

Nazi Doctors Indicted For Murder

Hitler's Personal Physician Is Among 23 Persons Charged

By DONALD DOANE
NUERNBERG, GERMANY—(AP)—Twenty-three Nazi doctors were indicted Friday on charges that they "murdered hundreds of thousands of human beings" in Germany's war-time program of medical killings and brutal experiments with living prisoners.

A woman, Herta Oberhauser, and Dr. Karl Brandt, one of Hitler's personal physicians, were among the 23, who will be tried next month in the first of a series of war crimes trials by special American military courts.

Solid British Front Shapes Up Against Russia

By WILLIAM L. PHILLIPS
LONDON—(AP)—Winston Churchill and Prime Minister Attlee captured Britain's headlines Friday with almost simultaneous verbal blasts against Russia in what appeared to be shaping up as a solid British front against Communism.

Churchill told his constituents in suburban Loughton that he had "facts" and "evidence" to support his suggestion—made in the form of a question before the House of Commons Wednesday—that the Soviet Union has 200 divisions—more than 2,000,000 men—on a full war footing in Russian-occupied Eastern Europe.

He lauded Attlee's speech before the Trades Union Congress at Brighton in which the prime minister bluntly accused Soviet leaders of erecting a "wall of ignorance and suspicion" between the Russian people and the rest of the world.

"The fact that the British government has decisively broken with the Communists and are fronted with them, although it does not immediately affect the course of affairs in this island," said Churchill, "has an important and beneficial result abroad because there are countries on the continent—like France—quivering under the Communist attack."

Attlee, in his Brighton speech, sharply accused "Communists, their dupes and fellow travelers" of practicing "misrepresentation" and said he "deeply regretted" the policy by which "the Soviet government appears deliberately to prevent inter-communication between the Russian people and the rest of the world."

According to the Russians, he declared, whoever was not a Communist was necessarily a Fascist.

Eisenhower May Get New Job

WASHINGTON—(AP)—There was a little confusion for a while here Thursday.

Had General Dwight Eisenhower meant to tell a news conference that General Omar N. Bradley would succeed him as Army chief of staff?

If he had, then—When was General Eisenhower getting out? And why?

But this seems to have been straightened out. General Eisenhower said he wasn't making predictions.

There have been rumors here—strictly rumors which may not become facts—that:

1. General Eisenhower would resign as Army chief of staff and be named ambassador to Great Britain by President Truman.
2. That General Bradley, now head of the Veterans Administration, would succeed Eisenhower as chief of staff.

Miss Collings, a senior in Odessa High School, was taken to a hospital.

Krug And Lewis Remain Silent On Coal Issue

By HAROLD W. WARD
WASHINGTON—(AP)—John L. Lewis' threat of a new soft coal strike this Winter loomed larger than ever Friday—one week before the November 1 deadline.

President Truman tossed the prospect of crisis back to Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug, who remained silent.

Government labor officials, growing more anxious by the hour, privately expressed the opinion that another round of strikes would bring down the wrath of Congress and might provoke severe labor legislation when the lawmakers return in January.

But these officials are treading warily. They are not talking for publication—either about legislation or about the possible effects of a paralyzing coal strike four days before the November 5 elections might have on the makeup of the next Congress.

Two Major Facts

Two facts, they said, stand out:

1. Members elected to Congress on November 5 will be seated in January.
2. Many of the nation's leaders have warned that a "second round" of strikes would be a body blow to the postwar economy.

Meanwhile, coal industry spokesmen in Pittsburgh said a general mine strike next month would cut off home supplies of coal almost immediately.

Coal retailers already are behind with orders, the industry said, and a work stoppage would catch them with little or no stockpiles. A 30-day backlog on hand for industrial uses would be suitable only for homes equipped with stokers.

Lewis has demanded that Krug start negotiating a new contract November 1 because he alleges the government breached the present one with "misinterpretations." He is preparing new wage demands in keeping with resolutions of the miners' recent convention.

Because Krug did not agree to meet him in Washington November 1 to discuss a new contract, Lewis said the document, which he had prepared to terminate November 20, would be void three weeks earlier. Krug has been on tour of government projects in the West and Southwest.

Prominent New York Doctor Kills Wife And Mother-In-Law

GARDEN CITY, N. Y.—(AP)—A prominent New York doctor shot and killed his wife and mother-in-law Friday and then wounded his Navy veteran son and himself, Nassau County District Attorney James N. Gehrig said.

The district attorney said he believed Dr. Frank Lasher committed the act in disappointment over his son's failure to resume medical studies because of war inflicted disabilities.

The dead were Dr. Lasher's wife, Gladys, about 45, and her mother, Mrs. Emma Bryan, 75.

Douglas Lasher, the son, was taken to Nassau Hospital in Mineola with a bullet wound in the chest. He was expected to recover.

Police said the 60-year-old doctor was in Meadowbrook Hospital in Hempstead in "extremely critical" condition as the result of four bullet wounds.

Now—A Non-Skid Knife for Pea-Eaters

Are you a frustrated pea-eater? Do you suffer from a defeated urge to inhale the vegetable from a knife? You do? You lucky fellow—no longer need you mix your peas with molasses to keep them on the cutlery. Here is a utensil to fulfill your dreams. Douglas Lyons of Cleveland's Hotel Aller staff found the tough-like pea-knife while inventorying hotel stocks. At right, above, he shows how the little globules roll into the mouth like bowling balls in the return alley. At left, he shows what happens—as you well know—when using an ordinary knife. The pea-knife was standard equipment with 19th century English ladies and gents, it seems, but the hotel doesn't plan any additions to its utensil supply.

New Barriers To Peace In China

NANKING—(AP)—The government's military offensives in Manchuria and the Shantung Peninsula are building new barriers to any possibility of the resumption of formal peace negotiations here.

Observers watching minority party efforts to woo some compromise from the Kuomintang (government party) and the Communists are amazed that the government's military leaders would set off these campaigns at a time when the possibility of negotiating some new ceasefire agreement hung in the balance.

Some observers saw in these developments proof of reports frequently heard in Nanking that some military leaders are running the government rather than the government running the military. They declared these commanders are so filled with the success of their North China campaigns that they are heedless of the peace efforts which more moderate Kuomintang leaders are pursuing.

