Coal Rationing Urged By Government

American Authorities Asked To See That Justice Is Done In Death Of UN Delegate

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuisky has called on Secretary of State James F. Byrnes to see that American authorities "bring to justice" those responsible for the shooting of Gregory V. Staaniuk, a member of the Ukrainian United Nations delegation, Wednesday night, it was learned Saturday night.

Informed quarters said Manuisky, in a formal letter to Byrnes, expressed doubt that the shooting was a simple robbery, as maintained by New York police, and asked that the Secretary of State make sure that the case was given an urgent investigation.

He was quoted as demanding that Byrnes inform him "about the measures that have been taken."

Manuisky described the circumstances in which the shooting took place, when Staaniuk along with another Ukrainian adviser, A. D. Voima, entered a delicatessen late Wednesday night, and said he had come to the conclusion that this "is not simple robbery."

Previously, Manuisky had told reporters that he considered it a "political crime."

He declared in his letter that the shooting appeared to be "a pre-meditated attempt" on the life of the two Ukrainians.

Two points were cited in the letter to bear out this conclusion:

1. The shooting took place in a store, near the Hotel Plaza where Staaniuk and Voima usually went at the same hour each day to buy fruit.

2. No attempt was made to rob the Ukrainians.

Radio communication with the plane was ineffectual and there was no way in which authorities at Meiringen could learn the condition of the passengers. Previous reports had said eight were strecher cases.

The Swiss announcement said radio equipment would be dropped at the scene Saturday night and that two Fieseler-Storch planes, of German-make and similar to American artillery observation planes, might be landed near the glacier camp if the physical condition of the injured make such a hazardous operation necessary.

The first pages of the book will contain up-to-the minute figures on statistical data and useful information concerning the city and county in general, followed by a handy guide and reference to the business firms, officials and institutions of Midland.

Although no personal solicitation will be made, telephone invitations to all merchants and professional people to cooperate in the enterprise will be extended by members of the directory staff. No display advertising will be contained in the book. A nominal listing charge is being made for including a card in this representative book.

Phone The Reporter-Telegram, No. 7 or 8, to assure the insertion of your name and business in the book.

The spreading coal strike meant dimouts, curtailed transportation and closing factories to much of the United States Saturday but to oil-producing, oil-using Texas it was just something to read about in the papers.

All major railroads serving Texas use oil-burning locomotives and expect to continue present schedules.

Few Texas factories use coal. The huge Sheffield Mills at Houston use petroleum coke, but they buy it from the McAlester, Okla., mines which are not affected by the strike.

Few electric power plants use coal in Texas, and no dimout is anticipated.

Plans to utilize Texas gas by piping it to the East in the Big Inch and Little Inch pipelines have made headlines, but nothing definite has been done.

Norman Drake, Midland County 4-H club boy and winner of the gold star award as the outstanding club boy of 1946, is congratulated by Bill Marshall, district agricultural agent, at a recent Harvest Banquet honoring both boys and girls and their parents. Drake was winner also of the Thomas Wilson award for meat animal production.

CHILDRESS—(AP)—Lewis Brady, 45, Childress soft drinks truck driver, received fatal injuries Saturday when he lost control of the truck on a highway 10 miles north of here and it crashed.

MEIRINGEN, SWITZERLAND—(AP)—A 60-man rescue squad Saturday crawled to 11 Americans whose U. S. Army transport plane crashed on a glacier high in the Alps, but Swiss military sources said the squad had abandoned efforts to start removal of the passengers from their icy shelf Sunday morning.

That meant that the passengers, including four women and a 11-year-old girl, must spend a fifth night on the 8,000 foot high glacier. Doctors were in the rescue party, however, and supplies have been dropped to ease the plight of the injured.

Communications Bad

The Swiss authorities said that it had been planned to take some of the passengers down to a halfway hut used by skiers as a shelter, but this was called off as darkness enveloped the scene.

Heads Red Army

Marshal Ivan S. Konev, above, one of Russia's most brilliant commanders, has been appointed commander-in-chief of Soviet army ground forces, succeeding Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, according to the London Daily Worker, Communist Party organ. His appointment was first reported last July by United Press, but there had been no official announcement.

Molotov Rejects Big Four Efforts To Restrict Veto

NEW YORK—(AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov flatly rejected Saturday night Anglo-American-Chinese-French efforts to restrict use of the veto, and the badly split Big-Five thereupon tossed the whole issue back into the United Nations Assembly.

Action came after two and one-quarter hours of argument behind closed doors. The clashing views between Molotov and the other big power spokesmen were reported, however, by Western diplomats at the meeting.

These disclosed that at the outset of the meeting, Molotov urged his colleagues, including Secretary of State Byrnes and British Foreign Minister Bevin, to adopt a resolution stating that they were against all attempts to revise the veto provisions of the United Nations charter, that they objected to regimentation and formalism being imposed on the United Nations organs and that they sought further development of UN harmony.

Bevin, Byrnes, Ambassador Wellington Koo, of China, and Alexander Parodi, of France, all declared that they considered Molotov's resolution unacceptable.

Although the 1946 goal is somewhat higher than last year's, campaign leaders are confident that Midland citizens again will rally to the cause, exceeding the quota in quick order.

"Pay for your seals promptly, and 'then use them,'" is the plea of campaign leaders.

Infuriated Farmer Captures Two Convicts Who Mistreated His Wife

ROSEBUD, TEXAS—(AP)—A 72-year-old retired farmer who was never known to have been in a fight before, became infuriated when his elderly wife was treated roughly and was credited Saturday with capturing two desperate escaped convicts who hammered to death a Huntsville State Prison guard.

During the scuffle with the convicts, their own gun went off, fatally wounding one man and critically injuring the second.

Christmas Seal Drive Underway Here Monday

Hundreds of Midland citizens Monday will receive letters containing 1946 Christmas "TB" seals, and the annual month-long campaign of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association will be underway.

The letters were placed in the mail Sunday, after association workers, Girl Scouts, members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, and other volunteers had spent busy days and nights preparing the seals, letters and return envelopes for mailing.

This year's quota is $4,500, which corresponds to the amount of the association's 1947 budget. Last year's goal of $3,951 was exceeded well before Christmas Day.

1947 Budget

The 1947 budget includes: health education $900; case finding $1,770; administration $400; seal sale $470; state portion $900; national portion $300.

Of each dollar retained by the Midland association, 50 cents goes for case finding, 25 cents for health education, 12 cents for administration, and 13 cents for seal sale.

The Midland County Tuberculosis Association is entirely financed by proceeds from the seal sale.

John J. Redfern, Jr., is general chairman of the seal sale campaign. Members of his committee are R. S. Brashears, Mrs. Tom Bobo, Mrs. J. M. Devereaux, Ferd Rhodes, and Mrs. W. C. Imbt.

Prompt Return Urged

Prompt return of seal payments are urged by the committee members.

Dr. Homer B. Johnson is president of the Midland County TB Association, and Mrs. J. M. Devereaux and Ferd Rhodes are vice-presidents. Mrs. R. E. L. Taylor is secretary, and Mrs. Nettie B. Romer is treasurer. Mrs. Linnie Davidson is executive secretary.

Convict Pulls Gun

The convict, Wren, pulled a gun and ordered Burch to hand over the keys. Mrs. Burch, standing nearby, shoved the gun aside. Wren roughly pushed her and she fell to the floor.

Infuriated, Burch whirled on Wren and pushed him outside the door. He shouted to his wife to go for help.

They were suffling when the second convict, Dunlap, ran up. Dunlap shouted to Wren to toss him the gun. Burch grabbed for it and the automatic shotgun went off. The bullet struck Dunlap in the chest.

Both Burch and Wren fought for the gun which had rolled free. It went off a second time, striking Wren in the head.

Burch was astride Wren as officers came up and took charge of the badly wounded prisoners.

No injuries were reported in the fire which destroyed boys' dormitories, a kitchen and dining room and several class rooms.

The structure, built about 20 years ago, is the property of the Church of Christ.

Would-Be Robber Roped By Big Spring Youth

BIG SPRING—(AP)—A 16-year-old youth from the Bronx, New York, found a Western method of capturing bandits a little primitive but very effective.

He attempted to hold up Mrs. Elmo Phillips, in her home. The gun was a toy pistol. Mrs. Phillips screamed and the youth ran.

He outdistanced a passerby and police but an unidentified boy on horseback overtook and bulldozed the Easterner.

Myron Taylor Returns To Vatican To Talk Peace Discussions

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman sent Myron C. Taylor back to the Vatican for important new peace discussions and bolstered American diplomatic representation in the troubled Middle East Saturday in twin moves of far-reaching significance.

Taylor left by plane Friday night for Paris on the first leg of his journey. A White House announcement was issued Saturday, saying that Truman had directed him to continue his mission in behalf of peace.

The statement said Taylor's new mission will be "of short duration, not exceeding thirty days." This prompted speculation whether this country is about to end its nearly seven-year-old representation to the Vatican or possibly send another delegate.

TIPTON, OKLA.—(AP)—A $100,000 fire destroyed the north wing of the main building of the Tipton Orphanage Saturday afternoon and 148 children were taken into private homes in Tipton as the structure was evacuated.

No injuries were reported in the fire which destroyed boys' dormitories, a kitchen and dining room and several class rooms.

Truman Returns To Spur Drive To Stop Nation's Coal Strike

WASHINGTON—(AP)—"Drastic" coal rationing by local communities was urged by the government Saturday while President Truman, back from Florida, conferred with three cabinet members on possible further moves to end the strike.

Secretary of the Interior Krug telegraphed all 48 governors a warning that emergency soft coal supplies are slim and suggesting that local communities plan now for closing amusement places and even schools and extending the dimout if their stocks run low.

John L. Lewis still gave no sign of ordering the 400,000 bituminous miners back to work. And A. Philip Randolph, president of the AFL Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, told a New York meeting that "it may come to the point where it will be necessary for organized labor to back the United Mine Workers with a general strike."

The AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific already has pledged "full physical and financial support" to Lewis' union.

Already the strike which became virtually total on Wednesday had made itself felt. Four of the biggest steelmakers shut down 87 blast and open hearth furnaces to save fuel.

Truman, returning in mid-afternoon from a week's vacation at Key West, Fla., conferred immediately with Krug, Attorney General Clark and Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach as well as other advisors. Krug and Clark have been the field generals for the finish fight the President ordered against Lewis. Schwelmbach hitherto has not had an active role in the situation.

The conference lasted an hour and 20 minutes. Secretary of Commerce Harriman also was invited to the session but was in New York.

At the Justice Department, attorneys worked on the legal arguments they will present to Federal Judge A. Alan Goldsborough on Monday in connection with the contempt citation against Lewis. Attorneys for Lewis also were busy at their headquarters.

Hearing On "Inch" Use

With clamor growing among congressmen for legislative action to curb strikes, Chairman Slaughter (D-Md) of the House Surplus Property Committee called a hearing Monday to determine if the government-owned Big and Little Inch pipe lines could be converted immediately as conveyors of natural gas.

The government was reported headed toward a decision next week on the question, in hopes the gas which the wartime pipe lines could carry from Texas to the cold-weather, industrial East might help ease the fuel shortage.

Memorial Plants Purchased For City Parks Here

Financed by contributions from civic and service clubs and other organizations of Midland, 53 pyracantha plants have been purchased by the Midland County Branch of the Texas Roadside Council, Mrs. A. L. Repecka, chairman, announced Saturday.

The plants will be placed in city parks as "living" memorials to Midland County service men and women who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country.

The pyracantha is the official plant of Midland County.

The city will care for the plants set out in the parks.

County-Wide Program

The program of the council is county-wide in scope, and citizens are asked to plant one or more of the shrubs in their yards. The goal is to have these "living" memorials growing in every yard in the county.

"In this way, the memory of our war dead will be kept alive," Mrs. Repecka said.

Mrs. Repecka expressed appreciation to all organizations and individuals who contributed to the fund and who assisted in any way in the project.

Mexico's First Civilian President To Be Inaugurated

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Miguel Aleman, lawyer and politician, will be Mexico's first civilian president when he takes office December 1 in the marble Palacio de Bellas Artes, show place of Mexico built by an art-loving president, Gen. Porfirio Diaz.

Aleman was elected July 7 in what many Mexicans described as the first "honest election" ever held in this country where more often than not pistols have ruled the ballot boxes.

Pres. Manuel Avila Camacho who ends his six-year-term Sunday kept good his promise for an equal opportunity for every voter at the polls. There were many charges of fraud, of stuffed ballot boxes and of coercion, but the supreme court found no reason to dispute the results of Aleman landslide.

Many observers believe Aleman, because of his support by the powerful Government Party (PRI) could have won the election without making a campaign speech or leaving his swivel chair.

Stumps Every State

However, from the start of the campaign Aleman was on the stump speaking in every state of the union. He came in contact with as many people as possible supplementing his speaking tour with round-table discussions in various parts of the country on nearly every phase of national life.

It was upon information gathered during the roundtable talks that he built his six-year-program which calls for expanded industrialization of this essentially agrarian country, better farming practices with more machinery to produce bigger crops, a sound labor-management plan to give the industrialization impetus, a vast farm-to-market highway program and better rail facilities to improve the nation's agricultural economy and an efficient, honest government.

Because of his extensive campaigning, Aleman is probably more nearly a true representative of the people than any previous president. His associates say he was deeply touched by the poverty he saw during his long tours.

"A country can neither be rich nor prosperous," he said so long as the people live in fear of hunger or government oppression.

Mrs. Makes Hit

BELVIDERE, ILL.—(AP)—Raymond Beckley returned from an all-day hunting trip and informed his wife that he had no pheasants—the birds kept out of gun range.

Mrs. Beckley grinned, told him to sit down to the table, and served up a plump pheasant.

The ringneck had scooted in front of her automobile while she was returning home after driving her husband to the shooting grounds.

Ken Williams Named Assistant Editor Of College Magazine

Ken Williams of Midland, a senior mechanical engineering student at Texas A. and M. College, has been elected assistant editor of the "Texas A & M Engineer," monthly publication of the Student Engineering Council, for the 1946-47 school year.

Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams, 803 West Kansas Street, Midland, graduated from Midland high school in 1941, and entered A. and M. in the fall of that year.

He entered the Army while in college, and served eight months in the South Pacific. He was discharged as a first lieutenant last July. He returned to A. and M. for the summer term.

Robert W. Davies, editor of the engineering publication, and Williams served together in the South Pacific.

Plans of the staff call for a 50-page magazine, to commence publication in January.

Lowe To Dig 4,200-Foot Wildcat In N-W Garza; Argo 1 Roberts Flowed 42 Barrels Of Oil In Five Hours

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Ralph Lowe of Midland is to start drilling immediately on a 4,200-foot wildcat in Northwest Garza County, to explore the middle Permian.

The prospector will be Lowe's No. 1 Ruth S. Blake, and is 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 1200, I&GN survey, Northwest of Post.

That puts it about six miles northwest of Post and approximately seven and one-half miles northwest of nearest production in the Garza field.

Contract to drill the wildcat has been let to John C'Neal of Lubbock, who is moving in rotary equipment at the end of the week. Lowe took a block of about 3,300 acres surrounding the drillsite. Honolulu Oil Corporation, Amerada Petroleum Corporation, Globe Oil & Refining Company, Cooperative Refinery Association and George P. Livermore, Inc., took spreads in the block. Lowe retains about 2,000 acres of checkboarded leases in the area.

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1 Roberts, Southeast Reeves County prospective discovery, about 25 miles southeast of Pecos, approximately 13 miles northeast of Balmorhea, and in southeast quarter of section 294, block 15, H&GN survey, was to be cleaned out Saturday to plugged bottom at 10,875 feet in lower Permian lime.

The exploration is reported by unofficial, but informed sources, to have kicked off late Friday, after a shut-in of several hours, and flowed approximately 42 barrels of oil in five hours through a one-quarter-inch tubing choke.

98 Per Cent New Oil
The fluid was 98 per cent new oil and two per cent residue from the 2,000-gallon mud acid treatment used several days ago.

Casing pressure ranged up to 2,000 pounds. It would drop below that point at times, but would come up again.

At the end of five hours the flow of oil was decreasing and the gas volume was increasing. It is understood that the prospector continued to flow some oil by hand for another ten hours after the 42 barrels, in five hours, had been produced.

The best reports available are that in the full period of 15 hours the well made around 55 barrels of oil—with about an average of two per cent acid residue cut.

These reports have not been officially verified by owner's representatives. The pay section from 9,895 feet to plugged bottom is still not completely cleaned, and it is thought that it will be several days before the true value of the apparent discovery can be accurately determined.

Jameson Sets Casing
Sun Oil Company No. 1 Jameson, Northwest Coke County discovery for some sort of production from the crinoidal section of the Pennsylvanian, in southwest quarter of section 253, block 1-A, H&TC survey, and about 17 miles air line northwest of Robert Lee, was tested casing, which had been cemented at 6,225 feet, over total depth of 6,230 feet.

Operator was scheduled—if the pipe was found to be satisfactorily cemented—to drill out the plug and start making production tests some time Sunday. The zone to be investigated developed some gas and some free oil in a drillstem test several days ago.

Union Oil Company of California No. 1-F Means, about two miles north of the town of Andrews, in Central Andrews County, and in northeast quarter of section 1, block A-46, psi survey, was testing to total depth at 4,930 feet, in San Andres lime.

Testing Continues
At last report there was between 800 feet and 900 feet of oil in the hole. A balling test which had been attempted for about 12 hours had not been satisfactory, and operator was expected to start swabbing soon.

The project likely will be completed for some sort of a producer and discovery.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Mary E. Turner, in East Midland County, about 12 miles southeast of Midland, and in northwest quarter of section 43, block 37, W. T. Holcombe survey, T-2-S, drilled to 11,410 feet in Devonian chert and lime, and was taking a drillstem test at 11,350-40 feet.

Shell Oil Company, Inc., and The Texas Company No. 3 Rathiff and Bedford, north stepout from the discovery well of the Bedford field, in Southwest Andrews County, and from east lines of section 15, block A-54, psi survey, entered the Ellenburger at 11,630 feet, on an elevation of 3,193 feet. According to unofficial correlations that puts the prospector 392 feet low on the top of the Ellenburger to the same marker in the initial producer in the field. Operators were taking a drillstem test at 11,620-670 feet.

