(NEA Telephoto)

The metal framework of a light plane, its twisted, blackened remains, a grim reminder of a midnight frolic, protrudes from the roof of a Fort Worth residence at 2541 Shirley Street. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Hale, and all its occupants escaped without injury. The plane was piloted by Bobby T. Pirkle, 23, a Pacific-battle veteran, who was enrolled at the Southwestern College of Aeronautics and who was killed in the crash.

Stanotex To Dig Wildcat To Holt In N-C Winkler

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Standard Oil Company of Texas has filed application to drill a wildcat in North-Central Winkler to explore the Holt, middle Permian. The project will be Stanotex No. 26-13 W. E. Baird, 560 feet from south and 1,320 feet from west lines of section 13, block B-3, psi survey. It is an old producer from the Colby sand above total depth of approximately 4,200 feet. It is to start deepening to around 5,100 feet, by the middle of the week.

Northwest Of Kermit
The location is three and one-half miles northeast of Kermit, and it is a considerable distance from nearest producer from the Holt in the Keystone field.

Sun Oil Company No. 1-B McKinley, East Lea County, New Mexico possible discovery from the lower Permian, on the north side of the original Hobbs field, was started in Monday morning to drill out cement in 5-inch casing, to test the open hole to 7,543-7,656 feet, which had shown indications of possible production.

Sun's No. 1 Jameson, Northwest Coke County prospective wildcat producer from the crinoidal section of the Pennsylvanian, had tested casing cemented at 6,225 feet, over total depth of 6,230 feet. The pipe was in satisfactory condition and operator expected to drill the plug and start making production tests within next 24 hours.

Turner Down For Repairs
Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Turner, East Midland County wildcat, 12 miles southeast of Midland, was bottomed at 11,411 feet in Devonian lime and chert, making machinery repairs.

A drillstem test attempted at 11,350-11,400 feet failed. No recovery was reported.

Union Oil Company of California No. 1-F Means, Central Andrews County wildcat, about two miles north of the town of Andrews, tested for seven hours, bailing, for approximately one and one-third barrels of oil per hour. In a subsequent three-hour test it bailed an average of one barrel of oil hourly.

No water was developed. Operator is cementing 7-inch casing at 4,177 feet, and will likely install a pump and complete. Interested observers think the discovery will pump around 30 to 40 barrels of oil per day. It had between 800 feet and 900 feet of oil standing in the hole.

An Ellenburger Completion

Two Freighters Collide, Sink Off Miami Coast

MIAMI, FLA. —(AP)—Two small freighters collided and sank off Miami Monday and the Coast Guard began a sea and air search for about 17 members of the two crews.

First word of the accident came from the Caribbean trader Evangelos, which flashed a distress call a few hours after leaving Miami for Haiti for a cargo of bananas and other island products. The craft reported she was in collision with the freighter Marsidee, from Narrau, and was sinking.

Coast Guard rescue craft sped to the scene in the Straits of Florida about 30 miles south of Miami, but discovered no survivors immediately. Coast Guardsmen said first reports were that the Evangelos carried a crew of 10, and the Marsidee a crew of seven men.

He said "every man who wants to do something for his community should be a member of one of its service clubs. We are over the wartime jitters and now is the time to think of the welfare of our community."

Boles was introduced by Riley Parr, program chairman. John J. Redfern, Jr. reported the 10th Annual Christmas Seal Sale was on in the county. He gave facts and figures of this year's drive and reported the Kiwanis Club was the first contributor.

The Kiwanis Club will sponsor a Boy Scout troop in Midland as recommended by the boys and girls committee.

St. Paul Teachers Form Picket Lines As Strike Closes Schools

MINNEAPOLIS —(AP)—A strike of union teachers closed St. Paul's public schools Monday a few hours after an eleventh-hour offer of higher salaries had averted a similar walkout in Minneapolis.

Picket lines were established at each of St. Paul's 74 grade and high schools. A minimum of two pickets patrolled entrances at the smaller structures, three or more were on the line at the larger ones.

The temperature was at 3 above zero when picketing started. The teachers, bundled in heavy winter clothing, stepped along gingerly. Reliefs were arranged at hourly intervals.

School authorities made no effort to operate the schools as the teachers, representing about 1,000 of the system's 1,465 pedagogues, began picketing in an effort to enforce wage demands for salary increases which would raise the present $1,300 to $2,800 range to a $2,400 annual figure for beginners and a maximum of $5,000 for those having college degrees.

The strikers, members of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT), had an agreement with school engineers whereby schools would be heated to only 40 degrees — just enough to prevent pipes from freezing.