The Communists' Yenan radio Friday called the government's land offensive against Antung and its combined sea and land assault on Chefoo the first fruits of a military conference conducted in Peiping a few days ago by the government chief of staff, Gen. Chen Cheng.

The broadcast said that the very day Nanking government leaders were playing up new peace offers, three government armies began converging on Antung.

In Peiping, the newspaper Hsin Sheng Pao reported a government army had reached Fengcheng, only 35 miles from Antung, in its drive toward that important communication center on the Manchuria-Korean border.

Few Bright Spots On Labor Front As Strikes Continue

By The Associated Press
The threat of a shutdown of the nation's soft coal mines remained Friday but there were a few bright spots on the labor front.

One strike almost six months old involving 900 workers at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. plant at La Crosse, Wis., was ended and there were indications of breaks in the national maritime walkout, the work stoppage by Trans World Airline pilots and in the AFL jurisdictional dispute in the Hollywood movie studios.

The ending of the walkout at the Allis-Chalmers plant at La Crosse left only two of the company's factories still strike-bound, in Milwaukee, the firm's largest, and Boston. Strikes at the company's plants in La Porte, Ind., Springfield, Ill., Norwood Ohio, and Pittsburgh already have been settled. The CIO at La Crosse ratified a contract providing a 13 1/2 cent wage increase and other changes.

New Proposal

Settlement on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts of the strike of deck officers hinged upon acceptance of a new proposal made to ship operators by the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots Unions. A spokesman at the negotiations in New York did not disclose the proposal but said its acceptance would settle the 25-day old walkout. Wages and preferential hiring were the chief issues in the dispute.

The CIO Marine Engineers, the second union involved in the shipping strike, awaited results of voting on ratification of an agreement reached earlier this week to settle their dispute. However, they pledged to respect AFL picket lines even if they ratify their own pact. Both unions also are on strike on the Pacific Coast but negotiations are not being pressed until settlement of the East and Gulf Coast dispute.

Resume Discussions

In the five-day old strike by 1,400 TWA pilots, which has made idle some 15,000 company employees, company and officials of the AFL Air Line Pilots Association resumed discussion in Washington before the National Mediation Board. The pilots are demanding wage increases and revised working rules.

In Hollywood, a spokesman for the AFL Screen Actors Guild said leaders of two rival AFL groups promised to arbitrate their month long dispute by telephone with members of the 15-man AFL executive council in Chicago. The two unions have been at odds periodically.

Police Arrest Seven Suspects In Armed Robbery In Kermit

MIDLAND POLICE Friday were holding seven persons, including three negroes, as suspects in the early morning $250 holdup in Kermit of a hot tamale stand operator as he closed his business.

A white man and a negro, who apparently had waited outside for the stand to close, took the money from the operator at pistol point.

The men fled to Monahans, where the city marshal, who had been notified of the robbery, took several shots at them as they boarded an eastbound freight train.

Midland sheriff and police officials, notified of the robbery, halted the train 10 miles east of Midland and took seven men off and held them in the city jail, awaiting officers from Kermit and Monahans to identify the suspects.

The Kermit stand operator was not harmed.

Deputy Sheriff Ed Edwards, Police Chief Jack Ellington, and officers A. B. Stickney and N. W. Talkinghal halted the train, searched it and made the arrests.

Three Men Attempt To Burn Airplane

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Police Friday were searching for three men who reportedly abandoned and attempted to burn an airplane on the Yates ranch, 16 miles north of San Antonio.

Louis Yates, owner of the ranch, told officers he saw three men, two in the Army officers uniforms, climb out of the plane, which bore Army identification, after they landed the craft Thursday night.

Yates asserted the men apparently intended to set fire to the plane but abandoned the project upon being discovered. He said they halted an automobile on a nearby highway and proceeded toward San Antonio.

She said the disease itself is not serious, but that the complications are to be dreaded. Immediate treatment is necessary to prevent serious after effects, she said.

Miss Foelker suggested that a small group be formed to study operation of the hot pack equipment. She discussed various forms of the dreaded disease and told how it is transmitted, the diagnosis, effects, treatment, and the parts of the body it attacks.

Good nursing and immediate and proper treatment are essential in caring for polio victims, she said.

By The Associated Press
Texas Indian summer ended Friday.

A cool mass of air moving down from the Panhandle had lowered temperatures from ten to 30 degrees throughout the state and cleared skies except along the coast.

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace, in his first speech since September 12 when an address in Madison Square Garden on the international situation brought his retirement from the cabinet—asserted Thursday night that "the forces of reaction . . . can only be checked by an enlightened, progressive Democratic party."

Speaking before a capacity crowd of 10,400 in Olympic Auditorium, Wallace moved squarely into the tight California political situation, urging the election of Will Rogers, Jr., "great son of a great father" and defeat of incumbent Republican William F. Knowland, whom he called an exponent of "Tatism."

cat, about 25 miles southeast of Feoco, had drilled out cement to the plugged-back total depth at 12,150 feet.

The drilling mud in the hole had been replaced with water, and at last report operator had the project shut in waiting for high pressure connections and other such equipment, before starting to swab to test on open hole below 5-inch casing cemented at 9,895 feet.

Turner Still Trying

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Turner, East Midland County wildcat, tried a drillstem test to 10,469 feet in Strawn lime and shale. The packer failed and there was no test. Operator is now drilling up the stuck packer and will probably drill ahead when that job is finished.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Millard, Southwest Ector County wildcat was making hole below 8,890 feet in lime and chert.

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1 Sealy-Smith, Southeast Winkler County wildcat, 680 feet from south and east lines of section 31, block A, G&MMB&A survey, and five miles northwest of the Monarchs field, in Northeast Ward County, had drilled to 8,597 feet, in lime and was taking a Schlumberger survey.

Recovery Lost

Globe Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, Central-West Andrews wildcat, six miles south of the Fullerton field, and 710 feet from north and 693 feet from east lines of section 20, block 41, psi survey, was drilling ahead from 6,960 feet, in the top of the Fullerton section of the Tubb line.

