

Pecos Wildcat Is To Be Drilled To 1,500-Foot Level

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Debs Patillo has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas to drill his No. 1 State National Bank of El Paso, as a 1,500-foot wildcat in Central-North Pecos County.

The prospect will be 330 feet from east and 2,310 feet from south lines of section 31, block 140 T&STL survey, and 15 miles northeast of Fort Stockton. Drilling, with cable tools, is to start by January 15.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Blair, Southwest Kent County wildcat, 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 44, block 5 H&GN survey, and two miles southwest of the initial Ellenburger producer in the Folar field, was making hole below 7,693 feet in lime and chert. Slight O & G signs.

A drillstem test was taken for 80 minutes at 7,690-82 feet. Recovery was 60 feet of drilling mud, slightly cut with oil and gas.

Humble No. 1 Davis, about six and one-half miles northwest of Snyder in Northwest Scurry County, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 339, block 97, H&TC survey, was drilling ahead under 7,837 feet in an unidentified chert, after a drillstem test at 7,782-7,815 feet.

Length of the test was not reported. Recovery was 40 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud.

Humble No. 1 Floyd, about 15 miles southeast of Midland in East Midland County, ran a 95-minute drillstem test at 5,045-5,104 feet. Recovery was 300 feet of drilling mud, with a salty taste and an odor of sulphur.

Humble No. 1 Turner, 12 miles southeast of the city, treated with 2,000 gallons of acid, through perforations at 8,500-65 feet. After the acid load was lifted the well flowed back 14 barrels of load oil, and then swabbed dry. Following one hour shut-in, during which fluid rose 200 feet in the tubing, swabbing was resumed.

No Shows in DST
Santa Fe Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Wheeler, Central-East Winkler County wildcat, took a one-hour drillstem test at 9,613-9,734 feet. Recovery was 290 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil or gas. The project is to drill ahead.

Stanford Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Fisher, Southeast Hale County wildcat, which has indicated possibilities of a discovery from the Pennsylvanian, was reported by unofficial, but informed sources, to be bottomed at 6,992 feet, in lime, waiting for orders.

Apparently a report previously carried that the prospector had cored to 6,999 feet, and was coring ahead, was incorrect.

A Schlumberger survey and a Lane Wells survey had been taken. It was understood that operator representatives were debating whether or not to run pipe and make production tests on the shows already drilled—or to continue drilling with the hope that the Ellenburger might be encountered soon.

Extender Flows Oil
Stanford No. 10 Eugenia Brown, northeast stepout from production in the Empress-Holt field, in South-Central Winkler County, about six miles south of Kermit, had flowed 146 barrels of oil in 24 hours from perforated section in the Holt-Permian at 4,805-17 feet, which had been treated with 500 gallons and 750 gallons of acid.

The well is 660 feet from north and 1,992 feet from east lines of section 5, block B-11, psi survey. The project is due to take potential and complete in a few days.

Lion Oil Company No. 1 TXL, West Ector County prospector, between the TXL and Wheeler fields, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 17, block 46, TP survey, T-1-S, was taking a drillstem test at 8,625-70 feet, in the Devonian.

R. L. (Buck) York Buys Big New Mexico Ranch

SANTA FE, N. M.—(P)—The 52,000-acre Shellabarger Ranch along the Sapello River in Northern New Mexico has been sold to R. L. (Buck) York, Midland oilman for about $500,000, Walter B. Shellabarger of Santa Fe announced Thursday.

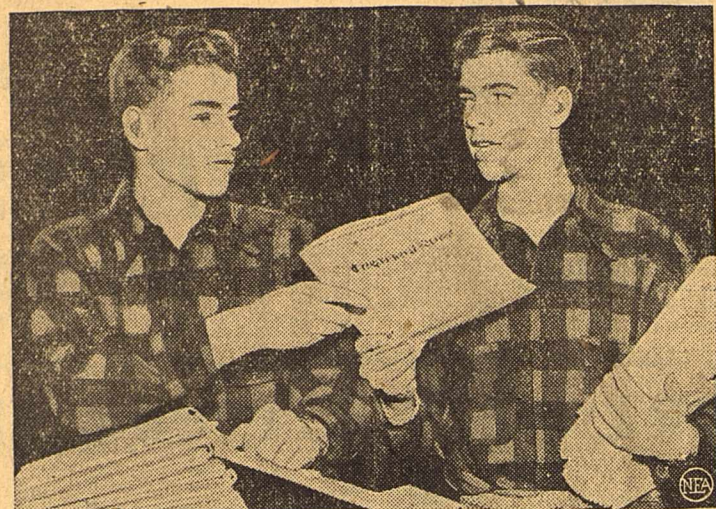

The ranch headquarters, 12 miles north of Las Vegas, once was a stop on the old Santa Fe Trail.

York is a pioneer Midland oil operator and prominent in West Texas oil circles. He formerly was associated with O. C. Harper in the firm of York and Harper, Inc., here.

Chinese Communists Interrupt Traffic

PEIPING—(P)—The Chinese press Thursday reported Communist guerrillas had interrupted motor traffic on the Peiping-Tientsin highway despite repeated reversals and that they threatened the Tientsin-Pukow Railroad.

Brokers Predict Food Prices Will Drop Sharply By Summer

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO—(P)—The men who are among the best informed about food prices, the brokers on the country's commodity exchange markets, think prices will go lower.

Many new year predictions have been made recently by banks, economists and businessmen concerning future prices. But the forecasts on exchanges are the composite opinions of brokers dealing in the commodities.

Butter prices are high, but you can buy some butter today on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange for delivery in June at about 53 cents a pound. That's around 22 cents under present wholesale prices.

For the average person who just wants some butter to spread on bread that wouldn't be practical—you'd have to take 19,200 pounds, which is the amount represented by a "futures" contract.

Significance of that 53 cent price, however, is that it is today's best guess of the butter and egg men on what the wholesale price will be this summer.

Eggs Are Exception
In nearly all markets in which food is traded for future delivery, a similar trend is shown. Eggs are a single exception. In most cases, the more distant the delivery, the lower the price.

Take wheat, which is basic for flour, bread, macaroni and other foods. Its cash price at Chicago is around $2.20 a bushel. If you buy for March delivery, it's $2.04. For July it's $1.79, or 40 cents under present cash prices. Other grains follow that pattern.

Soybean coffee will cost 26 cents a pound for delivery in January but only 23 cents for next December. Cocoa is 25 cents for March and 23 cents for September.

Other Prices To Drop
This trend holds true for commodities other than foods. Cash cotton is about 33 cents a pound. So is the March delivery. But cotton for delivery in March, 1948, is under 27 cents.

In every case this represents, in dollars and cents, what the individuals and business firms who operate in these markets now think of future price trends.

Midland Has Second Day Of Sleet, Rain

For the second morning in a row Midland got a pelting of sleet and cold rain.

Skies still were overcast Thursday as they had been Wednesday when sleet, snow and cold rain trickled down.

But temperatures did not tumble as expected. During Wednesday Midland had a temperature of 38 degrees for 12 hours straight. Moisture is negligible so far.

Permian Basin Express Will Start Serving West Texas Area Friday

Destined to grow with the vast and fast-growing section it serves, a completely new, modern and prompt motor transport service will be inaugurated Friday when the Permian Basin Express, serving the Permian Basin area, begins regularly scheduled runs from Midland to 27 other West Texas cities and communities.

GOP Is At Odds Over National Defense Costs

Pioneer Will Open Service To Area About Feb. 15

DALLAS—(P)—Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer Air Lines, said Thursday that his company will inaugurate service on a number of Texas route extensions about February 15.

Texas cities to receive the new service are Big Spring, Bryan, Dallas, Fort Worth, Lamesa, Midland, Mineral Wells, Odessa, Plainview, Sweetwater, Temple and Waco.

Smith said that every effort would be made to start service on February 15, but that this date must remain tentative until preparations are nearer completion.

Expand Present Route
The new service will augment and expand Pioneer's present route between Houston and Amarillo, by way of the intermediate cities of Austin, San Angelo, Abilene and Lubbock.

The segments of the expanded system are approximately as follows:
1. Between Houston and Amarillo, by way of Austin, San Angelo, Abilene, Lubbock, Plainview; with an alternate omitting Abilene but including Midland-Odessa and Lamesa.