Sims Twisted Off
Humble No. 2 Sims, extreme West Andrews County wildcat, in northeast corner of section 25, block A-39, psi survey, and adjacent to the east line of Lea County, New Mexico, was bottomed at 10,468 feet, understood to be in the upper section of the Ellenburger lime, and was fishing for twisted off drill pipe.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 W. H. Bush, 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from north lines of section 3, block A-47, psi survey, is a one-quarter of a mile east of the nearest production in the Fullerton field, in Northwest Andrews County.

It is to drill to 7,500 feet or production in the Fullerton pay, starting at once. The location is about 11 miles west and slightly north of Andrews.

Locations have been reported for two new prospectors to the Ellenburger on the outside of proven producing area on the southeast side of the Keystone field, in North Winkler County.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Bradish, will be 663 feet from west and 659 feet from south lines of section 4, block B-2, psi survey. It is one location east of any production from the Ellenburger on the east side of the field.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 105-E Keystone (Tract), to be 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 16, block B-2, psi survey, is one quarter of a mile south and same distance west of Ellenburger wells on the southeast side of the Keystone field.

Both the above explorations are to dig to around 10,000 feet, or production in the Ellenburger, starting at once.

Rowan Drilling Company No. 2 Parker, on southeast side of the TXL field in West Ector County, and 1,998 feet from north and 2,001 feet from west lines of section 40, block 45, TP survey, T-1-S, encountered the Silurian at 6,090 feet, on an elevation of 3,053 feet, and was making hole below 8,179 feet, in lime. The project had shown possibilities of production in the Devonian.

The Plymouth Oil Company and McDaniel and Beecher No. 1 Headlee, East Ector County wildcat to 5,000 feet, about 11 miles west of Midland, and in northeast corner of section 34, block 41, TP survey, T-1-S, had reached 3,010 feet in anhydrite and sand, and was making more hole.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Blackman, Southwest Hale County flanker to the discovery well of the Irish field, and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 13, block DT, HE&WT survey, had treated at 5,800-86 feet, with 10,000 gallons of acid.

Operator was swabbing to clean-out, test and complete. The zone from 5,489 feet to 5,800 feet had tested for about 21 barrels of oil per hour, swabbing and flowing after a 10,000-gallon acid treatment.

Stanolind No. 1 Fisher, in Southeast Hale County, about six miles northwest of Petersburg, and in southwest corner of section 5, block CL, EL survey, was drilling ahead under 4,353 feet in lime.

It was slated to dig to about 4,375 feet, take a Schlumberger survey, and then cement an intermediate string of casing to control a blow of air before drilling ahead to its objective of about 7,000 feet.

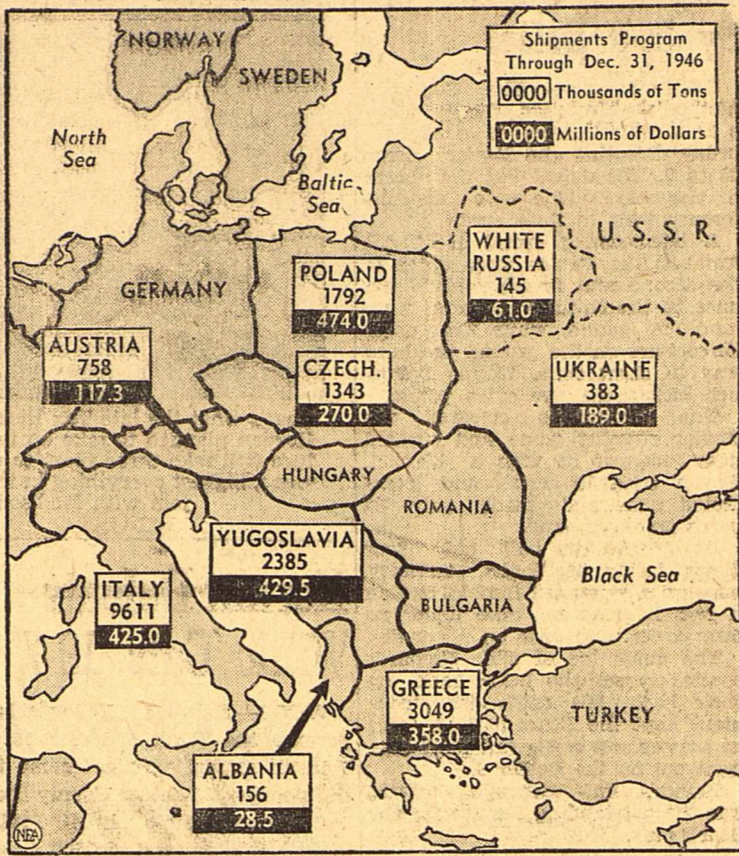

Testing In Ward
Stanolind No. 14-A Sealy-Smith, extreme Northeast Ward County wildcat, in southwest corner of section 3, block A, G&MMB&A survey, had drilled to 7,482 feet, in lower Permian lime, and was taking a drillstem test.

No information regarding any shows of petroleum which might have been logged had been released.

Stanolind No. 1-B Sealy-Smith, about three miles west of Monahans, and in northeast corner of section 81, block A, G&MMB&A survey, had penetrated below 5,983 feet, in lower Permian lime, and was drilling ahead.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Tannehill, Southwest Yoakum County wildcat, in southeast quarter of section 904, block D, John H. Gibson survey, and north of nearest production from the Devonian, on northwest side of the Jones Ranch field, just across the line in Northwest Gaines County, has been plugged and abandoned as a false hole on a total depth of 11,436 feet, in the Devonian. It had slight shows of oil, along with considerable water, in that formation.

T-M-C-O & G-A SELECTS SIMONS AS V.P. AND G.M.

Charles E. Simons

Election of Charles E. Simons of Austin as vice-president and general manager of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association was announced Saturday from the association headquarters in Dallas by Fred W. Shield, president. Simons, who will assume his duties January 1, succeeds the late George C. Gibbons.

For the past three and one-half years, Simons has been executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association. Previously he was editor of Texas Parade, a highway and travel magazine published by the Good Roads Association, and was the association's director of public relations. He directed the recent successful statewide campaign for adoption of the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment which gives constitutional protection to motor vehicle registration fees and the gasoline tax, and prevents their diversion to non-road purposes. This amendment was approved by a vote of nearly four to one.

Simons is widely known in Texas newspaper and political circles. He formerly was a member of the Capitol staff of The Associated Press, and also worked for The Dallas News and the International News Service bureaus in Austin. His duties as a newspaperman and later with the Good Roads Association brought him into close contact with the oil industry and its problems.

He was secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee of Texas 1942-44, and was temporary and permanent secretary of the 1944 Democratic conventions in Austin and Dallas.

FILM WILL BE SHOWN AT MGS LUNCHEON
The Midland Geological Society will hold its regular luncheon Tuesday at noon in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Bertie R. Haigh, program chairman for the society, announced that a film, "Gliding Wings," prepared by the U. S. Army Air Forces would be shown. It is said to be an interesting picture.

W. Dave Henderson, MGS president, will be in charge of the session.

adjustment of $41.20 per month, retroactive to October 1, will be paid regular, full-time employees, not covered by wage agreements, and who do not receive more than $7,200 per year. At quarterly intervals, beginning January 1, 1947, the national cost of living index of the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics will be reviewed and the amount of the cost-of-living allowance adjusted in accordance with any substantial changes.

Shell plans to pay, on December 2, to all regular, full-time employees, except officers, who were in its employ on November 16, a special cost-of-living bonus equal to one week's basic salary or wage. In the case of Shell employees represented by collective bargaining agencies, the bonus is being offered through appropriate agencies.

He started to work for Gulf in 1931 at McCamey. In 1933 he moved to Midland and did various sorts of jobs until 1935 when he started scouting.

He was on the scouting assignment until 1945 when he was moved up to doing land work in the office of Gulf's Midland district land manager, R. W. (Bob) Pateson.

Cornelius served as president of the Midland Oil Scouts Association in 1943-44. He is recognized as one of the most efficient scouts to have ever worked in the Permian Basin. He has as many friends as any man in the area, and Midland and West Texas will be a little different, with "Red" Cornelius in Fort Worth.

Sun Due To Start Production Tests At I-B McKinley Early In The Week

HOBBBS, N. M.—Sun Oil Company No. 1-B McKinley, prospective lower Permian discovery in East Lea County, between Hobbs and Lovington, and 2,310 feet from north and east lines of section 20-18-38e, was due to drill out cement in casing which had been set at 7,543 feet, over total depth of 7,656 feet, and start making production tests early in the week.

That zone had indicated that it probably would produce oil in commercial quantities of some sort. The exploration is an old producer on the north side of the original Hobbs field, which had become depleted and has been deepened to the lower formation.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 Yador, 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 11-16-37e, about seven miles east of Lovington and approximately eight miles northeast of the nearest producing oil well in the Lovington field, had progressed below 5,497 feet in dolomite and was going ahead.

The project had drilled through the horizon which is productive in the Lovington field without finding any indications of oil or gas. It is understood that operator is to carry it on down—possibly to 8,000 feet.

Skelly No. 5-B Baker, on the southeast side of the Brunson field, in East Lea, and adjacent, to Eunice, with location 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 10-22-37e, and one location north of nearest production from the Ellenburger, which, encumbered granite at 7,312 feet, on an elevation of 3,417 feet, was testing through perforations above plugged back total depth at 6,516 feet.

In last test reported the project swabbed seven hours and recovered 26 barrels of oil, cut with four to ten per cent sediment, and swabbed dry.

After a shut-in it kicked off and flowed 33 barrels of oil in 12 hours through a 3/4-inch choke, with an estimated 75,000 cubic feet of gas per day. Operator was continuing to test at the end of the week.

Skelly No. 2 Steeler, on southwest side of the Drinkard area, and 600 feet from north and east lines of section 17-23-37e, had penetrated below 9,470 feet in a dolomite formation of unidentified age, and was drilling ahead. Operator has not reported having logged any signs of oil or gas production.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 6-B Hardison, 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 27-21-37e, and on the northeast side of the Drinkard field in the Eunice region of East Lea County, perforated casing at 6,440-68 feet, at 6,468-95 feet, and at 6,517-73 feet, with four shots to the foot.

It flowed 95 barrels of oil in five hours natural. A 1,000-gallon acid injection was pumped in, and after the load was lifted the well flowed 112 barrels of oil in two hours.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,030-1. A second stage acid treatment had been used and at the end of the week operator was testing after that shot.

Great Western Producers, Inc., No. 3-L State, 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 12-13-31e, is a new exploration to 3,850 feet in the Chaves County section of the Caprock field. It is to be drilled at once.

Barney Cockburn has staked location for his No. 1 State, in the Chaves County part of the Caprock field. It will be at center of southeast quarter of southwest quarter of section 36-12-31e. Operations are to start immediately.

Rockburn recently acquired 160 acres in the Caprock area from W. Spurck, of Los Angeles, and it is reported that he will drill four wells on the property.

The leases are the east half of southwest quarter of section 36-12-31e, and the north half of the northwest quarter of section 1-13-31e, in Chaves County.

Continental Oil Company and Cooperatives Refineries No. 1 Alston unit, South Roosevelt County wildcat, in southeast corner of section 20-78-35e, and about 35 miles southeast of Portales, had reached 3,904 feet, in lime, and was drilling ahead.

Byrd-Frost, Inc., No. 1 Federal-Fee, San Juan County wildcat in the Kutz Canyon region, and in section 4-27n-10w, was reported by unofficial sources to have reached 5,530 feet, in sand, and was scheduled to start coring.

Bulldogs Drop Game To 'Tornadoes' 13-6

By TANNER LAINE

MCCOLLUM STADIUM, LAMESA—The Lamesa Tornadoes capitalized on two scoring setups—a wacky bouncing punt and the old hide out play—to beat the unlucky Midland Bulldogs, 13 to 6, here in the bright sunshine Friday afternoon in a 3-AA battle.

After a scoreless first quarter, in which Midland drove to the Lamesa six-yard line aided by a fine Bobby Cole to Dunny Goode pass play, the Tornadoes got a break that set the stage for the first score. T. J. Corbett, Tornado back and a long boomer all afternoon, toed one toward the Midland-defended goal line. The ball took a crazy bounce out of bounds on the three. Midland couldn't get out strongly enough

Sweetwater Beats San Angelo 26-0

SWEETWATER—Sweetwater's powerful Mustangs, only once defeated in District 3-AA play, overwhelmed the San Angelo Bobcats, 26 to 0, in conference play here Friday night.

The Mustangs scored twice in the second quarter and twice in the fourth. After the final touchdown Coach Pat Gerald put his second team in the game.

The Mustangs' first score came midway in the second period. Don Lambert, Sweetwater fullback, intercepted a pass and was grounded 23 yards from the San Angelo goal.

Doll Feagan passed to M. S. DeGaiush who went to the six-yard line. Then, on a reverse, Guard Kenneth Timmons pulled out of the line, took the ball, raced over San Angelo's left end for the touchdown. Fisher Mays' placekick was wide, and the score stood, 6 to 0.

Toward the end of the second quarter, Donny Taff of San Angelo was backed up to punt, but the pass from center went over his head. He recovered the ball but was pulled down on the Bobcat 14, where the pigskin automatically went over to Sweetwater.

Lambert plunged over from the three-yard line to score. Mays placekicked the point, making the score 10 to 0.

Lambert plunged over from the three-yard line to score. Mays placekicked the point, making the score 10 to 0.

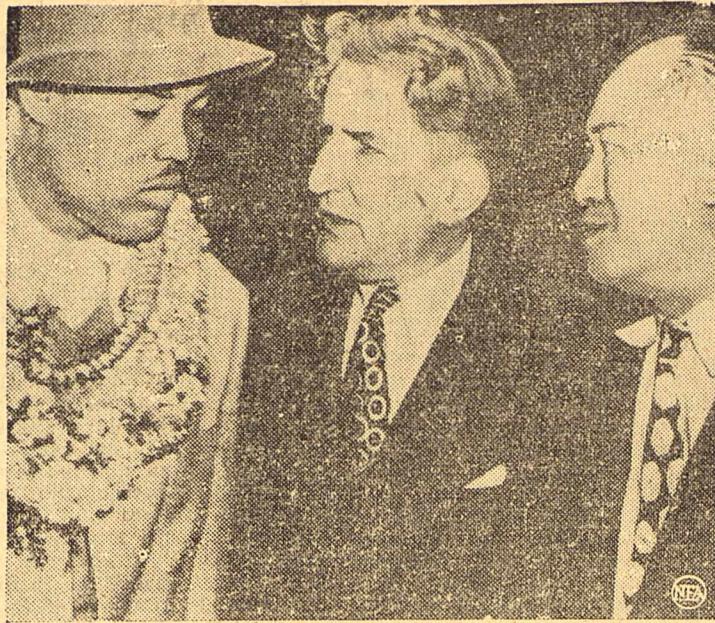

Midway through the fourth period Sweetwater started a scoring drive on its own 20-yard line. DeGaiush slipping through the Bobcat right guard from the 38 to score the final touchdown. Mays placekicked the conversion point.

"Touch" Called Back
The Mustangs almost added an extra six points to their score in the first quarter of the ball game. DeGaiush took a San Angelo punt on his own 20-yard line and ran all the way, but officials ruled that he stepped out of bounds on the Bobcat 48, and the touchdown play was nullified.

The Bobcats threatened to score in the first quarter, moving down the field from their own 27-yard line with Brian Roberts and Taff doing most of the totting.

SMU Puts Baylor In Southwest Cellar By 35-0 Defeat

DALLAS—(AP)—The Southern Methodist Mustangs finally won a Southwest Conference game Saturday defeating the Baylor Bears 35 to 0. The defeat put the bears in the cellar along with no conference wins to their credit.

A homecoming crowd of 15,000 watched the Ponies score twice in the second and fourth periods and once in the third. Two scores were made by passes, while the other three were on the ground the hard way in short runs. Wayne Campbell kicked the five extra points.

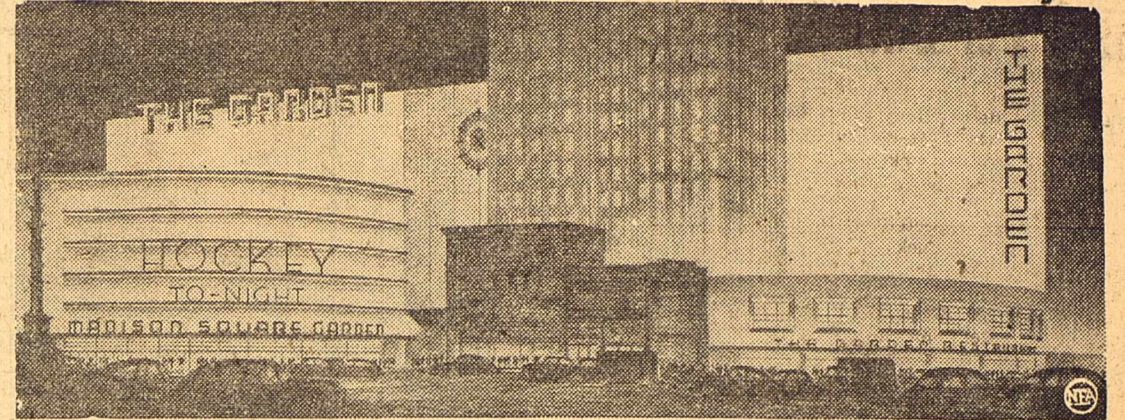

The Methodists smeared the Baylor running game and covered pass receivers as with a blanket. Baylor tried 13 aerials and completed none and made only 84 yards on the ground.

Baylor got the ball only four times inside Methodist territory, once on a recovered fumble, once on a pass interception, once under its own power, and once on a penalty.

The quick toe of Bill Richards constantly set the bears back on their heels. His quick-kick technique kept the Bears baffled. Once he blasted out a 69-yard punt that went out on the Baylor 6.

Baylor's line although erratic, was the outstanding feature for the Bear's play.

Kermit Defeats Wink 'Cats, 19-7

WINK—Kermit's Yellowjackets downed the Wink Wildcats 19 to 7 in an annual "grudge" game for the unofficial Winkler County football championship here Friday night before a crowd of 4,200.

The victory put Kermit in third place for District 7-A.

The Wildcats, outweighed more than 10 pounds per man, scored first in the initial period.

Dewayne Phillips intercepted a Kermit lateral pass and galloped 70 yards to pay dirt. Bobby Gann kicked the extra point.

