James Barnes Rike, George Wallace Comer, and Miles Frederick Daubenhayser.

Truman To Broadcast Meat Control Policy

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON —(AP)—President Truman Saturday night prepared a decision on the meat control question for broadcast to the nation Monday night while the GOP commented "better late than never."

Truman will deliver his solution to the meat-hungry voters in a broadcast at 9 p. m. (CST) Monday over all networks.

Scarcely had this been disclosed when Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, issued a statement that "it will not suffice to pull a political rabbit out of the hat. One rabbit is a rather scanty diet for 140,000,000 people."

"Mr. Truman has in the past demonstrated an ability to do the right thing too late," Reece continued. "It is, however, to be hoped that in attempts to solve this problem Mr. Truman and his administration will approach it from the viewpoint of what is best from the long-range viewpoint. To provide a feast now at the expense of an inevitable famine later would be an exhibition of cheap politics which would inevitably be repudiated by the American people."

"The American people are not willing to sell their votes on November 5 for steaks and chops if they know they will be able to get only horse meat to eat in January or February."

In announcing the broadcast arrangement, Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said Truman will discuss meat as part of "the stabilization program."

That generated new speculation on how far the Chief Executive might be willing to go in adjusting the administration's line against inflation to get ribs, steaks, or some dinner table—and nudge Democratic candidates off political hotspots.

The decision was the President's alone. His advisers had laid before him their arguments for one line of action or another. The problem had been threshed over thoroughly in cabinet meeting and other high-level conferences.

Saturday Truman weighed the case for and against complete control, modified control, or no control. He worked all day in his study, with no outside callers.

Porter Is Silent
Price Administrator Paul Porter, who said last Saturday the choice was between steaks and stabilization, was silent on the meat question in his weekly broadcast Saturday. He discussed housing.

One thing appeared certain—that Truman would announce some kind of action and not confine himself to mere discussions of the scarcity of meat and the dangers of inflation.

But even officials familiar with what has happened in the top-rung conferences had different ideas of the course the President would set.

One said he believed Truman would pick a middle path—a boost in present meat ceilings, or some kind of insured profit for livestock producers. Another said he thought it would be either complete control or retention of the existing clamps on prices.

Still in the picture as a possibility was the importing of meat to whittle down the American shortage. Some politicians and the domestic industry have criticized that idea severely.

Paving Of Streets To Start In City Early This Week

Machinery and materials are on hand, and actual construction work on Midland's paving program will get underway early this week, Fred Fromhold, representative of the W. L. Johnson Company, paving contractor, said Saturday.

Fromhold said it had not been determined which blocks will be paved first, but that the work will progress as rapidly as possible over the city.

The program is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with the Midland Chamber of Commerce acting as stakeholder. JayCee members have been actively engaged in the program for several weeks, obtaining signatures of property owners on paving contracts. Newbie Ellis, Jr., is chairman of the JayCee paving committee.

16 Blocks Signed Up
Installation of curb and gutter will be the first step in the construction program.

"Sixteen blocks have been completely signed up for paving, and eight more blocks are practically complete," Fromhold said.

Engineering work, underway for several weeks, is progressing rapidly, and this phase of the program will stay ahead of the construction work.

The contractor will have a full crew of men on the job this week. The company has acquired and is fencing a tract of land on West Front Street to store machinery and materials.

JayCees To Continue Work
JayCees are continuing their work to sign up as many blocks as possible. This program will continue until all property owners on unpaved streets of the city have been contacted.

Persons interested in having their streets paved are requested to contact the Junior Chamber of Commerce or the W. L. Johnson Company office on North A Street.

An inquiry from the negro Chamber of Commerce as to the paving of streets in the Moody Addition was received by the contractor Friday.

Hungarian Treaty Approved At Paris Peace Conference As Danube Opened To Free Traffic

PARIS —(AP)—The peace conference completed its work on the Hungarian peace treaty early Sunday after rejecting the plea for the United States for a $100,000,000 reduction in the amount of reparations that nation must pay Russia, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

In the course of completing its deliberations on the last of the treaties for the Balkan satellites of Germany, the conference voted to free the Hungarian section of the Danube to commerce of all nations, as it had done earlier in the Romanian and Bulgarian treaties.

After a recess Sunday, the conference will convene Monday, under the chairmanship of President Georges Bidault of France, to finish its work on the treaty with Finland.

The delegates voted 12 to two with seven abstentions to allow the three Slav nations $300,000,000. Only Canada joined the United States, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Greece, Norway, New Zealand and the Netherlands abstained.

Czechs Get Three Towns
In slightly more than 15 minutes after Saturday night's session opened the delegates approved all the political articles in the Hungarian treaty, including one directing Hungary to negotiate with Czechoslovakia on the return of 300,000 Hungarians on Czech soil, and another granting Czechoslovakia three towns towns in a bridgehead across the Danube to permit enlargement of Bratislava.

Military clauses limiting Hungary's armed forces to 65,000 men for the army, an air force of 70 combat and 20 transport planes with a manpower of 5,000 were adopted without discussion.

Vinegar Joe Stilwell, Hero Of Epic Burma War, Dies

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)—Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, plain-spoken hero of the epic retreat from Burma and the long march back to victory over Japan, died in his sleep Saturday at Letterman General Hospital. He was 63.

For the fiery, wiry little general, death was in placid contrast with a life of violent combat.

Commander of the U. S. Sixth Army, with headquarters at San Francisco, General Stilwell entered the Army hospital September 27 for a routine checkup. He underwent an operation October 3, but his condition became critical only three days ago.

Death was attributed to adenocarcinoma (cancer) of the liver, complicated by an amoebic abscess believed to have been contracted in the Burma jungles.

Only his doctor, Col. Leonard D. Teaton, was present when the general died at 2:49 p. m. (CST). Just outside the door was his son, Col. Joseph W. Stilwell, Jr., one of five children.

In accordance with General Stilwell's wish, there will be no public funeral services. The body will be cremated and the ashes strewn from an airplane over the Pacific Ocean near Lanfair, his home at Carmel, Calif.

His widow, the former Winifred Allison, said she would like also to place a memorial tablet to his memory at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, from which he was graduated in 1904.

Receives Infantryman's Badge
In life Stilwell received one last, coveted honor, the Combat Infantryman's Blue Rifle Badge, sent to him by the War Department and delivered only Friday.

Although he won the Distinguished Service Medal in World War I and the Distinguished Service Cross in World War II, Stilwell rarely wore any ribbons, saying he had not bothered to preserve them and that he wanted only the Combat Infantryman's Badge.

Nobody had thought to give it to him before, not associating it with many generals.

He died quietly in bed, the leathery, sharp-tongued little soldier with the tooth-brush haircut, whose troops called him "Vinegar Joe" or "Uncle Joe."

The two nicknames summed up the nature of a man who would fight to the end for what he thought was right, but who was sparing of his soldiers' blood.

Outspoken In Defeat
The "Vinegar" part was an outspoken frankness which first came to world-wide attention in the bitter spring of 1942.

The undermanned, outgunned American, British and Chinese had just lost Burma to the Japanese.

Recuperating in India after leading the heartbreaking retreat afoot out of the wilderness, Stilwell scoffed at attempts to sugarcoat the Allied defeat, exclaiming:

"I claim we got a hell of a beating. We got run out of Burma and it is humiliating as hell. I think we ought to go back and retake it."

Retake it he did, his battered old felt campaign hat becoming a symbol of frontline action for a mixed force of men who spoke eight different languages. Stilwell was right up there, on foot.

Besides being American commander of the China-Burma-India theater, Stilwell was deputy to the British commander and chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Charged with keeping China actively in the war and building a formidable fighting force from her great manpower reserves, Stilwell clashed repeatedly with Chiang over the conduct of the war.

America Asks Payment On $11 Billion Dollars

No Reply Received To Government Request

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The United States has asked Russia to begin negotiations designed to settle up the Soviet's $11,000,000,000 wartime lend lease account, informed diplomatic officials disclosed Saturday night.

These officials said the American government had sent a note to Moscow several weeks ago suggesting this step but had not yet received a reply.

Russia presumably will be asked during the conversations to pay the United States a percentage of the cost of the guns, tanks, warplanes and other material furnished her under the wartime agreement.

In previous similar post-lend-lease negotiations with other countries, however, the United States has not sought full-scale compensation. Factors like war losses, and casualties are taken into consideration before arriving at a figure and writing "closed" to the account.

The American note asked a Soviet financial mission to come to Washington to begin the discussions as soon as convenient.

The United States furnished Russia $11,414,000,000 in lend-lease as of December 31, 1945. Russia's reverse lend-lease contributions for the same period totaled $2,213,000,000.

Loan Not Connected
The American note to Moscow divorced the lend-lease discussions from the suggested negotiations for a $1,000,000,000 loan to Russia. This change of procedure reflects the American government's growing belief that the Soviet would not accept the conditions for the credit laid down by the United States.

Russia requested the loan nearly a year ago but has not agreed to American suggestions for an agenda which would include examination of economic conditions in Eastern Europe.

Further negotiations are stalled because of Soviet failure to answer a third American note on the subject sent about three months ago.

The American officials who disclosed the lend-lease note said the decision was reached because of a desire to speed settlement of such accounts as requested by Congress. These informants cannot be quoted but are thoroughly familiar with economic policy.

Britain, France Give Credits
Britain and France, the only other of the Big Five nations to settle their accounts, both were extended American dollar credits needed to purchase American property in the negotiations. No attempt was made to balance the direct and reverse lend-lease accounts on a dollar for dollar basis.

The officials did not know whether any sale of surplus goods to the Russians was contemplated. They indicated, however, that some deal by which the Soviet government would turn over real estate in Moscow to the United States for use by the embassy, as several other countries have done in their capitals, might be welcomed as part of the settlement.

Like most other lend-lease recipients, Russia was granted a credit to enable her to purchase stocks ordered but not yet delivered at the time the United States shut off lend-lease in September, 1945. It amounted to between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000.

Russia got approximately one-fourth of the 45,000,000 total lend-lease that the United States shipped to its allies during the war. Britain was the principal recipient with about $30,000,000,000.

Shot With 32 Pistol
The bodies of Miss Eldridge, daughter of a Chatham, Mass., contractor and Hogan were found a short distance apart near Hogan's car a few hours after they had left a Fort Lauderdale night club. Both had been shot twice with a .32 caliber pistol and both were fully clothed. There were no signs of a scuffle.

Texarkana's unsolved slayings include a man and a 17-year-old girl who were shot to death in a parked car March 24, and a teen-aged couple killed April 4. Police said both killings apparently were the work of a sex maniac.

A farmer was shot to death from outside as he sat in his home near Texarkana on May 3, and his wife was wounded when she went to his aid.

