

Sun Wildcat In Coke Kicked-Off; Flowed Some Oil

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Sun Oil Company No. 1 Jameson, Northwest Coke County wildcat, about 19 miles northwest of Robert Lee, kicked off at 7:30 a. m. Thursday and was flowing at the rate of 10 barrels per hour—mostly oil—at last report. Operator was allowing it to continue flowing to cleanout and test. No acid had been injected so far.

The project swabbed most of Wednesday. Recovery up to Wednesday noon was drilling water, drilling mud and some oil. At that time it had swabbed down to 2,000 feet from surface. It then began to head out water, mud and oil.

Started Wednesday
The swab was pulled once each hour from 12 noon to 2:30 p. m. At that time the wildcat started flowing a steady stream of fluid—75 per cent oil and 25 per cent drilling water.

Operator immediately shut in it in order to allow installing of a choke valve. When the choke was put on and opened the tubing made slugs of drilling water.

Swabbing was resumed and continued until darkness Wednesday. Operations were suspended until Thursday morning the well had casing pressure of 825 pounds and tubing pressure of 800 pounds. The choke was a quarter-inch. At 8 a. m. with the tubing flowing oil, slightly cut with drilling water, flowing tubing pressure was 100 pounds and casing pressure was 800 pounds.

Still Not Cleaned
Operator reports that the project is not yet fully cleaned of drilling water and drilling mud. It is expected that more of that fluid will be recovered in the next few days—along with some oil.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-E R. B. Cowden, South Andrews County stepout from the discovery for Ellenburger production in the Andector field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 12, block 45, TP survey, T-2-N, was bottomed at 8,662 feet, apparently in Ellenburger lime, and was to run 5 1/2-inch casing.

A drillstem test was taken at 8,639-62 feet, for 50 minutes. Gas showed at surface in 18 minutes. Recovery when the drill pipe was broken down, was 365 feet of oil cut drilling mud and 135 feet of free oil.

Humble No. 1-D R. B. Cowden, another Andector flanker, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 2, block 45, TP survey, T-2-N, was bottomed at 8,865 feet, in an unidentified lime, and was preparing to run a drillstem test.

Sawyer Is Testing
Humble No. 1-C Sawyer, East-Central Reagan County wildcat, 10 miles northeast of Big Lake and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 130, block 1, TP survey, was on total depth of 9,909 feet, in a lime on which the age had not been reported, and was underdood to be in process of taking a drillstem test.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E-A University-Fogelson, 680 feet from west and 662 feet from north lines of section 7, block 35, University survey, Southwest Reagan County prospector to 9,000 feet, or Ellenburger, was making hole below 6,999 feet in Devonian lime.

Top Of Devonian Reported
That formation was entered at 6,970 feet, according to unofficial sources. Elevation is 2,834 feet. According to some geologists that gives it datum of minus 4,136 feet.

A drillstem test was taken at 6,950-30 feet, open one hour. There was a slight flow of air for ten minutes. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil or gas reported.

Sun No. 2-A Wheeler, northeast stepout from production in the Wheeler field in East Winkler County, and 660 feet from south and 1,970 feet from east lines of section 7, block B-7, ps1 survey, ran a two-hour and three-minute drillstem test in the Devonian at 8,513-8,615 feet.

There was a blow of gas after 14 minutes which gradually diminished, to near nothing by the end of the period. Recovery was 3,250 feet of clean oil and 550 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud. Flowing bottom hole pressure was 700 pounds. In a 15-minute shut-in the pressure built up to 2,000 pounds. The exploration is to drill ahead to test the Ellenburger.

Will Re-Treat
Sun No. 1-B McKinley, East Lea County wildcat, testing the lower Permian in the area between Lovington and Hobbs, and on the north side of the original Hobbs field, swabbed 16.56 barrels of oil in five

Lewis Faces New Charges Under Smith-Connally Act; Union Fined $3,500,000

WASHINGTON—(AP)—John L. Lewis grimly carried the crushing coal strike into its third week Thursday despite $3,510,000 in fines, prospect of a new contempt citation and the threat of the Smith-Connally Act.

From every outward indication, the bushy-browed miners leader was determined to take jail, or what may come, rather than yield to a court order he contends is illegal and withdraw his termination of the UMW's contract with the government.

With this grim deadlock confronting the country, a group of railway unions issued a plea that Lewis and the government both call the whole thing off and let a Presidential commission settle all issues.

The Railway Labor Executives Association, representing most of the rail unions, proposed:

"1. The decision of the District Federal Court be held in abeyance;

"2. The miners agree to return to work immediately;

"3. The President appoint a disinterested commission to promptly inquire into the complaints of the miners regarding hours of work, wages and working conditions and report its recommendations in 30 days from date of appointment, and the same shall become effective as of the date the miners return to work;

"4. That all parties agree to accept the recommendations of the commission; and

"5. That the pending court proceeding be vacated and dismissed."

No Comment
The association's proposal was regarded in some quarters as a possible peace feeler inspired by the United Mine Workers' own AFL. Several of the rail unions are affiliated with the AFL.

There was no immediate comment from government officials or from the UMW.

Attorneys for the mine workers and for the government pressed plans to get an early Supreme Court ruling on the contempt of court conviction under which Federal District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough fined the UMW $3,500,000 and Lewis $10,000 personally.

The Justice Department hoped to steer the Lewis-UMW appeal directly into the highest court, by passing the in-between circuit court of appeal. The high court could conceivably announce Monday whether it will take the case without waiting for an appeals court ruling.

Break Of Deadlock In France Is In Need Of Some Concessions

PARIS—(AP)—France's week-long governmental crisis was completely deadlocked Thursday with the current position of rival parties making formation of a new government impossible until there is a concession in some quarter.

Former Premier Leon Blum's Socialists forced the crisis into an impasse Wednesday night by voting 2,242 to 2,145, with 55 abstentions, not to enter any cabinet that excluded Communists.

The only ways out of the growingly serious situation appeared to be:

1. Mutual concessions by Communists, Socialists and the MRP (Popular Republican Movement) of former Interim President Georges Bidault which would result in electing an MRP premier.

2. A rescue move by the Radical Socialists in persuading 74-year-old Edouard Herriot, like Blum a prewar premier, to serve as a compromise candidate.

Grand Champions Are Under Auction At Chicago Stock Show

CHICAGO—(AP)—Shorn of their royal colors, grand champions of the North American Continent, steer, hog and lamb, were led into the auction rings Thursday at the Forty-Seventh International Livestock Exposition.

Grand champion steer of the exposition, "Royal Jupiter," shown by Oklahoma A&M College, Stillwater, Okla., led the parade of farmland's finest. The first Shorthorn steer to take the grand championship since 1937, "Royal Jupiter," was expected to draw some fancy bidding.

Behind "Royal Jupiter" came "Wyoming Challenger Standard," the reserve grand champion, a medium, heavyweight Shorthorn shown by the University of Wyoming, Laramie, Wyo.

Also scheduled to be sold was Furde University's grand champion barrow, a lightweight Hampshire, and the reserve champion, a heavyweight Chester White, shown by Portage Farms, Woodville, Ohio.

Next in line to fall under the auctioneer's hammer was the grand champion wether of the show, a 110-pound Southdown, shown by Wayne Disch, 16, of Evansville, Wis.

Sales of the grand and reserve champion steers of the Junior Feeding Contest was scheduled for Friday.

Veterans Contact Officer Visits City
Clifford V. Hunter of Odessa area contact representative for the Veterans Administration, conferred with Midlanders Thursday at the veterans office in the Midland County Courthouse.