The Yellowjackets barely got their first score in before the half ended, the whistle sounding just after the play started. J. B. Thompson hit the line and plunged on the remaining 15 yards to the goal. The try for an extra point failed.

In the third period Thompson scored again by intercepting a pass on the Wink 12-yard line. He struggled across with several Wink players hanging onto him. Milton Pope provided the conversion point.

Late in the fourth period a pass from Pope to Thompson was good for 11 yards and a touchdown. Kermit was on top with first downs, 12 to 4.

Thompson played probably his best game of the season for Kermit, and Wayne Pearson was "outstanding" in the Wink lineup.

UCLA Clinches Trip To Rose Bowl By Beating SC, 13-6

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Capitalizing on two tremendous breaks, the Blue and Gold of UCLA Saturday defeated the Southern California Trojans, rolling through the mud for its ninth straight victory of the 1946 season on a 13-6 score, and on the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Performing before the largest crowd of the season here, 93,714 rain-soaked fans, the Bruins clinched its trip to Pasadena and a contest with Big Nine team, probably Illinois. All that was needed Saturday was a perfunctory vote of approval by members of the Pacific Coast conference.

Sam Houston Wins From Stephen F. Austin, 20-7

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—Sam Houston State added a football victory to its homecoming festivities here Saturday with a 20-7 defeat over Stephen F. Austin.

Stephen F. Austin made its lone tally in the last 30 seconds of play with Hawkins making the touchdown.

ABILENE—(AP)—With fullback Joe Evans scoring three touchdowns, the Southwestern Pirates trounced the McMurray Indians 41-0 here Saturday to earn a tie with Abilene Christian for the Texas Conference championship.

Jonas went eight yards for a score while Jim Francis contributed the other two on sprints of 85 and 37 yards. Francis also added five extra points.

3-AA ROUNDUP—

Turkey Day Classics Loom In 3-AA As Torrid Season Fades

The Turkey Day classics this week will close down the 3-AA chase and football season for most teams but many already contend the Odessa Bronchos are in with the hunting.

However the Odessans, already eyeing the road down football lane toward a state championship, must clear one more barrier in the district—the Midland Bulldogs.

This contest will start at 2 p. m. Thursday in the high school stadium here. A chuck full house already is assured and with extra seats being erected.

The undefeated favorites for state honors are coming to town already figuring this one won. Midland will fight that cocksureness.

Around the loop are other interesting rivalries almost the equal of the famous Midland-Odessa feud, some compare with Fort Worth-Dallas.

The Abilene Eagles journey to San Angelo for a developing rivalry contest, which is getting hotter every year. Big Spring Steers go to Sweetwater and this is a rugged matching. Lamesa has played out its string.

It is interesting to see what happened during the parade which began back in September and will be ended Thursday. Here are the facts:

ILLINOIS IS WINNER Of Big Nine Title
EVANSTON, Ill.—(AP)—Illinois won its first Big Nine championship since 1928 and probably a bid with a 20 to 0 victory over crippled Northwestern before 47,000 at Doye Stadium Saturday.

Illinois, whose one other setback in nine games this season was a 26 to 6 trimming by Notre Dame, now awaits a Rose Bowl invitation from the Big Nine faculty group. However, its possible the latter's balloting may be affected by second-place Michigan's 58 to 6 rout of Ohio State.

Many Midland Hunters Swap Deer Rifles For Duck Hunting Shotguns

Many Midland duck hunters exchanged their deer rifles for shotguns Saturday, the first day of the duck season, and struck out for lakes, ranch tanks, and rivers for their kill.

But they were expected to find the shortest crop of ducks in years—especially in this area of West Texas where ponds and tanks large enough to attract ducks are few. Reports from over the state and nation bear out the shortage.

Because of the small supply of ducks, the season bag limits have been reduced from 10 to 7 and the opening date delayed until November 23. The season closes January 6. The possession limit is two days' kill, with the exception of the American and red-breasted mergansers. Their limits is 25 per day with no possession limit.

Due partly to the success sportsmen were having in hunting deer, the warm weather, and the shortage of the duck flocks, most Midlanders were showing little interest in hunting ducks, a survey at hardware stores and the Post Office showed. Shell Supply Not Good

Hardware store employees reported that demands for shells were far below normal. The supply of 12 gauge shells is the most plentiful and the other sizes are "hard to get." New guns for sale also were scarce.

The Post Office reported only 150 of the $1 duck stamps had been sold through Saturday. This compared with 340 last year. Hunters over 16 years of age also must purchase state hunting licenses to hunt outside their resident counties, but youths 16 and under are not required to buy the state hunting license or the federal duck stamp to hunt in their own county. The law requires the permanent plugging of shotguns to a capacity of three shells or less.

The Texas Panhandle was reported to have a good supply of ducks because of the unusually large number of water holes in the Panhandle area. A large number also were reported at the head of Possum Kingdom Dam near Mineral Wells.

The Concho River section was reported to have more ducks this year than last due to privately constructed surface tanks on ranches. Real Interest In Deer

But Midlanders Saturday still seemed more interested in bringing in deer. Various sources said Midlanders were having more "luck" this year than ever before. The black-tail deer season was to close west of the Pecos River Sunday, but the season in other sections of the state will extend until January 6.

A party of Midlanders—including C. C. Thomas, Ish McKnight, A. E. Cameron and Jack McKnight—returned Friday from the Sol Jones Ranch north of Van Horn with four deer.

George Glass and son, George, Jr., Holt Jewell and son, Billy; Marion Flynn; and Bobby Holt returned Thursday with a deer killed in the Davis Mountains.

Jim Noland, Harry Lawson, R. S. Eversand, Jr., Johnny Jones, M. H. (Jack) Steig with friends from Dallas, Houston, and Bartlesville, Okla., got nine deer—one apiece for the party.

Other Successful Hunters Reports from the packing houses and ice plants in the city and from the hunters and their friends show that Midland's successful deer hunters include: C. D. Hodges, W. E. Price, R. E. Coleman, A. C. Smith, E. E. Gillon, John T. Jones, W. D. Anderson, Russell Holster, J. H. Howard, J. H. Walker, Gordon Bird, H. C. Bundy, R. L. McFall, Bill Glass, H. E. Hensley, Charles Holliman, Rea Sindorf, Dr. Tom Echo, Bill Lane, Pat Ruckman, J. Howard Hodge, Robert S. Aldredge, Charles Hopt, D. W. Lowe, E. C. Hitchcock, Walter Goodman, Armo Spears, Ernest Smith, Barney Cumble, John Scrogin, and Ford Fulginiti.

Some Kill Moose Hunters getting moose in Colorado or Wyoming were Lief Olson, W. C. Murphy, J. P. Ruckman and Phil Yeckel.

Elk were killed by Olson, Murphy, Holliman, W. D. Lowe, Ruckman, Yeckel, Hitchcock, Sindorf, and A. H. Anderson.

Paul Nelson was reported to have killed pheasants, and Walter Goodman a turkey.

A deer hunting party, including Cecil King, Fred Girdley, Tot Watlington, and Joe Mims, was to return late Saturday or Sunday from a hunt on the Reynolds Ranch near Kent.

DOWN SPORTSLANE TANNER LAINE DX, EX

Dana Xenophon Bible, one of the top names in football for a quarter of a century, comes to the end of a 34-year coaching trail Thanksgiving afternoon in Memorial Stadium.

With the annual Thanksgiving Day game against the Texas Aggies, Bible will retire from active coaching at the University of Texas to remain as athletic director, one of the two posts he has held for the past ten years. It is fitting that the traditional Aggie-Longhorn game should close the Bible career, for these two schools have seen his teachings and associations through the major part of his coaching days. Some 48,000 fans will be on hand to see this final appearance on the playing field.

Back through 34 years of football, the stocky, bass-voiced Tennessean can glance over an admirable record both as a teacher and rules maker of the game. He has coached 29 years of major collegiate football, winning 14 championships in the Big Six and Southwest conferences. He has been a member of the important National Football Committee for 25 years.

His squads have won 208 games, as against 64 lost and 19 tied, through his years with Mississippi College, LSU, Texas A&M, Nebraska and Texas. And through his last six seasons, he won 47 games, lost but 11 and tied two, a record that has produced three Southwest Conference championships and two Cotton Bowl victories.

Of the game that he has played and taught most of his life, Bible commented: "It is undoubtedly true that on some sides the game of football has been permitted to escape from its correct position in the college program; it occasionally has been allowed to become the business of a college rather than one of its sports and has, at times, escaped from its proper perspective in the eyes of the general public. These things, for which many of us are to blame, are even now in the process of correction. They are neither permanent nor basic in football, and in any event—they are not the faults of football as a game. It is, in its rightful place, the most wholesome and the most valuable sport in our schools and colleges today."

—SL— ROUNDUP UP THE STRAYS... JayCees have turned $200 over to the girls' drill squad of Midland High to be applied on uniforms...

Doc Johnson, who follows McNairy Indians with interest, was in Abilene for the football weekend... Armo Spears, quite a shooter, got his deer, a nine-pointer in the Davis Mountains... George Glass, Sr., and George Glass, Jr., dad and son, are both good Midland Gun Club scorers... Tot Watlington is hurrying in the Davis Mountains...

Local nimrods were out after ducks Saturday morning, just wherever there was water, they were looking for birds... That "Dark Town Strutters" band-peg act put on by Lamesa was a goody... Jack McKnight, Reporter-Telegram oil writer (swamper) got a 11-point deer... Con Thomas, Ish McKnight, Doc Cameron were along and got their game... Lamesa's hide-out was the first time Coach Barnes Milam ever had the thing pulled on him successfully... Midland has caught his opponents this season in the damndest frame of mind... Sweetwater was mad because they were tied by Wichita Falls... San Angelo had just been unmercifully licked by Odessa... Big Spring was mad as a hornet after losing to San Angelo... Lamesa was smarming from an Odessa licking... They all got revenge at Midland's expense... Watch Jimmy Watson of Midland go at Texas U now that he's out of the Army... May make 'em forget Bechtol... The Bulldogs are working up an impressive basketball sked... With B games and all there probably will be cage games three or four nights per week... Barney Hightower, who fell down on a beautiful screen pass play, explained: "Gosh, I saw so many purple jerseys ahead of me I tried to run too fast and fell down"... Right back at them, Midland tried a hide-out at Lamesa but "ours" did not work... The coaches sure think a lot of Hightower and he has played them some great ball this season... Get long home, Lucindy, and round those strays.

More Odessa Game Tickets Available

More tickets to the Midland-Odessa Thanksgiving Day football classic scheduled in the high school stadium here Thursday afternoon will go on sale Tuesday morning at the Midland Chamber of Commerce office in the Secharbauer Hotel.

These tickets are for temporary seats, which will be placed on the track surrounding the stadium on both the East and West sides.

Eight hundred tickets are available here and 800 were sent to Odessa.

Michigan Drubs Ohio State For 58-6 Score

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—Paced by the record-breaking performance of halfback Bob Chappuis, Michigan's mighty Wolverines handed the Ohio State Buckeyes one of their worst drubbings in history Saturday, 58 to 6, before 78,634 homecoming fans.

Chappuis, Michigan's pass-tossing swivel-hipped left half, threw three touchdown passes, scored one himself, and piled up a total of 234 yards on the ground and in the air to eclipse a previous Western Conference mark of 862 yards established in 1942 by Northwestern's Otto Graham.

NTSC Defeats ETS To Win Lone Star Title

DENTON.—(AP)—The Eagles of North Texas State college twisted the tail of the East Texas State Lions until it hurt in their annual gridiron battle Saturday in the final score in a mild surprise was North Texas 47, East Texas 7. The victory not only gave North Texas the championship in the post-war renewal of the Lone Star Conference, but earned the Eagles a bid to the Optimist Bowl in Houston next December 21.

Abilene Smashes Big Spring 34-12

BIG SPRING.—The new Abilene Eagles continued their stride today, smashing Big Spring 34-12 in the district 3-AA football race Friday night with a 34-12 triumph over a tough but outclassed Big Spring eleven.

But the new Eagles used old passing tactics in ringing up their decisive triumph.

A quartet of Abilene receivers snatched 12 of Little Lloyd King's 14 beautiful aerials out of the air and brought them down for four of the Eagles' five touchdowns and 132 yards from scrimmage.

Abilene's Bob Bailey blocked Horace Rankin's boot on the one-foot line in the first quarter and Rupert Lamar, Eagle right tackle, fell on it for the touchdown. J. D. Einton scampared 46 yards in the same period for the second touchdown.

Abilene Pass Clicks Later in the second quarter, King capped a 75-yard sustained drive with a 9-yard touchdown pass to Hubert Middlebrooks standing on the one-yard line.

Big Spring rallied and scored the only touchdown of the third period when Jackie Barron sneaked over on a plunge, after a 23-yard pass set up the play.

In the fourth quarter King passed to Rainey Owens for Abilene's fourth score. The Steers drove and passed 71 yards for their second touchdown. Abilene retaliated and in six plays passed and drove 75 yards to score.

Score by quarters: Abilene 14 7 0 13—34 Big Spring 0 0 6 6—12

Rancher Charged In Gun Slaying In Angelo Hotel

SAN ANGELO.—Wylie R. Tomlinson, about 36, Menard County ranchman and former serviceman, was charged Friday with murder with malice aforethought in the fatal shooting of H. B. Opp had lived most of the time in recent years in San Diego, Calif. Opp died instantly about 3 p. m. Friday in the lobby of the Roberts Hotel. A bullet from a .45-caliber automatic pistol entered behind his left ear and progressed downward, emerging near the collarbone on the right side of his neck. The spent bullet was found inside his shirt collar. There were powder burns around the wound where the bullet had entered.

A second bullet had grazed the inside of Opp's left thigh.

Opp and Special Ranger L. E. Trimble were charged November 29, 1934, with the murder of Wiley Tomlinson, 63, Menard ranchman and county commissioner and father of the youth who was charged Friday in Opp's death.

Trimble's case was called to trial in Bell County and he was acquitted. Opp's trial was transferred to several counties on changes of venue and points of law. In 1942 in Bell County the charges and indictment against him were dismissed.

War Department To Fight Further Cuts

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The War Department is preparing to fight any attempt by an economy-minded Congress to cut the Army below 1,070,000 men without a corresponding reduction in occupational responsibilities, it was disclosed Saturday.

This decision figured prominently in a detailed outline of the Army's legislative program given privately to a session of the National Council of the Reserve Officers Association.

The reserves were told by Secretary of War Patterson that the Regular Army already is "stretched so thin that we really have no striking force left." Other officials noted that in Europe there remain only one division and the 35,000-man constabulary force in Germany in contrast with Russia's acknowledged 40 divisions.

Meanwhile the National Guard and Organized Reserves is in only the first stages of reorganization.

Injunctions To Prevent Strikes Are Labor Poison

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—A court injunction (order) to prevent a strike is sheer poison to organized labor. That's why the CIO and AFL so bitterly blasted the government for seeking a federal injunction to prevent the coal miners' walkout.
Organized labor has had an uphill struggle in this country. For most of our history the courts have been on the side of the employers.
Until the 1880's unions were often prosecuted as conspiracies. Then the courts clouted unions on the head by issuing injunctions.
(An injunction is a court order forbidding a man or group of men to do something. For example: Striking.)
The court's view—meaning the judges' view—was this: The right to do business is a property right. If a man can't do business—say, because of a strike—he suffers a property loss.
In 1890 Congress passed the Sherman Anti-Trust Act to curb business monopolies and prevent their interfering with trade. This came at a time when corporations were getting badly bloated.
But federal judges began to use the Anti-Trust Act—through injunctions—against trade unions on the grounds that some of their activities, like those of big corporations, interfered with trade.

Organized labor fought long and hard to wipe out this interpretation of the anti-trust act by the courts. And in 1914 Congress passed the Clayton Act to amend the Sherman Act and protect unions from it.
Supreme Court Acts
But then the Supreme Court ruled that the Clayton Act did not exempt labor from the anti-trust provisions of the Sherman Act. So federal courts continued to issue injunctions against labor unions.
At last Congress in 1932 passed the Norris-LaGuardia Act—a very famous act in labor history—which puts a stiff limit on the use federal courts can make of injunctions in labor disputes.
Many states adopted similar laws. And that pretty well put an end to the injunction as a powerful anti-union weapon, a weapon freely used by courts and employers for 50 years.
The most famous—or infamous, depending upon the viewpoint—use of the injunction was in 1894 when an order against the strike leaders smashed the great Pullman strike led by Eugene V. Debs.
(Debs went to jail for six months.)
In the Lewis case the labor leaders have pointed to the Norris-LaGuardia Act in their argument an injunction should not be used in the coal miners' walkout.

The government argues this way: The Norris-LaGuardia Act never was meant to prevent the federal government's getting an injunction, or else it would have said so specifically in the act.
It was meant, the government argues, only to prevent private employers from using the injunction.
With shoes once more so hard to get, you may find the myriad of bows and clips being shown this season a lifesaver to last year's footwear. Butterfly bows, tailored buckles and ribbon twists are but a few of the prize assortment of shoe-brighteners now on display. Saddle-stitching, contrasting piping and multi-colored sequins contribute a bright note.

Hold this chart before your eyes on payday—

Here is one good way to sharpen your financial foresight.

If you put aside that amount from your pay each week into U. S. Bonds—through Payroll Savings—it grows into the sum on the second line ($390.00) by the end of one year. Quick as that!

Read on down—$783.70 . . . $1182.65 . . . $1590.65 . . . $2009.02—that's how much you've piled up by the fifth year with your $7.50 a week.

($2009.02 may be a small figure on the chart, but it's certainly big in the things it can buy you!)

Take a good look at the next few figures—$2437.89 . . . $2879.52 . . . $3341.90 . . . $3825.15. They're growing bigger and bigger all the time!

Now fix your eyes on that bottom line for a real eye-opener—$4329.02! Think of what a whopping sum like that could mean to you and your family! And you save it in only ten years!

Isn't it easy to see now how regular weekly savings—through Payroll Savings—can pile up money practically hand over fist for you?

Just to prove how financially foresighted you really are, why not put aside an extra bond into your Payroll Savings this month? Or pick up an extra one at any bank or post office!

Midland's Annual Girl Scout Drive Will Be Launched This Week

The annual Midland Girl Scout financial campaign will be launched this week when a group of volunteer workers start soliciting contributions to finance Midland's Girl Scout program during the coming year.

