Trans - World Airlines Pilots Strike

Walkout Marks First Of Type In Air History

Fliers Seek Boost In Annual Base Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL pilots employed by Trans World Airlines struck Monday for higher pay, crippling operations along the company's world-wide, 28,270-mile system.

The walkout—first in commercial aviation's history—started at 3:59 a. m. (CST). Shortly thereafter, the company began cancelling domestic and transatlantic flights of its giant Constellations and Sky-masters.

More than 90 flights were cancelled, leaving an estimated 3,000 passengers temporarily stranded. In addition, the movement of 25 tons of mail was diverted to other carriers. TWA, fourth largest U. S. air line, operates over 28,270 miles of routes.

Company headquarters here said the flight cancellation was effective for a 24-hour period beginning from the time the strike started. Operations plans beyond the 24-hour period were not disclosed.

Several planes en route when the strike deadline came were allowed to complete their flights. Other airlines were not immediately affected. Strikers posted picket lines at Kansas City maintenance shops, however raising the possibility that pilots of the other airlines might not cross them.

Approximately 1,100 members of the AFL Airlines Pilot Association were involved. The union demanded salaries ranging up to $1,187.43 monthly for first pilots.

In an advance statement issued for release one minute after the strike deadline, David L. Behncke, union president, termed the action a "last recourse" effort to settle a wage dispute more than a year old.

At 2:30 a. m. Thomas Bell, public relations representative for TWA, said the company had received "no notification of any strike action" and that Jack Frye, TWA president, had retired for the night.

Earlier Frye had said Behncke confronted him Saturday morning with a 30-hour "ultimatum" to meet the union's demands. The first hint of the impending strike came Sunday night with reports that the pilots were being ordered out.

After these were confirmed Oswald Ryan, acting chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, said the possibility of government seizure of the airline would be discussed at a board meeting Monday should the walkout materialize.

It was the first strike of its kind against a major airline in aviation history.

Immediately at issue was a union demand for revision of pilots' pay schedules recommended by a Presidential fact-finding board last July 7.

President Truman had set up the board two months earlier to avert a strike called against TWA at that time.

U. S. Board Favors Raise
The Fact Finding Board called for a $750 increase in the $3,000 annual base pay ceiling for pilots as well as adjustments in the hourly and mileage rates for pilots of the highspeed four-engine planes used in transoceanic service.

Behncke announced in Chicago a month ago that the pilots had rejected the recommendations, which TWA said it had put into effect August 8.

Monday Behncke reiterated a previous assertion that the new pay formula would amount to a "pay slash of as high as 24.7 per cent for some pilots" and was "12.1 per cent less than the company had already offered," presumably before the Presidential board was set up.

The union chief added that under the pilots' "final proposals" submitted to Frye on Saturday, first pilot pay rates would range from $1,070.76 to $1,187.43 a month for Constellations flying a "normal" month of 18,750 miles, and from $930.31 to $1,096.98 a month for Sky-masters with a 17,600-mile monthly normal.

Says Demand Is $15,300
Frye, in his statement, had declared that the union was demanding $15,300 a year for pilots flying 20 hours a week in the four-engine craft. He added that the panel's recommendations actually "resulted in pay increases up to 36 per cent for co-pilots in international service" as well as the $750 boost in base pay and other adjustments.

TWA, in addition to 90 daily domestic flights, also operates passenger service to Shannon, Ireland; Paris, Geneva, Lisbon, Madrid, Rome, Athens, Algiers, Tunis, Tripoli, Cairo and Doha, Saudi Arabia.

PLAYFUL WHALE GETS STRANGED ON SAND

HUNTINGTON, N. Y.—A playful whale, about 60 feet long, ventured too close to the shore during a cruise of this Long Island community's harbor Monday and got stranded.

Hundreds of persons watched the whale splash about in an ebb tide which left its tremendous bulk resting on the sandy bottom 20 feet off shore.

Sgt. Gus Hornbourn of the Huntington police said the Coast Guard had been notified. A spokesman for the service said, uh huh, the whale was their baby and a rescue crew had been dispatched.

Army Opens 'Frigid' Tests

Operations 'Frigid' And 'Williwaw' Will Test Snow Vehicles, Tanks, Radar In Frozen North

WASHINGTON—Task Forces "Frigid" and "Williwaw," their titles appropriate to the weather conditions they will encounter in the next seven months, are headed for winter-time Alaska and Army Ground forces equipment tests they will conduct there until April 30, 1947.

