the events that led to his resignation from the cabinet last Friday at President Truman's request.

In a foreign policy speech in New York last September 12, Wallace advocated more lenient treatment of Russia, a view that collided sharply with Secretary of State Byrnes' "firm" policies at the Paris peace conference.

Eden, former British foreign minister, urged in a London speech Monday night that a "new approach" be taken toward the Soviet Union by Great Britain and the United States. He made this appeal, he said, because the present relationships contain an "imminent threat of war."

Generalissimo Stalin, replying to a British newspaperman's questions Tuesday, repeated his belief that there is no "real danger" of another war. Stalin declared the United States and Britain "could not create a capitalist encirclement of Russia 'even if they so desired'." He also said that "monopolist possession" of the atomic bomb secret could not long continue.

Soviet Marshal Holds No Fear Of Atom Bomb

Terms U. S. Troops In China As Mild Threat

MOSCOW—(AP)—Prime Minister Stalin said Tuesday he could see no real danger of a new war and expressed his unqualified belief in the possibility of long and friendly collaboration between the Soviet Union and the Western Democracies, despite ideological differences.

At the same time he said the United States now held a threat to peace in "monopolist possession" of atomic weapons, but that such monopolist possession could not long be maintained. In any event, he said, wars could not be won with atomic bombs.

He also charged that the retention of United States military forces in China threatened peace.

Stalin expressed these views in answer to a note which questions submitted by Alexander Werth, Moscow correspondent of the London Sunday Times.

The Soviet leader said he did not believe the United States and Britain were trying to encircle Russia with a capitalist ring and could not do so "even if they so desired." He said Russia had no intention of using Germany either against Western Europe or against the United States, since this would not be in the interest of the Soviet Union.

He called for "demilitarization and democratization" of Germany as one step toward a "stable and lasting peace."

"One should strongly differentiate between the true and the false 'new war' which is taking place now and the real danger of a new war, which does not exist at present," Stalin said.

Stalin's replies to Werth were his first answers to any foreign correspondent's letter since March 22, when he told Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore he believed in the United Nations as an instrument of peace. At that time he told Gilmore he believed "neither the nations nor their armies are seeking another war," and he urged a campaign to expose "war-mongers."

Says Bombs Scare Weaklings
Werth asked if he believed "the actual monopoly possession of the atomic bomb by the United States (and one of the principal threats of peace)."

"I do not believe the atomic bomb to be as serious a force as certain politicians are inclined to regard it," the prime minister replied. "Atomic bombs are intended for intimidating weak nerves, but they cannot decide the outcome of war, since atomic bombs are by no means sufficient for this purpose."

He added that there were two remedies to such a threat: monopoly possession could not last long, and use of the atom bomb would be prohibited.

Werth, stating he was using the words employed by former Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace in his recent foreign policy speech in New York, asked Stalin whether Western Europe and the United States could be assured that Soviet policies in Germany would not be directed against them.

Pittsburgh Power Employees Strike

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—A power strike was on Tuesday in Pittsburgh, the steel center, threatening a blackout of electricity to an area in which 1,500,000 people live.

Shortly after the strike got underway at 7:30 a. m.—the first effects were reported at steel mills, although power continued to flow to home dwellers and buildings in the city and the numerous neighboring communities in an 817 square mile area.

The strike was called by an independent union against the Duquesne Light Company, to enforce a demand for a 20 per cent wage increase among other things.

The strike was called at the same hour as was set for a hearing by Court on a petition for an Injunction by Pittsburgh to make permanent an injunction forbidding the strike.

More than 150 employees failed to report for work at the company's main offices at the hour set for the court hearing, but plans of all the 3,500 unionized workers could not be determined immediately.

Mrs. Ruckman Directs Program On Missions At Episcopal Auxiliary

Mrs. J. P. Ruckman presented a program on the subject of "Missions" at a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Trinity Episcopal Church Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. M. Miller, 811 West Michigan.

In giving the lesson Mrs. Ruckman read the scripture from which her talk was centered around, "Ye shall be witnesses unto me, unto the uttermost part of the earth." She told how people in uncivilized parts of the world can be helped and listed the mission horizon far beyond the boundaries of the home town and the home parish.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Harvey Herd preceding the business period.

Those present were Meses. Payton Anderson, Robert L. Allen, James N. Allison, Taylor Cole, Chappell Davis, J. D. Dillard, Herd, R. W. Hamilton, W. C. Imb, William L. Kerr, Paul Kolm, Preston Lea, Hal C. Peck, Robert Roark, Ruckman, D. C. Sivals, C. D. Verrees, M. F. Turner, A. Morrazani, and Julien Muller.

west quarter of section 48, block 32, TP. 7-2-N, was shut down for orders on total depth of 4,168 feet, in the "dear" Fork-Ferrian lime. A drilling test was run for 90 minutes at 4,080-4,168 feet. Recovery was 1,200 feet of muddy salt water, with no shows of oil or gas.

Deepened Five Feet
Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-GG University, Northwest Crockett County discovery for some sort of Ellenburger production, had drilled out cement plug from 3,384 feet to 3,369 feet, and was testing. It was reported that after deepening, operator swabbed out 322 barrels of accumulated oil. Length of time of the accumulation, and of the swabbing was not reported. The Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 Alford, Upton County exploration, tested at 9,660-95 feet, through casing perforations. A little gas was developed. No signs of oil were reported. Operator is moving off rotary rig.

Hold Picnic Tuesday
A picnic for the Midland district of West Texas Gas Company employees will be held at Cloverdale Park at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday. Approximately 50 employees are expected from Midland, Odessa and Stanton.

Stoney Wall, Lubbock superintendent, is expected to be a visitor.

Activities For Girl Scout Units Will Be Resumed

Girl Scouts of Midland are getting their uniforms in readiness for the fall and winter months as activities began after the summer vacation.

A majority of the troops will meet this week for socials when plans will be made with the leaders for meeting places and dates.

A number of Midland's most capable and talented women will direct the work to be carried out in the various troops. Interesting programs are being planned.

Troops for girls in the second and third grades eligible for Brownie work will be organized as soon as leaders are obtained.

The following meetings are scheduled for this week: Tuesday—Troop Seven, Mrs. George Kroenlein, 710 West Louisiana, at 3:45 p. m., Mrs. John Walston and Mrs. Keith Morrow, leaders; Troop 13, Mrs. W. W. West, 711 West Storey, at 3:45 p. m., Mrs. West, leader. Wednesday—Troop 14, Mrs. S. P. Hazlip, 1007 West Tennessee, at 3:45 p. m., Mrs. Sherwood O'Neal and Mrs. O. L. Stalcup, leaders; Troop 12, First Presbyterian Church at 4 p. m., Mrs. Searles and Mrs. M. F. McDaniels, leaders; Troop One, Mrs. R. W. Hamilton, 1110 West Texas, at 4 p. m., Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Paul Sims, leaders; South Elementary troops, Calvary Baptist Church at 3:45 p. m., Mrs. William W. Walsley and Mrs. Howard Ford, leaders.

Others are: Thursday—Troop Eight, Mrs. Don Johnson, 1007 West Illinois, at 4 p. m., Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. J. O. Simmons, leaders; Troop 10, Mrs. C. J. McNeal, 503 North D, at 4 p. m., open to all fifth grade girls in the North and West Elementary school zones who are not members of Troop Seven, Mrs. Fitzgerald, leader. Troop Four, Mrs. J. E. Warren, 1006 North A, at 4 p. m., Mrs. L. O. Baggett and Mrs. Grimes, leaders.