A drillstem test was tried at 6,847-6,960 feet. The tool was open six hours. Gas showed at surface in three hours. It was a good blow at the start, and steadily increased during the remainder of the period.

When operator started out of the hole with the tester the drill pipe stuck. It was necessary to circulate, in order to loosen it and in so doing any returns in the pipe from the test were lost.

Russian Efforts To Block Debate On Veto Issue Apparently Doomed

NEW YORK—(AP)—Russian efforts to block a United Nations Assembly debate on the veto issue appeared destined to defeat Friday, with majority opinion in the assembly's key steering committee reportedly lined up against the Soviet move.

The United States and Britain are spearheading the opposition. Some delegations speculated that the Russians might drop the fight without forcing a showdown, but most expressed belief that Soviet Vice Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky would do his best to persuade the steering committee to strike the issue from the assembly's program.

The committee held its first session on approving the program of 53 issues, plus a supplemental list, Thursday night, but became involved in a legalistic snarl over a row between India and South Africa and failed to get to the veto dispute.

The India-South Africa fight was settled only after Britain's Sir Hartley Shawcross asserted hotly that "we are in danger of reducing this committee to a laughingstock" by failing to decide a relatively minor question. Committee Chairman Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium said he was not quite sure about the meaning of two votes taken on the question, but added that the assembly could figure things out for itself. Meanwhile the assembly was pushing forward through a lengthy general debate which was scheduled to include addresses by Philip Noel-Baker of Britain, Jose Arce of Argentina, Dr. Carlos Stok of Venezuela and Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India.

There was some expectation that Noel-Baker's speech—setting forth Britain's policies for this session of the peace organization—might present directly to the assembly recently expressed British government views favoring eventual modification of the Big-Five veto power.

Mrs. Pandit was understood to be prepared to present India's charges of racial discrimination against Indians in South Africa, even in advance of a formal action on that issue by the steering committee. In general debate a speaker may talk about anything he wants to.

Only Issue Challenged American delegation officials said the Indian item was the only one on the 53-point program which had been challenged, the steering committee had now in effect completed its approval of the entire agenda.

One of the items is Russia's demand that United Nations members—meaning specifically Britain and the United States—should report on how many troops they have outside their own territories on other than ex-enemy soil. The United States fought a similar proposal in the security council several weeks ago but let it pass unchallenged Thursday night.

The American tactic appeared to be to try to amend the Russian proposal so that troops on the soil of an ex-enemy country would also have to be reported. If approved, that would mean Russia, as well as the western powers, would have to report and might bring the first official information on the size of Russian armies in Eastern Europe.

Short Evening Dresses And Suits Gain Reputation In New Styles

Provocative styles and luxurious fabrics combine to give the short evening dress new importance in the season's formal fashions. Left, the jacket of this black slipper satin suit plays up the new rippling silhouette with jet-edged scallops on shoulders and the dipping fishtail back. Right, white Venise type lace flounces enhance this black velvet "pantalette" dress.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Making up in swank and swish what they lack in length, short evening dresses and suits gain a reputation as the season's flirts with their pantalette petticoats, slit hemlines, beautiful drapery, mantilla sleeves, saucy bustles and ultra-feminine accessories.

Designed for theater or cocktail wear or de luxe restaurant dining, the formal suit can be recognized by its sumptuous fabric and a bustle or fishtail jacket. Suits of brocade, damask, taffeta or satin often gleam with the added shine of jewels.

Dashing Accessory

Umbrellas sheathed in fancy cases are adding considerable dash to feminine costumes this season. When they can be strapped on, as does Mrs. Walter Thornton's cobra-cased umbrella, shown, they leave arms free to carry other things, and the risk of losing a rainy-day friend is greatly reduced.

Man Is Not A Bee

We Americans usually speak of communism as if it were a foreign economic organism. But it might be well to remember that communism has been practiced here by various groups for over a century. Robert Owens' experiment in New Harmony, Ind., began in 1825, more than 20 years before Karl Marx's manifesto appeared. There was the famous Brook Farm in Massachusetts, and there were various experiments by the followers of Francois Fourier.

And there was the Amana Society of Iowa, whose whirl at communism lasted longer than any to date. Nelson Antrim Crawford tells its interesting story in the American magazine, under the title "Communism Goes Broke in Iowa".

The Amana Society, a religious group, adopted communism in 1855 and stuck with it for 77 years. Its seven communities were situated on 26,000 acres of Iowa's richest farm land. Its credo was found not in Marx, but in the Scriptures: "None of them said aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common."

Amana followed the text to the letter. Everything—work, shelter, food—was by and for the community. The only concession was $5 or $10 a month spending money for each family. "A purported divine revelation," says Crawford, threatened backsliders with various woes in this world and the next, and served to keep possible doubters in line.

The only trouble was that Amana's communism didn't work well. It got off on even terms with capitalism. But while surrounding communities thrived, Amana, for all its rich land, lagged far behind.

The reason for this was the usual one—lack of incentive. Productivity was low because there was no reward for doing better. As one Amana man told Crawford: "What communists never seem to realize is that man is not a bee."

Amana permitted a few of its brighter youngsters to go outside the community for high school and college education, on the promise that they would return. But many came back from this liberation discontented with the old life. That, plus poverty, finally forced a change. Communism was abolished in favor of a community corporation with the adult residents as stockholders.

Farming and industry have been flourishing ever since. It is estimated that this year the Amana Society, with a total population of 1200, will produce $6,000,000 worth of crops, livestock and manufactured goods. In the lush years of 1928 and 1929, with the same acreage and a population of 1000, the annual production was only $600,000.

Amana was a laboratory test of pure communism in an auspicious environment. Amana doubtless was free of some of the evils of private capitalism as it is practiced. But it could not offer the comfort, health and fair opportunity for the pursuit of happiness which American capitalism, for all its shortcomings, provides.

Some Russian economists admit that the Soviet Union really isn't practicing communism today. But when it does, they imply, Russia will be Utopia. Yet here was pure communism, and it didn't work.

It didn't work mainly because man's nature is not changed when someone tells him that it is only right to strive for the general good, and that it is evil to seek individual happiness and comfort. Maybe that theory is right. But man remains a man and not a bee. And communism remains a little less wonderful than advertised.