He advised veterans in the city to contact Merritt F. Hines, Midland County officer, if federal payments for on-the-job-training fall behind as much as two months.

Parking Meter Salesman Finds Out How They Work

PORTLAND, ME.—(AP)—A. L. Somers, who sold Portland's recently-installed parking meters, called on City Manager Lyman S. Moore Wednesday to find out how they were working out.

He spent nearly an hour listening to Moore laud the meters, but he didn't get the whole story until he left.

On his car, beside a "time expired" meter, was a police traffic ticket.

Santa Will Visit Midland Friends Friday Afternoon

Santa Claus will be the honor guest and principal figure in a big parade through the downtown streets of Midland at 4:30 p. m. Friday, and every youngster of Midland and the Permian Basin area is invited and urged to be present to see and visit with the beloved visitor from the North Pole.

Santa Claus will arrive in Midland shortly before parade time on an annual pre-Christmas Eve visit to see what the children of this city and section want for Christmas. He was invited to visit Midland by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which organized a handling parade arrangements. Graham Smoot is parade chairman.

Churches, business firms and organizations have been invited to participate in the parade which will be headed by the Midland high school band. Those who will be in the procession are urged to be in the 500 block of West Missouri Street not later than 4 p. m.

At least three churches will enter the parade. The Boy Scouts and other groups also will be represented, as will a number of car dealers and other business firms. Smoot said it is not necessary to register in advance to be in the parade.

Santa Claus said he will bring candy to distribute to all children along the line of march.

He urged all children and their parents to see the parade and to visit with him while here. He will start his return trip to the North Pole shortly after the parade. The jolly old gentleman is traveling by airplane.

Christmas street lights will be turned on in the downtown section at dusk Friday.

The parade is the initial activity in the Jaycee Christmas program. The parade will move through the business district along the same route as last year. It will form in the 500 block of West Missouri Street, move down Missouri Street to Main Street, turn left and go on Main Street two blocks to West Texas Street, turn left and West and moves up West Texas Street one block on Loraine Street into Wall Street and then one block West on Wall Street to the front of the Courthouse, where it will disperse.

Atomic Issue Action Is Expected Soon By UN Delegates

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Bernard M. Baruch, elated over Soviet Russia's clearly enunciated stand that the veto must not hinder inspection and control organizations watching over world arms limitation, was expected Thursday to urge swift and positive action toward curbing atomic energy for peaceful uses.

Baruch, the United States delegate on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, was said authoritatively to have prepared a statement and some resolutions for presentation at an important policy-charting meeting of the commission.

Just what he will propose has been closely guarded by the delegation but observers pointed out that the United States wants action on the atomic question.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman has decided to make a nationwide speech within a few days in which he will appeal to the soft coal miners to return to work.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—John D. Small, Civilian Production Administrator, has resigned, effective Friday.

LONDON—(AP)—The British Government was unable Thursday to break the Hindu-Moslem deadlock over Indian independence, and informed sources said one of the first effects may be prolongation of Britain's stay in India.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes disclosed Thursday that he had requested France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg to return a total of 674,000 German war prisoners to Germany as soon as possible.

Ranch Murder Trial Expected To Go To Jury Late Thursday

Final argument and pleas to the jury by the state and defense in the Earl Hamilton Williams case were scheduled Thursday afternoon in 70th District Court here and the charge to the jury was being prepared. The jury was expected to receive this late Thursday afternoon.

Williams is charged with murder in connection with the death of his wife, Beulah Williams, in a Glasscock County ranch house, July 6, 1946.

Both the state and defense have rested in the case but the state indicated one more witness might be brought into the court.

Bilbo To Take Stand At Senate Hearing Of Election Review

JACKSON, MISS.—(AP)—Senator Theo G. Bilbo of Mississippi, never an inhibited speaker, is due to have his say Thursday—if he wants it—on allegations that his campaign speeches led to violence and intimidation of would-be negro voters in his state.

But the senator, nimble-tongued as ever despite a slight speech impediment caused by a mouth operation, has consistently parried questions whether he himself will take the stand in the hearing being conducted by a Senate investigating committee.

Senator Ellender (D-La.), committee chairman, announced the group expected to exhaust its list of witnesses Thursday, and would immediately turn the proceedings over to the Mississippi senator, whose aides have declared they need only a few hours to present his case.

In the swift-paced hearing which began Monday, more than 50 witnesses have testified. Highlights of the evidence:

Testimony that several negroes were beaten, struck or taken to jail on disturbance charges in Democratic primary election day incidents.

One circuit clerk's statement that he "made it a little harder" for negroes to register.

Countries Bordering Greece Charged With Supporting Uprising

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—Greece charged Thursday that "the whole guerrilla movement against Greece is receiving substantial support from the countries adjacent to Greece's northern boundaries, and particularly from Yugoslavia."

In a 35-page document filed with the United Nations Security Council and made public Thursday, the Greek government also linked Albania and Bulgaria directly to the disorders along the frontier and called on the UN to order an "outright" investigation.

The complaint charged specifically that:

1. Groups of men "are being trained and organized in foreign territory" and "are then sent into Greece, together with consignments of war material";

2. Armed bands or isolated members of such bands "are crossing the boundary lines in both directions" under the protection and guidance of the frontier authorities of the neighboring countries";

3. Greek fugitives from justice and "anarchists are being received and cared for in foreign territory, and are being incited by propaganda to carry on subversive activities in Greece."

Wilson Wyatt Quits As Housing Chief

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Wilson W. Wyatt bowed out as federal housing expediter Thursday, choosing to resign rather than go along with a White House policy of relaxing controls over the building industry "as rapidly as possible."

The resignation of the youthful former mayor of Louisville was accepted "reluctantly" Wednesday evening by President Truman. Its announcement meant the President had ruled against Wyatt's contention that the Veterans Housing program must be pressed on an "all-out emergency basis."

Wyatt, questioned by reporters, declined any statement except to say that his position "should be obvious" and that he planned to leave Washington at once.

Return To Work Order Given By Agents Of Union At Meeting

OAKLAND, CALIF.—(AP)—The city of Oakland and AFL leaders Thursday reached an agreement to end a general strike which has strangled commerce in East Bay cities for two days.

Oakland City Manager John F. Hassler said a return to work order would be given to all union business agents at a meeting Thursday.

Midland County Included In Big REA Allotment

Congressman R. E. Thomson Thursday advised The Reporter-Telegram that the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington has made an allotment of $290,000 for extension of electric service in several West Texas counties including Midland.

O. B. Bryan of Stanton, manager of the Caprock Rural Electric Cooperative which serves a number of counties in this area, said he had been informed that the new allotment provides for 25 miles of new REA lines in Midland County.

50 Miles Approved
The county now has approximately 50 miles of new lines which are yet to be built, Bryan said. Some construction work now is underway in the north and south parts of the county. When completed, the project will cover practically all rural homes in Midland County, he said.

The new allotment provides for 15 miles of lines in Glasscock County and 50 miles in Martin County. Other counties included are: Dawson, 15 miles; Howard, 86 miles; Andrews, 5 miles, and Borden, 5 miles.

Strikes Began Tuesday
The general strike began Tuesday after escorts of Berkeley and Oakland police conveyed 12 truckloads of merchandise into the two stores, through picket lines, on Sunday morning.

In a statement, the Strike Strategy Committee said its action hinged on these conditions:

"That the city government of Oakland officially state that they will not in the future use the police department as escort to guard professional strike breakers in and out of the city of Oakland for the purpose of breaking legal strikes; that they refrain from taking sides in any issue between labor and management and that they strictly confine themselves to their duties as prescribed by law."