A third task force, "Frost," is at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, where it will be stationed for its phase of the three-part tests. The task forces will determine whether existing equipment, including tanks, self-propelled guns, radar, special snow vehicles, new rations, clothing and other items will function, and what new equipment is required for the ground team to fight under all different types of winter conditions.

Colonel Joseph D. Raney will be in charge of Task Force "Williwaw" at Adak, Alaska, while Colonel Rudolph W. Broedlow will guide Task Force "Frost" at Camp McCoy. Operating out of Ladd Field, Fairbanks, Alaska, Task Force "Frigid" will be led by Colonel Paul A. Reichle. All three officers have demonstrated outstanding leadership in both combat and peacetime military activities.

Cotton Exchange In Dallas May Close Tuesday

DALLAS (AP)—Possibility that cotton exchanges may be forced to shut down again Tuesday was foreseen in Dallas Monday, after the bottom dropped out of the market in the first 10 minutes of trading on the Dallas exchange.

May futures plunged $10 a bale in five minutes after trading opened on the Dallas exchange, Karl Hunt, exchange secretary, reported. The exchange was closed Saturday.

Hunt would not predict that the exchange would be closed again Tuesday, declaring that "we'll have to wait and see how prices go during the rest of the day."

"The storm is by no means over," the secretary said. "The market is pretty weak."

It was difficult to get to the real cause of the market break, which began early last week, as various big cotton men gave conflicting views.

Several reported that Grapevine reports indicated that one very big operator, supported by several friends, precipitated the crash by dumping his vast holdings.

Urges South Not to Sell
AUSTIN (AP)—J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture, Monday said he had wired the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges and the Chicago Board of Trade to urge that they not reopen until actual conditions of the cotton industry are clarified and confidence is restored.

"I am urging cotton farmers of the South to place their unsold cotton in government loan and not sell below 40 cents per pound," he said.

Drops $10 in N. Y.
NEW YORK (AP)—Cotton futures prices dropped the possible limit of $10 a bale on three active months—May, July and December—as trading resumed Monday on the New York cotton exchange.

At the opening May sold at 30.50 cents a pound and July at 29.80 cents a pound.

NEW YORK (AP)—Leading stocks joggled over a slightly irregular route in Monday's market. Dealings turned sluggish after the opening and small fractional variations either way ruled near midday.

Soviet-Backed Party Routed In Berlin Election

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet-backed Socialist Unity Party (SED) appeared Monday to have been routed in Berlin's first free municipal election in 14 years, which an American military official termed of continent-wide significance in the issue between Eastern and Western political philosophies.

Virtually complete returns from Sunday's election of municipal and SED councilmen showed the SED running a poor third in a field of four parties.

The Social Democratic Party (SPD) scored a smashing victory, capturing almost half the total vote. The Christian Democratic Union (CDU) was second, well ahead of the Socialist Unity Party.

The Social Democrats received 48.7 per cent of the total votes and the Socialist Unity party only 19.6 per cent.

Before the election, Lt. Col. Louis Glaser, political affairs chief of the United States military government's Berlin branch, said the issue clearly lay between Eastern and Western political philosophies.

"Germany must ultimately make a decision in this respect," he said. "The Berlin vote, establishing such a decision, will have great influence upon the ultimate destiny of Germany and therefore upon the political destiny of Europe."

Soviet-Backed Party Campaigns
This party, formed in the Russian zone by a fusion of Communists and Social Democrats, waged a stronger campaign than other parties because it had more paper and other material advantages.

In campaigning, it claimed time and again that it carried more weight with the Soviet Military Administration than any other party.

The SED had claimed that the Social Democrats would show strength only in the American and British sectors. But an early breakdown of the vote made it plain that they were strong all over the city and whipped the SED even in some important districts of the Soviet sector.

Inspection teams representing the four occupying powers—the U. S., Britain, France and Russia—toured the city watching for fraud.

So-called Democratic Party officials registered a complaint that SED followers were tearing down or pasting over SPD posters. Some observers said they saw children ripping down all but SED bills.

Newsmen visiting polling places, mostly in beer-hall backrooms, found some hung with pictures of Prime Minister Stalin.

Weather
Continued fair Tuesday with possible scattered clouds in the morning. Maximum temperature Sunday was 80 degrees, minimum Monday morning was 62 degrees.