Meanwhile, aroused South Florida citizens raised the reward in Wednesday's slayings from $1,500 to $2,100. The town of Dania offered $500 and a private citizen, $100.

The sheriff admitted that he was practically without clues. Five persons picked up for questioning here were released.

Attempt Made To Connect Florida, Texas Killings

FORT LAUDERDALE, FLA. —(AP)—Army intelligence detectors were sought Saturday for use in the hunt for a pistol which was used in the double slaying of a young couple on Dania Beach early Wednesday.

Sheriff Walter R. Clark said if the detectors were secured he would search the sand along the beach and the adjacent Atlantic Ocean for the gun which killed Lawrence O. Hogan, 24, and his girl friend, Miss Elaine Eldridge, 23.

Meanwhile, the FBI was asked to check and compare the ballistics records of bullets which killed the young couple and five persons in the area of the twin city of Texarkana.

First reports showed that a different pistol was used at Dania than in the Texas-Arkansas slayings, but Clark said he wanted another check made by the FBI.

Negro Withdraws Name From Georgia Ballot

ATLANTA —(AP)—A negro educator was out of the Fulton County coroner's race Saturday to avoid "racial" conflict and it appeared from hectic events surrounding his withdrawal that 23 white candidates all were free to go ahead and run for the job.

Fearful that a split white vote would put the negro into office with solid backing from voters of his race, the 23 white candidates Friday agreed, none too willingly, to center support on one of their number.

When the list officially closed Saturday, however, none of them had withdrawn and it was assumed that they still were candidates.

The name of Aurelius S. Scott, the negro candidate, was scratched from the list on the strength of a withdrawal he hastily penned at the behest of the Democratic County Executive Committee.

Dr. Burnam will attend a week's refresher course in Fort Worth, then go on a month's vacation before returning to his position in Midland.

Dr. Burnam inaugurated the federal inspection service here and maintains an office at the A&M Packing Company on East Highway 80.

French Army Worries Over Disposal Of WAC Corps Bras

By TOM REEDY
FRANKFURT, GERMANY—(AP)—The French supply officer tossed off his glass of Rhine wine, looked out the window and mused: "Yes, the French WACs—as you would call them—are abolished. We do not have WAC Corps, as such, any more. Would your WAC Corps, for instance, be interested in a couple of dozen thousand of rose-colored brassieres?"

No, we said, the WAC supply officers probably would not be interested at all, on account of all the channels the Army has to go through to buy things, get signatures and vouchers, distribute them, balance quartermaster books and all that.

"That's too bad," the French officer said. "This, I think, is a good buy." He shook his head in sad recollection of what obviously was a major problem and mused aloud some more.

It seems that the French WACs, numbering about 2,000 or so in occupied Germany, had decided that they should be issued blue brassieres as standard equipment and somebody at Baden Baden, French headquarters, has issued an order to that effect.

Order to Marseille

The requisition order was placed with a male quartermaster officer. The color made no difference to him, and he sent the order on to Marseille.

At Marseille, another quartermaster officer got to pondering about blue brassieres. They're nuts up there in Baden Baden, he decided, and put an order in for rose-colored brassieres, thousands of them. The order went through routine channels to a factory at Lyon.

At Lyon, the factory went to work turning out thousands of rose-colored brassieres.

In Paris, the assembly went to work abolishing the French WACs. Now, said the French officer: The quartermaster at Marseille has to explain why in the name of a name he ordered several dozen thousand rose-colored brassieres.

The quartermaster at Baden Baden can, and does, say, "keep me out of it, because I said blue ones".

The factory at Lyons wants to know who is going to pay for the order, and when.

The government, in effect, says don't bother us about it. There aren't any WACs, so obviously there aren't any official WAC brassieres.

Lawyer Contends In Court OPA Is Dead

ABILENE —(AP)— A contention that OPA is legally dead despite Congress' revival action of last July 25 has been raised in Federal District Court here.

"OPA died a natural death on June 30, 1946," Dallas Scarborough, Abilene attorney, said in a brief submitted to Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

"The joint resolution on July 25, 1946, did not and could not resurrect the dead. OPA already was dead. The cremation had occurred and all the power of Congress could do was to enact a new law. That they did not do."

Judge Davidson said from the bench Friday that to his knowledge Scarborough's contention has not been presented in any other court. He said he would consider the case carefully before handing down a decision.

Scarborough represents Walter McGill of Sweetwater, charged with OPA price ceiling violation in the sale of automobiles. The attorney's brief was in support of his motion for dismissal.

Humble Announces Employe Allowances

HOUSTON —(AP)— The Humble Oil and Refining Company and the Humble Pipe Line Company announced Saturday the expected payment of $1,700,000 in allowances above salaries and wages to their 17,000 employes.

Representatives of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, which is launching an organizing drive among Humble's refinery and pipe line workers, immediately pronounced the projected allowances an attempt to buy employes out of CIO unions.

The Humble announcement said both companies will grant on October 16 an allowance of $25 to each employe. It added that "dependent on conditions" the same amount will be paid each month for a temporary period not to exceed four months.

"This allowance is in no sense a wage increase and does not change basic wages or salaries," the announcement said. "The companies emphasized to their employes that they subscribe fully to the 'hold the line' policy against inflation arising from general wage-price increases. The allowance granted follows discussions with bargaining agencies and employes over a period of months."

Tulsa Hurricane Beats Tech, 21-6

TULSA, OKLA.—(AP)— Tulsa University's undefeated Golden Hurricane overcame a rugged Texas Tech defense and handed the Red Raiders a 21-6 defeat here Saturday night before an overcast crowd estimated at 14,000.

The Red Raiders grabbed an early 6-0 lead midway of the first quarter, but it evaporated when Tulsa's yowling ground and passing attack began rolling.

Tech fullback Ed Robnett intercepted a Tulsa pass on the 42 and returned it to the 10 to start the Red Raiders toward their lone tally. After an offside penalty set the Hurricane back to their 15, left half Roger Smith scampered around right end for the tally. The attempt for the extra point failed.

Creamy Mask Gives Refreshing Prelude For Evening

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

In every woman's cosmetic cabinet there should be a jar of mask cream which she can use for a quick facial when the need arises. When you're tired and must keep going—with a fresher face—there's need for it. When you want to change from a working mood, use it. Smooth it on when you merely want to every big evening. To get the greatest benefits from one, she takes time out to relax completely for 20 minutes while the mask dries. If, like Natalie, you'll lie down in a reverse position—heels and hips elevated higher than your head—you'll come up with a more glowing face, when the mask is washed off.

Cotton Quota Meets Scheduled In State
WACO—Two one-day hearings to study proposed changes in the federal cotton quota law will be held in Texas this month by a special cotton sub-committee of the House Agriculture Committee, Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco has announced.

The group will meet at Lubbock October 24 and at Cameron October 26.

Poage said conditions in land use and farm practices, as changed since the war, probably would necessitate changes in the quotas.

Rep. Stephen Pace of Georgia, Chairman of the sub-committee and author of the Pace Bill including farm labor costs in the cotton parity price, will attend the meetings, Poage said.

St. Nicholas Day Is Setting For Children's Play

Editor's Note: The following is a short review of the story of "Hans Brinker" which will be presented by the Clare Tree Major players at the Midland High School auditorium under the auspices of the American Association of University Women Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m.)

In a little cottage on the banks of a canal in Holland lived the Brinker family, where Hans, 14 and Gretel, 12, did their share to help earn money for the poor family.

Raff Brinker, Hans' and Gretel's father had been hurt ten years before when he was working on the dykes.

The story opens on St. Nicholas Day and Hans and Gretel are skating on the frozen canals in wooden skates which Hans had carved.

One girl, Hilda Von Gleeck, notices their wooden skates and determines that they shall have skates as fine as those of the other children. She asks Hans to carve her a wooden necklace telling him that she will pay him for it if he will spend the money on a pair of new skates.

One girl, Hilda Von Gleeck, notices their wooden skates and determines that they shall have skates as fine as those of the other children. She asks Hans to carve her a wooden necklace telling him that she will pay him for it if he will spend the money on a pair of new skates.

Hans thinks that the money should be spent to buy Gretel a warm jacket or to hire a doctor for his father but his mother convinces him to buy skates. Meanwhile another necklace has been ordered by a boy named Peter, for his sister, in order that Gretel may also have a new pair of skates and that they both may enter the skating contest which has as first prize, a pair of silver skates.

On his way to a store to sell a pair of stockings his mother had made, Hans meets a famous doctor of Holland and through his earnestness in telling the doctor, of his father's illness, the great man agrees to perform a delicate operation to cure Raff Brinker.

The story ends with the operation a success and Gretel's winning the race and the silver skates.

Greater Production Goals In Prospect For Texas Farmers

WASHINGTON —(P)— Greater production goals are in prospect for Texas farmers in 1947.

Texas here for a national conference of farm leaders at the Agriculture Department gave that outlook Friday after discussing the overall agricultural economy with officials from all parts of the country.

"The national goals are still being drawn up and won't be ready for a day or so," commented B. F. Vance of College Station, Texas, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration. "Every indication points to an increase in the cash crops in Texas—cotton, wheat, peanuts and rice.

"There probably will be a total increase of three to five per cent in the acreage planted next year, with cotton leading the way. The national increase probably will be about 25 per cent in cotton acreage, and in Texas it probably will be almost that great."

Big Cotton Increase
The Texas increase in cotton will be principally in East and West Texas, particularly in the latter section of the state because recent rains have put the soil in excellent condition and assured underground moisture, he explained.

Vance estimated that the Winter wheat now being planted in Texas probably will exceed the 6,000,000-acre goal which had been established.

The recent rains have put the ranges in the western part of Texas in such good condition that cattle growers can keep their stock and wait for more favorable prices.

Vance said. He noted that a protein feed shortage was one of the biggest problems facing livestock producers who couldn't depend on grazing.

Poultry and dairy men will probably show about the same production next year as in 1946, he opined, while wool growers will await expected congressional action next Spring to learn what kind of national wool policy is to be established.

Sheep men say they must have some sort of government aid to compete with the low-cost production of Australian and New Zealand fibers.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag everytime you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is not organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, heat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. 'Ham' Histrionics Is Theme Woven Into Local Play

The "ham" histrionics of the amateur is the theme George Kelley has woven into "The Torchbearers," which is to be the next production of Midland Community Theater, to be presented on October 21 and 22. Rehearsals for the comedy indicate that this satire on the Little Theatre movement will furnish one of the most entertaining evenings Midlanders have had the privilege of enjoying.

"The Torchbearers" has no plot, but deals with the troubles and the mishaps that befall an amateur group as they struggle to produce a play which will "hold the torch of essential culture." Almost everyone, at one time or other, has either taken part in such an amateur production or has witnessed such an undertaking, and the situations depicted will be fully appreciated by the members of the audience.