Hassler, who was named city manager after the strike began, said he had given the strategy committee assurances covering the unions' demands "consistent with the laws of our land, as far as city government is concerned."

There was little or no violence, as both parties to the conflict counseled against outbreaks.

Two Persons Are Killed, Five Injured In Gas Explosion At Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—A tremendous explosion at a gas company, the sound of which carried 30 miles, killed at least two persons and injured five here at 7:32 a. m. Thursday.

Fire Chief John G. Carlisle said firemen and policemen were combing debris over a quarter-mile area for several persons reported missing after the blast destroyed the Hydro Gas Fuel Company in a light industrial section west of the city.

Three hours after the explosion firemen were battling flames spurring from broken safety valves of two 12,000-gallon gas tanks at the scene. Hoses sprayed the tanks with water, cooling them in an effort to forestall further explosions.

One of the dead was identified as the Rev. E. E. Lewis, pastor of the First Pentecostal Church of Corpus Christi who was employed at a cleaning plant near the gas company.

The unexplained blast rocked the whole of this densely populated port city. Windows were broken two miles away. At a distance of three miles the blast was a sharp report, described as "like a shotgun going off at close range."

Both men killed were reported as employees of the neighboring cleaning establishment.

Welding shops, brick plants, a mattress manufacturing company and similar light industries dot the explosion scene.

Stan Bell, district manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said two communication lines were blown out, severing 65 telephone circuits.

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—San Francisco and Philadelphia emerged Thursday as the leading contenders in the battle over a permanent home for the United Nations, with the West Coast city having an early edge on the basis of opening speeches in the 54-Nation Headquarters Committee.

Russia already has declared herself outside the committee, for the New York area, which Wednesday also drew the support of Yugoslavia.

Dr. H. A. Ireland Is Rotary Speaker
"What Do You See?" was the subject of an address by Dr. H. A. Ireland, president of the Midland Kiwanis Club, at the luncheon of the Midland Rotary Club in Hotel Scharbauer Thursday noon. He was introduced by Joe Erickson, program chairman.
"The answer to the question depends upon a person's training, vocation, experience and interest," the speaker said. Dr. Ireland placed the accent on each word of the question in dividing his remarks into four parts.
Placing the emphasis on the last word of the question, "What Do You See?", Dr. Ireland added the words "In Midland?"
He said he moved to Midland almost a year ago, and that he likes this city very much. He reviewed a number of things which he likes about Midland.

Living Costs Lower
"Contrary to the general belief, living costs in Midland are no higher, and in many instances are lower, than in other cities of the state and nation," he said.
"Taxes in Midland are much lower than in the city where I lived before coming to Midland. Cost of the current paving program, too, is considerably lower than in other cities."

He said the friendliness of the people is one of Midland's greatest assets.
He discussed Midland's school system and said tax money spent on schools is money well spent.

To Meet With JayCees
He urged full cooperation between the Chamber of Commerce and all civic and service clubs, and said the growth of the city is dependent upon such cooperation.

President Dick Prather announced the club had accepted the invitation of Midland JayCees to attend the all-civic luncheon December 13. The regular Thursday meeting will not be held next week. Members present voted to continue publication of the club's weekly bulletin.

Carl Wevat was asked to arrange a meeting place for luncheons the latter part of this month.

UN Works For World, But It's Not World Of Its Own

Man in the middle is Ashton B. Jones, an Atlanta, Ga., minister who was arrested after staging a demonstration outside a New York hotel where UN delegates were lunching. Even if it had happened at UN headquarters, this dissenter would have been turned over to civil authorities, for UN has no special sovereignty.

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent
LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. —(NEA)— The United Nations is not a world of its own on U. S. soil.

Its personnel have no special rights or privileges other than the normal diplomatic immunity extended to ambassadors accredited to the UN.

That is the answer of the UN's legal staff to questions raised over the establishment of the new world capital in this country. And it is emphasized in a couple of minor traffic cases involving UN personnel who fared no better or no worse in police courts than any other motorist.

One of these was a Russian chauffeur for the Russian delegation, who got an American-style ticket for speeding in Glen Cove, N. Y., where many of the Soviet personnel live on an estate. Glen Cove residents, who had been complaining about the Russian style of driving, expected a plea of diplomatic immunity. But the chauffeur diplomatically entered a plea of guilty and paid a $5 fine.

The other was the American driver for UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie, who was handed a ticket for speeding on a parkway while taking Lie to a dinner. The driver's plea of diplomatic immunity was denied by a city judge in New Rochelle, so he changed it to not guilty.

Even Lie himself does not have the immunity enjoyed by top diplomatic figures. But a bill waiting for the new Congress will, if adopted, extend to him and his top aides the same courtesies given ambassadors or ministers simplifying their entry through immigration, eliminating customs inspections, and generally exempting them from restrictions placed on ordinary people.

The lesser ranking members of UN's extensive population do not get any such break. They benefit from the provisions of a federal law adopted last December, which protects such personnel from legal processes while engaged in official duties. Aside from that, they are subject to the same civil and criminal laws as anyone else.

They do not have to pay income tax; the UN pays it for them, and is seeking to have UN salaries declared tax-exempt.

Nor does the UN possess any special sovereignty over the buildings it occupies and the high-fenced, well-guarded grounds that surround them. When a visitor to the UN headquarters became unruly the other day, Security Officers turned him over to New York City police.

The status of the permanent home to be established later by the UN will be controlled by a convention proposed by the General Assembly and to be ratified by Congress.
This will formalize the rights, privileges, immunities and responsibilities of the organization as a property-owning guest of the United States, the states of New York and Connecticut (if the now-favored site is used) and the local communities concerned.
It will not set up an extra-territorial island. It will provide that federal, state and local laws shall apply. If a couple of hot-heads were to go out back of the Assembly Building and duel to the death at dawn, the winner would be turned over to New York (or Connecticut) police for trial in state courts under state laws, and for execution or imprisonment by the state if convicted.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A WORLD WITHOUT WAR!

Throughout history man has looked upon this world as his own possession. When the peoples of any one country became prosperous, ultimately they were attacked by neighbor nations.

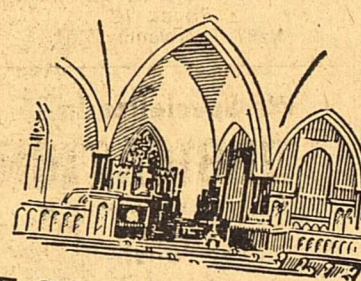

Ancient and medieval history records many acts of aggressor nations. In modern times great powers have conquered and ravaged neighbor states in their attempt at world dominance.

There have been many apostles of peace, but in every generation the advocates of rule through force of arms have dominated. War with all of its injustices and horrors, has been the ultimate arbiter.

Even today, the great nations are spending more in preparation for war than in any previous peace-time period—although it is generally conceded another war would blot out our civilization.

But there is a concept of living that could and would eliminate war, and hatred, and injustice, and selfishness. It is the doctrine of peace, and love, and tolerance, and brotherhood as taught by Jesus Christ.

Faith in God and the practical application of Christian living by individuals and nations is the one hope for world peace and individual success and happiness.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Artlovers View Painting Replica Banned By Hitler

AUGSBURG, GERMANY—(P)—Hundreds of American and German art lovers jammed a tiny store in Augsburg, attracted by a life-sized replica of a painting personally ordered by Adolf Hitler in 1943 for its alleged obscenity.

The art lovers went to dealer Max Duschl's small art shop to bid for the recently uncovered replica of the Nazi painting "Leda With the Swan", the original of which was the work of one of Hitler's favorite artists, Max M. Padua, of Munich.

