Intra-Party Strife Looms As GOP Policy Session Nears

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The prospect of intra-party strife over divvying up the spoils tempered Republican elation Thursday over the party's landslide victory in Tuesday's election.

Party leaders arranging for policy sessions starting next week were bedeviled by the first sweet taste of political victory in 15 years may be soured by fights for top congressional posts.

But the leaders appeared confident of one thing: whatever fights may develop during the jockeying for position will be reconciled quickly enough to permit a united front when Republicans organize the Senate and House of the 80th Congress on January 3.

Between November 14, when the Republican House Steering Committee meets, and January 3, GOP leaders expect to pick a slate of officers for party caucus ratification and to erect the framework of their legislative policy.

High on the policy agenda are decisions on: 1. Taxes—whether to cut individual income taxes by 20 per cent, or $3,000,000,000, as Republican Representative Knutson (Minn.) insists should be done quickly. Knutson's is in line for the chairmanship of the tax-writing ways and means committee.

2. Price controls—whether to finish off OPA in short order rather than allow the agency to linger on until June 30.

3. Federal spending—specifically, how to balance the budget if taxes are cut.

The major organizational battle is expected to revolve around selection of a floor leader in the House. There is no one on the horizon to challenge the bid of Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts for the speakership to be vacated when Sam Rayburn of Texas steps down from the rostrum to take his place with the Democratic minority.

Unofficial Returns Gives Chavez Lead In N. Mexico Race

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—Senator Chavez (D-NM), on the basis of incomplete and unofficial returns from Tuesday's election, has been re-elected to the seat he has held 11 years, defeating Republican Patrick J. Hurley, Secretary of War in the Hoover cabinet.

With the vote in from all except scattered, small precincts, many of which were snowbound and may not have held elections at all, Chavez had a lead of more than 5,000 votes over Hurley, who resigned early this year as ambassador to China.

The fighting Hurley refused to concede and he would await the official canvass or perhaps a court contest. Ballot boxes of four counties—Rio Arriba, San Miguel, McKinley and Valencia—which gave Chavez strong majorities were impounded Wednesday by court order.

No reason was given for the impounding actions except protection of "the best interests of all concerned." Hurley would not say that he proposed to file a contest himself.

Funeral Services Are Held For Dunagan In First Baptist Church

Funeral services for Clint M. Dunagan, 37, outstanding civic leader and businessman of Midland who was killed in an airplane crash, were held Wednesday afternoon in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Vernon Yearby officiating. The Rev. Hubert Hopper assisted in the services.

Dunagan was killed Tuesday in the accident near Lampasas, Texas, and his sister, Mrs. Ernest Neill, 32, was injured seriously. Reports from the Lampasas hospital Wednesday indicated her condition continues to improve.

The businessman, a past president of Texas Jaycees, had received many honors for his civic work, and Midland businessmen and civic workers paused to pay tribute to him at the services. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery.

Surviving are his widow and four children, Clinton Franklin, Marilyn Ann, Walter Benton, and Stephen Michael; his father, H. B. Dunagan; his grandfather, C. B. Dunagan, both of Midland; a brother, H. B. Dunagan, Jr., of Austin, and his sister, Mrs. Neill.

Funeral services were held at 11:30 a. m. at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Vernon Yearby officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Legionnaires Urge Friends To Vote For Amendment

Tom Sealy, vice-commander of the American Legion post in Midland, urged Legionnaires and their friends to vote Thursday on the proposed State Constitution amendment to create a Veterans Land Board with authority to designate approximately 10,000 separate tracts of land to Texas veterans of World War II.

The polls close at 7 p. m. Under the proposed Constitutional change veterans will be eligible to buy the land for as little as 10 per cent down and 40 years to pay the balance.

The proposed amendment was passed unanimously by both the House and Senate of the 49th Legislature. It provides the Veterans Land Board will be composed of a governor, attorney general, and commissioner of the general land office. Such a board is given authority to issue, in concurrence with the Legislature, bonds up to 25 million dollars for purchase of additional lands from the Federal Government, individuals and other state agencies located in every sector of the state for sale to veterans.

U. S. Owns 2,400,000 Acres
The federal government now holds two million four hundred thousand acres of land in this state which, under the proposed board, would be sold to veterans and developed into farms and ranches owned by veterans.

Under the proposed plan veterans would not be required to "homestead" or live upon the land and neither would they be prohibited from selling their equity. With every purchase possible, the state would also include a seven-eighths mineral fee interest in sulfur and a fifteen-sixteenths mineral fee interest in oil and gas.

US Demands Rights Over Jap Mandates In Pacific Area

By MAX HARRELSON
LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—The United States made it clear Thursday that she would reserve sweeping rights, especially military, in the Japanese mandated islands.

President Truman offered Wednesday night to place under United Nations trusteeship. The U. S. terms for turning the islands—the Marshalls, Carolines and Marianas—over to the UN are contained in a draft agreement now being circulated among the 11 members of the security council and two other nations, New Zealand and the Philippines.

The draft agreement not only reserves to the United States unrestricted rights to establish military, naval and air bases within the trust territory, but provides that any or all of the area may be declared closed for security reasons. This means that the United States would be able to bar UN inspection of the entire area if she desired to do so.

Other sweeping provisions of the agreement: 1. The United States, as the sole administering authority, could bar the aircraft of any other nation from entering the area, which is 1,500 miles long and 800 miles wide and contains approximately 1,500 islands of various sizes.

2. The United States would reserve the right to give certain economic privileges exclusively to American nations.

3. The terms of the agreement could not be altered, amended or terminated without the consent of the United States.

Fireman Killed In TP Freight Wreck

DALLAS—(AP)—The fireman was killed and the engineer was injured when the engine and 28 cars of a Texas and Pacific freight train overturned six miles west of Jefferson, Texas, late Wednesday night.

R. C. Parker, general superintendent of the railroad here, said F. L. Mimms, 35, Mineola, Texas, fireman, was killed and that Cecil Simpson of Mineola, the engineer, was slightly hurt.

Parker said the cause of the derailment had not been determined. He placed the time at approximately 11 p. m. There were about 70 cars in the freight which was bound from St. Louis to Houston and San Antonio.

Russia Celebrates 29th Anniversary Of Bolshevik Revolt

MOSCOW—(AP)—Thousands thronged Red Square Thursday to witness a display of Soviet military might in a celebration of the 29th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution highlighted by an order of the day declaring Russia preparedness was necessary to guarantee peace and security throughout the world.

The parade began after the usual formal greeting to troops, delivered by Marshal Leonid Govorov, 49-year-old hero of Leningrad.

(Moscow dispatches gave no indication that Prime Minister Stalin attended the celebrations. The fact that the speech preceding the parade was delivered by Govorov suggested that, for the second successive year, Stalin shunned the limelight. Likewise, the order of the day was signed by the deputy minister for defense and not by the prime minister. A year ago Stalin broke a precedent by allowing Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to deliver the "State of the Nation" address, and did not attend the ceremonies.)

Ice Rain Falls
An icy light rain fell on Moscow on this first day for a three-day celebration for which all cities throughout the Soviet Union were decked in red flags and portraits of Stalin and other Russian leaders.

Announcers describing the parade—one of the smallest anniversary military displays in years—spoke frequently of Russia's demobilization, and repeated Stalin's statement that the nation had only 60 incomplete divisions in the West, and shortly was to have but 40.

(The Moscow radio, heard in London, quoted Govorov as saying in his keynote speech that Russia would "fight untiringly for a lasting, stable and democratic peace," a cause he said would triumph "despite the intrigues of the forces of world reaction.")

Odessa Jail Escapee Apprehended In Pecos

ODESSA—(AP)—Albert Yarber, one of three men who escaped from the Ector County jail Tuesday night, was apprehended in Pecos Thursday and will be returned to authorities here.

Still at large are Preston Knight, convicted of forgery, and Louie Reeves McDonald, convicted of car theft.

