President Seeks abor Armistice

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON -(P)- President Truman Monday advocated an armistice between labor and management in his first public statement since he junked wage and price controls.

Wartime curbs on the two groups were lifted after five years when Truman swept ceilings off all items except rents, sugar and rice. Rent increases appeared "inevitable" to some government officials.

The subject of a labor-management truce came up at the President's Armistice Day news conference when a reporter asked whether he*- had noted such proposals. Truman replied that he Pool Wildcat In had not heard of the suggestions, but said it is just what he has been urging since August, N-E Edwards To he has been urging since August, 1945, when the war ended. The Chief Executive killed off the Run Casing price and wage controls in a weekend order, declaring: "I am convinced that their further continuance would do the nation's economy more harm than good.

At the same time the Chief Executive placed "squarely upon man-agement and labor" the "responsifor economic stability. bility"

His decontrol edict brought immediate promises from industry and business leaders that prices will be held at reasonable levelsafter a period of adjustment. "If Wages Don't Rise"

But some of these leaders tempered their pladges with a big "if"if wage demands don't upset the applecart

From labor unions, many of which already are seeking higher pay to offset living cost increases, there was nothing but silence on the President's action.

On the coal, steel, auto and several other fronts there is plenty of potential trouble if management and labor deadlock as they did a few .months back.

While the unions said nothing, the United States Chamber of Commerce called on labor to exercise "self-restraint" in wage demands and in the use of the strike weapon to enforce wage demands.

And Robert R. Wason, president the National Association of Manufacturers, declared that prices, after a temporary rise, "will be ad- will drill to at least 8,000 feet- killing the pilot and co-pilot and justed downward under restored unless Ellenburger production is injuring 17 passengers and the competitive conditions" unless industry costs are forced up "by an-other round of wage demands."

Editorial

"It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us-that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion -that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain-.'

Today is Armistice-the day on which we celebrate the end of World War I. Many will use it as a day of celebration. But truly, it should be a day of thanksgiving for the victories won in both World Wars I and II. Yes thanksgiving that they, those dead, and we have done our part to "make the world safe for democracy".

Midland and Midland County have loved ones who are buried on foreign soil, where they fought and gave the most valuable possession on earth-their lives. "But the world can never forget what they when already we are turning to worldly pleasures and working for our own selfish gains, instead of giving our full measure to bring about the things for which they fought-freedom of government, freedom of press, and the freedom of worship.

Many of our Midland friends will be reminded of fond memories today-memories of loved ones lost in the titantic struggle for freedom. But if each of us will resolve to turn our backs on worldly pleasures until the world is free of oppression, then we can say that those boys did not die for a foolish cause.

Let each one of us pause for a few minutes today lift our voices to God, and thank Him for the merciful benefits which we have received, and say:

"We, the people of Midland, are 'dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought have thus far so nobly advanced'."

Armistice Day-1946

The observance of Armistice Day this year generally commemorates the ending of both World War I and World War II, and it is most fitting that we should pause and pay tribute to those gallant men and women who fought and died in the two World Wars.

Midland merchants, at a recent meeting, voted unanimously to observe the November 11 holiday in commemoration of the ending of both World Wars.

The vice-commander of the Midland American Legion Post and the commander of the Vetérans of Foreign Wars Post have issued statements in honor of the dead of both conflicts.

But how can we best honor and pay tribute to these brave men and women?

Perhaps by rededicating ourselves to the task of winning a permanent and everlasting peace.

Since the end of World War II there has been constant bickering in our own country, and between nations, and a lasting peace for which our men and women fought and died cannot be attained so long as this situation exists.

It is time now—on this Armistice Day—to rededicate our lives to the immediate task of achieving first national unity, and then unity of understanding throughout the world.

Such a rededication would indeed be a fitting tribute to our dead on this Armistice Day.

Already Lewis has the best contract he ever nego

Already Lewis has the best contract he ever negotiated. It was so full of new and expensive clauses that the operators took one look and then took their departure. The government had to come in, sign the contract at Lewis' terms, and agree to run the mines in order to end the last strike.

Now, of course, Lewis wants more. He's not inter-ested in any cost-of-living adjustment. He wants a fiveday, 40-hour week instead of the present six-day, 54-hour schedule—at the same money, of course.

If past history is an indication, he'll get it. And if past history is to be trusted a bit further, he'll demand a new contract with more favorable concessions when and if he resumes negotiations with the private operators.

Whether the mine operators will be able to keep on meeting Lewis' demands and still stay in business is a question. But there is less question that Lewis, by getting what he wants from the government, will start a whole new cycle of wage and other demands in other industries. The result-less production, more unemployment, more high prices, more inconvenience, more dissipated purchasing power.

Thus John L. Lewis continues to bend the United States government and the national economy to his will. #### 6-THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, NOV. 11, 1946 S'West Conference In Birds In Hand charges Monday because Friday night here the Bulldogs take on Big Spring in a 3-AA battle. Muddle As Four Teams Tie For Championship By MAX B. SKELTON Associated Press Staff Writer For years there has been an old aying that anything can happen in the Southwest Conference. Well, that anything-plus just about everything else-took place last Saturday and as a result the 1946 championship race Monday is just as much of a muddle as it was last September when the first games were unreeled. Arkansas' Razorbacks, source of nost of the trouble for the experts. brought their rampage to a climax Saturday by defeating the Rice Owls, 7-0, on a muddy but sun-swept field at Little Rock.

Texas received its usual Baylor scare for the first three quarters at Waco before cashing in on the kicking toe of all-around Bobby Layne and a couple of blocked punts to win, 22-7, and bounce into a virtual tie for first place in the onference standings.

The Aggies from College Station, Admiral Marc Mitscher, scourge of Japs in war, trained nowever, were doing the same kind of bouncing in Dallas, blanking Southern Methodist, 14-0, despite the Mustangs' holding a statistical scourge of Japs in war, trained his gun with equally satisfac-lory results' on Japanese pheasants at Whitefield, Mé. The Admiral goes "bird in the land" adage one better. He got two. Arkansas, now in first place by virtue of having played more conference games, holds a sharp ad-vantage as the four once-defeated

Odessa-Mustang Battle Monday In District Contest

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor Odessa's top-rated Bronchos clash with Sweetwater's unbeaten Mus-tangs at Odessa Monday in the deciding game of the District 3 championship race—a battle that also will establish the No. 1 team in Texas schoolboy football. Odessa, highly-favored, can retain its pinnacle by beating Sweetwater; victory for Sweetwater, which was tied by Wichita Falls, would cause some revisions in the ankings.

Another important game is scheduled in the state Monday as Breck-enridge, leader of the District 9 race, meets Brownwood at Breckenridge. It's the start of a threeway scrap for the title. Brownwood has lost only one game as Mineral Wells and Breckenridge has to meet both before closing the campaign. Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio the heir apparent to the No. 1 ranking in the state should Odessa stumble or fail to beat weetwater decisively. No District Is Won

No district is definitely won but several prohibitive favorites have come forward. Amarillo removed Borger 14-0 last week and appears a shoo-in for the District 1 championship. Conroe looks like a cinch to win the District 12 title since Lufkin lost its victory over Conroe by forfeit. Other top favorites are Highland Park (Dallas) in District 6, North Side (Fort Worth) in District 7, Milby in the Houston District and Edinburg in District 16. Only ten teams remain undefeated in the Texas schoolboy football campaign now in its final three weeks except for the state play-off in which district champions com-pete. Here are the records of the unbeaten teams