30,000 Bawling Cattle Jam Yards At Fort Worth

Receipts Expected To Set All-Time Record

FORT WORTH (AP)—An avalanche of weekend cattle receipts Monday created the worst congestion at the Fort Worth stockyards since ranchers rushed their animals to market in 1917.

The 70 acres of pens were jammed with an estimated 30,000 bawling cattle and calves as approximately 100 trucks waited to be unloaded and others continued to arrive.

Packers continued to buy on the market and excess cattle belonging to them will be housed in hog pens. W. L. Pier, general manager of the yards, said an attempt will be made to handle everything that arrives. No embargo has been declared and none is planned at this time, he announced.

Approaches Record by 10 a. m.
By 10 a. m. the receipts had skyrocketed within about 1,000 of the all time weekend record set Oct. 15, 1945. The count, which included truck receipts only, was 10,101 cattle and 6,420 calves for a total of 16,521 compared to the peak of 17,671 for a weekend period.

Stockyards officials pointed out that the rail receipts would likely send the figure above the previous record. Besides this trucks continued to wait in line for a chance to unload.

The Fort Worth market was so highly congested that trade in cattle and calves was very slow.

Most slaughter cattle and calves drew bids of $1 to $3 below last Friday's levels.

Chinese Captures Two U. S. Marines

PEIPING (AP)—Two United States Marines, members of a nine-man hunting party, were captured Sunday by armed Chinese and still were missing Monday, Marine Headquarters announced.

In another incident, three U. S. sailors traveling by jeep near Tangku Harbor fought off 50 Chinese in a gunbattle in which several Chinese were wounded. None of the sailors was hurt.

Both groups of Chinese were presumed to be Communists.

All nine members of the hunting party were seized by three separate Chinese patrols but seven were released after being brought together. Authorities sought to negotiate for the release of the two others.

The sailors were traveling from Tangku toward Tientsin when their jeep was stopped by seven Chinese who attempted to take their weapons. The Chinese opened fire when the sailors resisted, and soon a larger group of Chinese emerged from the brush to enter the fight.

The sailors managed to wheel their jeep about and retreat to Tangku.

No names were given.

"The delegation of the Soviet Union will contribute to insuring that the work of the United Nations Assembly and the Council of Foreign Ministers is successful and is accomplished in the interests of strengthening of peace and the well-being of peoples, great and small," Molotov said as he arrived on the Queen Elizabeth.

He was accompanied by Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dimitri Manuilsky and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky. Connally Deplores War Talk

Senator Tom Connally of Texas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, returning from the Paris peace conference, told reporters:

"I deplore the talk of another war. Russia doesn't want another war; Stalin and Molotov do not want another war.

The Paris peace conference accomplished substantial results. We did not secure all that we desired, and Russia did not get all that it was looking for."

Connally was accompanied by Mrs. Connally.

XXV
WHEN Hitler invaded Poland, Gayle at last saw Bart take an interest in a world greater than the little one in which he himself moved. He seemed as deeply stirred as she was, as outraged and horrified. It had simply never occurred to him that any ruler could act as Hitler was acting, but he was quite confident that England and France would crush the "filthy stinker" in a few months. But Poland fell, Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium, and France fell, and England suffered the agony of Dunkerque. Bart was stunned. It didn't stand to reason, he said; it didn't make sense. And again and again Gayle heard him mutter, "I'd like to get into it; God, how I'd like to get into it."

That muttering terrified her, but she said nothing. Somehow she felt certain that a single protest from her would send him overseas to enlistment in the R.A.F. Besides, his attitude wasn't altogether comprehensible to her. He hated Hitler, but he didn't seem to be driven by hate. When he muttered, his eyes glowed with an anticipatory gleam, and Gayle couldn't help suspecting that he was more deeply excited by the possibility of high adventure than by any feeling of need to save the world from disaster.

Once they were caught up, however, in the social routine of the autumn and winter, he said less about wanting to get into the fight himself, but he followed the course of the war as closely and as eagerly as he followed every event in the world of sports.

It was a busy fall and winter for Gayle. There were periods when her activities seemed reasonable, even essential; then a headline would catch her eye or she would listen to a particularly terrifying news report on the radio, and she would feel like a what his answer would be. "Don't be a nut. Invite somebody. Get Rose out for the night." And she had to be fair. Bart left her free, too. True, she made no use of the freedom, but it was pleasant to know that she had it.