Gratitude

John L. Lewis, absent from the United Mine Workers convention because of illness, must have been touched by the tributes which that gathering paid him. We doubt he was also embarrassed, though he might well have been.

For the convention delegates offered 63 resolutions proposing salary increases for Lewis and other officers, but only one proposing an increase for themselves—and that by reduced working time rather than more money.

This set us thinking of Lewis' annual address to the operators and the country at contract negotiating time. Each year he almost succeeds in moving the flinty-hearted bosses to tears with a majestic, emotion-packed description of his miners' sorry plight. When he's finished telling of their squalid homes, their poor pay, their discomfort and danger and callous exploitation, there's scarcely a dry eye in the house.

But here are the miners, forgetful of their well-publicized suffering, urging more money on Lewis. It seems the gesture of a happy and affluent group of men toward one who has done a wonderful job for them.

We still don't believe the miners are that well off. Perhaps John L. charms them as completely as he captivates the operators and the government.

Atomic Highball

A method has been announced whereby the potency of Vitamin A is increased eight times by mixing it with water.

It is undoubtedly just as well for the human race that no one has devised a formula for making whisky react in a similar manner.

Whenever the unexpected happens somebody always knew it was going to occur.

Downing Addresses Monahans Meeting

MONAHANS—Using "Let's Go Forward To Normalcy" as his subject, Delbert Downing of Midland addressed a district Rotary meeting here Thursday night.

About 75 persons attended the inter-city ladies' night banquet, with large delegations from Pecos and Monahans attending. Visitors from Midland besides Downing were Fred Wemple, Carl Wevat, and Ed Fausett.

Downing pointed out that while persons talk of returning to normalcy, they really don't want the "normal" events of the period from 1926 to 1945 which included a stock market crash, depression, hardships and war. The real America lies in the future, he added.

Odessa Carbon Black Plant To Be Sold Soon

DALLAS—Cutoff date for receiving bids on the sale of the Odessa carbon black plant has been set at November 20 at 3 p. m., by R. C. Cralle, acting deputy regional director of the Office of Real Property Disposals, Dallas regional office, War Assets Administration. WAA representatives will be at Odessa and in other parts of West Texas after November 5 to interest prospective purchasers, Cralle said.

The Odessa plant, which cost the government more than $9,000,000, comprises 23 principle buildings besides 416 burner buildings on 400 acres of land. It was designed to manufacture 41,000,000 pounds of carbon black annually.

AP Announces Grid Selections

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK—(AP)—Notre Dame customarily has no more luck visiting Iowa City on a football mission than this forecaster has with his weekly predictions. This time, however, the Irish should chalk up their first triumph in the Hawkeye State.

Two times in the past the Irish have invaded Iowa City with unbeaten teams, as they will again this weekend. And two times an underdog Iowa eleven has triumphed.

Other selections:
Army over Duke: Duke is the team Coach Earl-Blaik of Army feared above all others as the season started.

Southern California over Stanford: The Trojans apparently came to a week ago in their 28 to 0 win over Washington.

Tennessee over Wake Forest: Unless the Vols are dreaming too much about their 12 to 0 victory over Alabama last week they should have little difficulty.

Favors Texas
Texas over Rice: One of the country's great teams meets a good club.

Harvard over Holy Cross: This is the time that a stubborn defense will prove the better offense.

Penn over Navy: Tony Minisi spurred the Middies to a close win over the Quakers a year ago but this time he is wearing a Penn uniform.

Oklahoma A&M over Texas Christian: Bob Fenimore is back in tip-top shape and the Cowboys should start roaming again.

Ohio State over Minnesota: It has been a long time since a Minnesota team has gone into a Big Nine fray pointing, with pride to its aerial attack. It won't be enough.

California over Washington: For the second straight Saturday the Huskies will see more of the state of California than they desire.

Michigan over Illinois: The Illini haven't been beaten since they upset Tom Harmon and Company in 1939.

Missouri over Southern Methodist: Since that first game, against Texas, Missouri has traveled forward every week despite a long injury list.

MONTGOMERY ADVOCATES PLAN TO GET RECRUITS
EDINBURGH—(AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery advocated Friday a guarantee of civilian employment for men who volunteer for peacetime service in the British army as a means to boost enlistment, which he said was "not so good."

RETURNS FROM NEW YORK
Mrs. Hubert L. Goodman has returned from New York City where she attended the wedding of her son, J. B. Goodman, seaman second class, U. S. Navy.

BUSINESS VISITOR
Blake Duncan of San Angelo was a business visitor in Midland Friday.

Ranking next in importance will be Austin's tussle with Brackenridge at San Antonio. The game between these unbeaten, untied powers will be the first round in the District 15 title hunt. Austin's Maroons also may lose their top rating in the state.

The next round in the championship campaign in this district will be between the Austin-Brackenridge winner and Thomas Jefferson, the team that pitched Corpus Christi to the side lines last week just when the Buccaneers were basking in the glory of second ranking.

Wichita Vs. Highland Park
Another outstanding game will be Wichita Falls vs. Highland Park at Dallas. Wichita Falls has come forward like the wind in recent weeks and the test with Highland Park, which has twice been defeated but still looked very good, will show whether Wichita Falls is worthy of its No. 3 rating.

There are 44 games on the week's schedule, the shortest card of the season, but 29 are conference affairs.

District 3 schedule: Friday—North Side (Fort Worth) at Big Spring, Odessa at San Angelo (conference), Sweetwater at Lamesa (conference), Midland at Abilene (conference).

More than two dozen airlines have been set up in the United States exclusively for cargo-carrying.

Pace Says Cotton Farmers Want Price Support Continued

LUBBOCK—(AP)—Cotton farmers throughout the South want a continued price support program with parity payments and increase and expansion of the one-variety cotton program, Rep. Steve Pace (D-Ga.), chairman of a special congressional agriculture subcommittee, said here.

Pace, in summarizing testimony received at a hearing here Thursday, said views presented by West Texas cotton farmers were almost identical with those of other cotton states.