The first act is set in the living room of Mrs. Paula Ritter, one of the embryonic actresses of the show, and represents a dress rehearsal of the play the group is trying to produce. The second act takes the audience back stage in the theater to see what goes on during the production of the play; and the third act returns the players to the Ritter home following the show.

Although "The Torchbearers" is a play portraying the ludicrous afflictions of the amateur, the Midland Community Theater cast hopes to do its part so well that the play will have definite polish and be presented in a professional manner.

Midland Scores First But Mustangs Lick Bulldogs, 33-6

Bulldogs "Bulldog" Sweetwater Back

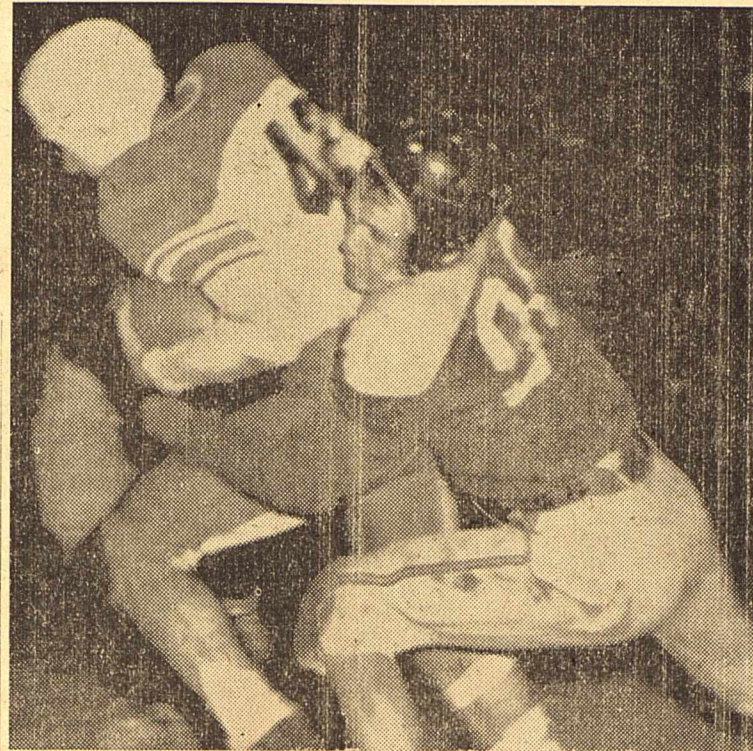

Three Midland Bulldogs are shown putting a "bulldog" tackle on Baxter Lambert (Number 46), substitute Sweetwater back, in the hard-fought game Sweetwater won Friday night. Dewey Kirby (Number 76) is coming up for Midland and Don Lambert (Number 32) is coming up for Sweetwater.

DOWN SPORTSLANE TANNER LAINE

Riding along in the dark and cold night on a special train returning from Sweetwater, where the fighting Midland Bulldogs had suffered decisive but not shameful defeat, Bill Collins, who sells Bulldog Booster Club memberships, was approached by R. A. Doran.

Said Doran: "Here is my two-backs-fifty. I want to join the Booster Club. Anybody can support a team when it is way up. I want to show the Bulldogs I am with them, win or lose, when they play like they did tonight."

That is the spirit—the spirit of Midland.

It is the spirit of Jimmy Edwards, battered and bruised but never giving up and coming back into a ball game to play his heart out for Midland. It is the spirit of Dunny Goode, cruelly clipped and rolled on, wanting to stay in the game, asking the coach for the chance. It is the spirit of them all, the Bulldogs, not afraid to fight when all the odds were against them.

Tomorrow's another day. Abilene is next. We catch the Eagles after a weekend of rest and two weeks of drill. Sweetwater beat Midland. Yes. And Sweetwater will beat a whole flock more of them also.

IF is the biggest word in our language, a sportsman's or otherwise. It would do no good to re-phrase in words the Midland-Sweetwater ball game. There were no alibis offered. A better team beat a good team. Weight and experience told the story. As Coach Milam told Coach Gerald (Sweetwater): "We will see you again."

MUSTANG BOWL, SWEETWATER—All the shocking power and weight that is the Sweetwater Mustangs hit the Midland Bulldogs, a team that scored first and never quit fighting, here Friday night in this swanky football bowl on a clear, cold Indian Summer evening and the terrific apparent 3-AA championship-bound Mustangs won, 33 to 6.

There wasn't any doubt from the moment the mammoth Nolan County giants came on the field. They had power, power, power and it was just a matter of time until it exploded. The bomb was timed and it surely did go off despite heroic fighting by the Bulldogs.

Midland was outweighed, out-experienced, out-powered, out-blocked, out-kicked, out-scored, but not out-fought.

The fighting little Midland kids, who fell from the undefeated ranks of Texas schoolboy elvens Friday night, scored first. It was in the first quarter. The Bulldogs took over the ball on downs from Sweetwater on their own 34-yard line and drove 66 yards for the tally. Passes to Dunny Goode, wingback, and Ben Olliff, end, set up the scoring.

A chunk from Bob Cole, tailback, to Goode carried to the Sweetwater 34. Then Cole found Olliff for another completion and first down on the Mustang 29. Cole ran to the 19. Goode took off around left end and got to the 2, being knocked out of bounds by Doll Feagan, Sweetwater safety. Cole on the next play ran wide around the right end and over for a touchdown. Goode missed the kick for extra point.

Lead Short-Lived... This advantage, this score and lead was short-lived. The roaring Red Shirts came right on back with the ball and the drive ended in a touchdown shortly after the second quarter opened. The Mustangs took the kickoff on their own 22 and returned to the 38. Don Lambert, a Cole on the next play ran wide around the right end and over for a touchdown. Lambert powered to go all the way. Lambert powered to go all the way from the three-yard line after M. S. DeGaish, Mustang halfback, who was the best back in the bowl Friday night, had set up the play by running to the 3 from the 12. Fisher Mays, big end, placed the extra point. It was 7-6 Sweetwater at this point and Midland never had an easy moment afterward.

Sweetwater soon scored another touchdown in the second quarter. After Midland advanced to their own 24, the Bulldogs gambled on a pass and it was intercepted on the 35-yard line and ran to the 25. After the no gain, Feagan broke into the open through the line and ran over for a touchdown. Mays' kick was wide. At the half it was Sweetwater 13, Midland 6.

Sooners Scare Texas But Steers Win, 20-13

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS — (P) — Texas rode with Bobby Layne's passing arm to a 20-13 victory over Oklahoma Saturday but the hard-bitten Sooners traded blow for blow with the mighty Longhorns and gave them many anxious moments in the forty-first renewal of this Southwestern football rivalry.

The rugged, battering line Oklahoma threw at Texas was all it was cracked up to be and a State Fair crowd of 50,000 which overflowed the Cotton Bowl saw why the Sooners gave Army's great team such a tough game at the start of the season.

The Longhorns were superior but nothing like the pre-game forecasts that gave Texas, the team that has been rated No. 1 in the nation, a margin of four touchdowns or more.

It was a battle of passes and pass interceptions. Oklahoma gathered in six Longhorn throws and one of them brought a sensational touchdown when Joe Golding, whose runs kept Texas in hot water all afternoon, caught one of Layne's pitches and sprinted 99 yards untouched to the score.

Within Point Of Texas... It was this touchdown that brought the Sooners within a point of Texas with 12 minutes to go. Texas however, came right back and in six plays after the kick-off got another touchdown.

Statistically Texas had a comfortable edge, making 15 first downs and 323 yards on the ground and in the air. Oklahoma got a dozen first downs and rolled up 229 yards.

Layne never had so much trouble before on his passes but at that it was his throws that put Texas over. Texas marched to its first touchdown midway of the opening period. Layne completed six passes out of seven in the drive which the big Texas fullback climaxed by crashing over from the one-foot line. Frank Guess kicked the point.

Guess, who is Layne's understudy, sparked the next Texas touchdown drive and passed over the goal line to Schwartzkopf for the score. Guess kicked the extra point and the crowd settled back expecting Texas to win with ease.

Sooners Rear Back... But the Sooners came roaring back, an intercepted pass giving them the opportunity to score. Dave Wallace caught Tommy Landry's throw on the Sooner 44 and in six plays Oklahoma bounced to a touchdown. Wallace first passed to Jim Owens at the goal line and he fell across for a touchdown. Wallace missed the point.

In the third period, Texas drove to the Oklahoma two-yard line but Ralph Ellsworth, hard-running Longhorn back, lost six yards when he slipped and fell and on the next play Layne tried a pass which Golding caught on the Sooner one and made his 99-yard run for a score. Wallace converted.

Then in a half-tozen plays the Longhorns bucked and snorted 75 yards to a touchdown. The pay-off was a 10-yard run by Canady on a Statue-of-Liberty play. Guess missed the conversion. In this surge Layne completed four passes that ate up most of the period.

Oklahoma threatened again as soon as it got the kick-off, rolling to the Longhorn nine before Texas could brace. The Texas line threw Oklahoma back to the 21 and took over. Unable to gain the Longhorns had to kick and Royal reared back to the Texas 37. Two plays later Spot Collins, the great Texas guard, intercepted his second pass of the game, taking Wallace's throw on the Longhorn 44 as the game ended.

Army Powers 76 Yards In Fourth To Beat Michigan

By FRANK KENESSON

ANN ARBOR, MICH. — (P) — Army's mighty football team, invading the West for the first time in 12 years, ran into trouble against Michigan Saturday but powered 76 yards for a fourth period touchdown to edge the Wolverines, 20 to 13.

It was the 22nd straight victory for the Cadets since they lost to Navy in 1943.

Army's seemingly endless victory parade seemed destined to fall before a determined Michigan eleven that led at one time, 7 to 0, and after dropping back again pulled into a 12-all tie with an 82-yard touchdown march the first time the Wolverines got the ball in the second half.

But Army's touchdown twins, Halfback Glenn Davis and Fullback Felix Blanchard, powered the Cadets to their winning touchdown with 11 minutes of playing time remaining.

Davis, combining his terrific speed with an amazing change of pace, ran 58 yards for Army's first score in the opening stanza and flipped a 31-yard pass to Bob Folsom for the score that put Army on top, 13 to 7, seconds before half time.

Either Davis or Blanchard handled the ball on all but one play as the West Pointers plowed 76 yards in 11 plays at the outset of the final period for their all-important touchdown. Blanchard skidded off Michigan's right end from the seven-yard line for the big score, carrying Michigan Halfback Paul White with him to roll into the end zone.

GEORGIA TECH PASSES TO 24-7 WIN OVER OLE MISS... ATLANTA — (P) — Stopped on the ground at crucial moments by an alert Mississippi line, Georgia Tech struck through the air for a 24-7 victory Saturday before an estimated 25,000 in the first football meeting between the two Southeastern Conference teams.