C. E. (Bud) Bissell is general chairman of the drive. He will be assisted by John B. Mills, Stevens Parson, Earl A. Johnson, James O.

Simmons, Jr., John R. Hall, Jr., I. B. Ridgeway, A. T. Pierce, H. N. Phillips and John Scrogin. Other workers will be added later, Bissell said.

The Midland Girl Scout budget for 1946-47 totals $3,500. The items included in the budget are: area pledge $2,000; charter fee $35; training $400; program $250; day camps $415; organization $125; public relations $125; and administrative $150.

Johnson Is Treasurer
Don Johnson is campaign treasurer. He also is treasurer of the Permian Basin Area Council of which the Midland Girl Scout Council is a part.

Special gifts now are being solicited, but the actual drive will be held November 29 to December 7. Bissell said his committee is anxious to complete the campaign as quickly as possible.

Midland now has some 16 Girl Scout troops, with 15 to 25 girls in each troop. There are three colored troops. The program is to be expanded during the coming year.

Mrs. S. P. Haslip is commissioner of the Midland Girl Scout Council, and the Rev. R. J. Snell is deputy commissioner. Nell Shaw is registrar, George Perry is treasurer, and Mrs. Don Johnson is leader representative.

Volunteer Workers
Girl Scouting here is carried on entirely by volunteer workers, with the exception of one week each month when an area professional worker is in Midland.

Midland's original Girl Scout troop was organized in 1934, but was disbanded as the members outgrew Scouting. The current program was started in 1939 when a new troop was formed here. Growth and expansion of the Scouting program has been rapid since that time.

The Midland council is affiliated with the Permian Basin Area Council with headquarters in Pecos. Scout leaders stressed the fact that a $3,500 budget is very small compared with the far-reaching program conducted here. They urged citizens to contribute liberally to the program.

Fake Solicitors Are Nabbed By Policemen
City police Friday quickly stopped a fake orphan's fund solicitation being conducted by two women, who told liberal citizens they represented the American Rescue Workers organization.

The two women were collecting contributions in boxes and were doing a lucrative business here. They told citizens the money went to a fund to provide a Christmas dinner for orphans. Police checked on this and found it untrue.

At this season of the year citizens are reminded to ask solicitors and check to see if they are approved by the police department and the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Rules Of Dairy Feeding Outlined

COLLEGE STATION.—Dairy cows will do their part if the dairyman does his.

That's the slogan of high dairy production, says G. G. Gibson, dairy husbandman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Regardless of how "good-natured" a milk cow might be, her production level still depends upon two things—natural ability to produce and opportunity to produce. Inherited ability is fixed and there's not much to be done on that score. But every good dairyman realizes that it is his job to make conditions favorable for his cows to produce to the best of their ability.

In making production conditions favorable, feeding is the number one job. Following are some good feeding rules and practices as summed up by the Extension dairy husbandman:

An adequate ration must contain the right balance of feed nutrients in amounts great enough to meet the total nutrient requirements of the cow.

Roughages Essential
Roughages are the backbone of any dairy ration. All rules for feeding dairy cows will fall when the roughage supply is limited and the quality is poor. An average size Jersey cow producing three gallons of milk a day needs 18 pounds of good hay, and nine pounds of suitable concentrates.

For best results, roughages and concentrates should be fed separately. High producing cows need more feed than low producers. By feeding concentrates according to each cow's production, the best use is made of each pound of grain. In fitting the concentrate mixture to the roughage, a 17 per cent concentrate mixture is adequate.

Low Protein Mixture
This same mixture is suitable for feeding along with low protein roughages for cows that don't eat as much as they should. This means that more pounds of grain must be fed to make up the difference. Where there is an abundance of high protein roughages such as alfalfa or good small grain pasture, a 14 per cent concentrate mixture is adequate.

For Jerseys, one pound of grain to three pounds of milk produced daily is sufficient when the cow is eating plenty of good roughage. Holsteins require about one pound of grain to four pounds of milk. When it takes more grain than this to maintain good production, it means that the cow is not getting as much value from the roughage part of the ration as the dairyman estimates.

Texans Prepare For Greatest Christmas In State's History

By The Associated Press

This is going to be the greatest Christmas in Texas history for everyone from goggle-eyed two-year-old Junior to dignified century-old department stores.

A survey of major Texas cities indicates that stores are stocked with the greatest variety of gifts in years, that prices are up, and that the buying rush has started already with customers ignoring the price tags.

Merchants predicted the holiday season this year will top the all-time record 1945 sales. Their main problem is getting enough clerks.

Quality Improves
Shortages still are felt in some articles, but literally hundreds of items not seen for six years are back on the shelves. Quality has improved.

The greatest assortment of toys since pre-war days are reported from the Magic Valley to the Panhandle. Gifts for women are more than adequate.

Only father is behind the eight-ball—shirts, suits, and other such items are still scarce. There are, however, plenty of ties.

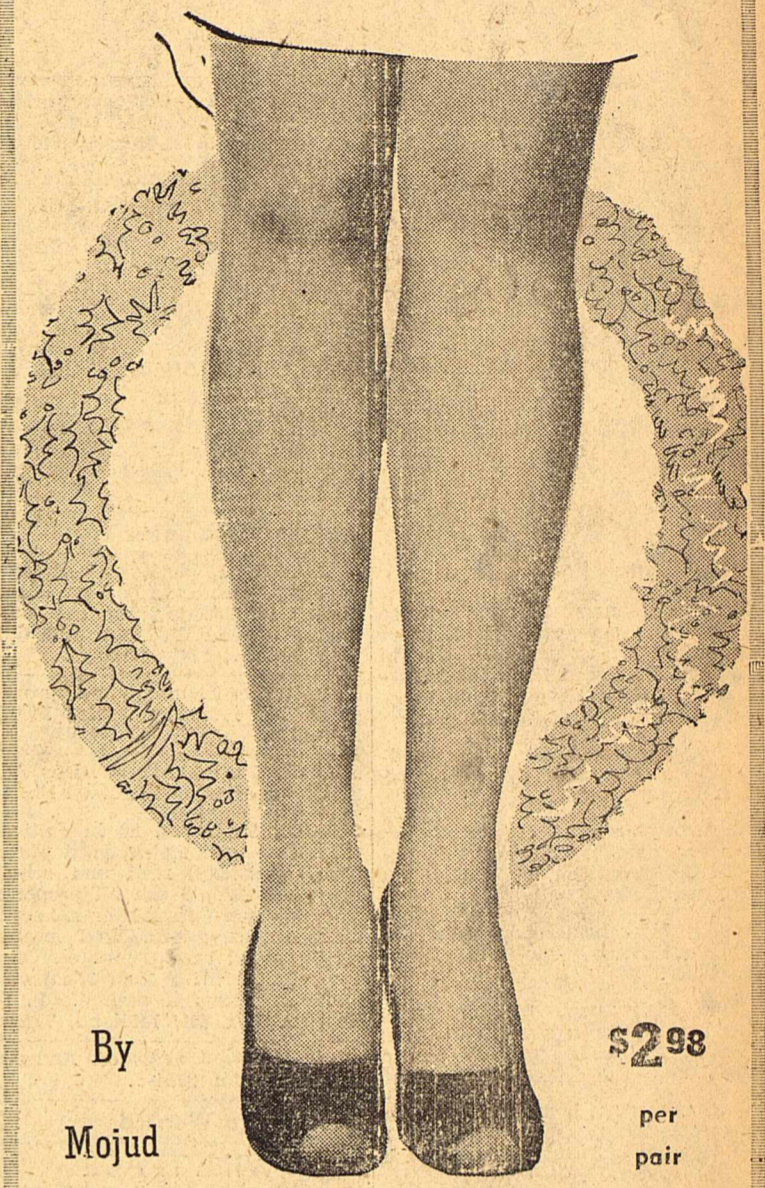

Imports are gradually picking up, with goods from Mexico, Canada, France, Switzerland, Argentina and Ireland.

Turkey dinners will be up to par, too. Adequate stocks are on hand. There are plenty of cranberries, nuts and other food items which go into Christmas dinners. Candy is available.

For Jerseys, one pound of grain to three pounds of milk produced daily is sufficient when the cow is eating plenty of good roughage. Holsteins require about one pound of grain to four pounds of milk. When it takes more grain than this to maintain good production, it means that the cow is not getting as much value from the roughage part of the ration as the dairyman estimates.

City Government Theme At Luncheon Of League Of Women Voters Saturday

City government was the theme of the luncheon of the League of Women Voters in the Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel Saturday. Topics discussed included the mayor-council form of government in Midland, the council-manager form of government, objections to the council-manager government, and replies to the criticisms.

Forty-one members and nine guests attended the meeting. Mrs. William Y. Penn introduced to the group the next project in keeping with the national and state program, which is a more thorough study of legislation.

Mrs. David Johnston discussed the mayor-council form of government of Midland, calling attention to the number of employees, the general expense, and the bonded indebtedness.

A report of the "Know Your Town" committee on local government was read by Mrs. Gilard Kargl. She outlined the three forms of municipal government and said the National Municipal League, a non-partisan, non-profit citizen organization, considers the council-manager plan the best that has been developed for American cities.

The problems confronting the Midland City Council were discussed and appreciation was expressed for the work done by these men. The council-manager form of city government was explained and Mrs. Kargl pointed out that 54 cities in Texas are operating under that form, some for over 30 years. The average tax rate in such cities is $1.43.

Mrs. George Turner presented to the group the objections to the council-manager government. She pointed out the difficulty in amending the charter and the expense of hiring such an employe, and the fear that many have of centralized power in the hands of a city manager.

Answers Criticisms
Mrs. Karl Mygdal, in reply to these criticisms, pointed out that there were three ways of adopting the council-manager government: by ordinance, by amendment to the charter and by the adoption of a new charter. She said "Midland has a tax roll of about $14,000,000 and a tax yield of about $190,000 plus revenue from water and sewers, and the airport. The bonded indebtedness of the city is $1,079,000. A corporation of this size needs a competent manager, adequately remunerated."

Mrs. Mygdal pointed out that the power remains in the hands of the council who appoints and may remove the manager. A strong council is needed, for the manager acts with the advice and consent of the council.

After the question and answer period, it was agreed to continue the study.

Members Present
Members present were Mmes. George Abell, James Allison, Frank Ashby, John Butler, L. G. Byerley, Taylor Cole, James Chapple, E. H. Davidson, Leland Davison, Gerald Fitzgerald, John Fitzgerald, H. S. ### Secretary Steps To Top Job As Company's Vice-President

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — (NEA) — When a big blanket manufacturing company scanned its personnel for a vice-president to put in charge of baby blankets, guess who got the job? A woman secretary.

The climb of Eleanor Starr Taylor, new vice-president of Chatham Blanket, from the bottom up is a success story which should inspire millions of ambitious girls who look beyond their typewriters and keys.

What's the "secret formula" to be gleaned from Eleanor? Miss Taylor, who is still "Eleanor" to 2800 employees from president down to the newest mill hand, insists that the "formula" is no more secret than familiar copy book maxims. The slim, soft-spoken brunette from Winston-Salem, N. C., says a girl has to take her job seriously, be alert, learn the business. She must, according to Miss Taylor, put herself on an equal footing with men and abandon 100 per cent any reliance upon tears or feminine charm.

Best single "stock in trade" that helps a girl to get ahead, she thinks, are ideas and the courage to express them. Her own courage, for example, in standing up for pastel colors for blankets when the company's masculine big-wives plumped for reddish pinks is one case in point. Her expressed conviction that informative labels should be attached to blankets telling owners how to take care of them is another.

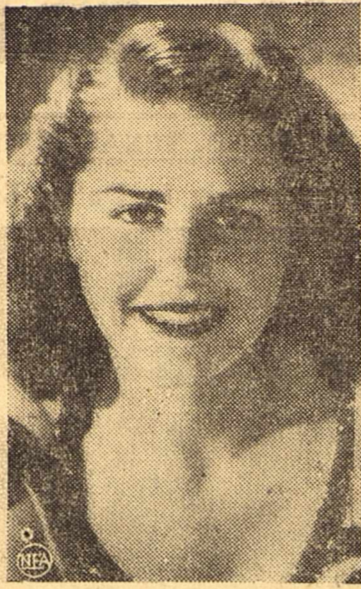

Noteworthy among Miss Taylor's other ideas that have been put into action by Chatham was the suggestion that packers ought to be as white-gloved for work as diplomats, if blankets are to be kept clean. She also had baby blankets packed in clear plastic boxes which advertise their untouched cleanliness. At her insistence, company chemists developed a solution to keep stain bindings from fading.

The housewife who wants to take better care of her blankets can also profit from the experience of the woman who has made a career of them.

An almost universal fault of blanket owners, she says, is in washing—too long and in water that's too hot. Her advice? "Two minutes in a washing machine. When instructions read 'wash in tepid water,' the manufacturer means water bordering on cool. To keep the nap fluffy, every vestige of soap must be rinsed out. Otherwise, blankets will become hard and stiff."

Smart blanket buyers should consider the use to which they will put their covering, says Miss Taylor. For strenuous use—as for Junior roughhousing—she recommends a blanket that is 75 per cent wool for warmth and 5 per cent cotton for strength. Luxuriously napped all-wool blankets require more delicate handling. Vice-President Taylor says.

Improve Flat Voice

MISS PARRISH: Charms her audience.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Don't let a dull, flat voice—which can be given a lifting lilt with practice—drive your listeners away. There's a good way to detect monotony in one's own voice. Put cotton in your ears while you carry on a normally loud conversation with yourself, says Helen ("Hour Glass") Parrish, whose enameled voice charms a vast radio audience.

If you discover that your speech needs lifting from a dead level, she suggests using three simple voice-training tricks. First, practice lifting your voice at the middle and at the end of a long sentence. If the sentence is short, send inflection up at the end.

Second, learn to give sentences different emphasis, depending upon their importance. Third, learn to pause with effect between words and sentences.

While you're at it, why not learn to articulate better? You can, by giving yourself a reading-aloud lesson every day, and taking care to enunciate each word and phrase more distinctly.

If you were studying with one famous radio coach, she would teach you to sing the singing sounds: "ms" and "ngs"; to burst your "ps"; to toss your "ts"; and hum your "ms".

Experts' Tips Save Sweaters

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Now that you're reaching again for your sweaters, some experts' tips on care that will make them look better and wear longer should come in handy.

When you peel one off, the sweater should be folded and put away in a drawer. When you rig one up on a hanger or hang it on a closet hook, you ruin a sweater's shape and, incidentally, don't do much for your own.

If you want a sweater to do something for you besides reveal contours, square out the shoulders discreetly with small, curving shoulder pads. Tacked carefully to neckband and arms eye seam, shoulder pads can be added by the rank novice with a needle and thread.

First rule of care to prevent "felting"—what happens when wool fibers stiffen and intermesh—is to have sweaters cleaned before they become too soiled. On this score, experts remind you that sending sweaters on frequent trips to the cleaner—to be either wet-cleaned or dry-cleaned—is a long-run economy for the sweater girl.

Oil-Soaked Gauze Keeps Nails Soft

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Fingernails that wrestle with pots and pans and mops can look as glamorous as the idliest flock if polish is put on after chores are done.

You can keep nails from snapping or peeling, control cuticle and forget what handnails look like if you'll wear rubber gloves for dishwashing, cotton gloves for dry work. But before you put on working mitts, do what a glamorous career girl, I know does. Required to wrestle with chores in a maidless home, she strips off polish and bandages nails with oil-soaked strips of gauze before donning her mitts. When chores are polished off, she does as much for her nails.

It takes only ten minutes, she says, to turn drudges into sparklers. New, quick-drying aftercoats will even knock a couple minutes off that allotted time.

Unveil Revolutionary English Reproducer
Before American Musicians and Critics

Christine Ecker, New York fashion expert, looks over the new London Full-Frequency Range Reproducer.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The American Premiere of the London Full Frequency Range Reproducer, English post-war phonograph which has been hailed as the most revolutionary development in musical reproduction since the electric pick-up in 1928, was held before a select audience of musical artists, critics and distinguished guests in the Basildon Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on October 23.

Included among the audience were such notables as Walter Damrosch, dean of American composers and conductors, Alexander Smallens, traveling conductor of the New York Philharmonic and Philadelphia Symphony orchestras and Samuel Barber, composer of the celebrated "Commando March." Other celebrities who attended the premiere were former New York State Governor Charles Poletti, Ricardo Romero, Director of Music Division, U. S. State Department, W. G. R. Howell of the British Consulate-General, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., National Housing Chairman of the American Veterans Committee. Opening a two-day schedule of preview showings, second of which was held the following day for 250 picked broadcasting officials, radio directors, producers, and top engineering executives in the Chamin Auditorium, E. R. Lewis, president of the London Gramophone Corporation, revealed that the new electronic device makes possible for the first time, the reproduction of the extreme upper and lower sections of the musical scale, heretofore always denied to the listener.

Designed by H. F. Schwarz, St. Louis-born Technical Director of the British parent company, the London reproducer has a response range of 30 to 14,000 cycles per second, 9000 cycles beyond the range of conventional pre-war phonographs. This enables it to duplicate all bass and treble notes, together with the overtones that characterize the various instruments and allows reproduced music to capture the full color of the original performance for the first time.

E. R. Lewis, President of the London Gramophone Corporation which manufactures the machine, is the head of the British Decca Company and well-known in English financial circles.

First U. S. Newspaperwoman Hailed As 'Mother Of Freedom'

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Newsfeature Writer

A new American heroine has been brought to life from the dusty records of Colonial New York, to stand beside such figures as Betsy Ross and Martha Washington as one of the gallant feminine figures of American history.

She is Anna Zenger, America's first newspaperwoman, described as the inspiration and goading spirit of this country's first free newspaper by Kent Cooper, in his new historical novel, "Anna Zenger, Mother of Freedom."

Known for his own determined fight to maintain freedom of the press in a modern world threatened by dictatorships, Mr. Cooper credits Anna Zenger, wife of John Peter Zenger, publisher of the New York Weekly Journal, with the first effort to establish a press free from government controls.

Though history has recognized Zenger as the first champion of freedom of the press in America, Mr. Cooper, after exhaustive research into early Colonial records, advances the theory that it was really the printer's beautiful and talented wife, Anna, who wrote the barbed paragraphs and ringing editorials of the New York Weekly Journal, which roused the early colonists to a new conception of freedom.