He said the testimony also favored including of production costs in calculation of parity prices, continuation and expansion of the soil conservation program on a voluntary basis, a more flexible plan for quota allotments and a normal annual cotton carryover of approximately four million bales.

Similar hearings have been held in Tennessee, Missouri, Arkansas and Mississippi. They were designed to help legislators in drafting a revised production control and price support program on cotton.

Waters from Minnesota drain into Hudson Bay, the Atlantic Ocean, and the Gulf of Mexico.

Bulldogs Head For Battle With Abilene's Eagles

The Midland High School Bulldogs at full-strength and determined, left by bus and cars Friday morning for Abilene, where in Fair Park Stadium at 8 p. m. they meet the AHS Eagles in a 3-AA District football game.

A large following of fans is expected to be in Abilene by game time to boost the Midlanders.

The game is a crucial one for Midland. The Bulldogs are being tested after dropping a 33-6 game to Sweetwater. And for the Eagles the test is important. The Eagles lost to Odessa two weeks ago, 26-21.

It promises to be a battle of the airlines. Abilene features sharp passing to two elongated ends, the tallest in the district. Midland can counter with Bobby Cole to Dunny Goode.

Goode is Ready
Goode, a fleet wingback, is back in the Midland lineup after favoring a game knee for two days.

Always close and colorful is the Midland-Abilene 3-AA affair. The Eagles have copped two in a row.

Coached by Pete Shotwell, one of the deans of Texas' mentors, Abilene is dangerous. It has the most improved team in the conference. Midland will depend once again upon its lightning-opening plays and spinners or passes. Abilene has the weight advantage.

The Eagles sprang from the T-formation and from the single and double wing formations.

Midland has looked ragged in workouts but got sharper as the game approached. The Bulldogs rested last weekend and came back into action slowly.

Friday night is the test! The game could mean the telling point of a successful Midland season. The Bulldogs are ready!

Texas-Rice Game Tops Conference Gridiron Menu

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas plays Rice Saturday and that's the No. 1 interest for Southwestern Conference football fans.

Baylor and Texas A&M play a conference game at Waco and it's quite important to the Aggies but the Texas-Rice contest takes priority over everything.

Texas, as usual, will be the favorite. It's getting monotonous to the Longhorns to always be picked as the team to win—especially in view of the fact that they haven't beaten Rice since 1943.

Texas A&M should trample Baylor's Bears but it's about time for one of those Baylor upsets.

Three circuit members play outside the conference seeking to improve an already good intersection-1 record. Conference teams have won seven and tied three in thirteen games played with teams from other regions.

Texas Christian's Horned Frogs meet Oklahoma A&M at Oklahoma City Friday night while Saturday Arkansas' Razorbacks will be swatting at Mississippi at Memphis and Southern Methodist will be playing Missouri at Columbia. TCU and SMU are generally expected to lose but Arkansas is picked at every turn to trim Ole Miss.

"Girl Makes Good" is the title of this story. Last year Jane Peters, above, of Canton, Ohio, won the title of "Miss Ohio State University" and with it a screen test in Hollywood. She waited so long there for a decision on the test that she became discouraged and started home just as the film moguls decided she'd do. They had to chase her across the country to give her a contract. Now she has been tapped for the coveted role of Catana in the forthcoming film, "Captain From Castile."

Time Runs Out On 'B' Bulldogs And 'B' Bronchos Win, 20 To 19

By TANNER LAINE
Time ran out on the Midland "B" Bulldogs on the two-yard line of the Odessa "B" Bronchos in a game which the visitors won, 20 to 19, Thursday night in the high school stadium here.

Midland drove deep into Odessa territory with precious seconds ticking off. The Bulldogs got a first down on the 12-yard line with little time left. They gouged to the 11, then the 9, then the 5, and on the last play were very near a first down on the 2. The exciting tilt ended at that point, before the officials indicated first down or whether the ball went over.

It was a game the sharp-running Midlanders should have won. They had a fat lead of 19 points to Odessa's 0 at the half. But the little Bronchos came back strongly, top strongly for the Bulldogs.

The foe of Rudy Nichols, Broncho quarterback, then was the difference. He kicked two extra points after touchdowns and one was the all-important marker. Midland scored early in the first quarter when a beautiful punt by Don Hamblett, "B" back, set back Odessa to its 5-yard line and Ken Goode, end and one of the best men on the field for the night, hauled down the ball carrier on the 2-yard line. The Bronchos punted weakly out on their own 35-yard marker and from there Midland went driving over. Goode scored the touchdown from the 9-yard line on an end-around play. Punches by Arnold Baker took the ball to the 9. Buster Buckingham's placekick for extra point was low.

The "B" Bulldogs scored again in the early second quarter. The drive for score was good for 70 yards. Hamblett made the tally with a straight center stab at the line from one yard out. Joe Filler ran over the extra point and it was Midland 13 and Odessa 0. Hamblett, Baker and Goode ate up the yardage to get in scoring distance. Hamblett ran 31 yards, after finding no pass receivers open, to get to the 34. Goode on his favorite play, the end-around, set a first down on the 19. Hamblett bolted to the five. In three plays he was over.

Coach Aubra Noncaster's boys tallied again in the second quarter. Filler powered over from the three-yard line on a spinner. The run for point was stopped. The drive started squarely on the 50-yard line, after Al Germon for Midland had recovered an Odessa fumble. Baker was in on the yard-gaining to set up the touchdown aided by Larry Messerschmidt.

Wow! The Odessans came back mightily. They drove 90 yards to a touchdown after taking the second half kickoff. Doc Mobley (and he must be related to the Hardin-Simmons Doc Mobley), who was a bolt of running all this half for Odessa, made the touchdown with a quick plunge into the open to a score after 15 yards. Nichols placekicked the extra point. It was Midland 19, Odessa 7.

Fumble Hurts
A fumble by the Bulldogs and recovery by Odessa on the Midland 19 set up the next Broncho score. Marshall, fullback, made it with a 14-yard run wide to the right and sliding back over. Nichols booted the extra point to make it Midland 19, Odessa 14.