Duschl said the replica was copied in adobe from Padua's original by a young Augsburg painter and was found a few weeks ago in a private Augsburg art collection. Padua's original depicted a re-haired woman lying prostrate on a wide bed in an intimate posture with a swan.

When the original canvas was exhibited at a Nazi art show in 1943 it caused such a stir of indignation that Hitler himself ordered its removal from the exhibit. Press photographers at the time were forbidden to take pictures of the canvas.

The public storm died after the painting disappeared and, according to Duschl, was destroyed by Nazi edict.

Duschl said, however, that Friedrich Schuller, a painter of the Augsburg Maximilian Art Museum, took a snapshot of the canvas at the exhibition, despite the strict ban, and began a copy.

Schuller died late in 1943 at the age of 35, a few months after completing the replica of Padua's work.

Duschl said the model for "Leda" was reported among art dealers to be the wife of a high Nazi leader.

FBI Law Enforcement Conference In Pecos

The next FBI law enforcement conference for West Texas will be held in the Reeves County courthouse in Pecos Thursday, December 12, it has been announced by R. C. Suran, special agent in charge of the El Paso office of the FBI.

All West Texas peace officers are invited to attend the conference which will start at 2 p. m. A barbecue will be held following the meeting.

A discussion of "Frauds and Rackets" by Special Agent Suran will highlight the conference. Sheriff Buck Jackson of Pecos will give the address of welcome.

Special Agent Hugh J. Pharies of El Paso will present a lecture and demonstration of foreign guns used in World War II.

Subject is Pertinent. Sponsors said the address on "Frauds and Rackets" is especially pertinent due to the rapidly rising crime rate throughout the country, and because of the many instances in which citizens have been victimized by unscrupulous racketeers.

Suran said the conference is one of a series being sponsored by the FBI for the purpose of studying the problems of law enforcement with local officers. He said these meetings have done much to insure wholehearted cooperation among members of federal, state and local law enforcement agencies.

Several Midland peace officers will attend the Pecos meeting.

ANYWAY, NOW HE KNOWS THE NUMBER OF CARS
Traffic is heavy on one of Midland's streets.

A Midland man noticed this as he was waiting for his bus and for war, of something better to do, began to count them.

In five minutes' time he counted 170 autos, trucks, motorcycles and buses—then he woke with a start.

You guessed it, one of the buses was the one he's been waiting for.

Durocher Mixed Up In Domestic Dispute

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Leo Durocher, center of uncounted baseball tiffs, found himself mixed up in a domestic dispute Thursday, charged with wrecking the home of Laraine Day, beautiful film actress, and her husband, airport executive James Ray Hendricks.

Hendricks, in an answer to his wife's divorce suit, Wednesday charged the fiery Brooklyn Dodgers' pilot "clandestinely pursued the love" of the actress while "posing as a family friend".

The petition recited that, after a series of meetings here, aboard a plane and in Chicago, Durocher and Miss Day told Hendricks they were in love, and the baseball pilot added he wanted to marry her.

West Texas Cafe Men Meet In San Angelo

The bi-monthly meeting of the West Texas Restaurant Association was held in San Angelo Wednesday, with representatives from 12 West Texas cities in attendance.

Armo Spears represented Midland at the session. Other cities represented were Colorado City, Lubbock, Odessa, San Angelo, Pecos, Brownfield, Big Spring, Lamesa, Monahans, El Paso and San Angelo.

The West Texas association was organized at a meeting held in Midland in October. A. A. Jones of Midland is a director.

The next meeting will be held in Pecos in February.

John K. Toman of Lubbock, president of the West Texas group, presided at the San Angelo meeting. Speakers included Arthur Cory, director of training for the state association; Dr. Gray of San Angelo; and C. W. Horan, For. Worth; C. V. Carson, San Marcos; Fred Lesser, Austin, and L. M. Parker, San Antonio, directors of the State Restaurant Association of Texas.

Access Will Not Give Up Career For Marriage

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—The marriage of young actress Nancy Guild and movie producer Ed Lasker, set for Saturday, is definitely off, says Nancy.

"He wanted me to give up my career," she complained. "I won't. And that's that."

Lasker is the son of Albert Lasker, retired advertising executive.

Blind, Handless, Evicted, He Finds Town Has Heart

CWENSBORO, KY.—(AP)—The housing problem of a blind and handless Owensboro man has been solved by the generosity of his fellow townsmen.

Seymore Griffith, 41, is a familiar sight on Owensboro streets, where he has been selling pencils for five years.

Griffith lost his left arm in a saw mill mishap on Aug. 9, 1923. An explosion of 60 dynamite caps took his right arm and sight of both eyes Dec. 17, 1927, four months after he married.

Since then, Griffith has reared a family of five children. Two daughters, Edith Marie, 16, and Margie, 13, now add to the family income by operating a popcorn stand.

But trouble mounted last June when Griffith received notice of eviction from his rented home to make way for a purchaser who wanted to live there.

The Rev. Ada McGehee, pastor of the Church of God, came forward with a suggestion that if Griffith could buy a lot, funds to build a house might be raised through popular subscription.

Griffith found he could spend $335, with which he purchased a lot. Then, in answer to the clergyman's appeals, various manufacturing concerns, lumber yards, church groups, business and professional men made donations. Most contributions were anonymous.

Now, Griffith's four-room dwelling has been completed and an open house was held in celebration of the family's occupancy.

John Winthrop led the first group of settlers to Boston in 1630.

Baseball Heads Of Major League Open Los Angeles Meeting
LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Major league baseball executives swung into session Thursday as rumor circles still buzzed over outgoing President W. G. Bramhan's parting blast at gambling in the national pastime.

Both American and National League representatives opened confabs expected to cover such matters as 1947 playing schedules, possible action to curb player raids by the Mexican League, a players' pension plan, and the major-minor league agreement.

The smaller leagues grouped in the National Baseball Association prepared to elect a successor to Bramhan, whose final report Wednesday struck savagely at "the general decadence in baseball."

George Trautman, vice president of the Detroit Tigers and former American Association head, reputedly held the inside track for the minor czar post, but support was seen growing for President Billy Evans of the Southern Association.

Imaginative Tricks Make Yule Greens More Festive

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK —(NEA)— Add an invisible spray of imagination to the evergreens that you use to decorate your home this Christmas season, and see how much more festive and heart-warming the effects will be.

Taking you behind the scenes of her swank shop, Judith Garden, topflight New York stylist, shows you tricks that florists use to glorify greenery. Miss Garden wires leaves and paints 'em gold, uses water-proof ribbon on sprays that hang outside of doors, trims trees with flowers, makes snowy little fir trees out of pipe-stem cleaners, and has one sure-fire but simple-to-do trick up her sleeve for glorifying the mistletoe.

All set to listen to and profit from her helpful hints? To turn good old mistletoe, for instance, into a modern courting device, she suggests making a "kissing ring" out of two ribbon-wrapped embroidery hoops of the same size. She uses velvet ribbon, color-matched to the berry's foliage, inserts one hoop into the other crosswise, and decorates the bottom with streamers of velvet ribbon and a spray of mistletoe. For hanging the "ring" to a doorway or from a chandelier another long streamer is tied to the top of the hoops.

To make a snowy little Christmas tree, which invites Jolly Jack Frost into a room without lowering its temperature, use pipe-stem cleaners, which you can buy by the yard. Planting your tree in a pot—Miss Garden favors a white jardiniere—plunge a slender stick into the dirt. Now wire on "branches" of pipe-stem cleaners, cut in graduated lengths, to build a tapering tree. Trim with ribbon bows, tiny pine cones or Christmas-tree balls.

