Midland, do you want baseball?

An open meeting for all persons in the city interested in forming and backing a Midland entry in a Class D league composed of cities in this West Texas area will be held at 3:30 p. m. Friday in the private dining room of the Scharbauer Hotel.

Midland must act promptly to have baseball by next season. It now holds a deposit for a franchise and must supplement this with a larger deposit at a meeting in Big Spring Sunday.

A dozen interested persons met Wednesday morning and discussed the problem of baseball for Midland. Possible entries in a compact league including Midland include Brownwood, Coleman, Ballinger, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Odessa, and possibly Lamesa.

Any person interested is invited to the Friday meeting, whether from a stock-holder standpoint, civic interest, or otherwise.

U. S. Oil Shale Fuel Reserve

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
WASHINGTON —(P)— Before the average man is using atomic energy in his automobile and furnace, government fuel experts predict, this nation's oil reserves may be at a dangerously low point.

But scientists are working to build a new American fuel industry to fill the gap. This is the oil shale industry, with a known reserve from four to five times as great as the petroleum reserve.

Scientists forecast that within three years they can demonstrate a practicable method of operation. They hope to accomplish in a few years what experts of many nations have been trying to do for decades.

The government is spending $30,000,000 to develop fuel and oil from shale and other sources. Statistics of the American Petroleum Institute show America is consuming more than 1,500,000,000 barrels of oil a year. The proved reserve is around 20,453,231,000 barrels, less than a 20-year supply.

But Dr. W. C. Schroeder, chief of the Office of Synthetic Liquid Fuels of the Bureau of Mines, estimates that oil shale reserves of the United States contain four or five times this much recoverable oil, or about 92,000,000,000 barrels.

About 76,000,000,000 barrels or 82 per cent of the recoverable total are in the Green River formation of Colorado, Wyoming and Utah. Another major deposit is in the new Albany formation of Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio. Texas and Nevada have known isolated deposits, and smaller beds are found in 13 other states.

The Navy, greatest user of power in the nation, believes these oil shale deposits so important to national security that 163,484 acres of shale reserves have been set aside for it.

Without the aid of government subsidies or high tariffs, large scale oil shale industries have never existed in any country during peacetime because of the competition of petroleum.

However, with improved methods and by the sale of valuable by-products, this condition may change, experts say. Some by-products include detergents, insecticides, plant sprays, resins, solvents, emulsifying agents, medicinal chemical bases, dyes, phenols, cresols and numerous organic sulphur and nitrogen chemical compounds.

During the war Germany developed new processes and these now are available to American scientists.

Sweden also had a unique oil shale project. Experts of the Bureau of Mines say Swedish engineers drilled holes into these near-surface shale beds. They introduced heat into these holes by means of electricity. The temperature of the ground was raised until the oil vaporized and escaped through the holes. The vapor then was condensed and refined, producing oil.

Tropic Plants Grow
A queer by-product of this project was reported. The intense heat was said to make it possible to grow sub-tropical vegetation in a climate distinctly northern. Swedish experts reportedly estimated the soil warmth might last for years, permitting the growing of exotic plants.

Such a method is not expected in American shale areas. For one thing vast quantities of electricity are not available, and in addition much of the shale soil isn't sufficiently rich for crops.

Recovery of oil from shale requires three processes: mining the shale, retorting or "frying" the oil obtained from shale, and refining the crude oil obtained from the shale. Each phase represents enormous problems.

Postmaster Oates Stresses Importance Of Mailing Christmas Packages Over Period Of Several Days

Acting Postmaster N. G. Oates Wednesday stated that the necessity for early mailing of Christmas cards and gift packages is more imperative than ever before. Mailings for distant states should be deposited well in advance of December 10 and Christmas greeting cards for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 15 to assure delivery before Christmas Day.

Reasons For Early Mailing
With the approach of the first real peacetime holiday season in many years, Oates gave a number

Takes Own Advice, Mails Packages Early

Because he realizes its importance, Acting Postmaster N. G. Oates takes his own advice about doing Christmas shopping and mailing early. He started his shopping last July, and last Sunday mailed and delivered many of his Christmas packages.

"Marked each package plainly 'Do not open until Christmas,'" Oates commented. "If any of the packages are opened before then, the recipient ruins his own Christmas, not mine. My joy was in the giving."

Of additional reasons for the need of public cooperation on this year's Mail Early appeal of the Post Office Department, despite shortages and scarcity of many items, there are numerous indications that Christmas 1946 will be brighter and merrier than any Christmas season of recent years.

People are anxious to exchange gifts and greetings with relatives and loved ones who have returned from the Armed Services and there will be a tremendous amount of Christmas mail sent to wartime friends. Despite greatly increased personnel, the Postal Service, together with the nation's transport system, both rail and air, which are now carrying the heaviest loads in their history, face a delivery problem that is most acute from many angles.