Yarber, an escapee from the state prison at Huntsville, was being held in the Ector jail. Knight and McDonald were awaiting transfer to Huntsville when the break occurred.

Texans Vote For Second Time In Less Than Week

By The Associated Press
Texans went to the polls Thursday for the second time in three days.

They cast their ballots in a special election on the veterans land amendment to the State Constitution. The amendment would authorize the state to issue bonds for $25,000,000 with which to buy land for sale to veterans of World War II. The amendment also authorizes the state to administer the fund for eight years.

Through an error when the proposal was passed by the Legislature the amendment was submitted for a Thursday election instead of at the general election Tuesday.

At least four counties ignored the order for Thursday voting and cast ballots on the proposition Tuesday. Bexar, Karnes, Gonzales and McMullen Counties voted in favor of the amendment on the basis of unofficial returns. However, there was doubt whether the vote in these counties would be valid since the election was held on a day other than authorized by law.

Robert Johnson, manager of the Texas Election Bureau, predicted Wednesday night that less than 100,000 ballots would be cast Thursday. An estimated 250,000 voted on Tuesday.

The final report from the Election Bureau on Tuesday's general election did not change the results of the voting which gave the Democrats a clean sweep for U. S. senator, 21 congressmen and a full slate of state officers. Three amendments to the State Constitution also were adopted.

The final report from the Texas Election Bureau, with 198 counties of 254 reporting, 16 complete, and with a total vote of 209,441, was: Senator: Connally 184,500, Murray Sells 23,907.

Governor: Jester 191,295, Eugene Nolte 18,146.

John T. Austin Appropriation: For 132,550, Against 40,056.

State Employees Pensions: For 114,536, Against 64,375.

Road Fund: For 131,307, Against 35,465.

Roy Turner Wins Governorship In Oklahoma Race

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Roy J. Turner, Oklahoma City oil man and stock raiser, was elected governor of Oklahoma Tuesday, incomplete but conclusive unofficial returns showed Wednesday.

With 2,782 of the state's 3,703 precincts reported, Turner was leading his Republican opponent, Olney J. Flynn, 203,787 to 173,082. Flynn conceded defeat.

President Truman Calm After Rebuke At Polls Tuesday

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman, his administration rebuked at the polls, faced with outward calm Thursday three political decisions which could alter the course of American and world events.

Truman apparently must decide: 1. Whether he shall compromise with the Republican dominated Congress on controversial domestic and foreign issues, or challenge it and fight back with Democratic-supported vetoes.

2. Whether he shall attempt to lead his own party back toward the more conservative line that appeared to be popularized by Tuesday's sweeping GOP victories or steer it even more forcefully toward the opposite side of center.

3. Whether he shall attempt to rally dispersed Democratic forces around himself as a candidate for reelection in 1948 or prepare to step aside then for some other nominee.

Truman gave no indication that he is considering any seriousness the outcropping of suggestions that he supplant Secretary of State Byrnes with a Republican—presumably Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan—and then resign to permit that Republican to become President for full GOP control of the government.

Jaycees Will Honor Dunagan At Meeting

A special feature at the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting Friday will be the passing of resolutions in appreciation of the late Clint Dunagan and a memorial talk by the Rev. Hubert H. Hopper.

Dunagan was one of the best known Jaycees in the United States and a past state president.

Republican Diplomats Rally To Support Of Established Program

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
NEW YORK—(AP)—Top-flight Republican diplomats at the United Nations and the Council of Foreign Ministers rallied to the support of established American foreign policy Thursday in an evident effort to quiet jittery speculation abroad about possible radical changes in this country's international relations.

Special Election Voting Is Light

Midland voting was very light Thursday in a special election on a proposed amendment to the state constitution for or against establishment of a veterans land purchasing fund for ex-service personnel of World War II.

Only 12 votes had been cast at 11 a. m. at two city boxes, the City-County Auditorium (seven votes) and the Courthouse (five votes). And balloting was extremely light at the rural boxes, according to reports.

The amendment proposes establishment of a veterans land board to administer a revolving fund of $25,000,000 for easy-term purchase of state or other lands by World War II veterans.

Italian Government Rejects Trieste Proposal Of Tito

ROME—(AP)—The Italian government Thursday rejected a reported proposal of Marshal Tito to Palmiro Togliatti, Italian Communist leader, to leave Trieste to Italy if Gorizia was ceded to Yugoslavia.

The Yugoslav proposal was reported by Togliatti on his return from conferences in Belgrade.

A communique issued by the Italian government said "Italy cannot consider the cession to Yugoslavia of Gorizia, an integral part of Italian territory and as such recognized unanimously by the big four."

Midland Below Quota In USO Fund Drive

Midland County citizens have contributed only $515.15 toward its $2,500 quota in the present USO drive, C. C. Keith, county USO chairman, said Thursday.

Four hundred dollars were contributed the first two days of the drive which opened October 29, but only $115.15 in the last week, Keith said.

He pointed out that it is easy for citizens whose loved ones are at home to forget that 1,500,000 youths of a younger generation have taken their place in the service.

It is to serve the "kid brother army" of replacements that 339 clubs have been kept open in the United States and 25 overseas. Camp shows are still entertaining at 115 veterans hospitals, 10 Army, and 31 Navy hospitals, Keith pointed out.

The Travelers Aid services are continuing and the USO still provides GI's with a "home away from home."

Because of these services the nation is asked to contribute $19,000,000 to carry on the work in 1947.

Keith asked citizens to contribute Midland's share by sending or giving their donations to J. T. Baker, assistant cashier at the First National Bank.

12 P-61 Fighters Land At Midland

Twelve P-61 Black Widow night fighters, under the command of Lt. Col. L. T. Lewis, landed at the Midland Municipal airport Wednesday.

The unit, the 415th Night Fighter Squadron of Shaw Field, Sumpter, S. C., is en route to a 15-day joint Army-Navy amphibious forces to be held this month off the Southern California coast.

Colonel Lewis and 40 members of the squadron spent Wednesday night in Midland. Lewis and 11 pilots left Thursday at 8 a. m. and the remaining 28 will be ferried to California by the Air Transport Command.

Colonel Lewis said that the group would arrive at the California destination about noon.

Weather
Fair Thursday afternoon, night and Friday with rising temperatures. Maximum temperature 52 degrees Wednesday, minimum Thursday 38 degrees.

Foreign Delegations To Both UN Assembly and Big Four Council Sessions

Foreign delegations to both the UN Assembly and the Big Four council sessions took the election results with little show of concern, but much of the foreign press viewed the Republican capture of Congress as marking a sharp American swing to the right and threatening new difficulties with Russia.

While the United Nations drove through another round of committee work Thursday and the foreign ministers marked time until Friday on the dispute over control of strategic Trieste, Republican statements on the foreign policy situation were much discussed by diplomats here.

New Committee Chairman
Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, who is expected to become foreign relations chairman in the Republican controlled Senate, said that his own reelection "means unmistakable endorsement of the united, bipartisan foreign policy" which he has had a large share in developing over the last two years. He added:

"I take it the national returns present a similar mandate. They mean that this policy will continue."

John Foster Dulles, an alternate member of the United Nations delegation, said he was confident that "a Republican Congress will not throw our foreign policy into confusion, but rather will make it stronger and clearer, for the benefit of ourselves and the world."

These two men, with ex-Secretary Warren Austin of Vermont who is chief of the United States UN delegation, make up the main Republican collaboration with the Administration on foreign issues.

Many of the charter provisions and much of the American work on the European peace treaties by the foreign ministers reflect especially the ideas of Gandeberg and Dulles.