She was, undoubtedly, the world's first woman editor and publisher, editing the Journal during her husband's nine months of imprisonment, and continuing to publish it for nearly three years after his death.

Mr. Cooper bases his theory on records showing that Zenger himself lacked both the ambition and the writing talent to produce the sparkling independent paper which was the first voice of press freedom in America. Others among his associates have been variously credited with the writings, but research convinced the author that the moving spirit and the facile mind behind the paper was that of Anna Zenger.

The New York Weekly Journal was first published in 1733, to voice the daring course of the little paper, and served without fee to free its publisher, whose courage also had attracted the attention of Franklin.

The glory of the acquittal, however, went chiefly to Hamilton, while Zenger and his wife were almost forgotten in the celebrations of the colonists.

The credo of Anna Zenger is presented in Mr. Cooper's novel in a letter written to her husband during his long imprisonment, of which four copies later were printed and presented to Hamilton, Franklin James Alexander (attorney for Zenger) and to Anna Zenger. The letter reads:

"Dear John:
"This is how I feel about what we are fighting for:

"1—Man's progress stopped when freedom to print was suppressed. Restore the right to print and he will go forward to greater things.

"2—A free press can develop and bring to reality other freedoms such as the right to speak openly and the right to worship as one chooses.

"3—Once established, freedom cannot survive unless the press that established it remains free.

"4—Good morals, not government, should control what the press prints.

"All of this is worth fighting for! We are suffering for what we are doing but all of those who have done things to make this world better had their trials and tribulations.

"God will bless us if we do not quit!
"I love you, John!"

"Anna."

Thrifty Habits Help Save Soap
By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Wanton waste of soap may make you feel that you are not getting the most out of your soap. To encourage you to adopt thrifty habits of lathering a cake or bar, here is a list of soap-savers.

If suds which you've worked up are lively, don't add more soap. Liveliness is a sign that suds are active and are doing their job. When suds die is the time to add more soap.

A cocktail shaker is a soap-saving container par excellence for washing small items. The shaking helps a little soap to dislodge a lot of dirt.

Drippy soap is wasted soap. Wipe a cake or bar before placing in a dish. An open rack-type of soap holder may eliminate the nuisance of soap and wiping out a dish.

Save soap scraps. Odd slivers can add up to a lot of soap, if they're collected and made into a soap jelly. To make, put into a vessel containing a little water and melt over slow heat.

Perfumes React Badly On Wool
By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Perfumes which have taken well to handkerchiefs and clothes made of vegetable fiber may not be so chummy with your woollens, leathers and furs.

What you may get for your pains in whooshing on your winter wardrobe the fine fragrances which seemed all right for summer clothes is an unpleasant odor. Woollens, leathers and furs carry a residue of animal fats, either present in their original state or acquired through the process of dyeing. When used on these, some perfumes either react badly or are cancelled out entirely. For that reason, perfumes used on winter warmers should have an animal base. That establishes compatibility.

Even a compatible perfume is better used on the lining of a fur coat than directly on the pelt.

New Fake Jewelry Fools The Public

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

The news in costume jewelry this season is delicate, expensive looking jewelry which looks like platinum and diamonds but really is platinum-finished silver and rhinestones.

Necklaces are highly important, in keeping with the new off-shoulder necklines and following the dress trend, they are done in Empire and Directoire period style.

There are flexible rhinestone-set necklaces of the choker type, with earrings to match, and also more elaborate ones of small brilliants with pendants of larger stones, in a current collection designed by Castlediff.

Hoop earrings which also can be worn as finger rings are new, as are brooches which can double as hair ornaments. There are a fan-shaped brooch set with brilliants surrounding a large central pearl, and two leaf-shaped pins which can be worn either as a unit or on either side of a low neckline.

Must Have Had New Driver

Well, of all things! Alfred (Red) Petty, manager of Midland City Bus Lines, reported to police the theft of a bus from the parking lot of the company. The theft was reported Saturday.

Consumer Buying, Leadership Are 1947 Club Topics

Consumer buying, food preservation, clothing, and leadership training will be the principal topics of Midland County Home Demonstration Clubs during 1947, according to the year's program outlined in the H. D. Yearbook published Saturday.

Leadership training will be emphasized, with the club leaders giving many of the club demonstrations. Mrs. Nettie B. Messick is the county home demonstration agent. The six clubs in the county—Prairie Lea, West Side, East Side, Garden Addition, Warfield, Valley View—meet twice each month and follow the program projects as outlined in the yearbook.

At the first January meetings Mrs. Messick will talk on consumer buying, while Mrs. Linnie Davidson of the Midland County Health Unit will speak on "How the Health Unit Helps Midland and Midland County" at the second session.

To Study Home Recreation In February club leaders will give a demonstration on making hook rugs and foot stools; and talks will be made on recreation in the home and the use of herbs in cooking.

Using dress forms and flowers for Midland County will be the topics for first March meetings. Personalized styling and hat and glove making will be studied at the second meetings.

In April, the freezing of meats, cleaning rayon materials, and canning fruits and vegetables will be the meeting subjects. A canning clinic will be held in connection with the second meetings.

Activities in May will include how to be a gracious hostess, etiquette for special occasions, ways to overcome self-consciousness, a book review and tea.

To Study Child Training

The programs for June include preparing fruits for freezing and summer desserts, cleaning upholstery, and home-made furniture. Child training and home-made furniture are the topics for July. The summer encampment will be held in August.

In September the clubs will study preparing vegetables for freezing, and make plans for the County Fair.

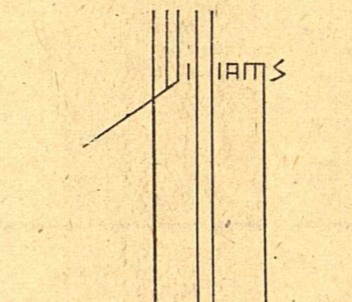

October is designated as Achievement Month. Annual reports will be made, and visits will be made to club demonstrators, and new officers elected. Making holiday desserts and cleaning woolen materials are studied in November and a Thanksgiving dinner is held. A Christmas party will be held in December.

Breazy Steal

GRAND ISLAND, NEBR.—(AP)—All that talk about a thief stealing men's hats from the Liederkranz Club turned out to be a lot of hot air.

A member walked into the club's cloakroom and spotted a hat being swept off the shelf into a ventilator. He looked inside the vent and discovered six hats. All apparently had been caught up in the draft created when the cloakroom door was opened.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach and ever-changing blood" need help. Now you must again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is not organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloak and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh, fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Genuine Help Is Promised Business Men

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Texas business men, who have voiced many complaints of governmental red tape and interference during the war, are going to get some genuine help from Uncle Sam.

At least that's in the program of the Commerce Department Field Service as outlined here by the agency's Texas-Louisiana Regional Director Ray Miller.

Here for his first conference with national officials taking over the regional directorship, Miller says he is eager to get the new setup going full speed. It will be in the nature of an advisory-information service.

"Business men have been paying in a lot of taxes," he commented. "We're going to try to give them a little more for their money. If we can help them prosper, we've helped our country prosper."

Formerly with the Smaller War Plants Corporation in Dallas, Miller maintains his new regional office in that city. When he left here he planned to call a meeting of the five district office managers under his jurisdiction.

Those offices, and the men in charge of each, are: New Orleans, Harold C. Jackson; Houston, Warren G. Brown; San Antonio, Victor B. Jaeggli; El Paso, Tom U. Purcell; and Texarkana, Henry H. Ritter.

"We want to get this service functioning as speedily and efficiently as possible," Miller continued, "and make it a real asset to be had by every business man in Texas for the asking."

The Marine Corps hymn is said to have originated soon after the close of the War with Mexico.

Permanent Memorial To Midland County Vets Proposed

Rotary Club Takes Lead In Plan To Honor Veterans; Service Roll Razed

By TANNER LAINE

The honor roll is coming down! A hallowed and honored list of Midland County's personnel of World War II service is being removed from the courthouse yard.

But wait, Midland, before you say "this should not be. This is a shame. Why, those are honored names." And so they are:

Hold your words, hold your action, Midland, until the time—

For a permanent, and lasting, and fitting memorial with the honor roll will be—

If every citizen will help. If organizations will rally to the cause. If the effort in Midland is united toward a memorial of such size, magnitude, usefulness or blessing, as to do full credit to men and women so honored.

We watched the workmen, who razed the panels of names. Almost reverently they removed the sign-board. Many names were there. Names of young men now dead, some of them. Names, names, names, all and each looking for their names. And women, too.

"Is my name written there?" Back in 1942 when the war had started the Rotary Club of Midland conceived the idea of a temporary recognition for the men and women of Midland County in service. The sign at the courthouse was established. It grew and grew. Panel after panel was added. Names were added rapidly. A year, then two years, then three, went by. The war was on in fury. Suddenly it was over. The sign had grown until it rounded a corner of the courthouse. It contained hundreds of names, for hundreds had gone to service.

Two weeks ago the Rotary Club of Midland appointed a committee headed by Ily Pratt to have the sign removed and action started toward a permanent memorial and honor roll.

The Midland Chamber of Commerce has been asked to coordinate the coming together of all organizations of the city toward building or establishing a lasting memorial.

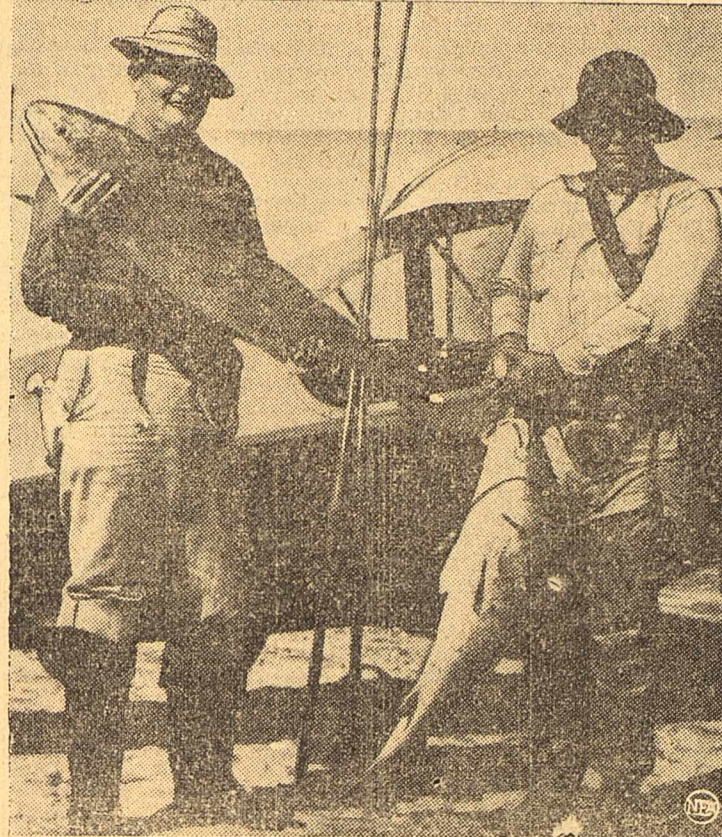

Other cities have their very fine memorials to service folk. These memorials take many forms. Midland must decide which kind it desires and get the job done without delay.

We talked to the man on the street about this. One said "this is a fine time to push to completion the Midland Memorial Hospital campaign and make this hospital a memorial to our boys. Their names, all of them, could be appropriately inscribed in the hospital in bronze or some lasting material."

Another said: "I thought it was bad they were taking down the honor roll but I guess it was good if it means we will get to work on a real memorial. A great hospital serving all Midland County would be good. It should have a big gate and inscribed on plaques at this gate should be the names of Midland County's honored citizens—the ex-service men and women."

The names, which were on the honor roll sign at the courthouse, are published in this edition of The Reporter-Telegram. Midland County citizens are asked to read the list and if any names are incorrect or if there are names to be added, give that information to the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Reta Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Livingston who live east of Midland, has placed two lambs on feed as her 4-H Club demonstration. Reta purchased one cross bred lamb and one Rambouillet lamb from J. C. Franklin who stock farms in the south part of Midland County.

The latest report from the Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Agricultural Economics show that a record number of stocker and feeder cattle have been moving to the corn belt states. This movement, together with a record production of corn of good quality and large supplies of other feeds and excellent wheat pastures, point to a substantial increase over last year in cattle feeding in these states during the winter. The bureau also reports that it expects cattle feeding in the Western states to be on a smaller scale than last winter.

Housewives, who are interested in making Christmas candies without sugar, will be interested to know that Nettie Messick, Midland County home demonstration agent, has some recipes available for distribution on the making of candies with little or no sugar.

FRESNO, CALIF.—(AP)—A 14-year-old boy who described himself as a homeless orphan has confessed setting a long series of destructive West Coast fires, including a $5,000,000 brandy warehouse blaze here, District Attorney James M. Thuesen announced.

A Statement and Resolution of Praise and Appreciation

Scarcely five short years ago, this nation was plunged into a world holocaust, woe, destruction and aggrandizement, threatening to destroy all of the civilized world. How well this Republic arose to our defense and, by the unity and initiative of a freedom loving people, coupled with the courage and resourcefulness of their sons and daughters, preserved the integrity and idealism of this nation, is one of the most brilliant chapters in our glorious history.

At the outset of the conflagration the Midland Rotary Club sought to pay tribute to the men and women who were going forth to defend our homes, our honor and our resources. Hardly a home in this broad land of ours failed to feel the beckoning hand of the gods of war; of our own members who gave their services—one will not return.

The Midland Rotary Club tried vainly to recognize all of those patriotic citizens who sacrificed home environment, school or position to enter our armed forces. So great was the drain on the womanhood and manhood of our community that it was impossible to keep pace with the procession of citizens called to the colors.

Accordingly the Midland Rotary Club assembled in regular meeting on November 21st, 1946, unanimously adopted the following resolution of Thanksgiving and appreciation for the unselfish devotion to Country and the undying valor of its armed forces to wit;

Whereas, the idealism of God, Country and Rotary are correlated, and

Whereas, the armed forces of our nation united in zeal, devotion and courage to defend those principals and ideals, and,

Whereas, by their glorious victories they brought peace to our land and security to our democratic form of government.

Now therefore be it resolved;

That the members of the Midland Rotary Club, collectively and individually, do hereby express an undying gratitude to those patriotic citizens and their families for their valor and sacrifice and that, in appreciation of their success in preserving the most satisfactory form of government ever yet devised, the names of all men and women from Midland County, Texas, be reverently inscribed in the permanent records of the Midland Rotary Club, and that the members of the Midland Rotary Club dedicate themselves to the task of restoring these United States to a just economy and to the preservation of the moral and social philosophy which made us a great nation, and be it further resolved;

That the members of the Midland Rotary Club pledge themselves to make available of their time, council and services, cheerfully and willingly, to assist any returning service man or service woman with his or her problems of rehabilitation, education or economic enterprise, when such aid is sought, and to give sympathetic and understanding assistance to the loved ones of those veterans as the occasion may arise and as it may be within their power or province practically to render.

ONE BATTLE MORE

One battle more men have to fight
After each battle is done;
It is to cultivate aright
Those very fields they've won.

No conquest has real joy to give,
However great the gain,
Unless on victory's field men live
Above the conquered plain.

One battle more will always be
For those who battles win:
It is to keep the life still free
From vanity within.

One battle more awaits men still,
Who conquer every foe:
It is the effort and the will
To live the best they know.

Christmas Safety Program Proposed By Fire Official

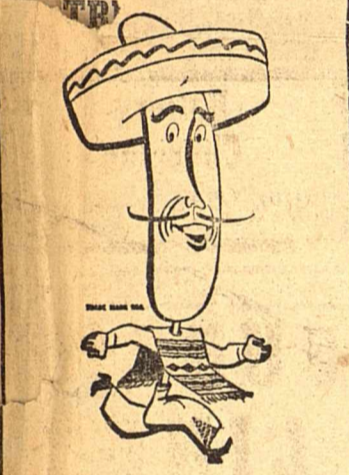

AUSTIN—(AP)—To help prevent disastrous Christmas fires and to save lives which may otherwise be lost in holiday tragedies, State Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall has suggested a nine-point safety program. These were his suggestions: Set the tree up in a pan of water. The base of the tree should be cut at an angle at least one inch above the original cut, and kept standing in water until removed from the house. Keep Tree From Heat. The tree should be kept away from stoves and other sources of heat. It should be securely placed to prevent falling, and so placed that it will not block an exit. Only safe and approved electric sets should be used for lighting purposes—never candles. Only flameproof materials should be used as decorations. Christmas wrappings should be removed without delay. Protect gas heaters and fireplaces with screen guards to prevent clothing from catching afire. Consult your fire marshal or fire chief when in doubt about the rules of safety in preventing fires.

Boy Scouts Start Major Round-Up

Perhaps it's the wrong time of year for a round-up, but not for the Boy Scouts are conducting throughout the Buffalo Trail. A campaign is underway to swell the membership of Scout troops, cub packs, and senior units. After a busy period in Scouting's story when Scouts did a thousand jobs for the war effort, now are building up to full pace-time strength," said Council commissioner Charlie Watson. "We have a busy and active year ahead of us, and we are hoping that every unit will invite from four to six boys to join it as new members during the National Scout Round-up which ends early in December." Every Scoutmaster, Cubmaster, and senior leader is working up a list of boys and young men who are to be invited to the units are going to be fellow-Scouts from 9 years of age to 17 years of age. The boys are to be pointed out. Cub packs are designed for boys 9 to 11 years. Boy Scout units are for boys 12 and over. Senior Units attract 15 years and above.

Two-Pants Suit Is Wartime Casualty

DALLAS—(AP)—Shed a tear for the two-pant suit, a wartime casualty. It won't be back for at least two years, and maybe never, Fred Lacari of Dallas, president of the Southwest Men's Apparel Club, said. Lacari came up with these other tattered tidings as the club wound up a display of men's clothes here: The vest also is going the way of the free lunch and the five-cent cigar. Ditto suspenders insofar as most of Texas' manhood is concerned. The bow tie is making a modest comeback. Derby To Come Back. The derby hat will be popularized again within two years. The only complaints against the unavailability of the two-panters, Lacari averred, come from heavy-set men who wear out the pants ahead of their coats. Of that traditional gravy-stopper, the vest, Lacari said: "A man is just as well-dressed without a vest, and he is definitely healthier with less chance of becoming overheated in this changeable climate. Frankly, I hope the wartime scarcity of vests has killed the habit. They are essentially useless." "Lousy Suspender Country" Lacari, who sells suspenders, belts and garters, noted that synthetic elastic again is available, but mourned: "Cowboys don't wear garters and most of Texas is lousy suspender country. You can't give them away in West Texas. Everyone wants to wear a belt." "The salesmen hate bow ties, he noted, because they sell for less, use less material and wear forever. But they are a sign of smart grooming and it's hard to spill gravy on a bow tie."