None of the city's 35,000 pupils attempted to cross picket lines. Instead, some of them carried words of encouragement to the teachers. A number living close to schools extended invitations from their parents that the pickets come into their homes for warmth and coffee.

Governor Edward J. Thye, who has expressed the opinion teachers' salaries were too low in view of present economic conditions, called a conference in his office. Invited to attend were representatives of the school board, teachers, state department of education and legislative leaders.

Service Clubs Take Lead In Seal Purchases

Service clubs took the lead in contributions as the 40th annual Christmas seal sale opened in Midland Monday.

The Kiwanis Club's contribution of $20 was the first received. A $25 check with a letter pledging full support in the tuberculosis control program was received from the Midland Lions Club.

Business concerns also were prompt in purchasing seals and in making special contributions. Midland Hardware and Furniture Co., Dunlap's and Midland Drug were among those buying seals to be used on December mail.

Leaders hope that citizens and business firms will use the seals on all letters and packages between now and Christmas.

Full Response Urged
"We hope Midland County citizens will be prompt and generous in the seal campaign," Dr. Homer B. Johnson, president of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association, said Monday.

He pointed out the financial needs of the association for 1947 which exceed any previous year, and said the tuberculosis control work here is financed entirely by the sale of Christmas seals.

Campaign leaders were encouraged by the early receipts, and all expressed confidence the $4,500 goal will be reached before Christmas.

UN Troop Inventory Complicated By New British Proposal
LAKE SUCCESS —(AP)—The big power battle over conflicting proposals for a United Nations troops inventory was complicated further Monday by a British proposal that all troop figures be subject to verification by a UN inspection unit.

The British position was disclosed by Philip J. Noel-Baker, British air minister, shortly after it was learned that the United States delegation had decided to oppose any move to inject an inspection provision into the troop inquiry. Russia also is known to be opposed to such a plan.

Speaking before the 54-nation Political Committee of the General Assembly, Noel-Baker rejected the Soviet proposal as "inadequate" and announced that he was withdrawing the former British proposal to combine the troop inventory plan with the committee's scheduled debate on disarmament, and then proposed:

1. That the inquiry be broadened to include troops at home, as well as those abroad.

2. That the UN set up a unit to verify any information reported on troops by member nations.

UMW Chief Ordered To Appear Wednesday

WASHINGTON —(AP)—John L. Lewis Monday was ordered to stand trial Wednesday on charges of contempt of court in the soft coal strike.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough ordered the trial after ruling that Lewis had not purged himself of contempt charges on which he was cited November 21. Goldsborough overrode objections of counsel for the United Mine Workers and their boss that his court lacked jurisdiction.

While Lewis sat silent in a jammed courtroom, UMW Counsel Welly K. Hopkins argued that Goldsborough lacked jurisdiction both to issue the order requiring Lewis to rescind his no-contract notice to the government which set off the coal shutdown and to issue the contempt citation which followed.

Then Hopkins announced that Lewis and the union had taken no action to comply with the court's order that the no-contract notice be withdrawn and were ready to go to a trial which might result in punishment of the union chief if convicted of contempt.

Hopkins attempted, however, to delay the trial date. He said the union has had no opportunity to read the government's argument. A bulky brief was presented at the state bar session by Assistant Attorney General John F. Sonnett.

Hopkins declared also that some union counsel were out of town and would not be ready. Government Objects To Delay

Sonnett arose abruptly from the government counsel table and told Goldsborough the government would object to any delay in view of the strike emergency. Goldsborough affirmed the Wednesday date and directed both sides to be on hand in the same courtroom.

Contrary to the government's position, Hopkins argued that Lewis' notice of Secretary of Interior Krug "terminating the UMW contract was 'both legal and proper.'" He said also that neither Lewis nor the union had taken any action in compliance with the court's order to withdraw the cancellation notice.

The union also challenges the court's right to order the contempt hearing, Hopkins added, and is preparing to let the case go to trial with an advisory jury.

Before the hearing, a high official told a reporter the government's primary aim is not to punish Lewis by a jail term, but to make a shatterproof showing that the strike of 400,000 of Lewis' United Mine Workers is illegal, and thus persuade them back to the coal pits.

A dimout more drastic than in wartime was ordered into effect in 21 states Monday night, and coal burning railroads slashed passenger service 25 per cent.

All governors were asked by Secretary of the Interior Krug to set up machinery whereby cities could ration coal and close schools, if need be. Mayor William O'Dwyer, reversing an earlier stand, called on New York citizens to suspend needless lighting. But Georgia's Governor Ellis Arnall, in a statement, said light-saving wasn't the answer—Krug and President Truman should "get busy and settle the strike."