You can make a Christmas tree look as spectacular as the winning exhibit in a flower show, says Miss Garden, if you'll trim it with red and white carnations. Begging for this fancy dress is the chubby little juniper tree, around which alternating rows of red and white carnations can be easily wired on in a spiraling effect, if you'll begin at the top.

If you use fresh carnations, Miss Garden's tip for keeping them fresh is to wire on tiny florist tubes, and fill with water. You can hope to keep fresh for Christmas Day fresh flowers that are wired directly to the tree, if you'll keep their little faces damp overnight with pieces of wet cotton.

Want to go gala with door or mantle sprays? To turn a spray of magnolia leaves into a shower of gold, Judith Garden individually wires each leaf—using 24-gauge florist wire in 18-inch pieces—and fastens together to make the delicate shape. To decorate, she makes dahlia-like blossoms of split pine cones, flattened out for better limitation of the flower, and wire these onto the spray to fill in gaps. To gild, gold paint is brushed over every leaf and "flower", and for more dazzle the pine cones are outlined with silvery dust, sprinkled on while the paint is still wet.

For your outdoor spray that shouts "Merry Christmas" to passersby, use, as Miss Garden does, an

Repair Fur Coat Before Wearing

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Before you snuggle back into your fur or fur-trimmed coat, give it a good going over. How faithful you are about repairing split pelts, torn lining or ripped pockets or replacing missing buttons will determine how well your coat stands up through the winter ahead. So you are warned by the guys who know: They're the dry-cleaners who see all defects as they move garment assortment of evergreens—pine, cedar, juniper or others of your choice—and decorate with pine cones, painted white. Tie with a whopping big bow and streamer of water-proof red ribbon.

after garment out of summer storage vaults.

Also tipping you off on how to take care of your coat when it's back in wear, here is what they say: When you hang it up, use a padded hanger, button coat at the top, and avoid a closet crush.

Don't let fur get wet. If showers catch you, shake off all the wetness you can before hanging up your coat, and hang in a cool place.

If your fur is susceptible to fading—some eyea furs are—don't expose it to the sun when you give your coat a airing.

Also give it a good brushing now and then. Brushing coats as much as your ribs as it does for your hair.

Peplums Conceal Posture Defects

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Don't wear hip-hugging dresses or suits, unless you've made a vow to yourself to keep your tummy tucked in. Women who refuse to discipline themselves into good posture will need to hide a bulge under peplums or tunics.

But the vainer one who knows what a long torso line in a dress can do for her Petty Girl figure can make it do MORE, if she'll wear her best posture under the sheathed hood or jacket.

Best posture is the tallest-making stance you can pull yourself up to without strain. A trick of alignment which an actress once confided to me—and one of the best I know to pass on to you—is to bring forward the top knob of your spine from the back of your neck until it feels as though it is resting at the base of your throat like an Adam's apple.

Give this technique a whirl, and see if your tummy doesn't do a vanishing act. Also check on the improvement in breast measurement, chin line, bearing of your head and slackness in your belt. Also check on how much more height you gain.

"Here's What You Ought to Say about NIL"

says Mrs. B., a NIL user

"Just tell folks they ought to forget everything they ever knew about deodorants, this one is so different. I threw out five deodorants, and use only NIL. You ought to say that NIL is free because it saves so much money."

"I tell my friends of course it is amazing that I can use NIL for personal daintiness, then turn right around and spray odors from my baby's diapers. I would like to thank personally the young ex-Navy lieutenant who invented NIL for what he has done to make my housekeeping easier."

We say, with Mrs. B., you just won't believe what NIL can do until you've used it. Think of it: after testing hundreds of odors scientists safely conclude NIL destroys more than 100,000 odors. Be dainty, be economical: "NIL that odor."

Keep A Bottle In the Kitchen—Keep A Bottle in the Bathroom—Available At Leading Grocery and Drug Stores Everywhere

NIL that Odor!

Why We Say NIL is the First True Deodorant:

1. It quickly destroys (oxidizes) all objectionable home odors.
2. It does not merely "mask" an odor with another odor.
3. It is completely odorless—has no odor, leaves no odor.

Can You Name Another Deodorant Like This?

In addition to the radio play the presentation—to be broadcast over KCRS from 4 to 5 p. m. on December 22—will include songs, choral numbers, skits, and readings by various persons and organizations in the city.

Organizations wishing to have a part on the all-city Christmas presentation are requested to attend the meeting Thursday and apply for spots on the program. The Girl

And here's a tip, if you're looking for a job. More operators are needed right now. Experience isn't necessary because you learn as you go along.

The Dry-Iceman Cometh

We are inclined to give credit to Mark Twain as well as to General Electric's scientists in Schenectady for dreaming the man-made snowstorm. It's pure supposition on our part, but we lean to the theory that the scientists are just as weary as a lot of the rest of us at hearing Twain's hackneyed remark about the weather quoted incessantly. So, in desperation, they really did something about it.

At any rate, man has staked out a claim in capricious nature's realm. Man, presumptuous and calculating, has his foot in the door. And where he will go, in a climatic way, is anybody's guess.

Already the song about dreaming of a white Christmas is not only dated, but obsolete. You want a white Christmas? Okay, get yourself a few pounds of dry ice and an airplane. If the day is cool enough and the clouds are high enough, just fly through a cloud and scatter your ice.

What's the point? Well, the scientists suggest that it may be a fine trick in arid country to pile up potential water and irrigation supplies for the Spring season. It suggests that maybe clouds could be made to rain in rural regions and skip the more congested areas. Thus the flying dry-iceman might assure a ready winter business for a ski resort, while eliminating the cash and driving hazards in the city.

It's a fine idea, but it carries the possibility of adding complications to our already complicated society. We can foresee intercity and intercounty squabbles, with unwanted snow becoming as great a cause for indignation as unwanted rubbish thrown over the back fence by a neighbor.

Suppose the mayor of a city orders the Board of Sanitation and Meteorology to send a man aloft to detour a potential snow cloud to a suburban community. Are the suburbanites going to like it when they have to put on shoes and shovel out driveways, while the city dwellers work on dry streets and sidewalks?

The possibilities of irritation and strife are numerous and ominous. Needless snowfall might come to be as politically damaging an accusation as needless expenditure. A blizzard might turn a city government out of office. "Slush fund" could take on a new and unpleasant literal meaning.

And if sprinkling a few pounds of dry ice can launch a snowstorm, who can say that man's tampering with the weather will stop there? Has anybody tried a sprinkling attachment on a plane to prime the pump of a rain cloud? And how about dragging an oversized electric wire through the skies to insure a day of pleasant weather?

But if these things should come to pass, there arises the biggest problem of all. Who is going to decide what kind of weather, and where, and when?

The possibility of having that one piled on top of the problems of world peace and atomic energy control leaves us inclined to take our weather as it comes until some of the more immediate man-made clouds have blown over.

Remember The Postman

If a man had to move five tons of goods in five weeks and had a pack mule to do the moving, he wouldn't spread his first ton's load over four weeks and make the poor mule haul four tons in the last week. But that is about the way we Americans treat our postmen from around the time of year until Christmas.

It seems a shame, especially since the Post Office Department and the department stores perennially urge us to "Shop Early—Mail Early". Perhaps, however, the emphasis is wrong. We are advised to mail early lest our gifts arrive too late. But most of us seem to think that the postal clerks will handle those mountains of last-minute parcels somehow, and that even repeated trips with arch-flattening burdens will not stay the weary couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds.

So it really seems no more than a humane gesture to shop early and mail early. For as things are now, what happens to the postman every Christmas shouldn't happen to a mule.