Then Mobley made the winning touchdown for Odessa in the fourth quarter. He threaded over from the two-yard line after the visitors recovered a Midland fumble on their 35. Nichols' try for point was blocked.

Odessa came surging back but their song became "Five Minutes More". Goode's fine running on end-around plays, Hamblett's punting and running, Baker's powerful runs, and some nice blocking by Richard Clark, helped Midland, but it was not quite enough. In fact it lacked one point.

AP Rates Austin Over Odessa And Sweetwater 4th

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Austin's Maroons, who have been clinging to the No. 1 spot all season in Texas schoolboy football, will get their first real test this week when they meet the undefeated, untied Brackenridge Eagles at San Antonio.

It now appears Austin has only two very strong teams to worry about in the District 15 race instead of three. Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio exploded Corpus Christi's dreams last week with an 18-7 upset. It thumbed Corpus Christi from second to nineteenth in the ratings and shoved Jefferson up to fifth place.

Odessa's Broncs, who walloped Amarillo 26-13, moved into second place from second to nineteenth in the ratings and shoved Jefferson up to fifth place.

A number of games this week can change the ratings materially but here's how they look now:

1. Austin.
2. Odessa.
3. Wichita Falls.
4. Sweetwater.
5. Jefferson (San Antonio).
6. Brackenridge (San Antonio).
7. Marshall.
8. Sherman.
9. Galveston.
10. Orange.
11. Borger.
12. Amarillo.
13. Waco.
14. Laredo.
15. Gainesville.
16. Graham.
17. Highland Park (Dallas).
18. Lamar (Houston).
19. Corpus Christi.
20. North Side (Fort Worth).
21. Sunset (Dallas).
22. Lufkin.
23. Paschal (Fort Worth).
24. Waxahachie.
25. Jeff Davis (Houston).

DOWN SPORTSLANE

—TANNER LAINE—

Feelers are out from Howard Green, who sparked Abilene's entry in the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League, for the possibility of organizing a minor circuit taking in Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, Lamesa, San Angelo, and other ranch and oil belt cities.

A group from Ballinger contacted Green and informed him that the city is ready to begin construction of its park if such a league can be organized.

A San Angelo sportsman is ready to get things rolling down in the Concho country. Big Spring appears ready to fall into line. Lamesa (dropping out of the WT-NM) and Coleman are possibilities.

Only six cities are needed for a good, compact little league, one with plenty of natural rivalry. Speedy action, though, is needed. Green believes the franchise owners could make some dough out of the project and at the same time provide real summer recreation for the fans to watch.

If the ball park of A. T. Pierce and I. B. Ridgeway goes through, Midland would have an excellent plant. Is anybody here interested in baseball coming back to Midland? Contact SL and we will pass the word along to Green.

The league would be a D-loop.

Rose Bowl Definitely Out For Texas Steers

DALLAS —(P)—Don't look for Texas in the Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Orange Bowl or any bowl except the Cotton Bowl January 1 if it wins the Southwest Conference championship and finishes the season undefeated—which it is favored to do.

Reports which persist that Texas will, if it goes through unbeaten, ask the conference for permission to play at Pasadena were the kind which caused the conference to reaffirm its close relations with the Cotton Bowl, Dr. Gayle Scott of Texas Christian University, president of the conference, said Thursday in indicating the conference would not grant such permission.

In a statement responding to a question from The Associated Press, Dr. Scott declared:
"The conference at its regular meeting May 8, 1942, passed the following motion: 'That the conference commits its champion to the Cotton Bowl game; if that team does not accept the Cotton Bowl game, it shall not be permitted to play any other championship game.'"

"At the regular meeting of the conference December 8, 1945, the following motion was passed: 'That there is no change in the relation of the conference to the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association. The conference is committed to the support of the Cotton Bowl game.'"

"Bear Ye One Another's Burdens..."

There are great lessons in commonplace objects! The chain, for example, is a parable of Brotherhood. Its rough, weathered links, grasping one another firmly as they lend their strength to a common burden, silently echo a Bible command.

Strange, is it not, that men—whose inventive genius created the chain—have been slow to apply its simple principle in human undertakings? Into lifeless iron we have molded the strength of cooperation; but in a living society we have let selfishness and individualism destroy noble ideals.

"Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ." One of the many lessons in wholesome living which the Church teaches men!

Wise is the man who seeks and heeds these truths! Happy the community whose citizens, as church-goers, apply their faith to life!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For the sake of his children's sake. (2) For his own sake, of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

AUSTRALIA TO GET STONE FROM ALAMO

SAN ANTONIO.—(AP)—A small piece of stone from the Alamo, shrine of Texas, was requested by Mayor Gus B. Mauermann of San Antonio Thursday to be incorporated in a national war memorial in Australia. The mayor made public the letter from G. E.
Deverne, director of the memorial association of Brisbane. He said the request will be complied with.

The Australian stated an effort is being made to get a stone from each of the 48 states of the United States to be incorporated into the building and that 33 had complied to date.

Longer Women's Skirts Have Been Legalized

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Longer
skirts, for which women generally have been hankering since the end of the war, have become legal with a suddenness that left the trade gasping.

The Civilian Production Administration dropped all the limitations on women's clothes—its order known as L85—which it imposed originally banned three-piece ensembles sold as a unit, restricted the length and fullness of skirts, and limited the amount of material that could be used for sleeves, cuffs, pockets and trimmings.

DOLLAR-A-YEAR MEN GET A 20 CENT RAISE

HILLSBORO.—(AP)—Times are improving, even for dollar-a-year men.

When City Secretary A. M. James
first became a cooperative observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau in 1943 he received $1 a year.

He said he gets $1.20 a year now.
But he has to pay a withholding tax on it.

Vestal's Flowers Is Floral Company Which Has Remodeled, Decorated

Vestal's Flowers, a Midland business for seven years, has just been completely remodeled and redecorated.

The location of this well-known

Checker Cab Co. Is Member Of Southwest Taxicab Association

The Checker Cab Company of Midland is a member of the Southwestern Taxi Association, which includes 80 member companies in Texas.

Association with the organized unit brings to its members many advantages. For example, the STA is now engaged in a campaign to stress better relationships between taxi drivers and the public they serve.