Demands continued for a special session of Congress. Former Secretary of the Interior Ickes Sunday night broadcast a call for prompt legislation which would "curb the impudence of a dictator, such as Lewis." He said the government should ask dismissal of its order restraining a coal strike; in other words, abandon the court effort and rely on a special, lame-duck session.

Spain Case Points Up Council Role

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—The recent action of the UN Security Council in dropping from its agenda, or order of business, the case of the Franco Government in Spain, calls attention to a little noted provision in the UN Charter which prevents the General Assembly from making any recommendation with regard to a dispute or situation while the Security Council has the matter under consideration, unless the Council specifically requests advice.

It was due to this provision that the Delegate of Poland, Mr. Oscar Lange, wishing to press for action against the Franco Government in the General Assembly, first requested the Security Council to withdraw the matter from its agenda.

The provision in question is contained in Article 12 of the Charter. The second paragraph of this Article

ARKADY A. SOBOLEV
Mr. Arkady A. Sobolev, Assistant Secretary-General of the United Nations, heads the Department of Security Council Affairs, which assists the Council in dealing with matters affecting international peace and security. He is a former Minister of the Soviet Union.

requires the Secretary-General to notify the General Assembly at each session of any matters relative to the maintenance of international peace and security which are being dealt with by the Security Council and similarly to notify it immediately the Security Council ceases to deal with such matters.

It is evident that it might be undesirable for the Assembly to take up a matter threatening the peace of the world and to recommend a solution on its own so long as the Security Council already has the matter under observation and, possibly, is planning a different course of action. Conflicting action between the two bodies in such a case conceivably might defeat all efforts to solve the problem.

According to the Charter, UN members "confer on the Security Council primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security" and authorize it to act in their behalf. Article 12 avoids an undesirable division of this responsibility—the only limitation imposed upon the General Assembly by the Charter.

Housing Shortage Keeps Army Families From Going Overseas

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army has called a halt to shipping overseas the families of enlisted Army men in the four lowest grades: sergeant, corporal, first class private and private.

Here is an explanation of this move and what it means—the announcement was made November 9—as given by officers at the War Department:

Under a long-standing law all commissioned officers and sergeants of the three top grades—master, staff and technical—are entitled to housing or money to pay for it, even when overseas.

The Army has been sending over to them—when they requested it—their wives and children. It will continue to do so when there's shipping to carry them and houses can be found for them.

But the men in the four lowest grades—sergeant, corporal, first class private and private—don't come under the law. Which means: they're not entitled under law to housing or money to pay for it.

Only An Inducement
But the Army had been sending their families over, too, when they asked for them to be sent. And this is why:

When the war ended and the Army needed men to enlist as regulars—to replace some of the millions of draftees being discharged—it made a recruiting drive.

Many men signing up for two or three years were told—as an inducement to joining—that if they went overseas and wanted their families to join them they would be sent.

But this was a verbal promise to these men in the four lower grades. They are not promised housing under the law as are the commissioned officers and sergeants in the top three grades.

So if the Army finds a reason for not being able to send families overseas—as it says it has now—then it can stop sending families of the men in the four lowest grades.

And this is the reason the Army says it has to stop it:

1. Housing is scarce overseas. And in this country building material—which could be sent overseas to make housing—is scarce.

2. Because of limited funds, the Army doesn't have enough money to equip enough ships for moving the families—even if, there was housing overseas. So there's a backlog of waiting families.

A Courageous Rebuke

Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky heard some plain words spoken about his country's policies by an old and patient friend of the Soviet Union. The speaker was Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and the occasion was a meeting of the UN International Refugee Organization.

Mrs. Roosevelt's words were in reply to Vishinsky's latest insistence on the Russian demand that all displaced persons be returned to the place of their birth. She defended the proposed IRO constitution, which would not force a refugee to go home to changed political conditions which might threaten his safety or his freedom.

Vishinsky had spoken again of Russian "democracy". He had repeated the familiar accusations of "fascism", and had attacked the freedom of speech and press permitted in refugee camps as "hostile propaganda".

To this Mrs. Roosevelt made some pointed answers. "As Vishinsky uses it," she said, "it would seem that democracy is synonymous with Soviet. . . . Under that formula I am very sure he would not accept some of the other nations of the world who consider themselves democracies and who are as willing to die for their beliefs as are the people of the Soviet Union."

Elsewhere in her speech Mrs. Roosevelt gave about as concise a statement of the cause and remedy of Soviet-American differences as has been offered in the whole period of those unfortunate misunderstandings.