Troop Five, a senior group, will meet on either Friday or Saturday evenings.

The organization committee of the Girl Scout Council was in charge of making arrangements for leaders and meeting places. They are Mrs. C. E. Bissell, chairman, and Meses. Walsley, Watson LaForce, C. S. Longcope and J. D. McClure.

Stalin -

against the West was excluded both by the Potsdam Agreements and by the Soviet Mutual Assistance Pacts with Britain and France against German aggression. He added that such a use of Germany "would mean a departure of the Soviet Union from its fundamental interests."

Stalin described as "absurd" any thought that policies of Communist parties in other nations were dictated by Moscow. He added that he believed "Communism in one country," particularly such a country as the Soviet Union, was "fully possible." Thus, he said, he believed the future possibilities for collaboration among the nations could increase.

Stalin said the talk of a "new war" sprang from the ranks of "some naive politicians" who hoped to prevent reduction of military budgets, check demobilization of troops and "thereby prevent the quick growth of unemployment in their countries."

In Tuesday's responses, as translated by the Soviet Monitor in London, Stalin blamed the talk of a new war on "military-political intelligence agents" who "need this clamor" to (a) help their government wrest more concessions, (b) make it difficult to cut the military budgets of their countries, and (c) "to put a brake on demobilization of troops and thereby evade the quick growth of unemployment in their countries."

He denied that Russia had any intention of using the Soviet zone of Germany against the Western nations and expressed belief that peaceful cooperation between the USSR and the Democracies of the West "far from decreasing, may even grow."

His answer to Werth's question as to whether he believed "the earliest withdrawal of all American troops from China" was vital to future peace was three brief words: "Yes, I do."

Prairie Lee Women Are Invited To Meet

A forty-two party will be held by members of the Prairie Lee Home Demonstration Club at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the community school building.

Women of the community are invited to attend and bring canned fruits, canned vegetables or other products for the booth to be sponsored by Prairie Lee in the County Fair to be held at the rodeo grounds Friday and Saturday.

Lions Honor Faculty Members At Picnic

More than 200 persons attended a picnic-barbecue held at Cloverdale Park Monday when the Lions Club honored the faculty of Midland Public Schools.

Lion President John Biggs presided. He introduced Frank Stubbeman of Midland, deputy district governor, who welcomed the teachers to the city and to fellowship with the club. Miss Helene Miley, teacher, responded.

Frank Monroe, school superintendent and Lions Club member, introduced the principals of the various schools.

Brownwood Fights To Keep Camp Bowie

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A last ditch fight to keep Camp Bowie at Brownwood, Texas, as a military center was being made here Tuesday by a delegation headed by Mayor Wendell Mayes of Brownwood. The group scheduled an afternoon conference with War Department officials to try to obtain reversal of an order which put the 130,000-acre camp on the surplus list August 31.

The training center, home of the famous 36th Texas National Guard Division, has not yet been turned over to the War Assets Administration for disposal, Mayes said. About 3,000 acres of the camp is a cantonment section and includes barracks and other facilities for 45,000 men.

Today's Dog-Story Entry

By BONNIE ROBERTSON.
Man's best friend is his dog, as the old saying goes. I will endeavor to tell how this is true. I remember hearing many dog stories when I was a little girl, and one in particular seemed to dwell in my mind. This was a story of a man and his dog who lived together for quite sometime in the mountains. The man became very seriously ill and a friend of his had to take care of him. The dog lay beside his bed during his long illness. When the man died and was buried, the dog lay next to his grave and died, too, less than a week afterward. To me, this is just about the saddest dog story I ever heard. It shows how faithful and loving dogs are and that they are always true—even though their master dies.

MRS. MCPHERSON ENTERTAINS YOUNG PEOPLE'S LEADERS

Mrs. Fred McPherson entertained with a buffet supper at her home Monday evening honoring young people's leaders of the Calvary Baptist Church Missionary Society.

This entertainment was preceding the WMS course of instruction held at the church under the direction of Mrs. Watson.

Those present for the supper were Mrs. Fred Brashears, Intermediate G. A.; Mrs. Allen Heard, Junior G. A.; the Rev. Fred McPherson, Intermediate R. A.; Allen Heard, Junior R. A.; Miss Eva Lois Harmonson, Sunbeam; Mrs. Hoyt Burris, W.M.U. president; and Mrs. E. D. Ware, circle sponsor.

Scoutmaster Appointed For Midland Troop 153

Harry Miller was appointed Scoutmaster of Troop 153 at a meeting of the troop committee Monday night.

Full plans for the troop also were discussed at the meeting held in the Scout office.

The troop is sponsored by the First Christian Church.

Its troop committeemen are W. E. Price, chairman, and Lee Cornelius and C. R. Steinberger.

The Scouts of the troops will meet with the new leader at the First Christian Church Monday evening.

BETTER LIGHT = BETTER SIGHT
REDDY KILOWATT TEACHER
A LESSON TO REMEMBER
Reddy Kilowatt is a great help to students. He lights the way to better grades... makes home work easier... less tiring to the eyes.
Tests have proved that the kind and amount of light affects the ability of students to learn. You can help your child make better grades and help conserve precious eyesight by providing enough light for easy seeing. These suggestions will help you:
Be sure the lamp your child uses for reading and studying has a bulb large enough—at least 100 watts.
Provide a wide shade that will spread the light over the study table.
Be careful to keep any glare from an unshaded bulb from striking the eyes.

Hall presided for the session which opened with the group repeating in unison the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Wade Heath conducted a devotional on "Making God's New World Through Enthusiasm." A question and answer program from the "World Call" was directed by Mrs. Hall.

The benediction was followed with a social hour. Three guests, Mrs. Edwin Autrey, Mrs. H. T. Scott, and Mrs. E. W. Cowden, and the following members were present: Mmes. F. C. Cummings, J. Roy Jones, John Casselman, George Ratliff, Heath, W. S. Duman, G. W. Breneman, Paul McHargue, G. W. Butler, Frank Elkin, J. S. Cordill, Frank Ingram, D. B. Snider, B. H. Spaw, R. J. Auld, B. W. Rezer, Clyde Lindsley, D. D. Downing, Ivan Hoek, Al Boring, W. E. Price, W. S. Elkin, G. W. Ataway, and Frank Simpson.

The program was directed by Mrs. Shipp. A devotional on "Faith" was given by Mrs. F. E. Curtis, Jr., who used as her scripture James 2:14-18. Mrs. George Bennett discussed "Church Serving the Community Need" and Mrs. Clarence Symes used as her subject "German Church Versus Goliath, 1946."

After the benediction, a social hour was enjoyed.

Present were Mmes. John McKinley, Shipp, Bennett, Pierce, V. H. Heidelberg, R. H. Frizzell, Jr., Symes, Curtis and A. E. Barnes, Jr.

Texas Labor Commissioner Is Married

(NEA Telephoto)

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Surratt, surrounded by friends, pause briefly in the hallway of the governor's mansion at Austin, where they were married Saturday night. Mrs. Surratt is the former Mrs. Maureen Moore, who is the State Commissioner of Labor Statistics. The bride was given away by Gov. Coke Stevenson.

Program From Study Book Is Presented At First Methodist WSCS

The fourth chapter of the study book "India at the Treshold" by L. Winifred Bryce was presented by Mrs. W. E. Chapman, Mrs. Luther Tidwell and Mrs. Frank Prothro at a meeting of the First Methodist WSCS Monday afternoon in the Scharbauer Educational Building.