Weekly Roundup — One 3-AA District Game On Tap As Midland Rests

One 3-AA conference game is on tap Friday with the other members playing non-conference foes and Midland resting.

The conference melee is Lamesa in San Angelo. The Bobcats rested last week while Lamesa dropped a game to Big Spring, 6 to 0.

Odessa puts its undefeated record on the chopping block in a go against also undefeated Amarillo. This is one Odessa may lose, with or without Townsend.

Sweetwater has a breather, traveling to Plainview. The Mustangs can gallop at will over the Bulldogs of the Upper Plains country.

Steers Go to Brownfield... Big Spring journeys to Brownfield and should add a victory over the Cubs.

Abilene plays host to Lubbock. And the Eagles will be pressed to win but should.

Midland earned a rest after its gruelling defeat at the hands of powerful Sweetwater.

Monahans Rolls To 44-0 Win Over Slaton... MONAHANS — A hopelessly out-classed Slaton team battled gamely here Friday night as Monahans rolled to a seven touchdown victory and had five more touchdowns called back for rule infractions. The final score was Monahans 44, Slaton 0.

Monahans scored in every quarter except the second and rolled almost at will despite the fact that the second team played about half the game. Donaldson went 41 yards for one tally, Griffin ran 25 and 85 yards for two. Bingham went 30 and 69 for two. Moore romped 59 yards for one at Uechi carried over from the 5 for another.

Slaton threatened once in the second period after recovering a fumbled punt on the Monahans 9 but could advance the ball only seven yards in four tries. Wendell Byler, halfback, played an outstanding game for the losers.

JUNCTION, BIG LAKE TIE... JUNCTION — Big Lake and Junction battled to a 6 to 6 tie here Friday night, with Big Lake scoring in the second quarter and Junction coming back to knot the count in the final period.

Cards To Send In Brecheen In Effort To Beat Red Sox In Series 'Natural'

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Only the speed and the cunning in the left arm of Harry (The Cat) Brecheen stands Saturday night between the Cardinals and sudden death in the 1946 World Series.

Trailing two games to three to the revived Boston Red Sox in the big Autumn play-off, the National League champions must win here Sunday behind their acrobatic little southpaw star or accept second place.

Arkansas Defeats Baylor, 13 To 0

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK.—(AP)—Playing without their ace halfback, Clyde Scott, who was injured in the opening minutes, the undefeated Arkansas Razorbacks turned back the Baylor Bears, 13-0 here Saturday to hold on to their early lead in the Southwest Conference title chase.

A blocked punt in the first quarter and a one-yard plunge by Quarterback Aubrey Fowler in the third period provided the scoring in a rough game which was largely a defensive battle.

The victory was the second in conference play for the Porkers and sends them into next week's scrap with mighty unbeaten Texas with a record marred only by their tie with Oklahoma A&M.

Midway of the third quarter, the wind forced a Bear punt out of bounds on the Baylor 25 and Arkansas quickly rushed to another score. Alton Baldwin sprinted 21 yards to the Baylor four on an end-around. Fowler and Hoffman pushed it to the one-foot line, from where Fowler knifed over on the fourth down. Fowler's kick for point was blown wide by the stiff ind.

A brilliant 67-yard punt by Fowler which stopped dead on the Baylor three had put the ball deep into Bruin territory early in the third heat, and there the ball stayed until Arkansas had made its margin comfortable.

The Bears, whose fine line play held the vaunted Razorback rushing attack at bay much of the afternoon, threatened only once.

Midland Hornets Drop Game To Abilene, 14-6

ABILENE—The Abilene Black Eagles came from behind to win over the Midland Hornets in a negro high school football game here Friday, 14 to 6.

Midland scored first in the first half to lead, 6-0, but the Eagles came back strong driving at the line to go ahead and win.

UCLA Rolls Over Stanford, 26 To 6

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The dazzling, hard-hitting Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles, displaying balanced power in all departments, rolled over the scrappy Stanford Indians, 26-6, Saturday before 90,803 shirt-sleeved fans in Memorial Coliseum.

Cal Rossi and Ernie Case, a pair of spectacular southpaws, did almost everything right in leading the Bruins to their third straight Pacific Coast Conference win and reasserting their claim as the West's foremost candidate for the Rose Bowl.

In courtship, herons present sticks to their mates as nesting material.

Modern Concrete Plant Completed In Midland Completion of a huge, modern transit-mixed concrete plant has been announced by the Midland Concrete Company, located on East South Front Street, a couple of blocks east of the T&P depot in Midland.

The plant has a daily capacity of 400 yards of scientifically mixed concrete, mixed by commercial laboratory designs to meet any architect's or engineer's specifications. All work is done by machinery with no shovel work required in the entire operation. A huge tower bin which has a capacity of 120 tons of sand and gravel and 400 barrels of cement, is filled by conveyors. There is also a tunnel conveyor capacity of 600 tons. A huge conveyor belt carries the sand and gravel to its tower storage directly from the railroad car.

Six Transit Trucks Two transit-mix trucks are on hand and delivery is expected soon on three others which have a three cubic yard capacity for delivery service. These trucks may be loaded with ready-mixed concrete, at the plant or may be loaded with scientifically proportioned ingredients and the mixing done on the truck. On long hauls the concrete is mixed before loading into the trucks in order to carry a bigger load.

All material is handled from the tower by means of compressed air controls, dropping from the bins onto scales from which it is released into the mixer.

The Midland Concrete Company is owned by Otis Grafa, Sr., and Otis Grafa, Jr.

Otis, Sr., is in charge of operations while Otis, Jr., is completing his education at Texas A&M College, after his recent release from the 8th Air Force with which he served in the European Theater, completing 35 missions as a toggler.

Grafa, Sr., is interested in the West Texas Sand & Gravel Co., Big Spring, as well as other extensive business interests in this section.

Midlander Serves As Electronic Instructor GREAT LAKES, ILL.—Billy R. Cottrell, 26, aviation chief radioman, son of C. R. Cottrell of 1400 South Loraine Street, Midland, Texas, is serving as an instructor at the electronic technician's school at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. The school has an enrollment of approximately 3,000 first electronic technician's mates and aviation electronic technician's mates.

An instructor's part in the electronic technician's mate and aviation electronic technician's mate's program is big. He must instruct in basic and advanced electronic training, training that precedes the electronic technician's mate's and aviation electronic technician's mate's actual experience in the U. S. Fleet.

Electronic technician's mate's and aviation electronic technician's mate's are essential men behind the buttons of the Navy's "push button" warfare. They must install, maintain, repair and keep in operational readiness the 3,700 different types of modern but complex electronic equipment aboard ships, in planes, and at shore stations.

An expanded training program, coupled with practical experience at sea, offers qualified high school graduates or their equivalent a career in the field of electronics, including radio, radar, sonar, Loran navigation and other recently developed applications of electronic principles of secret or confidential nature.

Humble To Dig Ellenburger Wildcat In Scurry; Other Prospectors Spotted In Andrews, Winkler And Mitchell

By JAMES C. WATSON, Oil Editor

Locations for a wildcat to 8,500 feet to test into the Ellenburger in Northwest Scurry County; for a prospector to around 7,500 feet to explore the lower Permian two miles west of the Fullerton field in Northwest Andrews County; for two 6,500-foot explorations in Southeast Winkler County, and for a 2,750-foot development in an unproven region of Northwest Mitchell County were reported Saturday.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 T. C. Davis, et al, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 329, block 97, H&TC survey, and 6.4 miles west of Snyder, is the Northwest Scurry County exploration.

It is to start drilling immediately. The location is about one half mile west of the Santa Fe railroad and on a considerable sized block Humble owns in that region.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Young estate, 660 feet from south and 1,994 feet from east lines of section 6, block A-48, ps1 survey, is the new Northwest Andrews County prospector.

It is about two miles west of production from the Clear Fork section of the Permian on the west side of the Fullerton field. Drilling to around 7,500 feet, or pay in the lower Permian is to start at once.

Standolind No. 16 Sealy-Smith, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 70, block A, G&MMB&A survey, in Southeast Winkler County, is to dig to around 6,500 feet to test through the Permian. It is one mile west of the North Monahans field, and one and one-half miles east of the discovery well for production from the upper Clear Fork, in the Lowe field.

Standolind No. 17 Sealy-Smith, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 33, block A, GMMB&A survey, and one mile east and slightly north of the Holt discovery on the south side of the North Monahans area, is another wildcat in Southeast Winkler.

Both of the above projects are to go to around 6,500 feet, and they will start making hole soon.

Southwest of Discovery Doswell & Morgan of Dallas have filed application with the Railroad Commission to drill their No. 1 S. R. Coleman, in Northwest Mitchell County, to 2,750 feet with cable tools, starting at once.

It is 330 feet from north and east lines of lot 8, in the Cuthbert vacancy strip, and is 10 miles northwest of Westbrook.

That puts it one half mile west and one quarter of a mile south of the recently completed 67 barrel-per-day pumping discovery made by Roche & Newton No. 1 S. R. Coleman, from 2,560-2,770 feet. That well is in northwest quarter of section 70, block 97, H&TC survey, and four miles north and west of nearest production in the Westbrook field.

In the Goldsmith region of Northwest Ector County, and in an area surrounded by producers from the 4,200-foot pay of that area, Stanolind has made location for No. 9-D-L-Scharbauer, to go to around 6,600 feet to explore the Clear Fork Section of the Permian.

It is a south stepout from same company's No. 3-Q Scharbauer, discovery for production from that formation in the Goldsmith field. Drilling will get underway immediately.

North of Doss Field Standolind No. 1 Helen Cunningham, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 4, block A-42, ps1 survey, and one quarter of a mile north of nearest completed oil well on the northwest side of the Doss field, in South Gaines County, is a new prospector to 7,400 feet, to test the lower Permian pay.

It is eight miles southwest of Seminole and is to start drilling at once.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 2 Alma (Thomas), on the north side of the TXL-Ellenburger field, in West Ector County, and 1,994 feet from north and 667 feet from east lines of section 6, block 45, TP survey, T-1-S, 44.4 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1.735-1.

The flow was through a one-half inch choke and came from perforations at 9,630-60 feet in the Ellenburger.

Standolind No. 1 Kayser, Central Ector County wildcat, about six miles west of Odessa, and in southwest corner of section 34, block 43, TP survey, T-2-S, drilled out cement on a squeeze job on perforations at 13,480-560 feet, where some oil and considerable water had been produced in the Ellenburger, and perforated with four shots to the foot at 13,545-560 feet, and was swabbing wash water with slight shows of gas and a rainbow of oil. Swabbing Wash Water

Stanolind and Westbrook-Thompson Holding Corporation No. 35-A Hendrick, wildcat in Central-West Winkler County, four miles west of Kermit, and in southeast quarter of section 33, block 26, ps1 survey, which had tested for salt water from perforations in the bottom of the Ellenburger at 13,760-815 feet, set a retainer at 13,735 feet, and squeezed in 50 sacks of cement below that point to stop the bottom perforations.