"We in the United States tolerate opposition," she said, "provided it does not extend to the point of advocacy of overthrow of the government by force. Unless the right of opposition is conceded, it seems to me that there is very little possibility that countries with differing conceptions of democracy can live together without friction in the same world."

If we could believe that Russia would take advice from an old friend with better grace than from a casual and suspicious acquaintance, then we might dare to hope that Mrs. Roosevelt's counsel would be heeded. But Russia's reaction to advice in the past makes such a hope a very faint one.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Roosevelt accomplished two things. She gave Vishinsky a courteous but pointed reminder that Russia's sweeping generalities and illogical assumptions of a monopoly of political and social virtues are decidedly unpalatable to most of the other countries which are trying to work and live with the Soviet Union.

And, although she may not have intended it, she also gave an answer to those of her countrymen who have repeatedly charged her, unkindly and untruthfully, with Communist sympathies.

Mrs. Roosevelt's speech before the IRO should silence those accusations definitely and finally. She proclaimed a philosophy of free government which is the antithesis of Russian Communism, a philosophy which as a nation we proudly cherish, even though as individuals we sometimes refute it.

Mrs. Roosevelt deserves the thanks of intelligent Americans for the courage as well as the honesty with which she rebuked the Russian government for its consistently unreasonable attitude.

Nazi Job-Hunter

Although his references are highly unflattering, Franz von Papen wants another diplomatic job. "I would be willing," says the foxy old master of Nazi intrigue, "to use my experience in diplomatic affairs to help assure Germany a place as a respectable member of the European family of nations."

A government is also known by the company it keeps. And if von Papen has any real interest in seeing some future German government welcomed into the bosom of the European family, he will betake himself to a secluded spot and allow the German people to forget that they ever hung around with the likes of him.

We are inclined, however, to doubt the sincerity of von Papen's expressed interest. And we should be happy, for the good of all concerned, to see the democratic element of the German people take legal steps to assure him the secularity which he might not seek voluntarily.

Logical Conclusion

Oregon State College is choosing the infant of one of its veteran students instead of the traditional co-ed for campus queen.

We were afraid that the vogue for diaper-cut bathing suits would lead to this.

Store's Publicity Brings Deluge

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
 HAMILTON, TEXAS—(P)—After all folks, a 100-customer store can't supply the nation.

Last week, The Associated Press carried a story which said a country store operated by W. E. Shaffer 10 miles north of here has never been short on anything. Its shelves were bulging with sugar and soap and its meat counter was crowded with T-bone steaks and bacon at 50 cents per pound.

C. Applegate of the Hamilton Herald News Saturday reported results of the story's publication: "Hamilton has become the mecca of the hungry from here to the West Coast. The story has brought a deluge of mail and telegrams to the store and visitors from other cities have been arriving for a week.

Letters From West
 "Many letters were from California, Colorado and other far western states. Postmaster George H. Boynton of Hamilton has received his share of inquiries about the store.

"One from Glenn Daggett of Huntington Park, Calif., who enclosed a blank check.
 "W. E. Shaffer or any other merchant in your vicinity can let his conscience be his guide in filling out the enclosed check if he can come through with a slab or two of the lean bacon that he is bragging about," Daggett said.

"Boynton showed the letter to Clarence Schneider, manager of a Hamilton grocery, and Schneider immediately mailed Daggett a 17-pound slab of bacon.

"Boynton also wrote Daggett, stating: 'I'll admit Texans sometimes brag but Texas always comes through. I am a Democrat and may be hunting a job soon. Can California come through?'"

GOP Alters Plans To End War Powers

WASHINGTON—(P)—Republican plans to sweep away wartime powers of the President and end many government controls appeared Monday to have been altered radically, due in large part to the coal strike.

Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, named by the Senate GOP Steering Committee to recommend action on terminating war controls, told a reporter that if he has his way a careful study will be made before his party decides which regulations it wants to chop off immediately and which it wants to keep awhile.

As an example, Wiley noted that any resolution to declare hostilities at an end would automatically repeal six months later the Smith-Connally Plant Seizure Act under which the government is proceeding in its battle with John L. Lewis.

He said there obviously are other wartime measures that the Republicans will want to keep on the books for a while at least. Wiley said he probably will recommend legislation placing rent controls under state jurisdiction.

by Rene Ryerson Mart

THE STORY: Russ is despondent, tells Red there's nothing worth living for. In Denver, he disappears from their hotel room. Red, fearing suicide, is about to sound an alarm when he returns. Russ becomes angry, tells Red he doesn't need a wet nurse.