The association pools its ideas and survey results. It determines how individual members can iron out their problems with profit from the experience of some other unit members.

Many Good Ideas

H. C. Watson, who is manager of the Checker Cab Company, recently attended a meeting of the Southwestern Taxi Association held in San Angelo. And he brought back many good ideas for his company.

Watson is well-known in the taxi business in Midland having been in that type of business for seven years here. The Checker Cab Company was 10 months old last Sunday. It has grown into one of the leading companies in the city. It stresses safe and speedy conveyance with courtesy. The Checker Cab Company keeps its six cabs in perfect condition. Nine dependable drivers are employed.

The Checker Cab Company has learned from its membership with the Southwestern Taxi Association that all over the state there is a growing concern for better service from courteous drivers. And Checker Cab conforms. It insists on that.

FAST POLICEMAN HOUSTON.—(AP)—Two Houston detectives claim a record of sorts. E. S. Sterns and S. G. Farris came to work at 9 p. m.

Within six minutes they checked in, started work, drove five blocks, spotted a stolen automobile, and jailed the thief on a charge of felony theft.

The remodeling and redecoration at Vestal's included raising of the roof and other general repairs to the display room of the concern.
The display room is glass-enclosed and beautifully decorated. Flowers add to the attractiveness.

Mrs. M. W. Vestal is owner and operator of the floral company and its service reputation is known throughout the city.

Now Is "Mum" Season

Vestal's handles all types of flowers, pot plants and bedding plants. Right now is the chrysanthemum season and Vestal's reminds the women it is smart to wear a "mum" to football games and other Fall festivities.

The slogan of the firm is "Beautify the Occasion With—Vestal's Flowers." And that brings up Ves-tal's fine service for party flowers and wedding decorations. Beautiful corsages can be obtained at the concern. Vestal's is ready to serve customers with the right flowers for all occasions.

Vestal's does not grow its flowers but has quick and prompt service, which works to get the orders here in the minimum of time.
Flowers of the type needed immediately are on hand.

Shade of Sycamore

By PERCY MARKS Author of "The Plastic Age" "A Tree Grown Straight" Etc.

XXIX

GAYLE, white and shaken, was half way down the stairs next morning when she heard the maid saying, "I'll tell her, but Mrs. Bartlett isn't well."

"It's all right, Jane," she called. "I'm coming."

She met her mother-in-law at the front door. "Come in, please," she said. "I'm not sick—just tired; that's all."

Mrs. Bartlett murmured her regrets and moved into the living room, with Gayle following. Once they were seated, she lighted a cigaret and considered Gayle thoughtfully before speaking. She looked especially handsome, Gayle thought, in a blue suit and small, pert hat. She unfastened her sable neckpiece and tossed it on the arm of the davenport. Then she spoke.

"Bruce came home last night," she began, "to Sycamore, and he brought three tickets for speeding with him." She sighed. "He was very difficult."

Gayle said nothing. There seemed to be nothing for her to say.

Mrs. Bartlett stubbed her cigaret in a tray. "I have never seen him so moved," she went on. "He was quite beside himself. He can't lose you and Kent, my dear."

Then Gayle spoke. "He has lost us."

"Oh, no! That must not be; it simply must not be. He adores you—simply adores you, my dear."

Words were being forced from Gayle, and so she spoke them. "It doesn't matter any longer," she said, her voice utterly toneless.

"But it does; it does, my dear. I am selfish, I know; I confess it. I am thinking of my boy—of his happiness. He simply can't be separated from you and Kent."

"Please, Mrs. Bartlett," Gayle held up her hand in protest. "I can't go over all this again. Bart hasn't had any consideration for Kent or me. I've been a faithful settlement. There is no need to go to court about these matters. I promise you he will be generous."

Then Gayle smiled. Even at that moment the fiction of Bruce acting for himself struck her as amusing. "You mean you'll be generous," she said. "I know Bart hasn't anything of his own. But I don't want anything, Mrs. Bartlett. You don't understand. I don't want the house, and I don't want an allowance or a settlement. I merely want to be free."

IN spite of herself, Mrs. Bartlett gasped. She had made the offer in the face of Bart's violent objections. He had stridden up and down her room roaring that he wouldn't let Gayle have one damned cent. "I told her she'd be sorry," he had said over and over again, "and she's going to be. She can starve for all I care."

Carefully she had explained to him that Bruce Bartlett could not deprive his wife and child of support. The publicity would be unendurable. He must be generous; he must be more than generous. The larger the sum he settled on Gayle, the more credit he would receive—and the less she would. It was Mrs. Bartlett's object to shower so much money on Gayle that to the public she would seem necessary and grasping. And now Gayle had refused to accept any money whatever.

"But, Gayle," she protested. "my dear, you aren't thinking. Don't you realize that Kent will some day be the heir to the Bartlett estate? He will be a very rich man some day."

"No, he won't. He won't be the heir when I'm divorced. I remember the will. If Bart should die before you do, you can do what you please with the estate. Don't let him have it. He's not your heir, and he's not Bart's."

Once in her car again, Mrs. Bartlett's eyes sparkled with bafflement and rage. She had come as a Greek bearing gifts, but the gates had been shut and they would not open. There must be some other way, though. There was bound to be a way. . . .

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKINNEY America's Card Authority

The American Contract Bridge League has long been interested in the fight against cancer in children. At the summer national tournament last August, the members of the League approved a resolution not only to continue their work in this fight, but to interest themselves in the fight against all cancer, in adults as well as children. At the winter nationals, which will be held at the Hollywood Beach Hotel in Hollywood, Fla., Mrs. Wilkinson Wagar, of Atlanta, Ga., will probably present some plan for this cause to the women's national committee, of which she is president.

Mrs. Wagar is a Life Master and, in my opinion, one of the most brilliant of all our players. Her free and easy style often proves deceptive to her opponents. In a recent rubber bridge game she opened with a game bid in hearts on to day's hand, and there was nothing that the opponents could do about it.

She trumped the opening spade lead and then led a trump, hoping to drop the singleton jack. When it did fall, she led another trump.