Hats Off To Father

Mamma and her market basket have been widely proclaimed as the country's greatest bulwark against runaway prices. But it has remained for Father to score the most spectacular single triumph.

Father's effective indifference to high-priced millinery has moved a popular hat manufacturer to put an $8.45 ceiling on his products, which used to run up as high as $15.

We can only hope that this maker has started a trend. And we hasten to offer our congratulations to Father for keeping his head in a crisis.

Famous Concert Violinist Is Given Lesson In Fiddling By Dallas Master

DALLAS—(P)—Yehudi Menuhin, concert violinist, got his first lesson in fiddling from an old master of the hoedown school in Dallas the other day and he was bug-eyed for three reasons:

1. B. F. McGlothlin, the old master, is the first fiddler Yehudi ever saw in action.
2. Yehudi had never seen a violin in the hands of a left-hander before.
3. McGlothlin plays the fiddle backwards because he never took a lesson and learned it that way.

We telephoned McGlothlin, 57-year-old former member of the Dallas Police Riot Squad, and asked him if he would give a fiddle lesson to a violinist named Menuhin. "I'd be proud to," said McGlothlin. "where'll I find him?"

The six-foot, two-inch 225-pound McGlothlin, bald, hearty, and chuckling with good spirits, surged into Menuhin's room at Fair Park Auditorium and promptly opened his double-fiddle case.

"Got a couple of old gourds here," he told the 30-year-old Yehudi who was standing with a Strad under his arm. "Now here's the way you play it."

He grabbed the prow of a fiddle with a brawny right hand, picked up the bow with his left hand, and sawed away on the "Arkansas Traveler".

Yehudi looked dazed, then grinned with delight. "Amazing," he cried. "I never saw anything so amazing before. You play left handed, you haven't reversed your strings and you are doing everything backwards."

"That's the way I play," said the old master confidently. "Got ahold of my old man's fiddle when I was six and been messing with it ever since. Never had a lesson, never learned a note and never want to. Now this here is 'Natchez Under the Hill'."

He saved some more and when he had finished, the spellbound Yehudi laid aside his Strad and grabbed the worn fiddle. "Let me try it," he begged. He tried playing left-handed and backwards but couldn't make the grade. Then he switched hands and tried a couple of bars of "Natchez Under the Hill". It wasn't bad.

"Why you picked that up right quick," McGlothlin said admiringly. "Give you a little time and you could pick up plenty of quick money playing for country dances like I do. Let me hear you on that fiddle of yours."

Yehudi picked up the Strad and ran off a few bars and the instrument sang under his touch. "I'm not pretending that is the way a violin should be played," he told McGlothlin smiling. "Well, it wasn't bad," McGlothlin replied. "You've got a nice tone there. I knew a fellow in Galveston played the fiddle like that. He liked to have starved to death. I was always after him to change his ways and join my fiddle band but he never would."

After the "lesson" McGlothlin said he thought Menuhin had been a good pupil. "You could tell he was anxious to learn," he said, "and I think he has a good ear. The only trouble is that a violinist never makes a first class fiddler. He can get the tune 'but he can't get the spirit. He just never has enough twang."

How to Stop Worrying

I guess folks in our town do about as much worrying as in yours—over housing and prices, and crops, and jobs—and the little domestic problems that are always coming up.

Dad Hoskins, who's lived to the happy age of eighty, has a simple formula for stopping worry. About every problem, he asks himself: Is there anything I can do about it? If there is, he never postpones making a decision, or taking necessary action.

If there isn't anything he can do about it, he sets aside a "worrying hour" after dinner, and gets his worrying over in one concentrated period. When that's over, he relaxes over a friendly glass of beer with Ma Hoskins—and they talk about pleasant things together, until bedtime.

From where I sit, that's as workable a formula as you could find... right down to the mellow glass of beer that seems to wink away your worries.

Homemade Jam Welcome Gift

Attractively decorated jars of homemade jellies make welcome Christmas presents.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

With Christmas generosity, dip into your cherished sugar supplies and make Merry Christmas jams for your special friends. Put them into attractive jars and glasses, decorate them festively and wrap in gay papers with glittering ribbons. Then they'll be jewels of thoughtfulness in the true Christmas tradition.

Here are two recipes for December — accident-proof even for the beginner:

Canned Pineapple Jam
(Makes 9 glasses, 6 fluid ounces each)

Three cups prepared fruit, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1/4 cups light corn syrup, 1 box powdered fruit pectin. Use 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple. Add 1/2 cup water to 2 1/4 cups canned pineapple and mix well. Measure sugar and corn syrup into a dish and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a 5-to-6 quart kettle. Place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar and corn syrup, stirring constantly. (To reduce foaming, 1/4 teaspoon butter may be added.) Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

Apricot Jam
(Using dried apricots)
(Makes about 9 glasses, 6 fluid ounces each)

Three cups prepared fruit, 2 cups sugar, 2 cups light corn syrup, 1 box powdered fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit, add 3 cups water to 1/4 pound dried apricots. Cover and let stand 4 hours or overnight. Drain, grind or chop fine and mix with juice. Measure sugar and corn syrup into dry bowl and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a 5-to-6 quart kettle, filling up last cup or fraction of cup with water if necessary; place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar and corn syrup and stir constantly. (To reduce foaming, 1/4 teaspoon butter may be used.) Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once.

U. S. Intelligence Officer Credited With Big Part In Helping Win War

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Just before V-J Day a strange open letter appeared in the Washington Post explaining to the Japanese what "Unconditional Surrender" meant and disabusing their minds of the "utter destruction" fears their militarists still were seeking to implant.

Informed circles immediately spotted the letter as something out of the ordinary, as, in fact, an official communication designed to be picked up and communicated to Tokyo, and fingers began to point at Capt. Ellis M. Zacharias of U. S. Naval Intelligence, then assigned to the Office of War Information. Zacharias had been trying for some time, using information gathered during many years, to reach the Japanese through psychological warfare.

The revelations by Japanese after the war, and of the Pearl Harbor investigation, soon had people talking about him as one of the major factors—along with atom bombs, B-29s, Halsey's and Mitscher's carriers, Nimitz and MacArthur, and the submarine experts—in avoiding an invasion.

Write "Secret Missions"
Now Zacharias has written "Secret Missions," a book which is a most interesting contribution to postwar necessity for improved peacetime military intelligence.

He goes back long before the war for incidents of Japanese, German and Russian espionage in America, and describes years of work which he contends led up to an accurate analysis of Japanese intentions in 1941 which, had it not been more or less ignored, might have prevented Pearl Harbor.

But, although Zacharias never mentions the subject himself, the book also contains some lessons on a very lively current problem. Military Inspection Problem

The problem of military inspection is inherent in other issues before the United Nations. The British have just failed to get it used as a check on the veracity of forthcoming reports on the size and deployment of armies. It undoubtedly will come up again in any discussion of disarmament. It is obvious that it is going to be one of the reliances in whatever peace machinery is evolved.

Zacharias' story serves to emphasize the necessity for extreme care before the safety of the United States is left to international inspection.

He apparently makes the point unwittingly and drives it home, oddly enough, while quoting Franz von Rintelen, famous pre-Nazi German secret agent, on the general practices of espionage. Didn't Hide Developments

Von Rintelen, says Zacharias, once pointed out that the United States in those days made virtually no effort to hide its military developments, but added, and this is the point of such significance to planners of international inspection systems: "The United States is too vast x x x and no intelligence service can afford to concentrate such a huge army x x x in any one country." Von Rintelen also pointed out that peacetime military activity bears little relation to the sudden developments and expansions of wartime, and concluded that ultimate failure is always the lot of espionage in the United States.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

America's Card Authority (Written for NEA Service) New Yorkers are now enjoying duplicate games at the Carnegie Hall Duplicate Bridge Club, conducted by Mrs. Doris Fuller. Here is an interesting hand taken from one of their Friday night games.