2. Between Dallas and Houston, by way of Waco, Temple and Bryan.

3. Between Dallas and Midland-Odessa, by way of Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Abilene, Sweetwater and Big Spring.

Midland and Odessa will be served from one airport, the Midland Army Air Field.

Big Spring Leaders Confer With WAA Representative Here
A group of city officials and civic leaders of Big Spring were in Midland Wednesday afternoon conferring with R. E. White, airport specialist and real property disposal representative of the War Assets Administration of Dallas, pertaining to the disposal of buildings and equipment on the Big Spring Army Air Field.

White was among the group of government agency representatives in Midland attending the conference on the proposed transfer of Midland Army Air Field.

Among the Big Spring men were Mayor G. W. Dabney, Councilmen H. W. Wright and J. L. LeBlond, City Manager H. W. Whitney, Chamber of Commerce Manager J. L. Greene, and H. D. Norris, J. B. Collins, H. W. Steck, Dale Douglas, Doyle Vaughn, and Dr. L. H. Bennett.

Texas Newspapermen Begin Legal Battle In Supreme Court
WASHINGTON—(P)—Three Texas newspapermen Thursday began before the Supreme Court their final legal battle against contempt of court proceedings in which they were sentenced to jail.

Judge Joe D. Browning of the Tarrant County court in Texas adjudged the three guilty of contempt because of the publication of several news stories and an editorial. The items dealt with a civil case in which an Army private sought unsuccessfully to hold his lease on part of a building where he had a cafe.

Reflect On Court
Judge Browning decided that the stories and editorial were "calculated to reflect upon the integrity of this court, to embarrass this court, to affect the court of justice x x x."

Three Drown When Car Plunges Into Sabine River

ORANGE—(P)—Three persons were drowned here Thursday when an automobile, pursued by a police car, drove off a docks at 90 miles per hour and plunged into the Sabine River, V. Berry, city patrolman said.

Two of three boys who hitchhiked a ride with an unidentified stranger lost their lives, and the driver also was drowned, Berry stated.

A fourth occupant of the car, Sherrill Ray Jordan, 15, brother of one of the dead boys, was pulled from the Sabine by Johnny James, professional wrestler, James plunged into the stream fully dressed to accomplish the rescue.

Ronald DeFord Says Petroleum Prospects Are Bright In Area
Prospects of the oil and gas industry in the vast Permian Basin area of West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico were described as bright for 1947 and the coming years by Ronald K. DeFord, petroleum geologist here for the Argo Oil Corporation, in an address to Rotarians at their meeting Thursday noon in the Scharbauer Hotel.

DeFord outlined the geologic history of the area and told of oil beds which have been discovered. He said the area produced about 2,350,000,000 barrels of oil, 95 per cent from the Permian, and that lower beds have been explored very little.

He estimated proven reserves of the area at 3,500,000,000 barrels and guessed 6,000,000,000 barrels yet may be produced in the area.

New Methods Are Developing
Operations so far, he continued, have been concerned mainly with primary recovery and secondary recovery methods of producing oil, which are just starting, will become more important.

The importance of natural gas was emphasized and he said the Texas Panhandle and the Permian Basin area are the largest gas reserves in the United States. He told of the proposed new gas line to California which will take at the start 125,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day and will be increased to 305,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day. At the start all gas will be residue gas.

DeFord also discussed oil and gas regulations and deep drilling costs. He predicted this area will escape severe results of a recession in business, should one occur this year, due to the demand for petroleum and the healthy condition of the oil business.

W. A. Thomas, petroleum engineer, was elected to membership in the Rotary Club by a unanimous vote, Dan Griffith, secretary, announced.

Fred Wemple, a past district governor and past-president of the club, presided at the meeting and Richard S. Brooks was program chairman.

Auto Firms, Services, Supply Units To Close On Saturday Afternoon
Automotive dealers, their service installations and auto supply houses of Midland are announcing they will close at 1 p. m. on Saturdays effective January 11.

The firms announced the change is in line with recent policies already in effect in other cities.

Motorists with automotive needs are urged to make plans in accordance with the schedule.

U. S. Asks Poland To Honor Free Election Pledge

WARSAW, POLAND—(P)—The United States called on Poland Thursday to honor her pledge to hold free and unfettered elections.

The diplomatic note to the Polish foreign minister charged the Provisional Polish Regime with continued "suppression, coercion and intimidation" of the opposition, violating the letter and spirit of the Yalta and Potsdam agreements.

The United States note, one of the last drafted under auspices of Secretary of State Byrnes, expressed concern over "repressive measures which the government has seen fit to employ against democratic elements not aligned with the pro-government bloc."

The note said that if repressive activities "do not cease immediately, there is little likelihood that a free and unfettered election" can be held.

Texas Is Covered With Cloud Blanket
By The Associated Press
A cloud blanket covered Texas Thursday, dropping rains along the Gulf Coast and in the Big Bend Country.

Temperatures were moderate, with minimums generally above freezing Wednesday night in East Texas and only slightly below in the West. Guadalupe Pass, with 28 degrees, was the state's coldest spot, and Brownsville, where the low was 49, the warmest.

Laredo had one-third of an inch of rain Thursday. The weather moderated there Wednesday after six consecutive nights of freezes.

Legislature Asked To Probe 'Pardon Buying'
AUSTIN—(P)—Charges that Texas convicts are under the impression they can buy their freedom for $1,000 have brought a formal request from all three members of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles for a legislative investigation.

The request followed a statement by Riley Wyatt of San Antonio, chairman of the board, that there is "a feeling abroad among 95 per cent of the convicts in Texas prison that they can get free on a pardon or parole if they can raise $1,000."

Parole Board Will Meet
BURBANK, CALIF.—(P)—A new record of eight hours, 47 minutes from Honolulu to Burbank was claimed Thursday by Pan-American World Airways for a Constellation which landed at Lockheed Terminal Wednesday.

Weather
Partly cloudy with occasional rain or snow Thursday afternoon, ending Thursday night. Little change in temperature except warmer in Panhandle Friday. Temperature expected Thursday night and early Friday, 28 to 32 degrees. Maximum temperature Wednesday was 39 degrees, minimum 32 degrees. Minimum Thursday morning was 37 degrees.

PARIS FACES JAIL SENTENCE, FINE FOR FOOTBALL FIX
NEW YORK—(P)—Smooth-talking Alvin J. Paris faced a possible prison term of 10 years and a fine of $20,000 Thursday as the result of his conviction on charges of attempting to "fix" the December 15 professional football title game between the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears.

Taber Demands Drastic Cut In Army And Navy Spending

WASHINGTON—(P)—Congressional Republicans are at odds among themselves Thursday over national defense costs.

Representative Taber (N. Y.) is demanding that Army-Navy outlays be cut drastically while Senator Taft (Ohio) is counseling against such a course.

Taber, who heads the new House Appropriations Committee, told a reporter he is convinced the military services can get along with $8,000,000,000 between them in the budget year beginning next July 1.

Furthermore, he said that if President Truman recommends a larger amount in the budget message to Congress Friday, steps will be taken to trim the proposed expenditures.

Taft, chairman of the Senate GOP Steering Committee, told a newsman he thinks Senate Republicans want to find budget reductions elsewhere and not make them at the expense of national defense.

Senator Bridges (R-NY), who heads the Senate appropriations committee, shares this overall view. He said, however, he and others will insist that savings be effected where military purchasing, intelligence and similar operations can be combined.

Taber contended that about $2,500,000,000 can be lopped off military expenditures for items and services that were necessary in the past, but no longer needed.

Rep. Plumley (R-Vt.), who heads a naval appropriations subcommittee, voiced the opinion that "substantial savings" can be made in the Navy's budget, in comparison with the present year.

Senate Favors Cut
If President Truman fixes total federal spending at about $37,000,000,000 as generally forecast, Taft said it seemed likely that from $10,000,000,000 to $12,000,000,000 of this amount would be for the Army and Navy.

He said that while Senate Republicans would favor paring the larger amount, he doubted if they would wish to challenge the smaller, except where it was apparent savings could be made without impairing military efficiency.

He has no doubts, Taft continued, that Republicans can find places to cut off at least $3,500,000,000 from a $37,000,000,000 budget without any drastic defense reductions.