BART'S flirtations with other women did not come to her notice until well along in the second year of her marriage, but he was so open about them she could not take them seriously. Women always flocked around him, and, as he put it, there were always some who made passes at a fellow. He was as likely as not to say when he and Gayle were undressing after a dance, "Did you see Nan playing up to me?"

Gayle, who had seen and who had been hurt by his response to Nan's overtures, would answer, "How could I help it?"

He was sure to laugh then, "You're right! Boy, she certainly had made up her mind to get a kiss."

"Did she get it?"

"No!" His laughter would ring with his glee. "No, by golly, she didn't. Who wants to kiss a skinny slob like her? But, say, Gayle, didn't Norma look cute?"

"I thought you thought so."

"I certainly did. Bob was glaring at me all evening. Did you notice?"

"No. I was too busy glaring at Norma."

Then, as likely as not, he would kiss the nape of her neck and cry delightedly, "Like fun you were! Norma doesn't mean anything. She just gives a fellow the eye automatically."

It seemed to Gayle at times that half the women she knew gave Bart the eye automatically, and his black eyes never failed to sparkle with pleasure. She wished he were less responsive, less instantaneous in his delighted reaction, and she wished most of all she could escape the pain that always tortured her when she saw, "He doesn't mean anything," she told herself over and over again. "He can't help being so handsome, and I guess any normal man would feel pleased. But . . . but . . ."

Last year a new event, the national open individual championship, was added to the program of the Winter National Tournament. This year the event is scheduled for Sunday, December 8, when the Winter Nationals will get under way at the Hollywood Beach Hotel, Hollywood, Fla. One hundred and twenty-four players entered the contest last year, and it is expected that close to 200 will participate in it this year. Last year's winner was Theodore Samuels, of Easton, Pa., who is expected to defend his title in December.

every table North bought the contract for four spades and made it, losing a heart, a diamond and a club.

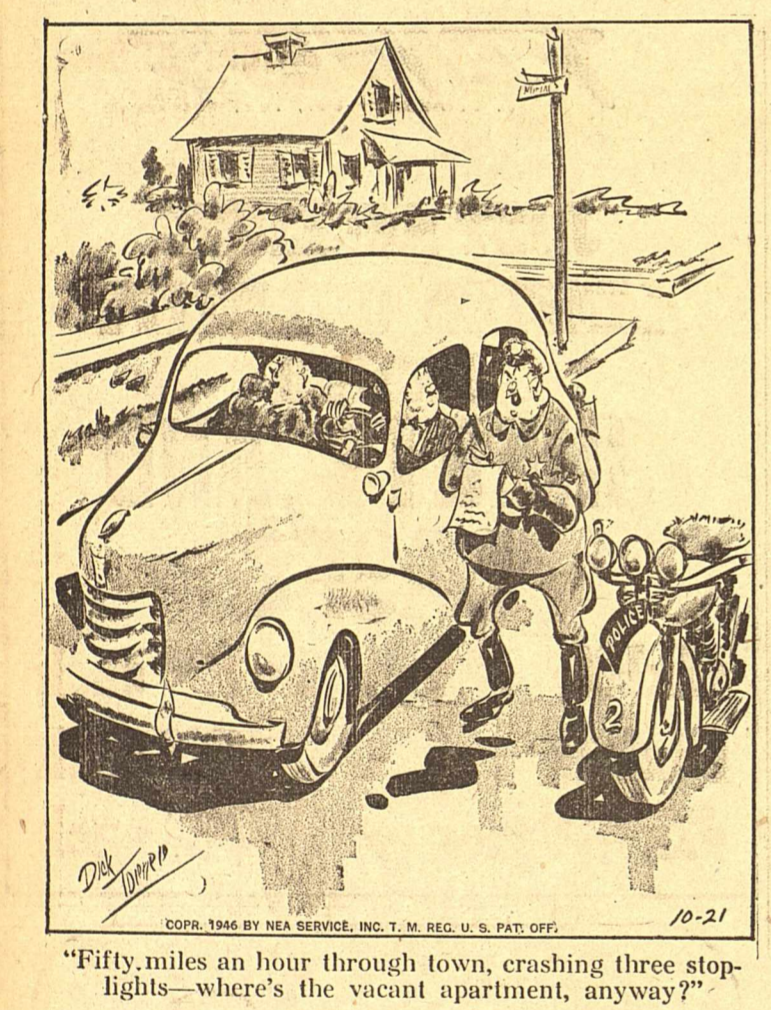

Samuels elected to take the sacrifice at five diamonds. It is difficult to take a sacrifice in the five zone, especially when vulnerable. However, it was a very good one, as East had to lose only a spade, a heart and a club, going down 200.