"Woman: The Bridge" was the topic of the chapter which was presented in form of a radio program. The theme of the chapter centered around the progress of India's women, modern movements in education, and the place of Christian women in India. When Mrs. Chapman tuned in on the radio, the voices of Mrs. Tidwell and Mrs. Prothro were heard.

Concluding the program was a talk by Mrs. John A. Sewell who displayed pictures in connection with her subject on India.

During the business period plans were made for the WSCS birthday observance. The celebration originally scheduled for 1 p. m. Monday, September 30, will be held at 7 p. m. on the same date in the educational building. All women of the church are invited to attend. Those planning to attend are asked to call the church office where they can obtain information as to the chairman in charge of the arrangements for their birthday month.

Reports for the quarter were presented to Mrs. J. P. Carson, Jr., in the absence of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hugh Duncan. Reports also were given by the officers and circle chairmen.

Mrs. Howard H. Hollowell, Mrs. C. H. Shepard and Mrs. W. A. Black were appointed to serve on a committee to assist in purchasing furniture for the new assistant pastor's home. He will arrive in Midland the first of October.

Present were Mmes. Shepard, Carson, E. B. Patterson, J. L. Barber, W. A. Black, L. C. Stephenson, Minnie Crumley, W. C. Cartwright, T. A. Fannin, Hollowell, Bob Baker, Ellis Conner, Elmer Watkins, N. G. Cates, Sewell, W. E. Prothro, Tidwell, J. W. Thorne, Chapman, E. P. Birkhead, Roy McKee, David Hoover, Mollie McCormick, Sam Preston, George Thompson, A. D. Minney, H. M. McReynolds, Bill Kinney, Stacy Allen, B. F. Haag, E. J. Voliva, A. J. Norwood, Iva M. Noyes, J. M. Prothro, J. C. Smith, Velma Smith, L. T. Fowler, George P. Bradbury, and Joe V. Birdwell.

Margie Schumate YWA Officers Are Installed Monday

The annual tea and installation services for the Margie Schumate YWA of the First Baptist Church were held Monday evening in the educational building. Members of the WMU circles and junior and senior high school girls were guests.

A centerpiece of pink carnations and silver lace vine, flanked with tall white tapers, decorated the refreshment table. Other appointments carried out the YWA colors of green and white. Mrs. J. E. McCain and Mrs. Thurman Pylant presided at the punch bowl.

Miss Lynn Griffith was in charge of the guest register and incidental piano selections were presented by Mrs. Yates Brown.

The installation services carried out a symphony orchestra theme, and as each officer made her pledge, she gave the duties she would perform during the year. Mrs. S. M. Erskine was in charge of the rites and as officers made pledges, she presented them with corsages to which were tied musical instruments.

Officers installed were Nellive Clark, president; Clara Belle Kelton, vice-president; Ruth Elaine West, secretary and mission study chairman; Ruby Gilbert, treasurer; Dorothy Raines, publicity chairman; Helen House, community mission chairman; Rozella Greene, music chairman; Gwen Simpson, social chairman; and Mrs. J. S. Griffith, counselor.

Special Music
After a hymn "O Zion Haste" by the group, Mrs. J. M. White offered a prayer. Special music was presented by Ruth Elaine West and the devotional on "Watchword" was given by Gwen Simpson.

The closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Vernon Yearby.

Guests were Mmes. J. M. White, A. W. Wyatt, L. C. Hambleton, Barbara Wall, Brown, B. O. Walker, McCain, Yearby, John Godwin, E. G. White, E. F. Conner, Raymond Leggett, Jerry Roberts, John Dunagan, Pylant, George Morgan, Griffith, E. R. Powell, Erskine, Misses Alta Sparks, Helen Caffey, Faye Manville, Nadene Clements, Patsy Charlton, Margaret Daugherty, Edith Collings, Kathleen Aiken, Mary Jo Wood, LaMoine Tabor, Lois Shelburne, and Lynn Griffith.

Members present were Lurline Pender, Dorothy Raines, Rosella Greene, Gwen Simpson, Ruby Gilbert, Nellive Clark, Helen House, Clara Belle Kelton, and Ruth Elaine West.

PIN-WORMS LICKED AT LAST!

People don't talk about Pin-Worms—but more than you'd suspect have this ugly infection with its embarrassing rectal itch. However, it is no longer necessary to suffer. Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a real treatment has been established. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the small, easy-to-take Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. They act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So watch out for warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself. Don't delay! Ask your Druggist for JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions. It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Theatrical Forecast

We aren't familiar with the Russian theater, but we feel safe in predicting that Russian playgoers are in for a dreary season. For the top propaganda command is riding herd again on the playwrights and producers. These propagandists, though politicians and not artists, not only criticize plays, books, music, painting, etc., but even lay down rules for the production of those artistic commodities. Their latest order accuses playwrights of being "apolitical", of condoning or emphasizing bourgeois standards, and of insufficiently glorifying Soviet aims, accomplishments and culture. It also takes the producers to task for presenting unworthy dramatic fare. This last is a little surprising. For the group of English and American plays singled out for special condemnation includes two comparatively recent and familiar works which could scarcely be said to glorify capitalism.

One of them, Somerset Maugham's "The Circle", is a bitter and brilliant denunciation of the wealthy, idle, snobbish, superficial branch of England's upper classes. And Marx himself could hardly have been more contemptuous of the middle-class life, philosophy and virtues of capitalistic society than is the principal character of the other, George Kaufman and Moss Hart's "The Man Who Came to Dinner". But be that as it may, Maugham, Kaufman and Hart, plus any Russian admirers and imitators, have now joined the illustrious and growing Anglo-American group in the Soviet doghouse.