Three Main Lines

Despite this record of bipartisanism and the generally held belief among diplomatic authorities here that American foreign policy will in fact remain unchanged, speculation about the significance of the elections developed along three main lines:

1. Vandenberg, because of his past record and his dominant position in the next Senate, evidently becomes the strong man of the American missions to the Big Four Council and the UN meetings. Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the outgoing Senate Foreign Relations Committee moves into a lame duck position as far as the chairmanship is concerned and Byrnes knows Vandenberg will be able to block any major Byrnes proposal if he disagrees.

2. What the Republicans do with their leadership in Congress about the believed application of foreign policy is regarded by many foreign delegates as unpredictable. While their party "internationalism" is not especially questioned, their congressional action on tariffs, foreign loans, foreign trade and the like will be of utmost importance in a future policy development.

3. A question of American relations with Russia arises from the fact that during the pre-election campaign Moscow assailed Vandenberg and his influence, while in this country the Republicans made an issue over domestic Communism. How Moscow will adjust itself to the new situation remains to be seen. One Western diplomat with much experience in Moscow said he believed the Russians had long since reconciled themselves to Vandenberg's influence.

The Big Four sessions were in recess Thursday because Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov wanted to participate in an embassy celebration in Washington of the anniversary of the Communist Revolution in Russia.

FADED TAN NEEDS BLUISH LIPSTICK

JANE RUSSELL: Lipstick Tips.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Go find that bluish tone lipstick, which you put aside as being too intense under summer light to seem right. There is less intensity in violet rays on unsunny autumn days to heighten the blue tone now. What else will make a bluish lipstick look right now is a fading or vanished tan.

Who's talking? Jane ("The Outlaw"—starred Russell, whose lovely mouth is so famous that what she says on the subject carries weight. Among other tips she has to offer is one on a lipstick choice for cold weather. If lips are dry, grainy or tend to flake, choose a stick for its emollient contents as well as color, she says.

For general all-purpose brightening of a face—and that goes for a mood, as well, says Jane—you can't beat a pure red lipstick. She thinks it's as good for brightening a blonde as a brunet; that it clashes least with costume colors.

As for putting on lipstick with precision—Jane says unless it's cleanly applied it shouldn't be used—the best aid is a brush. But not just any kind of brush. She insists upon a hair tip that resists pressure. Lacking that, she suggests using the pointed end of an orange stick to dip off lipstick color and to trace the first sharp, clean line around the mouth. Filling in, after that preliminary survey, is a cinch, she says.

Permian Village Makes Voluntary Tax Payments

The city, county and state governments, and the Midland Independent School District Thursday were richer by the combined amount of $612.04 as a result of voluntary payments in lieu of taxes by the government owned and operated Permian Village housing project located on the Andrews Highway.

The payments were announced by Mrs. Nell Lorden, manager of the Permian Village, who said the housing authority in charge of the Midland project wished to bear its part of municipal, county and school district expenses. The government owned project is exempt from taxation.

The City of Midland received $76.05; the County of Midland, $146.66; the State, $67.83, and the school district, $321.50.

Mrs. Lorden said the trailer units at the Village now are 80 per cent occupied by veterans. Army personnel or families of service men, veterans, and government employes employed in essential occupations are eligible to occupy quarters at the Permian Village.

Rosin Mysteriously Guns Conveyer Engine

Rosin mysteriously placed in a gasoline tank of an engine operating a caliche crusher and conveyer delayed the hauling of caliche to the paving projects on Fort Worth and G Streets Thursday.

The engine previously operated from an auxiliary tank, but when switched to the main tank the pistons gummed up with rosin. Investigation showed about an eighth of an inch or rosin in the bottom of the tank.

Gordan Black, foreman of the caliche plant for the W. L. Johnson Construction Company, said when and how the rosin got in the tank were unknown for the engine used larger auxiliary tank when the plant operated 11 miles east of the city.

6—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, NOV. 7, 1946

Two Football Games Scheduled With Seminole Indians Friday

On the football menu for Midland this weekend is a double-header to be played in the high school stadium Friday afternoon beginning at 2 p. m.

Teeing off at 2 p. m. are the John M. Cowden Junior High Bulldogs going against the Seminole Junior High eleven, a team which they beat 27 to 0 recently at Seminole.

S'West AAU Badminton Contest Held In Dallas

DALLAS —(P)— The Southwestern AAU open badminton tournament will be played at Perkins Gymnasium, Southern Methodist University, here December 13-14. Nick Roberts of Dallas, chairman of the AAU badminton committee, announced Thursday.

Men's and women's singles and doubles, mixed doubles, men's veterans doubles (over 40) and women's veteran doubles (over 35) will be run off.

Dyer of Cardinals To Be Honored By Houston

HOUSTON —(P)— It's Eddie Dyer Day in Houston and some 600 Texans, baseball pals and other friends of the 46-year-old Cardinal skipper, will attend a big dinner at which J. Roy Stockton, sports editor of the St. Louis Post Dispatch, will be the principal speaker.

Sam Breadon, owner of the Cardinals; Governor-Elect Beauford Jester of Texas; Ted Lyons, manager of the Chicago White Sox who back in his college days at Baylor was an opposing pitcher when Dyer played at Rice Institute; Dizzy Dean, the great major league hurler of yesterday who got his start with the Houston Buffs of the Texas League; members of the St. Louis Cardinal team, and a number of the state's business and civic leaders will be in the crowd that turns out at the Houston Club to honor Eddie.

60-Minute Players Against All-Stars Are Army-Irish

WEST POINT, N. Y. —(P)— It will be a team of 60-minute football players against an all-star squad of players who can be shuttled in and out of a game at the coaches' pleasure when Army meets Notre Dame before 74,000 spectators at Yankee Stadium Saturday.

That's the impression gotten from talking to Earl (Red) Blaik, Army coach, and the figures for Army's games so far bear it out.

Given good, cool weather that won't take too much out of his athletes, Blaik obviously expects his starting eleven to go through most of the game against Notre Dame just as it did against Oklahoma, Michigan and Duke.

The final workout is scheduled for Thursday afternoon. Friday morning the team will leave for the Knollwood Country Club in Westchester County and it will work out briefly at Yankee Stadium Friday.

Irish Hopes Low
SOUTH BEND, IND. —(P)— All of Notre Dame's skyrocketing hopes for revenge on the Army after two long years of waiting; all of the long labor the Irish put in for a solid year of postwar reconstruction looking to this very weekend — everything rested Thursday on one sprained ankle.

This was the ailing right ankle of Johnny (The Wing) Lujack, who quarterbacked the Irish to their last gridiron win over the Cadets back in '43.

Johnny hurt his ankle Wednesday as the final full dress drill for Saturday's super colossal clash with the Cadets in New York was winding up on Cartier Field, and only a couple of hours after teammates elected him and halfback Gerry Cowhig as the Army game co-captains.

The squad takes off Thursday with the roof of the Notre Dame gym still shaky on its rafters from the wall-rattling cheers of the student body in the annual pre-Army game rally Wednesday night. The loudest and longest ovation of all came when a little, sweet-faced bespectacled woman stood up to take a bow. They introduced her as "Mrs. Knute Rockne — Mrs. Rock," widow of the famed Irish coach.

Search For Fliers Delayed By Weather
PALESTINE —(P)— Pilots in Palestine and Tyler Thursday awaited clearing weather to start an aerial search for two Tulsa, Okla., men missing since October 26 on a flight from Tulsa to Kilgore, Texas.

Kenneth G. King of Tulsa, brother of one of the men, said Wednesday that an airport manager at Hearne, Texas, told him by telephone that the missing fliers, Joseph W. King and Joseph D. Barry, took off from Hearne October 27 for Kilgore. They have not been traced farther. Kenneth King left here Wednesday for Hearne to continue his search.

JayCee-Sponsored Negro Ball Game Thursday Night

The fun football game of the season will be played at 8 p. m. Thursday evening in the high school stadium featuring the Midland Hornets (negro) against the Lubbock Hubbers (negro).

The negro grid battle is sponsored by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce. Tickets were being sold by JayCees during the day Thursday. An extensive sales drive was underway because the game is a benefit affair.