XVII
THAT Saturday morning moved tediously for Elise. By 11 she was watching the clock and wishing it was time to quit.

She seemed in the last few weeks to have lost any real interest in her work. It was just a job, now, that had to be done. There was no longer any challenge or zest in it for her.

That was what came of letting men complicate one's life, she thought. They upset things. She had expected, once Red was gone from the laboratory, to settle back into her former routine quite happily. . . but she hadn't.

Mendel called her name and when she looked up he motioned to the phone on his desk. That meant there was a telephone call for her. She went over quickly. Janice Condon wanted her to meet her for lunch and then go shopping. Elise accepted eagerly. At least it would fill up the afternoon.

The two girls ate in the tea room on the fifth floor of the town's biggest department store. They had chicken croquettes and green salad and the tiny tender rolls for which the tea room was locally famous. Models paraded past their table while they ate showing the latest fashions from the store's various departments. Janice regarded a gray suit speculatively.

"I really could use another suit in my trousseau—don't you think I'd look well in gray?"

"Definitely," Elise agreed. "I'll try it on after we finish eating."

For a fleeting moment Elise was conscious of a twinge of very feminine envy. It would be fun to be able to buy anything one liked—just any suit or dress or hat that caught one's fancy. She had noticed a yellow topcoat on her way up to the lunch room that very noon. . . It was the sort of thing she could wear superbly with her dark rich coloring. But it wasn't the sort of thing one bought on an income of $40 a week.

And now the quick thought darted in like the treacherous snake in Eden. "If I was married to Russel, I could buy the yellow coat—I could buy all the clothes I want, just like Janice. . ."

THEY looked at the gray suit after lunch and Janice bought it, and the silly, gorgeous, frivolous hat that the model had worn with it. Then they went to the lingerie department and Janice spent an hour buying fluffy, frothy sheer silk underthings.

Janice was marrying the man her family had expected her to marry, a nice young attorney who was due in a month to be released from the Navy and return to a well-ordered life as Janice Condon's husband and the inheritor of his father's law practice.

Life worked out so perfectly for some people, it seemed. Elise stared unseeing into space. Life could work out nicely for her, too, if she were to marry Russel. Why. . . why had she hesitated? He wanted her so badly; she had nearly broken his heart when she refused him. She knew that.

Perhaps it was utter foolishness to feel that she couldn't marry him because she wasn't wildly in love with him. Perhaps that kind of love didn't come until after marriage anyway. The kind that caused your blood to race and to pound and brought that breathless ecstasy to one's heart. The kind one read about in stories.

All at once it seemed to Elise that she had been a fool, a silly, incomprehensible little fool. She'd confess that to Russel when he came home. Or better still . . .

Impulsively she turned to Janice: "Janice, did Russel leave any forwarding address—do you know where he is?"

JANICE was concentrating on a choice between a flesh pink and an ivory white nightgown. She looked up in surprise at Elise's irrelevant question, a puzzled little frown creasing her white forehead.

"Yes, I know. He called last night—long distance from Denver. He said he and Red were at the Colonial."

Elise caught her lower lip between her even teeth. Why wait until Russel came home? She'd write to him. She'd tell him that she'd changed her mind and that she'd marry him.

She made a dozen starts that evening and tore them up dissatisfied because they read too stilted or too impulsive. The one she finally wrote was short and direct and unaffected. She told him simply that if he still wanted to marry her, she would be happy to become his wife.

She signed the letter, "Yours, Elise," and sealed it and put an air mail stamp on it and caught with a sudden urgency she thought: "I'll mail it now."

There was a mail box on the corner. She caught up a coat and belted it over her pajamas and making very little sound in her soft-soled bedroom slippers she ran down the stairs and out the front door and down the darkened street to the corner.

She opened the letter slot and slipped the letter in and listened to the little metal clang as the slot closed again. Her heart was aglow with a new and precious happiness and a strange peace that she had not known for a long time.

Now everything was settled, she thought, and she ran back to the house and slipped quietly up the stairs and into her bed.

At just about the same time that night Russel Condon, white-faced and disheveled was sending a telegram which was to shatter completely Elise Varney's new-found feeling of peace and security.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
(Written for NEA Service)

Many fine players of the South will participate in the forthcoming national championships tournament at the Hollywood Beach Hotel, Hollywood, Fla., Dec. 8 to 15. Some of them are rubber bridge players and to not favor the light overalls that are made by tournament bridge players.

A rubber bridge you can lose all the points you won for an evening on one bad overall, while in tournament bridge all it can give you is a bottom score on that particular hand.