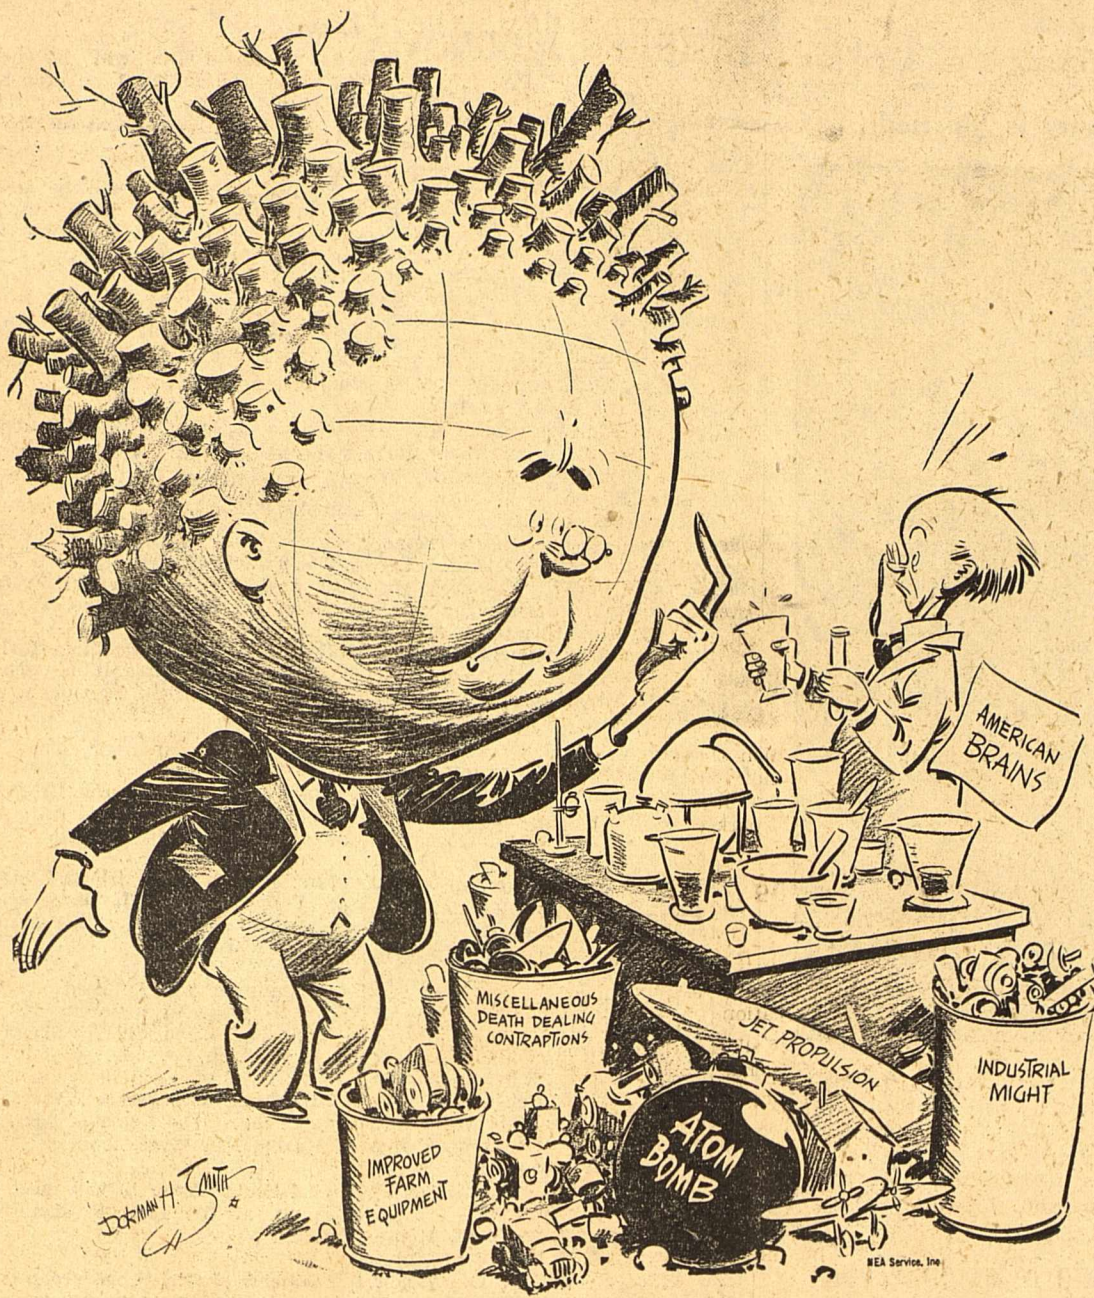

The government censorship that put them there is invoked in the name of education. But it clearly stems from fear of competition and truth. Thus anything that pictures capitalistic life for the Russians as anything pleasanter than hell on earth is the object of official scrutiny and action. This makes it tough on the Russian playwright. The rules which govern his creative action are so vague and so political that he can scarcely know what offends until he gets the official word on his completed product. A natural consequence of such restriction is stiffness, self-consciousness and fear, which in turn produce bad writing.

Likewise, his choice of subject matter almost guarantees a dull and temporary drama. Any play which pits shining virtue against sable villainy is almost sure to be either boring or silly—whether the heroes and villains be human beings or political systems. And the Russian playwright apparently has no choice but to show communism as perfection and capitalism as evil. The plays of such men as Euripides, Aristophanes, Shakespeare and Moliere have endured because, among other reasons, the complexities and conflicts of human beings remain interesting and understandable in spite of passing time and changing political systems. But the Soviet government seems to insist that citizens of the western democracies be presented to the Russian people not only as unhappy but unnatural.

This artistic insulation of the Soviet people is only another section of the iron curtain. But it is particularly regrettable because the direct, forceful channel of emotional expression through the arts could be a powerful stimulant to mutual understanding, if it were only given the chance.

BROOKLYN FANS TO PRAY FOR VICTORY

NEW YORK —(AP)—The Rev. Benney J. C. Benson proposes that the people of Brooklyn observe a minute of prayer at noon each day this week in an effort to help the Dodgers win the National League pennant. "We've prayed for military victories and everything else, so why not pray for the Dodgers," said Benson, who is minister of Greenpoint Reformed Church.

Lanier, Two Mates, Abandon Mexico Team

MEXICO CITY —(AP)—Mystery Monday surrounded the whereabouts of Max Lanier, Lou Klein and Harry Feldman, reported by the Mexican Baseball League to have "abandoned" their Vera Cruz team during its five-game series with Tampico. The league, an official bulletin announcing the move of the three former United States major league players, said it was investigating the circumstances before taking any action. "It is not known up to this moment what motives guided them," said the league bulletin issued Monday night. The league announcement "categorically denied" rumors that Lanier would play with Mexico City in that team's final four-game series, declaring this was impossible under league rules. None of the three American's played in Monday's final Vera Cruz-Tampico games. They could not be reached at their Mexico City residences.

Dixie Series Will Open In Southern Ass'n City

MEMPHIS, TENN. —(AP)—The Dixie series will open in the city of the Southern Association representative—Atlanta or Memphis—as soon as the Southern's playoff is completed. Billy Evans, Southern president, announced that a change had been made in the normal procedure to expedite play. This is the Texas League's year for the series opener because the last inter-league engagement in 1942 began in Nashville. To save two days' traveling time, Evans said, the Texas winner, Dallas, agreed to a change and would arrive in Memphis Friday to await the outcome of the Southern playoff. After two games in the Southern, the teams will go to Dallas for three if needed.

Ruffing And Dickey Severed From Yanks

NEW YORK —(AP)—A new era in Yankee baseball history was ushered in Tuesday as Red Ruffing and Bill Dickey, one of the game's foremost batteries when they had it, found themselves formally severed from the New York organization. With the passing of Rufus the Red, who had one of baseball's best fastballs when he came to the Yanks 16 years old, and Big Bill, a great catcher by any comparison, via the free agency route, only two players remained on the Yanks who can boast they once played on the same team with the immortal Babe Ruth. And even these two, infielder Frankie Crosetti and Relief Hurler Johnny (Grandma) Murphy, may not be with the club next Spring.

Georgia Miss Paces U. S. Women's Amateur

TULSA —(AP)—Veteran tournament campaigner Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., who says she plays golf "just for the fun of it," was all pepped up Monday over the prospect of winning a National Women's Amateur links title. The slim Georgian started the final holes of the qualifying phase to the first National Women's Golf Tournament since 1941 after posting a par 75 (women's figures) for the 6,232-yard Southern Hills Country Club course in the opening round Monday. Miss Kirby was two strokes under the early co-favorites—Louise Suggs of Atlanta and Babe Didrickson Zaharias of Denver—and Jean Hopkins of Rocky River, Ohio. Very much in the running for medal honors at the start of Tuesday's round were Mrs. Jacqueline Pung, Honolulu amateur titlist, and Helen Siegel, Philadelphia, each with a 78. Thirty-two of the starting field of 59 will qualify Tuesday for the championship match play beginning Wednesday.