Strickland Quits TU Board of Regents
AUSTIN—(P)—Gov. Coke Stevenson Thursday announced the resignation of D. F. Strickland of Mission from the board of regents of the University of Texas.

Strickland gave as reason for his resignation that his personal affairs required so much of his time that he could no longer devote necessary attention to his recent post.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe your own. It's easy—no trouble at all, and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcenate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloot disappears—how much better you feel. Move alive, youthful appearing and active.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JAN. 9, 1947-3

Spring Plans Made By Scout Leader's Club

Plans for the Spring Scout activities were discussed by Mrs. O. L. Healdren, program chairman of the Midland Girl Scout Council, when the Girl Scout Leader's Club met Wednesday morning in the Children's Library.

During the business meeting directed by Mrs. Don Johnson, president it was decided to have the annual mother-daughter tea in March and the annual festival in May.

A nominating committee including Mrs. John H. DeFord, chairman, Mrs. John N. Walston and Mrs. Joe Robertson, was appointed. Executive Secretary Attends

Mrs. Ivaloe Hobdon, executive secretary of the Permian Basin Area of the Girl Scouts, was introduced. She announced a training program scheduled for February 3 for those who are new in Scouting.

Others present were Mrs. Thomas B. Grimes, Mrs. J. K. Hazlip, Mrs. H. L. Goodman, Mrs. J. D. Hatch, Mrs. O. L. Stalcup, Mrs. M. C. Minton, Mrs. Edmund Borys, Mrs. J. C. Rinker, Mrs. Robert E. Morgan, Mrs. Vernon Bottoms, Mrs. H. H. Redding, Mrs. Sherwood O'Neal, Mrs. Howard Ford, Mrs. William Walmsley, Mrs. I. A. Searles, Mrs. James O. Simmons, Jr., Mrs. C. E. Elwell, the midland Scout commissioner for the Midland Council and Mrs. T. P. Tarwater.

Trout get about two-thirds of their food from the water, and catch the other one-third in the air above the surface.

Congratulations To

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Brown, on the birth, Monday, of a daughter, Beverly Jean, weighing seven pounds, eight ounces.

OZARKA WATER CO. welcomes these new arrivals. Phone 111 and a bottle of OZARKA will be delivered to you free--Adv.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Tucker Is Presented Amateur Sports Award

NEW YORK—(AP)—Arnold Tucker, field general of Army's undefeated football team, Thursday held amateur sport's greatest honor for 1946—the James E. Sullivan Award.

Tucker, 22-year-old first classman from Miami, Fla., won the distinction by the closest vote ever recorded in the trophy's 17-year history.

He posed out swimmer Bill Smith of Honolulu and Johnny Lujack, Notre Dame quarterback, to bring the coveted Sullivan award to West Point for the second consecutive year.

The 1945 prize went to Felix (Doc) Blanchard, Army's line-cracking fullback.

Tucker's citation declared that during the past year "by performance, example and good influence he did most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship."

Andrews Mustangs Play Cage Tilts With Bulldogs Friday

By TANNER LAINE

Salvaging some optimism from a disappointing loss to the Big Spring Steers by one point, the Midland High School Bulldogs will play invading Andrews High cagers here Friday night.

There will be a brace of games. A warm-up "B" tilt starts at 7 p. m. and the varsity struggle is slated for 8 p. m.

Little is known here of Andrews' potency on the court. The Mustangs have a couple of wins over Roscoe to their credit. Francis Tubb is coach of the visitors.

Midland may well be called a hardluck ball club this season. By the narrow margins of one or two points the Bulldogs have dropped several engagements this winter. Only has Abilene decisively whipped the Midlanders.

With their no height and sparing experience, Coach Jack Mashburn has molded the Bulldogs into a hustling five but the boys are so short compared with other players they must swarm all over the competition and thus foul out of the game.

Despite the gloom at this time given any amount of luck Midland when it begins to click is going to give 3-A something to raise eyebrows about. Provided the Bulldogs can win enough games in the round-robin and get into the district playoff tourney, they will give trouble.

Between now and then, the code with its implementation clause providing sanctions against non-conformist schools in the form of a schedule boycott, will be written into the constitution by a committee appointed for that purpose.

Also referred to the Constitutional Revision Committee was a resolution offered by Col. William Couper of Virginia Military Institute which would limit colleges to 10 varsity football games a season and prohibit participation in post-season games.

Tanning of leather is one of the oldest industrial processes known to man, probably dating back more than 12,000 years.

BOWLING

The major bowling league of Midland rolled back into operation Wednesday night for the new year and the three league leaders had trouble.

Continental Airlines lost two games to Permian Well. Tot's Gulf dropped a couple to Mabee Drilling. And Honolulu Oil lost two to Midland Tire Company. Burl's Standard nabbed two victories from Scharbauer Hotel.

Burl's rolled high team series with 2,450 and tied with Mabee Drilling for high team game score with 846. Lee Tharp of Scharbauer Hotel rolled high individual series with a score of 548. Thompson of Midland Tire kegged high game with 205.

Principles Governing Football Approved By NCAA Committee

NEW YORK—(AP)—The 252 member colleges of the National Collegiate Athletic Association were under moral obligation Thursday to abide by the group's newly-drafted "purity code" and to start cleaning their athletic houses immediately.

Actually, the set of five principles governing the conduct of intercollegiate athletics which were approved at the concluding session of the NCAA Wednesday do not go into effect until the next annual meeting in 1948.

Between now and then, the code with its implementation clause providing sanctions against non-conformist schools in the form of a schedule boycott, will be written into the constitution by a committee appointed for that purpose.

Also referred to the Constitutional Revision Committee was a resolution offered by Col. William Couper of Virginia Military Institute which would limit colleges to 10 varsity football games a season and prohibit participation in post-season games.

Gala Homecoming Planned For Cup Winners

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A gala homecoming celebration was on tap Thursday for the famed Davis Cup and the man primarily responsible for returning it to America—Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder.

The silver cup, tennis' most-prized bauble, was to be unveiled at the city hall, and honor scrolls presented to the stellar players by Mayor Fletcher Bowron. The trophy had been outside the U. S. since 1939.

Farm Income Hits $23.5 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers will file income tax returns by January 15 on record gross receipts of about $23,500,000,000.

That 1946 "take" for the farmer, reflecting higher prices for his products, topped his previous peak income in 1945 by about $2,000,000,000. Prewar income of farmers was around $10,000,000,000 to $11,000,000,000 a year.

The government, however, has no figures on how much taxes the farmers pay or how many farmers there are among the 47,000,000 persons who file tax returns.

Farmers are the first group in the country to make their returns and, by act of Congress, the only group who do not make payments on their income for any year until that year is over.

Others had part of their pay withheld during 1946 to cover tax obligations, or filed estimates of 1946 income last March and have been making quarterly tax payments since.

These advance-estimate people mainly those with incomes over $5,000, also must make their final payments of the 1946 income tax by Jan. 15. If they underestimated their income on previous returns they have to file an amended estimate or face a stiff penalty.

The penalty amounts to 6 per cent of the difference between the underestimate and the correct taxable amount. Farmers face the same penalty if they underestimate by more than 33 per cent, which gives them more leeway than other taxpayers.

Both farmers and advance-estimate taxpayers, like those covered by withholding payments already made, will have to make final returns by March 15 showing what their actual income was so the tax collector can see if it jibes with their estimates.

Those who already know what their income actually was can, if they choose, turn in final returns and payments by Jan. 15 and eliminate the necessity of doing so March 15.

Poll Tax Deadline Set On January 31

With only 1,371 Midland County citizens paying their poll taxes to date, J. H. Fine, county tax assessor-collector, Thursday warned citizens that January 31 is the deadline to pay the poll tax and retain voting privileges.

A one and one-half per cent penalty and interest charge is added each month until July when a $1 cost charge is added.

Property owners must pay the poll tax after January 31 although the voting privilege is cancelled, Fine said.

Relics In Midland County Museum Recall Memories Of Early Days

Midland County's Museum, which has grown from two cases located in the library to 28 cases now located in the basement of the county courthouse, had 2,400 visitors during 1946. A total of 1,156 articles were loaned or donated to the museum for exhibition during the year.