For a good overall most of the better players want to have a trick and a half or better in high cards, and either a good four-card suit or a five-card suit. Even then a hand will sometimes go wrong, as today's hand did.

Jeff Glick of Miami, one of the hard-working members of the national tournament committee, lost no time in doubling when West made his light overall—and West was able to take only two tricks.

When Glick's opening heart lead held, he continued with the deuce and South won with the jack of hearts. The king of hearts was cashed, Glick discarding a diamond.

Then South shifted to the small trump. Declarer finessed the nine-spot and Glick won with the ten. He led a diamond which West won with the ace, and the nine of diamonds was led, South's king winning. The queen of hearts was led. West ruffed with the three of spades and Glick over-ruffed with the four.

Now three rounds of clubs were cashed, South winning the last one and playing the queen of trumps, which West won—his second and last trick, down 1,400 points.

The point which this hand proves is that light overalls are not profitable in rubber bridge. They may work three or four times, but the one that goes wrong will lose more than the other three or four gained.

GOP May End Community Tax Plan In States

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON—(AP)—An attempt in the next Congress to eliminate the special tax benefits enjoyed by citizens in the community property states is foreseen by Representative Knutson (R-Minn.).

The veteran representative, who will head the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, told a reporter there is little indication now whether the move will succeed.

"I personally am in favor of amending the laws to put all states on an equal basis," he commented in an interview, adding: "The way it works now the residents of the community property states are saved from paying a great deal of taxes which are assessed persons of identical circumstances in the other states."

In Nine States, Hawaii
The community property system, which was handed down through Spanish and French influence on early settlement in this country, is in force in Texas, Louisiana, California, Washington, Idaho, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and the Territory of Hawaii.

A tax official here said he understood Oregon had community property statutes similar to those which Oklahoma had to one time but which had been ruled unacceptable by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Under the community property laws, a husband and wife can divide equally their total family income for tax return purposes. The chief wage earner's salary or income thus is placed in a lowered tax bracket than if filed on one return.

GOP Move Unknown
Knutson declined to venture a guess as to whether the House under Republican leadership would succeed in changing the tax laws to conform with his own personal beliefs. He noted that the present committee chairman, Representative Doughton (D-N. C.) had views which coincided with his own.

Representative Maloney (D-La.), who has joined in previous successful attempts of community property state congressmen to block repeated efforts to change the federal tax law, will not be back in the House next year.

This circumstance, however, will probably be offset by the appointment of a new member to the committee from either Washington or Oregon, who would be expected to take the same position as that held by Maloney, Knutson observed.

To Come Up In April
Proposals to change the tax laws in regard to the community property system probably will come up when a second tax measure of the new Congress is considered along about April, he added.

The Minnesotan said that there may also be an attempt to reduce or eliminate the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance granted those whose incomes are earned on production of oil or other minerals.

The allowance is based on the fact that the reserve under a man's land is being depleted and that it is an irreplaceable natural resource.

He added an off-hand opinion that efforts to change this percentage figure would not succeed, since Republicans generally had always favored the depletion allowance.

VFW To Publish News Magazine

DALLAS—(AP)—Publication of a monthly news magazine for members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Texas will begin February 1 members of the VFW State Department Publications Committee decided in a meeting here Saturday.

Ernie Francis of Abilene, former Abilene and Brownwood newspaperman, was named editor of the publication, the Texas VFW News. Clayte Binyon, managing editor of the Lufkin News, will be associate editor.

Francis said the first issue would be eight pages, tabloid newspaper size, and would be distributed to a 75,000 circulation list. Each member of a Texas VFW post will receive a copy of the magazine without extra charge, Francis said.

The magazine will be edited and published from the VFW State Department headquarters in Austin. It will be printed in San Antonio.

Southwestern And ACC Tie As Texas Conference Winners

By The Associated Press
Except for one meaningless non-league battle, the 1946 Texas Conference football campaign is at an end.

Separate championship trophies will have to be ordered for Abilene Christian and Southwestern, co-champions of the first postwar race.

The Wildcats of Abilene and the Georgetown Pirates each won three games, lost none and tied one. They played a 12-12 tie several weeks ago, then proved themselves to be head and shoulders above other members of the conference by polishing off Howard Payne, Austin College and McMurry with a minimum of difficulty.

A closer check of the records reveals that in conference play, ACC scored 104 points, Southwestern 110. The Wildcats yielded 14 points and Southwestern permitted 19 points.