Accountant Testifies 19 Shipyards Made Huge Profits On Investments

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Estimated profits of $356,000,000 on capital investment of $22,979,275 by 19 wartime ship builders were cited Tuesday by the General Accounting Office as evidence of the need for protection of taxpayers. Ralph E. Casey, accounting office representative, told a House Merchant Marine Subcommittee the figures indicated "the need for restoring some of the safeguards, checks and controls which experience has dictated are absolutely essential to the protection of taxpayers against excessive and illegal expenditure of public funds." The committee is studying the operations of the 19 companies who used shipyards built by the government. As hearings began, Shipbuilder Henry J. Kaiser gave reporters a statement saying that the combined net profits of the companies he operated were less than one-tenth of one per cent of dollar value after deducting losses and paying taxes. He released it as Marvin Coles, committee investigator, told the committee that the total fees and profits received by the Kaiser companies amounted to $192,237,284 on a total capital investment of $2,510,000. Coles also said that the St. Johns Shipbuilding Company in Florida, not a Kaiser operation, had profits and fees of $2,080,000 on a total capital investment of $600,000 or approximately 350,000 per cent. Asserting his belief that industry "is entitled to a reasonable profit for its efforts and risks," Coles said he believed the committee did not approve of "unreasonable wartime profits and war profiteering." Gaines Radiator Shop Daily Offers Service To Many Satisfied Customers

The Gaines Radiator Shop, in its new building at 307 North Weatherford Street, is daily serving many satisfied customers in Midland. A hard-to-get item, heater hose, has just been received in good supply and Gaines is reminding customers of that fact. The hose is good, heavy and serviceable.

Gaines' cleans, repairs and re-covers radiators of all makes and kinds, as its chief service. The company offers new radiators when they can be obtained. The supply recently has been very small and not much increase of stock is expected in the immediate future.

"But when we can get them, we will stock them for our customers," said Horner Gaines, owner.

Shop Is Large
The new building of Gaines' is much larger and more adequate than the old shop on Missouri Street. The new business building has 3,850 square feet of space and is ample to the needs of the shop. It has a neat and attractive office in front. The stock on hand is neatly displayed.

Gaines is owner and manager. He is on the job daily. His staff consists of H. E. Worsham and Juan Marmiljo, experienced radiator men.

Gaines has been in business in Midland two years and is well known among customers, who know where to find quick and efficient good radiator service.

"And don't forget that good heater hose, just arrived," Gaines reminds customers.

Banner Creamery Has Latest In Ice Cream Machinery, Equipment

The Banner Creamery at 300 East Texas Street in Midland, in keeping with its policy to offer the best in products, has just installed new ice cream making equipment, making possible an output of 1,800 gallons a day of good Banner Ice Cream. The chief new installation is a 500-gallon ice cream mix pasteurizer. This vat is brand new and is of stainless steel.

After the mix is put in the vat, it is heated to a high temperature and pasteurized. Then it is run to a cooler, which cools it to 40 degrees.

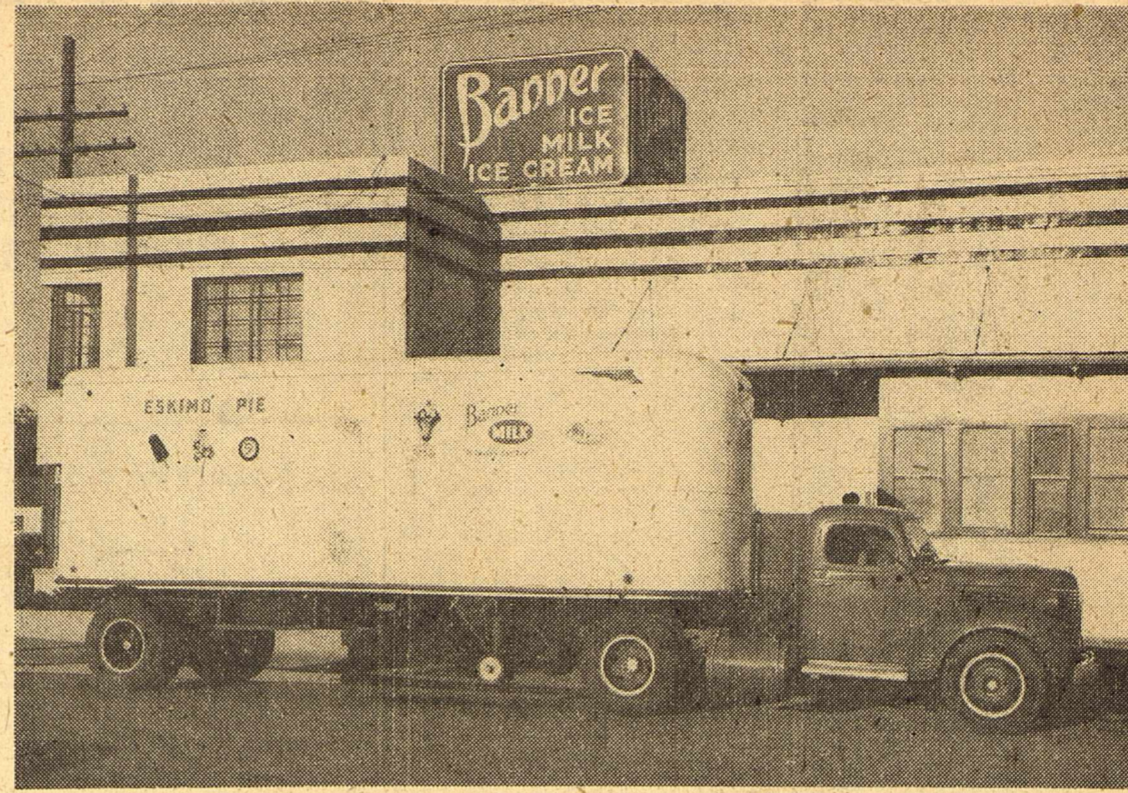

Use Best Products
Next the mix goes to tanks in which it is kept very cold. A latest type freezer, also stainless steel next gets the mix and then it becomes ice cream after going through the flavor tanks.

From the big freezer the ice cream comes out and is packaged and conveyed to the hardening room, which has a temperature of 15 degrees below zero. It is kept in here until loaded in refrigerator trucks for delivery to customers.

Ray Havins is plant superintendent at Banner's. He has been a company employee for 12 years.

He says Banner mix of cream is made of the best products. It is constantly checked in the laboratory.

Banner is constantly adding new equipment to its fine plant in Midland to serve the customer of this city.

The latest equipment, to which the best is constantly added, is found at the Banner Creamery, 300 East Texas Street in Midland. The company recently installed new ice cream making equipment. The finished product, good Banner Ice Cream, is delivered in refrigerator trucks like the one shown here, parked at the loading wharf of the plant.

Vets Shun Job-Training After Ceilings Put On

DALLAS —(AP)— E. M. Cain, regional director of the Veterans Administration Vocational Education Division, said Monday veterans' interest in on-the-job training has shown a marked decline since a ceiling was placed by Congress on their total earnings.

The number of firms requesting VA approval to train veterans has dropped to 10 a day as compared to 30 to 100 a day before the ceilings were imposed, Cain said.

A ceiling of total earnings of $175 for unmarried veterans and $200 for married veterans is set for those receiving subsistence payments of $65 and $90 a month while training on the job. The same regulation applies to those going to colleges and vocational schools. All above the ceiling is deducted from the subsistence payments.

WCTU Acclaims Texas Honor-Winning State

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. —(AP)— Texas was acclaimed the honor state for 1946 by the national Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Texas membership showed a net gain of 671. Second was Florida, with a gain of 306.

In addition Texas carried off other honors, including the special trophy for the largest gain in Loyal Temperance Legion (children) members.

Eighteen delegates represented Texas, one of the largest at the convention, which opened September 20, and continues through September 24.

CONGRESSMAN URGES END OF PRICE LAW

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) urged President Truman Tuesday to call a special session of Congress to repeal the Price Control Law.