Cooperation Needed
Oates explained that only through the direct and wholehearted cooperation of every individual will it be possible to handle this year's anticipated volume of holiday mail.

By carefully observing the mailing dates together with close attention to the packaging and addressing requirements, everyone can do much to insure the prompt handling of the Christmas mails this year.

The postmaster particularly stressed the importance of correct addressing and mentioned that last year millions of Christmas cards and packages failed of delivery entirely or were days late in arriving because of improper or insufficient addresses.

In addition to addressing Christmas cards and packages carefully and wrapping all Christmas gifts securely so as to afford the utmost protection, Acting Postmaster Oates recommended that progressive mailings be made over a period of several days in order to help avoid congestion and confusion at local Post Offices.

Use First Class Postage
Speaking of Christmas Cards, "These," Oates stated, "should always be sent by first-class mail. Cards so sent may be forwarded whereas Christmas cards mailed in unsealed envelopes do not have any forwarding privileges if they are an improper or insufficient address."

Most Christmas cards can be sent at the new Air Mail rate of 5 cents per ounce. Use this speedy service to greet friends in distant states, and use regular three-cent postage for all other Christmas cards which insure forwarding to new addresses, Oates stressed.

Remember These Points . . .

- 1 Mail all Christmas cards and gift packages by December 10. Start now.
- 2 Address carefully—wrap securely.
- 3 Don't mail armfuls of cards and packages all at once. Space out your mailings over several days.
- 4 Many people have moved to new addresses. Only Christmas cards sent by first-class mail will be forwarded.

Community Theater Membership Tickets For 1947 On Sale In Campaign Headed By DeFord

Sale of 1947 Community Theatre memberships started Tuesday in an active campaign headed by Ronald K. DeFord, president of the organization.

Midland Community Theatre, Inc. is supported and operated by annual and other subscriptions made to it by the public and by admission fees charged or received for productions. For the coming year the types of memberships available are: sponsor memberships, $200 or more; associate sponsors, $50 to $100; patron memberships, $25; and season memberships, $15.

The season membership at $15 provides 12 admissions to the shows of the coming year, two admissions to the adult workshop classes, and two admissions to the children's workshop. The patron associate sponsor and sponsor memberships provide 16 admissions to the theatre's productions, two admissions to adult workshop, and admit three children to the children's workshop sessions.

Since the actual cost of producing the plays given so far this year has averaged $2.50 per person attending, it is essential that a large number of people take at least patron memberships in order to provide a budget large enough to carry the work of the organization through the coming year.

The seventh show of the season, "Ladies In Retirement", will be presented near the end of November. Although the memberships which are going on sale this week are for the 1947 season of shows, they will be usable for admission to the forthcoming production of "Ladies In Retirement", and also for admission to workshop sessions, if purchased before the end of this month.

W. H. Pomeroy is chairman of the committee which will handle the sale of tickets to the downtown offices. Mrs. Jack Barton, Mrs. Leonard C. Thomas, and Mrs. Alma Thomas head the committees for sale of tickets in the residential areas. Memberships may be secured from Art Cole, theater director.

Members of the Woman's Council of the First Christian Church met Tuesday at the church to sew and pack boxes of clothing for overseas relief. Present were Mrs. Wade Heath, Mrs. George Ratliff, Mrs. Charles W. Wilkinson, Mrs. A. M. Conant, Mrs. J. O. Hyde, Mrs. Ella Ragsdale, Mrs. V. L. Heidelberg, Mrs. Sophia Dunnam, Mrs. G. H. Members of Trinity Episcopal Church opened their annual every-member canvass Tuesday evening with a parish dinner in the Scharauer Educational Building of the First Methodist Church. The dinner was prepared and served by the Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Church. A motion picture was enjoyed. The Rev. Robert J. Inell, rector of the church, presented its budget for 1947 and explained the items.

In Central Europe which has drawn her into costly wars in 30 years. All of the nations except France are more or less committed to ultimate rehabilitation of Germany as a whole, with the exception of the Russo-Polish fait accompli in East-Germany. France would like to see the Rhur become an international industrial pool largely controlled by herself, and wants to incorporate the Saar.

Russia would like to see the same sort of "friendly" government in Germany as she has established in the Middle European countries, and is working desperately toward that end in her own zone, both through political parties and through collectivization of this rich agricultural area. Britain is determined that this shall not happen to Germany as a whole, and that Germany shall be held to a non-military economic level.