Southwestern sewed up the title by mauling McMurry, 41-0, last week. Howard Payne was hammered by Hardin-Simmons, 33-0. Austin College tied East Central (Okla) 6-6, and Abilene Christian clinched first place in full season standings by beating Texas A&I, 32-7.

SMU Stomps Baylor

The Southern Methodist Mustangs, playing to a homecoming crowd at Ownby Stadium, Dallas, Texas, ran all over the Baylor Bears to a final score of 35-0. Here, Frank Payne, No. 41, SMU, sneaks through a tight hole for a seven-yard gain in the first quarter. Other players are: No. 26, James Watson, Baylor; No. 70, Baylor, Cecil Massey, holding on to Payne's leg, and No. 75, John Lyday, Baylor, reaching over the tackler.

Thanksgiving Day, Saturday To Close Grid Season

NEW YORK (AP)—With the Rose Bowl filled and several major conference races settled, the college football teams which haven't quite had enough will pick up the loose ends of the 1946 season this week as promoters select the opponents for other post-season games.

The final week of the campaign will divide its grid fare between Thanksgiving Day and Saturday with the Big Four—Army, Notre Dame, Georgia and UCLA—risking their beaten records on the weekend date.

Army, shooting for its third straight season without defeat, plays Navy at Philadelphia. Georgia, which breezed past Chattanooga, 48-27, to run its perfect record to nine wins, will be invaded by Georgia Tech, a team that trampled Furman, 41-7, for its eighth triumph since dropping its opener to Tennessee.

Winner to Sugar Bowl The winner probably will go to the Sugar Bowl and Georgia can clinch a tie for the Southeastern Conference championship.

Tennessee, which squeaked past Kentucky, 7-0, to match Georgia's conference record of four wins and no losses, will be at Vanderbilt. Tennessee already has accepted a bid to the Orange Bowl.

UCLA, which won the Pacific Coast Conference title and the right to be host team in the Rose Bowl by turning back Southern California, 13-6, winds up its regular season against invading Nebraska.

Illinois won the title and qualified to represent the East in the Rose Bowl by whipping Northwestern, 20-0.

Other Big Nine finales last week saw Michigan slaughter Ohio State, 58-6, Indiana defeat Purdue, 34-20, and Minnesota clip Wisconsin, 6-0.

Southern Conference Champions North Carolina, winner of the Southern Conference title with a 22-7 triumph over Duke, closes out its season at Virginia Saturday.

Saturday's schedule in the Southeastern Conference will find Mississippi State, 20-0 winner over Mississippi at Alabama, which dropped a 13-7 decision to Boston College.

Arkansas, at Florida, 37-6 loser to North Carolina State; and Tulane at Louisiana State.

Oklahoma, assured of no worse than a tie for Big Six honors after beating Nebraska, 27-6, winds up at Oklahoma A&M.

Thursday's stop game in the East will send Cornell to Pennsylvania with the Ivy League title depending on the outcome.

Kansas will be at Missouri Thursday to see which can share the Big Six title with Oklahoma. A tie would hand the undisputed championship to the Sooners, who beat Missouri but lost to Kansas.

Southern Conference games on Thursday have Furman at Davidson, William and Mary at Richmond, South Carolina at Wake Forest and Virginia Tech at Virginia Military.

NTS, Lone Star Winner, Will Play In Optimist Bowl

By The Associated Press North Texas State's Eagles, as new champions of the Lone Star Conference, will help inaugurate Houston's Optimist Bowl December 21 against the College of Pacific Tigers of Stockton, Calif.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, 81-year-old coach of the Pacific eleven, accepted the invitation extended by Coach O.C. Mitchell of the Eagles shortly after the Denton team had won the Lone Star crown with a 47-7 win Saturday over East Texas State.

North Texas completed the conference season with a record of four wins against one loss and wound up the season a half game ahead of the East Texas aggregation.

More Bowl Games Texas, which claims to have more bowl games than any other state in the nation, has filled one of them—the Optimist Bowl at Houston where North Texas State, champion of the Lone Star Conference will meet College of the Pacific December 21.

It was indicated by Cotton Bowl officials that an offer would be made this week to Georgia to appear in the Cotton Bowl. Just what teams are being considered for the Oil Bowl was not known but Tulsa and Louisiana State were considered likely prospects.

The Last Word

Sports Bulletin

MIAMI, FLA.—(AP)—Rice Institute of Houston, Texas, will play Tennessee in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day, the Orange Bowl Committee announced Monday.