He told the Chief Executive in a telegram that butchers' and grocers' shelves had "never been so bare" in his state and that "people are universally dissatisfied."

"The best vote I ever cast," he added, was one to kill OPA.

He had three sons, John, Aaron, Jr., and William Cherry, of whom the first two fought at the battle of San Jacinto.

'Don't Take A Chance, Take A Checker', Says Checker Cab Company

"Don't take a chance, take a Checker!"

The Checker Cab Company in Midland is known for its courteous, safe but swift, service.

The location of Checker Cab Company, 201 North Colorado Street, is not as important as it is to remember it is as close to you as your telephone:

And don't forget that telephone number is:

70

H. C. Watson is manager of the Checker Cab Company. Watson is known in the cab business for the best kind of service. He insists on it. The Checker Cab Company, although fairly new in service in Midland, has come to be a by-word of good taxi service and so is its slogan:

Shade of Sycamore

By PERCY MARKS
Author of "The Plastic Age" "A Tree Grown Straight" Etc.

THE STORY: Gayle tells her friend, Rose, about her engagement to handsome Bruce Bartlett, famous athlete and scion of wealth. Rose is horrified, claims that Bart is selfish, spoiled and conceited.

ROSE turned into Howe Street, and her little nose wrinkled in disgust. "What a place to live," she thought, "especially on a day like this."

It was Friday afternoon, the sun was warm, and she felt she could not sit in the apartment with its north exposure and look at the red brick wall of the neighboring apartment house. She would drop her things and take a walk. Then she would have dinner at the Y and go to a movie. Gayle would be on her way to Germantown with Bruce Bartlett, and the apartment would be lonely.

She had paused to search in her bag for her door key when a strong masculine voice called, "Hey-hey, Miss Beecher—Rose!" She turned and saw Bruce Bartlett's handsome convertible roadster at the curb. Hatless, he was leaning out the door. "Hi," he said. "Where's Gayle?"

"Hi," Rose returned, approaching the car slowly. "Aren't you early? Gayle didn't expect you till four."

"I know." His face brightened with the famed boyish smile. "I couldn't wait."

"And now you'll have to. She won't be here until four or later. She's up to her neck at the School. Don't you want to come upstairs and park? Howe Street's no rose garden."

Bart laughed. "I'll say it isn't. Thanks a lot. I'm tired of sitting here."

"Come along, then." Once they were in the apartment, Rose offered him a cigarette, told him to make himself comfortable if he could and vanished into the bedroom. Five minutes later she reappeared, her short curls freshly combed, the pale golden freckles on her nose lightly powdered.

"I forgot to do my Emily Price Post exercises," she said, waving Bart back into his chair. "Gayle told me last Sunday. Congratulations."

"I'll bet you really do congratulate me, too. You've lived with Gayle; you know her. You know how lucky I am." Bart's black eyes were bright, and he smiled his thanks.

"Don't I?" She obviously was about to say something, as obviously decided not to say it.

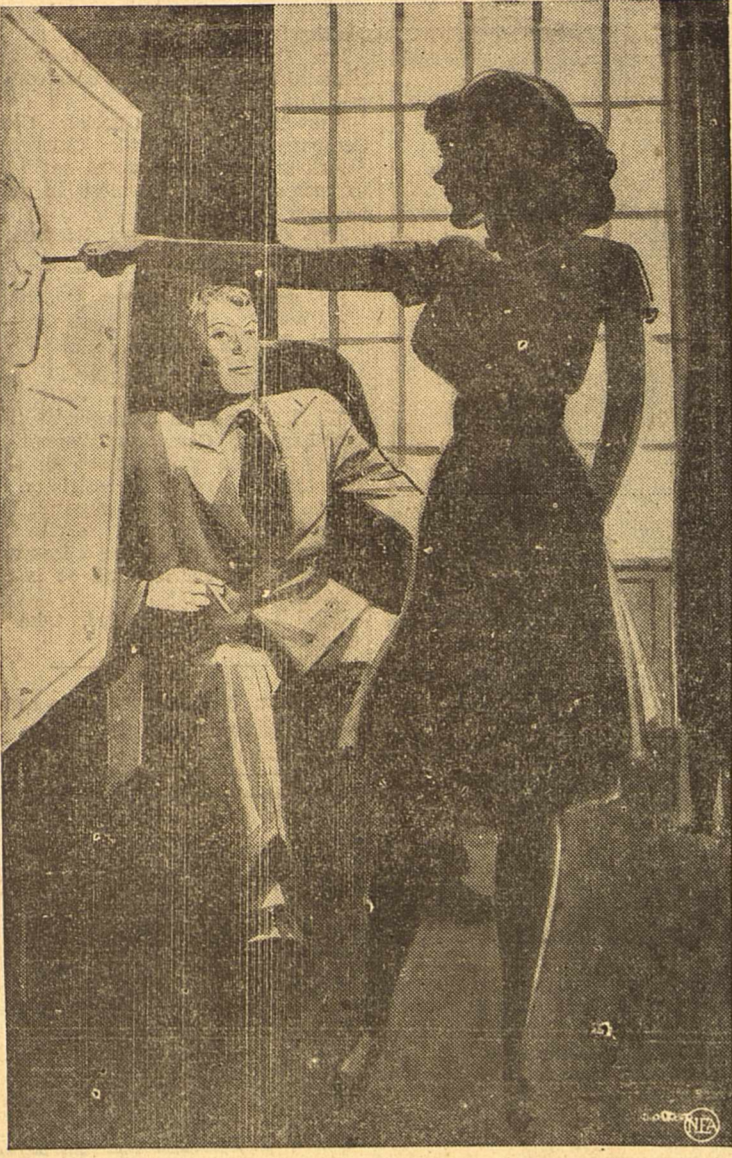

INSTEAD she got up, took down a small ink sketch from the wall, and handed it to Bart. "Like it?"

"I'll say I do," he enthused, studying the picture. "I always notice this. It looks just like Gayle. You did it, didn't you?"

"Yes. Want it?"

"Do I? Boy! Are you giving it to me?" Rose returned to her chair and set down. "I don't think it's kosher to give a man an engagement present, but who wants to be kosher? That's yours if you want it—me to you."

"Oh, thanks!" He studied the picture again, smiled once more

Rose worked with extraordinary speed, sketching with freedom and sureness. Bart was an excellent subject, easy and relaxed. "No nerves," thought Rose. "No self-consciousness either. He knows he'll turn out beautiful."

at Rose, and for an instant seemed hardly half his twenty-five years. "This is wonderful." Then he looked up at her, his eyes alight with an idea. "Say," he said, "I've just thought of something. My father's going to have a birthday. Mother wrote and reminded me. I don't know what to get him. He's sick all the time, you know. But I'll bet he'd like a sketch like this of me. How about it? Will you make one of these sketches of me? You set the price, and I'll pay."

Rose was about to say, "I'll be darned if I will," when her eyes brightened and she looked almost eager. She leaned back in her chair and studied him as impersonally as if he were a professional model.

"He's got line," she admitted to herself. "Boy, he's got everything."

SHE took an easel, which had been leaning against a wall, and set it up; pulled out a drawer in a desk, extracted a roll of paper, and thumbtacked a sheet of it to a board. "All right," she said, "let's go." She placed the board on the easel and studied Bart once again. "You're all right the way you are," she decided. "You don't have to sit particularly still. Talk if you want to." She lifted a pencil with her thumb near the end and measured him thoughtfully. "Go ahead and smoke." Then she picked up a stick of charcoal. "Just don't freeze; that's all I ask of you."