Indians Raid Wagon Train

The museum, open from 2:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. on Tuesday, Friday and Saturdays, was established in 1905 and is supervised by Mrs. J. M. Connor.

Midland history may be found in the museum in the numerous pictures of the city and its early settlers. Mrs. J. H. Barron donated many of the pictures.

Perhaps the most interesting collection with a story background is that of Indian relics and pieces from a wagon train donated by Al Cowden. The story, most of which is true according to Mrs. Connor, is that the wagon train was destroyed by the Comanche Indians while going through the sand hills near Monahans. Gold, which was being carried to Washington, was never found. It had been marked by the government. It is believed the wagon train was betrayed by a man called "Peg Leg" who stole the gold while the Indians were killing the people and burning the equipment. It is said that he was caught by the Indians, killed and buried with the gold.

A large number of articles have been donated by Mrs. J. M. DeArmond, including an old trunk with enough partitions for every item a "lady" might have.

Also on exhibition is a side saddle belonging to Mrs. C. C. McCall and a sash bag in which the late Dr. McCall carried his medicine while traveling about the country.

An iron mug contributed by Elliott Cowden to Midland County in 1940 is kept in the museum. It has never been used here but has been used in nearby counties. Also on display is a potato hot pack given to the county by the Midland Jaycees.

Edison Phonograph

There are a number of Indian implements and pottery in the museum; several old musical instruments including a Swiss music box and Banonion from Germany; an Edison phonograph; a shell collection; items of war from 1812 to World War II; old books and papers including one paper published in Pennsylvania in 1800 and the peace edition of the El Paso Times after World War I; the rare slate of the old school days; old patterns and pattern books; lace from Madagascar, France, Belgium and Austria; salt and pepper shakers; and cut glass and old china with a mustache cup, shaving mugs, and hair receiver.

In a spoon collection are spoons made from Confederate dollars and an Eskimo spoon. There is a chair used by the officers during the Civil War and a 250-year-old chair from Scotland.

Dishes, which belonged to her mother, a churn and helmets from World War I, were contributed by Mrs. Raynee Carroll and many of the dishes on display belong to Mrs. Ola Dublin Haynes. The two have been leaders in promoting the library.

The Midland Garden Club has a collection of wild flowers on display and the Palette Club has donated a collection of paintings.

Twenty states were represented in the number who called at the museum during 1946.

Eighty-seven distinct native dialects have been recorded in the Philippines.

Brooklyn-Reared Philadelphia Miss May Be The First American To Take World's Skating Championship

Eileen Seigh, Brooklyn-reared Philadelphia miss, and national champion Dick Butto take turns on New York's Rockefeller Center rink in preparation for World Figure Skating Championships in Stockholm, Feb. 14-16.

By JOE KING
NEW YORK (NEA)—Brooklyn is so accustomed to the extravagant, the bizarre, in sports that the Fordham seismograph would not detect a murmur if the borough sponsored a brand-new Sonja Henie story in reverse.

The Norwegian Golden Girl really made her international reputation acquiring the world title here in 1930, the Olympic Gold Medal at Lake Placid in '32.

It does not matter what an American does here. She has to do it over there, where they believe they have a monopoly on figure skating talent. Here enters Flatbush.

Eileen Seigh, just 18, will try to win the world title in Stockholm, February 14-16, and has a good chance. Miss Seigh is Brooklyn born and reared. The fact that she represents the Philadelphia Skating and Humane Society is passed over lightly there. She is, above all questions of allegiance, the first Brooklyn girl since Evelyn Chandler in 1920 to win a national figure skating championship. Both took junior titles.

Miss Seigh is rushing up the pike. Novice champion in '44, junior champion in '45 and fourth in the senior grade last February. In the latter, though, fourth, she was first as a free skater, took the medal as the most artistic. After missing a higher place because of her school figures, she passed the Gold Medal test, that which there is no higher. She is ready.

Equipped For outdoors

The switch to a foreign climate will help rather than hurt her. They skate outdoors over there. Our titeholders are hothouse blooms, protected from wind, cold and natural ice conditions by indoor rinks.

Miss Seigh will relish nature's decree of the day because, like Miss Chandler, she is a very strong skater. She possesses the three important items that Miss Henie has—power, personality and precision. Right now she is the most captivating and phenomenal amateur free skater—let us not look too closely at the technical figures—in the country.

Outdoors, you've got to have a different technique than indoors. Harder ice presents a problem in strength and firmness, surely in breathing, unquestionably in challenges the sureness of the bend of the knee, from which all action springs. With her power—she makes a double jump seem a flight to the moon—Miss Seigh need not fear the outdoors.

She could be, therefore the first American to take a world title. Since 1896 our best have knocked vainly for recognition from the close clique which controls international skating. Austria won 30 titles, Sweden 17, Hungary 11, Norway 10 (all Miss Henie), Germany eight, England seven, France four and Finland three.

Miss Seigh is at Lake Placid, braving the outdoors and thinking of what she must face from Daphne Walker, England's finest; Britta Rahlen, Swedish girl who sized up the American field on tour last winter; Eva Pavlik, promising newcomer of Vienna, and perhaps, above all, Barbara Ann Scott of Canada, who defeated the foremost from the United States to win the North American title two years ago.

Americans who finished higher than Eileen Seigh in the national championships last February will skate in Stockholm, too. They are national champion Gretchen Merrill of Boston and Janet Ahrens of St. Paul.

But the Brooklyn miss has shown the youth, power and improvement, which could take it all.

OWNER OF NEW YORK RESTAURANT TO RETIRE

NEW YORK (AP)—Vincent Sardi, the one-time Italian immigrant boy who came to America through New York Harbor's "Golden Door" nearly 40 years ago, is about to seek the first extended rest he has ever known, leaving behind him the famed restaurant that has become a living tradition for Broadway's show folk. He is retiring February 5.

PINKY GETS NEW JOB

ROANOKE, VA. (AP)—Mike (Pinky) Higgins, former third baseman for the Boston Sox, will manage the Roanoke Red Sox of the Class B Piedmont League next season. Higgins succeeds Eddie Sopotnick, who guided the Red Sox to the Piedmont title last year.

Busy Wives H. D. Club Committees Appointed

The Busy Wives Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday with Mrs. J. A. McKandles on the Cotton Flat Road. Mrs. J. C. Bradley, president, presided over the business session at which committees were appointed.

Mrs. Ollie Mae Parker was named chairman of the expansion committee; Mrs. Foy Leslie recreation; Mrs. McKandles, finance; Mrs. J. W. McKenzie, exhibit; Mrs. Fred Truelove, education; and Mrs. A. S. Norwood, market.

Mrs. McKenzie was appointed clothing demonstrator; Mrs. C. E. Lindenmuth and Mrs. Leslie, clothing leaders; Mrs. Bradley, food preservation; Mrs. Norwood, home improvement.

The constitution was read and adopted. Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on consumer buying. Orders were taken for 25 grape cuttings.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leslie with Mrs. Linnie Davidson providing the program.

Unemployment Claims Examiner Moves Here

A. W. Curlee, claims examiner on unemployment benefits for the State Unemployment Commission, has established an office in the State Employment Service office at 319 East Texas Street.

Curlee was transferred from Big Spring, where he was stationed six months. He worked in the Beaumont office 14 months.

Claims may be filed every day of the week.

1947 Already Wacky With Pallbearers Strike And Hair Clipping Scare

NEW YORK (AP)—Less than two weeks old and already wacky, that's '47.

New York started off with a strike threat by professional pallbearers. They want to up their carrying charges.

And the big town's cops carted off to a psychiatric ward a gent who was giving away several thousand dollars by the handful, to Bowers bums.

Washington had Jack the Shipper, a brute who was slipping up behind lassies on trolleys and clipping off their hair. Snoods suddenly becoming the fashion in D. C.

Across the country, people whose phone numbers are something—1947 were busily answering calls from jokesters who wanted to say something cute to 1947. In Seattle one 1947 phoned another exchange's 1947 to extend sympathy.

Thieves swiped a police car in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and Jack Longmaid, repairing his kitchen sink in Helena, Mont., pulled out a filter screen and found three gold nuggets. Jack's an ambitious type now. Fixing up all the plumbing in the house.

Mrs. Mary Spoor celebrated the New Year by scooting around Danville, Ill., on her motor scooter. Mrs. Spoor is 71.