The zone at 13,665-730 feet was then perforated with four shots to the foot, and at last report operators were swabbing load water from 5,500 feet below surface.

Oil Activity In All New Mexico Was Extra Quiet

HOBBES, N. M.—Petroleum development activity was extra quiet in all sections of New Mexico during last week.

The highlight of the period was provided by Byrd-Frost, Inc., No. 1 Federal-Fee, San Juan County wildcat, to around 7,000 feet.

This Northwest New Mexico exploration, located 660 feet from north and 1,890 feet from east lines of section 1, 4-27N-10W, had progressed below 4,762 feet in shale, said to be the Mancos formation, at last report.

Slight Shows Developed A drillstem test was taken at 4,412-52 feet, for one hour. There was a steady blow of air during the period and recovery was 50 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud.

Another drillstemmer was run for one hour at 4,712-43 feet. There was a slight blow of air during the hour, and recovery was 38 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud.

Skelly Oil Company No. 2 Steeler, wildcat on southwest side of the Drinkard field, in East Lea County, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 17-23S-37E, which was being deepened from 7,200 feet, where it had been inactive for more than a year, had progressed past 7,723 feet in lime, and was going ahead.

Some geologists picked the base of the Permian at 7,583 feet. That point had not been officially verified.

Sun Making Tests Sun Oil Company No. 1-B McKinley, wildcat between Hobbs and Lovington, in East Lea County, and in northeast quarter of section 20-18-38S, was making a production test of the section at 6,079-6,168 feet, in the top of the Clear Fork horizon of the Permian. That zone developed a small amount of free oil and oil and gas cut mud in a drillstem test. Operator is attempting to determine if those shows can be converted into commercial production.

If they cannot, the project will drill ahead. It is due to go to at least 8,000 feet—and possibly deeper—unless it gets production at a higher level.

At last report the swab was recovering small amounts of drilling mud carrying a scum of oil.

Outpost Swabs After Acid Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Hare, 1,990 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 22-21S-37E, and on the northwest side of the original Drinkard field, in East Lea County, was swabbing to clean out and test, on perforated section at 6,510-26 feet, where a 1,500-gallon acid treatment had been injected.

The project has shown for flowing production from about 6,495 feet, and it is expected to be completed as a good well from the Lower Permian formation.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Black Hills, Southwest Chiswick wildcat, in section 31-17S-20E, and about 25 miles west of Artesia, had penetrated below 4,815 feet, in lime and chert and was making more hole. It may be carried to 8,000 feet.

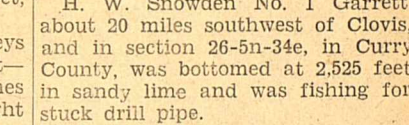

Granite Wash Encountered Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Northwest, Northeast Curry County wildcat in section 32-8N-37E, had reached 6,928 feet, and was drilling ahead in lime and black shale.

It encountered the first signs of granite wash, in streaks, in a core at 6,652-72 feet and has been logging more streaks of the same material ever since. No shows of oil or gas have been encountered.

H. W. Snowden No. 1 Garrett, about 20 miles southwest of Clovis, and in section 26-5N-34E, in Curry County, was bottomed at 2,525 feet in sandy lime and was fishing for stuck drill pipe.

Mistake on Location Richfield Oil Corporation No. 1 Lake McMillan unit, Central Eddy County wildcat to 6,000 feet, about eight miles north of Carlsbad, and which was reported last week, will be 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 36-20S-26E, instead of 1,980 feet from north and east lines of the section, as was originally carried in this column. The project is due to start making hole in a short time.

WASHINGTON —(AP)—OPA Saturday raised manufacturers' ceiling prices for newsprint $10 a ton but refused a decontrol request by newspaper publishers.

The agency said the decontrol request was still under study, but the price increase was granted "to assure that United States publishers will continue to receive maximum possible shipments of newsprint."

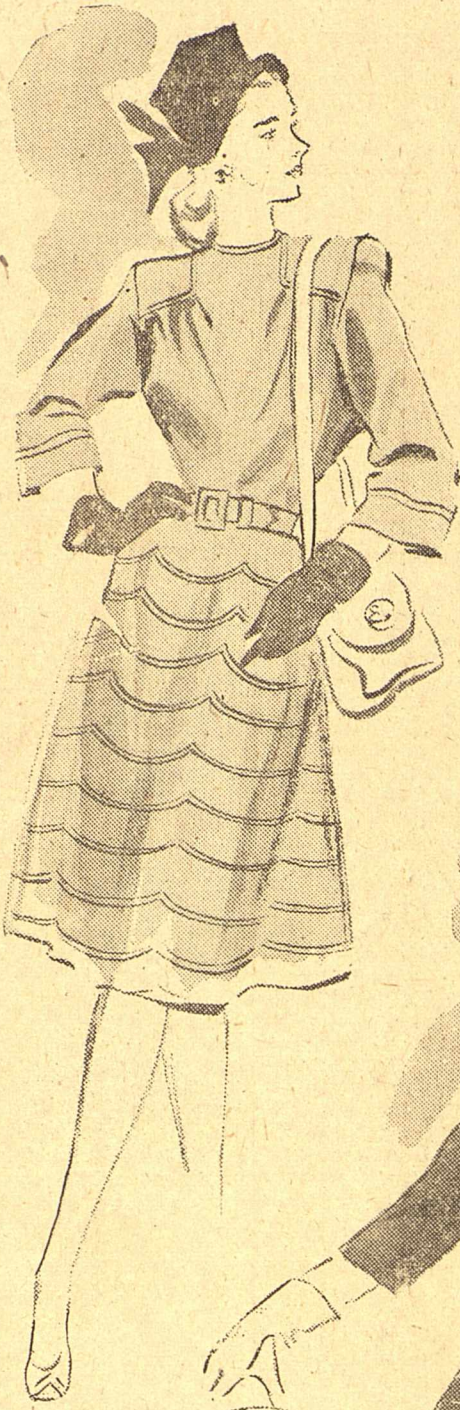

The increase applies to all newsprint sold for use in the United States, both domestic and imported.

OPA said the new ceiling for standard newsprint delivered to 38 "port" cities will be $84 a ton. Ceilings for deliveries in 10 zones are specified in line with trade practices.

Barron And Collins To Attend Roads Meet

Elliott H. Barron, county judge, and Bill Collins, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will leave Sunday for Austin where they will attend the Good Roads Amendment kick-off rally Monday. The rally will officially open the campaign in behalf of the Good Roads Amendment which will be voted on in the November general election.

The constitutional amendment would provide that motor vehicle registration fees and taxes on motor fuels and lubricants used to propel motor vehicles over public roads shall be used for road purposes only, except the one-fourth of motor fuel taxes which will continue to go to schools.

Barron and Collins also will check on Midland's highway program and other matters while in Austin. They will return Wednesday.

Rancher Defers Part Of Range In Soil Conservation District Plan

O. H. McAlister, cooperater with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District on his ranch 10 miles east of Midland, has lightened up on his stocking rate and deferred part of his range land this Fall. McAlister reduced the number of cows on his range to protect it from overgrazing and saved one pasture of 875 acres for Fall and Winter grazing.

He is deferring another pasture of 764 acres now. Adjusting the stocking rate to the forage produced on the range and a system of deferred grazing are two measures in the complete program of soil and water conservation followed by McAlister to maintain and improve the condition of his range. Merwin Haag, cooperater with the district on his ranch 12 miles northwest of Midland, has also reduced his stocking rate and is planning a deferment program using Summer temporary pasture of sudan in order to save two pastures for Fall and Winter use.

Includes Rotation. Besides proper stocking and deferred grazing Haag's conservation program includes contour cultivation, stubble management, and crop rotation on his cultivated land. He plans to leave all the stubble on his combine maize crop this year to help contour blowing. Haag besides holding water on his field, helped control wind erosion.

Jim Baker, who is cooperating with the district on his farm in the Valley View Conservation Group reports that his terraces backed water up 60 feet on his fields after the heavy rains last week. The terraces held the water on the land and prevented washing.

H. E. Solomon, cooperater in the Airport Conservation Group, is drilling a well for irrigation. The Soil Conservation Service is helping him to lay out his irrigation system with a detailed engineering survey of the farm.

L. H. Denny has made a conservation plan on his farm in the Valley View Conservation Group. Applications for assistance in planning a conservation program have been received on the farms of Sam Preston, Warren Skaggs, and Roy McKee and the ranch of Carl W. Covington.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS NEED CUCKOO CLOCK

Got a cuckoo clock?

Time was when every household had its cuckoo clock as standard equipment, but that time is no more. Now, the Midland Community Theater is in dire need of such a clock—one which will really "cuckoo"—as a property for the play, "The Torchbearers," which will be presented on October 21 and 22.

If there is anyone in Midland who has a cuckoo clock, the Midland Community Theater will be grateful for its loan, and will appreciate your calling either Art Cole at 1082 or Mrs. Nancy McKinley at 799. Mrs. McKinley is chairman of properties for this comedy which is now in rehearsal.

Community Theater Needs Program Emblem

What is your idea? The Midland Community Theater needs an emblem on its programs, and Gilard Kargl has announced a contest to find such an emblem. Kargl urges anyone who has a distinctive idea to enter the contest for the Community Theater needs not just another theater insignia, but something typical of Midland.

A rough sketch is all that is required, and the sketching is too rough, a short description of the suggestion along with it is required. Submit it on any 8 1/2 by 11 letterhead sheet of paper. Do not sign the sketch, but write the name and address on the back of the sheet, and bring or mail it, along with the 25 cent entry fee, to Art W. Cole, director, Midland Community Theater.

West Texas C of C District Meetings Scheduled Thursday

ABILENE—District meetings of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will get underway early in the week as the second of four steps in the 1946 referendum convention.

First step was the meeting of the executive board at Colorado City, September 27 at which seven policy planks as recommended by committees, and another by the board itself, were placed in the referendum ballot for submission to the full board of directors and town affiliates. The third step will be the town meetings following the district sessions, for voting on the planks, and the fourth—for final determination on all issues—will be the Directors and Referendum Assembly set for Friday, November 8.

Tuesday, regional chamber officers, district directors and staff members will start, at Coleman in District 10, their two weeks tour of direct contact with affiliates. B. P. Bludworth of Brownwood, district director, will preside. J. Thos. Davis of Stephenville, a past president of WTCC, will be chief speaker, presenting the organization's long range, overall program. Manager D. A. Bandeen will, for committees recommending the various planks, conduct a question and answer forum on them. There will be no voting on planks as this will be done later at local meetings in the 145 affiliated towns.