East felt justified in doubling, although South's club bids should have warned him of the long club suit. However, a player who would not double with a hand like East's probably would be too timid to double as often as he should.

East could have done better with a diamond opening, but he opened the king of spades and declarer let it hold. East made the mistake of continuing with a spade.

declarer won this in dummy with the ace and returned the third spade. East won and led the king of diamonds. North's ace won, the fourth spade was cashed, and declarer now proceeded to run the clubs.

Dummy finally was down to the deuce of clubs, jack of diamonds and five of hearts, while declarer held the ace, jack and ten of hearts.

Thus on a hand that looked like a good double, declarer not only made his contract, but two over-tricks as well.

The fact that East came out with a bad result does not mean that he made a bad double. The hand was unfortunate for him, and in most cases he should defeat the contract.

The in justice, have had to the thread at all, because collision wasn't his fault, or ose's, either. (Fate's!) Then- s was rather amazing—he had asped her arm, steering her sross Main Street to the trolley e, he (oddly enough) he t wait for a trolley, ough probably a different one, and as they stood there, he had ept his hand on her arm. "You're the prettiest girl I ever w," he said. "In my whole life, I know what you've done, honey? I made a hit with me! From now on, it's you and me—together. You'll find out!"

NERVY thing to say, wasn't it? Well, of course. A terrible thing. It was just being fresh, that's all; and Rose wasn't en- tirely inexperienced, she had en- countered flirts and mashers be- fore—and put them in their places. The trouble was that this flit and masher seemed somehow well, close. She looked up at him; tall, handsome, his hat set bonairly on his blond head, he might have been the model for an Arrow Collar ad. The trouble was that suddenly she'd felt sure it would be "you and me." She had found out. She was trembling as the trolley came up, clanging, braking with a gusty wheeze. She got quickly into the car, glanced back. He had stepped aside to allow some ladies to precede him—before he swung aboard.

The same trolley, and crowded; Rose had to stand, holding to an overhead strap. He stood beside her; he reached for the same strap. Their hands touched and clung. But when the trolley stopped at Clark and Governor streets and she got off, he made no attempt to follow. Their hands parted, the trolley whisked on. . . . She was left alone in a familiar world which seemed queerly unfamiliar.

HER flight along Clark Street was interrupted by Mrs. Kerr who thrust up the front window of her cottage, thrust out her frizzled pompadour and shouted that Basil Earle had telephoned. "An hour ago, Rose. Said he wanted Sidney to go buggy-riding this evening. If he don't hear to the contrary, he'll be 'round about eight."

"Oh, thank you, Mrs. Kerr," Rose prayed that her restrained tones would influence Mrs. Kerr. "I was taking my bath and couldn't go up to tell Sidney," roared Mrs. Kerr, uninfluenced. "Will you tell her?" "Nodding, Mrs. Kerr drew in her pompadour. As the owner of one of the block's few telephones, Mrs. Kerr served as a sort of clearing-house for communications, with the Camerons prominent on her list of beneficiaries. Not that she ever complained. Without the telephone, Mrs. Kerr would have been a neighbor of little consequence; without the Cameron girls, her fund of small talk would have been smaller and less colorful.

ROSE went on more slowly, her eagerness to reach home and Sidney somehow abating. Perhaps this was because of Mrs. Kerr, perhaps because of the street itself, narrow, respectable, rather shabby. A typical street, you might say; nondescript houses with scraggly lawns, a cross-section of any middle-class American residential district. But how drab!

And here was your own house, big and really shabby, an atrocity of Victorian architecture, dormers, curlicue cornices, and everything needing paint. And Papa on the porch, in his gray uniform, swathed in folds of the Stars and Bars, like a stocky statue, half-unveiled.

Poor old Papa, so much older than anybody else's father. Oh, probably it was fine of him, chivalrous or something, to observe Appomattox Day and all similar occasions. But wasn't it provoking, too? People didn't understand that Papa's calendar was at least a quarter of a century behind the times. People living in this town in 1910 simply didn't understand that Papa was still living in the Virginia of his youth. Rose did wish he wouldn't make such a spectacle of himself! (To Be Continued)

Figuring to save himself the trouble of hauling the carcass to camp, Wilson knotted a belt around the animal's neck, pulled him to his feet, and started leading it in. After about a mile, Wilson said, the deer suddenly regained complete consciousness, jerked the belt from Wilson's hand and took off for the woods on the double. # George Allen Of The Reconstruction Finance Corporation Is Trying To Keep Out Of The Nation's Limelight

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It has been nine months since George Edward Allen became a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. If the name doesn't immediately register, he's the controversial character from Mississippi who ranks as one of President Truman's intimates and advisers.

Most of George Allen has tried to keep out of the limelight since he got the RFC job. He isn't seen around the White House as much as formerly. He had a throat infection and was away from his office for over a month during the summer.

Hangover Squares

The weird mask pictured above was originally designed as a facial ice-pack so screen actresses could refresh their faces on hot studio sets without spoiling their make-up. But some smartie is reported to have discovered it's a good antidote for that "morning after" feeling. The pack was made by cutting up a shower cap, cementing on plastic cubes containing water, then putting it in refrigerator until cubes freeze.

He made a flying trip to Germany for a couple of weeks to see what could be done about restoring German economy. Otherwise, he has tended to his business.

He is still called a lot of uncomplimentary things which sound like "court jester" and "White House Clown."

"I try to laugh them off," says Allen, "and let on I don't mind them, but I do. They all hurt, even the nicest ones."

Allen says that he loves his new work. He thinks RFC is a great institution. He believes that through its unlimited lending authority for bank participating loans, RFC could stop a depression if one got started.

No Job Worries
But RFC's powers expire June 30, and sometime before then the directors must go before the Republican Congress and get authority to continue operations.

Allen isn't worried for himself. He gave up $50,000 a year to take the RFC job at $10,000. He says he still doesn't know why he did it, except that it's so hard for the President to get good men.

He has resigned only two of the ten or a dozen directorships which he held before appointment to RFC. The two he gave up were with companies that had direct dealings with RFC. Allen says that when some matter comes up in which one of his other companies has an interest, he disqualifies himself and doesn't vote. There are five directors for RFC—three Democrats and two Republicans. Their rule is that they don't do anything unless there is unanimous agreement.

Each of the directors takes some branch of the RFC subsidiaries, the War Damage Corp. and the Federal National Mortgage Assn., a director of the RFC Mortgage Co.

Allen is in a somewhat unusual position on the RFC board itself. He is not chairman of the board; ex-senator Charles B. Henderson is that. Nevertheless, most of the meetings are held in Allen's office. This is just another of the suites on the 11th floor of the LaFayette Building, which is RFC headquarters. The big paneled and bleached 12th-floor corner convention hall where Jesse Jones held forth as lord of the Federal Loan Administration is now just a room where stenographers are tested for speed and accuracy.

Presidential Contact-Man
Also, when the President wants to talk about some phase of RFC business, it's Allen he sends for—not Chairman Henderson. Allen comes over and gets the word, then comes back and calls the Board to his office.

Allen can walk into the White House offices any time he wants to. He knows that in Washington the power rests with the men who can do that.

frankly, "is that I can tell a phony when I see one."