A Maple Shade, N. J. chap was hunting for a case of beer, but not to drink. He's a liquor dealer—and sold the beer to a stranger before he remembered he'd left $1,700 in a sack in the case.

In San Antonio, Atanacio Garza wanted his prize: the Burlington, Wis., Liar's Club award for being the champion fibber of 1946.

Not that Atanacio is a tall tale teller. All he did was recount how, while fishing, he battled forty-five minutes with a fish and when he finally pulled it in, the fish—was sweating.

Chicago's cops were looking for Dolores McCrossen's pet dog, Pepper. Pepper got lonesome and ran away after his pal, Mrs. M's pet skunk, was evicted. The cops thought they'd be able to spot the dog all right.

Pepper's toenails are painted red.

Cheese Pastry Enriches Pie

Open-face apple pie with cheese pastry

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

This is open season for apple pie. And here's one of the best recipes you'll find in any season.

Open-Face Apple Pie With Cheese Pastry
(Serves 6)

Cheese Crust: 3/4 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/3 cup grated American cheese, 3 tablespoons shortening, 5 tablespoons water.

Sift together flour and salt. Stir in grated cheese. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until the size of peas. Add water a little at a time, mixing it in with a fork. Pat dough into ball and chill. Roll out on a floured board and line a nine-inch heat-resistant glass pie plate. Any pastry that is left over may be formed into the shape of an apple and leaves and placed on top of apples.

Filling: 5 cups sliced apples, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon butter.

Arrange half of apple slices in unbaked pastry shell. Combine sugar, flour, salt, nutmeg and cinnamon. Sprinkle half of this mixture on first layer of apples. Add remaining apples and sprinkle with rest of sugar mixture. Dot with butter and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 50 minutes.

Grapefruit With Spiced Apple Slices
(Serves 6)

Three medium tart apples, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 cup water, one 2-inch piece cinnamon, 6 whole cloves, 2 grapefruit.

Wash, pare, core and cut apples into eighths. Boil sugar and water together with spices for 2 minutes; add few drops of red vegetable coloring, if desired. Drop apple sections into syrup, a few at a time; simmer gently. Lift out each piece as soon as it is tender. Pour syrup over apple slices; chill. Peel grapefruit and remove sections. Arrange grapefruit and apple sections in serving dish. This may be served as a first course, a dessert, or as an accompaniment to the meat course. (One-half cup light corn syrup and 1/2 cup water may be substituted.)

Dozens Of Safety Devices—No Fire

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. —(AP)—Charles E. Wilhoft, who believes in fire protection, has installed dozens of safety devices in his 12-room frame house—and during the Christmas season, he has an automatic fire alarm atop the Christmas tree.

Alarms in the stairways and atop the Christmas tree, approved by the Fire Underwriters Laboratories, set off alarm bells automatically if the temperature rises above 140 degrees Fahrenheit.

Since 1932, he has installed these other devices: hose and water outlets in the living room, three bedrooms, kitchen, laundry and cellar; coiled escape ropes in the front bedrooms; escape hatches and ladders from the attic; fire proof walls and floors; and bedroom doors with self-closing devices to prevent drafts.

New England's Skiing Industry Will Have Biggest Year Of History In 1947

By HENRY SUPPLE
BOSTON—(AP)—Skiing—New England's winter recreation industry—is sliding into its biggest year in history.

That's the opinion of those most concerned: Northern inn-keepers, ski slope impresarios, and manufacturers and retailers of skis, ski clothes and the accompanying essential paraphernalia.

And the Farmers' Almanac is lending a helping hand with its prediction of an old-fashioned winter with plenty of snow.

Ex-GIs Join Brigade

Increased popularity is indicated at the source of a skier's activity—the ski shops. The consensus of dealers is that sales definitely are "up" over last year which was one of the best on record. All this regardless of a shortage of seasoned hickory, good ski boots and materials from which ski suits are made.

The jump can be attributed to the thousands of ex-GIs who are rarin' to join up with the swarming schuss brigade.

Here is a brief picture of what some of the more frequented spots through:

NEW HAMPSHIRE:
The Cannon Mountain aerial tramway at Franconia Notch has increased the size of the practice slope at the valley station to about 10 acres. It has been hand raked and seeded and is serviced with a 700-foot tow. The tram will carry its millionth passenger this winter.

Beginners Slope At Center

EASTERN SLOPES:
Cranmore Mountain has a new Arlberg run for experts. It has a 4,885 foot skimbable and the 1,000 foot supplemental tow for all classes of skiers.

There is a new beginner's slope at the Gilford recreational center, with accompanying tow. It will attract the safe and sane newcomers desirous of keeping arms and legs intact.

VERMONT:
All slopes have been graded and brushed at Pico Peak where a new slope has been cleared for use of ski school classes. Sunset Schuss, one of the finer trails in the East, has been cleared of the brush overgrowth of war years.

At Bellows Falls, the ski bowl, closed during the war, is ready with three trails, an instruction area and freshly brushed slopes. The warming house has been renovated and a 1,000 foot tow, custom built for the natural bowl, is all set.

Crowd Is Expected

With normal transportation facilities available, the white-capped mountains—once deserted in Wintertime—soon will reach the shouts and laughter of that ever-growing horde—the bed-slat fraternity—which eschews the fireside easy chair for spine tingling slides through the frigid ozone.

Male Students Replace Females In TCU Offices

FORT WORTH—(AP)—One year ago all but one of five major student body officers on the Texas Christian University campus were held by girls. This year, only one co-ed won a major office.

She was Sammy Morrow of Graford, president of the junior class. One male student said ironically that the only way she won was "because the name Sammy fooled the voters".

Ohio State U. Has Quarter In Mexico

MEXICO CITY —(AP)—Mexico City College officials said 133 United States students would participate in Ohio State University's "winter quarter in Mexico" project starting in January.

Dr. James B. Tharp, Professor of Education at Ohio State, will supervise the project as a member of the college faculty. About one-third of the students will be women. One hundred and five will attend Mexico City College from Ohio State.

Five students will come from the University of Tennessee, two from Peabody College at Nashville, Tenn., and others from Middlebury College and Arkansas State College.

About two-thirds of the enrollees are veterans who will study under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Closing Of Army Camp And Exodus Of GIs Have Little Effect On Cities

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff
Outside many Texas towns are ghost camps and empty sites, but in the cities themselves there is little change. Deactivation of 36 Army camps and air fields in the state the past year has brought negligible alteration to host areas. Major differences are uniform-free streets and fewer ready spenders.

A spot check of towns and cities where Army installations were located, shows the housing shortage is acute, business is good and nobody is bemoaning camp closings. War-born industries such as Army and Navy stores, night clubs, and lush restaurant trade died on V-J Day in many instances. Some converted to peace-time trade. Their passing had little or no effect on city economies.

HUSKY SKI SCHEDULE
SEATTLE—Washington's powerful ski team is participating in seven major meets.

Practically every town where there was a camp or air field reports many former service personnel have started as civilians. And many former residents are returning with brides and families. A goodly number of civilian workers at the various posts have stepped into private industry in the same town.

After a brief vacuum following actual closing, the cities and towns of Texas have moved along without a faltering step.

Icelandic Fish Story

From the little island of Iceland comes a fish story which reveals better than a book some of the international shenanigans now going on in reconverting this world from war to peace.

Iceland's whole economy is wrapped around fish. From the sale of its fish catch to foreign countries, Iceland gets the money to buy coal and lumber and machinery and other things it needs to keep going. When the Nazis moved into Norway and Denmark, most of this fish trade was lost. Iceland's fish were sold to England during the war and accounted for about a third of the British fish supply.

When the United States got into the war and Iceland became an important base on the lifeline to Europe, American troops took over from the British, the Army built a big airfield at Keflavik, and in a fancy three-way deal, the U. S. bought Iceland's fish catch, lend-leased it to the British, supplied Iceland with American coal and such other essential civilian goods as could be spared.

Except for the fishing business, Iceland's economy practically stopped dead. Prices soared, the cost of living went from 300 to 500 per cent above prewar levels, wages were advanced by law as prices went up.