Only one club trick was lost by stripping the hand and playing the five of clubs followed by a small club. If North won he would drop South's queen. If South won, he would be forced to give declarer a sluff and a ruff.

Sacrifice bidding plays a most important role in tournament bridge and is perhaps the most difficult technique of the game to learn.

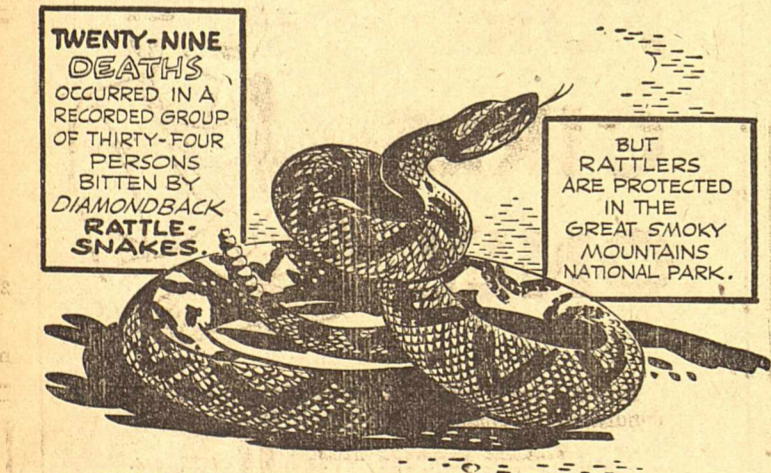

Members of the Negro Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the Carver School.

Midland Travels To Eagles' Lair

The Abilene Eagles, who found their ground game marbles against Lubbock, will furnish the opposition for the Midland High Bulldogs Friday in a game played in the Eagles' lair.

Abilene had relied on a sharp passing attack to get the yardage and scores up to the Lubbock fracas, and the forward pass still is expected to be the weapon used against Midland.

The Bulldogs, relaxed from a weekend of rest, went into practice drills Monday.

New plays were given to the Bulldogs last week and all players have recovered from bruises of the Sweetwater game.

Midland has a passing game on its own accord, which is second to none in 3-AA. Given time by his upfront line to pass, Bob Cole of Midland can shoot with the best. And Dunny Goode can catch 'em.

Austin, Odessa Favored To Reach State Grid Final

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Austin's Maroons are rapidly gaining a firm grip on the Number 1 spot of Texas high school football but like their neighbors, the University of Texas Longhorns, they have a rough pattern cut out for them before they can realize any championship ambitions.

Stan Lambert's boys have several big brothers in far-flung District 15. They are so big that the district champion probably will have to produce a state play-off brand of football prior to collecting the title.

Before any December plans can be made the Maroons must win over Brackenridge and Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio and Laredo, three of the state's 16 undefeated teams, and from Corpus Christi, still a power despite having bowed to Thomas Jefferson, 18-7, last week.

The seven teams of the district hold an average of 126 points scored so far this season, a figure nearly twice that gathered by teams of any other district.

Austin won its fifth straight victory Friday night by trouncing Stephen F. Austin of Houston, 48-0. Corpus is upset.

Although Jefferson's upset of Corpus Christi was the biggest surprise of the weekend, the expected win of Odessa over Amarillo was accomplished well beyond the range of predictions. After running up 26 points, the Bronco first string turned the game over to the subs. The final score was 26-13.

On paper, at least, a state championship game between Austin and Odessa seems to be drawing near.

Besides Austin, Brackenridge and Odessa, seven other teams continue among the undefeated and untied. They are Borger, Graham, Sherman, North Side of Fort Worth, Marshall, Galveston and Orange.

Along with Thomas Jefferson and Laredo in the unbeaten but tied bracket are Wichita Falls, Sweetwater, Lamar of Houston and Pasadena.

Corpus Christi and Amarillo were accompanied to the defeated ranks by Milby of Houston (13-7 loser to Jeff Davis), Gainesville (defeated by Sherman, 7-0), and Edinburg, 2-0 loser to Harlingen).

John C. Breckinridge was the youngest vice-president of the United States.

Rice's Ex-Marines Remember Loss In 1942, Seek To Spill Texas Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
HOUSTON—(P)—Back in 1942 Rice lost one Southwest Conference football game. It was 12-7 and it was to a Texas team that was barely holding on at the finish.