Proceeds of it, after expenses have been met, will be used in the purchase of uniforms for the Midland High School drill squad for girls.

JayCees are asking citizens and fans to buy tickets so further solicitations for the drill squad uniforms will not be necessary.

JayCees will man the gates and ticket boxes at the stadium for the night. Admission prices are 90 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Anything goes in a negro football game and the spectators are promised a rare exhibition.

Odessa-Sweetwater Heads Schoolboy Games Of Weekend

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

Big games dot the schedule in Texas schoolboy football this weekend, two of them matching unbeaten teams with district championships riding on the line.

Amarillo goes to Borger and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) to Austin Saturday for battles that are destined to determine the titles of Districts 1 and 15.

Out at Odessa Monday the Bronchos meet Sweetwater in a melee that will decide a season-long argument and the championship of District 3.

These are the stand-out contests of a weekend that has a card of 47 games, 36 of them conference affairs. All except one district has conference action.

District 12 has an important game with Jacksonville meeting Conroe. These are the only undefeated teams in the district.

Borger is crippled. Amarillo has been defeated—by Odessa—but Borger boasts an unblemished record. The Bulldogs are narrow favorites in most quarters to upset Amarillo's plans for another district title but Borger is crippled, with its star back, Milton Price, out with a broken leg.

Austin and Thomas Jefferson both are undefeated and so are Odessa and Sweetwater although Jefferson and Sweetwater each has been tied.

Austin enters the big game with Jefferson with both teams listing injuries to top players. This is the showdown for the big maroon machine that has been rated No. 1 or No. 2 in the state all season. It is generally agreed that if Austin gets by tough Jefferson it will be long gone for the finals.

The week's schedule by districts in the state (conference games except where indicated otherwise):

- 1—Friday: Lubbock at Pampa; Saturday: Amarillo at Borger; Brownfield at Plainview.
- 2—Friday: Gainesville at Vernon (nonconference); Gladewater at Electro (nonconference); Graham at Quanah.
- 3—Friday: San Angelo at Big Spring; Monday: Sweetwater at Odessa; Lamesa at Abilene.
- 4—Friday: El Paso High at Mesa, Ariz. (nonconference); Ysleta at Florence, Ariz. (nonconference); Saturday: Austin (El Paso) at Albuquerque, N. M. (nonconference).

Child Crushed Under Wheels Of Big Truck

MONAHANS — Clayborn Mansel Lee, Jr., one-year and 10 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Lee, was crushed to death here Wednesday afternoon under the wheels of an oil field truck which backed out of a driveway near the home of the child's grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Wright.

Ellis Moore of Monahans, driver of the truck, said he looked before starting out and did not see the youngster. Shrubbery is near the drive. Local and state highway officers investigating absolved Moore of any blame.

The boy's father is employed at Consolidated Aircraft at Fort Worth and planned to move to Monahans when a home was obtained. Mrs. Lee and the child had preceded him to Monahans.

Funeral arrangements had not been arranged late Wednesday.

Citizens Invited To Discussion On Child Welfare

The citizens of the community are invited to attend a public roundtable discussion conducted by the Child Welfare Board in its fourth annual meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the City-County Auditorium.

The relation between the children of the community and the court, school and home will be stressed by Judge Cecil S. Collings, 70th District Court Justice, County Judge Elliott H. Barron, Superintendent of Schools Frank Monroe and Mrs. George Putnam in the panel discussion.

Also to take part in the discussion will be Sheriff Ed Darnell and Police Chief Jack Ellington. Members of the welfare board are Robert I. Dickey, chairman; Roy McKee, vice chairman; Charles D. Vertrees, treasurer; Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. Ruth Rhodes, Mrs. Ernest Sidwell and Mrs. E. A. Culbertson.

Responsibilities of the board are to develop the local resources for child care and to interpret to the community the child welfare program.

OPA Business Shifts To District Office

R. W. Hamilton, chairman of the Price Control Board of Midland County, which also served Glasscock and Martin Counties, Thursday praised the citizens who served in the office and on the board for giving their services.

"The closing of the local office and the termination of the board mark the conclusion of almost five years of patriotic service by price panel volunteer citizens," he said.

Hamilton gave the following information as to the conducting of OPA business in the future:

1. Trade and consumer inquiries about price control formerly handled by Price Control Boards should be addressed to the OPA District Office in Fort Worth.

2. Certificates of Transfer covering sales of used passenger automobiles may be obtained from principal auto dealers. Dealers should request additional supplies from the OPA Regional Mail Center at Dallas.

3. Sugar rationing has been administered from the District Office since last January. In the future, sugar forms required by the trade and consumers may be obtained from the District Office.

4. Pending compliance actions by the board will be transferred to the District Office.

5. The local board office was closed for the transaction of public business on November 4. However, the paid clerical personnel will continue on duty during the month of November in order to transfer records to the District Office and to perform the many other duties involved in closing the board.

6. As in the past, supervision of rent control will be administered by the Midland Area Rent Office.

Finds His Car, Loses His Love

OKLAHOMA CITY—(P)—There was little joy for the owner in the recovery of an automobile he reported stolen.

Detectives found the auto parked in front of a bus station. Inside, pinned to the seat, was a note, saying:

"I have gone to California. We never would have made it anyway—Ann."

Ann, the officers theorized, borrowed the boy friend's auto to drive to the bus station—and went on to California.

State Scoured For Boy Hiding in Cupboard

PUEBLO, COLO.—(P)—A frantic mother's call sent police, sheriff's officers and state highway patrolmen into an all-out search for her missing son.

For 40 minutes she called at frequent intervals to see if any trace had been found. Then she closed the case shamefacedly with a final message that the child had been found at home—locked in a cupboard.

Census figures reveal that more women marry at 23 than any other age, and a greater number of men marry at 26 or 27.

Baker Oil Company Urges Motorists To Prepare Cars For Winter Driving

Now is the time for motorists to get their cars ready for winter, warns R. B. (Bill) Baker, owner of the Baker Oil Company, 1409 East Wall Street. Keeping cars running this winter will be more difficult than during the war, he pointed out.

Batteries and permanent anti-freeze are scarcer than during World War II. Most of the new batteries are going into new cars but the reason for the permanent type anti-freeze shortage hasn't been made clear, even to dealers, Baker said.

"But we have plenty of alcohol base anti-freeze," Baker said. "It will keep the car from freezing, but, of course, we had rather sell the better type. But it looks like the motorists are going to have to put up with the alcohol base anti-freeze this winter."

Baker urged car owners to watch the condition of batteries for they will be irreplaceable.

"I watch the condition of the batteries of my customers closely," Baker said. "Keeping them filled with battery water will often mean the difference between ruining a battery and keeping it in good condition. When ever batteries become available, we will handle them."

Change To Lighter Oil

Baker also warned car owners that, with the coming of cold weather, now is the time to change the motor oil to a lighter grade and to change grease in the differential and give the car a good grease job.

The firm is a retail as well as wholesale jobber for Cosden Paraffine Motor Oil, Veedol, Diamond DX, Fenzol, Thermoil, Penn's Bee and Kendall motor oils.

Baker has just purchased a new Diamond T gasoline truck with a capacity of 2,855 gallons. He sells Cosden gasoline and gets it direct from the Cosden Refinery.

The firm sells Ward and Gates car and truck tires, and also handles tractor tires. A good stock of accessories is available, including fan belts, battery cables, and polishes.

"It's our purpose to serve car owners, and we give efficient courteous service, whether the customer wants to have his tires or battery checked or whether he's come after a wholesale order of gasoline," Baker said.

Commute 110 Miles Daily To School

WARREN, PA.—(AP)—The schoolhouse is 55 miles away but Harold and Tom Fales, of Pittsfield, make the trip back and forth every day. The brothers attend the Veterans' school at Erie, making the hour and a half trip in their shaky 1930 Ford.