Southwest Conference To Be Climaxed By Longhorn, Aggie Fame

By The Associated Press Although a conference championship tie is in the offing for Rice and results of the week's schedule will determine the host team in the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl classic, the Southwest Conference's final round of football will reach its climax Thursday with the traditional Thanksgiving Day battle between the Longhorns and the Texas Aggies.

Both Texas and Texas A&M are out of the title running but a victory for either would go far in healing the disappointments that have plagued each school during the 1946 campaign. A crowd of 48,000 is expected to witness the fifty-third meeting of the two teams.

Rice's Owls can move into a tie with Arkansas by downing Baylor, conference cellar dwellers, in a Saturday Houston struggle that should be a breather for the feathered flock.

Arkansas, with a title tie already wrapped up and with Cotton Bowl fever running high, has a tough hurdle in taking on Tulsa's Hurricane Thursday at Tulsa.

The Cotton Bowl selection will hinge on the outcome of the games at Tulsa and Houston. Should Arkansas down the Hurricane, new Missouri Valley champions, it is likely the Porkers will receive the bowl game nod, in view of their 7-0 victory over Rice.

Should Arkansas lose and Rice defeat Baylor, however, the Owls might logically move into a stronger position, despite the Arkansas defeat. In such a case, Rice would complete its regular season with only two defeats while Arkansas would have three.

In the only other game, Texas Christian moves to Dallas Saturday to tackle Southern Methodist in a game that may prove to be the closest of the holiday weekend.

Rice Rolls Over TCU 13-0

High Keeney, Rice back, with the ball, slices over his own right tackle, making the score Rice 7, TCU 0, midway in the third quarter of the game played at Houston, Texas. Other players are: No. 77, Hubart Eoff, TCU; No. 79, Weldon Edwards, TCU; No. 87, Tommy Webb, TCU; No. 14, Charlie Jackson, TCU; No. 71, Dave Bloxom, TCU; and No. 63, Morelle Hicks.

Tech, H-S Clash Saturday For Conference Champ

By The Associated Press When they encounter the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys for the 1946 Border Conference football championship next Saturday, Texas Tech's Red Raiders come up against the most effective attack in the conference.

Unbeaten and untied in nine games this year, five of them within the conference, the Cowboys have scored 281 points, paced mainly by Rudy (Little Doc) Mobley, only 37 yards away from his national collegiate rushing mark set in 1942.

In their conference engagements, the Cowboys have registered 162 points and allowed only 28 points to be scored against them.

The Cowboys also have a strong defense, with the best record in the conference in the scored against column. In their nine games, 42 points have been scored by their opponents.

The Raiders, in three conference victories, have scored 69 points to 14 by their opponents and in their eight wins and two losses for the season have scored 142 to 95.

The Raiders blanked Arizona 16-0 in a conference game at Tucson Saturday to knock the Wildcats into fourth place in the league standing behind New Mexico University, 14-7 victors over Kansas State in an inter-sectional clash Saturday. Kansas State goes to Arizona next Saturday.

Midland Faces Stiff Test Against Broncs In Turkey Day Setto

By TANNER LAINE The Midland High School Bulldogs will be hunting an upset victory over the Odessa Bronchos Thanksgiving Day and not many of the capacity crowd of fans will be thinking they can get it, but—

Stranger things have happened on football grass. We don't say this will be and we don't say this won't.

We only say it could. Well, anyway TCU beat Texas.

No game in the history of football ever had a more perfect setup for an upset. Coming to town will be the undefeated, untied, unextended, Odessa Bronchos to go against the luckless Midland Bulldogs. If the Bulldogs played as they did against Abilene. There's that if.

The Bulldogs go into drills for the Turkey Day attraction Monday.

Because Odessa is a state contender the game will be eyed by thousands and interest all over Texas will be focused Midland way for the day.

Points have been given to Midland, ranging from 35 to 51, by argument Broncho followers. The Bulldogs accept the battle as a mighty hard one but disbelieve any such thing as 51 points.

Rice May Give Up Cotton Bowl Bid For Another Bowl

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF DALLAS (AP)—Rice Institute may announce Monday that it has accepted an invitation to play in the Orange Bowl provided the Southwest Conference grants permission.

That Rice has offered to withdraw from consideration as Cotton Bowl host team if given the conference's blessing to appear in another bowl game was verified Sunday night by Dr. Gayle Scott, president of the conference although there was no comment from Rice officials.

Dr. Scott did not say Rice had informed him it wanted to play the Orange Bowl. "It was just some other bowl; I do not know which bowl," Dr. Scott said.

If Rice, winner of seven games while losing two this season, plays at Miami it will oppose Tennessee, which Sunday accepted an invitation to play in the Orange Bowl.