With the end of the war came the end of lend-lease, the British found they could buy fish elsewhere at lower prices, Iceland was stuck with a good fishing industry, built up at high prices, and no place to sell it. The United States couldn't use the fish. There was a market for herring oil, for margarine and for cod liver oil, but not for the fish.

Then last August there appeared in the Icelandic capital at Reykjavik a five-man Russian purchasing mission. It came empowered to buy the entire Icelandic fish catch. Prices offered for frozen fillets were about 30 per cent higher than had been offered the Icelanders in wartime. Prices offered for herring oil were 60 per cent higher. Prices for cod liver oil were roughly comparable to U. S. prices, but the Russians smartly dickered that they would buy the fish only if they got the oils. That froze the U. S. out of the market.

Not only that, but the Russians also offered to supply the Icelanders with all the coal and lumber and other civilian goods needed. Prices at which the Russians offered to sell these goods were far below prices at which similar supplies could be delivered by United States government or private business exporters.

All of this happened at a time when U. S. negotiations for peacetime rights to use the Keflavik airfield were at their height. Communists in the Icelandic Airfield, world's oldest parliamentary body, were objecting violently to letting the United States have any rights.

Late in September there was a three-day general strike in protest against U. S. use of the field. In the end the Althing ratified the treaty. U. S. troops will all be out of Iceland by April. U. S. planes can use Keflavik field as long as U. S. occupation forces remain in Germany. U. S. commercial planes may also use the field. But a few days after the Althing approved this agreement, the cabinet of Prime Minister Olafur Thors had to resign.

If the United States had been able to bolster the Icelandic economy by buying its fish and selling coal and lumber, the American bargaining position would have been much stronger.

The Russian deal was of course too good to turn down. The Icelanders had to take it. Since it was made the Russians have been right on the dot with their deliveries.

The moral for the United States is that in its international trade arrangements for the future, it is going to have to meet more competition of this kind, and such fishy deals are pretty hard to beat.

The Bigger They Are, The Harder They Fall

George Mardikian, Famed California Restaurantier, Is Helping The Army Improve Meals For U. S. Soldiers

By RICHARD A. O'REGAN
FRANKFURT, GERMANY—(AP)—The jolly, 235-pound chef took off his apron, rolled down his shirt-sleeves, adjusted his bright red tie and beamed at the tough young mess sergeant.

"Remember, son, you gotta be a mother. All you fellows gotta be mothers." Gen. Boone, also of San Francisco, said that in virtually every mess Mardikian had visited, the big, grinning chef had put on an apron, stood over the stoves giving advice to Americans and Germans alike and tasted the food.

"This food-tasting isn't helping me any," Mardikian said. "I'm supposed to be losing weight." "But," he added, "I feel that in a small way I am helping pay back Uncle Sam all he has done for me." Mardikian entered the United States in 1922 as a penniless Armenian. Now he is one of the wealthiest chefs in the country.

Seahorse ashes, mixed with pitch, and rubbed on the head, was an ancient remedy for baldness.

Mardikian, creator of delicacies for 52 national palates and 1,700 delegates to the San Francisco United Nations conference, rolled up his sleeves again, found a big white hat and set about showing the German cooks how to make plain, old vegetable soup.

Brig. Gen. Milton O. Boone, the Army's quartermaster in Europe, brought Mardikian to Germany because, said the general, "the soldier, in peacetime at least, has a right to eat well-prepared meals. Mardikian is helping us reform our cooking."

Mardikian was irritated by the German cooks, who now do most of the work GIs used to do in Army messes. He said he was having a rough time teaching them to cook the American way. As for the mess sergeant, Mardikian said the soldier had "imagination that needs only flattery."

"By Jove!" exclaimed the owner of San Francisco's Omar Khayyam restaurant, "before I go home, I am going to see to it that the Army respects its kitchen men and gives them incentive. The GI in the kitchen needs recognition."

"Before I leave Germany," declared the 46-year-old master chef, "I'm going to make every mess sergeant and every mess officer proud of his job. Maybe another stripe for the sergeants, maybe another hat for the officers. Maybe just a bigger hat will pep up the Army messes."

Most Nostalgic Moment
"The Army is in competition with every mother who has a son in Germany. Every nostalgic GI thinks of home when he eats and I'm sure the Army won't stop—and I won't stop—until the American soldier gets the best-prepared food in the world," Mardikian added.

Taking time out from showing a German cook how to make an "interesting" meal out of canned stew, Mardikian said that since he had been in Germany he had achieved these things:
He had the Army's promise that every mess would be supervised by a sergeant or officer who was "really interested in preparing a good meal." As it was, he said, 40 per cent of mess sergeants and mess officers "regard their jobs as punishment."

Samples Food In 100 Messes
With his co-operation, the Army had set up a huge cook-school for both Americans and Germans. He had won the assistance of the highest-ranking officers in Germany.

The Army was improving kitchens, supplies and distribution on his recommendations.
He was revising many Army menus, trying to get "color appeal"

Rayburn Carries On As Leader Of Minority Party

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn carries to his job as leader of the minority Democrats in the house a wealth of political experience possessed by few men who have been chosen for that position.

The soft-spoken Texan rode herd on the house during the momentous war period, was majority leader for four years prior to taking the speakership, and has served in the house for almost 34 years. Before coming to congress he was speaker of the Texas house at the age of 28.

During Rayburn's long span of service in congress, the nation has fought its two greatest wars, experienced its greatest period of prosperity, its greatest depression, and its most revolutionary period of social-political change. As speaker, it was his job to interpret the 11,000 rules and precedents of the house.

Rayburn entered the house as a freshman on the day that Woodrow Wilson was first inaugurated president, 34 years ago next March 4. He learned politicking under two powerful speakers of the house—Republican Nicholas Longworth and Democrat John Nance Garner.

When the Roosevelt administration came in, Rayburn was chairman of the house committee on interstate commerce. He sponsored the securities and exchange commission bill, the federal communications act and the Rayburn-Wheeler holding company act with its "death sentence" clause. These measures first brought him national prominence.

As a floor-operating speaker, Rayburn did some of his best work on the sidelines. He is an excellent parliamentarian and knows how to get along with members of both parties.

Rayburn, a bachelor, lives in a small but comfortable apartment where he invites his cronies for long evenings of "down to earth" talk after a meal he himself has prepared.

SHORTAGE HITS POLO

NEW YORK—(AP)—The leather shortage may force indoor polo teams to switch to softballs for their lightning fast game. The indoor polo ball is a tiny inflated basketball-type pellet. Stocks are running low. The ball can be hit 100 yards on the fly.

WILLIAMSBURG, VA.—(AP)—William and Mary Coach R. N. (Rube) McCray never has lost a football game to a Virginia opponent since he took over the Indian coaching chores three seasons ago. One team, Richmond, has yet to score on a McCray-coached eleven.

Homes are the Hope of America

This little homestead, nestling in the hills of a quiet countryside, is one of the most typical things in America. It is the home of an American family. From homes like this, scattered throughout the land, have come the moral strength and inspiration to build the greatest nation on earth.

Man's rise from primitive conditions to a high state of civilization has been coincident with the development of his family life and the growth of his religious concepts. His noblest traits, his finest impulses, his fundamental skills and his most salutary habits have come from homes that were activated by religious faith.

Nations have flourished and grown great and prosperous as they have cultivated and preserved a strong family life. They have decayed and fallen when home ties and influences have disappeared or been seriously weakened.

No home can be strong without God and religious influences to guide the lives and shape the characters of its members. When children grow up strengthened and sustained by faith in God and by right living, they become the joy of their families and the strength of the State.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Gather Ye Rosebuds

By JEANNETTE COVERT NOIAN

XXXIII

IN the hall, Sidney paused uncertainly, and Hannah came padding down the attic stairway.

"What's the matter?" Hannah said.

"Nothing."

"But Rose is crying."

"Eavesdropping, eh? Have you got any money? A dollar, maybe?"

"I've got forty-five dollars."

"WHAT?"

"In the bank downtown. I sold some of the old things in the attic to Miss Muth. You know, the lady that runs the antique shop. Mamma said it was all right."

"Lord! . . . But you haven't got a bankbook?"

"I have so. I was going to tell you last night, when you were fussing with Papa in the parlor. I'd be glad for Jeff to use my forty-five dollars; but I thought if I said anything, Papa might borrow it for his investment, like he did Jeff's money."