"We decided we could make ends meet better by living at home," explained Harold, 21.

Literal Conclusion

BALTIMORE.—(AP)—A series of newspaper articles described public school No. 15 as "unsatisfactory" for modern educational purposes. After that, police reported, somebody tried to burn it down.

Willis And White Thank Friends For Fine Opening

J. J. Willis and Robert K. (Bob) White, owners of the Willis-White Motor Company, thanked visitors, fellow merchants and friends for the successful grand opening last Saturday of the firm in its spacious and modern new building at the corner of Missouri and Baird Streets.

Speaking for the company, White said the crowds which visited the showroom and service department during the day made the opening one of the most successful in this part of West Texas.

Still on display are the world-famous Willys Jeep, the Jeep Station Wagon, two 1946 Clipper DeLuxe Packards and a Willys sedan.

In its sales department the Willis-White Company has available such accessories as car seat covers, cushions, radios, polishes and various automobile parts.

The building has 7,500 feet of floor space, 3,000 of which are used for the sales room and office space, and 4,500 in the service department. The service department will be featured especially. Expert mechanics will service all makes of cars. Jess Bush, foreman of the shop, has many years of experience as a service manager and foreman and has a reputation as being one of the best in his line.

All mechanics in the shop are trained for all types of automotive service. They include Frank E. Allen, who has been serving Midland people 15 years and has 31 years GMC service experience; Winfred W. Simmons, with eight years experience; Binton Newberry, experienced mechanic; and Frank R. Smith, Packard specialist with 15 years automotive service experience.

Duke Jimerson is in charge of the parts department. C. A. Stroud is the bookkeeper.

Three men will be on duty at all times, in uniform, to handle wash and lubrication jobs.

Equipment of the Willis-White Motor Company is the finest and most modern obtainable. Included are high pressure car washers, motor analyzers, complete vacuum cleaning equipment, radiator flushers, Bear front end machine for wheel aligning and balancing.

The concern is conveniently located in downtown Midland.

Local Nimrod Slays Prize Heifer But $10 Saves Him

One of the first accidents of the 1946 hunting season occurred this week, when a local man, Elmer, shot and killed a cow.

It seems Elmer has all primed to kill the first deer of the season, and was on a stand bright and early. His patience was rewarded only by a small rabbit and Elmer had almost given up hope. Preparing to move to a new stand, he saw a movement in the brush, and what appeared to be a nice set of horns.

"I'll admit I might have had a touch of buck fever," said Elmer, "and I took quick aim and fired."

The results were not what had been expected. "Behind that bush was the deadest cow and the maddest farmer I ever saw," said Elmer. "He was pretty nasty about it, and said I had killed his prize heifer, and threatened to sue me."

Elmer told us, "He wanted me to suit him $500."

"I was worried when he mentioned 'suit,' because lawyers cost money, but forgot it the minute I remembered a ten spot I had invested before I left. It was for a Personal liability policy to protect me for just such an accident, and it surely did the trick."

"When I came home I just reported the accident to Mims and Crane, who carry my insurance, and they got on it right away. The company made a reasonable settlement with the farmer out of court, I had a good trip, and consider that $10 well spent. But my accident is just a small part of the policy. If I had killed another hunter, it would pay all the way up to $10,000 and defend me in court in case of a suit, and there are lots more things besides."

Elmer added, "If you plan to go hunting this year, $10 would be a good investment to help get you out of the spot I was in. Mims and Crane Insurance Agency here in Midland can tell you all the advantages of this Comprehensive Personal Liability Policy. Just call 24, and get the information."

U. S. Money Is Used Quickly In European States

By HAL BOYLE
(Who has spent the last four years abroad.)
NEW YORK. —(AP)—The tourist who comes to Europe looking for a bargain counter is in for some sad pocketbook surprises.
Money is still the open sesame in all the international shopping centers, but it is even more difficult than in the old days to convince the natives that every American doesn't carry his own mint with him.
The only sure way to come out ahead is to bring along a suitcase full of confederate money and sell some wide-eyed foreigner who has taken abbatinal leave from his common sense on the idea that it is the true money of the future.
For an ordinary twenty-buck bill, good for 400 trips on a Manhattan subway, won't take you for much of a joyride abroad. They look pretty big when you pull the first ones out; soon you begin to wonder whether everybody else isn't mistaking them for a new issue postage stamp. And I don't mean an airmail stamp—they don't go that far.
About all a double sawbuck will buy you in Europe is a mild hangover, a good meal for two or a picture of Hitler. The frame comes extra.

There are two reasons for this shabby treatment of the dollar, which still looks better to many European peoples than either their own wallpaper currency:
(1) Official exchange rates in most cases aren't realistic and (2) Most countries still have more promises than goods to sell.
In France, for example, a buck is worth 119 francs officially. That is just the way the swivel chair diplomats in the Quai D'Orsay try to flatter the local voters. The black market operators around the Place de L'Opera know better the real value of the greenback. They'll break their elbows any hour shelling out 200 to 300 francs for one.
In all countries, of course, you are supposed to declare how much money you bring in and exchange it only at banks and other institutions which perpetuate the official money myth.
Hungary even put in the death penalty for citizens failing to turn in their American money to the government, which is shy of foreign exchange. Cynical Budapestians jest:
"If they catch you with five dollars, they hang you. If they catch you with ten dollars—you have to split it."
The English as a people don't play black market footsy with the American dollar. And what they've got to sell is already overseas. To the Swedes and Swiss—peace, it was wonderful—the dollar is just a currency in knee-pants.

So, what with the import duties you'll have to pay when you come back to the United States, you probably won't tote much home unless you are in the class that uses urine for penwipers.
But you never go far wrong on scenery and postcards. They are still the best buys abroad.

Workers Chip In To Help Boy Walk

BALTIMORE.—(AP)—Employees of the Platon Ring Division of the Koppers Company here want a five-year-old crippled boy to be given the chance to walk.
To help defray the cost of physiotherapy for the boy, who has never walked, the plant saved $15 from its usual expenses attendant to raising its goal in the Community Fund.
The money has been sent to the Maryland League for Crippled Children, earmarked for the purchase of braces and treatment for the boy.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, NOV. 7, 1946—9
In hot weather you lose your pep because you lack heat in your body, a heat that the body transforms into energy.
Thoughtless buying habits cause shoppers to destroy or damage 8,590,000 pounds of fresh green vegetables annually.

U. S. Money Is Used Quickly In European States

By HAL BOYLE
(Who has spent the last four years abroad.)
NEW YORK. —(AP)—The tourist who comes to Europe looking for a bargain counter is in for some sad pocketbook surprises.
Money is still the open sesame in all the international shopping centers, but it is even more difficult than in the old days to convince the natives that every American doesn't carry his own mint with him.
The only sure way to come out ahead is to bring along a suitcase full of confederate money and sell some wide-eyed foreigner who has taken abate from his common sense on the idea that it is the true money of the future.
For an ordinary twenty-buck bill, good for 400 trips on a Manhattan subway, won't take you for much of a joyride abroad. They look pretty big when you pull the first ones out; soon you begin to wonder whether everybody else isn't mistaking them for a new issue postage stamp. And I don't mean an airmail stamp—they don't go that far.
About all a double sawbuck will buy you in Europe is a mild hangover, a good meal for two or a picture of Hitler. The frame comes extra.

There are two reasons for this shabby treatment of the dollar, which still looks better to many European peoples than either their own wallpaper currency:
(1) Official exchange rates in most cases aren't realistic and (2) Most countries still have more promises than goods to sell.
In France, for example, a buck is worth 119 francs officially. That is just the way the swivel chair diplomats in the Quai D'Orsay try to flatter the local voters. The black market operators around the Place de L'Opera know better the real value of the greenback. They'll break their elbows any hour shelling out 200 to 300 francs for one.
In all countries, of course, you are supposed to declare how much money you bring in and exchange it only at banks and other institutions which perpetuate the official money myth.
Hungary even put in the death penalty for citizens failing to turn in their American money to the government, which is shy of foreign exchange. Cynical Budapestians jest:
"If they catch you with five dollars, they hang you. If they catch you with ten dollars—you have to split it."
The English as a people don't play black market footsy with the American dollar. And what they've got to sell is already overseas. To the Swedes and Swiss—peace, it was wonderful—the dollar is just a currency in knee-pants.