He is completely loyal to Truman. Allen is a little amazed at that himself, because he says he "believes" he was for Wallace at Chicago in 1944. He never knew Truman till he was assigned to aid Truman in his campaign for the Vice-Presidency. But that's the way to get to be an intimate of the great—get to know them when they aren't.

"He's so kind," says Allen of the President. "When I was sick he'd call me up and send me flowers. And he wants so much to do the right thing."

The top executives at RFC had a pool on the election. They all wrote out their predictions and sealed them in envelopes. When the votes were in, the envelopes were opened. Allen won.

But the result of the election doesn't dismay him at all. Maybe Taft and some of the others were right about the need to take off co-riols, Allen says. To illustrate, he tells the story about Al Smith, campaigning for the Presidency.

One Sunday morning Al started for church with some of the men on the campaign train with him. He missed one or two of the reporters and asked where they were. "Oh, they're still in their berths," came the reply. "They're Protestants."

Al shook his head. Wouldn't it be terrible," he said, "if they were right?"

Social Situations

THE SITUATION: A young man who has been invited to a party at a friend's home decides at the last minute that he would like to bring a girl with him.

WRONG WAY: Take her along and explain to the hostess when you arrive.

RIGHT WAY: Telephone the hostess and ask her if it is all right to bring another guest with you.

Twenty-five million men, women and children are engaged in farming in the United States.

Hindu, Moslem Leaders Of India Gather In London To Try For Problem Settlement

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There is plenty to distract our attention here at home—what with the cold-wave to remind us of the wintry potentialities of the coal stoppage, and the heavy gunfire in our U.N. peace organization—but let's not overlook that impending Indian round-table conference which opened Tuesday in London.

The Indian problem ranks among the vital issues of our time. A failure to reach a satisfactory solution might result in the catastrophe of civil war in that country.

That's a hard thing to have to say, but it's true and it is well that we recognize the fact. The round-table conference is a momentous affair.

Three of the world's outstanding personalities have come out of the Far East to sit down in the British capital with government officials to try to figure out ways and means of bringing India's warring Hindus and Moslems together and thereby implementing England's offer of independence to that subcontinent with its four hundred millions.

There is Field Marshal Lord Wavell, Viceroy of the King-Emperor's greatest imperial possession.

There is Pandit Nehru, the aristocratic Hindu who heads the present Interim Indian Government and next to Mahatma Gandhi, is the most powerful leader in the country. There is Mahomed Ali Jinnah, brilliant and highly cultured head of the Moslem League, who guides the destinies of 90,000,000 Moslems.

Upon those three men, more than upon any others, rests the immediate future of India. Wavell's role is largely that of conciliator. In the hands of those two political enemies, Jinnah and Nehru, is a terrifying power which it has been given few men to possess. Wavell's part is even more difficult than that of the two Indian leaders, but he brings to it the gratifying spirit which we saw in his New Year's message to his troops in bloody 1941.

"Have you ever thought what a world we could make if we put into peace endeavors the same energy, the same self-sacrifice and cooperation as we use in the wastefulness of war?"

Broadcast: December 7, 1946

1/2 dozen graham crackers, 2 1/2 in.
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon allspice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup dried prunes
1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup shelled nuts
1/2 cup Pet Milk
1/2 well beaten egg
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup dark cooking molasses
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Turn on oven; set at slow (325° F.). Grease a 7 1/2-in. tube pan or a loaf pan 9x5x3 in. deep. Cover bottom of pan with greased paper cut to fit. Put graham crackers through medium knife of food chopper. There should be 3 1/2 cups crumbs. Mix thoroughly into crumbs the baking soda, baking powder, allspice and salt. Let stand. Pare and core apples. Wash prunes; dry and remove pits. Grind apples, prunes, raisins and nuts. Add milk, egg, sugar, molasses and orange rind to fruit mixture. Add crumb mixture in thirds, mixing quickly but thoroughly. Put in greased pan. Bake 1 1/2 hours, or until firm to the touch. Remove from oven; let stand in pan 5 min. before turning out. Garnish, if desired, with candied cherries, cut to resemble flowers, and nuts. Makes 2 1/4 lbs.

Baked Apples

Cookery scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture offer the following directions for baking apples.

Wash apples thoroughly and core them without cutting through the blossom end. Place the apples, blossom end down, in a baking dish. Fill holes with a mixture of brown sugar or honey, raisins softened by soaking or chopped nuts if desired. The dried fruit is suggested because it adds sweetness and helps save sugar. Add just enough water to the pan to keep apples from sticking. Then cover the dish. The steam held in by the cover makes the apples cook faster and more evenly. Bake at a temperature from 350 to 400 degrees F. Baking will take about half an hour, depending on the size and variety of apples.

When apples are soft throughout when tested in the center with a fork, they are done. Serve hot or cold, with or without cream.

Union Strikes Are Fraying American Tempers; Solons May Do Something To Curb U. S. Organized Labor Groups

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(P)—The crippling strikes of the past year, and the present coal strike, have frayed a lot of American tempers.

There's a good deal of feeling in this country, and among Congressmen, that Congress must do something to curb organized labor.

Two kinds of people are talking about those curbs:

1. Those who honestly believe that, for the good of the whole country, there should be stronger restraints on labor.
2. Those who, for selfish reasons of their own, see now a chance to strike labor-damaging blows.

But curb unions how much? To cripple them? To set them back where they were before the 1930's? To leave them at the mercy of employers?

Congress may do more damage than good if, in haste and anger, it rams through stupid laws or laws to punish labor.

If it goes at the job thoughtfully, and carefully, it may be able to produce legislation that will be helpful toward industrial peace.

But, in the long-view, what is happening now could have been expected. The road to industrial peace is tough. We're not near the end yet.

Big Industrial Giant

In short: The present troubles, and troubles to come no matter what kind of laws Congress passes, are part of the evolution of life in America.

This nation, an agricultural country at first, became an industrial giant only slowly. As industry grew, unions grew. As they grew they had to fight the great corporations.

It was a long fight—a good deal of it vicious and bloody—with the corporations using strikebreakers to smash strikes and black lists to bar from jobs men who had the courage to join a union.

Labor has become truly strong—with strength to match that of the employers who had had the muscles in all our previous history until 1932—only in the past 14 years.

In 14 years it had to change from being a boy to being a giant. In growing up it sometimes not only was ungrateful, but disgraceful.

But that could have been expected. It was part of the push and pull, the evolution of an industrial society. Labor in 14 years wasn't doing any more than employers had done, or as much, in all the years before 1932.

Won Much In 14 Years

Yet in these past 14 years labor unions have won vast benefits for their members in the way of higher wages and better working conditions.

There'll be more pushing and pulling, all part of the evolutionary process, no matter what kind of laws Congress passes but the pushing by unions will be more bitter if the laws are bad.

And in time, no doubt, Congress will have to pass other laws, profiting by the experience that comes with the additional years of growing up in America.

It should be remembered that many unions—probably most—still are led by men who were union men before 1932 and bitterly fought big businessmen, the same big businessmen, they are fighting now.

Those old antagonisms don't die calmly.

Scene From Theater Play

Picture is a scene from "Ladies in Retirement", the final stage play of the 1946 season presented recently by the Midland Community Theatre, Inc. The 19th century murder play climaxed the first year of the Midland amateur theater. Midland is one of the few cities of its size in the United States with a full-time paid theater director. In the scene Ellen Creed, played by Mildred Jones, is about to murder Leona Fiske, portrayed by Helen Armstrong, to provide a home for her two insane sisters.

Washington was denied the only personal request he ever made of Congress—his original commission as Commander-in-Chief of the Army as a memento.

Cotton and textile mills of the country have contributed several million dollars in the last few years to expansion of textile education in state-supported colleges.