"Hannah," Sidney said with awe, "you know everything that goes on in this house, don't you?"

"In the whole block. Nearly everything."

"If you could get that money out of the bank—"

"For Jeff? I will. Only they might not allow me to have it, if I went down there alone. You go with me, Sidney."

"No, I can't. I'm going—somewhere else."

"Where?"

"That's what you won't know," Sidney said.

"O? Well, Mamma or Rose—"

"No! Don't talk about it to a soul here at home." Sidney thought rapidly. "You take your bankbook and hurry down to Basil's office. He works for his father, in the Bleeker building on Main Street—"

"I know where he works."

"You tell Basil I sent you, and that I'll tell him why tomorrow."

and you ask him to go to the bank with you. Then ask him to go on with you to the railroad station and buy one ticket to New York on the train that leaves tomorrow afternoon, Saturday. Is that clear?"

"A ticket to New York for Jeff?"

"Yes, and then you bring the ticket home and when Jeff comes, give it to him—see? And warn him to keep his mouth shut until I can talk to him. . . . Then you can let Rose out of her room."

"Let her out? Is she locked in?"

"Yes. Here's the key. She won't make any noise, because she doesn't want anybody to know she's there. But don't forget about her. Let her out in time for supper."

"Won't you be home for supper, Sidney?"

"No, and that's something else. You tell Mamma—"

"What?" Hannah said.

"Well, tell Mamma I have an engagement and may not get back until midnight or after. . . . Now go on, for heaven's sake. And don't forget anything—the forty-five dollars, the ticket, Rose." Sidney laid her hand on an instant on Hannah's sturdy shoulder. "Hannah, you're the only Cameron who has a grain of sense. Except me. I'm afraid I'll be rough sledding for you."

As she caught the trolley on Governor Street, Sidney looked in her purse. She had ninety cents, but she thought that would be enough.

WHEN Sidney got off the interurban at Ashburn Springs, it was to find herself immured in what seemed a singularly dark, desolate bit of night landscape, facing a cinder path which tilted steeply upward through a grove of rustling trees and with no alternative but climbing the slope on foot and quite alone.

She had never been afraid of the darkness, and anyway the impact of the day's events had induced in her a feeling of reckless bravado, but she was terribly tired and hungry. She toiled up the path with a grim expression and a growling stomach; she came at last to the shallow steps leading into the foyer of a rustic lodge, where coal oil lamps burned feebly behind fly-blown shades; she advanced across a large room, bare-floored and furnished with chairs and tables made of knotted hickory with the bark left on—almost the first thing she saw was the cardboard sign pegged conspicuously above the clerk's desk: DINING ROOM CLOSED.

There was nobody in the foyer, not even the clerk, but Sidney knew the place was not entirely deserted, for she could hear people talking and moving about somewhere out of sight. The registers lay open on the desk; she bent over it, said, "Ah!" to herself in a tone holding little amazement; then she looked around, located the stairs, and mounted them. She stalked along a musty, dim-lit passage, reading the numbers on doors, stopping finally. This was the second time in five hours that she had approached the room of Mr. Richard Breen, and this time she would find him in.

The door was open just enough to show a wedge of yellow lamp-light. She went in without knocking. The chamber she entered was small, Spartan as a nun's cell, though rather more informal. A man was stretched on the bed, fully clothed except for his coat, collar, tie and shoes—yet somehow presenting the illusion of a more extensive dishabille. His head was back on the pillow, his eyes were shut.

Sidney stood at the foot of the bed, and said: "Hello, Ace."

The effect of this simple salutation was catastrophic. The man was instantly wide awake, swinging his legs off the mused counterpane, sitting up, and then rising. He said, "Well, I'll be—"

MCKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

(Written for NEA Service)

Leaving Los Angeles, I had only two more stops to make on my long flight, one at Chicago and one at Cleveland. At the Chicago Athletic Club I had lunch with several old-timers in bridge, including R. W. Halpin, who was president of the American Bridge League in 1929, when only auction was played; Lou Haddad, president of the League in 1935; William McGhee, active now in Chicago bridge.

Halpin gave me today's hand, in which he said that declarer mistakenly tried to break the club suit.

West won the opening lead with the queen of spades. He decided against cashing the king and ace of spades, setting up a spade trick.

West elected to shift to a heart which was won in dummy with the ace.

Now the correct play, Halpin pointed out, was to lay down the ace of clubs and take four rounds of diamonds. West will let go a spade on the fourth round and declarer then can count the hand down.

West's vulnerable overall undoubtedly marked him with five spades, which was further verified by the fact that East had led the five-spot and the three and deuce showed up. West's return of the heart deuce marked him with four hearts. He had followed to three rounds of diamonds and one round of clubs. Therefore, he could not have any more clubs, and the club finesse could be taken with safety.

Instead of trusting to luck, it is quite often possible to make a play that will enable you to count a hand down as Bob Halpin pointed out in this hand.

Japs Capture Rice, Sugar Smugglers

MOJIB, JAPAN.—(AP)—Japanese customs and port officials reported that since June they had confiscated about $67,000 worth of contraband goods and 79 vessels trying to land smuggled supplies.

The Kyodo News Agency said most of the smugglers caught were Koreans attempting to bring in sugar and rice from such places as Okinawa, Oshima and even as far away as Formosa.

272 Philco Patents Now Available For Licensing

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Commerce Department announces that the Philco Corp., of Philadelphia, has listed 272 patents available for licensing or sale.

By so listing them with the Patent Office, the department said, "the corporation makes available for non-exclusive licensing on reasonable terms all of its patents for radio receiving sets, including television, electrical, phonographs and other inventions."

Student Rides 64-Year Old Bicycle To School

RIVERSIDE, DEL.—(AP)—A 37-year-old Delaware University freshman pedals 34 miles daily to and from classes on a bike that is 27 years older than his rider.

William R. Lusby is enthusiastic about the vehicle, equipped with hand shifts which give it three speeds; a hand brake; side mirror and two 1892 wheels equipped with special hub caps, bristling with 1,000 separate parts.

"It's my choice of transportation," says the freshman, who lives 17 miles from his school.

Bicycles have been part of Lusby's life. In 1923 he was junior state cycling champion of Delaware and was one of two of the state's representatives in the national racing championships in Chicago.

He is a veteran of the Army Air Forces and is studying music.

Anglo-American Prestige Is At Low Ebb In France

PARIS — (AP) — Anglo-American prestige in France is at its lowest point in six years—because of Germany.

In 1940, the British army was fleeing France. The United States was sitting by, unable to act.

France feels just as helpless today.

From the man on the boulevards to the Quai d'Orsay, there is a growing pessimism that the events after the first World War are going to be repeated, that Germany will rise again as a military power.

Several recent events have created great bitterness in France against England and America.

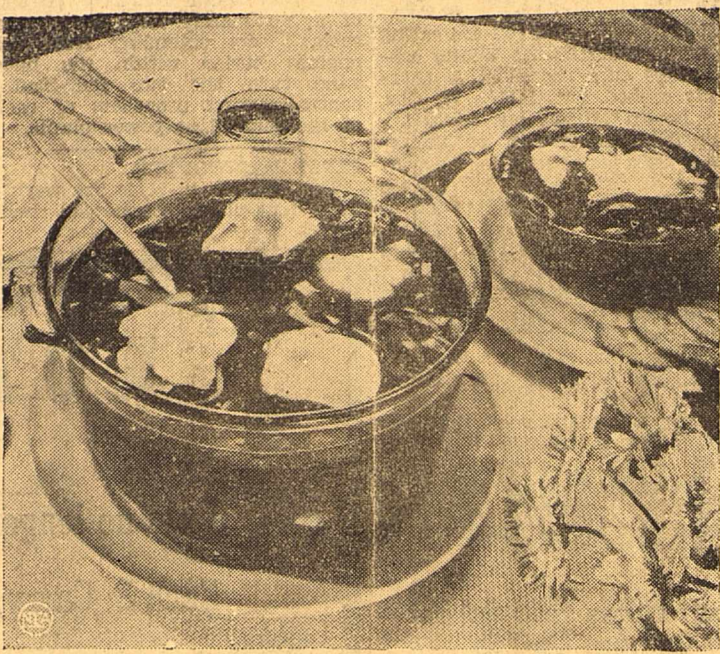

The French press and the foreign office have been stirred to wrath over the visits to England of Dr. Karl Schumacher, leader of the German Socialist Democrat party. France feels he is an ultra-nationalist mouthpiece for Germany, and has interpreted his visit to England as almost an insult to France.