Advisory Council For Well Child Program To Meet

The initial meeting of the Advisory Council for Well Child Program in Midland County held at 7:30 Monday in the Unit offices at 200 South C Street.

The following citizens appointed by Dr. John medical director of the to membership on the Drs. Tom C. Bobo, C. W. Leggett, Homer B. J. James H. Chapple, L. B. P. ton, and V. P. Neiss; Miss D. Summers, Mrs. Nettie Messick, W. R. Tillman, Mrs. T. S. Mrs. E. H. Davidson, Father Triggs, and J. Woodie Holden.

Dr. Turner explained that function of this group will be assist the Health Unit personnel planning and conducting Well Child Conferences in the Latin American and Negro sections Midland, also any others that may be organized in the future.

"The purposes of the Well Child Conference," said Dr. Turner, "are to educate parents in better methods of child care and to provide or stimulate the provision of continuous health supervision for all children of the community from birth to school age. The service of the child health conferences as a part of the broad public health program should be made available to all parents who can maintain such service from their own resources. It is primarily for the care of well children, that is children who are free from infections or other acute illness."

The plan for the accomplishment of these purposes includes: (1) a review of the child's health record and physical examination by a physician at regular intervals; (2) the physician's conference with her all aspects of the health and development, such as diet and habit formation, advice regarding the correction of abnormal conditions or needs; (3) service at the expense of the public health department, when feasible, by nutritionist and dentist; and (4) follow-up service by the public health nurse.

Dr. Turner said that the health program is not to supplant the work of physicians. The function of public health are essential, not therapeutic.

Crazy People

By JEANNINE STEPHENS

They're here again! Those six-week compositions of grief. Every student knows what it's like to be on the receiving end of these "horror hours," but have you ever wondered about these documents from the teacher's angle?

To begin with, she assigns a few pages (385 to be exact) to be read thoroughly. She cautions you to digest each paragraph completely. (I must confess there are some I can't even swallow.) Then, she goes through the book in an effort to obtain good test questions. Too bad teachers and the students don't take their work from the same pages. She reads each sentence carefully, then twists it around into a question which is guaranteed to put you into a complete state of hysteria, or your grade will be cheerfully refunded. She never bothers to observe the big, black type in the book; nothing but the most minute details will suffice.

I can see her now as she slaves way into the night. The pages flip (one every hour) as her pencil works overtime to keep B-O headache powders in being. There exists a fiendish gleam in her eyes, and her fangs glisten in the brilliant light. Finally, she is finished (you soon will be, too) and a sneer is barely audible. As the clock strikes three, she gathers up her 150 page test and trots off to dreamland.

My question is this: Do teachers really sleep after they have embodied 25 days work in 150 pages?

Are Your Teeth Clean?

By ROBERT RORIPAUGH

"Say fellows, I wonder if you have noticed some of the strange happenings that have been going on around here." "Why no, Jonathan. What are you talking about?"

"Well, for instance, Wednesday noon the students got hungry so they brought buns to school to eat. Then on Thursday one of the girls got tired so she went to sleep right in the middle of the campus."

"But, Jonathan, there were reasons for those spectacles. People get hungry and sleepy at school as well as at home."

"Well I'll grant you that, but something else has happened that is very alarming. Football is no longer a game of blocking and tackling. Something new has been added. I can see coaches all over the nation concluding their practices with exercise on a gigantic teething ring. Yes, Prince Albert has taken a little bite out of your pipe, and put it into the football games."

"The coaches will be concluding their pregame talks with: 'Boys there's 11 of them and 11 of you. Get in there and bite 'em.' Then the players would charge onto the field gnawing their teeth and singing, 'I'll get a big bite out of you.' Instead of calling a play, say for instance left half over right, tackle the quarterback would have to call 'left half over and take a big bite out of right tackle.'"

Of course the smart coach would soon figure out a defense against biting. He would cover the arms and legs of his players with T-basco Sauce.

The only thing about this biting business that we should be thankful for is that our boys who got bit last week didn't get hydrophobia.

John Torbett Is Assistant Drum Major

The assistant drum major of the Midland High School Band this year is John Torbett. John has been taking band for two years and during this time he mastered the saxophone, clarinet, french horn, baritone, trombone, and the drums, besides specializing on the cornet. He will carry over as the drum major next year.

Banana pie, when it is to be had, soon disappears from his plate. Maybe this has something to do with his favorite hobby, which is eating. John's favorite song is "To Each His Own" and his favorite color, blue. When anything irritates him, it is usually a mean teacher. For his favorite occupation, he rates playing his cornet as number one on his list. It seems a shame to say it, but he doesn't have an ideal girl. John likes them all!

Five feet four inches tall, John has blue eyes and blond hair. His subjects are Spanish, English, band, history, and math. He has no favorite teacher or subject.

He was born in Marlin, Texas, April 18, 1932, but claims he is from Waco. Moving to Midland in August just before school started, he enrolled as a freshman and then became assistant drum major. This is a good beginning to make a new high school career, and John Torbett is sure to keep going.

Bob McDonald, MHS-Ex, Is Accidentally Shot

Bob McDonald, ex-Midland High School student and a resident of Wichita, Kansas, was accidentally shot in the legs while on a quail hunt. His companion, carrying a twelve gauge shotgun, accidentally discharged the weapon while on the opposite side of a hedge, 15 yards away.

Bob was shot in the legs between the knee and ankle. The doctor said there were 25 shots in his right ankle and four in his left, going on to say that only five were able to be removed; the others being too deep.

Thanksgiving Day

(An Editorial)

What does Thanksgiving mean to you? How do you commemorate the day? What did it mean to our Pilgrim forefathers? Why, today, do we still keep Thanksgiving?

Each of us might well ask ourselves these questions as the Thanksgiving season of 1946 rolls around. In this day of the atomic bomb, international disputes, and strikes, little thought is given to the past and what it means applied to our everyday living. We seldom stop to realize that our Plymouth ancestors first established Thanksgiving with a prayerful and reverent spirit, thanking the Lord for their blessings. They didn't have a great many material things, but they possessed something infinitely greater; a faith and an undaunted spirit which led them to look hopefully into the future and declare themselves divinely led toward some shining goal.

This is our heritage. We must maintain this spirit in spite of present-day problems, for only in this way can we hope for a better world free from fears and tyranny.

4-H Girls Club Yearbook Outlines Program For 1947

Projects for 1947 were outlined for Midland County 4-H Club girls in a yearbook published Saturday by Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, county home demonstration agent.

The new program calls for leadership training and more responsibility and authority on the part of the participating girls and women.

In 4-H Club work girl leaders will give demonstrations in personal grooming, how to select one's most becoming color, use of accessories, repairing clothes, using dress forms, good posture, and canning fruits. They also will present the yearly achievement program, sponsor the Harvest Banquet, and arrange the Christmas party.

During the year Mrs. Messick will give demonstrations on making buttonholes, breadmaking, preparing quick breads, tailoring, and making pastries.

Meet Twice monthly.

The 4-H girls clubs meet twice each month. In the first January meeting a club leader will give talk on sewing equipment and the Yearbooks will be studied. At the second meeting Mrs. Messick will give a demonstration on worked and bound buttonholes.

At the first February meeting a girl leader will conduct the demonstration on making "fascinators" and discuss methods to overcome self-consciousness. Mrs. Messick will demonstrate making yeast breads at the second monthly meeting.

Accessories such as belts, purses and hats will be the subject for the first March meeting, and the county HD agent will give a lesson on how to make quick breads at the second session.

April's projects will consist of a study at the first meeting, on repairing clothes and also traits of a courteous hostess. Mrs. Messick will give hints on tailoring at the second.

A Mother's Day tea will be held the first week in May, and home demonstration club women will help the 4-H Club girls learn to use dress forms at the second session.

June's attraction will be a dress review and the District 4-H Club camp.

In July girl leaders will give a demonstration on Summer desserts and canning fruits and vegetables. A canned fruit clinic is also planned at which the members appraise and criticize canned fruits put up by members.

Yearly Encampment.

The yearly encampment is scheduled at Cloverdale Park in August, while in September the girls will be kept busy planning exhibits for the County Fair and exhibiting their products at the fair.

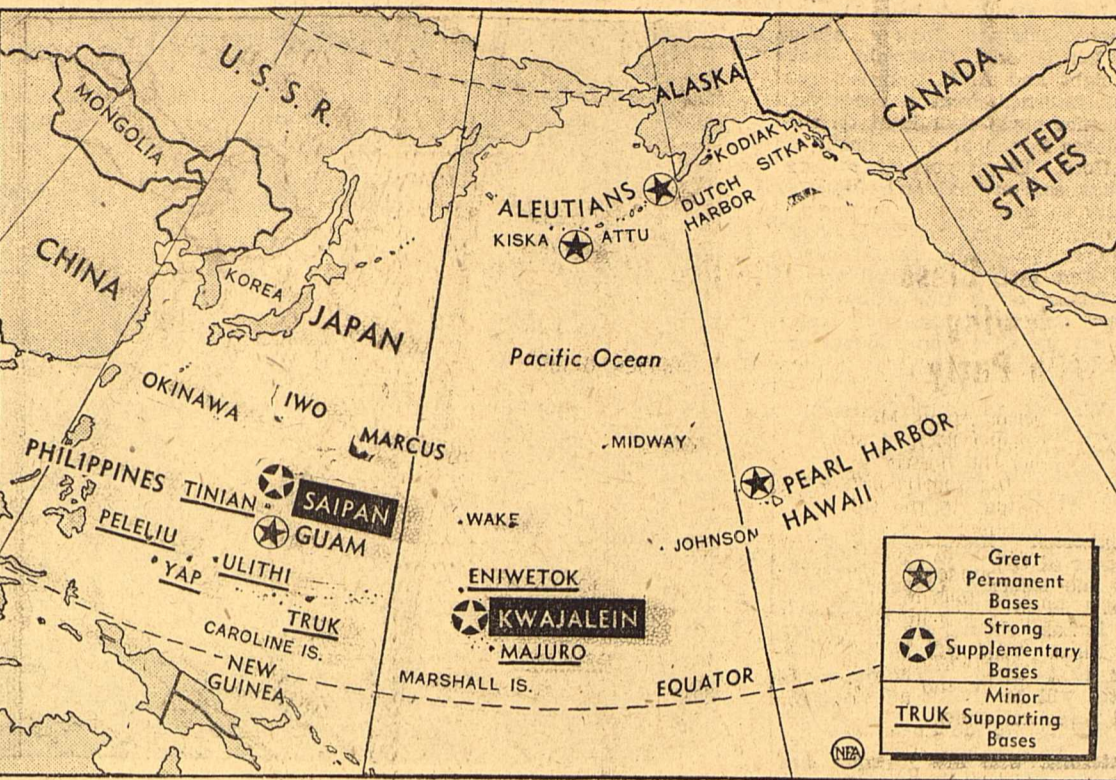

October has been designated as Achievement Month. Fire prevention also will be studied during the month, as well as pasty making. The Harvest Banquet will be

How U. S. May Set Up Its Pacific Defenses

According to a long-range U. S. defense plan given to United Press correspondent Donald J. Gonzales by military leaders during a 25,000-mile tour of the Pacific, only Saipan and Kwajalein, of all the islands wrested from the Japs, will play major strategic roles if the U. S. gets UN trusteeship. They will "backstop" strong permanent defense bases at Guam, Pearl Harbor, the Aleutians and Alaska. Smaller islands, in the Marshall, Caroline and Marianas groups, will be placed in secondary roles, capable of quick expansion in emergency.

Conservationists Talk On District Program

A. T. Jordan and H. D. Clayton, conservationists with the Soil Conservation Service assisting the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, made talks to the Midland High School Vocational Agriculture classes last week. The speakers discussed the Soil Conservation District program emphasizing the need for a complete soil conservation program on farms and ranches in the district and explaining the measures followed in conservation farming.

Aldridge Estes, rancher cooperorator with the district on his ranch north of Midland has enough forage on his range to carry his livestock through the winter. Range utilization checks made by the Soil Conservation Service show that enough grama grass has been left ungrazed to furnish grazing till March without damage to the range. Adjustment of stocking to the grass production is one of the measures followed by Estes in his complete conservation program.

J. G. Bennett, who is cooperating with the district on his farm in the Prairie Lee Conservation group, made a trial planting of Texas speargrass last week. Bennett planted the grass in a lake bed to reseed this area to pasture grasses. The speargrass, if successful, will furnish good grazing during winter and early spring.

Applications for assistance in planning and applying a complete conservation program have been made to the district supervisors by J. B. McKee on his farm in the Fair Grounds Conservation group and Hudson Hanks on his ranch south of Midland.

An engineering survey was completed last week by the Soil Conservation Service on the farm of Warren Skaggs in the Cotton Flat Conservation group.

staged in November, at which awards will be presented outstanding club girls. A Thanksgiving program also is planned for November, and a Christmas party in December.

UN May Control Unknown Lands In Antarctic Area

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It is possible to place the relatively "free areas" of the world under United Nations control now, thereby establishing the first tiny toe-hold of world government in that area.

The question pops up immediately in consideration of the suggestion by Prof. Leo Gross, of the School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts College, that such a step be taken in Antarctica to forestall an international race for domination of that area.

So far, such claims as have been laid by different nations to parts of Antarctica are on a rather tenuous basis. The United States holds that mere discovery does not constitute a "staked claim" in such areas, although they have been made in the names of various countries including the United States, France, Norway and even Japan. Argentina and Chile claim some rights of contiguity, and the British expedition which has been in the area for two years may meet at least a part of the U. S. contention that development and occupation, not discovery dates, are the important factors.

Professor Gross infers that the suspected presence of uranium in Antarctica might make it a very difficult problem if its solution is left until vested interests are established. He doesn't mention the Arctic, although his argument would seem to apply equally well in an area which is under discussion because of its military location.

The cross plan would seem to be even more logical in connection with the attempt to give the United Nations control over the sources of atomic energy. If, as seems quite likely, the possibility of finding uranium outweighs the generally professed reasons for the various pending expeditions into the Antarctic, the UN might avoid trouble by stepping in now instead of later.

There is already one minor dispute in this field. Britain has submitted a tentative UN trusteeship agreement for Tanganyika which contains a clause reserving control of the country's mining. The United States protests that equal trading rights should be allowed UN members in all areas under trusteeship.

Texas Hunters Are Spending $2,000,000

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

This is the paradise period for Texas hunters.

It's the time of year many have pointed for, and an estimated 100,000 rifle-carrying Texans are spending probably $2,000,000 between now and the first of the year hunting their favorite game.

The season is open on deer, turkey, bear, javelina, doves. Shells are fairly plentiful for both rifle and shotgun; game is reported excellent in some spots, adequate in others; the weather has turned cooler, which helps keep deer on the move; guns have been produced in larger quantities; in fact, most factors have tended to make for a good season.

The deer and bear season east of the Pecos is from Nov. 16 to Dec. 31, inclusive. The bag is two bucks and one bear. West of the Pecos the season is shorter—Nov. 19 to Nov. 24, inclusive, on deer, bear, turkey and javelina. The bag allows two turkeys, three javelinas.

At no time during World War II were the United Nations short of one of the most important strategic minerals—the industrial diamond.

Veterans, who are farming, are reminded of the provisions of the Self-employed Compensation Act. This act enables a farm veteran, who is actively engaged in farming, to draw up to $1,000 to help him over the lean income months so evident in farming and ranching business. The local employment office will help veterans with the necessary papers and it states that a representative from the Big Spring office will visit the local Midland office on Tuesday between 1 and 3 p. m. to help veterans fill out the final papers. The Midland employment office is now located at 319 East Texas Street.

A number of new irrigation wells have been completed in the Tarzan Community in Martin County. Well producing as much as 1,400 gallons a minute have been reported in that section. The cotton gins around the Tarzan Community report that they will finish up with cotton ginning by December 15, the earliest that they remember.

Lynch King, whom many remember as a former Midland County resident, is visiting friends and relatives in Midland now. Lynch ranches up near Kit Carson, Colo., and reports that the recent snow storms in that area had him marooned for 13 days and that he had to walk out to Cheyenne Wells, 13 miles away. Better stay down here, Lynch, where all we have to contend with is dry weather and sand storms.

The Board of Directors of the Midland Production Association met in their regular session Saturday.

A number of Midland folks have returned from deer hunting trips with reports of varying success. Among the hunters recently returning were George Glass and Frank Williamson, two well known Midland County ranchers.

Governor Stevenson Proclaims Christmas Seal Month In Texas

AUSTIN—Gov. Coke Stevenson has issued a proclamation officially designating the period from November 25 to December 25 as "Christmas Seal Month" and urged all Texans to support the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations by "buying and using Christmas seals during this month."

The annual Christmas Seal Sale will open Monday and continue until Christmas. In issuing the proclamation, Governor Stevenson pointed out that tuberculosis is the greatest disease cause of death among Texans between 15 and 35 years of age, and that because of its communicable nature, tuberculosis is our greatest public health problem.

The proclamation follows: "Whereas, tuberculosis is a leading cause of death in our state and takes the lives of more young people, in the productive years from 15 to 35, than any other disease, and "Whereas, tuberculosis is spread from person to person and therefore must be recognized as a major public health problem, and

"Whereas, a well-planned program for the control of tuberculosis is being conducted in Texas by the Texas Tuberculosis Association, and its affiliated county associations, and

"Whereas, the work of these associations is supported by the sale of Christmas Seals, "Now, therefore, Coke Stevenson, governor of Texas, do officially designate the period from November 25 to December 25 as Christmas Seal Month and do urge the people of Texas to be generous in their support of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations by buying and using Christmas Seals during this month."

COKE R. STEVENSON, Governor of Texas.

City's Boy Scouts

DALLAS —(AP)— Dallas firemen have their hands full putting out flames, but in addition to their regular duties, these were reported recently: They rescued two cats from trees, removed a lost shoe from a rooftop, assisted two women in unlocking doors to their homes, extricated a child from a bolted bathroom, helped a driver load an iron lung on his truck and installed light globes in a church.