M. C. Ulme, will speak at the District 6 and 7 meeting in Midland Thursday. District directors are John D. Mitchell, Odessa, and J. L. Finkerton, Monahans.

Auditor Rap: Big Spring State Hospital Records

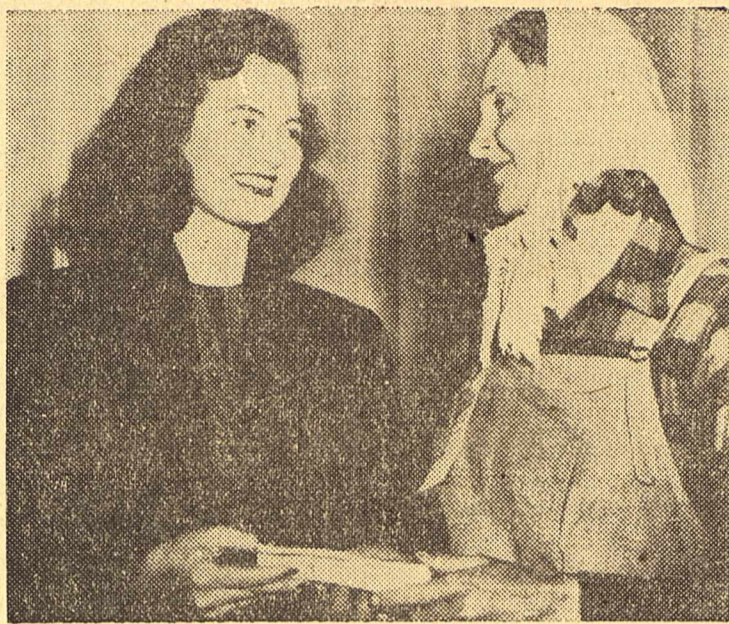

AUSTIN —(P)—Bookkeeping and fiscal practices found in an audit of the Big Spring State Hospital have been criticized by State Auditor C. H. Caynes in a report to the governor and the Board of Control.

The auditor said that patients' valuables in the custody of the institution were not properly safeguarded. Only two employees of the institution were covered with surety bonds, and "in our opinion the other employees who handle institutional funds, or patients' funds and valuable personal effects, should also be bonded", Caynes reported.

Non-Stop Flight

CAMDEN, N. J.—(P)—State Police Detective Harry Armano stood on the porch of the recorder's office and told a prisoner he was taking him to jail "there's no need for you to get wet. Run out to my car as fast as you can". The prisoner did. However he didn't bother to stop when he came to the car and Saturday police of nine nearby states were on the lookout for him.

AP Survey Shows Shortage Of Sugar, Soap, Meat, And Other Items In U. S.

By The Associated Press
A sharply etched picture of shortages of meat, soap, sugar, toilet tissue and other key living items—worse in many instances than during the bleakest war days—was disclosed Saturday by a survey of 45 cities.

Up and down and across the country, major communities reported that many normal essentials had either gone from the shelves entirely, disappeared under the counter to become so-called "top items" for favored customers, or were available only to the lucky or constant shopper.

The cross-nation check by The Associated Press brought in these among other returns:

In 40 of the 45 cities meat was either not available at all, or more often was in supply ranging from a small fraction of normal to an "occasional" appearance.

In all 45 cities soap in one or all of its forms was becoming almost a collectors item.

Sugar Supplies Varies
In 24 cities sugar was scarce or even in acute shortage, while in 18 others it was either plentiful or in fair to middling supply.

Sixteen communities listed toilet tissue among top scarcities. Cooking oils and fats, shortening, margarine, lard, syrup and other items containing sugar were short in varying degrees in most cities.

In Salt Lake, Utah, a special effort will be made to get needed fats off the bodies of 50,000 deer to be slain shortly. In Minneapolis, 39 head of bison have been taken from a private herd spot in the nation. It reported for meat purposes.

terely, "no shortage of beef, lamb, sugar or butter", but complained mildly that there was a scarcity of "certain cuts of pork".

Reports of minor disturbances in the dash to capture scarce items were scattered across the country.

In Columbus, Ohio, where some housewives were reported to be bribing the butcher with gifts of whiskey, one wishful buyer lost a tooth and two were scratched when 35 women rushed a clerk who was bringing out a carton of soap flakes.

Miami Store Mobbled
In Miami, Fla., a new market advertised a stock of all scarce items. It was mobbed. The supply lasted one hour. An Albuquerque, N. M., store which also had advertised soap and shortening had to close its doors against a throng.

A Brooklyn, N. Y., meat market, which passed the word around that it had plenty, was the scene of a continuing mob performance until the police came.

In Logan County, W. Va., four coal mines shut down when miners went on a protest strike against shortages of meat, lard, and soap.

No actual butter shortages were reported.

El Paso reported a "fair" supply of meat.

Reports disclosed many oddities. In Chicago, "grab bag" or pre-wrapped meat sometimes is sold to known customers. In Salt Lake, Utah, a special effort will be made to get needed fats off the bodies of 50,000 deer to be slain shortly. In Minneapolis, 39 head of bison have been taken from a private herd spot in the nation. It reported for meat purposes.

Real Rodeo Seen When Convict Lock-Busters Tangle With Brahmas

By C. C. SPRINGFIELD

HUNTSVILLE — For almost a year, some four thousand Texas Prison System inmates prepared for their 15th Annual Prison Rodeo.

The second of four shows will be held Sunday in the stadium next to the Huntsville Penitentiary.

It's the world's wildest and fastest show. It's also plenty rough on plenty of tough inmates.

In fact, there just isn't a sport that's rougher than the bull riding contests when Brahma bulls lock horns with Texas lock-busters.

The riders are always ready to go. For that matter, all the convicts are ready, although their "going" is somewhat hampered by legal red tape and numerous shotgun guards.

Just the same, they're ready. Practice, and plenty for anyone, is the main activity under way during the week.

Riggin's being readied; stock are being groomed; riders are being fitted with zoot-suit raiment.

Yes, stripes are the fashion at this year's style show.

All the contestants—even the clowns—enter the arena in stripes. Solely for photogenic effects, however, since stripes in prison are reserved for escapists and mutineers.

Albert Moore, director of this 15th Annual Rodeo, says this will be the fastest show yet. He has added 16 Montana bucking horses to his string.

Bert Stonehocker, the head clown, was troubled until recently.

Same trouble as that besetting free-world merchants and entrepreneurs.

No help! Then came the miracle! Bill Garrett, participant in a dozen shows, returned.

Garrett says he had it done himself, so that he could see the show from behind the scenes, so to speak.

W. Albert Lee of Houston, Prison Board member and chairman of the rodeo committee, has signed up Guadalupe Partido, Charro (roper) champion of the Republic of Mexico. Partido will bring Valentino, his horse.

This lad is a top roper, able to lasso ten horses at once.

The convict band, aided by inmates transferred from other units, promises plenty of hot licks during the show.

"Piddlers," as inmate craftworkers are known behind the walls, are working every spare minute to manufacture novelties for sale at the show.

Piddlers are inmate merchant-manufacturers who buy their own leather, silver, semi-precious stones, and other raw goods and turn out purses, billfolds, belts, buckles, rings—even an occasional blackjack.

The novelties are sold throughout the year as well as at the rodeo.

One inmate said he was "trying to make enough to put his boy through high school."

Others use their earnings for cigarettes, writing paper and other incidentals.

Comes in handy when there are no homefolks to furnish spending money.

Performers are recruited from the ranks. Practically all are rank amateurs. A limited few have had previous cowboy experience.

When they sign up to ride they absolve the system of blame in case of accident.

Albert Moore warns them that they contest on a voluntary basis for the prize-and-day-money.

Even so, some of the amateurs, after a ride or so, make up in guts what they lack in balance and training.

One convict, urged to quit after half a dozen training tumbles, shook his head resolutely.

"What! . . . And have them fellas think I'm yellow? . . . Oh no! Lemme on that bull!"

As rough as it is, the convicts flock to the bull riding event, perhaps because it is so colorful.

It's truly a "gambo!" with death. However, most convicts are gamblers. They gambled on the outside with the law and lost. Inside, they take to the bulls.

Big Lake Rancher To Fly Lambs To Guatemala

SAN ANGELO —(P)—Arrangements are being completed for shipment of 1,000 lambs via air to Guatemala.

Floyd M. Mullen of Big Lake Friday confirmed the sale of the rambouillet ewe lambs to Enrique Asturias, ranchman and coffee plantation owner, and his nephew, Antonio Najera, both of Guatemala City.

The ewes will come from the Marshall Montgomery ranch near Ozona.

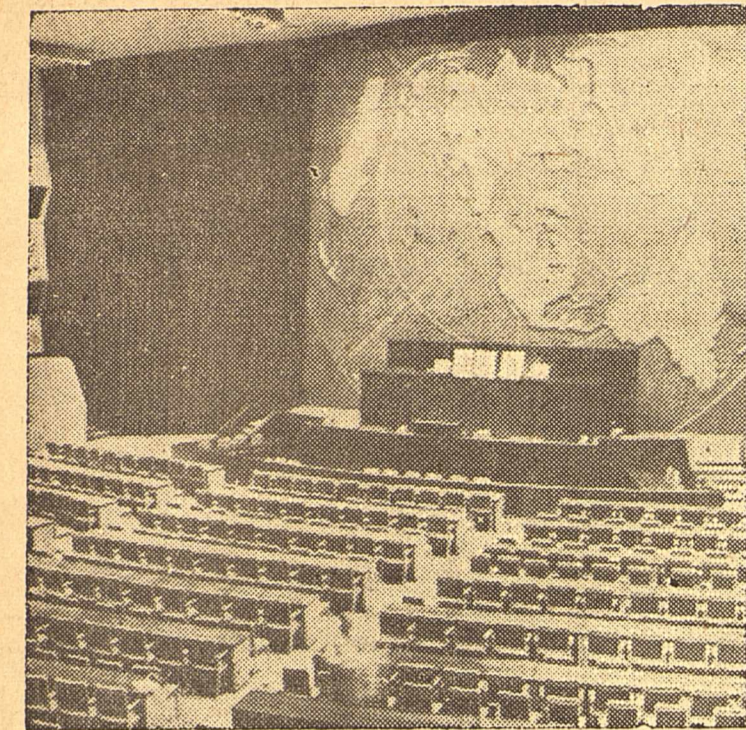

The first shipment of 250 lambs will be brought here October 15 for vaccination, McMullen said, and will leave here October 20 or 21.

Speakers Announced For Kiwanis Meetings

The principal speakers for the next two weekly Kiwanis Club meetings were announced Saturday.

At the noon luncheon next Monday A. C. Donath of San Angelo, who traveled in Africa a number of years, will speak on African customs.

On October 21 Wilson H. Elkins, president of the San Angelo Junior College, will talk on Indian-British relations. Elkins attended Oxford University in England and is an avid student of affairs on India.