He made an excellent subject, easy and relaxed. "No nerves," thought Rose. "No self-consciousness either. He knows he'll turn out beautiful."

She worked with extraordinary speed, stroking with freedom and sureness. Now and then she lifted the charcoal, squinted against it for a measurement, and then returned reassured to her drawing. From where he sat, Bart could see her elbow moving, and there were times when it seemed to dance.

"I've been drawn before," Bart said, "and the artists always spent half their time looking at me. You just take a peek, though. How do you do it?"

"I don't have to look at all if I don't want to," she explained. "I can see you without looking. Don't be impressed. Plenty of people can pull that trick. They call it visual imagination. I think. Anyway, I can draw almost anyone I've seen. This is turning out right. You won't have to sit again. I've got it the first time. I thought I would." She paused as there was a quick step outside the door. "Hello, there's Gayle."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
The bidding that Samuel Katz of Millburn, N. J., employed on today's hand helped him win the master's mixed team-of-four championship with Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Lebar of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Mrs. Ralph Kempner of Chicago.

The first round of bidding was normal, but when North bid three spades on the second round, Katz knew he was not going to have a chance to take a good spade sacrifice against a game contract. The opponents were going to get into a slam, and he wanted to defeat it. He was safe enough in bidding four diamonds; if it were doubled, he could go to four spades. He was not worried when West passed the four diamond bid, because he knew that his vulnerable opponents could not afford to let him play the hand at diamonds and go down 50 points per trick. North probably should have been satisfied with a bid of five clubs, but he was afraid of being talked out of something and plunged to six clubs.

West made the correct opening lead, which Katz trumped, and his ace of trumps was the setting trick.

Contract is really two games, a bidding game and a playing game. Bidding strategy can be just as interesting as the play of the most intricate hand.

Lubbock Theater Owner Charges Film Conspiracy

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Preston E. Smith, owner and manager of an independent theater here, has filed suit in Federal District Court charging "unlawful and illegal conspiracy and agreement" in the distribution of motion picture film by two theater chains and eleven major film production companies.

Named as defendants are the Lindsey Theaters, Inc. of Lubbock, and Griffith Amusement Co., Inc., of Oklahoma City, and ten Hollywood studios.

Smith, in charging violation of the Sherman and Clayton Anti-Trust Acts, seeks treble damages totaling approximately $300,000.

Texarkana Defeats Henderson, 8 To 7

By The Associated Press
A four-run eighth inning rally put the Texarkana Bears back into the East Texas League playoff Monday night as they defeated Henderson, 8-7.

Henderson leads, three games to two. The clubs will move to Henderson Tuesday night for the sixth and seventh games of the final round.

Trailing 6-3, the Bears combined two hits, two walks and a pair of infield errors to stage the game winning uprising.

Home runs were hit by Paul Martin and Johnny Stone of Henderson and Bob Collins and Hal van Pelt of Texarkana.

KIDNAPED JAP HEIRESS IS FOUND UNHARMED

TOKYO — (AP) — Twelve-year-old Kunko Sumitomo, kidnaped heiress to a Zaibatsu industrial fortune, was found unharmed near Nagoya Monday and police arrested Yoshio Higuchi as her abductor, the Kyodo News Agency reported.

The girl was kidnaped just a week ago as she was returning home from school.

Dead Man's Name To Appear On Ballot

AUSTIN — (AP) — The name of a deceased county commissioner of Precinct Two in Medina County is the only one which can be legally printed as a candidate for that office on the general election ballot, the attorney general has ruled.

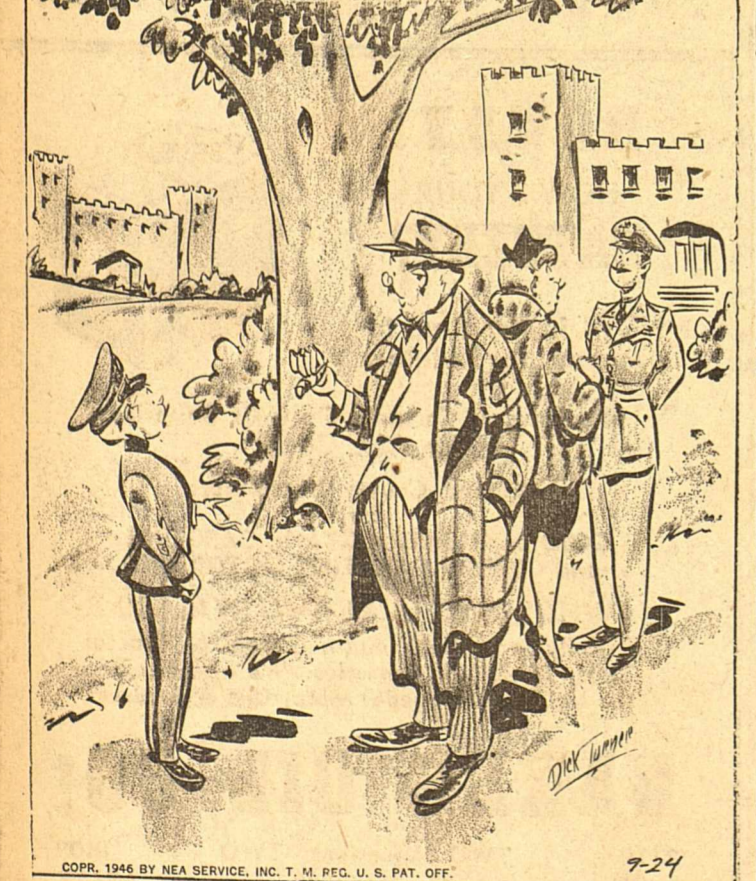

The deceased commissioner, unopposed as a candidate on the independent ticket for the general election, was killed in an accident August 28.

The statutes require the printing of the dead man's name on the official ballot, the attorney general ruled, but noted voters may mark out the printed name and write in another of their choice.

"Should, however, the deceased independent candidate receive a plurality of the votes cast for the office, x x x the office x x x would be vacant," the opinion stated.

Lubbock Gains On Pampa In Playoff

By The Associated Press
Lubbock's Hubbers are within striking distance of the Pampa Oilers in the West Texas-New Mexico League playoff after defeating the Oilers Monday night, 5-4.

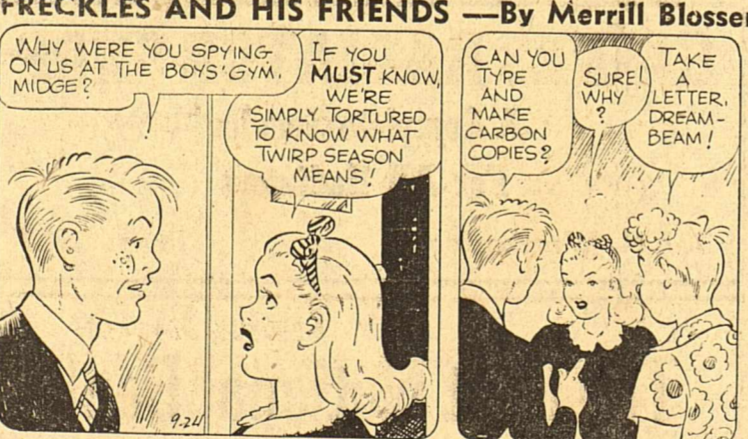

The defeat reduced Pampa's lead in the final round to three games to two.

The clubs will move to Pampa Tuesday night for the sixth clash and will remain there Wednesday if a seventh and deciding game is necessary.