Saw Stars—And More

GREENSBORO, N. C.—(AP)—The wife of Charles H. Doggett, a Greensboro insurance official, struck him lightly in the eye and he can see much better. Doctors told him the lick dislodged a cataract from which he had suffered for five years, and caused it to drop into the corner of his eye.

Disputes Between U. S. President, Congress Date Back To Hamilton

By The Associated Press
Any factional disputes between Democratic President Truman and the Republican Congress which opens Jan. 3 will be just another installment of a head-on collision which started with the founding fathers and has been throbbing in America's governmental nodule ever since.

When Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) suggested that the President appoint a Republican secretary of state and then resign in his favor, White House reports indicated he wouldn't do any such thing. But either way, Truman is right in the middle of a muddle over the presidency which has grown periodically and unpredictably in American affairs.

The constitutional convention in 1787 didn't decide what to do about the President until the last minute. The wording of the constitutional definition of presidential powers is credited to Gouverneur Morris, convention expert on phrasing, and apparently never was voted upon. Lawyers have been arguing ever since whether "The executive power... vested in a President," grants something not otherwise specified in the document.

of opposition parties was considered treason in most countries. Thus the nation as it has grown from less than four million inhabitants has been faced with an original uncertainty about the role of the President and has had to build a chief executive to suit its needs as it went along and at the same time adjust his relationships with the other branches of the government.

- How Powers Have Grown
High spots of the development in the presidency include:
1. Jefferson's extreme deference to Congress modified by the fact that he got what he wanted through party leadership.
2. The strong policies of Jackson which increased the power of the Presidents.
3. The war powers which President Lincoln was forced to assume.
4. The bitter fight between Andrew Johnson and Congress.
5. The dynamic program of Theodore Roosevelt which again increased the power of the Presidents.
6. The war-backed developments of Wilson.
7. The depression and war programs of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Republican Glamour Will Spark Society In Washington

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON—Come January, the Capital's social roster will get a shot in the arm with the coming to town of new glamour—a Republican.

A top drawer social register from New York's exclusive Tuxedo Park district, expected to be a leader in the Washington whirl, is Mrs. George St. George. Her beauty and brains will be an added contribution to the congressional picture as well, as she has been elected representative from the 29th district.

She is a cousin of the late President F. D. Roosevelt, through her mother, Mrs. Price Collier, a sister of the President's mother. She is a talented hostess as well as a keen politician.

Always active in political affairs, she has been successively vice chairman of her own Grange county committee, manager of the Republican campaign in 1942, county chairman in 1943 and a delegate to the Republican convention. Mrs. Frances P. Bolton of Cleveland, C., first elected to Congress in 1940, is coming back again as Republican representative from her district.

She is a well-known and extremely popular figure around Washington. Her grandfather Oliver Henry Payne, was a former U. S. Senator. Her father, H. B. Payne, was a confidant of such distinguished political personages as former Presidents William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft.

She is a woman of considerable means and a rather swanky background, which makes her more than socially acceptable. She was educated at the exclusive Hathaway-Brown school in Cleveland and Miss Spence's School in New York City.

Two beautiful Mrs. Lodges—the wife of Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican Senator from Massachusetts; and wife of Henry's brother, John Davis Lodge, Republican congressman taking the seat of Clare Eothe Lee of Connecticut—are coming here too.

Both of the Lodge boys are tall and handsome and are the sons of the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. The younger Henry Cabot Lodge resigned his seat in the Senate to volunteer for the Army. When they lived here before they occupied an attractive old house in Georgetown.

Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge is typically "Boston." Tall and aristocratic, she claims to prefer a quiet family life to a strictly social one, but she is hep to all the tricks. When she first arrived here she conscientiously called on all Senators' wives and otherwise carried out the duties expected of a Washington hostess. She was a hit too.

Her sister-in-law, the former Francesca Bragiotti, is a member of the talented Bragiotti family of New York. She herself was a well-known dancer before her marriage. Her brother Mario is a pianist, and her sister Gloria, now Mrs. Emlen Etinggis, is a great social success in Manhattan.

John Lodge was a successful film actor, and the Lodges lived abroad for several years while he played in British, French and Italian films.

Milk Mixture for Stomach Ulcers

A recent medical discovery now used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcers caused from excess acid. It is a harmless preparation yet so effective, in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately. Also recommended for gas, pains, indigestion, heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of LURIN from their drug store. LURIN contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoons in a half glass of milk. Costs but little. Must satisfy or money refunded.

Lurin for sale by Midland Drug Co. and drug stores everywhere.

They Get Dramatic Safety Lesson

To dramatize the great importance of eye protection in industry, delegates to the Safety and Fire Conference of the synthetic rubber industry officials blindfolded themselves for one hour during their recent meeting in Washington, D. C.

Staying On Safe Side False Alarm

Topeka, Kas.—(AP)—S. D. Flora, federal meteorologist for Kansas, confessed that he always has an umbrella in his office. He told a Topeka civic club that the safeguard was "just in case my prediction for fair weather goes wrong."

The forecaster said he received the idea on a visit to the chief of the weather bureau in Washington.

DECATUR, Ill.—(AP)—Decatur school officials studying alarm systems for school installations went to the fire department for a shrewd demonstration and got one that made everybody jump—including the fire truck.

When a substitute driver pushed a button on a fire truck the visitors and the firemen jumped—for safety—and the truck jumped right through a closed door.

Dean Of American Press Liberals Reviews 50-Year Newspaper Career

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Looking back on 50 turbulent years of newspaper work, Oswald Garrison Villard, dean of American Press Liberals, said quietly:

"I'd do it over again if I had my life to live over. I'd go into journalism again. There is no profession like it. It offers the greatest opportunity a man can find to serve his country and advance its welfare. At 74 the bent scholarly editor finds present day American newspapers politically fairer than those of his youth, more informing of world affairs, more independent of advertiser pressure, but—

"They still don't do their entire duty in forwarding progressive movements and helping the underdog in our political and social life as they should."

As to the future of liberalism? "My nature is optimistic, but you tell me what will happen to the atom bomb and I will tell you what the future of liberalism is." He said he wouldn't try to define liberalism, but in his own life he has fought editorially against war, and for oppressed people—"the Jews, negroes or anybody else"—for social legislation to better the lot of the individual worker, and championed free trade "as a sure avenue to peace."

50 Years a Reporter
"Communism," he continued, "is the direct antithesis of liberalism in most respects. Liberalism can't pay the price of obtaining equality along Russian lines. That would mean destruction of the four freedoms."

Villard started his career 50 years ago this week as a reporter on the Philadelphia Press and got $10 for a 75-hour week.

"That was ridiculous," he smiled. "I asked for more money and they raised me to $12."

"I never stop writing," he said. "That's one thing I can't do."

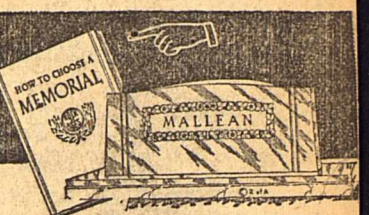

"My work has, I hope, been honest and sincere. I was fortunately placed in having large means, so that I never had to compromise on my ideals—never."

Nor has he surrendered to the typewriter. He dictates, or writes with an old stub pen.

The typical progressive automobile requires 3,545 pounds of steel, 75 per cent of it sheet and strip.

"Take Our Word for it!"

"We've Never Had a Tire that Sold as Fast as the Tire that... OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES"

"When you've got a good thing, word gets around fast... and word about the new B. F. Goodrich postwar Silvertown is certainly spreading around here. Seems everyone wants the tire that Outwears Prewar Tires! That's why it's so hard to keep them in stock—even with the factory's outstanding production. B. F. Goodrich users have been telling their friends about the wonderful tire mileage they are getting from the broader, flatter Silvertown tread... how it covers more road surface, hugs the road better, helps prevent skidding and slipping. And they've mentioned the 35% stronger tire body, the result of an entirely new type stronger cord with more cords per ply. All this, you know, means greater safety—better resistance to bruises and road shocks. Any way you look at it, the new Silvertown is today's most-for-the-money tire for your car... well worth waiting for."

Warns Against Mailing Of Forbidden Matter

G. W. Morrow, post office inspector, in Midland to make a survey of the Midland Post Office facilities, issued a warning Saturday against mailing material not accepted under U. S. Post Office Department rules.

He listed the following matter as representative of the types commonly mailed although against postal laws and regulations: intoxicating beverages; inflammable matter such as matches, lighter fluid, and other articles likely to cause fire through absorption of moisture or self-ignition through friction or spontaneous chemical changes; ammunition and other explosives; firearms, such as revolvers, which are capable of being concealed on the person; poisons; narcotics, extortion letters, and lottery and fraudulent matter.

Postal laws provide severe penalties for mailing such matter, Morrow pointed out.

Land Tracts Are Not Available To Vets Yet

Merritt F. Hines, Midland County veteran service officer, notified veterans Saturday that applications can not be acted upon to sell to veterans as provided by the constitutional amendment approved on November 7 until after the 50th Legislature passes legislation outlining the duties, policies, and procedure of the Veteran's Land Board and its operation.

Hines pointed out that a number of veterans have come to his office seeking to apply for tracts to be sold to veterans as provided by the new law. He has forwarded the addresses of all veterans seeking information on the land to Bascom Giles, commissioner of the General Land Office, in Austin.

Giles has notified the Midland County veteran service office that information, when it becomes available, will be mailed to the veterans whose names have been received.

UN Delegates May Be Worldly, But Act Like Yankees

Nobody bothered to note what Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko had in this glass when he quenched his thirst between sets at the opera. Chances are it's Scotch, or even orange juice—but not vodka, if you take the word of the bartender at the delegates' lounge at UN headquarters.

By NEA Service
LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—(NEA)—UN delegates may be a pretty worldly lot, but when it comes to eating and drinking, their tastes are just as plebeian as those of the average American.

This information comes from a source that ought to know — the men responsible for preparing the food and mixing the drinks for the big shots.

"They like to do things American, eat and drink," says Arthur Schleifer, who operates the bars and dining rooms for the UN. And Arthur Rice, bartender at the delegates' lounge, backs him up. Rice says he hasn't had a single request for any "foreign style drinks."

"All they want here is Scotch and orange juice," Rice says. "Delegates can start their drinking half an hour before the sessions begin but many of them stick to the soft stuff—mostly just orange juice."

"Cases and cases of oranges are squeezed for juice," says Schleifer. "Cocktail drinkers seem to prefer Manhattans, but the biggest demand in the hard liquor department is for Scotch and after that eye and Bourbon. Rice keeps a bottle of vodka on hand just in case, but nobody has ordered any so far.

Although the Russian delegation brought a number of cases of both vodka and cognac with them on the Queen Elizabeth when they arrived for the General Assembly, it had nothing to do with what they're ordering over the UN bar.

Ann Corcoran, hostess at the delegates' dining room, says the diplomats drink quite a lot of beer with luncheon and their appetites are pretty normal. Luncheon is served buffet style with a huge bowl of fruit dominating the serving table. Miss Corcoran spends a lot of time making that fruit look pretty, but as far as the delegates are concerned it is just something else to eat.

"It disappears in a few minutes. The foreign delegates eat a lot more fruit than the Americans do," she says. "They really go in for cheese and fresh fruit."

Luncheon consists of such things as fresh ham, roast beef, lobster or chicken salad, and green salad.

"We don't serve foreign foods," Schleifer says, although he admits that a lot of American dishes are of foreign origin. "And we haven't had one special request for a for-

Exit The Orator

We feel constrained to prophesy, perhaps even announce, the death of the art of oratory. The noble tradition of Demosthenes, Cicero, William Jennings Bryan, and sundry Fourth of July speakers has succumbed, we fear, to science. Specifically, it is the victim of those duplicating machines.

We had noted the decline for some time. But the full impact of oratory's perilous position bore down upon us when we saw the pictures of former Senator Warren Austin and his audience on the occasion of Warren's speech before the UN General Assembly.

There was poor Austin, bravely speaking away. And there were his listeners, with heads bowed over the advance copies of his speech which the duplicating machines had so swiftly provided. Seldom has a more inattentive audience heard a more interesting and informative address. It was as if Maurice Evans were performing before a gathering whose every member had a copy of "Hamlet" open on his lap.

Not that we disapprove of the duplicating machine. It is indispensable to newspapers and press services, enabling them to distribute and set in type a speech some hours before its delivery. Of course, reporters still have to cover the actual address, in case—as often happens—the speaker puts in a few ad lib words. But we do think the speech might be withheld from the audience.

There is a great deal of difference between hearing and seeing a word. The mind, in receiving statements from a printed page, is inclined to weigh them in generally sober fashion. It tests, ponders, approves or disapproves. It may retrace a sentence or paragraph, seeking out flaws or enjoying more thoroughly a felicitous employment of the language.

It is fortunate for the publishers of books and newspapers, among others, that the printed word carries a special sense of certitude and permanence, and that the leisurely pleasure of reading is secure from competition. Yet it must be recognized that the ear can be an exciting and dramatic bearer of tidings.

The eye and ear are not necessarily competitors. We listen, then we have the desire to read and confirm or re-enjoy. But an oration should be heard first.

Would Cicero's eloquence have lived if every Roman senator had had an advance handout, or would the handouts have been thrown away and the half-listened-to speech forgotten? How would Lincoln's address have gone over at Gettysburg, or Webster's at Bunker Hill, if everyone in the audience had been following the script to see if the speaker muffed a line or changed a word?

The duplicating machine is here to stay. But we fear that the pleasure of listening to a good speaker, and the incentive to be one, are being sacrificed to this indispensable instrument. The orator has become little more than a schoolboy who sing-songs his way through the reading lesson, while the whole class follows and waits for him to make a mistake.

Another War Criminal

At long last the American and British authorities in Germany have reversed a former decision and decided that young Alfred Krupp, head of the famous munitions works, should be tried for war crimes. Earlier he had been bypassed when it was thought that his aged and ailing father, Gustav, would not be able to stand trial for reasons of ill health.

It was suggested at that time that Allied authorities hesitated to try an industrialist for fear of the precedent it might set in the event of future wars. Even if that cynical reason were the real one, the Krupps would remain a special case.

The Krupp family has been arming German soldiery since Napoleonic times and had a hand in instigating three wars. They have incontestably been a part and parcel of the German militarism which twice has brought Europe and most of the world to the brink of disaster.

If Alfred Speer, the Johnny-come-lately boss of German war production, was judged a fit companion of Goering et al in the first war crimes trial, then by all logic young Krupp has his turn coming—and high time.

A Wise Silence

Secretary of State Byrnes and Senator Vandenberg employed that handy political phrase, "No comment", very wisely, it seems to us, when they were asked to comment on Henry Wallace's charge that "Vandenberg and the military" have been "needing" Byrnes into risking war with Russia.

That is how the former commerce secretary views a bi-partisan foreign policy approved by the President and, it is evident, by the majority of Americans. He offered no facts or specific accusations. It was strictly the personal opinion of Private Citizen Wallace which, as Byrnes said, he has a right to express.

But the charge was one of those "Have you stopped beating your wife?" things which, if answered, might have disrupted this country's united front on foreign policy.

The principals' refusal to comment, however, forestalled any immediate possibility that Private Citizen Wallace could show the world another such damaging and embarrassing diversion as Secretary of Commerce Wallace succeeded in creating with his Madison Square Garden speech.

53-Year Old Check Found At Kansas State College

MANHATTAN—(AP)—While cleaning in the engineering room at Kansas State College, L. C. McManis, the custodian, found an un-cashed $1,000 check, dated Oct. 25, 1893.
 Drawn on the First National Bank of Minneapolis, the 53-year-old check was payable to George E. Bray and signed by H. C. Cutler. Bray, who died in 1917, was an industrial engineer in the K-State Extension Division.
 McManis said the check may have fallen from an old book in the reading room.

Children's Theater Plays Important Part In Community Stage Activities

The Children's Theater is an important part of the activities of Midland Community Theatre, Inc. officials pointed out. There are very few children's theaters outside the metropolitan areas, and Midland is out in front with an organization which makes such a training available to children, officials explained.

The talent necessary for the success of this undertaking is in the children themselves, as has been demonstrated, and the Community Theater has the physical equipment, lighting and scenery necessary to make a project an outstanding successful accomplishment for Midland.

The interest of the children has been stimulated and increased with each workshop session, and with each production. In mid-June, under the direction of Mrs. Gilard Kargl and Mrs. Robert Fitting two groups of the youngsters presented plays.

The first play was given by the group ages 6 to 9, and was the children's own interpretation of a child's story, "The Bremen Town Musicians", in which the following took part: Xonia Kargl, Joseph Hills, Diane Perkins, Alice Hilsweck, Diane Graves, Danny Page, Sammy Fyett, Lillian Faubion, Nancy Forman, David Duffell, Russell Howard, Gilard Kargl, Kim Patton, John Putnam, Dana Bruce Young, Phyllis Clark, Diana David, David Klapproth, Jane Park, Michael Patton, E. Hazen Woods, Jr., James Barron, and Edward Black.

"Black Beauty" Presented

The second play, "Black Beauty", was staged by the group ages 10 to 13. This was a one-act play adapted from Anna Sewell's novel by Grace Barney, and included in its cast: Reed Gilmore, Winona Armontrout, Mary Lou Price, Jean Ferguson, J. Dow Scott, Jr., Maggie Lee Murphy, Patsy Yeager, and Sherry Page. In addition to the cast of "Black Beauty" approximately 25 other youngsters worked on the jobs of staging, lighting, costuming, securing properties, and in the general work of this production.

Junior Work Shop

The members of the Junior Work Shop, ages 13 to 18, have also done much to make such shows as "George Washington Slept Here", "Junior Miss", and the "Get With It" musical outstanding successes, and have presented a complete one-act play, "Happy Journey", as one of the parts of the evening of one-act plays. In "George Washington Slept Here", Jimmy McGraw appeared as the precocious nephew of Annabel Fuller; in "Junior Miss", Edna Willis as "Fluffy", Billie Jean Jones as "Lois", and Mary Katherine Graham as "Judy" made hits with the audiences, and Lew Hoy, Joe Birdwell, Bob Short, Frank Ashby, Jr., and Charles Spivey played outstandingly good roles.