So, what with the import duties you'll have to pay when you come back to the United States, you probably won't tote much home unless you are in the class that uses urine for penwipers.
But you never go far wrong on scenery and postcards. They are still the best buys abroad.

Workers Chip In To Help Boy Walk

BALTIMORE.—(AP)—Employees of the Platoon Ring Division of the Koppers Company here want a five-year-old crippled boy to be given the chance to walk.
To help defray the cost of physiotherapy for the boy, who has never walked, the plant saved $15 from its usual expenses attendant to raising its goal in the Community Fund.
The money has been sent to the Maryland League for Crippled Children, earmarked for the purchase of braces and treatment for the boy.

In hot weather you lose your pep because you lack heat in your body, a heat that the body transforms into energy.
Thoughtless buying habits cause shoppers to destroy or damage 8,590,000 pounds of fresh green vegetables annually.

New Definitions

The problem of finding an accurate, American, 1946-model definition of "liberal" and "conservative" continues to bother a good many people. But it doesn't seem to puzzle columnist Samuel Grafton who, in a recent article, clearly implied that liberals are people who favor government price control, and conservatives are champions of free enterprise.

That definition is simple, but perhaps not wholly satisfactory. It seems a trifle exclusive for so embracing a political label. Further, the liberalism of government management is scarcely the liberalism of Thomas Jefferson. However, the definition illustrates a point of view which, not being exclusively Grafton's, deserves consideration.

This viewpoint has it that the conservatives, who spent the postwar year in criticizing the liberals, are now on the spot. They have found it easy to blame everything on price control and government interference. But now that they have succeeded in wrecking price controls they must prove that they can lick all our present problems. So the conservatives are a little embarrassed, if not frightened, by their responsibilities.

Grafton sees the shoe on the other foot, with the liberal government-control group taking pot shots at the conservative free-enterprisers. He speculates on the possibility of conservative blunders which would strengthen the liberal movement even more than the liberals' own efforts.

This viewpoint is obviously correct in some of its observations. Of course it is easier to criticize than to perform. But is the theory of private enterprise so hazardous, untried and fraught with peril that the whole American business structure must quake in its boots at the prospect of conducting its affairs along traditional and generally successful lines? Is inflation the only alternative to the scarcity, slowness, strife and unofficial inflation of the past year?

The answer could be yes if business has learned nothing from the depression of 1929, and if widespread greed is again to outweigh common sense. The answer could be yes if price control administration had been flawless, and if all complaints against it were simply the sincere squawks of profiteers. It could be yes if the liberal government-controllers are to adopt now a retaliatory program of criticism and obstruction.

But we do not think that an answer of yes is inevitable. There are black markets and shortages of food and housing under Russia's complete government control and the partial government control in Britain. And there is the record of wartime accomplishments by American business and industry.

That record was not a creation of government control, but of American productive capacity achieved under private enterprise, and American effort exerted with a united will.

We worked hard to win the war. Then we separated into quarrelsome groups. If all of us, management and labor, liberal government-controllers and conservative private-enterprisers, can recapture some of our wartime spirit there is little cause for fear. It isn't necessary for the United States to substitute socialism for free enterprise in order to get back on its feet. But it is necessary to cease class warfare and assume a common responsibility for doing what is going to be a hard job under any system of controls or lack of them.

Guide To Politics

The CIO Political Action Committee has published a book. It isn't a book, exactly. It's a loose-leaf binder that looks like a machinery salesman's catalogue, and it's called "Manual of Practical Political Action". It measures nine inches by 12, and it weighs one pound and 11 ounces, net.

It is index-tapped on the far side, and you can run your thumb down the chapter tabs till you come to something that looks like Jack Horner's plum, then dig in while yelling, "What a good boy am I!"

No foolin', this is the works. It reduces political pressure to the exact science of super-salesmanship. No more reliance on Old Glory, the Declaration of Independence, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, Bunker Hill, San Juan Hill, hill of beans. They aren't mentioned once.

In their places are graphs, charts, forms, cartoons, picture stories, dramatic presentations, eye appeal, ear appeal, hander than a woman's purse and just as full of strange tissues, keys, deodorants, small change, mirrors of public opinion, and assorted red smears, smells and whitenin'.

Page one, under "How to Use This Manual," says, "This manual will be cumulative." That is, as new political action techniques are developed, supplements will be mailed out and you can insert them where they belong.

Why don't the Republicans and Democrats think up things like this? The idea of a loose-leaf political platform is certainly something the major parties could use. When one issue becomes worn out—like meat price control, for instance—you simply tear out the issue you don't like and put in a new one.

Meat Sells For Price Even In Our Texas

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff
There's plenty of meat these days — for a price—but bacon is still so scarce that E. C. Osborn in his column in the Brownsville Herald wistfully suggests a "bacon tender" the first time he gets hold of a pound.
He said that as soon as he and a friend can get a pound each, they're going on a bacon tender—cook the whole works, eat it at one sitting.
But across the border, operative Q-13 reports there's plenty of everything. A meal that sells for $1.75 offers venison steak and quail; roast goat (cabrito) and turkey; whitewings; beef; chicken, any style; and Mexican dishes including tacos, tamales, enchiladas, chili, delicious aguacate salad called guacamole.
Further, drinks such as Scotch are available.

Everyone to His Own Taste
Five-year-old Elv Garner of Harlingen will get along in the world all right. He's quick on the trigger mentally.

For example, he spilled a big blob of tomato catsup on the table cloth. Before his mother had a chance to reproach him, he leaned over the spot and said admiringly: "That's my favorite color!"

That's all right for housecoats," she warned him in a letter, "but don't you go any farther!"
Safety Sallies Sadly Slapped
In Brownsville, a 20-30 club project is building and installing Safety Sallies near schools, warning motorists to slow down.
They report ruefully that 39 installed the first week, 26 were destroyed by motorists. One lasted exactly 20 minutes and 22 seconds after it had been put in place.

MAIL ORDER WIFE CREATES NEW DEMAND

DES MOINES —(AP)— When 65-year-old Charlie Rath was married at Glidden, Ia., the State Board of Social Welfare assumed its extra curricula duty had been done. Now it is wondering if romance is to become a permanent part of its business.
Rath, a farmer-widower, wrote asking help in finding a wife who didn't "smoke, drink or run to the taverns."

The board made the old age pensioner's letter public. Rath said nearly 50 women wrote to him, and he married one.

As the board settled back to routine it received a similar request from another man, who said he was more than 50 years old, but "plenty strong for my age."
Letters from a couple of late Rath applicants were forwarded.

America sent 3,500,000 pounds of seeds to Russia during the spring of 1944.

Smokers Give Bridge Hot Foot In Sydney

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA —(AP)— The 150 ft. long single span bridge across Sydney harbor catches fire on an average of once a week. The fires occur in the wooden decking of the rail track sections. The main causes are cigarette butts, which lodge in crevices jammed with old tram tickets and are fanned by the wind. It has become necessary to increase the number of hydrants to one every 100 ft.

Empire State Siren Now Rural Fire Alarm

LOVELL, ME. —(AP)— Atop a 30-foot tower on the outskirts of this Maine village stands the siren which alerted residents of New York City from the top of the Empire State Building for possible air raids during the war years. Now it is used as a fire alarm signal, operated by remote control from the local telephone office switch-board.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Who Gets Off Easiest—Men or Women?