A Quai d'Orsay spokesman declared bluntly that the visit "is not likely to improve Franco-British relations."

An even greater blow to France was the recent American demand that France immediately start freeing the 500,000 German war prisoners the United States loaned France.

France says this will slash her coal production 20 per cent, because large numbers of prisoners work in

Beet Soup Is Inexpensive Treat

Beet soup, or borsch, makes a satisfying one-dish meal

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Borsch, or beet soup, served in large bowls, with thick slices of rye bread and butter, makes a colorful and satisfying one-dish meal.

Beet Borsch Soup
(About 2 quarts)

One cup diced raw beets, 1 cup chopped onions, 2 cups boiling water, 5 cups meat stock, 1 cup finely shredded cabbage, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 cup sour cream.

the pits. She says, also, that it will seriously jeopardize the famous four-year plan to get back on her feet as a producing nation.

At a press conference, during which he termed the American move "catastrophic" for France, a foreign office spokesman hinted that the result would be a hardening of France in the Foreign Ministers Council deliberations on the German peace treaty.

The new "be kind to the Germans" policy for American occupation troops has also shocked France, whose leaders think this is like trying to make friends with a rattlesnake.

These events have come after France has been trying for a year—she says—to get her allies to simply discuss the French proposals for amputating territory from Germany's western frontiers, as has been done in the East.

A cynical, hopeless pessimism permeates France as a result.

Add beets and onions to boiling water in a two-quart saucepan. Simmer together for about 10 minutes. Add meat stock, cabbage and salt and simmer about 15 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Stir in lemon juice. Serve hot in six 15-ounce heat-resistant deep glass pie dishes. Top with sour cream which has been whipped.

Ukrainian Borsch
(Serves 4-6)

Eight cups stock, 8 large beets, 8 boiled potatoes, 1 pound frankfurters, dill or parsley, chopped, salt, pepper, 1 cup heavy sour cream.

Make strong standard stock, using shin of beef, bones and vegetables. Strain, skim off fat, and reheat. Boil beets until just tender; do not overcook. Skin and slice into strips. Strain water in which beets were cooked through a cheesecloth and add to stock. Add sliced beets and uniform-sized potatoes. Cut frankfurters into 1/2-inch disks, brown quickly in butter and add to soup. Simmer very gently until frankfurters are done. Serve with vegetables and frankfurters in each plate. Sprinkle with chopped dill or parsley. Serve heavy sour cream in separate dish.

Business Bureau Warns Of Housing Racket In Texas

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

All rackets aren't tennis rackets, the Better Business Bureau warns, and reveals this one that's being tried in Texas:

A man goes to a real estate agent. He says he has an ailing young daughter, and needs a home quickly. He brings along his daughter, an attractive young woman companion.

He's willing to buy a home. Pay cash for it. The man's sad plight (plus his ailing daughter) usually gets him a place. He pays for it with an out-of-town check.

Next, the man advertises his newly bought house for rent, collecting in advance from as many prospective tenants as possible.

Of course, the out-of-town check bounces. The people who paid rent wrangle as to who is the actual tenant, the real owner claims the house, and the man and young woman who promoted the whole thing are well on their way to greener pastures.

The racket has been tried successfully in Amarillo, Dallas and Tulsa.

A Dallas lawyer went to jail to release a man charged with drunkenness. He had been detained by the man's wife by telephone.

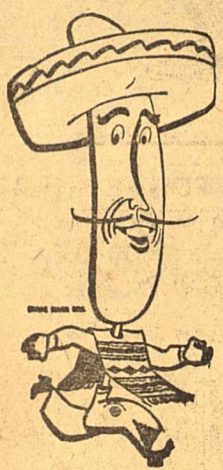

The lawyer arrived at the jail during the supper hour and entered on a pass. The jailer paged the jailed man, but because it was so noisy, no one heard him. He called a second time, and a negro stepped up.

The lawyer hadn't asked whether his client was white or black. He talked with him a while, then got an order releasing the man to his custody. The negro left. The lawyer went home.

The woman client telephoned again. She still wanted her husband out of jail. The lawyer made a hurried check. He had freed the wrong man!

But he went back, and got the right man released, too, a white man.

The worst of it was that the negro not only got away, but had stopped at the police desk, and had taken the white man's gold watch and cash being held for him.

Out—After a Quarter Century

It was like leaving the old homestead for some members of Congress who left Washington as the new 80th Congress convened. Above, Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, in Congress since 1922, packs belongings in Senate office building, preparatory to making way for his successor.

Scientists Use Super Microscope In Germ Warfare

By PATT WATTS
LOS ANGELES (NEA)—Now science has made even the ordinary microscope obsolete as a method for peering at germs.
The super microscope—a stupendous, colossal microscope—is now being used to take pictures of the minuscule crowd, and of all places, it is being put into production in Hollywood, at the White Memorial Hospital.
Called the electron microscope, it enlarges bacteria 50,000 times to give science the first close-up view it has ever had of disease germs. The ordinary microscope shows bacteria as dots or rods, and doesn't even isolate the viruses. But under the super microscope the killers jump into clear view and let mankind study them.
Electron microscope photographs are being used by the doctors at the Southern California hospital to find out why some disease germs are more virulent, or stronger, than others. The virulence has a relation to the capsule, a transparent envelope around the germ. By studying the capsule, when and how it is formed, they hope to prevent its formation and thus render the germ less harmful.
Invisible Short Rays
While operating something like an ordinary microscope, the big machine is more delicate. Visible light has too long a wave length to reflect off bacteria, so the microscope uses invisible short rays, or a stream of electrons. Since these rays won't go through glass, magnets are used to bend and focus the rays. Operating in a vacuum because the short rays can't get through air, the electrons are shot at the bacteria, and the observer sees the image through a fluorescent screen.

The microscope is gold-plated in order to keep it from short-circuiting, and is water-cooled to ward off the tremendous heat of the high voltages created.
The short rays won't cross glass, and special slides have to be prepared. Bacteria is mounted on extremely thin films of clear collodion which is obtained by dropping a small amount of collodion on a water surface and letting it spread. It then is stretched over a fine wire screen, and put before the electron microscope so the bacteria's picture may be taken.

Laboratory experiments show that flowers and fruit as well as humans have air tolerance—sweet peas will wilt and ripe plums split their skins at above 25,000 feet.

Disease Possible If Pork Is Undercooked

AUSTIN—(P)—If you are eating lots of pork during the winter season, make sure the meat is thoroughly cooked, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, has advised.
Consumption of raw or undercooked pork may result in the contracting of trichinosis, a disease condition caused by the trichina or muscle worm found in approximately 5 per cent of all swine, said the health officer.
"While the adult parasites are in the human intestines they may cause acute diarrhea," Dr. Cox said. "This may start anywhere from the first to the fourth day after eating infested pork."
"Later a puffiness of the eyes may appear together with various degrees of pain in the muscles."
He recommended the cooking of pork until all natural color is gone and no evidence of blood can be detected.

Tech Holds Grid School For Campus Co-Eds

LUBBOCK—(P)—A lot of girls don't know the difference between a first down and a touchdown, and the Women's Physical Education Department at Texas Tech is doing something about it.
They're sponsoring a Women's Auxiliary Quarterly Club. Members meet each week to hear Coach Dell Morgan explain technical points of the game.
Giant sand dunes of Kitty Hawk, N. C., travel as much as 20 feet a year.

NEW ARMY BOMBER

In the Army's amazing new XB-35 Flying Wing bomber, powered with four giant four-row engines of approximately 3,000 horsepower each, shafts extending from the engines buried within the huge wing turn the two four-bladed contra-rotating propellers of each of the four giant power plants.

HORN LED AUTO RACERS

NEW YORK—(P)—Ted Horn of Paterson, N. J., paced American Automobile Association drivers during 1946 with 2,448 points, 904 more than George Robson of Maywood, Calif. Robson won the 500-mile Indianapolis race but was killed in Atlanta, Ga., three months later.