The "Happy Journey" one-act play included in its cast Sara Lew Link, Patsy Bray, Frances Puett, Charles Spivey, Bob Short, and Lew Hoy. The "Get With It" musical included too many of the teen-agers to be named separately, but they provided the sparkle of youth and their enthusiasm for this type of activity was evident to those who saw the production.

Invaluable help in the work of the children's groups has been given by Mrs. E. H. Barron, Mrs. Gilard Kargl, Mrs. Robert Fitting, Mrs. Frank Manning, Mrs. John Hills, Mrs. Addison Young, Mrs. C. A. McAdams, Mrs. Wanda Faubion, Mrs. H. L. Pyeatt, Mrs. W. E. Golladay, Mrs. Leslie Page, and many others.

In the children's workshop classes, in addition to instruction in acting, stage craft, and make-up, there has been much interest in the work on marionettes, which is particularly important because it teaches children to work with their hands and to create things from the ideas in their own minds.

More Emphasis On Children

Art Cole, director, says that this year the Children's Theatre has not accomplished as much as had been hoped for, largely because of the pressure of nine large productions, and also because of the great amount of work which was incidental to the actual organization of Community Theatre. Next year, however, a great deal more emphasis is going to be placed on the work of this group, and, with the background that has been provided and established this year, a better correlated program of work and several plays from this group will be possible.

The 1947 memberships, which are being sold at this time, admit children to the children's theatre

Large Airfreight

FORT WORTH—(AP)—John Drew, one of the nation's leading aviation economists, foresees a potential of 1,200,000,000-ton miles of airfreight for the United States in 1947.

Airfreight thus far has diverted less than two per cent of the potential it can draw from surface transportation, Drew testified at the Civil Aeronautic Board's first national hearing here on the airfreight applications of 13 operators seeking certification as common carriers.

during the rest of the 1946 season, as well as during 1947.

Members may sponsor children other than their own after consulting with the director. The idea of Community Theatre is that no child in the community who really would enjoy and use a membership should be without it. Mrs. Inez Luce, principal of the South Elementary School, has prepared a list of more than twenty children who might be interested. Sponsors will be found, and memberships will be offered to each of these.

In the True Spirit of Thanksgiving

Reunited at last! Heads bowed in prayer of thanksgiving; son and daughter returned from the wars to the warm love of a mother's aching heart—a father's strong, silent yearning—the eager adoration of younger brothers and sisters. Thanksgiving dinner with all its trimmings and not one vacant chair! The world at Peace! Is this not reason enough for heads to be bowed in prayer—prayer of thankfulness for having lived in a land that escaped the ravaging hand of a deadly enemy—a land whose brave sons and daughters fought and died that truth, humanity and righteousness might triumph over deceit, cruelty and treachery—and today whose flag flies victoriously over a vanquished enemy. On this Thanksgiving, above all, there is much for which to be grateful—much for which to thank the Almighty and those of us who are fortunate enough to have our loved ones home, in our joy, let us not forget those less fortunate, whose loved ones will never return—those who gave their lives that the true spirit of Thanksgiving in America might live on forever.

THE STORY: Red and Russ drive west on a trip. They spend a couple of days in Omaha and a pleasant evening. But later, when they get back to their hotel room, Russ suggests they drive on through the night instead of turning in.

XVI
RUSSEL said, his voice deliberately slow and casual to cover up his desperate feeling: "Nothing seems worth living for—I guess that's it. I swear, I'd put a gun to my head and end it all if it wasn't for my old man."

It was then Red set up in his seat. "Russ—you don't mean that. You're kidding." His words were more a plea than a statement.

"Yes, I mean it," Russ said grimly. "I'm tired of it all—sick and tired of it all. Here I am all fouled up. No good to myself. No good to anybody else. It makes me feel that I ought to get out of the way. . . make room for somebody who could get something out of life."

Red was frightened. More frightened than he had ever been. He was up against something far harder to combat than a Messerschmidt. Something so intangible that he hadn't the least idea how to lick it. But he had to try.

"Russ, you're talking nonsense. I don't know anybody who has more to live for than you. You've got money, a job, a future, a grand family. . . He almost said, "And a girl you're in love with." He didn't stop to analyze why he skipped that part.

He went on doggedly. "I'd say you had everything that is worth living for. You ought to be kicked in the pants for talking like this." Russel's laugh was tinny. "Yeah— I mimicked Red's favorite word. "I know. It doesn't make sense does it?"

After a moment, "I suppose I am a weak willie. I read a book once about the man who came out here when gold was first discovered in Colorado. They came across here when this road was an unmarked trail. They ran into blizzards and Indians on the war-path and famine and drought. Seems funny that men could endure all that and keep on going—and here I am griping."

"That's what I mean," Red began feverishly.

Russel laughed again and his voice was more normal now. "Oh, forget it," he said. "I guess I was just blowing off steam."

HE thought about calling the desk and having them send someone out to take a look in the court. At the last minute a glimmer of common sense stopped him. He'd better look around first before he raised an alarm.

He put on a shirt and jerked on his coat. He was at the elevator ringing the bell when the car came up and stopped and Russ got off. Russ was fully dressed. He was lighting a cigaret and he looked surprised when he saw Red.

"Russ—where have you been? You scared the living daylight out of me. . ."

"That infernal noise in the next room woke me up and I couldn't sleep," Russ said. "I went down to the lobby to get some cigarets. And I made a phone call—it occurred to me that the folks back home might like to know where we were."

He finished lighting his cigaret and threw the match away. It wasn't until then that the meaning of Red's agitation struck him.

He looked at Red and a slow and angry color changed his thin white face. "Say, what the devil—" he began angrily, and then cut his own question short. It was obvious what Red had been thinking.

His voice rose. "Let me tell you, Red, I don't need any wet nurse. Get that straight will you?"

Red followed him sheepishly back to their room. Without looking at Russel he took off his clothes and climbed back into bed. He had the feeling that things would never be the same between him and Russel again.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority (Written for NEA Service)

"Anything can happen in a bridge game," writes Madeline Anderson of the Bridge Players' Club from their new quarters in the Hamilton Hotel, Chicago. If you play much rubber bridge, you will appreciate the uproar that today's hand caused at the club.

As soon as the dummy went down, West realized that he could not make the contract, and he criticized his partner for not taking him back to hearts. In fact, he thought that even spades would have been a better contract than the one they were in, not knowing that North held six of them.

Declarer won the opening lead with dummy's ace of diamonds, and for want of a better play, led the ace of spades, which South trumped with the nine of clubs. Declarer overtrumped with the ten-spot, then laid down the ace of clubs followed by a small club.

They finished lighting his cigaret and threw the match away. It wasn't until then that the meaning of Red's agitation struck him.

He looked at Red and a slow and angry color changed his thin white face. "Say, what the devil—" he began angrily, and then cut his own question short. It was obvious what Red had been thinking.

His voice rose. "Let me tell you, Red, I don't need any wet nurse. Get that straight will you?"

Red followed him sheepishly back to their room. Without looking at Russel he took off his clothes and climbed back into bed. He had the feeling that things would never be the same between him and Russel again.

which North won with the king. Then declarer won the balance of the tricks, making six-odd on what looked like an impossible contract.

South said, "You can't blame me for trumping, can you?" But North suddenly noticed that if South had trumped with the jack of clubs, the contract would have been set, and then the lid really did blow off.

West's five-club bid may seem hard to justify, but after East's cue-bid of four diamonds, West wanted to show the ace of clubs for a probable slam bid. When East went to six clubs, West became really confused and passed.

Most birds have four toes, but some have three, and ostriches have only two.

WASHINGTON—(P)—A Texarkana woman got in the Washington newspapers the other afternoon through no desire of her own. She went to mail some letters home, pulled a fire alarm box lever by mistake for a postal box slot handle, and soon found herself facing five fire engines and two police patrol cars. She gave her name as Mrs. Ruby L. Fields, 34, and said she now is living here in Washington.

Cowboys Do Read Papers

WASHINGTON—(P)—Two youngsters of Cub Scout age, collecting newspapers during a scrap drive, made a good haul of Texas dailies when they stepped in the office of Senator Tom Conally.

Said one to the other as they got ready to leave with a bundle they could hardly carry.

"And to think we almost missed this. You said they're probably all cowboys from Texas in there and wouldn't have any newspapers around."

Parliament's Fuss Over Foreign Policy May Become Serious

By HEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The tattle in the British House of Commons between left-wing socialist and the Labor (socialist) government over foreign policy developed highly interesting though, in some respects, dangerous conclusions.

The debate revolved about the rebel motion that the government's foreign policy steer a middle course between the United States and Russia. This was based on the premise that the Soviet Union and the United States were headed for war, and that Britain was bound to become involved in it by hewing to the American line.

R. H. S. Crossman, leader of the revolt, charged that the formation of "a complete and exclusive Anglo-American tie-up as urged by Winston Churchill in his Fulton, Missouri, speech early this year—had been followed by a steady split of the world into American and Russian blocs.

Prime Minister Attlee in replying to the left-wingers said:

"This government does not believe in the formation of groups or opposing groups of the East, West, or Center. We stand for the United Nations."

Answering the "rebel" demand that he repudiate Churchill's Fulton speech Attlee gave this middle-of-the-road reply:

"We are not seeking an exclusive Anglo-American alliance."

Whether the left-wingers were satisfied, the fact remains that the government's foreign policy received a unanimous vote of confidence.

Attlee will find plenty of people in America who agree with his dislike of blocs. Still as world affairs now stand, blocs are necessary evils.

It's natural for the Slavic states to cling together, and the same is true of much of the Western group, especially the English speaking peoples. And, of course, totalitarian Communism and Western democracy are as oil and water to each other.

The trick therefore is to solve the differences between the two blocs. And, as the stage magician says, it's a good trick if we do it, and it's still a good trick if we don't.

Vets Are Taking Over Legal Fronts

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Texas war veterans have come home from the battlefronts to take over the political front in unprecedented numbers.

The surge of service men into national, state, county and city offices this year is in sharp contrast to the comparative indifference shown by the veterans of World War I, a survey of 18 cities reveals.

The survey is far from complete, but possibly gives a true average picture.

It showed that 28 per cent of all elective offices are now held by war veterans in Texas. A far larger percentage hold appointive offices.

Among the 18 cities checked, 102 veterans were elected this year. Of this number, 9 won national posts, 26 state, 55 county and 12 city offices.

The large majority of veterans returned to take over legal positions. Few utilized war training to seek law enforcement jobs. Number one among positions sought and won was that of county attorney—nine veterans were elected to that office in the 18 cities.

Second was county commissioner, or councilman. Seven veterans were elected. Third place was divided by district attorney, district clerk and county tax assessor collector—five veterans were elected to each of these positions.

Back At Him

INDEPENDENCE, MO.—(AP)—A motorist was arrested on a charge of driving backward down the street. He told Patrolmen Paul Lebow that the driver of another car going in the opposite direction had shouted an insult at him. Rather than risk losing the man, he said he began a backward pursuit. He didn't catch the other driver.

A Real Gunman

SAN FRANCISCO.—(AP)—It cost two would-be bandits $5 when they attempted to rob grocer Joseph Williams.

One laid a $5 bill on the counter and asked for a package of cigarets. When Williams punched the cash register, the other made a threatening gesture with a hand in an overcoat pocket and said: "This is a stickup."

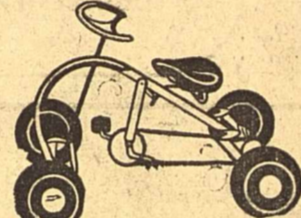

"Start reaching," Williams retorted as he pulled out a gun of his own.

The two fled. Williams fired two vain shots. When the gun-smoke cleared away, he saw the $5 bill and cigarets still on the counter.

Pitchfork, Shovel Have Fallen And Declined From Farms

By LAWRENCE N. ELDRED

CHICAGO —(AP)—Almost lost in news of more world-shaking events during the war years was the decline and fall of the time-honored scoop shovel and pitchfork on American farms.

They're still holding on by grace of shortages in power loading and unloading machinery, but many farm experts are agreed these hand tools soon may be as nearly extinct as the whooping crane.

The earliest written record of scoop shovels appeared in a book on farming published in England in 1844. A farm adviser of the time suggested a wood scoop shovel was a handy thing to have around a grain bin. The scoops later were made of metal for greater durability when use of the tool spread to the United States.

Shovel production last year hit one of the highest levels in history, but wholesale hardware dealers, say that mostly a result of "catching up" with the lower production during the war.

Takes a Lot of Them

In 1943 fewer than 5,000,000 shovels and spades were turned out, but in 1944 this number more than doubled to better than 11,000,000, 640,000, a U. S. census of manufacturers reported.

And last year it went above 11,000,000, a U. S. census of manufacturers reported.

But now as fast as farm machinery can fill the demand, use of the old callous-makers is expected to fall away rapidly.

New machines like the hydraulic tractor-operated grain loader, one-man self-propelled grain combines and hay balers, and hydraulic dump trucks are holding the knell for the scoops and forks.

Mostly the cause of the change is to be found in farm economics, however, rather than in any disinclination for backbreaking work on the part of the nation's farmers.

Shovels Make Bottlenecks
A harvesting rig may cost a farmer $2,500 and a scoop shovel $2.50, but he doesn't see much sense in letting expensive equipment stand idle while he shovels grain by hand.

Nettle does he want the shovel to create a bottleneck in the speedy grain movement made possible by machines.

He applies the same logic to his haying activities.

Another factor is that hired hands who used to do most of the shoveling and pitching are costing more than ever before. Average farm wages bounded from $27.39 a month including board in 1939 to $74.60 last year.

Just as tractors and automobiles pushed out the less economical horse, power equipment is pushing out hired hands and hand tools, the experts say.

Mechanized Farming
So U. S. census figures show, production of pick-up hay balers, sweep rakes, stacker-loaders, harvester-threshers combinations, and farm elevators continued to increase in spite of the war.

For example, sweep rakes went up from 5,244 units manufactured in 1935 to 12,106 in 1944 and 17,699 last year. Combines leaped from 3,872 units produced in 1935 to 44,704 in 1944 and 51,418 last year.

This year's production has not been estimated, but farm advisors contend mechanization will continue as rapidly as machinery makers can settle their labor problems and go into full-scale production.

The number of combines on farms this year is the highest on record, it is estimated.

Some 75 per cent of the nation's wheat acreage last year and 40 per cent of the oats were harvested by combines. Ten years earlier less than half of the wheat and only 15 percent of the oats were harvested in this way.

Natural Lip Line Is Wisest Choice

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Sometimes a girl's attempt to carry lipstick over the lip boundaries, in a heroic effort to make a new mouth for herself, is a mistake. The error is not so much one of faulty as of impracticable design. Self-made outlines turn out to be impracticable because porous or fuzzy skin won't hold them.

If yours won't—the best way to find out is close-seeing in a magnifying mirror—it's better to pass up the alterations and leave your mouth be.

You can, however, always paint on a younger and happier expression by adding a little rouge to the corners of your upper lip. An eighth of an inch of bolting over the boundaries with your lipstick at the corners will do the trick. Because the muscles and fleshy areas of the upper lip conceal all but the effect of adding color, this is really a safe trick to use.

While we're on the subject of lip make-up—a job that deserves all the devotion you're willing to give—don't leave a pale rim around the boundaries of your mouth when you rouge it. This failure to coat the line of demarcation between skin and tissue is usually not detected by other people. The best way to cover the pink rim is with a lipstick brush.

WOUNDED BUCK GETS AWAY FROM HUNTER

GONZALES, TEXAS —(AP)—Some "big ones" get away in hunting, too. Dr. Bryan Denman, Gonzales, shot an eight-point buck near here, but the wounded animal wouldn't stay put. It got up and bounded off when he came up to inspect the kill.

In removing a propeller shaft of an automobile, be sure not to let one end drop, since such a jar could easily cause misalignment.

Subway Wolves In New York Keep Transportation Officials Worried

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)—The subway wolf—that beast in human flesh who pinches pretty girls in crowded cars—is prowling and howling again. He's got the Board of Transportation so worried it is considering putting a "For Women Only" car on each express train during rush hours.

Well, if a one-man poll proves anything, they would still rather ride bunched up with the boys and take their chances.

"We can take care of ourselves," four out of five said. They agreed that a cold stare would stop any nonsense from the average rapid transit Romeo and that in extreme cases a good hard kick with their high-heeled shoes always worked.

"But, of course, you have to be careful who you kick in a crowded car," one said.

The girls who opposed the introduction of "Women Only" cars said it sounded to them too much like a "Jim Crow" solution.

"I don't believe in segregation of the sexes," said one pretty subway co-ed and added frankly: "Those cars would take the fun out of life. It gives us a dash to mingle with men during the day. Who wants to ride with girls all the time?"

Another young lady dismissed the whole proposal with two words: "Oh, Fool!"

People Are The Bother
"It isn't the men who bother you so much—it's just people, too many people in the cars," said a chubby office worker. "I'm more afraid of having my eye poked out by an umbrella in a carfull of women than I am of any subway wolf."

"Some women push and shove harder than the men during rush hours."

But a tall brunette from Nebraska said she'd welcome a sorority car.

"I've been pawed. It happens often here. I never had any trouble like that in Omaha."

A girl from the old South remarked that it was "a considerable and exciting idea for somebody to treat women as ladies again."

However, she thought personally she wouldn't ride in such a car when traveling with her boy friend.

"I might lose him to a blonde in one of the co-educational cars," she said.

About one person in every three families in Rumania was on the government payroll before the war.

Taxi Driver Catches Duck From Cab Window

ALTON, ILL. —(AP)—Taxicab driver "Shorty" Summers says he was driving a passenger along Broadway at 6 o'clock the other morning when he noticed a duck lying alongside the moving cab.

The duck kept shadowing him for about five blocks, Summers said. Then, he related, with one hand on the steering wheel, he reached out and grabbed the duck. A hen in a mallard, he said.

Other ducks in the Mississippi River area were reported behaving normally.

Instead of air being analogous to elastic in resistance to aircraft, designers have found that once a plane reaches supersonic speeds it bores through the atmosphere somewhat like a bullet, and that resistance loses its elastic quality and becomes cheeselike.

Four points must be on the same horizontal plane in design of aircraft for supersonic speeds: center of gravity, center of lift, center of lateral area, and thrust line.

Sludge in automobile engines may be caused by water, soot, carbon, or lead salts developing in the combustion chambers, and not necessarily by inferior oil.