Agriculture For Germany
The United States, as evidenced by its actions in its own zone, wants the occupation continued until De-Nazification and democratic educational programs shall have had full opportunity to do their work, and then would like to see Germany emerge as more of an agricultural country, but with industry restored as far as possible without reviving military potentials—a whole country and not a hothouse for the seeds of war.
A demilitarized Rhur would thus remain an integral part of the Reich. Some deal with France over the Saar may not be out of the question, however. The end of German cartels is an important part of this policy, accompanied by integration of German economy into that of Europe as a whole, rather than permitting too much competition.
The present campaign for economic fusion not only of American and British zones, but of all zones, is a part of this picture. Also involved is the American desire to be rid of an estimated expenditure of $200,000,000 annually for supplies in her zones which should come from other parts of Germany.

C. Of C. Luncheon To Be December 3

The next general membership luncheon of the Midland Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday, December 3, O. C. Harper president, announced at a director's meeting of the organization Tuesday night. He said it will be the last luncheon of the year.

Directors paid tribute to the late Clint Dunagan, vice-president of the chamber, who was killed in a plane crash last week. R. L. Miller was named chairman of a committee to prepare a resolution which will be presented to Dunagan's family.

Ulmer Reports

M. C. Ulmer gave a report on the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention held last week in Abilene. Directors also confirmed the action of the executive committee in electing Paul McHargue as a Midland director in the WTCC.

Bill Collins reported on his recent trip to Washington where he represented the chamber at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing.

President Harper said 26 new members were added to the membership roster last month.

Houston Residents To Protest Rising Prices

HOUSTON —(AP)—A group of Houston residents have named a committee to protest to merchants against any unnecessary and unreasonable price increases.

Approximately 100 citizens met Tuesday night to discuss what could be done about the rising costs of living. Besides naming the protest committee, other groups were formed to plan a more definite means of action. A second meeting was scheduled for November 26.

4-H Club Girls Will Be Feted At Harvest Banquet Wednesday

BY TANNER LAINE

A Gold Star Club Girl of Midland County will be named at a Harvest Banquet in the City-County Auditorium Wednesday evening with 200 persons attending and in reviewing the achievements of the girls, who are candidates for the honor, one can find many accomplishments and worthwhile endeavors.

It is good for a layman like we are to interview these girls and ask them questions about the many useful things they did. For we know not a stitch from a seam or a layer cake, from an upside cake, except to taste, or ask questions.

Janie Manning

There's Miss Janie Manning, president of the Warfield Club, whose homemaking achievements would do credit to the best of housewives. Janie is 16 years old and a clothing major in her club work. That means clothing was her project. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Manning and she is a senior in Midland High School. Her entries in clothing and foods have won many prizes and prize trips to 4-H state events. She had rather sew than cook but she can do either expertly.

And Miss Nadine Manning, a clothing demonstrator of the Warfield Club. Nadine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Manning of the Warfield community. She finished Midland High last year and plans to major in home economics in some good college, preferably TSCW. She is vice-president of the 4-H Club of her community and was twice president. Also she was reporter and secretary and treasurer, holding every office with ability and accomplishment.

Let Nadine describe some of her experiences in her club work: "this year I won first place on two dresses I entered in the style show. This entitled me to a trip with the other girls to the sub-district camp. I also won first place at the county fair for my two-piece dress. For this I won a prize, a blue ribbon and trip to the State Fair. I really consider myself quite a lucky person."

Nadine, like all the 4-H Club girls, likes the trips and projects of her club very much. And these are instructive as well as entertaining. She sums it up about her clothing project saying: "I feel sure that I have accomplished something by saving money and at the same time keeping my clothes fixed and in order."

Charlene Gregory, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gregory of the Valley View community and a foods major. She is secretary of her 4-H Club. Charlene enjoyed her trip to the State Fair this year very much. She has taken home economics in Midland High School and been in club work for three years. Modestly she admits she can cook good bread.

Charlene Gregory
Charlene says: "I received a bracelet for entering the foods contest and won a trip to College Station. I received a blue ribbon for a dresser scarf entry in the Midland County Fair and won a trip to the State Fair in Dallas."

Charlene, like some of the other girls, in her entry suggested another girl for the Gold Star Award. Julia Midkiff

Julia Midkiff, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herd Midkiff of Valley View, is president of the 4-H Club in her community. She has made three interesting trips this year in club work. Her specialty is foods. She is a previous Gold Star Girl winner in Midland County. Julia is a senior in Midland High School and plans to attend college. She has had two years of home economics work in high school and will major in that in college. She has won many prizes for her needlework and cooking, and is an all-around good 4-H Club girl. She can bake a cake.

Joan McDonald

Joan McDonald, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McDonald of Valley View and is vice-president of her club. She is a junior in Midland High School and takes home economics. She has made dresses and other articles of clothing. She plans to go to college.