Colonel And Daughter Ride Horses To Texas

ROANOKE, VA.—(P)—A 56 year-old Army Air Forces colonel and his daughter, a Vassar college graduate, have passed through Roanoke on horseback en route to San Antonio.

The Army officer, who identified himself as Col. H. C. Richards of Riverton, Va., and his daughter, Landonia, said they left Front Royal on September 19 and expected to reach San Antonio "about Christmas."

BOXED HOUSE

DECATUR, ILL.—(P)—Glen R. Stewart ran up against the usual problem of finding materials when he started to build his four room house.

But he found a substitute for lumber in ammunition boxes, left-overs from the war. He first planned to use the wood from the boxes but later decided a stronger building would result by leaving the boxes together.

Black Markets Flourish In Building Materials Supposed To Be Set Aside For Veterans' Homes

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

Black markets, flourishing in wood-piles, in nails, plumbing and other vital building materials, today are getting substantial portions—some insiders say as much as 75 per cent—of construction necessities that are supposed to be set aside for veterans' homes.

And these black markets are selling what they have cornered for "bonuses" that run as high as 100 per cent and occasionally more above ceiling prices. Lumber is hardest hit, but lumber is only one of the many materials needed to build a house that is easy to buy on the black market—for a price.

Experienced builders say that anybody who is unwilling to deal in the "bonus market", or who cannot afford to, must give up the idea of building.

The details of such operations, reported to NEA Service by observers in key cities throughout the country, support the generalizations which insiders have been voicing.

Very Green, Very Black

Here are some details from coast to coast:

San Francisco—Plywood, and green lumber (as a substitute for the seasoned lumber that is almost unobtainable at any price) are available for from 50 to 100 per cent above ceilings. Builders and dealers are buying lumber in truckload lots from mills for cash. The OPA is trying hard to get control and has filed several suits, including one for $1,000,000 against a concern that it charges diverted to other sections, at black market prices, 13,000,000 board feet intended for local consumption. Some plumbing supplies are available on black market but apparently on a small scale.

Chicago—Many of scarcer items can be had at an illegal price including lumber, soil pipe and nails. Lumber appears to bring from $2 to $4 above the ceiling.

Cleveland—Most short materials can be had on black market except castiron soil pipe and paint, which are short even there. Nails, normally $4.25 a keg, are available for $8.50 and up. There is a report that 800,000 feet of oak flooring, the scarcest item everywhere, is available on the black market "as is" for $250 a thousand feet. The ceiling for the best grade is $128.50.

New York—Oak flooring, with a present ceiling of $175, is available for $350 a thousand. Last Spring even the black market got only $200. A year ago both ceiling and market price were $85. The pre-war price ranged under $70. Now the black market is getting around $125 for rough framing lumber on which the OPA ceiling is $75-$97.

Nails, on which the ceiling is $5.65, cost $15 a keg. Soil pipe that was $2.80 to $3 last Spring, and on which the ceiling now stands at $4, costs $5 for a five-foot length.

Boston—Some of the shorter materials are available at up to 100 per cent above ceiling. Because oak flooring is so scarce the OPA has authorized local people to buy a plant and dry their own, which will make it cost about $250 a thousand against a $150 ceiling on better boards.

"Loan" Money—Get Wood

The 75 per cent figure for diversions from legitimate trade channels happens to be identical with the percentage of Southern lumber that dealers in that area estimate is going into the black market. For the most part, this diversion is from the little portable or "pecker-wood" mills and from farmers to whom lumber is a side line. Because lumbering, in general, is a business of many small operators, selling enforcement is difficult if not impossible.

From the middle west comes the story of two western companies that have written to builders, in effect: "We have plenty of lumber. We need money. If you will lend us money we will sell you the lumber."

One company proposes to borrow on its land and timber at the rate of $3 a thousand feet, for four or five years at two per cent and agrees to sell pine and fir for immediate delivery to the lender.

Builders in Cleveland report large shortages in delivery. A man orders 50,000 feet and is billed for that, but receives only 40,000. If he complains, his next order is ignored. Considerable upgrading is reported, and again no complaints are asked for fear of losing everything.

Somebody Loses

These black market aspects add greatly to the cost of building, and they make for uncertainty, so that a builder has little idea, when he signs a contract, what his materials will cost. If he has to go into the black market much he has three options: He can take a loss and perhaps go broke; he can try to force the buyer into sweetening the kitty; or he can substitute sub-specification materials whenever possible, and chisel on workmanship and materials, to make up the difference.

But there is another added cost element that arises out of the materials situation, as reported specifically from some cities and known to exist in all.

Cleveland builders say it is common for them to put expensive union workers to boondoggling on some unproductive work while the boss drives frantically around looking for materials that didn't arrive. This alone adds from 5 to 10 per cent to the contractor's costs, they say.

The added burden is mentioned from San Francisco, but its cost is not estimated specifically. Chicago estimates the added expense arising from shortages and delays at between 10 and 15 per cent. New York builders say it has become so onerous they can't build decent housing within the specified price range.

And all of these things, plus the poor quality of available lumber, is contributing to houses that many experts say are a fraud upon the veterans who are mortgaging their families' futures to buy them.

Most such housing is so new that the inevitable trouble from green lumber has barely appeared. But San Francisco knows that wartime houses of green lumber developed buckled walls, warped floors, cracked ceilings, and expects no better from the equally raw wood now available. In Cleveland the Better Business Bureau already is getting complaints about substitutions of sub-specification materials and bad floors.

Boston area builders claim they have to wait so long for plaster that even green wall lumber has opportunity to dry. But customers are beginning to complain, and experts say that lumber that is used green can not possibly do a good job even though plastering is delayed.

It is agreed that housing must be built, fast. And there is virtually no well-seasoned lumber available. Either housing must wait for lumber to be cured and other materials to be stockpiled, or homes must be constructed from what there is. But housing authorities are badly worried about the whole situation.

They say that the veteran is being forced into using up his government aid rights, and mortgaging himself for 20 or 25 years, to get a roof over his family's head. If the house proves inferior—if the wood shrinks, cracks appear, the floor buckles, the paint flakes off, moisture seeps through inferior cement, to mention only a few of the commoner ailments—then he must spend an inordinate amount in essential maintenance and never will have a satisfactory home.

If he gives up in disgust and steps out, relying upon the oft-used bromide that "It's just like rent. If you can't keep it up you've lost only your monthly payments"—he will find that he is branded by a deficiency judgment after the mortgage is foreclosed.

Federal Moving Day

There have been so many reports in the last few months concerning the government's reckless and wasteful handling of its surplus property that the average person probably has the notion the government is just as careless with everything it owns.

To allay that fear, here is a report of the careful job it does when office furniture is hauled among bureaus, offices, and buildings. It should be a source of great comfort to every taxpayer to discover that the minute stake he has in each federal chair, conference table, chart, file cabinet, and outer-office davenport is protected with the tenderest care and attention when being moved.

This is important, too, because moving federal furniture is a sizable operation in the Capital. It's the mark of a live bureau to shift various offices, equipment, and personnel around as much as possible. It's a sign they're on their toes.

And then, each time a lesser government official gets an in-grade promotion it's an unwritten civil service regulation that he shift to new quarters. If he doesn't, it means he doesn't draw much water in the shop.

The same thing goes for every time a new section head is appointed, too. There must be a complete switch of all furniture to suit his particular esthetic notion of how the typewriters and cuspidors should be lined up.

It would be a green new section head, indeed, who failed to do this. He'd immediately lose the respect of his underlings and start out with two strikes against him.

In short, moving the furniture is just about as significant an operation of the federal government as is collecting the taxes. That is why no effort is spared to assure that it is done properly.

The rash of congressional investigations now breaking out is probably a healthful thing. Following the rotten disclosures in the May-Garrison case, half a dozen other ham acts are getting a smearing. Shipbuilding profits, surplus property disposal, Senate and House election campaigns, the "dead horse" Canol, the Pan-American highway and Hawaiian construction scandals all are under investigation.

But some place in the proceedings, somebody ought to get up before one of these committees and tell 'em what Charlie Dawes told similar investigators 25 years ago, "Hell and Maria! We had a war to win".

General Dawes had been called to Washington for testimony because he had been on Pershing's staff, in command of Service of Supply. He spoke out in words that everyone could understand, to the effect that war in itself is wasteful and that all the penny-pinching accounting of peacetime economy couldn't be practiced when men were being killed and time was more important to save than money.

Industrialist Henry Kaiser had a golden opportunity to speak a piece of this kind in his appearances before the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, but, unfortunately, he blew his top and his lines. Thereby he failed to straighten out some of the lame-brain thinking.

Scientific Snoozing

We see where science, having pretty well liked the problem of how to blow up or poison most of mankind, is again turning its attention to the familiar but still baffling phenomenon of sleep. At least some of the General Electric scientists are tackling it.

They're investigating, we understand, the claim of some experts (including your grandmother and ours) that it's the quality of the sleep you get in your first few hours in bed that counts. They're also investigating meteorological and seasonal factors. And they've already discovered that women are colder than men. Lower metabolism, that's why.

What may come of all this is a two-control automatic blanket, and perhaps one that can be heated regionally, or zonally, on each side. We're all for that, as any sensible person is bound to be. We don't know what such a gadget would do for sleep, but it looks like a great boon to domestic felicity.

We can see only one drawback. By the time Pa and Ma get the port and starboard sides of the electric blanket adjusted and have made further regional fore-and-aft regulations to their liking, it's just possible that one or more of those refreshing early sleeping hours might be gone.

Marked Down

The Justice Department has documentary evidence of prewar collaboration between the Ku Klux Klan and the German-American Bund, and is now investigating numerous reports that the bund is trying to make a comeback with the Klan's co-operation and backing.

We suggest that, in the interest of accuracy, the Klan immediately revise and reduce its slogan to "50 per cent American".

Less Expensive, Too

Serious talk of horse meat as a staple of our national diet is increasing. Well, there must be a lot of racing fans who will agree that a great many "platers" running around now would look better on the Blue Plate Special than on the track.

Maybe Winnie Has Something There!

Dirty, Squirt And Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Eugene Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Jones of the Valley View Community, has recently returned home from overseas. Eugene was in the South Pacific theater and was in on the occupation of Japan. Many of you will remember Eugene as one of the outstanding 4-H Club boys in Midland County back in 1940. He says that he is really glad to get back to this section of the state and to his family.

The local livestock auction had a light run of cattle last week due to the rainy spell. The sale was steady to strong with bidding fast. Canner cows brought from $5.50 to $7.00, cutters from $7.00 to $9.00. Common cows and calves by the pair from $65.00 to $115.00, good cows and calves brought up to $135.00 a pair, butcher cows from $100.00 to $130.00, mostly common kind; fat calves and yearlings up to $18.00; odd heads up to $16.25. No bulls were offered for sale. Out of town sellers included: Ed Garnett, Brownfield; J. W. White, Grandfalls; E. L. Martin, Stanton; W. E. Putty, Odessa; Howard Reed, Big Spring, and Edwards Bros., Stanton.