Maybe you saw that poll on who has the easiest life—men or women? Of course, the men voted that the women did, and the women vice versa.

It would be the same in our town—take any family. Thad Phibbs envies his Missus spending the day at home, with no hot office to attend to. And Sue envies Thad his luncheons with the boys; and his evening glass of beer with friends (while she cleans up the dishes in the kitchen).

Of course, none of it goes very deep. Thad knows way deep down that the Missus has plenty of work running a house; and Sue knows Thad's friendly glass of beer is well-deserved relaxation after a long hard day's work.

From where I sit, most husbands and wives may grumble now and then—but they know in their hearts it's a case of live and let live, give and take, that comes out pretty even in the end.

El Paso Printer Noted World Over For Fine Books

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff
Carl Hertzog of El Paso is living proof of the saying that if you build the best rat trap, the world will beat a path to your door.
The wiry, sharp-featured but pleasant young Texan is inspiration to those who live far from the center of their chosen professions and feel they'll never be recognized.
Carl Hertzog lives and works about as far from America's book publishing stronghold as one can get and still be in the United States.

But his books, printed in his own shop, are collector's items and many a New Yorker looks to El Paso for the best in the publishing field.
Hertzog, a commercial printer who makes a good living out of his shop, has no illusions of grandeur. He says his success is due to "a hell of a lot of work" and admits candidly it costs him money.
"I'd make an extra $10,000 this year if I quit trying to print such perfect books," he said.

In addition to perfection of typography, his success is due to imagination, plain common sense, and a theory that a book should not be pretty, but appropriate, and worth talking about.
For example, when he published a volume written and illustrated by Tom Lea about Marines, he figured the binding should be the green, herringbone cloth actually worn by Marines. He had a hard time getting priority, but the man who developed the fabric finally got it for him.
Another, the story of "Charles Schreiner; General Merchandise," was about an old country store. Hertzog got some brown wrapping paper, saw the colors of binding and cover and paper blended, used an old type, and made the book remind readers of an old country store.
Still another was "A Stove-Up Cowboy's Story" by J. E. McCauley. He used a plain, vigorous typography "just like McCauley," appropriate paper and cover.

"A Grizzly From The Coral Sea" was printed on heavy rag paper and bound with genuine parchment backstrip on special buckram cover decorated with the stars of the story.
Most of his books are limited editions. Few have made money. All are collector's items. There's a story in that, too. Hertzog's common sense.
"I visited a collector once who had about 12,000 rare books," he said. "I noticed that every book he showed me had some sort of a story about it that he could tell. Not about the plot, but how he found the book, how it was printed, or something."
"So now, every time I print a book I take notes on all the trouble I had getting material, or copy, or type. I save all the letters involving its publication, including sometimes caustic comments from the authors."
"When the book is published, there's usually a good story about it."

Don't Waste Expensive Butter

A piece of butter paper folded over knife prevents waste in cutting.
By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Butter is so dear today that every housewife who has to stretch her food dollars should buy the best butter available and use it carefully.

There are tricks to this trade, too, just as there is wise market and kitchen lore about all our other foodstuffs. Butter is graded in the beginning, according to color, flavor, and other factors, and the best premium butter is then packed in paraffined cartons for protection after it leaves the creamery.

Keep It in Carton
Light, air, and foreign odors rob butter of its flavor and sweetness as well as of its creamy texture and moisture, and even premium butter can turn rancid in a period of a few days if exposed to the outer elements. The wise woman purchases butter packed in a carton and stores it in the carton in her home refrigerator until the last speck has done its duty in improving foods.

Conserving while using butter is an art, too. It's usually easier on your precious supply to serve individual pats of butter, on separate butter plates, than to serve from one family butter plate.

Butter placed on the dinner plate may melt from contact with warm foods. But butter on a butter plate remains cool, and, if here's any left over, it's a simple matter to return it to parchment paper and the carton to be stored in the refrigerator.

Slice It Carefully
When slicing pats of butter off a quarter-pound package, you'll find you don't waste any if you fold a piece of the butter paper over the cutting edge of your knife. This prevents broken edges and wasteful sticking to the knife.

Instead of placing a large square of butter on your vegetables and letting it melt, and perhaps leaving some in the saucepan, melt the butter in a small pan first and use a brush to apply the melted butter to boiled potatoes and other vegetables.

New England Gets Arena
WORCESTER, MASS. —(P)—Sports-conscious New England will have another sports palace soon—a $750,000 arena in this populous Massachusetts city.

Work will get underway as soon as materials are available, probably within a few months.

Officials of the Worcester Arena Corp., a newly formed organization in which prominent industrialists and businessmen are interested, emphasized no construction would start until the general building situation improved, so there would be no interference with housing programs.

Averill C. Cook, president and treasurer of the corporation, said the project is a result of a long study of the lack of proper sports facilities in this region. Both he and his son, Robert, have been interested for years in the promotion of hockey and other sports.

The Kaibib squirrel is rapidly becoming extinct. It is found only on the Kaibib plateau north of the Grand Canyon in Arizona.

CALL ME LIZ

THE STORY: Red McFan, army pilot, comes home with a chestful of ribbons and a cocky swagger. He visits the varnish plant where he worked before the war as a laboratory helper and the old gang gather round to greet him. But when he accuses Jim Gary, who wears no discharge button of having sat out the war in a soft job, the crowd falls silent.

THE uncomfortable silence lasted a long minute. It was Jim Gary himself who broke it.

"That's right, Red, I never went in at all. Guess I do owe you that dollar." He fumbled in his pocket and brought out his bill fold and took out a greenback. For one instance his eyes traveled slowly over Red's decorations. "Looks like you did all right. Sort of a one-man army, weren't you?"

It was Red's turn to flush now, angrily. Jim's last remark had all the earmarks of a nasty crack. But he held steady. After all he could afford to be magnanimous.

He even managed a grin as he accepted the dollar bill and said: "Stick around a while, Jim. We'll have some beers on this after I talk to the Old Man."

"Thanks," Jim said dryly. "I haven't time." He turned his back on Red and walked away.

Red stared after him his face growing hot with anger again. "Well, of all the d--- cheek. Still jealous, I suppose."

"Of all the stupid, cruel things to say! It was the tall brunet girl who had asked Red how it felt to kill a man. Her brown eyes were smoldering.

Red looked at her.

"What gives anyway?" he demanded again belligerently.

"All the heroes in this war don't wear a chest full of ribbons," she said acidly. "Jim Gary tried to enlist. They found a spot on his lungs and turned him down. Well, Jim didn't come back here crying about it. He never told a soul.

Red moved uneasily on his feet; his face reddened with embarrassment.

The girl went on rapidly. "We were working on war contracts then. Paint for tanks and guns and jeeps. Jim worked day-and-night, too, sometimes . . . to back up you boys out there fighting. But it wasn't good sense. That spot on his lungs developed. The other day a doctor told Jim he had just six months to live—unless he gets out to Arizona or some place like that. That's where he's headed now. He's just came in today to say goodbye."

"Gee, I'm sorry," Red said humbly. "I—I didn't know."

"Oh, cut the apologies," the girl said, not too graciously. "I guess you didn't know . . ."

RED'S eyes were busy taking her in. Tall, slim, attractive even in slacks and a paint spotted lab coat and with a smudge of black beside her short cute nose. Not bad at all, was his verdict.

"Say, sister, what's your name—you're a new one around here to me."

Her disdainful eyes came back to him momentarily. What she saw in a stocky, comely built man in an army pilot's uniform. His red hair was unruly with his cap off. His face square and blunt featured with blue eyes sparkling under sandy brows. She had met his type before. Cocky and dead sure of himself.

She answered him shortly, "Elise Varney."

"Red McFan," Red began eagerly. "Used to work here before the war."

The girl cut him short. "Yes, I've heard about you." She turned pointedly to her work.

It was evident she considered the conversation at an end.