Mary Lynn Manning, 14, a sister of Nadine, is a clothing major. She is a sophomore in Midland High School. This is her fourth year of club work.

She tells something of her club work: "This year I won a trip to Ruidoso by making a cotton dress and a play suit. I won first place with both and got good scores. I have won on my cooking also and I went to the State Fair, which I enjoy very much. In order to do such things we girls sponsored a box supper at Valley View to earn money for our trip and projects."

Leila Norwood

Still another good club girl is Leila Norwood, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Howard of Valley View community. Leila is a reporter for her club. She is a junior in Midland High School. She likes cooking and desserts are her specialty. She can plan and cook and serve a complete meal and has done so. She made three trips this year, to College Station, Dallas, and Ruidoso, N. M.

Leila Norwood, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Norwood of the Warfield Community, is a poultry demonstrator. This girl gets a lot of pleasure working with her chickens and realizing returns from them in eggs and fryers for the home table use. She has three years of club work behind her and expects more. She is a Midland High School student and takes home economics. Leila has a pet "bantam" that provides amusement in the barnyard as she works with her chickens.

Leila says: "In my third year of club work I have learned to do many new and interesting things, also self improvement and I canned eleven jars of fruit. I prepared and served meals. I iron all by clothes. I raised 35 chickens for table use at home."

Pauline Norwood

Her sister is Pauline Norwood, 14, who has dresses and food demonstrations on display in Midland during this week. Food preparation is Pauline's specialty. She planned, cooked and served 21 summer meals. She is a sophomore in Midland High School. She has won trips for her club work. She will eat her own cooking, she says. And her specialty is baking breads.

To prove Pauline enjoys her work in 4-H, she writes: "I helped sell food at the Fat Stock Show and also at the Dairy Show. I helped sell at the rummage sale. I attended the county encampment at Cloverdale Park. This has been the most interesting year I have ever spent while in the 4-H Club."

Sammie Swails
Sammie Swails, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Swails of the Warfield Club. Her project was a garden in which she and her brother raised many useful vegetables for the table at home. This is her third year of club work and she is club secretary. She has won trips for her accomplishments in club work.

All of these girls will be present at the banquet, Wednesday night in addition to many others of the county. And to one of them the Gold Star will be awarded.

DALLAS, —(AP)—After receipt of their "freedom" as a result of the end of OPA controls, businessmen now must demonstrate with intelligent management that industry can be run by its individuals, W. W. Stephenson, former chief of shoe rationing under OPA, told Southwestern shoe men here Tuesday.

Speaking before members of the Southwestern Shoe Travelers and Southwest Texas Retailers Association, Stephenson said, "with your new freedom we have inherited responsibilities and it is our job to come out of the immediate confusion with intelligent management. There are men in the government who do not believe that industry can be run by its individuals."

you're a big shot

To the Midland of the Future, you're a Big Shot.

You saw a need for better cultural opportunities and entertainment for Midland; you established the Midland Community Theatre to fill that need. You purchased memberships, donated your time, talents, and a great deal of enthusiasm to its activities. Although just last March (less than a year ago!) the Community Theatre was only a Hope and a Promise—your faith in its fulfillment has resulted in its overwhelming success.

So far this season six first class plays have been presented. Remember "Junior Miss"? "Uncle Harry"? "George Washington Slept Here"? "The Musical Revue"? Performed by so-called amateurs of course—but real acting ability has been proven and the results are not just amateur theatricals, but finished productions. They are, in fact, on a par with many non-professional productions in cities where an admission of from $2 to $5 per person is charged.

Allied with the Community Theatre are the Adult Workshop, the Children's Theatre and the Junior (Teen-Age) Workshops. Into these classes Director Art Cole pours all his know-how in the instruction of stage craft, makeup and acting. These Workshop sessions, available to Community Theatre members and their children, are educational and wholesome recreation for every age.

And so in 1946 a firm foundation has been laid.

Today the Governors of the Community Theatre begin a drive for another year in Midland for the Community Theatre, and ask your continued support to its preservation—through the purchase of 1947 memberships. The Theatre is a non-profit corporation, you know. Its work is financed ONLY by the sale of memberships.

You can be a Sponsor, an Associate Sponsor, or a Patron Member depending on the amount you invest ($25 to $200) or you can have a season membership for a mere $15.00. There's a membership to fit every purse, and each includes admission to productions as well as workshop sessions. Since the actual cost of producing these shows has averaged $2.50 per person attending, a large number of people should take at least Patron memberships in order to provide a budget large enough to carry the work of the organization through the coming year.

Purchase a 1947 membership now and invest in the growth of a truly COMMUNITY theatre.