Recent visitors from Garden City last week were Alton Cook, Bud Hanson, Samson Christie, James Teale and Chris Shafer. They report lots of rain in that country and that most all lambs in the county have been moved out.

H. R. Doty, who ranches in south of Andrews, was in Midland last week and reported that they received a big hail in that area which did considerable damage to the feed crops with some fields being stripped.

Morris Zimmerman, sheriff of Martin County, was in Midland last week.

Midland County ginners report a slow week on cotton ginning. The recent rains have slowed down cotton picking.

Small grain fields are really doing well now that the area has had all these nice rains. These fields will prove to be worth the time and expense put into them by next spring. Many farmers are planning to plant more small grain as soon as they can get into the fields.

The dates for the Sand Hills Hereford show held in Odessa have been announced by H. L. Atkins, county agent for Crane, Ector and Andrews Counties. The dates are March 20, 21 and 22, 1947. Atkins says that they plan to double the size of the present show barns and are expecting more cattle than ever before in next spring's show.

County Judge Elliott Barron, president of the Midland Livestock Show, has announced the date for the Midland show as March 17, 18 and 19, 1947. Most pressing problem facing the show in Midland next spring is the lack of a suitable show barn.

Drill Squad To Use New Merit System

Mrs. Inez Cheatham's Drill Squad has inaugurated a new merit and demerit system. The girls' grades start at 75, and then it is up to them to raise or lower it. The ways to get merits are:

"Crazy People"

By JANNINE STEPHENS Ah, there, there it was practically the end of the first six weeks, and while everyone else was making up back work, I was dashing off, like a madman, to the library to secure that book report I had forgotten.

"Listen to My Story—"

EVEN in these times—when you could sell a grass hut to an Eskimo or an igloo to a Hottentot—it pays to build houses people really want. Pays . . . not only in immediate sales . . . but in long term prestige.

That is why so many foresighted architects and builders are turning exclusively to the all-Gas home.

For Gas is the fuel people know and prefer. It is the trusted "servant" of 91,000,000 Americans in 10,000 communities, today. And modern Gas service—with postwar Gas appliances—promises even greater ease, comfort and efficiency, tomorrow.

Here are a few ways it adds to better living:

House heating with an automatic Gas furnace assures cozy warmth on the rawest winter day. Year-round Gas air-conditioning goes even farther — actually brings healthful comfort in every kind of weather. Hot water in abundance is provided for every need . . . with such economy and speed-of-recovery that it is eminently satisfactory to own both an automatic dishwasher and laundry. Silent Gas refrigeration keeps foods fresh for long periods—eliminates daily shopping trips. The automatically controlled Gas range prepares meals and turns itself off while the home-maker relaxes or attends to other duties. Incineration simplifies disposal of refuse. A Gas clothes-dryer makes laundering easy and rapid.

Yet with all this, Gas is economical! Both the initial cost of equipment and carrying charges are low. Mass production, due to volume demand, has resulted in high quality without high cost. And this superior quality plus freedom from mechanical wear means that appliances stay at their peak of efficiency for a much longer time. Add to that the well-known economy of operation and it is obvious why Gas is the best buy for any client's money.

Most important of all (from your point of view) . . . Gas appliances are designed compactly to save space. Space that often allows you to put in an extra room or cut down the outside dimensions. They reduce building costs further because they require only simple connections.

Shade of Sycamore

By PERCY MARKS Author of "The Plastic Age" "A Tree Grows Straight" Etc.

THE STORY: Gayle visits Sycamore again to discuss wedding plans with Mrs. Bartlett. Bartlett explains why Mrs. Bartlett finds it difficult to share her son, tells Gayle to be patient with her.

XVIII
WHEN Gayle went home again to Calvin, she settled down with her mother and father in the living room. "I don't know what we're going to do," she began. "This wedding business has got entirely beyond me. I'm sorry now I didn't just insist on sneaking off somewhere with Bart and getting married. He's reasonable enough about everything, and his mother has been too since I explained we simply couldn't put on a big fuss; but everything's piled up until I don't know what to do about it."

"Oh, we'll manage," her father said comfortably. "We aren't going to go bankrupt. What's the matter?"

"I told Bart and his mother they'd have to limit the number of guests, and they've really tried to; but they know everybody in the world. There are all kinds of people they just have to ask—terribly important people, you know, the kind you just can't pass over. Most of them won't be able to come, of course, but they've got to be asked. Then Bart has a million friends, people he's stayed with and who've stayed at Sycamore—his prep school friends and college friends and people like that. And then there are all the relatives and old family friends—and, oh, it's just hundreds before you get through with it."

"Will they all come to Calvin?" Mrs. Kent asked. "All the way from New York and Philadelphia?"

"All the way from Boston and Charleston, South Carolina. I told Bart there wouldn't be room for them in Calvin, and he said they'd leave right after the wedding."

expense, Gayle. It'll be cheap at almost any price if she can tell us how to manage all this."

Gayle telephoned and told Mrs. Bartlett the story. "Friends are helping us," she explained, "but there's so much to do—and we simply can't handle all the presents. How do you manage about those? I think some cards have got mixed up already."

Mrs. Bartlett's laugh was the friendliest sound Gayle had ever heard from her. "You shouldn't be doing any of this, my dear. You'll come to your wedding exhausted, simply exhausted—and that's not fair to Bruce, you know. Now, let me think. But, of course, have you room for Miss Holland? Or is there a hotel?"

"We've got room—but Mrs. Bartlett, you can't spare Miss Holland, can you?"

"I can for a few days. I can get somebody to take her place temporarily. I think she can be there by tomorrow morning quite easily, and then you just leave everything to her, everything! She knows exactly what to do. And she'll bring the detectives with her."

"Detectives?" Gayle's question was hardly more than an amazed gasp.

"Oh, but you must have them. The presents, you know. They must be guarded. And, oh yes, Miss Holland will not accept any payment. I'm lending her to you. And now forget all your problems. Miss Holland will take care of all the details and the presents and the press—everything."

Gayle thanked her and brought the expensive conversation to a close, but once Miss Holland had arrived, the cost of the call seemed as nothing in comparison to the value received. The little woman's efficiency was unbelievable, and in a morning she had brought order and something resembling calm to the distracted Kent household. Gayle frankly expressed her wonder and admiration.

Miss Holland merely smiled. "This is practically routine to me. I do much the same thing every time we have a big ball or a garden party. The presents are an extra detail; that's all."

MCKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

One of the best bidding pairs in tournament bridge is Mrs. Benjamin M. Golder and Charles J. Solomon of Philadelphia, who have won many tournaments together. Although they do employ the four-club convention, a variation of the Blackwood slam convention, like most experts they prefer direct bidding.

They finished second in the Masters pair event in the Bridge Week tournament last May in California, in which Solomon played today's hand against E. N. Marcus of Boston.

Solomon decided against taking either the heart or club finesse, and elected to play for a squeeze. He won the opening lead in dummy with the jack of diamonds, then ran five spade tricks, discarding a heart from dummy.

A diamond was led which East won with the ace, and refusing to give declarer any help, East played back a diamond.

Solomon won this with the queen and played his ace of clubs. Marcus made it as tough as possible by keeping three hearts to the queen and letting go two clubs. Now, in accordance with his decision to play for the squeeze rather than finesse, Solomon played the deuce of clubs and went up with the king, dropping West's queen. The jack of clubs gave declarer the needed 12th trick.

With a long suit such as Solomon had in this hand, give consideration to the development of a squeeze play which may eliminate entirely the 50-50 chance of a winning finesse.

1952 Rose Bowl Game Dreamed Up

By ROBERT RORIPAUGH

Ladies and gentlemen we are broadcasting to you from sunny California and bringing the 1952 Rose Bowl classic between the Midland Junior college Spaniels and the University of Southern California Trojans.

Starting the game for the Southwest Conference winners will be "Doc" Hyatt, 215 pounds, at tailback. "Snoopy" Hamblet, 172 1/2 at fullback. "Clyde Smackover" Buckingham at blocking back, and speedy "Foggo" Friday 173 pounds at wingback. At left tackle is "DeWitt" Deel 250 pounds and at left guard is "Blubber" Clarke 130 pounds. At right guard is "Killer" Bennett, 192 pounds. At right tackle is "Stringbean" Richardson 210 pounds, and at right end is "Hubba" Morrison 180 pounds.

The Trojans are kicking off. It's a nice kick taken by Hamblet on the fifteen. What's this? Ladies and gentlemen, Hamblet is squatting down and holding the ball to the ground. Trojans are swarming down toward him. Clyde Buckingham seems to be running over to kick Hamblet. No, he kicks the ball instead. What a kick, it is sailing toward the Trojans goal. The crowd is screaming its lungs out. The ball splits the uprights and the Spaniels lead 3 to 0. The Spaniels are hysterical with joy. Substitutions are coming onto the field for the Spaniels. They are uncorking their defensive ace "Hurricane" Roberts weighing 198 pounds. POP!! "Wake up this minute, Doyle. You are going to be late for school."

It's Your Team—Win Or Lose

(An Editorial)

That's my team! Yes—That's your team when it's winning. That's your team when its undefeated, untied, and talked of as the surprise team of the year. But who's team is it when things aren't going so good, when there is an unlucky season?

It's rather ironical to see the people turn out for football games this year in comparison with the past years. The very people who not so long ago were complaining about the coaches, the boys, and just about everything in general are the very ones who are now clamouring for tickets to every game, and going around with their chest stuck out saying—"What a team! I guess WE'RE doing o.k.!" Don't get us wrong though. We realize this is not the majority and it's all very fine we are getting the support we are. In all sincerity, we appreciate it and we realize that most of it is coming straight from the heart, but remember it's not your team just when it is winning—It's yours loosing too.

Echoing Halls

Monday—As the fifth week of school rolled around, ceil mates dragged their weary bodies to the same ole cells to begin classes for the week. Everyone seemed pleased with the thought of only 31 more weeks of school till those wonderful vacation days will be here again.

Tuesday—Cries of determination were heard throughout the corridors of M H S after Mr. Rifle fired away with his speech in assembly. One might add the speech was very good.

Wednesday—Ah, this wonderful weather, rain-rain-rain. Last period, rain or not, the Bulldogs were seen swimming over Lackey Field for a rough work out.

Thursday—That delicious aroma coming from the Home Economics room found students following their noses, determining to find out what was cookin'.

Friday—After a full day of parades, yelling, singing, and excitement many attained their life's ambition of riding the rods. Gently they shoved off, all the while singing "Hallelujah, I'm a bum."