Then, in that free and easy fashion of hers, she led the four of clubs. Now be quite honest—would you go in with the queen if you were West? I doubt it, and West did not; so Mrs. Wagar won with the jack in dummy, then played a small diamond. She finessed the jack, East won, and all Mrs. Wagar had to lose on the hand was another diamond.

Mrs. Wagar said she had thought that there was very little likelihood of dropping the queen by playing the ace and king of clubs. She figured that if West held the queen, in all probability he would not go up. She was right.

comfort and convenience for one's cows will mean a lot to winter milk production. Provide good shelter and locate feed racks and water troughs where the cows won't have to brave the winter winds to eat and drink. Another point to check now is the mineral supply the cow is getting. Lots of milk fever is found in Ward County. The fever may set in before or after calving and is usually due to a lack of mineral, especially calcium. Give special attention to minerals and vitamin content in dairy cows and remember to handle cows on a regular schedule.

Production Guides Feeding

Any cow worth keeping is entitled to all roughage including pasture she eats. The concentrated feed (grain mixture) should be fed according to production. If your cow is getting good alfalfa hay all she wants she should get about three pounds of grain mixture per day for each gallon of milk produced daily. When you feed non-legume hay she should receive about four pounds of grain mixture per day to each gallon of milk produced per day. A good cow should receive some concentrated feed every day in the year regardless of whether she is fresh or dry. When the cow is dry she needs building up so that she will have a reserve from which to draw during the next lactation period.

Balmorra Water Project To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Construction on two Texas reclamation projects will continue under a $25,000,000 increase in the Reclamation Bureau's limitation on public works spending.

Under the increase, the bureau said that 38 projects would be continued. Those in Texas were the Balmorra water conservation-utility project and the Rio Grande project of New Mexico also was included.

Ward County Farm And Cattle News

MONAHANS—Fern Tatom of Monahans is carrying on complete external parasite control program on his registered and grade herd cattle. Tatom has used DDT spray for control of horn flies and lice all summer. Now he is using rotenone spray of 7 1/2 pounds of 5 per cent rotenone in 100 gallons of water for the control of the grub and Stock 1029 for the control of the ear tick. It pays to keep them free from external parasites, it means more money in your pocket book. Cattle will gain a pound of beef a day more and now that is real money but it is real money any time.

A saving on fertilizer to farmers in Ward County of $3.15 per acre on cotton will be available this year by mixing 100 pounds of 32-0-0 fertilizer with 0-40-0 fertilizer. For further information about this program see your county agent.

Cotton ginned in Ward County as of Monday totaled 2,140 bales. Grandfall community will gin about 400 bales less this year than last with Bestow showing a greater reduction.

The use of sulphur in a demonstration on cotton and alfalfa will be run in Ward County next year. Sulphur will be used as an agent to unlock plant foods now in the soil that are present but not available because the proper media is unfavorable for the proper bacteria to function properly.

Plan now for a new garden plot next year, if you have land available. Move your garden to new ground every three years. Plans are underway for the control of the nematodes for those of us who can't have a new garden plot every third year.

Check Cows This Month

Milk cows that can't pay their way should be sold now. Save feed money and labor by getting rid of those low producers, the Ward County agent suggests.

As cold rainy days are ahead,

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

THE DOUBLES HAVE ALWAYS HATED THE LITS EVER SINCE MOTHER FIRED THEIR FATHER AS CARETAKER, AND SHU DOUBLE—

WE CAN SAVE THE VITAL STATISTICS UNTIL LATER, JANET. JUST HOW DO YOU EXPECT US TO HELP YOUR BROTHER TONIGHT?

I THOUGHT WE COULD SIMPLY DRIFT DOWN ON THE LEDGE, VIC, BY 10 O'CLOCK, WE SHOULD BE NEAR ENOUGH TO HEAR SOMETHING, EVEN IF IT'S TOO DARK TO SEE.

TO SEE WHAT, HONEYBEE? BROTHER CLIP GET POPPED?

BE AN ANGEL, HARDY, DARLING, AND LET VIC HANDLE THIS. IT'S HIS BUSINESS.

Kaiser And Frazer Cars Go On Display At Opening Of Noble Holt Company

Kaiser and Frazer automobiles will be introduced in Midland Saturday with the grand opening of the Noble Holt Motor Company at 110 South Baird Street.

On display at the opening of the garage, in the building formerly known as the Charlton Garage, will be two 1947 cars, a green four-door Kaiser sedan and a gray four-door Frazer.

The owner of the new Midland firm is Noble Holt, well-known cattleman who ranches in the Big Lake area. Connally Frank of Whitney, Texas, is the manager.

The new cars were shipped to Midland from the famous Willow Run plant in Michigan, which with its 84 acres under roof, was one of the largest bomber plants in the world during World War II.

Service, parts, and repairs will be available at the Noble Holt garage after the building has been remodeled, Holt pointed out.

Holt will continue to live in Big Lake, while Frank will make his home in Midland.

Children Love Scraps
WASHINGTON, G. A. — (AP)—Machinist Zeno Young is a scrapmaster with a sense of fun. Out of odds and ends—an oil drum, a length of stove pipe, a few nuts and bolts—he has installed in his backyard such children's delights as a miniature train that hauls passengers around a wooden track, a small ferris wheel and airplane wings.

Gray squirrels may travel a hundred miles or more from their birthplace.

Vet Company To Build 111 Homes In Abilene
ABILENE —(AP)—Construction of 111 homes in a new addition here is planned by a group of veterans organized as Veterans Housing Inc., to build their own homes.

The $30,000 corporation was granted a charter Wednesday. President of the Board of Directors, John Griffin said all stockholders are World War I veterans.

In an effort to reduce costs, the corporation will be the prime contractor and will employ a construction superintendent and labor.

These Long Distance circuits are really busy!

There are so many long distance calls nowadays—particularly to near-by points—that existing circuits and equipment are hard pressed to handle them all. Even so, most calls go through while you hold the line, and operators are doing their best to complete every call in the shortest time possible.

Throughout the country more long distance operators are handling more calls than ever before, and we are adding new switchboards and more circuits as fast as shortages of copper, lead, steel, and other materials will let us.

We're working toward the day when YOU can say, "Long distance is better than ever!"