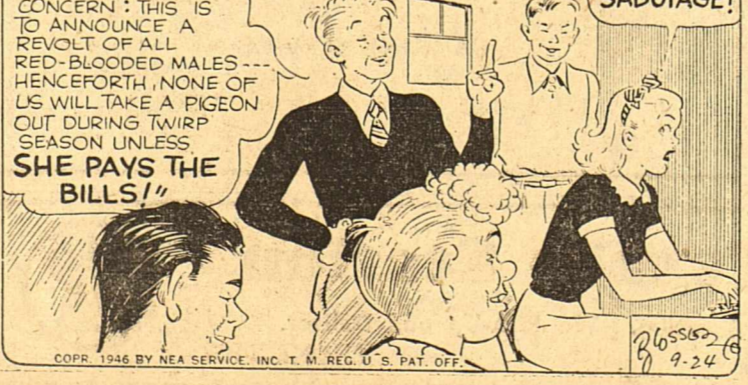

Jackie Sullivan drove in four of Lubbock's runs Monday night, hitting a home run in the first inning with two men on base and sending another score across the plate in the third on a single.

TCU And Baylor To Open Conference Play Saturday, A&M Meets Tech

By The Associated Press
With five teams having pulled throughout without defeat this past weekend, all seven members of the Southwest Conference will go into action this week in games that will include four intersectional clashes and the first conference encounter of the year.

Texas A&M, Texas, Baylor and Arkansas, who turned in Saturday victories, and TCU, who battled to a scoreless tie with Kansas, will be joined by SMU and Rice for an all-out weekend card that will run from Friday night through Saturday night.

The opposition will include Oklahoma A&M, Temple University, the University of Colorado, Louisiana State University, and Texas Tech. The conference encounter will be between TCU and Baylor, at Fort Worth.

The Mustangs of SMU will take on Ray Morrison's Temple Owls at Philadelphia Friday night, while Texas will play host to the Colorado Buffs at Austin Saturday afternoon. Rice will begin its campaign against the strong LSU Tigers in a night game at Houston Saturday.

Arkansas will be in for a rugged afternoon in traveling to Stillwater, Okla., to meet Bob Fenimore and company of the Oklahoma Aggies, while the Texas Aggies, in taking on Texas Tech, are in for a rougher session than they encountered in their opener against North Texas State. The game will be played in San Antonio Saturday night.

Following Saturday's games with Kansas and Southwestern, it is difficult to tab a favorite in the first conference game. The Frogs and Bears displayed little against the Jayhawks and Pirates, though from material on hand both schools should be dangerous once they get rolling. It may turn out to be the best game of the week.

Temple and LSU, like SMU and Rice will be playing their first games, but Colorado, Oklahoma A&M and Texas Tech opened up with wins over Iowa State, Denver, and West Texas State College.

Scouts Learn Little
It isn't likely that scouts for Colorado and Tech found out too much about the Texas Longhorns and Texas Aggies. Neither outfit had to exert themselves in turning in their 40-plus wins over Missouri and North Texas. The scouts probably did realize, however, that their squads will have their hands more than full in the Austin and San Antonio battles.

Colorado had to rely on rangy Don Evans, an unheralded 19-year old substitute tailback, to pull their game with Iowa out of the fire in the final quarter. Evans led the Buffaloes 71-yards in four plays to score a touchdown that broke a 7-7 deadlock. A moment later he took the Iowa State kickoff in the Colby end zone and went 73 yards before being halted on the Cyclone 27.

The Aggies of Stillwater had to get down to some serious business before overcoming Denver, a team that outplayed the powerful Sugar Bowl champions in the first quarter through use of a tricky "T" formation. The Aggie second stringers made their team's first score, after which Fenimore took over for a couple of markers.

The Red Raiders of Texas Tech took advantage of fumbles by West Texas State to defeat the Canyon team, 26-14. It may have been a sluggish opening for the Raiders, but they will be up against a powerful line and a versatile backfield when they take on A&M.

Assault Withdrawn From Belmont Park Feature

NEW YORK —(AP)—King Ranch's Assault will not run in the $15,000 Jerome Handicap for 3-year-olds Tuesday, but the Belmont Park feature has an unexpected starter in Hal Price Headley's Athenia.

Assault would have had to pick up 126 pounds and concede the same dozen to Mrs. Walter M. Jefferson's Mahout that he failed to give successfully in the Jersey Handicap at Garden State.

8—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, SEPT. 24, 1946

Defensive Line Play Stressed By Bulldogs In Austin Drills

Tackles John Scrogin and Howard Mickey got a workout but good Monday.

As the Midland Bulldogs opened drills for the Austin High encounter Friday night Coach Barnes Milam stressed defensive line play with the tackles getting the brunt.

For what seemed like two hours and it almost was, the savage attacking Mickey and Scrogin were made to fight at the second team line and get a tackle.

Also R. A. Whitson and Royce Higgs, first line guards, had their share of defensive play. Jimmy Edwards, aggressive but likeable center and a great ball player, tried to slip in and play in the defensive line but he was chased to his linebacker post by the coaches.

Tackles Pin Backs
Every once in a while Scrogin or Mickey would really lasso one of the backs, Dunny Goode, Bobby Cole, Bobby Drake or Barney Hightower and pin them. Other times the fast-stepping youngsters got away.

Ends Jack Kidwell and Ben Oliff got in for a share of defensive play, as did Joe Birdwell and Dewey Kirby and Artie Lettwich.

Little Cecil Stephens ran the second string backs and he manufactured some good yardage. Working with him were Barry Boone, Bill Little, Arnold Baker and Dell Bivens.

From out El Paso way comes predictions the Austin High Panthers will take Midland. The border boys are licking their chops over stopping Tucson's streak. However the Bulldog meat may backfire on them.

BOWLING

The women's bowling league of Midland opened the Winter season Monday evening with Hughes Jewelry winning three matches over Petroleum Drug; The Steak House copying three from Checker Cab; West Texas Reproduction beating Tull's Drug three; and Ted Thompson Agency won two from Hoover Body Shop.

Lorene Spears of the Steak House rolled high game with a score of 178. Nadine Harris of Ted Thompson Agency keged high series with a score of 487 for three games.

Cards Keep Lead As St. Louis Beats Cubs, 1-0, Brooks Whip Phils, 6-1

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The lineup of the St. Louis Cardinals is studded with some of the best hitters in the National League but in the last three victories gained by the league leaders the pitchers have supplied the punch at the plate.

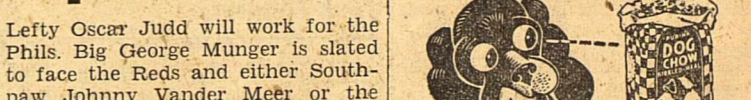

Relief hurler Ted Wilks helped bat the Cards to victory Thursday at Boston; Saturday it was little Murry Dickson who singled and sped home with the winning run in the ninth inning at Chicago, and Monday Harry "The Cat" Brecheen pitched and batted the Birds to a 1-0 victory over the Cubs at Chicago.

Brechen singled home battery mate Joe Garagiola in the third inning with the only run of the game as the Cards protected their slim half-game margin over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who trimmed the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1 at Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers and Phils engaged in a tight contest until the eighth inning, when the Brooks broke the game wide open by scoring five runs on two walks, four hits and a long fly.

Tuesday, the Dodgers meet the Phils again, while the Cards battle the Cincinnati Reds under the lights at St. Louis. Ralph Branca, who has hurled two straight shutouts, will pitch for the Brooks.