Crestfallen, Red looked around. The crowd of welcome had vanished. Each man had gone back to his work. Red had the feeling suddenly of being an outsider. He walked almost truculently over to Mendel.

"Guess I'd better shove on. I . . . can't see the folks in the front office yet."

Mendel looked at him. "Coming back to work here, Red?"

Red nodded his head. "I suppose so."

Suddenly confidence flooded through him. Sure he'd be coming back to work, but not as any small time laboratory helper. Heck, no. The Old Man would probably make him assistant shop manager or something like that.

His head snapped up and his chest came out. "I'll be seeing you around, Mendel," he said and strutted to the lab and down a corridor to the front offices.

He gave his name to the secretary in Arthur Condon's private suite of offices and waited. A little warily he looked around. Rich wainscoting on the walls, heavy drapes and venetian blinds, a thick rug underfoot.

The next moment Arthur Condon appeared at the door of the inner office. He came across the room to Red, his hand outstretched in welcome, and smiling.

For a moment he just held Red's hand and then he said, and his voice betrayed his emotion: "Red, I'm glad to see you—glad to see you back and safe. Come on in here."

HE led the way to the inner room and motioned Red to a seat on a leather couch. Sat down beside him. His ruddy face was beaming under his silvery hair.

"Russel will be here in a moment," Arthur Condon said. "I sent word for him to come right over. He's working out in the plant."

He leaned forward confidentially, his heavily lined face growing serious: "Before Russel gets here, Red, I want to thank you for what you did. I can't repay you—you no one could repay you for that act of selfless bravery. I just want you to know that anything I can ever do for you will be too little. When a man has only one son—and nearly loses that son . . ."

Arthur Condon's voice broke.

meat items, also fruits, canned bread, and more confections and accessories, it is greatly superior to the old C and K rations of World War II.

The United States shipped 7,911,711 net tons of iron and steel to foreign users during 1945.

For a moment he couldn't go on. "It wasn't any more than Russ would have done for me," Red said with simple honesty. "Over there it was all our necks. We had to stick together."

"Tell me about it," Arthur Condon said suddenly. "It's impossible to get details out of Russel. I mean what actually happened."

"That was a bad day for us," Red said slowly. "Our regular squadron leader was grounded and we had a new one. We started across the Rhine into Germany and there was a solid wall of flak coming up to meet us. Well, the new boy got rattled. He turned and took us right up the Rhine. They were shooting at us from their batteries on both sides of the river. I've been in a lot of tough places, but that was about the worst. We were flying like this . . ."

Red flapped one of his big hands up and down illustrating the evasive action of a plane.

"I saw two planes go in, in less time than it takes to tell about it. I looked back and there was Russ right behind me. There was smoke coming from his tail and I knew he was in trouble. I cut out of formation and circled and came in behind him. Then I saw this Messerschmidt coming down on top of him. I just went up and shot it out with the Messerschmidt—and I was lucky, that was all. I got him before he got me."

Suddenly he cleared his throat and glanced at Arthur Condon nervously. There was something he had to know and there was no use in putting it off any longer. "Is Russ all right now?" he asked bluntly.

Russel Condon hadn't been hurt physically that day over the Rhine, but he'd been finished as a flyer. In flyer's lingo, he had discharged him and sent him home. But, Red wasn't going to tell his father this.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

One of Chicago's oldest bridge clubs, The Bridge Players Club, operated by Mrs. Lesley Pope Cook and Mrs. Madeline Anderson, is doing very well in its new quarters at the Hamilton Hotel. Today's hand was played at the club, and was sent to be for an opinion on an argument concerning it.

The bidding given is the way it happened at the club. In my opinion North should show the heart suit first, but I do not favor his two heart bid, as it is apt to crowd the bidding. After a free bid by North, South is practically forced to rebid; therefore over one heart, South would bid two clubs; West two diamonds; and now North should bid two spades. This shows a new suit and also a reversal.

Once again South is forced to rebid, and in all probability should bid two no trump to show no support for either hearts or spades. North will then bid three spades, which definitely marks him with five spades and six hearts.

Had the two suits been five each, the spade bid would have been the proper overall on the first round instead of hearts.

While South has only two hearts, he does have a fit in spades and has the valuable queen of hearts. Therefore South should not just take a preference; he should bid five hearts, and of course North will go to six hearts.

When South bids five hearts, North should know that he does not have control of the diamond suit. While South invites a slam, the bidding indicates that it can be made only if North has control in diamonds. With the void in diamonds North is justified in bidding the small slam.

Movies Boom Business In Village Of 12

WYANDOTTE, KY. (AP)—Free movies ended a business slump at this village's general store.

J. T. Kennedy got the idea when summer trade fell off. He rigged up an outdoor movie and showed free pictures once a week. Crowds came from throughout this blue grass section.

Now Kennedy has converted his barn into a theater. Each Wednesday night movies are shown.

(P.S. Wyandotte's population is listed as 12 in the Rand-McNally atlas for 1946.)

Statues Organized But Work All Hours

BOSTON (AP)—Even the statues can "hear perfectly" in Boston's 46-year-old Symphony Hall, first auditorium in the world to be built in known conformity to acoustical laws. The Boston Symphony Orchestra dedicating a plaque to the designer, the late acoustical architect, Wallace C. Sabine, was told by his widow that the 16 classical plaster statues surrounding the second balcony had a practical purpose.

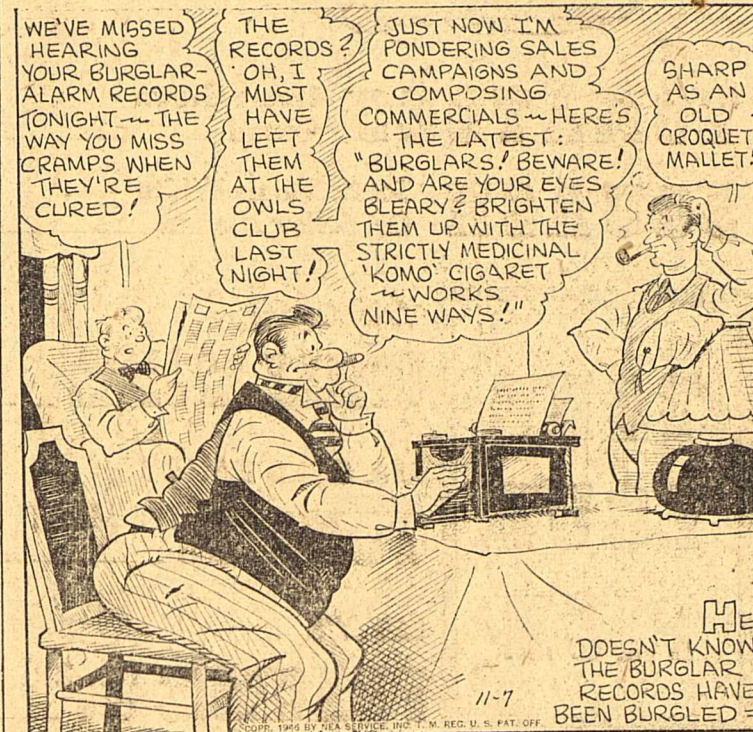

"They break up the sound waves and prevent undue reverberation," she said.

Converted 16 Times In One Grid Game

INDIANAPOLIS—(P)—Dr. John K. Kingsbury, Indianapolis physician, shakes his head in an unbelieving sort of way when he sees such football scores as 12 to 6. He place-kicked 16 straight points after touchdown in one game in 1905 as Butler University defeated Indiana State Normal, 101 to 0.

In those days a touchdown counted five points. The goal posts stood on the goal line, but most of the extra-point kicks were angle shots. The ball was brought out 20 yards from the place where the goal line was crossed—often near the side line.

"We frequently took the ball out 30 yards," Dr. Kingsbury says, "so we could see a little more space between the posts. As for those 16 straight points, I was just lucky. You don't often get that many chances in one game!"