The Owls didn't drop another that year and they crushed Texas Christian 26-0. TCU defeated Texas 13-7, but Rice played a scoreless tie with Texas A&M that furnished

Interscholastic League Attacks Grid Gambling

AUSTIN—(P)—The Interscholastic League Monday editorially attacked increasing gambling on high school football games and in a second editorial warned football districts against "revising eligibility rules to suit their own convenience."

Calling attention to the fact that stadiums are just as much a part of the school grounds as the auditorium or lunchroom, the official Interscholastic League publication declared, "stadiums were never designed as branch offices of bookie shops."

The editorial charged that "both professional and small-time gamblers are moving in on high school football, and no protests seem to be heard."

Expressing concern over reports that some districts have been doing their own revision of eligibility rules, the Interscholastic League said that if such fact becomes known to the State Executive Committee, "these districts will be subject to disqualification, and these schools will probably be suspended."

Army, Irish And Texas Still Top Trio In Nation

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
NEW YORK—(AP)—The college football season, a cockeyed campaign in which surprises are a dime a dozen and nothing seems impossible, reaches the halfway mark this week with only a handful of major teams still clutching untarnished records.

Many previously unbeaten outfits were engaged Monday in pulling themselves from the wreckage strewn across every section of the land in the past weekend's wave of upsets, and there was a strong possibility that similar embarrassment lay ahead for some of those who escaped.

Army, Notre Dame and Texas—still the nation's top trio—all have their work cut out for them next Saturday when they face tough opponents ready, willing and able to blench their all-victorious records.

The Cadets, who blasted Columbia from the unbeaten ranks 48-14, move into New York's Polo Grounds for their annual battle with Duke. The Blue Devils warmed up for this one with a 41-0 whitewashing of Richmond.

Notre Dame, idle last week, invades Iowa, which pulled one of Saturday's many surprises by blanking Indiana 13-0. Texas, which dumped previously unbeaten Arkansas 20-0, visits Rice, an improved team which dropped Southern Methodist 21-7 for its third triumph since losing a 7-6 opener to Louisiana State.

Penn. To Play Navy
Pennsylvania's Quakers who kept their record clean by smearing Virginia 40-0, entertain Navy, Downed 21-14 by North Carolina for their third loss.

Cornell, tied 6-6 by Yale, visits Princeton, 14-7 winner over Rutgers, and Columbia goes to Dartmouth, upset 20-13 by Brown. Elsewhere in the East, it will be Coast Guard at Yale, Holy Cross at Harvard, Syracuse at West Virginia and Boston College at Wake Forest.

Midwestern fans will be treated to two conference games in the Big Nine, where the form has been scrambled beyond recognition. Illinois, 27-21 victor over Wisconsin, will be at Michigan, which tied Northwestern, 14-14, and Minnesota, which swamped Wyoming 46-0, will go to Ohio State, tied 14-14 by Purdue.

Tennessee, which knocked Alabama from the ranks of the all-victorious, 12-0, will risk its perfect record in a try for a fifth triumph at Wake Forest and Georgia, which kept its record clean by romping over Oklahoma A&M 33-13, will be at Furman.

Denver To Play Texas Tech
The Southeastern Conference slate sends Kentucky to Alabama, Auburn to Georgia Tech, Louisiana State to Vanderbilt and Mississippi State to Tulane.

Texas A&M will be at Baylor in the Southwestern Conference and Denver, which dropped Utah from the unbeaten ranks, will be at Texas Tech.

UCLA, which struggled past California 13-6 to hang on to its clean record and its lead in the Pacific Coast Conference, steps out of league play to take on Santa Clara on the West Coast.

New Mexico will be at Colorado and Wyoming at Utah in the Rocky Mountain sector.

Aggies Play Baylor
But while Texas and Rice are worrying each other and setting their schedules, the Texas Aggies, still in the running despite a miserable pre-conference start, will seek their second conference win by taking on the Baylor Bears at Waco.

A&M shook off its defeat, habit last week by blanking Texas Christian, 14-0, while Baylor was the third Southwest Conference victim of Texas Tech, bowing to the Red Raiders at Lubbock, 13-6.

Other teams will return to inter-sectional, with TCU playing Oklahoma A&M in a Friday night game at Oklahoma City, and SMU clashing with Missouri at Columbia, Mo., and Arkansas tangling with Mississippi at Memphis on Saturday afternoon.
